

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

12

14

00 =

0 2

3|3 3|4 3

DECIMETERS

YARD = 0.9144 METE

1211 1313

-0

0.328 F 001

MARTIN LUTHER KING JR.

Chasing a dream

■ Week of activities celebrates King's message of a color-blind society.

Martin Luther King Jr.'s hopes for a color-blind country were felt by almost an entire nation. K-State was also affected by King's dreams.

One of King's goals for equality included equality in education.

James Boyer, professor of education, said while King's leadership was not as apparent the year of the 1954

Supreme Court decision Brown v. Topeka Board of Education as it was in later years, he had a profound effect on equal opportunities in education in sub-

"King's public leadership actually began about one year after Brown versus the Board of Education," Boyer

There was little change in the educational system from 1954 to 1957 because the Supreme Court decision was still being challenged, Boyer said.

Boyer said during King's career as a civil rights leader his strategy was to focus on the way society thinks and try to change that.

"His messages attempted to point the way to a more equitable educational system in America," he said.

King also addressed the problems in equality of education in his famous "I Have a Dream" speech.

"I have a dream that my four children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character," King said in his speech, which was delivered Aug. 28, 1963, on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C.

Boyer said to further educational

• See KING Page 7 USDA program cut.

FLINT HILLS BREADBASKET

Cats for Cans helps program surpass goals

William Thomas Burdette

The K-State Cats for Cans program raised more than 50,000 pounds of food for the Flint Hills Breadbasket during the Mayor's Christmas Tree food drive. "That's Inside a bunch," said See our editorial about Shirley the Flint Hills Bread-Bramhall, executive director of the Flint Hills Breadbasket. "The students did a smash-up job." The success of the food drive, however, was undermined by a recent

The USDA program,

Temporary Emergency Management Food Assistance Program, is one of 12 programs the Breadbasket relies on and is the only federal program used, Bramhall said.

Staples such as protein, fruit and dairy products are distributed by the program, but because of cuts will not be distributed until April, she said.

Bramhall said that while other government programs, such as Meals on Wheels, were being threatened, the USDA sustained cuts because it didn't have a lobby to influence Congress.

Meals on Wheels, a government program providing food for elderly shut-ins, has a lobbyist who represents the elderly population, but because the USDA program provides services to

See BREADBASKET Page 9

MURDER-SUICIDE

Inside -

See a rundown of the events planned for the week. One of the highlights will be a

Convocation lecture

by Patricia Russell-

McCloud called

Should Speak,"

"When the Silent

Woman kills boyfriend, self

Nolan Schramm

A local woman killed a man and herself in what officials are calling a murder-suicide incident sparked by a previous relationship between the two, police said Thursday.

Charles E. Johnson, 50, and June M. Blenn, 56, were found dead at the Rocky Ford Trailer Park Thursday morning after police responded to a neighbor's call that Johnson's truck had been idling outside for three hours, Gerald Schmidt, Pottawatomie county detective, said.

Johnson had stopped at Blenn's home around

Pottawatomie County Detective Gregg Riat went inside and found both dead in the front bedroom. Each had a single gunshot wound to the head from a .22-caliber pistol, which was in Blenn's pos

A note left at the scene by Blenn indicated she was despondent over a previous relationship and had killed Johnson, then herself, Schmidt said. The coroner's office ruled the incident as a murder-sui-

Johnson was the owner of Wamego Electric, which has been in operation since he founded it in 1971. He was also a member of the Wamego Chamber of Commerce, Zoning Board and Zoning Appeals Board, the Lions Club, Optimists Club and the Jaycees. He is survived by two sons, two siblings and his grandmother.

Blenn had lived alone in the trailer park. She was a former resident of Westmoreland and had lived in Manhattan since 1977.

FORT RILEY/BOSNIA

Support group helps military families cope

Bill Bontempo

Thanks to the efforts of the 55th Engineer Company Family Support Group, the burden of losing a family member to military deployment is a lit-

The support group, which was formed before the unit deployed to Belgium Jan. 2, meets monthly for planning field trips, movies and other activities. 100 of the 110 troops from the unit were deployed and were later reassigned to the United The unit, which is involved in constructing the

• See BOSNIA Page 7

Family support network

Families with American service persons deployed in Bosnia can receive volunteer assistance by calling the American Legion's Family Support Network at 1-800-504-4098. assistance to families that

The service provides are separated because of short-notice deployments. During the Persian Gulf War, support included everyday needs such as cutting grass, child care and minor home repairs. Source: Kansas American Legion

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegis

CARY CONOVER/Collegi

Gregory Eiselein, professor in English and Manhattan AIDS Project board member, reads an excerpt from a poem during the memorial service for Jennifer Hirschfield, sophomore in social work, Sunday afternoon at Peace Lutheran Church. Hirchfield was a student in one of Eiselein's literature classes.

I don't know if she knew how much I respected and admired her. - GREGORY EISELEIN

Student remembered for outstanding community service

staff reporte

Friends and family gathered Sunday to honor the memory of Jennifer Hirschfield, sophomore in social work.

Hirschfield, 21, died Jan. 6 of an apparent suicide.

She was remembered for being a community activist and a leader. Friends recalled her conviction and compassion for peo-

One of Hirschfield's biggest passions was for the Manhattan AIDS Project. As a member of the board of directors since its beginning, she was the head of "Everyone involved in the Project loved Jennifer. There is no way she can be replaced," said

Gregory Eiselein, professor of English and board member of the Manhattan AIDS Project. "I don't

how much I respected and admired her." That sentiment know if she knew was repeated many times during the time in the memorial service reserved for guests to say a few words in memory of their friend.

Barb Rutherford, who spoke at the service, said she would always remember her for wearing her red AIDS awareness rib-

"Seeing Jennifer with that ribbon on all the time gave me a sense of continuity about what being committed to something meant," Rutherford said.

"She is a symbol of commit-

Deb Taylor and Cynthia Trent, both Manhattan residents, look at pictures of Jennifer Hirschfield, sophomore in social work, before the

ment to the work."

The service also included readings of some of Hirschfield's favorite poetry and musical selec-

Helping peowas something that Hirschfield was used to doing, many of speakers said.

Hirschfield graduated Wichita Heights High School, Wichita, in 1993. While in high school, she participat-who also spoke at the said Hirschfield wanted to be a social worker so that she could continue helping peoservice.

memorial

ed in student government, a peer leaders program and the Community AIDS Awareness Task Force. She also worked with Heartspring of Wichita. The Senior Magazine for

Deb Taylor, Heights High School in 1993 quoted Hirschfield as saying, "In order to succeed in life, you have to give yourself to the people around you."

Hirschfield's activities in Manhattan included work with the Manhattan AIDS project, serving as a representative on the Residence Governing Board at K-State and working with the elderly through her job with Homecare-Hospice Inc.

Hirschfield is survived by her parents, Mark and Patricia Atteberry, and a Christopher, all of grandmothers Rose Hooverson of Viroqua, Wis., and Jeanne Faudel of Genoa, Wis.; and grandparents Leland and Shirley Atteberry of

She was buried at the South Kickapoo cemetary in Soldiers Grove, Wisconsin.

In the news

KSU POLICE SEEK CULPRIT IN VET N TO COMPLEX COMPUTER THEFT

An unlocked door and a computer system were too much temptation for a thief at the Veterinary Medicine Complex

K-State Police reported the theft of $4,250 worth of computer equipment in room L-208 at 8:08 Tuesday morning.

"This just basically happened to be a whole cer or et," said.

Several computer thefts occurred last semester, but this case does not resemble previous thefts, Herrman said. Usually a computer is just missing a few chips or keyboard.

Tuesday's theft is being investigated, but no leads have been found.

"We need to talk to a few more people," Herrman said Friday. The University police are looking for anyone who may have information about this crime. Please contact them at 532-

Sarah Lunday

SCHOOLS AWARDED GRANT

Lindsborg (AP) -The University of Kansas, K-State University, Emporia State University, Pittsburg State University and Bethany College have been awarded a $1 million, three-year federal grant that they will share. The grant allows the participating colleges and universities to study their education curricula, interview professors and report back to the group. The consortium then will write a report recommending changes in teacher education. "The changing state standards are going to alter virtually everything about the way teacher education is run in the next five years," said Nancy Harper, director of Bethany's teacher education program.

SAGAN CANCELS LECTURE

Health problems forced NASA astronomer Carl Sagan to cancel his Feb. 12 Landon Lecture appearance at K-State.

Sagan was scheduled to speak with Dr. Harold E. Varmus, director of the National Institutes of Health, but University officials were notified Jan. 3 that Sagan's physicians were recommending cancellation of all his commitments for at least two months, Charles Reagan, chairman of the Landon Lecture series, said researcher and author, has worked with NASA since the 1950s.

Sagan, a NASA

Sagan is also the author and host of a science series called "Cosmos."

Although Sagan will be unable to come in February, Reagan said he is looking forward to being reinvited at a later date.

Varmus, who is the first Nobel Laureate to serve as director of the NIH, will speak at 10:30 a.m. Feb. 5 in McCain Auditorium.

Misty Mayden

▶ K-STATE ALUMNUS KILLED

6412.

After pursuing five teenagers in a stolen car Jan. 8, K-State alumnus Kevin Easter died from a gun shot wound to the shoulder.

Easter, a Wichita deputy sheriff, had served on the Wichita force 2 1/2 years after graduating from K-State in 1993.

The suspect, identified as Sakone Donesay, 14, of Dodge City, was arrested at the scene and is being held in Wichita.

Easter was the son of a retired Wichita police Maj. Rick Easter. He was married in July to K-State graduate Julie Gros. They had no children. His brother, Jeff, is a Wichita police officer.

The shooting drew response from Gov. Bill Graves, who mentioned the shooting during his State of the State speech.

"It is violent acts such as this that reinforce our resolution to deal with criminals with punishment that is tough, swift and certain," Graves

About 3,000 moumers attended Easter's funeral mass at St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church in Wichita.

Sheriff Mike Hill said Easter was a hard worker and boasted three letters of commenda-

"He had a bright career ahead of him in law enforcement," Hill

Sarah Lunday

► LOCAL SERGEANT FOUND DEAD

Sgt. Charles Franke, 42, was found dead by his wife Jan. 16 in his home in Wamego.

The Pottawatomie Sheriff's department is investigating the death, but foul play is not suspected, Inspector Gerald Schmidt said.

In 1991, Franke moved from Chicago to Fort Riley and continued his military career as a truck driver for the 24th Transportation Company.

The funeral for Franke will be at 11 a.m. today at River Meade Funeral Home in Orange Park, Fla.

Chris Oakley

Police reports

police departments. Because of space co-calls for escorts or minor traffic violations

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18

At 10:28 p.m., Justin Walters, Moore 920, reported the theft of his

Discman, CD organizer, and approxi-SATURDAY, JANUARY 20

At 1:15 p.m., Helen Jovanovic reported she left her credit card at

At 2:05 p.m., the Riley County Police acted on a call of suspicious activity at Anderson Hall where the found a man who looked "stoned" and who was inquiring about resi dency. The police helped him.

of Mark F. Accua, 608 Fremont St.

When the officers arrived, the juveniles were not around, and there were no signs of damage to the Bond was $1,000.

mately 80 CDs from his vehicle that parked in Lot A-15.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

FRIDAY, JANUARY 19

At 10:02 p.m., Riley County officers issued a warrant for the arrest

SATURDAY, JANUARY 20

At 8:28 p.m., Riley County officers were called to Roosevelt School at 14th and Pierre streets, where three juveniles were shooting a weapon.

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, s published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer.

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

➤ Kansas Newman College Occupational Therapy Program will have an open house Jan. 26. Please call 1-800-736-7585 to register and for further informa-

➤ Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due in dean's offices by Feb. 16. ➤ Swimming I and fitness swimming classes at UFM are available for one hour of K-State credit. Call UFM at 539-8763. ➤ Jingxian Zhang will present his final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of "Antioxidant Status and Water Relations in Sorghum and Sunflower Pans Under Drought" at 1:30 p.m. today in Throckmorton 1017.

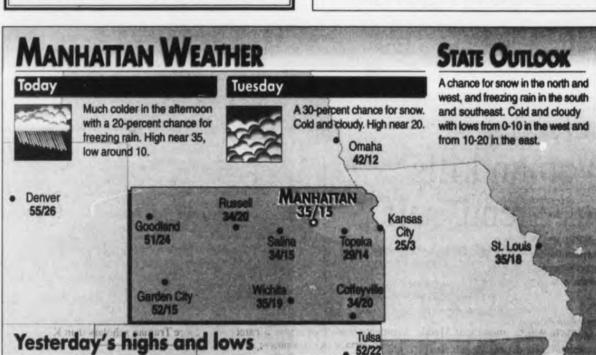

BULLETINS

➤ The Governmental Relations Committee will meet Jan. 29 to finish discussion on the legislative plan in Topeka. The agenda includes finishing talk about issues, getting input from students, talking about dates to travel to Topeka and preparing the legislative lobby book. > The College of Human Ecology is sponsoring a program at 5:30 today in Justin 115.

MISS YOUR PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

BACK TO SCHOOL

anuary 15-28

$1,349

$1.765

Macintosh Performa 6214CD

8MB RAM/1GB hard drive, Performa software, 15" multi-scan monitor, Apple Design keyboard.

Apple Personal Laserwriter 300 Regular $599

Macintosh Performa 631CD 8MG RAM/500MB hard drive, Performa software, 14" multi-scan monitor, and Apple Design keyboard.

25% OII

500 ct. notebook filler paper (narrow or college ruled)

15% OIT

All reference books (dictionaries, thesauruses, personal finance, speaking and writing guides)

10% Off

Staedtler Microball Roller Pen (Blue, Black, or Red Ink)

AT THE K-STATE STUDENT UNION BOOKSTORE!

Hesse wins scholarship

Sara Edwards

frica has offered one Marshall Scholar a different sort of education.

While studying in Tanzania in 1994, Brian Hesse, 1995 graduate in political science and history, managed to win the national Tanzanian basketball championship with his team. He learned Kiswahili and African dances. He also hitchhiked across Africa.

He squeezed three trimesters into two so that he could witness one of the most important events in South African history. Nelson Mandela was elected president as apartheid was ending in 1994.

Hesse was awarded the Marshall Scholarship in December and will be pursuing a masters of philosophy in international relations at the London School of Economics.

Contestants for the Marshall submit research proposals. Hesse said his experience in South Africa made him want to research the political future in South Africa.

"I want to access how different forces in South Africa fit into the country's future," he said.

Under apartheid, Hesse said military forces put down any opposition to the white regime.

"Now a lot of the military has been turned head over heels," he said.

The Marshall Scholarship is awarded to 30-40 American college graduates each year. The British government has been awarding these scholarships since 1953.

Recipients of this scholarship study in Great Britain for two years. Hesse will be studying in the country between September or October of 1996 until 1998.

Hesse chose the London School of Economics because many South African economists are at the school,

If people look ahead,

they can get a lot done.

MARSHALL SCHOLAR

he said.

"Three of four of the greatest scholars are located at the institution," Hesse said. "I hope to work with them."

Hesse said he is interested in studying South Africa because of the experience he had there in 1994.

"I fell in love with the people, the country, the terrain — everything about it," try, the terrain — everything about it," he said. Hesse hitchhiked into South Africa to witness the country's political changes.

"There was no way I was going to miss seeing the election firsthand," he said.

He also did exploring while he was working on a service project in Jordan last summer.

"I really love to submerge myself in culture," Hesse said. "I truly love getting off the beaten path and seeing what there is out there."

He said the media distorted much of the violence by giving the impression that there was more than there really was. He said he only saw isolated events.

However, when he was riding with a white South African who was speaking optimistically about the change, the man pulled out a gun and set it on the dashboard and said he needed it "just in case."

"You realize South Africa has a lot of work ahead of it to get beyond the past," he said. Hesse said when he visited the city of Capetown, the black people were still living on the flats outside of town that looked like a big reform camp. The white people were living in beautiful, spotless Capetown.

Hesse said he hopes to go into the foreign service or another eign service or another organization like it when he gets out of school.

"I want to make a

"I want to make a change on the international level, if I can, using the skills I have," he said.

Hesse is working with the community service program until this summer when he departs for Alaska to work with a wildlife group and go backpacking.

Carol Peak, director of the community service program, was one of the people who encouraged Hesse to apply for the Marshall.

"Well, I think it's wonderful. He really exhibits all the values and the philosophy of Marshall scholars," she

He also managed to graduate in four and 1/2 years with a double major and a minor in international studies even though he spent a year in Africa.

"If people look ahead, they can get a lot done," he said.

Race for scholarships narrows

JIII Story

All four of K-State's Truman Scholarship nominees have advanced to the interview stage of competition.

Laura Bathurst, junior in anthropology and modern languages; Shanté Moore, junior in political science; Jason Cole, junior in philosophy and political science; and Elizabeth Ring, junior in history, will have their interviews February in Kansas City.

Winners will be announced March

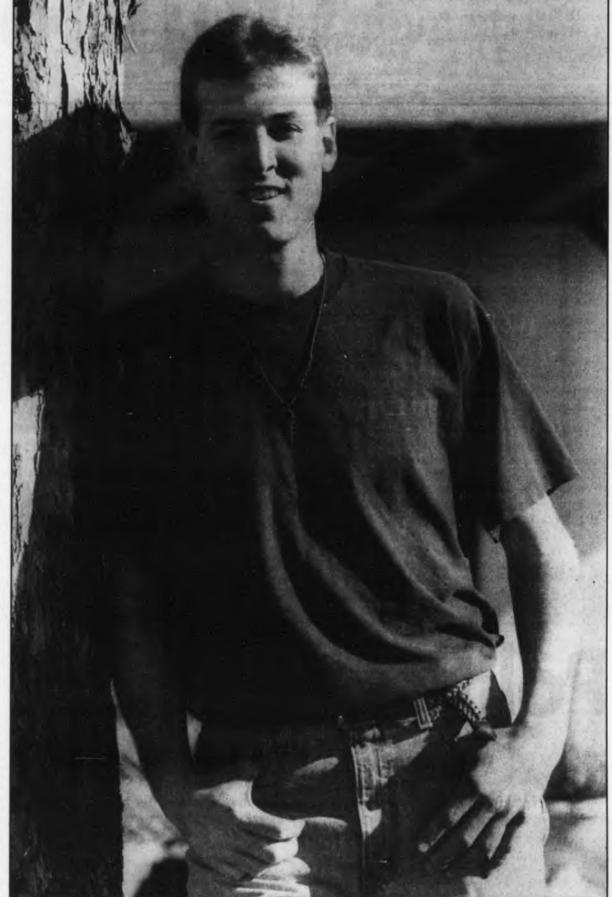

"I am pleased that all of our student nominees have been selected," K-State President Jon Wefald said. "They show outstanding promise of contributing significantly to society through public service."

Congress established the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation in 1975 as a memorial for the 33rd president of the United States. The Foundation awards $30,000 to college juniors, to be used for senior year and graduate study leading to a career in public service or government.

Nominees must show leadership potential, commitment to a career in public service, intellectual strength, analytical ability and prospects of a good performance in graduate school and demonstrate likelihood of making a difference in public service.

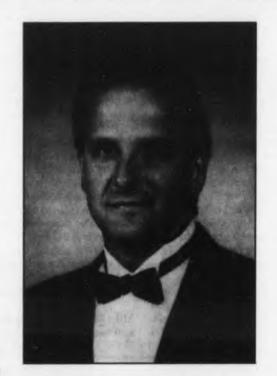

K-State has produced 18 Truman scholars and one alternate. Only Yale, Princeton, Stanford, Harvard and Duke universities and Radcliffe College, all private schools, have had more Truman scholars than K-State.

11 1 M. C. S. L. C. 17 1

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

Brian Hesse, is one of about 40 recipients nationwide to receive the Marshall Scholarship this year.

Wish this handsome looking Director of Bands a HAPPY 40TH BIRTHDAY
If you don't, he may tackle you.
Love,
The Band

cen•ten•ni•al\sen-`te-nē-əl\n: a 100th anniversary or its celebration – centennial adj

The celebration begins at 3 p.m. Jan. 26, 1996 in the Union Courtyard. Everyone welcome.

COLLEGIANopinion

Flint Hills Breadbasket needs your support

QUICKread To get a list of the drop-off sites for Souper Bowl Sunday, or to volunteer to be a drop off site, call the Flint Hills Breadbasket at 537-0730 or the Riley County Attorney's Office at 537-6390.

While students watch the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Dallas Cowboys compete Sunday in the Super Bowl, another competition is taking place in Manhattan. It's Souper Bowl Sunday.

While students were on break, the Flint Hills Breadbasket received news that the main USDA program that supplies it with essential commodities such as bulk protein, fruit and dairy products will be temporarily cut. These cuts will last until April, leaving the Breadbasket to rely on the Manhattan community to supply it with food for the 4,000 families which use its services.

As a way to augment supplies, Bill Kennedy, Riley County Attorney, is organizing Souper Bowl Sunday. The community is urged to donate soup and other cans of food to the Breadbasket.

K-State students have a history of supporting the Breadbasket. During the fall, the Cats for Cans food drive raised 50,000 cans of food.

But people don't just need help dur-ing the holiday season. Food is needed year-round, and now the need is vital.

So students, dig into those pockets once again. Take $5, buy some nutritious food and donate it to the Breadbasket.

Student groups - have each member donate a can at your next meeting. Residence halls - have floor competitions to see who can donate the most. Greek houses - walk door-to-door through your neighborhoods, seeking donations from neighbors.

The Collegian is volunteering to be a drop-off site for the cans. Bring them by Kedzie 103 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., or Kedzie 116 during evening hours.

While enjoying the Super Bowl, remember there are hungry people who rely on your generosity.

Notes from the underground

Politics as usual affects everyone

Myview

Hamilton

ECUTIVE

ADRIAN FLEMING

s of Friday, no more money will flow out of the federal government. Even essential personnel received their last paycheck Friday.

This does not mean that the government is any more "shut down" than it was yesterday. All the people who were still working last Friday will probably still be working today.

They just aren't getting paid.

Unlike employees who are deemed nonessential, who were told to go away when the money for their work ran out, everyone seems to expect essential employees to remain at

They can't stop working just because they aren't getting paid right now. If they do, they will probably lose their jobs.

it "unprecedented." The Newt calls it politics. I've heard lots of responses to the government shutdown. "What government shut-

He has a point. The government was thought up, and is getting re-thought up, by people, and so can be changed by people.

However, the government does exist. The shutdown does not mean that you won't get thrown in jail if you don't pay your taxes.

Other responses don't seem as funny to me, though. For example, there exists a small but very vocal group that supports the Gingrich/Dole dynamic duo and blames the government shutdown on Clinton.

In reality, though, you can only fault Clinton for not caving in to totally unreasonable congressional pressure.

Ninth-grade government classes tried to teach us the checks and balances system of government, but some people never learn.

A quick refresher: In our country, Congress is in charge of creating legislation, and the President's job is to enforce it. If the legislation seems unreasonable (if, for example, it takes away some basic government service that every other western, industrial nation already offers to a greater degree), the President is supposed to veto it.

That happened this time, and the Republicans became so upset that they refuse to pass any additional spending legislation.

A popular political technique is called "the Big Lie." The Big Lie should seem absurd but gets told so often people start believing it.

I think we're getting a Big Lie here, too; the Republicans claim they have a mandate from the people to change the government in certain ways.

Never mind that the Constitution allows groups with a mandate to have their way. The Constitution defines the mandate as a two-thirds majority in Congress, enough to override a veto. If the Repub-licans had that, they'd have a mandate. They don't, so they have to deal with checks and bal-

The most disturbing response I've heard, however, concerns the non-essential employees who haven't been working. I heard a promo on CNN that went something like, "With thousands of government employees not working, we wonder, do we really need these people at all?" heard another person say, "Well, the shutdown hurts some Native Americans and some kids aren't in school. Some museums and national parks are closed. And some old people are having trouble. "But really, the shutdown hasn't affected me, much, and if it'll save us money, I'd be just as happy if it stayed shut down."

EGISLATIVE

down?"

seems the most

Other responses I find entertaining include one from my common friend Hagbard, who believes that the government (as well as the news) is a work of fiction, a mass societal hallucination.

way," he said. "People think of the government as existing in the same sense as a mounand this whole mess is a good way to remind

"We make it all up as we go along, any-

But really, the government doesn't exist,

Aside from the questionable morality of this individual, this statement exhibits a deep and well-rooted stupidity about how society works. The shutdown affects everyone, although some of the ways it does are too subtle and long-term for some to figure out.

Regardless, we are seeing one immediate effect of the shutdown. Every day the shutdown continues, we go much further into debt. All this talk about balancing the budget costs us a lot of money.

Jason Hamilton is a senior in English-creative writing and psychology.

Students help us do our jobs want to welcome you to the Collegian, again. This is a traditional column in which the editor tries to tell you how we work, why we work and how different we will be from any previous semester.

And we try to make sure you understand how important you are to us.

The Collegian is a part of Student Publications Inc.. along with the Royal Purple yearbook and Campus Directory. Publications Inc. is a student-run organization, independent of the University except for a fee that we all paid during enrollment and a board of elected students and appointed faculty called the Board of Student Publications. We have an adviser, Ron Johnson, who tells us what we did wrong or could have done better after the newspaper is in your hands.

What all that means is we are free to print what we want. And what we want is to print whatever interests you.

Like most of our readers, we are students. We go to class, skip class, go out on the weekends and go out some week nights. We get parking tickets and stand in line for financial aid. We sit in class next to our readers and hear the same things you

We feel like we know what affects you and what interests you. We have always wanted to make sure you get those things from your newspaper.

We still want to serve you - the reader.

All of the awards we win don't mean anything if you are not satisfied. I know that in some ways we can never meet everyone's expectations. Author and radio personality Garrison Keillor once wrote, "A good newspaper is never good enough, but a truly bad one is a joy forever." If he is right, I hope you'll decide that the Collegian is not good enough. And to that end, I want your help in making it better.

If you know someone who is the neatest thing since sliced bread, or if your professor invents a chemical that cures hangovers, or the K-State Student Union collapses into a giant sink hole, give us a call. Our phone number is

Myview

Marlett

Tell us what you think. Share your opinions by calling, writing (Kedzie 116), faxing (532-6456) or sending email (collegn@spub.ksu.edu).

We plan to share our opinions a little more this year. Last year, the Collegian endorsed some candidates for city council. This year, we are going to comment on student elections.

> We are not going to endorse student senators, because we couldn't make accurate assessments for all colleges.

But we will endorse candidates for student body president, boards, councils and anything else that may be voted on by the entire student body. The editorial board of this paper plans to interview candidates. We want to be able to tell you exactly who we will vote for and why. It will just be our opinion, and it will be clearly marked as such.

This does not mean that we will not have fair and accurate reporting about the candidates. It does not mean that we won't put out a voter's guide filled with nothing more than the candidates' own words about the issues that students want to know about. We plan to do as much as we have done in the past, only more.

But that may not be so easy.

Some of you may have noticed that it was harder to get a copy of the Collegian last semester. Unfortunately, that will not change. The price of newsprint forced us to cut our circulation by a few thousand copies last fall, and paper has only become more expensive.

We don't plan to cut more, but I want to encourage you to use the paper-free version of the Collegian, the Electronic Collegian. It is on the World Wide Web at (http://www.spub.ksu.edu/). The E-Collegian routinely has more and longer stories, more photos, color, sound and instant feedback.

However you read the Collegian, stay in touch with us.

Mike Marlett, editor in chief, is a senior in journalism and mass communications.

Sex education lacking 1 important part

You can have unprotected sex with someone you know very well, someone who knows exactly what you like and how you like it, with no risk of pregnancy or other terminal side effects.

This person won't think you are kinky, loud or looking for commitment.

It's that thing you never talk about, but Beavis and Butt-head can make into a half-hour show. Masturba-Everybody does it. Some of you have done it today. Some of you will do it later. And some of you could be doing it right now.

It amazes me through all the years of sex education lectures, films and cheesy public service announcements, I don't remember ever being told anything about masturbation.

I know at first it seems a strange concept - including masturbation in sex education. Why not? We teach children how to have sex with someone else. Why not discuss how to have sex with themselves?

Sex education should begin at home. But personally, I cannot imagine my mother discussing masturbation. This woman's idea of a birth control pill was putting an aspirin between your knees and holding it.

MARY RENEE Smith

She convinced my sister that eating chocolate makes the body release the same hormones and produce the same euphoria as having sex. My sister's running joke

"Snickers - the bar that really satisfies."

The church didn't offer much more guidance. I was taught you only touch yourself for the two W's, wiping and washing. Even then, if it took more than two seconds, you had to go to confession.

Of course, if you can't scare the public with morality, you can convince them what they are doing will make them sick.

The myths began long ago. Hairy palms, bad eyesight, poor hearing. During the 1700s, doctors said the nervous system could be damaged by the convulsive effects

During the 1800s, J.H. Kellogg wrote a popular book that suggested a diet including cornflakes to stifle those evil desires.

He listed some tell-tale signs of a masturbator: rounded shoulders, weak backs, paleness, acne, bashfulness, boldness and confu-

Kellogg claimed masturbators were more likely to start using tobacco. And you thought nicotine addiction was how the tobacco industry hooked you.

Talking about masturbation makes more sense than the myths, silence and giggles the subject now brings.

If we knew how to please ourselves, we would not be so anxious to have sex with someone else. Sex with someone else would be better if we knew what pleased us to begin with. Let's be honest. We are not having sex to reproduce. We are having sex because it feels good. Occasionally incredible.

But alas, masturbation is a dirty word and is better left alone. Joycelyn Elders was fired from being Surgeon General for even suggesting we include masturbation in our sex education programs.

Teach kids about disease and condom use, but heaven forbid we tell them they can please themselves at no risk. It always amazes me that everything about sex has to be labeled moral or immoral, right or wrong. If you do something that feels good and doesn't hurt anyone, no one should care.

Masturbation is the one form of sex we all have in common. Let's have Masturbation Pride Day.

It could be a day when everyone admits they like pleasure and it's OK. Everyone does it, everyone knows everyone does it, and no one cares.

Interesting concept, sexuality without judgment.

Mary Renee Smith is a freshman in journalism and mass communications,

► CAMPUS

Franklin to help fathers through national program

Sarah Lunday

Walking across campus takes Bernard Franklin longer than most people. He stops to chat with several people and waves to more people than not.

As assistant dean of student life, Franklin said he enjoys knowing that his job is to help people on campus. But it is time to move on.

Franklin is leaving He has accepted the position of vice president and national director of the National Center for Fathering in Shawnee. "It's a major promotion," Franklin said. He leaves K-State in June and begins his job in Shawnee on July 1 The National Center for Fathering is a non-profit education and research center dedicated to equipping and inspiring men to become involved fathers.

Franklin said, "I get to do what I enjoy doing full-time." Although he said he enjoys working with everyone on campus, with his new job he will be able to help people nationwide. At K-State, Franklin was assistant dean for five years, and as a student, he was the first African American to be elected student body president. He was also the youngest member and then chair of the Kansas Board of Regents.

In his new position, Franklin said he wants to reach minority fathers. He will be gathering data about families and giving direction to education and programming for minority men.

He will also travel nationally as a spokesman for fathering and be a co-facilitator for center-sponsored seminars.

"It's something I have a passion for," he

Although the center has a large data bank about fathering, the data is mostly conglomerated from white families.

"There's only so much a white guy can do," he said.

Franklin sees his new job as a mission mission to help more people.

Ken Canfield, president of the center, said Franklin is a leader and they are happy to

"I will be privileged to work side-by-side with Bernard in developing and equipping men to be the kind of fathers they're meant to be," Canfield said.

As a leader at K-State, the list of Franklin's accomplishments affects students, staff and professionals in the Manhattan community.

He coordinated the University's response to student misconduct, advised several groups on campus, assisted with an African American Male Symposium and has done

Pat Bosco, dean of student life and associate vice president for institutional advancement, worked with Franklin directly.

"Bernard's commitment to his work at K-State has been extraordinary. He has touched so many lives, not just as a professional, but also when he was here as student body pres-

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for Bernard and his family. Seeing good people move onward and upward is part of university life. We feel fortunate to have had Bernard at K-State as long as we have," Bosco said.

New payroll program starts

The arrival of the new year means many K-State employees had to make adjustments after they began receiving biweekly paychecks Employees had been receiving monthly paychecks, but last November the Kansas Legislature decided on a biweekly payroll for all state employees.

State employees had been getting paid at varying times. The Kansas Department of Administration wanted to standardize the payroll, said Jennifer Gehrt, assistant director of human resource services. The change has caused many University employees to rearrange their budgets. People who had all their bills due the same time they received their monthly paycheck have had to change some of their payment times to accommodate for a biweekly pay-

"We are having people who are having a hard time adjusting," Gehrt

Because they just started receiving biweekly paychecks, many employees do not have a system worked out yet.

"It's too soon to tell yet. We rearranged bills to be due later in the month. In a month or two, we'll be cool," said Caralyn Harkins, center beverage work leader in the Union Stateroom.

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

 Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Same day results

Call for appointment

in Anderson Village

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Nancy Umscheid, area work leader in the Stateroom, said biweekly paychecks forced her to change her loan payment to a later date.

"It's gonna be tough." Umscheid said. "I liked it better being able to pay it all off at one time because you know what you have and you can go from there.'

But some people liked getting paychecks on a more regular basis.

"It seems like more when you get paid twice a month," Meg Ticknor, graduate student in politics, said.

Some employees said they liked not having to budget for the whole month when they get paid biweekly.

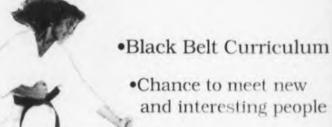

"I don't have to worry about saving," said Linda Tarver, a cashier in the K-State Student Union Bookstore.

David Jayne, junior in civil engineering, said it was easier for him to budget for his food and housing bilis with biweekly paychecks. "I think it is a lot easier when you get paid twice a month because you don't have to worry about stretching one paycheck for the whole month.

he said. Gehrt said the system was working pretty well so far.

"There's some growing pains, but we've paid most people pretty correctly," Gehrt said.

Fantastic work out

•Develop the "Yes, I can" attitude!

TRIAL PROGRAM Present this ad for a FREE

Tae Kwon Do • Hapkido • Judo

Korean Martial Arts & Fitness Center Call 776-4040 Today

1111 Moro in Aggieville

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS INC.

Franklin

QUICKread

Franklin, assis-

dent life, will leave K-State in June to begin a new job July 1 and national director of the National Center for Fathering in Shawnee.

as vice president

tant dean of stu-

▶ Bernard

Yearbook wins 2 awards

K-State's 1995 Royal Purple student yearbook earned an All-American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press.

This is the 56th such award for the Royal Purple. No other college yearbook in the nation has earned this award as many times.

"Your book sets a standard of excellence by which other books can be measured," Sharon Illa, ACP judge,

Illa also praised the Royal Purple's diversity of coverage and its photogra-

"The award is certainly a tribute to the hard work of the 14-member student staff," Linda Puntney, Royal Purple adviser and assistant director of Student Publications Inc., said. "I've been advising yearbooks for 28 years, and I would rank this as one of the three best yearbooks I have worked with."

The 1995 book won all five marks of distinction at the convention, including concept and essentials, coverage, writing and editing, layout and design and photography.

'K-State enjoys a fine tradition of yearbook journalism," Puntney said. "It's rewarding when the publication is recognized nationally for its quality, but the staff is keenly aware that the most important judges are the 21,000 students who attend K-State."

Sarah Kallenbach, staff member for the 1995 Royal Purple, agreed. 'We were really honored to win the All-American rating. Every year we work really hard to create the highest quality book possible, not only for us, but for the student body, since that is who the book is for," Kallenbach

The Royal Purple was also named best of show at the 1995 CMA/ACP

All the news that's fit to download.

THE ELECTRONIC COLLEGIAN

(HTTP://WWW.SPUB.KSU.EDU)

GOT A DUSTY HODN?*

BANDS!

You've been meaning to get it out and practice, but it's not much fun playing the bassoon part to Holst's First Suite by yourself. It's missing a lot. And so are YOU! If you enjoyed a musical experience in high school, continue it NOW. Music is NOT for music majors alone.

Before you toss the idea aside, come to the Band Office in Room 226 in McCain Auditorium to sign up to learn more about the band programs on campus.

BE APART OF A GREAT BAND TRADITION!

MUS 116 17660 MWF 12:30-1:30 McCain 201

KSU BANDS PHONE - 532-5740 * If you have no horn at all, we will find one for you.

Welcome Back, Students!

Only 63 Days 'til Spring Break!

1 HOUR PHOTO

2 PRINTS FOR THE PRICE OF 1

Use C-41 Processing

Reg $849 Now $449

Reg $549 Now $349

Reg $270 Now $199

MB QUART

⊕Cerwin-Vega!

Expires 3-22-96

WAL*MART FILM DEVELOPING

There's no better place to take pictures!

628 Tuttle Creek Blvd. • 776-3100

WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB & CLUB BEAUTY SALON

Retail Specials

- KMS Buy 1, Get 1 at 1/2 Price (equal or lesser value)
- Paul Mitchell Value Packs ONLY $1195
- Nexxus hair brush FREE with '25 Nexxus purchase
- Sebastian Candle FREE with $25 Sebastian purchase (while supplies last)

Clearance Aisle up to 85% OFF Selected items (thru 1/31/96)

Sorbie is back in stock!

Salon Specials Hair Cuts $795 Perms starting@ $20

-Massage Merapist New Certified Massage Therapist on staff - she specializes in Neuromuscular Therapy Swedish Massage

Shiatsu

WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB & CLUB BEAUTY SALON

Store 539-5999

New Location 409 Poyntz

Salon 539-6969

UDIO JUNCTION, INC.

HI FI - Car Stereo - Video

DENON KENWOOD Definitive Technology

Monday -Friday 10-7

Saturday

(I) PIONEER

Callacting.

WELCOME BACK STUDENTS!

Don't miss our INVENTORY CLEARANCE SALE.

Our buyers have just returned from the Consumer Electronics Sale where they have ordered New '96 products. We must sell out our existing inventory

Many items at Dealer Cost! Hurry Quantities Limited.

Here's a few examples:

HOME STEREO SYSTEMS-COMPONENTS-SPEAKERS-CAR STEREOS

Polk Audio Rus3000 Speakers

Kenwood US 302 Mini System

Precision Power

focial fosquite

Alpine 7526 Cassette Deck

10-5

307 Ft. Riley Blvd.

587-4646

 men's basketball DID YOU KNOW?

After going winless on the road in the Big 8 last year, the K-State men's basketball team is now 2-0 on the against conference opponents.

Cats go 9-2 over winter break, now 12-4

Todd Stewart

Saturday's 75-60 win over Oklahoma improved K-State's record to 12-4 on the season and 9-2 over winter break.

It was a winter break that saw a little bit of everything, from a 13-point home loss to a tournament champi-

Michigan State thumped the Wildcats 67-54 in the first game of the break, but the Cats responded with seven-straight wins, highlighted by a win over California in the title game of the Otis Spunkmeyer Classic. In that game, senior point guard and leading scorer Elliot Hatcher remained scoreless on 0-for-10 shooting from the field, but it was a different story in Saturday's game.

Hatcher scored 25 points at Oklahoma and hit four of his five three-point attempts.

Before the Oklahoma game, Coach Tom Asbury said containing Sooner guard Ryan Minor would be the key.

"They really look for him to score," Asbury said. "He has the green light, and guys like that are dangerous.' But Minor continued to struggle against the Cats, scoring just 11 points on 2-of-17 shooting in Saturday's game. In the Jan. 9 game, he was held to just 16 points on 5-of-18 shooting. Saturday was redemption for the Cats after a 64-59 loss in the Jan. 9 game at Bramlage Colisieum. "They just played harder than we did, they wanted it," Tyrone Davis said. "We just need to hit our shots." It was a sharp contrast to the game before, a 72-55 win in the team's Big 8 opener, when Asbury said he saw the Cats play as well as they could. "In the first half, we played as well as we've played all year," Asbury said. "In any Big 8 conference game, we should come out to play, and we did."

Asbury also said one of the highlights on the season so far has been the play of freshman Shawn Rhodes.

"He's 6 feet 10 inches, and he's going to shoot it right in your eye," Asbury said.

Up next for the Cats is a home match Wednesday against Oklahoma State, followed by a weekend road trip to Missouri.

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Junior guard Anton Hubert tries to avoid an Oklahoma defender in Saturday's win. The win gave the Wildcats a split in the season series at 1-1.

Womens' team beats OU, 80-67

Dan Lewerenz

K-State's women's basketball team (11-8, 3-3 in Big 8 play) had its share of 7-6 after a big conference win over Oklahoma Sunday.

ups and downs over the break, finishing breaking loss to Ohio in December by holding on for a 66-63 win over Michigan before taking a break for finals

The season then took a seemingly disappointing turn when the Cats dropped three straight to Southwest Missouri State (63-50), Northwestern (86-77OT) and George Washington (69-45) in the San

But the losses masked obvious signs of improvement. The Cats took then-No. 25 Northwestern (now No. 12 in the USA Today/CNN Coaches' Poll) to overtime before succumbing, sophomore wing Brit Jacobson added an outside threat to her game by canning four 3-pointers in the first half against George Washington, and Juan Shootout in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Jones' 38 points and 22 rebounds earned her team MVP honors.

"When you play against good competition, you find out what your weaknesses are, because they get exploited. And you also find out what your strengths are," Agler said.

The Cats returned home after Christmas and exploded with a four-game winning streak, including the conference opener against Missouri. Jacobson's 12 points sparked a 64-39 romp over Missouri-Rolla and led the Cats with 21 in a 68-55 win over Idaho, and junior wing Missy Decker's 14 points coupled with Jones' 12 boards to claim a 63-58 win over Arkansas State.

Jacobson's 25 points helped K-State to a 69-58 win over the Tigers. The Cats defense kept all-conference forward Erika Martin to just four first-half points before her 13 free throws in the second helped her to 28 points.

But the Cats' second slide would start that weekend, when the Colorado Buffaloes came in and took a 64-58 win

K-State dropped two more on the road the following weekend, falling to Iowa State and Nebraska. But the team righted itself Friday with an 81-68 overtime win over No. 17 Oklahoma State

The break ended with the Cats' 80-67 victory over Oklahoma, a team that swept K-State last year. Both weekend games saw four Cats in double-figures, with Jacobson and wing Jenny Coalson earning double-doubles in the OU contest.

Missy Decker wrestles the ball away from an opponent in yesterday's victory over Oklahoma.

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

KC Royals players reflect on fans, season and improvements for the upcoming 1996 baseball season

I'm a purist, and I believe

CHRIS HANEY

ROYALS PITCHER

interleague play would inhibit the growth of baseball.

Shana Newell staff writer

With the future of professional baseball uncertain following the 1994 player's strike, the Kansas City Royals continued its attempt to embrace fans last Thursday afternoon at the Manhattan Town

Infielder David Howard, outfielder Johnny Damon and pitchers Chris Haney and Mike Magnante spent the afternoon signing autographs and visiting with children of all ages

This was the 26th year the Royals organization has visited towns throughout Kansas, but this year the Royals want to concentrate on the fans, Royals Manager of Community Relations Barry Holmes

"Our focus this year was in visiting as many towns as possible while also spending quality time at each stop," Holmes said.

Having recently signed a two-year contract with the Royals, 28-year-old Howard is not new to the Royals

A three-year veteran to the caravan, Howard said his favorite part of the tour is the kids "I love to watch the look on their faces," he said as he signed a young boy's T-shirt. "This right here is why I do this." As the Royals' utility player, Howard had a career-high season last year in the club with a .243 batting average, 255 at bats, 23 runs, 62 hits, 13 doubles, four triples, 19 RBIs and six stolen bases while playing in 95 games

"I'm doing what I've always wanted to do," Howard said. "I'm living out my dream. I just tell kids to have fun. That's the most important thing. I almost quit baseball once because I wasn't having fun. Once I let myself have fun, I was able to enjoy the game once again."

Professional baseball is in the process of yet another change as the idea of interleague play is becoming less a prospect and more a truth. The proposed interleague format would have each team play 15-16 interleague games starting in 1997.

While the revenue possibilities for the organizations are increased, and fans would be able to see teams and players that were before unavailable to them except through travel and television. Haney said he believes the plan is detrimental to organized

Under the plan, each team from the AL East would play three games against each team from the NL East, each team from the AL Central would play three games against each team from the NL Central, and each team from the AL West would play three games against each team from the NL West.

"What this means," the 27-year-old Haney said, "is that the play-off picture and the idea of a true national champion has become tarnished."

'Right now, every team in the American League has to play the same amount of games against the same competition that every other team in the league has to play against," Haney said. "If interleague play passes, the Royals will be playing 15-16 games each year against National League teams that, say, the Boston Red Sox wouldn't be playing against. Instead, the Sox would be playing a different set of National League teams."

Haney, a left-handed starter for the Royals, said he was concerned that this would mean that in some seasons some teams might have an easier nonleague schedule than other teams in their league.

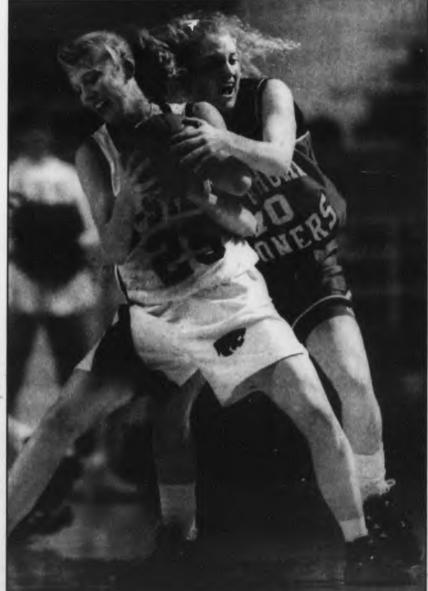

"I'm a purist, and I believe interleague play would inhibit the growth of baseball."

Following their stint at the mall, the Royals spent the evening in Aggieville mingling with K-State students. "It's easy to talk about baseball," Damon said. "It doesn't matter who you are, what color or sex you are, how big or small you are. Baseball is for every-"I enjoyed spending time with the students."

Damon said. "I just want everyone to know that we're not too different from your average Joe. Not too many people understand that."

Damon led all of organized baseball with 198 hits during the 1995 season. He was promoted to Kansas City in August from Double-A Wichita after hitting a .343 with 16 home runs, 54 RBI and 35 stolen bases for the Wranglers.

MARTIN LUTHER KING OBSERVANCE WEEK

Memorial walk, lecture part of week's events

Sera L. Tank

This week will be a time of reflection for K-State on the mission and message of Martin Luther King Jr.

"Passing the Torch, Igniting the Vision of a New Generation" will be the theme for Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week at K-State.

One of the highlights for the week will be a Convocation lecture by Patricia Russell-McCloud, an orator and president of Russell-McCloud and Associates in Atlanta. The speech is titled "When the Silent Should Speak."

Russell-McCloud will speak at 10:30 a.m. Friday in McCain Auditorium. She has spoken at K-State two times in the past: once for the women's studies department and once during a Big 8 conference for the Black Student Union.

"I've seen her speak three times personally, and she responded to the issues of the day and the real world," said Veryl Switzer, associate director of intercollegiate athletics.

Switzer said Russell-McCloud helps to motivate the audience.

She helps young people develop themselves professionally and use the system," he said. "She helps people to move mountains with skills and abili-

The traditional memorial walk will be at 6 tonight and will begin in front of Waters Hall and conclude at All Faiths Chapel. A candlelight vigil and religious service will follow.

The walk is usually on Martin Luther King Jr. Day, but because school was not in session then, it was postponed until tonight.

'The walk is reflective of Dr. King's work. We thought it would be good to expose the issues," Switzer said. "It's also a way to dramatize the need to address them in a non-violent way."

James Boyer, professor of education, organized the College of Education's seminar, "Education and Non-Violence: Questions Children

Martin Luther King Jr.

Memorial Walk from Waters Hall to All Faiths Chapel.

Coordinated by the Alpha Phi Alpha Fratemity.

Candlelight Vigil and Religious Service at All Faiths Chapel.

Rev. Samuel Mann, St. Mark's Church in Kansas City, Mo., and chair of the Greater Kansas City chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference will speak in the Union

"Interfaith Dialogue: Students Discuss Discrimination on Campus" will be presented in the Union Little Theatre.

Observance Week

January 22 - 28, 1996

Courtyard.

Ask" at 11:30 a.m. Thursday in Bluemont 016.

Children from third to 11th grades and from area school districts, including Manhattan-Ogden and Junction City, will come to K-State to discuss problems in public schools with education majors.

All majors are invited to join in the discussion.

The children will ask the education majors questions about violence in

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 equality, it is important to institutionalize equality.

"In 1996, we still have the need to make the larger society understand the economically disadvantaged, the handicapped, women and people who don't speak English as their first language," he said.

Boyer said he hopes K-State will adopt a program to help address that need.

Academic departments at the University, such as the American ethnic studies and women's studies, are helping students better understand equality.

"No student should graduate from Kansas State University who has not had the opportunity to dialogue about equality," Boyer said.

Clyde Howard, director of unclassified affirmative action, King challenged Americans to live up to the promises the nation was found-

"The thing that in his life impacted the life of others was him challenging people to live up the ideals that are in the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and other documents we hold dear," he said. Howard said addressed and challenged K-State when he came to speak at a Convocation lecture.

"One of the things we learned through his visit to Kansas State University is that what we have to do at Kansas State University is be active and focused," he said. "K-State has tried to do what it could with the resources it has had."

'We have improved our diversity and tried to make this a place where ideas can grow and thrive."

Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, said one of King's greatest acts of courage was fighting hatred with love, peace and understanding through bus boycotts and sitins during a time when racial tensions were high.

"He motivated people out of his courage. If you consider the period, that was phenomenal. He just had tremendous courage," he said.

But, Franklin said King's courage is difficult to find at K-State or anywhere else today. Franklin said one reason for this lack of courage in leadership could be the media. There's such media scrutiny in people's personal lives that people don't want to be leaders," he said. Another reason, Franklin said, could be the restricted speech. He said people worry that they could get in trouble for something they might say.

Franklin pointed to the Million Man March as one of the positive leadership activities in the 1990s. But, he said, many people's disdain for Louis Farrakhan, the organizer of the march, put a negative light on it.

Franklin said King helped K-State realize its need for more diversity in its faculty and its student body.

"He helped us focus on the fact that Kansas State University needed to broaden its mission," he said. "I think we're still trying to live out that mission.

Franklin said we can monitor the situation by reassessing our programs constantly and not just on a annual or biannual basis. "You have to keep doing this because you have new people who come into your environment all the time," he said. Daniele Dempsey-Slopes, director of classified affirmative action, said she thinks K-State was affected in much the same way the rest of the country was by King's messages and mission.

"I think he was a catalyst for peaceful Many people here view change. He spoke out his work as finished withon issues out recognizing that disthat needed crimination still exists in to be brought to many forms. I guess peo-

the fore-

Like

Slopes said she thinks people are motivated

not as

Franklin,

said.

ple forget that we haven't front," she achieved his dream yet. DANIELE DEMPSEY-SLOPES Dempsey-

DIRECTOR OF CLASSIFIED AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

as they were in the 1960s to carry out King's dream.

"I think people are willing to learn about him and his work, but there's not as much of an effort to carry out his mission," she said. "Many people here view his work as finished without recognizing that discrimination still exists in many forms.

"I guess people forget that we haven't achieved his dream yet.

BOSNIA

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Medium Girder Bridge, is waiting for possible orders on a move into Bosnia to aid the U.N. in its peacekeeping

The Medium Girder Bridge is a high-capacity bridge that is designed for quick assembly and disassembly.

They went to Europe for additional training and are awaiting further orders," said Deb Skidmore, media relations officer at Fort Riley.

Skidmore said the 55th Engineer Company is the only company from Fort Riley to deploy for Bosnia, and no other units from the post are on

Today, Jan. 22

Tuesday, Jan. 23

6 p.m.

7 p.m.

Source: Beth Bohn

6:30 p.m.

There is no exact time line for the unit to return to Fort Riley, she said.

They could be back as soon as a year, but they will go until the mission is accomplished," Skidmore said.

For the families of the soldiers that were deployed, the mission will not be over soon enough.

About 50 of the soldiers who are in Belgium left spouses behind at the eastern Kansas army post, and about half had to say goodbyes to their chil-

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

"The family support group is currently preparing video tapes and care packages to send to the unit when they get an APO address in Europe," said Tammi Haggins-Ledbetter, wife of Company Commander William Ledbetter, and co-president of the family support group.

Haggins-Ledbetter and Deborah Allen, wife of Sgt. Mark Allen, led the family support group that provides a number of services to its members.

"If a spouse can't make it to the grocery store for some reason, sometimes a member will take a grocery list to the commissary for them," Haggins-Ledbetter said.

Aside from the obvious hassles of temporarily being separated from their spouses, some wives are faced with additional responsibilities such as paying bills and tending to children by

The family support group helps wives who are struggling and need some extra help, which is important because many of the spouses work.

In addition to these services, the support group encourages members with financial problems to try take care of them on their own, but it will try to help when necessary.

Haggins-Ledbetter said the support group would try to tap resources through the battalion to help a mem-

The hardest part of a deployment for many family members is the separation from a loved one.

"In eight years, this is first time he has been deployed, including the Gulf," said Haggins-Ledbetter of her husband.

And, while he can only divulge so much information about the unit, Haggins-Ledbetter said she does not think there have been any injuries or problems with members of the unit. There are also at least five husbands who saw their wives off as a part of this deployment, and while only one is active in the support group, others have contacted Haggins-Ledbetter about becoming involved.

2000 IMAGES!

Haggins-Ledbetter said participation has increased and that may be because of a most basic need.

"Having someone to talk to who is going through the same sorts of problems you are going through, and experiencing the same feelings you are, is very supportive," she said.

DOFAK THE FAST FOOD CHAIL HABIT

100% Pure Kansas Beef served with ketchup, mustard, pickles and onions. For top if off with cheese and bacon. Offer good for a limited time.

ista has

1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 2700 Anderson Ave.

WHEN THE BEACH IS OUT OF REACH

- •Stand- Up Booth
- Walk-Ins Welcome

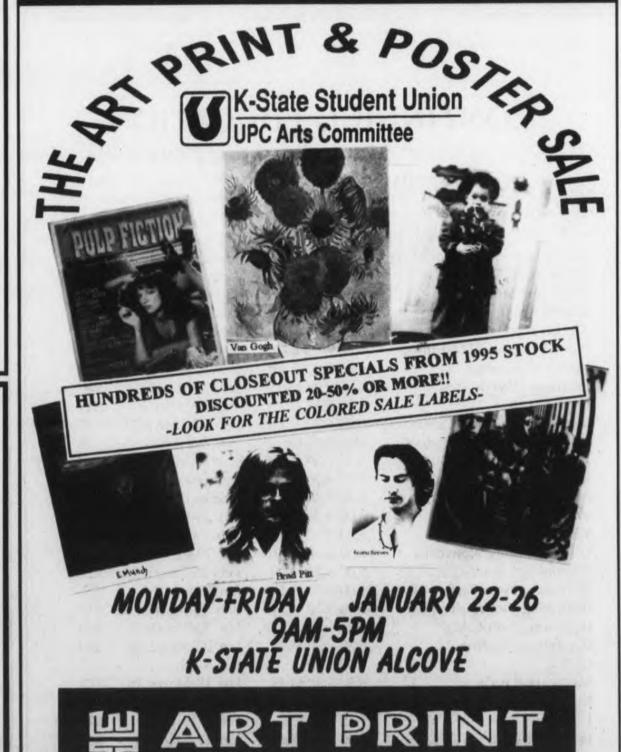

- Appointments Available Special Package Deals
- •10 Wolff System Tanning Beds Manhattan's Original Wolff Systems Center
 - Great New West Side Location Open Year Round With Convenient Hours
 - Serving Both Professional And Student Clientele

BACK TO SCHOOL SPECIAL 10 TANS FOR $25 Exp. 1-31-96

3232 Kimball 776-8060 TROPICAL TAN 1814 Claffin 537-0744

Always Great Bulbs At The Best Prices

NATION

Roe v. Wade sparks yearly march

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — As Congress moves closer to banning some rare late-term abortions, abortion opponents gathered in the nation's capital for their annual march to the Supreme Court to protest its landmark Roe v. Wade decision 23 years ago.

The abortion debate appears to have taken a back seat to budget and tax matters in this presidential election year, but it remains one of the most emotional and divisive public and political issues facing Americans.

Thousands of abortion opponents from across the country were to rally near the White House at lunchtime Monday before marching to the Supreme Court, as they have done every year since 1974.

Among those in Washington for the anniversary was Norma McCorvey, the "Jane Roe" in the 1973 decision. McCorvey, who attended a memorial service Sunday at Georgetown University, shocked abortion advocates last year by announcing that she now opposes the procedure.

"On August 8, 1995, Jane Roe died," McCorvey said, referring to the day she was baptized. The crowd of about 300 people shouted "Amen" and "Hallelujah" in response.

After her brief statement, McCorvey tearfully clutched Operation Rescue founder Randall Terry. "Truth conquered the heart of Jane Roe," Terry said.

The march comes as Congress is considering dealing a serious blow to the 1973 court decision by prohibiting an abortion procedure used in late-term pregnancies.

The Senate and House have each voted to ban the rarely used procedure, marking the first time since Roe v. Wade that Congress has acted to prohibit a specific abortion method. Differences in the House and Senate versions of the bill must be reconciled before it can be sent to the president.

President Clinton has threatened to veto any such legislation.

Meanwhile, abortion rights supporters were marking the anniversary as a day to celebrate.

"Roe v. Wade is arguably the most important decision affecting the lives and health of women in this country," said Kate Michelman, president of the National Abortion and Reproductive Rights Action League.

"Twenty-three years ago (the court) saved women from the shame and degradation of back alley abortions, and yet today the freedom of choice is in more jeopardy probably than at any other time since," she added.

The 1973 court decision declared that women's unrestricted access to abortions during the first three months of pregnancy was part of the constitutional right to privacy.

Terry expressed dismay that the ruling had not since been overturned.

"I believe the day will come in my life when politicians like Bill Clinton, Bob Dole and Newt Gingrich will be part of the past," he said. "In their place, we will elect statesmen who will fight for justice and righteousness."

Cardinal Bernard Law, Archbishop of Boston, called the Supreme Court ruling "tragic." Justice for unborn children who cannot speak for themselves can be achieved only through a combined effort to change laws, attitudes and the "dire circumstances" that lead some women to contemplate abortion, he said.

"It will be a lifelong struggle," predicted Law, chairman of the Committee for Pro-Life Activities of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

BANK ROBBERIES

Federal agents arrest Midwestern bandits

Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A couple of undercover police cars sitting in the street gave Mike Corne a hint that something big was happening in his neighborhood.

But he was shocked to find out that FBI agents were tracking one of the nation's most-wanted fugitives in his own back yard.

Agents on Thursday arrested Peter Langan — one of two men captured last week in connection with a string of bank robberies across the Midwest.

Langan and Richard Guthrie Jr., both 37, are thought to be key players in the Midwestern Bank Bandits — a group believed to be responsible for 18 bank robberies in seven Midwestern states, including Missouri and Kansas, since January 1994.

"We didn't know which house they were looking for, but we knew something was up," Corne said, "I can't believe that guy was living in our neighborhood."

The bank bandits received nationwide attention as they taunted the FBI by wearing shirts and caps with FBI logos during holdups and sending letters to newspapers nominating a St. Louis agent as their spokesman. They also would leave real or fake explosives behind during robberies.

Federal agents arrested Langan after a shootout at a house he rented on the city's south side. He is being held in the Franklin County jail, while his boyhood friend Guthrie is jailed in Covington, Ky., after being arrested Monday in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Both have been charged with robbing a bank in Omaha, Neb., in August 1994. Langan is also charged in a bank robbery in June 1995 in Glendale, Wis., while Guthrie is charged with a bank robbery last month in Springdale, Ohio.

The landlord who rented the house to Langan and Guthrie said he was "flabbergasted" after he learned of the shootout and the suspected backgrounds of his tenants.

"I'm telling you the gospel truth: I never suspected nothing," said Harlyn Bennett.

During a search of the house, federal agents found U.S. marshals' badges and identification, shirts and hats bearing the logo of the FBI and the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and books about how to monitor police scanners.

FBI Agent Ed Boldt said agents throughout the Midwest will spend the upcoming weeks gathering evidence in an attempt to link Langan and Guthrie with the other robberies.

"We don't want to paint these guys as being automatically responsible for all 18 bank robberies,"he said. "We have to find evidence beyond a reasonable doubt. There is a lot of work to be done."

News Digest -

BOMB THREAT FORCES DELTA FLIGHT TO LAND IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A Delta Air Lines flight from Cincinnati to Salt Lake City landed in Kansas City Saturday after the airline received a bomb threat.

Flight 1187 landed at Kansas City International Airport at about 8:35 p.m. and the 151 passengers aboard were evacuated, said Erin Flynn, Delta's manager of corporate communication.

"We are just following standard procedure and diverted to Kansas City to assure the safety of the plane," Flynn said. "We brought the dogs on to sniff the plane, and that is generally what delays the flight

Flynn said she had no information on how or where the bomb threat was received.

CONTINUING EDUCATION... At an affordable price!

Enrollment is now being accepted in the following continuing education classes at Manhattan Area Technical Center. Enrollment can be completed during regular office hours. Complete schedules including course descriptions are available at the Technical Center offices or the public library.

Fundamentals of Assounting	6:00-8:30 M,W	Jan. 29-March 30	$45
Fundamentals of Accounting Office Skills Review	6:00-9:00 Tues.	Jan. 30-March 19	$30
G 51557 G 51577 - 255 (G 7 1 1)			4.00
Feasibility Study	6:00-9:00 T, Th	Jan. 30-Feb. 22	$40
Business Plan Development	6:00-9:00 M,W	Jan. 22-Feb. 14	$40
Market Plan Development	6:00-9:00 M,W	Feb. 19-March 13	$40
Small Business Accounting	6:00-9:00 T, Th	Jan. 18-May 2	$60
Inventory Control	6:00-9:00 T, Th	Feb. 27-March 21	$40
Personnel Procedures	6:00-9:00 Mon.	Jan. 29-March 18	$40
Keyboarding	6:00-8:30 T, Th	Feb. 13-April 11	$45
Beginning Desktop Publishing	6:00-8:30 T, Th	Feb. 27-March 21	$35
Introduction to Computers	6:00-8:30 Fri.	Feb. 9-May 3	$35
Introduction to Computers	5:30-7:30 T, Th	Jan. 16-March 5	$35
Introduction to Computers	7:30-9:30 T,Th	Jan. 16-March 5	$35
MS-DOS Applications	6:00-8:30 T,Th	Jan. 16-Feb. 8	$25
Windows Applications	6:00-8:30 M,W	Jan. 29-Feb. 21	$25
Windows Applications	6:00-8:30 T, Th	Feb. 13-March 7	$25
Understanding Networks	6:30-8:30 T, Th	Jan. 23-Feb. 8	$15
Beginning Lotus 1-2-3	6:00-8:30 M,W	Feb. 26-March 20	$25
Beginning WordPerfect 6.0	6:00-8:30 T, Th	Jan 23-Feb 15	$25
Beginning WordPerfect 6.0	6:00-8:30 M,W	Feb. 19-March 13	$25
Beginning AutoCAD	6:00-10:00 T, Th	Jan. 30-March 7	$60
Beginning Welding	6:30-9:30 M,W	Jan. 22-March 20	$80
CPR	6:00-9:00	Feb 6-Feb 27	$20
Medication Aide	6:30-9:30 M,W	Jan. 17-March 18	$75
Medical Terminology	6:00-9:00 Wed.	Jan. 31-April 24	$65
EMT	6:15-10:15 M, Th	Feb. 5-July 18	$225
IV Therapy	9:00-4:00 Wed.	Jan. 17-March 6	$60
AND THE PARTY OF T

Textbooks can be purchased at Varney's Bookstores, 623 N. Manhattan, KS 66502

Manhattan Area Technical Center • 3136 Dickens Avenue Manhattan, KS 66503

913-587-2800 or 1-800-352-7575

CITY COMMISSION

City aids relocation

Commission gives Manko

$931,861 to assist construction of its new facility.

Chris Oakley

staff writer

Manko Window Systems Inc., which employs one-tenth of Riley County's manufacturing jobs, will be moving to a new site thanks to incentives awarded by the Manhattan City Commission.

At its Jan. 16 meeting, the commission unanimously agreed to give Manko $931,861 upon completion of the construction of its new site.

Commissioner Steve Hall excused himself from the vote, citing a conflict of interest.

The Manhattan Economic Development Opportunity Fund Advisory Board recommended the commission approve Manko's application for the funds.

Manko's current building is not able to be expanded, and Manko projects an increase in employees from 55 to 110.

"The building that we build this time will be set up to be expandable," Gary Jones, president of Manko, said.

Manko is currently considering two sites for its new building. One, which is privately owned, is located directly across from its present location at 520 McCall Road. The other, which is owned by the city, is located behind Burnett Auto, 400 McCall Road.

Although Manko is requesting only eight acres, City Manager Gary Greer said it may be in the best interest of the city to give Manko more. "The piece of land is strangely configured," Greer said. "It would be difficult to slice off 8 acres. We may want to be more flexible."

If Manko chooses to purchase the privately owned tract, it will be given a grant of $8,000 per acre for the purchase.

The commission also approved a letter of intent to grant Manko a 10-year property tax exemption.

The letter of intent does not obligate the commission to approve the exemption.

There must be a public hearing and first and second readings of the exemption ordinance before it is Also, the Pottawatomie County Appraiser must recommend the tax exemption and the State Board of Tax Appeals must approve it.

Kansas state law requires that cities conduct a cost-benefit analysis before granting a property tax exemption, which the city is in the process of developing

In other business, the commission agreed to allocate $4,000 to the Community Service Program.

The Community Service Program is a K-State sponsored program in which interns assist statewide communities with different projects.

Manhattan has been selected as one of six communities which will be host to the program.

Interns working in Manhattan will live with host families to become more familiar with the community

The students will work on a project which includes providing an update of the community historic survey, identifying possible grant funds for rehabilitation projects and the development of a community education program.

FORT RILEY

U.S. troops wrap up Haiti mission

William Thomas Burdette

ontributing write

Troops from Fort Riley's 568th Combat Support Equipment Company were deployed to Haiti Jan. 5.

While the United Nation's mission in Haiti is winding down and many troops are returning home, the 568th Company has been deployed to help wrap up the United States' involvement in Haiti, said Deb Skidmore, media relations officer for Fort Riley.

"They are working with the U.N. to close the mission in Haiti," Skidmore said.

In addition to base closure operations, the 568th Company is trying to ensure that when they leave, Haiti is in better condition then when U.S. troops first arrived there.

"Since they're engineers, they are doing some road construction to make sure the roads are in good shape when they leave Haiti," Skidmore said.

She said there have been no complications or setbacks in the deployment of the 568th Company.

"Normally we don't hear from them unless."

"Normally, we don't hear from them unless there is a problem, and we haven't heard anything yet. No news is good news," Skidmore said.

While there have been no problems in the base closure operations, there was a change of plans.

Originally, the 82nd Medical Company was to go with the 568th company to provide medical evacuation support, but they were not deployed. Instead, the medical troops already stationed in Haiti will provide the medical support needed to close out the mission.

Skidmore said the troops could be in Haiti for up to six weeks, but if the mission continues without incident they will return as soon as possible.

COME TO VARNEY'S BOOKSTORE AND FIND GREAT SAVINGS AND SERVICE

We are here to help. Save 25% on textbooks by buying used book from our large used book selection. We'll help you locate books and supplies. If you need a special order, we can order it for you. And we offer free parking. So start the year off right. Begin at Varney's.

539-0511

Open 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday thru Saturday Open noon until 5 p.m. Sunday

"We Give You Our Best"

SERVING MANHATTAN AND KANSAS STATE SINCE 1908

Shop at the store that supports your community.

KEEPING

ALIVE

"PASSING THE TORCH, IGNITING THE VISION OF A NEW GENERATION"

Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week January 22-28, 1996

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Kansas State University, Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex

January 1996

Watch for our full page ad on the 1st day of each month for program information and monthly calendar of Recreational Services Events!

Working It Out

Start your New Year with Wildcat Workouts! There's a new schedule of exercise sessions and a great staff to motivate and encourage you. New resistance equipment has arrived for the spring semester along with great new music. Bring a friend and make exercise a part of your schedule. The variety of exercise sessions offered means there is something for everyone.

Discount Offered

A 10% discount off the monthly rate will be given when purchasing a semester facility card (January -May). Call 532-6980 for more details!

Wildcat Workout Schedul

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
6:30 a.m 7:30 a.m.	Combo Aerobic & Step		Combo Aerobic & Step		Toning
9:45 a.m 10:45 a.m.		Combo Aerobic & Step		Combo Aerobic & Step		Combo Aerobic & Step
12 p.m 1 p.m.	Combo Aerobic & Step	Step	Combo Aerobic & Step	Step	Combo Aerobic & Step
3:15 p.m 4:15 p.m.	Step	Interval	Step	Interval	Step		27
4:20 p.m 5:20 p.m.	Interval	Step	Interval	Step	Interval
5:30 p.m 6:30 p.m.	Step	Aerobics	Step	Aerobics	Step		Step
7:30 p.m 8:30 p.m.		Advanced Step		Advanced Step
8:30 p.m 9:15 p.m.		Toning		Toning

AEROBICS combines high intensity and low impact exercise with energetic choreography.

STEP AEROBICS offers fun and challenging foot work to increase exercise intensity.

COMBO TRAINING is a combination of aerobics, step aerobics and circuit

INTERVAL TRAINING combines alternating sets of aerobics, step aerobics, strength training and muscle toning.

TONING offers weight resistance training for all major muscle groups.

Pool Action

Take the plunge in 1996 with Aqua Aerobics! The spring schedule includes new hours for your noon and evening schedule. Water exercise provides a great workout as water adds resistance and buoyancy decreases impact on all joints and the spine. Swimming ability and head submersion are NOT required. Jump in and join the fun at the Ahearn Natatorium.

Wildcat Waterworks Schedule

Aqua Aerobics Monday, Tuesday & Thursday Noon & 8 p.m.

Deep Water Jogging Wednesday

NTRAMURAL MAI

JANUARY INTRAMURAL DATES TO REMEMBER

Day	Event
26	Entry Deadline: Basketball and Indi
29	Basketball Officials' Meeting
31	Cantains'/Managers Meeting

ividual Sports 5 p.m. Recreational Services office 6:30 p.m. Recreation Complex

Union, Little Theatre

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Don't miss our largest Intramural sport of the year! Entries will be accepted Monday, January 22, through Friday, January 26. Entries are taken at the Recreational Services office during normal office hours. Information sheets with league menus are available at the Recreation Complex. Call 532-6980 for additional information. BE A PART OF THE ACTION!

5 p.m.

BASKETBALL OFFICIALS WANTED

Recreational Services will be hiring and training BASKETBALL OFFICIALS for the upcoming season. Training sessions will be held on Monday, Jan. 29, Tuesday, Jan. 30, and Wednesday, Jan. 31 at 6:30 p.m. each night at the Recreation Complex. You do not have to be experienced in basketball officiating. We will train and prepare you to be the best official you can be. Come on out and GIVE IT A SHOT!

A Squash singles tournament will be offered for the first time this semester. Entry period for this single elimination tournament is January 22-26 in the Recreational Services Administrative Office.

Free Blood Pressure Checks

• by Lafene Health Center • Tuesday, Jan. 30 • 5-7 p.m. • Recreation Complex

Outdoor Rental Center

The Outdoor Rental Center is CLOSED during the winter months. However, special arrangements may be made by calling the Recreational Services office at 532-6980. Twenty-four hour notice required.

Rec Check

Rec Check provides program and facility information 24 hours a day by dialing 532-6000. Call Rec Check for Recreation Complex and Pool hours, exercise sessions, intramural deadlines and more!

- student, faculty/staff or Alumni Association member.
- Cards are not sold to the general public. Call the Recreational Services office at 532-6980
- for details

Spring semester exercise schedule available on Rec Check at 532-6000 and WWW Recreational Services Home Page at http://www.ksu.edu/rec/

6:30 pm

5-7 pm, Rec Con

January 1996

RECREATIONAL SERVICES ACTIVITY CALENDAR Wednesday Sunday Tuesday

We're on the Web! www.ksu.edu/rec/	22 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM11:30AM - 2:30PM7:30PM - 10:00PM Clesses Begin & Exercise Sessione Resume BE Entries Deginand Sports & Beststops A Beststops		24 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	25 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM11:30AM - 2:30PM5:00PM - 6:00PM7:30PM - 10:00PM February Card Sales Regin	P 11:30AM - MIDNIGHT No Early Bird Swim P 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	27 RC 9:00AM - 10:00 P 1:00PM - 5:00PM 7:00PM - 10:00P
28 C NOON - MIDNIGHT 1:00PM - 5:00PM 7:00PM - 10:00PM	29 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM IM Basketball Officials'	30 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 5:00PM - 6:00PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	31 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM M Cpt/Manager Meeting.	Recreation Co	OR INFORMATION C/ itomated Information). implex.	532-6000

Pool use on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 5:00 PM - 6:00 PM, is shared with the Department of Kinesiology. Participation is restricted to adult, fitness swimming and water jogging only.

The Outdoor Rental Center is CLOSED for the winter. During this time, outdoor equipment rental can be arranged through the Administrative Office by calling 532-6980. Twenty-four hour advance notice is required.

Who's Who at Recreational Services

Melissa Woolley, native of Washington, Missouri, has been working as a life guard at the Natatorium since the summer of 1995. Melissa, senior in elementary education, became interested in lifeguarding while attending high school. She enjoys interacting with the people at the Natatorium. "I enjoy the people I work with and the friendly people who come in to swim. They know your name and take time to talk to you about classes," she said. Through her experience at the Natatorium, she has learned the skill of conflict management and how to provide the best service for the customer. This semester Melissa will be student teaching at Amanda Arnold kindergarten in Manhattan. ollowing graduation in May, Melissa plans to pursue a masters degree in deaf education at Washington Universty in St. Louis, Missouri.

Al Oyerly, senior in civil engineering, has been employed as an intramural official for four years. The native of Troy, Kansas has officiated flag football, volleyball, basketball and softball. Al's favorite sport to officiate is flag football because of the quickness of the game and the concentration level needed to cover the large area of the field. Al enjoys meeting the intramural participants and remaining involved with sports through his officiating. "Through my experiences in officiating, I have learned to be more patient and more understanding of officials when I am playing sports," he said. His hobbles include working on cars and watching sports on television. Al plans to pursue a career in civil engineering following graduation in May.

Robin Hedke, native of Paxico, Kansas, has been employed as an office assistant in the Recreational Services office for two years. Hedke, senior in advertising has enjoyed being able to use the skills she has acquired for her major in a working environment. "I have gained valuable experience by being able to utilize my advertising skills for various promotional flyers, newsletters, the Rec Report and the annual brochure," she said. Aside from her employment at the Recreation Complex, Robin participates in various intramural activities and enjoys working out in the new facilities. Following graduation in May, she plans to begin her career with an advertising agency

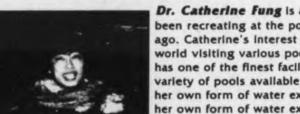

Wellness Resource Center

Fitness Consultants will offer expanded services this semester at the Wellness Resource Center in the Recreation Complex. Make your appointment today with one of our Fitness Consultants for a fitness assessment and personalized exercise program. Measurement and evaluation of flexibility, strength, cardiovascular endurance and percent body fat will help determine how you can get started on your exercise program. Post-exercise evaluation will measure your progress. Let the Wellness Resource Center be your door to safe, enjoyable and effective exercise.

Cardiovascular Endurance	The ability of the body to persist in moderate exercise over a prolonged period of time.
Flexibility	The ability to move the various body joints through a full range of motion
Muscular Strength The ability of a muscle group to contract against a resistance.
Muscular Endurance	The ability to continue selected muscle group movements for prolonged periods of time.
Body Composition	The evaluation of various body measurements and skinfold fat measurements provide the relative distribution of lean and fat body tissue.

My Favorite Workout

Dr. Catherine Fung is a veteran user of the Natatorium. She has been recreating at the pools since moving to Manhattan 18 years ago. Catherine's interest in swimming has taken her all over the world visiting various pools. She believes Kansas State University has one of the finest facilities she has visited. This is due to the variety of pools available and the latitude she receives to practice her own form of water exercise. Catherine practices water yoga. her own form of water exercise that combines the art of yoga. breathing and swimming. "It regulates the body as well as helps you think," she said. By practicing water yoga 35-50 minutes a day, Catherine is able to maintain a positive attitude as well as develop her creative side. "Water is creative in the way it moves and it relaxes you. When relaxtion occurs, it helps one to think in a different way. At this point, creativity enters," she said. Fung is interested in getting to know the lifeguards at the numerous pools she has visited and occasionally sends our lifeguard staff postcards from other pools around the world.

RC = Recreation Complex P = Pools at Natatorium

Words of Wellness...

A positive attitude creates positive results

K-State seniors are wished goodbye just prior to their last game in the Wildcat purple and white.

Men Miller update and a reaction calu

Off-the-field: the week that was

How the game was won

VS.

PLYMOUTATION

LIDAY BOX

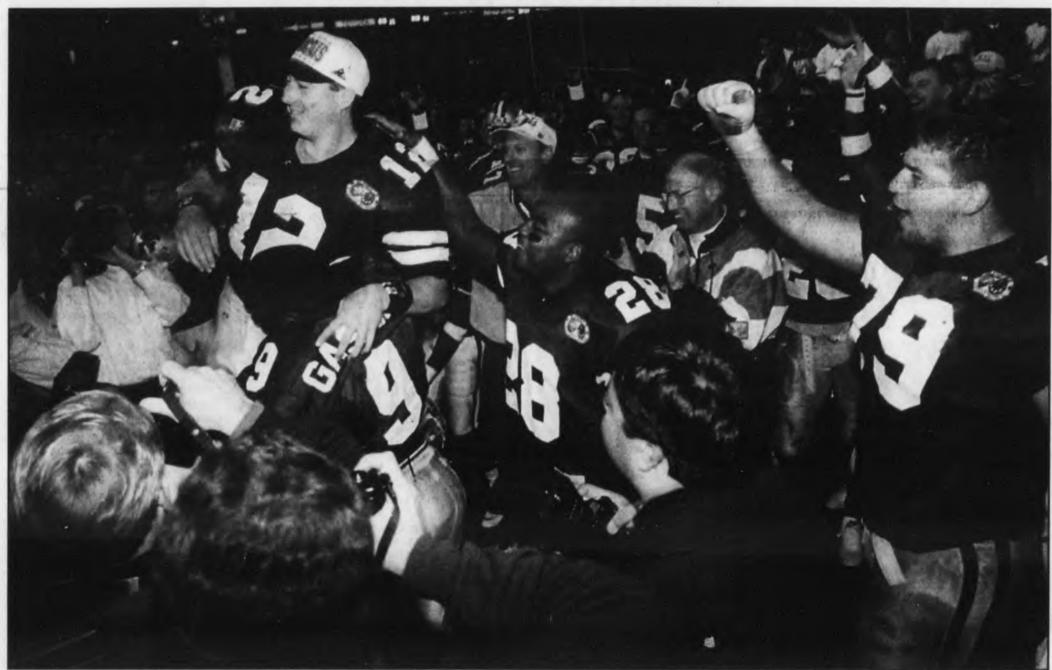

K-State 54

Colorado State 21

When the sun set in San Diego on Dec. 29 If-State had recorded a 54-21 win over Colorado State in the Holiday Bowl and its first 10-win season since 1909. And when the Associated Press released its final rankings, the Wildcats placed is highest ranking in school history. Now for a look back at what made the week so special, capped off with the biggest win in school history.

BLOWOUT!

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Junior quarterback Brian Kavanagh is hoisted to the air by his teammates after coming off the bench for injured quarterback Matt Miller and leading the team to a 54-21 win.

wo supposedly similar teams collided on the field of Jack Murphy Stadium on Dec. 29.

Both had all-Americans in the defensive backfield, and both had names ending in State — but that's where the similarities ended.

K-State, inspired by the fall of its senior quarterback, blasted the Colorado State Rams 54-21 in the Holiday Bowl.

The Wildcats started the scoring early in the first quarter. Sophomore running back Erik Hickson used a 34-yard kickoff return to put the Cats on their 39 yard-line. He then raced up the right side for a 19-yard gain on the first play from scrimmage.

Seven plays later, five of them runs by Hickson, the sophomore had the ball in the end zone, and the Cats had a 7-0 "I think it's the difference between the two leagues — the (Western Athletic Conference) and the Big 8," senior tackle Chris Oitmanns said. "We proved today we're a more physical league. In the end, it showed on the

But before the end came, the Rams would counter-attack. A 47-yard drive and 35 penalty yards from the Cats allowed Colorado State to tie the score 7-7 just 8:30 minutes into the game.

Cats coach Bill Snyder attributed the Rams' score to K-State errors.

"I think it was 7-7 because we were trying to give points away," Snyder said. The first quarter would end deadlocked, as neither team could establish momentum. But a near-tragedy would unify the Cats midway through the second period.

Eight plays into the quarter, senior quarterback Matt Miller's neck was jammed by Colorado State linebacker Nate Kvamme. Miller lay motionless on the field for several minutes, and the crowd fell silent with concern.

"The first thing I thought when he got hit was, 'I hope he gets up," junior quarterback Brian Kavanagh said. "Then when he didn't get up, I thought, 'I'll be OK for the next series.' And then when they brought the stretcher in, I was just worried about him."

The Cats were forced to punt away, and the defense took over. Junior safety Mario Smith intercepted a CSU pass—the first of two picks that would earn him Defensive Most Valuable Player honors—to put the Cats at the Colorado State 24. Two plays later, sophomore running back Mike Lawrence was in the end zone. K-State again had the lead.

K-State missed the extra point but held the Rams and blocked a punt in the ensuing series, again putting the Cats deep in Colorado State territory. Another two plays, another touchdown, as senior fullback Dederick Kelly blasted through the defense for 18 yards.

"Talk about taking the pressure off me," Kavanagh said. "The game is tied, and Mario picks off a pass and gives us the ball inside the 30. A couple plays later, we score. The next series, we block a punt, and we get the same field position. I had been in the game four snaps, and we had two touchdowns."

Pressure or no, Kavanagh would perform. He threw his first touchdown pass of the game late in the second quarter, connecting with senior tight end Brian Lojka for 12 yards.

By then it was all over. Leading 26-7 going into the second half, Kavanagh would find senior receivers Tyson Schwieger and Mitch Running and junior receiver Kevin Lockett for scores, earning him Offensive Most Valuable Player honors.

"We have this confidence in Kavanagh that he can come and step in," Schwieger said. "There was no nervousness at all. You could see the confidence in his eyes."

Kavanagh said the important thing was winning for the team.

"I'm just happy I was able to go in, lead the team, move the ball, put points on the board and win the game," Kavanagh said. "The numbers are great and something I'll tell my grandkids about someday, but the bottom line is we won the game."

The defense, which contained the Rams all night, couldn't stop singing the praises of Smith, the often-over-looked member of the Cats' decorated backfield.

"Many people have been recognizing me and Joe (Gordon) and Chuck (Marlowe), and Mario has always been our unsung hero," sophomore cornerback Chris Canty said. "Now he had his chance to shine."

But Snyder said the real reward would go to the seniors.

"I'm happy for our seniors," Snyder said, "because they get to leave with a victory, a 10-win season and all of those things that had not been accomplished at K-State before. It's a great feeling."

Team

2. Florida

3. Tennessee

4. Florida St.

5. Colorado

7. K-STATE

8. Northwestern

10. Virginia Tech.

11. Notre Dame

12. Southern Cal

6. Ohio St.

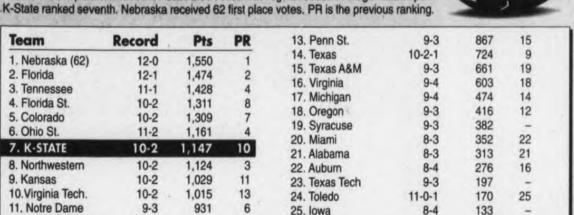

9. Kansas

1. Nebraska (62)

Nation's top defense helps propel Cats to No. 7

K-State No. 7 in final AP poll

Here are the top 25 teams in the Associated Press final regular-season college football poll.

25. lowa

K-State is ranked No. 6 in the CNN/USA Today coaches poll.

9-2-1

886

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

► K-STATE CAME INTO THE HOLIDAY BOWL WITH THE TOP-RANKED DEFENSE IN THE NATION AND HELD THE COLORADO STATE RAMS TO ONLY 301 TOTAL YARDS AND ONLY 132 YARDS THROUGH THE AIR. THE DEFENSE ALSO FORCED 3 TURNOVERS

Dan Lewerenz

n a game billed as a battle between two highly touted defenses, K-State came out on top.

The Wildcat defense, statistically the best in the nation, lived up to its billing in the Holiday Bowl, limiting Colorado State to just 21 points on 301 yards total offense. And the Rams managed only 132 yards passing 76 yards less than their average with three balls picked off by K-State defenders.

How were the Cats able to smother Colorado State so effectively? With a solid team effort, bolstered by a couple extra, shall we say, motivating fac-

"They were talking a little smack before the game, so we really wanted to do it to

It's really because our defense is so close. We all really play together as

PERCELL GASKINS

K-STATE LINEBACKER

end Nyle Wiren said. It took a little while for the Cat defense to warm up - the Rams scored on their first possession. But warm up it did. Three plays

them," junior defensive

after Wildcat quarterback Matt Miller went down with a neck sprain, strong safety Mario Smith, named Defensive Most Valuable Player, grabbed the first of his two interceptions, giving K-State the ball on the Colorado

State 24-yard line. "Basically, we were in man coverage, and it was overthrown," Smith said of his first interception. "My man wasn't going after it, and I just reached out for it."

Two plays later, the Cats were in the end zone for their second touch-

Though Jim Thorpe Award finalist Chris Canty and fellow corner Joe Gordon had received much of the recognition this year, linebacker Percell Gaskins said Smith's performance in the backfield was not a sur-

"Mario has been overshadowed all season, but everybody in the Big 8 knows about him - they don't throw slant routes," Gaskins said. "Unfortunately, Colorado State didn't. And he took some guys' heads off."

Wiren said Miller's injury motivated the Cats' defense. "That's our No. 1 quarterback.

When he goes down, we need to pick up, because maybe they won't click. But we really didn't need to.' "We knew we need a big stop, because that would jump-start our offense and give them better field position," Smith said.

Colorado State would not score again until the third quarter, entering K-State territory only once more in the half, when Cat defense thwarted a fake punt from the K-State 38-yard

The Rams would score twice in the third quarter, but by then it was too late. The Wildcats took a 47-21 lead into the final period, punctuating the game with one more touchdown.

> Though Smith and fellow safety Steve Hanks (who recorded three tackles and one interception) got their chance to shine in the Holiday Bowl, no one player dominated the game. Smith, free safety Chuck Marlowe, tackle Tim Colston and linebacker DeShawn Fogle each recorded four tackles to lead the

In all, 19 Cats were in on at least one stop, and cornerback Dereck King stripped Colorado State receiver Ronald Antoine in the fourth quarter. "It's really because our defense is so close. We all really play together as a team," Gaskins said. "This was a perfect game. I wouldn't trade it for anything."

As for the future — ask this year's Cats, and they'll tell you things are looking bright. "We want to maintain being the

No. 1 defense in the nation. So we're going to try to stick with what we're doing right," Wiren said.

And Gaskins said the Cats have the personnel to stay on top.

"When you look at who's coming back, I expect these guys to do even more next year than we did this year."

Defensive back Mario Smith returns one of his two interceptions in the game. Smith was named the Defensive Player of the Game. Smith is the only starter in the defensive backfield not to be named 1st or 2nd-team all-Big 8. Linebacker Percell Gaskins said he was happy to see Smith finally get his due. "Mario has been overshadowed all season, but everybody in the Big 8 knows about him — they don't throw slant routes," Gaskins said. "Unfortunately, Colorado State didn't.

Linebackers Percell Gaskins, Travis Ochs and safety Mario Smith combine on a tackle on Colorado State running back E.J. Watson.

LET A FURNITURE OUTLET HELP YOU WITH YOUR

APARTMENT, HOME OR OFFICE.

•MATTRESS SETS

· DINETTES

"The area's most affordable furniture store."

FINANCING AVAILABLE . DELIVERY

Where YOU Save Money!

611 PECAN CIRCLE • 537-7900

MANHATTAN "across from the Holidome"

Mrn.-Fri. 10 a.m.-6p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Sun. 1-5 p.m.

URNITURE OUTLET

·LIVING ROOM SETS

· DESKS

• BOOKCASES

And he took some guys' heads off."

WANTED Prior Service Veterans

Hold the Same Rank that you had when you got out up to E-6 No Basic Training

Continue Working Toward your Military Retirement Continue Serving America - Kansas - Your Local Community Earn as much as $218.88 a weekend!! CALL TODAY: 913-537-4108

Kansas Army National Guard

DON'T SPEND AN ARM & A LEG... LOOKING BEAUTIFUL FROM HEAD TO TOE! SAVE TIME, ENERGY & MONEY.

Services Performed By Supervised Students

THIS MONTH: ALL PERMS ONLY (Add $5 for long hair)

MANICURES & FACIALS ONLY $250

THIS WEEK: AMINO PON SHAMPOO 8.5 oz. (Reg. Price) MIRA - 9 8.5oz. (half price) or CLIMATRESS 5 oz.

SAVE OUR ENVIRONMENT/SAVE YOUR CASH! Refill your Redken, KMS & Chas Ltd. Products & Save up to 35%

512 POYNTZ AVE. 913-776-4794

"SALON QUALITY AT A FRACTION OF THE PRICE?"

COLORADO BALLET Thursday, January 25, 8 p.m.

Experience exhilarating dance with a trio of works by the 20th century's greatest choreographer, George Balanchine: Serenade, Apollo and Rubies.

"The dancers are first class – attractive, stage-wise and technically on a level with America's top companies." - Dance Magazine.

Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Center.

Pub/Fac $20, $18, $14 Sr. Cit $18, $16, $12 Stu/Child $10, $9, $7

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office. Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets. Events in the McCain Performance Series are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays. Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information. *Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

All dates and artists subject to change without notice

Miller's injury only low point of rout

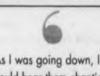

DARREN WHITLEY/Collegian

Senior quarterback Matt Miller is attended to after a hit from Colorado State linebacker Nate Kvamme knocked Miller out of the game. It was later determined only a neck sprain.

'It all happened in slow motion'

■ QUARTERBACK MATT MILLER WAS NAMED 2ND-TEAM ALL-BIG 8 AND NOW HOLDS THE BIG 8 RECORD FOR TOUCHDOWN PASSES IN A SEASON

As I was going down, I could hear them chanting my name, and I just wanted to let them know that I was OK.

MATT MILLER

Doug Jones,

Proprietor

Shana Newell

Matt Miller is fine. Not 100 percent, but he is getting there.

With the K-State baseball team in the opening weeks of practice, Miller is waiting to take his place on the team.

But first, he needs to wait for his neck

After suffering from a neck injury in the second quarter of the final football game of his career, Miller said the pain is

"It's still sore. It's really stiff in the morning, and sometimes it hurts to turn it," Miller said, pointing to the left side of his neck.

For those who missed it, Colorado State linebacker Nate Kvamme ended Miller's collegiate football career a little earlier than expected.

Forced to scramble, Miller was racing up the middle of the field when a Colorado State linebacker caught him around the ankles.

Trying to break free, he was hit - helmet to neck - by Kvamme

"All I remember was trying to get free. I was trying to run, because I thought he just had my ankles," Miller said.

"But he had part of my jersey, too. If I had known that he had my jersey, I would have tried to get down.'

After the hit, Miller said he doesn't remember a lot — only the presence of trainer John Thomas.

"I was down, and J.T. was above me, that's all I remember. It all happened in slow-motion."

For most K-State fans, the 10 minutes after the hit was a period of uncertainty. With the hit being replayed over and over again on television and the big screen at Jack Murphy Stadium, it became evident that the injury to the Wildcat's starting quarterback was serious.

Pacing on the sidelines and unable to join Miller on the field was Miller's father. For a time, Coach Bill Snyder was the senior Miller's only link with his son.

"My dad was just worried, but he was OK." Miller said.

But for Cat fans, the questions surrounding Miller's injury were answered when he gestured to the fans as they carted him off the field.

"As I was going down, I could hear them chanting my name, and I just wanted to let them know that I was OK," Miller

While backup quarterback Brian Kavanagh led the Cats to a 54-21 victory in San Diego, Miller was being examined by doctors.

"I wish it hadn't have happened, but I'm just glad we won. I would have taken it bad if we had lost. I was really proud of how Brian did. Now he won't have to go through what I went through last year," Miller said.

"People were always asking me, 'Are you going to be any good?' and they had to wait to find out. For Brian, they've already seen him. They know."

Doctors determined Miller's injury to be only a sprained neck. Miller's hospital phone was ringing constantly after the

"I got a lot of calls. My whole family was there with me, but everyone called,' he said. "I talked to Coach Snyder, and Bill, the trainer. Coach wanted to make sure I was OK.

Under advice to remain at the hospital Saturday night, Miller chose to return to Manhattan with his teammates.

"I wanted to talk about the season and the game with the guys," he said. "It was cool because I got to sit in first class with the coaches.'

Well, cool until assistant head coach Bob Stoops dropped a suitcase.

"There I was, just out of the hospital, and Bobby picks up this big bag and is trying to stick it overhead when he drops it right on my head," Miller said. "It kinda hurt. He felt bad, though.'

So, what's next for Matt Miller? Baseball. With the season due to start Feb. 17 at the Air Force Academy, Cat fans are sure to see more of Miller. And what about professional football? 'We'll just wait and see. If I get the chance to do either, I'd rather do baseball," Miller said.

When asked what professional teams he would want to play with, Miller answered emphatically

If he goes to the NFL, Miller said he would like to be in Oakland wearing a Raider jersey.

But if he sticks with baseball, he hopes to remain a little closer to K-State and Manhattan.

"The Royals. I've been a Royals fan all my life, and one of my best friends from Texas A & M pitches for them," he said.

76-5900

Myview

Stewart

Matt Miller deserved so much better

ook past the 54-21 final score, the injury to quarterback Matt Miller, the show put on by Brian Kavanagh and the near-perfection of the defense, and there is another story in the 1995 Holiday Bowl.

One that was 369 days in the making - a story of redemption from last season's Aloha Bowl.

Let's say goodbye to that 1994 Aloha Bowl, because this K-State football program is no longer the team that blew the biggest game in school history.

This is now a great team. Add the word powerhouse to K-

State football, because they have become almost synonymous.

But you, the K-State faithful, already knew all this. How many times did the Wildcatat faithful have to defend the heart-stopper at Cincinnati, playing Akron, the loss to Nebraska, and the Colorado

But still, you believed. When others talked nonsense of being overrated, the easy schedule, and the losses in big games, you

And you were rewarded.

Redemption came for you that beautiful Friday evening in San Diego, just as the team was redeeming itself on the field.

So you share this Holiday Bowl championship with the team, because you had as much to do with this team's success as any player on the field.

But to me, only one thing made this game less than perfect - the injury to Miller. Sure, Kavanagh shined in his moment in the sun, but Miller deserved better. After an almost storybook season, one in which he broke

Big 8 records, he deserved his chance. In what was probably his last game in organized football, Miller was carried off the field on a stretcher, denied the opportunity to disprove the critics that talked him down all season long. Miller was the player who made this team click. Hopefully, he won't be remembered for the injury.

K-State should remember Miller for the Big 8 touchdown record, making things happen on the field and for his love of the game.

Sounds corny, but it is true. Miller has given so much to K-State football, but he has proven that life is, once again, not fair at all.

Or, at the very least, remember one thing about Miller - the hair. It can be said that I made too much of his hair, but it was all in fun. So, even though the K-State football team and the K-State faithful have found their redemption, Miller is still looking for his. Give Miller his by remembering him as the quarterback on the greatest team K-State ever fielded. That's how I'll remember him.

Thank you, Matt. Thanks for the E-mail Todd your Holiday Bowl thoughts at toddvs@ksu.ksu.edu.

Custom Alignment Service

In the Midtown Plaza 523 S. 17th Street Manhattan, KS 66502 913 539-1958

New & Used Instrument Sales & Repair - Videos, Books, & Accessories

"The 20/20 Club"

Complete brake, shock, strut & suspension service, 2 & 4 wheel alignment, wheel balancing, power steering, rack & pinion, cv joints & boots Over 35 years experience

Mon.-Fri., 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m Sat. 8 a.m.-Noon. 323 Yuma St

Bud & Pat Umscheid, Owners

They came in

DROVES

Willie the Wildcat watches an entertaining halftime show at the Holiday Bowl, which matched the K-State Wildcats against the Colorado ildcat fans turned the West coast into a sea of purple during the Holiday Bowl - but the Rams were few and far between.

"I was happy to see so much purple there," Jerrod Westfahl, junior in agricultural economics, said. "I think the people down at the Cotton Bowl had some second thoughts after seeing the game."

Cotton Bowl officials chose Colorado over K-State and had to watch a sparse crowd at the New Year's Day game.

Heather Lee, senior in management, attended the Cats' past three bowl games, but she said the fans' spirit and support at the Holiday Bowl was incomparable to that of past years.

"We heard one person say 'I hope the last person from Kansas turned out the lights," Lee said. "I actually think it was a Colorado State fan."

Gretchen Cordill, senior in management, said fan attendance and spirit at Holiday Bowl events were impressive.

"There was so much support and pride," Cordill said. "It was even better than being at a regular

While some students made ESPN signs in attempts to get on television, others found their own ways to show spirit.

"We drove around before the game with K-State flags hanging out our windows and Power Cat magnets on the side of the car," Westfahl said. "Everybody was honking at us."

The Dec. 28 pep rally at the San Diego Civic Center turned out to be the Cats' largest bowl pep rally ever.

"It was great to see that so many people had traveled that far," Lee said. "It provided you a proud feeling, to see so much support for the

The K-State Marching Band and Mitch Holthus began entertaining the pep rally crowd, but once the players arrived, the spotlight turned.

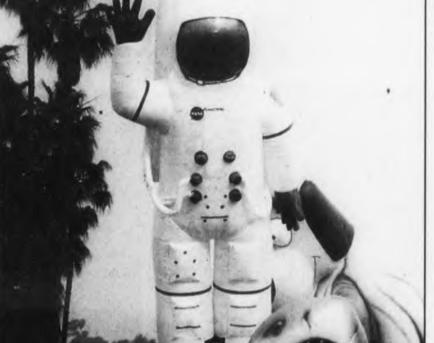

"We walked in and saw about the same-size crowd we had at the Copper Bowl pep rally," senior wide receiver Mitch Running said. "Then we got to the stage and turned around and saw the purple in the deck. It was unbelievable. Our fans were going nuts. It was something to see."

Wildcat fans lead parade watchers in cheers during the Hollday Bowl parade.

K-State band members make their way through downtown, performing for a large crowd during the Holiday Bowl parade.

The Holiday Bowl parade makes its way through downtown San Diego.

66 We heard one person say 'I hope the last person from Kansas turned out the lights.' I actually think it was a Colorado State fan. 99 HEATHER LEE story by Ashley Schmidt / photos by Steve Hebert

SENIOR IN MANAGEMENT

RETSONASTUFF

539-9494 Guppy, Betta, Pleco SALE 1105 Waters

PURCHASE A REGULAR PRICED I MENU ITEM & RECEIVE A SECOND MENU ITEM OF EQUAL OR LESSER VALUE FREE. EXP. 3/1/96

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE

Dr. Paul E. Bullock Save up to $20 on complete pair of eyeglasses
Prescriptions filled through their expiration date
We fill outside prescriptions

Toll Free 1-800-432-0036

1441 Anderson Ave. Anderson Village

Adjacent to KSU

Work Study Office work study position available in the Office of Student Activities and Services; 10-12 hrs./wk., p.m. lunch hour; secretarial work. Application deadline is 4 p.m., Monday, Jan. 29.

776-9461

Activities & Services Student Senate

Positions Student Senate Secretary

Application due Friday, Jan. 26. must be able to work noon-1 Student Senate Parliamentarian Application due Friday, Jan. 26.

Bck up a position description at: Office of Student Activities & Services K-State Student Union

Nation's top defense helps propel Cats to No. 7

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

K-State No. 7 in final AP poll

Here are the top 25 teams in the Associated Press final regular-season college football poll. K-State ranked seventh. Nebraska received 62 first place votes. PR is the previous ranking.

K-State is ranked No. 6 in the CNN/USA Today coaches poll.

► K-STATE CAME INTO THE HOLIDAY BOWL WITH THE TOP-RANKED DEFENSE IN THE NATION AND HELD THE COLORADO STATE RAMS TO ONLY 301 TOTAL YARDS AND ONLY 132 YARDS THROUGH THE AIR. THE DEFENSE ALSO FORCED 3 TURNOVERS

Dan Lewerenz

n a game billed as a battle between two highly touted defenses, K-State came out on top.

The Wildcat defense, statistically the best in the nation, lived up to its billing in the Holiday Bowl, limiting Colorado State to just 21 points on 301 yards total offense. And the Rams managed only 132 yards passing -76 yards less than their average with three balls picked off by K-State defenders.

How were the Cats able to smother Colorado State so effectively? With a solid team effort, bolstered by a couple extra, shall we say, motivating fac-

"They were talking a little smack before the game, so we really wanted to do it to

It's really because our defense is so close. We all really play together as

PERCELL GASKINS

K-STATE LINEBACKER

end Nyle Wiren said. It took a little while for the Cat defense to warm up - the Rams scored on their first possession. But warm up it did. Three plays

them," junior defensive

after Wildcat quarterback Matt Miller went down with a neck sprain, strong safety Mario Smith, named Defensive Most grabbed the first of his two interceptions, giving K-State the ball on the Colorado State 24-yard line.

Valuable Player.

age, and it was overthrown," Smith said of his first interception. "My man wasn't going after it, and I just reached out for it." Two plays later, the Cats were in

"Basically, we were in man cover-the end zone for their second touch-

Though Jim Thorpe Award finalist Chris Canty and fellow corner Joe Gordon had received much of the recognition this year, linebacker Percell Gaskins said Smith's performance in the backfield was not a sur-

"Mario has been overshadowed all season, but everybody in the Big 8 knows about him - they don't throw slant routes." Gaskins said. "Unfortunately, Colorado State didn't. And he took some guys' heads off."

Wiren said Miller's injury motivated the Cats' defense. 'That's our No. 1 quarterback.

When he goes down, we need to pick up, because maybe they won't click. But we really didn't need to."

"We knew we need a big stop, because that would jump-start our offense and give them better field position," Smith said.

Colorado State would not score again until the third quarter, entering K-State territory only once more in the half, when Cat defense thwarted a fake punt from the K-State 38-yard

The Rams would score twice in the third quarter, but by then it was too late. The Wildcats took a 47-21 lead into the final period, punctuating the game with one more touchdown.

> Though Smith and fellow safety Steve Hanks (who recorded three tackles and one interception) got their chance to shine in the Holiday Bowl, no one player dominated the game. Smith, free safety Chuck Marlowe, tackle Tim Colston and linebacker DeShawn Fogle each recorded four tackles to lead the

In all, 19 Cats were in on at least one stop, and cornerback Dereck King stripped Colorado State receiver Ronald Antoine in the fourth quarter. "It's really because our defense is so close. We all really play together as a team," Gaskins said.

"This was a perfect game. I wouldn't trade it for anything."

As for the future - ask this year's Cats, and they'll tell you things are looking bright. "We want to maintain being the

No. 1 defense in the nation. So we're going to try to stick with what we're doing right," Wiren said.

And Gaskins said the Cats have the personnel to stay on top.

"When you look at who's coming back, I expect these guys to do even more next year than we did this year."

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Defensive back Mario Smith returns one of his two interceptions in the game. Smith was named the Defensive Player of the Game. Smith is the only starter in the defensive backfield not to be named 1st or 2nd-team all-Big 8. Linebacker Percell Gaskins said he was happy to see Smith finally get his due. "Mario has been overshadowed all season, but everybody in the Big 8 knows about him — they don't throw slant routes," Gaskins said. "Unfortunately, Colorado State didn't. And he took some guys' heads off."

Linebackers Percell Gaskins, Travis Ochs and safety Mario Smith combine on a tackle on Colorado State running back E.J. Watson.

WANTED Prior Service Veterans No Basic Training Continue Working Toward your Military Retirement Continue Serving America - Kansas - Your Local Community Earn as much as $218.88 a weekend!! CALL TODAY: 913-537-4108

SAVE TIME, ENERGY & MONEY. LET A FURNITURE OUTLET

HELP YOU WITH YOUR APARTMENT, HOME OR OFFICE.

· DESKS

• BOOKCASES ·LIVING ROOM SETS

MATTRESS SETS •DINETTES

URNITURE OUTLET

"The area's most affordable furniture store." FINANCING AVAILABLE . DELIVERY Where YOU Save Money!

611 PECAN CIRCLE • 537-7900 MANHATTAN "across from the Holidome"

Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-6p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Sun. 1-5 p.m.

DON'T SPEND AN ARM & A LEG... LOOKING BEAUTIFUL FROM HEAD TO TOE!

Kansas Army National Guard

Services Performed By Supervised Students

THIS MONTH: ALL PERMS ONLY

(Add $5 for long hair) $1995

MANICURES & FACIALS ONLY $250

THIS WEEK: AMINO PON SHAMPOO 8.5 oz. (Reg. Price) MIRA - 9 8.5oz. (half price) or CLIMATRESS 5 oz.

SAVE OUR ENVIRONMENT/SAVE YOUR CASH! Refill your Redken, KMS & Chas Ltd. Products & Save up to 35%

512 POYNTZ AVE. 913-776-4794

"SALON QUALITY AT A FRACTION OF THE PRICE?

COLORADO BALLET Thursday, January 25, 8 p.m.

Experience exhilarating dance with a trio of works by the 20th century's greatest choreographer, George Balanchine: Serenade, Apollo and Rubies.

"The dancers are first class – attractive, stage-wise and technically on a level with America's top companies." - Dance Magazine.

Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Center.

Pub/Fac $20, $18, $14 Sr. Cit $18, $16, $12 Stu/Child $10, $9, $7

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the

Events in the McCain Performance Series are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays. Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

*Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

All dates and artists subject to change without notice

Arafat takes easy victory

GAZA CITY, Gaza Strip Winning 88 percent of the vote, Yasser Arafat emerged Sunday from the first Palestinian election with a resounding mandate to complete peace with Israel and lead his people to independence.

Final results of the race for presidency released by the Central Election Commission late Sunday gave Arafat 88.1 percent of the total vote and his opponent Samiha Khalil 9.3 percent. Officials said that 2.6 percent of the ballot slips were invalid

Arafat loyalists will also control the newly elected 88-member Palestinian parliament, though they may have to share some power with uprising activists, outspoken women and other independents who until now were shut out of decision-making.

At least 50 of the legislators were members of Arafat's Fatah faction, including 10 who had served in his appointed interim cabinet, according to unofficial results released Sunday night. Official results were expected Monday.

Despite the historic event, the mood in the West Bank and Gaza Strip was subdued Sunday as Palestinians began to observe the Muslim holy month of Ramadan with dawn-to-dusk fasting.

Winners postponed celebrations until after the "iftar," the festive meal that breaks the fast after sundown.

Arafat will convene the legislature for the first time after Ramadan ends, spokesman Nabil Abu Irdeineh said. That date was not yet set.

Arafat joked Sunday about his landslide victory, suggesting a lower rate of approval would probably have looked more democratic. "I was looking for 51 percent," Arafat said after meeting with former U.S. President Jimmy Carter, who led a 40-member election observer team.

The voting was marred by reports of fraud, violations that ranged from stuffing ballot boxes to voting more than once to illiterate voters having their ballots filled out for them by Arafat loyalists.

In the West Bank village of Salem, an election official was shot and killed Saturday night by a Palestinian tion in grain bins.

GRAIN BINS

over its auger well.

Invention

promotes bin safety

NORTH VERNON, Ind. (AP) -

A North Vernon man's invention may help eliminate a deadly threat on the nation's farms: the threat of suffoca-

Buster" device won first place in the eighth national Farmer Idea Exchange

Federation meeting in Reno, Nev.

Leonard Maschino's "Grain

security agent who became enraged when told to leave a polling station. gunman was arrested by Palestinian police.

In Hebron, also on the West Bank, one candidate said he was told that some 30 ballot boxes had disappeared and that there were discrepancies in counting.

Carter said Sunday there were some problems in the voting, but not on a scale that would have altered the

"I look upon yesterday as one of the historic turning points in the history of Palestine and the Middle East," said Carter, who brokered the first Arab-Israeli peace treaty, the 1979 accord with Egypt.

Arafat said the elections took the Palestinians one step closer to independence. "This is the most important moment for the future of the Palestinian people, and we hope that very soon, we will have our independent state," he said.

Crucial decisions await Arafat and his legislature in the coming months. Negotiations with Israel on the final status of the West Bank, Gaza and Jerusalem are to begin by May.

Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres congratulated Arafat on his victory but also reminded him in a phone call of his promise to revoke sections of the PLO Charter that call for the destruction of Israel.

Under the Israel-PLO agreement, the charter must be annulled within two months after the first meeting of the Palestinian Council.

Peres announced he would permit the return from exile of all 483 members of the Palestine National Council, the Palestinians' parliamentin-exile which has to revoke the char-

The members of the newly elected Palestinian legislature automatically become members of the Palestine National Council. In all, a two-thirds majority is required to revoke the Peres said the strong voter turnout was an endorsement of peace and sent a message to the Muslim militant opposition to stop their violence. The Hamas and Islamic Jihad groups have carried out a series of suicide attacks over the past two years in hopes of wrecking peace.

the grain, eliminating the need for farmers to enter the bin to dislodge it manually.

The Grain Buster can be made with just $2.50 in parts and about 10 minutes of work.

The bolts automatically dislodge

Maschino, 35, and his family farm about 3,500 acres and store grain in 30-40 bins. He began working on the Grain Buster two or three years ago, said his wife, Tina

"Since it was installed in the bins about three years ago, they haven't been in the bins to dislodge grain," she said Friday.

Some 30 farmers nationally die every year from grain bin accidents. Climbing inside a bin to dislodge grain is dangerous because the sudat the recent American Farm Bureau The device consists of two 5-inch denly flowing grain can submerge bolts welded to a slide gate that is someone within eight seconds and already installed inside a grain bin suffocate them. The proximity of the auger also poses a threat.

YBK High Level For Self Defense and Personal Development

For more information Call 537-0732

"Call Us For A Quote"

3258 Kimball Ave. 537-4661

Manhattan, Ks

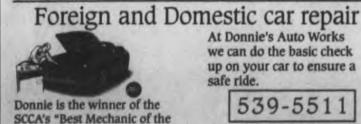

ANY YOGURT OR COFFEE MENU ITEM WITH THIS COUPON.

HOURS: 9AM-10PM DAILY

11AM-10PM SUNDAY

(EXPIRES 3-31-96)

Year" award.

At Donnie's Auto Works we can do the basic check up on your car to ensure a safe ride.

539-5511

1809 Ft. Riley Blvd.

Incoming

During a two-hand, touch-football game outside Durland Hall, Garrett Wilson, freshman in environmental design, evades tackles from Jon Anderson, freshman in architectural engineering, and Mike Oberst, junior in political science. The players, who live in Goodnow Hall, said they often came over to the field to play a quick game in their free time.

SCOTT LADD

► TRANSPORTATION

Campus shuttle service extends hours

Foundation and Edwards to get to cated, we appreciate the shuttle's convenience," Howell said. "We also appreciate the advisory group, which has been very responsive with sug-

Services have made decisions on when the shuttle should run and nient for employees who have to come to campus for meetings to ride

a shuttle, although anyone, meaning students, can take the shuttle if there is room for that individual," Lambert campus is expanding in an outward direction and parking lots have been destroyed due to the construction of the museum and library, Lambert expanded to include more buildings

if the need is high enough, but it would require the use of student user shuttle will become larger depending

"We hope that in the future this fees or a bus pass.

on the use," Lambert said.

The shuttle service stops could be

The shuttle is needed because the

The advisory group and Parking

"We thought it would be convegestions."

Since our offices have been relo-

Increased use of the service could mean more pick-up spots

Mikki Tice

K-State campus shuttle service has completed one successful semester and will begin the spring semester with extended hours.

The 12-passenger shuttle is on a one-year trial period that began in fall 1995 and will continue through spring 1996. The fall hours were from 8:45 a.m. to 4 p.m., but this semester the hours will be extended from 8:20 a.m. to 4:20 p.m. Monday through The pick-up stops are at Edwards

Hall, the Veterinary Medicine Complex, the K-State Student Union and KSU Foundation. "We arbitrarily choose these hours to meet the requests of individuals who ride the shuttle," John Lambert, director of public services, Patricia Howell, manager of training and development for the Department of Employer Relations, said she did not use the shuttle often last semester "I plan to use the shuttle more often now that the hours have been extended," Howell said. The shuttle provides a convenient way for employees who work at the

SERVICE

for temporarily or permanently disabled

students on campus,

building to building. Inquire by calling

532-6441

Open 7 Days a Week invite you to attend the MANHATTAN Bridal Show Sunday, January 28 Houston Street Ballroom 427 Houston Doors open at 12:00 for tabletop designs and accessories
CAMPBELL'S BRIDAL SERVICES Fine China Paper Trousseau Crystal Bride's Books Decorative Accesso 5th and Poyntz 776-9067

Shuttle adds new times

The K-State campus shuttle service changed its schedule on the first day of fee payment, Jan. 17. The free shuttle service is operated by KSU Parking Services. The shuttle runs beween the K-State Student Union, Edwards Hall and the KSU Foundation Center.

Schedules for the shuttle: a.m. p.m. Kimball Av 1. Depart from Union for Edwards Hall -8:50 9:30 10:10 10:50 11:30 12:10 1:30 2:10 2:50 3:30 4:10 4:50 Edwards Hall 2. Depart from Edwards Hall for Union -8:20 9 9:40 10:20 11 11:40 K-State 1 1:40 2:20 3 3:40 4:20 3. Depart from Union for KSU Foundation Center -8:30 9:10 9:50 10:30 11:10 11:50 1:10 1:50 2:30 3:10 3:50 4:30 Student Unio KSU Foundation

4. Depart from KSU Foundation Center for Union -8:40 9:20 10 10:40 11:20 noon 1:20 2 2:40 3:20 4 4:40

2

N. STEWART ANDERSON/Collegian

Pizza Shuttle 776-5577

AUDITIONS!

Monday, Jan. 22 & Tuesday, Jan. 23 7 p.m. - in Nichols Theater Lobby for Spring Semester Productions of

"THE COUNTRY WIFE"

(a restoration comedy) Nichols Theater Production

"WAITING FOR THE WORDS"

(an original play) Purple Masque Production

No preparation is necessary. Open to all KSU Students. Scripts available in 129 Nichols Hall.

Questions? Call 532-6875

KEEPING

A L I V E

"PASSING THE TORCH, IGNITING THE VISION OF A NEW GENERATION"

Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week January 22-28, 1996

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Alexander (No. 1912)

Monthly January Sc., 1995 Program Street Color Water Rules At Color Color Color drill favor Carcolly - Carland Feligipus Service - Chapping Mally, the Alpha Chi Aph Engage - Alfa Carcoll

Tuesday, January 23, 1956
Acon Rev. Samuel Mann, of the St. Mark's Church in Kentas City. Mo. and chair of the grains. Kentas City chapter of the Southern Christian Lysdenino Conterence.

7 / M. Tull John Diologue, Students Discuss Directiningson on Campus, Little Theolie. vice processing the state of th

Public pure, Reception for La Barbara James Villability associant professor of landscape undifference and recipient of the Compos Presidential Award for Distinguished Minority Education, Flint Hills Room.

8 p.m. Housing and Dining Services role-playing activity: "Judge or Be Judged," an opportunity to interact openly and honestly with others who may or may not hold similar values or beliefs. 134 Derby Dining Hall.

Thursday, January 25, 1996
17/30 a.m. College of Education seminar:
"Education and Non-Violence: Questions Children Ask." 016 Bluemont Hall.

Company of the Compan

Total and make a make a design of the control of th

Sunday, January 26, 1995 11 a.m. Gospel Service with a performance by "United Black Voices." Danforth Chapel.

Diversions

► CROSSWORD by Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 43 Print units 21 Khan title cousin 2 Fire: prefix 23 Actress 1 Hot tub 44 Exam 3 Mine 4 Marceau format Lenz 25 From one 46 Mails entrance 7 Heidi's 50 Cicatrix 4 Tarzan's end to heights 53 Energy t'other 11 Steven-55 Fairy-tale 5 Currier's 26 Sharpen 27 Bellicose son's bad word partner 56 Round of 6 Bygone guy 13 Eggs 14 Wife of deity 28 Chums Turkish applause 57 White leader 29 Slightly Jacob 7 Noodle 30 Timber wolf House 15 Met melody nickname creation 31 Scale 16 Undoubt- 58 Walt Kelly's 8 Niihau members possum 35 Tackled neckwear 17 Mischie-59 Remnants the comesvous sprite 60 Grass vobiscum' 10 Lacking 18 Eccentric moisture 38 — Lingus 61 Witnessed, 12 Enjoy 7 40 Pump up 20 Persian a la Tweetv bigwig Down? the volume 22 Run up the DOWN 19 Thanksgiv- 42 Michelphone bill 1 Herring's ing veggie angelo 24 Hercule's creation Solution time: 24 min. 45 Resemcreator 28 California bling 47 Difficulty mountain 32 Loathe 48 Forum 33 "- ben wear Adhem' 49 TV 34 Verily reception 36 Sea eagle problem 37 Autumn 50 Yon maidbaby en fair 39 Members Has the of a rock wherewithal quartet? 52 Additionally 41 Packed 1-22 54 Catcall? away

HGSWDGV DGHLAX -VATO OEA IXWZX OAHP

STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-5873199¢ perminute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

For answers to today's crossword, call

P L V W X O A H R H Z I L .

Saturday's Cryptoquip: YOU MIGHT TRUTHFULLY SAY THAT RUNNING THE MARATHON IS A FLEET FEET FEAT.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: L equals P

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilich

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

DJs lose sleep, help DB-92 promote charity

KSDB-FM 91.9 disc jockeys raised approximately $400 for the Manhattan Boys and Girls Club in a 92hour sleepless marathon.

DJs Rich Allen and Aaron Olewnik, both sophomores in theater, spent about two months in preparation for the event. They camped out in the studio from 4 p.m. Thursday until noon Sunday with the support of many local merchants.

"It was a tremendous success, especially considering the short time we had to put this together," Allen said.

"As people in entertainment, as much as we have a privilege, we have a responsibility to serve the community, to put something back into the community," Allen said. "If I had it to do again, I would do it, but not immediately, of course.

The campus station accepted pledges, as well as a minimum donation of 92 cents to sit in on local and regional bands as it broadcast live from the studio.

Some of the bands came from out of town, and they're not getting paid for this," Victoria Johnson, promoter and DJ for Local Spotlight, said.

"It gives people listening a chance to hear a lot of these bands that don't have tapes out."

Bands participating in the fundraiser were Manhattan's Sufferbus, Chick Scaletti, the Invisibles, Ten Thumb, Ultimate Fake Book, Ever Since My Accident and Come July. Emotional Feedback hails from Topeka, and Times 35 came from Holton.

Opening the marathon Thursday, the Invisibles broke in the night with the introduction of Vance Tagert, the band's new drummer.

Following the intoxicated and intoxicating prophecies of the Invisibles, Ten Thumb finally announced that its new name will be El Fontain. The band recorded its first full-length compact disc, titled "Frontier Military Scenic Byways," this month at Red House in Lawrence, and it can be expected in record stores in June.

Most of the musicians identified with the charity organization's goal of providing a refuge for kids and an alternative to resorting to the streets. Jeff Lees, vocalist for Come July and a graduate in family studies and human services, has been involved in the Upward Bound program. "[Kids] need to know to stay strong and positive and know that there are people out there who care, who aren't going to lead them in the wrong direction." Lees said. Come July will play at 10 p.m. Feb. 13 at Rusty's Last Chance. Sufferbus will play this Thursday at Bombers with Vitreous Humor and Happy Teriyaki Six.

Also playing Feb. 21, Emotional Feedback will return with Manhattan's Scully at Bombers.

The Topeka band also agrees with the positive message that the organization gives to kids.

We are into spreading a good vibe wherever we go," Judd Mason, lead vocalist and guitarist, said.

"We feel our music generates good energy, and this is a good message, that there's other outlets.

Weary and undercaffeinated at hour 56, Olewnik acknowledged the limits of any effort or fundraiser in perspective to all of the worthy causes that need atten-

"These type of places all need a lot of support, and they deserve it," he said. "There are a lot of other causes that are equally deserving. This is just the one we

Tuesday, Jan. 23 Union Big 8 Room 5:30-7:30 p.m.

No experience necessary

For more info call Wes at 778-5702.

McCain Tickets

Students, staff, and community members can usher at McCain Auditorium.

In return for your time, we'll give you FREE TICKETS to the exciting events at the 25th McCain Performance Series.

Join us for 1 of 2 orientation meetings in the McCain Auditorium Lobby. Tuesday, January 23 at 4 and 5 p.m. If you are unable to attend, eall 532-2358 for details.

Tuesday, January 30-Memphis RiverKings 7:00 Start Time

RED LIGHT NIGHT Groups of 20 or more $5 anywhere in the Coliseum

Tuesday, February 6-San Antonio Iguanas 7:00 Start Time COLLEGE ID NIGHT

$5 tickets anywhere in the Coliseum with valid College ID

ADULT TICKETS: $10 & $7 Available at Select-A-Seat locations and Thunder Office FOR MORE INFO, CALL 264-GOAL

Credit cards crawl on the Web not to protect the

QUICKread

➤ Shopping on the Internet is just as safe as any other credit card purchase. Fears of account number interception have been needlessly hyped.

Associated Press

You're bopping around the World Wide Web checking out cool sites, and you stop in at one of the shiny new on-line malls sprouting up everywhere. There's that CD you've been meaning to get. You pull out your credit card, and you -Stop.

Technology hasn't stopped you; the technical part of making a purchase by computer was worked out long ago. The gods of commerce haven't stopped you; they're eager to sell through cyberspace.

What has stopped you is your own mistrust the fear that by inputting your credit card number into a computer, you are opening yourself up to fraud. Perhaps, you think, some hacker will take my number and buy himself a new skateboard.

In fact, public fear of security risks on the Internet is stalling the boom many companies anticipated. But experts have said sending your credit card number over the Internet to buy something is as safe as calling up L.L. Bean and ordering a sweater.

It's not that the computer security flaws being discovered every other week by bored graduate students - and trumpeted by the media - aren't problems. They're just not problems for the aver-

"If a person's standards are that they're not willing to send their credit card over the Internet, they probably shouldn't order anything by phone or from a store where they don't know the proprietor," said Rod Kuckro of Information and Interactive Services Report.

Douglas Barnes, who helps build secure computer systems for Electric Communities in Los Altos, Calif., said, "Credit card information is given out to hundreds of thousands of low-paid clerks all over the country every day - it would be hard to imagine a less secure approach."

Stories about wily hackers stealing thousands of credit card numbers have created the public perception that the Internet is a dangerous place to do business. When the FBI's "most wanted hacker" Kevin Mitnick was arrested last year, one of the things he was credited with doing was stealing a file from an Internet service in California that contained information on 30,000 credit card accounts.

What wasn't as widely reported was the fact that Mitnick apparently never used any of the accounts and probably only wanted the file as a

Security problems have been overhyped, even about whether or not they want to send credit according to Simson Garfinkel, author of a book on one of the strongest publicly available encryption programs, Pretty Good Privacy. Encryption uses complex mathematical algorithms to turn computer files into a soup of letters and numbers unreadable by anyone except the person for whom they are intended.

Scares about security loopholes on the Internet only really affect large corporations who use computers to transfer sensitive information. Individuals buying a few CDs on-line aren't at risk, Garfinkel said.

"The whole thing about encryption over the Internet is that it's customer - it's to protect the credit card companies. The whole thing about By law, if there is encryption over the no signature, the customer is liable Internet is that it's not to for nothing. If protect the customer there's a signature, it's to protect the credit they're liable for $50. The reason card companies. the credit card SIMSON GARFINKEL companies want

AUTHOR OF [cryptography] is PRETTY GOOD PRIVACY to limit their own liability. It has nothing to do with protecting the consumer," he said. For many Internet users, their first encounter with security issues is the dire warning that pops up on the widely used Netscape Navigator browser for the World Wide Web if they attempt to send information across the Web.

"Any information you submit is insecure and could be observed by a third party while in transit," says the stern message, labeled "Security Information."

"If you are submitting passwords, credit card numbers or other information you would like to keep private, it would be safer for you to cancel the submission."

But according to Garfinkel, the warning is just scare tactic. "Netscape Navigator is printing those messages because they're trying to sell encrypted servers. It's an ad. It doesn't look like an ad, but it is."

Netscape says the feature, which can be turned on and off, lets people using the Web know whether their transaction is encrypted.

'We want users to make an informed decision card data over the phone," spokeswoman Rosanne Siino said.

To convince shoppers to take the plunge into electronic commerce, San Mateo, Calif.-based eShop counters consumer fears by taking the direct approach.

"We have what we call the 'eShop Secure Purchase Guarantee.' If you have any financial loss due to the use of your credit card at eShop Plaza, we cover you." chief operating officer Matt Kurt said. "We're not going to explain 128bit public key encryption to you - you don't care. But what we will say is that you're not going to lose any money."

Kurt said he believes that it will take two things for people to begin buying on-line being told it's safe, and trying it for themselves, all of which will take time.

"I am old enough to remember 20 years ago when the idea of seeing an ad in the newspaper and picking up the phone and giving someone your credit card number seemed really crazy," he

Whether or not it's really that dicey to give out your credit card number on-line is a big issue because the potential market is enormous. At least one market research firm is predicting a huge increase in on-line transactions for the coming year as more and more people use the Input, a California-based information services research firm, estimates a jump from $40 million in business done in 1995 to an estimated $260 million for 1996. Those figures may seem high, but compared to the estimated $650 billion in credit card transactions done in the United States in 1995, they're only a drop in the bucket.

Catalogs alone did $50 billion in business in 1995. Kuckro thinks on-line sales can be that big

As for the possibility of theft, it's a random act, no more or less in the real world than the vir-

"You're never going to have a payment system that's totally bullet proof," said Bob McKinley, who tracks the bank card industry for RAM Research Group in Maryland. "Eight hundred million dollars (a year) in bank card fraud is the price of convenience in America.'

Bullet proof or not, some wonder if the hype over security issues isn't being hyped in turn.

"All this talk about security really comes down to companies that are unhappy because people aren't buying things over the Internet," said Kuckro. "Right now it's being used as an

Dole pledges to promote change

LITTLETON, N.H. - You say you want a revolution in Washington? Bob Dole said electing him president is the way to get it.

Although his rivals for the Republican nomination paint the Senate majority leader as a consummate capital insider, a dealmaker who is partly responsible for government's problems. Dole is using his longevity as a pledge to make change hap-

Magazine publisher Steve Forbes has gained some traction among voters in the nation's first presidential primary state with his television ad blitz against Dole, tagging the five-term Kansas senator as "a Washington politician - it's time for a change."

But Dole told audiences during a two-day campaign visit to New Hampshire that many of the reforms being pushed by Congress - a balanced budget, term limits, a welfare overhaul - would become law if he is elected.

"If we're going to make fundamental change, if we're going to return power to the states, we need to change the person in the White House to someone who will sign these bills, not veto them," Dole recently told an Elks Club meeting at this town along the Vermont border.

And while his opponents use his years in Washington against him, Dole's supporters say that very experience gives greater weight to his promis-

"It's very clear that he has the experience and the ability to put it into practice," New Hampshire Gov. Steve Merrill said. "In New Hampshire, we want people who can solve real problems."

At the Elks Club, Dole was given a newspaper clipping from 1984 detailing his selection as Republican Senate leader. The clipping quoted Dole as saying the nation's top priority ought to be cutting the federal deficit.

Dole told his audience the old newspaper shows that the Republican revolution didn't start with Speaker Newt Gingrich's House in 1994 and its large GOP freshman class. Dele has often been seen as a defender of the old guard and not a revolutionary, but he tells people in his speeches that the ideas are not new.

"When we got 73 freshmen elected, it gave us the votes we needed to get some of these things done," Dole said.

Yet Dole said he has changed position on several issues, notably affirmative action, where he now advocates ending racial set-asides he helped put into law. And although he said he now favors term limits, the veteran senator sees the irony.

"The theory is, if you're there too long, you become insulated from the people. You become a captive of special interests," Dole said. "I'm saying term limits, and I've been there five terms."

SECOND SET OF PRINTS EVERY TUESDAY!

Receive a second set of 3" or 4" prints FREE with any exposure roll of 35mm, disc, 110 or 126 color print film left for developing and printing at our everyday prices! C-41 process only.

Advantage

Kodak

Colorwatch system

Steve Hanson of S.M.

HANSON MUSIC is showing a Limited

Edition Washburn

LTD 95 Acoustic

Guitar.

with FREE

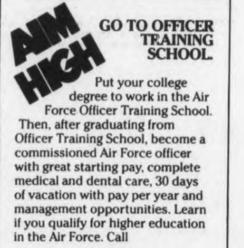

Carrying Case!

SUNDAY:

11 A.M. TO 6 P.M.

AIR FORCE OPPORTUNITIES TOLL FREE 1-800-423-USAF

Sunday 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

quality assurance.

· Solid wood body . . We have affordable Rental Equipment P.A. Systems • DJ Systems • Light Trees Specialty Lighting • Fog Machine

M,T, W, & F 10-6 p.m. Thurs. 10-8 p.m. Sat. 10-5 p.m. • Sun. Closed Call Today! 776-3000

316 Poyntz + Manhattan

Classifieds

HOW TO PAY

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

BOARD

Announcements

COLLEGE CREDIT- Experienced instruction complete certification. Next scuba class filling fast. Call now 539-DIVE. Aggie Dive Shop, 1124 Moro.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

Wedding Open House Saturday and Sunday Jan. 27 & 28

Register for FREE Prizes!

DMr. P's Farty Outlet 318 Poyntz • Manhattan, KS 66502 913-776-7547

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. S35.50 MC/ Visa. 24

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information: (800)229-7562.

Parties-n-More

O A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot 537-7587, 539-7561.

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

Manhattan City Ordi-nance 4814 assures every person equal op-portunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, fa-milial status, military gion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATEbedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted one-half block from campus. Available immediately. I'll pay a first months rent. 537-1359.

ROOMMATE NEEDED to share three-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, partially fur-nished. $175 a month plus one-third utilities.

STUDIO, ONE, two, three-bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished. Clean and quiet surroundings six or nine-month lease. No pets. 537-8389.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N 10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428

Unfurnished

1219 KEARNEY, one-bed room basement across street from campus. Water/ trash paid. No pets. Lease now. $295. 539-5136.

AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available now. Very large, two-bedroom. 617 N. 12th, bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included. Call 776-3804.

across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537-2332.

APARTMENT FOR rent Very near campus. Clean and new. $385 plus utilities. Available (913)455-3433. Leave

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

AVAILABLE NOW. One-bedroom. 820 Osage. $360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-lowed. Call now lowed. 776-3804.

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM. no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid. Available Jan. 1. 539-1975.

THREE-BED-ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer Gas and water split. Electricity separate. Trash paid. $550/ month 1110 Colorado, 537-9023.

CRESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer, dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January. 1611 Laramie. $600. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

FOUR-BEDROOM TWO sun porch, formal din-ing room, washer and dryer. 537–1940.

HARDWOOD FLOORS arched doorways. Heating paid and free launtwo-bedroom Available now. $400. 776-3143.

HEATING PAID. Free laun dry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.

LARGE, QUIET, one bedsix-plex. Living room, dining area, kitchen, and bath, and a walk-in closet. Cats permitted. Phone 537-7087.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

ONE OR two-hedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse. Newly carpeted. 537-9188 or 537-1550.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT in basement. nice, clean, quiet. $315/ month plus utilities, 539-7244.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. Sunset $345-Apartments, $345– $385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064

Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

ONE-BEDROOM BASE MENT, two blocks from campus $225, 537–1940.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR City Park, 924 Fremont. $275. Water, trash paid. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM NEAR

KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776–3804. ONE-BEDROOM

KSU campus and Ag-gieville. 1005 Blue-mont, $345. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804. PARK PLACE APART

MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes,

ROYAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dishwasher, microwave, laundry facilities. Call now 776–3804.

STUDIO AVAILABLE now, near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804.

THREE-BEDROOM APART MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500/ month. 539-5729.

THREE-BEDROOM, BASE MENT apartment available immediately, laundry facilities accessible, off-street parking, 15 minute walk to campus, $399/ month. Call 537–3826, ask for John.

You Deserve The Best

2 bedroom apartments Great location ▲ Large bedrooms ▲ Two bathrooms

▲ Walk-in closets ▲ Washer/dryer hook-ups ▲ Fireplaces ▲ Large pool

> NOW LEASING FOR JUNE 8 AUGUST 776-8641

Open Houses Daily The Curtin Company

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE in January. 1026 Osage, $485. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH 776-8455

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX, four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Available now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $150/ month. Water paid. (913)379-5450.

KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR

TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM, 1212 Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401. WILDCAT INN- one-bedroom available now, 411 N. 17th $380. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.

For Rent-Houses

> AVAILABLE IMME DIATELY. Four-bed room, close to campus. 776–1340.

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH study. Close to campus 1021 McCollum $600 Washer, dryer provided. Pets allowed.Call 776-3804.

Wanted

campus. Lease through May $180/ month and one-fourth utilities. Wash/ dry, dishwasher. Central heat and air. Very nicel Call 587-0769.

dryer. Non-smoker, no pets. Four blocks from campus, $150/ month plus one-third utilities. 776-3119.

FEMALE

MALE/ FEMALE

NEWER HOME, master bedroom and three-fourth bath, big closet. All utilities paid. Available immediately. $350/ monthly. 537-1439.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apart-ment. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.

farmhouse, barn for horse, cattle, dogs, 150 Acre pasture, $225, month or semester. Possible rent in ex-change for cattle chores, 776-1205.

bedroom apartment. One-half utilities. One block from campus. Call 539-4301.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share three-bedroom apartment, one-half block from campus, furnished, off-street park-ing, $225 per month plus one third utilities, non-smoker, 776-6718.

TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur-nished basement apartment. Laundry fur-nished, for males, non-smoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities, 539-1554.

WALK TO campus. Own room, laundry, storage. $187.50 plus one-fourth utilities through May 31. 776-5834.

Sublease

FEMALE ROOMMATE needed to share wellkept, two-bedroom apartment plus one-half utilities, 814 Thur-ston, 537-2407. Call after 5p.m. or leave a

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to campus in house, please contact Joyce at 565-0114.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT to sublease $480/ month. Water trash paid. Also has dishwasher, washer/ dryer. 776-7792.

SERVICE

DIRECTORY

Child Care

Other

Services

CHILDREN'S PALACE, li-censed daycare has openings. All ages. Lots of TLC. Fun, learning, MONEY FOR COL-LEGEIII Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE

WANTED 100 students to lose 8- 100 pounds. New metabolism break-sults. (800)579-1634.

through. I lost 15 pounds in 3 weeks. R.N. assisted. Guaranteed re-

Lawrence, (913)841–5716.

Nutritional

Weight Loss

and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D.

ents. Immediate qual-ification. Call (800)270-2744. Open environment, Fenced yard. A step in the right direction. Call Amy (913)494-2324.

Tutor

205

Will design your own home page on the internet using your K-State computer ac-count. Call Frank, 539-2603.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

Roommate

A STEAL! Female room-mate wanted to share four-bedroom, two bath house, close to

ROOMMATE FEMALE needed to share house with female and male. Own room, washer/

MALE ROOMMATE wanted: $183/ month plus one-third utilities. Furnished, next to cam-pus. Call 537-5107.

ALE ROOMMATE wanted. Two-bedroom FEMALE apartment, five minutes off campus, very nice, convenient area. $212.50 per month. Can occupy im-mediately. Contact Shanna. (913)384-5065.

MALE/ FEMALE nonsmoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus one-half bills. Frank 539-8786.

smoker for two-bed-room. Close to campus/ Aggieville. $190 plus part utilities. Call Brian 537-6124.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures

every person equal op-portunity in securing and holding employ-ment in any field of work or labor for which he she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hell, 537-0056. NON-SMOKING FEMALES,

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our read-ROOMMATE TO share two-

legian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454. $35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.

SEARN $7.50 AN HOURS - That's right! You receive $15 each You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Manhattan Biomedical Center. 1130 Gardenway. 9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M- F, 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from Westloop.

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing Industry, Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971–3510 ext-A57683.

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachusetts. Over 100 posi-tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, And Crarts, Gyrmiastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Waterski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required.

Top salaries room and Top salaries, room and board, and travel alboard, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27–28, 1996, 9s.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call

(800)392-3752 Camp

ARE YOU ready for a fun filled summer? Have you ever experienced the satisfaction of having made a difference in a child's life? Here's an opportunity to an-swer yes to both of these questions. Camp Birchwood and Gunflint Wilderness Camp, two small northern Minne-sota children's camps, seek counselors for employment beginning June 6. Experience in one of the following activity areas desirable horseback riding, sali-ing, tennis, swimming, waterskiing, canoe try-ping, biking, fishing, windsurfing, dance or sailing. For additional information and an acnformation and an ap plication 800)451-5270. ATTENTION ALL Studentsl

Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information (800)263-6495 call

ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-

CAMP COUNSELORS for of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canoeing, crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the out-8- 14 about the out-doors. Lifeguard help-ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details, send inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wild-wood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS 66040.

CAMP TAKAJO for boys.
Outstanding Maine
camp noted for magnificent lakefront setting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 po-sitions for heads and assistants in tennis, base-ball, basketball, soccer, lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, journalism, photography, videography, wood-working, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study

radio and electronics, dramatics, piano ac-companist, music in-strumentalist, band di-rector, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewa-ter canceing, ropes course, general (with course, general (with youngest campers), secretarial. June 17-August18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union. Walk-ins Welcome.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary, For in-formation call (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

HARVEST HELP NEED-ED. We run three new 2188's Case Interna-tional combines, three new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board provided. Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting. (913)689-4660.

HELP WANTED: earn up to $500 per week assembling products at home. No experience. Information (504)646–1700 Dept. KS-

JOBS IN the Great Out-doors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-N57683.

KAW VALLEY Greenhous

es needs quality peo-ple. Call 776–8585, Mon-day through Friday bet-ween 4 and 5p.m. KSU STUDENT help needed. Work in green-house, tree packing and seedling nursery. Four hours work, blocks re-quired from 8a.m. to noon and/ or 1- 5p.m.

Start immediately, $4.25/ hour. Apply at Kansas State and Ex-tension Forestry 2610 Claffin Road PART-TIME BABYSITTER

RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro gram, which is specifically designed for re cent college graduates. Call or send resume. 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam (913)345–9090, (913)345–0978 FAX. REFERENCE LIBRARIAN 25 hours/ week. Bachelors degree re-quired, previous library experience preferred. Send resume, letter of application and references by Jan. 29, to Susan Moyer, Library Director, Dorothy Director, Dorothy Bramlage Public Li-brary. 230 W. 7th St, Junction City, KS 66441.

REWARDING, EXCITING summer for sopho-more and older college students- camp counselor positions available in the Colorado Rockies. Backpacking, Western riding, water activities, natural science and many outdoor programs. Write: San-born Western Camps, P.O. Box 167, Florissant, CO 80816.

SELF-DIRECTED, HONEST, mature, woman, non-smoker, desires to work part-time for an indi-vidual and their family, i.e. (Staff at K-State). 25 years experience as house manager, per-sonal assistant, family friend, companion. De-sire live-in arrangement plus salary. Phone plus salary. (800)564-5635 enter PIN# 1819.

STUDENT COMPUTER Consultant: 12 or more hours per week. Ex-perience with both Mainframe and Microcomputers, along with employment GPA and employment potential of two years given pref-erence. Contact Ralph Wasmer in Room 9
Fairchild Hall by 5p.m.
Monday, February 5,
1996 for application.
NO PHONE CALLS
PLEASE!

STUDENT COMPUTER OP erator: 10- 30 hours per week. Must be willing to work third shift, school recesses and summer months. Operate large scale com puter operating system and interact with computer user community Must be fully respon sible and a dependable student. Applications can be picked up by Fri-day, January 26, 1996, in Farrell Library Room

STUDENT DISPATCH/ Con trol Clerk: Work 15- 30 hours per week. Must be willing to work summers and during school breaks. Job involves working with main-frame computer users and delivering printouts across campus. Applicants with two or more years employ-ment potential will be given preference. Stop by Room 2 in Farrell Li-brary for application be-fore 4p.m. Friday, Janu-ary 26, 1996. STUDENT NETWORK-ING ASSISTANT: The Department of Communications, Information and Educa tional Technology has an opening available for a bright, enthusias tic student with a high level of integrity and good interpersonal and problem solving skills. Must have knowledge of PC's, MS-DOS and Windows. Will be re-sponsible for monitoring computer net-works, installing and supporting computer supporting computer software and researching new products. Knowledge of PC hardware, Novell Netware and TCP/ IP based software is a plus. IET offers flexible hours and competitive pay: 15-25 competitive pay; 15- 25 hours/ week during school year and 15- 40 hours during summer. Applications available in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, Janu-ary 26, 1996.

STUDENT OFFICE receptionist needed. Position requires at least 16 hours per week. Work study desired, but not required. Application review will begin Wed-nesday, January 24. Application available in the Department of Me-chanical Engineering, 302 Durland Hall.

STUDENT WORKER to assist with Conference Registration. 10– 15 hours per week during the school year, full-time through the sum-mer. Required skills in-clude a friendly and out-coing personality fagoing personality, fa-miliarity with KSU, computer data entry, at-tention to detail, especially filing and organ-izing work priorities. Apply at Conference Registration in Continuing Education, 141
College Court Building
(1615 Anderson Ave.),
532–5569 by January

STUDENT'S DREAM ule, all natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539–7336.

UNDER

SUCCESSFUL

GRADUATES are now being recruited by the Academic Assistance Center to serve as En hanced University Ex perience Leaders dur ng fall semester 1996 Specific duties include 1) leading a section of the Enhanced University Experience which in-troduces freshmen to the academic skills and techniques necessary to achieve academic success; 2) leading a study session for a social science, science, or mathematics class; 3) attending the class which corresponds to the study session; and 4) attending and partic-ipating in weekly staff meetings. We are look-ing for applicants who feel confident in their ability to be a student role model, are com-mitted to the concept of academic success for all students, desire to teach others how to learn, are able to relate to many types of peo-ple, and have a solid grade point average. A time commitment of 10time commitment of 1012 hours per week will be required during fall 1996 at a salary of $750 for the semester. Students who are selected for the position must successfully complete a training class, EDCEP
311 Guidance for the Paraprofessional, for three hours of academic credit. If you are interested in the position, contact the Academic Assistance Center in Holton 101 or call 532-6492 for further information prior to formation prior to January 29. THE DEPARTMENT of Anatomy and Physi-ology invites applica-tions for a part-time Laboratory Instruc-tor position in the Col-lege of Veterinary Med-icine. This is a nine-month, non-tenure acmonth, non-tenure ac cruing position with a one-year appointment. Continuation is dependent on avail of resources and teach-ing performance. Can-didates should have a strong interest in com-parative veterinary anatomy and be able to contribute to teamtaught gross anatomy courses for first year ve-courses for first year ve-terinary students. Ap-pointment begins Au-gust 15, 1996. DVM re-quired. Applications should include a re-sume and names of three references. Ap-

three references. Ap plications will be re ceived until March

1996 or until the posi-tion is filled. Send ap-plications to: Dr. Jon D. Dunn, Depart-ment Head, Department of Anatomy and Physiology; VMS 228; Kansas State University; 1600 Denison Ave., Manhattan, KS 66506. KSU is an EOE/AAE.

TIMBER LAKE/ TYLER HILL CAMPS, Top NY and PA resident camps have over 200 summer job openings for quali fied students and facul ty. Counselors, WSI, Arts, Athletics Special-ists and more!! Best salaries and travel al-lowance in addition to "the finest summer rou'll ever have." On campus interviews Thursday, February 8th. Call Career and Em-ployment Services at (913)532-6506 for an ap-plication and an interplication and an inter view appointment. TUTORS FOR Intro to Computer Engineering, Symbolic Logic I, Fund of Computer Programming, Statistical Methods in Education. Must have A or B in course. Open to under graduates and graduate students without Assis-tantships. $5 per hour 3 hours per week. Contact Educational Sup-port Services, 201 Hol-ton, 532-5642. WELL-ORGANIZED KSU student with top-notch communication skills needed to coordinate statewide information project focusing on elder abuse. Must be a self-starter and be able to work with faculty, students and profes-sional in media and aging field. Genuine concern for older people a must. Some travel may be required. Work study eligibility pre-ferred. Send resume, cover letter and three references to: Screen-ing committee, NC-FH AAA, 437 Houston St., Manhattan, KS 66502. Deadline: January 25, 1996 EOE/AA.

OPEN MARKET

Wanted to Buy

WANT TO buy: Diamonds-Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631. Items for Sale

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're looking for. Lorin 539-6631

GE WASHER/ dryer, like new, excellent condi-tion. $600, 537-4639. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Phone 537-5020, Og-den, KS.

Furniture to

Buy/Sell

QUEEN-SIZED WATERBED frame, base, bladder, heater. Headboard has etched-glass mirror and two lights. $150 or best offer, 532-2393.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Men-hettan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12-5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

APPLE IIE computer and ImageWriter printer. Great condition. Word-processing and other software peckages in-cluded. $350. Call 539-3168 after 6p.m.

TWO TWO meg SIMMS (30 pin, eight bit, non-perity) for Mac LC ser-ies. $150 or best offer, 532-2393.

Pets and Supplies

FERRET FOR sell. Best off-er. Must be good

1105 Waters, 539-9494

Stereo

Equipment RAW SPEAKERS four 10 inch eminence woofers 12 2 1/2-inch tweeters Still in the box- $50 and supplies. Call Mat 565-0825.

FISH SPECIAL. Betta Red-tail shark, Pleco Black- neons, Angels fancy Guppies, Serpar tetra, etc. Pets-N-Stuff

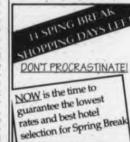

510

Automobiles

1990 BLACK Ford Tauras excellent condition with alarm. $7000 or bes offer. 537-4639.

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

Tour Packages

Leisure Tours has complete packages to South Padre Island, TX and Cancun.

PARTY WITH THOUSANDS! FREE Info. call: 1-800-584-7381

HORD ORT WILL STATE

OUTH PADRE ISLAND PANAMA CITY BEACH DAYTONA BEACH KEY WEST STEAMBOAT VAIL BEAVER CREEK

HILTON HEAD ISLAND

1-800-SUNCHASE

--

615 Spring Break

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live Don't blow it!! Bool Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja maica/ Cancun $399. Or ganize a group- Trave Free!! SunSplash Tour (800)426-7710.

SPRING BREAK'S "Hot test Trips" Cancun South Padre Island Belize (800)328-7513 http://www.studen tadvtrav.com Free food and drink pack age for early sign

SLAB OF CLAY

It's 4 a.m. Gumby's on TV. It reminds you of a simpler time. Saturday cartoons with your big brother. You suddenly miss him. So you call. He says, "You're my pony pal Pokey." There ain't a dry eye in the house.

1-800-COLLECT Save The People You Call Up To 44%.

Gumby and Gumby Characters are Registered Trademarks of Prema Toy Co., Inc. All rights reserved. @1996 Prema Toy Co., Inc. For long-distance calls. Savings based on a 3-minute AT&T operator-dialed interstate call.

Today: occasional snow. See weather map, page 2.

inside OPINION . page 4 K-STATE LIFE . page 5 SPORTS . page 6 DIVERSIONS . page 7

TUESDAY

January 23, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100 Number 77

Ery 38 . 18/10 Kansas Stara Historical Society Section

NO CLOSED CLASS LIST

Budget reductions have caused the Office of the Registrar to stop printing the closed class list in the Collegian. The list can still be found on the World

(http://www.ksu.edu/reg/ ed.html)

KANSAS STATE UULLEGIAN

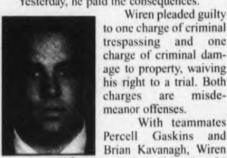

► FOOTBALL

Wiren pleads guilty to 2 charges

Shana Newell

K-State football defensive end Nyle Wiren said he considers himself a hero to children. But on the morning of Aug. 20, Wiren proved even heroes make mistakes.

Yesterday, he paid the consequences. Wiren pleaded guilty trespassing and one charge of criminal damage to property, waiving his right to a trial. Both charges are misdemeanor offenses.

With teammates Percell Gaskins and Brian Kavanagh, Wiren Wiren was charged on Oct. 24 with two counts of battery and one count of criminal damage to property, criminal trespassing, conspiracy to commit battery and cruelty to animals for an event that happened early in the morning of

We believe that the charges Mr. Wiren has admitted doing consist of all of his involvement in the incident," assistant Riley County attorney Barry Wilkerson said during the proceedings. "All witness testimony states that it was black men who were involved in the attack."

In a prepared statement, Wiren said the incident earlier this summer involving K-State baseball player Brad Harker was a factor in his decision to break into the apartment of the individuals involved in the incident.

"On the morning of Aug. 20, 1995, Matt McEwen came to the football complex in a daze. He had been beaten badly enough to make him unrecognizable," Wiren said. "I could not help but think about Brad Harker. the KSU baseball player who had been beaten so badly last summer that he ended up in an Ohio hospital in a coma. Nobody ever found out who beat up Brad, and I was not about to let the same thing happen to Matt."

While Wiren said he admits to being at the apartment and breaking down the door, he said the attack involved others, not himself,

See WIREN Page 6

► STATE

You can't drive faster — not yet

Bill Bontempo

The state transportation committee passed measures to establish new interstate speed limits for Kansas Jan. 18.

Ellie Luthy, secretary to Kenny King, who is the Secretary of Transportation, said a proposal is on the floor of the Kansas House of Representatives for discus-LIMIT lane separated highways and interstates, and a 65 mph limit on all other highways, Luthy She said if the bill was passed, the Secretary of a 70 mph speed limit on multi-

The proposal calls for Transportation would reserve the right to lower the speed limit on any two-lane highways that were not safe for higher limits.

Bill provisions also call for a 10 mph buffer zone.

"That doesn't mean people won't get tickets, but they will not go on their driving records unless they are going over 10 miles an hour over," Luthy said.

The house will work on the bill Wednesday. Luthy said King will push for more expensive fines for drivers who are ticketed for going faster than 20 mph above the speed limit.

Last summer the U.S. Senate passed a bill forcing each state to establish speed limits for its inter-

Luthy said the bill must go through the same process at the Senate level before it can be passed at

She said the process sometimes takes a long time, but if it is not done within 60 days of the time it was originally submitted, it reverts back to the state transportation committee.

CAPITOL SHOWDOWN

Among the targets in the budget standoff are student loans; students urged to voice concern

Sarah Lunday

The budget standoff on Capitol Hill is taking its toll on federal student financial aid.

The Federal Perkins Loans might be cut by half, Pell Grants might have their minimum allowance raised, and the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program might take a hit from Republicans.

Larry Moeder, director of K-State Student Financial Assistance, said spring financial aid is running smoothly, but dollars might be slashed for many programs next year.

"I do think we can possibly see a reduction in dollars next year," Moeder said.

Each year Congress passes various legislation that affects financial aid, but this year politicians are looking at extensive cuts in education.

"We're really debating here as to whether the federal government should invest in education," said Ed Kealy, executive director for an education coalition in Washington, D.C.

Congress could cut more than $3 billion in education funding, he said.

The bulk of that money will affect elementary and secondary education, but higher education will not be exempt from the trimming process.

"For Congress, education seems to be a low priority - at education's expense," Kealy said.

A public opinion research survey

Government shutdown

The Collegian is running a series about the government shutdown and how it affects K-State.

Stories can also be found in the archives of the E-Collegian.

http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Series schedule Today financial aid shutdown history Page 3 Wednesday foreign exchange students

Thursday military/veterans grants commissioned by the Alliance to Save Student Aid confirmed that 1,000 Americans polled between Jan. 21-23, 1995 do not want to see federal aid programs sacrificed in the name of deficit reduction.

By vast majorities, members of the public view federal student aid as a necessary investment in keeping the nation's economy strong and competitive," according to the report.

Budget negotiations are still on hold, but politicians will reassemble tonight for President Clinton's State of the Union Address.

'They're going to have to start asking, 'What do we want to do now that we don't appear to have a deal?" Kealy said.

Guessing what cuts will be made and what financial aid programs will come out on top is nearly impossible. Moeder said students concerned with cuts in student aid should contact their congressional representatives. 'Quite frankly, if Congress doesn't hear from them, they're going to get cut," he said.

QUICKread Larry Moeder, director of K-State Student Financial Assistance, said students should contact their congressional representatives if concerned. Numbers and names are listed on page 3.

STEVE HEBERT/Collegian

Omar Davis, senior in psychology, lights a candle at the Martin Luther King Jr. Week candlelight vigil and religious service Monday night at All Faiths Chapel.

-Jan. 22-28-

The march symbolizes the non-violent movement and peace between all races.

REV. DON FALLON REGULATOR OF RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Martin Luther King Week means to me the celebration of peacemaking and the ability to get along. CIA VERSHELDEN ASSOCIATE PROFESSORIN SOCIAL WORK

MEMORIAL WALK AND CANDLELIGHT VIGIL

'We Shall Overcome'

"We shall overcome" was a theme for the memorial walk and candlelight vigil in celebration of Martin Luther King Jr. Week Monday

The walk began with eight people singing "We Shall Overcome" as they strolled from Waters Hall to All Faiths Chapel.

"The meaning of the walk for me is to express and come out and say I show my support for Martin Luther King," Shannon Cox, sophomore in pre-veterinary medicine and biology, said.

In 1968, King and many of his supporters marched at K-State before he spoke at the University. King was assassinated later that "I was there when Martin Luther King came, spoke and marched in the late '60s," said Rev. Don Fallon, regulator of religious activities. "The march symbolizes the non-violent movement and peace between all races."

Later, the small party progressed to the All Faiths Chapel, where it was joined by about 20 others for the candlelight vigil. "Martin Luther King Week means to me the celebration of peace-making and the ability to

The memorial walk and candlelight vigil Monday night celebrates a hero get along," said Cia Vershelden, associate professor in social work. "He was a great man and had an inspiring message for peace."

The candlelight vigil was sponsored by the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

"We are here to celebrate the life and legacy of a hero," said Bernard Franklin, associate dean of student life.

"If America doesn't know how to take racism, racism will destroy us," Franklin said. The only way to change the world is to change the world around us, Franklin said. "As long as the central administration is all white and men at K-State, we have work to do," he said. "Conflict is a part of reality. There can be no life without conflict."

Franklin said King was a man who was not afraid of conflict.

"He had a dream and a vision, and he wasn't going to stop talking until he accomplished this dream," Franklin said. "We have a power, and that power is love."

The theme for this year's Martin Luther King Jr. Week at K-State, which is traditionally the week of his birthday, is "Passing the Torch, Igniting the Vision of a New Generation." This year, the week was postponed because the spring semester was not yet

"We have been enlightened and educated by Martin Luther King Jr.," said Veryl Switzer, cochair of the Martin Luther King Jr. Week activities. "We have come a long ways, but we still have a ways to go. We are hoping to develop the momentum to move forward. Switzer said he hopes King's legacy does.

"It's up to us each year, each day to do our part to support that legacy," Switzer said. 'Martin Luther King Jr. walked and put his life on the line. Now it is our turn to carry the

In the news

HILLARY CLINTON TO TESTIFY BEFORE WHITEWATER GRAND JURY

WASHINGTON (AP) - First lady Hillary Rodham Clinton will testify under subpoena Friday before a Washington grand jury investigating the mysterious discovery of her law firm billing records in the White House resi-

Her testimony was requested by Whitewater prosecutor Kenneth Starr, according to the White House. The appearance will be her first before the Whitewater grand jury, though it will be the fourth time she has answered questions under oath for the prosecutors.

Hillary Clinton, put on the defensive by Whitewater disclosures, offered earlier Monday to supply written answers to questions from the Senate

Whitewater Committee. The Republican chairman said the panel wanted more documents first

The White House's statement on the grand jury said staff members and Mrs. Clinton's personal lawyer also were subpoenaed and will testify.

The statement did not identify the officials by name.

▶ REPUBLICANS, PRESIDENT DISAGREE AS 3RD SHUTDOWN NEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) -Republican congressional leaders searched Monday for a way to avoid a new federal shutdown at week's end but showed little desire to heed President Clinton's pleas for a quick extension of the government's borrowing authority. Eager to avoid election-year blame for a third partial closure of federal agencies since November, top Republicans hoped for congressional passage as early as Wednesday of legislation keeping programs functioning for perhaps another

Without such a bill, dozens of agencies would once again have to put some operations in mothballs after the close of business

The trick for Republican leaders, especially in the House, was balancing conservatives' demands for budget slashes with a bill Clinton would sign. They were considering financing affected agencies at about 75 percent of last year's levels and eliminating some minor programs Clinton might accept -House Speaker Newt Gingrich said from 12 to 15 small agencies might be killed. GOP aides listed one possibility as the Bureau of Mines.

MARCHERS PROTEST ROE V. WADE sought by victims of rape or incest or by birth would endanger people participated in the march, U.S. Park

Police spokeswoman

The March for Life

er, said about 125,000

Fund, the event organiz-

Sandra Alley said.

their lives.

took part.

women for whom giving

An estimated 60,000

WASHINGTON (AP) however, the Supreme - Tens of thousands of Court dealt a new blow yelling, chanting aborto efforts to enact new abortion curbs. Without tion opponents marched in protest to the comment, the justices Supreme Court building refused to let Monday, the 23rd Pennsylvania set strict anniversary of the reporting rules that must court's decision legalizbe satisfied before ing most abortions. Medicaid funds can be paid for abortions

The marchers used the annual protest to exhort President Clinton to sign legislation limiting a woman's legal right to end a pregnan-

Advancing along Constitution Avenue to Capitol Hill, demonstrators chanted repeatedly: "What do we want? Life! When do we want it? Now!"

As they demonstrated,

CLARIFICATION

■ The Flint Hills Breadbasket story that ran on page one in Monday's Collegian was not complete due to a computer error.

The remainder of the story said that there will be a Souper Bowl Sunday food drive in hopes of adding more than 4,000 cans to the Breadbasket's shelves.

Bill Kennedy, county attorney, said there are a number of locations in Manhattan which have volunteered to be collection points for Souper Bowl Sunday. But, he said, the county attorney's office and the Breadbasket will take food donations year

The goal of the program is to make up for the loss of commodities and to give Super Bowl Sunday real meaning, Kennedy

To read the full text of the article and to see a full list of drop-off sites, please see Monday's edition of the Electronic Collegian. (http://www.spub.ksu.edu/issues/v100/SP/n0 76/city-breadbasket-burdette.html).

The Collegian regrets the inconvenience.

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County calls for escorts or minor traffic violations.

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

SUNDAY, JANUARY 21

At 11:25 p.m., Eric Aggson, Moore Hall staff, reported someone was throwing eggs out of a dorm window

At 2:45 p.m. Christopher Balluch. Beloit, reported a hit-and-run acci-

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

SUNDAY, JANUARY 21

At 1:35 p.m., Mark DeDonder, Cambridge Place No. 13 reported a black 1991 Ford Pickup, license plate number ICK924, stolen. Loss was

At 1:46 p.m., Manuel Alfonso, 725 Griffith Terrace, reported a green backpack containing miscellaneous items was taken from a vehicle. Loss

At 1:51 p.m., Riley County officers

Philip A. Bruss for misdemeanor checks. Bond was set at $200. At 3:26 p.m., Emil Ramnarine, at the Helping Hands Home, 1201 N. 12th St., reported two juveniles miss-Zieglor, age 17.

from the Helping Hands Home.

ing: Kirk W. Bishop, age 16, and Bud At 7:12 p.m., Jill Frese, 820 Lee

St., reported two male subjects lying in the middle of the street trying to stop traffic. Subjects were runaways

MISS YOUR

PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

M Kansas Newman College Occupational Therapy Program will have an Open House Friday. Call 1-800-736-7585 to register and for further informat ■ Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due in the Dean's offices by Feb. 16. ■ Swimming I and fitness swimming classes at UFM are available for one hour of K-State credit. Call m Students who took DAS 115.

ing will be at 8 p.m. Thursday in Frank Curriero will give his final oral defense for his doctoral dissertation "The Use of Non-Education Distances in Geostatistics p.m. today in Dickens 106.

Orientation to Health Careers, in fall

1995 should pick up speaker notes

A new student services summer orientation leader information meet-in Eisenhower 113.

BULLETINS

■ The Governmental Relations Committee will meet Jan. 29 to finish discussion on the legislative plan in Topeka. The agenda includes finishing talk about issues, getting input from students, talking about dates to travel to Topeka and preparing the legislative lobby

■ The Community Service Program tutoring orientation meeting will meet at 5 p.m. Thursday in Union

Silver Key will meet at 8:30 tonight in Union 209. Black Student Union will meet at 7 tonight in Union 212. Chimes Junior Honorary will meet at 8:30 tonight in Union 213.

m Chi Alpha Christian Fellowship will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Throckmorton 1014.

KSU Student Fellowship will meet at 9 p.m. every Sunday at 1326 Fremont St. The group will meet to m The Hispanic American Leadership Organization will meet at 6:30 tonight at Ecumenical Campus Ministry building. Blue Key Senior Leadership Honorary is accepting applicat Applications are available in the Dean of Student Life and the SGA discuss "Forum on Jesus."

■ The Food Science Club will meet at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at Call 205.

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University. is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today

Denver

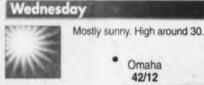

34/13

Occasional snow in the morning. Accumulation of 1-3 inches by afternoon. High near 20. Low from 10-15.

Goodland

26/13

Garden City

Russell

34/17

Salina

40/22

Wichita

47/40 .

MANHATTAN

42/26 Kansas City Topeka 42/27 38/31 Coffeyville

STATE OUTLOOK

Occasional flurries in the west ending by noon and occasional snow in the east tapering to flurries by afternoon. Total accumulations of 1-4 inches. High near 20 in the north, and in the upper 20s in the

St. Louis .

Yesterday's highs and lows

Tulsa

46/37

Say it with a personal, 532-6560 ksu collegian

COME TO VARNEY'S BOOKSTORE AND FIND GREAT SAVINGS AND SERVICE

We are here to help. Save 25% on textbooks by buying used book from our large used book selection. We'll help you locate books and supplies. If you need a special order, we can order it for you. And we offer free parking. So start the year off right. Begin at Varney's.

539-0511

Open 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday thru Saturday Open noon until 5 p.m. Sunday

"We Give You Our Best"

SERVING MANHATTAN AND KANSAS STATE SINCE 1908

Shop at the store that supports your community.

cen • ten • ni • al \sen - te-ne-əl \n: a 100th anniversary or its celebration – centennial adj

> HANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN A Century

> > 199C TO 199C

Everyone welcome.

The celebration begins at 3 p.m. Jan. 26, 1996 in the Union Courtyard.

SORRY, WE'RE CLOSED stories by Cori Cornelison • city & government editor

LESS FOR K-STATE?

For some K-State students and faculty, the federal government's partial shutdowns and the new budget may mean less money.

The government is scheduled to again Friday, a heard and felt sound that will be shut its doors

A backlog of paperwork at federal offices have delayed the processing of veteran benefits and federally funded research grants. In addition, there is a threat of budget cuts of financial

Students may be forced to look for alternative ways of paying for living expenses and school fees and place their hopes of conducting research projects on hold for a while.

Although there have not been any serious problems at K-State concerning the government shutdown, minor problems have been experienced. During the government by many. shutdown, proposals for federally funded research grants were stamped and thrown into baskets until workers returned, said Paul

Lowe, interim director of PreAward Services. He said K-State faculty and graduate students who have sent proposals for grants might experience delays, and continuing awards will also most likely in plans for two students from Turkey who planned on attending K-State this spring. The students decided to attend graduate school at a university in England because of the difficulty in

The government shutdown also meant a change receiving a visa, said William Richter, assistant provost for international programs.

Most students were able to go around obstacles and return to K-State.

K-State students whose families live overseas experienced up to a three-week delay in returning to K-State because visas were not being issued at full capacity until two weeks ago.

Most foreign students who were affected by the government shutdown waited until the last two weeks to get a visa, said Motaz Hourani, program coordinator at the Foreign Student Office.

Look for more in-depth stories of how K-State students and faculty members were affected by the government shutdown in the Collegian this week.

PREDICTIONS

Predictions of a third government shutdown Jan. 26, when a bill signed by President Clinton that reopened certain federal agencies expires, remain uncertain and in the hands of government officials.

But Laurie Bagby, assistant professor of political science, said although she suspects government officials are close to a budget deal, anything could happen Jan. 26.

She said with the presidential election approaching, there are a lot of politics involved in the budget negotiations and each party is standing firm to its

The shutdowns were inevitable because of the tactics of negotiating, Bagby said.

But if budget talks continue much longer, she said, she assumes the lack of a plan will affect voters' choices in the presidential election.

President Clinton has to worry not only about the upcoming presidential election, but also that congressional Democrats do not make a deal with congressional Republicans before he talks to the Democrats about what cuts he wants, Bagby said. She said if she had to point fingers, she would blame President Clinton for the prolonged budget talks because he has lacked clarity of what he supports.

"You can't really negotiate with someone who doesn't have a proposal," she said.

She said she applauds Congress for making sure essential federal services were operating during the shutdown. Bagby said there is a lot of unneeded panic from Americans, especially federal workers, concerning the shutdowns.

"A lot of Americans don't have the luxuries of job security and benefit packages," she said. "I don't feel sorry for them.

A small part of the federal government is being affected by the shutdowns, Bagby said.

John Potter, junior in political science and member of the College Republicans, said he also thinks federal and state employees should have expected layoffs with their line of work, but still the government should have resolved things more quickly.

But Potter said he thinks the budget will be resolved before Jan. 26, and federal employees will not need to worry about another shutdown.

Students concerned with cuts in student aid should contact their congressional

"Quite frankly, if Congress doesn't hear from them, (student aid) is going to get cut," Larry Moeder, director of K-State representatives.

Student Financial Assistance said

Shutdowns lasting longer

Government shutdowns in the past have been resolved in less than a day. Federal workers are facing shutdowns lasting more than a week This non-activity

1985 1986 1987

1984

1988

1994

1995

996

results in late paychecks for federal workers and millions of dollars lost because federal employees have always received back pay for the time the government is shut down.

> 1989 1990 1990 1991 1992 1993

Six days - cost government $800 million Dec. 16, 1995

21 days - cost government $520 million Jan. 26, 1996

Government will shut down again when temporary budget

Source: USA Today

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

Shutdown relief

These services provide help for federal workers affected by the government shutdown.

- Federal Employee Education and Assistance Fund (FEEA) 8441 W. Bowles Avenue Suite 200 Littleton, CO 80123-3245 1-800-323-4140 Fax: (303) 933-7587
- Office of Personnel Management (OPM) Employee Relations Policy Center (202) 606-2920
- WTOP Call for Action Government Shutdown Hotline (202) 686-8225 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. The hotline serves as a clearinghouse of phone numbers and information for federal workers affected by the shutdown.

Source: Business Information Network

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

Support for financial aid

The budget standoff on Capitol Hill is taking its toll on federal student financial aid. Spring financial aid is running smoothly, but dollars for K-State might be slashed for many programs next year.

Rep. Sam Brownback (913) 233-2503

Sen. Nancy Kassebaum (202) 224-4774

Wednesday, January 24, 1996

2:30 p.m. College of Architecture,

Donaphin, vice president of architecture

Planning and Design lecture: Alexa Barnes 134 Derby Dining Hall.

$1.50 Wells $1.50 Domestic Bottles $1.50 Mexi Beer $1.00 All You Can Eat Taco Bars (5-8)

1213 MORO, AGGIEVILLE 776-6451

Welcome Back, Students!

1 HOUR PHOTO

2 PRINTS FOR THE PRICE OF 1

Use C-41 Processing

Expires 3-22-96

WAL*MAR FILM DEVELOPING

There's no better place to take pictures! 628 Tuttle Creek Blvd. . 776-3100 honestly with others who may or may not hold similar values or beliefs.

Opinion

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN STAFF

Mike Marlett	Editor in chief
Kevin Klassen	Managing editor
Sarah Lunday	News editor
Cary Conover	Photo editor
Derek Simmons	Design editor
Kim Hefling
Christy Little	Copy chief
N. Stewart Anderson	Features editor

Cori Cornelison	City / government editor
Claudette Riley	Arts and entertainment editor
Todd Stewart	Sports editor
Stephanie Fuqua	Opinion editor
Justin Stahlman	Graphics editor
Kevyn Jacobs	E-Collegian editor
Trice Alford	Advertising manage
Heidi Bruce	Assistant advertising manage

COLLEGIANopinion

Closed class list needs to be printed daily

QUICKread As a result of budget cuts, the Office of the Registrar will not print the closed class list in the Collegian.

Don't bother searching the Collegian for the closed class list before you go to drop/add. It won't be

This semester, the Office of the Registrar has decided not to print the closed class list. Don Foster, the University Registrar, has cited three reasons for this: budget cuts within the department, the list is not accurate during the summer when the Collegian is printed weekly, and the list is not accurate during the regular semester.

Foster said the printed list is often inaccurate because a student could drop a class in the morning, causing the class to re-open and making the list (printed the night before) invalid.

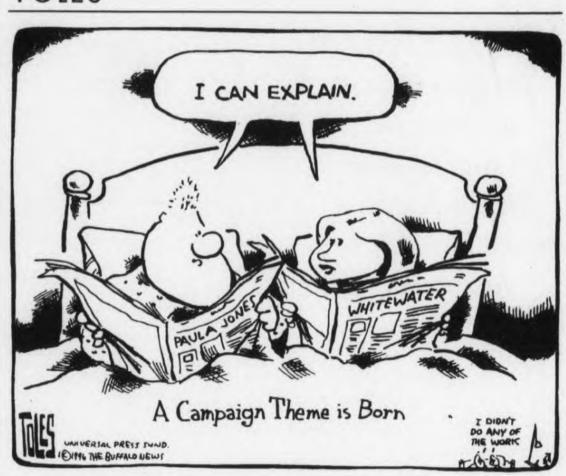

How does this differ from the printed list available at drop/add? That list is not updated every time someone drops a class, therefore that list is also invalid.

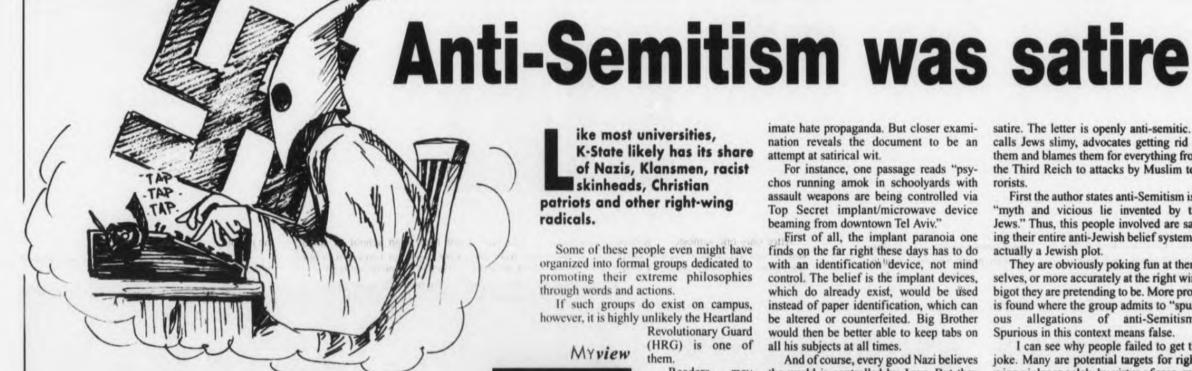

Foster suggested students look up the list on the University's homepage on the World Wide Web. However, this option will also not be accurate, as the homepage is also not continuously updated every time someone drops a

Some may think the Collegian is only complaining about this because we are losing advertising dollars. That isn't true. If we could afford it, we'd run the list ourselves. But tight news holes and a rise in the cost of newsprint prohibits us from doing that.

If the list isn't accurate during the summer because of press times, then don't print it during the summer. But taking away a service used by many students on this campus is a slap in the face. The reasons given for the departure just aren't good enough.

TOLES

ike most universities, K-State likely has its share of Nazis, Klansmen, racist skinheads, Christian patriots and other right-wing radicals.

Some of these people even might have organized into formal groups dedicated to promoting their extreme philosophies through words and actions.

If such groups do exist on campus, however, it is highly unlikely the Heartland

Revolutionary Guard (HRG) is one of Readers from an incident last November when a student found a rambling, anti-Semitic tirade posted by the HRG in Willard Hall. Columnists in both the Collegian and the Manhattan

ROBERT Gorton

Myview

Mercury were quick to pick up the story and condemn the rhetoric of the group.

The HRG has also been investigated by the campus police, the KBI, the FBI and even the Secret Service. A waste of time: The HRG is obviously the work of a lone satirist, and, aside from mocking the rhetoric, this person has nothing to do with hate or hate groups.

Sure, on the surface the material quoted in the Collegian was viciously anti-semitic, and on first reading it comes off like legitimate hate propaganda. But closer examination reveals the document to be an attempt at satirical wit.

For instance, one passage reads "psychos running amok in schoolyards with assault weapons are being controlled via Top Secret implant/microwave device beaming from downtown Tel Aviv."

First of all, the implant paranoia one finds on the far right these days has to do with an identification device, not mind control. The belief is the implant devices, which do already exist, would be used instead of paper identification, which can be altered or counterfeited. Big Brother would then be better able to keep tabs on all his subjects at all times.

And of course, every good Nazi believes the world is controlled by Jews. But they believe this is done through manipulation of the world economy and mass media by a small cadre of Jewish plotters. They're crazy, but even the most hardened and paranoid hate monger would find the idea of a Jewish mind control beam to be absurd.

Another passage reads, "... females 'spontaneously abort' dozens of fertilized eggs yearly. God's law says these females are mass murderers....

This is a classic bastardization of prolife philosophy, distorting the ideas of the movement to make the movement look

Although at first glance this may sound like pro-life rhetoric, a pro-lifer - even an extremist kook - would point out that, without human intervention, such an unfortunate incident would be considered an act of God. This document was written by someone who wishes to satirize the extreme right, not glorify it. The rest of the work confirms that it is satire. The letter is openly anti-semitic. It calls Jews slimy, advocates getting rid of them and blames them for everything from the Third Reich to attacks by Muslim ter-

First the author states anti-Semitism is a 'myth and vicious lie invented by the Jews." Thus, this people involved are saying their entire anti-Jewish belief system is actually a Jewish plot.

They are obviously poking fun at themselves, or more accurately at the right wing bigot they are pretending to be. More proof is found where the group admits to "spurious allegations of anti-Semitism." Spurious in this context means false.

I can see why people failed to get the joke. Many are potential targets for rightwing violence solely by virtue of race, religion or sexual preference. Having some one lurking around posting hate propaganda, even when it's fake, is not funny or clever to these folks, and they may miss the Still, it disturbs me that so many people fell for the HRG hoax. It shows a tendency among many to think of the far right as a bunch of drooling, paranoid maniacs with no grip on reality.

Although I believe some on the right suffer from a distorted view of reality, I do recognize this view comes complete with its own values, philosophy, religion, history, heroes and martyrs. These people have the potential to be very dangerous, as many are well armed, and the fact people don't recognize the difference between these people and the people making fun of them can only help them.

Robert Gorton is a senior in modern languages-German and history.

ADRIAN FLEMING

Feeling privileged on campus

State Collegian is now hiring students as editorial board members.

The members are required to come to editorial board meetings at least twice a week and write at least one editorial a week. The position is paid by written Fill out an polication in Kedzie 103, Pk include resume and merging from Ahearn Field House Thursday morning, I felt a renewed lightness, as if an enormous playground full of freebies had been opened up to me once

Of course, the biting wind that propelled me back might have heightened that feeling. At any rate, I was satisfied with the fees I'd paid.

The lines had been somewhat thinner, and no one had appeared as perturbed as usual to be standing in them. At K-State, though, I suppose a student does learn to wait in line, if nothing else. Agitation never pushes it any faster. While you wait, you acquire a sense of being in the same boat as everyone else.

At the time I waited, we were occupied with blowing warm, moist air onto our fingers to sign over our money - $216,45 of which would cover our campus privilege fees.

Like standing in line from time to time, privilege is yet another thing I've come to expect as a K-State student. Maybe I'm just a brat that way, but if it's possible to be privileged, why not? I enjoy the privilege of working out at the Recreational Complex every morning with only a flash of my I.D., since I tend to break my left foot whenever I exercise outdoors. In those cases, I'm lucky office visits are free and Xrays are cheap at Lafene.

Myview

When I attend a Lou Douglas Lecture or a Landon Lecture, when I go to a poetry or fiction reading from a visiting writer, I unfailingly encounter other students. By no means do I ever come across the entire student body at any event, but I see enough to feel a part of some-

Schields thing larger than myself. I get a strong concept of the University as a whole, which exceeds the sum of its parts. As a University, we are able to offer one another more than we could ever find as individuals.

> We are privileged. So if the campus privilege fee were to lose out to a series of user fees, the whole of students would lose just that privilege. By the current method, all of campus is my playground when I walk can access every service for little or no additional money. Which privileges I use is up to my personal tastes and needs.

out of Ahearn. I

I don't mind knowing that a portion of my own privilege fee supports student health services even when I roam campus an entire semester with my foot intact. The privilege remains, should I need

Actually, I don't find a single extra fee, say, for use of Recreational Successive fees would tack themselves on gradually. Pretty soon K-State could offer a variety of packages. If a student didn't like poetry readings, he wouldn't be asked to contribute to those. If she didn't plan on getting sick, it would be too silly for her to pay anything to support Lafene. If you wished to save campus the wear and tear of your walking on it, you could skip class, as well as that pesky campus walking fee. K-State, of course, would continue to offer most services now available to all students, but no student could afford them all. In fact, with each burden placed on fewer shoulders, most couldn't even carry everything they would Privilege would return to those of considerable means, a group exclusive of most university students. We don't typically have $216.45 to throw around on things we don't even use; and clearly, nobody uses everything that's offered.

A few hundred bucks is a considerable amount for any one student, yet it doesn't really buy much of anything by itself. In any other setting, it wouldn't even pay for everything a person does use. It's little more than a droplet of spittle in the puddle on the blacktop.

Fortunately, the fundamental collectivity of a University pools that drop with the resources of thousands of others, giving individuals more than they pay for.

Privilege has never been such a bar-

Keely Schields is a junior in English-creative writing.

imbatman@ksu.edu or call 532-6556.

The

Fortmeyer by Russell Fortmeyer Files

This is the first of a series of interviews of K-State personalities by Russell Fortmeyer, Collegian contributing writer, that will appear on the K-State Life pages.

This week: Jon Wefald

K-State University president

Russell: Qualified admissions is something that is coming up in this legislative session. This is something our student body president, Jeff Peterson, is fighting against. How do -you feel about qualified admissions?

Jon: The subject first came up seriously about five years ago, and the Regents supported it. Starting in the late '80s/early '90s, the Board of Regents adopted a proposal for qualified admissions.

There would be three ways of meeting the qualified admissions. You would have a grade-point average where you were in the top one-third of your high school class, you would have an ACT of 23, or you get a 2.0 in the core curriculum.

People talk about this, and they don't know what it means. We've all been supporting that for the past five years. It's a very modest proposal.

Russell: Its opponents seem to be selling it as something that is going to drop enrollment figures and take people out of higher education.

Jon: Having heard what the three criteria are, now, add a fourth, which is there is going to be a 10-percent window. There are always mitigating circumstances for somebody not meeting one, two or three (criteria).

Russell: So this won't have a drastic effect on enrollment figures.

Jon: It shouldn't. And, especially given the fact it would not start for ... two years. Someone who is in the ninth or 10th grade would have at least two years to meet those new standards

It's been talked about for at least five years, and it's gone nowhere. And, in part, that's because Kansas legislators, like the people they represent, tend to remain somewhat populistic, conservative dash dash.

Russell: What are we doing now at K-State to increase our enrollment?

Jon: Starting next year, in fall 1996, the enrollments are predicted to go up at Kansas State by as much as 15 percent over a six-year period maybe even higher than that. But, 15 percent is probably conservative. It could be as much as 18 percent to 20

The number of high school students graduating from high school in the next eight or nine years will increase by 18 percent to 20 percent. So, if we just recruit the same percentage of students we have been recruiting for the last 10 years, that's about how much our enrollments would go up

Russell: Do you sense a feeling K-State has a perceived image of being the No. 2 university in Kansas?

Jon: That was true until about six years ago. We are now the university of choice. In terms of high school students today, we received more students from the state of Kansas than any other university in the state. In short, as of 1995-96, Kansas State is clearly the university of choice. Students graduating from Kansas high schools list Kansas State as their first choice.

There are 105 counties in Kansas. Kansas State leads in getting students out of those counties in 100 out of 105 counties. What does that tell you?

Russell: It depends on which counties those are. When you think of our average student, you think of someone from a small town or from western Kansas.

Jon: It stands to reason KU would do well in Johnson County. There have been times we have been 102 or 103 out of 105 counties.

Russell: Where do you see the next big expansion on campus? What program can you see exploding in growth and importance? Jon: Biotechnology seems to be more and more important. We do have a building on the drawing boards that would be a biotechnology building. It ould link together Durland and Another building we should have sometime in the next five to 10 years is a new classroom building. That ould be strictly a generic classroomoffice building. That could go almost anywhere. We also need a new park-

The parking garage has not gone away. It's on the back burner only because we're waiting for the state to fund the city of Manhattan's widening of Anderson Avenue.

Russell: How do you stay involved within your administration without micromanaging everything?

Jon: If you try to micromanage everything, the wille operation becomes paralyzed. We've had people here in the past who have tried. My theory on management is you have to surround yourself with excellent people and then delegate to them the responsibility and the authority to act.

We have three basic functional areas: an academic vice president, an administrative-financial vice president and the institutional affairs vice president. ... We only spend about 11.4 cents out of every dollar here at Kansas State on the 'administrative overlap.' That means about 89 cents out of every dollar goes into the academic program. If you take our peer universities, it's up around 17 cents. We're the lowest in the state and one of the four or five lowest in the country.

You want to look for people who are smarter than you are. You have to have a certain amount of confidence There are people who don't want to hire people 'smarter' than they are. This frees me up to be a trouble-

Russell: You've been at K-State for about 10 years now. When you look back, what makes you smile the biggest?

Jon: There would be two things since 1986. First would be tu whole University around. For five to six years before that, the University was going south. Enrollment had dropped to 15,000 from 19,000. In turning things around, they wanted things like a brand-new administrative team, to recruit the best and the brightest, and to get the enrollments up. Russell: What's your second?

Jon: Turning the football team around. No one thought it could be

Russell: If you could have one 'get-out-of-jail-free card' for the past 10 years, would you use it?

Jon: I would say the biggest disappointment has been not getting consistently good faculty salary increases.

Russell: What about the time you tried to reorganize the College of Human Ecology and the College of Architecture?

Jon: That would be my second. Russell: How do you find time for your wife, your sons, and Tuffy and Popcorn (his two white poodles)?

Jon: You have to find time to relax, read, and enjoy your family. Skip went to school here and even took a class I taught a few years ago. Andy went to Iowa State and is now working on his MBA here.

Russell: Have you ever brought Tuffy and Popcorn up to Anderson

Jon: Oh, yeah.

Russell: Have they ever ... Jon: No, they haven't. They have not pottied up here. I would say to have a dog, or in our case two, is very rewarding because dogs have an unconditional love. They're always happy to see you. They're also a good conversational piece. They are very

Russell: Is there any truth to the rumor Facilities was catching squirrels and letting them loose in the

Jon: Yes, they have relocated some of the squirrels, and they do it in a very humane way. We probably had 50 squirrels down there. Even the Facilities people thought they were a

Russell: Where would you like to be in another 10 years? Jon: Maybe right here in

Russell: Do you now consider yourself a Kansan and not a displaced Minnesotan? Jon: I'm very strongly getting there. I'd say, yes, in many ways I've become a Kansan. We love it here.

Five freshmen look back at the their first semester at K-State and tell of their

IMPRESSIONS

Family tree full of Jayhawks did not stop engineering freshman

Everyone in Jim Barnard's family attended the University of Kansas, until now. Barnard, freshman in engineering, picked K-State over rival and family favorite KU to pursue a degree in engineering. After switching to secondary education, however, he said he decided to

"I like the campus. It's a really friendly and open atmosphere," he said. "Everyone has been really helpful when I've had problems."

Barnard lived in Marlatt Hall last semester. He said that was not his first choice, but he grew to "I would have rather lived in one of the co-ed dorms, but it was not bad," he said. Barnard said he plans to teach math to high school students someday so it's not surprising his favorite class last semester was calculus.

Aside from taking advantage of his educational opportunities, he said he is also pursuing some other activities.

As a member of K-State Crew, he said he has found another reason to enjoy K-State. "I really like the camaraderic associated with being a part of the team, and it has been a good way to make friends," he said. Barnard came to Manhattan from Kansas City, Kan. He said he knew the transition from high school to college can be tough for many students especially when they are as far from home as he is, but his outlook is positive. "There is definitely a lot more responsibility, but I like the freedom of not having someone to tell you what to do," he said.

When things got too hectic, Barnard said he found a way to cope with that as well.

..............

"I like to ride my bike to Tuttle to help relax,"

Commuting does not begin to slow down business freshman

..........

The commute from Randolph to Manhattan is about 40 minutes, but that has not slowed Jeremy Hageman, freshman in management information,

"I hate the commute," he said. But he apparently does not hate it enough to keep him away from

After only one semester at K-State, Hageman said he has found activities to keep him in the Manhattan area, such as the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex. "It's a nice, new facility," he said.

Aside from spending his free time in the Rec in the K-State Karate Club.

"I really enjoy the karate club a lot," he said. Hageman said he hopes to be a computer network adviser some day. His skills in this field are already evident in the Office of Student Financial Assistance where he works.

"Jeremy is the best computer guy we have," Chuck Allen, a co-worker, said.

"Whenever we have a problem, we just ask Jeremy, and he can usually fix it by hitting a couple of keys," Allen said. The adjustment from high school to college may have been a bit easier for Hageman because his older sister, Leona, is a sophomore here. "She has been a big help," he said. Hageman said he has had a good impression of Manhattan, and he even comes in on the weekends Complex, Hageman took the time to get involved sometimes to see a movie or hang out.

Arts and sciences freshman finds diverse, relaxed campus "I like it because it looks like a castle," she said.

Nikolas Glazier, freshman in arts and sciences. moved from Salina to Manhattan in 1993. She has worked at KSDB-FM 91.9 off and on, and had

But as 1996 begins, she works for the Office of Student Financial Assistance and enters her second semester as a student at K-State.

'She hasn't worked here very long, but she is a fast learner, and she is courteous to the students," Janel Ewing, Glazier's supervisor, said. Glazier said her favorite class was U.S. History

STORY BY BILL BONTEMPO

Since 1877, which applys to her major, history. Being a student has allowed her to experience another part of Manhattan, and while she lives off campus, she said she has come to appreciate

"I also like Thompson Hall because you can look at the fossils in the hallway," she said. This may seem ironic, though. She also said her leastfavorite class was archaeology.

Being a student has given Glazier an opportunity to be involved in Students for Peace and Justice, and a chance to gain some perspective about the students from somewhere other than her favorite hangout, Auntie Mae's Parlor.

"I like K-State because we do the best we can even though we don't get the same support and funding as other Kansas schools," she said.

If that doesn't sound like enough reason to like K-State, she said her favorite thing about K-State is that it is a relaxed campus.

Small-town freshman makes the adjustment to Manhattan life

When one comes from a crowded city, the noise and congestion caused by living in a residence hall is probably easy to handle. When one comes from Louisburg, the noise and congestion at Ford Hall can be a big transition.

"It was okay, I guess," Sarah Pursell, freshman in pre-health professions, said of her Ford Hall

"But I wouldn't do it again. I come from the farm, and I don't like having neighbors," she said. Pursell came to K-State as a pre-veterinary medicine major, so it is no surprise that her favorite class was Principles of Animal Science.

Pursell got involved in activities at K-State right away and joined the Pre-vet Club and Block & Bridle. Her involvement in Block & Bridle is also no surprise as she works at Chestnut Lanes Farms and shows her horse professionally. "I have a horse at Prairie Downs, which I ride a lot," she said.

With all of these activities, you would think she has no time left, but she manages to work at the K-State Union Bookstore as well.

She said she enjoyed her first semester and her favorite place in Manhattan is TW Longhorn's. Pursell said school is harder than she thought it would be. "I definitely have some room for improvement,"

While Pursell may not like the idea of having neighbors, do not get the idea that she does not like

The people here are a lot more friendly than other schools I've visited," she said.

..............

Campus has what the town lacks for computer science freshman

Some students come to K-State from small towns and find Manhattan has a lot to offer. For Joanna Gonzales, freshman in computer science, the opposite is true. Gonzales, from Wichita, she said she does not like Manhattan. 'Manhattan is boring," she said. "Some weekends I like to go to Salina or Junction City, where there's more going on," she said. Do not get the wrong idea about Gonzales. She liked living in Ford Hall last semester. "It's a nice environment," she said.

And while Manhattan does not have all she would like, the campus does. Gonzales said environment is important for her because she came to K-State to study. She decided not to take a job last semester and chose to concentrate on school instead. That decision has paid off, as she earned a 3.2

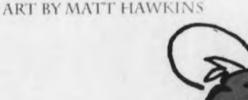

way to begin her path toward an engineering degree. Math skills will be important for her if she plans to continue her pursuit of engineering, so it's a good thing her favorite class was algebra.

grade point average last semester. This is a good

Other campus activities made Gonzales' first semester less boring. She's a member of the Black Student Union and the Society of Women Engineers.

Sports

■ Results from K-State women's basketball action against Arkansas

■ Contributing columnist Shane McCormick gives his insight on Super Bowl XXX.

▶ BIG 8 ROUNDUP

Big 8 race still up in air

John Berggren

It happens every year. Once upon entering Big 8 play, anybody is susceptible to an upset.

The Big 8 is simply beating itself up. After 13 conference games, the home teams have only a 7-6 advantage over their visiting foes. No team has really emerged as being assured the top spot. Nebraska basketball coach Danny Nee said it will take time to see who is the best team in the conference.

"It's a little too early to tell. Really anybody is still in the race. I think when it all shapes out we'll clearly see who the premiere team is in the conference," Nee said.

The biggest story to come out of the Big 8 thus far this season is the resignation of Colorado coach Joe Harrington. Harrington, 72-75 after six seasons at Colorado, resigned last week after two home losses to K-State and Southern Utah. Harrington was replaced by assistant coach Ricardo Patton until the end of the season.

Colorado is coming off another tough home loss (82-80) against Kansas. Colorado led most of the game with Patton seeing his first action as Buffaloes' coach. The game was the Buffalo's first sellout since Jan. 23, 1993, against KU.

"It was a tough loss in a game in which we played with a lot of emotion," Patton said. "If we come out and play with the same intensity that we did against Kansas, I think we will win few games this year."

Oklahoma State, 10-5, is coming off of a loss to Nebraska. This week the Cowboys will try to earn their first conference win at K-State.

Kansas took its league-leading, 3-0 record into last night's match-up with Oklahoma. The Jayhawks owned the league's longest winning streak with seven (14-1 overall) and also lead the league in scoring margin and win-loss percentage.

Oklahoma carried a two game losing streak into last night's game. Minor is leading the Sooners and the Big 8 in scoring with 21.1 points per game, while forward Ernie Abercrombie is leading the Big 8 in rebounds.

Coach Kelvin Sampson said Abercrombie gets

"Ernie is overshadowed by Minor," Sampson said. "He's been our most consistent player from day one." Nebraska is on a three-game winning streak after wins against Missouri-KC, Oklahoma State and Colorado. Nebraska is 2-1 in the Big 8 and 14-4 overall. This week the Cornhuskers will be host to Missouri and Kansas.

Nee said these two games could make or break his team's season.

"This is a very important stretch. We need to win both of these home games if we want to be good," Nee said. "Last year we went 2-5 at home, and we can't afford to do that again this year."

Sports Digest -

▶ KSU Self-study completed

K-State submitted the final report of its 1995 Certification Self-Study to the NCAA. As part of the report process, K-State accepted the Title IX Compliance Plan. The plan works in effort to bring equality to the amount spent on men's and women's sports.

The self-study included a detailed funding plan for the Title IX Compliance. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics will selffund close to $500,000 toward this goal over the next five years. An additional $500,000 will be needed to implement the plan.

"In likelihood, the stable funding for the remaining $500,000 will need to come from either state funds or student fees," said Bob Krause, chair of the NCAA Self-Study Steering Committee.

John Berggren

Cats travel to Jonesboro

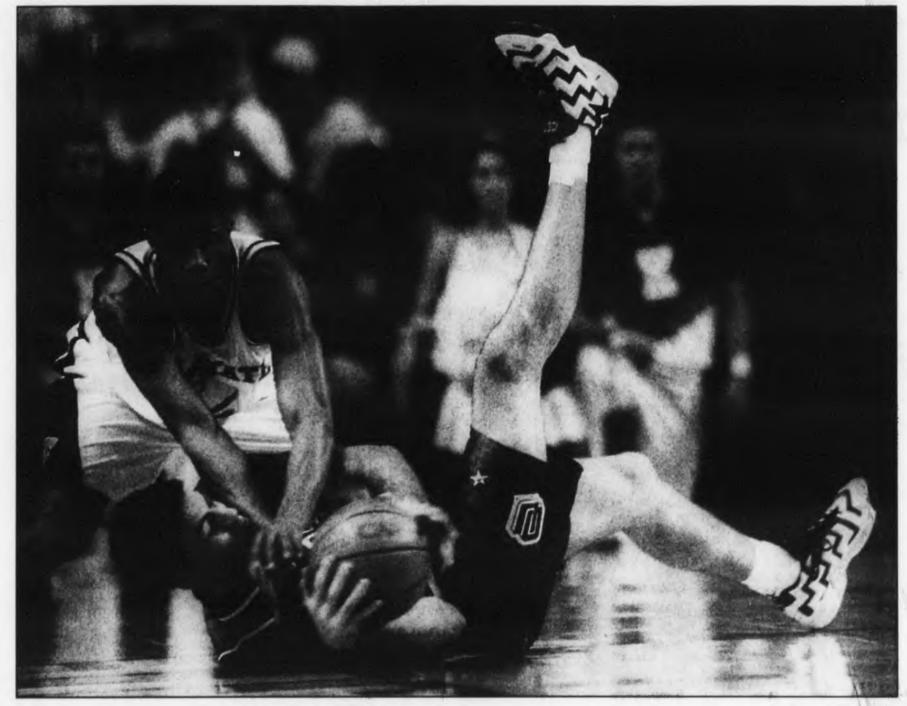

After picking up two big wins during the weekend, K-State (11-8) ventures out of conference tonight to take on the Lady Indians of Arkansas State in Jonesboro.

The Wildcats have defeated the Lady Indians (9-6) once already this season, taking a 63-58 Dec. 31 decision in Bramlage Coliseum.

"I hope we can play a little better in the post," Coach Brian Agler said. "They were pretty physical last time, but I hope we can better anticipate what they're going to do."

The Cats are led by sophomore wing Brit Jacobson (14.8 ppg) and junior post Andria Jones (14 ppg).

Dan Lewerenz

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

K-State sophomore forward Mark Young struggles for the ball with Oklahoma senior forward Ryan Minor Jan. 9 at Bramlage Coliseum.

12-4 Cats get 2 AP Top 25 votes

K-State got two votes in the newest AP men's basketball poll, on the strength of a 3-1 conference record. While K-State came up near the end of the voting results, No. 1 remained unchanged, as the only unbeat-

Massachusetts, the only unbeaten Division I team, remained No. 1 in the college basketball poll Monday, but the Minutemen's grip on the top spot slipped a bit.

Last week, Massachusetts (16-0) was picked first on all but two of the ballots from a nationwide media panel. This week, with two more voters participating, the Minutemen received 57 of 66 first-place votes and 1,641 points, 52 more than Kentucky, which was No. 1 on eight ballots. The Wildcats (15-1), who didn't have a first-place vote last week, averaged 126 points in wins against LSU and Texas Christian. What makes the change in first-place votes hard to understand is that Massachusetts beat Rhode Island and Duquesne without junior center Marcus Camby, who has missed three games since collapsing before a game on Jan. 14. He is expected to return Tuesday night against Pittsburgh.

Besides Massachusetts and Kentucky, only No. 7 Villanova and No. 14 Penn State kept their spots from the previous poll after a week in which 13 ranked teams lost a total of 14 games.

Kansas and Connecticut, which received the other first-place vote, each moved up one spot to third and fourth, while Cincinnati, which lost its first game of the season on Sunday to Alabama-Birmingham, dropped two spots to fifth.

Georgetown moved up two spots to sixth, and was followed in the Top Ten by Villanova, Virginia Tech, Wake Forest and Utah.

In addition to Cincinnati, Wake Forest, Villanova, Memphis and North Carolina lost last week as Top 10

North Carolina dropped one spot to lead the Second 10, and was followed by Memphis, Arizona, Penn State, UCLA, Michigan, Syracuse, Clemson, Purdue and Massachusetts stays No. 1

The top 25 teams in The Associated Press' points based on 25 points for a first-place in parentheses, records through Jan. 21, total and previous ranking:

college basketball poll, with first-place votes vote through one point for a 25th-place vote,

Team R	ecord	Pts	PR	13. Arizona	13-3	840	18
1. Massachusetts (57	16-0	1,641	1	14. Penn St.	13-1	710	14
2. Kentucky (8)	15-1	1.589	2	15. UCLA	12-4	676	13
3. Kansas	14-1	1,389	4	16. Michigan	14-4	664	20
			4	17. Syracuse	13-4	570	12
4. Connecticut (1)	16-1	1,465	5	18. Clemson	12-2	494	19
Cincinnati	12-1	1,308	3	19. Purdue	14-3	436	17
Georgetown	16-2	1,303	8	20. Boston College	12-3	366	24
7. Villanova	14-3	1,238	7	21. Auburn	15-3	344	23
8. Virginia Tech	11-1	1,163	11	22. Iowa	14-4	333	16
9. Wake Forest	12-2	1,128	6		0.000	2222
10. Utah	14-3	948	15	tie Texas Tech	14-1	333	25
11. North Carolina	13-4	879	10	24. Marquette	12-3	120	-
12. Memphis	12-3	858	9	25. California	10-4	74	-

K-State received two votes

Boston College.

The last five ranked teams were Auburn, Iowa, Texas

Tech, Marquette and California. Syracuse (13-4), which dropped from 12th to 17th, was the only ranked team to lose two games last week. The Orangemen dropped road games to West Virginia and Connecticut. Marquette (12-3), which beat Memphis on Saturday, and California (10-4), which has lost to only one unranked team this season, were the newcomers to the rankings replacing Mississippi State and Georgia.

California was ranked 25th in the preseason poll and returned to the poll for one week during the season. This is Marquette's first time in the Top 25 since 1993-

94 when the Golden Eagles were ranked for 10 weeks, including the final six of the season, one where they reached the round of 16 in the NCAA tournament.

"We have a very balanced team, and the hardest thing for us to is to get everybody working on all cylinders on the same day," Coach Mike Deane said Monday. "When that happens, we're going to have an explosion.'

Marquette joins Cincinnati and Memphis as ranked teams from first-year Conference USA. "There's so much balance in Conference USA that I think the league deserves to have four teams ranked," Deane said.

"I hope the NCAA tournament selection committee looks kindly on us at the end. '

Mississippi State and Georgia had more in common than their 11-4 records, the nickname Bulldogs, being from the Southeastern Conference and falling from the Both lost Saturday, then-No. 21 Mississippi State to Arkansas, then-No. 22 Georgia to Tennessee, and for both it was their third loss in the last four games.

I deeply regret that innocent people got hurt that morning. I also regret that innocent people have been wrongly accused in this case

NYLE WIREN

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 and he regretted the incident.

"Many other people came into the apartment after me. These people did not ride with me to the apartment," Wiren said. "Many of them were not even football play-

But Wiren said once the fighting broke out, Kavanagh grabbed Wiren and some of the other people and told them to get out. "I deeply regret that innocent people got hurt that morning. I also regret that innocent people have been wrongfully accused in this case," he said.

"What I did was a very poor decision. I made an emotional decision when I should have exercised more control. I accept responsibility for my actions.'

Harlan Graham, Riley County Court district judge, found Wiren guilty of criminal trespassing and criminal damage to property. Wiren received a sentence of six months in jail for each count to be served concurrently and was placed on probation for 12

As terms of his probation, Wiren must attend an anger management class, serve 25 hours of community service, pay restitution for damage to the door, and issue letters of apology to the tenants and the owner of the

In issuing his decision, Graham asked Wiren if he believed he was a role model in the community

Wiren said he considered himself a role model and accepted the status as part of being a member of a successful football pro-

"I would hope that by working with youth, Wiren can communicate to them that f you work hard and go to school, there are things to be accomplished," Graham said. "It is still possible to foul up, to exercise poor judgment and if you use / exercise poor judgment there will be consequences."

CROSSWORD by Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 37 Cattle 23 Asian 3 "Picnic" 1 Spring wind? playwright 4 Chaney genus 38 Infinitesination: abbr. 5 Gen. Sr. or Jr. 24 - Khan mai 41 Ms. West Amold of 25 In favor of 5 "Monowwii 42 Perch poly" buy 26 Greek 6 Some-45 Milanese 8 Stereo forerunner moolah what sonants 12 Domini 46 "Golconda" 7 Snap 27 Chaps 28 Swiss lead-in painter 8 Periodi-13 Sapporo 48 Augury canton 49 Candle 9 Elliptical 29 Larry's pal 14 Enthusiascount 10 Cleo's 34 He gives 50 Houston tic, plus waterway 15 Attractive? 11 Praisefu acronym a hoot 35 No stay-17 Not quite a Sagacious pieces hurricane "- Abner" 16 Incesat-home 53 Pull an 37 "Donut 18 Compass all-nighter 20 Kinsey dipped in point 19 Old hand DOWN concrete study 21 Mary 38 Behind 20 Advertis-1 Approached forgiven time by Jesus 39 La concern - even 22 Adipose 21 Brooks Boheme 40 Mars' or Blanc Solution time: 27 mins. counter-22 Shriner's chapeau 23 Aladdin's Christmas trio... 26 Most 42 ...and their 30 Eager, and beacon then some 31 Ump's call 43 Lead-in to bird or 32 Pianist Peter Squad 33 Excuses — de mer 35 23 Across Lettere.g. 36 Idolater's abbr. emotion

STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

JXSOGXB VZSV UVOXXV-ONOGXO SOVEUV BOSH KSGSFXB

CRYPTOQUIP

UNKX JSOFX QONHBU.
Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE RADICAL CARPEN-TERS LEFT THE UNION AND MIGHT FORM A SPLIN-TER GROUP.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: J equals L

▶ FOXTROT by Bill Amend I LIKE TO MAKE SURE I'VE GOT ALL THE SUPPLIES I'LL NEED AHEAD OF TIME, THAT WAY, I CAN AVOID A MAD DASH TO THE STORE ON HAVE YOU SEEN MAKING MY PRE-SUPER BOWL MY LUCKY ONE-GALLON ANTACID... PRETZELS ... BEER STEIN CHECKLIST. EAR PLUGS ... SUNDAY, I RECOMMEND THIS FOR ANYONE.

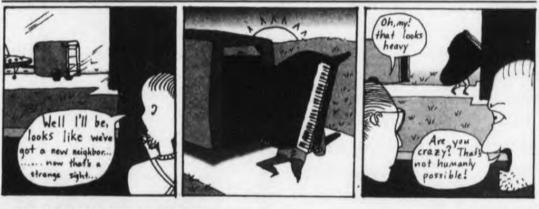

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilieh

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

► COMMENTARY

Music lovers have cause to mourn Berlin's passing

contributing writer

On the corner of Moro and 11th streets, a piece of business real estate lies vacant waiting for new tenants. A few months ago, it was home to the promise of more diversity in Aggieville.

Club Berlin, the business that inhabited the space between the walls of that now-vacant property, closed its doors for the last time when 1995 ended. The closing came as a surprise to no one, but the end of Berlin's lease on the property is cause for reflection.

Berlin was in the process of reinventing itself as the home of live alternative rock in Aggieville. Within a few months, the likes of Truck Stop Love, Sacrifice Isaac. Grither, Outhouse, Pamper the Madman, and others played shows to crowds that varied in size from several people to several dozen people.

Berlin didn't promote its shows heavily. Berlin didn't charge much to see them. Berlin didn't attract crowds large enough to sustain the costs of providing live music. Berlin went out of business.

People who frequent Aggieville have reason to mourn the loss of another alternative, if you'll pardon the expression, form of entertainment.

When Berlin seemed to be on the verge of something successful, other venues in Aggieville began bringing in live alternative rock acts. Aggieville patrons had something more to choose from other than country, '70s disco, really bad techno, and the bar's jukebox.

But the move to bring live rock to Aggieville once a week failed because almost no one showed up.

The push for Berlin to reinvent itself was prompted because of its reputation as a homosexual hangout. When Berlin first opened a few years ago, a conscious effort was made to create a place where bisexuals, lesbians and gays could feel comfortable being themselves. but that didn't exclude straight people.

The result was that straight people, shocked by the sight of reality, began avoiding the club. Some straights claimed to have suffered such traumatic experiences as being "hit on" by people of the same gender.

In Manhattan in the 1990s, this spelled financial disaster for the club, which relied on mature, open-minded straights for revenues to keep the doors of the club open. Not enough people were found.

Was Berlin's integrationist goal just a pipedream? Gays, lesbians, bisexuals and straights can and do coexist at some nightclubs. Kansas City, Mo.'s The Edge, a predominantly gay bar, is considered by people of all stripes to be the single best dance club in the city.

Berlin was not entirely the victim of regional consciousness (or the lack thereof) either. Nearby Junction City is home to a homosexual bar now.

After Berlin tried to change itself into a rock club. much of its most loval clientele continued to be bisexuals, gays and lesbians. They kept showing up. Straights. to whom the club was reinvented to appeal, didn't. Consequently, Berlin closed,

Who will lease the space next? Don't wager anything valuable that Berlin's successor will feature live music very prominently or that people of all sexual orientations will be very welcome. Live music fans, along with their circumstantial counterparts in the gay community. will keep on spending their money in Lawrence and Kansas City as they did before Berlin opened.

And Manhattan's cultural status quo, as parochial as it is, will remain unchanged.

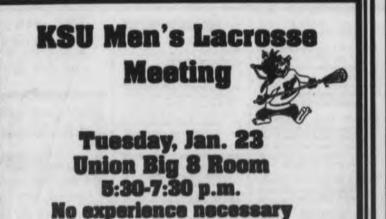

Call today for a FREE

Student Travels magazine

COLLECIAN 532-6560

For more info call Wes at 776-5702

Food Supplements Special Dietary Foods Body Building Foods Homeopathies

Natural Foods Appliances Books Herbs

Hansen Nutrition Center

3112 Anderson Ave. 537-4571

Mon.-Sat. 9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

Rec Services for Details...532-6980

Faculty gets $30,000 boost from grant

The College of Education received notification this week that it has been awarded a $30,000 federal grant to be used toward a comprehensive review of all professional educational practition-

The money from the grant awarded is part of a larger federal grant divided between K-State, the University of Kansas, Emporia State University, Pittsburg State University and Bethany

"Our goal is to examine all professional education programs within a consistent conceptional framework,"Janice Wissman, associate dean of education, said. "We will review and revise all the Kansas State University professional education pro-

The money will support practitioners like teachers who are employed in professional education.

For example, the grant allows teachers to spend two days assisting in the project by paying for substitutes. The grant will provide professional educators with incentives or small honorariums to support involvement in the re-

"It will also be used for faculty development sub-grants so that faculty members can encage in enhancing their skills and expertise in a given area that can benefit professional education programs," Wissman said.

Wissman said the grant would benefit students at K-State because the curriculum would provide a better understanding of what recent graduates do in the workplace.

"I think it will benefit the students directly. The faculty is enhancing their skills and expertise which will in turn enhance their teaching. It will make us more accountable to the profession," Wissman said.

National accreditation standards, proposed new state license standards, adopted University general policies, and emerging issues in teacher education all played an important part into the college's decision to use the money in this capacity, she said.

The combination of these factors inspired the college to take an in-depth look at professional education practitioners.

"Instead of looking at these factors in isolation, we are going to review them as a whole," Wissman said.

An organized program committee consisting of 17 members will oversee the project. Every educational graduate and undergraduate program is represented in the committee.

The committee also plans on using input from students and will report to the College of Education and academ-

Closed class won't hit print

Kara Rogers staff reporter

The Office of the Registrar announced it will no longer run a list of closed classes in the Collegian. Budget reductions were cited as one of the primary reasons for the decision.

"We are in the process of budget reductions, and this was one of the things that we decided to cut," Don Foster, University registrar, said.

Students can obtain a copy of the closed class list on the World Wide Web (http://www.ksu.edu/reg/s96/ closed.html) the campus information

In addition, the lists will continue to be placed in the Enrollment Center.

"I think it's going to take more time for enrollment now because you are going to have to keep going back to the enrollment center to find out whether or not you can get into your classes," Leticia Wasinger, sophomore in hotel and restaurant management,

Some students said they thought not running the closed class list in the Collegian would cause enrollment to take

Foster said running the list, especially in the summer, was not profitable and the lists were not always accurate. "When we put a class on the list, it is not always true that the class is closed because in the morning, someone can come in and drop the class - then it's open again," Foster said. "It's a dynamic thing," he said.

"It is always changing and we have found it is not effective to print

A LOT CAN BE SAID ABOUT A LITTLE BIT OF SPACE:

It works

20

N

lassifieds 532-6555

Beat the bitter cold

let CUDDLDUDS

keep you WARM

Bottom 19 w/coupon 14

DELICO

Mon. - Thurs. 10 - 7 p.m.

Fri. & Sat. 10-5 p.m.

exp. Saturday, Jan. 27

Aggieville

1224 Moro

Top $19 w/coupon $14

Baby Guinea Pigs & Mini Lop Rabbits 539-9494 1105 Waters

Hefred Angelo SPECIAL ORDER GOWNS Bridal Gowns Bridesmaids Mothers Dresses ◆ Formals ◆Tuxedos

2011 Ft. Riley Blvd., Manhattan 539-5200

Everyday

Two-fers

TOPPINGS each

COKES with ice

Pizza Shuttle

2 - PIZZAS with

NONE accepted)

Everyday

Three-fers

TOPPING each

COKES with ice

3 - PIZZAS with

(NO coupon needed, No Coupon" Specials

Motorcycle Supply

 Parts • Accessories • Apparel • Tires • Batteries • Helmets

913-776-6177

2615 Anderson Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

YBK High Level

For Self Defense and Personal

Over 18 Different Items Lunch Combination

$3.35 " up 15 different items served with soup, appetizer, fried rice, & fortune cookie

Open 7 Days a Week

HUNAM EXPRESS

1116 Moro

537-0886

Mon.-Sat.

11 a.m.-1 a.m.

Sun.

11 a.m.-Midnight

HOT BRAISED CHICKEN

This coupon good for

$3.90

Dine-in and carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

FREE DELIVERY (min. $9)

Expires 2-1-96

Development

For more information Call 537-0732

AUDITIONS!

Monday, Jan. 22 & Tuesday, Jan. 23 7 p.m. - in Nichols Theater Lobby for Spring Semester Productions

"THE COUNTRY WIFE"

(a restoration comedy) Nichols Theater Production

"WAITING FOR THE WORDS"

(an original play) Purple Masque Production

No preparation is necessary. Open to all KSU Students. Scripts available in 129 Nichols Hall.

Questions? Call 532-6875

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY BANDS!

GOT A DUSTY HODN?*

WE'VE GOT A BAND FOR YOU!

You've been meaning to get it out and practice, but it's not much fun playing the bassoon part to Holst's First Suite by yourself. It's missing a lot. And so are YOU! If you enjoyed a musical experience in high school, continue it NOW. Music is NOT for music majors alone.

Before you toss the idea aside, come to the Band Office in Room 226 in McCain Auditorium to sign up to learn more about the band programs on campus.

BE APART OF A GREAT BAND TRADITION!

MUS 116 17660 MWF 12:30-1:30 McCain 201

KSU BANDS PHONE - 532-5740

* If you have no horn at all, we will find one for you.

TROPICAL TAN

'When The Beach Is Out Of Reach' •10 WOLFF SYSTEM TANNING BEDS

STAND-UP BOOTH •WALK-INS WELCOME APPOINTMENTS AVAILABLE SPECIAL PACKAGE DEALS

OFFERED YEAR ROUND 537-0744

1814 CLAFLIN (2nd LEVEL-ABOVE CHARLIE'S)

Southern Sun NEW CANDLEWOOD LOCATION

Manhattan's Original Wolff Systems Center Great New West Side Location Open Year-Round With Convenient Hours Serving Both Professional & Student Clientele

Keep Your Tan Glowing With Us!

K-STATE UNION

HALL ROOM 103

MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays)

KEDZIE

OFFICE HOURS

LACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

776-8060

3232 KIMBALL (NEXT TO BOBBY T'S)

Exp. 1-31-96= Always Great Bulbs at the Best Prices!

Classifieds

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m. Wedding BOARD

Announcements COLLEGE CREDIT- EXperienced instruction, complete certification. Next scube class filling fast. Call now 539-DIVE. Aggle Dive Shop, 1124 Moro.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices

Open House Saturday and Sunday Jan. 27 & 28 Register for FREE Prizes!

Party Outlet 318 Poyntz • Manhattan, KS 66502 913-776-7547 New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Viss. 24

Lost and Found

Parties-n-More

Found ads cen be placed free for three

BRACELET FOUND. Call 539-9283, evenings to identify.

WORD OUT.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelorette parties and birthdays. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at ressonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

HOUSING/

status, disability, reli-gion, age, color, nation-al origin or encestry. Violations should be re-ported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hell, 537-0056.

Apts. Furnished AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537–1666, 537–2919.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted one-half block from campus. Available immediately. I'll pay s first months rent. 537-1359.

ROOMMATE NEEDED to share three-bedroom spartment. Close to campus, partially fur-nished. $175 a month bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished. Clean and quiet surroundings six or nine-month lease. No pets. 537-8389. THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N.

10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM FUR NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo-sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 637-0428.

AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available now. Very large, two-bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included. Call 776-3804.

ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537–2332.

APARTMENT FOR rent. Very near campus.
Clean and new. $385
plus utilities. Available
immediataly. immediately. (913)455-3433. Leave AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

> Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square April.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days.

hour free information (800)256-7515.

WANTED: 100 Students!
Lose 10- 30 plus
pounds. Next 90 days.
New metabolism breakthrough. Guaranteed.
Doctor recommended.
$35.50 MC/ Viss. 24
hour free information: hour free information: (800)229-7562.

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

REAL ESTATE

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military plus one-third utilities. Call 539-1063. STUDIO, ONE, two, three-

For Rent-

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

Collegian Classifieds

START NOW

- ▲ 2 bedroom apartments
- ▲ Great location Private
- bedroom ▲ Large bath &
- closets Dishwasher
- ▲ Laundry facility
- ▲ On site office ▲ 2 large pools

NOW LEASING UNE 8 AUGUST 776-1148

Open Houses Daily The Curtin Company

- AVAILABLE NOW. One bedroom. 820 Osage. $360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-lowed. Call now lowed. 776-3804.
- CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM, no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid, Available Jan. 1. 539-1975.
- CLEAN, ROOM, THREE-BEDremodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer. Gas and water split. Electricity separate. Trash paid. $450/ month 1110 Colorado,
- CRESTWOOD Two-bed-MENTS. room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425-$480. pets, $ 776-3345.
- FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January, 1611 Laramie, $600, Water trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.
- FOUR-BEDROOM TWO sun porch, formal din ing room, washer and dryer. 537-1940.
- HARDWOOD FLOORS arched doorways. Heat-ing paid and free laundry, two-bedroom Available now. $400 776-3143.
- HEATING PAID. Free laun dry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.
- LARGE, QUIET, one-bedroom apartment in a six-plex. Living room, dining area, kitchen, and bath, and a walk-in closet. Cats permitted Phone 537-7087
- LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.
- NEWLY REMODELED one bedroom. One-half block from campus. Dis-count on rent for 12-month leases. For de-tails, call (816)224-9796.
- ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse. Newly carpeted 537-9188 or 537-1550. ONE-BEDROOM APART
- MENT in basement nice, clean, quiet. $315 month plus utilities. 539-7244.
- ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.
- ONE-BEDROOM BASE-MENT, two blocks from campus $225. 537-1940.
- ONE-BEDROOM NISHED/ unfurnished. Available now. $300, 537-7138.
- ONE-BEDROOM NEAR City Park, 924 Fremont. $275. Water, trash paid. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804.
- ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.
- ONE-BEDROOM KSU campus and Ag-gieville. 1005 Blue-mont, $345. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.
- PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.
- ROYAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trasl paid. Hot tubs, dish washer, microwave laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.
- STUDIO AVAILABLE now, near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804.
- THREE-REDROOM APART MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500/ month, 539-5729.
- THREE-BEDROOM, BASE-MENT apartment avail able immediately, laun dry facilities accessible off-street parking, 15

- $399/ month. Call 537-3826, ask for John. TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January. 1026 Osage, $485. Water trash paid. No pets. Cal now 776-3804.
- TWO-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH PAID. $480. 776-8455.
- TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX o-beundom DUPLEX, four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Avail-able now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month. Water (913)279.5450 (913)379-5450.
- TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.
- TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.
- TWO-BEDROOM, 1212 Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.
- WILDCAT INN- one-bed room available now 411 N. 17th $380. Wa ter, trash paid. Laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.

For Rent-Houses

- AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY. Four-bedroom, clos 776-1340. close to campus
- FIVE-BEDROOM house, short term lease, $700. Available w. 537-7138.
- FOUR-BEDROOM WITH study. Close to campus, 1021 McCollum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets allowed.Call 776-3804.
- TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please, 539-1554.
- TWO-BEDROOM, bath, house available. Feb. 1; all appliances plus washer/ dryer in-cluded, storage $390/ month. Will pay half first months's rent. 2216 Blaker St. Call 539-4713 for informa-

Roommate Wanted

- A STEAL! Female room mate wanted to share four-bedroom, two bath house, close to campus. Lease through May $180/ month and one-fourth utilities. Wash/ dry, dishwasher. Central heat and air. Very nice! Call 587-0769.
- ROOMMATE needed to share house with female and male. Own room, washer. dryer. Non-smoker, no pets. Four blocks from campus. $150/ month campus. $150/ plus one-third utilities. 776-3119.
- FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted: $183/ month plus one-third utilities Furnished, next to cam-pus. Call 537-5107.
- FEMALE ROOMMATE Wanted. Two-bedroom apartment, five minutes off campus, very nice, convenient area. $212.50 per month. Can occupy im-mediately. Contact Shanna. (913)384–5065.
- FEMALE ROOMMATE(S) needed to share four-bedroom, two bath house, one block from campus, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, flexible rent and lease length. Available Jan. 1. Call 776-1652.
- MALE OR female room-mate wanted. Two-level, four-bedroom du-plex. $180 and one-fourth of utilities. Call
- MALE/ FEMALE nonsmoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus one-half bills. Frank 539-8786.
- FEMALE smoker for two-bed-room. Close to campus/ Aggieville. $190 plus part utilities. Call Brian 527,8324 part utiliti 537-6124.
- MALE/ FEMALE smoker, one-third bills, one-third rent, own room, close to campus, and Aggieville, 587–9606.
- NEED: MALE to complete three-bedroom fur-nished basement apart-ment, $200/ month plus one-seventh utilities. Lease ends May 31. Close to Aggieville. (913)632-5211 after
- NEWER HOME, master bedroom and three-fourth bath, big closet. All utilities paid. Avail-able immediately. $350/ monthly. 537–1439.
- NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apart-ment. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.
- NON-SMOKING FEMALES, farmhouse, barn for horse, cattle, dogs, 150 Acre pasture, $225, month or semester. Possible rent in ex-change for cattle chores, 776–1205.
- OWN ROOM for male roommate in three-bed-room apartment. $225 month and one-third

- utilities. No deposit, 587-0015.
- ROOMMATE TO share twobedroom apartment. One-half utilities. One block from campus. Call 539-4301.
- ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities, 587-9439. ROOMMATES OR subleas-
- ing until July 31, nice two-bedroom apart-ment. One block from campus. Rent negoti able 587-0542 leave TO SHARE three-bedroom
- apartment, south of campus, close to Ag-gieville, $225.Call 587-0494.
- TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur nished basement apart ment. Laundry fur-nished, for males, nonsmoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539–1554.
- WALK TO campus. Own room, laundry, storage. $187.50 plus one-fourth utilities through May 31. 776–5834.

Sublease

- FEMALE ROOMMATE needed to share wellkept, two-bedroom apartment plus one-half utilities. 814 Thur-ston. 537-2407. Call after 5p.m. or leave
- ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to cam-pus in house, please contact 565-0114. Joyce at
- TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease $480/ month. Water trash paid. Also has dishwasher, washer/ dryer. 776-7792.

Tutor

HOME PAGE DESIGN Will design your own home page on the in-ternet wsing your K-State computer ac-count. Call Frank, count. 539-2603.

Child Care CHILDREN'S PALACE, II openings. All ages. Lots of TLC. Fun, learning, environment. Fenced yard. A step in the right direction. Call Amy (913)494-2324.

- Services MONEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all students. Immediate qual-800)270-2744. Open
- PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

Nutritional

Weight Loss WANTED 100 students to lose 8- 100 pounds. New metabolism breakthrough. I lost 15 pounds in 3 weeks. R.N. assisted. Guaranteed re-sults. $35. (800)579-1634.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

- Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.
- The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urgs our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190, (913)232-0454.

- $35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-15 for detail:
- $40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.
- SEARN $7.50 AN
 HOURS That's right!
 You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Manhattan Biomedical Center. 1130 Gardenway 9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M- F, 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from
- ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-A57683.
- AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS, DANBEE FOR GIRLS, Western Massachusetts. Over 100 posi tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous Horseback experience required Top salaries, room and board, and travel al board, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27–28, 1996, 9a.m.– 4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)39.23752, Camp

Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

- ARE YOU ready for a fun filled summer? Have you ever experienced the satisfaction of hav ing made a difference in a child's life? Here's an opportunity to an-swer yes to both of these questions. Camp Birchwood and Gunflint Wilderness Camp, two small northern Minnesota children's camps, seek counselors for em-ployment beginning June 6. Experience in one of the following activity areas desirable, horseback riding, sail ing, tennis, swimming waterskiing, canoe trip ping, biking, fishing windsurfing, dance or sailing. For additional information and an ap-plication call (800)451-5270.
- ATTENTION ALL Students! Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible Let us help. For more information call (800)263-6495
- ext.F57684. ATTENTION STUD ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-
- CAMP COUNSELORS for of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canoeing, crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the outdoors. Lifeguard help-ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details, send inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wildwood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS 66040.
- CAMP TAKAJO for boys Outstanding Maine camp noted for mag-nificent lakefront setting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 po-sitions for heads and as-sistants in tennis, base-ball, basketball, soccer, lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, jour-nalism, photography, videography, wood working, ceramics working, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study radio and electronics dramatics, piano ac-companist, music in-strumentalist, band director, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewa-ter canceing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), sec-retarial. June 17-Auretarial. June 17-August 18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union. Walk-ins Welcome.
- CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary,. For in formation (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.
- FARM HELP Wanted- Ex perience required. Call 12:00 to 5:00 days (913)457-3788, nights (913)457-3713 or (913)457-3452.
- HARVEST HELP NEED-ED. We run three new 2188's Case Interna-tional combines, three new Chevy automatic new Chevy automatic twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board pro-vided. Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting. (913)689-4660.

- HELP WANTED: earn up to $500 per week assembling products at home. No experience. (504)646–1700 Dept. KS-
- JOBS IN the Great Out-doors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-

KAW VALLEY Greenhous-

- es needs quality peo-ple. Call 776-8585, Monday through Friday between 4 and 5p.m. KSU STUDENT help need ed. Work in green-house, tree packing and seedling nursery. Four hours work, blocks required from 8a.m. to noon and/ or 1- 5p.m
- Claflin Road. PART-TIME BABYSITTER

Start immediately, $4.25/ hour. Apply at Kansas State and Ex-tension Forestry 2610

- RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specif-ically designed for recent college graduates. Call or send resume. 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.
- REFERENCE LIBRARIAN. 25 hours/ week. Bachelors degree re-quired, previous library experience preferred Send resume, letter of application and references by Jan. 29, to Susan Moyer, Library Director, Dorothy Bramlage Public Li-brary. 230 W. 7th St, Junction City, KS 66441.
- REWARDING, EXCITING summer for sopho-more and older college students- camp coun-selor positions avail-able in the Colorado Rockies. Backpacking, Western riding, wate activities, natural sci ence and many outdoor programs. Write: San-born Western Camps, P.O. Box 167, Floriss-ant, CO 80816.
- STUDENT COMPUTER Consultant: 12 or more hours per week. Ex perience with both Mainframe and Micro-computers, along with employment GPA and employment potential of two years given pref-erence. Contact Ralph Wasmer in Room 9 Fairchild Hall by 5p.m. Monday, February 5, 1996 for application. NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE
- STUDENT COMPUTER Operator: 10- 30 hours per week. Must be willing to work third shift, school recesses and summer months. Operate large scale com-puter operating system and interact with commust be fully responsible and a dependable student. Applications can be picked up by Friday, January 26, 1996, in Farrell Library Room
- STUDENT DISPATCH/ Con trol Clerk: Work 15- 30 hours per week. Must be willing to work sum-mers and during school breaks. Job involves working with main-frame computer users and delivering printouts across campus Applicants with two o Applicants with two or more years employment potential will be given preference. Stop by Room 2 in Farrell Library for application better 4p.m. Friday, January 26, 1996.
- STUDENT NETWORK-ING ASSISTANT: The Department of Communications, Information and Educational Technology has an opening available for a bright, enthusias-tic student with a high level of integrity and good interpersonal and problem solving skills. Must have knowledge of PC's, MS-DOS and Windows. Will be re-sponsible for monitoring computer net-works, installing and supporting computer ftware and research ing new products.
 Knowledge of PC hardware, Novell Netware and TCP/ IP based software is a plus. IET offers flexible hours and competitive pay; 15- 25 hours/ week during school year and 15-40 hours during summer. Applications available in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, January 26, 1996.
- STUDENT OFFICE receprequires at least 16 requires at least 16 hours per week. Work study desired, but not required. Application review will begin Wednesday, January 24. Application available in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, 302 Durland Hell.
 - STUDENT PROGRAM-MER: The Department of Communications, Information & Educational Technology has an opening available for a self-motivated student with excellent programming skills. Exprogramming skills. Ex-pertise in C or C++ is re- quired. Knowledge of Windows, Visual Basic and other PC based and competitive pay; 15-20 hours/ week dur ing school year and 20-40 hours during summer. Applications avail-able in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, January 26, 1996.

- STUDENT WORKER to assist with Conference Registration. 10- 15 Hegistration. 10- 15 hours per week during the school year, full-time through the summer. Required skills include a friendly and outgoing personality, familiarity with KSU, computer data entry, attention to detail associ tention to detail, espe-cially filing and organ-izing work priorities. Apply at Conference Registration in Continuing Education, 141 College Court Building (1615 Anderson Ave.), 532-5569 by January
- STUDENT'S DREAM-Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your schedule, all natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539–7336.
- SUCCESSFUL UNDER GRADUATES are now being recruited by the Academic Assistance Center to serve as Enhanced University Experience Leaders during fall semester 1996 Specific duties include 1) leading a section of the Enhanced University Experience which in troduces freshmen to the academic skills and
 - techniques necessary to achieve academic success; 2) leading a study session for a social science, science, or mathematics class: 3) attending the class which corresponds to the study session; and attending and participating in weekly staff meetings. We are looking for applicants who feel confident in their ability to be a student role model, are committed to the concept of academic success for all students, desire to teach others how to learn, are able to relate to many types of peo-ple, and have a solid grade point average. A time commitment of 10-12 hours per week will be required during fall
 - 1996 at a salary of $750 for the semester. Stud-ents who are selected for the position must successfully complete a training class, EDCEP 311 Guidance for the Paraprofessional, for three hours of acade-mic credit. If you are in-terested in the position, graduates and graduate students without Assis-tantships. $5 per hour 3 contact the Academic Assistance Center in Holton 101 or call 532-6492 for further inhours per week. Contact Educational Sup-port Services, 201 Hol-ton, 532-5642. formation prior to January 29.
 - SUMMER JOBS- female counselors for child-ren's camp northeast Top salary, Room and board, laundry, travel allowance. Must have skill in one of the following activities: archery, arts and crafts (ceramics, stain-glass, jew-elry), athletic trainer, basketball, canoeing kayaking, dance (tap, pointe, jazz, modern jazz), drama, field hockey, golf, gymnastics (in-structors or qualified spotters), horseback ridng- hunt seat, lacrosse nature, photography videographer, piano ac Union rooms 203 and 205. No apcompanist, pioneering camp craft, ropes (in pointment necessary nerquest- ropes chal lenge course, 25 sta tions), sailing, soccer, softball, tennis, theater
 - technicians, track an field, volleyball W.S.I./Swim instructors, windsurfing. Also opportunities for kitchen cooks, maintenance, nurses, secretaries. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Student Linion Recome 2023 and Union Rooms 203 and 295. No appointment SUMMER ORIENTA-TION LEADER. New Student Services will

- be interviewing and hir-ing orientation leaders for the 1996 Summer Orientation/ Enrollment Program. Applications are available in 1 Anderson Hall (lower lev el). There will be an in-formational meeting on Thursday, January 25 at 8p.m. in Room 213, K-State Student Union. If there are any ques tions, please contact Gary Pierson at 532-6318. A completed application must be submitted by 5p.m. Monday, February 5,
- Tennis jobs Summer children's camp -northeast good ten-nis background, col-lege-level player who can teach childwho can teach child-ren to play tennis. Good salary, room, board and laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Dux-bury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union, Rooms 203 and 205. Student Union, Rooms 203 and 205. No appointment nec-
- DEPARTMENT Anatomy and Physi-ology invites applica-tions for a part-time Laboratory Instruc tor position in the Col-lege of Veterinary Med-icine. This is a nine-month, non-tenure accruing position with a one-year appointment. Continuation is dependent on availability of resources and teach-ing performance. Can-didates should have a strong interest in com-parative veterinary anatomy and be able to contribute to team-415 taught gross anatomy courses for first year ve-terinary students. Ap-pointment begins Au-gust 15, 1996. DVM required. Applications should include a resume and names of
- ment Head, Department of Anatomy and Physiology; VMS 228; Kansas State University; 1600 Denison Ave., Manhattan, KS Manhattan, KS 66506. KSU is an EOE/AAE. TUTORS FOR Intro to Computer Engineering, Symbolic Logic I, Fund of Computer Programming, Statistical Methods in Education. Must have A or B in course. Open to under

three references. Ap plications will be re-ceived until March 1, 1996 or until the posi-tion is filled. Send applications to: Dr. Jon D. Dunn, Depart-ment Head, Depart-

- Waterfront jobs- W.S.I.-Summer children's camp- Northeast-teach children to swim, coach swim team, dive, waterski (slalom, trick, barefoot, jumping), sail Good salary, room board, laundry, trav-el allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student
- WELL-ORGANIZED KSU student with top-notch communication skills needed to coordinate statewide information project focusing on elder abuse. Must be a self-starter and be able to work with faculty students and profes-sional in media and aging field. Genuine concern for older peo-ple a must. Some trave may be required. Work study eligibility pre-ferred. Send resume cover letter and three references to: Screening committee, NC-FH AAA, 437 Houston St., Manhattan, KS 66502. Deadline: January 25, 1996 EOE/AA.

OPEN MARKET

Wanted to Buy

WANT TO buy: Diamonds-Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

COLLEGE STUDENT with connections. Let me

- know what you're looking for Lorin 539-6631. COLOR PRINTER for sale 600x300 DPI. Mac or IBM compatible. Call 776-0055. Ask for Ni-
- GE WASHER/ dryer, like new, excellent condi-tion. $600. 537-4639.
- PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og
- den, KS. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Phone 537-5020, Og-den, KS.

Furniture to Buy/Sell

- NICE WOOD computer desk. Bought one year ago for $239. Asking $100. Call Ashley 587-1867 or 539-1103.
- QUEEN-SIZED WATERBED frame, base, bladder, heater. Headboard has etched-glass mirror and two lights. $150 or best offer, 532-2393.

Antiques

430

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet antiques, collectibles estate jewelry, furni ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport, Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

435

- 486DX4X100, 8 MB ram. CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14
- inch color monitor, $1495, 539-8453. 94 ACER 486 DX with CD ROM, lots of software, like new, $1700 or best offer, 539-2977 Miles.
- APPLE IIE computer and ImageWriter printer. Great condition. Wordprocessing and other software packages in cluded. $350. Cal 539-3168 after 6p.m.
- MACINTOSH LC III, 80 MB hard drive, 8 MB ram, color monitor, printer lots of software and games. Microsoft Word/ Excel, Sim City 2000, After Dark. great computer for student $1250.776-4908
- TWO TWO meg SIMMS (30 pin, eight bit, non-parity) for Mac LC series. $150 or best offer 532-2393.

Music Instruments

HARMONY: MUSICAL con cord; agreement; peace and friendship. The Music Co.- redefining the music "industry" at 523 S. 17th St. in the Midtown Plaza.

Pets and Supplies

- FERRET FOR sell. Best off-er. Must be good home. No small children! Comes with cage and supplies. Call Matt 565-0825.
- FISH SPECIAL. Betta, Red-tail shark, Pleco, Black- neons, Angels, fancy Guppies, Serpae tetra, etc. Pets-N-Stuff, 1105 Waters, 539-9494. Limited quantity

460

Stereo Equipment

RAW SPEAKERS four 10 inch eminence woofers, 12 2 1/2-inch tweeters. Still in the box- $50.

537-4512

- PORTATION
 - Automobiles
 - excellent condition with alarm. $7000 or best offer. 537-4639. 1995 GRAND AM, red, power windows, ABS, AM/FM cassette, auwarranty.

1990 BLACK Ford Tauras

tomatic, 537-3805.

Tour Packages

PANAMA CITY BEACH DAYTONA BEACH KEY WEST STEAMBOAT VAIL/BEAVER CREEK HILTON HEAD ISLAND

1-800-SUNCHASE

to the best is not the first of

- Spring Break SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Jamaica/ Cancun $399. Or
- ganize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710. SPRING BREAK'S "Hottest Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island, Belize (800)328-7513 http://www.studen-tadvtrav.com Free food and drink pack-age for early sign-

Classified Directory

300 EMPLOY-MENT/ CAREERS

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

ESTATE

- Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers
- are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

Manhattan hospitals step closer to merger

staff writer

Manhattan's two hospitals, Memorial Hospital and the Saint Mary Hospital, have signed a memorandum of understanding, which is the first stage of a process that unite the two hospitals.

The memorandum was approved by boards from both hospitals and by Via Christi Health System, which is a result of the merger between St. Joseph Medical Center and St. Francis Medical Center in Wichita.

The memorandum is an agreement between the hospitals and outlines the organizational structure and governance of the new entity, said J.H. Seitz, president and chief executive officer of the Saint Mary Hospital.

The memorandum signing does not Jegally bind either party.

"The signing of the memorandum is a significant landmark in that it is the first step toward hitting a binding agreement," said Michael Nunamaker, chief executive officer at Memorial

FKEE

McCain Tickets

Students, staff, and community members can usher at McCain Auditorium.

In return for your time, we'll give you

FREE TICKETS to the exciting events at the 25th McCain Performance Series.

Join us for 1 of 2 orientation meetings in the McCain Auditorium Lobby. Tuesday, January 23 at 4 and 5 p.m. If you are unable to attend, call 532-2358 for details.

ROSE MUFFLER HOUSE

"Our business is exhausting"

MUFFLERS & TAILPIPES DUAL SYSTEMS

AUTOS (American & Foreign) RVs LIGHT & HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS CUSTOM PIPE BENDING

COMPLETE BRAKE SERVICE FOR AMERICAN, FOREIGN, & LIGHT TRUCKS SHOCK ABSORBERS & STRUTS ROSE HOUSE OF TINT GLASS TINTING SERVICES AVAILABLE FOR YOUR AUTO, HOME OR BUSINESS PRAW TTE

FREE ESTIMATES

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd.

776-8955 or 1-800-439-8956

Take advantage of our courtesy van for rides to school and home while your vehicle is being serviced

Same Location

•Develop the "Yes, I can" attitude!

Korean Martial Arts & Fitness Center

•Black Belt Curriculum

Chance to meet new and interesting people

Fantastic work out

Tae Kwon Do • Hapkido • Judo

1111 Moro in Aggieville

"The memorandum of understanding is not a binding agreement. It is a statement of intent on the part of all the parties, both boards, the owners of the two facilities and the bishop's office in Salina, that joining the two organizations is something that we intend to do," Nunamaker said.

Hospitals merging is a nationwide trend brought about to combat cuts in Washington, from funding Nunamaker said.

"We know that financially we are going to be compromised in the future," Nunamaker said. "We just have to find ways to become more efficient. One of the most obvious ways is to bring the two hospitals together."

Seitz said the merger was due to foreseeable cutbacks in funding and reimbursement and the ability to provide more services.

"When you look at two health care facilities, as we have in Manhattan, we offer pretty much the same services. Really that is not a good steward of our resources. We just felt very strongly that we could accomplish more than we could separately," he said.

Both Seitz and Nunamaker said the desire to maintain more efficiency played a role in the decision to merge.

There will be a significant change in where different services are provided," Nunamaker said. "What we will end up with is a single new organization that provides services from two facilities. It doesn't make a lot of sense for services to be duplicated in both facilities, even though some by necessity will be duplicated."

The hospitals have signed the memorandum, and other concerns must be addressed.

"The first stage was getting through the difficult parts such as the local governance, the development and creation of a board of trustees how we would come into this process arm and arm, equal all the way through," Seitz said.

Part of the next phase of the affiliation will include preparing the bylaws and practical issues of combining the two organizations, Nunamaker

Neither hospital will be closed because of the merger, Seitz said.

"We plan on using both facilities. We have two really fine health care facilities in this community. We look at this affiliation as to not just continue as status quo, but to grow not only in Manhattan but also the region. We anticipate using both facilities to their optimum use," Seitz said.

Although there will be downsizing, job cutbacks should not be a problem, Nunamaker said.

Advertising

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

 Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service

 Same day results Call for appointment

in Anderson Village

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Not just a night spot

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for a FREE Cappucino, Cafe Latte, or Espresso

Parlor 616 N. 12TH . AGGIEVILLE

Office work study position

available in the Office of Services; 10-12 hrs./wk.,

must be able to work noon-1

p.m. lunch hour; secretarial

work. Application deadline is 4 p.m., Monday, Jan. 29.

Student Activities and

Student Senate Secretary Application due Friday, Jan. 26.

Student Senate Parliamentarian Application due Friday, Jan. 26.

Positions

Pick up a position description at: Office of Student Activities & Services K-State Student Union

Includes haircut, shampoo, & style

New Clients, New Stylists only

SAVE OUR ENVIRONMENT/SAVE YOUR CASH! Refill your Redken, KMS & Chas Ltd. Products & Save up to 35%

613 N. Manhattan

539-7621

"Where your image is our reputation!"

ПсСаіп TRAILER HITCHES - SALES & INSTALLATION PERFORMENCE SERIES

BALANCHINE

COLORADO BALLET Thursday, January 25, 8 p.m.

Experience exhilarating dance with a trio of works by the 20th century's greatest choreographer, George Balanchine: Serenade, Apollo and Rubies.

"The dancers are first class – attractive, stage-wise and technically on a level with America's top companies." – Dance Magazine.

Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Center.

Pub/Fac $20, $18, $14 Sr. Cit $18, $16, $12 Stu/Child $10, $9, $7

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office. Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the

Events in the McCain Performance Series are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information. *Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

All dates and artists subject to change without notice

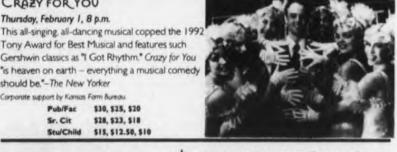

COLORADO BALLET* Thursday, January 25, 8 p.m. Experience exhilarating dance with a triple bill of works by the 20th century's greatest choreographer. George Balanchine: Serenade, Apollo and Rubies. "The dancers are first-class - attractive, stage-wise and technically on a level with America's top companies."

-Dance Magazine Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Cente Pub/Fac $20,$18,$14 Sr. Cit $18,$16,$12 Stu/Child $10,$9,$7

CRAZY FOR YOU Thursday, February 1, 8 p.m.

Tony Award for Best Musical and features such Gershwin classics as "I Got Rhythm." Crazy for You is heaven on earth - everything a musical comedy should be."-The New Yorker Corporate support by Kansas Farm Bureau Pub/Fac $30, $25, $20 Sr. Cit $28, $23, $18

Stu/Child $15, $12.50, $10

THE WORLD FAMOUS COUNT BASIE ORCHESTRA DIRECTED BY GROVER MITCHELL

Saturday, February 3, 8 p.m. Big Band sound delivered by 19 jazz pros. If their concert doesn't make you tap your feet, you should be shopping for a gravestone

Presented in conjunction with the KSU Jazz Festival Pub/Fac $20 Sr.Cit $18 Stu/Child $10

OSHUA REDMAN, SAXOPHONE* Thursday, February 8, 8 p.m.

If you thought Harvard produced only ivory tower types, come hear a sax player called the Michael Jordon of Jazz. But instead of flying through the air, Redman honks, squeals, growls and wails without losing his melodic sense. Marsalis brothers, move over. Joshua Redman's at the head of the class. Corporate support by Security National Bank

Pub/Fac $18 Sr. Cit. $16

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outle Events in the McCain Performance Series are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Mane Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

All dates and artists subject to change without notice

Call 776-4040 Today

VISA

Kansas State Historical Society

Exp. Date 00/00

Topeka

UP AGAINST THE ELEMENTS

People aren't the only ones vulnerable to winter's blistering cold. Proper car care insures safer travel

when up against the freezing elements.

• page 8

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

a century of service

ATHLETICS AND EQUALITY

Self-study proposes budget to meet Title IX standards

K-State's self-study on the Title IX final report was released on Monday, implementing a four-year budget to bring equality to the University's athletic program.

Title IX is an Education Amendment passed in 1972 which states, "No person in the United States, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assis-

K-State's compliance to Title IX has been in the works since summer 1994. More than 60 faculty and student members were appointed to the NCAA Self-Study Steering Committee in order to get the plans underway.

"I took the initiative to institute the plan after seeing many lawsuits turning up on campuses around the country," Athletic Director Max Urick

Also in response to Title IX, K-State created the position of assistant athletic director to which Cindy Fox was hired to bring changes.

"K-State had a real need for the position," Fox said. "Most large colleges have a senior women's administrator. These changes were long overdue, and the college has been real nice to work with."

The committee decided upon a budget, putting more money into women's basketball, women's volleyball and the changing of the club

• See TITLE IX Page 7

► KANSAS BOARD OF REGENTS INSTITUTIONS' BUDGET

Boosting education dollars

Recommendations from Graves translates to more money for K-State

Russell Fortmeyer

In the new Kansas Legislative session, where money is scarce and the chosen buzzwords of the year are speed limit, casinos and abortion, higher education could have very well taken a back seat. However, Gov. Bill Graves' recommendations have raised funding levels for the Kansas Board of Regents institutions' budgets, including K-State, while other budgets have been cut.

Graves' recommendations include a mid-year 2.5-percent salary increase for unclassified staff and student employees, implementation of the tuition-accountability proposal, and $163 million in capital improvement bonds.

The governor has articulated an excellent budget," President Jon Wefald said.

If you look at the context of what was available in the state budget and what was recommended, any fair person would have to say "thank you," Wefald said.

Gloria Timmer, director of the division of budget, said Graves has always been an education proponent.

This past fall, Graves exempted the regents institutions of a 1.5-percent funding cut while the rest of the state had to shoulder the loss, Timmer said.

"What new money was available this year is going into education," Timmer said.

K-State's budget next year will be larger-than this year's, said Tom Rawson, vice president of institutional advancement and ▶ Some of Gov. Bill Graves' budget recommendations for K-State:

A mid-year 2.5 percent salary increase for unclassified staff and student employees.

An endorsement of linear tuition schedule for fall 1996 for K-State and the University of Kansas. A self-funded program enhancement of $278,255 for instructional equipment on main campus and $180,450 for increased faculty staffing at the College of Veterinary Medicine. ■ $163 million in capital-improvement bonds.

finance at K-State.

"Relative to the state budget in general, we've done fairly well," Rawson said.

Rawson said Graves has recommended $500,000 to offset this year's shortfall of money, due to a cut by the Legislature,

• See BUDGET Page 12

Donald Bulen,

STATE OF THE UNION ADDRESS

Clinton to GOP: 'never — ever' shut gov't again

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - In a State of the Union address to a skeptical Republican Congress, President Clinton traced the themes of his upcoming reelection campaign Tuesday night and confronted the GOP on the budget, demanding it "never - ever" shut the government again. Democrats rose with Republicans sat in stony silence at Clinton's challenge. GOP lawmakers -

The era of big government is over.

But we cannot go back to the time when our citizens themselves.

were left to fend for

PRESIDENT BILL CLINTON

particularly the rebellious House freshmen - had been coached by party elders to be on good behavior and not boo Clinton, as some did last year. The speech, brief by Clinton standards, ran 61 minutes, far less than last year's record 81-minute

cheers,

marathon. Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole - frontrunner for the GOP presidential nomination - made the Republican response, outlining GOP differences with Clinton and assailing the president as "the chief obstacle to a balanced budget" and "the rear guard of the welfare state."

Dole said Clinton was "careening dangerously off course" in welfare, education, Medicare and taxes, and vowed, "We will challenge President Clinton again and again to walk the talk he talks so well." Clinton proposed several new initiatives, among them $1,000 college scholarships for the top-5 percent of graduates from every high school, and turning the FBI loose on youth gangs. The House chamber overflowed with Senate and House members, Clinton's Cabinet, the Supreme Court justices in their black robes and ambassadors from around the world. House Speaker Newt Gingrich, Clinton's yearlong nemesis, sat immediately behind the president, applauding politely on some occasions, and sitting in stern silence when the president criticized Congress.

And criticize he did. "I challenge all of you in this chamber," Clinton said, "never - ever" shut the government again. He said it was time to "finish the job" and pass a balanced budget plan that he could sign.

First lady Hillary Rodham Clinton, listening along her GOP Whitewater critics, was applauded as she entered with her 15-year-old daughter, Chelsea, making her first State of the Union appearance. The president introduced the beleagured Mrs. Clinton as a "wonderful wife, a magnificent mother and a great first lady," and Chelsea led a standing ovation of Democrats and Republicans alike.

"The era of big government is over," he said, twice, as if to capture a campaign slogan. "But we cannot go back to the time when our citizens were left to fend for themselves."

Clinton began his remarks expressing pride in U.S. peacekeepers in Bosnia.

Clinton said the state of the union was "strong" and cited economic and falling crime rates to make

With tempers rubbed raw by months of battle, Republicans accused Clinton of standing in the way of balancing the budget, cutting taxes, reforming

See CLINTON Page 10

Fort Riley (left), uses binoculars to spot wintering bald eagles Saturday at Milford Reservoir. The group of eagle watchers was traveling around and spotting wild bald eagles as part of the annual Eagle Days at Milford Reservoir.

EAGLE INFO

If you have any questions about eagles, contact

Army Corps of 539-8511, Milford

Nature Center at

Engineers at 238-5323.

Tuttle Creek

WINTER HOME

Eagles migrate to Kansas for temporary residence

There are many national guests residing at Tuttle Creek and Milford state parks.

Wild bald eagles, which are thought to have migrated from the northern regions of the United States, have found their way to area Kansas lakes for a temporary home.

There are an estimated 20 to 25 bald eagles that are thought to have resided at Tuttle Creek for the winter, said Steve Prockish, park ranger for the Army Corps of Engineers for Tuttle Creek. Some groups of eagles can be seen at Tuttle

Creek about one-fourth of a mile below the river dam, perched in large trees or on the ice eating fish that were caught in the freeze, Prockish said. He said if groups of eight or more are interested in a guided tour of where the eagles reside, members may call the Army Corps of Engineers at Tuttle Creek. People had a chance to view and celebrate the return of the wild bald eagles Saturday and Sunday at Milford Reservoir for its Sixth

Annual Eagle Days.

Activities planned included sessions about the eagle's natural history, the eagle in American Indian cultures and a close-up viewing of live captive eagles.

But, the highlight of the celebration for many was a bus ride to different locations of Milford Lake where some bald eagles resided in treetops and occasionally soared in the sky. "I saw something move over there," said 5-year-old Chelsea Bulen, Fort Riley. "I want to see. I want to see," she said as she tugged at her mother's sleeve as she was looking through binoculars. Chelsea Bulen said the best part of getting to see the bald eagles was when they fly over

Debbie Bulen, Chelsea's mother, said she took her children to Eagle Days last year and plans to continue to come each year. "It's a nice experience for them and educational," she said. "The kids love looking at Wild bald eagles normally begin coming to Milford Reservoir in November and stay until April, said Cynthia Dierks, park ranger of Milford Reservoir, who led the bus tour.

She said the eagles are traveling from the northern regions of the United States looking for open water and a similar habitat.

"They're mainly fish eaters," Dierks said. "If the lake was all frozen, they'd just keep moving south."

Eagles travel in the same groups and mate with the same partner for life unless for some reason an eagle's mate dies, she said.

Eagle Days is a good way for people to learn about the importance of preserving the environment and appreciating our national bird, Dierks said.

• See EAGLES Page 9

EAGLE FACTS

Size 6-1/2- to 7-feet wingspan, 3- to 3-1/2-feet tall; weight, 8 to 15 pounds.

Foods Fish comprise the bulk of the Bald Eagle's

Longevity Eagles have lived 50 years in captivity. Life expectancy in the wild may be 30 years.

story by Cori Cornelison, city & government editor / photos by Steve Hebert Eyesight Six to 10 times better than a human.

Speed 20 to 60 miles per hour in normal flight, more than 100 miles per hour while diving.

A golden eagle was on display Saturday as part of the Sixth Annual Eagle Days at Milford Nature

In the news

► PARTIES ARGUE OVER BUDGET

WASHINGTON (AP) Congress returns to action this week with President Clinton and Republicans bickering over who caused the breakdown of balanced budget talks.

GOP leaders issued new threats they won't raise the debt ceiling without movement toward a budget deal.

Efforts by Republicans to downsize government "will have to be attached to the debt ceiling increase or it won't go through," House Majority Leader Dick Armey, R-Texas, said Sunday. Armey's comments on NBC's "Meet the Press" drew an immediate response from White House Chief of Staff Leon Panetta, who said Republicans were courting disaster by pushing the federal government toward its first default

That could happen on Feb. 15 when interest payments push spending past the debt ceiling, and Panetta urged GOP leaders to "not play games with the full faith and credit of this coun-

▶ CORPSES AWAIT DISCOVERY

GLOGOVA, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) -When spring thaws this frozen field, digging will begin in hopes of reaping a terrible harvest: the bodies of scores of Muslims allegedly massacred by Bosnian Serb militiamen in July

"We are on a field which we believe is a mass grave." John Shattuck, the assistant secretary of state for human rights, said

Sunday as he stood amid snowy hills and gutted

Shattuck, who spent the day touring parts of eastern Bosnia that Bosnian Serb authorities had previously barred from war crimes investigators, said he would pass on to the Yugoslav war crimes tribunal new evidence of the massacre of up to 7,000

That concern from middle-class voters is a reason why GOP presidential front-runner Bob

many other Republicans are cool to the flat tax being pushed by candi-

On Sunday, presiden-

date Steve Forbes.

tial candidate Lamar

Alexander warned that embracing the flat tax could kill the party's chances for a victory over President Clinton

this fall.

Dole of Kansas and

DESIRE FOR FLAT TAX WITHERS

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) - At a recent gathering, southern California Republicans talked excitedly about the idea of a flat income tax - until the conversation shifted to eliminating the mortgage interest deduction.

"Everyone immediately started thinking about their own situation and wondering, 'How would I get by without that?" Mike Schroeder, state party vice chairman, said.

houses

▶ ELECTRONIC FOOTBALL RETURNS

▶ ORPHANAGES AREN'T SO BAD

ages ruin kids - is off

McKenzie, an economist

California at Irvine. "They were far more successful up in an orphanage himself, surveyed 600 alumfound more than 24 per-degrees, compared to 22 percent of Americans.

The orphans had an unemployment rate of 1 percent, compared to a national figure of around

6 percent. And they had a median income 20 percent higher than people in the general population.

ni of three homes. He cent had college

McKenzie, who grew base," said Richard at the University of than people believe."

NEW YORK (AP) -

Gingrich who remembers

It's not only Newt

orphanages like the movie "Boys Town." A survey of people who grew up in them found most had happy memo-haven't been so bad better educated than same race and age.

other Americans of the

They were more likely to be employed and to vote, and more than 80 percent rated their orphan-

"The conventional wisdom - that orphanage experience "very favorable."

either.

ries, and their lives since

They were overall

CHICAGO (AP) -You could almost hear a roar from the cardboard stadium as the metal field began its vibrations and the plastic players began buzzing for greatness in the Super Bowl of electric football.

Electric football, an American classic which saw its popularity wane with the advent of video games, is making a such a comeback that it has even inspired its own convention and Super Sunday. Where else could you see the Atlanta Falcons beat the Houston Oilers for the championship?

"The video games think for you. With electric football, you have to think for yourself, "said Chuck Jones, 33, who received his first game for Christmas when he was 5 and now customizes his players with paint down to the logos on their shoes.

BROTHERS CAUGHT AT PRISON

LEAVENWORTH. (AP) - Two brothers from Texas wanted on federal drug charges pushed their luck a little too far.

Daniel Moreno, 32, and his brother Roel, 31, visited their father at the United States Penitentiary and were arrested after they left the prison, U.S. Marshal Rand Rock said.

A multi-count indictment had been filed against the brothers on Dec. 19 in McAllen. Texas, on charges of conspiracy to possess with the intent to distribute more than 60,000 pounds of marijuana. Rock said.

A third man who traveled with the Morenos was arrested at a Leavenworth hotel

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County police departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list wheellocks. calls for escorts or minor traffic violations

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

MONDAY, JANUARY 22

At 11:05 a.m., Kevin Hauck, 1440 East Lane, reported the theft of a subwoofer from his car. Loss was $275.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 23 At 9 p.m., Heath Brady, 1200 Centennial Drive, reported the theft of a Kenwood stereo from his car

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

MONDAY, JANUARY 22

At 9:25 a.m., Robert Elwell, 613 Riley Lane No.7, was arrested on a warrant for misdated checks. Bond

At 10:17 a.m., Greg Harris reported the theft of $133 from HB Stereo, 130 E. Poyntz Ave. At 10:49, James Armstrong, 12595

Kansas Ave., Riley, was arrested on a warrant for misdated checks. Bond At 12:17 p.m., Gerald Vicens was arrested on a warrant for criminal damage to property and disorderly

TUESDAY, JANUARY 23

At 1:11 a.m., Brad Kiefer, 2465 Hobbs Drive, was arrested for DUI, attempting to flee and elude, and

At 2:25 p.m., Candida Smith, Moore 837, was arrested on a warwas $500. At 2:57 p.m., Christian Thompson on a warrant for misde checks and failure to appear At 2:57 p.m., Jennifer McGinnis, Ford 603, was arrested on a warrant

516 N. 14th Ave. No. 9, was arrested for unlawful use of a financial card. At 7:28 p.m., David Black, 1204 Yuma St. No. 6, was arrested on a warrant for failure to appear. Bond driving on a revoked driver's license. Bond was $1,000.

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103. Manhattan, Kan., 86506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer.

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan,

POSTMASTER Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk. Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan 66506-7167

© Kansas State Collegian, 1995

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Career and Employment Services will conduct a "Returning to Co-op Seminar" at 5:30 today in Union 213.

Kansas Newman College Occupational Therapy Program will have an Open House Friday. Please call 1-800-736-7585 to register and for further informa available for women (pregnant Applications for May 1996 and breast feeding), infants and undergraduate graduation ar children up to 5 years. due in Deans' offices by Feb. 16. Swimming 1 and Fitness Department at 776-4779 for an Swimming classes at UFM are available for one hour of K-State

A memorial support group for credit. Call UFM at 539-8763. friends of Jennifer Hirschfield Students who took DAS 115, will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday at Orientation to Health Careers, in

BULLETINS

The Governmental Relations Committee will meet Jan. 29 to finish discussions on the legislative plan in Topeka.

The agenda includes finishing talk about issues, getting input from students, talking about dates to travel to Topeka and preparing the legislative lobby

The Community Service Program Tutoring Orientation Meeting will meet at 5 p.m. Thursday in Union 204. Chi Alpha Christian tonight in Throckmorton 1014. KSU Student Fellowship will neet at 9 p.m. every Sunday at 1326 Fremont St. The group will the fall 1995 should pick up

Speaker Notes in Elsenhower

A new Student Services

tion education has openings

Thursday in Union 213.

Summer orientation leader information meeting will be at 8 p.m.

WIC healthy foods and nutri-

Call the Riley County Health

Blue Key Senior Leadership Honorary is currently acception applications for the 1996-97 school year. Applications are available in the Dean of Studen Life and Student Governing Association offices.

meet to discuss "Forum or

The Food Science Club will meet at 5:30 p.m. Thursday in

We take news tips! 532-6556

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today

Partly sunny and breezy by afternoon. Southerly wind from 15 to 25 mph. High from 35-40. Low in the mid 20's.

Thursday

Flurries or freezing drizzle possible. High from 25-30.

Omaha 11/7

in the north and mostly cloudy. Low in the mid teens in the northeast to near 30 in the southeast.

Kansas

City

22/14

St. Louis .

Denver
 34/5

Yesterday's highs and lows

MANHATTAN 25/15 29/12 20/15 29/15 Wichita Coffeyvil Garden City 30/16 • 30/23

Tulsa

STATE OUTLOOK

Warmer and partly sunny with a high from 30-40 in the east and near 50 in the southwest. In the evening, a chance for light snow

ON JANUARY 26TH

THE SCREAMING BEGINS.

AT THEATERS JANUARY 26TH

Rustys Welcome Back Jimmy Buffett Nite $1.25 Coronas • $1.50 Margaritas • $1 Wells E Neon Light T-shirts Next Tuesday & Wednesday. . Live DJ Don't Miss Submytion & More!! No Cover. Never had it.

► CAMPUS

King Week unites religions

L.L. Livengood

staff reporter

Three world religions were represented at an inter-faith discussion Tuesday night as part of Martin Luther King Jr. Week.

Students from the Muslim, Jewish and Christian communities on campus spoke about racism, intolerance and discrimination keeping the theme for the week, "Passing the Torch, Igniting a New Generation.

The event, titled "Interfaith Discuss Students Dialogue: Discrimination on Campus," was sponsored by the University Committee on Religion.

"Since it's discrimination on campus, we wanted to have students answer questions," said Carrie Clark, chairman of the committee and junior in secondary education. "The biggest thing is that a lot of students don't realize how other students feel when they aren't the same as everyone else and they have different religious backgrounds."

The three students who spoke acknowledged they had been lucky and had not encountered many strong acts of discrimination against them-

But they did discuss minor instances of discrimination against their religious backgrounds.

"Muslims want fairness and accuracy in reporting and treatment," Nusheen Ameenuddin, sophomore in biology, said.

Violence is often thought to be a central part of the Muslim religion, and it is not.

This results in acts of violence being attributed to not just terrorists, but Muslim terrorists, Ameenuddin

Debbie Perlman, senior in business management, said she considered a common religious group as a deciding factor in choosing to attend 'When I was choosing a college, I thought it would be fun to find one that had a Jewish community since I came from a town where I was part of the only Jewish family," Perlman said. Perlman said the strongest form of

Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week

January 22 - 28, 1996

Wednesday, Jan. 24

College of Architecture, planning and design lecture: "North 2:30 p.m. General Hospital: A Phoenix Arises in Harlem," Alexa Barnes Donaphin, vice president of architecture for Health, Science and Commerce P.C., Tarrytown, N.Y., in the Union Little Reception for La Barbara James Wigfall, assistant professor 3:30 p.m. of landscape architecture and recipient of the Conoco Presidential Award for Distinguished Service to Minority Education. Union Flint Hills Room.

> Housing and Dining Services role-playing activity: "Judge or Be Judged," an opportunity to interact openly and honestly with others who may or may not have similar values or beliefs in Derby 134.

Thursday, Jan. 25

8 p.m.

College of Education seminar: "Education and Non-Violence: 11:30 a.m. Questions Children Ask." Bluemont 016.

Friday, Jan. 26

Martin Luther King Jr. All-University Convocation Lecture: "When the Silent Should Speak," by Patricia Russell-McCloud, renowned orator and president of Russell-McCloud and Associates. McCain Auditorium.

Martin Luther King Jr. luncheon with remarks by Patricia 11:45 a.m. Russell-McCloud. Call Juanita McGowan at 532-5826 for reservations and more information. Union Flint Hills Room.

Sunday, Jan. 28

Gospel Service with a performance by "United Black Voices." All Faiths Chapel. ANDY MARCINIAK/Collegian discrimination, she had encountered was the celebration of religious holidays such as Christmas.

As a member of her residence hall's governing board, she said she questioned the decoration of the hall for Christmas when not everyone living there celebrated Christmas.

Perlman responded by decorating her door with Hanukkah decorations and said she wishes she had a similar way to educate people about more important Jewish holidays.

It's the various backgrounds on this campus Clark said she appreci-

"There's a diversity here to be appreciated because we all have so much to learn from each other," Clark

City transportation proposal discussed

Manhattan ... should fund

JOHN FURNEY

TRAVELERS EXPRESS

public transportation.

Chris Oakley

City commissioners heard a proposal that would grant a $150,000 loan for a city-wide public transportation system start-up at a work session last night.

John Furney, president of Travelers Express, and Robert Henderson, managing partner of Yellow Cab Company, proposed the system.

The vehicles that would be used for the transportation system would be four 1994 Metro Trans conversion vehicles that have up to 10 passengers and two wheelchair passengers.

Furney presented commissioners possible bus routes that included stops at Manhattan Town Center and Westloop Shopping Center.

He said busses would operate from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through This can be done without Friday and would city money. There is no cost $1 a day per person. reason why the city of Furney said the company was not requesting public funds, although it would like the opportunity to explore the possibility of leasing or renting space at the Union Pacific Depot.

"This can be done without city money," Furney said. "There is no reason why the city of Manhattan, nor any other city in my opinion, should fund public transportation. I don't want it to be a service where the money is given to us. I want to earn it," he said.

Furney said he would like to begin operations sometime in April.

The city's 1996 to 2001 Capital Improvements Program allots $150,000 for transportation over the next three years. The money for the program comes from the city's general fund.

If commissioners approved the loan, allocations could come from Improvements Capital Program.

Also at the work session, Glen Nelson, director of the Riley County Aging Transportation Agency, asked commissioners for a grant of $20,000 to purchase a wheelchair accessible mini-van and for operating costs.

The agency provides transportation for $1 per trip plus a $1per-month membership fee.

Although 74 percent of its riders are 60 years and older and 24 percent are disabled, Nelson said they will provide transportation to the general public.

However, he said priority is given to those who need to go to the doctor or to the grocery store.

"We haven't turned anyone down yet," Nelson said. "I don't think the citizenship realizes there is a Riley County ATA, and I know they don't know what we do."

No action was taken on any of the public transportation proposals.

However, commissioners agreed on the need for public transportation Manhattan. "I think there is a need for transportation," Commissioner Bruce Snead said. "We have to find a way to craft a Manhattanspecific transportation system that addresses the needs of the city."

The commission will announce at a later time when they will discuss public transportation.

"What we want to know is who has a stake in this," Snead said. Commissioner Steve Hall said he'd like to receive public comments before implementing any

"I think that this is going to have to be a joint community effort," Hall said.

Wednesday, January 24, 1996 2:30 p.m. College of Architecture, Planning and Design lecture: Alexa Barnes Donaphin, vice president of architecture for Health, Science and Commerce P.C., Tarrytown, N.Y. Little Theatre.

3:30 p.m. Reception for La Barbara James Wigfall, assistant professor of landscape architecture and recipient of the Conoco Presidential Award for Distinguished Minority Education. Flint Hills Room.

8 p.m. Housing and Dining Services role-playing activity: "Judge or Be Judged," an opportunity to interact openly and honestly with others who may or may not hold similar values or beliefs. 134 Derby Dining Hall.

Thursday, January 25, 1996 11:30 a.m. College of Education seminar: "Education and Non-Violence: Questions Children Ask." 016 Bluemont Hall.

PASSING THE TORCH, IGNITING THE VISION OF A NEW GENERATION"

Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week January 22-28, 1996 KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Friday, January 26, 1996 10:30 a.m. Martin Luther King Jr. All-University Convocation Lecture: "When the Silent Should Speak" by orator and president of Russell-McCloud & Associates. McCain Auditorium. 11:45 a.m. Martin Luther King Jr. Luncheon with remarks by Patricia Russell-McCloud. Call Dina Bennett, 532-6436 for reservations and more information. Flint Hills Room.

Patricia Russell-McCloud, renowned

Sunday, January 28, 1996 11 a.m. Gospel Service with a performance by "United Black Voices." Danforth Chapel.

cel • e • brate \ se-la-brāte \ vb 1: to honor (as a holiday) by solemn ceremonies or by refraining from ordinary business 2: to observe a notable occasion with festivities $n - cel \cdot e \cdot bration \sele`bra$ shen\ adj

The celebration begins at 3 p.m. Jan. 26, 1996 in the Union Courtyard. Everyone welcome.

COLLEGIANopinion

Raising speed limits maintains status quo

QUICKread The Kansas House of Representatives will vote on whether Kansas speed limits should be raised. To give your opinion, call the office of the Secretary of Transportation at (913)

296-3461.

People already drive faster than 70 mph on the highways.

Today, the Kansas House of Representatives is trying to decide whether people can do so legally.

Changing the speed limits on interstates is like Prohibition. With Prohibition, the government thought there was a need to abolish drinking. When the public showed blatant disregard for the law, it was changed.

Speed limits are no different. During the Carter administration, the government thought there was a need to lower the speed limits on highways due to the gas crunch. Today, cars are more gas efficient, so the original reason for the change no longer exists. In addition, because most people show blatant disregard for 65-mph speed limits, the limits - like Prohibition should be repealed.

While some argue that more accidents could occur if we raise the limit, it seems that the public is willing to pay that price in order to drive fast.

Speed limits do not require that one drives the posted speed. They are the suggested rate to drive in ideal conditions. The 70-mph speed limit should fluctuate as road conditions change. Therefore, the more realistic solution to avoiding accidents is to drive as fast as common sense, the law and the road conditions permit.

Increased speed limits will enable people to save valuable time on long road trips and will permit people to do legally what they already do illegally.

What makes democracy so great is that instead of hanging on to laws that no one follows, we can and should change them as society feels necessary. It is time for a change.

NOTES FROM the underground

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, KS. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is collegn@spub.ksu.edu. Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. Letters will be edited for length, clarity and content. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. No poetry will be accepted. Letters must be in prose form.

▶ CONGRESS IS A CHECK

Dear Editor,

Jason Hamilton, the senior in English and creative writing, has been creatively reading the Constitution (and perhaps wants to creatively rewrite it).

His simple omission is Article I, section 9, clause 7, which gives to Congress the power of the purse strings. This check is the most important limit on the president's power; for example, the president's power to spend with impunity in the face of a growing national debt. We would all like to live in a society where all people are wellfed and clothed and housed. But this is not utopia!

When Congress deems it necessary to limit federal spending so that taxes do not become usurious or the debt unmanageable, it has that power, and at the moment, that mandate. What, you say? But Hamilton said Congress didn't have a mandate - that this was "the Big Lie." Well, that was Hamilton's "little lie."

Congress does not have a two-thirds majority, but it does have a 50-percentplus-one majority in both bodies. Hence a

I will not accept measuring the United States by other nations. So what if Europe provides services which we don't? Does this automatically make them better or merely different? And I much prefer the rugged individualism which this country was founded on than the European systems which have caused dependence and far more suffering than they have cured.

And I definitely will not accept being called immoral and stupid because the nonessential members of our government have been sent home, and I don't notice it. I'm sure it affects some people. Let them complain. Better yet, let them vote. And however that vote turns out will tell us what we have decided, not the half-truths of a sophomorish pundit.

Kirby Wilkerson Computing and Network Services

A story of real people

Myview

Lewerenz.

government fundabout to dry up once again, it is this bureaucratic time we look at how insanity affects real people. And in my experience, the best way to gauge the harmful effects of any government policy is to see what it does to the American Indian.

Throughout Indian country, schools have been closed, hospitals are stripped nearly bare of staff and supplies, jails have been opened, and Indian leaders can do little but beg the local bank for a

In this case, the American Indian is a particularly good example of the damage the government can do without actually doing anything. That is because the United States' American Indian population maintains a unique trust relationship with the government.

Most U.S. wars with Indian nations were concluded with the signing of treaties in which the tribes ceded land to the United States, which in turn recognized the sovereignty of the land retained by the tribes. In return for ending hostilities, the government promised to provide for the education, health care and defense obviously with some differences in each individual case - of these Indian reservations. Since then, the Bureau of Indian Affairs has moved from department to department, finally settling in Interior. The Office of Indian Education Programs (Interior), Division of Indian Education (Education) and Indian Health Services (Health and Human Services) work with the Bureau of Indian Affairs to provide essential services guaranteed in writing to Native Americans.

Furthermore, the Constitution prohibits the states from making treaties and many other agreements with the Indian nations, meaning that many federal services exist in place of state services provided routinely to other citizens.

So what happens to all of these services when the government gets held "With the shutdown, they're having to fight for services they've already won," Loretta Avent, White House liaison to Indian country, told the Arizona Republic.

The Indian Health Services hospital in Gallup, N.M., which serves more than 210,000 patients annually, faces a severe shortage of supplies, and most employees are working on a volunteer basis. IHS hospitals in Idaho are refusing to fill many prescriptions, and nationally the services may soon be shut off from doctors, laboratories, technicians and suppliers who rely on government contracts to pay to run out of money to buy basic sup-And the problem goes beyond hospitals. Schools have closed on the Hopi Reservation in Arizona, and others are seriously strapped. Both Hopi and the Wind River Reservation in Wyoming have been forced to close - or rather, open - their local jails. In all, more than 100 prisoners have been released on probation.

'Come back when this budget impasse is settled," Wind River Jail Superintendent Perry Blake told his former wards.

Several thousand Indians have stopped receiving payments for oil, natural gas and mineral resources removed from their reservations. Ironically, while the checks have stopped, the exploitation

Apparently the miners are "essential" federal employees, while the folks who write the checks are not.

Obviously circumstances put the Indian in a far worse position than many other Americans, but they are not the only ones suffering

Veterans Administration hospitals are in the same boat as IHS hospitals, operating on shoestring staffs and dwindling supplies. Federally assisted state programs have been put on hold. And pity the poor contractor who made the mistake of signing a federal contract at the wrong

It comes down to this: We elected these people - Democrat and Republican alike - not to live an ideology, but to make our lives better and work for the improvement of our nation. Anyone unwilling to talk is simply making things

Dan Lewerenz is a senior in philosophy and American ethnic studies.

Affirmative action an outdated institution big discussion concerning our generation consists of its quality. Every generation has had certain labels put upon it. There can be no doubt that at some point and time the older establishment has looked at up-andcoming generations and decided the qualities that made the norm successful were not present in the new group.

It is ironic that in a country whose youth are deemed as "slackers" there is an institution that does not exist on the basis of quality. Rather, it is based on a principle that uses other traits as a means to select employees and leaders.

Affirmative action, a system that has been heavily debated, contradicts several of the characteristics our society is known for. We are not all created equally. Elitism is a factor that has had great importance in all our lives because it determines who will do what. However, elitism does not work merely within the realms of government and corporate executive boards. Elitism rules many other important areas of society, such as the manual trades.

We are governed by our abilities. Just as some have the characteristic of leadership, others have the gift of working with their hands. Intelligence is a relative concept. We are being sent a mixed message. A belief that was taught to many of us while growing up is contradicted by affirmative action — as it judges not what a person works for, but who they are.

To be sure, ethnicity and sex play a great role in an individual's life - these two factors alone often make up a certain role or stereotype. It may seem that affirmative action abolishes this factor, but it does not. Statistics show that although a company may hire many minorities, it will most likely give higher positions to those who received them in the past, that being white males.

Additionally, does one want to be rewarded with a good job or admission into a certain graduate program based on something other than work ethic or ability? What message is being sent to individuals when some of the characteristics they value within themselves are overlooked for traits of their physical being? I know affirmative Myview action was created in a time when some balance between different groups in society was needed. It made the established system recognize that their equals weren't just white males. However, as an institution, affirmative action has grown stale. What kind of message are we sending to future gen-Wild erations - the ones we might end up thinking about as lazy? Enough people already seem to think they deserve certain entitlements, such as a great job right out of college, without working for it. If society rewards individuals for physical factors instead of mental ones, is a trend being created which leans away from merit? I realize, as a white male, it seems as if I'm joining the masses complaining about hiring trends. That is far from the truth. I wrote this because I respect intelligence and ability, and I believe they should be more important than physical characteristics. The answer to success in life does rely somewhat on who or what a person is, but it also relies on two greater factors: ability and work ethic

Justin Wild is a senior in English and education.

It's an emergency situation. Without some funding soon, some Indian hospitals in New Mexico are going to run out of money to buy basic

REP. BILL RICHARDSON (D-N.M.) MER CHAIR OF THE H

ON THE RECRUITING TRAIL WITH

WEFALD

Wefald listens to conversation before addressing the Leavenworth

Rotary International meeting. Wefald talked about how K-State had turned around since his arrival in 1986 and his involvement in the process.

K-State president addresses prospective college students

Misty Mayden

A man, proudly sporting an XL Power Cat sweatshirt and a "Back-to-Back-to-Back" bowl hat, was waiting for K-State president Jon Wefald when his plane landed at the Leavenworth airport on Jan. 17.

Don Biggs, a member of Rotary International, was ready to transport Wefald so he could speak to a packed auditorium at Leavenworth High School. "I wanted to make sure that President Wefald didn't miss who was picking him up at the airport," Biggs said, referring to his extensive K-State apparel.

More than 700 juniors and seniors were at the auditorium expecting Wefald's speech.

"These are the hardest, audiences to talk to, because not everyone in the auditorium will be going on to college. Many of them will be going to vocational schools or into the armed services, and some go straight in to work," Wefald said.

After a short address to the students by Jim VamMaanen, principal of Leavenworth High School, Wefald told the students about the effects history has on them, and the effects they have on history.

"History is not all inevitable and is definitely not irreversible. Take for instance World War II. What made Hitler so powerful was that he took calculated risks and he knew how to do the basics of reading, writing, and them well," Wefald said.

After speaking about World War II, Wefald told the students they would be the first generation to change jobs four or five times.

"You have got to be able to do the basics and do them well. You don't have to have high ACT or SAT scores to be successful. A lot of people who make it to the top are average people," Wefald said.

Wefald said the K-State football program is an example of ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

"I can name 10 of the players right off the top of my head that were never recruited by other colleges," he said. "But, we have a coach who knows that if you take someone who works hard. has determination, and make them practice, that you can take that team to new levels."

After reciting people ranging from Jesse Jackson to Walt Disney, Wefald concluded his address to the students. At the end of his speech, several students gave him a standing ovation. Jermain McDaniel, junior Leavenworth High School, said he was motivated by Wefald's words.

"President Wefald showed us that it doesmatter where from, come you can still do things that change the world, McDaniel said.

Shay Baker, senior class president, and Clay Morris, student body president, both thanked Wefald for the speech and let him know they would be attending K-State next year.

"I attended KU over the summer, and they just had the attitude that it didn't matter if we went to KU or not," Baker said. "By having President Wefald take time out to visit us just proves even more that Kansas State puts in the extra effort to make sure

• See WEFALD Page 14

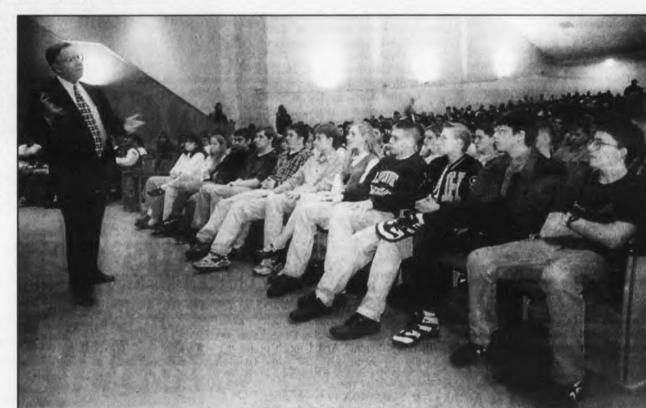

STEVE HEBERT/Collegian

With extra time to kill on the plane ride to Leavenworth, K-State president Jon Wefald makes some final adjustments to a speech that will be delivered to more than 700 high school students.

Wefald speaks to more than 700 juniors and seniors at Leavenworth High School during his Jan. 17 trip. Since Oct. 10, 1995, Wefald has traveled to eight high schools around the state to talk to students.

STEVE HEBERT

26th ANNUAL MANHATTAN BRIDAL SHOW, INC. SUNDAY, JANUARY 28, 1996

Houston Street Ballroom, 5th & Houston Doors open at noon - Pashion Show at 2 p.m. Admission is FREE

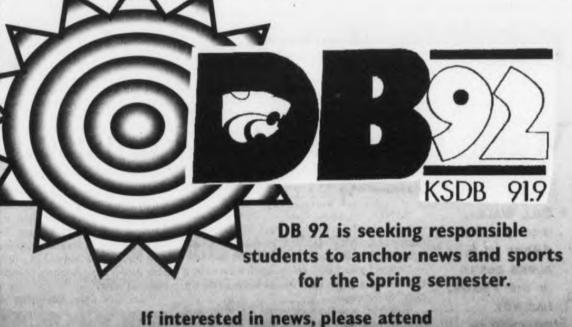

REGISTER TO WIN including A DREAM HONEYMOON

SPONSORED BY:

Atwood Rentals Bocker's II Borck Brothers Bridal World Campbell's G. Thomas Jewelers Heirloom Portraits Kansas State Travel KQLA/Q-103.5 Radio Mary Kay Cosmetics

Party Incorporated Patricia's Undercover Realty Executives Rickel-McMillin Rod's Hallmark Steve's Floral Tina's Studio 32 Vern's Donuts & Cakes Waters True Value Woody's Ladies

an informational meeting Thursday at McCain Auditorium, room 313 at 6:30 p.m. If interested in sports, the meeting will be held at 7:30, same place. If this will not work, please call 532-DB92

60%-80% ENTIRE STORE

Men's • Women's • Children

Name Brand Fashions from East and West Coast Major Department Stores

Sylvester's Fashion Outlet

TAKE ADDITIONAL 20% OFF Total Purchase.

413 Poyntz Ave. • Downtown Manhattan Mon.-Fri. 9:30 a.m.-8 p.m. • Sat. 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. • Sun. Noon-5 p.m.

Hurry in for the best selection - Sale January 24-28

Beat the bitter cold let CUDDLDUDS keep you WARM

Top $19 w/coupon $14 Bottom $19 w/coupon $14

Mon. - Thurs. 10 - 7 p.m. Fri. & Sat. 10-5 p.m. exp. Saturday, Jan. 27

Aggieville 1224 Moro

Sports

· did you know?

■ Tennis player Goran Ivanisevic was awarded tennis' largest prize ever, $1.625 million, for winning the Grand Slam Cup on Sunday.

These Dallas Cowboys are a far different team

Myview

SHANE McCormick

The Doomsday Defense. The Steel Curtain.

These were the words that described the Cowboys and the Steelers of the 1970s. The Steelers were the blue-collar, tough-nosed team. The Cowboys were the nice boys in white.

Boy, have things changed. The Steelers still possess many of the characteristics of the 1970s Steeler team. But their five wide receiver set, and a player like Kordell

Stewart, were not around back then. The Cowboys of the '90s and the team of the '70s are like night and day. This Cowboys team is extremely confident, bordering on the line of being cocky every week. And with Michael Irvin and Deion Sanders, this Cowboy team can talk more smack than any guest on the Ricki Lake

So, even those these teams have changed over the years, will the results be the same as they were in the Super Bowls of the '70s?

Not a chance. For all of you out there who are hoping for a close Super Bowl before the century is over, don't hold your breath. It's easy to see why the Cowboys will dominate the Steelers. Except for the linebacker's position, the Cowboys are simply better at every other position.

Quarterback - Troy Aikman is 9-I as a starter in postseason play. He's possibly the best quarterback the NFL as seen in the post-season.

Neil O'Donnell is just about average. Yes, he doesn't make mistakes, but he also will not make the big play.

Running back - Emmitt Smith is the best all-around running back in the NFL. You will see why come Super Bowl night. Emmitt will do his running and catching, but it will be his blocking that should make him stand out. With all of the Steelers blitzing schemes, Smith will be asked to stay back at time to pick up the blitzing Steelers. For the Steelers, it's the combination of Bam Morris and Eric Pegram. Neither should give the Cowboys' run defense any problems.

Tight end — The Cowboys use Jay Novechek as their safety valve on third down. There aren't too many linebackers who can stay with him off the line of scrimmage. Rookie Mark Bruener will start for the Steelers. Since the departure of Eric Green, the Steelers have not been going to the tight end very much.

Wide receivers - Irvin finished the year with 111 catches for 1603 yards, showing why he is constantly a Pro Bowl selection. Irvin's size and his ability to push off against the cornerback will allow him to dominate the Steelers secondary. If the Steelers choose to double team Irvin, Kevin Williams has shown he is capable of being a clutch player.

And let's not forget Deion. There is nobody in the league who can stay step for step with him. The Steelers' best wide receiver is Yancy Thigpen, who earned a Pro Bowl selection this season. The Steelers will also rotate in Ernie Mills, Andre Hastings, Charles Johnson and Stewart. But the Cowboys nickel and dime packages should be able to handle the Steelers five wide out set.

One other thing to look at is the meeting of these two teams in week one of the 1994 season.

At Pittsburgh, the Cowboys dominated all aspects of the game. The defense recorded nine sacks, including four by Charles Haley, Haley, who also had 15 quarterback pressures in that game, will be playing come Sunday. Emmitt Smith ran all over the Steelers defense in that week-one matchup, and Aikman made the big plays when he had to.

The Steelers are not much different on both sides of the ball than that 1994 team. History will repeat itself. The Cowboys will dominate the Steelers again in another Super Bowl

Cowboys 34 Steelers 17. Super Bowl MVP

K-state sophomore forward Mark Young reaches for a ball in the game Saturday against Oklahoma. The win moved the Cats to 12-4.

Cats gets 1st poke at Cowboys

Todd Stewart

Standing at 12-4 overall and 3-1 in the conference, K-State takes its second-place mark in the Big 8 up against the Oklahoma State Cowboys at 7 tonight in Bramlage Coliseum.

The Wildcats split with the Cowboys, a team that went to last season's NCAA Final Four and barely lost to North Carolina.

What should be key for the Cats is the return of a healthy center Gerald Eaker to the lineup, who sprained an ankle before the Jan. 13

"He's getting better. It's progress, he hasn't done much yet." Coach Tom Asbuty said.

Oklahoma State beat up on the Cats in the last meeting of the year, 70-46, in Stillwater, but the Cowboys return only one starter from that team, guard Andre Owens.

While Eaker's playing time has been limited, Asbury has been looking to freshman Shawn Rhodes for more minutes.

Rhodes, who was initially tabbed as a potential redshirt, has come off the bench and given. Missouri and then return home for a Jan. 31 Asbury solid time, which gives him high hopes match against Nebraska.

for Rhodes in the future, Asbury said.

"He's going to be a good big player." Asbury

Asbury said it is important to remember that even though Rhodes is not a power player at 6 feet 10 inches, don't expect to see him in the K-State pivot anytime soon.

'But he'll never be a big post player," Asbury

After tonight's Oklahoma State game the Cats will hit the road for a Saturday afternoon game at

Walsh returns to San Fransisco as assistant coach

Associated Press

BILL WALSH, WHO LED THE 49ERS TO 3 SUPER BOWLS IN THE 1980s, HAS NOT COACHED IN PRO FOOTBALL SINCE 1989.

SANTA CLARA, Calif.— George Seifert insists it was his idea to bring back Bill Walsh, his former boss. What made it even more appealing was Walsh's willingness to return as an assistant.

"When I asked Bill, did he again want to be a head coach and he said, 'No,' I knew I had my man," Seifert said.

However, a source close to the team said Seifert's hand may have been forced after several offensive stars, including Steve Young and Jerry Rice, complained to team president Carmen Policy that Seifert was tinkering in the offense, including calling plays. They said offensive coordinator Marc Trestman, who had been fired twice for taking on head coaches, declined to intercede.

One of Seifert's calls, the source said, was the first offensive play of the 27-17 playoff loss to Green Bay, in which Young passed to Adam Walker, playing with a broken thumb. Walker fumbled and the Packers' Craig Newsome returned it for a touchdown.

That wouldn't be a surprise.

Last year, Seifert, who was defensive coordinator before succeeding Walsh, acknowledged putting in some defensive schemes. But he said Ray Rhodes, then the defensive coordinator and now the head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, challenged him and he backed off.

"Sometimes I act like a mad scientist," Seifert acknowledged at the time. This time, Seifert was looking for was an offensive fix for the 49ers, who lost their first playoff game for the first time in six postseason trips under Seifert.

Who better than Walsh, who led the 49ers to their first three Super Bowl titles in the 1980s as their head coach.

"They call it the West Coast offense, but it's Bill Walsh's offense," Seifert said.

Seifert, who worked as Walsh's defensive coordinator before succeeding the Hall of Famer in 1989, had vetoed a 1992 plan to hire Walsh as a consultant, but said he was comfortable with the Seifert, who has won two Super Bowls in the seven years since succeeding Walsh, said the addition of Walsh wasn't "something forced down George Seifert's throat."

"In fact, it's probably one of the more exciting, happy times for me since I've been a coach here," Seifert said. "Three years ago, I probably couldn't have done this to be quite honest with you. Three years ago, I wasn't maybe as secure in my own abilities and maybe I'm a little more arrogant now. And if there are some bruises with regards to Because ultimately what we're trying to accomplish here is to put together the best football team possible, and if that means coach Walsh is part of this again, then that's what we're going to do.'

They call it the West

Walsh's offense.

Coast offense, but it's Bill

GEORGE SIEFERT

49ER HEAD COACH

Walsh, 64, was the title given administrative assistant to the coaching staff. He will work exclusively with the offense and provide advice and counsel to Trestman. "I'm here to be a mechanic," Walsh said. "That's how I started as a technician. I'm returning to my roots.' Policy said Walsh would not be involved in personnel decisions, which will remain with general manager Dwight Clark and other front-office

That's fine with Walsh.

'What this portrays is a stage of life I'm in right now," Walsh said.

"I don't have an agenda and I'm not looking to stake out any territory and I'm not looking to make key decisions. The role as I understand it, the role that I basically approved, was that of helping people with their decisions and being a resource for George, Carmen, Dwight, and, of course, the coaches.

"It's sort of an emeritus position with a little vitality and energy associated with it. I accept this role as an assistant football coach primarily.

Policy said the notion of bringing Walsh back was discussed extensively last weekend in meetings with team owner Eddie DeBartolo, Seifert

He said the discussions centered on what went wrong during the 49ers' season, which ended when the Green Bay Packers upset them 27-17 in a divisional playoff.

"The conclusion we all came up with was at this moment in all of our lives it was very comfortable. We all felt it would work," Policy said.

'We had a good football team. We want to make it the best," Seifert said.

Seifert said part of it was a response to the way the 49ers' offense stumbled in the playoff loss to the Packers and a season-ending loss to Atlanta that cost San Francisco the top seed in the NFC.

He also said the move shouldn't be seen as a loss of confidence in Trestman, whose top-heavy pass play calling was dictated by injuries in the offensive line and the loss of two running backs Ricky Watters to free agency and William Floyd to injury.

"It takes a complete package to be successful and personnel are a good part of it," Walsh added. "I think Marc Trestman suffered because he didn't have the firepower some of the other coordinators had. Green Bay had more firepower, to be honest with you."

Walsh, a member of the Hall of Fame, had not coached in the NFL since 1989. He left the 49ers for a three-year stint as a television analyst. He also operated quarterback camps and worked for the NFL in an advisory role in the past year.

He spent the previous three years in a second tour as Stanford coach before resigning last year. Walsh passed up a chance to work with the 49ers as a consultant and took the coaching job at Stanford in 1992.

The school gave Walsh his first major head coaching job in 1977. Retired quarterback Joe Montana, who won four Super Bowls with 49ers, including three with Walsh, said he didn't think there would be friction between Walsh and Seifert and others in the orga-

"It's going to be very interesting. I don't think it's going to be a disruption at all," Montana said. "He's had a lot of success. There's no questioning

"I don't know of any problems between them. I think things will work out. Bill installed the whole offensive system. It's evolved some over the years, but he can still get it back to the basics."

Sports Digest

K-State loses in overtime

For the second time in three games, the Wildcats found themselves facing overtime. But this time, the extra frame was more than K-State could handle. K-State (11-9) fell victim to an 11-0 run in overtime in a 73-64 loss to Arkansas State (10-6).

The Cats hit their shots in the first half, going 11-of-22 from the floor, and outrebounded Arkansas State 17-11. But the Cats' 15 turnovers in the first period allowed the Lady Indians to take a 30-26 lead into the break. Arkansas State extended its lead to six when Crystal Tausan scored to open the second half Junior wing Missy Decker hit her shots when it counted, nailing a deuce, a three and a pair of free throws to put the Cats back on top and spur an 11-0 run. Arkansas State recovered, taking a sevenpoint lead into the stretch. But Decker answered again, scoring a putback and another 3-pointer to bring the Cats back on line with 1:28 remaining.

An assist from sophomore point guard Amanda Chamberlain to sophomore wing Brit Jacobson then tied the game at 57-57, where it would remain deadlocked at the buzzer. But as a team, the Cats hit only 14-of-39 second-half attempts, and only 3of-13 tries from behind the arc fell.

The overtime belonged to Arkansas State. The Cats had a 62-61 advantage with 3:08 remaining when the Lady Indians reeled off 11-straight points to seal the

Coach Brian Agler was unavailable for Decker led all scorers with 20 points, her second 20-plus performance in the last three games. Jacobson recovered from a scoreless first half to land 17 points, and junior wing Andria Jones finished with 14.

The meeting was the second of the season between the Cats and the Lady Indians, with K-State picking up the early decision 63-58.

Ag knowledge

Sara Edwards

Discussion Meet.

earlier this fall.

agriculture.

enables senior to take

1st-place, Dodge Dakota

Entering a contest to test his agri-

Niemann, senior in agribusiness, cultural knowledge resulted in a big won a Dodge Dakota pickup after he won the American Farm Bureau

Young Farmer and Rancher

The contest was Jan. 7 in Reno,

Niemann qualified for the national

At the discussion meet, particimeet at the state contest in Wichita pants are put in groups of four to discuss ideas on topics of importance in reward for Casey Niemann.

"I was surprised. I was probably

Niemann won a red 1996 Dodge Dakota four-wheel-drive club cab one of the youngest people in the contest. Most of the people are already truck. He said it was valued at My old one had 165,000 miles on it."

would have been able to afford other-will be delivered either late this week or early next week at Ed Schram did not know about it because he won it over break, but everybody in his small town of Nortonville wants to

"It's a great way to go out gradual-

"I was thrilled. I needed a new car.

"It's a lot nicer than anything I

Niemann said he hopes his truck

He said a lot of people at K-State out in the business," he said.

$24,500.

Niemann said.

wise," he said.

ride in his truck.

Shutdown affects visas K-Stater wins truck in contest

Exchange students have difficulty traveling to K-State for 1st time

Ryan O'Halloran

Starting classes nearly two weeks after most universities in the country was a big break for K-State's international students.

With the government shutdowns, U.S. consulates and embassies were only issuing return visas to the United States on an emergency basis, so students worldwide had to wait it out.

While other schools had international students miss the first days of class, K-State did not experience any such problems.

As of Wednesday all of K-State's international students were back on campus, said Motaz Hourani, program coordinator of the foreign student office.

"Because school started later here, we fortunately didn't have the problems of schools that started a few weeks ago," Hourani said.

Returning students were not considered emergency cases.

But, those who needed to travel to the United States for medical care and life-and-death situations were granted

With the shutdown extending into January, many international students who attend school on the East Coast were trapped in their home country, subsequently being unable to return by the start of classes.

K-State would have had the same difficulties if it had started classes

"If we started school a few weeks

Government The Collegian is running a series about the government shutdown and how it affects K-State.	Series scriedule
Stories can also be found in back issues of the Collegian and in the archives of the E-Collegian.	Tuesday	shutdown history financial aid
	Wednesday	foreign exchange students
	Thursday	military/veterans
http://www.spub.ksu.edu/	Friday	grants ago, some of them would have had problems," Hourani said.

"But the consulates opened a couple of weeks ago and started to process visas, and took care of any potential problems."

The only international students who encountered difficulties were those who were starting their first semesters at K-State. Those students, Hourani said, were not aware of the Three students who were scheduled to attend K-State this semester encountered a bevy of problems. In fact, two of the students had visa problems and decided not to attend K-

"Of of the three students from Turkey who were starting, one of them arrived," William Richter, director of International Programs, said. "The other two decided to pursue their graduate degrees in England."

For the most part, students who attended K-State last semester were informed of the news by the foreign students office, and had the proper information and documentation to return to the United States.

them if they had any problems with it, and only one or two students said they did," Hourani said. "And they were just starting school here, so the situation was new to them.

The University, Richter said, could not do much to help those students who were overseas and needed to get a visa during the shutdowns.

University did everything we did to expedite the papers, but because the much we could do."

States for school receive an F-1, or student, visa. They also need an I-20 document from the embassy or consulate to allow them to return.

their I-20s and have them signed by our office," Hourani said.

"If they have that, and their passport is stamped, they should have no problems."

"During orientation, we asked

"But the returning students had their visas so they didn't have any problems," he said.

"There really wasn't anything we could do in that case," he said. "The offices were closed, there was not Students who travel to the United

"We basically tell them to have

Welcome Back, Students!

A moderator, who also serves as a

In each round, Niemann discussed

Questions ranged from education

The questions were about issues of

The purpose of the meet is to use

It is like a debate, except nobody is

After Niemann won on the state level, he moved to the national contest held in conjunction with the 1996

American Farm Bureau Annual mostly older contestants who were Niemann said he competed with a different topic with different contestants. The fina' round was narrowed reform to how tax policy affects the future of American agriculture.

importance to the American farmer, problem-solving skills and to find judge, is with each of the groups.

down to two people.

Niemann said.

leadership ability.

pro or con, he said.

already out on the job.

Meeting.

Only
61 Days 'til
Spring Break! 2 PRINTS FOR
THE DAYS

Expires 3-22-96

TITLE IX

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

sport crew into a women's varsity sport. A base total of $271,512 will be put into the implementation of crew over the next four years. Also, base totals of $187,697 and $130,754 are to be delegated into women's basketball and volleyball over that time period.

"These changes are just now being enforced by the NCAA," Fox said. "K-State is not doing it because we have to, we're doing it because it is the right thing to do and the human thing

"Our goal is to have men's and women's basketball and volleyball and football be on the same level of competitiveness," Urick said.

The athletic department is selfbudgeting about $500,000 in order to meet its goals. The rest of the money is expected to come from either state funds or an increase in student fees.

"In order to fund this we need a constant source of revenue," Urick said.

so it looks like the most likely place for the money to come from is an increase of student fees."

The projected fee increase is about $1 per credit hour.

Chair of the NCAA Self-Study Steering Committee, Bob Krause, said he expects some controversy from students. "I am assuming that there will be a lot of debate on the issue. Really there isn't a lot of choice that goes into the matter. If we use state funds, it will take money away from our academic

We need to implement the fees because we don't want to get into a situation like the one at Wichita State University, where after a lawsuit they were forced to raise fees to $3 per credit hour. K-State has the smallest budget in the Big 12, and we're going to have to pay if we want to compete at that level." Krause said.

Student Body Vice President Brad Finkeldei said he was against any increase in student fees.

"I take a pretty strong stance against a raise in student fees. The Senate makes the decisions, but we don't want to get into a position like the one at Wichita State. Hopefully we "We can't have a volatile income can find some way around it,"

Finkeldei said.

In the meantime, the final selfstudy report has been sent to the NCAA for certification. The NCAA will share the report with a peer review team who will visit the campus April 2-5 to conduct an on-site review of the report.

"We expect to meet their approval," Urick said. "I think they will see we took the initiative to put Title IX in compliance.

"It has been a very thorough process. Implementing the plans are something we need to lock our arms on and go on down the road. It's not an easy job, but it's something that needs to be done," Urick said.

BRYAN LYKINS & HEJTMANEK

Lawyers Representing Consumers

Injured?

Call For A Free Discussion 1-800-608-2473

.913 235-5678

■ Did YOU make a New Year's resolution to GET IN SHAPE?? ■

WAL*MART

FILM DEVELOPING

There's no better place to take pictures!

628 Tuttle Creek Blvd. . 776-3100

ENROLLMENT SPECIAL WITH THIS AD: 15% OFF FEB. & MARCH SESSIONS IF YOU SIGN UP BY FEB. 15!

Jennifer Macy, KSU Senior in History; 1995 Kansas Gold Medal

Winner, Sparring Tim Derowitsch, KSU Sophomore in Computer Science, 1995 Kansas Gold Medal Winner, Sparring; 1st Degree Black Belt

NO Contracts . . . PHYSICAL Conditioning . . . Training PERSONALIZED for your needs SELF-DEFENSE Skill Development ... WEIGHT Control ... Improved CONCENTRATION

STRESS Relief . . . Improved FLEXIBILITY Manhattan Academy of Taekwondo

Plenty of PARKING . . . Tournament COMPETITION Opportunities

UTA Certified Instructor and USTU Certified Referee: Mr. Robert George, 3rd Degree Black Belt (Kukkiwon,

1314 Westloop

Mon.-Fri.; 10:30 a.m.-9 p.m.

professional career. More than 1.3 million Worlds of Fun Guests are waiting to discover YOU! AUDITION INSTRUCTIONS of Fun is FUN, and it can be that important First Step toward a 539-9494 Hand fed, tame birds 1105 Waters

TALENT AUDITIONS

For Singers & Dancers

"All the World's a Stage" at Worlds of Fun from our lively 60's - 70's rock revue, STAX OF WAX, to our spectacular contemporary country music show at the Tivoli Music Hall. Performing at Worlds

If you are a singer, please sing one verse and chorus of two contrasting styles of song: one up-tempo and one ballad. Sing any type music you enjoy: rock, country, show tunes, etc. (No Rap.) Singer auditions should be no longer than three minutes in length.

Dancers should prepare one song to sing and a jazz routine no longer than

You must provide your own accompaniment whether it be a pianist or a cassette tape. We will provide a cassette deck and a piano. A cappella auditions will not be accepted.

We are not auditioning bands, solo instrumentalists or dramatic actors

THE CLOSEST AUDITIONS:

Wednesday, January 31 - Kansas State University The "K & S" Rooms in the K-State Union 3:00 p.m. (Registration closes at 5:00 p.m.)

Monday, February 5 - The University of Kansas In the Kansas Room (level 6) at the Kansas Union. 3:00 p.m. (Registration closes at 5:00 p.m.)

Kansas City, Missouri Sunday, February 4 - Park Place Hotel 1601 N. Universal Avenue (Just off Front Street at I-435.) 1:00 p.m. (Registration closes at 4:00 p.m.)

*Applicants must be at least 16 years of age by 5-5-96. the Worlds of Fur For more information and a complete audition schedule, Live Entertainment Department at (816) 454-4545, Ext. 1350.

WELCOME BACK STUDENTS!

Don't miss our INVENTORY CLEARANCE SALE.

Our buyers have just returned from the Consumer Electronics Show where they have ordered New '96 products. We must sell out our existing inventory

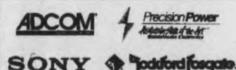

Many items at Dealer Cost! Hurry Quantities Limited.

Here's a few examples:

Polk Audio RM3000 Speakers Kenwood UD 302 Mini System Alpine 7526 Cassette Deck

Reg $849 Now $449 Reg $549 Now $349 Reg $270 Now $199

HOME STEREO SYSTEMS-COMPONENTS-SPEAKERS-CAR STEREOS

(milianis)

(I) PIONEER

⊗Cerwin-Vega!

DENON KENWOOD Definitive Technology

> Monday -Friday 10-7 Saturday 10-5

HI FI - Car Stereo - Video

JUNCTION, INC.

UDIO

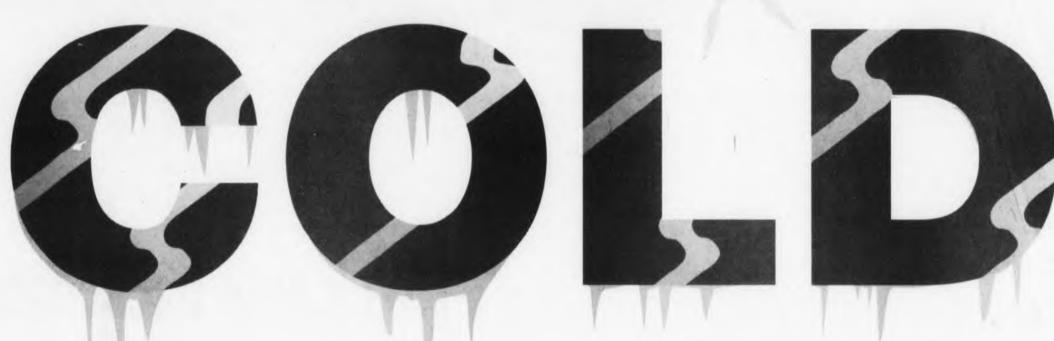

307 Ft. Riley Blvd. 587-4646

Battling the

Surviving a Kansas winter with all your fingers and toes intact takes some planning, preparation s the jet stream crests in the Canadian Rockies, a surge of arctic air rips into the Midwest, attacking students on campus.

Their cars sit in the parking lot, slowly dying.

Students walk to class, their hands and faces numb, ignoring the stings from sleet slammed into them by a bitter wind.

Is there no safeguard? Sure, bundle up.

At least that's what Bob Henning, sophomore in arts and sciences and salesperson at The Pathfinder, said.

"Generally, when it first gets cold, more people show up in our store looking for warmer clothing," Henning said. "Weather tends to do that to people."

According to Federal Emergency Management Agency World Wide Web home page, students should obviously dress warmly when venturing outside.

But the page suggests wearing loose-fitting, layered, lightweight clothing.

WWW site

The Federal

Emergency

Management

Agency World

Wide Web site is

http://www.fema.gov/

fema/stormsf.html

Students should remember to cover their noggins. If you cover your head, you prevent heat from escaping and you'll fare much better outside.

BOS HENNING

SALESPERSON AT THE

"Layers can be removed to prevent perspiration and chill," the page said. 'Outer garments should be tightly woven and water repellent."

Kelly Koch, freshman in business, layers her clothing during the winter

"I often wear a long-sleeved shirt under a sweater to keep warm," Koch When the first cold snap struck Manhattan, Koch said she realized she needed something more. "I had to go out and buy a new down coat," she said. "I walk a long distance from the parking lots to my classes, so I really needed to get a new coat." The page also suggests wearing clothing that covers your mouth. "Protect your lungs from extremely cold air by covering your mouth when outdoors," the page said. Henning said students often forget to wear hats or hoods to protect their "Students should remember to cover their noggins," he said. "If you cover your head, you prevent heat from escaping and you'll fare much better outside.

Henning also pointed out that students should wear gloves. "Gloves can be a good thing to wear to keep your hands warm," he said.

However, the FEMA home page suggests mittens rather than gloves. Mittens are warmer than gloves because fingers generate warmth when they touch each other, the page

"If students wear hats, a decent jacket to protect their chest, and gloves, they should fare well outside in the cold," Henning said. "But they should remember to do something to protect their legs. Many students just wear jeans to class, and a pair of long underwear could really help them

After making sure students keep themselves warm outside, they should also think about their cars. Car neglect can lead to disaster.

"The leading cause of death during winter storms is transportation accidents," the FEMA home page said. "Preparing your vehicle for the winter season and knowing how to react if stranded or lost on the road are the keys to safe winter driving. Brian Clifton, assistant manager at Western Auto, suggests several things for students to do to prevent car problems during the winter months. "Naturally, making sure the car's coolant is at the right level is a key to protecting your car,' Clifton said. "It should be at a level to protect against -50 degrees." He also suggested getting the oil changed. "Clean oil circulates much better than dirty, old, black oil and makes the car run with fewer problems," he

In addition, students should have their belts and car batteries checked, he said. "They should also keep their tanks filled up," Clifton said.

"If their fuel level falls below half tank, then that leaves too much space in the tank for moisture to form. The moistures mixes with the gas and when that happens, all sorts of problems can result," he said.

With my old car, I make sure I get frequent oil changes and always have my antifreeze checked. Making a travel car kit is something I really should do but never get around to.

> LISA WATSON JUNIOR IN MARKETING

So far this winter, Clifton hasn't seen more problems than in previous winters.

The FEMA home page also suggests that car owners have a mechanic check the battery, antifreeze level, windshield wipers, thermostat, lights, exhaust system, heater, brakes, defrosters and oil level.

According to the home page, students should make sure the tires have adequate tread.

All-weather radials are usually adequate for most winter conditions.

story by Scott Ladd

art by Bill Kraai

Distance travel has special requirements during the winter, too.

"Listen to the radio or call the state highway patrol for the latest road conditions," the home page said.

"Always travel during daylight, and, if possible, take at least one other person," the page also said.

Lisa Watson, junior in marketing, said she takes frequent trips to her home in Salina and makes sure her car is in running order before the

"With my old car, I make sure I get frequent oil changes and always have my antifreeze checked," Watson said. "Making a travel car kit is something I really should do but never get around to."

A winter car kit is something

FEMA strongly encourages. Among the things a travel kit should contain are flashlights, first aid kits, blankets, sleeping bags, matches, a small sack of sand for traction under wheels, booster cables, canned food and nuts, and bottled

For some rear-wheel drive cars, extra precautions must be taken. "With my car, I have to put sandbags in the back so I don't slide around," Koch said.

"Other than the bags and a few blankets, I don't do much with my car. My dad does the rest for me." she

Car care tips for the winter season

Cold weather can wreak havoc on your vehicle, causing it not to start or be unsafe to drive. In addition to keeping blankets in the trunk, there are several precautions you can take to prepare your vehicle for cold weather.

For a car: A tune-up

A tune-up costs about $50; new parts or unexpected labor costs extra. Some basic things to have checked are -

- spark plugs cooling system
- battery I fuel filter
- air filters hoses
- belts
- tires heater

For a motorcycle: Proper storage

- Special preparations must be made for a motorcycle during the non-rideable months of winter. Motorcycles should be stored in either:
 - A non-humid, moisture-free area, like a garage.
 - 2. Under a sheltered area with a cover that is breathable
- The fuel tank must also be prepared for storage. There are two main methods: 1. Completely drain the fuel tank, leaving it dry for storage. The empty tank
 - should then be sprayed with an anti-rust agent. 2. Fill the tank up with fresh fuel and add a fuel stabilizer.
- it can be charged every two weeks. Source: Ekart Automotive Service, Wildcat Amoco, Snyder's Honda, Honda Motorcycle Winter

The battery should also be removed and stored in an accessible place, where

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

Chester Horse, member of the Kiowa tribe, speaks to a small crowd about the importance of the eagle in American Indian culture.

EAGLES

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"So many times there's so much negative about the environment," Dierks said.

"I think this is kind of the light at the end of the tunnel."

Pat Silovsky, director of the Nature Center, said there are about 500 to 600 wild bald eagles that migrate to Kansas each winter.

There have been as many as 175 eagles at Milford Reservoir, she said. The bald eagle is unique because

City Farmers Surplus Flea Market Open:

Tues. - Fri. 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Sat. & Sun. 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Appliances, furniture, household items, jewelry and clothing, sporting goods, tools, medical supplies, lawn equipment, antiques, home maintenance items, knick knacks and A LOT MORE. (A little bit of everything new and used at affordable prices.)

We Buy Used 501 Levis

201 S. 4th St., Manhattan, Kansas (the old Sears building) 539-8579

Want to work out and wish you could?

You're In, You're Out, at Cottonwood.

COTTONWOOD Racquet Club.

3615 Claffin • 776-6060 aight west on Claffin. Next to Amanda Arnold Ele

Pregnancy Testing Center

539-3338

- Free pregnancy testing
- Totally confidential service
- ·Same day results ·Call for appointment

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

it is only in North America, Silovsky

The bald eagle acquires its distinguishable white head and tail after four to five years. Before bald eagles acquire the white, they are a plain brown color and are considered immature eagles, she said.

Chester Horse, a member of the Kiowa tribe, spoke during a session about the eagle in American Indian

"The bird has so much to offer me," he said.

Chester Horse said his great grandfather, Hunting Horse, taught him as a child about the eagle, but he said he did not understand the importance until recently.

"I didn't have the spirit of God in me then as I do today," he said.

LIVE - TONIGHT

Everyone's Favorite

Six Minutes Down

BLAZING PIANOS!

Th., Fri., Sat.,

Rowdy Trouty's

1209 Laramie • 776-2424

GOT A RUSTY HORN?*

WE'VE GOT A BAND FOR YOU!

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY BANDS!

You've been meaning to get it out and practice, but it's not much fun playing the bassoon part to Holst's First Suite by yourself. It's missing a lot. And so are YOU! If you enjoyed a musical experience in high school, continue it NOW. Music is NOT for music majors alone.

Before you toss the idea aside, come to the Band Office in Room 226 in McCain Auditorium to sign up to learn more about the band programs on campus.

BE APART OF A GREAT BAND TRADITION!

MUS 116 17660 MWF 12:30-1:30 McCain 201 KSU BANDS PHONE - 532-5740

* If you have no horn at all, we will find one for you

FITNESS & AEROBIC CENTER

Experience Manhattan's Largest and Most Complete Fitness Club

Week FREE!

Aerobics

Whirl Pool

· Personal Trainers Nautilus Machines

Tanning Beds

Free Weights

· Racquetball

Massage Therapist

· Nursery/Child Care

 Silde Aerobics Juice Bar Cardio Equipment

• Toning Classes

· Sauna

Nutritional Counsel

Special runs Jan 24 - May 24

776-1654 1100 Moro Manhattan

Proud sponsor of KSU Cheerleaders & Classy Cats Cash/Check/MC, VISA "In Historic Aggieville" Discover, AE

Historian: Little-noticed statue may be a Michelangelo work

Associated Press

NEW YORK - A little-noticed statue of Cupid in the lobby of a building across the street from the Metropolitan Museum of Art may be a priceless masterpiece: a missing Michelangelo.

The 3-foot statue of a naked, curlyheaded boy with a blissful expression and a quiver of arrows strapped to his back has been sitting in plain view since the building was completed in

But it is only in the past three months that art historian Kathleen Weil-Garris Brandt has been sure that the sculpture is a Michelangelo.

"It's of monumental importance," said Philippe de Montebello, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

You are dealing with one of the greatest creative geniuses of all time. And there are no other sculptures by Michelangelo in America."

Beyond the statue's value to artlovers and historians is the irony that it had been seen by thousands - including museum experts, renowned architects and many others - before Brandt recognized it.

At a news conference Tuesday, she recalled walking many times past the Fifth Avenue building, which houses cultural offices for the French Embassy, before she noticed the lobby brilliantly lit for a party last October.

Peering through the windows, she saw the statue and was astounded.

"It was clear we were dealing not with a garden statue, not an imitation, but an important work," Brandt said.

A photo of the piece had appeared in a catalog for a 1902 sale in London, which described it as being from the school of Michelangelo.

The sculpture wasn't sold and disappeared.

Three years later, the building's architect, Stanford White, bought the sculpture in Italy for his Renaissancestyle rotunda, thinking it was a newly unearthed antiquity.

The statue has been sitting on a stone pedestal in the lobby since 1908, encircled by 16 marble columns beneath a ceiling inlaid with carved trellises and pastel frescoes of

In 1952, the French government bought the building from the family of the original owner, financier Payne

Discover the Manhattan

market...

Advertise in the

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

532-6560

TROPICAL BACK-TO-SCHOOL

"When The Beach Is Out Of Reach" *10 WOLFF SYSTEM TANNING BEDS

•STAND-UP BOOTH

•WALK-INS WELCOME

•APPOINTMENTS AVAILABLE SPECIAL PACKAGE DEALS OFFERED YEAR ROUND

1814 CLAFLIN (2nd LEVEL-ABOVE CHARLIE'S) Exp. 1-31-96

SPECIAL 10 tans for $25

Serving Both Professional & Student Clientele

NEW CANDLEWOOD LOCATION Manhattan's Original Wolff Systems Center Great New West Side Location

Open Year-Round With Convenient Hours

Southern Sun

Keep Your Tan Glowing With Us!

776-8060

232 KIMBALL (NEXT TO BOBBY T'S)

Always Great Bulbs at the Best Prices

We'd like to say we can give you results in a week. We can't. We can only give you results.

Lifesteps':

Weight Management is an lifelong habits isn't easy and that

What you will learn

· how to set realistic goals · how to cat healthfully and · how to include regular exercise.

Want to learn more about it? Be sure to attend the free introductory session on Monday, January 29 at noon.

MEMORIAL

- Colored

MUSICAL PERFORMANCE

Expressive violist visiting

QUICKread

Tim Deighton, a University of Kansas araduate student and award-winning violist, will be performing Thursday Jessica White

The emotion of the viola can be experienced at 8 p.m. Thursday in All Faiths Chapel when Tim Deighton, an award-winning violist, per-

Cora Cooper, assistant professor of music, described Deighton as a very clean player but very expressive.

She said she would encourage students to attend the concert. "It's a rarity to hear a solo violist here," she said. "The viola is a beautiful sound. It's so rich and warm."

The program includes William Walton's "Viola Concerto," J.S. Bach's "Sonata for Viola and Piano," and Paul Hindemith's "Sonata for Viola and Piano." Deighton's program is very difficult, Cooper said.

Deighton earned his bachelor of music degree with honors from Victoria University in Wellington, New Zealand, and was a member of the New Zealand Symphony Orchestra. In 1989 he came to the United States to study at the Hartt School of Music at the University of Hartford in Connecticut, where he was concertmaster of the Hartt Symphony Orchestra.

Deighton was also a winner of the Emerson String Quartet competition.

The Emerson String Quartet is one of the top quartets in the world, according to Cooper. It auditions people from all over the world, then the winners get to work with the Emerson Quartet in an intensive training program, Cooper said.

Deighton is currently pursuing a doctorate in musical arts in violin and viola at the University of Kansas.

Deighton is one of the guest artists scheduled to perform this semester for the community. Karen Clarke, a professor from Florida State University, is scheduled to play a program of pieces by women composers March 13.

CLINTON tinue negotiating the differences.

We cannot go back to citizens were left to fend

BILL CLINTON

the time when our

for themselves.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

welfare and giving parents more control over schools.

Clinton's speech provided a clear counterpoint to the Republican agenda. He challenged their stands on welfare reform, tax cuts, the minimum wage, health insurance, Medicare and Medicaid, environmental cleanup, crime-fighting and foreign policy. Many Congressional Republicans especially among the 73 House freshmen - are furious with Clinton for frustrating passage of the GOP Contract For America. Yet, advised to be civil by party leaders, the Republicans lawmakers were on their best behavior, even when Clinton was most critical of their agenda. Each side found something different to cheer. GOP lawmakers led the applause when Clinton declared that the era of big government was over. Democrats initiated the clapping at the president's next sentence: "We cannot go back to the time when our citizens were left to fend for themselves.

The budget crisis loomed paramount over the House chamber. The next budget deadline comes at midnight Friday with the expiration of a temporary spending measure that has kept much of the government open.

I am convinced we will balance the budget," Clinton said, adding, "Now is the time to finish the job." He said both sides should lock in

No Basic Training

agreed-upon budget savings and con-

In a slap at Republicans, Clinton declared that lawmakers should "never - ever" shut the government again. "And on behalf of all Americans, I challenge Congress to preserve the full faith and credit of the United States, to honor our obligations as we have for 220 years, to rise above partisanship and pass a straightforward extension of the debt

On other sensitive points, Clinton urged Congress to enact a welfare plan, replacing the Republican version he vetoed, and to > increase the minimum wage, which the GOP has opposed. He also urged a tax cut for working families, failing to acknowledge the Republicans' own taxcut plan that was part of the GOP budget that Clinton vetoed.

Again and again, Clinton urged Americans to work together.

After ticking off several old and new government initiatives, he said, "None of this will work unless all of you, every person in America, reach across the lines that divide us and try to find common

Despite budget restraints, Clinton outlined a handful of initiatives, proposing a $1,000 merit scholarship for the top 5 percent of all high school graduates. Aides said it would cost taxpavers $125 million.

With Republicans controlling the legislative agenda, Clinton's proposals are unlikely to see the light of day, especially in an election year.

WANTED

Prior Service

Veterans

Hold the Same Rank that you had when you got out up to E-6

Continue Serving America - Kansas - Your Local Community

Earn as much as $218.88 a weekend!!

Kansas Army National Guard

This Week's Specials

Taco Burgers 2 for $1.70 (reg. 4.25 eq.)

Burrito Dinner 3.05 (reg. 4.00) Good through 1-27-96

Where good friends get together

2809 Claffin 539-2091

TACO HUT

CALL TODAY: 913-537-4108

Continue Working Toward your Military Retirement

Other proposals:

■ Tax incentives for businesses that clean up abandoned properties.

Expansion of a federally funded college work-study program to 1 million students, up from 700,000 now. He also called for all schools to be linked together through the information superhighway.

■ An FBI-led war against youth gangs. "We should take on gangs the way we took on the mob," White House chief of staff Leon Panetta

■ Legislation protecting workers' pensions and insure health care benefits for employees when they change jobs or have pre-existing conditions.

He challenged Hollywood producers to provide entertainment their own children would enjoy and urged a TV ratings system much like the movies. He invited entertainment leaders to the White House to work on ways to clean up television programming.

He also challenged Congress anew to give him the line-item veto it promised and to adopt a campaign finance reform bill imposing spending limits and lifting broadcast restrictions

Democratic lawmakers were coached to respond with vigorous applause. Republicans were told to be courteous

In the gallery, Hillary Rodham Clinton was making her first public appearance since the announcement she has been subpoenaed to testify under oath before a federal grand jury investigating Whitewater.

Following a tradition started by Ronald Reagan, Clinton invited a handful of guests to share front-row seats with the first lady.

World's Greatest Haircut

Among them were Sgt. Jennifor Rodgers, 30, one of the first officers to reach the site of the federal build-to ing bombing in Oklahoma City lastyear, Massachusetts mill owner Aaron Feuerstein, who kept his employees on the payroll despite a fire that destroyed his factory, and relatives of an Army sergeant serving in Bosnia.

Others included Holocaust survivor Elie Wiesel and Mayors Norman Rice of Seattle and Richard Daley of Chicago.

On his own, Clinton announced an executive order banning federal contracts with companies that hire illegal. aliens - a practice already outlawed by Congress.

Further, he announced a "onestrike-and-you're-out" policy that would give public housing authorities the power to evict any tenant found with guns or drugs or continually involved in drug trafficking.

And he named Army Gen. Barry McCaffrey, now leader of the U.S. Southern Command headquartered in Panama, as the administration's new drug policy director.

Foreign-policy problems also got attention in Clinton's speech, with the president arguing that the United States must not retreat from its global leadership role and pointing toward progress in Haiti, Bosnia, Northern Ireland and the Middle East.

Clinton repeated his call for Senate ratification of the START II treaty and a chemical weapons accord, and also urged support for a global accord banning nuclear tests.

Diet Cures What Diet Causes

Food Supplements Special Dietary Foods Body Building Foods Homeopathies

Natural Foods Appliances Books Herbs

Hansen Nutrition Center

3112 Anderson Ave. 537-4571

Mon.-Sat. 9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

COLORADO BALLET*

Thursday, January 25, 8 p.m.
Experience exhilarating dance with a triple bill of works by the 20th century's greatest choreographer, George Balanchine: Serenode, Apollo and Rubies.

"The dancers are first-class - attractive, stage-wise and technically on a level with America's top companies." -Dance Magazine

Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Center Pub/Fac $20,$18,$14 Sr. Cit $18,$16,$12 Stu/Child $10,$9,$7

CRAZY FOR YOU

Thursday, February 1, 8 p.m. This all-singing, all-dancing musical copped the 1992 Tony Award for Best Musical and features such Gershwin classics as "I Got Rhythm." Crazy for You "is heaven on earth - everything a musical comedy should be."-The New Yorker Cornorate support by Kansas Farm Bureau

Pub/Fac $30, $25, $20 Sr. Cit $28, $23, $18 Stu/Child $15, $12.50, $10

DIRECTED BY GROVER MITCHELL

aturday, February 3, 8 p.m. lig Band sound delivered by 19 jazz pros. If their concert doesn't make you tap your feet, you should

e shopping for a gravestone. n with the KSU Jazz Festivo

Sr.Ck $18 Stu/Child $10

OSHUA REDMAN, SAXOPHONE* Thursday, February 8, 8 p.m.

If you thought Harvard produced only ivory tower types, come hear a sax player called the Michael Jordon of Jazz. But instead of flying through the air. Redman honks, squeals, growls and wails without losing his melodic sense. Marsalis brothers, move over Joshua Redman's at the head of the class. Corporate support by Security National Bank. Pub/Fac $18 Sr. Cit. $16

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

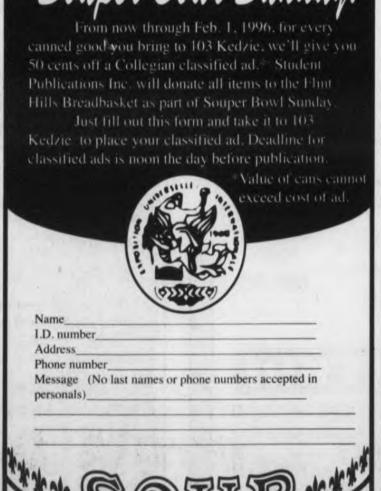

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets. Events in the McCain Performance Series are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays. Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information

*Presented in part by the Yansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal

All dates and artists subject to change without notice

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

KEDZIE 103 (EAST OF THE UNION)

Reg. $795 BUT WITH COUPON * VILLAGE PLAZA 539-4043 (Near ALCO) 431 E. Poyntz 776-6410 (K-MART PLAZA) OPEN NIGHTS AND SUNDAYS JUST DROP IN!

KSU STUDENTS ONLY!

OFF COUPON

COLORADO BALLET Thursday, January 25, 8 p.m.

Experience exhilarating dance with a trio of works by the 20th century's greatest choreographer, George Balanchine: Serenade, Apollo and Rubies.

"The dancers are first class – attractive, stage-wise and technically on a level with America's top companies." - Dance Magazine.

Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Center.

Pub/Fac $20, $18, $14 Sr. Cit $18, $16, $12 Stu/Child $10, $9, $7

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office. Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets Events in the McCain Performance Series are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information

*Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

All dates and artists subject to change without n ***

■ Wasted Potential, a jazz group, will perform tonight at Auntie Mae's Parlor.

Six Minutes Down will perform tonight at Rowdy Trouty's.

Diversions

WEDNESDAY January 24, 1996

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 — criley@ksu.edu

► CROSSWORD ACROSS 38 Physique 1 Teensy part 5 St. leader 8 Church section

12 Entertainer Falana 13 Wish undone 14 Entreat 15 Bunker

Hill commander 17 Actor Auberjonois 18 Method 19 Storedoor sign

22 Crosby's pal 23 Rock band's equipment 26 Ring decision 28 Law-

21 Crafty

partner 31 Prohibits 33 Killer whale 35 Friend of

XWW,

LARGE CROWDS.

36 Take care

rence's

40 Antiquity 1 Jungfrau 41 Antitoxins 2 Conser-43 Natalie's father 3 Bullring 45 Pebbles 47 It takes guts to 4 Schoonmake one 5 Russian 51 Fashion et al.

DOWN

vative

bravos

er's staffs

president of the 1980s

comple-

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 ! 99¢ perminute, touch-

S,W V E

DFKWB

HND -

tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

DADT RNE RU EZW VWD.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: I LEARNED THAT THE STREET-CORNER ARTIST MANAGED TO DRAW SOME

Today's Cryptoquip clue: U equals F

BFUUC UFHKWH

AE

chic

52 Reputation of success 54 Square 55 Vandal 56 Singer Tori 57 Takes a mate

58 Rubber tree plant mover 59 Kin of 35 Across? Solution time: 21 mins.

Yesterday's answer

by Eugene Sheffer 11 Ogled

▶ FOXTROT

CHECKMATE

DOOG AND BLAIR

16 Scot, e.g. 20 Diary 23 Stomach muscles for short 24 Daisy -

25 Foreshadowed 27 Ball 29 Singer Tillis 30 Put a stop to

6 No longer 32 John Paul 7 Forage of the plant Supreme 8 Suitable Court 34 Nunnery 9 Maintain 10 Having the 37 Galena, e.g. 39 Lecturer's full marble platform 42 Greek opener 44 Wreck beyond repair 45 Expanded

> 48 South American capital 49 Composer Stravinsky 50 Monster's

53 Sequence

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

by Justin Stahlman

by Bill Amend

ANOTHER

by Mark Ilich

THE PROBLEM WITH LAPTOPS IS THERE'S

NO PLUG TO

THE WALL.

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

Welcome back, Smatterings fans. Yes, Smatterings continues on bravely, undaunted, unhindered and will do so in perpetuity, or at least until I graduate.

This semester, Smatterings will be going through some changes. The biggest and most important change will be that Smatterings will become your forum for lameness, as well as mine. I can only come up with a limited amount of lame stuff every week, so your contributions are being

If you have questions about banal issues or observe lame stuff in life, on campus or in your food - let us know. You can send or drop off a letter in care of the Collegian, or you can join the 20th century and e-mail it to (collegn@ksu.ksu.edu).

Miller

We may not use all of your contributions, or we may only use them in our on-line edition, the E-Collegian, as space permits. All will be considered, and at the very least each contribution will be used to potty train a puppy. Thanks and remember, NO POETRY.

If you don't swallow the worm, the United Nations will impose sanctions.

Jose Cuervo, the world's largest tequila manufacturer, has petitioned the United Nations to recognize an 8acre island the corporation owns in the Caribbean as the Republic of Cuervo Gold. "If Libya can be a nation, why can't we?" Cuervo spokesman Steve Goldstein quipped in USA Today, apparently unaware that advanced civilization has flourished in Libya for the past 2,500 years or so. To add insult to injury, Cuervo is also trying to get the Cuervo Goldian volleyball team into the 1996 Summer Olympics. Be on the lookout for the results of the Olympics' alcohol tests for those athletes. My money says the second-biggest industry in Cuervo Gold will be liver transplants, right behind

Instead of buying the book, I'll wait for the movie. Sylvia Branzei has written a book sure to please anyone with Beavis and Butt-Head's tastes but a higher reading level. "Grossology" chronicles and explains various bodily discharges, excretions, emissions, secretions and nearly any other mysterious yet disgusting corporeal phenomenon. She claims to have been inspired to write "Grossology" while clipping her toenails and examining the toe jam underneath them. The book is said to be selling well, according to the Associated Press. "I write a book about boogers and farts, and I'm sitting on a gold mine," Branzei said. "I never thought this was what America wanted." If she is lucky, she might get to do a guest voice over on an upcoming episode of "Ren and Stimpy."

·This week's Worthless Obnoxious Word (W.O.W.). stag-na'tion 1. any sovereign state in which all of the men are required by law to attend dances and parties without dates.

·This week's Stupid Internet News Group (S.I.N.)

It's a forum for fans of one of the worst things to come out of Japan since the kamikaze pilot, the alternative band Shonen Knife. I expect the hottest topics will be along the lines of "When are they going to learn to play their instruments?" ·This week's Pathetic Internet Site Suggestion (P.I.S.S.) (http://www.xnet.com/~chriss/drinks)

It's the first week of school, you have no homework, and you want to party. OK, instead of drinking the same swill you've been imbibing since junior high, check out some of these drinks. Better yet, order one by name at

POETRY READING

> Listen to others read your own. Union Station

Monday, February 5 9:00 p.m. Refreshments following

Carried San Comment

Union Program Office - 3rd floor of the K-State Student Union - 532-6571

January 27, 1996 Union Station 9:00 pm R&B, Hip Hop Live Music K-State Student Union UPC Multicultural Committee

Excursion to Bass Pro Shop in Springfield, MO February 2-4

Info Meeting: January 23 Student Union Room 203, 7:00 pm Participant's Meeting: February 1 Student Union 203, 7:00 pm

China Berlin

PRINT AND POSTER SALE

8:00 am - 5:00 p.m. - Today through Friday 1st floor Alcove, Student Union Circles Student Union

THOUSANDS OF PRINTS AVAILABLE

Astronaut TK

The Real Story Behind Apollo 13

Tuesday, February 6, 1996 McCain Auditorium 7:00 pm Admission FREE

W. State Student Union

BUDGET

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

allocated for the utilities base budget. "We also knew we would be $200,000 short on our revenue from tuition - mainly because of downsizing at Fort Riley - and the governor funded that," he said.

"He has clearly identified higher education as a priority," he said.

Rawson said the capital improvements bond issues will mean $1.6 million more for the expansion of Farrell Library, leaving only $5 million more to be privately raised for furnishings and equipment.

The bulk of the bond money will go to enhance classroom space, meet Americans with Disabilities Act requirements, and improve fire safety, Rawson said.

"The governor thought it was something we could not ignore," Timmer

She said it has been difficult in the past to find a way to fund classroom rehabilitation.

The bond issues will be paid from the Educational Building Fund, a onemill state levy which raises around $17 million a year to be solely spent on regents' institution buildings, Timmer

Another boon to K-State was the governor's support of the tuition accountability proposal. This proposal would let K-State and the University of Kansas control the revenue earned from tuition, as opposed to the revenue being included in a state general fund and then reallocated to each university.

Rawson said this concept is being used in the enhancement of the College of Veterinary Medicine. He said the University wishes to increase the program size from 90 students per class

Through tuition accountability, the increased revenue from the increased tuition would remain in the College of Veterinary Medicine to be used for improvement "It's the only major program enhancement at K-State," Rawson said. Another program enhancement proposal, a $250,000 allocation to Farrell Library to hire professional staff for the new expansion, was not recommended, Rawson said. The money needed to increase the staff would now have to come from an internal reallocation of University money, he said.

An enrollment growth-related allocation to K-State-Salina was also not recommended, he said.

Rawson said the governor's funding recommendations still fall very short of the Board of Regents' request.

However, Rawson said the whole legislative process still lies ahead.

The governor's recommendations have been presented to the Senate Ways and Means Committee and the House Appropriations Committee for review already. After passing those two committees, each bill will be presented on the floor of the respective bodies. The Senate will vote in mid-March while the House will vote in mid-April, barring any interruptions.

Sen. Dave Kerr, R-Hutchinson, and chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, said his committee has looked at the recommendations but has yet to look at the funding requests.

Kerr said there are several subcommittees which are compiling information regarding the regents' budget pro-

The actual budget process does not begin for another few weeks, he said.

Because education amounts to more than half of the state budget, Kerr said his committee spends the bulk of its time working on it.

Kerr said he thinks Graves' budget s pretty well on-target, although it does help to be working with people of similar philosophy. 'In some ways, this year's budget was made easier because we have In some ways, this year's very little money." budget was made easier Kerr said.

Timmer said the recommendations' prospects in the Senate and House are good.

There is a great deal of support and understanding for higher education, she said.

However, Timmer said there is some opposition to the capital improvements

Work Study

Office work study position

available in the Office of Services; 10-12 hrs./wk., must be able to work noon-1

p.m. lunch hour; secretarial

work. Application deadline is 4 p.m., Monday, Jan. 29.

Student Activities and because we have very

SEN. DAVE KERR

R-HUTCHINSON

Office of Student Activities & Services

little money.

"There are two schools of thought on the issue," she said.

One school is the legislators who want to take advantage of low interest rates and low construction costs to improve campuses and the other school of legislators who do not like the idea of debt in any circumstances, she said.

The items in the regents' request which were not recommended funding were unfunded due to a lack of money, Timmer said.

In an interview with the Wichita Eagle, Graves said this year is tough financially "in large part because of the tax cuts we agreed to in the

'95 session." Graves went on to say he is opposed to a tax cut in 1996 but would favor one in 1997.

Not just a night spot

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths

This coupon good for a

Exp. 3/1/96

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE

10 Tans $25

Regular Beds

Exp. 1/31/96

1125 LARAMIE

4 Tans $68 plus Accelerator 2 free low pressure tans

776-2426

TANNING

NURSERY

Student Senate Positions

Student Senate Secretary Application due Friday, Jan. 26.

Student Senate Parliamentarian Application due Friday, Jan. 26.

Pick up a position description at: Office of Student Activities & Services K-State Student Union

Quality Natural Foods at Co-op Prices.

- Bulk herbs •Organic grains and flours
- Organic produce Natural frozen foods and tempeh
- · A pleasing variety of domestic and imported cheese
- Great Plains Bread from Salina Bulk honey
- •Nut butters •Dried Fruits •Nuts •Coffee •Tea
- •Health and Beauty aids •Vitamins

People's Grocery

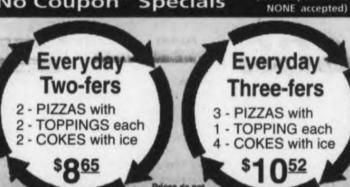

· Cooperative · 811 Colorado 539-4811

Member Owned-Open to everyone

'No Coupon" Specials

(NO coupon needed,

Pizza Shuttle 776-5577

STEP AEROBICS

WEIGHTS

TREADMILL

SAUNA

FITNESS SHOULD BE A PART OF YOUR DAY.

WE'D LIKE TO BE A PART OF LIFECYCLES YOUR LIFE.

Personal Trainers

STAIRCLIMBER

"Ask about our Semester Special and Group Rates"

THE LADIES

F·I·T·N·E·S·S C·L·U·B

1104 WATERS

776-6469

Classifieds

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

Announcements

Wedding Open House Saturday and Sunday

Jan. 27 & 28

Register for FREE Prizes!

DMr. P's Tarty Outlet 318 Poyntz = Manhattan, KS 66502 913-776-7547

COLLEGE CREDIT- EX perienced instruction, complete certification. Next scubs class filling fast. Call now 539-DIVE. Aggle Dive Shop, 1124 Moro.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five sir-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

KSU SCUBA NAUI or YMCA certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539-8763

for information and

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism breakthrough. Guaranteed hour free information (800)256-7515.

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism breakthrough. Guaranteed. Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Viss. 24 hour free information: (800)229-7562.

Lost and Found

Found ade can be placed free for three days.

BRACELET FOUND. Call 539-9283, evenings to identify.

WOMAN'S WATCH in Ei-senhower Hall in De-cember. Call 532-6904.

Parties-n-More

O A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at rea-sonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

REAL ESTATE Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures nance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

Apts. Furnished AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

ROOMMATE FEMALE wanted one-half block from campus. Available immediately. I'll pay a first months rent. 537-1359. ROOMMATE NEEDED to share three-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, partially fur-nished. $175 a month plus one-third utilities. Call 539-1063.

STUDIO, ONE, two, three-bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished. Clean and quiet surroundings six or nine-month lease. No pets. 537-8389.

> CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS Corner of College and

Claflin, Manhattan 1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments Deck/Patios for each unit On-Site Gym, Pool and Laundry

* Covered Parking 2 BR - $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735

4 BR - $860 & $880 Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday by Appointment

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM

NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428

For Rent-Unfurnished

> Leasing now thru August Fremont Apts.

> > Sandstone Aprs.

College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts. Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064

Sat. 10-3 p.m. AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included. Call 776-3804.

Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m.

across from KSU, One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537–2332. APARTMENT FOR rent. Very near campus. Clean and new. $385

plus utilities. Available

(913)455-3433. Leave

You Deserve The Best

▲ 2 bedroom apartments ▲ Great location ▲ Large bedrooms ▲ Two bathrooms ▲ Walk-in closets ▲ Washer/dryer

hook-ups

▲ Fireplaces ▲ Large pool NOW LEASING JUNE & AUGUST

776-8641 Open Houses Daily The Curlin Company

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom spartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

AVAILABLE NOW, across from Aggieville and campus Spacious one or two-bedroom with AVAILABLE NOW. One-bedroom. 820 Osage. $360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-lowed. Call now 776-3804.

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM

THREE-BED ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer. Gas and water split Electricity separate. Trash paid. $450/ month 1110 Coloredo, 537-9023.

CRESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345. FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE in Jenuary, 1611 Laramie, $600, Water, tresh paid, Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804. sun porch, formal din-ing room, washer and dryer, 537–1940. FOUR-BEDROOM

HARDWOOD arched doorways. Heat-ing paid and free laun-dry, two-bedroom. Available now. $400. 776-3143.

K-STATE UNION

HALL ROOM 103

MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays)

KEDZIE

OFFICE HOURS

HEATING PAID. Free laundry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143. LARGE, QUIET, one-bedroom apartment in a six-plex. Living room, dining area, kitchen, and bath, and a walk-in closet. Cats permitted. Phone 537–7087. LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776–3804.

NEWLY REMODELED one bedroom. One-half block from campus. Discount on rent for 12-month leases. For de-tails, call (816)224-9796.

ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse.

Newly carpeted 537-9188 or 537-1550. ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT in basement. nice, clean, quiet. $315/ month plus utilities. 539-7244.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash peld. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM BASE MENT, two blocks from campus $225. 637-1940. ONE-BEDROOM FUR-NISHED/ unfurnished

Available now. $300 537-7138.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAF KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting $435. Water, trash paid 776-3804.

Place Apartment. $345 per month plus utilities

ONE-BEDROOM

January free. New car pet. Extra clean 537-5198. PARK PLACE APART MENTS leasing one two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools hot tub, horseshoes volleyball. 1413 Cam bridge #8, 539-2951.

ROYAL TOWERS. Four YAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trast paid. Hot tubs, dish washer, microwave laundry facilities. Cal now 776-3804.

STUDIO AVAILABLE now

THREE-BEDROOM APART MENT, water and trasl paid. 1114 Vattier, $500 month. 539–5729. THREE-BEDROOM, BASE

MENT apartment avail able immediately, laun dry facilities accessible off-street parking, 15 minute walk to campui $399/ month. Ca 537-3826, ask for John

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL O-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January. 1026 Osage, $485. Water trash paid. No pets. Cal now 776-3804.

Collegian Classifieds

TWO-BEDROOM O-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH PAID. $480.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX, four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Avail-able now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month. paid. (913)379-5450.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

TWO-BEDROOM. Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

For Rent-

Houses

AVAILABLE IMME DIATELY. Four-bed close to campus.

FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM house, short term lease, $700. Available now, 537-7138

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH study. Close to campus 1021 McCollum $600 Washer, dryer provided. Pets allowed.Call 776-3804.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please 539-1554.

TWO-BEDROOM, bath, house available. Feb. 1; all appliances plus washer/ dryer in cluded, storage $390, month. Will pay half first months's rent. 2216 Blaker St. Call 539-4713 for informa-

Roommate

A STEAL! Female room mate wanted to share four-bedroom, two bath house, close to campus. Lease through May $180/ month and one-fourth utilities. Wash/ dry, dishwasher. Central heat and air. Very nice! Call 587-0769.

AVAILABLE NOW- Very nice four-bedroom townhouse, three bath, washer/ dryer. $415/month plus one-fourth utilities. Call 776-3843.

FEBRUARY RENT free. For Female, non-smoking To share three-bedroom and one and one half bath. Low one half bath. Low one-third utilities. Electric heating/ cooling. Great landlord. $175. Call 587-0521 as soon as

FEMALE ROOMMATE needed to share house with female and male Own room, washer/ dryer. Non-smoker, no pets. Four blocks from campus. $150/ month one-third utilities

MALE ROOMMATE wanted: $183/ month plus one-third utilities. Furnished, next to cam-pus. Call 537-5107.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted, Two-bedroom apartment, five very nice, convenient area. $212.50 per month. Can occupy im-mediately. Contact Shanna. (913)384-5065.

FEMALE ROOMMATE(S) needed to share four-bedroom, two bath house, one block from campus, washer/ dryer dishwasher, flexible rent and lease length. Available Jan. 1. Call

FEMALE/ MALE room mates wanted to share five-bedroom house. Two blocks off campus. $140/ Month plus utili-ties. Call 587-1969 leave

HEY! APARTMENT across from the Union. $200 all utilities paid. Split cable and phone. Call 537-1651, leave mes-

MALE OR female roomnice two-bedroom home. Each bedroom has own bath. Washer/ dryer, half utilities. Call 776-5009.

MALE OR female room mate wanted. rooms available. Large house. $250 a month. All utilities paid. One-half block from cam-pus. Call 776-6039.

MALE OR female room-mate wanted. Two-lev-el, four-bedroom du-plex. $180 and onefourth of utilities. Call 776-0055.

MALE ROOMMATE want ed to share two-bedroom apartment at Chase Manhattan. $285/ month plus one-half utilities. 776–1411, ask for Troy.

MALE/ FEMALE nonsmoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus one-half bills. Frank 539-8786

LE/ FEMALE non-smoker for two-bed-room. Close to campus/ Aggleville. $190 plus part utilities, Call Brian 537,6134 FEMALE

MALE/ FEMALE smoker, one-third bills, one-third rent, awn room close to campus, and Aggieville, 587-9606. NEED: MALE to complete three-bedroom fur-nished basement apart-ment, $200/ month plus one-seventh utilities Lease ends May 31 Close to Aggieville. (913)632-5211 after

NEWER HOME, master bedroom and three-fourth bath, big closet. All utilities paid. Avail-able immediately. $350/ monthly. 537-1439. NON-SMOKING FEMALE

roommate wanted to share a nice two-bed-room apartment. $150 plus electric bill. Available immediately. Call 776-3212. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of ment. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.

NON-SMOKING FEMALES. farmhouse, barn for horse, cattle, dogs, 150 Acre pasture, $225, month or semester. Possible rent in ex-change for cattle chores, 776-1205.

OWN ROOM for male roommate in three-bed-room apartment. $225 a month and one-third utilities. No deposit,

ROOMMATE TO share two-bedroom apartment. One-half utilities. One block from campus. Call 539-4301.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities, 587-9439.

ROOMMATE WANTED, next to campus. Large, private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294.

ROOMMATES OR subleasing until July 31, nice two-bedroom apart-ment. One block from campus. Rent negoti-able 587-0542 leave

ROOMMATES WANTED, non-smokers, located off campus. Nice apartment with big rooms, call Scott after 5p.m. 587-8365.

SHARE WITH two other guys. 1630 Leaven-worth. $160/ month each. (913)383-2590.

TO SHARE three-bedroom apartment, south of campus, close to Ag-gieville, $225.Call 587-0494. TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur-nished basement apart-ment. Laundry fur-nished, for males, non-smoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539–1554. WALK TO campus. Own room, laundry, storage. $187.50 plus one-fourth utilities through May 31. 776-5834.

Sublease APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry facilities. Pets allowed. Contact John at 537-6058. ROOMMATE FEMALE needed to share well-kept, two-bedroom apartment plus one-half utilities. 814 Thurston. 537-2407. Call after 5p.m. or leave a

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to campus in house, please Joyce

SUBLEASE SPRING semester 1996, rent ne-gotiable, 587-9519.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease, $480/ month. Water/ trash paid. Also has dishwasher, washer/ dryer. 776-7792.

DIRECTORY

Will design your own home page on the internet using your K-State computer ac-count. Call Frank, count. 539-2603.

Child Care

CHILDREN'S PALACE, li-censed daycare has openings. All ages. Lots of TLC. Fun, learning, environment. Fenced yard. A step in the right direction. Call Amy (913)494-2324.

Other Services

PREE MONEY- Think it's too good to be true? Well believe me it's not. Let me show you how to get free money through scholarships fryou're interested in finding out more about this exciting offer give us a call to set up an ap-pointment. Call Margie or Charlie at MC Con-sultants. (913)456-7176. Don't delay. People are rushing to get their

NEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-MONEY ents. Immediate qualification. Call (800)270-2744. Open

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D. Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

Nutritional

Weight Loss

WANTED 100 students to lose 8- 100 pounds. New metabolism breakthrough. I lost 15 pounds in 3 weeks. R.N. assisted. Guaranteed re-sults. $35. (800)579-1634.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he' she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$100,000 FIRST Year com missions possible. We need recruiters, train-ers, and managers. 24 hour recorded message. (800)289-5685

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-

$40,000/ YEAR incompotential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-

HOURS - That's right! You receive $15 each You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Manhattan Biomedical Center. 1130 Gardenway. 9a.m.— 6:30p.m., M— F, 9a.m.— 2p.m. Saturday. 776–9177. Across from Westloop.

"ATTENTION MAN-HATTAN" DO YOU ENJOY DRIVING? USD 383 is looking for people interested in becoming school bus driv-ers. All training will be provided including CDL licensing. Part-time $6.50 per hour plus benefits. Apply to USD383, 2031 Poyntz Ave., Manhattan, K 66502. 587-2000 EOE.

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-A57683.

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. DANBEE FOR GIRLS.
Western Massachusetts. Over 100 positions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Waterski, WSI's and terski, WSI's an more!!!! No previou experience required Top salaries, room and board, and travel alboard, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27-28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men cell: JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

ARE YOU ready for a fun filled summer? Have you ever experienced the satisfaction of havthe satisfaction of having made a difference in a child's life? Here's an opportunity to answer yes to both of these questions. Camp
Birchwood and Gunflint Wilderness Camp, two small northern Minnesota children's camps, seek counselors for employment beginning ployment beginning June 6. Experience in one of the following acone of the following ac tivity areas desirable horseback riding, sail-ing, tennis successions. REWARDING, EXCITING ping, biking, fishing, windsurfing, dance or sailing. For additional information and an application (800)451-5270.

Over $6 Billion in public and private sector is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information (800)263-6495

ATTENTION STUD-ENTS: Earn extra cash 'stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-sponse.

ATTENTION: LOSE up to 30 pounds in 30 days for $30. Why wait? Start today! 539-8256.

CAMP COUNSELORS for of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canoeing, crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the outdoors. Lifeguard help-ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details, send inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wild-wood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS

CAMP TAKAJO for boys.
Outstanding Maine
camp noted for magnificent lakefront set ting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 pofacilities. Over 100 positions for heads and assistants in tennis, baseball, basketball, soccer, lacrosse, golf, street
hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, canoeing, waterskiing,
scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, journalism, photography, videography, woodworking, ceramics, crafts, drawing and
painting, nature study,
radio and electronics, dramatics, piano acdramatics, piano ac-companist, music in-strumentalist, band di-rector, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewa-ter canoeing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), sec-retarial. June 17-Auretarial. June 17-Au-gust18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union.

Walk-ins Welcome. CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus month. World travel Seasonal and full-time positions. No experi ence necessary,. For formation c (206)971-3550 ext.C57684. DELIVERY PERSON need ed. Please come to 1304 Westloop Shopping Center. 539–8888.

FARM HELP Wanted- Experience required. Call 12:00 to 5:00 days (913)457-3788, nights (913)457-3713 or (913)457-3452

HARVEST HELP NEED ED. We run three new 2188's Case International combines, three new Chevy automatic twinscrew trucks. Star Room and board pro-vided. Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting (913)689-4660.

JOBS IN the Great Out doors- National Parks Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-

KAW VALLEY Greenhous es needs quality peo-ple. Call 776-8585, Mon-day through Friday bet-ween 4 and 5p.m.

KSU STUDENT help need ed. Work in green-house, tree packing and seedling nursery. Four hours work, blocks re-quired from 8a.m. to noon and/ or 1-5p.m. Start immediately, $4.25/ hour. Apply at Kansas State and Ex-tension Forestry 2610 Claffin Road.

OCCASIONAL BABYSIT-TER in our home for preschool child. 532-1989 or 532-7968.

PART-TIME BABYSITTER PART-TIME HELP in day care needed, Mon. 12-3, Wed. 12-3, Fri. 12-5, $4.50 hour, 539-8554.

RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing, Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specif-ically designed for recent college graduates.
Call or send resume.
6900 College Blvd,
#1000 Overland Park,
KS 66211, ATTN: Pam Swedlund (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.

REFERENCE LIBRARIAN. 25 hours/ week Bachelors degree re-quired, previous library experience preferred. experience preferred.
Send resume, letter of application and references by Jan. 29, to Susan Moyer, Library Director, Dorothy
Bramlage Public Library. 230 W. 7th St, Junction City, KS 66441.

students- camp coun selor positions avail-able in the Colorado Rockies. Backpacking, Western riding, water activities, natural science and many outdoor programs. Write: Sanborn Western Camps, P.O. Box 167, Florissant, CO 80816.

STUDENT COMPUTER
Consultant: 12 or more hours per week. Experience with both Mainframe and Microcomputers, along with employment GPA and employment potential of two years given pref-erence. Contact Ralph Wasmer in Room 9 Fairchild Hall by 5p.m. Monday, February 5, 1996 for application. NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE!

STUDENT COMPUTER Op-erator: 10-30 hours per week. Must be willing to work third shift, school recesses and summer months. Operate large scale com puter operating system and interact with com-puter user community. Must be fully responsible and a dependable student. Applications can be picked up by Fri-day, January 26, 1996, in Farrell Library Room

STUDENT DISPATCH/ Con-trol Clerk: Work 15- 30 hours per week. Must be willing to work sum-mers and during school breaks. Job involves working with main-frame computer users and delivering printouts across campus more years employ-ment potential will be given preference. Stop by Room 2 in Farrell by Room 2 in Farrell Li-brary for application be-fore 4p.m. Friday, Janu-ary 26, 1996.

STUDENT NETWORK-ING ASSISTANT: The Department of Communications, Information and Educa tional Technology has an opening available for a bright, enthusiasfor a bright, enthusias-tic student with a high level of integrity and good interpersonal and problem solving skills. Must have knowledge of PC's, MS-DOS and Windows. Will be re-sponsible for monitoring computer net works, installing and supporting compute software and research ing new products. Knowledge of PC hard-ware, Novell Netware and TCP/ IP based software is a plus. IET offers flexible hours and competitive pay; 15- 25 hours/ week during hours/ week during school year and 15- 40 hours during summer. Applications available in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, Janu-ary 26, 1996.

STUDENT OFFICE recep hours per week. Work study desired, but not required. Application review will begin Wed-nesday, January 24. Application available in the Department of Me-chanical Engineering, 302 Durland Hall.

STUDENT PROGRAM MER: The Departm formation & Educational Technology has an opening available for a self-motivated student with excellent student with excertent programming skills. Expertise in C or C++ is required. Knowledge of Windows, Visual Basic and other PC based software is a plus. IET offers flexible hours and competitive pay: and competitive pay; 15-20 hours/ week dur-ing school year and 20-40 hours during summer. Applications available in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, January 26, 1996.

STUDENT WORKER to assist with Conference Registration, 10- 15 hours per week during the school year, fulltime through the sum-mer. Required skills in-clude a friendly and outgoing personality, fa-miliarity with KSU, computer data entry, at-tention to detail, especially filing and organ-izing work priorities. Apply at Conference Registration in Con tinuing Education, 141 College Court Building (1615 Anderson Ave.), 532-5569 by January

STUDENT'S DREAM – Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your schedule, all natural products. Doctor recom-mended. Increases energy, mental alertness. 539-7336.

SUCCESSFUL UNDER-GRADUATES are now being recruited by the Academic Assistance Center to serve as Enhanced University Experience Leaders during fall semester 1996.
Specific duties include 1) leading a section of the Enhanced University Experience which inity Experience which introduces freshmen to the academic skills and techniques necessary to achieve academic success; 2) leading a study session for a so-cial science, science, or mathematics class; 3) mathematics cless; 3) attending the class which corresponds to the study session; and 4) attending and participating in weekly staff meetings. We are looking for applicants who feel confident in their ability to be a student role model, are committed to the concept of academic success for all students, desire to of academic success for all students, desire to teach others how to learn, are able to relate to many types of peo-ple, and have a solid grade point average. A time commitment of 10-12 hours per week will be required during fall 1996 at a salary of $750 for the semester. Students who are selected ents who are selected for the position must successfully complete a training class, EDCEP 311 Guidance for the Paraprofessional, for three hours of academic credit. If you are interested in the position.

terested in the position, contact the Academic Assistance Center in Holton 101 or call 532-6492 for further information prior to January 29. SUMMER JOBS- female counselors for children's camp northeast. Top salary, Room and board, laundry, travel allowance. Must have skill in one of the fol lowing activities: archery, arts and crafts (ce ramics, stain-glass, jew ramics, stain-glass, jew-elry), athletic trainer, basketball, canoeing, kayaking, dance (tap, pointe, jazz, modern jazz), drama, field hock-ey, golf, gymnastics (in-structors or qualified spotters), horseback rid-ing, burg seat lacrosse ing- hunt seat, lacrosse, nature, photography, videographer, piano accompanist, pioneering camp craft, ropes (in nerquest- ropes chal-lenge course, 25 stations), sailing, soccer, softball, tennis, theater technicians, track and field, volleyball, W.S.I./Swim instructors, windsurfing. Also opportunities for kitchen cooks, maintenance nurses, secretaries. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771. Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Student Union Rooms 203 and

295. No appointment necessary. SUMMER ORIENTA-TION LEADER. New Student Services will be interviewing and hir-ing orientation leaders for the 1996 Summer Orientation/ Enrollment Program, Applications are available in 1 Anderson Hall (lower lev-el). There will be an in-formational meeting on Thursday, January 25 at 8p.m. in Room 213, K-State Student Union. If there are any questions, please contact Gary Pierson at 532-6318. A completed application must be submitted by 5p.m. Monday, February 5,

Tennis jobs - Summer children's camp - northeast - good tennis background, college-level player who can teach children to play tennis. Good salary, room, board and laundry, travel allowance. travel allowance.
Call 1-800-838VEGA or write:
Camp Vega for girls,
P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m. Student Rooms 203 and 205. No appointment nec-

THE DEPARTMENT Anatomy and Physiology invites applica-tions for a part-time Laboratory Instructor position in the College of Veterinary Medicine. This is a ninemonth, non-tenure ac cruing position with a one-year appointment Continuation is de pendent on availability of resources and teach-ing performance. Can-didates should have a strong interest in com parative veterinary anatomy and be able to contribute to teamtaught gross anatomy courses for first year ve-terinary students. Appointment begins Au-gust 15, 1996. DVM re-quired. Applications should include a resume and names of three references. Ap plications will be re ceived until March 1 ceived until March 1, 1996 or until the position is filled. Send applications to: Dr. Jon
D. Dunn, Department Head, Department of Anatomy and Physiology;
VMS 228; Kansas
State University;
1600 Denison Ave.,
Manhattan, KS

66506. KSU is an EOE/AAE.

TIMBER LAKE/ TYLER HILL CAMPS, Top NY and PA resident camps have over 200 summer job openings for quali-fied students and faculty. Counselors, WSI Arts, Athletics Special ists and more!! Best salaries and travel allowance in addition to "the finest summer you'll ever have." On campus interviews Thursday, February 8th. Call Career and Employment Services at 1913/532-6506 for an application and an interthe finest summe plication and an inter view appointmen

TUTORS FOR Intro to Com puter Engineering, Symbolic Logic I, Fund of Company of Computer Pro-gramming, Statistical Methods in Education. Must have A or B in course. Open to under-graduates and graduate students without Assis-tantships. $5 per hour 3 hours per week. Con-tact Educational Sup-port Services, 201 Hol-ton, 532-5642. Waterfront jobs- W.S.L.

Summer children's camp Northeast-teach children to swim, coach swin team, dive, watersk (slalom, trick, bare foot, jumping), sail Good salary, room board, laundry, trav-el allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or 800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union rooms 203 and 205. No appointment necessary.

WELL-ORGANIZED KSU student with top-notch communication skills needed to coordinate statewide information project focusing on elder abuse. Must be a self-starter and be able to work with faculty, students and profes-sional in media and aging field. Genuine concern for older peo ple a must. Some travel may be required. Work study eligibility pre-ferred. Send resume, cover letter and three references to: Screen-ing committee, NC-FH AAA, 437 Houston St., Manhattan, KS 66502. Deadline: January 25, 1996 EOE/AA.

MARKET

Wanted to Buy

WANT TO buy: Diamonds Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're look ing for. Lorin 539-6631

COLOR PRINTER for sale. 600x300 DPI. Mac or IBM compatible. Call 776-0055. Ask for Ni

GE WASHER/ dryer, like new, excellent condi-tion. $600. 537-4639.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Ogden, KS.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Phone 537-5020, Og-

Ti-82, USED only one se-mester, like new. Call 776-8502.

415 Furniture to

Buy/Sell

NICE WOOD computer desk. Bought one year ago for $239. Asking $100. Call Ashley 587-1867 or 539-1103.

QUEEN-SIZED WATERBED frame, base, bladder, heater. Headboard has etched-glass mirror and two lights. $150 or and two lights. $150 best offer, 532-2393.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers 486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1495. 539-8453.

94 ACER 486 DX with CD ROM. lots of software like new, $1700 or best offer. 539-2977 Miles.

APPLE IIE computer and ImageWriter printer. Great condition. Word-processing and other software packages in cluded. $350. Cal 539-3168 after 6p.m. IBM COMPATIBLE 286 computer. Color moni tor, Word Perfect 5.1. Lotus, modem, 2510 dot matrix printer. $300 or best offer. 539-5522 after 6p.m. MACINTOSH LC III, 80 MB hard drive, 8 MB ram, color monitor, printer, lots of software and games. Microsoft Word/ Excel, Sim City 2000, After Dark, great computer for student $1250, 776-4908. MEDIA VISION Pro Audio Spectrum 16 sound card with SCSI port. Software, drives, and data@ksu.ksu.edu TWO TWO meg SIMMS (30 pin, eight bit, non-parity) for Mac LC ser-ies. $150 or best offer,

Music Instruments

532-2393.

FENDER BASSMAN 135 amplifier. Silverface Piggyback with 2X15 speaker cabinet on wheels. Looks good, sounds great. $400 or best offer. Jeff

HARMONY: MUSICAL con cord; agreement; peace and friendship. The Music Co.- redefining the music "industry" at 523 S. 17th St. in the Midtown 539-1958

WANTED TO buy three fourth size violin, call 539-3619.

Pets and Supplies

ADORABLE PUPPIES. Red female, black/ white male. Australian Shepherd/ Labrador cross. $10. Call Ron at 532-7690 or (913)456-7899 evenings.

FISH SPECIAL. Betta, Red-tail shark, Pleco, Black- neons, Angels, fancy Guppies, Serpae tetra, etc. Pets-N-Stuff, 1105 Waters, 539-9494. Limited quantity.

Equipment

JENSEN CAR stereo amp; 40 watts per each of two channels- $60. 537-2497 or data@ksu.ksu.edu

RAW SPEAKERS four 10inch eminence woofers, 12 2 1/2-inch tweeters.

PORTATION

Automobiles

1990 BLACK Ford Tauras excellent condition with alarm. $7000 or best

1995 GRAND AM, red, power windows, ABS, AM/FM cassette, au-

CLEAN 1980 Olds Omega just rebuilt engine, re-ceipts. Four-door, four cylinder, $650 or best offer, 537-4047.

Tour Packages

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND PANAMA CITY BEACH DAYTONA BEACH KEY WEST STEAMBOAT VAIL/BEAVER CREEK

HILTON HEAD ISLAND 1-800-SUNCHASE POLL PREE BOPOSMAPHON & PRESSIVA SE BUT ONE 19 DE SEE STE SE http://www.sunnhabe.com

Spring

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Jamaica/ Cancun $399. Or-ganize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710.

SPRING BREAK'S "Hottest Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island, (800)328-7513 http://www.studen-tadvtrav.com Free food and drink package for early sign-

532-6556

Classified Directory

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for.

Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

DO NOT USE

STEVE HEBERT/Collegian

K-State President Jon Wefald makes his way off the plane after arriving in Leavenworth.

NEFALD

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5

that we feel wanted there." Many of the students said they had expected Wefald to talk extensively about K-State. "I was glad that he didn't talk about K-State the whole time. He gave us a lot of positive things to where," Morris said. After Wefald's speech at Leavenworth High School, he spoke at the Leavenworth Rotary think about that we can use every-

International meeting. During the address, he talked about how K-State had turned around since his arrival in 1986, and his involvement in the process.

Along with changing K-State's image, Wefald said he and his staff faced other problems, including raising the enrollment rates and enlarging the campus.

"We have recruited the best and the brightest in the state, as well as built a new library and a new art museum, but our biggest challenge was to turn around our football program," Wefald said.

"Our program was so bad at one point that we couldn't beat the little sisters of the poor."

Wefald told the students that since the arrival of Bill Snyder, K-State football coach, the program has done a complete turn-around.

"Our success since 1988 has taught many people around the state we never give up," one thing Wefald said.

State Rep. Kenny Wilk, who invited Wefald on the trip to Leavenworth, said he was pleased with the president's address to the high school and the Rotary club.

"I characterize Wefald as an ambassador for education. He's not only out here on behalf of K-State, but he speaks on behalf of all of education across the state of Kansas," Wilk said.

"He's a great spokesman and a great leader.'

On the return-flight, Wefald said that he felt his visit had made a difference to the community of Leavenworth.

"I enjoy being the first president of a major university to speak to students," he said, "especially when I have so many that approach me after to say that my trip made a difference to them and their decision about coming to K-State."

> YBK High Level STAR JAITARM

For Self Defense and Personal Development

For more information Call 537-0732

Wefald talks with Leavenworth High School principal Jim VanMaanen before delivering his speech to the students.

Woody's

featuring 70% Off Fall and Winter Merchandise Some items as low as '8 Mon.-Sat. 10:00-5:30 1225 Moro Thurs, till 8 Aggieville Sun. 1-5

WELCOME BACK,

College students need to save every penny they can. So, drive past those high-priced convenience stores and push on to 3rd Street Battery Center!

Be sure to ask about our frequent fueling discounts and all our best deals from pop to beer to cigarettes!

72 Month Battery

plus tax and trade most cars

Installation always FREE!

WE CARE

WE I.D.

VISA

3rd Street Battery Center

Texaco

917 N. 3rd Street 776-3298 Manhattan, KS 66502

Ben Franklin Ctafts

Your Creative Outlet

SAVE TIME SAVE MONEY

We have the parts for that special project!

- ·Beads ·Balsa ·Art Supplies
- ·Styrofoam ·Yarn

For Your Room...

- ·Posters ·Prints ·Frames ·
- Silk Floral Department

For You...

- Wearable Art Supplies
- Jewelry Supplies
- •Wedding Bouquets & Veils

Open Weekdays till 9

Greek Paddles & Letters Too!

Sauder®

UNASSEMBLED REG. 59.99 DESK / LAMP / CHAIR OUTFIT. Clamp on lamp. Adjustable angle desk top.

UNASSEMBLED REG. 89.99 PEDESTAL ENTERTAINMENT CENTER. Modern design holds TV, VCR and tapes.

3007 ANDERSON MANHATTAN

DAILY: 9 A.M. TO 9 P.M. SUNDAY: 11 A.M. TO 6 P.M.

40% Processing (35mm, 110, 126, C-41)

with processing (AGFA 10/100)

Enlargement

with any Portrait Package valld with any other promoti-Reprint Special

(35mm 110, 126, C-41)

l'ortrait Sitting Proofs with coupon

776-9030

Today: cold and windy. See weather map, page 2.

inside OPINION . page 4 SPORTS . page 6

DIVERSIONS • page 9

Kansas State Historical Soc ety Necestrapet Section January 25, 1996

Exp. Date 80/80

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 79

K-STATE DEFEATS OSU

K-State's Mark Young was named player of the game in last night's 62-59 defeat of the Oklahoma State Cowboys. The Cats will take on the Missouri Tigers in Columbia, Mo., at 3p.m. on Saturday.

• page 6

SPEED LIMIT

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Cold catch

David Tesene.

Manhattan resident, fishes for crappie near Big Dawg Marina at the rocks at Tuttle Creek Reservoir Wednesday afternoon. Tesene caught four crappie while fishing through the refrozen, 8-inch ice at the Reservoir. He said that it has been about five years since the weather has gotten cold enough to freeze the area lakes enough for ice fishing.

SHANE KEYSER

FINANCIAL AID

Government shutdown stops GI Bill benefits

Veterans' benefits hotline

The Department of Veterans Affairs' national toll-free hotline is 1-800-827-1000. The hotline can answer any questions about veteran

Money for 365 K-State students who receive monthly benefits provided by the Montgomery GI Bill, Chapter 30, has been delayed as a result of workers being furloughed at distribution centers.

Benefits for Chapter 30 are received when a veteran is enrolled full time at K-State. To remain eligible for these benefits veterans must return certificates verifying their enrollment each month.

The distribution center in St. Louis that handles veterans' claims for K-State was shut down Dec. 16 and reopened Jan. 8. Paperwork sent to St. Louis during the shutdown was not processed until workers returned.

The paperwork was sent to St. Louis on time, but it just sat there," said Lorene Dahm, director of Veteran's Affairs at K-State. Although more than 110, 000 verifications were not processed nationwide, Dahm has not had any complaints from students at K-State. "Students who have sent in verification but have not received payment should contact registration about a deferment," she said.

A full deferment was available at fee payment through the Office of Student Financial Assistance.

The Regional Office of Veteran's Affairs in Wichita said 162,000 certificates of verification were sent to veterans nationwide in December, but only 56,000 were returned by the Jan. 3 deadline.

"If your certificate was not returned on time, you *can expect about a three-week delay," said Dave Murach, public affairs spokesman of Wichita Veteran's Affairs.

"Any students who do experience delays should contact us immediately," he said.

The government shutdown could cause more problems for student veterans and, many are looking at the probability of more complications Jan. 26 when the government might shut down again.

• See GI BILL Page 5

70 speeding closer into law

■ The House reviews speed limits, hospitals and licenses.

Associated Press

TOPEKA - While the House took a large step Wednesday toward setting speed limits in Kansas, it appeared a proposal to close two state hospitals could be stuck in the slow lane.

The House seems to have found the numbers a majority of its members likes in its debate over speed limits: 70, 65 and five.

A bill that would allow motorists in Kansas to drive 70 mph on four-lane highways and 65 mph on two-lane highways emerged largely unscathed from the Wednesday debate.

House members tentatively approved it on a voice vote and will take a final vote on Thursday. Passage would send it to the Senate, which also

The only significant change came when representatives endorsed an insurance "buffer," which would protect drivers who are caught speeding but do not exceed the speed limit by more than 5 mph. It had been 10 mph as the bill came out of com-

Current speed limits are 65 mph for interstate highways outside urban areas and 55 mph for all other highways. Those rates had been set by Congress, but now states can set limits for them-

"I think we've got a good compromise here, and I think we ought to leave the bill as it is," said Rep. Kenneth King, R-Leon, chairman of the House Transportation Committee House members thought the 10 mph buffer too generous and likely to encourage too much speeding. They voted 71-47 to decrease it.

But while the speed limit bill was moving along, progress on the hospital closure proposal appears to have stalled.

Rochelle Chronister, secretary of Social and Rehabilitation Services, told the House Appropriations Committee that if she does not have a plan to move patients by April, she will ask the Legislature to delay closing the hospitals.

"We are not going to turn anybody on the street," she said. "If it is necessary to ask for an extension of time, I will stand before this committee and do that.'

The Hospital Closure Commission, created by the 1995 Legislature, decided in October that Topeka State Hospital should be the mental health hospital and Winfield State Hospital the mental retardation hospital to close as Kansas reduces patient populations in its seven institutions.

The commission recommended the state shut down the two hospitals by Dec. 31, 1997.

People who want to fake an identity by getting a false driver's license could face a year in prison under a bill endorsed by the House Transportation

The bill would change the penalty from a misdemeanor to a low-level felony for anyone convicted of illegally acquiring a driver's license.

- STATE

'Zero tolerance' for young drinkers

State could lose $6.9 million if new law doesn't pass

Associated Press

TOPEKA - The chairman of the House Judiciary Comm said a "zero tolerance" bill mak-ing it illegal for drivers under age 21 to have alcohol in their systems likely will pass this Chairman Michael O'Neal, Chairman Michael O'Neal, R-Hutchinson, said Tuesday after his committee heard testi-mony on the bill that would lower the legal blood alcohol count from .08 to .02 that the state could lose millions of fed-eral dollars if it does not pass the legislation.

"That's a pretty big carrot to dangle in from of the House," he Rosalie Thornburgh, transportation bureau chief for the Kansas Department of Transportation, said if the Kansas Legislature does not enact a zero tolerance law by 1998, Kansas could stand to lose

$6.9 million in federal highway funds in 1999 and $13.9 million in the year 2000.

in the year 2000.

The bill's advocates also say such a law could send a message to drivers younger than 21 that drinking alechol for them is against the law.

"There are a lot of folks out there that don't understand why there aren't some consequences for those folks," said Stan Stewart whose 3-year-old son was killed when a teen-ager who had been drinking hit his wife's ."They're laughing at us right now as they drive home."

CONSUMER AFFAIRS

Stolen books hurt student checkbooks

JIII Story

It is time to brave the crowds at the bookstores, stand in line for an hour, and shell out a couple hundred dollars on a semester's worth of textbooks.

But some students choose to acquire their textbooks by stealing them from fellow students or from Nathan Bagby, junior in construction science, said he had a textbook stolen from his residence hall lobby his freshman year.

"They should get a job and buy their own books," Bagby said of textbook thieves. Although it is a crime, the temptation to save money and steal books exists. But some students said it is not an option. "I was brought up well," Jeff Sommerfield, freshman in business management, said. "I wouldn't do Jeremy McFadden, junior in accounting, said if he saw someone he knew taking a book, he would probably try to make them feel guilty.

"I don't think it's very fair to the people who own the books," McFadden said. Only one student said she had even considered taking a book. "If I needed the book and it was really, really expensive, I'd be tempted to take it. Wouldn't you?" Dawn Phelps, freshman in social work, said.

"I'd never do it though," she said. Bookstores have an ongoing problem with text-

Union Bookstore manager Kay Farley said she considered textbook theft a big problem at the Union but declined to comment on the methods used to

"If a $45 College Algebra book is stolen, we have to sell 19.97 more books just to recover the cost of

• See BOOKS Page 5

In the news

▶ NEW SYSTEM PROMISES TO VIRTUALLY ELIMINATE PIG-WASTE SPILLS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) - New systems being installed by a corporate hog operation will virtually eliminate the chance of waste spills and meet the requirements of a settlement with the state over spills that killed more than 266,000 fish, the company said.

Premium Standard Farms Inc. of Princeton, Mo., said it is spending $1.2 million to prevent further spills at its farms on scattered sites in three northern Missouri counties.

NEW YORK (AP) -

The federal budget deadwarning Wednesday from one of Wall Street's chief lower its quality rating on Service marked the most dramatic reaction vet in the financial world over the possibility of a first-ever default by the U.S.

placing Treasury bonds with interest payments

due Feb. 29 and April 6

on review for possible

- Americans will soon

made with the first zero-

Administration approved

Procter & Gamble Co.'s

olestra Wednesday,

some scientists who gerous.

against the protests of called the fake fat dan-consumers that olestra

testinal side effects as

The FDA warned

can cause such gastroin-

The Food and Drug

be eating potato chips

calorie artificial fat.

Moody's said it was

WASHINGTON (AP)

FDA APPROVES FAKE FAT

government

$387 billion in Treasury

lock drew an ominous

credit-rating services, which threatened to

The move by

Moody's Investors

debt.

▶ CREDITOR THREATENS TREASURY

downgrade.'

"The positions being taken in the current debate over the budget significantly increased the risk of a default on the above-mentioned security obligations,"

Moody's said.

and the debt ceiling have

A downgrade would

U.S. Treasury bonds

be a blow to the government's creditworthiness.

because they are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States gov-are regarded as the safest in the world

ernment, which has obligations.

never defaulted on its diarrhea and can literally wash out of the body certain nutrients, particularly

But the FDA concluded that while some peounpleasant, it is safe for eat in potato chips and other snack foods - as long as the foods bear a label warning of those side effects.

the general population to

ple will find olestra

when eaten along with that lunchtime bowl of soup or pile of carrot

"Look at the redundancy we've got built into it," company vice president Rick Anderson said this week.

Anderson said the new system would also meet the requirements of proposed state legislation regulating corporate hog farms.

It consists of containment berms, installing automatic shut-off valves and improved training and inspections.

Television cameras will be snaked through the pipes to satisfy

DNR concerns that the work is done properly. The cameras could also be used in the future for inspections.

"Our directive from the president of our company was to make it 100 percent fail-safe," said Anderson. "We're at 99.99 percent."

Premium Standard Farms operated for seven years without a spill, but then had six in August and September and a seventh in late December.

SOLDIER REFUSES TO SERVE U.N.

WUERZBURG, Germany (AP) - A U.S. soldier whose refusal to serve under U.N. command was lauded by conservatives but called a potential "cancer" by the U.S. Army, was convicted of disobedience Wednesday and given a bad-conduct discharge.

Spc. Michael New, 22. is the first American serviceman court-martialed for refusing to accept foreign command on a United Nations oper-

The jury could have slapped New with a dishonorable discharge, six months' incarceration and a loss of pay. New's attorney said he thought the less-severe sentence indicated the jury believed New's concerns were legitimate.

New, a medic from Conroe, Texas, stood impassively as the sevenman jury returned the verdict after 20 minutes of deliberation.

Outside the courtroom at Leighton Barracks U.S. Army base, New smiled again when reporters asked him how he felt, but he did not answer any questions. His attorneys said he would appeal.

CARS COLLIDE, INJURING 1

An automobile accident late Wednesday afternoon involving two K-state students left one man injured.

The two-car accident. occurred at the entrance to Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex on Denison Avenue. Campus police said that Kirk Dubois, sophomore in social science, sustained a minor injury when his vehicle collided into an automobile owned by Andrew Timmons, junior in social science.

Officer Louise Serris said the accident occurred when Timmons' car stopped and Dubois, not seeing the vehicle ahead, collided into the rear end of Timmon's automobile.

Officer Louise Serris said that Dubois refused treatment at the scene.

Serris reported there were more than $500 in damages, and both cars were towed from the scene.

Abbi Hake

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24

At 4:13 p.m., John Rivoldini, 300 block of N. 15th Street, reported a

At 4:48 p.m., Jeri Slagle reported a telephone removed from Eisenhower on warrant for misdemeanor checks block of Freeman Road reported a possible DUI of someone driving a white car that went through her yard.

At 9:26 p.m., three male suspects with possible controlled substances were standing around watching people near the Park Place Apartments at 1413 Cambridge Place. An officer advised the subjects.

At 9:05 p.m., a resident in the 4500

Bond was set at $250.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 23

At 6:28 p.m., Karren Baird-Olson, in the 1200 block of E. Mariatt Avenue, reported she was receiving harassing phone calls.

At 7:35 p.m., Dillons, 1000 Westloop, reported Lea Meghan Marn, 15, 2200 Elco Circle, had taken seous cosmetics that were returned. Loss was $14.17. Marn was eleased to her parents. At 7:50 p.m., Justin Heider, 1410

Watson Place, Apt. 4, was arrested

At 12:21 a.m., David Black, 719 Allison Ave., was advised of a noise complaint. Black complied with the officer's request to turn the music

At 1 a.m., Pat Boetticher, 1300 block of Pierre Street, reported three subjects with a flashlight were open-ing vehicle doors. Officers were unable to locate subjects. Vehicles were entered, but nothing was taken. A neighbor in the 1100 block of Pierre Street was notified that his or her

Today

Denver

lows

Yesterday's

highs and

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24 vehicle was also entered, but nothing

> At 1:39 a.m., John Gamino, 1000 block of Houston Street, was arrested on warrant for a pro tion. Bond was set at $750.

At 2:23 a.m., Charles Champion, 108 S. Michigan St., reported having chest pains, possibly a heart attack At 5:12 a.m., in the 100 block of Tuttle Creek Boulevard, Philip Hewins was given a notice to appear for driving on a suspended license.

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

■ A memorial support group for friends of Jennifer tonight in Union Station. A New Student Services summer orientation leader information meeting will be at 8 tonight in Union 213.

Ruben Beltran del Rio will present a doctoral dissertation at 10:30 this morning in Durland 236. ■ Swimming 1 and Fitness

Swimming classes at UFM are available for one hour of K-State credit, Call UFM at 539-8763. Students who took DAS

115, Orientation to Health Careers, in fall 1995 should pick up speaker notes in ■ Career and Employment

Services will conduct a CES

BULLETINS

■ Pre-Vet Club meets at 7:30

tonight in Trotter 201. ■ The Jardine Resident

Council will meet at 6 tonight in the Thomas J. Frith Community Center. Lutheran Campus Ministry will have supper and a Bible study at 6 tonight at the Baptist Campus Center, 1801 ■ The Community Service

Program tutoring orientation meeting will meet at 5 tonight

■ The Food Science Club will meet at 5:30 tonight in Call

Internet Orientation to the Job Search at 7 tonight in Durland

Review sessions for the DAT, MCAT and OAT will be from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due in Deans' offices by Feb.

■ Volunteer to help an international student practice English. Contact Jim Endrizzi at the International Stude Center at 532-6448.

WIC healthy foods and nutrition education has open-(pregnant and breast feeding), infants and children up to 5 Health Department at 776-4779 for an appointment.

Mortar Board information sheets are available in the SGA office today. Ag representatives and ambassadors will meet at 6 tonight in Waters Hall 328. KSU Horseman's 6 tonight in Weber Lounge.

Chimes Junior Honorary applications are available in the SGA office or by calling 539-2365 ext. 131. Applicati are due by 4 p.m. Feb. 16.

Blue Key Senior

Leadership Honorary applica-tions are available in the Dean of Student Life and the SGA offices. Applications are due

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, a published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 100, Manhattan, Kan.

66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Karn., 66502.

Russell 41/12

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 96506-7167.

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Windy and cold with a 20-

Low from 10 to 15.

percent chance for light snow.

Morning high in the lower 30s.

Garden City

48/12

A 30-percent chance for light snow. Cold with a high from 15-20.

MANHATTAN

39/8

41/11

43/12 .

Omaha

Topeka 30/10

40/17

Tulsa

Kansas

City 25/7

STATE OUTLOOK Turning colder and becoming windy with a chance for snow in the north. Highs in the lower 20s in the northwest to the mid-40s in the southeast. Temperatures falling in the afternoon in most areas. St. Louis possesses the potential for i.

*Special pricing for philanthropies Package Deal:

- Room with large dance floor Iternative food & beverage - Cash Bar - Insurance cel • e • brate \ se-la-brate \ vb 1: to honor (as a holiday) by solemn ceremonies or by refraining from ordinary business 2: to observe a notable occasion with festivities $n - \text{cel} \cdot \text{e} \cdot \text{bration} \cdot \text{se-le} \cdot \text{bration}$ shen\ adj

Everyone welcome.

The celebration begins at 3 p.m. Jan. 26, 1996 in the Union Courtyard.

SCOTT M. LADD/Collegian

Outside of Denison Hall, Alicia Armstrong, junior in interior design, takes a smoke break as she reads a collection of short stories. The respite from cold temperatures made it comfortable for her, Armstrong said. However, a front moving in the next few days will cause temperatures to drop and possesses the potential for snow and sleet.

Miss your paper? Dial up the E-Collegian via the World Wide Web. http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

MLK WEEK

Renovation helps hospital

Brett Mast

A "phoenix rising" were the words used by Alexa Donaphin, principal architect in charge, to describe the project to replace the existing North General Hospital in Harlem, New York.

The hospital, which once was an aging, dysfunctional structure, has been rebuilt, leading the way for other projects of its kind in Harlem.

In her speech "North General Hospital: A Phoenix Arises in Harlem," Wednesday in the Union Little Theater, Donaphin presented slides and detailed the entire project to illustrate the amount of improvement that has occurred to the surrounding area.

Donaphin said the initial evaluation of the North General Hospital revealed the building was not up to standards in many areas.

"This building was inadequate in almost every respect," Donaphin said.

She also said she realized that merely renovating it would not be an acceptable solution.

"It would be like putting a Band-Aid on a hemorrhage," Donaphin said. She said it also became apparent that the best solution would be to build a new structure.

Donaphin's efforts led to a decision to replace the existing building with a new, $65 million hospital that eventually was built two blocks away.

The new 240-bed facility has 280,000 square feet of space. This increased the bed count by 50 while also improving the quality of the facil-

Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week

January 22 - 28, 1996

Today, Jan. 25

11:30 a.m. College of Education seminar: "Education and Non-Violence: Questions Children Ask" in Bluemont 016.

Friday, Jan. 26

Martin Luther King Jr. All-University Convocation Lecture: 10:30 a.m. "When the Silent Should Speak," by Patricia Russell-McCloud, renowned orator and president of Russell-McCloud and Associates in McCain Auditorium. Martin Luther King Jr. luncheon with remarks by Patricia 11:45 a.m. Russell-McCloud in the Union Flint Hills Room. Call Juanita McGowan at 532-5826 for reservations and more information.

Sunday, Jan. 28

11 a.m. Gospal Service with a performance by "United Black Voices" in All Faiths Chapel.

ities, she said.

Donaphin said she is also proud of the fact that the new facility has acted as a catalyst for the development of the surrounding area.

"Even before the hospital was completed, planning began for housing in the neighborhood," Donaphin said.

One housing project has already been completed in the area, and plans for others are already being worked on. she said. North General Hospital also plans to build an administrative office in the same area.

Donaphin's speech, sponsored by the College of Architecture, was planned as a part of Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week — "Passing the Torch, Igniting the Vision of a New Generation.

Colorado Ballet dances into McCain

Portia Sisco

Childhood dreams of ballerinas and fairy tales will stir once again when the Colorado Ballet dances at 8 tonight in McCain Auditorium.

"It will be the first time I've seen them here," David Frain, special assistant at McCain, said.

The Colorado Ballet has performed for 35 years.

During that time, it has developed into a professional company with a national reputation.

Tonight the dancers will perform three selections originally choreographed by George Balanchine, former ballet master of the New York

These selections have been adaptartistic director Martin Fredmann, who is entering his seventh season with the Colorado Ballet.

"Most of the dancers have Balanchine-style backgrounds," Frain

"Serenade" is a ballet without a true plot. First performed in 1935, "Serenade" is choreographed to the music of Peter Tchaikovsky's "Serenade for Strings." Balanchine choreographed the piece for 17 girls who attended the School of American Ballet. He adapted the piece to include boys before the premiere per-

Based on Greek mythology, 'Apollo" highlights trademark Balanchine movement and style. This classical piece is performed to the score "Apollon Musagete," by Igor formance.

"Rubies" features a solo, a leading couple and a corps of dancers in glittering jewel costumes.

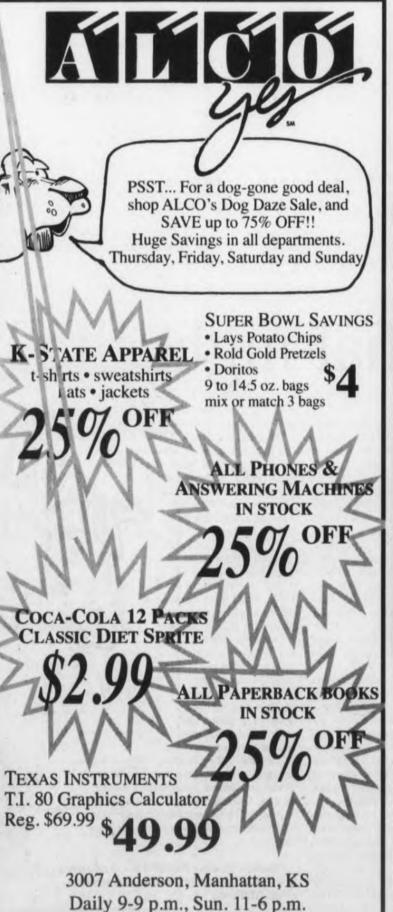

Joyce Yeagerline, K-State dance instructor, will speak on the Balanchine style before the performance at 7:15 tonight in McCain. Her speech is open to the public. Colorado boasts the state's only live orchestra for ballet, the Colorado Ballet Orchestra. It will perform pieces by famous composers, including Tchaikovsky and Stravinsky. Colorado Ballet consists of 25 dancers and various national and international artists. Based in Denver, it was founded in 1951 and achieved the status of a professional ballet company in 1976.

Tickets for the Colorado Ballet are available at McCain Box Office.

Thursday, Feb. 1, 1996, 8 p.m.

McCain Auditorium - KSU Corporate support provided by Kansas Farm Bureau

Pub/Fac $30, $25, $20 Sr. Cit $28, $23, $18 Stu/Child $15, $12.50, $10

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office. Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets

K-State Bank, in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

The Kansas State Collegian is now hiring students as editorial board members. Members are required to come to editorial board meetings at least twice a week and write at least one editorial a week. The position is paid by written editorial, and all majors are encouraged to apply.

Fill out an application in Kedzie 103. Please include writing samples and/or resume.

Do you have an opinion to share? Send a Letter to the Editor by e-mail or snail mail at: Kedzie 116, Attention: Stephanie Fuqua.

COLLEGIANopinion

Raise the athletic fee? Give us a good reason

QUICKread Students and student senators - watch out.

The Athletic Department wants to raise its fee again to fund women's sports required by Title IX.

The K-State Intercollegiate Athletic Department wants to manipulate student senators and student money.

A two-year self-study was conducted to see how the department meets NCAA Athletic Certification requirements, and the department found it needed more funding for women's sports. If it does not find the money, it will get sued.

So where is the first place the head bean-counters look? The students.

Students are already paying the department $17 in student fees each semester, and the athletic department proposed increasing the fee to another $1 per credit hour. That will almost double the amount of money the department receives from students.

Bob Krause, chair of the NCAA Self-Study Steering Committee, said he expects some student opposition.

You better believe it.

The department also has the option of asking the Kansas Legislature for an increase in money, but it thinks the students could be a more constant source of revenue.

Opinion

"We can't have a volatile income ..." Max Urick, director of the athletic department said.

Do not count on us not to be volatile. We love our sports, but we need our money.

Instead, the athletic department, which is a private business dependent on revenues raised during football and basketball seasons, should consider operating like a real business. It should consider restructuring where it money goes within the department.

If the athletic department wants our money, it better give a good reason as to why it can't raise the funds itself.

TOLES

Yes, I admire Hillary Clinton

Myview

Guyton

try not to pay too much attention to politics until election week. Unfortunately, some of the antics of our elected official have made this virtually impossible.

I have noticed that Steven Forbes has a good idea that needs some refinements, and I think everyone else in the Republican party noticed it, too.

I don't think I would trust Bob Dole to water my plants while I was out of town, much less manage the country.

And I also think Newt Gingrich should invest in a stylish pair of chocolate shoes, because every time he opens his mouth lately, he seems to be sticking his foot in it.

I've also noticed that Hillary Rodham Clinton seems to have become the new whipping post of Capitol Hill.

A-ha, I hear you say - Kady is a Democrat. Not so. I just admire Hillary Clinton - a

I have some sympathy for the woman. She's been put through a lot. Being First Lady can't be easy, especially when you graduated from Wellesly, were quoted in Newsweek before you were 25 and had a pretty successful law

Imagine giving all that up to become hostess to the nation.

Hillary has been in the news quite a bit lately for some investments that bombed and some questionable legal work that took place more than three years ago. She gamely agreed to testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee with Barbara Walters as a witness, and they willingly subpoenaed

The question I am left with is what exactly has she done wrong and how, if at all, will this affect the current presidency?

While I am by no means a Washington insider, and I have no more information than any one else, I am going to go out on

Myview

WILLIAM THOMAS

a limb here and make a sugges-

I don't think Hillary has done anything that will threaten the security of the nation.

OK, she had something to do with the firing of the White House travel staff. As far as I know, cronyism is not a good way to win friends, but I don't think it's illegal.

She's also been pretty quick to deny wrongdoing, when it probably would have been better politically to just admit guilt, apologize and be done with it.

I feel sorry for the woman. She's done some brave-things in the past few years. She-didn't necessarily do them well, but she took on some tasks no one else would touch.

She tried to straighten out the nation's health care plan. She didn't manage to do it, but I don't think we're worse off as a nation than before.

She is the first First Lady to write a serious book about something we should all be concerned about - children.

I'm sure that her cat, Socks, will have nothing to do with whether the book is a hit unlike Barbara Bush, who had to rely on the dog.

Hillary even asked "Saturday Night Live" to stop writing sketches about her daughter.

Would your mother do that?

I think if we compare this little slice of history with the past, we can see that the Clintons are small fry compared to some of the people who lived at 1600

Pennsylvania Ave. before them. Thomas Jefferson kept slaves while writing, "All men should be created equal."

Andrew Jackson had the 19thcentury equivalent of a rave at his inauguration.

John Kennedy cheated on his wife. Heck, Bill Clinton cheated on his wife, and we don't hear about that, do we?

Betty Ford was an alcoholic. Nancy Reagan consulted astrologers and didn't return dresses to the people who loaned them to her.

The presidency has a colorful

I sincerely believe Hillary Clinton is as qualified for the job of First Lady as anybody. I don't know if she'd make a better president, but she probably wouldn't be the worst office holder we've ever had.

So my advice to the Republicans is this: Leave Hillary alone, and go after your real target - Bill.

Kady Guyton is a junior in journalism and mass communi-

Trips home bring insight

Welcome back from the holidays.

Those festive times seem almost distant as we near the conclusion of January, but your holiday experience may still be fresh enough to draw some insights

Going home after a time away usually produces two kinds of experiences: There is the return to childhood we all go through, where we immediately feel others hovering over and making decisions for us. Then there is the familiarity in returning to comforts we

Another experience occurs for most of us when we return to a familiar setting after being away, and that is the recognition of things we took for granted or simply did not notice. A guy I grew up with called me recently and described this kind of thing. He went home for the holidays and was shocked to see his brother and his dad are alcoholics (his description). They drank heavily most evenings and got really drunk on the weekends. My friend's disclosure surprised me, too - for different reasons. "Hey," I said. "Your dad and brother always drank like that. Don't you remember?"

I reminded him of when we all went partying together, or the times when we laughed about their antics under the influence. He began to remember these times, too. Part of the difference was that my friend is working, raising kids and doesn't drink much anymore.

Part of the difference in his impressions of home, however, comes from the fact that he was getting a fresh look at something he had lived close to for many years. Events he once took for granted as normal suddenly seemed strange, even a little scary.

If your holiday homecoming brought the kind of new insight that my friend described to me, it may help you to know we all experience some of this in returning to family settings. Talking about it with friends will probably confirm the universality of this, and any surprises you have had in seeing your home, or family, in a new light will seem less unusual than at first.

University Counseling Services in Lafene Health Center is an option for those hoping to check out whether their experiences were "normal" and to talk about the insights gained or insights hoped for. A lot of people, going home after a time away at college, find it is their own behavior that looks abnormal in the family setting. Some students are surprised to find they feel empty or depressed when away from the atmosphere of the campus - others party heavily at home and discover that their family members disap-

MARK Hurst

GUESTcolumn

Some students will recognize that drinking alcohol has become a way of life during the academic term. They may have had trouble reducing their use while away from school. Again, to see oneself in a new light based on a time away from home is nothing unusual. Any of these situations can be the normal process of self-discovery associated with young adulthood, but for some, they are indications that problems with alcohol lay ahead.

If you have concerns about yourself or those you care about, it is probably worth checking things out with a neutral listener.

Mark Hurst is a doctoral intern at University Counseling Services.

Night life? What night life?

I hate this one-horse town.

I love K-State. Monday through Friday it is a great place to go to school, but when the weekend hits, I hate this one-horse town.

I do not hate it because it is a one-horse town, but because it is a one-horse town with 14 bars in one block and nothing else. If, after a tough week of classes, one is not inclined to sit at a local tavern and drink until one pukes, passes out or both, then there is absolutely nothing to do. Trust me I've tried.

After a semester's worth of killing countless numbers of brain cells in the alcoholic's mecca known as Aggieville, I decided to do an experiment in the nonalcoholic night life of Manhattan. My search was fruitless. The fact is, it does not exist. Without alcohol, there is no night life in Manhattan.

It seems to me that K-State students and the surrounding community are the most unimaginative, brain-cell wasting, Coolio-and-Alanis Morissette-listening-to, "Friends"-watching, bar-to-bar-migrating, bad-pick-up-line-using group of people I have encountered in a while. First, let's start with the obvious: the music scene, or lack thereof. Not that I would expect Manhattan to be the next Athens, Austin, Seattle or even (gasp) Lawrence, but there has to be something better than listening to some disc jockey playing the same five songs at a bar so crowded you cannot move.

"Oh no/wait a minute/Don't go there 'cause I ain't wit' it/I ain't your ho/blah, blah, blah."

I mean, yeah, they are good lyrics, (and so insightful) and the thumping bass is really kickin' and all, but still, one can only listen to a bunch of girls screaming so many times.

The only thing Manhattan has that even closely resembles a good place to hear a band is Bombers. But let's face it bringing in Truck Stop Love once a month does not make a music scene. They probably only play here because now that they have hit the big-time (with a small "b"), they feel that they should not forget the little people. Either that or they want to rub it in our faces that they have gotten out.

OK, enough about the pathetic Burdette music scene. Everyone found out we did not have one last semester when only four people showed up for the Matthew Sweet/Soul Asylum show (and they probably won tickets on K-Rock). Big surprise there. Who would want to pay $17 to hear last year's bands, especially since most people in Manhattan already traded their old Soul Asylum albums for the Dangerous Minds soundtrack?

While I'm on the topic of movies, most college towns, or most cities for that matter, have a movie theater that offers the viewer an alternative to watching Kevin Costner or Harrison Ford recreate another tired, old plot. How about an art film, or a film festival, or an animation festival or even a foreign film? Oh, wait - heaven forbid we should be required to read sub-titles in a movie.

Reading? On a weekend? For ... fun? It is not the most abstract idea ever. How about a late night book store? Oh, never mind, perhaps that is going a bit too far. It would probably go bankrupt. After all, a store must have patrons to stay open, and place probably wouldn't survive on the sale of Cliff's Notes alone

The fact is, none of the ideas above would work because of the lack of imagination in Manhattan when it comes to weekend activities. Why try something new when you can sit in a bar, dorm room, frat house, car, under a tree or face down in a gutter and drink beer. What more could a weekend offer? I am sure you are thinking, "Why don't you go to KU you holier-than-thou, pseudo-intellectual, long-haired, sprout-eating, earringwearing, Lawrence boy." But I must admit I don't like Lawrence much better than here, but at least there you can hear a good

William Thomas Burdette is a freshman in political science, journalism and interna-

Rural geography hits K-State

Agricultural strength leads to a new doctoral program

Heather Hollingsworth

In fall 1996, K-State will become the only university in the United States to offer a doctorate program in rural geography.

The strong agricultural expertise at the University was a primary reason for the focus in rural geography, said Steve White, head of the Department of Geography.

"I think this is the right place for a program in rural geography,"

"The reason is we are located at a major land grant university. There is a tremendous amount of expertise on rural issues at the University he said.

Patti Bennett, graduate student in geography, said the program would reflect positively on the entire University.

"There are a lot of different places on campus that work with the rural community," Bennett said. "It's good for all K-State, not just the department."

The addition of a doctorate program in geography will attract outstanding students and grants, White

"It's self-perpetuating," White said. "The Ph.D. program helps you get research grants. Research grants help you get good students. Then if you have a good program, you get more research grants."

Prior to receiving the program, the masters students in geography went on to earn their doctorate degrees at other universities, David Kromm, professor of geography, said.

White said the new program will draw those people to K-State.

"It also allows us to recruit outstanding students. Sstudents who have an interest in rural issues are going to come here rather than some other school," White said.

"We get first crack at all the outstanding students who are interested in studying rural issues," he

With 13'graduate students working on research projects in geography and faculty members earning such prestigious awards as the Van Humble, the department operated as if it had a graduate program in geography even before receiving official approval in June 1995,

"We were a Ph.D. program in all but name only," Kromm said. "The faculty and staff has one of the highest rates in publication and grants in the University.'

Although the addition of the graduate program was considered for several years, it was not until about five years ago that the department considered it a distinct possibility, White said.

"I thing five years ago is when we said, "Rey I think we could pull this off very soon," White said.

Increasing the chances of receiving the doctorate program, the geography department received high ratings in the Roll and Aspiration Review Process, which was mandated by the Kansas Board of Regents.

"The evaluation was designed to determine what programs should be strengthened, and what programs should perhaps be supported less," White said.

"In the case of geography, we came out very well on that process and that helped us sell our program to the Board of Regents," he said.

The addition of the doctorate program only required the addition of one additional professor, which brought the count up from 11 instructors to 12 instructors, White was aided by the minimal costs of implementing the program.

"We are in the position to do this

White said the approval process

tise in place," White said.

"We are not getting any new state appropriations for the Ph.D. program. We may get benefit within the University by some reallocation of T.A. (teaching assistant) positions or something. No new money is being brought into personnel to support the Ph.D. program."

White said the doctorate degree would primarily prepare students for because we already have the exper- a career in academics. But other opportunities were available.

"The primary job opportunities will be academic," White said.

'We're looking at job opportunities in the academic arena for our graduates. But not all, because there are a lot of possibilities in the private sector. There are a lot of people with Ph.D.s in geography who work in the private sector for environmental consulting firms."

BOOKS grams," Farley said.

GOT A DUSTY HODN?*

WE'VE GOT A BAND FOR YOU!

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

BANDS!

You've been meaning to get it out and practice, but it's not much fun playing the bassoon part to Holst's First Suite by yourself. It's missing a lot. And so are YOU! If you enjoyed a musical experience in high school, continue it NOW.

Before you toss the idea aside, come to the Band Office in Room 226 in McCain

BE APART OF A GREAT BAND TRADITION!

MUS 116 17660 MWF 12:30-1:30 McCain 201

KSU BANDS PHONE - 532-5740

Featuring Hollywood & Wild Bill

"The wildest sing-a-long, clapa-long, stand-up, sit-down, embarass your friends, dueling piano show in the world!"

Rowdy Trouty's
1209 Laramie • Aggieville

Expires 3-22-96

Auditorium to sign up to learn more about the band programs on campus.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 the book that was stolen," Farley said.

Farley said the Union Bookstore relies on the awareness of their employees to prevent textbook theft. The issue of training employees to be aware of suspicious activities is addressed at every store meeting.

Security is kept at the forefront of employees' minds in this way, she

Students who steal textbooks at the Union Bookstore are basically stealing from themselves, Farley said.

"It's not stealing from me or the other employees. It's stealing from the students of K-State, since all proceeds

Music is NOT for music majors alone.

from book sales benefit Union pro-

At Varney's Book Store, textbook manager Dan Walter said textbook theft is not a big problem.

"I'm not saying it doesn't happen. We've had problems with that at different times," Walter said. "Actually, we caught someone shoplifting this week because an alert staff member noticed."

A large, attentive staff which has a large amount of contact with customers and small square footage keep theft incidents to a minimum at Varney's, Walters said.

Consequences for textbook theft from bookstores can range from community service and fines all the way up to a year in prison.

If the value of the stolen goods detective, said.

'There's no such crime as shoplifting. The statute code is 21-3701. It's

The judicial board would have a found guilty of the crime.

exceeds $500, then the crime is a felony and the penalties are even worse, Richard Herrman, University called theft," Herrman said.

If the incident occurs at the Union Bookstore and the person accused of the theft is a student, it is a possibility the case will be handled by a Student Governing Association judicial board, said Lisa Heath, graduate assistant for student activities and services.

hearing and could impose sanctions from a warning to an interim suspension or expulsion, if the person is

A LOT CAN BE SAID ABOUT A LITTLE BIT OF SPACE:

it works

lassifieds 532-6555

Government shutdown

The Collegian is running a series about the government shutdown and how it affects K-State.

Stories can also be found in back issues of the Collegian and in the archives of the

http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Series schedule Tuesday shutdown history financial aid Wednesday foreign exchange students military/veterans Today & Friday grants

E-Collegian.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

But Murach said payments will continue on schedule even if there is another shutdown.

"Funding for the GI Bill program has been approved through September," he said. Veterans who were discharged more recently and served at Fort Riley could have had complications with institutions on the post during the first furlough, but that should no longer be a problem, Murach said.

Gary Miles, president of the local 2324 chapter of the American Federation of Government Employees at Fort Riley, said the most recent shutdown has not had many implications on soldiers making the transition to be full-time students.

"One of the 13 appropriations bills, which was passed in the first round of budget talks, was for the defense department," Miles said.

The defense department appropriation bill means government workers at Fort Riley will not be furloughed no matter what happens in upcoming government talks, he

BACK TO BAC Professional Ice Hockey

Tuesday, January 30-Memphis RiverKings 7:00 Start Time

RED LIGHT NIGHT Groups of 20 or more $5 anywhere in the Coliseum

Tuesday, February 6-San Antonio Iguanas 7:00 Start Time

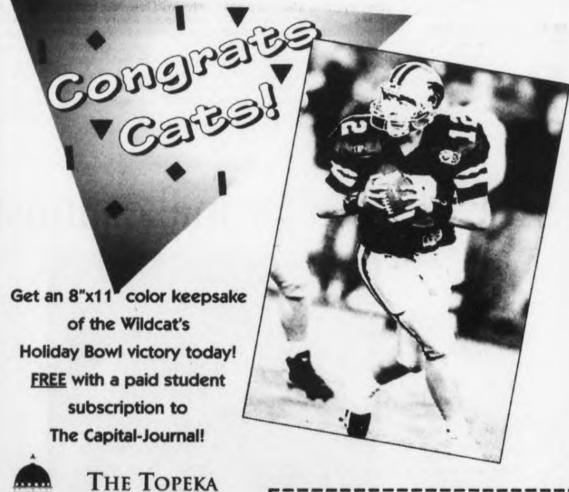

COLLEGE ID NIGHT

$5 tickets anywhere in the Coliseum with valid College ID

COMPAN.

ADULT TICKETS: $10 & $7 Available at Select-A-Seats and Thunder Office located at 4328 E. Kellogg FOR MORE INFO, CALL 264-GOAL

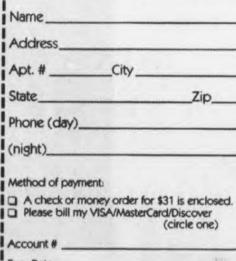

☐ Yes! I'd like to order The Topeka Capital-Journal Back-to-School semester special for only $31! Enclosed is my payment. Please send my subscription and color replica of The Capital-Journal's Holiday Bowl coverage to the address below.

Return this form to: The Topeka Capital-Journal Back-to-School Special • 616 SE Jefferson • Topeka, KS 66607 or call 1-800-777-7171 ext. 140

Note: Only paid orders qualify for the free offer. An example of the replica is pictured at left in black & white. The replica will be 8"x11", in color and is suitable for framing.

Welcome Back, Students!

THIRSTY THURSDAY!

$1.75 SCHOONERS

Only
60 Days 'til
Spring Break! 2 PRINTS FOR
THE DAYS

Use C-41 Processing

There's no better place to take pictures!

628 Tuttle Creek Blvd. • 776-3100

Sports

• tomorrow ■ Read tomorrow's Collegian for a Super Bowl did you know? ■ The K-State men's basketball team is now 10-0 on the season when leading at halftime.

Wildcats slip by Cowboys, 62-59

Todd Stewart

K-State tried and tried, but still the Wildcats couldn't give the game away.

Nonetheless, last night's 62-59 win over Oklahoma State moved the Cats to 13-4 overall and 4-1 in Big 8 play before a season-high crowd of 9,816 at Bramlage Coliseum.

But the win didn't come until the Cats gave the Cowboys several opportunities in the final

With K-State leading 62-59 with 18 seconds left in the game, senior guard Elliot Hatcher missed the second of two free throws to keep the Cowboys within striking distance, and when sophomore forward Mark Young missed both of two free throws with four sec-

Some nights it's pretty. Some nights it's not.

security. said. "I thought the game was over."

But it wasn't, and after the Cats slipped by,

NCAA Tournament using mirrors," Asbury said. "There's no quit in the Cowboys. They're going to beat some people."

The loss dropped the Cowboys to 10-6 overall and 0-4 in the Big 8.

have been the most beautiful to watch but that counted all the same.

"Some nights it's pretty. Some nights, it's who had 12 points apiece.

Sophomore guard Aaron Swartzendruber came off the bench and tied a career high with Junior center Gerald Eaker added eight points but possibly could have had two more.

onds left in the game, Cowboys were given a final chance, but a halfcourt prayer by Cowboys junior Marlon guard Dorsey went unanswered.

Young said he blamed his late missed free throws on himself and a false sense of

"I just wasn't concentrating," Young

K-State coach Tom Asbury credited Oklahoma State coach Eddie Sutton for making the game as tough as it was. "Eddie Sutton doesn't get four teams to the

Asbury said it was a win that might not not," Asbury said. "But it's a win." The Cats were led by Young and Hatcher,

At the 6:10 mark of the second half, Cowboys senior forward Jerome Lambert was whistled for a foul and senior forward Tyrone Davis hit the two ensuing free throws, but was it really Davis who was fouled on the play?

K-State freshman Ayome May and senior guard Elliot Hatcher fight with Oklahoma State guard Jason Skaer for a loose ball in last night's 62-59 Wildcat victory.

Eaker said probably not. "I wasn't going to complain," Eaker said. "Ty made his free throws. I'm not selfish."

The Cats may not be selfish, but the team's best conference start since 1992-93 has built confidence.

After last season's eighth-place conference finish, Asbury said that confidence is the primary difference between the two squads.

"I think we're a much more confident team," Asbury said. "But I think we have to guard against thinking we're a better team than we are. We're not real good yet." Davis, who finished the game with 11 points and eight rebounds, said confidence is coming together," Rhodes said. "We feel like what will keep this team in the right direction.

"We're real confident right now," Davis said. "We know we have to play like this day in and day out."

Freshman forward Shawn Rhodes said he wasn't at all surprised by the Cats' early jump

"I knew we had the tools, and now we are anytime on the floor we have a chance to win." Up next for the Cats is a Saturday afternoon game at Missouri. Young said the win over the Cowboys gives the team momentum heading into Columbia.

"It's a big confidence booster," Young said. "I think we'll be ready for Mizzou. I know they will be."

Swartzendruber makes most of playing time

I'm very happy with my role. I could care less if I

AARON SWARTZENDRUBER

STEVE HEBERT/Collegian

K-State sophomore guard Aaron Swartzendruber dribbles the ball downcourt in last night's win over Oklahoma State. Swartzendruber finished the game with 10 points, four rebounds and two assists in 20 minutes of playing time. For the season, Swartzendruber is 16-of-19 from the free-throw line in the last three minutes of games.

Chris May

When it comes down to the wire, if you are an opponent, you don't want to foul Aaron Swartzendruber. Not when he has confidence on his side.

The sophomore guard has a free-throw record of 16-19 this season in the last three minutes of play. He hit two key free throws in last night's 62-59 win over Oklahoma State. With 34 seconds remaining in last night's game, Swartzendruber put the Wildcats up by five. But that's not the only place where Swartzendruber is a threat.

After going 0-3 with field goals in the first half, Swartzendruber went 3-7 in the second half.

Coach Asbury said confidence was the key to Swartzendruber. "That's why he's playing," Asbury said. "I think his mindset is, 'If I've missed a couple, damn it, I'm going to make the next one.

That is what makes Swartzendruber an asset, Asbury said. "I think that is why he has been so good for us this year," Asbury said. "He's given us a great lift in most games, and I have great confidence in him." Swartzendruber didn't have as much confidence last year because he didn't have enough playing time, Asbury said. "He's getting the playing time now, and his confidence in himself and in the team is growing," he said. "Anytime you win two or three games in a row in the Big 8, it helps out a lot, especially heading out on the road," Swartzendruber Late in the game, Swartzendruber capped off back-to-back-to-back three-pointers, which were started by Mark Young and Elliot Hatcher. He was 0-2 in the first half, but he said that didn't really bother him.

"We hit some big threes, and that's real important," Swartzendruber said.

Swartzendruber said he gives himself a pep talk at the half to help

"Going in at halftime, you just tell yourself to step it up and hit the shots," Swartzendruber said. "If you keep shooting, sooner or later one is going to in."

He said he always had the confidence.

"Inside I think I knew I could perform, but there is always a question mark there until you actually go out and do it," Swartzendruber Working out over the summer, Swartzendruber lifted weights and put on 10-15 pounds, which he said has helped him. "It starts in practice," Swartzendruber said.

Swartzendruber carries out his role coming off the bench, and he said that's just fine with him.

"I'm very happy with my role," Swartzendruber said. "I could care less if I start.

He's glad he's in the game for the crucial moments, Swartzendruber said.

Good for K-State, bad for opponents.

Weather will be no problem in 1996 Olympics

Associated Press

PEACHTREE CITY, Ga. - Everyone knows it's going to be flaming hot in Atlanta during the Olympics.

That's not enough, said forecasters at the National Weather Service, who are readying a futuristic system to pinpoint changes in the climate at the Games.

The weather service on Wednesday unveiled the system, which they described as the most advanced in the world, designed to make detailed forecasts of conditions at each Olympic competition site.

The forecasters said they will be able to alert Olympic organizers, hours in advance, of such minutiae as whether the wind will be blowing at unsafe speeds for divers, if there will be too much dew on the track for cyclists and if lightning could threaten spectators.

Ordinary forecasting equipment offers only generalized information, such as a chance of rain in a broad area, said Lans P. Rothfusz, the forecaster in charge of the Olympic weather center about 40 miles south of Atlanta.

When you walk from a typical forecasting office into the Olympic forecasting office, you're stepping forward about 25 years in technology," Rothfusz said.

The regular forecasters work on an array of computer terminals, each performing a specific function such as tracking temperatures or sky

In the Olympic section is a bank of compact terminals that, Rothfusz said, combine the functions of the others and add vastly greater capabilities. For example, operators who ordinarily transcribe data to make published forecasts will during the Games be able to "paint" conditions on a computer screen, and the information will be automatically transferred to text.

The results will be available to the Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games, news organizations and the public.

The information will be available on weather radios and on the Internet. It is uncertain whether the system will remain in place for general use after the Games.

Marci McNeal

New Presidential Awards for Teaching Excellence will recognize outstanding teaching at K-State.

President Jon Wefald recently established the awards with support from the Curtin Company through the KSU Foundation.

Six Presidential Awards for Teaching Excellence will be given.

The program will offer two awards for outstanding undergraduate faculty members, two awards for outstanding teachers of a freshman orientation or freshman service course and two awards for outstanding graduate teaching assistants.

"The awards will be given regardless of the discipline or college of the recipients," Charles Reagan, assistant to the president, said.

"All nominations will be made by the college deans, including the dean of the Graduate School, after consulting with department heads," he Reagan said each year at least two awards will be given to faculty and graduate teaching assistants in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The final selection of the award winners will be determined by a committee appointed by Provost James Coffman.

"We have so many outstanding teachers here at Kansas State and not all of them can be recognized, but the more awards and public support given to our teachers, the better our University will be," Reagan said.

Wefald will have a reception in April to present the first awards. Recipients will receive a plaque and a $2,000 honorarium.

The Curtin Company is involved in real estate development, property management and brokerage.

SERVICE

for temporarily or permanently disabled students on campus, building to building.

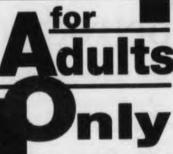

Inquire by calling 532-6441

Welcomes Back all KSU Students.

The Best Little Bar by a Dam Site

6625 Dyer 537-3133

Scholarship opportunities for adult students (full and parttime, undergrad and grad).

> Call for an appointment 532-6434

Adult Student Services

New zoo director arrives with changes

Misty Mayden

The Sunset Zoological Park will begin making some positive changes within the next couple of months when the new zoo director, Scott Shoemaker, takes charge.

Shoemaker was among one of 25 to 30 applicants who applied for the position, but he proved to be the best qualified, said Terry DeWeese, director of Manhattan Parks and Recreation Department

He said he is looking forward to working with Shoemaker.

"Scott Shoemaker brings to Sunset Zoo a cooperative-type effort. His personality is one that makes him good not only with the staff of the zoo, but with the community as well," DeWeese said.

"He understands a wide range of things from public relations to running the technical side of a small zoo."

DeWeese said Shoemaker plans to continue improving the exhibits, events and activities the zoo is undergoing. Some of the things on Shoemaker's agenda include improving the primate living quarters, as well as making sure other animals have a well-maintained and realistic habitat,

DeWeese said. Shoemaker said in an interview Monday that he was impressed with the staff of Sunset Zoo and the overall appearance of the exhibits, DeWeese

He said Shoemaker emphasized the importance of the conservation of species to assure survival.

Shoemaker will be coming to Manhattan in February to begin work. He will be joined by his wife and three Shoemaker received his bachelor's degree in wildlife management from Ohio State University.

He has 16 years of experience working in zoos.

From 1991 to 1995, Shoemaker was the Director of Zoology Operations at Paramount's Kings Island/Wild Animal Habitat in Ohio.

Shoemaker will be replacing Mike Quick, who left the Sunset Zoo director's position last May.

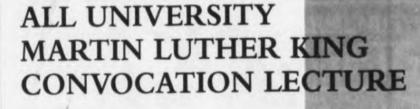

OUR ALREADY LOW EVERYDAY PRICES!

Brand Names - Now at a Fraction of Original Prices!

Fashion Company

EAST MANHATTAN
(1/4 Mile East of Mall next to K-Mart)

Patricia Russell-McCloud

"When the Silent Should Speak"

Friday, Januarry 26, 1996 10:30 a.m. McCain Auditorium

Kansas State University Manhattan, KS

Take a Study Break.

Read the Collegian.

Pregnancy Testing Center

- 539-3338 Free pregnancy testing
- ·Totall confidential service ·Same day results

*Call for appointment

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

ONE HOUR PHOTO

When You Turn Your Favorite Photo Into a 20x30 Poster

regular one-hour price on first set of 4x6 color prints. C-41 process. Not must accompany order. Good through 3/30/96 at participating

One-Hour Service On Enlargements And Reprints

Manhattan Town Center (main entrance by food court) Check us out on the Internet: http://www.spiphot

Betrothed students symbolize commitment

Heather Hollingsworth

From self-crafted wedding bands to tattooed signs of commitment, students varied the way they said "I love you.'

When Elliott Pujol, professor of art, began a career in jewelry making, he was looking for inexpensive ways to come up with wedding bands.

"When I made them, I was a poor graduate student in college." Pujol said. "I took my high-school ring and my fiancee's high-school ring and melted them down. It's called recycling.

At the time, gold was $35 an ounce, and two rings cost about $200, Pujol said.

"It was just a way we could afford decent rings," Pujol said. bands, Pujol took out an advertise-

After making his own wedding ment in the campus paper offering to make other students' wedding

"At least once a month, I would make a set of bands for students who were getting married," Pujol said. "It pretty much paid for my education at the graduate level."

Pujol said he learned the disadvantages of working with students the hard way.

"The first year I didn't collect a deposit, and they broke up and left me holding the gold - it came out of my pocket," Pujol said.

Although Pujol still wears the homemade wedding band, he said they are worn out.

Pujol said he has encountered students in similar financial situations in his classes. Despite an increase in the price of gold to $368 an ounce, the wedding bands only cost about $300 to $350 apiece without a stone, Pujol said.

These students were also attracted to the hand-made rings because of their distinctive personality. An Bride average press run for a wedding band is about 60,000, and the handmade rings could not be duplicated, Pujol said.

Rings

'Quite often students make wedding bands either for themselves or for their friends," Pujol said. "The nice thing about that is the rings are unusual — one of a kind — because they won't be duplicated. It's very comforting for the person purchas-

Guide

Also the hand-made rings were frequently of a higher-quality, 14karat yellow gold as opposed to 10 karat gold or 14 karat white gold, Pujol said.

Pujol said he estimated he received about seven requests for rings each year. Of those seven requests, Pujol passed on about three to four orders to graduate students in the art department.

"I just got a note from a young man I had in class about a year ago. He's in the service and is planning on getting married," Pujol said.

From his first experience making wedding bands in 1969, Pujol had not detected major changes or trends in wedding bands.

"They usually want a big hunk of gold on their finger," Pujol said. Although there were no big trends in the homemade wedding band department, the professional

• See GOLD Page 12

bridal registry

QUICKread ► Stores like Wal-mart and hardware stores have recently become a bridal registry standard.

Courtney Marshall

Flatware, china and crystal are not the only thing brides and grooms are registering for these days.

Trends range from tattoos instead of wedding bands to the bride and groom writing their own vows to changes in wedding

Traditionally, the bride would go to a department store and pick out what she liked while a wedding consultant listed the merchandise.

In addition to registering at department stores, many couples register at places like Wal-Mart or the hardware store.

Gailia Williams, a Manhattan Wal-Mart associate, said bridal registry has been offered for many years and is becoming more popular. She said couples go through the store with a consultant and pick out housewares and linens.

Although it has been suggested many times, Manhattan's K-Mart does not have a

'We don't have one, but it has been mentioned off and on," Cheryl Kibler, K-Mart employee, said.

She said it would have to be a nationwide service, but it has not been implemented vet.

Local hardware stores also provide Midwest Ace Hardware has had Bride bridal registry for many years. "I don't think people think of a hardware store as having a registry," Karalee Berklund, bookkeeper and cashier supervisor, said. The store has a housewares section, and the bride gets a free gift when she registers. Gift wrapping is also free when a purchase is made from the registry list. Waters TrueValue Hardware has also had a gift registry for many years. The store has a housewares section in addition to the hardware section. Marylou Byers, housewares supervisor, said many couples choose to fill out the forms together because there is a section for outdoor living and power tools, as well as housewares. Waters True Value Hardware also provides free gift wrapping and a free gift for the bride when she registers.

Local specialty stores also provide registry for brides. Campbell's China Gifts and Collectibles offers china, silver, brass, glassware, flatware, linens and attendant gifts. Owner Betty Campbell said many students and local brides register at her Kitchen Capers also offers bridal reg-

This store has many Kansas items as well as coffee, tea, barbecue items, ceramics and kitchen gadgets.

"You don't have to have an appointment, just come by and an associate can help you," K'Tina Lundquist, sales associate,

The traditional department store registry is still popular and computer technology makes the process much easier.

J.C. Penney Co. Inc. has a nationwide computer system customers can access by typing in the last name of the bride.

"It's a lot easier for customers because there is less waiting, and you can see right away what they need," Dalia Rojas, merchandise assistant, said.

Rojas said she expects the Manhattan store to receive the new system sometime in February or early March. The Topeka store is already online with this system and local brides wanting to register before February or March can register through that

Couples still seem to look to department stores first, but with the additional choices, many are opting to select alternative or additional registries.

Advertise in the Collegian.

532-6560

KSU GOSPEL SERVICE

"Remembering Martin Luther King"

SUNDAY, JAN. 28 - 11 A.M. Danforth Chapel

Speaker: Rev. Wayne Ellis Choir: United Black Voices

sponsored by: Multicultural Student Activities 532-6436

Patterns in stock for registered brides

Brides plan now to attend the Manhattan Bridal Show at Houston Street Ballroom, Jan. 28 at Noon

Fifth & Poyntz SHOP DOWNTOWN

776-9067

26th ANNUAL MANHATTAN BRIDAL SHOW, INC. SUNDAY, JANUARY 28, 1996

Houston Street Ballroom, 5th & Houston Doors open at noon - Fashion Show at 2 p.m. Admission is FREE

REGISTER TO WIN including A DREAM HONEYMOON Value $750.00 Must be present to wird

SPONSORED BY

Atwood Rentals Bocker's II Borck Brothers Bridal World Campbell's G. Thomas Jewelers Heirloom Portraits Kansas State Travel KQLA/Q-103.5 Radio Mary Key Cosmetics

Party Incorporated Patricia's Undercover Realty Executives Rickel-McMillin Rod's Hallmark Steve's Floral Tina's Studio 32 Vern's Donuts & Cakes Waters True Value Woody's Ladies

We specialize in Wedding Flowers

Candelabra • Aisle Runners • Plant Rentals All Decorating Needs

See our bridal bouquets at the Manhattan Bridal Show Booth

Steves Floral

The Bridal Show Florist Since 1988 1204 Moro

776-5900

Hrs.: 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

1-800-752-9105

302 Poyntz Hrs.: 8 a.m.-6 p.m. 539-6227

The Liquor Store That Gives You a Greater Selection

776-5003

2223 Tuttle Creek Blvd. (next to Hop-n-Skip #2)

· Largest cooler in Area

Cold Kegs In Stock

. Call us for Wedding & Business Discount On Cases Receptions

 Large selection of Imported and Domestic Wines Stop by and see us Sunday at the Bridal Fair

537-8219 1129 Bluemont

We Buy High Volumes

I FIGURE AFTER

EIGHT CUPS I'M

LIGHTNING-FAST

BOUND TO BE ONE

COMPUTATION

I HAVE TO GET MY BRAIN

CELLS WHIRRING LIKE A

SUPERCOMPUTER, OTHERWIS

I'M A GONER, THIS TEST

IS SUPPOSED TO BE NEAR IMPOSSIBLE.

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

CROSSWORD

28 Holler

32 Lair

33 Moo -

side

hend

1-25

PUM

WLG

OUT OF THE PEN.

by Eugene Sheffer

ACROSS 40 Attentionclimber 3 Letter getting call 41 Mickey's 1 Talk a blue 22 Cornered opener streak? 23 Carry on 4 Trusty 5 Restrain mutt a la Dennis mounts 9 "Mayday" 43 Sudden Miller 5 "Mama" of raid

12 Troop pop music 24 Indispens-47 Scale group able 6 Canada's 13 Largest of members 25 "Give neighbor 48 It'll get the seven 7 Canine rest!" 14 Blvd. you down 26 Ohio city forename 15 Recept 51 Squid squirt 27 Advan-8 Star of Emmy 52 Loosen many 53 "- homo" winner Westerns? 29 Card 17 Veto 54 Spring time game 30 Realtor's 18 Tough 55 Bridge place questions position offering 10 Roman 19 Affected 56 Bank trans-35 Apprepoet action DOWN with vertigo hended 11 Not merely 21 Opposite 37 Tidbit attractive of nyet 1 Point 16 A Gersh-39 Close-22 Roman 2 Golden fitting hat Rule word 20 Wall fountain 40 Hearty 24 Osculation Solution time: 22 mins. laugh 41 Proper 27 Pitching 42 Singer stat.

9 Padres'

31 Platos H gai pan 34 Masculine 36 Compre-37 Academic

38 Loved not wisely but Yesterday's answer too well

46 Paradise 49 Italian article 50 Check

43 High-

44 Mexican entree 45 Old Peruvian casher's two

Horne

MR. INVADER

FOXTROT

THIS WHOLE

POT OF COFFEE?!

MEAUZE ONE OF MY NEW YEARS RESOLUTIONS IS TO

WELD LESS OF A

PETER, YOU DRANK I NEED

DOOG AND BLAIR

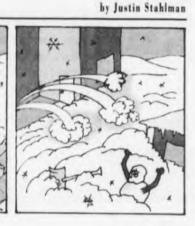

REACCY

CAFFEINE

FOR THIS

MATH TEST

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

ya Knov Melvin I don't It's Explotation) Ah Man ? Pure and Simple. think they Should require Miss America Contestants to Wear SWIM Suits. Women Shouldn't have to Wear Skimpy out fits just to be on television.

▶ BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

Singer exhibits versatile imagery in acoustic sound

Page Getz staff writer

by Bill Amend

IS THERE

YOU KEEP

by Mark Ilich

IF THE BOYS'

BATHROOM IS

150 FEET AWAY

AND I RUN AT A RATE OF 20 FEET PER SECOND...

If Super Bowl Sunday isn't the peak of your weekend's cultural experience, check out acoustic performer

Birdhouse Productions presents the acclaimed folk and blues singer and songwriter at 8 Friday night in the Manhattan Arts Center.

Williams' style is drawn from a dissectible alchemy of influences including British fingerstyle, Delta slide, Hawaiian slack key, Bahamian calypso and Chicago electric that produces an almost indecipherable blend with a classic blues edge.

Williams' provides a combination of provocatively elaborate and labrynth-like patterns on guitar and lyrics with a versatile imagery, dense with a romantic desperation resembling a vulnerable and more polite version of

I'm very interested in that

BROOKS WILLIAMS

BLUES SINGER

area of our lives where the tangible meets the intangible.

Adams photograph.

Based in Massachusetts, the prolific Georgia native has been nominated for five Boston Music Awards including Folk Album of the Year for "North of Statesboro" in 1990 and "How the Night-time Sings" in a Bukowski poem meeting the stillness of an Ansel

Both albums and the 1988 release "Red Guitar Plays Blue" were released on the Red Guitar Blue record

Under Green Linnet Records' Redbird label, Williams released "Back to Mercy" in 1992 and "Inland Sailor" in 1994.

His latest album, "Knife Edge," released last year, uses back-up bands that have worked with artists such as K.D. Lang, Bruce Cockburn, Anne Murray, Loreena McKennitt and The Band. Also contributing to the album are vocalist Kristin Kunhardt and Linden on mandolin and electric guitar.

Williams' interest in music began with playing the violin when he was 5 years old and then learned the gui-

He didn't answer his calling though, until he finally decided to risk losing job security by abandoning his potential teaching career to pursue music professionally after he finished school.

Although Williams doesn't teach in a classroom, he gets his message across as he seeks truth through his In an interview with "Dirty Linen" Williams explained the philosophy he uses in approaching his "I'm very interested in that area of our lives where the tangible meets the intangible," he said.

"It seems as though we live in this physical world of tangible things, physical phenomenon - but often, the stuff that hurts us the most, or motivates us the most, or touches us the deepest are intangible things.

'Spiritual things, love, friendship, concern over where we come from, or where we're going. I like to explore the area where those two points touch," he said. Tickets are available for $8 at the door.

MPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873199¢ per minute, touch-

GQPELW

NWZLUG:

tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

PJLUG'H PMEZNL GT LPNI

BTFQHLWK

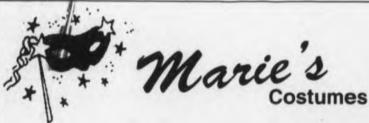

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: A DAFFY FARMER

NAMED HIS PIG INK. YOU SEE, IT KEPT RUNNING

Today's Cryptoquip clue: J equals G

KFUUB

LELQB

EVERY OCCASION • ALL SIZES ACCESSORIES • MAKEUP

539-5200

Superbowl MICROBREW KEG SALE!!

Boulder Pale Ale & Porter $ 1 095 Rocky's Rigley Red Ale

Tabernash "German Style" Alt Bier

Michael Shea's Irish Amber 21/2 OFF

reg. $59.99 Labatt's Ice (12 pk. cans)

Natural Light (12 pk. cans) 25

Corner of 12th and Laramie • Aggieville

Winter Dog Days!

January 25, 26 and 27

40-50% Off

All Fall & Winter Merchandise

Don't Miss Out!

.... where quality never goes out of style.

1201 Moro

Mon-Sat 10-6 Thurs, until 8 Sun 1-5

776-7304

Friday, January 26 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, January 27 7:00 pm Forum Hall Cit.-State Student Union

Thursday, January 25 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, January 27 9:30 pm Forum Hall W.-State Student Union

2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY Sunday, January 28, 8:00 pm

Forum Hall FREE Bioserv Space Technologies

2010: THE YEAR WE MAKE CONTACT Monday, January 29, 8:00 pm

Forum Hall FREE Bioserv Space Technologies

For more Information, call the UPC Office at 532-6571

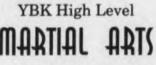

Aggie's New-To-You 2nd Hand Shop

PERSONALIZED_ DOG TAGS $6 set

Create a tag for your Best Friend, Boy Friend, Birthday Gifts

537-8803

1124 Moro, Aggieville

For Self Defense and Personal Development

For more information Call 537-0732

Not just a night spot Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

> This coupon good for FREE NACHOS

> > Exp. 3/1/96

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE

EXPRESS Supper Buffet 1116 Moro 537-0886 Mon.-Sat.

11 a.m.-1 a.m.

5 - 8 p.m.

INTRAMURALS

BASKETIBAILIL Officials Meeting

Monday, Jan. 29 at 6:30 p.m. Recreation Complex

Call Rec Services for Details...532-6980

Office of Student Activities & Services

Work Study

available in the Office of Student Activities and Services; 10-12 hrs./wk., must be able to work noon-1 p.m. lunch hour; secretarial work. Application deadline is 4 p.m., Monday, Jan. 29.

Student Senate

Student Senate Secretary Application due Friday, Jan. 26.

Student Senate Parliamentarian Application due Friday, Jan. 26.

Office of Student Activities & Services K-State Student Union

Birthday Sale

$322 off Pentium Computers

Lair Gauche 776-3302 762-7628

Diet Cures What Diet Causes

Food Supplements Special Dietary Foods Body Building Foods Homeopathies

Natural Foods Appliances Books Herbs

Hansen Nutrition Center

3112 Anderson Ave. 537-4571

Mon.-Sat. 9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

ecreational exuices Intramurals Entry Deadline

Sun.

11 a.m.-Midnight

AND INDIVIDUAL SPORTS Deadline: Friday, Jan. 26 at 5 p.m. Entry: Rec Services Office at the Recreation Complex Open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

BASKETBALL

Call Rec Services for Details...532-6980

Office work study position

Positions

Pick up a position description at:

Pizza Shuttle

Classifieds

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5.35

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.60

3 DAYS 20 words or less — $7.60 each word over 20 — $.30 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less - $8.85

020 (consecutive day

each word over 20 - $.20 per word each word over 20 - $.25 per word

15 20 words or less — $8.35 each word over 20 - $.35 per word each word over 20 - $.40 per word

IOW TO PAY

CANCELLATIONS

Two-bed-

BOARD

Announcements

COLLEGE CREDIT- Fx

Next scuba class filling 539-DIVE. Aggie Dive Shop, 1124 Moro.

Wedding Open House Saturday and Sunday

Jan. 27 & 28 Register for FREE Prizes!

DMr. P's Larty Outlet

318 Poyntz • Manhattan, KS 66502 913-776-7547

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

KSU SCUBA NAUI or YMCA certifications registration.

WANTED: 100 Studentsl Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break through. Guaranteed Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information (800)256-7515.

WANTED: 100 Students1 Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break through, Guaranteed Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information (800)229-7562.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three

BRACELET FOUND, Call

WOMAN'S WATCH in Ei senhower Hall in December, Call 532-6904.

Parties-n-More

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub portable hot 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professiona entertainment at sonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

REAL ESTATE

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320 month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to campus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537-7542.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE. LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

ROOMMATE NEEDED to share three-bedroom apartment. Close to plus one-third utilities. Call 539-1063.

bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished. Clean and quiet surroundings six or nine-month lease.

10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401.

STUDIO, ONE, two, three-

No pets. 537-8389.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N.

TWO-BEDROOM

well your liters before your ed has we will return you for the must call us before moon the day the to be purplement

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

CRESTWOOD MENTS-

START NOW

NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central ▲ 2 bedroom apartments

closets

Dishwasher

▲ Laundry facility

NOW LEASING

JUNE & AUGUST

776-1148

Open Houses Dally

The Curtin Company

AVAILABLE NOW- rent ne gotiable, luxury apart ment next to campus

two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing, 539-2702 evenings.

from Aggieville and campus. Spacious one or two-bedroom with off-street parking. 776-0683 after 5p.m.

lowed. Call now 776-3804.

no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid. Available Jan. 1, 539-1975.

ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer. Gas and water split.

Electricity separate. Trash paid, $450/ month 1110 Colorado, 537-9023.

AVAILABLE NOW. One-bedroom. 820 Osage. $360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM

CLEAN, THREE-BED-

AVAILABLE NOW, across

▲ On site office

▲ 2 large pools

air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428. ▲ Great location ▲ Private TWO-BEDROOM. bath, new carpet, laun-dry facilities, one block bedroom ▲ Large bath & from campus, lease until July. until (913)632-2744. For Rent-Unfurnished

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available now. Very large, two-bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included. Call 776-3804.

ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537–2332. APARTMENT FOR rent.

Very near campus. Clean and new. $385 plus utilities. Available

(913)455-3433, Leave AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537–1666, 537–2919.

room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets. $425- $480. pets, $ 776-3345. FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL

ABLE in January, 1611 Laramie, $600, Water trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804. FOUR-BEDROOM sun porches, formal dining room, washer and dryer, 537-1940. HARDWOOD FLOORS arched doorways. Heat-ing paid and free laundry, two-bedroom Available now. $400 776-3143.

HEATING PAID, Free laun dry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.

LARGE, QUIET, one-bedroom apartment in a six-plex. Living room, dining area, kitchen, and bath, and a walk-in closet. Cats permitted. Phone 537–7087.

rear KSU campus, 1829 College Heights, $500. Water, trash paid, Call now 776-3804. NEWLY REMODELED on

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM

bedroom. One-hall block from campus. Discount on rent for 12-month leases. For de-tails, call (816)224-9796. ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse. Newly carpeted 537-9188 or 537-1550. ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT in basement, nice, clean, quiet. $315/ month plus utilities. 539-7244.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM

NISHED/ unfurnished. Available now. $300, 537-7138. ONE-BEDROOM KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776–3804.

Place Apartment. $345 per month plus utilities. January free. New car-pet. Extra clean, 537-5198. PARK PLACE apartment for up to six month lease if desired. Call 537-9794 immediately PARK PLACE APART MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951. ROYAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dishwasher, microwave, laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM

STUDIO AVAILABLE now near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804.

THREE-BEDROOM APART MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500/ onth. 539-5729.

THREE-BEDROOM, BASE

MENT apartment avail-able immediately, laundry facilities accessible off-street parking, 15 minute walk to campus, $399/ month. Call 537-3826, ask for John TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT, near campus; all appliances; laundry, gym, pool on-site; $570/month; call day 776-3663; nite (316)722-4469.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT, southeast of campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facilities, immediately available, 539–7277.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January. 1026 Osage, $485. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM O-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH PAID. $480.

TWO-REDROOM DUPLEX O-BEDROOM DUPLEX, four miles east of campus. Easy access. Available now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month. Water paid. (913)379-5450. TWO-BEDROOM NEAR

KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221. TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

532-6236

TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401.

For Rent-Houses AVAILABLE IMME DIATELY. Four-bed room, close to campus. 776-1340. FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM house, short term lease, $700. Available now, 537–7138.

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH JR-BEDROOM WITH study, Available im-mediately, Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided, Pets al-lowed, Call 776–3804. TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please 539-1554. TWO-BEDROOM, bath, house available. Feb. 1; all appliances plus washer/ dryer in-cluded, storage $390/ month. Will pay half first months's rent. 2216 Blaker St. Call 539-4713 for informa-

Roommate Wanted

A STEAL! Female roommate wanted to share four-bedroom, two bath house, close to campus. Lease through May $180/ month and one-fourth utilities. Wash/ dry dishwasher. Central heat and air. Very nicel Call 587-0769,

AVAILABLE NOW- Very nice four-bedroom townhouse, three bath, washer/ dryer. $415/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Call 776–3843.

CLEAN, RESPONSIBLE, studious college stud-ent seeks housemate to share three-bedroom newly remodeled home in excellent neighborhood. Within walking nood. Within walking distance to campus. $375/ month INCLUDES washer/ dryer, own bathroom, gas, electric, garbage, water, off-street parking and local phone. Rent due by 28th arch month. 28th each month, 539-0813.

FEBRUARY RENT free. For Female, non-smoking. To share three-bed half bath. Low one-third utilities. Electric eded to share hous fordable rent. (776-1388 ask for Ali.

pus. Call 537-5107

possible.

FEMALE

FEMALE

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays) heating/ cooling. Great landlord. $175. Call 587-0521 as soon as ROOMMATE bills. 539-8786. with female and male. Own room, washer MALE/ FEMALE nor smoker for two-bec room. Close to campus dryer. Non-smoker, no pets. Four blocks from campus. $150/ month part utility 537-6124. plus one-third utilities 776-3119. FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted: close to Ag-gieville and campus. Af-

MALE/ FEMALE to shar ROOMMATE wanted: $183/ month plus one-third utilities house one-half bloc from campus, with tw girls, one guy. Ow room, washer/ drye $172.50. 539-4311. Furnished, next to cam-FEMALE ROOMMATE apartment, five minutes off campus, very nice, convenient area. $212.50 per month. Can occupy im-NEED: MALE to complet mediately. Contact Shanna. (913)384-5065. FEMALE ROOMMATE(S) needed to share four-bedroom, two bath house, one block from campus, washer/ dryer dishwasher, flexible rent and lease length. Available Jan. 1. Call NEWER HOME, maste bedroom and three fourth bath, big close All utilities paid. Avai able immediately $350 FEMALE/ MALE room able immediately. $350 monthly: 537-1439. mates wanted to share five-bedroom house

Two blocks off campus. $140/ Month plus utili-ties. Call 587–1969 leave message. HEY! APARTMENT across from the Union. $200, all utilities paid. Split cable and phone. Call 537-1651, leave mes-

MALE OR female room mate wanted to share a nice two-bedroom home. Each bedroom has own bath. Washer/ dryer, half utilities. Call 776-5009. MALE OR female room mate wanted. Two rooms available, Large house. $250 a month. All utilities paid. One-half block from cam-pus. Call 776–6039.

MALE OR female room-mate wanted. Two-lev-el, four-bedroom du-plex. $180 and onefourth of utilities. Call 776-0055.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted to share two-bedroom apartment at Chase Manhattan.

$285/ month plus one half utilities. 776-141 ask for Troy

MALE/ FEMALE nor smoker. Own room an bath. $250 plus one half bills. Fran MALE/ FEMALE smoke one-third bills, one third rent, own room close to campus, an Aggievilla, 587-9606.

Aggieville, $190 plu

MASTER BEDROOM three-bedroom house Two large closets ow bathroom, washer/ dry er. Call 539-2208.

ment, $200/ month plu one-seventh utilitie: Lease ends May 31 Close to Aggieville (913)632-5211 afte

NON-SMOKING FEMAL roommate wanted t share a nice two-bec room apartment. $15 plus electric bill. Avai able immediately. Ca 776-3212.

NON-SMOKING FEMAL to rent one-bedroom of ment. Two and one half blocks from KSL $245/ month plus one half utilities. From not through July. Ca 539-9524.

NON-SMOKING FEMALES

N-SMOKING FEMALES farmhouse, barn fo horse, cattle, dogs, 15 Acre pasture, $225 month or semester Possible rent in exchange for cattle chores, 776-1205. OWN ROOM for mal roommate in three-bec room apartment. $22 a month and one-thir utilities. No deposi-587-0015. ROOMMATE TO share two bedroom spartmen One-half utilities. On block from camput Call 539-4301.

Spring

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja-maica/ Cancun $399. Or-ganize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours

SPRING BREAK'S "Hot-test Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island,

Belize 800)328-7513

http://www.studen-tadvtrav.com Free food and drink pack-

W. Thin

PANAMA CITY BEACH

DAYTONA BEACH

KEY WEST

STEAMBOAT

VAIL/BEAVER CREEK

HILTON HEAD ISLAND

1-800-SUNCHASE

FOLL PROF INFORMATION & PESSE IN SEC PRO TO USE USE IN http://www.sunchass.oo

Collegian Classifieds

ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities. 587–9439.

31:

ROOMMATE WANTED next to campus. Large, private room. $300, util-ities paid. 637-0294.

ROOMMATES NEEDED 723 Galaxy $175/ month, pets ok, call 587-8335 ask for Jason.

OOMMATES OR subleas ing until July 31, nice two-bedroom fur-nished apartment. Once nished apartment. One block from campus. Rent negotiable 587-0542 leave mes-

ROOMMATES WANTED non-smokers, located off campus. Nice apart-

SHARE WITH two other guys. 1630 Leaven-worth. $160/ month each.(913)383-2590.

SHARE three-bedroom apartment, south of campus, close to Ag-gieville, $225.Call 587-0494.

TWO ROOMS available in four-bell from all fur-nished by ement apart-ment. Edundry fur-nished, for males, non-smoking drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU, $150 WALK TO campus. Own room, laundry, storage. $187.50 plus one-fourth utilities through May 31. 776-5834.

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry facilities. Pers allowed Contact John

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT stublease until April of Nay '96. $250/ mont. Cose to cam-pus in touse, please contact. Joyce at 565-011s.

SUBLEASE SPRING se mester 1996, rent negotiable, 587-9519.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT to sublease, $480/ month. Water/ trash paid. Also has dishwasher, washer/ dryer, 776-7792.

Tutor

HOME PAGE DESIGN Will design your own home page on the in-ternet using your K-State computer ac-

Child Care

CHILDREN'S PALACE, li-censed daycare has opening. All ages. Lots of TLC Prun, learning, environment. Fenced yard. A step in the right direction. Call Amy (913)494-2324.

Services

FREE MONEY- Think it's to good to be true?
Well believe me it's not. Let me show you how to get free money through scholarships that most people don't even know exist.
Money just sitting there waiting for the taking.
Guaranteed!!!!!!!!!!!
If you're interested in finding out, more about finding out more about this exciting offer give us a call to set up an ap-pointment. Call Margie or Charlie at MC Con-sultants. (913)456-7176. Don't delay. People are rushing to get their

NEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-MONEY ents. Immediate qual-ification. Call (800)270-2744. Open

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Date L. Clinton, M.D. Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

Nutritional Weight Loss

WANTED 100 students to lose 8- 100 pounds. New metabolism break-through, 1 lost 15 pounds is 3 weeks. R.N. assisted. Guaranteed results. 1 (800)579-1634.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he'she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. peka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$100,000 FIRST Year com missions possible. We need recruiters, trainers, and managers. 24 hour recorded message. (800)289-5685.

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-1915 for details.

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings

SEARN $7.50 AN
HOURS - That's right
You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Man-hattan Biomedical Cen-ter. 1130 Gardenway. 9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M-F, 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces (206)971-3510 ext

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachusetts. Over 100 postand Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required. Top salaries, room and board, and travel allowance. On campus lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27-28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

ARE YOU ready for a fun filled summer? Have you ever experienced the satisfaction of hav-ing made a difference in a child's life? Here's an opportunity to an-swer yes to both of these questions. Campo these questions. Camp Birchwood and Gunflint Wilderness Camp, two small northern Minnesota children's camps, seek counselors for em-ployment beginning June 6. Experience in one of the following activity areas desirable horseback riding, sailnorseback riding, saining, tennis, swimming, waterskiing, canoe tripping, biking, fishing, windsurfing, dance or sailing. For additional information and an application call (800)451–5270.

ATTENTION ALL Students! Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information call: (800)263-6495 ext.F57684. ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Sell Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-

ATTENTION UPPER division accounting majors. Very part-time book-keeping job, 2- 3 flexi-ble hours a week. Call 539-4601.

ATTENTION: LOSE up to 30 pounds in 30 days for $30. Why wait? Start today! 539-8256.

CAMP COUNSELORS for MP COUNSELORS for educational camp south of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canceing, crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the outdoors. Lifeguard helpful, June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details, send inguiry before February 9, 1996 to Wildwood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS 66040.

CAMP TAKAJO for boys.
Outstanding Maine
camp noted for magnificent lakefront setting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 positions for heads and assistants in tennis, baseball, basketball, soccer, lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, canoeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, noeing, watersking, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, journalism, photography, videography, woodworking, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study, radio and electronics, gramatics, piano acceptances.

dramatics, piano ac-companist, music in-strumentalist, band di-rector, backpacking, rector, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewater canoeing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), secretarial. June 17-August18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union. Walk-ins Welcome.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experi ence necessary, For in formation (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

DELIVERY PERSON needed. Please come to 1304 Westloop Shopping Center. 539-8888.

DINING SERVICES PO-SITIONS- Derby Din-ing Center is hiring students for cooking, service and custodial positions. Beginning pay $4.75 per hour. Raises scheduled. Breakfast, lunch, dinner and some weekend hours are available. We will work around your class schedule. You choose times you want to work. Apply in person at either Derby Dining Center. Room 129 between the hours of 7:30a.m.— 5:30p.m. students for cooking 7:30a.m.- 5:30p.m.

FARM HELP Wanted- Ex perience required. Call 12:00 to 5:00 days (913)457-3788, nights (913)457-3713 or (913)457-3452.

HARVEST HELP NEED. ED. We run three new 2188's Case International combines, three new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board pro-vided. Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting (913)689-4660.

JOBS IN the Great Out-doors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-N57683.

KAW VALLEY Greenhous es needs quality peo-ple. Call 776-8585, Monday through Friday bet-ween 4 and 5p.m.

OCCASIONAL BABYSIT-TER in our home for preschool child. 532-1989 or 532-7968. PART-TIME BABYSITTER

PART-TIME HELP in day-care needed, Mon. 12- 3, Wed. 12- 3, Fri. 12- 5, $4.50 hour, 539-8554.

RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram which is specifgram, which is specifically designed for recent college graduates.
Call or send resume.
6900 College Blvd.
#1000 Overland Park,
KS 66211, ATTN: Pam (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.

REFERENCE LIBRARIAN 25 hours/ week Bachelors degree required, previous library experience preferred. Send resume, letter of application and references by Jan. 29, to Susan Moyer, Library Director, Dorothy Director, Dorothy Bramlage Public Li-brary. 230 W. 7th St. Junction City, KS 66441.

REWARDING, EXCITING summer for sopho-more and older college students- camp coun-selor positions avail-able in the Colorado Rockies. Backpacking, Western riding, wate activities, natural sci ence and many outdoor programs. Write: San-born Western Camps, P.O. Box 167, Floriss-ant, CO 80816.

STUDENT NETWORK-ING ASSISTANT: The Department of Communications, In-formation and Educational Technology has an opening available for a bright, enthusias-tic student with a high level of integrity and level of integrity and good interpersonal and problem solving skills. Must have knowledge of PC's, MS-DOS and Windows. Will be responsible for monitoring computer networks, installing and exponents. works, installing and supporting computer software and researching new products. Knowledge of PC hardware, Novell Netware and TCP/ IP based software is a plus. IET offers flexible hours and competitive pay; 15-25 hours/ week during school year and 15-40 hours during summer. Applications available in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, January 26, 1996.

STUDENT OFFICE recep-tionist needed, Work study desired, but not required. Please apply by Monday, January 29. Applications avail-able in the Department of Mechanical Engi-neering, 302 Durland

STUDENT PROGRAM-MER: The Department of Communications, Inan opening available for a self-motivated student with excellent programming skills. Ex-pertise in C or C++ is required. Knowledge of Windows, Visual Basic and other PC based offers flexible hours and competitive pay 15-20 hours/ week dur ing school year and 20-40 hours during summer. Applications avail-able in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, January 26, 1996. STUDENT WORKER to assist with Conference Registration. 10- 15 hours per week during the school year, fulltime through the sum-mer. Required skills in-clude a friendly and outgoing personality, fa-miliarity with KSU, computer data entry, at-tention to detail, especially filing and organ-izing work priorities. Apply at Conference Registration in Cor tinuing Education, 141 College Court Building (1615 Anderson Ave.), 532-5569 by January 1996.

STUDENT'S DREAM –
Lose weight. Earn extra
$$ around your schedule, all natural products. Doctor recom-mended. Increases energy, mental alertness. 539–7336.

SUMMER JOBS- female counselors for child-ren's camp northeast. Top salary, Room and board, laundry, travel allowance. Must have skill in one of the following activities: arch ery, arts and crafts (ceramics, stain-glass, jew elry), athletic trainer basketball, canoeing, kayaking, dance (tap, pointe, jazz, modern jazz), drama, field hockey, golf, gymnastics (in-structors or qualified spotters), horseback rid-ing- hunt seat, lacrosse, nature, photography, videographer, piano ac companist, pioneering camp craft, ropes (in nerquest- ropes challenge course, 25 sta-tions), sailing, soccer, softball, tennis, theater technicians, track and field, volleyball, W.S.I./Swim instructors, windsurfing. Also opportunities for kitchen cooks, maintenance, nurses, secretaries. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Student Union Rooms 203 and 105. Ne appointment

295. No appointment SUMMER ORIENTAbe interviewing and hir-ing orientation leaders for the 1996 Summer Orientation/ Enrollment Orientation/ Enrollment Program. Applications are available in 1 An-derson Hall (lower lev-el). There will be an in-formational meeting on Thursday, January 25 at 8p.m. in Room 213, V. State Student Union. C-State Student Union If there are any ques-tions, please contact Gary Pierson at 532-6318. A completed application must be submitted by 5p.m. Monday, February 5,

TENNIS JOBS - Sum-mer children's camp -northeast - good northeast - good tennis background, college-level player who can teach children to play tennis. Good salary, room, board and laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union, Rooms 203 and 205. No appointment nec-

THE DEPARTMENT OF Anatomy and Physi ology invites applica tions for a part-time Laboratory Instruc-tor position in the Col-lege of Veterinary Med-icine. This is a ninemonth, non-tenure ac cruing position with a one-year appointment. Continuation is dependent on availability of resources and teach-ing performance. Can-didates should have a strong interest in com-parative veterinary anatomy and be able to contribute to teamtaught gross anatomy courses for first year ve-terinary students. Ap-pointment begins Au-gust 15, 1996. DVM required. Applications should include a resume and names of three references. Applications will be received until March 1, 1996 or until the position is filled. Send applications to: Dr. Jon D. Dunn, Department Head, Department of Anatomy and Physiology; VMS 228; Kansas State University; 1600 Denison Ave., Manhattan, KS 66506. KSU is an three references. Ap-

Manhattan, KS 66506. KSU is an EOE/AAE. TUTORS FOR Intro to Com puter Engineering, Symbolic Logic I, Fund of Computer Programming, Statistical Methods in Education. Must have A or B in course. Open to undergraduates and graduate tudents without Assis tantships. $5 per hour 3 hours per week. Contact Educational Support Services, 201 Holton, 532–5642.

WATERFRONT JOBS TERFRONT JOBS-W.S.I.- Summer children's camp-Northeast- teach children to swim, coach swim team, dive, waterski (sla-lom, trick, barefoot, jumping), sail. Good salary, room board, laundry, travel al-lowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: 838-VEGA or write:
Camp Vega for girls,
P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus
Mondey, February
5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m.,
Student Union
rooms 203 and 205.

WORK IN THE COLOR-ADO MOUNTAINS this summer at Cheley Colorado Camps, lo-cated in Estes Park. RN's, drivers, office staff, nannies, cooks and kitchen helpers, song leaders, photog raphers, wranglers and horseback riding counselors; hiking, back-packing, sports, climb-ing, riflery, and crafts ary plus room, board and travel allowance. This will be our 76th summer in operation! Must be at least 19 to apply. Applicants will be notified of campus camps, P. O. Box 6525, Denver, CO 80206, (800)226-7386.

WWW COORDINATOR The Department of Communications, In-Communications, Information and Educational Technology, and the Office Community Health are looking for two (2) mature students with excellent communication and organizational skills. These individuals will be asked to develop, implement and manage World Wide Web sites for the Office of Community Health and the National Decisions for Health Network. Expertise in Windows software, the Internet, HTML or other Web authoring tools is Web authoring tools is necessary. Graduate Student standing is per-ferred. We offer flexible hours and competitive pay; 15- 20 hours/ week. (Funding is avail-able for this position until February 1997). Applications and a job description are avail-able in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, Fe-bruary 2, 1996.

MARKET

Wanted to Buy

WANT TO buy: Diamonds-Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're looking for. Lorin 539-6631. COLOR PRINTER for sale: 600x300 DPI. Mac or IBM compatible. Call 776-0055. Ask for Ni-

GE WASHER/ dryer, like new, excellent contion. $600. 537-4639.

JVC CD changer control sette and remote six CD Changer. $400 or best offer for pair, call 776-1689.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots

BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Phone 537-5020, Og-den, KS. TI-82, USED only one se mester, like new. Call 776-8502.

Furniture to

Buy/Sell NICE WOOD computer desk. Bought one year ago for $239. Asking $100. Call Ashley 587-1867 or 539-1103.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet. antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. hattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

15-INCH MONITOR Acer View 56L, .28.Pitch, en ergysaver, many features, top quality $300. 776-1650 Andrea.

486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor $1495, 539-8453.

94 ACER 486 DX with CD ROM, lots of software, like new, $1700 or best offer. 539–2977 Miles.

ImageWriter printer, Great condition, Word-processing and other software packages in-cluded. $350. Call 539-3168 after 6p.m IBM COMPATIBLE 286 computer. Color moni tor, Word Perfect 5.1.

APPLE IIE computer and

Lotus, modem, 2510 dot matrix printer. $300 or best offer. 539-5522 after 6p.m. MACINTOSH LC III, 80 MB hard drive, 8 MB ram, color monitor, printer, lots of software and games. Microsoft Word/ Excel, Sim City 2000, After Dark, great computer for student! $1250, 776-4908. MACINTOSH SE/30 8 meg RAM hard drive, software and games in-cluded $500 or best off-

MEDIA VISION Pro Audio Spectrum 16 sound card with SCSI port. Software, drivers, and manuals—$75. 537-2497 or

TWO TWO meg SIMMS (30 pin, eight bit, non-parity) for Mac LC ser-ies. $150 or best offer, 532-2393.

data@ksu.ksu.edu

Music Instruments

FENDER BASSMAN 135 amplifier. Silverface Piggyback with 2X15 speaker cabinet on wheels. Looks good, sounds great. $400 or best offer. Jeff 776-0406

776-0406 FERNANDEZ GUITAR three months old, tele-caster style, natural finish, not pick-ups. lock-ing tuners.$450 with tweed case. Music Co.

539-1958. HARMONY: MUSICAL con cord; agreement; peace and friendship. The Music Co.- redefining the music "industry" at 523 S. 17th St. in the Midtown Plaza. 539-1958.

WANTED TO buy three-

Pets and Supplies

ADORABLE PUPPIES. Red, female, black/ white male. Australian Shepherd/ Labrador cross. $10. Call Ron at 532-7690 or (913)456-7899 evenings.

Stereo Equipment

JENSEN CAR stereo amp 40 watts per each of two channels $60, 537-2497 or data@ksu.ksu.edu

KENWOOD STEREO system, new. 0 776-5830. Best offer. RAW SPEAKERS four 10 inch eminence woofers, 12 2 1/2-inch tweeters. Still in the box- $50. 537-4512.

TRANS-PORTATION

Automobiles 1990 BLACK Ford Tauras, excellent condition with alarm. $7000 or best offer. 537-4639.

CLEAN 1980 Olds Omega just rebuilt engine, re-ceipts. Four-door, four cylinder, $650 or best offer, 537-4047.

> GET OUT. 532-6555

What do you do if you see a fire? . Call 911

2. Then call us

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

kansas state collegian 03 KEDZIE - Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. 532-6555

Classified Directory

020 Lost and Found 030 Personals

050 Parties-n-More

REAL ESTATE

120 For Rent - House 126 For Sale - Houses

118 Rooms Available

130 For Rent — Mobile Hornes

145 Roommate Warried 180 Sublease

140 For Rent - Garage

186 Stable/Pasture 160 Office Space 186 Land for Sale

400 SERVICE DIRECTORY

210 Resume/Typing 215 Desktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations

225 Pregnancy Testing

230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care 240 Musicians/DJs

> 245 Pet Services 255 Automotive Repair 255 Other Services

300 EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS 310 Help Wanted

326 Volunteers Neede

40 OPEN MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy 410 Items for Sale

415 Furniture to Buy/Sell 420 Garage/Yard Sales

425 Auction

430 Antiques 435 Computers 440 Food Specials

450 Pets and Supplies 455 Sporting Equipment

445 Music Instruments

460 Stereo Equipment 465 Tickets to Buy/Self 500 PORTATION

510 Automobiles 520 Bicycles

530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool

TRIPS

610 Tour Package

640 Bus Tickets

620 Airplane Tickets 630 Train Tickets

CATEGORIES To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation. TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations.

Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

Viral infection strikes U.S. troops

Associated Press

FRANKFURT, Germany - The U.S. Army said it has sent a medical team to investigate a storage facility in Belgium that may be linked to an apparent viral infection hitting American troops, including troops from Fort Riley, on their way to Bosnian peacekeeping duty.

The first group of soldiers, from the 586th Engineer Company based at Fort Benning, Ga., exhibited symptoms of a viral infection on their way from Germany to a U.S. military staging site in Taszar, Hungary, in December. All 28 recovered and continued into the Balkans to serve with the NATO peace enforcement mis-

Jan. 19, another 27 soldiers, from the 362nd Combat Support Engineer Company, from Fort Bragg, N.C., became ill during pre-deployment training at Hohenfels, Germany.

Five had symptoms like mononucleosis and strep throat, the Army said Wednesday in a statement from its European headquarters at Heidelberg.

The rest had rashes and fever, like the Fort Benning group.

Hohenfels is the same place where the Fort Benning engineers had trained, and an Army medical team went to Hohenfels on Tuesday to investigate.

But other support group soldiers, from three units out of Fort Riley have also had rash and fever symptoms, the Army said.

It concluded, "A common experience among these soldiers has been identified as the equipment storage site in Zutendaal (Belgium) and a hotel in the area.

The Army said all the affected soldiers had received combat equipment from the Zutendaal storage facility.

The medical team that headed there Tuesday includes a preventive medicine doctor, an industrial hygienist and an occupational health specialist.

They will look at conditions at the facility and the area to investigate possible sources of the viral infection, which is not life threatening, the Army said.

GOLD

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 8

jewelry industry detected trends toward a more distinctive piece.

"In the last three years, there have been lots of young ladies that like a ring that stands alone - a wider ring that doesn't need a wedding band," Dave Thomas, owner of G. Thomas Jewelers, said. "There is a trend toward a one-piece concept - a little wider, a little bolder, that says a statement.'

Thomas said students are leaning toward fancier cut diamonds.

"People are getting away from the round princess cuts to more unusual cuts," Thomas said. "They are still popular, but there is a trend toward diamonds that are a little more different and unique."

The average engagement ring costs between $1,500 and $2,500, he said.

The general rule on engagement rings is they should cost the equivalent of two months' salary, Thomas said.

Students shy away from using stones other than diamonds, and resizing antique rings is rare. Thomas estimated that between 10 and 12 couples resize an antique wedding ring in a given year.

"Naturally there are a few who say, 'This was my grandmother's ring, and we want it sized," Thomas said. "But it's not too often that it happens because after a while it naturally wears

Some couples increased the permanence of their relationship by receiving wedding ring tattoos.

James Beckom, owner of Mid

There is a trend toward a one-piece concept - a little wider, a little bolder, that says a statement

> DAVE THOMAS OWNER OF G. THOMAS JEWELERS

America Tattooing, said his typical customers varied from business people to students.

Frequently occupational hazards hinder individuals from wearing rings. Beckom said his most recent couple were doctors from Kansas City who could not wear their rings during oper-

"Some guys are carpenters, mechanics that can't wear wedding rings when they are working because it's dangerous," Beckom said.

Beckom said his customers know what they want.

"They usually have an idea of what they want," Beckom said. "They are usually wearing the ring they want tattooed on them.

Beckom said tattooed wedding rings was not a new trend.

The first one I did was 13 or 14 years ago," Beckom said. "It's been going on for a long time." The practice was fairly uncommon, Beckom said. "It's done. It's just not a real common practice," Beckom said.

Tattooed rings usually cost about $30, and depending on the detail in the ring, it takes between 30 and 45 minutes to complete a tattoo, Beckom said.

Couples enjoyed the permanence of the procedure.

"They can't lose that one," Beckom said. "It's permanent, and it doesn't go

Scott Ahlvers, senior in animal science, recently underwent the engagement ring selection process.

Ahlvers suggested learning about diamonds before making the financial as well as life-long commitment.

"It's easy to pay a lot of money on a flawed diamond," Ahlvers said.

Although selecting a ring is important, Ahlvers said, examining the relationship is even more important.

"Make sure you've sat down and thought what it means," Ahlvers said. "A lot of times people get engaged and married too quick. They need to make sure it's the right thing for both of them.

WEDDING OPEN HOUSE

Saturday and Sunday, January 27 & 28

Register For Free Prizes

1. 1-$100 Gift Certificate for Carlson Craft Wedding Invitations

2. 5- $10 in store Gift Certificates.

3. 1-$25 Wedding Ensemble: Bride and Groom Champaign Glasses, Cake Knife and Bride and Groom Garters.

4. 1- 100 Beverage Napkins printed. A $10 value.

5. 1-$35 Cake Topper with Unity Candle.

Refreshments will also be served.

WEDDING INVITATIONS 25% OFF

Manhattan, KS 66502

Clearance Sale

All 1996 Calendars . T-Shirts . Candles . Potpourri • Notecards • Frames • Albums · Pictures · Ironworks

Valentines Day is Feb. 14

Cards . Candy . Balloons . Gifts • T-Shirts • Stickers

704 N. MANHATTAN•IN AGGIEVILLE•539-7654 MON.-FRI. 8:30-8:30, SAT. 8:30-5:30, SUN. 12:00-5:00

an informational meeting Thursday at McCain Auditorium, room 313 at 6:30 p.m. If interested in sports, the meeting will be held at 7:30, same place.

If this will not work, please call 532-DB92

PETSON, STUFF

Angles, Red Tail Sharks, 539-9494 Neons, etc. SALE

1105 Waters

canned good you bring to 103 Kedzie, we'll give you Publications Inc. will donate all items to the Flint Hills Breadbasket as part of Souper Bowl Sunday.

classified ads is noon the day before publication.

I.D. number

Address Phone number

Message (No last names or phone numbers accepted in personals)_

Ballard's

AGGIEVILLE

SALE HOURS: Thurs. & Fri. 8:30-8:00 Sat. 8:30-5:30 Super Bowl Sunday 11:00-4:00

WINTER DOG DAYS SALE

AGGIE SALE DAYS

OUTLET SALE DAYS

Super Bowl Sunday 11:00-4:00

SALE HOURS:

Sat. 8:00-6:00

SAT. & SUN JAN. 27 & 28

All Starter Jackets 50% OFF

JAN. 25, 26, 27 & 28

EVERY SHOE IN THE STORE 20% OFF

Pro Football & College Hats 25% OFF

-Warm-ups & other apparel from Nike, Reebok, Adidas, Russell

Ski Coats, Pants & Bibs 40% OFF

Ski Hats, Gloves & Accessories 30% OFF

25% OFF

50% OFF

Every Basketball & Football in the store

1218 Moro - Aggieville SPORTS OUTLET

POUNDAGE

ROOM

Per lb.

All Fall & Winter Merchandise All Hats On Sale Fitted & Adjusted 55

Russell Heavyweight Sweatshirts (High Cotton • Pro Cotton) $10

Reg. $6 Per lb. 500 Ft. Riley Blvd.

SALE WAS SALE BLADE RUNNER PRO 2500 (1-6) 84"5 4500

HUGE ROLLERBLADE

12500 MACRO BLADE EQT. BLADE RUNNER PRO 500 (1-6) 3500 COOLBLADE (10-11 1/2) 115^{00} 25795 LIGHTNING (6-13) 8000 14993 M BRAVO BLADE GLX (8-12) 10600 21195 W BRAVO BLADE GLX . 21195

10600 BRAVO BLADE JR (1-6) 4000 7995 ASTRO BLADE (6-12) 6000 11395

HUGE SELECTION OF KIDS & ADULT SHOES 50% OFF,

NFL & Baseball T-Shirts 25% Off

It started Jan. 8, 1896, as the Students' Herald. Today, several thousand issues later, we celebrate a century of service.

state Historical Society Section 40 Box -585

A celebration to honor the Collegian's centennial birthday will be 3 p.m. today in the Union Courtyard.

"This is an opportunity to get faculty and students involved," said Gloria Freeland, associate director of Student Publications Inc. and director of advertis-

Although a larger celebration is planned in April, Freeland said this celebration is targeted for the students.

"This is a chance to say thanks to the students for telling us what we do right and what we do wrong," Ron Johnson, director of Student Publications Inc., said. A display highlighting various issues of the Collegian's 100-year coverage of events at K-State will be at the celebration. "We will have an extensive display of historical items, including the first Collegian and the Students' Herald," Johnson said.

He said besides newspapers, the display will include awards the Collegian has received throughout the years.

"The Collegian and the Royal Purple are two of the most honored publications in the nation," Johnson said.

Students will also have an opportunity to view the Electronic Collegian.

The event features accolades about the Collegian from President Jon Wefald, Student Body President Jeff Peterson and Board of Student Publications Inc. Chairman Aaron Otto.

This event is the second of three celebrations recognizing the service the Collegian has provided to students.

"The first celebration we had was in January called Business After Hours, which was for the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce," Johnson said. Business After Hours gave the Collegian an opportunity to thank advertisers in the business community for their support, Johnson said.

Without the help of advertisers, we couldn't do it," Johnson said.

In 1896, the first publication, produced entirely by students, was called the Students' Herald and was not changed to the Collegian until 1914.

"We have essentially been recording history throughout time - the good and the bad," Freeland said.

Kara Rogers/staff reporter

Today: cold and cloudy. See weather map, page 2.

inside OPINION . page 4

> WEEKEND . page 5 DIVERSIONS . page 7

SPORTS . page 6

January 26, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 80

1996

SUPER BOWL XXX

Arizona will be host to its first Super Bowl Sunday. NBC will broadcast the game at 5:20 p.m. on local cable channels 7 and 8. See our special section for complete coverage.

special section

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

STUDENT SENATE

Senate to vote on change of privilege fees

Cori Cornelison

city & government edito

Campus privilege fees may be converted into a campus privilege budget for the spring 1996 semester if a bill is passed in Student Senate's Feb. 1 meet-

Campus privilege fees are collected as a dollar amount per student. The campus privilege budget would be determined by the spring, summer and fall semesters' enrollment figures from the prior year.

"The campus fee groups that are up for review in that year will be requested to submit their budget request as a dollar amount," Brad Finkeldei, student body vice president, said. 'Their budget request should include all sources of revenues, all expected expenditures, any balance forwarded and any assumptions the group used in developing their budget request."

Each campus fee groups' budget must be approved by a two-thirds vote of Student Senate, Finkeldei said.

Additional revenue received from an increase in credit hours will be deposited into two different savings accounts.

The campus fee adjustment account and the campus fee reserves account will each contain 50 percent of the additional revenue received. The reserves account will maintain a 2.5-percent base level of the total campus privilege fee base budget, Finkeldei said.

There are some shortfalls of the way privilege fees are collected, he said.

Finkeldei said there is no mechanism to protect privilege fee groups from enrollment decreases, to fund specific equipment needs, to fund emergency situations and no consolidation of marginal cost of additional students.

"It's not perfect, but it's better than the current system," he said. "This is not going to solve all of the problems. It improves them," Finkeldei said. "Just like I don't think the state level is perfect, I don't think this model will be perfect."

Finkeldei said with the implementation of the campus privilege budget, Student Senate would

• See SENATEPage 10

Free trip to campus cyberspace out of gas

■ Dialing campus server via modem will cost starting this summer

Kristin Hermes

Students who use a modem to access the K-State campus server may not be able to do it for free much longer.

A remote access fee for dialing modem will be in place at K-State by this summer, said Beth Unger, vice provost for academic services and technology. It is not yet known what the fee will be, she said.

"Most universities in the United States are looking at possibilities to increase access to their servers, and there are a lot of different options being discussed here and across the nation," Unger said.

Remote access, or a process of into the campus server through a dialing the server usually through the use of a modem, has had an increase in use, Unger said.

> "There has been a tremendous increase across the country, as well as considerable increased use at K-State," she said. "Our information shows that between 7 p.m. and 11 p.m., you just can't get on the server from a modem.'

Different options are being considered to remedy this problem, which includes a shortage of to accommodate the amount of modem use, Unger said. One possibility similar to what the University of Kansas does. Students provide their own method of access, such as a modem, and the

Inside

Dial-up fees may not be such a bad idea. See our editorial,

page 4.

university charges students for the service to be able to connect, Unger said.

Jacob Pease, junior in French and electrical engineering, took classes last summer at KU. He said the university charges students $30 for a year of remote access service. but there is a different rate for students who are at KU only for the concentrating on his shot, Kibrom Beche, sophomore in architectural engineering, is distracted by professional pool player Jack White Thursday afternoon in the Union Courtyard. See the story on page 6.

• See INTERNET Page 10

KAIL KATZENMEIER

▶ GOVERNMENT SHUTDOWN

Senate to debate measure to keep agencies open through March 15

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Politically burned by two government shutdowns, congressional Republicans embraced legislation Thursday to avoid a third. The White House said President Clinton would sign it as the year-long budget fires cooled on all fronts.

After solving an impasse over abortion restrictions, the House moved toward passage of a measure that would keep dozens of federal agencies functioning through March 15, though at lower levels than 1995. The Senate planned to debate the legislation Friday, and the White House said Clinton would sign it.

"We're satisfied that a lot of give-and-take has produced an agreement the president can live with," White House spokesman Mike McCurry said. Lawmakers had faced a Friday night deadline that if breached would see civil servants furloughed for an embarrassing third time since November. After taking a drubbing in public opinion polls for their confrontational tactics, Republicans were no longer vowing to halt government's most basic functions unless their demands for a balanced budget in seven years were met. With this fall's elections on their minds, both sides seemed to feel the best path, for now, is to settle immediate differences and save their most stubborn disputes about Medicare, Medicaid and wel-

• See BUDGET Page 7

Clean it up The Manhattan City Commission passed two ordinances Jan. 2 prohibiting people from storing certain nuisances on porches or in front yards.

Garbage

Trash containers should be put out in front of the residence the night before or morning of pick up and removed after

Beautification The second ordinance passed refers to couches and other objects that are stored in the front yards or porches of residences.

New ordinance prevents trash cans stored in sight

Sera L. Tank

Manhattan residents will no longer be able to store trash containers at the foot of their driveways. The Manhattan City Commission passed two ordinances Jan. 2 prohibiting people from storing certain nuisances on porches or in front yards. The two ordinances, one dealing specifically with trash cans and another with other nuisances, were passed at the request of concerned citizens, Bruce McCallum, director of city public works, said.

The trash can ordinance prevents cans from being stored in areas where they are visible from the street, said

Jerry Petty, director of community development. The ordinance still applies even if the residence does not have a garage. "The tenant or owner will be forced to move them to a location where they cannot be seen form the street or build some kind of screen around the containers, such as a fence," Petty said. McCallum said the ordinance may confuse people. "It doesn't say (trash cans) can't be put out by the curb. It just says they can't be permanently stored out there," he said. "Obviously, in a lot of neighborhoods, residents have to put • See TRASH Page 10

532-6448

dent practice English. Contact Jim Endrizzi at the WIC healthy foods and

ings available for women nutrition education has open-infants and children up to 5 years. Call the Riley County

Fall 1996 budget request forms are available for cam-

To be considered for the

they must be turned in by 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Office of Student Activities and regular allocations process.

pus-wide organizations

Social Services.

lealth Department at 776-4779 regnant and breast feeding),

In the news

► FORMER STUDENT TO BE ARRAIGNED ON SEXUAL BATTERY CHARGES

The owner of Portraits by LBJ. a local portrait studio that has a long-standing account with the K-State Marching Band, will be arraigned in district court on charges of sexual battery at 1 p.m.

Leroy Burke Jr. faces charges of sexual battery against two 16year-old girls. The battery allegedly occurred from March to December in various locations

Mike Kearns, assistant Riley County attorney, will prosecute the case. He said the names of the accusers can not be released because they are minors.

He also said the maximum sentence for the class A misdemeanor is one year in jail and possible fines on each count of sexual bat-

Burke has not named his counsel for defense in the trial vet, and Kearns said there is no way of knowing when the actual trial will begin.

Burke began attending K-State in 1983 and was a member of the marching band, but he never grad-

Burke was arrested for the alleged battery Jan. 20 and released on $1,000 bond.

Bill Bontempo

▶ QUESTIONS SURROUND SIMPSON'S VERSION OF WHEREABOUTS

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Facing another round of grilling in a wrong-ful-death lawsuit, O.J. Simpson was caught in a number of inconsistencies when asked about his whereabouts on the day his ex-wife and her friend were killed, a lawyer said.

John Q. Kelly, who represents

Nicole Brown Simpson's estate, said the inconsistencies related to time frames, timeline, and how certain events occurred.

"We have heard answers that have not been consistent with things that have been put out in the past," Kelly said Tuesday, referring to claims by Simpson's defense team during the criminal trial. During a break in the eight-hour, closed-door session. Ron Goldman's father said the questioning was going well. The lawsuit, which seeks unspecified damages, was filed by the Goldman family and Ms. Simpson's estate.

▶ REPUBLICANS FIND IRONY IN CLINTON'S NEWEST LINE OF RHETORIC

WASHINGTON (AP) -Portending a campaign-season struggle for the political center, Republicans are scoffing at President Clinton's embrace of "an era of balanced budgets and smaller government" as empty rhetoric from a liberal politician.

"President Clinton may well be the rear guard of the welfare state," Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole said in a broadcast rebuttal to Clinton's State of the Union address Tuesday night.

Dole, the front-runner for the GOP nomination to oppose

Clinton next fall, said Clinton cast several vetoes last year on GOP legislation.

"He is the chief obstacle to a balanced budget and the balanced budget amendment" to the Constitution, the Kansas Republican said.

EXTREMIST THREATENS TROOPS

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) -The headquarters of U.S. troops in Bosnia and other NATO installations have been placed on alert and warned to watch out for an American suspected of planning attacks against NATO forces.

The command of the NATO-led peace mission said late Tuesday it had distributed leaflets to guards and security officers warning them about a man identified as Kevin Holt.

It described Holt as an African American in his 30s "who has expressed sympathies for extremist causes."

A senior NATO official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the alert was raised after Holt attempted to enter a NATO compound in Bosnia in the previous 24 hours

The compound was not identified, and no further information on Holt was released

JAPAN'S TRADE SURPLUS FALLS

TOKYO (AP) -Japan's huge trade surplus with the United States, a source of friction between the two nations for a long time, fell by nearly one-fifth last year for the first time since 1990.

Analysts said Thursday they expected the drop to continue, fueled by Japan's movement of manufacturing offshore - and a growing appetite for foreign goods.

Japan's surplus with the United States, its biggest trading partner, plummeted 17 percent, the Finance Ministry said, while the overall surplus dropped by 11 percent

Both marked the first annual decreases in five

"The trade surplus is in a substantial downward trend," Andrew Shipley, economist with Schroder Securities Japan, said.

Police reports

ports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24

At 1 p.m., Dana Minihan, junior in elementary education, reported a theft of $20 from her purse. At 4:09 p.m., Kirk Dubols, sopho-

Andrew Timmons, junior in social science, at the entrance of the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex on Denison Avenue.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24

Riley County Police Department ednesday, January 24 At 8:49 a.m., a burglary was Church, 3001 Fort Riley Blvd. Pastor

David Thompson reported stolen three printers, two televisions, two cassette decks, three equalizers, a postage scale and a CD player. Losses were $14,449. A window ed at a loss of $700. At 9:32 a.m., a forgery was report-

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25

At 2:44 a.m., Randall J. Buller, 2301 Anderson Ave., was arrested for driving under the influence. Bond ed at First Bank, 630 Humboldt St. Victims were Labette Correctional Conservation Camp of Oswego, Samuel R. Luehring, 1106 Colorado St., and First Bank.

CORRECTION

At 5:07 p.m., Bruce Warden, 1172 Pillsbury Drive, reported his nephew Scott Warden missing since Jan. 20. Warden was last seen in Emporia Saturday evening with his girlfriend. Warden is 23 years of age with brown hair and blue eyes.

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Kansas Newman College Occupational Therapy Program is having an Open House today. Please call (800) 736-7585 to register and for further information.

 Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due in deans' offices by Feb.

 Swimming I and fitness swimming classes at UFM are available for one hour K-State credit. Call UFM at 539-8763. Students who took DAS 115, Orientation to Health Careers, in the fall 1995 should pick up speaker notes in Eisenhower 113.

■ Be international! Volunteer to help an international stu-

BULLETINS

KSU Student Fellowship will meet at 9 p.m. every Sunday at 1326 Fremont St. The group will meet to discuss "Forum on Jesus."

Chimes Junior Honorary applications are available in the Union SGA offices or call 539-2365 ext. 131. Applications are due by 4 p.m. Feb. 16. ■ Blue Key Senior Leadership Honorary is accepting applications for the 1996-97 school year.

Applications are available in the Dean of Student Life and Student Activities and

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspublished by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie

103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167. C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

> Kenny King was misidentified as secretary of transportation in the Tuesday edition of the Collegian. King is the chairman of House Transportation Committee. The Collegian regrets the error.

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Saturday

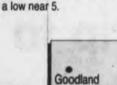

Wichita

56/31

Today

Denver

Light snow ending by late morning. Very cold and cloudy with a high from 15 to 20 and 22/13

Garden City

45/16

Yesterday's highs and lows

57/31 Tulsa 60/35

Warmer and partly cloudy.

High from 35 to 40.

STATE OUTLOOK

Very cold with a light snow ending early in the west, late in the afternoon in the east. Snow accumulation 3-6 inches in the northeast and 1-3 inches over rest of state. Blowing and drifting snow expected. High from 15-25.

> St. Louis 50/19

ALL UNIVERSITY CONVOCATION LECTURE

Patricia Russell-McCloud

10:30 a.m., Friday, January 26, 1996 McCain Auditorium Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

"Happy birthday to you. Happy birthday to you. Happy birthday to the Collegian, Happy birthday to you.'

HANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

199C TO 199C

The celebration begins at 3 p.m. today in the Union Courtyard. Everyone welcome.

Without desegregation, I would not be able to have friends who are black or of

MANHATTAN

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT

another race. I would probably be different.

Panel teaches non-violence

Manhattan students educate college students, instructors and parents about King's lessons

Jeff Bucholz

Education and non-violence was taught to college students, teachers and parents by elementary, middle and high school students at the College of Education's annual Martin Luther King Symposium Thursday.

This was the first year the panel was composed of elementary, middle and high school students.

"Usually we have professionals come in and sit on the panel, but this year I wanted to turn it around and have the kids make up the panel," Jim Boyer, professor in foundation and adult education, said.

Boyer said he specifically wanted elementary, middle and high school children.

"I did this because Martin Luther King Jr.'s life was devoted to inclusion, not exclusion," he said

This is the eighth or ninth year the College of Education's observance has been underway, Boyer said. "We are fortunate the dean of education is real supportive and understands what the symposium is about," he

The goal of the symposium is to try and integrate education and the teaching process, he said.

"They must embrace non-violence," Boyer said. "We cannot operate our schools without direct attention to it." Everyone can also learn a lot from listening to chil-

The student panelists spoke about how Martin Luther King Jr. and his non-violence methods have affected their

"Without desegregation I would not be able to have friends who are black or of another race," Justin Dyer, Manhattan High School student, said. "I would probably Jake Hughey, Bergman elementary school student, said he read the book, "Black Like Me" by John Howard Griffin, to learn more about desegregation and to get an idea of what it is like to be black.

"I read this book back in second or third grade," Hughey said.

'We were doing stuff in school about Martin Luther King, and I really did not know anything and wanted to know more.

Jason Huff, Manhattan High School student, said he believes one person can make a difference.

"It is like striking one match still attached in the book,"

"The rest eventually will burn. And then eventually everybody will feel the heat of the fire."

But Huff said if it was not King, he believes someone else would have stepped forward in bringing about deseg-

All of the students said they believed King's birthday merited a day off from school in celebration.

"Just because we take a day off does not mean we screw around - some of us do celebrate King," Dyer

The younger kids in third through fifth grade may not appreciate the day off, Huff said.

"But as they mature, they will learn to appreciate it," Huff said.

Jake Hughey said he had some suggestions for future teachers and those in the field. Some of his suggestions included making a quilt about

King's life, as well as related book reports and a look at newspaper articles to provide open discussion.

"Be able to relate other lessons to King," Hughey said, attorney returns to K-State Friday. Patricia Russell-McCloud, a professional orator, attorney and founder of Russell-McCloud and Associates in Atlanta, will present an all-University Convocation Lecture at 10:30 a.m. Friday in McCain Auditorium. The Convocation Lecture, "When the Silent Should Speak," will mark Russell-McCloud's third visit to campus

Speech to end events

Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week activ-

'She's going to provide a fresh, innovative view

"When she speaks, she delivers a message that

Prior to the speaking engagement, Murray will

"There are not many people I admire, but she is

"She has accomplished so much in such a little

A stint as senior attorney with the Federal Communications Commission, being certified to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court and her role as the national president of the Links Inc. are answer questions during the Martin Luther King

Jr. luncheon at 11:45 a.m. in the Flint Hills Room

Following the lecture, Russell-McCloud will among Russell-McCloud's accomplishments.

of American multiculturalism," said Beverly

Murray, assistant professor in journalism and mass is assertive and dynamic, and she is a believer in provide Russell-McCloud with a tour of the cam-ities will wrap up as a professional orator and

'The Journey'

A poem in tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. by Jason Huff, 11th grade, Manhattan High School. This poem was especially written for the 1996 Martin Luther King Observance Week.

Fallen chains of long ago Freed the body but not the soul -Fallen whips upon the grass Cannot erase the distant past -

To turn a back and walk away Give more reason for those who pray -A dream started but not fulfilled Leave many a man with no will

Secret visitors in the night Fill the mind with awful fright -Afflicting pain for no cause Keeps the lion from growing claws -

Memories lost within a book Hatred coming from a tiny look -Thru the pain given to those who could Still within the street, a people stood -

Led in front by an angel of the Most High Shot down but will never die -Like glistening flames come the VOICE A million people made a choice -

I am free and their seed am I I am the weak, I am the strong -And even the strong CAN CRY!

Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week

Jan. 22 - 28

in the K-State Student Union.

KING ACTIVITIES

communications.

time."

crowd participation."

one of them," Murray said.

Today, Jan. 26

10:30 a.m.

Martin Luther King Jr. All-University Convocation Lecture: "When the Silent Should Speak," by Patricia Russell-McCloud, renowned orator and president of Russell-McCloud and Associates in McCain Auditorium.

Martin Luther King Jr. luncheon with remarks by Patricla Russell-McCloud in the Union Flint Hills Room. Call Juanita McGowan at 532-5826 for reservations and more information.

Sunday, Jan. 28

Gospel Service with a performance by "United Black Voices"

GOT A RUSTY HORN?*

WE'VE GOT A BAND FOR YOU!

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY BANDS!

You've been meaning to get it out and practice, but it's not much fun playing the bassoon part to Holst's First Suite by yourself. It's missing a lot. And so are YOU! If you enjoyed a musical experience in high school, continue it NOW. Music is NOT for music majors alone.

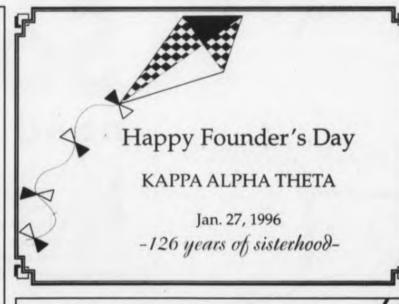

Before you toss the idea aside, come to the Band Office in Room 226 in McCain Auditorium to sign up to learn more about the band programs on campus.

BE APART OF A GREAT BAND TRADITION!

MUS 116 17660 MWF 12:30-1:30 McCain 201 KSU BANDS PHONE - 532-5740

* If you have no horn at all, we will find one for you.

WE'LL ERASE YOUR COLLEGE LOAN.

If you're stuck with a student loan that's not in default, the Army might pay it off.

If you qualify, we'll reduce your debtup to $55,000. Payment is either 1/3 of the debt or $1,500 for each year of service, whichever is greater.

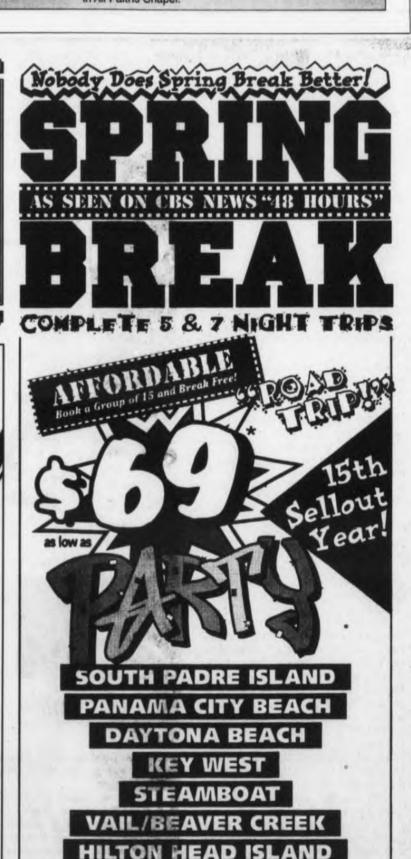

choice of skills and enough self-assurance to last you the rest of your life.

You'll also have training in a

Get all the details from your Army Recruiter. Call 776-8551

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE:

PER PERSON DEPENDING ON DESTINATION / BREAK DATES / LENGTH OF STAY.

OR SURF OVER TO OUR WEB SITE AT: http://www.sunchase.com

Opinion

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN STAFF

se Marlett	Editor in chief	Cori Cornelison	City / government editor
vin Klassen	Managing editor	Claudette Riley	Arts and entertainment editor
ah Lunday	News editor	Todd Stewart	Sports editor
ry Conover	Photo editor	Stephanie Fuqua	Opinion editor
rek Simmons	Design editor	Justin Stahlman	Graphics editor
Hefling	Campus editor	Kevyn Jacobs	E-Collegian editor
risty Little	Copy chief	Trice Alford	Advertising manager
Stewart Anderson	Features editor	Heidi Bruce	Assistant advertising manager

COLLEGIANopinion

Students who use modems should pay fee

QUICKread

Students who use modems to dial into the campus computer network from home should be charged a fee. This fee would be used to pay for new equipment and phone

Lots of students balk at the idea of charging a fee for computer users who dial into the University computer network from home. After all, on top of already high tuition, expensive campus fees and book prices, who wants to shell out more money for something you're already getting for free?

But upon closer evaluation, it begins to look like dial-up fees may not be such

For years, the K-State has provided free dial-up access for users at home who wanted access. And for years, the existing telecommunications equipment could keep up. It wasn't a problem.

But times change.

With the explosion of the Internet, e-mail and World Wide Web browsers in the past few years, the number of dialup users has increased exponentially. As anyone who has tried to connect in the evening these days knows, it is almost impossible to get through. So many people are dialing in, a busy signal is almost guaranteed if you try.

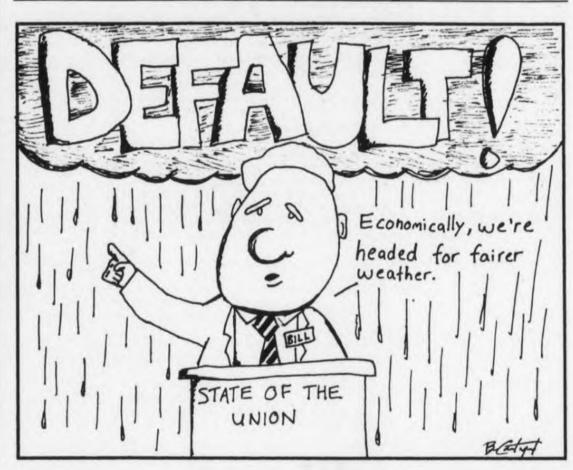

The obvious solution is to purchase more modems and phone lines. But where will the money come from? There just isn't the budget to do that, and raising student fees to cover the costs of more phone lines is probably out of the question.

Hence the need to charge a fee to the dial-up users themselves.

As long as the fee charged is reasonable - a flat rate, not metered and the charges are less than commercial on-line services like America Online, then the idea is not a bad one.

For the convenience of being able to dial in direct without incessant busy signals, a fee paid by the semester of the year seems like a small price to pay.

NOTES FROM the underground

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, KS. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is collegn@spub.ksu.edu. Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand delivered letters.

MUSIC SCENE NOT PATHETIC

Dear Editor,

This letter is in response to another in the seemingly never-ending series of columns about nothing to do in Manhattan. In particular, William Thomas Burdette's criticism of the "pathetic music scene."

First of all, I'd like to clear up some myths about my band. Burdette said, "bringing in Truck Stop Love once a month does not make a music scene." Nobody "brings" us in. We call a club, convince them to let us play, put up our own fliers and drive a couple blocks to the show.

Gotten out? We haven't even quit our day jobs yet! We've put out two nationally distributed albums, toured the country a couple of times, made a video (since that's all anyone cares about these days) and even appeared on ABC and MTV.

Here's the big shock. We still live

When you "hit the big time" that doesn't mean you automatically pick up and move to California or wherever. We're still struggling to be able to make music we like and pay our bills.

Now, about the local scene. We all Manhattan trying to do something.

Scully (formerly Spine) has a selfreleased CD that reaches No. 72 on the National College Metal Chart. Sufferbus has a nationally released seven-inch single and has toured far outside of Kansas.

There's also Ultimate Fake Book, El Fontaine (formerly Ten Thumb), the Invisibles, Chick Scaletti, Happy Teriyaki 6, Seven and Ever Since My Accident to name a few.

I also found it ironic that your column appeared the very day that a great local show was happening at Charlie's,

William. Last night, Sufferbus, Vitreous Humor from (gasp!) know it sucks. So quit complaining He says, "They probably only play about it. Do something. Keep an eye Lawrence and Happy Teriyaki 6 played. I hope I saw you there. here because now that they have hit the out for fliers. Tell friends about upcombig time (with a small b)" — thanks for ing shows. Write about them, for God's sake. Profile a couple bands a semesthat vote of confidence William -Eric Melin drummer for Truck Stop Love ter. There are more bands here in "they want to rub it in our faces that Manhattan resident they have gotten out."

Absences shouldn't determine grades Tow that you have some syllabuses in hand, maybe it is time to question what they say. It is time to evaluate the content of the course criteria that will determine our grades this spring. One criterion that appears on many syllabuses is required atten-According dance. University regulations, ins can use attendance to c mine part of a student's final grade. In some classes, poor attendance is used as grounds for class failure.

What reasons could the be for allowing instruct ; to penalize or fail students : ly on the basis of whether class is a nded?

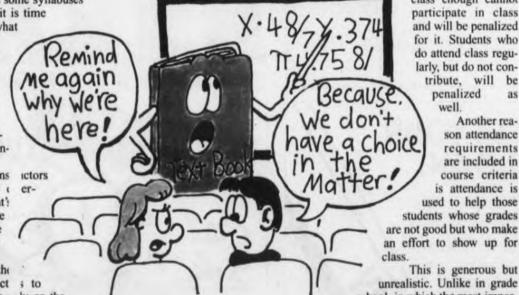

An obvious justifica n for using attendance to determine g des is that in the absence of such a r icy, students would not regularly attenc

This justification fails There are, or should be, penalties built dance. Students who do t t attend class regularly miss lectures labs, tests, quizzes and homework assignments. Missing these classro n activities inevitably has adverse effe s. To penalize students again for missing lass is double jeopardy.

There are some clas es in which instructors contribute noth g to their lectures that cannot be four in the texts. Students get nothing from tending these lectures that they could i it get from a correspondence course.

In these situations, r juiring attendance serves only to gra fy instructors who have let textbook v iters do their

If instructors want stu ents to attend and learn from lecture, they must include materials in their ctures that do not appear in the texts, an then test students on those materials. Lequiring students to sit through regurs tations of the text is a waste of the stuc :nts' time and

Myview

SCOTT ALLEN Miller

Another official reason for requiring students to attend class is to increase class participation.

Once again, this reason does not hold water. Certainly students benefit from participation, but requiring someone to fill a seat and requiring him or her to participate in class are, as any instructor has to admit, two different tasks. Many, if not most, students are reluctant to verbally contribute to class discussion and activities. Requiring attendance only coerces those students to show up, not to open up. The way to increase class participation is to require it, rather than requiring attendance. Students who do not attend class enough cannot participate in class and will be penalized for it. Students who do attend class regularly, but do not contribute, will be > Another reason attendance requirements are included in course criteria is attendance is used to help those students whose grades are not good but who make an effort to show up for unrealistic. Unlike in grade school, in which the most important criterion is how hard a student tries, the real world only cares about manifest results. If you show up for work on time every day and try hard but do not perform, you cannot expect to retain that job for long. So it should be with grades. Finally, attendance requirements are justified by some instructors because they help prevent students from failing by forcing them to come to class lectures. This is the most paternalistic of all reasons for requiring class attendance. After all, we are all grown-ups and should suffer the consequences of our behaviors, including earning poor grades on tests, labs and homework because of poor attendance. Forcing students to show up to class does not necessarily make us learn anything. If K-State put our class attendance employers could get an idea of how reliable we would be as employees. Failing that, keeping and evaluating attendance records serves no good purpose.

records on our transcripts, prospective

Go to class, whether you're required to or not. In the meantime, consider if you should be.

Scott Allen Miller is a senior in interdisciplinary social science.

need human element

t is a real shame that so many goodhearted people in the world end up on opposite sides of the issues because of lack of understanding.

A good case in point is the environmental movement. I consider myself an environmentalist, because I feel we cannot go on treating the planet this way for long.

On the other hand, many of the battles environmentalists find themselves fighting don't understand the needs of the common person. Although I would love to see the spotted owl saved and old-growth forest preserved, I sympathize with the needs of the loggers who are looking to support a family on what is already a meager income and can only see harder times ahead if the environmentalists are successful.

Although I would love to see safer drinking water in these parts and vegetables that had not been treated with deadly poison, I sympathize with the needs of the farmers who have to figure out some way to meet that mortgage payment.

Although I would love to see no more rain forests cut, I can sympathize with the peasants in many tropical countries, who due to population pressures and a host of other problems, must slash and burn to provide a meager level of existence.

How could you hope to convince many of these people of the long-term consequences of their actions when their concerns are so much more immediate? The planet is in sorry shape and will only get worse if things are not done to stop the slide. It is a noble goal to try to stop that slide, but the minute you lose sight of the human aspect involved, you become part of the problem and not the solution.

LACH Franquemont

A case in point is something happening in the mountains of North Carolina where I am from. It used to be that every little mountain town had its own gas station and general store. These places often doubled as the social center of the area and were instrumental in defining both the town and its citizens

Several years ago, environmental legislation was passed requiring new leak-proof tanks be installed at gas stations to prevent gasoline from leaking into the water supplies. Great idea really, as this had become a problem in many areas.

No provisions were made, however, for the smaller gas stations. Not able to afford the upgrades, town after town lost its gas station and with it, its social hangout. Residents have to drive long distances to the bigger towns to buy gas and groceries at convenience stores and supermarkets.

So who did this environmental legislation help? The corporate big boys who could afford the upgrades and thereby drive out all of their smaller competitors. This is not an isolated case.

In fact, looking at a lot of environmental legislation (not all), the net effect has been to help larger corporations at the expense of the smaller operators. I do not think this is a desirable effect.

So does this mean we give up on fighting for environmental causes? Of course not. But we must start looking for solutions that include the human element instead of preaching from a lofty post.

This can be done. Each year, more and more farmers are learning to use sustainable farming and turn a profit. Sustainable logging programs are doing better and better, and perhaps we will eventually learn how to meet all of our paper needs without cutting down old-growth forest.

Maybe most importantly, the people in rain forest areas of some countries are learning how to turn a profit without destroying the forest. This is being done with things such as pharmaceuticals and tourism.

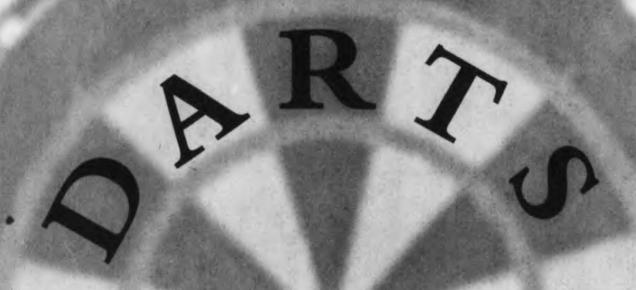

I am convinced there is a way we can stop before we destroy ourselves. The solution, though, does not rest with any ivory tower think tank but with common people sitting down and talking.

We must learn to hold admiration and respect for people, no matter what their financial means or differences in background.

Lach Franquemont is a sophomore in physics and philosophy.

From keg barrels to computerized boards, it's always been a game of el's Tavern, like many other bars Manhattan night, was not extremely busy. A small television set just above the Kansas Lotto machine was beaming President Clinton's State of the Union address into the smoky atmosphere of the tavern.

Two round tables, littered with spent beer bottles, Styrofoam take-out boxes and smoldering, butt-filled ashtrays, were occupied by a group of five people discussing everything from politics to the rejuvenating effects of Jägermeister shots.

This is the birthplace and battleground for one of the world's most underrated sports, known in modern times as the game of darts.

"It's the best sport in the world," said Jeff Zahourek, secretary and treasurer for the Topeka Darts Association. "You can have a beer in your hand and a Camel in your mouth and never have to drop either one.

With many electronic versions of the boards becoming increasingly more common sights in area bars, more people are plunking in quarters to play. Dart leagues are sprouting up all over the Midwest.

And game vendors are hearing the rising call for more dartboards. How did this come to be such a popular sport?

The game of darts has its origins in England during the Middle Ages. According to British folklore, some rowdy archers came up with the idea one particularly harsh winter while sitting around the pub.

They shortened their arrows, allowing them to be thrown by hand, and set up an ale cask on its side. Whoever could hit closest to the cork in the middle of the cask was the winner.

Eventually, the game caught on, and players began using cross-sections of large trees as the dart board. (This was likely encouraged by the pub owners.) The rings in the center eventually became a way of scoring varying degrees of points.

It is said that King Henry VIII played darts, and the Pilgrims are rumored to have set up a board on the Mayflower.

■ EVOLUTION OF THE GAME

Today, the game of darts is embraced by millions of people worldwide. A quick search on the World Wide Web turned up hundreds of websites, newsgroups and retailers, specializing in darts.

There are two genres of the game: English (or "steel-tip") darts, which is the classic dart game played with real metal darts, and "softtip" darts, noted for ease of use and inexpensive, plastic construction.

In the past 15 years, real dart boards, constructed of high-quality African/Indian fibers called sisal (or bristle), have had to contend with plastic boards for a place in Midwestern bars. Most purists snub the electronic versions of the boards and say it's not the same game.

"People like to use the machines because they keep the score for you," Zahourek said.

"But it doesn't teach you how to play the game strategically." In the x01 games, such as 301, 401, 501, the object of the game is for the player to start with that prodetermined number of ints and end up with zero points before the other players.

It gets tricky in low-point games like 301, because each player is equired to start the game by sitting a "double," or the outer ring of the scoring web. After hitting this double, players may gin the race to zero. To win the game, the player must score zero by again hitting the double ring.

For example, if you have 16 points left, one option would be to hit the double ring of the eight. Or, you could opt to hit a single one twice, then go for the double

When a computer is doing all the math for you that element of the gam easy to lose, Zahourek s In addition to the ga play itself, there are c technical anomalies of the electronic version. In steel-tip darts, a dart that hits the board and then bounces out does not count toward the score. In the electronic version, however, the hit will inevitably register.

You could literally go out with a pocketful of marbles, hit the board with them and have it count," Zahourek said.

Also, the plastic board has to be made about larger than a traditional dart board to allow the computer scoring system to work properly, he said, although newer boards on the market are correcting this distortion.

Many people who play darts in bar leagues today prefer the coin-op darts game, because of its simplicity.

"This is convenient, easy and safe," David Tomlinson, senior in pre-law, said.

His team captain, Dustin McClure, agreed, and said he would like to play steel-tip darts, but few bars in the area offer the game.

"You'd have steel darts with pointed tips and people drinking," he said. "Probably not a

Jeff Denney, manager of Auntie Mae's Parlor in Aggieville, cited this as a chief reason why the bar used the plastic boards, in addition to being maintenance-free.

Although such a combination is rare in Manhattan, at least one bar in Lawrence has a bristle board, as do many in Kansas City. Steel-tip darts is popular on the East Coast, Zahourek said.

"Why should I plunk my quarters into a machine when I could spend them on beer?"

Zahourek also said the safety issue was overblown by the producers of the coin-op games and said insurance rates for bars are higher when they install steel-tip dart boards.

"A pool cue is as deadly a weapon as anything," he said. "It's a lot harder to aim at someone with a dart, throw and hit them in a place where it's going to do some damage."

THE BIZ

Bird Music, Inc., a vending machine dis-

story by nolan schramm

art by adrian fleming

tributor west of Manhattan, has been in business for about 50 years. Aside from its busy schedule of distributing machines and change to local businesses from Manhattan to Emporia and running a repair shop, the company is in charge of managing the leagues associated with the pool and darts machines.

When a league forms, Bird Music sends entry sheets to bars with the machines. Every team must have a bar to sponsor it, and the bar must be serviced by Bird Music. The entry fee for regular season play is $20 per team of five, with two substitute players, Venissa Whitmore, computer operator at Bird Music, said.

These teams are not licensed by the American Darts Organization, rather; they derive their rules and trophies from one of the dart board manufacturers, Arachnid.

The teams then enter $2.25 per game to the machine. The money for the associated fees goes to the potluck for first, second and third places at the end of the season, Whitmore said. The regular money that enters the machines

s split 50/50 with the bar owners, she said. At the end of the season, the national qualifiers will go to Las Vegas for the championship Arachnid soft-tip darts game.

"I learned by losing money," Chris Morris, league player, said. "I went to a guy's home and played Cricket for $1 per game." He took a long draw from his cigarette.

"They started hitting bullseyes before I could close them out."

THE CASUAL (

by Nolan Schramm and Page Getz

This is the first of a weekly series of reviews by Page and Nolan that will appear on the Weekend page.

"12 Monkeys" Terry Gilliam, director

Nolan ( out of five stars) Not a bad piece of work from Mr. Gilliam, of Monty Python fame.

This one was a remake of Chris Maler's "La

The rough-and-tumble Bruce Willis, who seems to be typecast into being a big, bad, stupid person these days, plays Cole, a denizen of the future who is drafted to save the earth from a past biological catastrophe, the release of a deadly virus by an insane lab assistant in 1996.

During the course of the film, Willis is sent back in time on several occasions to stop this from happening. In the future, the remaining I percent of surviving humanity lives underground.

In their desperate search to find answers to this obvious problem, humanity's scientists mount a last-ditch effort, and invent ... voila, a time-warp machine! So Cole, whose brawn is bigger than his brain, says the wrong things to the wrong people while bouncing around various timelines, and he is put in an asylum in 1990, gets shot by a Frenchman in 1917, etc. Anyway, the rest is fairly predictable. Of course, he falls in love with his psychiatrist/consort Madeline Stowe, who first tells him he's crazy, then has to talk him out of believing it. With a new ally on his side, Cole is able to resume his mission of stopping the biological madmen.

The movie is pocked with various flashbacks and trick cinematography, which eventually fits together nicely. The interconnecting aspect of the plot, while tolerable, is played out a little too

But go see it, then think twice about the little games the governments play. Oh, yeah, Brad Pitt was in this movie, too.

Page (* out of five stars)

For those of us who generally feel our perception of reality and all evidence of any kind of conceptual reality aren't quite mutually exclusive, "12 Monkeys" is one of those flicks that inspires a certain pride in your psychosis.

The movie contains a continuous dichotomy between the present and the future that spontaneously transcends time, effectively establishing a surreal and disorienting dementia that is both absorbing and compelling.

Brad Pitt is surprisingly convincing and endearing as a schizophrenic with a warped social conscience, but his character is stereotypical of the media's distorted portrayal of the mentally ill.

As opposed to the drunken skid row psychopath, Pitt plays the other extreme, the affluent's family secret, the paranoid but ingenious rich boy with a vendetta.

Bruce Willis plays his usual action man with an irritating out-of-breath indifference but manages to subtly smuggle in a mild psychotic edge that progresses climactically but inconsistently enough to keep his sanity in question. "12 Monkey's" pre-ejaculatory style ending was arguably a matter of interpretation, but the "leave-you-hanging-ending" isn't enough to make the movie not worth seeing.

"Outbreak" (videotape) Wolfgang Peterson, director 1995

Nolan (1/2 out of five stars) This is your basic democracy-vs.-the-military-gone-mad movie. The producers have figured out they can sell more tickets if they play on the acute American fear of terminal disease. Dustin Hoffman plays the righteous army colonel who is in the upper echelon of the Centers for Disease Control. The story begins in 1967, in Zaire. A deadly virus kills off an entire village. The army tried to "eradicate" this virus. But the modified virus returns 30 years later, this time in the U.S. Enter Col. Daniels and his soon-to-be ex-wife Lisa (Rene Russo), who are in charge of stopping it. When the military brass (Donald Sutherland and Morgan Freeman) tries to cover it up, an eptire town in America is infected. At the same time, the race to find the antitoxin (in the bloodstream of the original host monkey) continues, led by the Forces of Good. Ohhhh ... the suspense is KILLING me!! Do you think Col. Daniels will find the antitoxin before his wife dies? Do you think Daniels and his wife will ever get back together? In spite of the extreme predictability and absolutely melodramatic presentation, this movie will have you on the edge of your seat once or twice. My advice? Rent "The Andromeda Strain."

Page (1/2 out of five stars)

"Outbreak," while it also approaches the potential extinction of humanity from a virus, holds a completely different tone than "12 Monkeys." The movie is based less on intrigue and is more of a scientific and political drama.

The conflict resembles the David and Goliath syndrome in "A Few Good Men," with the military authority's ruthless "National Security" cop out challenged by the little guy with wit and integrity.

A predominantly male cast, Dustin Hoffman, Morgan Freeman, Rene Russo and Donald Sutherland, are all commendable. Even Kevin Spacey, while a disappointing-homicidal maniac in "Seven," carries a notable supporting role.

With a movie based so much on its message and the dialogue, all of the acting is well thought out, and isn't distracting with melodrama, nor does it lack the urgency that makes the movie so balanced and so powerful.

For those not highly susceptible to the willies, predisposed to Bacillophobia, nor generally paranoid, this movie is anything but a doomsday story, stale with scientific lingo.

Sports

tomorrow ■ The women's tennis team will face Northwestern 11 a.m. Saturday at Cottonwood Raquetball Club.

did you know? So far this season, The K-State men's basketball team has held every Big Eight opponent's leading scorer to below their season scoring average.

Students entertained by master pool shark

Shana Newell

It's not your typical sport, but many people are working hard to bring success to the game, including trick shot artist Jack White.

Pocket billiards, or pool as it is more commonly called, was on exhibition Thursday at the K-State Student Union Courtyard when White brought his skills and his humor to

"He was hilarious, a riot," Frank Holmes, freshman undecided, said.

"Anyone who missed him needs to see him next year."

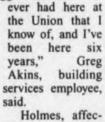

At any given time, there was between 200-300 people in the audience, and the number of visitors to the exhibition exceeded 500 during the two hours the exhibition lasted.

"It was one of the biggest crowds we've

My dad was a player, and my uncle was a world champion. It's hereditary, I guess.

JACK WHITE

tionately called 'Teddy' by White, said he came to the POOL TEACHER exhibition and the following clinic so he could learn to beat his brother.

"All I ever did was rack," Holmes said. "He (Holmes' brother) is so good, I never get a chance to play. I came today because I want to learn how to beat my brother."

Others came because they wanted to improve their overall pool game.

"I was shaking and scared out of my mind when I went up there," Matt Splichal, junior in criminology, said.

"I was sure I was going to make a fool of

But teaching pool tricks was not all White had up his sleeve. He also tried to set some of his pupils up with members of the opposite

"That Matt is a good kid," White said of one of the many students who participated in the exhibition.

"If he could play pool as good as he looks, he'd have all the girls over him."

Terri Eddy, recreation manager of K-State Student Untion, said she decided to bring a billiards exhibition to the Union to promote the recreation area. Although this was not the first time a bilnow has been brought to Eddy said it was the first one for this generation of K-State students. White said he became interested in pool because of his family.

"My dad was a player, and my uncle was a world champion. It's hereditary, I guess," he

Scott Lee, White's protégé on the tour, said exhibitions like the pool one are important to the success of the game.

Charles Riley, junior in architecture, gives Jack White a high five after successfully completing a trick shot. White demonstrated trick shots for students during an exhibition Thursday afternoon in the Union Courtyard.

"The more people that play, the more successful the game. We're just trying to support the sport," Lee said.

Lee will eventually take over White's spot on the tour.

White has been playing pocket billiards for more than 50 years, since he was 8 years old.

He is the only player to ever be invited to the White House, and he even taught President Richard Nixon some pool techniques. White has received many honorary degrees, including a "Doctor of Poolology" degree from the University of Notre Dame and a Ph.D. from Fort Hays Kansas State

One of his more famous students is a Dallas Cowboys lineman.

"I taught No. 94, Mr. Haley," White said. "It was at James Madison University. I had been playing there for 30 straight years. Charles asked me to teach him pool, and I had him for five years." Taking his experience with Haley, White gave his prediction for the outcome of Sunday's Super Bowl.

"Dallas should win by two touchdowns. If Deion (Sanders) plays (Kordell) Stewart loose, Deion is going to get burned. He's going to find out that Stewart can move awfully fast," White said.

"If Dallas goes with run-pass-run-pass, they'll be OK. Emmitt (Smith) runs well, they need to run him to death. Every once in a while put one off to Moose (Johnston)."

3-4 Wildcats travel to Columbia

N-STATE STATES AT 4-1 M THE BIG & AND IS GOY TO ITS BEST COMPERSION START IN THREE

Wednesday's win against Oklahoma State noved K-State mens' basketball to 13-4 and 1-1 in Hig 8 play. Next up for the Wildcats is ate coach Tom Asbury said it is not for the Cats not to dwell on the win Oklahoms State and the team's best

"You can't pause long and reflect long to you got Missouri at Missouri on unlay," Asbury said.

K-State last started 4-1 in league play in 1933 and that squad lost its next game at Sentor forward Tyrone Davis said the team y is what makes this team special. Everything's coming through for us," is said. "It's a team thing, and that's what and with the team play comes confi-

We're real confident, right now," Davis
"We know we have to play like this day d day out."

nut confidence, Asbury said, is evident to play of sophomore guard Aaron residues, residues tied a career-high with 10 point Oklahoma State, but Asbury initially wondered if Swartzendruber by to play at the Division I level.

The was surprised by confidence.

"That's office he's playing," Asbury said, the muscles is, "If I miss a couple, damn it I'll miss the next one."

In Swarzsendruber's freshman season,
Misseur swept the Cats, but this K-State looking to defense to change its for-K-State limited Oklahoma State to 43 percent shooting To date, no opponent has shot better than

Everything's coming through for us. It's a team thing, and that's what we TYRONE DAVIS

Freshman forward Shawn Rhodes said it all comes

"We feel like anytime we're on the floor we have a chance to win," Rhodes said. "We have to keep coming out to play and play

Sophomore forward Mark Young said he was surprised by how confident the Cals and the team will come out to play.

"I'm surprised we came out so confident."

Young said.
"I think we'll be ready for MU. I know they'll be ready. Young said Missouri's Hearnes Center was the second most difficult place to play in the conference, right behind Kansas' Allen

Young said the remembers one group of fans vividly from his first trip to Columbia,

"Going to the Hearnes Center is a tough place to play," Young said. "The Antlers are the only thing I remember. They're crazy."

Sports Digest =

WOMEN'S TEAM TO BE HOST TO JAYHAWKS SUNDAY

The Super Bowl is not the only game on Sunday for K-Staters as the women's basketball team plays host to the Kansas Jayhawks with a 2 p.m. tip-off.

The Wildcats return to Manhattan after a non-conference road loss to the Arkansas State Lady Indians on Tuesday. The loss came after an impressive effort from junior Missy Decker to propel the contest into overtime.

K-State is 11-9 on the season but only 3-3 in conference play. Returning to Manhattan should be a good sign for the Cats as they have a 9-2 record when at home. The team is 2-7 while on the road, including seven consecutive road losses. The last time Coach Brian Agler and his team had a homestand in Bramlage, the Cats swept then No. 17-ranked Oklahoma State and Oklahoma to boost their conference record to 3-3.

Looking to improve its record to 4-3 in the Big 8 and a tie with Kansas for third place, the Cats' probable starters are sophomore Amanda Chamberlain at point guard, sophomore Brit Jacobson at guard, junior Andria Jones in the post, and freshman Jenny Coalson and senior Missy Decker in the wings. With 14.8 and 14 points per game respectively, Jacobson and Jones lead the Cats in scoring and are ranked 13th and 14th in the Big The Cats are ranked seventh in the Big 8 in field-goal percentage with .429, but defensively they give up only 62.5 points per game, enough to give them a third-best ranking in the confer-

The Jayhawks arrive in Manhattan boasting an 11-7 record overall. They are 4-2 in the Big 8 and received 30 votes in Monday's Associated Press poll for a would-be 27th rank-

Agler was unavailable for comment.

Shana Newell

▶ HILL BEATS OUT JORDAN IN ALL-STAR FAN VOTING

NEW YORK - Even though Michael Jordan is back and tearing through the NBA again, Grant Hill remains the fans' favorite in voting for the All-Star Game.

In the closest balloting since 1977, the Detroit Pistons' forward drew the most votes of any player in All-Star fan balloting, edging Jordan by 16,582 votes. Out of more than 6 million votes cast by fans, Hill got 1,358,004 votes to 1,341,422 for Jordan.

"I just hope that Michael isn't ticked off because I got more votes than him," Hill said Thursday after the vote totals were announced.

The narrowest previous margin between top vote-getters was in 1977, when Denver's David Thompson and edged Philadelphia's Julius Erving by 8,530 votes.

Last year, when Jordan was still playing minor league baseball, Hill garnered the most votes of any player, even though he was just a Jordan leads the league with a 31.2 scoring average while Hill averages 21.2 and has four triple-doubles this season.

Associated Press

Series shows evolution of space movies

So, you're back in school, classes are starting to pile

This weekend BioServe Space Technologies and up, and the last time you went out was with the garbage

Union Program Council are kicking off their joint mission: a series of space-related films, including "2001,"

"2010," "The Right Stuff," and "Apollo 13," all playing last summer's blockbuster "Apollo 13," are hallmarks of 2001:

puter, HAL, which runs a spaceship into havoc. Director Stanley Kubrick's vision of a future almost totally dependent on computers is slowly proving true.

Kubrick's sequel, "2010," however, is quite uneven and, well, somewhat cheesy. Made in the 1980s during

The film's premise is a joint American-Russian

Meanwhile, back on Earth, World War III is about to break out. Oh no! This film has not aged well, but could the height of the Cold War, the film is a time-capsule space flight to Jupiter to explore its moons and the great

"The Right Stuff" is a more realistic and historic take on this country's space program. It portrays the early days of NASA and the training each astronaut had to undertake to win the prestigious chance of orbiting

In the early days of NASA, astronauts underwent

After seeing the beginnings of the space program, it

Ron Howard's ultra-syrupy, nerve-wracking homage rigorous physically challenging obstacles and hilarious.

is only logical to see the near-end of the space program glimpse into what we really thought of the Russians.

the genre, with the possible exception of "2010."

Each film, starting with the older "2001" right up to Reach for the

A Space Odessey

8 p.m. Sunday in Union Forum Hall

ANDY MARCINIAK/Collegia

Sci-fi film fest

Jan. 28 - Feb. 5

what can you do?

'2001" may

made.

One

be one of the most confusing popular films

What makes the film an important piece of uncanny predictions of the must keep in mind this film was made when computers did not sit on your desk, but filled up a room.

movie is a com-

The central character of the storm on the planet.

the planet.

superstitious tests

in "Apollo 13."

be viewed as Cold War-camp.

is ever work

future.

in Forum Hall with free admission.

by Bill Amend

■ Scully will perform tonight at Charlie's Neighborhood Bar.
■ MU330, a ska band, will perform at 9 tonight at the Bottleneck in Lawrence. ■ UPC presents "Seven" at 7 and 9:30 tonight and 7 pm Saturday in Union

■ UPC presents "Taxi Driver" at 9:30 pm Saturday in Union Forum Hall

► FOXTROT

Diversions

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - crilev@ksu.edu

Today's Cryptoquip clue: E equals C

KIYYPKW

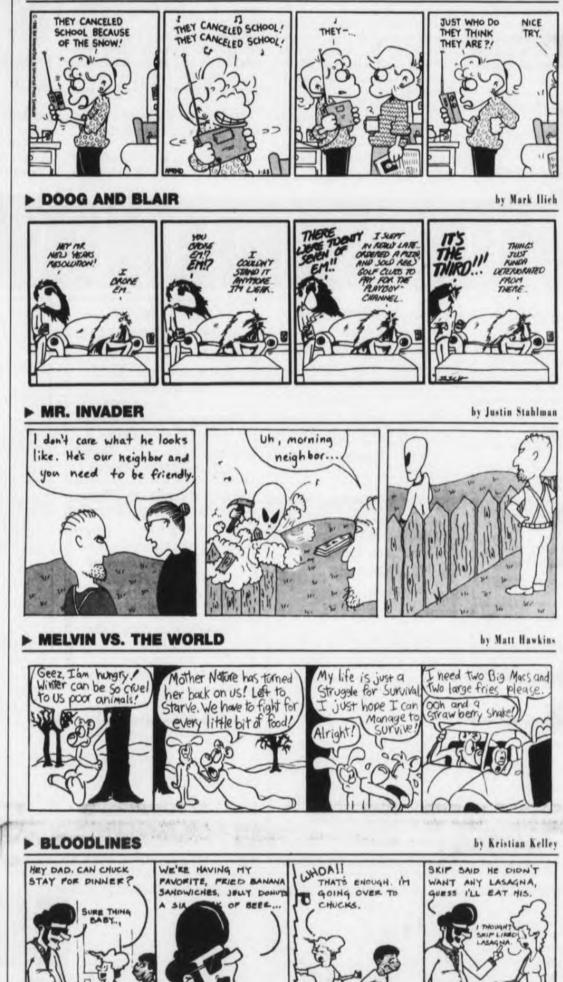

PEGPYIKK

KADYBT

WAZFG-BWZZWM

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE FUNNY TRAVEL

AGENT'S ADVICE TO EACH AND EVERY CLIENT:

to the nearly doomed Apollo 13 space flight is not really a documentary, but it gives one a good peak into NASA's operations during a near-tragedy. This film series is part of BioServe Space Technologies' public outreach program. BioServe is a research arm of NASA jointly operating at K-State and the University of Colorado. Part of its mission is to develop commercial projects through space research. Ballet mixes grace with

maturity Portia Sisco

staff writer Two young girls raised their arms and tiptoed into the bathroom at McCain Auditorium Thursday-night, imitating a spectacular performance of the ballet "Serenade" performed by the Colorado Ballet in "A Balanchine Triple Bill." The essence of youth and grace were captured in the first selection, 'Serenade."

With elegance and simplicity, the dancers work an intricate pattern of dance, weaving among one another. The dancers maintained precision of movement as the dance grew more and more elaborate. In a mock fall, one dancer collapsed on the stage. A man, with his eyes covered by a dark-haired dancer who followed him, stepped out on stage to help the fallen dancer. This trio affected stunning lifts and turns.

Peter Tchaikovsky's "Serenade for Strings" was Balanchine's inspiration for this remarkable dance.

The second selection was an adapted version from a Greek myth. titled "Apollo."

A woman gives birth to Apollo. performed by David Christopher, in a passionate dance scene. Apollo's mother writhes gracefully on top of a high staircase that leads to the heavens.

Christopher lacked the right combination of precision and grace necessary to make the character natural. Christopher's portrayal of Apollo is tragically stiff. While it is clear that Christopher is talented, he didn't portray the strength and stature expected of this legendary hero. 'Rubies" was a dark and enchanting movement.

A corps of dancers in black costumes lined the stage. Covered in sparkling jewels, the dancers performed a sultry dance. This movement was spectacular because of the combined efforts of the corps of dancers. Each movement was finely choreographed and Balanchine's unique style is evident in this mix of classical and modern dance. It was an excellent choice for dancers with strong clas-

The Colorado ballet dancers exhibited maturity and grace in all three of their selections. It was talent and professionalism that made this a rare and wonderful performance.

BUDGET

LET YOURSELF GO.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

TPI

fare until next year.

But all the embers from the budget inferno were not dead. Despite an apparent truce about extending the debt limit and pressure from Wall Street to do so, the two sides fenced about how it would be accomplished.

Since I gave the State of the Union address, there have been some encouraging things said by the congressional leaders," Clinton told mayors visiting the White House, continuing the positive tone he took in that speech.

"But I would remind you that we still have some roadblocks in the way that I think need to be cleared away."

For the next seven weeks, the stopgap spending measure would finance many agencies whose 1996 budgets are incomplete, including the departments of Veterans Affairs, Interior and Labor and the Environmental Protection Agency. Most would receive less than they got in 1995, and 10 minor programs such as money for the native Hawaiian and Alaska native cultural arts - would be eliminated. None of Clinton's largest initiatives would be cut below 75 percent of last year's

TPI

"Nobody wants to close down the government," House said Appropriations Committee Chairman Bob Livingston, R-La., reflecting GOP leaders' new strategy of disavowing confrontation as a tool for pressing their budget ideology.

In a compromise between conservatives and abortion-rights lawmakers, the measure would block U.S. funds to international 'amily planning programs, but only until July. After that, the money could be dispersed, though at just 65 percent of last year's levels.

The program is supposed to spend $548 million more than the next year and a half.

In a win for anti-abortion legislators, there would be a ban on embryo

In addition, travel restrictions would be slapped on many Cabinet officers, a clear poke at the controversial trips of Energy Secretary Hazel O'Leary and Commerce Secretary Ron Brown. And in a symbolic win for the GOP's effort to shrink government, congressional officials were ordered to sell a House office building.

The bill would also provide, for the first time, that federal workers could be furloughed or laid off by agencies looking for savings. During the first two shutdowns, furloughs only occurred in programs that had no spending authority.

Separately, there was continued support for the idea both sides embraced Wednesday of putting limited spending and tax cuts onto a measure that would extend the government's debt limit. Without that bill, the administration has predicted that by March 1, Treasury would be unable to pay federal obligations for the first time in history could cause widespread financial disruptions.

A day after House Speaker Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., said he hoped the debt-limit measure could also carry $100 billion in spending cuts and $29 billion in tax reductions, White House chief of staff Leon Panetta said he did not know what was achievable.

But Panetta said talks at a staff level could begin Friday. And hoping to wrest the deficit-cutting mantle from Republicans, he continued to insist that the administration preferred a deal on a balanced budget, not just modest savings.

"That really ought to be our first priority," he said. "That's what we promised the American people and we ought to deliver on that promise."

For their part, Republicans tried to soothe concerns that they would spark a stalemate that could cause a federal default.

"I understand our responsibility on the debt ceiling and know we have to raise the debt ceiling," House Majority Whip Tom DeLay, R-Texas

But they insisted they would spend the rest of the year pressing Clinton to accept as many budget cuts as possible, including on the debt-limit measure.

said that the debt limit be extended far enough so it can get out beyond this election year. But Republicans were undecided whether, instead, it should be done

Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin

for a shorter period to keep pressure on Clinton. Panetta and Rubin met with moderate Senate Democrats and Republicans and urged them to seek support for a full-blown balancedbudget plan.

Afterward, Sen. John Breaux, D-La., said the moderates would seek enough votes to push such a package through the Senate, but conceded that their chances of success were "less than 50-50."

FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE WATERWORLD

Tonight, Jan. 26 at 9 p.m. Free Admission

Sponsored

ECM Campus Center

1021 Denison

Not just a night spot

sical backgrounds.

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for a FREE Cappucino, Cafe Latte, or espresso

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE

Shutdown postpones funding

William Thomas Burdette

Some K-State researchers know they can't take federal funding for granted. Federally funded grants are hard to come by in the days of government shutdown, and many people involved with research at the University are finding themselves tied up by administrative red tape.

"The agencies aren't even sure about what their levels of funding will be," Beverly Page, information specialist for PreAward services, said.

Page is in charge of providing information on sources of funding for research grants. She publishes a weekly bulletin to all faculty members listing how and where they can obtain grants. However, the publication will not come out this week. Due to the fact that her two main sources of information have been gone for more than a month, the bulletin will not be published. No applications, no program descriptions and no new information is coming from Washington, "Currently, there is practically nothing being published about funding from the agencies," Page said. NASA is another agency that has, in the past, contributed funds to K-State. Yet, NASA is plagued by confusion and backlog.

Terry Johnson, chief scientist for the K-State BioServe Space Technology Center, said he has felt the effects of the shutdown on his program, as well.

"We asked them about the money, and they don't know. Nobody knows," Johnson said.

BioServe works in conjunction with K-State, the University of Colorado and more than 30 corporations around the country. Grants from NASA and private companies fund the program's experiments in microgravity.

The center also sponsors campus activities such as an upcoming film festival on space movies and a Feb. 6 lecture by Apollo 13 astronaut Ken Mattingly.

While late grants are not uncommon for NASA, the government shutdown has not helped the situation, causing paperwork to back up and forcing the center to operate in the red, Johnson

"Our fiscal year started on Nov. 1, and we still haven't seen the money," Johnson said.

"The work is always there, and when the workers are furloughed, it

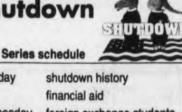

Government shutdown

Today

The Collegian is running a series about the government shutdown and how it affects K-State.

Stories can also be found in back issues of the Collegian and in the archives of the E-Collegian.

http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Tuesday Wednesday foreign exchange students Thursday military/veterans grants

gets backed up," he said. While tardy grants, a slowdown of grant information and mountains of backlog have all complicated the process of getting grants, not all of the re-searchers at K-State are worried.

Paul Lowe, assistant director of vice-provost for research, said problems associated with the shutdown have not been brought to his attention yet.

"None of the researchers have expressed an immediate concern to me, but we might experience some delays down the road," Lowe said.

RELIGION DIRECTORY

1110 College Avenue South of Claffin Sunday Morning Worship 10:45 a.m. Call for rides 539-3921

English Worship 10:30 a.m. & 6:30 p.m. Sunday School 9:15 a.m. Chinese Worship 10:30 a.m.

4761 Tuttle Creek Blvd. (3 miles north of Kimball Ave.)

776-3798

BAS STATE COLLECIAN

FIRST LUTHERAN

10th Poyntz 537-8532 Worship at 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m.

Manhattan Mennonite Church

Sunday School 9:30 a.m., Worship 10:45 a.m. Eldon Epp, Pastor Child Care Available

LIVING WATER RANCH CHURCH

SUNDAY Service 10 a.m. 7 p.m. KOINONIA Fellowship * Broadcast 9:05 a.m. Angel 95 (95.3 FM) WEDNESDAY Service 7:30 p.m. STERLING HUDGINS-PASTOR Located 12 miles north of Tuttle Creek Dam, turn off Hwy. 13 at the sign. 4150 LIVING WATER DR. OLSBURG, KS 66520

(913) 468-3615

ST. LUKE'S LUTHERAN CHURCH (LCMS)

Campus Pastor James Gau Sun. 8 and 10:45 a.m. Sat. Worship 6 p.m. Bible Class Sunday 9:30 a.m.

330 N. Sunset Ave 539-2604

First Congregational Church

700 Poyntz (Poyntz and Juliette) 537-7006 Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m.

Sermon:

"The Surprising Need No One Likes to Admit" Sunday, Jan. 28

University Christian Church

2800 Claflin 776-5440

Worship Services 8:30, 9:45 & 11 a.m.

Bible Classes 9:45 & 11 a.m.

Evening Activities 6:30 p.m.

Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. For free transportation within chity limits, call the church. Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd.

539-8691

An American Baptist Congregration

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

8:30 & 11 a.m. Worship 9:45 a.m. Church School including University and Young adult classes Nursery provided for all services Omer G. Tittle, Pastor

776-8821 612 Poyntz DIAL-A-PRAYER 776-9569 Grace Baptist Church

2901 Dickens (2 biks. E. of Seth Child) ·Sunday · 'Two Unique Worship' 8:15 • 10:45 Bible Classes (ALL AGES) 9:30 A.M.

Body Life or Care Cells 6 P.M. 776-0424

10:30 a.m. Morning Worship Sunday School Children's Church Pastor Ron McClung gs/Career Sunday School class offered 537-7173

ed 11/2 mi. West of Holidome Church 3001 Fort Riley Blvd.

WESTVIEW

COMMUNITY CHURCH

WESLEYAN

Morning Worship Sunday School

Children's Church

5th & Humboldt

776-8790 Contemporary Worship 8:30 a.m. Traditional Worship 10:55 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. Live Broadcast 11:30 a.m. Angel 95 (95.3 FM)

Wed. Eve. Bible Study COLLEGE FELLOWSHIP Thursday 7:30 p.m.
PASTOR DR. DONALD E. BREZAVAR

2310 Candlewood 537-7633

College Class 9:30 a.m.

Worship Service 10:30 a.m. Wed. night service 7 p.m. Youth group-Sat. night 7:15 p.m. Evening Praise 6 p.m. Sat. night prayer • 6 p.m.

Chi Alpha Campus Ministries Wednesdays, 1014 Throckmorton, 7:30 p.m.

Confessions: Sat. 4 p.m. 539-7496 Chaplain: Father Brad Sterrett

Catholic Student Center

Masses: Sat. 5 p.m. Sun. 9:30, 11 a.m., a 5 p.m.

St. Francis Canterbury Episcopal Campus Ministry

Eucharist & Guitar in Danforth Chapel Every Sunday at 5 p.m. Rev. Cathy Chittenden-Bascom 532-9099

Joint Fellowship Time in between worship services

Lutheran Campus Ministry

at Luther House 1745 Anderson Sunday Worship 7:15 p.m. in the Danforth Chapel College Liturgy

"Now the Feast and Celebration" Pastor Jayne Thompson 539-4451

Open to All -

Classifieds

OW TO PAY

vice charge on all returned checks.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

Announcements

COLLEGE CREDIT- Excomplete certification Next scube class filling fast. Call now 539-DIVE. Aggie Dive Shop, 1124 Moro.

Wedding Open House

Saturday and Sunday Jan. 27 & 28 Register for FREE Prizes! DMr. P's Larty Outlet

318 Poyntz • Manhattan, KS 68503 913-776-7547

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m. KSU SCUBA NAUI or YMCA certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539-8763

WANTED: 100 Studental Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 our free informat 00)256-7515.

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information: (800)229-7562.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND: CHRISTMAS gift for Crystal Woodbury, call 776-1798.

WOMAN'S WATCH in Eisenhower Hall in De-cember. Call 532-6904.

Parties-n-More

ADD A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at reasonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

Manhattan City Ordi-nance 4814 sesures every person equal op-portunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, reli-gion, age, color, nation-al origin or ancestry. Violations should be re-Violations should be re-ported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hell, 537-0056.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS Corner of College and

Classin, Manhattan 1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments

Deck/Patios for each unit On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry Covered Parking **************

2 BR - $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735 4 BR - $860 & $880

Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases * For more information, call: (913) 776-3663

Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday by Appointment ONE-BEDROOM $320/month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to campus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537-7542. AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom epartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

TWO-BED ROOM, close to campus, terrace, washer/ dryer access, low utili-ties, $430/ month. Call 539-3178. ROOMMATE NEEDED to share three-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, partially fur-nished. $175 a month plus one-third utilities. Call 539-1063. STUDIO, ONE, two, three-bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished. Clean and quiet surroundings six or nine-month lease. No pets. 537-8389. THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM FUR. NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428.

bath, new carpet, laun-dry facilities, one block from campus, lease until July. until (913)632-2744. Unfurnished

TWO-BEDROOM,

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available now. Very large, two-bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and

UNTIL YOU CONSIDER THIS! ·Brand new sparkling swimming pool Spacious decks/patios include microwave and ceiling fan ·Economical gas heat bedroom $520, $530 $654, $663 bedroom $816, $836 Office:

(Across from Bramlage) Call Roy at 537-7007 for an appointment.

2400 Kimball Ave.

ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No

APARTMENT FOR rent. Very near campus. Clean and new. $385 plus utilities. Available

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments

AVAILABLE NOW, across from Aggleville and campus. Spacious one or two-bedroom with off-street parking. 776-0683 after 5p.m.

AVAILABLE SOON— two-bedroom duplex, fire-place, off-street park-ing, washer/ dryer hook-ups, central heat/ air, good neighborhood, close to campus. Call 532–9008 or (913)252-3611.

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM, no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid. Available Jan. 1, 539-1975.

CLEAN, THREE-BED-ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer. Gas and water split. Electricity separate. Tresh paid. $450/month 1110 Colorado, 537-9023. FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January. 1611 Laramie. $600. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

CRESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No ing paid and free laun-

LACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays)

dry, two-bedroom. Available now. $400. 776-3143. HEATING PAID. Free laundry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143. LARGE, QUIET, one-bedroom spartment in a six-plex. Living room, dining area, kitchen, and bath, and a walk-in closet. Cats permitted. Phone 537-7087.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

bedroom. One-half block from campus. Dis-count on rent for 12month leases. For de-tails, call (816)224-9796.

Newly carpeted. 537-9188 or 537-1550. ONE-BEDROOM APART-

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Cali 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776–3804.

pet. E: PARK PLACE apartment

776-3663; (316)722-4469. WO-BEDROOM APART

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE in January. 1026 Osage, $485. Water,

K-STATE UNION KEDZIE HALL ROOM 103 OFFICE HOURS

X/ODDWAY AN APARTMENT

Avail. June 5 Aug. 6 ·Kitchen Appliances

bedroom $410, $420

at College Ave.

pets. 537-2332.

(913)455-3433. Leave

Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

AVAILABLE NOW- rent ne gotlable, luxury apart-ment next to campus, two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing, 539–2702 evenings.

AVAILABLE NOW. One-bedroom. 820 Osage. $360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-

$425- $480 pets, $ 776-3345.

You Deserve

The Best ▲ 2 bedroom apartments Great location

bedrooms ▲ Two bathrooms ▲ Walk-in closets ▲ Washer/dryer

NOW LEASING JUNE 8 AUGUST 776-8641

hook-ups

▲ Fireplaces

▲ Large pool

▲ Large

Open Houses Dally The Curtin Company

FOUR-BEDROOM sun porches, formal dining room, washer and dryer. 537-1940. HARDWOOD FLOORS

NEWLY REMODELED one-

ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse

MENT in basement. nice, clean, quiet. $315/ month plus utilities. 539-7244.

NISHED/ unfurnished. Available now. $300, 537-7138.

ONE-BEDROOM Place Apartment. $345 per month plus utilities. January free. New car-pet. Extra clean, 527-5198 leasing a one-bedroom for up to six month lease if desired. Call 537-9794 immediately.

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball, 1413 Cambridge #8, 539-2951

ROYAL TOWERS. Four-

yal TOWERS. Four-bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dish-washer, microwave, laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804. STUDIO AVAILABLE now. near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804.

MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500/ month. 539-5729. THREE-BEDROOM WITH washer/ dryer, dish-washer, fireplace. Avail-able Feb. 1. $600. 537-7138.

THREE-BEDROOM APART-

THREE-BEDROOM, BASE-MENT apartment available immediately, laundry facilities accessible, off-street parking, 15 minute walk to campus $399/ month. Cal 537-3826, ask for John.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT, $380/ month. Across street from Ahearn Field House. Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537-7794. TWO-BEDROOM APART-D-BEDROOM Arania MENT, near campus; all appliances; laundry, gym, pool on-site; $570/ month; call day 776-3663; nite

MENT, southeast of campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facil-ities, immediately avail-able. 539-7277.

Collegian Classifieds

trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH 776-8455

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Avail-able now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month. Water (913)379-5450.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

TWO-BEDROOM.

TWO-BEDROOM. Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401.

For Rent-Houses

AVAILABLE IMME DIATELY. Four-bed room, close to campus 776-1340.

FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM house, short term lease, $700. Available now, 537-7138.

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al lowed.Call 776–3804.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink er. No pets please 539-1554.

O-BEDROOM, ONE bath, house available. Feb. 1; all appliances plus washer/ dryer in-cluded, storage $390/ month. Will pay half TWO-BEDROOM, first months's rent. 2216 Blaker St. Call 539-4713 for informa-

For Sale-Mobile Homes

135

12X60 TWO-BEDROOM Stove, refrigerator, washer/ dryer, mi-crowave. Set up Blue Valley trailer court

1994 SKYLINE Sabre tw bedroom, one bath central air. Excellent condition. Paid $17,500. Sell for $14,000. 537-9740 or 776-6361 before 9:30p.m.

Roommate

A STEAL! Female room mate wanted to share four-bedroom, two campus. bath house, close to month and one-fourth utilities. Wash/ dry dishwasher. Central heat and air. Very nicel Call 587-0769.

AVAILABLE NOW- Very nice four-bedroom townhouse, three bath washer/ dryer. $215 month plus one-fourth utilities. Call 776-3843.

CLEAN, RESPONSIBLE studious college stud-ent seeks housemate to share three-bedroom newly remodeled home in excellent neighbor-hood. Within walking distance to campus. $375/ month INCLUDES washer/ dryer, own bathroom, gas, electric, garbage, water, off-street parking and local phone. Rent due by 28th each month, 539-0813.

FEBRUARY RENT free, For Female, non-smoking To share three-bed room and one and one half bath. Low one third utilities. Electric heating/ cooling. Great landlord. $175. Call 587-0521 as soon as FEMALE ROOMMATE with female and male Own room, washer/ dryer. Non-smoker, no pets. Four blocks from campus. $150/ month plus one-third utilities 776-3119.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted: close to Aggieville and campus. Affordable rent. (776-1388 ask for Ali. MALE ROOMMATE wanted: $183/ month plus one-third utilities. Furnished, next to cam-pus. Call 537-5107. FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Two-bedroom apartment, five very nice, convenient area. $212.50 per month. Can occupy immediately. Contact Shanna. (913)384-5065. FEMALE. AVAILABLE im mediately: three-bed-room house, two blocks to campus, 1105 Ratone, washer/ dryer $150/ month 539-7190, 539-4303 (913)485-2385.

FEMALE/ MALE room mates wanted to share five-bedroom house Two blocks off campus $140/ Month plus utili $140/ Month plus utilities. Call 587-1969 leave

HEY! APARTMENT across from the Union. $200, all utilities paid. Split cable and phone. Call 537-1651, leave mes-

MALE OR female roomhas own bath. Washer/ dryer, half utilities. Call 776-5009.

MALE OR female room-mate wanted. Two rooms available. Large house, $250 a month pus. Call 776-6039.

MALE OR female roommate wanted. Two-level, four-bedroom duplex. $180 and one fourth of utilities. Call MALE ROOMMATE want ed to share two-bed-room apartment at Chase Manhattan. Chase Manhattan $285/ month plus one half utilities. 776–1411 ask for Troy.

MALE/ FEMALE non smoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus one-half bills. Frank 539-8786.

MALE/ FEMALE non smoker for two-bed-room. Close to campus/ Aggieville. $190 plus part utilities. Call Brian 537-6124.

MALE/ FEMALE smoker one-third bills, one third rent, own room close to campus, and Aggieville, 587–9606.

MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block from campus, with two girls, one guy. Own room, washer/ dryer $172.50. 539-4311.

MASTER BEDROOM in three-bedroom house. Two large closets own bathroom, washer/ dry-Call 539-2208.

NEED: MALE to complete three-bedroom nished basement apart-ment, $200/ month plus one-seventh utilities Lease ends May 31 Close to Aggieville (913)632-5211 after

NEWER HOME, master bedroom and three-fourth bath, big closet. All utilities paid. Available immediately. $350/ monthly. 537-1439.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate wanted to share a nice two-bed-room apartment. $150 plus electric bill. Avail

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apart-ment. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.

NON-SMOKING FEMALES, farmhouse, barn for horse, cattle, dogs, 150 Acre pasture, $225, or semester Possible rent in ex-change for cattle chores, 776-1205.

OWN ROOM for male roommate in three-bed room apartment. $225 a month and one-third utilities. No deposit,

587-0015. ROOMMATE TO share two bedroom apartment. One-half utilities. One block from campus Call 539-4301.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities. 587-9439.

ROOMMATE WANTED next to campus. Large, private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294.

ROOMMATES NEEDED, 723 Galaxy $175, month, pets ok, call 587-8335 ask for Jason. ROOMMATES WANTED non-smokers, located off campus. Nice apartment with big rooms, call Scott after 5p.m. 587-8365.

SHARE WITH two other guys. 1630 Leaven-worth. $160/ month ch. (913)383-2590. TO SHARE three-bedroom apartment, south of campus, close to Aggieville, $225.Call gieville, 587-0494. TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all furnished basement apart ment. Laundry fur-nished, for males, non-smoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539–1554. WALK TO campus. Own room, laundry, storage. $187.50 plus one-fourth utilities through May 31. 776-5834.

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry facilities. Pets allowed. Contact John at 537-6058.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to campus in house, please contact Joyce at 565-0114.

ROOMMATES OR subleas-ing until July 31, nice two-bedroom fur-nished apartment. One block from campus. Rent negotiable 587-0542 leave mes-

SUBLEASE SPRING se

mester 1996, rent ne-gotiable, 587-9519. TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease, $480/ month. Water/ trash paid. Also has dishwasher, washer/ dryer, 776-7792.

DIRECTORY

Tutor

HOME PAGE DESIGN-Will design your own home page on the in-ternet using your Kternet using yester ac-State computer ac-count. Call Frank,

Resume/

Typing FAST, CHEAP, accurate. Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing Laser printing. Becky

Child Care CHILDREN'S PALACE, II censed daycare has openings. All ages. Lots of TLC. Fun, learning, environment. Fenced yard. A step in the right direction. Call Amy direction. Ca (913)494-2324.

Other

Services

FREE MONEY- Think it's too good to be true? Well believe me it's not. Let me show you how to get free money through scholarships that most people don't even know exist. Money just sitting there waiting for the taking. Guaranteed!!!!!!!!!! If you're interested in finding out more about this exciting offer give us a call to set up an ap-pointment. Call Margie or Charlie at MC Consultants. (913)456-7176 Don't delay. People are rushing to get their share. NEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-MONEY ents. Immediate qual-(800)270-2744. Open

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

Nutritional Weight Loss

WANTED 100 students to lose 8- 100 pounds. New metabolism breakthrough. I lost 15 pounds in 3 weeks. R.N. assisted. Guaranteed re-sults. $35. (800)579-1634.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$100,000 FIRST Year com missions possible. We need recruiters, trainers, and managers. 24 hour recorded message. (800)289-5685.

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-

1915 for details. $40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.

SEARN $7.50 AN
HOURS - That's right!
You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Manhattan Biomedical Cen-9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M- F, 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from

ATTENTION MAN-HATTAN DO YOU ENJOY DRIVING? USD 383 is looking for people interested in be-people interested in be-coming school bus driv-ers. All training will be provided including CDI licensing. Part-time $6.50 per hour plus benefits. Apply to USD383, 2031 Poyntz Ave., Manhettan, KS for experienced help Call Gaines Harvesting Ave., Manhattan, 66502, 587-2000 EOE.

12 HOURS per week. Must have clerical experi-ence. Interact with staff and faculty, have Word Processing and dbase skills. Knowledge of In-ternet, electronic mail file transfer, world wide web, multimedia and Operating systems. Pick up application form in Fairchild Room 9 or 16 Nichols Hall by 5p.m. Monday. February 5, 1996. Job duties can also be picked up at Fairchild Hall #9 and

Nichols Hall #16. ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces sary. (206)971-3510 ext

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachusetts. Over 100 posi tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required. Top salaries, room and board, and travel al lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27-28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

ATTENTION ALL Students! Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information (800)263-6495

TENTION STUD-ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send ATTENTION Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-

ATTENTION UPPER divi sion accounting majors Very part-time book keeping job, 2- 3 flexi-ble hours a week. Call

ATTENTION: LOSE up to 30 pounds in 30 days for $30. Why wait? Start today! 539-8256.

CAMP COUNSELORS for educational camp south of Kansas City. Can crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the out-doors. Lifeguard help-ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details send inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wild-wood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS CAMP TAKAJO for boys Outstanding Maine camp noted for mag-nificent lakefront setting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 po-sitions for heads and assistants in tennis, base ball, basketball, soccer lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, canoeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, jour-nalism, photography, videography, wood-working, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study, radio and electronics. dramatics, piano ac-companist, music in-strumentalist, band director, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewa-ter canoeing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), sec-retarial. June 17-Au-gust18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union. Walk-ins Welcome.

CLERICAL SUPPORT-Currently hiring for two half-time positions for clerical support. The job requires a knowledge of WordPerfect Lotus 123. Other soft ware knowledge is help ful. Good telephone skills are required. Apply in person at LERN, 1550 Hayes Drive, Manhattan. EOE

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary,. For in formation (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

DELIVERY PERSON need-ed. Please come to 1304 Westloop Shopping Center. 539–8888.

FARM HELP Wanted- Ex-perience required. Call 12:00 to 5:00 days (913)457-3788, nights (913)457-3713 or (913)457-3452.

ED. We run three new 2188's Case International combines, three new Chevy automatic twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board pro-vided. Excellent wages

JOBS IN the Great Out doors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-

KAW VALLEY Greenhous es needs quality peo-ple. Call 776–8585, Mon-day through Friday bet-ween 4 and 5p.m.

OCCASIONAL BABYSIT-TER in our home for preschool child. 532–1989 or 532–7968. PART-TIME BABYSITTER in our home, 537-9082. PART-TIME HELP in day care needed, Mon. 12- 3, Wed. 12- 3, Fri. 12- 5, $4.50 hour, 539-8554.

RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specif-ically designed for recent college graduates. Call or send resume. 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam Swedlund (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.

REFERENCE LIBRARIAN 25 hours/ week Bachelors degree re quired, previous library experience preferred. Send resume, letter of application and references by Jan. 29, to Susan Moyer, Library Director, Doroth Bramlage Public Li brary. 230 W. 7th St

Junction City, KS 66441. REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business opportunity with multi-level marketing in tele-communications indus-try. For appointment

SMALL ENGINE Mechanic, full or part-time, call 776-4181 K-Hill Engine Service. 8430 E. Highway 24. STUDENT OFFICE recep tionist needed. Work study desired, but not required. Please apply by Monday, January 29. Applications avail-able in the Department of Mechanical Engi-neering, 302 Durland Hall.

STUDENT PROGRAM-MER: The Department of Communications, Information & Educa-tional Technology has an opening available for a self-motivated student with excellent programming skills. Ex-pertise in C or C++ is required. Knowledge of Windows, Visual Basic and other PC based software is a plus. IE offers flexible hours and competitive pay; 15- 20 hours/ week during school year and 20– 40 hours during sum-mer. Applications avail-able in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, January 26, 1996.

STUDENT WORKER to assist with Conference Registration, 10- 15 hours per week during the school year, full time through the summer. Required skills include a friendly and outgoing personality, familiarity with KSU, computer data entry, attention to detail, especially filing and organizing work priorities. Apply at Conference Registration in Continuing Education, 141 College Court Building [1615 Anderson Ave.], 532-5569 by January time through the sum 532-5569 by January

STUDENT'S DREAM-Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en ergy, mental alertness 539-7336.

THE DEPARTMENT of Anatomy and Physiology invites applica-tions for a part-time Laboratory Instructor position in the College of Veterinary Med-icine. This is a ninemonth, non-tenure ac-cruing position with a one-year appointment Continuation is dependent on availability of resources and teach-ing performance. Can-MARKET didates should have a strong interest in com-parative veterinary anatomy and be able to contribute to teamtaught gross anatomy courses for first year ve-terinary students. Appointment begins August 15, 1996. DVM required. Applications should include a resume and names of

REAL ESTATE

Manhattan, KS 66506. KSU is an EOE/AAE.

job openings for quali-fied students and faculty. Counselors, WSI, Arts, Athletics Special-ists and morell Best salaries and travel al-lowance in addition to "the finest summer you'll ever have." On campus interviews Thursday, February 8th. Call Career and Em-view appointment.

TUTORS FOR Intro to Computer Engineering, Symbolic Logic I, Fund of Computer Programming, Statistical Methods in Education.

Must have A or B in course. Open to undergraduates and graduate students without Assis tantships. $5 per hour 3 hours per week. Con-tact Educational Support Services, 201 Hol-ton, 532-5642.

student with top-notch communication skills needed for Kansas Work Study Program.

Requires some office skills and a pleasant can-do attitude. Send resume, cover letter and three references to

North Central- Flint

Hills Area Agency on Aging, 437 Houston Street, Manhattan, KS

66502. Deadline

ary 29, 1996 EOE/AA

WORK IN THE COLOR-

this summer at Cheley

Colorado Camps, lo cated in Estes Park

RN's, drivers, office staff, nannies, cooks and kitchen helpers, song leaders, photographers, wranglers and horseback riding coun

packing, sports, climb-ing, riflery, and crafts

ary plus room, board and travel allowance. This will be our 76th summer in operation! Must be at least 19 to apply. Applicants will be notified of campus interview date. Apply Cheley Colorado Camps, P. O. Box 6525, Denver, CO 80206, 800)226-7386

WWW COORDINATOR:

The Department

Communications, Information and Educa-tional Technology, and the Office Community Health are looking for two (2) mature students with excellent communication and organi zational skills. These in dividuals will be asked to develop, implement and manage World Wide Web sites for the Office of Community Health and the National Decisions for Health Network. Expertise in Windows software, the Internet, HTML or other

Web authorion tools is Web authoring tools is necessary. Graduate Student standing is per-ferred. We offer flexible hours and competitive pay; 15- 20 hours/ week. (Funding is avail-able for this position until February 1997). Applications and a job description are avail-able in 211 Umberger Hall through Friday, Fe-bruary 2, 1996.

selors; hiking,

WELL-ORGANIZED KSU

TIMBER LAKE/ TYLER HILL CAMPS, Top NY and PA resident camps have over 200 summer

three references. Ap plications will be r ceived until March

Wanted to Buy

WANT TO buy: Diamonds Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're look ing for, Lorin 539-6631

1996 or until the posi-tion is filled. Send ap-plications to: Dr. Jon D. Dunn, Depart-ment Head, Depart-ment of Anatomy and Physiology; VMS 228; Kansas State University; 1800 Denison Ave., Manhattan. KS COLOR PRINTER for sale 600x300 DPI. Mac or IBM compatible. Call 776-0055. Ask for Ni-

FOR SALE- Oak loft bed: good bed/ mattress sup-ported by two pedes tals that house student desk with three draw ers, twodrawer che and shelves. C 539-6600 after 6p.m.

GE WASHER/ dryer, like new, excellent co-tion. $600. 537-4639 JVC CD changer control ployment Services at (913)532-6506 for an ap-plication and an intercassette and remote six CD Changer. $400 or best offer for pair, call 776-1689. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots. BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m.

Phone 537-5020, Og

Furniture to

Buy/Sell NICE WOOD computer desk. Bought one year ago for $239. Asking $100. Call Ashley 587-1867 or 539-1103. QUEEN-SIZED FUTON frame only 587-9524.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

435

Computers

15-INCH MONITOR Acer View 56L, .28.Pitch, energysaver, many features, top quality $300, 776–1650 Andrea. 486DX4X100, 8 MB ram

CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1495, 539-8453. 94 ACER 486 DX with CD ROM, lots of software, like new, $1700 or best offer. 539-2977 Miles.

APPLE IIE computer and ImageWriter printer Great condition. Word processing and other software packages in-cluded. $350. Call 539-3168 after 6p.m.

FOR SALE, Macintosh Classic. StyleWriter printer carrying cases, acces sories, etc. Call 776-7049 after 6p.m. weekdays, anytime IBM COMPATIBLE 286 computer. Color moni-tor, Word Perfect 5.1. Lotus, modem, 2510 dot matrix printer. $300 or best offer. 539–5522

MACINTOSH LC III, 80 MB hard drive, 8 MB ram, color monitor, printer, lots of software and games. Microsoft Word/ Excel, Sim City 2000, After Dark, great computer for student! $1250, 776-4908.

after 6p.m.

MACINTOSH SE/30 8 meg RAM 80 meg hard drive, software and games included $500 or best offer 776,5960 best offer, 776-5960

MEDIA VISION Pro Audio Spectrum 16 sound card with SCSI port. Software, drivers, and manuals- $75. 537-2497 data@ksu.ksu.edu

TWO TWO meg SIMMS (30 pin, eight bit, non-parity) for Mac LC series. $150 or best offer 532-2393.

Music Instruments

FENDER BASSMAN 135 amplifier. Silverface Piggyback with 2X15 speaker cabinet on wheels. Looks good, sounds great. $400 or offer. 776-0406.

FERNANDEZ GUITAR three months old, telecaster style, natural fin ish, hot pick-ups. lock-ing tuners.$450 with tweed case. Music Co. 539-1958. HARMONY: MUSICAL con cord; agreement; peace and friendship. The Music Co.- redefining the music "industry" at 523 S. 17th St. in the Midtown Plaza. 539-1958.

WANTED TO buy three fourth size violin, call 539-3619. 450 I

Pets and Supplies

50 GALLON aquarium with lighted top. Both are new and still in box. Never used. $115 or best offer. 539-3789. ADORABLE PUPPIES. Red.

female, black/ white male. Australian Shepherd/ Labrador cross. $10. Call Ron at 532-7690 (913)456-7899 evenings

FIVE-FOOT RED-TAILED boa constrictor, with large cage. $300 or best offer, 776-6223. 460

Equipment

JENSEN CAR stereo amp 40 watts per each o two channels- $60 537-2497 data@ksu.ksu.edu KENWOOD STEREO SYStem, new. (776-5830. Best offer.

Automobiles

1990 BLACK Ford Tauras excellent condition with alarm. $7000 or best

CLEAN 1980 Olds Omega, just rebuilt engine, re-ceipts. Four-door, four cylinder, $650 or best offer, 537-4047.

Tour Packages

HILTON HEAD ISLAND 1-800-SUNCHASE POLL PROS INFORMATION & PRISORY IN DIE TO HE WE WE AT AT http://www.suledass.com http://www.suledass.com

Spring

Break

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Cal David Garvin, PADI in structor, 539-0531 structor, 539-053 classes now forming.

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja maica/ Cancun $399. Or ganize a group- Trave Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710.

SPRING BREAK'S "Hot test Trips" Cancun. South Padre Island Belize (800)328-7513 http://www.studen-tadvtrav.com Free food and drink pack age for early sign

> GET THE WORD OUT.

532-6555

532-6555

Change your tune ...buy a guitar, sell a tuba, or find someone to teach you to play either...

Classifieds

Classified Directory

200

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

103 Kedzie

405 Wanted to Buy 410 Items for Sale

425 Auction 430 Antiques

436 Computers 440 Food Specials

445 Music Instruments

450 Pets and Supplies 488 Sporting Equipment 460 Storeo Equipment

MR Tickets to Buy/Self

500 TRANS-PORTATION

510 Automobil 620 Bicycles

630 Motorcycles

840 Car Pool

TRAVEL. 840 Tour Packs

820 Airplane Ticker 630 Train Tickets

840 Bus Tickets

CATEGORIES To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps tential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by

This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range

Consider including the price.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"Coming from a place where it's all free," Pease said, "I thought the fee was outrageous, but for as much as I use the Internet, it turned out to be reasonable. They're going to get the money from you some way, so it might as well be directly from the people who use it."

The University of Nebraska is considering similar plans.

"The problem is that we have too many people trying to call through their modems, and with only 112 modem lines, people are getting busy signals," said Scott McDowell, manager at the help desk for information and technology support at the University of Nebraska.

"There has to be some way to increase the number of lines, so we're discussing many possibilities about funding. One of them is to charge students who dial into the server," he

Another possibility for K-State is the solution that Wichita State University uses. A common carrier, such as AT&T or MCI, is hired to provide service to the students, Unger

Student opinion at K-State varies. "I don't think the fee would be fair," Marc Tanking, junior in horticulture therapy, said.

"Students off campus should be able to conveniently use the Internet for free, just like people on campus

Julie Barker, senior in secondary education, said she saw some value in K-State's proposed user fee.

"As long as it's not outrageous," she said. "It makes sense that the people using the service should pay for any new lines since the people who use the labs on campus don't require extra service - it's free for them."

"It should just be a flat fee, though, per semester or per month, but not based on how many times you dial in," she said.

Although plans are not finalized, the new fee should be in use by July 1 of this year, Unger said.

Services

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

have the power to raise fees if there was a decrease in enrollment and vice

Under this system, it is possible for students to be paying the increase in fees while not reaping any of the benefits before they graduate.

"I will expect most groups will ask for more money," Finkeldei said. 'We think it's a better use for their

Finkeldei said the privilege fee budget will be based off federal and state models

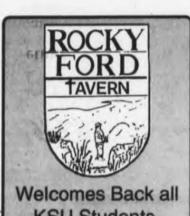

He said President Jon Wefald and Bob Krause, vice provost for institutional advancement, looked at the proposal and showed support of it.

In other business, construction of the K-State Student Union Expansion project might not happen, Finkeldei

"One of the options because of budget restraints is to eliminate expansion," he said.

Finkeldei said it would cost about $130 per square foot for the expansion of the Union and about $70 per square foot for remodeling.

Full-time students are paying $25 per semester for the Union expansion project, Finkeldei said.

KSU Students.

The Best Little Bar by a Dam Site.

6625 Dyer

INTRAMURALS

Entry Deadline

BASKETBALL

AND INDIVIDUAL SPORTS

Recreation Complex Open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Deadline: TONIGHT at 5 p.m. Entry: Rec Services Office at the 537-3133

TRASH

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

to be collected. Trash containers should be put out in front of the residence the night their cans out there in order for them before or morning of pick up and removed after pick up, McCallum The second ordinance passed refers to couches and other objects that are stored in the front yards or porches of residences. "This ordinance prevents things like sofas and lumber from being stored in the front yard or on front porches," he said.

Also included in the ordinance are appliances, bedding, cans, machine parts, paper, rags, scrap metal, water heaters or "any other item that constitutes a nuisance.

When the ordinances were passed, they were passed with the understanding they would be enforced on a complaint-basis only, Petty said. This means some one must complain for any action to be taken against the owner or tenant. The first course of action will be for the city to contact the owner, tenant or both regarding the violation.

If nothing is done, the owner must give the city a plan of action in which it describes how the problem will be corrected in the near future.

"The last course of action we will take would be to file a complaint with the municipal court," he said.

Petty said fines would depend on the judge but could be as much as

GET THE WHOLE STORY.

CHECK OUT THE E-COLLEGIAN.

HTTP://WWW.SPUB.KSU.EDU

and read the Collegian

YBK High Level

For Self Defense and Personal Development

For more information Call 537-0732

This coupon good for

PEPPER STEAK

1116 Moro 537-0886 Mon.-Sat. 11 a.m.-1 a.m.

11 a.m.-Midnight

Sun.

$3.90 Dine-in and carryout

Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

FREE DELIVERY (min. $9) Expires 2-1-96

CHIMES

IS LOOKING FOR

QUALIFIED CANDIDATES

Pick up an application in the Office of Student Activities and Services or call Chris Hansen 776-6294 or Jerrod Westfahl 539-2365 Ex.. 131

Application deadline Friday, Feb. 16 at 4 p.m.

• RETURN TO THE OFFICE OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND SERVICES •

Call Rec Services for Details...532-6980 PETSONSTUFF Hermit Crabs, Newts, Frogs 539-9494 1105 Waters INTRAMURALS BASKETIBAILIL

Officials Meeting

Monday, Jan. 29 at 6:30 p.m. Recreation Complex

Call Rec Services for Details...532-6980

WOULDN'T IT BE GREAT?!?

To welcome new students to campus!

To encourage new students to get involved!

To integrate new students into the life of being a K-State Wildcat!

Application Available: 1 Anderson Hall Applications Due: Monday, Feb. 5

For More Information: Call 532-6318

CA-State Brateri Union

Friday, January 26 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, January 27 7:00 pm Forum Hall

Thursday, January 25 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, January 27 9:30 pm Forum Hall Carlotte Student Union

2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY

Sunday, January 28, 8:00 pm Forum Hall

FREE Bioserv Space Technologies

2010: THE YEAR WE MAKE CONTACT

Monday, January 29, 8:00 pm Forum Hall

FREE Bioserv Space Technologies

For more information, call the UPC Office at 532-6571

Worship Service

539-2604

6 p.m. 7:45-8:45 a.m. 9-9:45 a.m.

330 N. Sunset

10-11 a.m. 11:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Sat. Evening Service Early Service Sun. School Contemporary Service Late Sevice (8:45-11:15 a.m. Fellowship)

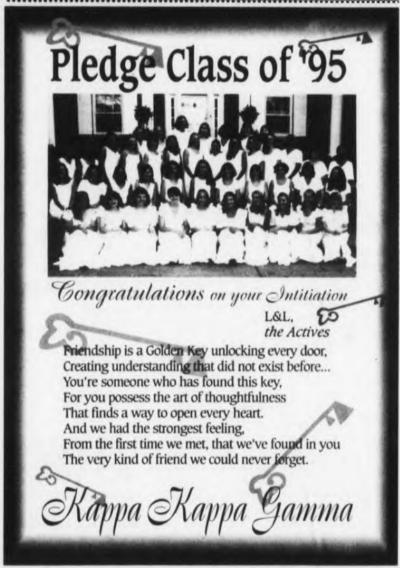

Live Friday & Saturday

BLAZING PIANOS!

Featuring Hollywood & Wild Bill "The wildest sing-a-long, clapa-long, stand-up, sit-down, embarrass your friends, dueling piano show in the world!"

TALENT AUDITIONS

For Singers & Dancers

"All the World's a Stage" at Worlds of Fun from our lively 60's - 70's rock revue, STAX OF WAX, to our spectacular contemporary country music show at the Tivoli Music Hall. Performing at Worlds of Fun is FUN, and it can be that important First Step toward a professional career. More than 1.3 million Worlds of Fun Guests are waiting to discover YOU!

AUDITION INSTRUCTIONS

If you are a singer, please sing one verse and chorus of two contrasting styles of song: one up-tempo and one ballad. Sing any type music you enjoy: rock, country, show tunes, etc. (No Rap.) Singer auditions should be no longer than three minutes in length.

Dancers should prepare one song to sing and a jazz routine no longer than

You must provide your own accompaniment whether it be a pianist or a cassette tape. We will provide a cassette deck and a piano. A cappella auditions will not be accepted.

We are not auditioning bands, solo instrumentalists or dramatic actors.

THE CLOSEST AUDITIONS:

Manhattan, Kansas Wednesday, January 31 - Kansas State University The "K & S" Rooms in the K-State Union. 3:00 p.m. (Registration closes at 5:00 p.m.)

Lawrence, Kansas

Monday, February 5 - The University of Kansas In the Kansas Room (level 6) at the Kansas Union. 3:00 p.m. (Registration closes at 5:00 p.m.)

Kansas City, Missouri Sunday, February 4 - Park Place Hotel 1601 N. Universal Avenue (Just off Front Street at I-435.) 1:00 p.m. (Registration closes at 4:00 p.m.)

*Applicants must be at least 16 years of age by 5-5-96. For more information and a complete audition schedule, contact the Worlds of Fun Live Entertainment Department at (816) 454-4545, Ext. 1350. E.O.E.

SUPER SHOWDOWN

Pittsburgh Steelers vs. Dallas Cowboys

Nothing-to-lose Steelers will win big one for AFC he Pittsburgh Steelers should not win Super Bowl XXX, and that's exactly what they have going for them.

The National Football Conference has won 11 straight Super Bowls, and in at least nine of those games, the NFC had the superior team, but as the Indianapolis Colts proved to the Kansas City Chiefs only three short weeks ago, the best team

And this Steeler team could be the underdog with just the right ingredients to cause an end to this most unforeseeable streak.

In fact, I would go even a step farther and say because the Steelers are so much less talented than Dallas Cowboys, it is the team's strength.

The Steelers are outclassed at about every position on the field, and despite that, the Steelers have found ways to win all season. The Cowboys are used to playing more talented teams, and these Steelers just play to win - a combination that will prove fatal Sunday.

The less-talented Steelers scratch and crawl their way to win, while the Cowboys rely on pure talent. It is these matchups that give the Cowboys the most trouble

The Steelers will take the Cowboys out of its game plan. A team cannot prepare to play the Steelers how it would prepare to play any other team, because the Steelers do not play like any other team in the NFL. When the Cowboys are forced out of the game plan, the Cowboys are most vulnerable (If you don't believe me, exhibit A is the Cowboys' losses to Washington and Philadelphia.)

The Cowboys will panic, and when the Cowboys panic, the Steelers will pounce.

Cowboys quarterback Troy Aikman will try to force the pass to Michael Irvin when the pass is not there. Running back Emmitt

Smith will not take what the Steeler defense gives him and will try to make something happen on his

This will lead to turnovers and Steeler points on the board, and as the Cowboys have proven time and time again, they are not a comefrom-behind team. And when the Steelers are ahead, the team is most

The Steelers will not give the Cowboys any free chances to get back into the game and will do anything to put the stranglehold on the Cowboys.

Don't think the Steelers will be comfortable just running the ball up the middle with a seven-point lead. Don't be too surprised to see a few plays of trickery using quarterback/wide receiver/ running back/ punter Kordell Stewart at just about anywhere on the field to disrupt the Cowboys defense.

In fact, I think Stewart will be the difference in the game.

The Steelers were a hard enough team to prepare for before the rise of the multi-talented Stewart, and he by himself causes opposing defenses fits.

Yes, this is the AFC's turn to shine. Steeler coach Bill Cowher will bring an end to the jokes, smirks and the laughs.

The beauty of it all is Cowher will bring an end to the career of Cowboys coach Barry Switzer, the man who probably should have the easiest coaching job in all of professional football - after all, he has the best team money can buy.

But you cannot buy intangibles and the little things that can win big

So how fitting, America's Ugliest Team will bring about the fall of America's Team.

TODD Stewart

Todd's picks

► Final score: Steelers 20-13

MVP: Kordell Stewart, Steelers

Cowboys will outclass overmatched Pittsburgh Steelers

Myview

Newell

Shana's picks

▶ Final score: Cowboys 31-20 MVP: Troy Aikman, Cowboys same two teams will meet for a third The Pittsburgh Steelers own the record with two Super Bowl wins in both of its championship outings against the Dallas Cowboys. But that record is one America's team has been waiting to avenge for the last 20 years.

he third time is a charm. For the first time in NFL Super Bowl history, the

There's a different story unfolding. The Dallas Cowboys have won nine of their last 10 playoff games dating back to 1992. Their one loss came in last year's NFC title game. Even more impressive is the fact that in eight of those 10 games, the Dallas offense accumulated more than 30 points.

The Pittsburgh Steelers lack Super Bowl experience in the 1990s. In fact, only one person on the team can boast of being at the big dance, and he is a coach. Their lack of Super Bowl experience was even more evident this week as Rod Woodson and two other Steeler teammates failed to appear before a mandatory press session. Their response? It was a miscommunication. They said they didn't know they needed to be Turn around and look at the Dallas Cowboys. They have the experience. This will be the third time in the last four years the 'Boys have made it to the Super Bowl. They missed last year by only one game. And each of the times they have made it to the championship game in the '90s, they have wholloped on the AFC representative for the win.

This year won't be any different. The Indianapolis Colts, a 9-7 team in the regular season that snuck into the playoffs in a wild card spot, showed Barry Switzer how to beat the Steelers. Take away the run. Take away the long passing

Two weeks ago against the Colts, the Steelers were unable to show dominance. In fact, it came down to a bobbling Hail

Mary pass that gave the Steelers an invitation to Tempe, Ariz And who did the Steelers compete against? The Colts strutted their stuff with second-string running back Lamont Warren and no-name wide receivers Sean Dawkins and Floyd Turner.

The Indianapolis Colts are not the Dallas Cowboys. Running back Emmitt Smith, arguably the best running back in professional football right now, is performing at his highest level this season. Quarterback Troy Aikman, one of the game's best, is quietly continuing to find his receivers. Jay Novacek, Michael Irvin, Kevin Williams and Deion Sanders round out the rest of the offensive cast of the Cowboys.

Charles Haley, who has been out due to surgery for a ruptured disk in his lower back, is practicing with the team in preparation for the showdown in Tempe.

In fact, the Steelers should look for plenty of Haley in pass defense situations. He can move, and he can tackle.

Then there's Switzer. He has a lot to prove. From his controversial fourth-and-one decisions against the Philadelphia Eagles to his Orange Bowl blunder in one of this week's press conferences, Switzer has indicated to Cowboys' critics that maybe he isn't ready to coach at the professional level.

The Cowboys' defense will stall the Steelers' run. They will shut down quarterback Neil O'Donnell's passing game.

The Dallas offense will continue to put out the numbers expected of it. It has too many

The Steelers are good. But the Cowboys are the best.

Super Bowl history

III - 1969 IV - 1970

V-1971 VI-1972

VII - 1973

VIII - 1974

IX - 1975

X - 1976

XI - 1977

XII - 1978

XIII - 1979

XV - 1981

XVI - 1982

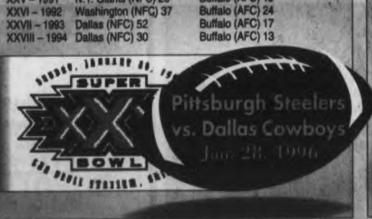

XVII - 1983

XXIV - 1990

Green Bay (NFL) 35 Green Bay (NFL) 33 N.Y. Jets (AFL) 16 Kansas City (AFL) 23 Baltimore (AFC) 16 Dallas (NFC) 24 Miami (AFC) 14 Miami (AFC) 24 Pittsburgh (AFC) 16 Pittsburgh (AFC) 21 Oakland (AFC) 32 Dallas (NFC) 27 Pittsburgh (AFC) 35 Pittsburgh (AFC) 31 Oakland (AFC) 27 San Francisco (NFC) 26 Washington (NFC) 27 L.A. Raiders (AFC) 38 San Francisco (NFC) 38 Chicago (NFC) 46 N.Y. Giants (NFC) 39 San Francisco (NFC) 55 N.Y. Giants (NFC) 20

Kansas City (AFL) 10 Oakland (AFL) 14 Baltimore (NFL) 7 Minnesota (NFL) 7 Dallas (NFC) 13 Miami (AFC) 3 Washington (NFC) 7 Minnesota (NFC) 7 Minnesota (NFC) 6 Dallas (NFC) 17 Denver (AFC) 10 Dallas (NFC) 31 Los Angeles (NFC) 19
Philadelphia (NFC) 10
Cincinnati (AFC) 21
Miami (AFC) 17
Washington (NFC) 9
Miami (AFC) 16
New England (AFC) 10 Denver (AFC) 10 Buffalo (AFC) 19 Buffalo (AFC) 24

Super Bowl records

Team records in scoring

Fewest points in a game Most points combined in a game

Fewest points combined in a game Largest margin of victory

55 San Francisco vs. Denver, 1990. Miami vs. Dallas, 1972. 75 San Francisco (49), San Diego (26), 1995.

Miami (14), Washington (7), 1973. San Francisco vs. Denver (55-10), 1990.

Individual records in scoring lost points, illetime

42, Jerry Rice, San Francisco.
18, Roger Craig, San Francisco vs. Miami, 1985;
Jerry Rice, San Francisco vs. Denver, 1990 and vs. San Diego, 1995; Ricky Watters, San Francisco vs. San Diego, 1995.

touchdowns, lifetime 7, Jerry Rice, San Francisco. 3, Roger Craig, San Francisco vs. Miami, 1985; Jerry Rice, San Francisco vs. Denver 1990 and vs. San Diego, 1995; Ricky Watters, San Francisco vs. San Diego, 1995.

Most points after touchdown, lifetime 9, Mike Cofer, San Francisco. est points after touchdown, game

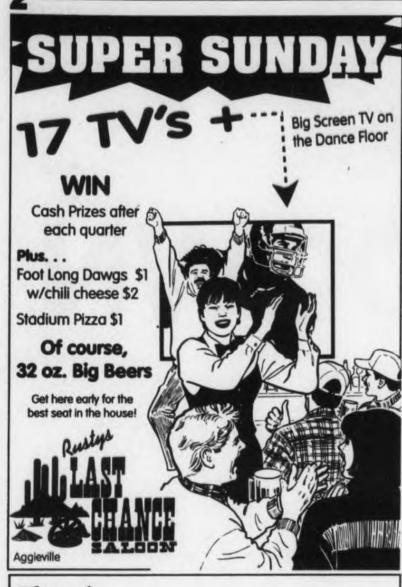

7, Mike Cofer, San Francisco vs. Denver, 1990; Lin Elliott, Dallas vs. Buffalo, 1993; Doug Brien, San Francisco vs. San Diego,

5, Ray Wersching, San Francisco. 4, Don Chandler, Green Bay vs. Oakland, 1968; Ray Wersching, San Francisco vs. Cincinnati,

Longest field goal 54, Steve Christie, Buffalo vs. Dallas, 1994. lost safeties 1, Dwight White, Pittsburgh vs. Minnesota, 1975; Reggle

Harrison, Pittsburgh vs. Dallas, 1976; Henry Waechter, Chicago vs. New England, 1986; George Martin, New York vs. Denver, 1987; Bruce Smith, Buffalo vs. New York, 1991.

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

There's

"A Salon for the Entire Family"

1220 Moro • Manhattan, KS • (913) 776-3600

3 BIG DAYS OF SAVINGS January 25,26, & 27

. SAVE 45% as Gass tag 127 - 180" NOW 1664 - 1994 Pendleton, Comfy, David James PRCA Jackets

• SAVE 30% Carhartt Coats Assorted Styles 84 71 - 12 - NOW 500 - 59 | 00

 50% Off Australian Outback Oilskins Short Style Mg "187 - 212" NOW $94" - $108" Full length with lining to 127 NOW 1644

 Stetson, Resistol & Beaver Brand Felt Hats 30% Off Assorted Styles Me 10 - 140 NOW $490 - $1040

Men's Dress Wool Blend Vests Marin NOW 44" - 59"

 Men's Western Shirts Buy I Reg. Price for 1/2 price

 Boots (Assorted Styles) Men's SAVE 40% - 60% off Reg. Price Ladies SAVE 40% off Reg. Price

· Ladies Western Blouses 25% Off Reg. Price

LEE'S WESTERN WEAR

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-5:30 p.m. 8426 E. HWY 24 776-6715

Automotive Westside Location 1120 Waters St.

- Complete Car & Truck Service & Repair Center -Domestic & Imported

 Air Conditioning Service & Repair -Freon recycling system for a safe, clean environment

> Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sat. 8 a.m.-1 p.m.

Diet Cures What Diet Causes

Food Supplements Special Dietary Foods Body Building Foods Homeopathies

Natural Foods Appliances Books Herbs

Hansen Nutrition Center

3112 Anderson Ave. 537-4571

Mon.-Sat. 9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

NEWS & notes -

Sunday, Jan. 28-DALLAS (12-4) VS. PITTSBURGH (11-5) 6:18 p.m. EST NBC

LINE Dallas by 13 1/2. RECORD VS. SPREAD Steelers 10-8; Cowboys 9-7-2. SERIES RECORD Cowboys lead 13-11. LAST TIME MET

In the opening game of the 1994 season, Cowboys beat Steelers at Three Rivers Stadium 26-9. LAST GAME

Steelers defeated Colts 20-16, scoring TD with less than 2 minutes left to take lead, then holding on as last-second pass into end zone fell incomplete. Cowboys rallied with two fourth quarter TDs to beat Packers 38-27.

STEELERS OFFENSE

RUSH (No. 12), PASS (No. 8), OVERALL (No. 6) Offense was more balanced and potent this season. QB Neil O'Donnell had his best season with 87.7 rating, 17 TDs and 2,970 yards, despite missing 4 games. However, O'Donnell has thrown just two TDs and three INTs in playoffs. WR Yancey Thigpen caught 85 passes for 1,307 yards. Running backs Erric Pegram and Bam Morris combined for 1,372 yards rushing and 14 TDs. COWBOYS OFFENSE

RUSH (No. 2), PASS (No. 13), OVERALL (No. 5) RB Emmitt Smith has followed his 1,773 yard, 25 TD regular season with 249 yards and four TDs in playoffs. QB Troy Aikman has regained his form after late-season slump, completing 67 percent of his passes for three TDs in postseason. WR Michael Irvin, also quiet at season's end, has three playoff TD catches. Offensive line has been biggest star in last two games, led by guards Nate Newton and Larry Allen.

STEELERS DEFENSE RUSH (No. 2), PASS (No. 6), OVERALL (No. 3) OLB Greg Lloyd, as he has done during regular season, has led defense in playoffs with two sacks and sideline-to-sideline play. Lloyd and OLB Kevin Greene, team leader with nine sacks during season, supply strong pass rush. CB Willie Williams, who made tackle of year on fourth quarter, third-and-1 against Colts, led team with seven INTs this season. Run defense, including playoffs, has held opponents to 83.2 yards per game.

COWBOYS DEFENSE RUSH (No. 16), PASS (No. 8), OVERALL (No. 9)

DT Leon Lett and DE Tony Tolbert have played tremendously in postseason, in absence of DE Charles Haley. Tolbert had two sacks and Lett an INT and sack vs. Packers. Unit has allowed just 122 yards rushing in 2 playoff games. CB Deion Sanders has three INTs, including one in playoffs. CB Larry Brown and S Brock Marion led team with six INTs in regular season.

SPECIAL TEAMS Steelers kicker Norm Johnson led AFC in scoring with 141 points. Johnson made 34 of 41 FGs. ... Cowboys K Chris Boniol was league's most accurate kicker this season, making 27 of 28 FG attempts and scoring 127 points.

STREAKS, STATS AND NOTES

This will be third meeting between Dallas and Pittsburgh in the Super Bowl. Pittsburgh defeated Dallas in the 1976 and '79 Super Bowls. This is first time a pair of teams have been matched in the Super Bowl three times. ... In two Super Bowls, Aikman is 41 for 57 (72 percent) with four TDs and 480 yards. Smith has 240 yards rushing and three TDs in the Super Bowl. Aikman was MVP of 1993 Super Bowl and Smith was MVP in '94. ... Smith has 280 yards rushing and two TDs in just two games vs. Pittsburgh. ... Last time teams met (opening day 1994), Cowboys sacked Neil O'Donnell nine times. ... Steelers CB Rod Woodson, who had major knee surgery following his first game of the season, seemes likely to see limited action. ... The winner of this game will become the second team in NFL history to win five Super Bowls, joining 49ers, who accomplished feat last. ... Cowboys held ball for 38:56 vs. Packers. ... Steelers led NFL in time of possession, averaging 32:36 per game in regular season. ... Cowboys are 6-2, with four straight wins at Sun Devil Stadium, all against Cardinals. Steelers have lost their only two games in Tempe.

Source: Associated Press

3 doors up the alley from Downtown Burger King One Coupon Per Customer Must Present With Shoes Void With Other Offers

EASTSIDE SHOE DROP Dillon's Super Store

776-9285

Customer Service

7 - 10 p.m. Daily

10% Discount with coupon Expires 3-16-96

315 POYNTZ · BACK DOOR Mon.-Frl. 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sat. 8 a.m.-2 p.m. 776-1193

"Our Business Is Exhausting"

Rose Muffler House

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. Manhattan, Kansas 66502

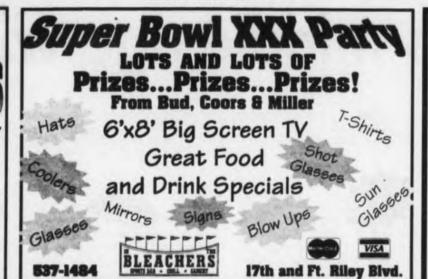

913-776-8955

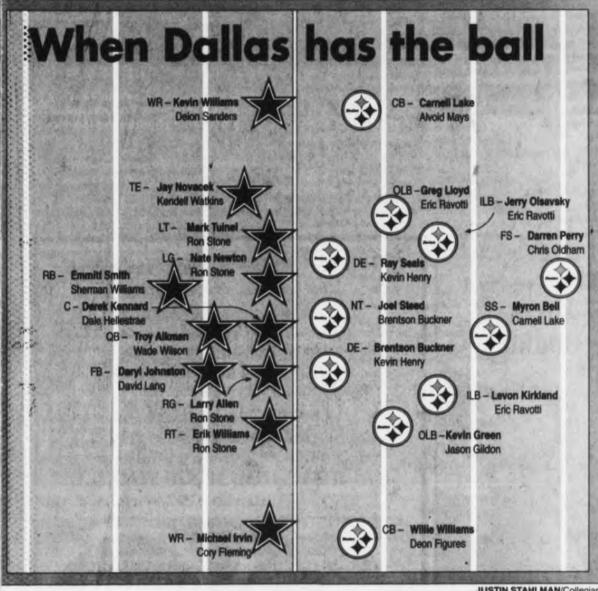

1-800-439-8956

- ALSO -Rose House of Tint

Division of Rose Muffler House "If It's Glass, We Can Tint It!"

1119 Moro • 776-7714

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

How much do you really know?

Answers on page 4
Source: Associated Press

I - What was the name of the first "Super Bowl"?

II - Who has the longest run from scrimmage in Super Bowl history? (5 points)

- a) Marcus Allen
- b) Emerson Boozer
- c) John Riggins d) Tom Nowatzke
- III Who scored the first points in Super Bowl
- history? (5 points)
 a) Don Chandler
 - b) Max McGee
 - c) Mike Garrett d) Elijah Pitts
- IV Name the five defensive players who have been awarded the MVP award. Hint: Two defensive players shared the award in the 1978 Super Bowl. (5

V - Who has the record for the longest field goal in Super Bowl history? (5 points)

VI - Only one player has won the MVP while playing on the losing team. Who is he? (5 points)

VII - Who scored the first points for the defense in the Super Bowl? (5 points)

- a) Willie Wood b) Mike Bass
- c) Herb Adderly d) Terry Brown

VIII - Name the last AFC team to win a Super Bowl. (5 points).

IX — Which player has been with three different winning Super Bowl teams? (5 points)

- a) Mary Fleming
- b) Jeff Rutledge
- c) Matt Millen

X - True or False. No punt has ever been returned for a touchdown. (5 points)

XI - Name the only Super Bowl champion that had a losing record prior to its championship season. (5 points)

XII - Name the three Super Bowl champions that had losing records after their championship season. (2 points each)

XIII - Name the only coach to take two teams to the Super Bowl. (5 points)

XIV - The 1972 Miami Dolphins are the only Super Bowl team to finished with a perfect season. Name the four Super Bowl champions who finished with one loss. (1 point each)

XV - Two players have won the MVP award in consecutive years. Name them. (2 points each)

XVI - Arizona will be host to its first Super Bowl. Name other four states to be host to one Super Bowl. (1 point each)

XVII - Four wild-card teams have played in the Super Bowl. Name the team that won its Super Bowl. (5 points)

XVIII - Which Super Bowl received the highest TV rating? (5 points)

XIX - Not counting the Jacksonville Jaguars, name the three AFC teams that haven't made a Super Bowl appearance? (2 points each)

XX - Name the three coaches that have four Super Bowl losses. (2 points each)

BONUS - Name the only player to be on five consecutive Super Bowl teams. (5 points).

Coach Switzer and QB Aikman not speaking

TEMPE, Ariz. - The story said Troy Aikman and Barry Switzer are barely speaking. Neither quarterback nor coach went out of their way to deny that.

"Coach Switzer and I are after just one thing, and that's winning football games. That's about as far as our relationship goes," Aikman said several times this season.

What really got some attention at Thursday's interviews with the Dallas Cowboys - the last before Sunday's Super Bowl - was the sixth paragraph of the story, a column by Fort Worth Star-Telegram writer Jim Reeves. It said former defensive line coach John Blake, "complained to Switzer that Aikman seemed to regularly single out black players as targets for his occasional angry outbursts. The quarterback was furious and took pains to ask other players and coaches whether they had a problem with his approach" Reeves said several paragraphs later that players said "there is absolutely no black-white problem on the team."

And that's what players heartily reinforced, especially in their defense of Aikman.

"Aikman is no racist. He's a good guy, and I respect him," defensive end Charles Haley said. He said if Aikman had a fault, it was being so competitive he couldn't tolerate mistakes.

"I've seen him kick a football 100 yards at practice if someone fouls up," Haley said. "Troy is Troy. He doesn't single out black players. If he decides to chew somebody out on offense the odds are it will be somebody black, because 90 percent of the players on offense are black. There's only three white guys."

Added wide receiver Michael Irvin: "I don't know what John Blake said, but let me tell you this: I have had plenty of friends, and I have been around plenty of people, and I know the relationship I have with Troy and what a great friend he is. And I will take that to my grave."

Associated Press

A WEEK

7 DAYS

OPEN

d) Preston Pearson No Coupon" Specials Everyday Everyday Two-fers Three-fers PIZZAS with PIZZAS with TOPPINGS each TOPPING each COKES with ice COKES with ice

24 HR. PROCESSING STUDENT LOANS HAVE NEVER BEEN SIMPLER! Kansas State Bank is the largest local student loan lender with over 40,000 student loans processed! Let our professional in-house staff assist you with your next student loan.

KANSAS STATE BANK

Lender code #821176

Westloop • Downtown • Aggieville • K-State Union, 587-4000

canned good you bring to 103 Kedzie, we'll give you 50 cents off a Collegian classified ad. Student Publications Inc. will donate all items to the Flint Hills Breadbasket as part of Souper Bowl Sunday.

Just fill out this form and take it to 103 Kedzie to place your classified ad. Deadline for classified ads is noon the day before publication.

Value of cans cannot xceed cost of ad.

I.D. number Address Phone number Message (No last names or phone numbers accepted in personals)

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN KEDZIE 103 (EAST OF THE UNION)

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 30 30 30 WESTLOOP RESTAURANT AND LOUNGE

> SUPER BOWL DELIVERY SPECIAL

539-8888 or 539-0888

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 75

Sweet & Sour Pork$5.55 Sweet & Sour Chicken.....$5.55 Sweet & Sour Shrimp......$5.55 Pepper Steak$5.55 Beef & Broccoli.....$5.55 Almond Chicken$5.55 Moo Goo Gai Pan$5.55 Cashew Chicken $5.55 Mongolian Beef$5.55 Yu Shiang Shrimp......$5.55 All dinners come with Egg Roll and Fried Rice

> FREE DELIVERY OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

Super Bowl hits middle age with No. 30

Associated Press

TEMPE, Ariz. - At age 30, the Super Bowl turns a significant milestone this year, firmly entrenched in the national psyche, an event so enormous that the country seems to stop at the end of each January to watch this slice of Americana take place.

This year it is Dallas against Pittsburgh in a rematch of two of the best games in the series.

Last year, it was San Francisco, going for a record fifth championship, against underdog San Diego, playing in the championship game for the first time.

There always seems to be a compelling story line, a drama waiting to be played out. Longtime NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle, who invented this game, once said, "The Super Bowl is like the last chapter of a hairraising mystery. No one would think

NBC certainly hopes not. The network had no trouble selling 58 segments of game advertising at $1.2 million per 30 seconds. Pregame, postgame and halftime spots are all sold separately, and all were purchased with the same zest as the game

And why not? Eight of the top 15 rated shows in television history have been Super Bowls. The ratings champ with a 49.1 and 73 audience share was the 1982 game when San Francisco beat Cincinnati for the first of its five

In terms of viewers, seven of the top 10 most-watched programs are Super Bowls.

The top two are the last two Dallas Super Bowls, both blowouts against Buffalo. The 1993 game was watched by an estimated 133.4 million people, and the 1994 rematch was watched by 134.8 million. That's abouthalf the population of the United States.

This is big stuff.

And that was exactly the way Rozelle planned it. Born of the merger between the established NFL and its rival AFL, this game came with its own agenda.

"It was Pete's idea to make it as attractive as could be," said Don Weiss, who served as NFL executive director.

"He wanted to make it something special.'

So he did. He dressed up the football game with spectacular pregame and halftime shows, and turned it into an entertainment extravaganza. It didn't take long for Madison Avenue to notice and seize upon it as an advertising bonanza.

Ten years ago, the Super Bowl produced the first million-dollar minute in television advertising. A minute of air time on Sunday's game costs more than twice that much. In 1979, the last time the Steelers and Cowboys played in this game, the price for 30 seconds of NBC airtime was $177,400. This year, the same 30 seconds costs about seven times more.

Times change, and so do advertising budgets.

What does not change is the lure of the Super Bowl, a celebration of football's marriage to corporate America and, by the way, a dandy vehicle to sell high-end products like cars and computers.

"It's the advertising championship," New York ad executive Jerry Della Femina said. "No matter what you are selling, you know buyers from every category are out there, watching the game.'

And attending it, too.

At prices ranging from $200 to $350 per seat - ticket scalpers are getting as much as $4,000 -Sunday's game in 74,000-seat Sun Devil Stadium is a sellout, just like the last 28 have been. The only nonsellout in the series was the first one, which was greeted with a so-what shrug by much of America.

Fans were led to believe that because two networks, NBC and CBS, were showing the game, it would be available on home television. But the NFL had its local blackout firmly in place.

If Californians wanted to see the game, they had to buy a ticket. And not many bothered.

purchase

Why two networks? Existing contracts. NBC had underwritten the AFL and its fight for football recognition. It was not about to yield rights to rival CBS, the network of the NFL.

Broadcasters were fired up. Working on the NBC telecast, Curt Gowdy vowed to have a perfect show. He must have been a trifle uptight, though, because he began by saying: "And here come the captains, out for the coin toss."

The league trumpeted the first game in more ways than one, inviting New Orleans jazz king Al Hirt to perform the national anthem. There were fire-breathing, giant-sized replicas of the Packers and Oakland Raiders at the second game.

It was Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs, who came up with the Super Bowl title, borrowing the name from the high-bounce ball his children played with. It was Joe Namath who made the Super Bowl truly super when he engineered the New York Jets upset over Baltimore in the third game.

The game turned high-profile players like Terry Bradshaw, Roger Staubach and Joe Montana into national heroes, and did the same for more anonymous types like Doug Williams, Mark Rypien and Ottis

It has produced blowouts like Dallas 52, Buffalo 17 in 1993; and San Francisco 55, Denver 10 in 1990.

Perms starting @ 520

Salon 539-6969

WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB &

CLUB BEAUTY SALON

Retail Specials

• KMS Buy 1, Get 1 at 1/2 Price (equal or lesser value)

• Paul Mitchell Value Packs ONLY $1909-$35 value

Clearance Aisle up to 85% OFF Selected items (thru 1/31/96)

Salon Specials Hair Cuts $795

Shiatsu

WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB &

CLUB BEAUTY SALON

Mon.-Sat. 9 a.m. - 8 p.m. Sun. 1 - 5 p.m.

New Location

409 Poyntz

Reflexology '

Massage Therapist

New Certified Massage Therapist on A staff - she specializes in

Neuromuscular Therapy

Swedish Massage

Store 539-5999

• Nexxus hair brush FREE with '25 Nexxus

•Sebastian Candle FREE with 25 Sebastian purchase (while supplies last)

Sorbie is back in stock!

And it has produced thrillers like the New York Giants 20, Buffalo 19 in 1991; and San Francisco 20, Cincinnati 16 in 1989.

I - The AFL-NFL World

II - a) Marcus Allen, 74 yards vs.

III - b) Max McGee on a 37-yard

IV - Chuck Howley, Dallas,

V - Steve Christie, Buffalo, 54

VI - Chuck Howley, Dallas in the

VII - c) Herb Adderly of Green

VIII - Los Angeles Raiders,

- c) Matt Millen (Raiders

Bay returned an interception 60 yards for a touchdown in the 1968 Super

1981, 1984; 49ers 1990; Redskins pass from Bart Starr vs. Kansas City,

1971; Jake Scott, Miami, 1973; Randy

White and Harvey Martin, Dallas,

1978; Richard Dent, Chicago, 1986.

Washington, 1984 Super Bowl.

• TRIVIA ANSWERS

Championship Game.

1967 Super Bowl.

yards, 1994 Super Bowl.

1971 Super Bowl.

1984.

1992)

X - True

America's party comes on Super Bowl Sunday. Invite a few friends over.

season) San Francisco 49ers were 6-XII - 1982 champion (for 1981 season) San Francisco 49ers finished

3-6 in 1982; 1987 champion (for 1986 season) New York Giants finished 6-9

in 1987; 1988 champion (for 1987 season) Washington finished 7-9 in 1969; Miami 1972, 1973, 1974, 1983,

16-1; 1983 champion Washington 12-

1; 1985 champion San Francisco 18-

1; 1986 champion Chicago 18-1.

Terry Bradshaw (1979-80).

Minnesota, Texas.

XIII - Don Shula, Baltimore

XIV - 1977 champion Oakland

XV - Bart Starr (1967-68) and

XVI - Georgia, Michigan,

XVII — The Oakland Raiders beat

Philadelphia 27-10 in the 1981 Super

10 in 1980.

1985.

Ellis, an irascible sort, looked suit-

- The 1982 champion (1981

Not exactly.

had a 49.1 rating. XIX Cleveland, Houston, ably irritated and barked, "What is that? Some kind of college thing?'

Bud Grant lost with Minnesota in 1970, 1974, 1975 and 1977; Don Shula lost in 1969 with Baltimore and in 1972, 1983 and 1985 with Miami; and Mary Levy lost with Buffalo 1991-1994.

BONUS - Quarterback Gale Gilbert. Gilbert was on the Buffalo Bills roster for the 1991-94 Super Bowls and finally played in a Super Bowl with San Diego in 1995.

95 or more - MVP

90-94 - First Team All-Pro

85-89 — Second Team All-Pro - Honorable Mention

65-79 - Starter

40-64 — Benchwarmer 0-39 - Preseason cut

XVIII - The 1982 Super Bowl between San Francisco and Cincinnati

Believe Us, They're Not on the Find them in the Lost and Found in the

kansas state collegian

103 Kedzie

MUFFLER HOUSE

"Our business is exhausting"

MUFFLERS & TAILPIPES DUAL SYSTEMS

AUTOS (American & Foreign) RVs LIGHT & HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS CUSTOM PIPE BENDING

COMPLETE BRAKE SERVICE FOR AMERICAN, FOREIGN, & LIGHT TRUCKS SHOCK ABSORBERS & STRUTS

ROSE HOUSE OF TINT

GLASS TINTING SERVICES AVAILABLE FOR YOUR AUTO, HOME OR BUSINESS PORAW-TITE

TRAILER HITCHES - SALES & INSTALLATION

FREE ESTIMATES

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. 776-8955 or 1-800-439-8956

Take advantage of our courtesy van for rides to school and home while your vehicle is being serviced Same Location

SPECIAL! SOTT SCULLY GRYN 776-1515

SUPER SUBS AT SUPERBOWL PRICES, ONLY AT

4 FT. AND 6 FT. SUBS

Party Kitchen Sink (Serves 4-6) Party Sub (Serves 4-6)

$10

Place your Order Early!

Offer good Sunday, January 28, Onlyl

Delivery 11-1 p.m. & 5-10 p.m. M-Th., 11-10 p.m. F-Sun.

eth Childe * 537-2411 "We Deliver

We'd like to say we can give you results in a week. We can't. We can only give you results.

Lifesteps":

Weight Management is an eating plan for life. No special supplements. No marathon exercise. No costly medical exams or weekly tees. The course is taught by a registered dietitian who will help you design a new lifelong habits isn't easy and that to work

What you will learn

- · how to set realistic goals · how to eat healthfully and
- · how to include regular exercise
- · how to believe in vourselt three individual consultations, two body tat assessments, and the class manual. Maintenance classes and long-term tollow-up is

This 10-week program will meet

Want to learn more about it? Be sure to attend the free introductory session on Monday, January 29 at noon.

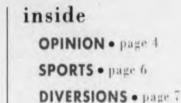

MEMORIAL

of the last

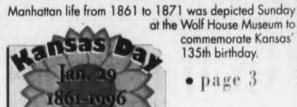

Today: partly cloudy. See weather map, page 2.

MONDAY

January 29, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 81

MUSEUM HONORS KANSAS DAY

commemorate Kansas' 135th birthday.

Patricia Russell-McCloud, NAACP

member, lawyer and president of Russell-McCloud and Associates, a motivational speaking and training association based in Atlanta, talks before her speech Friday morning. Russell-

McCloud's speech

• page 3

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

NCAA SELF STUDY SERIES

Bill could increase student fees to help meet Title IX rules

Bill Bontempo

A bill proposing an increase in student athletic fees will be submitted to the Student Senate privilege fee committee today.

Last week, Athletic Director Max Urick said the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is selfbudgeting about $500,000 to meet NCAA Title IX equity requirements, which call for equal opportunities for women in athletics. The rest of the money is expected to come from either state funds or an increase in student fees.

The bill could ask for an increase of $1 per credit hour, which would equal an increase of about $15 per semester.

The athletic fee is $17 for fulltime students.

Student Senate chair John Potter said the process of deciding how to handle Title IX will not really begin until Thursday, and the debate should take a long time.

Potter said to meet Title IX requirements, increasing concession prices, increasing ticket prices, or increasing fees were the only options. He said he would rather not have fees increased. "We can honestly upgrade female athletics without a fee increase. All the athletic department would have to do is shift some numbers," he said.

Potter said he does not want to see any students or groups suffer as result of meeting Title IX.

'We don't want to bring people down to gain equity. We would rather raise one group up," he said. According to the 1995 NCAA Certification Self Study released by K-State last week, the money will fund the transfer of K-State's women's crew team to an Intercollegiate Division I sport, rather than a club sport.

The money will also be used to hire more female coaches, offer

• See FEES Page 10

MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. OBSERVANCE WEEK

Russell-McCloud ends activities

Scott M. Ladd

You must stand for

This is your time.

something, otherwise you will fall for everything.

PATRICIA RUSSELL-McCLOUD

CONVOCATION SPEAKER

As powdery snow fell outside, the heat of urgency resonated through McCain Auditorium when Patricia Russell-McCloud wrapped up Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week activities Friday.

While poor weather conditions kept some students in their beds, about 200 people attended the convocation lecture, seldom removing their eyes from Russell-McCloud as she spoke.

"I want to thank the hearty souls for attending," James Coffman, provost, said before introducing the prominent NAACP member, lawyer and president of Russell-McCloud and Associates, a motivational speaking and training association based in Atlanta.

Russell-McCloud peppered her speech with "Hush! Somebody is calling our names," and asked K-State students what they should do with multiculturalism and King's dream.

"Together, we can have it all as long as we focus on the concepts King put forward," she said. "It means you must understand how important you are. You must stand for something, otherwise you will fall for everything. This is your time, and this is your concluded Martin Luther King Jr. Observance Week. CARY CONOVER

Russell-McCloud also urged students to step up to leadership positions by relating a story about hot coal walking.

In the story, she said people can walk on coals as long as they don't pause to think about what they are doing. It is at the moment a person pauses that pain sets in on the thinnest of skin.

"We need a thick-soled leader to walk on the charcoal of our realities," she said.

Russell-McCloud logs nearly 200,000 miles a

• See SPEAKER Page 8 —Jan. 22-28-

Pittsburg Steelers fans celebrate a first down during the third quarter of Sunday's Super Bowl during a party at a house shared by Matthew Ohm, junior in park research and management; Garic Abendroth, senior in civil engineering, Chris Ohm, senior in agriculture economics; and Mike Ganzman, senior in recreation and park management.

Cowboys capture title despite Steelers' efforts

Associated Press

TEMPE, Ariz. - Those limoridin' glamour boys from Dallas backed up their bluster, but barely.

And they can thank one of their least glamorous players, defensive back Larry Brown, for their third Super Bowl victory in four years.

The Cowboys beat Pittsburgh 27-17 Sunday to extend the NFC's streak of victories in the NFL's showcase game to an even dozen.

"There were high expectations, but it was a relief just the same," quarterback Troy Aikman said.

"It wasn't the prettiest game we played, the defense really stepped it up, but a win is a win. We knew it would be a tough game."

For Coach Barry Switzer, who had to win a Super Bowl to be considered anything but a failure, it was

We did it our way, baby! We did it! We did it! We did it! We did it!" Switzer shouted.

They did it without a big game from Troy, Emmitt, Michael and Deion during a second half in which Pittsburgh had the ball for 21 of the 30 minutes. Instead, the Super Bowl's most valuable player was Brown, a former 12th-round draft Brown's 44-yard interception return in the third quarter of Neil O'Donnell's pass set up a 1-yard touchdown run by Emmitt Smith that put Dallas up 20-7.

This came after Pittsburgh, which fell behind 13-0, seemed ready to take the lead.

Then, after Pittsburgh had closed to 20-17 and had the ball with four minutes left, Brown, just as he did to seal the NFC title game with Green Bay, made another interception, returning it 33 yards to set up another Smith touchdown run.

Roberts expresses desire to replace threatened Kansas values, cheered and signs with "Run Pat Run" and "Roberts for U.S. Senate" were held high, Roberts said. Congressman Pat Roberts of the 1st District officially announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate Saturday. "The campaign that begins elected, Roberts will replace Nancy Kassebaum.

today is about the future of Kansas. It is a campaign to protect the heart, preserve the soul and renew the spirit of a great state," Roberts said.

Topeka - As the crowd

Kara Rogers

The eight-term congressman decided in November against running for the U.S. Senate when Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan., announced she would not seek re-election.

Roberts said the campaign is about values, specifically Kansas values.

Deficits, taxes, government in Washington, the decline of family, the breakdown of social order and a society that values victimization above incentive and welfare above work have Nancy Kassebaum in U.S. Senate position.

"These are the monsters that threaten our future, as they do for every generation. We must take them firmly in hand, tame them, if we are to preserve Kansas values for our children and grandchildren," Roberts

Roberts said he would offer Kansans his experience and record of leadership.

'My pledge to you is this with Pat Roberts in the U.S. Senate, Washington will listen when Kansas speaks," Roberts

In opening remarks by Kassebaum, she expressed her support for Roberts.

I think one of the things that has endeared Pat Roberts to us is he cares about Kansas. I can think of no one I am prouder to be able to say who will be the next U.S. Senator from Kansas than Pat Roberts," Kassebaum said.

Pat Roberts announces candidacy

Congressman Pat Roberts delivers a speech declaring his candidacy for the U.S. Senate Saturday afternoon at the Ramada Inn in Topeka. If

Gov. Bill Graves did not deny encouraging Roberts to reconsider his decision to run for the open Senate seat and said it was no secret he wanted Roberts to step up and take the "I will tell you as you well know, it's been well documented that I believe this is the time for Pat Roberts to step up and serve in the U.S. Senate," Graves said.

FOR U.S. SEI

Graves said it would be difficult to replace Kassebaum. He said Roberts had big shoes to fill, and the people of Kansas will not realize it until they have the opportunity to look back.

Support from the 1st District also was a factor in Roberts' decision to reconsider his candidacy, Leroy Town, Roberts' administrative assistant, said.

"He had a lot of people urging him to reconsider his deci-

He sat down and took another look at the situation after a lot of things were done on the Farm Bill, and it was different than it was in November," Leroy Town, Roberts' administrative assistant, said.

In addition to Kassebaum and Graves, Rep. Sam Brownback, R-2nd; Rep. Jan Meyers, R-3rd; Rep. Todd Tiahrt, R-4th; and Secretary of State Ron Thornburgh stood behind Roberts showing their support while he gave his

After listening to Roberts' speech, Mike Seyfert, senior in agricultural economics, said he would support him because Roberts would provide Kansas with the leadership in the Senate that it needed.

"I believe in his ideals, family values and such. He's a man who is not willing to compromise his ideals even if it's not popular among Congress or the party," Seyfert said.

QUICKread

Congressman Pat Roberts of the 1st District officially announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate Saturday Roberts decided to run when Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan., announced she wouldn't seek re-election. Both Kassebaum and Gov. Bill Graves endorsed Roberts.

In the news

▶ 2 LOOSE DOGS KILL, INFLICT HARM ON ANIMALS AT SUNSET ZOO

Two large dogs killed and injured animals at Manhattan's Sunset Zoological Park Friday.

Zoo officials found three Canada geese and one bar-headed goose dead in the children's zoo area. One bar-headed goose, one female llama and two western tufted deer were found injured.

"It is unfortunate when a situation like this happens," Angie Fenstermacher, marketing and development director, said. "We are concerned about all the injured animals but most concerned about the two male western tufted deer.

The deer were a gift from the San Diego Zoo in 1993. Only seven

An overheated deep-fat fryer sparked a grease fire in Kramer

Food Center Friday after-

The Manhattan Fire

Department responded to the call at 1:47 p.m., but the fire had been extinguished by Kramer staff

Rick Berry, battalion

when fire fighters arrived,

Leroy Burke Jr., former K-State marching of Portraits by LBJ.

band member and owner pleaded innocent to two counts of sexual battery

Burke is charged with

Friday in Division II of battery against two 16-allegedly occurred in var-

Riley County Court.

year-old girls, which ious locations from March to December

1995. Burke does not have a previous record.

Besides being a former member of the band,

Burke, who did not graduate from K-State, has a longstanding account

KRAMER STAFF STOPS FIRE

BURKE PLEADS INNOCENT

chief, said.

report.

"They had drained

grease from a deep-fat

fryer but had failed to shut off the unit. As a caught fire," he said.

ages were listed in the

with the K-State

Marching Band.

County Court.

result, it overheated and

No injuries or dam-

Sarah Lunday

Judge Jerry Mershon

ordered Burke to reap-in Division III of Riley

each count of battery.

pear at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 5

Burke, who was zoos worldwide exhibit the rare deer, which are native to China. Two deer sustained injuries to the face after panicking when the dogs tried to attack. "We believe the dogs were never actually inside the exhibit.

Instead, they were trying to get inside, and the deer ran up against the fence trying to get away," Fenstermacher said.

Zoo officials contacted the owners of the two 50-pound dogs after finding the phone numbers on one of the dogs' collars. The owners' name has not been released. Fenstermacher said no charges "At this point, the police are handling it on that end. We just kind of want to access the damages," she said After the new week starts and the condition of the animals has been monitored, charges might be pressed. Fenstermacher said. Zoo officials are investigating how the dogs entered the zoo. The zoo is surrounded by a perimeter fence that has barbedwire stretching across the top.

they got in," she said.

"We're still investigating how

▶ PIERSON TO LEAVE K-STATE

The associate director of New Student Services plans to leave K-State Feb. 9.

Gary Pierson, who spent 4-1/2 years with New Student Services, has accepted the director of new student programs position at Portland State University in Portland,

"This is probably one of the most difficult decisions made in my life. I agonized for 10 days," Pierson said.

Pierson spent three years at Pittsburg State University before coming to K-State.

Courtney Marshall

► EAGLE LIMITS CIRCULATION

WICHITA (AP) costs, will reallocate its staff and emphasize arrested Jan. 20, was In addition, the Eagle released on $1,000 bond. If convicted, Burke, area, with daily and who was represented by Sunday home delivery Meryl Wilson, could face and single-copy sales the maximum sentence limited to 13 counties for the class A misdemeanor, which is one year in jail and fines for

Ryan O'Halloran

CORRECTION

ervices

> Officer Louise Ferris was misidentified as Officer Louise Serris in the Thursday edition of the

The Wichita Eagle, citing skyrocketing newsprint regional reporting, beginning with Monday's ediwill restrict its circulation surrounding Wichita, and Sunday-only delivery limited to a 38-county area.

"That decision to limit circulation was based . . . on a crushing 88-percent increase in newsprint, our most basic cost of doing business." Editor Buzz Merritt Jr. said in a column in Sunday's

"But that difficult decision enables us to do some exciting things for the great bulk of our readers, who live in the 38 counties around Wichita," Merritt wrote.

Those changes include later weekday deadlines, consolidating sections to standardize packaging, providing more space for local and area news and being more flexible in layout.

The Eagle will print a four-section paper every day, with the sections consistently in place. That consistency will allow the paper to anchor popular features, Merritt wrote.

The changes will allow the Eagle to delay a price increase for the third, straight year, Merritt

Merritt said the Eagle plans more changes throughout 1996.

Police reports

ce departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list wheel

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25

At 5:43 p.m., Adam Inman reported a case of aggravated arson in the basement of Haymaker Hall. The fire was extinguished.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 26

At 4:45 p.m., Eron Eighmy reported a broken window and damage to his car radio as a result of an attempted theft. The reported dam age was $800.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

FRIDAY, JANUARY 26

At 6:03 p.m., Willie E. Williams Jr., 1701 Bel Air, Junction City, was . arrested on Riley County warrant was set at $200.

At 6:19 p.m., John M. Lehr, Riley County jail, was arrested for posses sion of a controlled substance. Bond was set at $10,000 by Judge

At 6:35 p.m., a non-injury majordamage accident involving Audrey E. Murphy, 703 Hickory St., St. George, and Phyllis Ann Channel, 704

SATURDAY, JANUARY 27

At 1:54 a.m., a theft in progress was reported. Two subjects in a older-style blue Chevy S-10 pick up taking a stop sign from the city of Manhattan. The loss is unknown. The vehicle was last seen going east on Claffin Avenue from 11th Street, Larry SUNDAY, JANUARY 28 At 8:39 a.m., officers responded to a call of a possible suicide. At the residence Christine Koci, 1110 N.

Hickory St., St. George, was report-7:05 p.m., John M. Lehr, Riley County jall, and Scott Clark, 6030 Tuttle Creek Terrace, Lot 17, were arrested for criminal possession of a firearm. Clark was confined in Geary County Detention facility. Bond was set at $10,000.

At 9:47 p.m., Eric Smith, Goodnov 621, was involved in a hit-and-run accident. An attempt was made to locate the other driver, who at this time is unknown.

Quick of the Manhattan Traffic Control was advised. He declined to file a report.

At 4:23 a.m., David Droegemueller 2135 Buckingham, Apt. 8, reported a hit-and-run, major-damage accident to his parked and unattended car.

Fourth St., was found dead of an

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

■ Career Planning and Placement Center will conduct a CES Internet Job Search Orientation at 3:30 p.m. in Forum Hall and will also conduct a summer job search orientation at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Union 207.

m The world is getting smaller. Make yours larger. Volunteer to help inter-national students practice their spoken English in the Conversationa English Program. Contact Jim Endrizzi at the International Student Center, 532-6448.

feeding), infants and children up to 5 years. Call the Riley County Health Department at 776-4779 for m Fall 1996 budget request forms are available for campus-wide orga-nizations. To be considered for the regular allocations process, they

Society will meet tonight in the Union Council Chambers

5:30 p.m. in Union Station.

in the Union Big 8 Room.

today in Justin 247.

m Circle K will meet at 8 tonight in

■ McCain Ambassadors will meet at ■ College Republicans will meet at will be speaking.

m Beta Alpha Psi will meet at 7 p.m.

8 p.m. in Union 207. Scott Hesse

■ Human Ecology Open House

Committee will meet at 5:30 p.m.

■ Student Alumni Board applications are available in the Alumni

Office at 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite

400. The deadline is 4 p.m. Friday.

m The Family Studies and Human

Bluemont 357.

WIC healthy foods and nutrition education has openings availab for women (pregnant and breast must be turned in by 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Student Activities and Social Services Office.

BULLETINS

■ Chimes Junior Honorary applications are available in the Union SGA offices or call 539-2365 ext. 131. Applications are due by 4 p.m. Feb.

m Blue Key Senior Leadership Honorary is accepting applications for the 1996-97 school year. Applications are available in the Dean of Student Life and Student Activities and Social Services Office.

m The Marketing Club will meet at 7 tonight in Union 205. m KSU Aikido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight at Dance Studio 301. ■ The Provost's Lecture Series will sponsor a multi-media software nstration at 3:30 p.m. in the Union Big 8 Room. ■ Golden Key National Honor Services Interest Group will meet at 6 tonight in Justin 149.

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University. is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer.

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-

© Kansas State Collegian, 1995

STATE OUTLOOK

Much colder and partly cloudy with a high from 25 to 30 in the north,

40 to 45 in the southeast.

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today

Denver

lows

49/25

Yesterday's

highs and

Much colder and partly cloudy with a high from 25 to 30. North wind from 10 to 15 mph. Tonight cold and mostly cloudy with a low from 5 to 10.

Goodland

58/20

Garden City

66/26

20.

Wichita

Monday Cold and cloudy. High around 53/29

Omaha 39/11

Coffeyville

51/29

MANHATTAN

Kansas

City

45/22

St. Louis . 36/20

Collegian. The Collegian regrets this error. Secreational

INTRAMURALS

BASKETIBALI Officials Meeting

> TONIGHT at 6:30 p.m. Recreation Complex

Call Rec Services for Details...532-6980

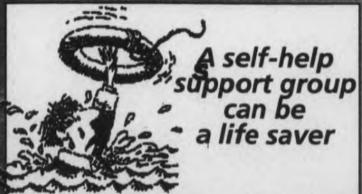

705 North | Ith - Aggieville 537-1616

ANY YOGURT OR COFFEE MENU ITEM WITH THIS COUPON.

HOURS: 9AM-10PM DAILY I IAM-IOPH SUNDAY

(EXPIRES 3-31-96)

Self-Help Support Group Leader Training February 1 • 12:43 p.m. • The St. Mary Hospital Only $10

With Shelly Ziegler, LBSW, Community Services Coordinator, Self-Help Network of Kansas Strategies to: Maintain an effective group Handle problems Form a new group

Thursday, Feb. 1, 1996, 8 p.m. McCain Auditorium - KSU

Corporate support provided by Kansas Farm Bureau Pub/Fac $30, $25, $20 Sr. Cit $28, $23, $18 Stu/Child $15, $12.50, $10

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office. Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets

K-State Bank, in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND PANAMA CITY BEACH DAYTONA BEACH

KEY WEST STEAMBOAT

VAIL/BEAVER CREEK

HILTON HEAD ISLAND PER PERSON DEPENDING ON DESTINATION / BREAK DATES / LENGTH OF STAY

OR SURF OVER TO OUR WEB SITE AT:

http://www.sunchase.com

Bill tempts students to return

staff reporter

The Distinguished Scholarship Bill, which is waiting for approval by the Kansas Legislature, would allow recipients of certain scholarships to complete their education in Kansas with tuition and fees paid for.

The bill would allow that states pay full-time tuition and fees for students who have traveled overseas during their graduate studies and wish to return to Kansas to earn their doctor-

Scholarship recipients whose funding would be covered by the Distinguished Scholarship Program are the Truman, Marshall, Brasenose, Rhodes, and Fulbright scholarships and the Mellon Fellowship.

If the bill passes, an additional $10,000 would be under a separate line item.

This means $10,000 will be set aside each year in case a student wishes to return to a Kansas Board of Regents university.

The people in the legislature want to encourage particularly outstanding students to come back and perhaps to stay in Kansas," Nancy Twiss, academic adviser, said.

There is one student who has returned to K-State after receiving a

The Distinguished Scholarship Bill passed the state Senate Jan. 26 with a vote of 38-0. It still needs to pass the House before it can go into effect.

"Personally, I was pleased with the unanimous support," Sen. Lana Oleen, R-Manhattan, said. "Very few bills have had everyone's support."

Oleen said she will continue to work on getting the bill passed in the

The scholarships that would be included in the program are for graduate students who meet certain require-

Applications and interviews are extensive and difficult for these scholarships. It is highly competitive, Twiss STUDENT GOVERNMENT

SGA to lobby Statehouse

Organizers expect small turnout

J. Scot Bucholz

Student Governing Association committee members will be lobbying the Kansas legislative session for issues affecting K-State and higher education Feb. 8 and 15.

The Government Relations Committee is the liaison responsible for dealing with the state legislators.

"As far as I know, our committee is the driving force behind the lobbying," said Travis Githens, education

"It will be us doing the nine to ten visitations with legislators," said Aaron Otto, government relations

"The people on Student Senate will talk the talk, just not walk the walk," Otto said.

Githens said he too does not see a big group from Student Senate going to Topeka to lobby.

'Though the opportunity is there for any member of Student Senate to go," he said.

539-622

Githens said there were two reasons for lack of numbers going to Topeka to lobby.

"One, they really are not interested, and two, they do not have the time," he said.

Some of the issues committee members will be lobbying for include open admission, additional funding of Hale Library, asking for the reinstatement of the budget cuts for K-State and supporting a resolution that would give military dependents instate tuition status.

'We are lobbying for the students and interest of K-State," said Maggie Keating, freshmen in political science and an at-large member for the government relations committee.

Money from the Access the Future fund will be used to pay for the cost of lobbying.

"This was money that was allocated two years ago from the ATF fund," Otto said.

He said the money will go toward paying for the cost of copying material and reimbursement for mileage to and from Topeka for those who go.

"The school gives money for athletics," Keating said. "This is just something we have to do."

STATE ISSUES

- 1. Open admissions 2. Additional funding for
 - Hale Library 3. Distiguished scholarship program, which opens the opportunity for Rhodes, Truman and Marshall scholarships in an effort to keep them here. This bill has passed in the Kansas Senate and is in the House.
 - 4. Asking for the reinstatement of budget cuts for K-State
 - 5. An opportune time to buy bonds for repairing Regents buildings that are deteriorating among regent schools
 - 6. Supporting a bill for an expansion of ROTC programs in all regent schools. This bill is in the Kansas Senate.
 - 7. Supporting a referendum for casino gambling at horse and dog tracks within the state. The money made goes toward edu- cation. 8. Supporting a resolution for in-state tuition for military dependents
 - Lobbying for pre-paid tuition option. This would allow parents to put money toward their child's tuition before they attend college. The state would then be able to absorb the interest on this money, and the students' tuition could be partially or fully paid for when they attend college. This is in the Kansas House as House Bill

Museum honors Kansas' 135th birthday

Khristi Shell

Manhattan life from 1861 to 1871 was depicted at the Wolf House Museum Sunday to commemorate Kansas' 135th birthday.

Manhattan's settlers tansas b first were free staters and people who wanted to create a slave state, museum assistant, said. Wolf House was built in 1868 by John Frank and was a German boarding house, he said. It was designed to provide weary travelers with room and board and meals for the local populace. People would come in during meal times for food and would later sit around to play board games to pass the time, Brown

Trevor Brown,

Frank moved to Manhattan in 1868 when Manhattan was considered more of an urban community rather than a farming community, Linda Glasgow, Riley County Historical Society Registrar, said.

Since Manhattan was founded in 1855, it has been centered around education, she said. Parents sent their children to the local school to learn the traditional subjects. Penmanship and literacy were considered two of the most important areas of a child's education in a town supported by merchants and businessmen, Glasgow said.

The local newspaper, the Nationalist, played an important part in the people's lives, she said. It was a weekly paper that provided the local and the national news. It was delivered every week by a courier if the weather was good, and people had to go to the local post office to read it if the weather was bad, Glasgow said.

In 1866, the railroad came to Manhattan. It simplified life for everyone by making rare commodities easier to acquire. The railroad brought canned goods, and twice a year it would bring in oranges and bananas, Edna Williams, Wolf House Museum Curator, said.

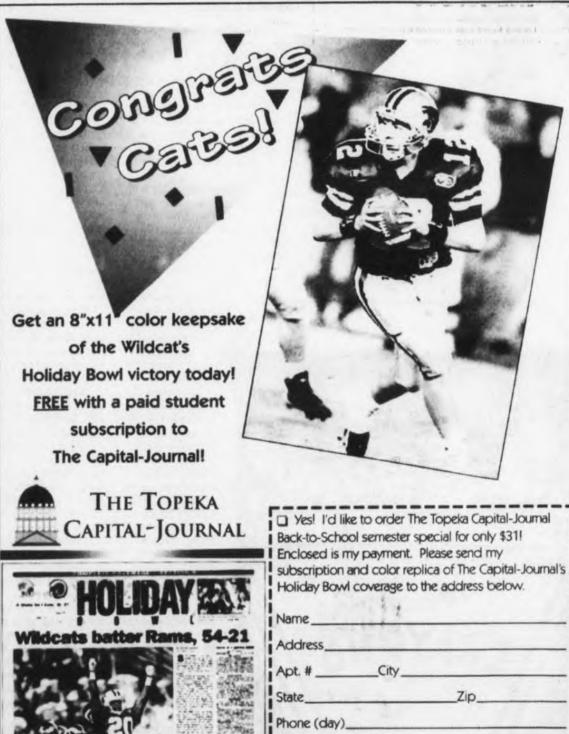

76-5900

Development

For more information Call 537-0732

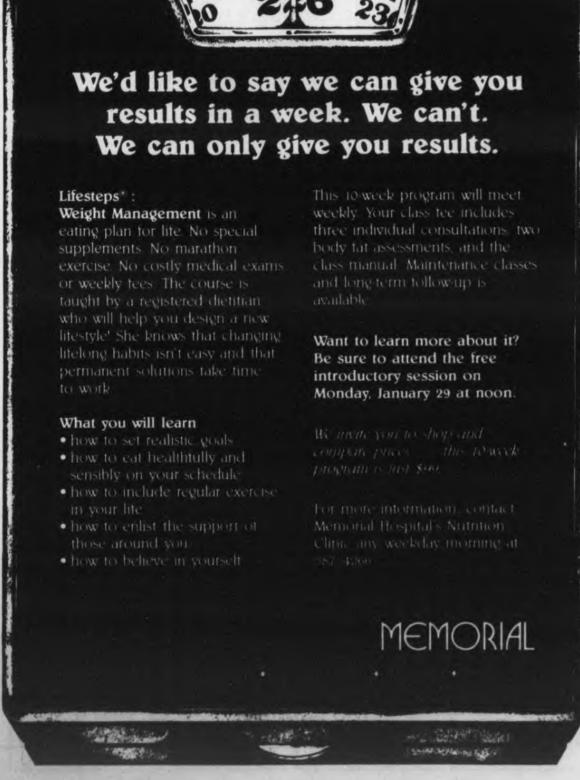

(night)_

A check or money order for $31 is enclosed. Please bill my VISA/MasterCard/Discover

Return this form to: The Topeka Capital-Journal Back-to-School Special • 616 SE Jefferson • Topeka, KS 66607 or call 1-800-777-7171 ext. 140 will be 8"x11", in color and is suitable for framing.

Note: Only paid orders qualify for the free offer. An example of the replica is pictured at left in black & white. The replica

Opinion

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN STAFF

Mike Marlett	Editor in chief	Co
Kevin Klassen	Managing editor	Clo
Sarah Lunday	News editor	Ste
Cary Conover		Jus
Derek Simmons		Ker
Kim Hefling	Campus editor	Tric
Christy Little	Copy chief	He
N. Stewart Anderson	Features editor

. City / government editor ori Cornelison Arts and entertainment editor audette Riley Opinion editor ephanie Fuqua Graphics editor stin Stahlman evyn Jacobs . E-Collegian editor ice Alford Advertising manager eidi Bruce Assistant advertising manager

COLLEGIANopinion

Kansas residents have much to celebrate

QUICKread

lgnore the stereotypes. Kansas isn't such a bad place to live. On Kansas Day, we should remember all the things that have made our state great.

Kansas turns 135 today.

Some people say getting someone to visit Kansas is like getting a date for your ugly sister.

But who cares if people don't come to Kansas and miss out on what it has to offer?

There's a lot of good in Kansas whether people visit or not.

Kansas was one of the first states to allow women to vote.

Kansas was the first state to elect a woman into the U.S. Senate. The only minority vice president, Charles Curtis, was from Kansas. Curtis, a Native American, was the 31st vice president when Herbert Hoover was president.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower lived in Abilene, and there is a museum in his honor there.

Amelia Earhart, the first woman to ou were 5

I take my boys to the playground every weekend.

Going to the park is a great way to kill cabin fever and spend some quality time with my rug rats.

fly over the Atlantic Ocean, is from Atchison.

The world's largest hand-dug well and pallasite meteorite is in Greensburg.

Big Brutus, the world's second largest electrical mining shovel when it was built and the only one of its kind, is in West Mineral.

The Kansas Cosmosphere and Space Center, the world's largest collection of space suits and unique computerized hands-on exhibits, is in Hutchiuson.

Castle Rock, a 70-foot-high chalk spire, visible for miles, is located in Quinter.

And besides having important people and places, Kansas has important companies in Kansas.

We should be proud of our homestate today and everyday. Happy 135th birthday, Kansas.

Toles

IT'S ALL EXPECTATIONS WE'RE NOW TOLD.

CHEER UP, AMERICA. YOUR INCOME'S NOT TOO LOW, YOUR EXPECTATIONS ARE TOO HIGH!

YOU DON'T REALIZE HOW GOOD YOU'VE GOT IT! VCR'S! YOUR PARENTS DION'T HAVE VCR'S!

A HOUSE? WHY DO YOU NEED A HOUSE? YOU CAN RENT A VIDEO OF A HOUSE TO WATCH ON YOUR VCR!

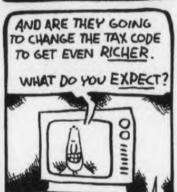

A BETTER LIFE? WHERE DO PEOPLE GET SUCH IDEAS? IN SCHOOL? SCHOOLS SHOULD GET BACK TO THE BASICS.

SHOULD THE RICH

When everyone is coor

Myview

MARY RENEE Smith

We go to City Park when my children get tired of years old once. playing with the children in Occasionally, their neighborhood and need some fresh company.

your parents I sit at a picnic table near would take you to the the playground and let my big park in the middle boys run wild. At ages 7 and of town. You would 5, they are old enough to play without direct superviget sand in your sion but still young enough shoes. You would beg to need a ambassador/ your mom to stay just referee/nurse nearby. That is five more minutes. My my job. children do that.

Real interesting place, the playground at City Park.

In Manhattan, a city with a nearby military base and university, City Park is the equivalent of the United Nations. Children of varying ages, social status and nationality play there > together. They don't notice their differences. Until, of course, someone tells them. And it's not going to be me. I remember the first time someone referred to one of my son's friends as black. He didn't understand. To him, black is the color of night and his daddy's boots.

"Brandon isn't black," my son said. "Black is when something is burned."

When I explained to him that black was the word people use for a color of skin, confusion set in.

"What color am I then?" he asked.

I told him the truth. He is the color of vanilla pudding.

Trying to explain white and black to a 5 year old suddenly seemed too complicated.

ADRIAN FLEMING

How can I explain something I don't understand? For a child, colors are clear cut, like the colors of the crayons in a box. People aren't black or white, at least not in the Crayola sense of the words. My son is the color of vanilla pudding, and his friend is the color of hot

Life is easier that way. He will learn soon enough what colors are in this world. How do I explain all the stereotypes that go along with the labels black and white? Maybe not trying to explain the stupidity of our society was wrong. But all parents bend the truth occasionally. What about Santa Claus and the tooth fairy? I just want my children to live in the world of the Easter Bunny and racial equality a bit longer.

I wish an impartial, unprejudiced world wasn't a fairy tale I have to work to keep alive for my children.

Being a parent isn't easy. I know as my kids grow older there would be tough discussions, the kind of conversations that are made into after-school specials.

I am prepared for the sex talk and say-no-to-drugs talk, the things my parents had trouble discussing.

What I haven't been prepared for are the questions I can't answer for myself. I realize how I answer these questions will shape my children's attitudes and ideals for life.

I watch the other children in the park and wonder who is answering their questions. It isn't just about race or nationality.

Some of these children are growing up in poor families. Some of these children come to the park with physical or mental challenges. When will they learn they are different? When will these children learn different is "bad?"

These lessons we learn as children stay with us. As adults, we don't work together as easily as we played together.

We have had to enact affirmative action laws in an attempt to return us to our childhood. The time before we questioned or even noticed our differences.

Playgrounds are interesting places. Go and visit one. Get some sand in your shoes. Do what you can everyday to make the fairy tale a reality.

Mary Renee Smith is a freshman in journalism and mass communications.

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, KS. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is collegn@spub.ksu.edu. Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand

▶ GET CREATIVE, WILL

Dear Editor,

This is in response to William Burdette's column in the Collegian Thursday.

William, I have an idea for you, big guy - move! If you don't like the situation you're in, leave it. Work up some guts and take them to Seattle, or Eugene, Ore., or wherever it is the cool, "underground" fools are flocking this season.

As for Manhattan, you might be surprised to hear this, big guy, but this town was not built for your entertainment.

So it would stand to reason that we (being the masses you were so willing to stereotype and generalize into one clump) are

There are so many places in this town to do things if you're not drinking. Hell, we live right next to one of the largest lakes in Kansas. Grab some friends, build a fire and sit around and make fun of Manhattan and its residents (both permanent and tem-not interested if you're bored.

porary) on your own time. Just use that noodle that you (or your parents) are shelling out $1099.45 per semester to pump up, and figure out something

One more thing. You say there is a "lack of imagination" in Manhattan when it comes to weekend activities. The only lack of imagination I see here is yours.

And on a final note, as far as Truck Stop Love is concerned, the band members were enjoying themselves in this town on a creative level, back when entertainment to you was hanging out at a

By the way, are you even old enough to drink?

Nikolas Glazier freshman in history

Let the viewer beware; news isn't always what it appears to be existed forever, kind of like Bob Dole.

These two channels really didn't get started that long ago, especially compared to Dole. They weren't watched by lots of people, either, until the Persian Gulf War, for which they provided 'up to the minute coverage.'

I first watched CNN during the Gulf War. I fell in love with Headline News, because no matter what time of the day, I could immediately find out about anything exciting that was going on. These days, I have different feelings about CNN. For a long time after the war, I continued to watch Headline News. I felt like I was staying informed, but I really just wanted to be entertained. Actually, CNN and Headline News served as my only sources of news. In retrospect, I think at that time in my life, fast food served as my only source of nourishment. CNN has much in common with McDonald's. You might call it the perfect news for a fast-food culture. Come to think of it, I'm surprised CNN hasn't used that as an ad campaign. Like fast food, though, CNN

Years of watching Headline News has left me with a certainty that the network can't report its way out of a paper bag. Sure, it has a lot of money, cameras and reporters. But it still sucks.

Although CNN seems uniquebad to me, kind of like the inal Tap of televised news, I've gun to have similar feelings about other news sources.

Perhaps I should start by talking about the local news. The New York Times recently reviewed a book that's subject was the nature of the news. This book, whose title I have forgotten, claimed that 70 to 80 percent of the news stories that you might see on your local news have their origins in the public relations departments of large corporations. Apparently, many companies and private interests create newslike video press releases. They design these so they can fit seamlessly into a local news program.

JASON Hamilton

Sometimes the people who make these press releases even tape one half of a pre-scripted interview, so some local news anchor can film herself asking the questions.

Local news programs, which do not have the blessing of a budget that would let them screw up news from all over the country like CNN - often use these slick press releases. They air them without any disclaimer, and pow instant news.

The companies and institutions that spend a lot of money making these puppies don't do it out of kindness for poor, underfunded local stations. They expect a return on their investment.

So, at least some of the news you see actually functions as cheap, insidious advertising. One step above infomercials and (gasp) infotainment, one step below the New York Times.

Financial and other interests also have a great deal of effect on the way news is reported, in all sorts of news media, including national programs, national publications, and even our school In the many years I've been on the Collegian staff, I've been a part of a few conversations in which the Collegian editors decided not to print something, or decided on a different approach to a story, due to considerations of the specific situation on campus.

I'm not saying the editors are evil. In most of these discussions, I've agreed with their final decision. Sometimes I haven't.

But regardless of what I thought of those situations, one group of people was not consulted or informed of the decision. You, the reader, had no way of knowing what wasn't printed, what was changed and why

What I'm trying to get across here is that, even if you think the news is objective and fair, the people who make the news have at least a dim awareness that they can change the way any given story sounds. And really, the Collegian doesn't have a lot of the financial and political pressures that more widely read papers have to deal

As the semester grinds on, I hope to convince y'all that you should have a deep distrust, not only of the news, but of all sources of information, including your professors and colleagues.

And you should definitely not trust anything I have to say. Some people in the media deliberately blur the line between truth and fiction, just for kicks.

That sounds like fun to me.

Jason Hamilton is a junior in English/creative writing.

LIVE MUSIC

Ska-fest bands rattle Bottleneck

MU330, Slapstick, Buck-O-Nine perform for Lawrence audience

Phil Kellum

Outside the weather was bonechilling cold, but inside Lawrence's Bottleneck Friday night, the music was blood-boiling hot.

The Ska-fest presented the music of three bands that play ska, a form of music that preceded reggae and is characterized by its off beat. Ska is a mixture of R&B, jazz, calypso and sometimes punk.

MU330, from St. Louis, headlined the show, while San Diego's Buck-O-Nine followed.

Slapstick, from Chicago, kicked off the evening of Ska around 10 p.m. and had the crowd moving immediately, causing sweat to fly and boots to "Last time we were here, almost everyone sat in the back drinking while we played. Come up and dance," Brendan Kelly, Slapstick lead singer, said.

Their mixture of fast, upbeat ska and punk rock was well received by the crowd.

Along with Slapstick's regular trombonist, two-thirds of MU330's horn section accompanied to give them a full-sounding horn section.

Slapstick's new compact disk

Food Supplements

Homeopathies

3112 Anderson Ave.

537-4571

Special Dietary Foods

Body Building Foods

"Lookit!" is out on Dill Records. They played songs from the CD including "74 Fullerton," "Crooked," and "The

They closed their set with "She Doesn't Love Me," and it was just the beginning of the evening.

After a brief delay, Buck-O-Nine

Touring in support of both their album "Barfly" and new extended play album "Water In My Head" on Taang! Records, the Buck-O-Nine boys got quite a good response from Lead vocalist Jon Pebsworth handed the microphone to some members of the singing crowd.

"It was our best show at The Bottleneck so far," Pebsworth said. "It was pretty fun."

From the lip of the stage to the back of the bar, everyone was dancing up a storm to the infectious beats emanating from the stage.

AMERICAN FAMILY

UTO HOME BUSINESS HEALTH LIFE

KSU Grad '88

TIM

ENGLE

'Call Us For A Quote'

Manhattan, Ks.

Diet Cures

What Diet Causes

Hansen

Nutrition Center

3258 Kimball Ave. 537-4661

Natural Foods

Appliances

Books

Herbs

Mon.-Sat.

9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

lengthy hour-long set mixing songs off their debut album "Songs In the Key of Bree" with newer stuff.

Highlights included "Irish Drinking Song," their covers of Musical Youth's early-'80s hit "Pass The Dutchie," and Operation Ivy's "Sound System."

Lawrence was one of the first half of dates on Buck-O-Nine's tour.

"All the shows we've done this year have been great shows, so we're stoked. I mean, every show's been like tonight," Pebsworth said.

MU330 hit the stage at midnight and didn't stop until 1:30 am.

It kicked off its set with a cover of an old Loverboy song.

During both Buck-O-Nine and Slapstick, the crowd was not slam dancing and moshing around to the mostly mellow, danceable grooves.

MU330's set inspired the beginning of moshing and stage-diving, to Buck-O-Nine plowed through a the dismay of crowd members who wanted to dance and skank along to the band and not get hurt.

MU330 played a masterful, energetic set mainly showcasing songs off their new CD due out in March on Dill Records titled "Chumps On Parade."

Highlights of MU330's set included "Fleeba" and "Hoosier Love" from their debut 1993 CD "Press" and 'Since the Short/Long's Gone" from their forthcoming CD.

Members of both Slapstick and Buck-O-Nine came on stage at various points during the set to join in on several songs.

"It was great. I had a great time. It's so good to be back," Dan Potthast, MU330 guitarist, said.

After closing its regular set, MU330 returned to the stage and played a whopping eight-song encore, including "Hang Tough Hold Tight" and a rousing cover of Fear's punk classic "Hey."

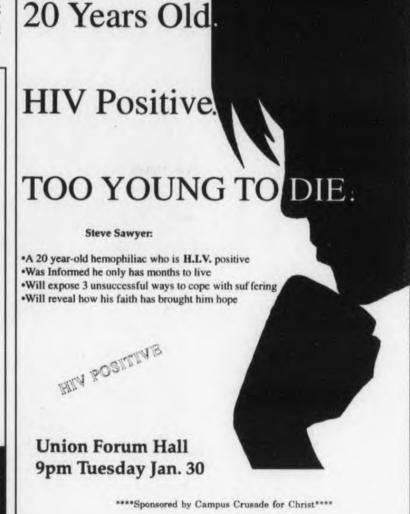

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO DOWNLOAD. THE E-COLLEGIAN, HTTP://WWW.SPUB.KSU.EDU.

Marketing

Informational Meeting

Jan. 29, 7 p.m.

Union 205

WELCOME BACK,

College students need to save every penny they can. So, drive past those high-priced convenience stores and push on to 3rd Street Battery Center!

Be sure to ask about our frequent fueling discounts and all our best deals from pop to beer to cigarettes!

72 Month Battery

195 plus tax and Installation always FREE!

WE CARE

WE I.D.

3rd Street Battery Center

Texaco

917 N. 3rd Street 776-3298 Manhattan, KS 66502

Claflin Books and Copies is YOUR photocopy store because:

VISA

• 5¢ self-serve copies

• Full-service copies

Binding

Transparencies

ALL AT PRICES THAT YOU CAN AFFORD

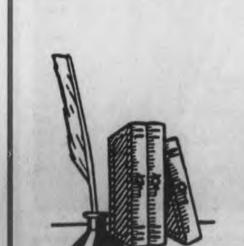

We aren't happy until you are - "Service is Our Motto"

Claflin Books and Copies

across from Goodnow Hall

Hours: Sunday 10 a.m.-Midnight Monday-Thursday 7 a.m.-Midnight Friday 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Saturday 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

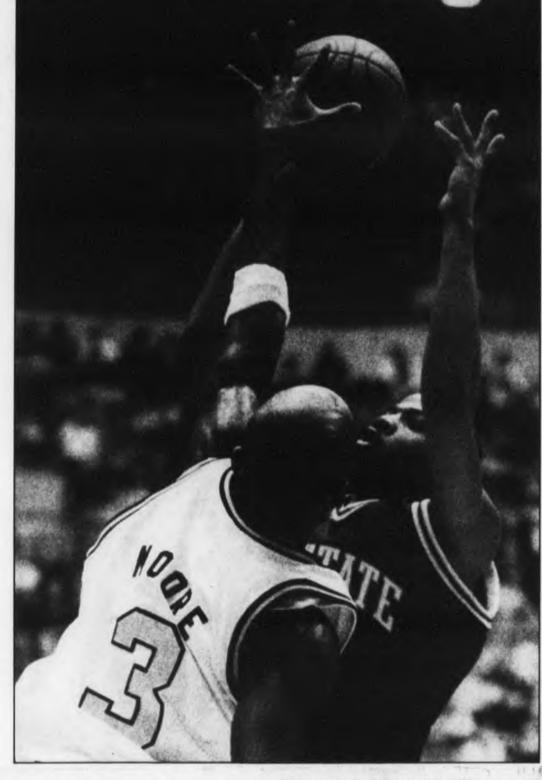

Phone 776-3771 FAX 776-1009 email: cbcbkcpy@tfsksu.net

5. Cincinnati (14-1) (tie) Texas Tech (16-1) 24. Marquette (12-4) 25. California (11-5) 12. Memphis (14-3)

K-State's Mark Young shoots the ball over the defense of Missouri's Kendrick Moore Saturday at Hearnes Center in Columbia, Mo. Young scored eight points during the 80-86 loss to the Tigers.

DARREN WHITLEY Collegian

Despite injuries, Tigers claw Cats

COLUMBIA, Missouri is used to playing without Kelly Thames, so his absence didn't keep the Tigers from breaking out of a slump.

After getting 21 points and 10 rebounds in an 86-80 victory against K-State Saturday, Derek Grimm said he wasn't surprised, considering Thames missed all of last season after reconstructive knee surgery.

"A lot of the guys who were playing today were playing a lot last year." Grimm said. "We knew what it was like to play without him, and I think we all tried to pick up our own game to fill the void because he's a terrific player."

Missouri (13-6, 3-2 Big 8) scored 62 and 58 points - its two lowest totals of the season - in consecutive losses to Iowa State and Nebraska, and shot 39.3 percent in those games. Then the Tigers lost Thames, their leading scorer and rebounder, after he had his surgically repaired knee drained of 60 cubic centimeters of fluid Saturday morning

But there was no sign of the slump against K-State. The Tigers were the first team to shoot above 50 percent against K-State (13-5, 4-2), making 25 of 46 shots (54 percent). It was only Missouri's third victory against a winning

'We knew Missouri wasn't finished," K-State coach Tom Asbury said, "There's a lot of peaks and valleys throughout the course of the season, and a lot of people are trying to figure out what's wrong with them.

"There's nothing wrong with them.'

Grimm made four of five three-pointers and was 9-for-10 from the free-throw line as Missouri beat K-State for the 11th straight time at the Hearnes Center and 11th in 13 meetings

"They played real well," said Thames, who expects to play at Colorado Monday night. "One person doesn't make a team.

"We've got a lot of talented ballplayers, and they did a good Coach Norm Stewart has been puzzled by this team, which is loaded with talent but has stumbled repeatedly after being ranked No. 14 in preseason. Against K-State, he saw a glimmer of hope.

"If you lose Kelly, or if you lose any player, someone's got to pick it up," Stewart said. "It shortens us up in numbers, but today we got it done.'

K-State entered with a fivegame road winning streak but hasn't won six in a row since the 1976-77 season.

Missouri led by as many as 14 points in the first half. K-State cut the gap to 58-55 on an 8-0 run capped by only the fourth 3pointer of the season from Shawn Rhodes with 12:15 to go. Missouri's Kendrick Moore responded with two baskets off the drive, K-State's Elliot Hatcher, who scored 22 points, threw up a hurried 3point attempt, and Corey Tate added two free throws after Hatcher's fourth foul to make it 64-55 with 10:34 left

Missouri took advantage of foul trouble on K-State's inside players in the closing minutes, getting three baskets from 7-footer Simeon Haley and one from his twin Sammie. K-State had four players with four fouls at one point late in the game, and Hatcher and Mark Young eventually fouled out.

Jason Sutherland had 18 points after a rocky start. Sutherland and Young tangled under the basket with the game only 15 seconds old and were assessed a double technical. Sutherland then was benched until 12:43 left in the first half.

Tyrone Davis also drew a technical for K-State.

lot more cognizant of this disease and knows a lot more about it. They know you don't catch it from casual contact like that. I think there'll be a lot more

Rumors suggest a Magical comeback

Associated Press

INGLEWOOD, Calif. - Magic Johnson reportedly has signed a contract with the Los Angeles Lakers and will return to the NBA Tuesday night in a home game against the Golden State Warriors.

A Lakers spokesman, however, denied NBC-TV's report Sunday, which said Johnson's comeback would be officially announced today at a news conference in Los Angeles. The network cited unidentified sources in the league and close to Johnson. Lakers spokesman John Black said Johnson had not signed a contract and no news conference was scheduled for Black said he would not comment on whether Johnson would be back in uniform Tuesday night.

"I'll have to refer you to Mr.

Johnson. It's his decision whether he comes back. We can't speak for him."

Johnson's agent, Lon Rosen, did not immediately return calls made to his home and office. NBC said the Lakers had worked out a way for Johnson to sell his 5 percent ownership of the team to make his comeback.

The Los Angeles Times, citing unidentified sources, reported Saturday that Johnson had agreed in principle to a contract that would pay him $2.5 million for the rest of the Lakers forward Cedric Ceballos indicated Saturday night that Johnson likely would return to the team this

"Tuesday's the day, all indications prove that," Ceballos said before the Lakers game at New Jersey. "He's trying to sell his percentage. He's bought initially retired

Johnson November 1991, after announcing he had the AIDS virus. He retired from the NBA for a second time before the 1992-93 season because some players opposed his Johnson has been non-committal about returning to the Lakers. However, he has practiced with the Lakers the past two weeks.

"It's always in the rumor stage until it definitely happens," Lakers coach Del Harris said Saturday night. "But and warm himself I'm on record, coast-to-coast, as sayup for Michael ing I've always been in favor of it, and our team is in favor of it

There also is seemingly little opposition from others in the league to his return. Everyone is ready to welcome him back

"I think now it's 3-4 years later," Philadelphia's LaSalle Thompson, who worked out with Johnson daily until signing with the 76ers Jan. 11. "I think everybody's a Jordan made his comeback with the Bulls last March after 17 months of retirement. "I don't have any fears (of playing understanding than there was."

against Magic)," Jordan said. "I'm sure he's taking it into consideration. If he can deal with some adversity, I'm happy for him. I want what's best for Doctors said Friday that Johnson is fine and his health has been constant since 1992. But they do not know what kind of effect an NBA schedule would have because no one has conducted such a study.

► WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Few baskets early in game set tone for defeat against Jayhawks — 51-38

Dan Lewerenz

t's hard to win a game when your shots don't fall. When Kansas visited Bramlage Coliseum Sunday, K-State's shots just didn't fall.

The Wildcats shot an abysmal 15-of-61 from the floor for just 24.6 percent in a 51-38 loss to the Jayhawks. The loss drops K-State to 11-10 overall, 3-4 in the

"Obviously, we struggled shooting the basketball," Cats' coach Brian Agler said. "It's hard to look back and say you played well when you didn't shoot the basketball."

The first half was marked by great defense and poor shooting by both

The Cats scored the game's first four points before Kansas rebounded to take a 6-4 lead 4:32 into the contest.

"Initially, we had open shots," Agler said. "Then we started to look and see who was coming at us. It just started from

The rest of the half was dominated by defense, with neither team able to take more than a two-point lead until Hawk Jennifer Trapp's runner with 1:11 left gave Kansas a 20-16 lead. A free-throw by junior post Carrie Ragar put the halftime score at 20-17.

"I felt they were playing good defense, and we were playing good defense," Kansas coach Marian Washington said. "We needed to pick up the pace of the game a little," Washington said.

through the second. The Cats scored the first four points of the half, taking a 21-20 lead on a layup junior post

Kansas would do just that midway

Andria Jones. The game would stay close until Kansas put in a trapping fullcourt press and a match-up 2-3 zone to speed up the

"They were getting some offensive boards on us and they were penetrating pretty easily, so we wanted to cut into that a bit," Washington said.

It worked immediately. The Cats went on a 5:36 drought from the floor, allowing Kansas to stretch its lead from two points to 11, 43-32.

"We didn't attack it very well," Agler said of the press.

"We ran offense pretty well. It's just when we got the shots, they didn't fall," sophomore wing Brit Jacobson said. Jacobson's baseline 15-footer got the Cats within nine, but Kansas' Charisse Sampson answered, and the Hawks' lead never again fell out of double-digits. Kansas made its free throws down the Sophomore point guard Amanda Chamberlain's 30-foot bank with two seconds left was the Cats' only 3-pointer of the game.

stretch to maintain the lead.

Agler said the Cats' poor shooting masked some good stats.

"We had nine assists out of 15 (made) shots, so we're doing something good," Agler said. "And I think Amanda played a good game. She got to the free throw line, got a couple of baskets. If we get seven to 10 points out of her every game, that will really help. And defensively she did a good job on (Tamecka) Dixon," he said.

"I've got to give our defense credit. As few shots as we made, we always got back defensively. We played hard."

Jacobson, the only K-Stater in doublefigures, paced the Cats with 12 points and 11 rebounds. Angie Halbleib led all scorers with 14 points for Kansas, with Dixon adding 13.

Next up for the Cats is a road trip to Missouri Wednesday night.

"This is one of those deals," Agler

"We played hard, and the ball didn't fall. There's going to be another day."

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

K-State's Missy Decker reaches around University of Kansas player Shelly Canada during K-State's loss Sunday afternoon at Bramlage Coliseum.

by Eugene Sheffer

one's cry

11 Advantage

17 No.1 spot

19 Composer

22 Chronicle

24 Transp.

agency 25 Circle

track

partner

mer hrs.

document

29 Bud's

33 Legal

36 Value

38 Stick

40 Handle

clumsily

of the '60s

heraldry

44 Dollars for

42 Hairstyle

43 Fur, in Schifrin

segment

10 Greedy

DOWN

1 Amahl's night

visitors

2 Unsigned, for short

3 Where 55

defense

5 The great 26 Practice unwashed 27 Off the

7 Dagwood's 30 NYC sum-

4 Render less blotter

neighbor

8 Elephant driver

out

abbr.

Across is

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley

532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

CROSSWORD

ACROSS 39 Kreskin's 1 Tennyson forte 41 -- back poem 5 Cry from (relaxed) the gallery 42 Embodi-8 "And the ment 45 Home of outgrabe" Ulysses 12 Opposi-49 "Toodle-00! tionist 13 Mamie's 51 Prediploma 14 Surroundhurdle ed by 52 React to 15 Impersonveast

53 Born ate, on Halloween 54 Take five 55 City near 18 Bisected Provo 20 Home for 56 Young Mr. Lincoln 9 Leaving piggies? 21 Avis 57 Deer's kin adjective Solution time: 26 min.

23 Deposit 24 Cultivated acreage 28 Mah-jongg 31 Exist 32 "Sidewalks - York" 34 Affirmative action? 35 Rue the 37 "Damn the man torpedoes" Yesterday's answer quarters skating ump 47 Big barrel 48 Quantities: 50 Actress 1-29 Thompson

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

TLF IFYIZHF XJKL TI

WAPJJH FYILFCFHX

C T I F L Z T H Z W I Z A ?

Saturday's Cryptoquip: AS A BOY, THE WEIRD
DENTIST ALWAYS CHOSE TO PLAY CAPS AND ROB-BERS.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: L equals R

FOXTROT

THE NAME OF THE GAME IS EFFICIENCY. WASTED

TAKE, FOR EXAMPLE, THE WAY YOU ARE WALKING THROUGH THIS OFFICE:

YOU JUST STOPPED WEAVING ALL OVER THE PLACE, YOU'D GET WHER EVER YOU'RE GOING IN HALF THE TIME!

NOW, TELL ME,

TRYING TO

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilich

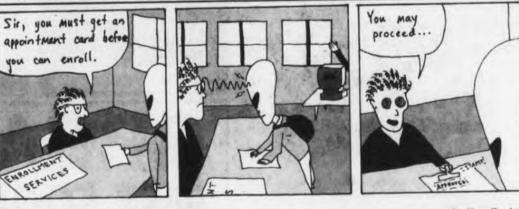

by Bill Amend

WHO AM I

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

▶ BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

Storyteller blue with love-sick acoustic edge

Birdhouse Productions' acoustic crusade presented one of the last endangered voices of blues, Brooks

The Friday night performance was broadcast live from Manhattan Arts Center on KNEW-FM radio out of Wichita.

A passionate and idealistic storyteller with the lovesick edge, Williams' music was inspired by everything from J.R.R. Tolkien to the closing of the Rotterdam pub in Belfast, Ireland to theory on what dentists dream.

A really good song is one that connects, that links us, that bridges that gap. It has a time-

BROOKS WILLIAMS

BLUES SINGER

less, universal quality.

Williams' traditional style captures the essence of the indulgence of the self-absorbed blues-style interpretation in the postrelationship phenomenon.

The chemistry between Williams and his guitar creates a flirtatious partnership and gives a sly, unraveling, natural voice to emotions most of us wouldn't want to give a voice to.

"I've done a lot of dabbling. I'm not a heavy-duty dabbler, but

I've dabbled just enough in Zen, in a sort of socially active Christianity, in some of the Native American ideas about nature, sort of militant stuff with the sexes at the bottom of all of this," Williams said. "I think my motivation is that as men and women, as people, towns, nations and states, we all have the same problem. I'm looking for the stuff that ties us together," he said. "A really good song is one that connects, that links us, that bridges that gap. It has a timeless, universal quality.

The authentic blues pheromone was intensified with the use of a 1930s Dobros nickel-plated brass "Regal" that was tracked down from Wichita, on the acoustic network transpiring on the Internet, with the hope that Williams would play it. "I knew if I put it out there, he would take the bait,"

David Kamerer, assistant professor of journalism and founder of Birdhouse, said. "It has this bite that is just right for the blues. If the Crusaders had been looking for a guitar instead of the grail, this would be it." Williams said he hopes to return to Manhattan next "Things happened in this town," he said. "The audis ence was psyched to listen, and I was jazzed."

"I'll do 10 concerts in a row and they'll all feel good." but out of those 10, there will be three, maybe four that are magic," he said.

"There will be this electricity, and I think it's the attitude of the people who run it, their enthusiasm. It creates the vibe, and the audience will pick up on it."

Next in line to perform on the spring schedule are Nashville songwriters Buddy Mondlock and Carol Elliott at 8 p.m. Feb. 24 at the Manhattan Arts Center. The cover will be $8 at the door, or tickets will be available in advance at the Dusty Bookshelf and Manhattan Town Center.

Res: (913) 776-8900

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Floyd E. Rogers

Manhattan, KS 66502 Office: (913) 776-4488 Fax: (913) 776-4977

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home market analysis.

Res: (913) 776-7492

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

Hold the Same Rank that you had when you got out up to E-6 Continue Working Toward your Military Retirement

Veterans

Continue Serving America - Kansas - Your Local Communit Rarn as much as $218.88 a weekend!! CALL TODAY: 913-537-4108 Kansas Army National Guard

Birthday Sale

$322 off Pentium Computers Just $2395

SOUTHERN SUN

WHEN THE BEACH IS OUT OF REACH

SPECIAL

10 TANS FOR $25

Exp. 1-31-96

- ·Stand-Up Booth
- Appointments Available Special Package Deals
- Walk-Ins Welcome
- 10 Wolff System Tanning Beds Manhattan's Original Wolff Systems Center Great New West Side Location
 - Open Year Round With Convenient Hours

 Serving Both Professional And Student Clientele SOUTHERN SUN 3232 Kimbali BACK TO SCHOOL 776-8060

TROPICAL TAN 1814 Claffin 537-0744

Always Great Bulbs At The Best Prices

Not enough students are realizing the road to excellence is that knowledge is power.

PATRICIA RUSSELL-McCLOUD CONVOCATION SPEAKER

SPEAKER

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 year in speaking engagements across the nation.

"I try not to count the actual speaking engagements," Russell-McCloud said. "It makes me so tired thinking about it. I just know the mileage because it translates into frequent-flyer miles."

She said she uses those frequent-flyer miles for vacations she takes throughout

'My vacations serve as renewal periods and downtimes where I can relax and think," Russell-McCloud said.

Throughout those miles, Russell-Mc-Cloud said, she sees a common issue facing the nation: a matter of excellence without excuse.

"The highest institutional or systematic goal is to achieve excellence again," she said. "Not enough students are realizing the road to excellence is that knowledge is power."

She said she suggests students arrive earlier, stay later, and work harder while in classes.

"The students are realizing their goals, and their education is goal-oriented within their curriculums," she said, "What once was a regional field turned into a national field. However, they now must think of the issue of a global community."

Russell-McCloud said she sees problems with college students today.

"Students are seeing the urgency of now. They are living by moments," she said. "Students today have become strictly goal-oriented - they must make the grade and graduate and almost divorce themselves from that around them.'

While traveling, Russell-McCloud said she has come across examples of students living for the moment.

"There is not a value for life among the young," she said. "They don't believe they are going to live past 25. They plan funerals rather then prom dresses. There are not enough hopes out there, and they need role models who can provide hope.

In her speech, Russell-McCloud said she explains to students the first number on a tombstone is birth, the last number is

"It is the dash that represents your life,"

Recent events, such as the Million Man March, have fueled Russell-McCloud's thoughts, she said.

"It was wonderful to see a single person able to give out a catalytic clarion call to unite a community," she said of the march. The issues empowered a nation.

"The march served as a renewal of community spirit, and that is commendable even if you don't agree with the messenger," she said.

While the Million Man March gathered media attention, focusing it toward the message given by a Louis Farrakhan, women in the African American community spoke about being left out.

"It didn't bother me as much because I am an empowered woman, and I supported and sanctioned their meeting," Russell-McCloud said.

While recent events, such as the march and the O.J. Simpson verdict, have seemingly caused schisms between the races, Russell-McCloud said it was time to address other issues.

"The melting pot has melted," she said during her speech.

"Now the melting pot has become a salad bowl."

Russell-McCloud also questioned the meaning of minority. "Soon, two-thirds of the world will be a minority," she said. "Even in new math, when was twothirds a minority?

If Russell-McCloud were granted three wishes, she said she would like to see world peace, a safe future for the children and everyone working for the common good.

"We are on a dangerous course in this nation," she said.

We have a whole generation of children who are weeds on a lot. The collective hearts are being crushed. As long as we don't continue following the King dream and beliefs, we are going to remain separated.

Russell-McCloud said the nation is in an ebb-and-flow pattern.

"Partisan politics create an extremism in this nation, and it is we the people who suffer," she said.

The extremism leads to racial epitaphs,

"It becomes an issue of us against them," she said. "So we have many miles to go before realizing the dream.

"What I want students to take home with them is the division is subliminal," Russell-McCloud said.

"All is well, the heart is healing, but help is needed," she said.

'We need the maximization of the human potential as long as it is not harnessed

Kansas State Collegian

WESTLOOP 539-3333

Now Delivering

Professional Ice Hockey

Tuesday, January 30-Memphis RiverKings 7:00 Start Time

RED LIGHT NIGHT

Groups of 20 or more $5 anywhere in the Coliseum

Tuesday, February 6-San Antonio Iguanas 7:00 Start Time

COLLEGE ID NIGHT $5 tickets anywhere in the Coliseum with valid College ID

ADULT TICKETS: $10 & $7 Available at Select-A-Seats and Thunder Office located at 4328 E. Kellogg FOR MORE INFO, CALL 264-GOAL

Let the Air Force give it a boost with:

- · High-tech training
- · Hands-on experience Tuition assistance
- · Medical and dental care · Excellent salary

For more information call 1-800-423-USAF or contact your local Air Force recruiter.

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

- ·Free pregrancy testing
- Totally confidential service
- ·Same day results
- Call for appointment

Located across from campus in Anderson Village

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Paul E. Bullock

omplete Fye Exam Exp. 2/15/96 with coupon

Back to School save Up to $40.00 on U.V. regular Disposable Contact lenses Save up to $20 on a complete pair of eyeglasses Prescriptions filled through their expiration date We fill outside prescriptions

1441 Anderson Ave. Anderson Village Adjacent to KSU

776-9461

Toll Free 1-800-432-0036

BREAKTHE FAST FOOD CHAIN HABIT & FOR 3000 Vista has 100% Pure Kansas Beef served with ketchup, mustard, pickles and onions. For just a little more, top if off with cheese and bacon. Offer good for a limited time

1911 Tattle Creek Blvd. 2700 Anderson Ave.

flint hills FOODS, INC. Quality Meat Products Since 1969

Classifieds

CANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

posit, plus electric. No pets, available now, six months lease. Call 537-1180. STUDIO, ONE, two, three-bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished. Clean and quiet surroundings six

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N.

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo-sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428.

TWO-BEDROOM, ONE bath, new carpet, laun-dry facilities, one block from campus, lease until (913)632-2744.

For Rent-Unfurnished

AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available
now. Very large, twobedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included.
Call 776-3804.

ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537–2332.

Very near campus. Clean and new. $385 plus utilities. Available immediately. (913)455-3433. Leave

Leasing now thru August

Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537–1666, 537–2919.

AVAILABLE NOW- rent ne gotiable, luxury apart ment next to campus two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing. 539-2702 evenings.

AVAILABLE NOW, across from Aggieville and campus. Spacious one or two-bedroom with off-street parking. 776-0683 after 5p.m.

AVAILABLE NOW. One-bedroom. 820 Osage. $360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-

Call 776-3804. now

AILABLE SOON- two-bedroom duplex, fire-place, off-street park-ing, washer/dryer hook-ups, central heat/air, good neighborhood, close to campus. Call 532-9008 or (913)252-3611

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM, no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid. Available Jan. 1. 539-1975.

EAN. THREE-BED-ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer. Gas and water split. Electricity separate. Trash paid. $450/month 1110 Colorado, 537-9023.

bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

Open Houses Daily ONE OR two-bedroom

LACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103 K-STATE UNION KEDZIE HALL

> ROOM 103 OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays

> > ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL
> > ABLE now. Sunse
> > Apartments, $345
> > $385. Water, trash paic > > Laundry facilities. N > > pets. Call 776–3804.

NISHED/ unfurnished Available now. $300 537-7138.

campus. $350, no bill: Pets allowed. 537-2697

Place Apartment, $34 per month plus utilities

January free. New car pet. Extra clear 537-5198.

leasing a one-bedroor for up to six mont lease if desired. Ca 537-9794 immediately.

PARK PLACE apartmer

PARK PLACE APART
MENTS leasing one two and three-bedroor apartments. Two pools hot tub, horseshoes volleyball. 1413 Carr
bridge #8, 539-2951.

ROYAL TOWERS. Four

ONE-BEDROOM NEA KSU campus, availabl now. 1960 Hunting $435. Water, trash pair 776-3804.

FUF

ONE-BEDROOM

ONE-BEDROOM

ONE-BEDROOM

BOARD

Announcements

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

Claflin Books and Copies

KSU SCUBA NAUI or YMCA certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539–8763 for information and

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information (800)256-7515.

WANTED: 100 Studentsl Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information: (800)229-7562.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days. FOUND: CHRISTMAS gift for Crystal Woodbury, call 776-1798.

FOUND: RING outside Ahearn Fieldhouse, Jan. 18. To identify call 776-7945.

Parties-n-More

ADD A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birthdays. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift everl Professional entertainment at rea-sonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, nationgion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537–0056.

Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320/ month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to campus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537–7642. AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919. MODERN TWO-BED-ROOM, close to cem-pus, terrace, washer/ dryer access, low utilifurnished in complex 1219 Claflin. Next to campus, $320 plus de-

Fremont Apts. or nine-month lease. No pets. 537-8389.

10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401.

AVAILABLE SOON- two

CRESTWOOD MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE in January, 1611 Laramie, $600, Water,

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804. NOW LEASING JUNE 8 AUGUST NEWLY REMODELED one-bedroom. One-half block from campus. Dis-count on rent for 12-month leases. For de-tails, call (816)224-9796, CALL 776-1148

The Curtin Company

START

NOW

▲ 2 bedroom

bedroom

▲ Dishwasher

▲ Large bath &

▲ Laundry facility

▲ On site office

▲ 2 large pools

▲ Private

closets

apartments

▲ Great location

APARTMENTS STOP ! DO NOT RENT AN APARTMENT UNTIL YOU

(MODDWA)

CONSIDER THIS! Brand new sparkling swimming pool Spacious decks/patios Avail, June 5 Aug. 6

*Kitchen Appliances include microwave and ceiling fan Economical gas heat bedroom $410, $420 $520, $530 2 bedroom $654, $663 3 bedroom $ bedroom $816, $836

Office: 2400 Kimball Ave. at College Ave. Across from Bramlage) Call Roy at 537-7007 for an appointment.

yAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms availabl now. One block fror campus. Water, tras paid. Hot tubs, dish washer, microwave laundry facilities. Ca now 776-3804. STUDIO AVAILABLE now near Sunset Zoo, 40 Summit. $225. Fixe utilities. Call 776-3804.

WIND COM

OUTH PADRE ISLAND

PANAMA CITY BEACH

KEY WEST

STEAMBOAT

HILTON HEAD ISLAND

1-800-SUNCHASE

SCUBA DIVE* Learn to structor, 539-6 classes now forming

JOIN UNIGLOBE Knowles

scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, 539-0631, Travel for Spring Break in Cancun or Jamaica.

Jamaica starting from $439 March 24- 31, 1996. Cancun starting from $399 March 22-

29, 1996, March 23- 30 1996. Limited space only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre; $109 Bahamas $359 Ja-

Call (800)628-6589.

SPRING BREAK '96. With

AIL/BEAVER CREEK

Collegian Classifieds

THREE-BEDROOM APART-MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500/ month. 539-5729.

THREE-BEDROOM WITH washer/ dryer, dish-washer, fireplace. Avail-able Feb. 1. $600. 537-7138.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT. $380/ month Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537-7794.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT, near campus; all appliances; laundry, gym, pool on-site; $570/ month; call day 776-3663; nite 776-3663; (316)722-4469.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT, southeast of campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facilimmediately avail-539-7277.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL

TWO-BEDROOM O-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH PAID. $480.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX four miles east of cam pus. Easy access. Available now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month Water paid (913)379-5450.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call $460/ month. Cal 587-4111 or after 6p.m.

TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM. Bluemont, sublease $350, 539-8401.

For Rent-

DIATELY. Four-bed

FIVE-BEDROOM house, short term lease, $700. Available

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH or-BEDROOM WITH study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-lowed.Call 776-3804.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

TWO-BEDROOM, bath, house available. Feb. 1; all appliances plus washer/ dryer in-cluded, storage $390/ month. Will pay half 2216 Blaker St. Call 539-4713 for informa-

Mobile Homes

12X60 TWO-BEDROOM. Stove, refrigerator washer/ dryer, mi-crowave. Set up Blue Valley trailer court 539-1004.

1994 SKYLINE Sabre twobedroom, one bath, central air. Excellent, condition. Paid $17,500. Sell for $14,000. 537-9740 or 776-6361 before 9:30p.m.

Roommate Wanted

AVAILABLE NOW- Very nice four-bedroom townhouse, three bath, washer/ dryer. $215/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Call 776–3843.

CHRISTIAN FEMALE wants roommate for semes-ter. Close to campus $180 plus one-half KPL $180 plus one-half KPL. Call 539-6394. As soon

CLEAN, RESPONSIBLE studious college stud-ent seeks housemate to share three-bedroom newly remodeled home in excellent neighbor-hood. Within walking s375/ month INCLUDES washer/ dryer, own bathroom, gas, electric, garbage, water, off-street parking and local phone. Rent due by 28th each month, 539-0813.

FEBRUARY RENT free, For Female, non-smoking.
To shars three-bedroom and one and onehalf bath. Low onethird utilities. Electric heating/ cooling. Great landlord. $175. Call 587-0521 as soon as

ROOMMATE FEMALE wanted: close to Ag-gleville and campus. Af-fordable rent. Call 776-1388 ask for Ali.

FEMALE. AVAILABLE im mediately: three-bed-room house, two blocks to campus, 1105 Ratone, washer/ dryer $150/ month 539-7190, 539-4303 or (913)465-2365.

FEMALE/ MALE room-mates wanted to share five-bedroom house. Two blocks off campus. $140/ Month plus utili-ties. Call 587–1969 leave

MALE OR female room mate wanted to share a nice two-bedroom home. Each bedroom has own bath. Washer/ dryer, half utilities. Call 776-5009.

MALE OR female room-mate wanted. Two-lev-el, four-bedroom du-plex. $180 and one-fourth of utilities. Call 776-0055.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted to share two-bed-room apartment at Chase Manhattan. $285/ month plus one-half utilities. 776-1411, MALE/ FEMALE nonsmoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus onebills. 539-8786.

MALE/ FEMALE smoker. one-third bills, one third rent, own room close to campus, and Aggieville, 587-9606.

MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block from campus, with two girls, one guy. Own room, washer/ dryer $172.50. 539-4311. MASTER BEDROOM in three-bedroom house. Two large closets own bathroom, washer/ dry-NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate wanted to share a nice two-bed-room apartment. $150 plus electric bill. Avail-able immediately. Call 778, 2312 776-3212. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apartment. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.

OWN ROOM for male roommate in three-bedroom apartment. $225 month and one-third utilities. No deposit, 587-0015.

ROOMMATE NEEDED im mediately for apart-ment, close to campus. Prefer non-smoker. Call 776-1340.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities. 587-9439.

ROOMMATE WANTED. next to campus. Large, private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294.

ROOMMATES NEEDED 723 Galaxy $175/ month, pets ok, call 587-8335 ask for Jason.

ROOMMATES WANTED, non-smokers, located off campus. Nice apart-ment with big rooms, call Scott after 5p.m.

SHARE WITH two other guys. 1630 Leaven-worth. $160/ month each. (913)383-2590. STUDENT WANTED: $175/ities. 587-0697, leave TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur-nished basement apart-ment. Laundry furnished, for males, non smoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539-1554.

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to cam-pus in house, please contact Joyce 565-0114.

ROOMMATES OR subleas-ing until July 31, nice two-bedroom furtwo-bedroom fur-nished apartment. One block from campus. Rent negotiable 587-0542 leave mes-

SUBLEASE SPRING se-mester 1996, rent ne-gotiable, 587-9519.

Typing FAST, CHEAP, accurate. Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing. Laser printing. Becky, 539-2748.

Services

FREE MONEY- Think it's too good to be true? Well believe me it's not. Let me show you how to get free money through scholarships Don't delay. People are rushing to get their

NEY FOR COL-LEGEIII Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-ents. Immediate qual-ification. Call ification. Call (800)270-2744. Open

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D., Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures nance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he'she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. [913]232-0454.

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call

$100,000 FIRST Year com-missions possible. We need recruiters, train ers, and managers. 24 hour recorded message. (800)289-5685. $35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898–9778 ext. R-1915 for details.

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800 898–9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.

RN $7.50 AN HOUR$ - That's right! You receive $15 each SEARN time you donate life saving plasma at Man-hattan Biomedical Cen-ter. 1130 Gardenway. 9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M- F, 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from Westloop.

ATTENTION MAN-HATTAN DO YOU ENJOY DRIVING? USD 383 is looking for people interested in becoming school bus driv-ers. All training will be provided including CDL licensing. Part-time $6.50 per hour plus benefits. Apply to USD383, 2031 Poyntz

Ave., Manhattan, KS 66502, 587-2000 EOE. 12 HOURS per week. Must have clerical experience. Interact with staff and faculty, have Word-Processing and dbase skills. Knowledge of In-ternet, electronic mail file transfer, world wide web, multimedia and Operating systems. Pick up application form in Fairchild Room 9 or 16 Nichols Hall by 5p.m. Monday. February 5, 1996. Job duties can also be picked up at Fairchild Hall #9 and Nichols Hall #16.

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-A57683.

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. DANBEE FOR GIRLS.
Western Massachusetts. Over 100 positions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Waterski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required. Top salaries, room and Top salaries, room and board, and travel allowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27-28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBSI Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

ATTENTION ALL Studentsl
Over $6 Billion in public and private sector
grants and scholarships grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information call: (800)263–6495 ext.F57684.

ATTENTION ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided, Send Self Addressed STUD Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 86051, Immediate re-

ATTENTION UPPER divi-

Very part-time book-keeping job, 2- 3 flexi-ble hours a week. Call ATTENTION: LOSE up to 30 pounds in 30 days for $30. Why wait? Start today! 539-8256. BABYSITTER FOR new born in our home. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Light house keeping required. $5/ hour. 587-8767.

CAMP COUNSELORS for of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canoeing, crafts, games, and crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the outdoors. Lifeguard helpful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details, send inquiry before Fesend inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wild-wood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS

CAMP TAKAJO for boys Outstanding Maine camp noted for magnificent lakefront set ting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 po-sitions for heads and assistants in tennis, base ball, basketball, soccer swimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, journalism, photography videography, wood-working, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study, radio and electronics, dramatics, piano ac companist, music in strumentalist, band director, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewa-ter canoeing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), sec-retarial. June 17-Au-gust18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union.

CLERICAL SUPPORT Currently hiring for two half-time positions for clerical support. The job requires a knowledge of WordPerfect Lotus 123. Other soft ware knowledge is help ful. Good telephone skills are required. Apply in person at LERN, 1550 Hayes Drive, Manhattan. EOE

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus month. World travel Seasonal and full-time positions. No experi ence necessary,. For in formation call (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

DINING SERVICES PO SITIONS- Derby Din-ing Center is hiring students for cooking service and custodial positions. Beginning pay $4.75 per hour. Raises scheduled. Breakfast, lunch, dinner and some weekend hours are available. We will work around your class schedule. You choose times you want to work. Apply in per-son at Derby Dining Center. Room 129 bet-ween the hours of 7:30a.m.- 5:30p.m.

FARM HELP Wanted- Experience required. Call 12:00 to 5:00 days (913)457-3788, nights (913)457-3713 or

HARVEST HELP NEED ED. We run three new 2188's Case International combines, three new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board pro-vided. Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting. (913)689-4660.

HORTICULTURAL SERV-ICES, Inc. is seeking re-liable individuals for full- or part-time employment for our retail garden center and landscape operations. Above average wages and benefits. Apply in person at 11524 Land-scape Lane, St. George, KS 66535. (913)494-2418 or (913)776-0397.

JOBS IN the Great Outdoors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife reserves are now hir KAW VALLEY Greenhous

(Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-392-3752.

Swedlund (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.

DELIVERY PERSON need-ed. Please come to 1304 Westloop Shopping

ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 extes needs quality peo-ple. Full and part-time positions available. Call 776–8585, Monday through Friday bet-ween 4 and 5p.m.

OCCASIONAL BABYSIT TER in our home for preschool child. 532-1989 or 532-7968.

PREMIERE BROTHER-Sister Camps in Massachusetts: Counselor posi-tions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, espe-cially Baseball, Basketball, Roller Hockey Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other opening include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking).
Top salaries, room,
board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire:
MAH-KEE-NAC

RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specif-ically designed for recent college graduates. Call or send resume. 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam

REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business opportunity with multi-level marketing in tele communications indus try. For appointment

SMALL ENGINE Mechanic full or part-time, call 776-4181 K-Hill Engine Service. 8430 E. High-

STUDENT'S DREAMose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases energy, mental alertness. 539–7336. VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help

Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at 2700 Anderson Ave. WELL-ORGANIZED KSLI student with top-notch communication skills needed for Kansas Work Study Program. Requires some office skills and a pleasant can-do attitude. Send resume, cover letter and three references to North Central- Flint Hills Area Agency on Aging, 437 Houston Street, Manhattan, KS and kitchen helpers, song leaders, photog-raphers, wranglers and horseback riding coun-selors; hiking, backpacking, sports, climb-ing, riflery, and crafts counselors needed. Sal-ary plus room, board and travel allowance This will be our 76th apply. Applicants will be notified of campus the notified of campus interview date. Apply Cheley Colorado Camps, P. O. Box 6525, Denver, CO 80206, (800)226-7386.

66502. Deadline: Janu-ary 29, 1996 EOE/AA WORK IN THE COLOR-ADO MOUNTAINS this summer at Cheley Colorado Camps, located in Estes Park. RN's, drivers, office staff, nannies, cooks

WWW COORDINATOR: The Department of Communications, In-formation and Educational Technology, and the Office Community Health are looking for two (2) mature students with excellent communication and organi-zational skills. These in-dividuals will be asked to develop, implement and manage World Wide Web sites for the Office of Community Health and the Nationa Decisions for Health Network. Expertise in Windows software, the Internet, HTML or other Web authoring tools is necessary. Graduate Student standing is per-ferred. We offer flexible hours and competitive pay; 15- 20 hours week (Funding is avail able for this position until February 1997). Applications and a job description are available in 211 Umberger

Hall through Friday, Fe-bruary 2, 1996. MARKET

Wanted to Buy WANT TO buy: Diamonds-Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry experience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're look ing for. Lorin 539-6631.

COLOR PRINTER for sale. 600x300 DPI. Mac or IBM compatible. Call 776-0055. Ask for Ni-

FOR SALE: Large dorm refrigerator. $75. Call 776-3357. JVC CD changer control cassette and remote six CD Changer. $400 or best offer for pair, call 776–1689. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-

Furniture to Buy/Sell

5'4 1/2"X4'X2'3" bar, with formica counter top and plenty of shelf space. Come see and make offer. 587-8638. QUEEN-SIZED FUTON and frame 587-9524. WATERBED FOR sale. Super single, good shape, complete. $50. 587-9083.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Man-

Computers

15-INCH MONITOR Acer View 56L, .28.Pitch, ergysaver, m features, top quality $300. 776-1650 Andrea.

486DX4X100, 8 MB ram. CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1495. 539-8453.

COMPAG 486 PC, VGA monitor, 4 MB ram, modem, hard drive and dual floppy drives, sound card, windows

FOR SALE, Macintosh Classic, StyleWriter printer carrying cases, accessories, etc. Call 776-7049 after 6p.m. weekdays, anytime

MACINTOSH LC III, 80 MB hard drive, 8 MB ram, color monitor, printer lots of software and games. Microsoft Word/ Excel, Sim City 2000, After Dark. great computer for student $1250.776-4908

MACINTOSH SE/30 8 meg RAM 80 meg hard drive, software and games included $500 or best offer, 776-5960.

MEDIA VISION Pro Audio Spectrum 16 sound card with SCSI port. Software, drivers, manuals-537-2497 data@ksu.ksu.edu

Music Instruments

> FENDER BASSMAN 135 amplifier. Silverface Piggyback with 2X15 speaker cabinet on wheels. Looks good, sounds great. $400 or best offer. Jeff 275-0408 776-0406

FERNANDEZ GUITAR,

three months old, tele-

caster style, natural finish, hot pick-ups. lock-ing tuners.$450 with tweed case. Music Co. 539-1958. HARMONY: MUSICAL concord; agreement; peace and friendship. The Music Co.- redefining the music "industry" at 523 S. 17th St. in the Midtown Plaza.

539-1958 WANTED TO buy three-fourth size violin, call 539-3619.

Supplies

50 GALLON aguarium with lighted top. Both are new and still in box. Never used. $115 or best offer. 539–3789. FIVE-FOOT RED-TAILED boa constrictor, with large cage. $300 or best offer. 776-6223. Sporting

Equipment

HIMALAYAN. BLAZE Orange, large, with de-luxe frame. Excellent condition, hardly used. $35. 537-4512.

Stereo

Equipment JENSEN CAR stereo amp 40 watts per each o two channels- $60 537-2497 o

data@ksu.ksu.edu KENWOOD STEREO system, new. (776-5830. Best offer.

Automobiles CLEAN 1980 Olds Omega just rebuilt engine, re-ceipts. Four-door, four cylinder, $650 or best offer, 537-4047.

maica/ Cancun $399. Organize a group- Travel-Free!! SunSplash Tours: (800)426-7710. SPRING BREAK'S "Hot-test Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island, Belize (800)328-7513

What do you do if you see a fire? Call 911 2. Then call us

from $439

from $399

from $109

Toll free 1-800-548-4849

Jamaica

Cancun

Florida

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Classified Directory

115 Rooms Available

120 For Rent - House

125 For Sale - Houses

130 For Rent — Mobile Homes

135 For Sale — Mobile Homes

140 For Rent - Garage

145 Roommate Wanted

166 Stable/Pasture

160 Office Space

165 Land for Sale

020 Lost and Found 030 Personals

050 Parties-n-More

TOO HOUSING REAL ESTATE

401

210 Resume/Typing 216 Dasktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations

225 Pregnancy Testing

220 Lawn Care 235 Child Care 240 Musicians/DJs 245 Pet Services

260 Automotive Repair 265 Other Services 36. EMPLOYMENT! CAREERS

310 Help Wanted 120 Volunteens Needer

MARKET 405 Wanted to Buy 410 Items for Sale

415 Furniture to Buy/Set

420 Garage/Yard Seles 425 Auction 430 Antiques 435 Computers

440 Food Specials 445 Music Instruments (50 Pels and Supplies

88 Sporing Equipment 160 Stereo Equipment 485 Tickets to Buy/Self

50 TRANS-PORTATION

510 Automobiles 520 Bicycles 530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool

TRAVEL/ TRIPS 010 Tour Packages 520 Airplane Tickets

530 Train Tickets

640 Bus Tickets

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

(fa

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price.

This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

"No Coupon" Specials

Everyday

Two-fers

2 - TOPPINGS each

Want to work out and wish you could?

You're In. You're Out.

at Cottonwood.

COTTONWOOD

Racquet Club

3615 Claffin • 776-6060 light west on Claffin. Next to Amanda Amold Elen

- COKES with ice

Pizza Shuttle 776-5577

- PIZZAS with

FEES

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

female coaches more comparable benefits, and increase marketing and promotions for women's sports by setting aside $30,000 for them.

Non-cash benefits, such as country club memberships, would be included for women coaches, Potter said. However, Potter said he does not believe students should have to pay for country club memberships.

Other students also have concerns about the possible increase in the athletic fee.

"I'm all for women's sports, but they need to find a way to raise money without increasing fees," Omar Davis, senior in psychology,

For students who pay out-of-state tuition like Davis, fee increases are a "Tuition has gone up $300 in the last three years. It's hard to justify paying more when you're not seeing any benefit personally," he said.

Other students said raising the athletic fee shouldn't be necessary.

"They should take the money from other sports which make more," Brent Jackson, senior in English and histo-

Frankfurt

Amsterdam

Council Travel

1-800-2-counci

[1-800-226-8624]

Call today for a FREE

Student Travels magazine!

Birthright of Manhattan

Pregnant?

Confidential Pregnancy Tests and Services

FREE

"We Care About You"

Evening Hours: Wed. 6:30 - 8 p.m.

Try Our Nightly

Specials

Available 5-9 p.m.

Buy I whole sandwich.

get 2nd one 1/2 price

2nd one 1/2 price. Whole Reuben $2.25

1/2 sandwich & side

order $1.88.

1219 Bluemont * Aggieville

Buy 1 daily special, get

Dilly's

Deli.

532 S. 17th 537-9180 or

1-800-550-4900

Madrid

Prague

Rome

Jackson said not all students like sports and he would like to see more money go to other activities at the University.

"Maybe they could charge a fee for an activity pass for people who go to sporting events," Kristy Svoboda, freshman undecided, said.

"People who don't go to sporting events shouldn't have to pay."

President Jon Wefald said all possibilities for funding will be fully explored. "There is an abundance of time for various student groups and Student Senate to react to the challenges of meeting Title IX requirements, and there is plenty of time to work out a solution to those Title IX requirements," Wefald said.

"The athletic department will work with all constituents, including the Student Senate, to arrive at a solution to the mandates of Title IX," he said.

The athletic fee was originally proposed to Student Senate in October 1989 and approved by the Board of Regents by May 1990.

The fee began in fall 1990 with a $10 rate per full-time student and a $5 rate for part-time students. The last time the fee was raised was in 1993 when it jumped from $10 to $17 per semester. The proposed bill would almost double the athletic fee.

Aggie's New-To-You 2nd Hand Shop

PERSONALIZED_ DOG TAGS $6 set

Create a tag for your Best Friend, Boy Friend, Birthday Gifts

1124 Moro, Aggieville

-In stock bikes only-

TREKUSA STE

1217 Moro in Aggieville

776-2372

Everyday

Three-fers

TOPPING each

COKES with ice

- PIZZAS with

(NO coupon needed,

NONE accepted)

CONTRACTOR OF THE SHOP SHOUND CHOOSE A COME SHOP SHOP SHOW This Week's Specials Sancho or Burrito $1.35 ea. $1.70 reg. Taco Dinner $2.05 reg. $2.75 Good through 2-3-96 TACO HUY 2809 Claflin 539-2091

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1996 AT HOUSTON STREET BALLROOM 427 HOLSTON STREET, MANHATTAN 7:50 P.M. - 10:50 P.M.

COME AND GO AS YOU PLEASE BUT PLAN TO STAY AND HAVE FUN !!!

IN THE ROOM

AT THE BOOTHS Factory Sales Representatives will show you their lines and take special orders.

ADVENTURES TRAVEL * HAYNES STYLE SHOP * PHOTO WEST

* NAUTILUS FITNESS

LIGHT SNACKS * SWMSUT CATALOGS * DRESSING ROOMS * PATRICIA'S LINDERCOVER

AT THE STAGE # Free Swimsuit Biveaway Hourly * INFORMAL MODELING TO WIN *FASHION

PRESENTATIONS BY COMPANY *BRETT KELLY, SINCER

SHOW BY INVITATION ONLY BUT YOU MAY BRING AS MANY GIRLFRIENDS AS YOU WISH. R.S.V.P. REQUIRED BY JANUARY 30TH AT 7:00 P.M. WE WILL REQUEST NAMES OF YOUR GLESTS AT THE TIME OF R.S.V.P. CALL 539-5956 M-TH. 10-7, FRI. & SAT. 10-5

SPECIAL ORDERS PAY BY MC \VISA, CASH, OR CHECK THE EVENING OF THE SHOW monno

Golden Key National Honor Society

Congratulates the nominees for the 1995--96 Outstanding Graduate Teaching Assistant Award at Kansas State University

Richard Zajac Dept. of Physics

Doug Peterson Dept. of Psychology Harry John Dept. of Agronomy

Margaret Bolick Dept. of Secondary Education

Christine Motley Dept. Of Family Studies & Human Services

Nancy Leathers Dept. of Geography

Amanda Lee Dept. of Clothing, Textiles & Interior Design

K-State students appreciate the outstanding efforts and contributions of these graduate students in their teaching roles.

The K-State Chapter of Golden Key exists to recognize academic excellence, enrich the Collegiate experience of our members, and positively impact our community.

Scholarship opportunities for adult students (full and parttime, undergrad and grad). Call for an appointment 532-6434 Adult Student Services

(equal or lesser value)

Tuesday Special: Large 2-Topping Pizza with 64ozs. of Soft Drink

$800 plus tax

NOT GOOD WITH ANY OTHER OFFER

TRUE FREE

DELIVERY

12th & Moro AGGIEVILLE

24 HR. PROCESSING

STUDENT LOANS HAVE NEVER BEEN SIMPLER! Kansas State Bank is the largest local student loan lender with over 40,000 student loans processed! Let our professional in-house staff assist you with your next student loan.

Lender code #821176

Westloop . Downtown . Aggieville . K-State Union, 587-4000

WELCOME BACK STUDENTS!

Don't miss our INVENTORY CLEARANCE SALE.

Our buyers have just returned from the Consumer Electronics Show where they have ordered New '96 products. We must sell out our existing inventory

Many items at Dealer Cost! Hurry Quantities Limited.

Here's a few examples: Reg $849 Now $449

Polk Audio RM3000 Speakers Kenwood UD 302 Mini System Alpine 7526 Cassette Deck

Reg $549 Now $349 Reg $270 Now $199

HOME STEREO SYSTEMS-COMPONENTS-SPEAKERS-CAR STEREOS

Monday -Friday 10-7

*⊕Cerwin-Vega!

HI FI - Car Stereo - Video

Saturday

307 Ft. Riley Blvd. 587-4646

Today: possible flurries. See weather map, page 2.

inside

OPINION . page 4 K-STATE LIFE . page 5

SPORTS . page 6

DIVERSIONS • page 7

a century of service

TUESDAY

January 30, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 82

preview two songs which will be performed at the Count Basie Orchestra concert at 8 p.m. Saturday in McCain Auditorium.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Dispute claims life of K-State graduate

■ Wisconsin woman caught in middle of fight between married couple, resulting in her death

Sara Edwards

Recent K-State graduate Voua Lo Kiatoukaysi was killed at approximately 6:30 Sunday night in Wausau, Wis., after being caught in the middle of a domestic dispute.

Kiatoukaysi was visiting a friend, Jia Yang, when Yang's ex-husband, Da Vang, came over and started arguing with Yang. They went into the kitchen, where Kiatoukaysi was talking on the telephone, and Vang shot and killed both of them, Lieutenant Dale Tessmer of the Wausau Police Department Yang's four children, all 6 years old and younger, were the only witnesses to the murder, Tessmer said. They are being kept in protective custody.

"Until we can get this guy, they are going to remain in foster care," he said.

Tessmer said Vang had taken Yang's 1995 black Honda Accord and was still missing. He said they have a pretty good idea of where he is.

"We're following up on leads. I don't know how close we are," he said.

Kiatoukaysi was a spring 1995 graduate of K-State. She was a first-grade teacher at Grant Elementary School in Wausau. Kiatoukaysi graduated from Buhler High School near Hutchinson. She went on to attend Hutchinson Community College and then K-State like her brothers ahead of her, Lovong Kiatoukaysi, her brother, said.

Lovong said she wanted to make a difference in childrens' lives, especially Hmong children. The Kiatoukaysis are of Hmong ethnicity. The Hmong are a tribe in Laos, he said.

Kiatoukaysi was offered jobs in Kansas, but she chose to teach in Wausau because of the large Hmong community there, he said. "She wanted to teach little kids because that's where everything started. She saw how little people from Southeast Asia get in gangs and stuff. She wanted to make a difference there," he said.

Kiatoukaysi had a big family and a lot of friends at K-State, he said.

'She loved K-State," he said. Kent Mayfield, senior in secondary education and art education, had known Kiatoukaysi since they were in kindergarten. He wanted to get the word out about the violence. "Everyone has losses. This loss is an example of the horror we live in," he said. "This is the most ugly thing anybody I know has ever had to experience. Some person took her life for no reason. There should be justice for that."

As Mayfield was speaking, Taolo, the younger sister, returned home. Her shrieks could be heard in the background. "Her sister says she doesn't have anything to say. She just wants her back. We all want her back," he said Voua Lo Kiatoukaysi was born Jan. 6, 1972. She is survived by her parents, four brothers and her sister. She will be buried in Colorado.

The number of student visits to the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex has increased 29 percent since this time last year. Recent popularity of the Rec Complex has caused some students to wait to use equipment.

Rec draws record numbers

staff reporter

he rhythmic clanking of weight machines and whirring of rowing machines are perpetuating student bodies closer to spring break.

Spring break and New Year's resolutions are being credited with helping set a new attendance record the first day of classes at the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex.

"First of all it's their New Year's resolutions. Everybody is working out for spring break," said Jessica Lange, junior in secondary education and a Rec Complex building supervisor.

The Rec Complex was used by Complex has caused some students said. 4,153 people during the 18 hours it was open Jan. 22, Derek Walters, facility manager, said.

On the first day of classes last spring, the Rec Complex had only 2,547 users, Walters said.

The increasing use was not a oneday phenomenon, Walters said.

Last year, the use of the Rec Complex rose 29 percent. This is equal to 60,425 visits over the period of a year. Total visits to the Rec Complex during 1995 was 210,085, Walters said. Kelly Hawthorne, freshman in business, said she uses the Rec Complex every day and has noticed the increase in users as well. "Just lately, there has been tons of people coming here," she said. The popularity of the Rec to wait to use equipment.

"Half of the time there's not enough steps for everyone," Hawthorne said about aerobic work-

The overcrowding isn't something she would have predicted either, Hawthorne said.

"This place is so huge and so awesome. There's enough for everybody, it seems like until now, because there are so many people," Hawthorne said.

Hawthorne also said she thought New Year's resolutions played a big part in the increased use of the Rec Complex

"I think the big reason is people's New Year's resolutions. They don't want to let down on them too early, and spring break is coming," she

The Rec Complex's addition came at a perfect time, said Lange, who has worked at the Rec Complex for about a year and a half. She said the evenings are especially crowded.

"It's pretty full compared to the rest of the day and what it was last year. It's not uncommon to come out here and have eight basketball games going from six o'clock until 10 o'clock," she said.

Walters said the Rec Complex's expansion has helped by more than doubling the number of cardiovascular machines visitors may use.

Before the Rec Complex was expanded, it had only 35 cardiovascular machines. Now it has 92, he

• See REC Page 10

This place is so huge and so awesome. There's enough for everybody, it seems like until now. because there are so many people.

> KELLY HAWTHORNE FRESHMAN IN BUSINESS

STUDENT FEES

Kansas State has become a more complex institution since the current fee system was established. 🤲 — DON FOSTER, K-STATE REGISTRAR

LESS HOURS EQUALS LESS MONEY

Some may pay lower fees under new system

Laurel Hovell staff reporte

Next fall, some K-State students might actually pay a little less for school than they did this spring.

The University is changing the way students pay fees for the fall semester from the current flat fee system to a linear fee system.

Under the new system, students will be charged based on the number of hours they are enrolled. For example, a student taking seven hours will pay less than a student taking 15 hours The old system charged a flat rate of full tuition for all students taking seven or more hours.

The current system, which has been used since the 1940s, is being changed because it is outdated, Don Foster, K-State registrar, said.

"Kansas State has become a more complex institution since the current fee system was established," he said. The new system will address certain problems that have not been addressed with the current system, Foster said. One problem occurs when stu-Division of Continuing Education, he said.

With the old system, a student taking at least seven hours on the main campus and additional hours at Fort Riley or Continuing Education pays full-time tuition in addition to tuition for classes off campus. The new system will save money for students who take classes on and dents take classes at Fort Riley or at off-campus, because they will pay

• See LINEAR Page 10

DISTRIBUTING THE FEES

SGA discusses allotment of excess enrollment funds

Bill Bontempo

staff writer

The Student Government Association Privilege Fee Committee met to discuss how new money generated from increased enrollment will be handled by groups that receive funding through the committee Jan.

Mark Tomb, privilege fee chair, said Student Senate has a plan to deal with higher revenues created by projected increases in enrollment.

The proposed bills that were discussed at the meeting call for a conversion of campus privilege fees to privilege budgets and a privilege fee funding system.

The conversion bill included a proposal outlining possible budgets for privilege fee groups for fiscal year

For example, the proposed budget for Lafene Health Center next year is

$2,474,659 The privilege fee funding system gets by two-thirds vote of Student Senate. The privilege fee funding system bill also mandates guidelines for deal-bill establishes guidelines and procedures to adequately allocate the camdures include a biannual review of expenditures and an approval of bud-

Some of the guidelines and procepus privilege fee.

ing with reserve accounts. The committee said any excess of money allocated to campus groups would go into a reserve account that any group could request. All campus privilege fee groups would need a two-thirds vote of Student Senate to receive additional money from excess

In the past, some groups have had an excess of money at the end of the fiscal year, and committee members at Monday's meeting expressed a fear of losing those funds to those who are

• See PRIVILEGE Page 10

QUICKread

Committe

► Athletic Director Max Urick's proposal to either raise the student athletic fee or ticket prices was denied by the Privilege Fee

ATHLETIC FEE

Committee rejects proposed athletic fee increase

Ryan O'Halloran

The Privilege Fee Committee reviewed two proposals from Athletic Director Max Urick Monday night regarding a possible raise in the student athletic fee or a possible increase in ticket prices.

But the committee voted to stay with the current situation, keeping the student fee at $17 per semester or $1.21 per credit

The draft moves on to the first reading in the Student Senate Thursday night. The measure will be voted on after its second reading Thursday, Feb. 8, where it could change in either direction.

Urick said the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is $3.5 million in debt, thus making it impossible for stadium expansion and luxury box addition - both of which would increase the department's

The first option proposed would have doubled the student cost to $68 per year, with a 22-cent increase per credit hour plus

• See ATHLETIC Page 10

In the news

MANHATTAN WOMAN FOUND DEAD OF SELF-INFLICTED GUNSHOT

A Manhattan woman shot and killed herself on Sunday morning. The body of Christine Koci was discovered by a relative, who then phoned the police.

When Riley County police arrived on the scene, they found the victim dead apparently from a selfinflicted gunshot wound.

"This is all we are comfortable with releasing at this time," Sgt. Joseph Stech of the Riley County Police Department said. "The family has the right to privacy."

Koci was 45 years old. She was a former student at K-State and also had worked at the McDonald Physics Lab as a secretary.

J. Scot Bucholz

NAVY JET CRASHES INTO NASHVILLE NEIGHBORHOOD, KILLS 5

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - A Navy F-14 fighter jet heavy with fuel for a return trip to California crashed in a huge fireball in a neighborhood Monday, killing five people and demolishing three houses.

Three of the dead were in a house that took a direct hit from the Tomcat, as the F-14 is known.

The others killed were the plane's two-member crew.

The fighter had taken off from Nashville International Airport on a training mission, returning to its base at the Miramar Naval Air Station near San Diego. The fireball could be seen for miles from the wooded, workingclass neighborhood of brick homes where the crash occurred under overcast skies.

"One guy was just sitting in his couch. He never had a chance.

They were all just sitting where they were," firefighter James Dean said. The fighter jet hit one house. engulfing homes to either side in flames and littering the neighborhood with plane parts. Pieces of an engine sat in a yard across the street; another part of the plane rested in a tree.

FRANCE HALTS NUCLEAR TESTS

PARIS (AP) -President Jacques it acts for us as a Chirac ordered an early end Monday to underground nuclear tests in the South Pacific. Chirac peace." said they had achieved France began the their objective - giving France a "viable and modern defense." The last experimental blast, by far the most powerful since last summer, took place Saturday.

Two days later, Chirac, denounced across the world for months, said he was calling "a definitive halt to French nuclear tests."

"I know that the decision that I made last June may have provoked, in France and abroad, anxiety and emotion," Chirac said on state-run television Monday night. "I know that nuclear weaponry may cause fear. But in an always-dangerous world, weapon of dissuasion, a weapon in the service of tests with a Sept. 5 blast beneath Mururoa Atoll. That detonation, roughly the size of the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima in 1945, broke a three-year international moratorium on nuclear testing.

It made France the only nation besides China to test weapons of mass destruction since 1992

France insisted it had to resume the tests to check its nuclear arsenal and develop computer simulation that will make actual detonations unnecessary in the

▶ NATO RECOVERS WRECKAGE

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) -Inching through an area laced with mines. NATO soldiers reached the wreckage of a British armored vehicle on Monday and began the delicate operation of retrieving three soldiers killed by a mine.

Experts, clad in protective gear from head to toe, began at dawn to create a path to the wrecked vehicle in the central town of Mrkoniic Grad. It took them more than 11 hours to make it to the burned husk of the personnel carrier.

1225 Moro

"They have confirmed that the individuals are dead " said Mai. Stephen Kilpatrick, a NATO spokesman in the central town of Gornji Vakuf, 45 miles south-

The explosion Sunday - and the cautious recovery operation - point out the dangers for the NATO-led peaceenforcement mission

NATO officials say Croatia have been

▶ NEW DRUG MAY SLOW AIDS

WASHINGTON (AP) - A triple-punch combination of an experimental new AIDS drug and two others already on the market is by far the most potent treatment yet for people infected with the deadly virus, researchers said Monday.

The therapy does not cure AIDS. At best, it will slow and perhaps stall the disease for long periods. Even this could be a significant advance, since currently available virus medicines do little to extend AIDS patients'

The treatment involves one of a new class of drugs called protease inhibitors and is still in early stages of human testing. Nevertheless. AIDS researchers who have seen many promising initial results go sour in the nast are enthusiastic about the latest find-

"It's wonderfully exciting. It's a milestone," said Dr. Gerald Friedland of Yale University.

The key to the new combination is indinavir, a still-experimental protease inhibitor developed by Merck & Co. It is combined with the standard AIDS medicines AZT and

▶ SPEAKER CANCELS LECTURE

A 20-year-old, HIVpositive hemophiliac, who was scheduled to present "Too Young to Die" at 9 p.m. Tuesday in Forum Hall, will not do

Steve Sawyer, a Campus Crusade for Christ speaker, was informed by his doctors that he could not travel to K-State for the speaking engagement.

"Steve can't come for the lecture because his health has deteriorated to the point where he can't travel or speak," said Bob Macha, Campus Crusade for

In February 1995, doctors gave the Boston-area student six to 18 months to live.

Instead of giving in to the virus, a press release said, he discovered Jesus Christ and began speaking to others about Christ and the Bible.

During Tuesday evening's presentation, Sawver was to show ways students can use faith to bring hope.

He also was to talk about three unsuccessful ways to cope with suffering.

Macha said he was

Aggieville

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

SUNDAY, JANUARY 28

At 12:36 a.m., Thomas Swanson, 500 Sunset Ave., reported that his left driver's side window had been bashed in. The possible suspect's vehicle was a blue late-model statio wagon with tinted windows. The loss

At 1:56 a.m., Ricardo Banda war arrested for DUI at Claffin Road and

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

SUNDAY, JANUARY 28

At 10:55 a.m., Tim Strobel, 1435 Collins Lane, Apt. 99, was arrested for battery. He was released on $300

At 12:07 p.m., Chastity Cousins, 323 N. Noble, was arrested for battery. Bond was set at $300.

At 1:07 p.m., Nicole A. Arena, 201 S. 7th St., Apt. D, was arrested on warrant for failure to appear. Bond was set at $76.

MONDAY, JANUARY 29

At 12:16 a.m., Shawn Johston, Flint Hills Job Corps, 4620 Eureka Drive, filed a missing persons report for Stephanie E. Drapesux. She was

At 5:32 a.m., Slade Deister, 1001

At 3:01 p.m., Maurice L. Jackson 922 Riley Lane, was arrested on war-rant for possession of stolen property. Bond was set at $3,000. At 8:56 p.m., Timothy Coleman, 411 Oak St., Apt. 88., was arrested for battery. Bond was set at $300. At 11:45 p.m., David E. Weide 1328 Overlook Drive, was arrested for battery and property damage. He was released on $300 bond.

> Sunset Ave., reported a Pioneer AM/FM compact disc player and a pair of Alpine speakers stolen from his '86 Mustang. The loss was $630;

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

 Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due in deans' offices by Feb. 16. Career and Employ Services will sponsor a Summer Job Search Orientation at 4 p.m.

today in Union 207. The world is getting smaller Make yours larger. Volunteer to help an international student practice his or her spoken English in the they must be turned in by 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Office of Stud Activities and Social Services.

Adult Student Services will sponsor a brown bag lunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. today in Union Stateroom 1.

m Fall 1996 budget request forme are now available for campus-wide organizations. To be considered to

BULLETINS

Contact Jim Endrizzi at the Blue Key Senior Leadership Honorary is currently accepting applications for the 1996-97 scho year. Applications are available in the Dean of Student Life and the tonight in Union 213.

■ Chimes Junior Honorary applications are available in the Office of Student Activities and Social Services, or call 539-2365 ext. 131. Applications are due by 4 p.m. Feb.

The Apparel Design Collective will meet at 5:30 p.m. today in Justin 252. There will be a present tion by Karita Nurmela on the Program.

Student Alumni Board applic tions are available in the Alumni Office at 2323 Anderson Ave., Su 400. The deadline is 4 p.m. Feb. 2.

The Wheat State Agronomy

Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in Throckmorton 2002. Mortar Board Sen Society will meet at 6 tonight in the Union Big 8 Room. It will be an informational meeting to answer questions about Mortar Board. M. Alpha Epsilon Delta Pre-Her Membership applications will be available.

Union 213.

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

STATE OUTLOOK

Occasional flurries with highs around 5 above and lows near 5

below. Northeast wind from 5 to 15

MANHATTAN WEATHER

We take news tips!

532-6556

Wednesday

Russel

Occasional flurries with a high around 5 above and a low near 5 below. Northeast wind from 5 to 15 mph.

41/4

Denver

Today

Yesterday's highs and lows

A 50-percent chance for light snow. High around 5 above. Omaha

MANHATTAN Kansas 22/5 St. Louis 17/7 43/20

Coffeyvil 51/29 23/10 . 4111 Tulsa 47/20

Christ publicity commitunsure if Sawyer would not more than 30 percent tee member. be able to make the trip of the estimated 6 million Sawyer acquired HIV to K-State in the future. land mines in Bosnia and through blood transfusions during the early 8-ton Spartan armored mapped 1980s. Scott Ladd Daylight Madness Sale At "Moonlight Madness" Prices! Thursday, February 1st 7:00 a.m.-8:00 p.m. ALL FALL and WINTER MERCHANDISE, INCLUDING: Belts 5 and up Sweaters...... 7 and up Slacks..... 8 and up Skirts..... 7 and up Blouses 12 and up Accessories T and up Save an additional 10% off the sale price from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m.!

THE WORLD FAMOUS COURT BASIE ORCHESTRA

DIRECTED BY GROVER MITCHELL SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1996, 8 P.M.

Big Band sound delivered by 19 jazz pros. If their concert doesn't make you tap your feet, you should be shopping for a gravestone.*

Public/Fac $20 Sr. Cit. $18 Student/Child $10

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available (with service charge) at the K-State Union Bookstore, Manhattan Town Center customer service desk, Bramlage Coliseum and ITR (Fort Riley).

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

*Presented in conjunction with the KSU Jazz Festival.

Additional information is available for all performances on the World Wide Web: http://www.ksu/edu/mccain. All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

STUDENT RECOGNITION

Poet's work is published nationally

Portia Sisco

Triumph.

This is a word that describes Jami Pritts, freshman in pre-journalism and mass communications. Pritts has overcome an abusive home life and turned it into an achievement through her

Pritts is a student poet whose poems are published in a national

"Goodbye" was published in "At of a national contest sponsored by the National Library of Poetry.

"It's about a friend I used to have," Pritts said.

This is the first time Pritts has been published in a national publication.

"I'd never really sent anything in before, and I wanted to see if they thought it was good," she said.

Poetry has been a part of Pritts' life since seventh grade.

"I found writing because it was the Water's Edge," a collection that is part easiest thing for me to do. I release my feelings. When I need to talk, I write," she said.

Pritts had a poem published in the Collegian on March 7, 1995. The poem, titled "You," was directed at her

"It's the only one I've ever written about my dad. It's probably the only one I ever will write. It's more powerful than if I'd written several poems about him," Pritts said.

"I think 'You' affected some people because they could relate. I try to make people deal with things," Pritts said.

Writing has not changed Pritts' relationships with her parents, but she said it helped her learn to cope with an abusive situation.

"It helped me deal with them. It didn't do anything with our relationship," Pritts said.

"My first poem was about my mom because I went through a lot of abuse with her. My mother was very abusive emotionally and sometimes physically," Pritts said.

Some of my poems are about how I feel inside, and some of them are about things that happen," Pritts said. Emily Dickinson is one of Pritts' favorite writers. "People think she talks about love, and really it's death," Pritts said. "I own a lot of poetry, but I don't read a lot. I like to read true stories about people."

Another of Pritts' poems will be appearing in the next anthology published by the National Library of Poetry. Pritts is considering a career in writing. Her writing collection includes two short stories and 113

"I'd like to get them all published in a book," Pritts said.

Most of the poems Pritts writes are about emotions.

"If it's something you write from your heart, you can't criticize it. It's an art," Pritts said. "Don't worry about what other people think. Don't be afraid of your emotions. Some people are too scared to be honest," Pritts said.

"It's a really scary thing to do. Just close your eyes and don't think about

Students interested in poetry are invited to send their poems to the National Library of Poetry. These poems will automatically be entered into the North American Open Poetry Contest. Cash prizes and publication are rewarded.

KSU JAZZ FESTIVAL

K-State Jazz Ensemble to perform on television

Russell Fortmeyer

To kick start a week full of jazz music events culminating this weekend with the KSU Jazz Festival, the K-State Jazz Ensemble will perform on television tonight.

The televised performance will be broadcast on WIBW-TV as part of its 5 p.m. news broadcast segment, "Take Five." The band will perform a sneak peek at two songs which will be performed at the Count Basie Orchestra concert at 8 p.m. Saturday in McCain Auditorium.

Dennis Wilson, assistant professor of music and director of the K-State jazz program, said the three-and-ahalf to five-minute segment would feature parts of at least two songs.

"Tomorrow we'll play just a smidgen of 'Graves Groove.' The students will probably have to stop me because we can't give 'em too much," Wilson said.

"Graves Groove" is a song Wilson composed to honor Gov. Bill Graves' support of music education.

Wilson said performing on television is great exposure for the students in the band.

'That's the ultimate - well over $50,000 of advertising," he said. "You know how much that's costing us? That's my point."

This is not the first time the jazz band has performed on WIBW-TV. Wilson said last year the channel broadcasted a performance from

"It's nice to actually go to the studio. It has better sound, picture, and it's also a better segment of the show,"

"If you put together something interesting for the network - forget it. My job is to come up with something unique and interesting for the Lucas Munce, senior in geography, plays alto saxophone with the band. Munce said this is his first time per-concert because the level of profes-

Munce said it is important to raise awareness about jazz music. Last semester the band performed at area grade schools, along with the K-State

Munce will be playing with the Count Basie Orchestra in Saturday's concert. He played with jazz trumpeter Clark Terry in a concert in students," Wilson said. forming on television with the band.

"I don't really care that much about being on TV," he said. "More importantly, people should go to the sionals there will be outstanding."

concert band, he said.

McCain Auditorium last fall.

The jazz festival officially begins this Friday with workshops for high school jazz band students and culminates with the Count Basie Orchestra

MOTIVATION

helping others convinced assistant professor to run again

Sara Edwards

An opportunity to raise money for the Leukemia Society of America's Kansas chapter motivated Dann Fisher, a veteran of seven marathons, to start running

When Fisher, assistant professor of accounting, received information about America's Team in Training from the Leukemia Society office in Wichita, he decided to get involved in raising money for the society.

"It got me motivated to run a marathon while I could hope to do some good," he said. "I was thinking I wanted to get back in shape to run

Fisher, who had not run in 11 years, started training for the New York marathon, as well as raising money with his partner, Mary Hammel, director of media services for K-State's College of Education and a leukemia patient.

Fisher said runners in the program are paired with area leukemia patients. As it turned out, he and Hammel are from the same home-

Food Supplements

Homeopathies

3112 Anderson Ave.

537-4571

Special Dietary Foods

Body Building Foods

town, Salina, and they only live a couple of blocks apart here in Manhattan.

"We've evolved to be pretty good friends," Fisher said.

Fisher and Hammel raised about $7,300 by November. Fisher had planned to run the New York City marathon. However, prostatitis kept him from running the marathon.

"It was really disappointing. Mary Hammel was going with us. We were all really excited. We did a lot of good along the way," he said.

Fisher and Hammel sent out letters asking for donations to friends, family and co-workers. "We sent out letters to basically everyone we knew," he said. Hammel, who is in remission, said patients usually do not help with the fundraising, but she wanted to help. "I decided to go all out and help him last summer when we were paired up," she said. Fisher said whether the patients helps is up to them. Some are too sick to help, but many patients feel like

Natural Foods

Appliances

Books

Herbs

Mon.-Sat.

9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

Diet Cures

What Diet Causes

Hansen

Nutrition Center

marathons is raising money for the Leukemia Society of America's Kansas Chapter. Fisher said.

they can give something

But it is still a marathon.

Fisher said about 50 per-easy, but the last few aren't cent of the people they sent letters to responded. Fisher and Hammel also received a lot of response from their will come through with,"

'It's amazing what people nearly as fun," he said.

colleagues.

Fisher said all the money "She had the disease. All he raises goes to leukemia I had to do was run," he said. patients and is used for patient aid money and "The first few miles are

Dan Fisher, assistant professor in accounting, said he hopes to run in the San Francisco marathon this summer. In the meantime, the veteran of several research in Kansas. Patient aid helped Hammel to pay for transportation to get treatment. she said.

Fisher said he is happy the publicity he has received has prompted people to call the Leukemia Society office in Wichita for assistance.

"The race gets people interested in supporting the cause." Fisher said

Fisher said he has been off and on antibiotics since early November. He was finally able to start running last week

He said the Team in Training program provides runners with trainers to help them prepare for the race. Runners usually run about 50 miles a week during the weeks approaching the event. Fisher is still building up, running 30 miles a week.

of S.M. HANSON MUSIC is showing a Limited Edition Washburn LTD 95 Acoustic Guitar.

Steve stated that "HANSON MUSIC has secured a very limited number of this very special guitar at an EXTRAORDINARY PRICE!"

Limited Edition LTD 95 Solid Spruce Top

Absolutely the Lowest Prices on Quality Guitars

Great Beginner's Guitars Lifetime Warranty

Easy play neck

Absolutely the Lowest Prices on Quality Electric Guitars

List $789

SPECIAL VALUE

 Yahama Lifetime Warranty . . .

quality assurance. · Solid wood body . . .

We have affordable Rental Equipment P.A. Systems • DJ Systems • Light Trees scialty Lighting • Fog Machine

M.T. W. & F 10-6 p.m. Thurs. 10-8 p.m. Sat. 10-5 p.m. • Sun. Closed Call Today! 776-3000

316 Poyntz * Manhartan

with FREE

Carrying Casel

Each tablet contains 200 mg of caffeine, equal to about two cups of coffee. Use only as directed

© 1995 SB Smooth King Seconds

1128 MORO 776-BAJA

MON.-FRI. 11-7

SAT. 10-6, SUN. NOON-5

STOP STEPING WITHYOUR PIOFESSORS.

Is it the sound of that whispery voice, or those big, intellectual words? If your professors are putting you to sleep, Revive with Vivarin. Don't let fatigue get the best of you. Vivarin's the safe way to stay mentally alert, with the same caffeine as about two cups of coffee.

So stay sharp in class. Don't sleep your way to the bottom.

Revive with

COLLEGIANopinion

Take advantage of a newly remodeled Rec

QUICKread

Now that the Chester

E. Peters Recreation Complex renovation is complete, stop by and take advantage of new equipment and $22.25 per semester.

That is how much full-time K-State students pay to support the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex. Most of that money goes toward payment on the recent renovation of the Rec Complex, and students are taking advantage of expanded facilities and new equipment in record numbers.

On the first day of classes, students set a new single-day attendance record for the Rec Complex. New Year's resolutions and the need for the perfect bod for fast-approaching spring break beach trips are some reasons cited for the

But maybe the reason is the Rec Complex is now a great place to workout, and students are taking advantage of

Some students on campus remember the Rec Complex as it used to be. Some weight equipment. A few bikes, Stairmasters and rowing machines. A long wait for anything, if you went any time after 2 p.m.

The Rec Complex is a cornucopia of equipment. There is practically any type of weight equipment you need, row after row of aerobic equipment such as Stairmasters, rowing machines, NordicTracks and bicycles. Two new gyms have been built. The racquetball courts have been remodeled. Air conditioning vents were added near the aerobic machines. There is a new weight room and aerobics room. There are twice as many table tennis tables as before.

The Rec Complex is one of the finest of its kind in the state.

So, those of you who haven't, make a resolution to get fit - for your health or just to look good in a swimsuit.

And take advantage of that $22.25.

DIDI FIX IT?

TOLES

Republican revolution an environmenta threat agree with my colleague Lach Franquemont's assertion in last Friday's Collegian that environmental goals often clash with economic realities. And when environmental legislation does begin to put a burden on the economy, small businesses and family farms are the first to be run out of the market.

is in Congress facts to justify their dismantling of federal environmental regulations. A favorite theme is how the small operator should be able to run a business or plot of land as they see fit, without some Washington bureaucrat telling them what to do.

What this sort of populist rhetoric ignores, however, is the group which benefits the most from the changes is the large corporations - many of whom make money off public lands. And when laws that are generally agreed to be beneficial, such as the Clean Water Act, also come under under Republican sights, it becomes more apparent that the little guy is not the Republicans' biggest concern.

The future doesn't seem to be too high on their list either. Take a look at the logging of the old growth forests on public lands in Alaska. Thanks to the Republican revolution, it appears environmentalists will be unsuccessful in stopping the practice. After all, the timber industry creates jobs, which is good enough for the Republicans (and a lot of Democrats,

Still, from the standpoint of what is good for the nation, both now and in the future, what is going on in Alaska is pure foolishness. The trees, grown tall and fat with age, are extremely valuable, as one gets a lot more lumber than from a younger tree. Yet we ship them overseas as raw lumber for a few dollars per tree.

This is the present market price for raw lumber, but when the wood is turned into various products, it becomes worth thousands of dollars.

The process also creates jobs. If we were to process our own wood we could maintain the same number of jobs, cut less wood and receive considerably more money per tree in the process. Indeed, many environmentalists protesting what is going on in Alaska are not protesting the logging of a pristine national forest per se, but the fact that the nation seems to be receiving so little in return.

In addition, as world timber stocks decline, old growth trees like those being logged on public lands today will become more and more valuable. If we are going to sacrifice a certain percentage of these lands to a saw blade, it would pay to resist the chance for an immediate profit and wait for the much greater returns in the future — a sort of strategic

Many people are suffering from the consequences that come from trying to balance the federal budget. Republicans have pointed out again and again that these hardships are for ment? The human race will always find it necessary to destroy and remake nature for our own purposes. If done with intelligence and forethought, the damage to nature and ourselves can be minimal. Sometimes it will be necessary to pass laws to achieve a balance between the needs of today and those of the future. I hope that the Republicans, as well as the Democrats and everyone else responsible for environmental legislation will remember that although these laws should not create obstacles in the economy without very good reason, they should not encourage damaging the environment.

Robert Gorton is a senior in modern languages-German and history.

It's never too early to start thinking about voting

It's leap year again, and most people aren't consciously aware of how strangely that will influence their voting behavior.

Evidently, citizens take Feb. 29 to do everything there is no time for in a regular 365-day year. They clean out their closets, get started on those novels they've been meaning to write and meditate. Hence, when November rolls around, their minds are clear, and they have a few spare minutes to go and vote.

Compare 1992 and 1994 voter turnout in the Riley County precinct (including the K-State campus). In leap year 1992, 79 percent of registered voters actually voted. In 1994, only 19 percent did so.

Schields Of course, I'm not ruling out the possibility that the coincidence of leap year with presidential elections may also draw voters to the booth. In all seriousness, though, there are hundreds of reasons why people don't vote in any given year. Most of these just don't happen to be very good. Anyone who has reached the age of 18 and has not been discriminated against or otherwise incapacitated has no excuse for not voting. Disgust with politics is not a sufficient excuse, nor is belonging to Generation X. Assuming the candidate you support will win or lose with or without you doesn't cut it either. Neither does boredom. Unfortunately, this year's presidential election promises to be disgustingly boring, particularly in Kansas, where we are home to someone who will probably become his party's presidential nominee. Supposing Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., does secure the Republican nomination, which isn't entirely implausible, Kansas can expect to be ignored like never before, because it's no big mystery who would walk away with Kansas' four electoral votes.

Myview

You know it. He knows it. The Democratic nominee would know it, so why would he or she waste time where there was no hope? For that matter, why would Dole waste time where there was no question?

As a Kansan, you might respond to this realization in one of two ways. The first temptation is to follow the candidates' example and not waste your time. Voting should never be thought of this way. It's still the simplest way to say, "Hey, here's what I think."

A better response would be to get spitting mad at being taken for granted. If the race for the presidency simply can't strengthen the leap-year tide that pulls so many in, perhaps the time has come to let that office ride on the coattails of state and local elections for a change. The last time I checked, Kansas had a U.S. Senator, four U.S. Representatives, as well as 165 state Congressional Representatives, and a slew of county and city officials to vote upon.

What these lower-level candidates lack in national prestige and exposure, they make up for in attention to voters and direct influence over the lives of their constituents. As long as you're voting for these offices, heck, you may as well vote for president, too, and hope for the best. That's democracy. In the end, whether you voted out of indignance, out of concern, or because it was leap year, the important thing is that you exercised your democratic voice.

Keely Schields is a junior in English/creative

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, KS. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is collegn@spub.ksu.edu. Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand delivered letters.

USER FEES

I can sympathize with our network's concern over the expense of providing free modem access to off-campus users. User fees have traditionally been an acceptable method to recoup rising costs for service for a number of reasons.

Often, a natural response to fees will be a lessening of demand for the service in question, as you weed out those who don't value the service as much as those who choose to pay. My concern is more with the apparent inconsistency with University policy, rather than with the proposal of a fee itself. I have been a part-time student at this University for a number of years now. During this time I have been required to pay for a number of services I have never and will never use. However, for these services it seems the fees are justified through a communal good philosophy, in that as a group we pool our resources to benefit the whole.

I guess the question I would like to pose to those considering an additional fee in this particular instance is - how does this situation differ from any other user-benefited service offered by the University?

Junior in recreation and parks administration

MANHATTAN MUSIC SCENE

For three years I have sat back quietly and listened to people criticize Manhattan's music scene, but no more. I am sick and tired of people degrading Manhattan's scene.

No, William Thomas Burdette, we're not Lawrence, but we do have a very large amount of talent here in the Little

For years, bands like Sufferbus, Truck Stop Love, Scully, Ultimate Fake Book, El Fontaine (formerly Ten Thumb) and The Invisibles have provided good, quality music and solid songwriting to this town. We also have several up-and-coming acts like Ever Since My Accident and Chick Scaletti that provide us with promise for

You complain about the lack of a scene, yet you offer no answers to the Well, I have one. It's this: Get off your butt and go to a show or two. Aggieville is plastered with posters announcing upcoming shows. Tune to KSDB-FM 91.9 for announcements. Check the Collegian. Although it rarely has shows listed, it does come through once in awhile.

I guarantee, this "one-horse town' won't disappoint.

Cara Hollandsworth Junior in secondary education ■ Feb. 1 — McCain Performance Series: "Crazy for You," 7:30 p.m., McCain

Auditorium, $15-30.

■ Feb. 2 — Council for Public School Improvement, K-State Student Union. For more information or to register, call 532-5569.

■ Feb. 2 — Black History Month: Kick-off luncheon, noon, K-State Student Union Cottonwood Room, with Wayne Franklin, secretary of the Kansas Department of Human Resources, as guest speaker.

■ Feb. 3 — Black History Month and McCain Performance Series: The Count Basie Orchestra, 8 p.m., McCain Auditorium, $10-20.

K-STATE

Features editor: N. Stewart Anderson 532-6556 — imbatman@ksu.edu

◄ (left) Kristin Ruthstrom, junior in agricultural education and K-State Dairy Bar employee (left), returns change to Beth Ann Crozier-Dodson, senior in food science, who stopped by the Dairy Bar Monday afternoon for an ice cream snack.

(lower left) With a cup of hot coffee, Miyoung Kim, graduate student in secondary education (left), tries to stay warm as she talks with Donghyun Kang, graduate student in animal science, Monday afternoon outside the Dairy Bar.

▼ (below) Sri Adapa, dairy plant manager and doctoral candidate in food science, takes a reading from a processing meter. The meter provides information that is vital to the proper functioning of the processing equip-

Photos by KAIL KATZENMEIER

CAMPUS OKING

Students make, bake and sell their own products

J. Scot Bucholz

-State has a grocery store on campus. Unfortunately it is not all under the same roof.

K-State provides the same services through departments in the College of Agriculture.

Students in the departments of Animal Science and Industry and Grain Science and Industry sell what they produce.

"We do this to sell what the students make," Renee Westgate, K-State's Dairy Bar manager, said.

Sri Adapa, dairy plant manager, said the departments do this to provide hands-on experience for their students and for research. Call Hall houses both the dairy bar and dairy plant. 'We sell cheese, ice cream, a variety of flavors and milk products," Adapa said. Call Hall also houses a snack bar, Westgate said.

In Weber Hall, there is more than classrooms and meat-judging rooms. There is also a meat lab.

"We sell beef, pork, lamb steaks, ham, bologna, bacon and summer sausage," John Wolf, meat lab manager, said.

Their clientele consists of a lot of people from around the community and students, Wolf said. "Yeah, I buy everything from here," Mike

Marshall, senior in animal science, said.

Marshall said he does not think too many students know about the meat lab because of a lack of getting the word out. "Their prices are also comparable to Dillons or Food-4-Less," Marshall said. When it comes to the quality of the cuts of meat, Wolf says the meat lab has better quality than the stores.

"Our stuff is fresh," he said. Shellenberger Hall houses the bakery science and grain science lab.

"The grain science club sells all different stuff," said Terri Mangiaracino, secretary for the Department of Grain Science and Industry. "It all depends on what they milled for the week."

Mangiaracino said they sell wheat, unbleached and stone-ground whole wheat flours, wheat bran and germ and pancake mix.

"Bakery science sells a variety of baked goods," said Kathy Struve, grain and bakery science office specialist.

Some of the baked goods they sell are breads, cookies, Danishes, coffee cakes, chocolate chip, monster and oatmeal-raisin cookies, muffins, croissants, French and Vienna Breads.

"Their specialty breads change every other week," she said. "Their specialty breads are like raisin bread, beer rye bread and cinnamon bread." The profits made from all these department sales either go back into the departments or to the clubs.

"And the clubs are for educational purposes," Struve said.

The Dairy Bar is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. The meat lab's hours are Friday only from 2 to 6 p.m., while the grain lab is only open on Wednesday from noon to 4 p.m. The bakery lab's hours are also Wednesday only from 3 to 5 p.m.

The Fortmeyer Files

This week: leff Peterson

K-State University student body president

Russell: Since this is your last semester as president, on what issues are you going to concentrate?

Jeff: What I feel is most important is for us to get this new linear-fee system in place so we can review the other fees. Of the fees, we've just learned the athletic fee is going to be the most controversial and the largest requested increase

The bill introduced (in the legislature) for qualified admissions will certainly be dealt with while we are in office. Russell: Qualified admissions was part of Access the Future. Are you still pushing Access or are you just working on segments of the plan?

Jeff: Last year we were able to do more of a broad-message approach. There was no bill introduced. We're going to have to be a lot more specific and a lot more timely when we can act on that bill. We had thought that issue had really acceptable in public policy in Kansas was saying, "What does it mean to be prepared for college? Is there something we need to fix?" It would make your high school diploma uniform across the state through proficiency levels and then deciding if that means you are ready for college. That's much more acceptable to me and I think to a lot of people Russell: So, you see qualified admis-changed to talk about proficiency levels.

Something that seemed to be more

art by Adrian Fleming

of leaving that the same and make the restrictions tougher to earn that diploma. Russell: There might be some people who would say, "What about the student who has no plans on attending a fouryear university? Why are you making it harder for them to graduate when they don't need that college track?" Jeff: That's what you hear. The basic skills it takes to be successful in college are probably going to be some of the basic skills you're going to need to be successful in most jobs or at any school. Russell: It sounds like you're saying every student in Kansas who graduates must be college-ready. What sort of standard do you set: high or low? Jeff: I wouldn't know what the level would need to be, but there are people who know what type of skills you would need. We need to develop a proficiency level in these basic areas.

Russell: Most student government people ran on the terms of "no new

by Russell Fortmeyer

fees." With this new athletic proposal (a proposed fee hike to pay for Title IX women's sports funding) and linear fees, what is the forecast for fees: up or down?

Jeff: I think Senate has set the tone as being fiscally conservative. They're going to look at these budgets and really justify the fees. I think if a group could justify raising their fee and we felt it was our responsibility - I think it could happen. It would be difficult.

Russell: How responsible are students for funding these services? Are we totally responsible for the athletic department's negligence?

Jeff: I would look at how much we fund them. With Lafene, our fees are about 80 percent of their budget, and they serve only students. We're pretty responsible with Lafene. Other fees where the student fee portion is a relatively small part of their budget, I'd say we're much less.

We're between 5 percent and 8 percent of the athletic department's budget. Russell: So, we're probably about 6 percent responsible?

Jeff: I'd hate to go on record now. Russell: Have you found your unprecedented second term as president more fruitful than your first?

Jeff: I think it's been successful. Brad (Finkeldei) and I learned so much the first year; we really knew what to spend our time on this year. We've been able to get more input in earlier in the process. Administrators are here for 10 years while students' time is relatively short. Students want to get involved, but their time is so short.

Russell: How do you stay politically neutral in student government? Jeff: You think I do that? (laughs) The executive branch is made that way. You don't have to get involved, you don't have to compromise, you don't have to take sides and make deals. Student government is a great experience because you can be in governance without being in politics. Russell: What do you think of campaigns getting started in November and the actual season starting in January? Jeff: I think that has the potential to make things more political and messier. I didn't find Brad until two days before filing time. It does seem to start a little earlier every year.

Russell: Would you want to run in this election where the Collegian will be endorsing candidates?

Jeff: I don't think I would have been endorsed by the Collegian ever. I could be wrong

Russell: If you could change something about the executive branch, what would it be?

Jeff: I would like to balance state issues and on-campus issues. We really have a need to be on campus and work with students, but we also need to be in Topeka. That takes me away from campus, and that's been a disadvantage to students.

Russell: Where did you ever dig up Brad Finkeldei? Jeff: He sent me a letter. I'd asked some people about running, and they weren't interested. It was getting close to the filing time, and a friend of mine brought a letter to me. I read this letter and thought it was the cheesiest, goofiest letter I had ever read. I couldn't even pronounce the guy's last name. It's just one of those things that worked out great. We went from strangers to the best of friends.

Russell: Weren't you working once to compete in the Paralympics?

Jeff: I was scheduled to go to Atlanta to compete in the Paralympic Games, which are incredible. I'd love to just go watch. But, because of last fall's setback with health problems, I couldn't make the tryouts. I could still compete, but not go to Atlanta.

My plan is to hopefully regain that strength and to hopefully compete in the 2000 games - which would be a good year to go. I would be thrilled to have that opportunity someday.

Russell: Do you have any comment on facilities' much-talked-about squirrelremoval conspiracy?

Jeff: I don't know if it's true, but when I was in the hospital, my roommate told me there was a National Squirrel Watching Day on campus.

· did you know?

The Dallas Cowboys are the only pro football team to have every coach win a supe bowl.

Cats will be back in tournament

here have been a lot of feelings and emotions stirring inside of me over the past week. My doctor told me that it is best to get these tied-up emotions out of my system. So, here I go.

How about the play of the Wildcats on the hardwood lately? This really shouldn't be a surprise to people around here.

At Pepperdine, Coach Asbury put together one of the top teams on the West Coast, leading the Waves to a 125-59 mark over six seasons. This included three trips to the NCAA

And now in his second season as the Wildcats coach, he is leading a team that will again make it to the big show.

Yes, the Cats will make it back to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1993. At 13-5, the Cats will need something like six wins and a strong showing in the Big 8 With seven games left, the Cats should pick up wins against Nebraska, Colorado, Oklahoma State, Missouri, Iowa State, and at home against With continued strong play from seniors

Tyrone Davis and Elliot Hatcher, the Cats have a very good chance of finishing the season at 19-6 and in the midst of March Madness.

So what if Magic Johnson is returning this will be one of the most over-rated, overhyped player returns ever. The celebrities will still watch the Lakers miss the playoffs with or without Johnson. Johnson left the game on a good note with his MVP performance in his last All-Star game.

He's making a mistake in returning. WANTED: Any NBA team who can beat the Chicago Bulls.

Opponents need to start bringing distractions to the game against the Bulls. Examples of such distractions would be: Bozo the Clown (Dennis Rodman's barber) and a major-league scout for

Myview

McCormick

Michael Jordan. One for the thumb. The Cowboys and Charles Haley picked up their fifth Super Bowl ring. Sunday's performance just proves how pathetic the AFC Conference is. Even with one of their worst performances of the season, the Cowboys beat the AFC Champs again by a double-digit margin.

Speaking of the Super Bowl, I witnessed one of the worst commentary performances ever by Joe Montana.

But this is not something new. Montana has been this bad all year. Montana has been having technical difficulty all season with his com-

In women's tennis, Jennifer Capriati is expected to make her return back to the courts. Capriati has been working out in Florida with her father to get in shape for an upcoming tour-

Following her 1994 arrest, Capriati spent her spare time attending drug rehabilitation and eating Ho-Ho's.

With the continued strong play from seniors Tyrone Davis and Elliot Hatcher, the Cats have a very good chance of finishing the season at 19-6 and in the midst of March Madness.

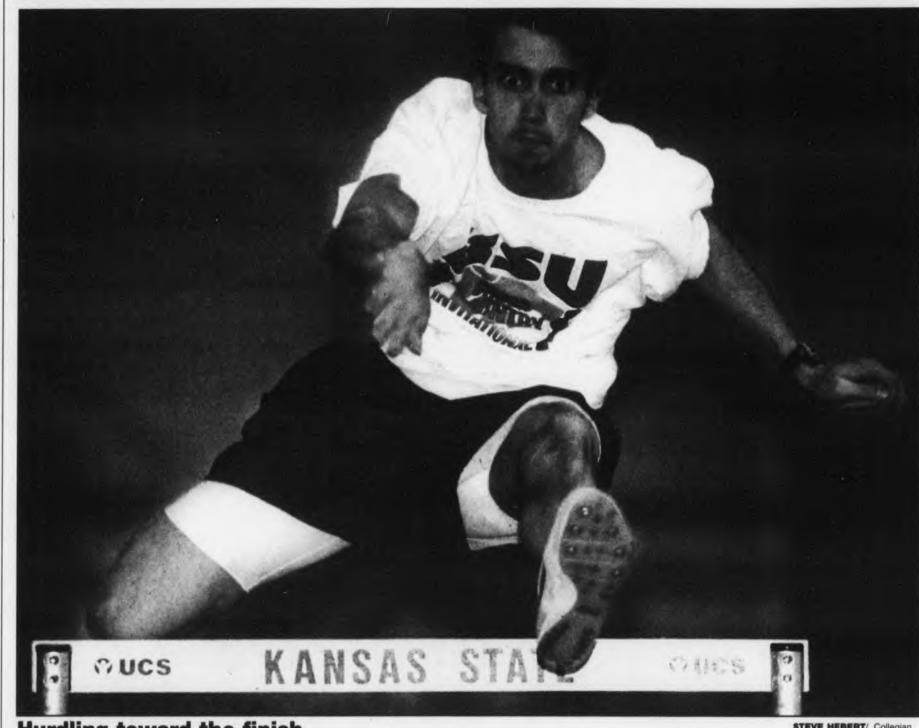

Former Kansas City Chiefs quarterback Steve DeBerg was arraigned on a charge of drunken driving after going the wrong way on a one-way street.

DeBerg has been a heavy drinker over the years. I guess that is what being a Chiefs quarterback will do to you.

If you haven't noticed, the New York Jets are on the clock with the first pick of the 1996

Come draft day, this is what you will hear: "With the first pick in the 1996 NFL Draft, the New York Jets select quarterback Mark Williams from the University of Kansas. The Jets will continue their pathetic drafting."

Shane McCormick is a senior in radio/television. Shane can be reached at the e-mail address (shanem@ksu.ksu.edu).

Hurdling toward the finish

Zack Trumpp, sophomore in finance, practices the hurdles Monday afternoon in Ahearn Field House. Saturday K-State hosted the seventh-annual KSU/Kansas/ Missouri Triangular in Ahearn. This was the sixth time K-State won the event in its seven-year history.

K-State track team continues streak of KSU/Kansas/Missouri Triangular wins

The K-State men's and women's track squads claimed impressive victories to win the seventh annual KSU/Kansas/Missouri Triangular Saturday in Ahearn Field House.

With the victory, the traditional jug will remain in Manhattan for another year. This marks the sixth time K-State has won the event in its seven-year his-

The final scores for the men's teams were K-State 133.5, Missouri 124.5 and Kansas 113. For the women's teams, K-State accumulated 138 points, Kansas had 112, and Missouri pulled in 89 points. The highest combination of the two scores

Two individual K-State performers qualified for the NCAA Indoor Championships, and one set a meet record while two performances tied existing triangular records.

Itai Margalit became eligible for the championships with his 7-3 mark in the high jump. Not only did this mark qualify him for the championships, but it also tied his own meet record that he shares with Percell Gaskins.

Another NCAA qualifier was Vanitta Kinard, who won the women's triple jump and set a new meet record with a jump of 40-11.

Susan Seymour won the women's 55-meter dash and tied a meet record with her time of 6.99 seconds and placed third in the 200-meter dash with a time of 25.46 seconds.

K-State Sports Information Reports

News Digest -

Northwestern drops Wildcats in 1st match

In a battle of Wildcats. Northwestern handed K-State a 5- season with the loss and will look 2 loss in its opening performance to even its record this Saturday of the spring dual season.

Northwestern swept all three doubles matches, including a victory over the 35th-ranked team of Yana Dorodnova and Karen Nicholson in No. 1 doubles. K-State picked up its only two-game victories in singles competition, with Yana Dorodnova and Karen Nicholson posting vic-

K-State drops to -1 on the against the Creighton Blue Javs

That match is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. at the Cottonwood Racket Club.

> K-State Sports Information reports

> > Myview

SHANA

BIG 8 BASKETBALL

Wildcats, Cyclones surprises of Big 8

Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - While Kansas keeps validating the Big 8's preseason prognosticators, K-State and Iowa State keep making them look like fools.

As predicted, the third-ranked Jayhawks (16-1 overall, 4-0 Big 8) sit all alone atop the Big 8 standings. With every starter but one back from last year, Kansas was a nearunanimous pick in the preseason poll to win the final Big 8 conference championship.

However, those same experts, who picked K-State seventh and Iowa State eighth, are wishing they hadn't. Going into this week's action, the Cyclones are 15-4 and 4-1, in second place in the league, one length ahead of K-

Since 1980-81, only twice have teams picked last or next-to-last in the preseason poll wound up in the upper

Iowa State's success seems most surprising because the Cyclones, under second-year coach Tim Floyd, are adjusting to the graduation of three of their finest players ever in Loren Meyer, Julius Michalik and Fred Hoiberg

K-State, prior to Saturday's 86-80 loss at Missouri, had won five straight away from home.

"You gain poise with experience," said K-State assistant coach David Campbell. "We've got some guys who were here last year, Tyrone Davis and Mark Young and Elliot Hatcher. Then we upgraded talent with new faces."

At the bottom of the standings is Colorado, which is now short-handed in the coaching ranks. Scott Sanderson, who was Joe Harrington's closest assistant, has been reassigned in the athletic department. He won't be replaced this year, leaving interim coach Ricardo Patton without a full

"I just felt at this time it would be a good opportunity for him to pursue other options," Patton said. "I told him if I got the job on a permanent basis, I would make a staff change at that time.

Now I'm sports editor; next time I won't answer the phone

It all happened Sunday night. I was sitting around my living room with a group of my friends, drinking that wonderful beverage that can't be bought on Sundays, and watching the Super Bowl. No commentary there.

We're all talking and laughing, and the phone rings. It's Mike Marlett, the Collegian's editor-in-chief.

"Hey, Shana. How're you?" he asks. "Oh, not bad, Mike, the Cowboys are winning, I can't

First of all, let me say this - Mike never calls me. Something must be up. Maybe the Collegian blew up, and I don't have to write any stories this week. Anxious to find out if I get to take a vacation like so many federal government employees, I take the big step.

"What's up, Mike?" "Well, a UFO landed in Manhattan last night," he said slowly.

Great. I'm not going to get a vacation. He's trying to bribe me into doing the story on a stupid UFO landing in 'ole Manhappenin.' What is this world coming to? I'm a sports writer, not an alien writer.

But that's when my wonderful editor dropped the bomb. "Todd's missing, and we're pretty sure they've got him," Mike said.

They? Who's they? His fraternity brothers, President Wefald's office, or the football team? I know, Matt Miller was finally fed up with Todd's hair competition.

"The UFO took him," Mike said. "One minute he was standing there waiting for his ride to the Missouri basketball game, and the next minute he was being beamed into this big machine in the sky. Eyewitnesses said it looked like they were shaving his head.'

Perfect. Todd's gone. Who's going to be the new sports editor? They're probably going to get rid of the entire page anyway. Football season is over, and no one is going to the basketball games. Who really cares anyway, right?

Wrong. It was worse - much worse than that. "I need a sports editor, and I thought maybe. . . ."

No, don't go there Mike, please, don't go there. I'm on academic probation. My professors hate me already, and it's only week two. I'm going to flunk out of school. ... "I thought maybe you would be interested in taking the job."

I had only felt like this once before, in the Colorado game — intense emotions that were swing-

Newell ing wildly from one end of the spectrum to the other. I thought I was going to get a temporary vacation, then I thought I was going to get a permanent vacation, and then it hit me. I was going to get no vacation at all. None, "Mike, what are you saying to me?" But I knew full well what he was saying. I was going to be dedicating the next four months of my life to the Collegian. I would eat there, read there, shower there, sleep there, and try to study there. That's how it happened. K-Staters everywhere will now see my name at the top of the sports page instead of Todd Stewart's. Todd was abducted by aliens, and I was abducted by the Collegian.

So, if you have any questions or comments, feel free to let us know. We want to make this sports page out of this world, but we can't do it without our readers.

Send your letters to the Collegian or plug your thoughts into cyberspace. My e-mail is twobag@ksu.ksu.edu. I'd be glad to hear from you.

Oh, and if anyone has seen Todd, make sure he's OK. I've heard those aliens can be cruel to hair.

Shana Newell is a senior in secondary education.

8 p.m. Monday in Union Forum Hall

Stravinsky

3 Foolproof lighting?

it's good territory

9 Facts

17 Singer

k.d. 19 Stocking

stuffer

22 Conk out humor

11 He played

Andersen

10 Trite

Sympathy"

6 So bad

7 "- and

4 Obvious

5 Bad

by Eugene Sheffer

24 Cambridge

weather

wench

28 Praiseful

piece 29 AAA job

31 Early

bird?

34 Person

of color?

35 Oxidation

36 Box-office

37 Its shell is conist's offering together neighbor

41 Reserve

43 Despondent

44 Big rig

45 Not an

42 Radius'

39 Tobac-

40 Puts poisonous

sch.

26 "Ta-ta!"

27 Yon

25 Under collection

Diversions

Arts & entertainment editors Claudette Riley 532-6556 — criley@ksu.edu

ACROSS 40 Touches 1 Slender 43 Flourish trace 47 Lofting's doctor

5 Earn an 49 Long Obie, maybe lunch? 50 Spanish 8 Gumshoe 12 Oaxaca nobles 51 Sister water

13 "Norma --" 52 Send out 14 Celebes 53 Threehanded 15 Stronghold card 16 The very game young 54 Turner or Koppel

55 False

DOWN

1 Float

hoods?

18 Cradle locale? 20 Unescorted 21 — grata 22 Gene carrier 23 Friendship

26 Influential 31 Pinkerton Agency logo 32 Tokyo's old name 33 Free 36 Bit of hardware 38 Bad hairpiece 39 Bit of lingerie

2 Composer 23 Literary Solution time: 24 mins.

imit. 46 Witticisms 48 Stick with 1-30 a kick

PED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873!99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

PQAGIAR BQGAL NDGAF

BEAARL TQEDWR TQDWR.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: ARE THE TOP PUPILS AT YOUR TEXTILE SCHOOL EXTREMELY MATERIALIS-TIC?

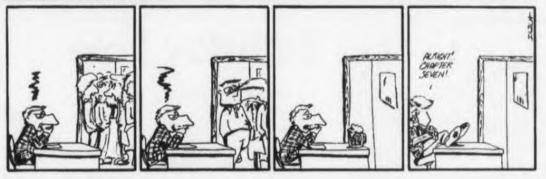

Today's Cryptoquip clue: D equals R

FOXTROT

THE CENTERPIECE I'VE NOTICED THAT WHEN OF COURSE, IF WE DOUBLE YOU KNOW, MY PEOPLES' WORKLOADS, WE'D PROBABLY HAVE TO YOU AND YOUR STAFF WORK ON THE COMPUTER, YOUR LEGS LAST CLIENT'S I OO YHW OF MY EFFICIENCY REVIEW KEEP THINKING EYE HAD THAT EXACT GIVE THEM 10 PERCENT ARE UNOCCUPIED. IF WE COULD TRAIN YOUR PEOPLE RAISES ... SAME TWITCH TO TYPE WITH THEIR FEET ON A SECOND KEYBOARD, WI COULD LAY OFF HALF YOUR STAFF WITH

DOOG AND BLAIR

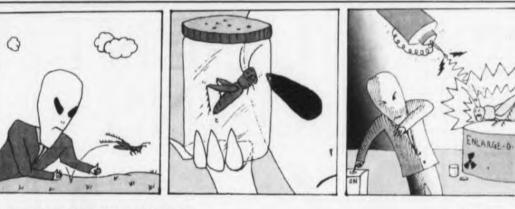

by Mark Hich

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

by Bill Amend

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

LOOKS LIKE YOU

by Kristian Kelley

WAS INCREDIBLE ...

YOU BET! THE WEGHT

GAINING SEMINAR

3 INCHES IN THE WAISTBAND, IT TAKES SKILL TO PUT ON THE POUNDS LIKE THAT !!

I STRETCHED OUT

Darin Siefkes contributing writer

Welcome to another semester of the best and the rest of the Internet. These pages are always previewed by using Netscape (http://home.netscape.com).

(http://www.xvt.com/users/kevink/silo/silo.html)

One favorite pastime is exploring old abandoned missile silos. For those adventurous souls who never found the time, the "Missile Base VR Tour" allows surfers to explore abandoned missile sites in the safety of their own homes.

This site is well laid-out, designed similarly to a MUD, or Multi-User Dungeon.

Basically, this page is designed to allow users to feel like they are actually in the cavern and able to choose where to visit.

This tour was written with the Netscape 2.0+ modifications allowing for multiple windows being shown most of the time.

I highly recommend this site.

(http://www.pal.xgw.fi/hew/)

For a complete collection of nuclear bomb information, the High Energy Weapons Archive gets the job

This site caters to everyone, even if you haven't won a Nobel Prize in physics. I personally enjoy its photo archive. It has photos of nearly every nuclear explosion

The links section can help find the answer to nearly any question on nukes that one can ask.

One word of warning, this is a Finnish site, so watch the time change.

(http://www.usarec.army.mil/)

What listing of bombs would be complete without mentioning the U.S. Army recruiters?

If you didn't get tired of them calling you back in high school, here is the high-tech way of getting back in touch with your old friends.

The page itself looks nice. The constant selling on this page will annoy most surfers, so try not looking without the buzz cut in place.

(http://meena.cc.uregina.ca/~smithn/ap/movies.

This page is dedicated to the fifteen most-deadly weapons in the world, the Worst Movies of All Time. These movies are so bad "Ishtar" didn't make the list.

It currently lists "Redneck Zombies" as the worse movie of all time. (With acting that makes a Marilyn Chambers movie look like an Oscar hopeful, I understand why.)

Word of the week: Lurker

A lurker is a person who uses chat rooms and news groups but never actually tries to communicate with other people. They are the silent majority of the net.

Comments and suggestions are welcome. E-mail me at wings@ksu.ksu.edu

Take a Study Break. Read the Collegian.

Buy I whole sandwich Buy I daily special, get 2nd one 1/2 price. Whole Reuben $2.25 Thurs. 1/2 sandwich & side order $1.88. 1219 Bluemont . Aggieville

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

·Free pregnancy testing

 Totally confidential service ·Same day results

*Call for appointment

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Captains'/Managers' Meeting

Wednesday, January 31 at 5 p.m. K-State Union, Little Theatre Basketball Schedules will be distributed at this meeting only.

ALL CAPTAINS/MANAGERS MUST ATTEND!

Rec Services Office 532-6980

< New Bulbs > New Bulbs < New Bulbs > FREE Accelerator w/coupon

Your Buck STOPS Here.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN Advertising • 532-6560

COSTUMES ACCESSORIES MAKEUP

· HATS · SHOES PROPS • MASK · ALL SIZES

ENGLE 'Call Us For A Quote'

3258 Kimball Ave. 537-4661

Manhattan, Ks.

■ Did YOU make a New Year's resolution to GET IN SHAPE?? ■

539-5200

ENROLLMENT SPECIAL WITH THIS AD: 15% OFF FEB. & MARCH SESSIONS IF YOU SIGN UP BY FEB. 15!

Jennifer Macy, KSU Senior in History; 1995 Kansas Gold Medal Winner, Sparring

Tim Derowitsch, KSU Sophomore in Computer Science; 1995 Kansas Gold Medal Winner, Sparring; 1st Degree Black Belt

NO Contracts . . . PHYSICAL Conditioning . . . Training PERSONALIZED for your needs SELF-DEFENSE Skill Development . . . WEIGHT Control . . . Improved CONCENTRATION Plenty of PARKING . . Tournament COMPETITION Opportunities

STRESS Relief . . Improved FLEXIBILITY Manhattan Academy of Taekwondo

UTA Certified Instructor and USTU Certified Referee: Mr. Robert George, 3rd Degree Black Belt (Kukkiwon)

1314 Westloop

Mon.-Fri.; 10:30 a.m.-9 p.m.

539-6887

Army study reveals that women are qualified for heavy jobs

NATICK, Mass. - Jean Haertl was asked to lift a 40-pound box a few months ago. No way, she said. Today, she can lift that weight more than 4 feet high, dozens of times, without batting an eye.

Haertl is proof that with enough strength training, women can load trucks, fix heavy equipment and march under the weight of a loaded backpack as well as many men, according to a study released Monday by Army researchers.

Seventy-eight percent of the women tested could qualify for Army jobs considered very heavy, involving the occasional lifting of 100-pound loads, said Everett Harman, the Army scientist who headed the study.

Before the training study began at the Army's Natick Labs, only 24 percent of the women tested could lift 100

The volunteers - all but one of them civilians - were lawyers, bartenders, mothers and students. Many had never exercised before, and several had recently had children and wanted to get back in shape; others were recreational joggers. Each earned $500 for participating.

Haertl, 30, said she lost 35 pounds over the six months of training.

"When people think of this study, they probably think we're bodybuilding, steroid-taking, weight-lifting women, said Haertl, the executive director of a battered women's shelter in suburban Boston. "We range from being very thin and lean to not so thin and lean. We represent the average shape of women."

For 24 weeks beginning in May, 41 women spent 90 minutes a day, five days a week, performing strength tests designed to simulate specific military tasks. Four trainers, all nationally certified, oversaw their conditioning.

The women lifted 40-pound boxes to heights of 52 inches — the average height of an Army flatbed truck jogged through a 2-mile wooded course wearing a 75-pound backpack, and performed dozens of squats holding a 100pound barbell on their shoulders.

For the tests most relevant to military tasks - backpacking and repetitive lifting of heavy boxes - the women improved 33 percent overall.

I think that if a woman wants to do the best she can, she can do almost

LISA PALMER

STUDY PARTICIPANT

anything.

Harman measured the women's success against previous Army studies of men on active duty. In earlier tests, an average Army man could lift a box of 128.5 pounds to a height of 52 inches. Before the study, the women volunteers could lift 70 percent of that. After, they averaged 91 percent of what the men lifted.

On average, Harman said, women tend to have about 70 percent of the lower body strength of men, and 55 percent to 60 percent of men's upper body strength. Critics contended last year that the study, which was under the auspices of the Army Research Institute of Environmental Medicine, was a prelude to plans to allow women to engage in hand-to-hand combat. Because of that, the $140,000 study was placed on hold for about five weeks until the controversy subsided. Women are now excluded from ground combat in the Army and often are rejected for other jobs because they can't perform the lifting tasks, Harman said.

He said he believes it's worth the investment to strengthen military women.

"Some people say, 'Why should you spend money training women when you can get men off the street?"' he said.

Harman argues that Army women tend to have more education than Army men, and that it's less expensive and time-consuming to increase a woman's strength than it is to teach an illiterate

Lori Gilstrap, a strength and conditioning coordinator with the U.S. Olympic Committee in San Diego, said she wasn't surprised the women im-

But, she said, women can't be expected to match men's strength because they have much lower levels of testosterone. "For women to lift the exact amount that a male could lift, say in a bench press, is going to be very, very difficult," she said.

Lisa Palmer, 28, could barely run a mile when she first joined the study. Now, she said, she runs four miles with little effort.

"I think that if a woman wants to do the best she can do, she can do almost anything," she said.

1116 Moro 537-0886 Mon.-Sat.

11 a.m.-1 a.m. 11 a.m.-Midnight This coupon good for

PEPPER STEAK $3.90

Dine-in and carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

FREE DELIVERY (min. $9) Expires 2-1-96

Birthday Sale

$322 off Pentium Computers Historeen, 16 mag, 1.2 glg, Quad, 40 wolf. Just $2395

> Lair Gauche 776-3302

Floyd E. Rogers

Res: (913) 776-8900 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Office: (913) 776-4488 Fax: (913) 776-4977

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home market analysis.

Manhattan, KS 66502

Penny Alonso

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

Rose MUFFLER HOUSE

"Our business is exhausting"

MUFFLERS & TAILPIPES DUAL SYSTEMS AUTOS (American & Foreign) RVs LIGHT & HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS CUSTOM PIPE BENDING

COMPLETE BRAKE SERVICE FOR AMERICAN, FOREIGN, & LIGHT TRUCKS SHOCK ABSORBERS & STRUTS

ROSE HOUSE OF TINT

GLASS TINTING SERVICES AVAILABLE FOR YOUR AUTO, HOME OR BUSINESS

PRAW ITE TRAILER HITCHES - SALES & INSTALLATION

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. 776-8955 or 1-800-439-8956

Take advantage of our courtesy van for rides to school and home while your vehicle is being serviced Same Location

24 HR. PROCESSING . .

STUDENT LOANS HAVE NEVER BEEN SIMPLER! Kansas State Bank is the largest local student loan lender with over 40,000 student loans processed! Let our professional in-house staff assist you with your next student loan.

Lender code #821176

Westloop • Downtown • Aggieville • K-State Union, 587-4000

Golden Key National Honor Society

Congratulates the nominees for the 1995--96 Outstanding Graduate Teaching Assistant Award at Kansas State University

Richard Zajac Dept. of Physics

Doug Peterson

Dept. of Psychology Christine Motley Dept. Of Family Studies &

Human Services

Nancy Leathers Dept. of Geography

Dept. of Agronomy

Dept. of Secondary

Margaret Bolick

Harry John

Education

Amanda Lee Dept. of Clothing, Textiles & Interior Design

K-State students appreciate the outstanding efforts and contributions of these graduate students in their teaching roles.

The K-State Chapter of Golden Key exists to recognize academic excellence, enrich the Collegiate experience of our members, and positively impact our community.

GET THE WORD OUT

Classifieds

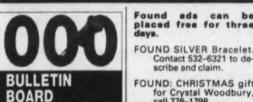

ANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

EADLINE

HOW TO PAY

fieds must be paid in advance unless you have an establish Student Publications. neck, MasterCard or Viss are accepted. There is a $10 are

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

Announcements

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

YMCA certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539-8763 registration.

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. S35.50 MC/ Visa. 24

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. S35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free info (800)229-7562.

HOUSING/ Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND: CHRISTMAS gift for Crystal Woodbury, call 776-1798. FOUND: RING outside Ahearn Fieldhouse, Jan. 18. To identify call 776-7945.

FOUND: SUNGLASSES. You left them when you placed your classified ad, claim in 103 Kedzie.

Parties-n-More

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub portable hot 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at rea-sonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320 month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to sampus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537-7542.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartments Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU deluxe two-bedroom apartment, $500. Also one-bedroom apart-ment for June and Au-gust $320. 539-2482 after 4p.m. TWO-BED-ROOM, close to cam-pus, terrace, washer/ dryer access, low utili-ties, $430/ month. Call ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO, furnished in complex 1219 Claffin. Next to campus, $320 plus de-posit, plus electric. No pets, available now, six months lease. Call 537-1180.

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS Corner of College and Claflin, Manhattan 1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments Deck/Patios for each unit On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry Covered Parking 2 BR - $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735 4 BR - $860 & $880

Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

STUDIO, ONE, two, three-bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished. Clean and quiet surroundings six or nine-month lease. No pets. 537-8389.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N.

10th St., sublease $450.539-8401.

Saturday by Appointment

TWO-BEDROOM FUR NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428.

TWO-BEDROOM. bath, new carpet, laundry facilities, one block from campus, lease until July. (913)632-2744.

For Rent-Unfurnished

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Aprs.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sar. 10-3 p.m. AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available now. Very large, two-bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included. Call 776-3804. ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537-2332.

You Deserve The Best 2 bedroom apartments Great location ▲ Large bedrooms

Two bathrooms Walk-in closets Washer/dryer hook-ups Fireplaces ▲ Large pool

NOW LEASING JUNE & AUGUST 778-8641 Open Houses Dally The Curlin Company

APARTMENT FOR rent Very near campus, Clean and new, $385 plus utilities. Available

PARKING

SOUTH OF THE UNION

DO NOT RENT an apartment UNTIL YOU CONSIDER THIS!

Brand new sparkling swimming pool Spacious decks/patios Avail. June 5 Aug. 6 Kitchen Appliances include microwave and ceiling fan Economical gas heat

$410, $420 $520, $530 bedroom $654, $663 $816, $836 bedroom

Office: 2400 Kimball Ave. at College Ave. Across from Bramlage) Call Roy

for an appointment.

at 537-7007

immediately. (913)455-3433. Leave AVAILABLE'IMMEDIATE

LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919. AVAILABLE NOW- rent negotiable, luxury apart-ment next to campus, two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing. 539-2702 evenings. AVAILABLE NOW, across from Aggleville and campus. Spacious one or two-bedroom with off-street parking. 776-0683 after 5p.m. AVAILABLE NOW. One-bedroom. 820 Osage. $360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-lowed. Call now 776–3804.

AVAILABLE SOON- two bedroom duplex, fire place, off-street park ing, washer/dryer hook-ups, central heat/ air, good neighborhood, close to campus. Call 532-9008 or (913)252-

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid. Available Jan. 1. 539-1975.

CLEAN, THREE-BED-AN, THREE-BED-ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer. Gas and water spit. Electricity separate. Trash paid. $450/ month 1110 Colorado, 537-9023. CRESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January. 1611 Laramie. $600. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours

Mon.-Fri. 8-5.

p.m. (Except holidays)

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776–3804. NEWLY REMODELED one-

bedroom. One-half block from campus. Dis-count on rent for 12month leases. For de tails, call (816)224-9796

ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse. Newly carpeted 537-9188 or 537-1550.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM FUR-NISHED/ unfurnished. Available now. $300, 537-7138.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR campus. $350, no bills. Pets allowed. 537-2697.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash peid. 776-3804.

Collegian Classifieds

ONE-BEDROOM Place Apartment. $345 per month plus utilities. January free. New car-pet. Extra clean, pet. Ex 537-5198.

PARK PLACE apartment leasing a one-bedroom for up to six month lease if desired. Call

PARK PLACE APART MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.

ROYAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dish washer, microwave, laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.

STUDIO AVAILABLE nov near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed

THREE-BEDROOM APART MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500 month. 539-5729.

THREE-BEDROOM WITH washer/ dryer, dish-washer, fireplace. Avail-able Feb. 1. $600. 537-7138.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT. $380/ month. Across street from Ahearn Field House. Available now. Lease

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT, near campus; all appliances; laundry, gym, pool on-site; $570/ month; call day 776-3663; (316)722-4469.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT, southeast of plex, with laundry facille. 539-7277.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January. 1026 Osage, $485. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH PAID. $480. 776-8455.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX, four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Avail-able now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month. (913)379-5450.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

TWO-BEDROOM, 1106 Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM. Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401.

For Rent-Houses

AVAILABLE IMME DIATELY. Four-bed room, close to campus. 776–1340.

FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM house, short term lease, $700. Available now, 537-7138.

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer,

HARDWOOD FLOORS arched doorways. Heat-ing paid and free laundry, two-bedroom Available now. $400

HEATING PAID. Free laundry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please, 539-1554.

For Sale-Hobile Homes

12X60 TWO-BEDROOM Stove, refrigerator, washer/ dryer, mi-crowave. Set up Blue Valley trailer court. 539-1004.

1994 SKYLINE Sabre two bedroom, one bath, central air. Excellent, condition. Paid $17,500. Sell for $14,000. 537-9740 or 776-6361

Roommate Wanted

AVAILABLE NOW- Very nice four-bedroom townhouse, three bath, washer/ dryer. $215/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Call 776–3843.

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look ing for roommate, two-bedroom apartment, close to campus, $180 plus half KPL, cable. As soon as possible through July, 539-6394.

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look ing for roommate two-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, ca-ble. As soon as possi-ble through July, 539-6394.

CLEAN, RESPONSIBLE studious college stud-ent seeks housemate to share three-bedroom hood. Within walking distance to campus. $375/ month INCLUDES washer/ dryer, own bathroom, gas, electric, garbage, water, off-street parking and local phone. Rent due by 28th each month. 28th each month, 539-0813.

ROOMMATE FEMALE needed to share four bedroom house. $279 month utilities includ ed. Wash/ dryer avail-able. Call 776-7298.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted: close to Ag-gieville and campus. Af-fordable rent. Call 776–1388 ask for Ali.

FEMALE. AVAILABLE im mediately: three-bed-room house, two blocks to campus, 1105 Ratone, washer/ dryer $150/ month 539-7190, 539-4303 (913)485-2385.

FEMALE/ MALE room mates wanted to share five-bedroom house. Two blocks off campus. $140/ Month plus utilities. Call 587-1969 leave message. MALE OR female room mate wanted to share a nice two-bedroom home. Each bedroom has own bath. Washer/ dryer, half utilities. Call 776–5009.

MALE ROOMMATE want ed to share two-bed room apartment at Chase Manhattan $285/ month plus one-half utilities. 776–1411, ask for Troy.

MALE/ FEMALE nonsmoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus one-half bills. Frank 539-8786.

MALE/ FEMALE smoker, one-third bills, one third rent, own room close to campus, and Aggieville, 587-9606.

MALE/ FEMALE to share from campus, with two girls, one guy. Own room, washer/ dryer $172.50, 539-4311. MASTER BEDROOM in three-bedroom house. Two large closets own bathroom, washer/ dryer. Call 539-2208. NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate wanted to share a nice two-bedroom apartment. $150 plus electric bill. Avail-able immediately. Call

776-3212. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apart ment. Two and one half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a utilities. 587-9439. ROOMMATE WANTED, next to campus. Large, private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294.

ROOMMATE WANTED basement apartment, three blocks from campus, $175/ month, utili-ties paid, can renew lease in June. 776-4110. ROOMMATES NEEDED

723 Galaxy $175/ month, pets ok, call 587-8335 ask for Jason.

SHARE WITH two other guys. 1630 Leaven-worth. $160/ month ch. (913)383-2590. STUDENT WANTED: $175/month plus divided util-ities. 587-0697, leave TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur nished basement apart ment. Laundry fur nished for males, non smoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities, 539-1554 WANTED: FEMALE to rent one-bedroom in a house with washer/ dry-er. $230 negotiable. Within walking distance to campus. 776–8481.

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry facilities. Pets allowed John

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to cam-pus in house, please contact Joyce 565-0114.

SUBLEASE SPRING se-

DIRECTORY Resume/

Typing PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

FAST, CHEAP, accurate Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing. Laser printing. Becky, 539-2748.

255 Other Services

COMPUTERIZED TAX pre paration. $15 for simple return. Can help with budgeting and financial problems. For students by students. Anytime 532-9268.

MONEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-ents. Immediate qualification. (800)270-2744. Open Mon.- Sat.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. (913)841-5716.

Massage

NEW CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon. She spe-cializes in neuromuscular therapy, shiatsu Swedish and reflex-ology. Mention this ad and receive $10 off first appointment, 539-6969

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordi-nance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employ-ment in any field of work or labor for which work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056 537-0056

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classifica-tion. Readers are ad-vised to approach any such employment op-portunity with reason-able caution. The Col-legian urges our readlegian urges our read-ers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, To-peka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$100,000 FIRST Year commissions possible. We need recruiters, trainers, and managers, 24 hour recorded mes-sage. (800)289-5685.

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207 $35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-1915 for details

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-

HOURS That's right You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Man-hattan Biomedical Center, 1130 Gardenway, 9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M- F, 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday, 776-9177. Across from 12 HOURS per week. Must have clerical experi-ence. Interact with staff and faculty, have Word-Processing and dbase skills. Knowledge of In-ternet, electronic mail file transfer, world wide web, multimedia and Operating systems. Pick up application form in Fairchild Room 9 or 16 Nichols Hall by 5p.m. Monday. February 5, 1996. Job duties can also be picked up at Fairchild Hall #9 and

Nichols Hall #16. ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry, Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971–3510 ext-A57683.

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS.

Western Massachu-setts. Over 100 positions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding. Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required. Top salaries, room and board, and travel al-Horseback Riding board, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27-28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu, Women call: Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

ATTENTION ALL Students Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information call: (800)263-6495 ext.F57684.

ATTENTION STUD-

cash stuffing envelopes at home. All materials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.C. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-

ATTENTION UPPER division accounting majors. Very part-time book-keeping job, 2- 3 flexi-ble hours a week. Call 539-4601

ATTENTION: LOSE up to 30 pounds in 30 days for $30. Why wait? Start today! 539-8256. BABYSITTER FOR newborn in our home. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, Light house keeping required. $5/ hour

587-8767. CAMP COUNSELORS for educational camp south of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canoeing, crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the out-doors. Lifeguard help-ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details, send inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wildwood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS

CAMP TAKAJO for boys Outstanding Maint camp noted for mag nificent lakefront set ting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 po-sitions for heads and as-sistants in tennis, baseball, basketball, soccer lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, jour-nalism, photography, working, cer-working, cer-drawing videography, wood-working, ceramics painting, nature study, radio and electronics, dramatics, piano ac companist, music in-strumentalist, band director, backpacking rockclimbing, whitewa-ter canceing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), sec-retarial. June 17-Au-gust18. Top salaries, room and board, trave provided. Call 800-409 CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union.

Walk-ins Welcome. CLERICAL SUPPORT-Currently hiring for two half-time positions for clerical support. The job requires a knowl edge of WordPerfect Lotus 123. Other soft ware knowledge is help-ful. Good telephone skills are required.
Apply in person at LERN, 1550 Hayes
Drive, Manhattan. EOE

COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL an up and coming sa-lon? Booth rent first four weeks free or part time commission op tion also available Apply Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon 409 Poytz 539-5999.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experi ence necessary. For in-formation call (206)971–3550 ext.C57684.

DELIVERY PERSON need ed. Please come to 1304 Westloop Shopping Center. 539-8888.

DINING SERVICES PO-SITIONS- Derby Din-ing Center is hiring students for cooking, service and custodia positions. Beginning pay $4.75 per hour. Raises scheduled. Breakfast, lunch, dinner and some weekend hours are available. We will work around your class schedule. You choose times you want to work. Apply in per-son at Derby Dining Center. Room 129 between the hours of 7:30a.m.- 5:30p.m.

HARVEST HELP NEED-ED. We run three new 2188's Case International combines, three new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board pro vided Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting. (913)689–4660.

HORTICULTURAL SERV ICES, Inc. is seeking re-liable individuals for full- or part-time employment for our retail garden center and land-scape operations. Above average wages and benefits. Apply in person at 11524 Landscape Lane, St. George, KS 66535. (913)494-2418 or (913)776-0397. JOBS IN the Great Outdoors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hiring. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-PHERS for fraternity sorority parties. No ex-perience needed. Must be free on weekends. University Photogra-phy, 1128 Laramie to fill out application.

OCCASIONAL BABYSIT

TER in our home for preschool child. 532–1989 or 532–7968. PART-TIME DELIVERY person at Faith Furniture must be able to work weekends and some af ternoons. Apply in per-son at Faith Furniture located on E. Highway 24, Manhattan.

PREMIERE BROTHERS Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Basnecessary ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking).
Top salaries, room,
board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire:
MAH-KEE-NAC

(Boys): 1-800-753-9118 DANBEE (Girls): 1-800 392-3752. RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specifically designed for re cent college graduates. Call or send resume. 6900 College Blvd. #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam Swedlund (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.

REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business oppor-tunity with multi-level marketing in tele-communications indus-try. For appointment 539-0208.

SMALL ENGINE Mechanic full or part-time, call 776-4181 K-Hill Engine Service. 8430 E. High-way 24.

STUDENT COMPUTER Consultant: 12 or more hours per week. Ex-perience with both Mainframe and Microcomputers, along with employment GPA and employment potential of two years given pref-erence. Contact Ralph Wasmer in Room 9 Fairchild Hall by 5p.m. Monday, February 5, 1996 for application. NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE!

STUDENT'S DREAM-Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539-7336.

SUMMER JOBS in Color-ado. YMCA of the Rock-ies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference cen-ter and family resort hiring for Lifequards Food Services, Front Desk, Counselors, Housekeeping, etc. Campus interviews or February 8, 1996. Con-tact Career/ Employ-ment Services for interview, 532-6506. SUMMER JOBS- female counselors for child-ren's camp northeast. Top salary, Room and board, laundry, travel allowance. Must have skill in one of the fol-lowing activities: archery, arts and crafts (ce ramics, stain-glass, jew-elry), athletic trainer, basketball, canoeing, kayaking, dance (tap, pointe, jazz, modern jazz), drama, field hock-ey, golf, gymnastics (in-structors or qualified spotters), horseback rid-ing- hunt seat, lacrosse, nature, photography, videographer, piano ac nerquest- ropes chal lenge course, 25 sta tions), sailing, soccer softball, tennis, theater technicians, track and field, volleyball W.S.I./Swim instruc tors, windsurfing. Also opportunities for kitch en cooks, maintenance nurses, secretaries. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771 Duxbury, MA 02332 We will be on campus Monday, February 5th. 10a.m.-4p.m., Student Union Rooms 203 and 295. No appointment TENNIS JOBS - Summer children's camp -northeast - good tennis background, college-level player who can teach children to play tennis. Good salary, room, board and laundry, board and laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Dux-bury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union, Rooms 203 and 205 Student Union Rooms 203 and 205 No appointment nec THE WORLD'S BEST SUMMER CAMP, LAUREL FOR BOYS

AND GIRLS. Located on a three mile lake in Maine. Men and women are needed as counselors, coaches and instructors in field court and water sports. Also arts and main-tenance. No experience necessary. Call campus representative, Jim Engle after 7p.m. at (913)838-9656. TIMBER LAKE/ TYLER HILL CAMPS, Top NY and PA resident camps have over 200 summe job openings for quali-fied students and facul-ty. Counselors, WSI, Arts, Athletics Specialists and more!! Best salaries and travel al-lowance in addition to "the finest summer you'll ever have." On campus interviews Thursday, February 8th. Call Career and Employment Services at (913)532-6506 for an application and an interview appointment

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help. Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at

WATERFRONT JOBS-W.S.I.- Summer children's camp-Northeast- teach children to swim, coach swim team, dive, waterski (sla-lom, trick, barefoot, jumping), sail. Good jumping), sail. Good salary, room board, laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union rooms 203 and 205. No appointment nec-

WELL-ORGANIZED KSU student with top-notch communication skills needed for Kansas Work Study Program. Requires some office skills and a pleasant can-do attitude. Send resume, cover letter and three references to North Central- Flint Hills Area Agency on Aging, 437 Houston Street, Manhattan, KS

No appointment nec

MARKET

Wanted to Buy

WANT TO buy: Diamonds Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're look ing for. Lorin 539-6631

DESK $15, bicycle $55, mi

rors $5, small glass table- two chairs $45, 10-gallon aquarium-whole setup $35, threeshelved bookcase $15 chair desk 539-3809. FOR SALE- Oak loft bed good bed/ mattress supported by two pedes drawer chest. 0 539-6600 after 6p.m. FOR SALE: Graphics I art supplies. Table, board included. Perfect for graphics class 539-8372 or 539-1537.

FOR SALE: Large dorm re-frigerator. $75. Call 776-3357. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Ogden, KS. Furniture to Buy/Sell space. Come see and make offer. 587-8638. QUEEN-SIZED FUTON and frame $150, 587-9524. WATERBED FOR sale Super single, good shape, complete. $50. 587-9083.

5'4 1/2"X4'X2'3" bar, with formica counter top and plenty of shell

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open

Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

15-INCH MONITOR Acer-View 56L, .28.Pitch, en-ergysaver, many features, top quality. $300. 776-1650 Andrea.

486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1495. 539-8453. DRAFTING AT home. Autocad RII- with tutorial installation and performer's guide, autolisp programmer's refer-ence, reference manual, never used. $85. never used. 539-3809. MACINTOSH CLASSIC II 4 MB RAM, 80MB hard drive. ClarisWorks, soft-ware, StyleWriter ink jet printer. Excellent con-dition. $450. Contact MACINTOSH SE/30 8 meg RAM 80 meg hard drive, software and s included $500 or best offer, 776-5960.

Music Instruments

FENDER BASSMAN 135 amplifier. Silverface Piggyback with 2X15 speaker cabinet on wheels. Looks good, sounds great. $400 or best offer. Jeff 776-0406 776-0406.

FERNANDEZ GUITAR, three months old, telecaster style, natural fin ish, hot pick-ups. lock-ing tuners.$450 with tweed case. Music Co. 539-1958. TEMPO: THE speed at which a musical com position is to be per formed; rate of activity; pace. The Music Co.- re-defining the music "in-dustry" at 523 S. 17th St., in The Midtown Plaza. 539-1958. WANTED TO buy three-fourth size violin, call 539-3619.

Pets and Supplies tals that house student desk with three draw-50 GALLON aquarium with ers, six drawer chest and shelves. Also six lighted top. Both are new and still in box. Never used. $115 or best offer. 539–3789. FIVE-FOOT RED-TAILED boa constrictor, with large cage. $300 or best offer. 776-6223.

Sporting

Equipment HIMALAYAN, BLAZE Orange, large, backpack with deluxe frame. Excellent condition, hardly

Stereo Equipment

KENWOOD STEREO system, new. 776-5830. Best offer

PORTATION

Automobiles

1984 VOLVO 240 runs great, must sell $1000 or best offer 776–9381.

CLEAN 1980 Olds Omega just rebuilt engine, re-ceipts. Four-door, four cylinder, $650 or best offer, 537-4047.

LIGHT BROWN 1986 Jetta five-speed, four-door, air conditioned, new

Tour Packages

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI instructor, 539-05 classes now forming 539-0531, IOIN UNIGIORE Knowles Travel for Spring Break in Cancun or Jamaica Jamaica starting from $439 March 24- 31, 1996, Cancun starting from $399 March 22-29, 1996, March 23- 30, 1996, Limited space. Call today (200):28,6589 Call (800)628-6589.

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Jamaica/ Cancun $399. Organize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710.

SPRING BREAK'S "Hottest Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island, Belize (800)328-7513 http://www.studen-tadvtrav.com Free food and drink package for early sign-

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

Classified Directory

010 Announcements 020 Lost and Found

030 Personals 040 Meetings/Events 080 Parties-n-More

100 HOUSING REAL ESTATE

110 For Rent --Apt. Univers

120 For Rent - House 125 For Sale -- Houses

115 Rooms Available

140 For Rent - Garage 145 Roommate Wante

155 Stable/Pasture 160 Office Space 165 Land for Sale

400 SERVICE

210 Resuma/Typing 215 Desktop Publishing

220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care

236 Child Care 240 Musicians/DJs 246 Pet Services

250 Automotive Repair 255 Other Services 36. EMPLOYMENT

CAREERS

310 Help Wanled 220 Volunteers Needs 40 OPEN

405 Wanted to Buy 410 Items for Sale

418 Furniture to Buy/Sel

420 Garage/Yard Sales 430 Antiques

435 Computers

445 Music Instruments 450 Pele and Supplies 455 Sporting Equipment

440 Food Specials

466 Stone Equipment 466 Tickets to Buy/Set

50 TRANS-PORTATION

510 Automobiles 520 Bicycles

530 Motorcycles

546 Car Pool

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

910 Tour Packing 626 Airplane Tickst

830 Train Tickets

potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price.

CLASSIFIED AD

Always put what item or service

you are advertising first. This helps

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are images, and sub-categories are marked by one of the large preceded by a number

TIPS FOR WRITING A

designation.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS

This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

Ern. Data novon

Residence hall Regents' plan to fix costs increase

Living in the residence halls will cost two to six percent more next year at K-State and other Kansas Board of Regents universities.

The regents approved the increases in December.

K-State residence halls will have a 3.6-percent increase next year, which is a $120 increase.

Residents currently pay $3,370 per year to live in a residence hall at K-State

K-State is about middle-of-theroad concerning increases in housing costs among other regents schools. Pittsburg State University's housing fees will go up only 2 percent, and Wichita State University's housing fees will increase 6.1 percent.

Ray Hauke, director of planning budgets for the regents, said the increases in housing fees are for covering the cost for the fiscal year of "The increases are equivalent to inflation along the lines of salaries and cost of operation, food, etc.," Hauke said.

The increases are needed because the Department of Housing and Dining Services on University campuses do not receive any state or federal support, Hauke said.

Housing and Dining Services rely on students' housing fees to cover operating costs and services, Hauke

Increases in housing fees are determined by the Housing and Dining Services at K-State, and recommendations are given to the regents. Housing and Dining Services determine how much money is needed by looking at operation costs.

"Any increases are normally due to cost of living increases and salary increases for the people that work for the department," said Larry Reno,

Dining Services. Reno said many of the costs that Housing and Dining Services face are on a national level, and he said he feels that the increase in payments are along the lines of inflation. Many students said they expect an increase over time.

director of finance for Housing and

"Things go up year to year that can't be helped with inflation," said Chris Van Tyle, junior in agricultural education. "Nobody likes increases, but there are some things that just hap-

At K-State, 1.5 percent of the 3.6percent increase will be set aside for infrastructure problems. This is part of a plan developed by Housing and Dining Services, called Facilities 2000, Reno said.

The plan says 1.5 percent of any increase in housing bills will be set aside or could be used immediately for any structural problems that develop within the residence halls or the food services, he said.

Reno said the plan is to cover a 10year span that runs through the year

For example, if a problem occurs with the elevators in a residence hall, Housing and Dining Services will have money set aside to fix it immediately. Electrical, phone and plumbing problems are other examples of what the plan was set up to include.

"It sounds like a good idea. If they're prepared that's good," Van Tyle said. "If they're prepared they won't have to increase the bill later."

Kansas campuses comes under fire

 State legislature not certain if proposal is constitutional

Associated Press

TOPEKA - The Board of Regents' proposed bonding program to rebuild its crumbling campuses was met with skepticism in the Senate Ways and Means Committee.

Senate Minority Leader Jerry Karr, D-Emporia, said he was concerned that a regents' priority list for major expansion or new construction projects conflicts with one developed by the Legislature three years ago.

Sen. Marge Petty, D-Topeka, said she wanted a legal opinion as to whether a constitutional prohibition against dedicating tax revenue to paying off bonds might invalidate the pro-

And, Sen. Dave Kerr, R-Hutchinson, the committee chairman, asked how the regents would adjust to changing needs if it committed all of the proposed bond money to projects determined now to be priorities but which might not might meet future

The panel heard the regents' presentation from Facilities Officer Warren Corman on Monday but took no action

The regents propose to issue $151 million worth of 15-year revenue bonds and pay them off by committing $10 million a year from the Educational Building Fund - which derives its revenue from a 1-mill statewide property tax collected since

By investing the bond proceeds before all the money is needed in the rebuilding program, the regents can generate another $12 million in interest for a total program of $163 mil-

Corman said the program works because interest rates are unusually low right now - in the 4-percent - and construction costs are projected to increase from six to 10 percent in the next several years.

That makes bonding very attractive at this time, while it has not been in the past, he said.

"I'm saying we can have a certain amount of money right now, and it makes sense to start fixing things." Corman said

"It won't meet all our needs, but we can do much of it now and save some money, or do it later, paying cash, and it will cost more. It's a good thing and we ought to do it."

In late 1994, the regents identified $288 million worth of building rehabilitation and construction needs including meeting Americans with Disabilities Act and fire safety code requirements - but did not come up with a way to fund a rebuilding program until late last year.

Corman said the regents could meet the priority needs of the universities with the $163 million and, coupled with private funding sources, complete much of the rehabilitation work needed although not all of it.

PRILEY COUNTY POLICE DEPARTMENT

Team assessing police department's business

Team member:

'Everyone's been very professional here.

Richea Lecklider

staff reporte

The Riley County Police Department is being assessed on how it does business.

A team of three assessors from the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies Inc. arrived in Manhattan Saturday to conduct a review of the depart-

Assessors have been reviewing files concerning standards which are to be followed by the department for accreditation.

RCPD last received its voluntary process of accreditation five years ago but will be changed to every three years for future assessment.

The standards being assessed include role, responsibilities and relationships with other agencies, organization, management and administration, personnel administration, law enforcement operations, operational support and traffic law enforcement, prisoner and court-related services and auxiliary and technical services.

There will be an inspection of the whole process, for example, how the patrol officers do their job or how internal affairs operates and the procedures they have," said Monty Stanley, assessor and assistant chief of police at Carrolton,

The assessment team said it is pleased with what it has seen so

"From what I've seen, everyone's been very professional here," said James Roberts, assessor and law enforcement consultant in Augusta, Ga.,

Manhattan residents were invited to a public information session Monday night at the RCPD for public comment.

All residents who spoke had positive remarks concerning the

Steve Hall, city commissioner, said he was especially pleased with the assistance he was given after asking for help from the police department.

He said his wife organized a fireworks display at CiCo Park a few years ago, and the RCPD was very willing to help with crowd control

Hall said he was very appreciative of the department's eagerness

Other citizens of the community said they were pleased with the RCPD's quickness in addressing problems within the community as well as acting as good role models for youth in Manhattan.

The team will conclude its assessment Wednesday afternoon.

STUDENT FEES

LINEAR

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 only for the hours they are enrolled

Another problem with the old system is that graduate students who wish to take an undergraduate prerequisite for a certain graduate level class must pay graduate level

On the other hand, undergraduate students can take graduate level classes at undergraduate prices, Foster said.

PRIVILEGE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

not included in the campus privi-

privilege fee-based systems,"

Tomb said. "We want to have a system that will not punish people include

Publications Inc., Fine Arts, and

Some campus privilege fee

Two years ago the Student Senate created the Privilege Fee

Committee when it divided the Finance Committee into two separate groups. The Privilege Fee

Committee consists of a chair,

three senators, three at-large mem-

Student

Recreational

"Fees will only be available to

lege fee groups for good management."

Athletics and

The new system will charge the appropriate fee based on the level of credit earned, not the classification of the student, he said.

The new system will benefit students in the long run because a degree requiring 120 hours will cost the student the same no matter how many hours the student takes each semester, Foster said.

In the past, a student who took 12 hours each semester paid more for the 120-hour degree than a student who took 15 hours because the first student will take two more semesters to complete the degree,

According to the proposal,

Tomb said the student govern-

"The goal of the student gov-

Under the proposed bill, groups

Pat Bosco, dean of student life, every two years the privilege fee committee will review the campus privilege fee groups that it funds.

ment would make changes as necernment is to become more effican still access additional money as long as they can justify need to said he thinks the new system will lead to a greater number of requests for increases and eventu-

First readings of the proposed

The bills will be voted on Feb.

ally a raise in fees for students.

bills will be Feb. 1.

two-thirds of the Student Senate.

essary toward improvement.

cient," he said.

bers and two interns.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

$1 per credit hour to Title IX. Urick said he didn't think $34 extra per year was a great sum of

I'm wondering why

$34 over a year is a lot of money. It's not easy for me to ask the students for year, but we're find-

University for schol-

MAX URICK

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

another $34 a

ing competition from within the arship money.

money. "I'm wondering why $34 over a year is a lot of money," he said. "It's not easy for me to ask students for another $34 a year, but we're finding competition from within the University for scholarship money."

The second option would not include an increase in current fee appropriations but would entail a $1 per credit hour increase to the Title IX plan along with a $1 increase in tickets, making football tickets $8 and men's basketball tickets $6. That comes down to $62 per student per year. The department could face more problems with the addition of the Big 12 next season.

Urick said basketball revenues, such as those from television and the post-season conference tournament, would plummet because the four joining schools bring nothing to the

The football teams in the conference will get a boost in revenues due to powerhouses Texas and Texas A&M and the addition of a conference championship game in St. Louis next December, which Urick said could give each team about Couple that with the fact that K-State's athletic budget this year is calculated at $11.6 million - along with Oklahoma State and Baylor, the smallest in the Big 12.

"Our coaches do a lot of bang for their buck," Urick said.

In both of Urick's proposals, athletics would get 79 percent of the fee with 13 percent going to the K-State Marching Band and 8 percent to club sports.

When asked why adding seating or luxury boxes or the raising ticket prices are so hard to accomplish, Urick said, "I can't raise the prices myself. To come back with another raise would be a tough thing for the public to swallow."

And on the stadium and luxury box proposal, Urick referred back to the debt issue

"We are talking with two architectural firms in Kansas City who specialize in stadiums," Urick said. "It would be unwise for me to go out and borrow another $8 to $10 million. We would have to have an angel come down or else have the suites pre-sold."

REC

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Another possible explanation for the popularity of the Rec Complex is the weather, Lange said.

"People can't usually run during the winter time," Lange said.

She estimates 50 people use the track for running and walking during the busiest parts of the evening.

"Everything is full," she said. The Rec Complex also gives people a place to hang out.

"You can come out here and hang out for the evening. There's a lot of people who will be out here for three or four hours at a time," Lange said.

Even on Super Bowl Sunday, there were about 15 people hanging out at the Rec Complex watching the game on the big-screen television, she said.

Sunday is the best day of the week to work out at the Rec Complex, Eric Rohleder, sophomore in criminology, Rohleder, who works out six days a week, said he sometimes has to wait 10 to 15 minutes to use weight machines at the Rec Complex during the week. But no matter the New Year's resolutions, spring break seems to be the biggest reason for the increase.

"Once spring break comes, this place will be dead," Lange said.

Our Bridal Registry works for you... China - Crystal - Silver

Patterns in stock for registered brides

Brides

Wedding Invitations and Announcements NOW 20% OFF

Fifth & Poyntz SHOP DOWNTOWN

776-9067

WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB & CLUB BEAUTY SALON

Retail Specials

- KMS Buy 1, Get 1 at 1/2 Price (equal or lesser value) • Paul Mitchell Value Packs ONLY $1999-$35 value
- Nexxus hair brush FREE with $25 Nexxus
- purchase Sebastian Candle FREE with '25 Sebastian
- purchase (while supplies last) Sorbie is back in stock!

Clearance Aisle up to 85% OFF Selected items (thru 1/31/96)

WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB & CLUB BEAUTY SALON

Mon.-Sat. 9 a.m. - 8 p.m. Sun. 1 - 5 p.m. New Location

Salon 539-6969.

409 Povntz

We take news tips 532-6556

Tonight & Wednesday All New Music Format Live and Free

Plus: $ 1.50 Bottles

$1.50 Wells

$ 2.50 Big Beers

$ 1.50 Margaritas $1.50 MexiBeers

1213 MORO, AGGIEVILLE

776-6451

1,550,000 CIRCULATION

JANUARY/FEBRUARY 1996

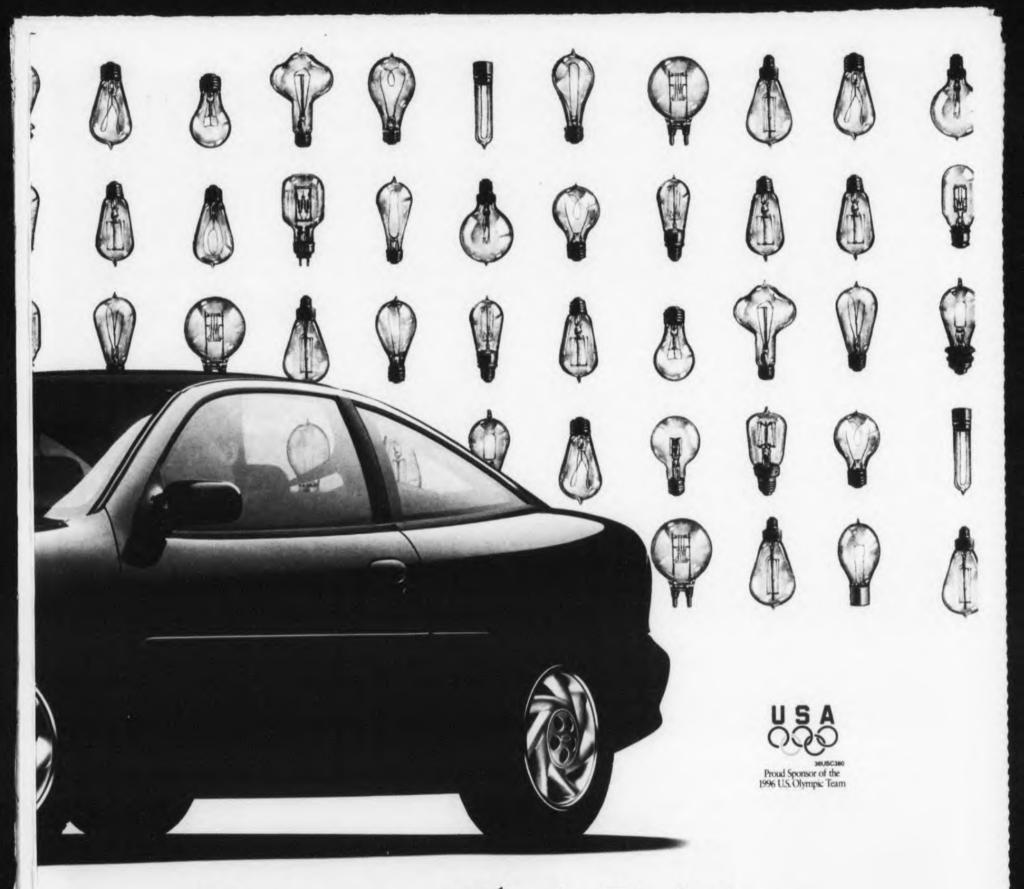

1 INSIDE — MORE SPORTS THAN YOU CAN SHAKE A STICK AT

It Has Lights Designed To Im

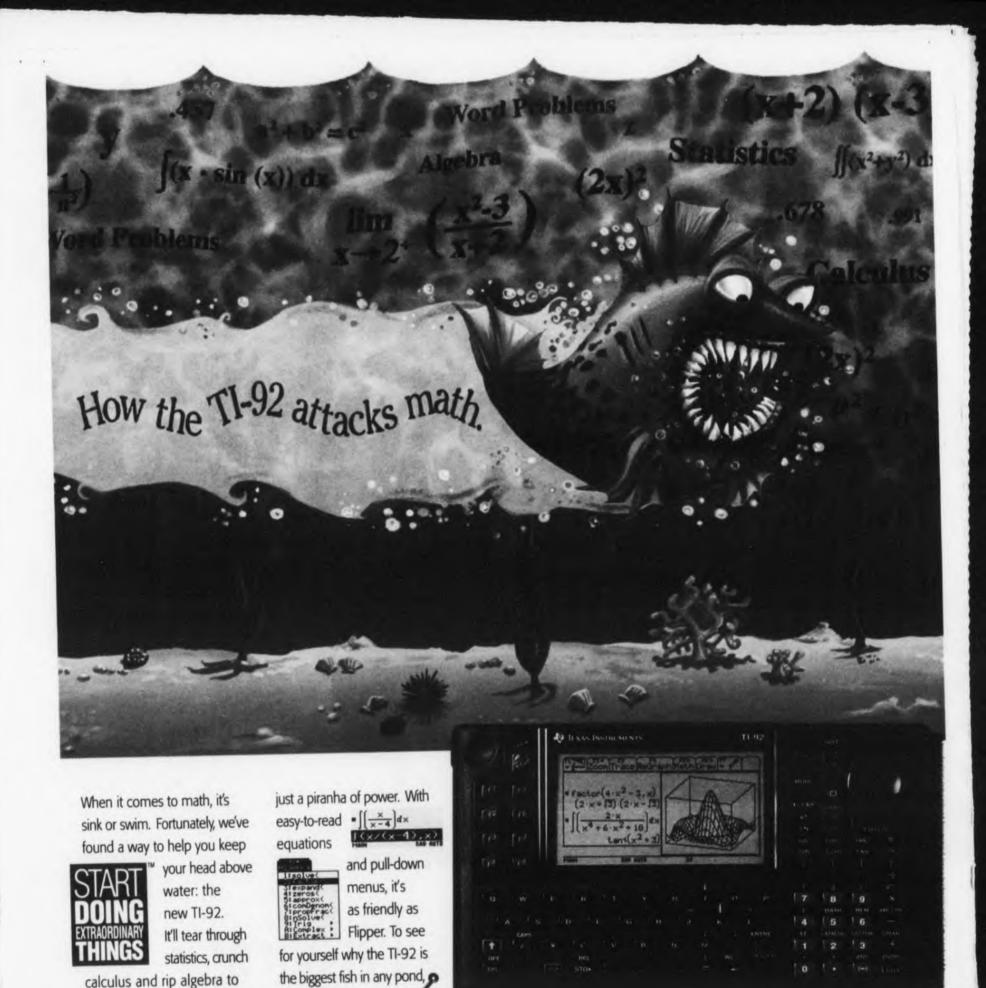

Once upon a time, all you needed was a cool car at a good price. But things change. Now you're looking for a car you can trust. You're looking for dependability, affordability and safety; all in a neat, sporty package. Think about it. That's asking a lot from a car. Enter the Cavalier. It's sensible, stylish and comes complete with prove Everyone Else's Driving.

one of today's latest safety features: Automatic Daytime Running Lamps. They illuminate automatically when you turn on the ignition, to help make it easier for you to be seen. So whatever the driving conditions, you can be sure that we're there to look out for you. And what else would you expect? We're Genuine Chevrolet.

Cavalier Genuine Chevrolet

See the new TI-92 at your college bookstore or:

shreds unlike any other calculator. Of course, the TI-92 isn't try it out on the Internet.

U. WITH AN ALERENCE OF 6.6 MILLION, is the most widely read (L. WITH M. ALDRINE'S O R. D. MILLING, to the most widely sead infearple and centremannent magazine among 18- to 34-year old college-elacated young adults. Editorial content focuse on the diverse increase, activities, artitudes and concern of studiests attending flow year colleges and unnerstruct. US assistant enforms, elected each year from top graduating written, read campus newspapers, commission congessi articles and phenography by the best student pursuation, and mantatum as outgoing dialogies via the literatum and U-Verw line with students at hundreds of campuses nationewide.

PUBLISHER & EDITORIAL DIRECTOR

GAYLE MORRIS SWEETLAND

EDITOR

FRANCES HUFFMAN

ASSOCIATE EDITOR

BONNIE DATT CHATHAM COLLEGE '93

WRAP/MUSIC EDITOR

GLENN McDONALD MICHIGAN STATE U. '94

ASSISTANT EDITORS

TRICIA LAINE COLORADO STATE U. '95 ROBERT MANKER FASTERN ILLINOIS IJ '95 Shad Powers Michigan State U. '95 Colleen Rush Bucknell U. '95

ART DIRECTOR

ADVISORY COUNCIL

Dr. DAVID L. ADAMS INDIANA U. W.B. CASEY U. OF IOWA DR. IAN T. CHILDRESS TEXAS TECH U. MONA CRAVENS U. OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA MARK GOODMAN STUDENT PRESS LAW CENTER DR. LES HYDER EASTERN ILLINOIS U. KATHY LAWRENCE U. OF TEXAS, AUSTIN RICHARD C. LYTLE SOUTHERN METHODIST U. LENEY MARCELLO NICHOLLS STATE U. Dr. Frank Ragulsky Oregon State U. Dr. J. DAVID REED EASTERN FILINOIS U.
TOM ROLNICKI ASSOCIATED COLLEGATE PRESS RICHARD SUBLETTE PAST PRESIDENT, CMA MARTHA SPRIGG MICHIGAN STATE U. CHUCK STONE U. OF NORTH CAROLINA LAURA WIDMER NORTHWEST MISSOURI ST. U.

ADVERTISING SALES OFFICES Main Office

1800 CENTURY PARK EAST, SUITE 820, Los Angeles, CA 90067 TEL (310) 551-1381 FAX (310) 551-1659 OR 552-0836

WEB SITE: HTTP://WWW.UMAGAZINE.COM E-MAIL: EDITORIAL: EDITOR@UMAGAZINE.COM. ADVERTISING: ADSALES@UMAGAZINE.COM, CONTESTS: CONTESTS@UMAGAZINE.COM, GENERAL INOUTRIES UMAGAZINE@AOL.COM

PUBLISHER GAYLE MORRIS SWEETLAND VICE PRESIDENT THOMAS I. MITCHILL MARKETING SERVICES DIRECTOR MELISSA E. ALGAZE OPERATIONS DIRECTOR KEVALEEN RYAN CIRCLIATION MANAGER TRACY MATTHEWS-HOLBERT ENTERTAINMENT AD DIRECTOR PATTIKAY GOTTLIEB CLASSIFIED AD SALES MELISSA E. ALGAZE ASSISTANT TO PUBLISHER MARIETTE MERCADO

New York

U. MAGAZINE, 170 E. 61st St., SUITE 400. NEW YORK, NY 10021 TEL. (212) 980-2800 FAX (212) 980-2811 JOHN NUZZI, EASTERN AD MANAGER CAROLE RYNSTON, EASTERN MRTG. SERVICES MGR.

Midwest & Detroit

JOE GUENTHER, PETER GUENTHER. Tel. (312) 335-9001 FAX (312) 335-8578

PHIL GANZ, NANCY WILLIS TEL. (214) 991-4994 FAX (214) 991-4995

San Francisco/Pacific Northwest

PATRICK DOYLE

Tel. (415) 777-4383 FAX (415) 777-4385 AMERICAN COLLEGIATE NETWORK INC.

CHARMAN & PRESIDENT GAYLE MORRIS SWEETLAND

CONTROLLER LYNN SLOTSVE

U.W is published nine times a year and printed in the U.S.A. on recycluble paper. Subscriptions are $18. Copyright© 1996. U., U. Magazine and U. The National College Magazine are ered trademarks of American Collegiate Network, Inc. All Rights Reserved.

PLEASE RECYCLE U.

U. Capture the Nike Spirit Contest Winners!

You may be the grand prize winner of $1,000! And even if you aren't a winner, you should still check out these awesome photos.

QUICKIES / Our Concession to Your Attention Span

Lively campus anecdotes with flavor crystals.

U. VIEWS / The Campus Dialogue

10 U. Mail, editorial cartoon and aliens.

U. NEWS / Right Hand Red

12 The Buzz, Byte Me, U. Lose, 15 Minutes and some tasty Studmuffins.

U. LIFE / Left Foot Blue

14 Urge/ Let's Do It

Valentine's Day is near, so here's a tasteful list of sexual euphemisms. Use them the next time you're talking about... well... umm, the next time you and your loved one are going to... ya know... um... never mind.

14 Trippin'/Breaking Away

This spring break don't go to South Padre; don't go to Florida; don't go chasin' waterfalls; go online to learn about rare and exotic destinations. Places so odd, the only road that dares go there is the information superhighway.

15 Pulse/Seeegars: Plugging Away

Riddle: What has a butt and is filled with tobacco? No, not George Burns. A cigar and cigars are one of the hottest things to hit campuses since cigarettes. There's smokin' in the boy's room, the class room, the dorm room, everywhere.

15 Class/Law and O.J.

Did the classic struggle between Marcia Clark and Johnnie Cochran pique the interest of law students everywhere, or did one look at Kato Kaelin turn Shapiro wannabes away from the profession? The effect of the O.J. trial on law students.

FEATURES / It's on the Line, Spin Again

COVER STORY

16 Lords of the Rings

Every four years, college athletes have more on their summer break plans than just sippin' iced tea and playing on a Slip 'n' Slide. Some are focused on the Olympics. The athletes and the city of Atlanta are gearing up for the big event.

18 Hoop! There It Is

The high-flyin', fast breakin', behind-the-back passin' style of women's basketball is turning heads. At some schools the stands are packed to watch the women strut their stuff. Mrs. Naismith would be proud.

19 Take Me Back To the Ball Game

I have in my right hand tonight's Top 10 list. From the home office in Los Angeles, the Top 10 moments in college sports history since 1980. Number 10 ...

R+R / Rock 'n' Reel

20 Rock

East Coast Rap vs. West Coast Rap - plus Rapid Fires, Pocket Band and our U. Radio Chart.

21 Reel

New ones from Christian Slater and Sandra Bullock - plus Screen Saver and a set visit you won't want to miss.

22 Contests

Wanna win big money? Turn to our world-famous contests page now!

WRAP / It's a Jungle Out There 23 U. Magazine's Wild Campus

Some pretty interesting specimens can lurk in the tropical, moss-strewn thickets of college campuses. Plus Double Take and the Strip Tease.

GUEST EXPERT / Dick Vitale

He knows college. He knows hoops. He knows America loves him, baybee. He's our Prime Time Guest Expert - our PTGEer. And we ask him questions, and he answers 'em, and he knows it all, bay-bee. He knows it all. So read on, bay-bee. Read on for the collegiate wisdom of our guest expert, our diaper dandy, ESPN's very own Dickie V., bay-beeeeee.

February

All this and brains, too, but can he cook? Page 12

We bend over backwards for you. Page 16

Campus Shots

Northern Arizona U. freshi Gene Hacker plays a spirited game of football. The part of the football is played by our-year-old Shane Atene. Heyl No more punts.

PHOTO BY CHARLES WHITEHOUSE, NORTHERN ARIZONA U.

BANKE SERI

BEGINNING LAST August, U. asked you to grab your cameras and Capture the Nike Spirit — those unforgettable experiences in sports and everyday life —
and tell us about the Nike spirit you captured. You Just Did It!

U. readers sent in thousands of photos of people doing just about everything in their Nikes. Your entries were awesome, inspiring, scary, funny and very, very cool.

U. and Nike are proud to publish the $1,000 Grand Prize winner with Nike's national ad.

$1,000 Grand Prize Winner: Brad Farris, Angelo State U., Texas "On top of the highest peak in Texas in Guadalupe National Park."

$500 Second Prize Winner: Darren Preston Lane, U. of Florida "Look at those shoes."

$250 Third Prize Winner: Derek Senn, U. of California, Santa Barbara "Capturing the Nike spirit during an epic South American sunset."

1-800-645-3135

REG PARTY U. of Chicago

The U. of Chicago boasts 64 Nobel Prize-winning alumni and a last-place ranking in a survey of social life on 300 college campuses. Much to the dismay of the administration, the most popular hangout for UC students is the Joseph Regenstein Library - "The Reg." Administrators were so bummed about the last-place ranking that they distributed a pamphlet showing The Reg branded with a circle-and-slash emblem. The not-so-bummed students (who pay more than $19,000 a year for tuition) proudly donned shirts with a big numeral 300.

OH, THE BOOKS YOU'LL READ U. of California, San Diego

One fish, two fish, red fish, $20 million. Twenty million dollars? That's what the UC main library gets for striking the fancy of Dr. Seuss, a.k.a. Theodor Geisel, creator of the Lorax, Whos and the Cat in the Hat. Geisel's widow no Grinch - made the donation. She said Geisel thought the eightstory building, which looks like an upside-down pyramid, was the sort of structure he would have designed had he been architecturally inclined. OK now, the first school to create a thingamajig that puts stars on the bellies of coeds gets the next $20 million. Ready, set, go!

BEER NECESSITY U. of Idaho

Approximately 30 students got together for a keg party. The catch?

PIG-HEADED FANS U. of Iowa

Tradition has it that UI fans throw pigskins during football games. OK, that sounds like fun — if we're talking "pigskins" as in footballs. But Natalie Newell, a UI freshman, was a little shocked when the guy behind her threw a pig's head onto the field. She says it was from a pig roast held earlier in the day. "It was definitely a real head and definitely gross," Newell says. The security staff was a little miffed about the flying pig head and blames the fanfare on the late afternoon kickoff. Guess that left a lot of time for those traditional tailgating activities, like pig beheading.

BOMB SCARE California State U., Chico

Tom Welsh, an assistant professor in instructional technology at Chico, got an anonymous phone call telling him to open an envelope that was tacked to his office door. The envelope had a bulge in the middle and a big red check mark on the front. Welsh got nervous. With visions of the Unabomber dancing in his head, he phoned the police. After all, the Unabomber had sent mail bombs to universities before, and his manifesto proved he doesn't favor computers and technology, two of Welsh's specialties. A police officer arrived, opened the envelope carefully and found - an explosively good-tasting brownic and an equally destructive milk carton. It was Welsh's 33rd birthday.

The party was being thrown by the university housing department. As the chugging began, phrases like "Hey, wait a second," and "What the...?" began to fly around the room. As it turns out, it was an experiment to see the effect drinking NON-alcoholic beer would have on students, and to show that "people could have fun without alcohol. We at U. Magazine would like to say right now that we are firmly against playing "games" with beer, or doing "experiments" with beer.

Beer is no joking matter. Please, we beg you, do not toy with beer. Thank you.

HAIR WE GO U. of Massachusetts, Amherst

Apparently holding your breath until your face turns blue has become passé as the method for getting your own way. Now the chic thing to do is grow your hair. When contract talks started in May 1993, David Lafond, the office manager for the graduate student senate, vowed not to cut his hair until an agreement was reached. Two and a half years and a heckuva lot of conditioner later, an agreement was drawn, and Lafond can say buh-bye to those tresses. Staff members' salaries are to increase 10 percent over three years. We're thinking that for more timely results, best to go back to the holding-your-breath thing. But different strokes... (that's 100 strokes a night, before you go to bed).

NAME, RANK AND CEREAL NUMBER Moorhead State U., Minn.

Sign, sign, everywhere a sign. Bored with such unimaginative signs as "No paper waste please" and "Today's special: Tofu burgers," one dining hall decided to push the envelope a little. "We've had some new signage this year," says the assistant food service director. "People would come up to me and say, 'Why don't you name the cereal bar?'" Students submitted names and voted for the best. The winner was "Grandma Jean's Cupboard," after a longtime dining hall ID scanner. What's next "Nancy's Neat-o Napkin Dispensers"?

TRAY REVOLT Marietta College, Ohio

corrupt and scam, students raltwo area banks were robbed during the photo shoot for the cards.

U.S. Naval Academy, Md.

Army got Navy's goat again, literally. Four years after Pentagon officials ordered an end to military mascot swiping, three West Point seniors made off with three Midshipmen goats in a pre-dawn raid. The three mascots, two past, one present and all named Bill, were taken from a

Maryland farm Nov. 5 and held cap-

Bills XXVI, XXVIII and XXIX were reunited with their official keepers at a hotel parking lot in Fayetteville,

Military Academy pickup truck.

Guess that didn't leave too much doubt about the kids responsible.

If you think it's hard to sneak into the bars on your campus, you should try UC Davis. There, even the cops get carded. Well, sorta. The members of the UCD police department introduced handsome trading cards, complete with a lovely likeness of the law enforcer on the front and a small bio with helpful safety tips on the back. Hours of family fun. Collect the whole set. Trade with felons.

Unfortunate side notes: No bubble gum is included in the package, and

COP CARDS

U. of California, Davis

Md. — and brought there in a U.S.

tive until their safe return Nov. 10.

ALL DOLLED UP U. of Mississippi

Now, even little girls can get degrees from Ole Miss. Well, their dolls can, anyway. Seems Ole Miss officials think The Cheerleader Doll With a Degree helps stress the importance of higher education to young girls. The Barbielike dolls, complete with Ole Miss red-and-blue attire, are the hottest item going at the school bookstore. For $20 each, the store offers three white dolls - a blonde, a brunette and a redhead - and a black doll. Wonder what Ken with a G.E.D. thinks about all this?

THE GREAT

In a valiant attempt to protest a unjust dining service meal plan lied and left more than 150 empty trays on the tables in one of the dining halls. Sensing grave injustice, they staged the

TUBA OR NOT TUBA U. of North Carolina

It's never too late to toot your own horn. Joseph Lowman, an assistant dean and professor of psychology at UNC, is now one of the 17 tuba-toting Marching Tarheels. At 50, he's the first professor to play in the band. Lowman says that ever since he took up the tuba in high school, he's dreamed of playing in a college marching band. It's a good thing he wasn't a pompon guy.

SO WHAT IF YOU SLEPT THROUGH ECONOMICS? YOU STILL KNOW THE VALUE OF A DOLLAR.

Which means you realize how important it is to save. So get a MasterCard* Card and use these two sets of exclusive College MasterValues* coupons. One for savings from 20% to 50% off. And one for free shipping on catalog purchases. All of which leads to an inspiring economics lesson. A dollar saved is a dollar earned.

MasterCard. It's more than a credit card. It's smart money. MasterCard.

INSTANT SAVINGS

Save 20% to 50% off when you use your MasterCard Card with these merchants.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

49% OFF A SPECIAL 12-WEEK SUBSCRIPTION

Invest in your future and stay on top of current developments with The Hall Street Jeanual For a limited time only use your MasterCand* Cand and pay just $25 for a 12-week subscription to the nation's leading business publication. To take advantage of this special offer, all 1-800-348-3555 and please refer to some key 759B.

Offer valid 2.1. 20, no. 2.3. 20. Offer valid only on purchases using a Mastert and Card and when some key 75PB is monitored. I mit our other iption discount per person Visid where prohibited.

WORDEXPRESS for Windows

SAVE 40% ON AWARD WINNING SOFTWARE

Get WordLapters the award winning word processor for Windows, for the amazingly low piece of $29.95. Top of the line features designed to make your reports, essays and term papers look their best. Compatible with Macrosoft Word and WordPerfect. Use your MasterCard* Card and mention offer WXO MC to take advantage of this opcaal offer To order call 1-800-998-4555.

Offer calad 2 (200 to 3/3) 96 Offer valid only on purchase imag a Marry Carl Carl and when offer WXO MC is neutronical Shipping and bandlarg or additional Limit one discount per purchase Midwhere problemed

ARTCARVED

SAVE UPTO $140

Your college (ing. from ArtCarved, is a keepsake you'll always treature. Says $35 on 10k gold, $70 or 14k gold or $140 on 18k gold. Call 1-800-952-7002 for more details. Mention offer #9001

Other solid 2 (196-m) 5/11/96 (Otte) solid ords on purchases many a Manta Card³ Card and when other 1990) is mentioned Composition and be confound with new other composition of should Mapping and handling, are writed from one due norm per purchase

МОТОРНОТО

50% OFF FILM PROCESSING

Hold on to the good times and your money, too. Take 50% off the regular prins of processing and printing on the first set of prints a MotoPhoto, when you use your MasterCard*Card*Card 1-800-733-6866 for the location nearest you Linux 1. Offer not valid without this coupon.

Other and company valid 2.1.296 to 5.347/96. Cash redestignman valide 3.550 Collect valid mids on pour lones county. Admered and Can Sourcester compone at usin of punchase I main one company per punchase. Cannot be commissional and the collection of the control of the collection of the powers. String billion of bank detailed on a punch collection of the collection of th

Viewer's Edge

GET ONE VIDEO FREE

WHEN YOU BUY THREE
Video values just for you! Enjoy a full selection of top-spality videos at discount prices.
All videos are priced at 59-95 or less and are 1007—satisfaction, guaranteed. Act now and get one video FREE when you buy three and use your Mastert and Card. all 1-800-862-7100 for your FREE catalog and ask for the offer #1001-5999.

Offer valid 2-1-26 to 5-33-26. Offer valid only on purchases using a Market, and C. and and schemoffer 0-100 (1-2002) a mentioned. Offer may only be onebarred with any other offer or loss using Offer valid in U.S. resolutions. And a frame resolution.

Pier 1 imports for a change for a change SAVE 20% ON YOUR NEXT PURCHASE

changes You could use a good deal. Pier 1 can supply both We'll take 20% off your road purchase of all regular priced items from colorful pillows to fun framed art. All the supplies school calls for plus 20% off when you use your MoterCard.* Card of Pier 1. Offer not valid without this coupon.

Other and company shall 2.1, No. to $53,200, Other and company shall 2.1 on the $53,200, Other and $62,200, Other and $63,200, Other and $63,200, Other and $63,200, Other and $63,200, Other and shall consider the shall con

FREE SHIPPING

Call 1-800-501-VALUE* for these catalogs and have your order delivered for free when you use your MasterCard Card and mention the code #.

1-800-PRO-TEAUN

Authentic MLB, NFL, NBA, NHL and NCAA clothing from Champion, Russell, Starter, and more

Code MCC

Fire shapping offer applies to standard delivery only on catalog princhase made with a Masterl and Card Offer for free shapping it calls 2 1/10% to 5/31/20%. If onder are received by moni, all in-atoic 5/31/20% for other are received by moni, all in-atosic stems will be shapped that same day leavept for workends and legal holiday, and you fill receive mowithin one work. Naturally, uncertified checks or billing-shapping addresse mas some a delay. Offeruor valid ar petul-outlers and samos be used in our

TWEEDS

Women's apparel and accessories. The clothing is natural, sophisticated in lush fabrics and colors.

FIRST PURCHASE ONLY

Code D2WA

Fee shapping ofter applies to standard delicents and on spirit for ording purchase made with a Manes Carl Carl Ofter for free shapping is valid. 13 no no 333 No. Standard delicers serve supposed ochrever within 2.100 Acc from the time quinties in the care of the most other produces of the most other made in made is purchased of their notation and cannot be used in conjunction with into other promision. Additional service man managely.

MALE

The only men's fashion catalog that puts you in touch with the latest cutting-edge fashions from around the world

FIRST PURCHASE ONLY

Code IMM6356

Free shapping offer applies in standard delivers undy my your first cading purchase analy with a MasterCad? Card Offer in tire shapping a valid 2.1-19 to 3/34-96. Our policy is no process all orders promptly We shap all near handow within 16 days of completed onder We will notify suppremise to the control of the control order of control order of the control order or the control order order lens express

"Be Cool at School"... and Save up to 50% on Designer Sunglasses, Contact Lenses and a whole lot more. plus receive a 40% student discount off your membership fee.

FIRST PURCHASE ONLY

(1-800-USA-LENS) Code 101

Feer dupping offer applies to standard delivery only on your first statisty punchase from Low Express made oath a ManerCard Card Offer for the shapping is valid 2.3.28 to 5.33.86. Orders will be shapped to 2-3.08 forcessor, belong Lapun service Offer cannot be used in conjunction with other pur-faithay :

The widest selection of top brands for your athletic needs

Code FREESHP

Free shapping offer applies to standard delivery only on catalog purchase made with a MauroCand* Cand Offer for free shapping is valid 2.1. % to $1.1.%. This offer is applicable throughout the continental U.S. Offer not valid at creat outlers and cannot be

VICTORIA'S SECRET

LONDON

Victoria's Secret encompasses a range of the world's finest lingeric and innovative international fashion.

FIRST PURCHASE ONLY

Code:K1n2579

ee shapping offer applies to standard delicery do no your first catalog purchase made with a soverCard's Card Offer for free shapping is valid 1-96 to 5-31-96. Offer not valid at retail outlets of cannot be need at conginiction with other sources.

t [VIEWS

Add it up

Since when are secondary application fees for medical school only about $10 ["The Price Isn't Right," Nov. 1995]? I sent secondaries to 12 schools which cost me almost $900. Still, thanks for bringing up the issue of the cost of becoming a doctor.

Kim Blumberg, senior, Penn State U.

I've recently been accepted to medical school and in my quest for acceptance, I spent only $575 - about one-third of the projected amount in your story. I think the biggest waste of money is the MCAT. A prep course is not needed even the MCAT guide says taking one won't make much difference. And taking a second shot at the MCAT shouldn't be needed if you've studied and do well on standardized tests. The moral is: If you're trying to get into med school, don't let this story scare you.

> Erica Ehlers, senior, Northern Michigan U.

Swallowing responsibility

I take issue with the "Campus Shots" photo [Nov. 1995] of a person assisting another person in drinking directly from a keg. It implies that your magazine condones this type of potentially abusive behavior. I am questioning the journalistic responsibility of your magazine printing the photo, particularly since alcohol use and abuse has been a past cover story in your magazine.

Steve Brown, Assoc. Dir. of Student Development and Career Services, Mercer U., Georgia

We've got you covered

I notice in many of your issues that the stories, letters and various other columns focus on the Big Ten or elite universities. Why don't you include more stories and articles from students at smaller universities? We at smaller universities do have fun like the "big boys" at the "citylike" universities, and a little coverage would be nice.

Marc Pearson, sophomore, Troy State U., Alabama

I'm a regular reader of your magazine and I find the information very interesta historically black college, I feel that your magazine never gives light to life at historically black schools. You only mention the achievements of African Americans in rap music or sports. Why do you insist on portraying this '90s stereotype? Please consider doing positive stories on black colleges every so often.

Mascot Napple

Kenji J. Gardner, sophomore, Howard U.

Your stories portray a bad stereotype of Greek life. The Greek system is changing rapidly. Open availability of beer at parties, an increase in community service and an increase in the importance of academics are all current trends in the Greek community. These are the types of trends that should be addressed.

Bradley Holcman, President of the Theta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi, U. of Michigan

I must commend U. Magazine for promoting the stereotypical image of homosexuality ["Campus Shots," Dec. 1995]. I especially enjoyed the sophomoric caption beneath the man in drag (A little more rouge...). Perhaps the time you spent pondering what humorous comment you could put beneath the photo to promote ignorance could have been spent writing an article that deals with the very real issues of homosexuality and homophobia on college campuses!

> Kevin Kovalcik, senior, U. of Rhode Island

Poli sigh

How could your magazine pretend to write about politics ["Poll Vault," Nov. 1995] and not mention the painful Republican cutbacks in student aid and the massive shift to block grants for other programs that will put pressure on states, in turn, to cut their higher education budgets?

Kirby Farrell, professor of English, U. of Massachusetts, Amherst

Dead or alive?

I am eternally grateful for the article, "The Dead Will Never Die" [Dec. 1995]. However, you were too quick to confirm the passing of the Dead phenomenon after the death of Jerry Garcia. Saying "Jerry made the Dead" is a bit naive. The Grateful Dead are, and always have been, more than Garcia's backup band.

> Benjamin Nauman, junior, Iowa State U.

Take it off

With pleasure, I read your article on stripping ["Stripping for dollars," Nov. 1995]. I recommend the profession for any student trying to balance school, living expenses and tuition. With pay varying from $150 to $1,500 a night, I only work two shifts a week and can concentrate on studying. However, it's not all glamour. It's a physically exhausting job. And dancers must be able to handle the highly competitive atmosphere as well as the reactions of friends, partners and family,

Anonymous, San Francisco State U.

"Posing With Honors" and "Stripping for Dollars" [Nov. 1995] convey the message that female college students want to take their clothes off for money. I don't blame these women, but I do feel sorry for them. Pornography, prostitution and stripping undermine women's gains and put us back in our proper place: the bedroom. We must reclaim our integrity and equality rather than seek refuge in these sexist institutions.

Rachel Kramer Bussel, senior, U. of California, Berkeley

What's your damage?

In "U. Magazine's Magnificent Seven" [Dec. 1995], your choices were interesting, but what about Damaged by Black Flag? Also, you need to check the dates of a couple of your albums: It Takes A Nation ... was released in '88 not '89 and Warehouse: Songs and Stories was released in '87 not '85.

Bruce Harrison, sophomore, California State U, Chico

Sports funding too much or not enough? Too Much: 67% Not Enough: 20%

Other: 13%

I think it's a question of who makes the decision. Students need to have input into how those decisions are made. Lize Kessler, grad student, U. of Wisconsin, Medison • With the amount of money athletes bring in, they should be able to have a life that allows them to eat properly, pay rent, pay bills, take their girlfriends out to dinner and put gas in their cars. Jennifer Peabody, senior, UCLA . There's roo much funding. It should be an honor to play for your school. Larry, grad student, Texas A & M U. • Teams bring in a lot of money for the university and therefore, they should be given their fair share of the pie.
Robert Santoro, grad student, Florida State U. . Here's an idea. Big-time athletes who get full-ride scholarships then take off for the pros and sign multi-million dollar contracts should be required to pay back their scholarships. Golin Arnold, senior, Pacific Lutheran U., Wash. • We're at college to learn, not to play sports. It puts down my intelligence to know that the school spends more money on hockey than it does on me getting a good educa-tion. Marisa, sophomore, U. of Varmont . The simple fact is that schools can get away with setting the athletes up with only tuition and eats - a small price to pay not only for sports revenue, but for recruiting power. Greater funding for athletes is needed and deserved. Jason Robert Nefs, senior, U. of Wieconein Madie

Do you believe in aliens?

Yes: 88% No: 12%

Our entire suite believes in aliens. Not like green space creatures but the large almond-eyed creatures. Alma Robledo, junior, Yale U. • I really strongly believe that they're out there somewhere. Sheesh. they're out there man. Pablo Gutierrez, freshman, U. of Texas Pan American . I'm a product of an inter-planetary relationship. My mother was abducted by aliens and taken advantage of by horny freaks. And thus began my extremely abnormal life. Robert, freshman, U. of Alabama . The universe is too small for intelligent life to exist only on Earth. Payne Seal, senior, Mississippi State U. . Only the kind that sneak across the border. But Scully is cute. Scott Giles, senior, U. of Georgia · Even if you believe in God, you have to think that maybe God was smart enough not to put all of his eggs in one basket with the iman race. Sean Boynton, law, U. of Florida . In the millions of galaxies that exist in the universe, there must be a higher evolved civilization that is observing our world. Citialli McBee, sophomore, U. of Memphis

U. Polis

Do you expect to get a job in your major?

> Do you still want your MTV?

800/6U-VIEWS (688-4397)

More polls at

http://www.umagazine.co

Whiners and Losers

Complaining - it's the hot new spectator sport.

What better way to forget about your own shortcomings than to point out an athlete's flaws?

"He gets paid $3 million a year to catch the ball, and what does he do? He drops it. Give me $3 million and I'll catch a ball. I'll tell you that right now. And another thing, what's up with these basketball players? They spend their whole lives in a gym, they get their college paid for and they still can't hit a free throw, for cryin' out loud."

A trade is always a good target for quality complaining. Whenever your team trades a player, it's your duty to say, "That's the stupidest thing they could have done." Then rattle off statistics (true or not) about how good the traded player was or how bad the incoming player is, and recount the team's last five trades, all of which were "dumb as hell."

Let's say your team just won the World Series. It was a sweep. The pitching, hitting, fielding and umpiring were impeccable. Even the announcing was witty and insightful. Don't fret. Simply calm down, focus, and belittle the scrubs. Like this:

"How do you like that? The guy sits on the bench the entire year, maybe gives a couple of high fives or pats on the butt, and now he's got a World Series ring and a nice fat bonus. I'll get paid to sit on the bench and watch people play baseball. I'll give high fives. I'll pat people on the butt for money."

Note: A noisy bar will always quiet down right before you yell the last sentence, so be careful.

Have fun, and remember, as that lousy, no-good, overpaid catcher, Yogi Berra, says: "It ain't over till there's nothing left to complain about."

Shad Powers, Assistant Editor

ILLUSTRATION BY PAT LEWIS, PENNSYLVANIA STATE U.

No catchy headline.

No funky visual.

Just up to 30 FREE minutes of long distance.

To get it -- and Sprint's great 9¢ a minute rate -- call I-800-795-5971.

That's it. Straight to the point. Just a good, solid offer. And that's just the beginning. Start off with up to 30 FREE minutes of long distance and after it's gone, you get to enjoy Sprint's Moonlight Madness® rate of only 9 cents a minute from 9 p.m. – 9 a.m., every day.* So go ahead. Get this simple calling plan and up to 30 free minutes of long distance.

Cali 1-800-795-5971 today.

^{*}Credii iii equii to up to 30 minute: long distance calling per account based on 1,000-milii ingtit/weekend rate. Enedii issued on fina full-month's mixics in addition to the 9 cent rate surcharges apply to FÖNCARD calls. The 9 cent rate applies to domestic calls only Operator-assisted calls do not apply IntraLATA usage when authorized Offer good to new sustomers only. On some campuse, you may not be able to get this service for on-campus housing. In dialing, For off-campus calling you could use a Sprint Collegate FCNCARD with this service. Surcharges an included during 30 free minutes. Its 1996 Sprint Communications Company L.P.

TOINEWS

Particle Men

OR THOSE OF YOU WHO LIKE A little brain with your brawn -Karen Hopkin brings you the 1996 "Studmuffins of Science" calendar.

leagues.

tease

Franks says

him

just jealous because they didn't get astronomy and astrophysics at the U. of Chicago, laid down his telescope and posed for the calendar for dead last in party schools," Kold says. "Maybe this will help the stud isn't easy work. Brian Scottoline, a.k.a "Dr. January," does more than grace the cover of the calendar. He's an MD/Ph.D. student in biochemistry at Stanford U. and a competitive

Rocky Kold, a professor of "A few years back, we were voted Scientifically speaking, being a his colleagues

about the calendar. "I think that they're to be in it," he says.

the sake of the school.

school's reputation a bit."

"This was pretty much a scheme to meet guys at first," admits Hopkin, a science journalist and parttime producer for National Public Radio's Science Friday. But it turned into a mini-crusade to convince people that scientists aren't necessarily socially retarded nerds with pocket protectors, she says.

"The public thinks scientists are all bow tie-wearing geeks," Hopkin says. "Now people can see that some of them are regular guys.

The calendar comes complete with color pictures and tidbits of info on studs like Peter Franks, an assistant professor of biophysics and oceanography at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography in California. "Dr. November" attributes his studliness to good genes, and his favorite organism is the Pfiesteria piscicida.

Although the studs are dealing with their newfound fame, most of them admit that they've taken some Hey, baby. Can I offer you a pocket protector?

hours a week in the lab.

But working on the mental section of their impressive bods is what these studs do best. Brian Cole, an assistant professor of physics and research at Columbia U., is working on a long-term career in particle and nuclear physics.

"I don't think that I'd ever become a professional studmuffin, Cole says. "I might, however, if the pay was good.

The calendar is now available to the drooling - er, viewing - public in university bookstores.

Melissa Lenos, U. of Akron/ Photo courtesy of the "Studmuffins of Science" 1996 Calendar swimmer. He averages 30,000 meters a week in the pool in addition to 80 ribbing from their not-so-buff-'n'-Waste Not, Want Not

ACK DEBELL WAS JUST TRYING TO GRADUATE WHEN he helped start the U. of Colorado recycling program in the mid-'70s.

The program was just part of - environmental consermy major vation," DeBell says. "It was an independent major, too. There weren't too many conservation programs back then.

Nineteen years later, DeBell is still running his brainchild. And the world has finally taken notice.

In September, CU received the 1995 National Recycling Coalition award for Campus Recycler of the Year, beating nearly 1,500 other university entries. The award sent CU and DeBell to the top of the recycling heap.

With innovative techniques and enthusiastic students. CU Recycling Services opened an on-campus recvcling facility in 1992. Now Fortune 500 companies and government agencies are requesting the recipe for turning waste into profit.

But the big winners are the students. They actively participate in running, developing and marketing the program, and student projects are often incorporated into policy.

"I'm currently helping to improve recycling in a set of residence halls off campus," says Olympia Frascone, a freshman at CU. "We recently did a survey of 200 students on the amount of recycling they do and the convenience of recycling.

"Before the award, students were aware of CU Recycling, but they didn't realize what a big project it is. The award has helped them see the scope of the project and the opportunities for them to get involved."

The student-run operation collects more than 1,000 tons of garbage a year - nearly 40 percent of the entire waste generated on the campus of 25,000.

Seems student awareness has turned a one-man plight into a fullfledged fight - against waste.

Jim Moscou, U. of Colorado

Pop, Pop, Physics

HILE MOST STUDENTS WERE SITTING AT home studying for midterms last semester, SuChin Pak was in the swamps of Louisiana searching for alligators.

But she wasn't playing hooky she was actually working. Pak is the host of Newton's Apple, a national TV show that airs on PBS and is geared toward making science fun for teens.

The point is to find science in everyday life all over the world," says the U. of California, Berkeley junior.

Not only has she traveled to several states, her next big trip is to - get this - Tahiti.

"They were going to send me to Switzerland, but they decided on Tahiti instead. Poor me," Pak says. "I'll be doing stories on tattoos, celestial navigation and some other topics that aren't definite vet.

Pak says she was discovered by an ABC producer who asked her to host a local talk show for teens in the San Francisco Bay area. She later auditioned for the part on Newton's Apple and got it.

Pak's experiences as one of the show's five hosts have gone beyond searching for alligators to include water skiing - she's still recovering from a sprained ankle and being used as a human

They don't tell me that I'm going to be the sports person it's not that deliberate. But I'm usually the one ice surfing and doing the sports stuff."

Pak says her hectic lifestyle means missing a lot of classes because all of the studio raping is in Minnesota. But she doesn't really feel she's losing out too much on being

"It's such a great tradeoff," she says. "Sometimes I get lost in the mundane routine. Then 1 go: 'I'm 20. 1 travel all over the world. It's fun, it's easy, and I get paid to do it.

And when she's having a rough day on location, she says to herself. "Wait a minute -I'm out here learning why geese fly in V formations."

Debra D'Agostino, Syracuse U.

The world is her oyster.

The Buzz

. U. of Colorado junior Luke Gold wants to create the first scholarship specifically for HIV-positive students. "There is a strong misconception that these people don't have a life to live anymore," says Gold, who is planning a series of fund-raisers. To donate, write the Positive Future Fund, c/o CU Foundation Inc., Box 1140, Boulder, CO 80306.

· Many universities have substance-free housing, where students abstain from drugs and alcohol. Rutgers U. has gone a step further. It offers two dorms specifically for recovering addicts. A similar program at the U. of Maryland was suspended this year because it didn't have the resources to handle students' relapses

. Fired up about the Citadel and the Virginia Military Institute being forced to accept women, Citadel alumnus Lucien B. Lane wants to break a barrier himself. He plans to apply to Spelman College, an all-women's college near where he lives in Georgia, and sue if he's not admitted.

In the dumps, but not down.

me

Nothin' but Net

OINT THE EASY CHAIR AWAY FROM THE TV AND toward the computer screen. Put down the remote and pick up the mouse. The future of sports viewing may be shifting from the networks to the Internet.

The genesis of live sports coverage online began Dec. 8, 1994, at the U. of Kansas with the broadcast of a women's basketball game. U. of Oregon followed suit last fall with an audio broadcast of a Ducks football game. More than 2,400 people from 35 countries hit the site during the broadcast.

"We're not trying to replace TV or radio," says Michael Ritchey, director of the Oregon Sports Marketing Center. "We've just created what we think is a new type of interaction between sports and sports fans."

The next logical step, barring any snafus, was taken on Jan. 2, when the U. of Kansas and Cornell U. joined forces to air live video footage of a basketball game between the two schools.

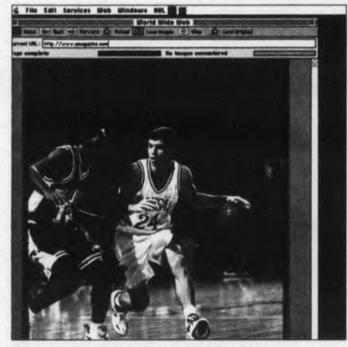

"The technology is not quite there to get a large audience," says Dean Buchan, the KU sports information director. "We can only afford to have about 30 or 50 people tuning in, but it will be an interesting experiment."

Gary Hawke, general manager of radio station KJHK, which aired KU football games on the Internet, likens the video venture to Alexander Graham Bell's first call. The technology has been there. Someone just needed to put it all together.

"We had all the ingredients but not the recipe," Hawke says.

The link between sports and technology sure has come a long way since that electric vibrating football game we played when we were kids.

Shad Powers, Assistant Editor/Photo courtesy of U. of Kansas sports information.

Now playing on a computer near you.

Bits & Bytes

E-mail jail

E-mail evidence wasn't enough to convict California institute of Technology grad student Jinsong Hu of sexual harassment. He was acquitted after spending six months in jall. But it was enough to get him expelled. Hu insists he didn't send some of the messages to his ex-girlfriend and that some of what was sent was tampered with.

Zines on screens

Helpi

In case you haven't noticed, CD-ROM is the latest in magazines. At around $10 a pop, they may seem pricey, but they feature video interviews, video and music clips and games, as well as text, for hours of fun. Check out Blender, Launch and Digizine at book and record stores.

Dallas-based Personal Security & Safety Systems Inc. will soon offer electronic key chains. In a jam, you can push a button on the chain to alort security. A screen at the security office then shows a digitized image of you and your location. The chains will cost $100, and the company is currently seeking test-market campuses.

Band on the ROM

CD-ROMs have something for everyone — even band geeks. A team of James Madison U. teachers and students has created a set of CD-ROMs for Warner Bros. to help band directors choose music. Among their features are recordings, score samples and director's notes. We're sure that's marketable, but here's an idea: include the cheerleader routines.

TILOSE

Misogyny Online

It's probably safe to say that Cornell U. freshmen Evan Camps, Rikus Linschoten, Par Sicher and Brian Waldman are about to have a very dateless year.

in October, 1995, they made a list of 75 reasons why "women (bitches) shouldn't have freedom of speech" and e-mailed it to 20 of their friends.

Within two weeks, the message was forwarded to students around the world and placed on electronic bulletin boards where thousands more students could read it. Jacquie Powers, assistant to the vice-president for university relations at Cornell, says the response from angry students was overwhelming—and almost completely electronic.

Powers logged about 100 e-mail complaints a day and the director of information technology at Cornell received at least 1,000 a day.

"There was a great outrage at the offensiveness of the message," Powers says. "Nobody disagrees that this is a very offensive message, particularly to women who have been sexually abused." (Reason No. 38 from the list "If she can't speak, she can't cry rape.")

Courtney Sears, coordinator of EQUAL, James Madison U.'s women's rights group, was impressed with the grass roots organizing involved in reaction to the list.

"It's interesting that they made a list of how great the world would be if women couldn't speak, and women responded because they can speak," Sears says.

Because Cornell does not have a hate speech code, the judicial administration did not find the authors to be in violation of campus policies. According to Powers, the four offered to do 50 hours of community service, attend sensitivity training and apologize to key administrators.

The four authors, following their lawyers' advisement, will not discuss their motivations for creating the list. Powers says the authors don't believe women really shouldn't have the right to free speech. They say the list is merely a compilation of lyrics and lines from rap songs, TV shows and T shirts.

"Nobody acts independently," Sears says. "Everyone is shaped by their environment.

"But that doesn't mean they pulled down rap lyrics directly, and the fact of the matter is that they said those things."

In this case, the keyboard is mightier than the sword.

By Sherri Eisenberg, James Madison U.

Cybersleuths

wo U. OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY, STUDENTS recently brought U.S. National Security to level DEFCON 4 when they simulated a world-wide thermonuclear war on their — whoops, wait a minute. Wrong story. Here we go....

Two U. of California, Berkeley, students recently discovered a serious security flaw on the World-Wide Web — one that could have allowed for millions of dollars in credit fraud.

Computer science grad students Ian Goldberg and Dave Wagner found that the Netscape Navigator — used by more than 8 million people to access information through the Web — had an encryption code that hackers could break easily.

The encryption code protects personal information, such as credit card numbers, while data are being transferred to Web sites on the Internet.

"If you just use Netscape for insecure things, there's no effect," Goldberg says. "If you use it to do your banking — don't." Netscape reacted immediately, releasing a new version of Navigator with a fixed version of the encryption code a week after the students' discovery. Netscape is also sponsoring a contest that offers cash rewards for users who find further security loopholes.

Wagner says users may not immediately notice any damage done by hackers who break an encryption code.

"You may not even know that they've stolen your credit card number," he says. "When money disappears off your credit card, you may have no clue that this is because you're using your browser."

The idea that Navigator's security program might be vulnerable came to them when a group of French hackers broke the encryption code of the international version of Navigator.

Ever since Goldberg and Wagner's discovery, the phones in their office have been ringing off the hook.

"Yesterday was just way hectic," Goldberg says. "At one point, I had Newsweek calling me on the phone while I was sitting in front of a CNN camera crew, and a newspaper photographer standing waiting to get a hold of me."

By Rob Zazueta, U. Of California, Berkeley/Photo by Noah Berger, U. of California, Berkeley

Berkeley grad students Ian Goldberg and Dave Wagner — welcome to the machine.

DILIFE Breaking Away

puter technology, your spring break doesn't have to be another senseless orgy of beer, bikinis and beaches. (Not that there's anything wrong with that.) So maybe it's time to step up your game a bit and go boldly where no one else is going.

After an hour or so of bouncing around the Web, we found dozens of prospective spring break destinations complete with rates. directions and even maps. It's our considered opinion that the less obvious destinations are the best. Here are a few good starting points:

The House of Valley Forge http://pages.prodigy. com/PA/greatvalleyhouse

This 300-year-old stone farmhouse is just outside Philadelphia, near Valley Forge Historical Park. It's said that George Washington used to rendezvous at this house with a secret companion known only as "Bubbles." This is your chance to learn about American history while eating Brie, drinking Chardonnay and otherwise acting like the smarmy, effete snob you've always wanted to be.

Ned Skeldon Stadium (Toledo Mud Hens)

http://cse.utoledo.edu/-zoltan/ MudHens

The Mud Hens are probably the most well-known and best-loved team in minor league baseball. Corporal Klinger of M*A*S*H* was a big fan, as was Andy Warhol. Since you're dying to know, a mud hen is another term for the American coot, a marsh bird with short wings and long legs that inhabits swamplands. Stop by historic Ned Skeldon stadium and see if you can't bribe a maintenance guy to let you on the field for a quick game of wiffle ball with your fellow travelers.

Ghost Towns and Prospecting Mines

http://www.halcyon.com/treasure

Scattered all over the West, these sites stand as testament to the pioneer spirit of the 1800s. Here's where it gets interesting - many of these operations never found the mother lode of ore for which they were mining. To wit - thar's gold in them thar hills. Explore the surrounding area with your friends, find some gold, then descend into a violent world of greed and paranoia as you betray one another for a bigger share of the booty.

New Orleans

http://www.neworleans.com

Look here, sweetheart - anyone can go to New Orleans, drink Hurricanes and pass out on Bourbon Street. Booorrriiing. The discriminating spring breaker will see The Big Easy for what it really offers passport to the exciting world of voodoo! Duck into the dark alleys of the French Quarter and you can scam John De Conqueroo roots and chicken blood for cheap. A few ritual sacrifices later, and you can curse your math prof, exorcise your dorm room and ward off evil cafeteria spirits.

Remember, these are only launching points. Plan ahead, get on the Web, and plot a superior spring break experience. Good luck, and send us a postcard.

Mustration by Shaun Carter, Wichita State U.

Guest Expert: Dick Vitale

On Spring Break: "I tell ya what, come down here. We'll have a little party at my place."

Let's Do It

OU KNOW, SOMETIMES people rip on U. Magazine for including too many stories on sex. "Sex, sex, sex," they say. "That's all you people ever write about. That and beer. And naked people. And naked people drinking beer and having sex." We prefer to let our record stand for itself. In the meantime, here's a list of funny sex euphemisms! Whoo-hoo! Clip and save! Trade with your friends!

URGE

Graphic!

Bumpin' Uglies Hide the Salami Surrendering the Pink Humpin'

Industrious!

Laying Some Pipe Bringing the Wood Installing the Cable Sowing the Seeds of Love Diaphragm Durability Experiment Burning Latex

Dynamic!

Knockin' Boots Belly Slapping The Horizontal Mambo The Horizontal Bop The Horizontal Hokey-pokey Chinese Bedsheet Dance

Athletic!

Home Run Mattress Hockey Scoring

Literary!

The Beast With Two Backs

Pleasant!

Afternoon Delight

Biblical!

Breaking a Commandment

Unwieldy!

Parkin' the Car in the Garage Taking Ol' One-Eye to the Optometrisc

Mr. Happy in the Amusement Park Scratching the Big Itch Coitus Uninterruptus

Generic!

The Nastv Makin' Whoopee

The Wild Thing Scrumping Boffing Gettin' Busy Hookin' Up Dorking Nookie

To The Point! Gettin' Some

The staff of the Daily Nebraskan - you people are sick! contributed to this, um, report. / Ilustrations by Mike Beezley, Ball State U. Ind.

Law and O.J.

EAN SHIMAMOTO STOOD AMONG hundreds of law students at New York U. School of Law, his eyes fixed on the monitor.

"We, the jury, find the defendant, Orenthal James Simpson, not guilty...."

While some students around the nation cheered, others recoiled in shock. Shimamoto, a third-year law student, was not surprised. He was embarrassed.

"It's not a question of right or wrong, but how much justice you can afford," Shimamoto says. "For those of us involved in the legal system, it's like, 'God, I'm a part of this.'"

CLASS

Shimamoto is one of thousands of law students across the country who watched the "trial of the century" with more than a cursory interest. While O.J. was being tried by a jury of his peers, the general public was passing judgment on lawyers.

Fred Moss, a law professor at Southern Methodist U., Texas, says many law students feel they bear the burden of proof in defending their profession.

"They're feeling a little victimized to some extent," Moss says. "The trial has increased the public's negative feelings about lawyers, and law students are the unfortunate victims. [The O.J. trial] was not our fault, but we're going to bear the brunt of the fallout."

Despite the blame heaped on the shoulders of America's legal practitioners, few law students seem interested in abandoning ship and backstroking toward another career.

Martin
Fisher, a thirdyear law student at the U. of Oregon, says
the trial was such an extreme example of legal theater that it won't have a long-term effect on how his peers or the public views lawyers.

"In a year or so, no one is going to remember the trial," Fisher says. "It shouldn't turn people off from wanting to be lawyers. If it does, well, there are too many lawyers any-

Law-school enrollment has been declining in recent years across the nation following an upsurge during the '80s that many law professors attribute to the popularity of L.A. Law. It's not clear, however, whether real Los Angeles lawyering will have any effect on the number of potential legal eagles vying for seats in criminal law.

"It may discourage some potential students and encourage others," says Georgetown U. law school professor Paul Rothstein. "The trial may have given them a more realistic picture of the process."

Some students are more concerned about what the legal future holds if people consider law school because of the O.J. trial.

"If it causes people to become lawyers," Fisher says, "God help us!"

Sean Smith, U. of Oregon/Illustration by Stephen Tenebrini, U. of Minnesota

The eyes of justice.

Guest Expert: Dick Vitale

On the O.J. trial:
"The length of that trial, man, they needed Judge
Dickle V. up there.
I would've moved that sucker along a lot quicker."

Nothing like poker and cigar night with the... uh... guys.

Seeegars: Plugging Away

HOSE BLUE EYES. THOSE PLUMP LIPS.
That fat cigar. Fat cigar? Yes, that is a stogie in supermodel Linda Evangelista's dainty hand on the cover of — wait, that's not Cosmo or Vogue. It's Cigar Aficionado! What is going on here?

How about some serious cigar smoking among celeb types and students alike? The stogie business has practically tripled in the past two years, according to Paul Macdonald, owner of Boston's historic David P. Ehrlich Co. cigar store. "It's huge," he says. "We can hardly contain it."

PULSE

This growing number of cigar smokers includes not only the aforementioned Evangelista but also a number of planet Hollywood residents: Jason Priestley, Tia Carrere, Demi Moore and John Travolta, plus Madonna and Arnold Schwartzenegger, to name a few.

Back in Beantown, cigar-store proprietor Macdonald says that although his typical customers are in their late 20s to early 40s and upscale, he has seen a definite increase in his college-going customers — particularly grad students. "If he's a poor college student, he still wants to be upscale," he says.

There is, of course, a difference between stinky dime-store cigars that conjure images of smoky college poker games and, say, the fancy imported cigars President Clinton smokes.

John Cox, co-owner of A. Curtis Draper

Tobacconist in Washington, D.C., says the market for domestic, machine-made (read: cheap) cigars has been sliding for years. But premium handmade cigars, which cost upwards of $3 each, are in high demand all around.

After 27 years in the cigar business, Cox says this so-called resurgence of cigar smoking is part reality, part media myth. He doesn't deny a sales boom in the past three years, but if the media weren't there to make cigar culture so cool, he says, students wouldn't know where to begin.

Jeanne Geier, a senior at the U. of South Alabama, thinks smoking in general is disgusting. However, she says she'd pick a cigar smoker over a cigarette smoker any day. "Cigars are more distinguished," she says. "Usually people have a reason for smoking cigars — some kind of occasion."

Just the woody taste and spicy smell of cigars — plus her cigar-smoking boyfriend Kyle MacLachlan — are reason enough for cover girl Evangelista to light up, she says in Cigar Micingado.

Ben Michelson, a U. of Connecticut senior, smokes cigars for several reasons. His father and grandfather both smoke cigars. Plus, he landed the good stuff — Cuban cigars — when he visited Jamaica. But the clincher has been working on Wall Street for the past three summers, he says.

"A lot of bankers smoke cigars."

Story and photo by John Youngs, U. of Connecticut

LORDS ME

College athletes don the red, white and blue to battle for the gold, silver and bronze

BY DAN MILLER

ARIZONA STATE U.
ILLUSTRATION BY STACY HOLMSTEDT, ARIZONA STATE U.
PHOTO BY DAVID BLACK

s YOU STRIDE DOWN THE TUNNEL, you feel the vibration emanating from the crowd of 80,000 fans roaring. It pulsates through your nervous system. Images from your life infiltrate your stream of consciousness. The moment of anticipation is intoxicating. Your Olympic fantasies always seemed so distant — a part of a future unknown.

That future is now.

For a select few premier college athletes in the country, that magical time will soon become theirs as they take their place in history along with other athletes who have marched behind the American flag during Opening Ceremonies.

But the honor of wearing the red, white and blue is not bestowed upon just anyone. Some are born with it; others achieve it through tireless dedication. But most would agree that it takes a special talent to become an Olympian.

"I think it's a long-term goal for everyone. It's just a matter of if it's a reality or not," says Tom Dolan, a junior at the U. of Michigan who is one of the top male swimmers in the United States.

Dolan, like a handful of other college athletes, is hoping to be in Atlanta on July 19, 1996.

As the current world-record holder in the 400meter individual medley and the U.S. Swimmer of the Year for the past two years, Dolan already appears to have an inside track on making the cut. The five-time NCAA champion practices twice a day for a total of six hours to ensure that he stays in world-class condition.

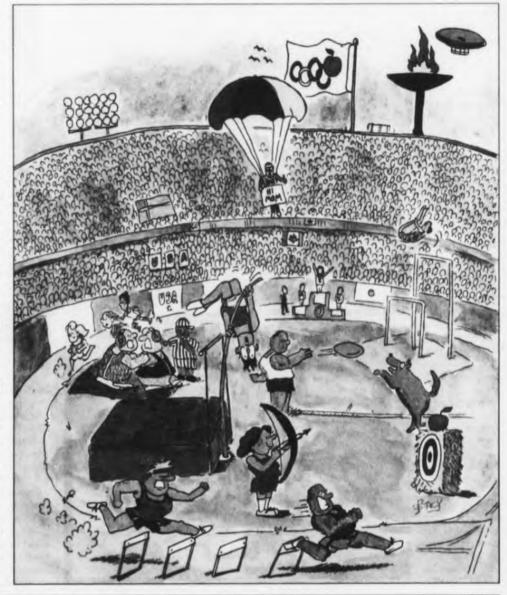

With more than 20 individual records highlighting a monstrous list of achievements, one might wonder if an Olympic medal would make his résumé complete.

"I think so," admits Dolan, who became the first man to set three American records at the NCAA championships since Matt Biondi in 1987. "I've achieved a lot at a young age, and I think an Olympic medal is the biggest accomplishment in any athletic career. That would top it off."

Gym dandles

It seems every Olympics there's one athlete who has all of America's hopes and dreams firmly on his or her shoulders. This year, the eyes of the nation will be focused squarely on gymnast Shannon Miller. She captured America's heart by coming out of nowhere to win five medals in the '92 games at Barcelona, including silvers in the all-around and balance beam, and bronzes in the uneven bars, floor exercise and team competitions.

This time around, the U. of Oklahoma freshman is a little stronger, a little older and ready to make a run for the gold. The difference is, she won't be able to sneak up on the rest of the field. "The last time I was going in as kind of the underdog, and that was a position I was comfortable with at the time," Miller says. "But two or three years after, I had to go into competitions on top, which is a lot harder. You just have to go out and compete and not worry about which place you're in."

"I've already made two World Championship teams, so I could rest, but it's just not as big as the Olympics."

> KIP SIMONS OHIO STATE U.

Miller says team medals are at the top of her wish list, but she admits she does have a bit of a golden eye. "That would be the ultimate," she says. "Right now I'm just thinking about making the team. The gold medal is my longrange goal."

For Ohio State U. gymnast Kip Simons, making the Olympic team would fit nicely into his theory of destiny. Simons, 23, says his parents actually named him after Kenyan runner Kip Keino. Keino ran to glory in the 1972 Olympics and pioneered training in high altitudes to attain peak performances.

"It goes along with the whole Olympic spirit," Simons says. As a member of the past two U.S. World Championship teams, he already has seen his Olympic dream postponed twice.

"I can remember '88 rolling around and everybody saying that would be my year," Simons recalls. "Then '92 rolled around and I thought that would be my year. I never would've guessed I'd be 23 and still trying to make it. That's considered an old man!'

Simons, whose college eligibility ran out last season, has his sights set on the Olympic trials in June.

"Just that word gives me a bone-chilling feeling inside," he confesses. "It's something I've worked at for 17 years, and it's going to come down to one competition. It's huge.

Tve already made two World Championship teams, so in some respects I could rest, but it's just not as big as the Olympics. It's just not the same if you don't make that Olympic team.'

According to gymnast and 1992 Olympic bronze medalist Dominique Dawes, Simons has the

"I would just say to take it one day at a time and try not to lose focus," says Dawes, who is now an 18-year-old freshman at the U. of Maryland.

Dawes, who earned a ream medal in '92, says her goal for '96 is to capture some individual hardware.

'My tricks are more difficult than they were in '92, and I'm working on being a lot more confident going into competitions," she says.

Diamond hope

Another star who isn't worried about high expectations is Stanford U. baseball player A.J. Hinch, considered by many to be the premier catcher in the nation. Hinch, who became the first player in history to spend five years with the USA national team, is as close to a lock to make the squad as you can get.

"It adds some motivation, and it challenges me," says Hinch. He was among 60 players invited to the fall Olympic tryouts. "If anything, it makes me a better player, and I want to be a better player."

Hinch was selected by the Minnesota Twins in the third round of the 1995 June amateur draft, but he opted to return to school. He says the opportunity to compete in the Olympics was a major factor in his decision not to turn pro.

"It's a once-in-alifetime thing," Hinch says. "It will be a special feeling and quite an honor.

One man Hinch may be flashing signs for is U. of Tennessee pitching ace, R.A. Dickey. The junior righthander remembers the time he realized he was-

"I had never really pitched much, but I always had a pretty good arm," Dickey says. "One day when I was probably 8 or 9 years old, I started pitching, and to be honest, nobody could hit it. From then on, I was a pitcher. I enjoy doing it. I like having that much control over

Last summer, Dickey recorded a 1.94 ERA while logging more innings (46.1) than anyone else on the Team USA pitch-

Rebuilding the South

When guests come to town, it's natural to try to tidy things up, maybe fix that run-ning toilet — make them feel at home. But what if 2.5 million people were visiting?

With the Olympic Games coming to Atlanta in six months, the colleges and universities around town are getting ready for the impact that this once-in-a-lifetime event will have on their camp

As the official "Home of the 1996 Olympic Village," the Georgia Institute of Technology, located in the middle of downtown Atlanta, will see the most action from the Games

Construction workers have been sawing, drilling and hammering since 1991, and the noise has forced the students to build a tolerance to all the banging and

"It's really great to get all the additions to the campus, but it's been a real incon-venience," says Tech junior Jason Tsai.

The Atlanta Committee for the Olympic nes (ACOG) built a new aquatics cent to house the swimming and diving events and helped remodel the Alexander Memo rial Coliseum to make it fit for boxing.

Along with the construction of athletic facilities, several new apartment-style dorms have been built to house the athletes and support staff. Sophomore Rosie Tomlinson is one of many students already reaping benefits from the new

"It's really a good deal," Tomlinson says. "It's a lot cheaper, closer to campus, and the place is very clean. It's much nicer than the regular old dorms."

In the summer, the new dorms and the rest of the campus will be shut off to everyone not affiliated with the Olympics. This will cause some juggling of class

The summer session, lasting only eight weeks, will begin in mid-August and end at the beginning of October. Fall quar-ter, also shortened, will start a week later and last until Dec. 20.

"There's no doubt that Georgia Tech students are being heavily impacted by the Olympics," says Ashley Gigandet, Olympics planner for Tech's Office of Facilities. "Yet, the Olympics will leave some wonderful legacies on our campus

Georgia State U. will also share in the festivities. An exhibit on the history of women in the Olympic Games will be held on campus, and the folks at GSU will be playing "watch the birdie," as they host

"It's good for the campus. It's going to bring a lot more people to Georgia State, but as far as the traffic and all the people coming, that could be a little scary," says GSU sophomore Vanessa DeBow.

GSU is strictly a commuter school, but an addition to its campus will be able to house 2,000 people after the Garnes. The new on-campus housing may make the school more attractive to out-of-state stu-

Some other colleges will help the cause. Spelman College will provide practice tennis courts, Morehouse College will hold the basketball preliminaries and Clark Atlanta U. will house the field hockey venue Facilities are not the only resource that will be used in the Games. Students from Atlanta-area schools have shown interest in volunteering during the Olympics. In fact, several colleges have formed stude groups to coordinate their efforts.

"A lot of students are involved with vol-unteering or employment with ACOG," says Annette Lee, director of college relations at Kennesaw State College. "This will be an interesting adventure for all of Atlanta, and we're glad to be a part of that adventure."

Being at the epicenter of all the preparation and planning has caused some students to come down with a bad case of Olympic fever.

"The Olympics is really catching on," Tomlinson says. "We've been watching the construction all along, and you can just feel the spirit in the air. It's definitely a good thing."

By David Skinner, Georgia Institute of

To reach the pinnacle of any profession is an accomplishment of giant proportion, but the tradition and pageantry that go along with the Olympics are often more impressive than the athletic feats.

U. of Southern California sophomore outfielder/pitcher Jacque Jones says the magnitude of the Olympic experience will last forever.

'Even when you get there, it won't mean as much to you as it will 10, 15 or 20 years down the line," says Jones. "You'll be too caught up in the moment. But someday you can show your kids and your grandkids that you were there."

Hinch already is looking toward the possible fulfillment of his Olympic dream.

"I've talked to former Olympians, and they tell me, 'You don't know what it's like until you get there," Hinch says. "My coach said the opening ceremonies were one of the most powerful times

When we're walking down that tunnel and there's 80,000 Americans chanting U-S-A, then I'll Dan Miller is the official college journalist of the 1996 Summer Olympics.

HOOP!

There it is.

Basketball — it's not just for men anymore

BY SHAD POWERS

Assistant Editor Montana photo by Annie Rubens North Dakota State photos by Robert Nelson

HEN TALK TURNS TO COLLEGE hoops, the names Allen Iverson, Marcus Camby and Charles O'Bannon are always bantered about, while the names of high-scoring female All-Americans like Kara Wolters and Vickie Johnson only draw blank stares.

At most schools, no matter how successful the women's basketball team is, the men's squad garners most of the headlines and fan appreciation.

Even winning a national championship doesn't necessarily turn the tide. The women hoopsters of the U. of Connecticut and U. of North Carolina can attest to that — both have recently won national titles and still don't outdraw their male counterparts.

Still, some women's teams have been able to turn the tables and actually pack the gyms for every contest. The popularity of women's basketball is growing by leaps and bounds. In the 1982–83 season, 1,147,954 people attended Division I women's hoops games. In the 1994–95 season, 3,602,511 people cheered for their favorite team. The growing trend shows no sign of stopping any time soon. Of the top 50 women's teams in average attendance for the 1994–95 season, 70 percent had a higher average than the previous year. The women's teams at Texas Tech U., Southwest Missouri State U., U. of Colorado and U. of Washington all outdrew the men's teams in 1994–95.

"At this particular time, the unique element is not how the women's teams compare to the men's but how well they stand on their own," Southwest Missouri State head coach Cheryl Burnett says. "That media and fans are paying more attention to the women's game is a big step."

Burnett says administrative support is just as crucial as media coverage in earning national respect. The Bears averaged 7,186 fans per game for the 1994–95 season, which ranked them fifth in the country among women's teams.

"Schools are looking at us and saying, 'If a school like Southwest Missouri State can do it, why can't we?" Burnett says.

Some schools have used the philosophy of recruiting players from the local community to help pack the stands with interested fans. The theory is that if the fans are familiar with the players, they will come out to see them.

The U. of Montana seems to have mastered this tactic. It helped the Lady Grizzlies attain the 10th highest attendance in the nation for the 1994–95 season — 5,235 per game. On this year's 15-person squad, 12 are from the state of Montana.

"A lot of our fans followed us in high school and keep supporting us at college," says sharp-shooting Lady Griz senior Carla Beattie, who missed most of last season with a tendon injury. "They like to talk to us after the game, and little kids run up to us and ask for autographs. It's great."

Another factor that helps boost the attendance at places like Montana and Southwest Missouri State is the absence of a local professional sports franchise. Folks from Montana would have to travel to Seattle or Vancouver to see pro sports, and those at Southwest Missouri State have to hike all the way to Chicago or Dallas to see some big-time hoops action.

"We're about the best thing going in Missoula," Beattie says. "I've always felt that we were very popular. The fans here just seem to love us."

When you talk about basketball hotbeds, North Dakota is generally not the first state that leaps to mind. But the women at North Dakota State U. have the town of Fargo buzzing. The Bison have won four Division II national

The Bison have won four Division II national championships in the past five years and consistently have standing-room-only crowds for their games.

"As far as college spirit is concerned, these fans are unbelievable," says Kasey Morlock, a 6-foot-1 All-American junior for the Bison. "Whether it's at the mall or church, everyone wants to talk basketball."

The relative obscurity that normally goes with playing women's college basketball is nonexistent at NDSU. In class, at the cafeteria or anywhere on campus, the Bison hoopsters have earned celebrity status.

"When you're tall, you kind of stick out anyway," says Morlock, who averaged 19.5 points and 7.8 rebounds per game last season, "but people don't really treat you like a star. They just want to get to know you better. They're just true sports fans."

Coming into a sold-out Bison Sports Arena is murder on opponents. Since the 1989–90 season, NDSU has an unbelievable record of 93–5 at home.

The Bison have led the nation in attendance for a Division II school for four consecutive years, averaging 3,814 fans during the 1994–95 campaign.

"The teams that aren't used to it have a problem with the noise," says 5-9 sophomore Rachael Otto. "It can be a huge advantage."

More small-town heroines can be found in the small town of Eau Claire, Wis. The Blugolds (school colors are blue and gold) of the U. of Wisconsin, Eau Claire, have led the nation in Division III attendance for three straight years. With the noisy fans packing the stands for every game, the Blugolds have not lost a regular season home game in four years.

Super hoopers.

"We definitely have a ton of community support," Eau Claire head coach Lisa Stone says. "It's wonderful to have such a home-court advantage. The winning streak is attributed directly to the fan support."

The modest Stone says, "We ought do well again this year, as long as I don't screw 'em up."

Power of the press

A certain cycle seems to surround the successful franchises. Start winning, pack the stands, use the large fan support to woo talented recruits, keep winning and keep packing the stands. The x-factor in this equation is the media.

Ceal Barry, head coach of the highly successful program at the U. of Colorado, says she credits the media for aiding the recent surge of popularity in women's basketball. The Buffaloes drew 5,538 fans per game during the 1994–95 season, putting them eighth on the national list.

"The media have really picked up on women's basketball," Barry says. "More games are televised, the evening newscasts include women's basketball now and the number of media credentials given out at last year's Final Four was staggering."

With the creation of the USA national women's team and speculation of a possible professional women's hoops league, the sky seems to be the limit for the sport's athletes and coaches.

This trend may make long-standing basketball terms like "man-to-man defense," "ball-you-man," "three-man-weave" and "Hey, man! Throw me the ball," things of the past.

Shad Powers used to spend his weekends inside watching sports on TV, but now that he lives in California, he spends them inside watching sports on a TV one block from the beach.

A Grizzly roar.

They are the champions.

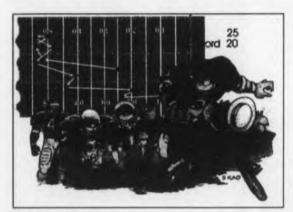

TAKE ME BACK TO THE BALL GAME

U. Magazine's top 10 college sports highlights... and a few more, too

BY ROBERT MANKER

ASSISTANT EDITOR
ILLUSTRATION BY SHIN KAO, U. OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY

T IS THE ESSENCE OF SPORT TO ACHIEVE, TO WITNESS and to recall the spectacular, the improbable, the unbelievable. But the world of college sports has provided far too many extraordinary achievements and moments of shining excellence to mention them all. So we've chosen what we think are the 10 greatest accomplishments from an era you should easily recall — since 1980. Do you remember...

1. The play

The conclusion to the Nov. 20, 1982, U. of California, Berkeley vs. Stanford U. game remains the most famous play in the history of college football. Cal's amazing five-lateral kickoff return for a touchdown sealed the Bears' 25–20 win over Stanford and earned it a place on highlight reels for generations to come.

Stanford went ahead 20–19 on a field goal with a now infamous four seconds left, but it wasn't in the cards for the Cardinal. With only 10 men on the field, Cal's Kevin Moen fielded the Stanford on-side kick and lateraled to special teams captain Richard Rodgers. Rodgers had called the play by ordering his teammates to pass the ball off every time a tackle appeared imminent.

Rodgers then lateraled to Dwight Garner, who lateraled back to Rodgers, who lateraled to Marlet Ford, who lateraled to Kevin Moen. Moen finally scored the touchdown, setting up the legendary crash scene between him and Stanford trombone player Gary Tyrell, a member of the Cardinal marching band who had stormed the field before the conclusion of the play. How does the old saying go... it's not over till the trombone player is flattened?

2. Tar Heels kick it at UNC

A team can dominate in the short term, such as in the final seconds of an event, or it can dominate over the long run, such as for a period of years. U. of North Carolina's women's soccer team has dominated a lot of moments over a lot of years. The Tar Heels have won 11 of the 13 NCAA women's soccer titles since the first was awarded in 1983, including nine straight from 1986 to 1994. They have an overall record of 231-2-8 since the 1986 season and a 42-2 mark in NCAA tournament play. In that stretch, the Tar Heels have logged win streaks of an NCAArecord 103 matches, 101 matches, 92 matches and 35 matches. They have an all-time record of 348-10-10 in their 17 years of existence and are 153-2-2 at Chapel Hill. Talk about a home-field advantage.

UNC booters get a leg up on the competition.

3. The miracle in Miami

Remember the old confidencebuilding story about the little engine that could? This isn't the first time Doug Flutie's 1984 season as the Boston College quarterback has been compared to it. On Nov. 23, 1984, the 5-foot-9 3/4-inch Flutie, short by big-game quarterback standards, turned in one of the biggest conclusions ever to a college football game. His 48-yard touchdown pass over three defenders and into the waiting hands of Gerald Thelan with no time left gave BC a 47-45 upset-win over host U. of Miami. The pass capped an 80-yard drive Flutie engineered in the final 28 seconds without the benefit of the two timeouts he had at his disposal. The nationally televised game was the most-watched game of the season, and it propelled Flutie to the 1984 Heisman Trophy.

4. More than corn

The U. of Iowa wrestling team knows a little something about big finishes. The Hawkeyes have won 11 of the 16 NCAA Division I championships since 1980, including a stretch of seven from 1980 to Hawkeye wrestlers: the half-nelson kings.

1986. The team has won 22 straight Big Ten Conference championships (16 since 1980) and four additional national titles prior to 1980. In the 19 seasons (including two prior to 1980) legendary coach Dan Gable has headed the program, it has produced 137 All-Americans, 72 NCAA finalists and 37 national champions — far outdistancing any other team in all three categories.

5. Destiny's darlings

The march North Carolina State U. made to the 1983 NCAA Division I men's basketball title may be the most improbable and heartwarming stretch run ever. Under late coach Jim Valvano, the Wolfpack earned its NCAA tournament berth with narrow wins over Wake Forest U., North Carolina and U. of Virginia in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament. Its slim margins of victory continued into the NCAA Tournament, with five of its six games decided by seven points or less and four of those by just one or two points. NC State took the trophy on the strength of Lorenzo Charles' putback slam with two seconds remaining in the 'pack's thrilling 54–52 championship win over a heavily favored U. of Houston team.

6. Batman

Many people say it's the hardest thing to do in sports — to hit with a wooden stick a ball moving at speeds up to 100 mph. Oklahoma State U. baseball player Robin Ventura not only did that quite frequently during the 1987 season but often reached base safely in the process. Ventura got hits in 68 of OSU's 72 games that year, including an NCAA-record 58-game hitting streak.

7. A perfect 35

When the U. of Connecticut women's hoops squad finished the 1994–95 season with a perfect 35–0 record, it marked the most wins in a season by a college basketball team — men's or women's — without a loss. The Huskies' march to the national title included wins over traditional powers U. of Tennessee and Stanford. It's considered by many to be the most dominating season ever in the history of collegiate team sports.

8. Devils of a time

Christian Laettner's overtime buzzer-beater against U. of Kentucky in the 1992 NCAA men's basketball semifinals lifted Duke U. to its fifth consecutive Final Four appearance — second only to the record 10 UCLA earned from 1967 to 1976 — and ultimately to its second straight national title. The 104–103 Blue Devil win is considered by many to be the greatest game in NCAA Tournament history.

Hey, Dukel Raise your hand if you're No. 1.

9. Volunteers of America

Since the 1982 creation of an NCAA Division I basketball championship for women, Tennessee's team has fared better than any other. The Lady Vols won it all in 1987, 1989 and 1991, finished second in 1984 and 1995 and third in 1982, 1986 and 1988. No team can match Tennessee's overall record of 389-81 (.828 winning percentage) during that span or its 273-33

Lady Vois win - again and again and again.

(.892 pct.) mark since its 1986-87 championship season. The Lady Vols have won 30 or more games five times during that same stretch.

10. Champ of champs

Until 1994, overall excellence in college athletic departments was seldom recognized nationally. That all changed with the introduction of the Sears Director's Cup, the collegiate all-sports trophy awarded to the school with the best overall athletic finishes in a single academic year. Not only did Stanford win the 1995 trophy, but the Cardinal athletic department is also believed to have won the most national team championships since 1980 with 46 — 28 for men and 18 for women. The 18 women's championships is an all-time record.

So, you think we forgot...

Keith Smart's buzzer-beater for U. of Indiana in the 1987 NCAA men's basketball final; the 1994 Kentucky men's basketball team's 31-point comeback win over Louisiana State U.; Charlie Ward's two-sport excellence at Florida State U. from 1990 to 1994; Virginia's streak of four consecutive men's soccer titles from 1991 to 1994; Villanova U.'s thrilling win over Georgetown U. in the 1985 NCAA men's basketball final; U. of Arkansas' dominance in men's track and cross country; Louisiana State's dominance in women's track; Kordell Stewart's Hail Mary touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook ending the 1994 U. of Colorado at U. of Michigan football game; Michael Jordan's game-winning shot for North Carolina in the 1982 NCAA Tournament; Tyus Edney's layup against U. of Missouri to keep UCLA's bid for the 1995 NCAA men's hoops title alive; and Stanford's dominance of women's tennis?

We didn't.

Robert Manker holds the unofficial U. Magazine record of 1,432 days without physical activity. That mark is not expected to be broken.

BY GLENN McDONALD

Tha Dogg Pocket Pound Dogg Food Band

The Verve Pipe "My complaint about Jerry Harrison is that he's on the phone too much, of the Verve Pipe, the poppy post-punk band recently signed by RCA. Harrison, formerly of the Talking Heads, is produc-ing the band's third album — an as-yet-untitled col-lection of melodic power pop. "He's a great guy, but I just wanted to pinch him a few times."

The Verve Pipe have enjoyed a remarkably quick ascent to major-label status — to the extent that they can now playfully bitch about Jerry Harrison's phone eticuette phone etiquette.

It happened like this:
After playing a show in Kalamazoo, Mich., last year, an RCA representative approached the band at the bar.

"We'd had a handful of reps checking us out, and I was already disgusted by all the phoniness," says vocalist, guitarist and principal songwriter Bryan Vander Ark. "But [the RCA rep] came up after the show with a detailed list song by song — of things he liked and didn't like about the set. We thought, 'All right. This guy mean

With the new album due in February, a possible European tour on the horizon and a track on the new XTC tribute album (next to such luminaries as Sarah McLachlan and Joe Jackson), the band has barely had time to catch its breat

But the boys still find time to be occasionally

"We were watching TV or something in the studi when in walks Andy Partridge [of the aforemen-tioned XTC]. I just lost it. I love XTC.

"I looked at him and ent, 'Holy shit. Andy

For more information on the Verve Pipe, call 800-951-PIPE. On the Web, they're at http://www.luma.com/ The_Verve_Pipe.

Rating System

Rumpelstiltskin

Hansel and Gretel

Goldilocks Tom Thumb

Ol' Bleedy and His Magic Soul Kiss

Genius/GZA Liquid Swords

Death Row

Geffen

The East Coast/West Coast debate will forever rage in hip-hop, and that's a good thing.

When New York rap began faltering in the late '80s, the new style came straight outta Compton. Each camp keeps its rival crews busy, but if the latest releases from L.A.'s Death Row records and New York's Wu Tang dynasty are any indication, it's time to look east again - because the sun is setting in the west.

For all the controversy surrounding the debut release from Death Row's Tha Dogg Pound, Dogg Food is a remarkably safe album. This is strictly gangsta-by-the-numbers. It's solid, but we've heard it all before. When rapper/producers Daz and Kurupt bring all the traditional Death Row elements together - a fresh p-funk beat, a loping rhyme and Nate Dogg or Michel'le in the back they can't be touched. But for every transcendent moment, you have to wade through more and more of this repetitive, adolescent playa-ho-bitch-gangstakeepin-it-real crap. Time Warner and Bob Dole might find it all evil and destructive, but rap fans are starting to see it for what it is. Tired.

Now with the Wu Tang Clan, you may not always understand what's going on, but at least it's interesting, whatever it is. The latest solo outing from this Staten Island crew comes from the MC alternately known as Genius, GZA or Maximillion. Liquid Swords is filled with the arcane samples, inscrutable rhymes and twisted kung fu/comic book references Wu Tang have come to be known for. With GZA, it's all about getting on the mike, and his intricate rapping is dense and relentless. The tracking here is strictly Gotham - dark, claustrophobic textures over stomping beats and urban street-sound samples. GZA and the Wu are on to a new analogue for rap's streetscape narratives, one in which keeping it real means taking it to another level.

Frank Black The Cult of Ray

American

Frank Black knows a little something about punk rock. As frontman for legendary '80s deconstructionists the Pixies, Black (then known as Black Francis) took his obsessions of sex, sickness and outer space and wrapped them around furious rhythms and Iggy Pop guitars.

With The Cult of Ray (a reference to sci-fi legend Ray Bradbury), Black is coming in hard, fast and low. More aggressive than any of his previous solo releases, Ray is a bullying response to the current crop of bubble-gum punk rockers. The guitars crunch and wail, mutating any innocent melody that happens along into a freakish punk-pop mooncalf. Occasionally a few Doolittle-era pop riffs peek through ("The Marsist," "I Don't Want to Hurt You"), but for the most part Black's got the pedal to the metal and the volume on 11. Take it from the man himself: "I like distortion/When I bar chord."

Right on.

Barenaked Ladies Born On A Pirate Ship

Reprise

16

When these Canadian upstarts hit the States four years ago with their solid debut album Gordon, their pure pop sensibilities earned them a sizable cult following and a legitimate radio hit, "If I Had A Million Dollars."

Unfortunately, the Ladies haven't been able to capture the effortless grace of Gordon since. 1994's ambitious Maybe You Should Drive suffered from a lack of oomph, and Pirate Ship fares little better. Many tracks drag, and some are so boldly unappealing as to make you wonder if somehow you're not getting the joke. And you shouldn't have to worry about that kind of thing, especially when great songs like "This is Where it Ends" and "Break Your Heart" jump out and remind you how good this band can get

But, hey - records, schmecords. They're still a stellar live band, infamous for loopy covers of Public

RADIO, RADIO

- mashing Pumpkins, Mellon Collie and the filnite Sachess, Virgin loss Hog, Boss Hog, DGC locket from the Crypt, Scream, Dracula,

- Scream!, Interscope
 4. Pharcyde, Labcabincalifornia, Delicious Vinyl
 5. Sonic Youth, Washing Machine, DGC
 6. Meat Puppets, No Joke, Island
 7. Oasis, (What's The Story) Morning Glory?, - 8. The Amps, Pacer, Elektra
 9. Raming Lips, Clouds Taste Metallic, Warner
 10. Sunny Day Real Estate, Sunny Day Real Estate, Sub Pop

Chart based solely on college radio airplay. Contributing radio stations: KRNU, U. of Nebraska: KTRU, Rice U., Texas; KUCB, U. of Colorado, Boulder; KUOM, U. of Minnesota; KWVA, U. of Oregon; WCBN, U. of Michigan; WFAL, Bowling Green State U., Ohio; WUTK, U. of Tennessee, Knoxville, and WWVU, West Virginia U.

The U. Radio Chart is sponsored by

ORGANIC CARE

Guest Expert: Dick Vitale

On music: "I used to love the Platters - You know (in a not-so-pleasing timbre) 'In the sti-ill, of the nillght.' I can't sing, man. (In an even-less-pleasing timbre) 'On-lees youuuu."

Enemy, Duran Duran and Metallica. Check them out when they come to town, and bring a box of macaroni and cheese. They'll explain it to you later.

More reviews, more releases, plus sound bytes at http://www.umagazine.com

Rapid Fires

movement. A little too earnest, maybe, but this is among the tightest hardcore out there, straight-edge Shelter or otherwise. Mantra Various Artists Roadrunne Saturday Morning Shelter is Cartoons the bindu band in a movement

they're calling Krishnacore, a branch of hardcore

MCA The best thing we've seen since third grade — Matthew Sweet ("Scooby Doo"), the Ramones ("Spiderman"), Liz Phair ("The Tra La La Song") and, oh, Sublime, Frente!, Violent Femmes. Get happy!

associated with the Hare Krishna

Therapy? Infernal Love ARM

With Infernal Love, Therapy? have abandoned their previous techno-hard rock approach for a more eclectic mix of styles. Somehow, the band manages to be two years ahead of and five years behind the times. How do they do that?

Zuriani Zuriani

The work of this Malaysian-born artist is being hyped as alternative world beat music, combining structural traditions of both the West and East. This multimedia CD (PC and Mac compatible) sufficiently dazzles, but it's the music underneath that matters.

Bad Religion The Gray Race

West Coast punk institution Bad Religion's albums continue to get more melodic and complex, and having '80s pop maestro Ric Ocasek (The Cars) behind the boards streamlines the sound nicely. Yeah, they're getting older - but hey, so are you.

BY BONNIE DATT

HIS WINTER, THEATERS WILL BE chock full of screwball comedies that will tickle your funny bone, winsome romances that will touch your heart and hair-raising adventures that will fondle - hey! Keep the hands on the popcorn, buster. That's not what they mean by feel-good movie of the year.

Bed of Roses

New Line

When a man you've never met suddenly gives you flowers, that's ... brilliance (chicks love that stuff). Or stupidity (that's expensive). But odds are on the former, if Christian Slater's doing the sending. Mary Stuart Masterson (Benny and Joon) is the sendee, a workaholic who needs a pick-me-up.

Broken Arrow

John Woo, who has directed some of the most kick-ass action sequences out there, takes to the air. John Travolta and Christian Slater play Stealth bomber pilots pitted against each other in a race to recover a stolen nuclear weapon. (English, Cantonese subtitles.) (Just kidding.)

Two if by Sea

Warner Bros

Comedian Denis Leary plays a petty thief who has to blend in with rich folks to pull off his latest job. Sandra Bullock (The Net) plays the girlfriend who starts to prefer blue blood over blue collar. Expect extreme cuteness and several riffs on the joys of smoking. (The cute one would be Bullock.)

Black Sheep

Paramoun

In Tommy Boy, Chris Farley played a screw-up trying to get into the family business. David Spade was supposed to keep him out of trouble. In this, Farley is the screw-up brother of a gubernatorial candidate. Spade is supposed to keep him out of trouble.

Mr. Holland's Opus

Hollywood Picture

Richard Dreyfuss stars in a moving drama about the career that got away. He's a musician who takes a temporary job as a teacher. When temporary stretches to 30 years, it'll take at least a music-filled sequence with slow dissolves to make him realize that those who can, sometimes do - teach.

Beautiful Girls

This movie stars Matt Dillon, Timothy Hutton, Michael Rapaport, Rosie O'Donnell.... Wait, the title says - oh, and Lauren Holly, Mira Sorvino, Annabeth Gish and... drum roll please... Uma Thurman. Uh huh. And Natalie Portman (The Professional) is the beautiful-girlin-training.

Mr. Wrong

Touchstone Picture

Before While You Were Sleeping, Bill Pullman was always a Mr. Wrong. With Sandra

Bullock's help, he became a Mr. Right. So now he's ready to be a seeming Mr. Right who's actually Mr. Wrong. All right? All right. Ellen DeGeneres (TV's Ellen) plays Ms. Right.

Rumble in the Bronx

New Line

Hong Kong? Phooey! Jackie Chan plays a Hong Kong cop who didn't think he'd have to do any cop stuff while he was in the States for a wedding. But his family's smack dab in the middle of the South Bronx. Heck, you need to be a martial arts expert just to get through to the cake.

Dead Man Walking

Gramercy

Sean Penn plays a death row inmate. Susan

Sarandon plays a nun who becomes his pen pal. He turns out to be a likable sort, and they fall and love and live happily ever- well, not quite. He's pretty much a crumb, but she does take pity on him and fights to save him from execution.

The Juror

Again, Demi Moore plays a single mother, but this time she doesn't have to wear a scarlet "A" for it. She gets on the jury for the trial of a mobster. If she votes guilty, she and her little boy may get the death penalty. Alec Baldwin also stars as one of the bad guys.

City Hall

Castle Rock

A 6-year-old is killed in a shootout. The SuperFriends gather to... oops, wrong Hall. Al Pacino plays a popular New York mayor. John Cusack is his devoted deputy mayor. Bridget Fonda is the lawyer who will turn the city (and probably Cusack) upside down to solve the case.

Eye for an Eye

else could play the gutsy mom but the woman who, between movies and TV, has had every possible tragedy befall her babies? Here, Sally Field faces a much worse foe than Robin Williams in a dress.

Dunston Checks In

20th Century Fox

There's nothing like a simian to perk up a comedy. You've got it - Dunston's an orangutan who wreaks havoc on the life of hotel manager Robert Grant (Jason Alexander, TV's Seinfeld). Paul "Pee Wee" Reubens plays the animal control officer. Just don't get a banana peel near that set!

> Previews! Reviews! Movie Trailers! http://www.umagazine.com

The Reel Deal

Nightjohn

OK, I'm in college. I know how to read. I know it's important. Why would a movie like Nightjohn, which tells of a mythical slave who escapes but returns to teach other slaves to read and write, appeal to me?

From the set in Sumter, S.C., Carl Lumbly (TV's MANTIS, Cagney and Lacey), who plays Nightjohn, explains that it wasn't until college that he really learned about slavery.

And talking to high school students to prepare for the role convinced him that reading isn't necessarily understanding.

"We [as blacks] are programmed to believe that our constitution has more to do with our brawn than our brains. But if you learn about the institution of slavery in our country, you realize that just to survive the Middle Passage required people with strength, intelligence and "In an age where information is so easily accessible, we need to be able to read and write to access this information and to then spread our pride."

With understanding, Lumbly says, comes movenents like the Million Man March.

'We're being called to be accountable for ourselves. It's the best way to be in touch with ourselves and to pass that pride on."

Beau Bridges also stars in Nightjohn, which is scheduled to air on the Disney channel in June.

Screen Saver

Under the Hula Moon

Any movie that goes straight to video me be a stinker, right?

Or just hard to market. Like one that features, say, a man with a Hawaii 5-0 obser a woman who hangs upside down to facilitate ancy, a psycho escaped con, an interv ing Hawalian god and the guy who played Lurch on TV's The Addams Family.

And it's a love story. Well, a comic love story. With a lot of violence. Think True

The story is about Buzz and Betty Wall on Baldwin, The Usual Suspects, and Emily Lloyd, A River Runs Through Ith, who live in a trailer in the desert but dream of a better life in Hawaii once Buzz's inve a camouflage sunscreen with an SPF of over 150 - takes off.

Buzz's brother Turk Dogs) shows up, takes their essarily in that order.

The local wannabe-TViold-reporter sets off with Buzz on a Twin Peaks-ish est to save Betty, but only after the Publisher's Clears, which is way after a rdo neighbor straddles a it pumpkin but before to believe it.

CONTESTS

4TH ANNUAL U. PHOTO CONTEST FOUR $1,000 GRAND PRIZES

Here's your chance to win big money! U. is offering four $1,000 cash grand prizes for the best photo entries submitted in four categories: Campus Life/Traditions, All Around Sports (mud to varsity), Road Trippin' and Funniest

Eric Garrett and Nimyetta Hampton,

Sights. PLUS, for each entry published in U. during the year, we'll pay $25. Last year's contest had more than 100 winners - and $10,000 in cash prizes.

Photos can be of anyone or anything on or off campus, from normal (whatever that is) to outrageous. For best results, keep the faces in focus and the background as light as possible.

Winners of the month will be published in U. and on our Web site. The four $1,000 Grand Prize winning entries will be featured in

Send entries on color print or slide film, labeled (gently) on the back with your name, school, address, phone number (school and permanent) and a brief description of the event (who, when, where, doing what). (Funny captions get extra points.) Entries cannot be returned and become the property of U. Magazine. Deadline for entries is March 15, 1996.

Mail your entries to U. MAGAZINE PHOTO CONTEST 1800 Century Park East, Suite 820 Los Angeles, CA 90067-1511

c Gerstensang, "Seize the day, catch a God: Valley of the Gods, Utah."

EMPLOYMENT

ALASKA EMPLOYMENT - Fisheries, Parks, Resorts! Earn to $3,000-$6,000+/month! Transportation! Room /Board! FREE VIDEO with program! SEI (919) 932-1489, extension

CRUISE SHIPS HIRING Earn up to $2,000+ per month working for Cruise Ships or Land-Tour Companies. World Travel (Hawaii, Maxico, the Caribbean, etc.). Seasonal and Full-Time employment available.

(206)634-0468 ext. C98524 CHARLES STREET,

Legacy Records - Record Label Rep's Needed to evaluate Underground in your city. Call us & 419-243-2048 Underground conversational English in Asia! Earn $25-$45/hr. No teaching background or Asian lan-guages required. Call: (206)632-1146 ext. J98521 INTERNATIONAL EMPLOYMENT - Teach RECORD LABEL SEEKS INTERN Gain Experience in the music business promote up and coming Rock and Hlp-Hop bands in your market. For more info call: 212.566.3160

EXCELLENT EXTRA INCOME! Assemble craft products in your spare time. Program guaranteed! Call: 1-800-377-6000, ext. 9290

FINANCIAL AID

ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS

1-800-263-6495 EXTENSION

MONEY MAKING OPPORTUNITIES

FREE INFORMATION. Earn big $$$ stuffing envelopes at home. No experience. Free supplies. No obligation. Rush S.A.S.E. to March Enterprises, Dept. 102, PO Box 3994, Beverly Hills, CA 90212-3994

GUYS MAKE $750 + / MO SPERM BANKS ACROSS USA WANT YOU FULL DETAILS: SEND $20.00; VANPARIS ENTERPRISES PO BOX 13943, S. BARBARA, CA 93107

NANNY SERVICES

BOSTON NANNIES. Experience scenic, historic New England. Excellent salary, benefits, friend-ship support. Year commitment. 1-800-456-2669

TRAVEL

STUDY ABROAD in Southern France. Summer, Semester, Year Programs. Contact FAE 111 Roberts Court, Alexandria, VA 22314, 703-549-5087

STUDY ABROAD BELIZE, AUSTRALIA, NEW ZEALAND, SCOTLAND, S.AFRICA American Universities International Program. Colorado State U., Aylesworth N. Ft. Collins, Colorado 80523, 970-491-5511

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

Camp Greylock for Boys and

Camp Greylock for Boys and Camp Romaca for Girls in the Beckshire Mountains of Massachusetts seek men and women who like to work with children ages 6-16. Undergrads, grads, coaches (families welcome). Openings in archery, baseball, basketball, football, in-line roller hockey, volleyball, golf, lacrosse, sailing. Waterfront Director, swimming (LG/LGI/WSI), tennis, waterskiing, windsurfing, planists(accompanists), RN's, photographer. Non-smokers only. Call Greylock: 1-800-842-5214, Call Romaca: 1-800-779-2070 or write Greylock/Romaca, 200 West 57th St., #307, New York, NY 10019.

ALASKA SUMMER EMPLOYMENT -Fishing Industry. Earn up to $8,000+ in two months. Free transportation! Room and Board! Over 8,000 openings. No experi-ence necessary. Call (206) 545-4155 ext.

Pennsylvania camp group leaders, coun-selors; sports, waterfront, all activities. 1-800-507-CAMP, (516)868-4357, 14 Squirrel Drive, E. Rockaway, NY 11518

COUNSELORS WANTED. Boston Area. Top living conditions, fun and good pay. Call toll-free 1-800-836-6473

100+ ENTHUSIASTIC COUNSELORS, Outstanding New England brother-sister camps. 2 hrs. N.Y.C. Sports, Aquatics, Hobby Activities. 2 Spencer Place, Scarsdale, NY 10583 (914) 725-4333

Peer Counselors needed at SuperCamp, an exciting academic and personal growth sum-mer program for teens in CA, FL, MA, IL, CO. room/board. Provide own transportation. Call 1-800-527-5321

Top-quality co-ed camp. New Hampshire's picturesque White Mountains. Need experi-enced counselors, waterfront, sports, outdoor specialists. Staff from U.S. and abroad. (800) 657-8282

COUNSELORS for lewish cultural resident camps in MA and NH. June 19 - August 18. Great summer opportunity, Contact: Cohen Foundation Camps, 30 Main Street, Ashland, MA 01721 800-375-8444

TAMARACK CAMPS - Jewish community camp looking for General Counselors, Specialists, Waterfront staff, and Wilderness Trip Leaders. Located in Michigan. Call Andrea at (810)661-0600

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT Outstanding youth camps in Maine. Instructors need in Tennis, Swim, Watersports, Arts, Landsports, Secretari-al, Theater, Rocks, Ropes Riding. Call TRIPP LAKE CAMP for Girls: 1-800-997-4347 or CAMP TAKAJO for Boys: 800-409-CAMP

U. Magazine's Cami Hundreds of fascinating exhibits!

BY GLENN MCDONALD

ILLUSTRATION BY BRIGG BLOOMQUIST, U. OF KANSAS

HE UNIVERSITY CAMPUS, A LUSH and densely populated ecosystem, is home to hundreds of species of collegiate life. Explore the wild and wonderful campus yourself, and see if you can spot some of these remarkable creatures!

First-Year Freshman Drunklus continuum

Distinguished by its weaving, loping gait, the first-year freshman is the bottom-feeder of the university campus. As prey to every other species the Hazing Fraternity Brother, the Acerbic TA, the

THE FOUR STAGES OF NOTETAKING

GOTTA WRITE DOWN EVERYTHING

DAMMIT!

STAGE ONE: OPTIMUM CONCENTRATION

Grad School Lothario - the timid freshman finds refuge at local watering holes with liberal admissions policies. A steady level of bloodstream intoxicants eases the stress of being hunted, ridiculed and hit upon. After a year or so, this species undergoes an abrupt metamorphosis into the Fat-Headed

Class Registration Official Waltius Interminus

This slow-moving land mammal thrives in all departments year-round but is most active in the beginning of the semester. Known informally as "Mrs. Phillips," "Dotty" or "Dammit, woman, I need this class!" the class registration official stabilizes the university ecosystem by processing papers, forms and even thoughts with glacier-like velocity.

University President

At the top of the food chain, the university president is a perfect model of Darwinian survival. The president's world is one of ferocious predators (trustees), hostile environments (diversity forums) and dubious allies (athletic directors). Still, the president thrives due to a singularly potent skill - the ability to squeeze obscene amounts of money from rich alumni. Its hunting technique is simple but effective: The president lures alumni to commemorative events with open bars. After the alumni drink themselves into blithering sentimentality over their lost youth ("I used to throw up right here, man!"), the president pounces - socializing mercilessly and fund-raising with savage abandon.

The Ph.D. Candidate Acadamæ embryous

Burrowed deep in the forgotten stacks of the research library, the rare and pallid Ph.D. candidate hardly ever sees the light of day. It usually exists in a bizarre state of symbiosis with its mate (a "girlfriend," "boyfriend" or sometimes "fiancé"). In this system, the mate brings in all the food and money, while the Ph.D. candidate "works on its degree." This system can continue for decades. In extremely rare cases, the candidate will actually complete its Ph.D., mutating into the larval form of a professor.

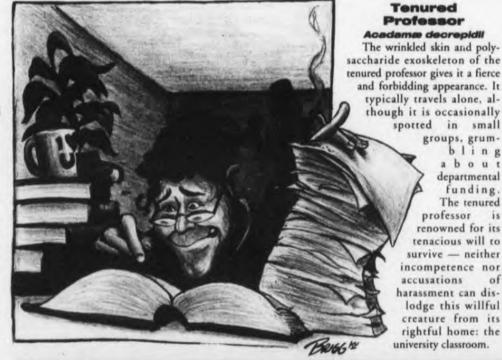

The Graduating Senior Panickus frantices

The graduating senior is most active (and most entertaining!) in the springtime, when it spends its waking hours scrambling desperately for a job. These periods of frantic endeavor often alternate with hibernation-like episodes of immobilizing despair. In the spring, you can also see the graduating senior shed its old skin of jeans and T-shirts and grow its impressive new pelt of power ties, interview suits, blazers and skirts. After ceremonies, the graduating senior migrates from the campus in huge droves, flush with the heady thrill of opportunity. Within days, it will have returned to its original family unit and set up a bedroom in the basement.

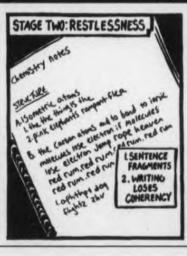

Double Take

Thinking up the name for your college bar band is half the fun of being in a band in the first place. And as they say, inspiration flows from mysterious rivers. (They actually don't say that, as far as we know. But it sounds cool enough.) See if you can match the bands below with the inspiration for the name. Answers are elsewhere on this page.

- 1) The Yardbirds
- 2) Hüsker Dü
- 3) Alice Cooper
- 4) Steely Dan
- 5) Jethro Tull 6) Anthrax
- 7) Frankle Goes to Hollywood
- 8) Buffalo Springfield
- 9) Lynyrd Skynyrd
- 10) The Mothers of Invention
- a) A board game
- b) The brand name of a steam-
- c) A Frank Sinatra film adver-
- d) An 18th century inventor
- e) Their high school gym
- f) A dilde
- g) Chartie Parker's nickname
- h) A 17th century witch I) A bovine bacteria
- j) Necessity

Parliament of Crows, Carter and Coleman, Wichita State U.

bling

about departmental funding.

The tenured

Intelligence Analyst

Specialist, U.S. Army Reserve 320th Military Intelligence Company DAVID SHARP Student, University of Georgia over $23,500 for college* BENEFITS: serves near home

1 weekend/month, plus COMMITMENT:

2 weeks/year

• $23,500 combines Montgomery GI Bill penefits with pay earned during it spindard enlistment.

BE ALL YOU CAN BE. 1-800-USA-ARMY

U.S. ARMY RESERVE

Today: possible flurries. See weather map, page 2.

OPINION . page 4

LIFE . page 5

SPORTS . page 6

DIVERSIONS . page 7

Exp. Bate 00/00

Newspaper Pil Box 3585

Kansas State Historical Society Section

55501

WEDNESDAY

January 31, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 83

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

CAPT. WILLIAM GRAHAM

Graham's plane went down in Desert Storm five years ago today, ending his lifelong ambitions

DESERT STORM is seen by many as a powerhouse military success. In spite of this, there were tragedies that affected families and friends across the country, as well as

One of these tragedies was the death of Capt. William Graham, K-State graduate and U.S. Air Force officer, five years ago today.

at K-State.

Graham had wanted to fly a plane since his childhood, and being a navigator during Desert Storm gave him the chance.

But when Graham was killed after his plane was shot down, his friends and family had to rely on memories to keep him in their lives.

"Bill always wanted to fly, and ROTC Air Force was his opportunity," Jimmy Graham, William Graham's father, said.

"For him, college was his stepping stone to get where he wanted to go with the Air Force.'

As a ROTC cadet, Graham was dedicated to becoming an officer in the Air Force, Maj. Paul Vavra, assistant professor of aerospace studies,

"He was a really sharp cadet with great leadership abilities and a big desire to excel in the program," Vavra

In addition to ROTC, Graham took

William Graham, K-State graduate and U.S. Air Force officer, was killed after his plane was shot down five years ago today.

many classes in geography to strengthen his navigational skills.

"He always saw geography as being related to being a pilot," David Kromm, professor of geography, said.

Graham was serious about being a pilot in the Air Force, and he saw the relationships between being a good pilot and having a foundation in geography, Kromm said.

After graduating with a degree in general science, Graham was commissioned as an officer in the Air Force and accepted into flight school.

"To go to flight school, you must volunteer for it, but you must also be physically and mentally prepared," Vavra said. "There are very few professions in this world that require you to put your life on the line, so when

66 BILL ALWAYS WANTED TO FLY. AND ROTC AIR FORCE WAS HIS OPPORTUNITY. FOR HIM, COLLEGE WAS A STEPPING STONE TO GET WHERE HE WANTED TO GO

WITH THE AIR FORCE. 99

- JIMMY GRAHAM, WILLIAM GRAHAM'S FATHER

someone decides to go into such a career, it takes a lot of dedication."

Graham went through navigational training in California and then was stationed at Hurlburt Field in Florida. It was in January 1991 that he was sent to fly as a navigator during Desert

During the battle of Khafji, one of Desert Storm's earliest battles, Graham's plane flew in to assist Marines, Graham's father said. It was during that flight that he and 13 others in the AC-130 gunship were shot

The 13 were missing in action for 34 days, but when the deaths were confirmed, William was awarded the Silver Star for his valor in the battle and the Purple Heart for being killed

As a result of their son's death, the Grahams set up scholarship funds in the K-State ROTC and geography department in William's memory. "He liked and needed both of the disciplines to be able to fly," Jimmy Graham said, "so it made sense to us to set up scholarships in those areas." As a result, the Department of Geography honors an undergraduate geography student each year. 'We give out the award based on academic merit in Capt. Graham's honor," Steve White, head of the geography department, said. In the last year, ROTC has also begun awarding an annual scholarship to an Air Force ROTC cadet in Graham's memory, Vavra said.

▶ MEET YOUR DEAN - A SERIES

K-State dean bowls, works with students

Next time league bowlers drop in defeat, they might want to check out their opponent. It could be

Michael Holen, dean of education, uses the Monday night K-State Student Union bowling league as a way to unwind, his score averaging between 170-185.

"Actually almost none of the students ever figure out that I'm a dean," Holen said. "It kind of ruins nship when they do find ou

Today: Dean of Education, Michael Holen

Holen, a twice-married father of four and a first-time grandfather, came to K-State from Oregon 25 years ago. While most West Coast residents move someplace else and return to their home states three years after moving, Holen was an exception, he said. "I grew up and all of my schooling was on the West coast," he said. "I just assumed that I'd move back to that part of the country. What I found is people are finding that this is a great place to work and an attractive place to raise a family. It's looking to me, at least, that this is the place that I always will be.'

Holen, a 1971 graduate of the University of Oregon, came to K-State and worked his way from an assistant professor to his position as dean - a position he's had for seven years.

His ascension to dean had its benefits.

"First of all, I've come to know the institution and its history," he said. "Secondly, experience I've gained in each of those different roles gives me the perspective and the ability to realize how things work. I know the faculty members close to personally, and that helps me help them, which is really what being an administrator is about." The working relationship between colleagues and Holen also applies to his relationship with K-

"I think I have been treated exceptionally well by K-State, and I think I've treated it pretty well," Holen said. "We've been a good match for each

Being a dean, however, has had its drawbacks, he said.

"I didn't quite understand how many layers of people are between a dean and a college student. In some respects that artificially elevates the position of the dean," Holen said. "I think that a vast majority of students have a hard time thinking about the dean as being somebody who is a regular person who likes to duck hunt and that sort of thing. Most of the hours of the day, I am just a normal person and for a few hours, I'm a dean."

It may be the normal side of Holen that allows him to think about the student side of education. He notices two important issues facing college students today. These are future pessimism and vocational versus intellectual education.

• See HOLEN Page 10

Arctic cold sweeps across nation

The slow-moving mass of cold air is expected to cover the entire country by early next week, except for the desert southwest and California.

Arctic air pushed across the nation Tuesday, dropping temperatures to the single digits as far zero from Washington all the way into the Great Lakes and northern New England. Manhattan temperatures remained in the single digits.

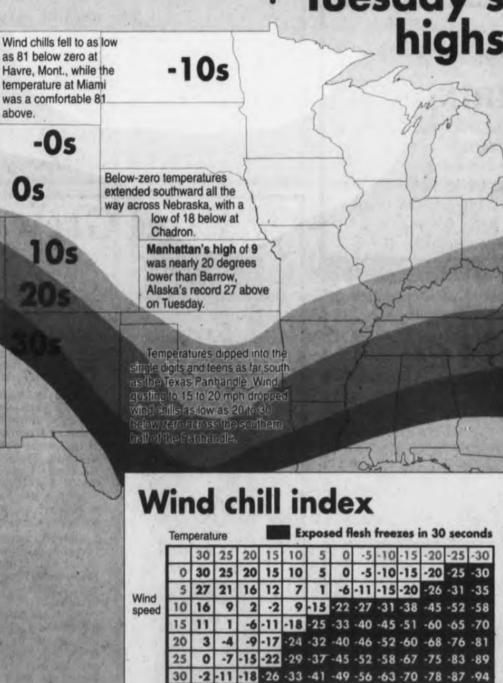

The coldest readings in the lower 48 states were 44 below zero at Embarrass, Minn., and 42 below at Jordan, Mont.

Source: NBC News Intellicast and Associated Press reports

66 We're the winter equivalent of the Energizer Bunny - it just keeps snowing and snowing and snowing. 99

> Rod Hanna Steamboat Springs, Colo.

Tuesday's highs

CITY / UNIVERSITY PROJECTS

Group prioritizes city improvements

Chris Oakley

The City/University Projects Fund Committee began considering which programs it will recommend to the Manhattan City Commission fund Monday.

The committee, which formed when K-State was annexed by the city, makes recommendations to the city commission regarding funding for projects involving both entities. The committee is composed of members from the city, student body and faculty appointed by the mayor

The committee passed a motion recommending city commissioners raise the maintenance budget for lighting on public streets and increase the lighting on streets close to cam-

"I can't imagine that a resident wouldn't want more lighting around their residence," Rosalys Rieger, vice chairman of the committee, said. "I think it's not too difficult to recognize which streets are heavily used for parking," she said. The committee prioritized five projects that it will review at its next meeting Feb. 12.

One project will provide more emergency access on campus for fire and emergency vehicles.

● See PROJECTS Page 10

LIBRARY CONSTRUCTION

While lifting plywood, two construction workers apply facing to a window outlet to the south side of Farrell Library. The north tower and west entrance will continue to be called Farrell Library, while the remainder of the building will be called Hale Library. SCOTT M. LADD

Library sign debated

Laurel Hovell

Is it Hale, or is it Farrell?

It hasn't been determined exactly what the sign outside the new library will say, but it could be both. In November, the Kansas Board of Regents approved the University's request to name the new addition Hale Library, Brice Hobrock, dean of the library, said. The North Tower and the new entrance area to the library will retain the old name of Farrell, but the rest of the building will be called by the new The new name, Hale, does not take effect until the dedication of the new addition, after construction is complete, sometime in 1997, Hobrock

Farrell Library was named for David Farrell, president of K-State from 1925 to 1943

The new library is named for Joe and Joyce Hale of Johnson County. The Hales contributed $2 million to challenge K-State students to match funds for library improvement.

Construction is on schedule for the most part, with a few minor delays. which were to be expected with construc-

Kreger said.

World Wide Web site athttp://www.lib.ksu. farrell/geninfo/news.

the library has a tion, Bob Kreger, Farrell Library building manager, said. "Within the next six months, there will be a lot of visible progress,"

The library was built in 1927, but there were additional buildings added to the structure in 1955 and 1971.

Renovation of the 1927 building is expected to be complete by mid-March. This is slightly behind the

• See LIBRARY Page 10

In the news

SOCIAL REHABILITATION SERVICES SECRETARY TO DISCUSS WELFARE

Welfare reform will be the subject of a speech sponsored by the K-State chapter of the American Society for Public Administration

Rochelle Chronister, the secretary of Social Rehabilitation

Services and former assistant majority leader of the House of Representatives, will speak at 5:30 p.m. today in Waters 41.

"Rochelle Chronister is an important administrator of a statewide agency who has extensive background in public employment," said Kyle Kessler, head of the K-State chapter of American Society for Public Administration.

Chronister was appointed to her position as the secretary of SRS last year.

COLUMBIANS ACCUSE LEADER

BOGOTA, Colombia

Ernesto Samper clung to power Tuesday, convening a special session in Congress to try to rally support. Opposition lawmakers accused him of trying to dodge justice.

demands that he step down over mounting evidence that he won office with drug money, casting severely testing its demo-

The president denies

Colombia into a crisis

he solicited millions of cartel during his 1994

dollars from the Cali drug cratic institutions.

Samper is defying

(AP) - President

IRAN INCREASES ARMS SUPPLY

WASHINGTON (AP) - Iran test-fired a new, low-flying missile designed to attack ships. adding to its potential for disrupting the Persian Gulf, the commander of U.S. naval forces in the Gulf said Tuesday.

Vice Adm. Scott Redd, commander of the Gulf-based U.S. 5th Fleet, said Iran also expanded its network of antiaircraft and other missiles based on land and is likely to add a third Russian-made submarine to its fleet this year.

Taken as a whole. Redd said, these developments point to an increasingly advanced Iranian naval capability but leave unclear whether Iran's leaders intend to try to choke off the vital oil lanes of the Persian Gulf.

At this stage, Iran's naval forces are no match for the U.S. Navy The United States has 14,000 sailors and avia-Redd's 35-ship fleet, based at Bahrain, which Geoffrey Kemp, a former national security aide to President Reagan and now a Middle East expert at the Nixon Center for Peace and Freedom, said Iran realizes attacking U.S. forces would be tantamount to committing suicide.

CHIMPS USED IN AIDS STUDY

Tuesday.

WASHINGTON (AP) - For the first time, scientists have managed to give AIDS to a chimpanzee, a possible substitute for people in testing ways to control the

Since the AIDS epidemic began, about 100 chimps have been intentionally given the AIDS virus in an effort to learn more about the disease. Researchers from the Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center at Emory University in Atlanta described the tors in the area, including normally includes an aircraft carrier.

first chimp AIDS case at

One of the things that has made AIDS so difficult to control has been the lack of a so-lab animal that can stand in for people in studies of the disease.

sick with a simian version of HIV, the AIDS virus, researchers fear that insights from studying these animals may not apply to people.

called animal model — a While monkeys get a medical conference

ing Russian.

Soon to be known as Vlas and Enik, they and other "Sesame Street" characters will help teach a new generation of a free, democratic soci-

Producers revealed their plans Tuesday for a Russian version of the popular American children's program, which they said would hit TV

The set of "Ulitsa Sezam," as the show is called in Russian, moves from a New York brownthree-month recess to speak to lawmakers on the issue "We'll take part in a campaign and called

Congress back from a trial, but not a debate that leads to nothing," said Sen. Jaime Arias, president of the opposition Conservative Party.

A panel loaded with political supporters absolved Samper in December, saying there was not enough evidence to prove the charges. A new probe could be opened if government prosecutors provide new evidence.

MUPPETS TEACH DEMOCRACY

MOSCOW (AP) -Bert and Ernie are learn-

Russian children to live in screens by fall.

stone to a Moscow courtyard. It is the home of three new brightly colored Muppets, a Russian fami-

> Scenes filmed in Russia will be combined with segments featuring familiar "Sesame Street characters - dubbed in ly and their neighbors.

The producers said one of their main goals is to help children understand what it means to live in a democratic, diverse society and give them confidence in a world vastly different from the one their parents

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County police departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list wheellocks,

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

MONDAY, JANUARY 29

At 2:09 p.m., Daniel Murphy, Goodnow Hall, reported the theft of

At 6:24 p.m., K-State volleyball coach Jim Moore reported the theft of a wallet and the contents along

TUESDAY, JANUARY 30

At 7:39 a.m., an alarm sounded at Chemistry/Biochemistry 141. The alarm was sounded by an accidenta trip and was later reset.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

MONDAY, JANUARY 29

At 7:27 a.m., Alicia Johnson, 1525 Denison Ave., reported the theft of a Pionee compact disc player, a cellular car phone and a pair of Oakley lasses from her car. Loss was $1,125.

At 1:06 p.m., Marc Finks, 1919 Hunting Ave., reported the theft of 70 CDs, a radar detector and a backpack containing

At 1:49 p.m., Randy Shaffer Jr., 511 Fremont St., was arrested for indecent libertles with a

TUESDAY, JANUARY 30

At 3:20 a.m., James Loftis, 1204 N. 9th St., Salina, was arrested for DUI. Bond was child. Bond was $1,000. At 3:22 p.m., Michael Smith, 401 Colorado St., was arrested for parole violation. Bond was $1,000.

At 8:09 p.m., Daniel West, 520 115th St., Ogden, was arrested on one count attempted burglary, two counts felony criminal damage to property and six counts misdemeanor criminal damage to property. At 9:30 p.m., Richard

Goodman, Rt. 1, Wheaton, was arrested for DUI. Bond was

At 3:26 a.m., Delbert Harrison, 25 Waterway Place, was arrested for battery. Bond

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Career and Employment Services will sponsor a Summer Job Search Orientation at 4 p.m. today in Union 207.
- Summer orientation leader applications for New Student - Services are due by 5 p.m. Monday The world is getting smaller. Make yours larger. Volunteer to help spoken English in the Conversational English Program. Contact Jim Endrizzi at the International Student Center, 532-
- m Fall 1996 budget request forms are available for campus-wide orga-nizations. To be considered for the regular allocations process, they the Student Activities and Social Services Office.
- m Adult Student Services will sponsor a brown-bag lunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. today in Union
- Stateroom No. 1. The secretary of Kansas Social Rehabilitative Services will speak about welfare reform at 5:30 today in Waters 41.

BULLETINS

Blue Key Senior Leadership Honorary is accepting application for the 1996-97 school year. Applications are available in the Dean of Student Life and the Student Activities and Social Services offices.

Chimes Junior Honorary applications are available in the Union SGA offices or call 539-2365 ext. 131. Applications are due by 4 p.m.

week through the summer.

The German Language Table will be available at 12:30 today in the Union Council Chambers. Student Alumni Board applica tions are available in the Alumni Office at 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 400. The deadline is 4 p.m. Friday. National Society of Black Engineers will meet at 6:30 tonight in Durland 163.

KSU Aikido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight in Dance Studio 301.

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103. Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-

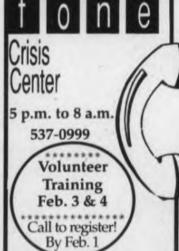

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

Thurs. 1/2 sandwich & side

1219 Bluemont * Aggieville

Offices Available For Selection: President, V.P. for Membership, V.P. for Administrative Affairs, Committee chairs available: Promotions, Arts, Eclectic Entertainment, Feature Films, Issues & Ideas, Kaleidoscope Films, Outdoor Rec., Special Events, Travel & Multicultural

Applications Duc By Jebruary 9th at 4:00pm in UPC Office

NOW HIRING Student Custodians 8455 per hour

Positions begin immediately. Applications available at the Peters Recreation Complex Administrative Office, Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Application deadline is Monday, Feb. 5.

Recreational Services Office 532-6980

Gourmet Cottee

OUR BEANS GROUND FOR YOU DAILY FRESH GROUND SUPERIOR® WHOLE BEAN

Bring this coupon in for 8 oz. gourmet coffee

Offer good Mon.-Fri. at the Ice Cream Counter through February 9 One coupon per customer

K-State Student Union Stateroom

WE SERVE

One month Ast come 1st serve with your paid semester membership

12TH & Laramie Aggieville 539-7095

Excel Grew 419 Percent

Shari Springer

Amy Springer 913-776-2059

Evelyn Wray 913-539-0208

Located in Dallas, Texas Excel Telecommunications began operations in 1988. Since then it has become the fastest growing long distance company in the United States, by providing high quality long distance service at an incredible discount.

There has been more interest in Excel than ever before, since the December 1995 article in Success Magazine "We Create Millionaires" focusing on South Carolina State Senator Mike Rose and Betty Miles, wife of South Carolina Secretary of State Jim Miles as being poised to become millionaires by distributing Excel.

Shari Springer executive di-rector and national training director started her business with Excel in 1990 and it has grown to over 1,500 representatives nationally.

If you are interested in more information about Excel call one of our Excel representatives for a free information package and company video or attend the Excel business presentation.

Thursday, Feb. 1 at 7:30 p.m. 1115 Westport

Tom & Alicia Bookwalter 913-468-3574

Laurie Adams 913-494-2157

Mona Sanders 913-776-5090

Web search benefits state

QUICKread

▶ Blue Skyways, a resource that provides information about communities, government and libraries in Kansas, is on the World Wide Web at (http://skyways.lib.ks.

us/kansas/).

Khristi Shell

Learning about Kansas government and local communities is right at your fingertips, thanks to a new on-line

Blue Skyways, a new on-line resource created by the Kansas State Library for the World Wide Web, provides data about communities, government, education and libraries in Access to Blue Skyways can be obtained through a home computer or at area libraries that are on-line.

Manhattan Public Library does not have public access to the Internet or Blue Skyways. But, Farrell Library has public access to Blue Skyways.

"Blue Skyways represents the kind of cooperation that makes Kansas a great place to live. Using the Internet, Kansas librarians are collaborating in new ways to serve Kansans better," Lt. Gov. Sheila Frahm said.

The purpose of Blue Skyways is to provide another resource that will help users navigate through the World Wide Web to find information about Kansas, said Michael Piper, executive director of the Kansas Library Network Board.

It is a search engine that provides a directory of Internet service providers in their communities and includes a list of local community service agencies dealing with certain issues, he

"For us, Blue Skyways is a great equalizer because it means people throughout the state, even those in rural areas, no longer need to be on the outside looking in when it comes to easy information access," Piper said. Also, Kansas communities will be able to tell their stories not only to other Kansans, but to a world-wide audience, he said.

Blue Skyways was designed to benefit Kansans by providing a link between the people to the government and other resources.

"If you are looking for a copy of the Kansas Constitution, you know you will find it on Blue Skyways under government, or if you are looking for links to the Kansas senators like Dole and Kassebaum and Pat Roberts, you will find those links there," said Patti Mersmann, director of library technology at Kansas communities allowed to launch homepage. "A service of the K-State library" contains descript tive information about the community, some business opportunities available, government information and useful listings for travelers such as a directory of hotels.

Communities are only limited by their imagination, Piper said.

► ON-LINE ACCESS

Students struggle to connect to server

Lori Livengood

Accessing the K-State campus server from home requires a few easy steps and a lot of patience.

Setting up a modem requires the purchase of nine diskettes and going to a public lab.

"Take the nine diskettes and go to any public lab with a PC and choose CNS software," Don Eisele, Computing and Network Services consultant, said. "That will cycle through and copy the information to the disk. Then take it to your PC and copy them. Installation is automatic.

Eisele said there is little work involved, other than the initial set up of going out and getting the diskettes, installing them, and setting up the computer how you'd

At least one student, however, had problems with the initial setup. "I copied off the program and installed it, and for the first few weeks, to a month, month and a half, it wouldn't connect," Jade Dundas, senior in biology, said. "Then one day it just started work-The biggest problem CNS has encountered is the growing number of students trying to connect with the server, Eisele said.

For this reason, CNS will begin charging a fee for this service July 1. It is unknown what the fee will "One problem I've seen is that modems are almost always busy," Eisele said.

Students have noticed this roblem, too. "It's hard to get on when school is in session," Dundas said. "There's a noticeable difference between intersession and the semester."

Dundas said he loses patience if it rings more than two or three times, but with more professors suggesting correspondence by email on their syllabuses, she said he finds it convenient to be able to

"It may be slower than going to a lab," Eisele said. "But you don't have to make an extra trip to campus or across campus to a public

It is the convenience of at home access that appeals to students.

"It's a nice service to be able to do at home," Dundas said, "but at times it is so frustrating to hook

Eisele said there are plans by Telecommunications for expanding the modem pool to ease the problem of busy lines.

"We're looking at expanding to 128 slip-compatible lines with 28.8 kilobytes," said Beth Unger, vice provost for academic services and technology. "There are currently only 32 lines with this compatibility." She said this the the kind of connection people are looking for.

These lines will allow highpeed access to the World Wide Web to get graphics as well as allow for access by a greater number of students, Unger said.

'We should have things in place this semester," Unger said.

She said the plan is just enough to catch up and the proposed fee for accessing the campus server will allow for plans for the future.

"Income from lines will pay for new lines," Unger said.

▶ SPEECH TEAM

Speakers to compete in Florida nationals

Competitors receive support from team, University officials

JIII Story

K-State Competitive Nine Speech Team members have been officially designated Gator bait.

American Forensic Association's National Individual Tournament will be this year in Gainesville, Fla., at the University of Florida.

"The University of Florida is the home of the Gators. Every time someone qualifies for nationals, we say they are Gator bait," said Craig Brown, director of individual events forensics at K-State.

Ric Shafer, senior in speech; Christina Foust, sophomore in speech; Jared Adams, senior in speech; Clayton Johnson, junior in secondary education and speech; Aundray Collins, freshman in theater; Jeni Pruitt, junior in mass communications and speech: Janelle Moore, junior in microbiology; Becky Winter, junior in public relations and speech; and Wes Schawe, freshman in mathematics, have qualified for the national competition.

Winter qualified in persuasion with her speech on child care.

"I'm really enthusiastic about competing at Nationals. It's a chance to see how you rate against the best in the nation," Winter said.

Adams, Collins, Pruitt and Moore qualified in more than one event.

Pruitt qualified in five events, including informative, communication analysis, impromptu, extemporaneous and persuasion. "Persuasion is my favorite because you can choose something you feel really strongly about for your topic," Pruitt said. Her persuasion speech is about credit-card abuse among college stu-

More K-State speech students are expected to qualify for Nationals before it takes place April 5-8.

"My conservative numbers are that we could add 12 more events and probably four more people," Brown said

The K-State team has finished in the top 5 at Nationals for the last four years. Brown said everyone on the team contributes to that end.

"It's understood that the team's success is everyone's responsibility," Brown said.

The freshman do well and that pushes the seniors. It keeps them from getting over-confident," he

"There's also a lot of peer coaching. People help each other."

Encouragement from President Jon Wefald and Peter Nicholls, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, is also appreciated by the team, Brown said.

Brown said he has received notes and messages from both men expressing their support of the team's effort.

Wefald also stops by a few times

"When you get that kind of support, you realize that K-State really cares. Most schools don't even know that they have a team," Brown said.

The competitive speech team has 21 active members this semester. All are full-time students, working toward their first degrees.

"They're a great bunch of people all the way around." Johnson said of his teammates

Johnson qualified for nationals in persuasion with a speech about the V-chip, which is a device that can blot out programs with violence and sexual content from televisions.

The speech team had tournaments during winter break and has a full schedule up until spring break, but team members are not required to go to every event.

There are lots of chances to go out. You take the opportunities that you want or need," Johnson said.

"These are school-sponsored activities, so professors are usually pretty cool about it," he said.

Team members have or will travel to Minnesota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri this semester. And for those who have qualified, Florida is on the list.

"I've never been to Florida. I'm really excited about Nationals." Pruitt said.

TANwithUS ≪ New Bulbs → New Bulbs < New Bulbs →  FREE Accelerator w/coupon TANS for $25 Great Specials! S•T•U•D•I•O Now! 1214-C MORO 776-7874

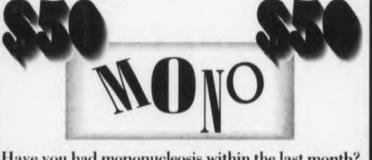

24 HR. PROCESSING

STUDENT LOANS HAVE NEVER BEEN SIMPLER! Kansas State Bank is the largest local student loan lender with over 40,000 student loans processed! Let our professional in-house staff assist you with your next student loan.

Lender code #821176

Westloop • Downtown • Aggieville • K-State Union, 587-4000

Have you had mononucleosis within the last month? If so, your plasma could make a valuable contributin to research and earn you $50 at the same time.

For additional details call the Manhattan Biomedical Center at 776-9177 1130 GardenWay Across from Westloop Shopping Center behind Rex's Tire

Captains'/Managers' Meeting

Tonight at 5 p.m. K-State Union, Little Theatre Basketball Schedules will be distributed at this meeting only.

ALL CAPTAINS/MANAGERS MUST ATTEND! Rec Services Office 532-6980

'No Coupon" Specials

Everyday Everyday Two-fers Three-fers PIZZAS with TOPPINGS each COKES with ice

- PIZZAS with TOPPING each COKES with ice

THE WORLD FAMOUS COURT BASIE ORCHESTRA

DIRECTED BY GROVER MITCHELL SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1996, 8 P.M.

Big Band sound delivered by 19 jazz pros. If their concert doesn't make you tap your feet, you should be shopping for a gravestone.*

Public/Fac $20 Sr. Cit. $18 Student/Child $10

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available (with service charge) at the K-State Union Bookstore, Manhattan Town Center customer service desk. Bramlage Coliseum and ITR (Fort Riley).

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

*Presented in conjunction with the KSU lazz Festival.

Additional information is available for all performances on the World Wide Web: http://www.ksu/edu/mccain. All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

Opinion

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN STAFF

Mike Marlett	Editor in chie
Kevin Klassen	44 1 for
Sarah Lunday
Cary Conover
Derek Simmons	Design editor
Kim Hefling	Campus edito
Christy Little	Copy chie
N. Stewart Anderson	Factures edite

	Cori Cornelison	City / government editor
	Claudette Riley	Arts and entertainment editor
		Opinion editor
	Shana Newell	Sports editor
	Justin Stahlman	Graphics editor
	Kevyn Jacobs	E-Collegian editor
-	Trice Alford	Advertising manager
	Heidi Rosce	Assistant advertising manager

COLLEGIANopinion

O Great Wefald, please, please cancel classes

○ UICKread

This week's freezing temperatures can temperatures can cause frostbite or ill health for students and faculty. We ask President Wefald to cancel classes, so not to put students' health in jeopardy.

The bad news is yesterday was predicted to be the warmest day of the week.

There is no good news. Lord, have mercy.

Speak to the Great Wefald and tell Him to cancel class.

Tell Him impassable weather is not the only reason the University should close. Tell Him when it is minus 21 degrees, it is dangerous for students to walk to campus. Tell Him we can suffer from frostbite or even hypothermia.

(If He doesn't believe us, He should abandon the Batmobile for a day and try walking from parking lot B-3 to Nichols Hall. Or to Burt Hall. And don't even ask about closer parking.)

Tell Him the day(s) K-State is closed will not hinder attendance as much as student illnesses.

And tell Him, Lord, most of all, that we are so cold.

And now, a few words from the Federal Emergency Management Agency for the unfortunate souls who may not have rides for the rest of this miserable week:

Stay indoors when possible. (Ha!)
 Dress warmly by layering light-weight clothing. You can remove layers to prevent perspiration and chill. Mittens are warmer than gloves.

3. Stretch out before going outside. It will warm up the body.

4. Protect lungs from extremely cold air by covering your mouth when outdoors. Don't speak unless it's necessary.

Drink fluids and eat food before going outdoors; it prevents dehydration and gives the body energy (and heat).

 And for goodness sakes, don't leave any wet clothing on if you get caught in the snow Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Or perhaps, just perhaps, He will have mercy and cancel classes.

NOTES FROMthe underground

ansans are on a collision course with death, and it appears they are in a hurry to get there. The Kansas House Transportation Committee approved a bill that would raise the speed limit to 70 mph on interstate highways. The bill goes to the floor of the House, while a similar proposal will make its way through This is not an old issue. The question of what speed is safe on U.S. highways was heated in the early 1970s, when an energy-conscious Myview DAN Lewerenz highways.

It was 19

It was 1987 before the nation was ready to let go of the 55 mph cap, allowing states to raise their limit to 65. Again, Kansas was one of the first to act — against the objections of the Kansas Highway Patrol.

nation sought relief from the OPEC the first national speed limit in 1974 than any national outcry about highway safety. But as the numbers came in, people took notice. More than 9,000 fewer traffic fatalities were recorded the year after the 55 mph disappeared until the 1980s. Society had changed from energy-consciousness to a use-it-or-lose-it attitude endorsed by President Ronald Reagan.

Republicans talked about giving power back to the states, and Kansas responded by attempting to raise the speed limit to 65 mph on interstate

From there, the issue pretty much national speed limit took effect.

Congress acted by implementing more as a response to the embargo oil embargo.

Sgt. Bob Giffin, a spokesman for the Highway Patrol, told legislators they were inviting trouble. Fatalities on Kansas highways had gone down 17 percent since 1974, saving an estimated 1,200 lives.

But politicians, more interested in pleasing lead-footed voters than saving lives, opted to raise the limit to 65 mph where it has stayed — until now.

"Those who support sending power back to the states have cause to celebrate," House Majority Leader Dick Army (R-Tex.) said in November when President Clinton signed into law a bill allowing states to raise limits again. "Now when you drive from Dallas to El Paso, the federal government won't be riding shotgun with you."

Yes, the federal government is gone. No, you are not free. The state will still try to tell you how fast you can drive.

I suppose this counts as a victory for "states' rights," although I'm not quite sure it ushers in a new era of federalism. Rather, it shows the government is once again willing to surrender when things aren't going its way.

We can't enforce speed limits, so why not raise them? Because speed kills.

The 38 states that raised the speed limit in 1987 saw a 19 percent increase in interstate highway fatalities the following year. The remaining states saw a 7 percent increase.

Raising the speed limit (or even keeping the one we have) will only be effective if three things happen.

1. The speed limit must be enforced. People who say raising the speed limit to 70 mph or 75 mph will keep people from speeding are deluding themselves. People will drive as fast as they can without getting caught.

Seventy means 70 — not 75 or 80. No cheaper tickets for staying within 10 mph of the speed limit. Set a speed limit and make it stick.

2. Boot the cops who don't follow the speed limit. Nothing is more infuriating than driving through Kansas City at 55 mph, only to see a state trooper sail by at 70 mph. If the police can't follow the speed limit, how can anyone else be expected to?

If lights and sirens aren't going, and an officer is speeding, find the stiff a new job.

3. Ban devices aimed at thwarting the law. There is no other law with an entire industry aimed at circumventing it. Radar detectors and laser detectors do nothing but promote illegal behavior and should be illegal themselves.

I know all you speed demons out there are cursing me right now, ready to defend your fuzz-busters to the end. Well, waah. If you can't drive the speed limit, face the consequences or get off the road.

Dan Lewerenz is a senior in philosophy and American ethnic studies.

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu.) Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand delivered letters. Letters must be on prose form. No poetry will be accepted.

CRITICISMS WERE WRONG

Editor,

Justin Wild offers two misleading and dangerous criticisms of affirmative action. First, he argues affirmative action programs violate the principle that individual success ought to be determined on the basis of ability, hard work and personal responsibility. Second, by rewarding ethnicity over those values, affirmative action teaches beneficiaries an ethic of laziness and dependence.

Conservative critics often accuse social programs of corrupting the very people they are trying to help. Whether or not this is generally true, there is no evidence that the affirmative action programs of the last 20 years have damaged the character of American blacks.

The work of Janis Hale-Benson shows that compared to whites, black parents better transmit the values of work, kinship, ambition and selfreliance. If we examine the rhetoric of prominent affirmative action beneficiaries like Colin Powell and Clarence Thomas, we will find these same values undiluted by exposure to affirmative action.

Stories of ethnic groups whose dreams of freedom met with brilliant success give America a proud history. In our own time, the success of Asian immigrants is so obvious that it has become cliché.

But pride should not blind us to the fact that generation upon generation of black Americans have not succeeded despite demonstrating ability, working hard and acting responsibly.

Thirty years of voting right, 20 years of affirmative action and 10 years of sensitivity have not revolutionized America. Studies consistently show that when equally qualified blacks and whites apply for the same jobs, whites are significantly more likely to be chosen.

Further, blacks are almost absent from elite positions in business, government and academia.

Justin Wild is clearly right that success ought to be determined on the basis of merit. But this is only half the truth. In America today, the easiest way not to be judged on merit is to be black.

Affirmative action is part of the remedy for this injustice.

David Rowland senior in history

IN DEFENSE OF WILL

Editor,

This is in response to Nikolas Glazier's comments on the Readers Write section of the Collegian Monday.

First off, let me recap all of the facts that were in your letter. Yes, Nikolas, there is a very big lake close to Manhattan. That was very observant. Yes, Nikolas, tuition is $1,099.45 per semester. And yes, Truck Stop Love is from Manhattan.

In the 266 words you wrote so critically, these are the only facts I came across. Because you are a freshman and are in your first or second semester up here at K-State, why don't you let a couple of vets fill in the facts that you left out?

First of all, having a big lake next to us is pretty cool. However, I seriously doubt someone would want to hang out at this big lake more than two or three times a month. Wouldn't you agree?

Second, I am sorry you took offense to the way that William Burdette stereotyped Manhattan people. Stereotyping is wrong, but – Hello? Is anybody in there?

Nikolas, we live in a real world where people are often stereotyped. After all, wasn't it you who said, "Work up some guts and take them to Seattle, or Eugene, Ore., or wherever it is the cool 'underground' fools are flocking this season?"

If I am not mistaken, that is a prime example of stereotyping right

Being in a band myself, I can understand where Burdette is coming from. I can also understand where it is you are coming from, Nikolas. I just don't think you have taken the time it required to write a well-organized letter criticizing Burdette on something you clearly know nothing about.

I am not saying this column is the pinnacle of all critiques. All I am saying is that in the previous few years I have gotten the chance to see The Urge, 311, Pamper the Madman, Outhouse, Kill Creek, Hum, Stick, Turquoise Sol, Live, Weezer and many others.

The fact that remains is because Berlin shut down the live music, there are really only two places to see music. Those are Rusty's Last Chance Restaurant and Saloon and Charlie's (unless you're counting Bramlage). This town has seen the shutdown of The Warehouse, Berlin, Snookie's Bar and DowBows.

So little Nicky, don't be afraid. We are not trying to build another Lawrence. All we want are some places with reasonable covers and good live bands.

Matt Marron sophomore undecided Shon Chapman junior in criminology

New ways to pay taxes pop up for the tax payer in '96

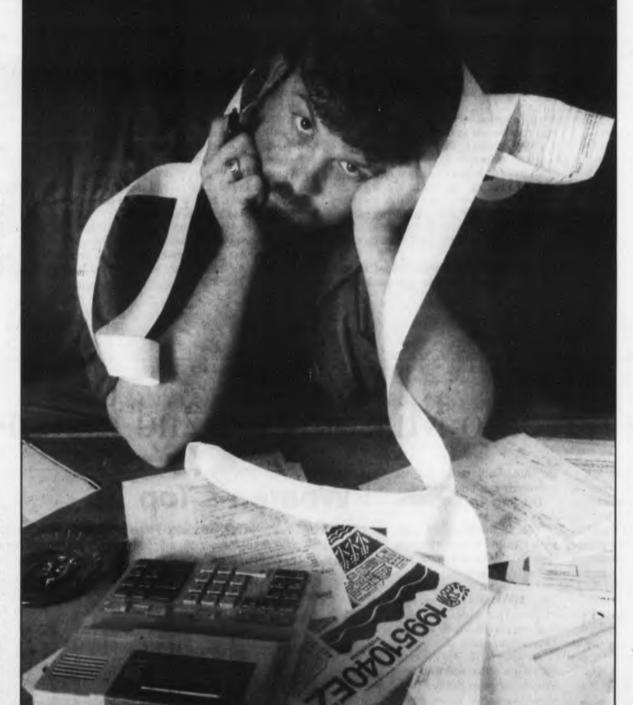

story by nolan schramm

photo illustration by kyle wyatt

hen the Internal Revenue Service embraces a new technology, offering unprecedented accuracy in processing, there is usually little cause for celebration. But some taxpayers might find solace in the at-least-it's-gotten-easier ideal.

The IRS recently announced two 1996 filing methods that hasten returns by allowing people to use either an ordinary telephone or the Internet to file tax returns, said Larry Mosblech, Wichita IRS public affairs assistant.

"It is easier for the taxpayer, it is a more accurate way to file a return, and it saves the government money in processing returns," he said.

FLAT TAX

HOMEPAGE

(http://www.house.gov/armey.flattax/welcome1.html/) Flat taxes have been a topic of debate among Republican presidential candidates. Get the low down on what's on the table for tax reform and how each proposal will affect your income bracket, mortgages and charitable contribution.

GEORGE R. MOREAU, CPA, TAX HELP PAGE

(http://ns.cent.com/cpa/) Moreau, a certified public accountant, has placed some useful information on this homepage that has to do with audits, criminal investigations, your rights, ways to kiss up to the IRS, etc.

While some of this is obviously self-serving, it is a good starting point for curious taxpayers.

TELEFILE

The telephone method seems uncannily geared toward the typical college student. To be eligible for Telefile, taxpayers must have received the telefile packet along with their 1040EZ tax forms in the mail. They must have had the same address as that to which the forms were sent last year, Mosblech said.

In addition, Telefilers must be single, have no dependents and have a touch-tone phone.

It is estimated that 23,000 people will use the Telefile system, Mosblech said. The call is toll-free, and the lines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Another perk: The TeleFile program automatically calculates the earned-income tax credit for callers who are eligible to receive it and figure it into the refund or

An alternative to the TeleFile system, available to some taxpayers, uses the Internet and special, IRSaccepted software to file the return electronically.

(http://www.irs.ustreas.gov/)

The IRS has created an extensive website, containing frequently asked questions, instructions on how to pay taxes, statistics and generally, everything you've ever wanted to know about tax (but were afraid to ask). It may also be accessed on Telnet at (iris.irs.ustreas.gov).

Written in obsequious, stale humor, this site will have you guffawing all the way to the bank.

For example, the "What's Hot" page begins this way: "Here's one cool place to check out the hottest things going on at the Internal Revenue Service ..."

ON-LINE PAYMENT

Certain on-line companies might allow members to file in this manner, for a fee. Other, independent companies sell the software for the one-time fee ranging from

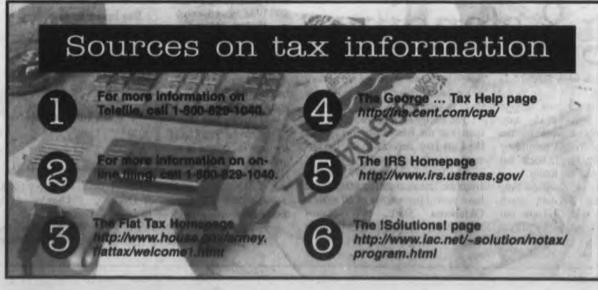

This method is mainly beneficial to people with more complicated returns, Mosblech said.

"The typical on-line filers are a young couple with moderate income, people who regularly use on-line infor-mation and have a complicated tax return that must deal with mutual funds or IRAs," he said.

For taxpayers who qualify for the 1040EZ, with no deductions, this method would be a waste of time and

"There's really no benefit over TeleFile," Mosblech said. "Telefile is easier, quicker and less expensive."

For detailed instructions on the use of TeleFile or Online filing, contact the IRS at 1-800-829-1040, You may also access the IRS Homepage on the Internet.

!SOLUTIONS! PAGE

(http://www.iac.net/~solution/notax/program.html) If you would like to see the extreme side of tax reform, check out this page — "The SECRET the government is TERRIFIED you'll learn: You owe NO federal income

Uh, right. Well, it's an interesting perspective. The Collegian does not endorse and cannot verify the financial loss inherent in this offer.

tax, and never have!"

Concourse from 6 to 7 p.m.

and following the game.

· did you know?

■ One of the players Magic Johnson faced Tuesday night was Golden State Warriors rookie Joe Smith. Smith was just 4 years old when Johnson led the Lakers to the first of five NBA titles.

Keeping Hope Alive

Student returns to K-State to continue education, play baseball, and enjoy a second chance at life

Be prepared. That's the motto for the Boy Scouts of America, but for Brad Harker, junior in public relations, it's his new outlook on life.

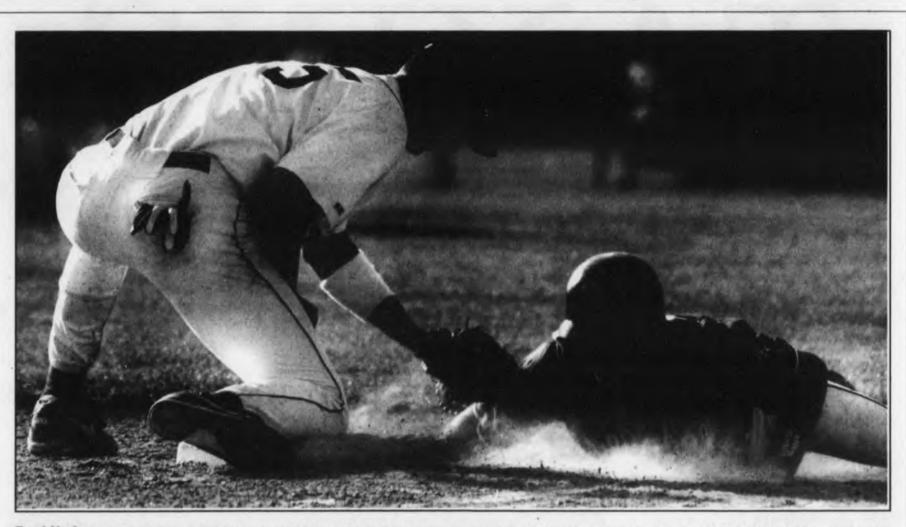

Harker, a member of the K-State baseball team, was participating on the Columbus Americans' collegiate baseball team last summer when he was brutally assaulted by an unknown person.

Although he said he believes he knows who assaulted him, it has been impossible to press charges for various

"For one thing, the guy I think it was has an alibi for that night," Harker said. "But no alibi is 100-percent foolproof unless you're dead or in jail. He wasn't dead or in

In addition, Harker said he never saw the assailant's face, making the investigation even more difficult.

Having taken last semester off school to go through rehabilitation, Harker said he is glad to be back in Manhattan and at K-State.

Brad Harker applies the tag at first base to an Oklahoma State base runner last season. Harker has returned to school at K-State following an assault last summer that kept him hospitalized until the middle of fall semester.

"I could only spend so much time with my parents," he said. "But the baseball team is like my second family. It's great to be with them again."

With a redshirt year still available, Harker said he has yet to make a decision on whether he will play this sea-

"I'm leaving the option very much open," he said. "I mean, it's important for me to come back and play this year, to prove that I can do it. But I don't want to risk a year of eligibility in order to do so.'

What is Harker doing to prove he can still play?

"He's not doing anything fully, but he is doing everything that everyone else can do, to the best of his ability right now," Coach Mike Clark said. "He's doing spectacular. Considering where he's been, it's unbelievable."

Harker said working out with the team reminds him of starting out in baseball.

"It's almost like I'm at the starting position," he said. "The first day back, I had problems just catching the

But catching the ball is coming more easily to him these days, and so are other activities Harker said he took for granted before.

"Like walking. And I'm just starting to drive again,"

"It's funny, getting excited about driving, like when you first learned to drive. But for the longest time I had to depend on other people to get me where I needed to go. Now I can get there myself."

What has Harker learned from his experience?

"Not to trust people so easily. I used to be a very trustworthy person," he said. "I used to trust people from the beginning. Now, it's not so easy."

From the day he woke up from a drug-induced coma, Harker said he never gave up hope for his recovery.

"It proves that no matter what happens to you, there's always hope. As soon as you let go of your hope, you won't survive," he said.

Words of wisdom from a 20-year-old.

"I've learned that you can be the best person you want to be, and it doesn't matter. You have to be prepared. At any given moment, something bad could happen to you," Harker said.

With a new lease on life, Harker said success was the only goal for himself.

"I'm realistic enough to know that baseball in college might be as far as I go," he said. "I guess what I really want to do is just be successful at whatever I choose to do. After it (the assault) happened, I decided that it's not going to stop me from one - getting an education and two - playing ball.'

Clark said he was impressed with Harker's recovery and knows Harker will do what is best for the team.

"There's a possibility for him to redshirt this year. Obviously we want to do what's best for Brad. And I know he wants to what's best for the team," Clark said. "If there's one thing about Brad, he's a heckuva team player."

photo by Darren Whitley

story by Shana Newell

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Wildcat women travel to Missouri for 2nd match-up of season

Dan Lewerenz

The Wildcats will try to end a two-game skid tonight when they travel to Missouri to open the second half of Big 8 Conference play.

But to get the win, K-State (11-10 overall, 3-4 in the conference) will have to shut down one of the best players in the confer-

A dominating offensive presence, Missouri's Erika Martin, leads the Big 8 in scoring (20.4 points per game), rebounds (nine per game) and assists (5.3 per game), while ranking in the top 10 in free-throw percentage (83.1/sixth), steals (2.6 per game/sixth) and blocked shots (0.4 per game/ninth).

"You've got to keep the ball out of her hands," Cat coach Brian Agler said. "And you've got to keep her off the free-throw line."

When the teams met in Manhattan earlier this season, the Cats were able to do both in the first half, when Martin went into the break with just four points. But she exploded in the second half, scoring 24 more points, including 13 from the free-throw

The Cats won that meeting 69-58 but were racked on the boards. Missouri, which leads the Big 8 in rebound margin with +12.6 per game, outrebounded the Cats 44-28, including 18 off the offensive Freshman post Jenny Coalson said playing solid defense is key to trimming the rebound margin.

"It comes down to good, sound fundamental defense," Coalson

"That way, when they don't get the shot, we'll be in position defensively to get the rebound."

But there are two sides to every game.

"You've also got to try to get some offensive boards, try to take away their opportunities off your basket," Agler said.

The Cats are led by sophomore wing Brit Jacobson, who averages 15 points per game, and junior wing Andria Jones, who averages

14 points per game. Missouri (11-8, 2-5) sits in the conference cellar, tied with Iowa State for seventh. But the Tigers already have a win against conference leader Colorado. "There are no easy wins in this conference," Agler said. "Missouri is a good team, and we always have a tough time with them. We just have to make sure we play our game."

Women's Top 25

The top 25 teams in the Associated Press' women's college basketball poll, with firstplace votes in parentheses, records through . place vote, and previous ranking.

Jan. 28, total points based on 25 points for a first-place vote through one point for a 25th-

Team	Record	Pts	PR	13. Penn St.	15-5	507	10
1. Georgia (37)	16-2	994	2	14. N. Carolina St.	14-4	416	14
		918	-	15. Alabama	16-4	401	17
2. Louisiana Tech (1)				16. Colorado	18-5	390	16
3. Tennessee (2)	17-3	909	4	17. Clemson	14-2	368	18
4. Connecticut	18-3	903	3	18. Oregon St.	12-4	336	15
5. Stanford	15-2	841	6	19. Oklahoma St.	15-3	210	24
6. lowa	17-1	779	8	1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	10.00
7. Vanderbilt	15-2	751	5	20. Mississippi	13-5	187	23
8. Texas Tech	16-2	746	9	21. Florida	15-5	177	20
9. Virginia	15-4	622	7	22. Purdue	12-8	176	21
10. Wisconsin	16-2	620	13	23. Northwestern	15-5	104	19
Carl Carle Control Control	0.00			24. Arkansas	15-7	88	22
11. Old Dominion 12. Duke	15-2 17-3	617 549	11	25. Auburn	14-5	79	25

MEN'S BASKETBALL

K-State seeking to improve Big 8 standing

 Wildcats return home to Bramlage Coliseum to face 15-5 Huskers

Ryan O'Halloran

K-State will be heading into tonight's home tilt against Nebraska at Bramlage Coliseum with a second-place conference ranking on the line. If the team defeats the Huskers, it will be tied with Iowa State (4-1) for the No. 2 spot.

Starting games the way they're finishing them will be the key. Against Missouri last weekend, the Wildcats (13-5, 4-2) fell behind by double-digits early, fought back, but could never get over the hump.

"It's seems to be a season-long problem," K-State assistant coach David Campbell said. "I know our guys are prepared, and we've played well at the defensive end at the start. Sometimes the guys are so jacked up, it takes about five minutes for them to settle down."

The team has improved its performance at the free-throw line, where the Cats rank seventh in the confer-

The Cats fared well (77 percent) from the line against the Mizzou but have posted percentiles of 50 against Oklahoma State, 59 against Oklahoma, 39 against Michigan State and 47 against Illinois.

Feeding the ball to Tyrone Davis on the blocks is key to getting to the charity line more often. With Gerald Eaker expected to be covered by 6-foot-11 Mikki Moore, that leaves 6'7" Bernard Garner to guard the 6'9"

"The key to beating them is success in containing (Elliot) Hatcher and Davis," Nebraska coach Danny Nee said. "They have a lot of quality players. Tyrone is a great player, and Hatcher is playing lights "And that 1-2 combo of Davis and Eaker inside is close to being one of the best in the conference. They got the shot blocker (Eaker) and a scorer (Davis) inside, and they complement each other."

run-and-gun

Playing in the

But even if K-

football team, the DAVID CAMPBELL Huskers have qui-K-STATE ASSISTANT COACH etly built a 15-5 record overall and are 3-2 in the conference after their loss to Kansas on Sunday. "They're a formidable task," Campbell said.

They have a lot of different weapons, and they can really score.

And they really like to push the ball up the floor," Campbell said.

Aside from Moore, no Nebraska starter is taller than 6'7," but they do the brunt of their damage from the perimeter and in transition.

In the Huskers' 88-73 loss to the Jayhawks, Moore fired up 17 shots from behind the arc, making only

The catalyst has been freshman point guard Tyronn Lue. Lue is averaging 8.2 points a game "He's quick, fast, and he's a play maker," Strickland said, who ranks in the top 10 in the Big 8 in scoring, assists, and field goal, three-point and free-throw percentage. "He knows what to do in certain situations, and that's what makes this team fun to watch," Strickland said. A K-State win against Nebraska would put it at 5-2 in the league for the first time since 1992-93.

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 — criley@ksu.edu

▶ CROSSWORD

a row address concern saying...

of a sort

33 Guardians

ogy

30 "- was

37 Ink type

38 Kitchen

device

39 Black, in

40 "- Mis-

Boulogne

erables"

sheep

1 Sajak's

2 Leg up charge

Beached

4 Foe of the 5 "- With a View

bonne?

export

9 Sacrifice sites

10 White

6 B&Bs

7 Head

8 Irish

Kennedys

DOWN

ACROSS 1 Personal 26 Drench question? 27 Monk's 4 "Bali -7 Subse-28 Seismol-

quently Doone

10 The height of fashion? 11 Phrase of 36 Skullcap regret

13 "Camptown Races" composer 16 - Aviv 17 Night watchman's coffee-break time? 18 Ga. neighbor 19 "East of Eden" character

20 Paris airport 21 Demeter's counterpart 23 Sort

25 They're in

Yesterday's answer

1 She House Solution time: 22 mins.

...were Paradise--|" 1-31

PED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. 1-31 CRYPTOQUIP

ILPC LZCTR

ADMGTX

VTRCTF AWRJ

XTZWRWCTDG AFWVT Yesterday's Cryptoquip: MAYBE TV'S VOLUBLE MR. ED COULD TRULY BE CALLED A HOARSE HORSE,

Today's Cryptoquip clue: J equals G

▶ FOXTROT

by Eugene Sheffer

monogram

12 Hollers

14 Adam's grandson 15 Shaft of followers

20 Erstwhile

acom

Ersatz

of the Sor- 22 It gets the chocolate

lead out the Army?

functioning

23 Soft drink

flavor

24 Head of

26 Terrific

30 Actress

Mac-

Dowell

Prison

Follow closely recording"

32 "This -

28 Burglar's

colleague 29 Ram

25 Non-

WELL, MR. FOX, I'VE FINISHED MY REPORT ON WAYS TO MAKE YOUR DEPARTMENT MORE EFFICIENT.

BY MY BEST ESTIMATION, THE CHANGES I SUGGEST YOU IMPLEMENT WILL SAVE THIS OFFICE OVER $1,000 EACH YEAR.

LESS, OF COURSE, MY FEE FOR THIS WOW. THAT'S PAST WEEK.

by Bill Amend

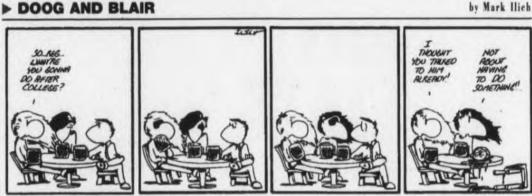

LOOK, 112 YEARS FROM NO

WILL THANK ME

PLEASE TELL

FORGOT THE POINT.

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

▶ BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

Pretty soon they'll just bounce off

The University Daily of Texas Tech University reported yet another incident of a southern person surviving what should have been a fatal gunshot wound to the head. Last week, Smatterings gave you the skinny about a man from Charleston, W.Va., who, while driving around with his buddies, shot himself in the head playing Russian roulette, but he survived.

Well... Steven Sloan, a sophomore at Texas Tech and native of Hobbs, N.M., was allegedly kidnapped from his apartment Jan. 8 in Lubbock, Texas. He was taken out of town, thrown into a cellar and shot between the eyes.

Lynn County Sheriff Jake Diggs told the University Daily that Sloan pulled the bullet out of his forehead, and it never even penetrated his skull. Diggs said he believes the murder attempt was prompted by unwanted advances by Sloan to Jean Looney, a Texas Tech freshman. Looney has been charged with criminal conspiracy and the alleged assailants, Paxton Kubica and Seth Peace of Lubbock, have been charged with attempted capital murder. Are southerners more likely than other Americans to survive head wounds? The Pentagon could save millions of dollars by not issuing helmets to southern soldiers. Secret Service agents wouldn't have to worry so much about protecting President Clinton, an Arkansan, from gunshot wounds to the head.

Miller

One can only imagine how President Kennedy might have turned out had he been from the South instead of that soft-headed state of Massachusetts. If they get buff enough, the guards will be useless.

The new prison commissioner of Georgia said the prisoners he supervises are too fat, and he plans to do something about it. Wayne Garner wants to force prisoners who aren't in shape to exercise by performing productive, rehabilitative tasks like digging and then refilling ditches. Garner said that 30 to 35 percent of the Georgia prison population isn't fit to kill. After he gets these overweight inmates into shape, they'll undoubtedly be fit to kill, rob, rape, steal and evade the police after they get out.

This week's Weird, Obnoxious Word (W.O.W.): ho-mo'-gene-ize vt. to sleep with a gay man named

Use it to impress friends, parents, aunts, uncles and This week's Stupid Internet Newsgroup (S.I.N.):

soc.support.loneliness

This has become a popular newsgroup, which is no surprise considering that many Internet users are lonely, alienated men with no love in their lives and who have no positive interaction with other people. Not that I would know anything about that.

This weeks's Pathetic Internet Site Suggestion (P.I.S.S.):http://www.inf.fu-berlin.de/~guckes/fun/ make.penis.fast

Do you have a question for Smatterings? Would you like to share something you've noticed? Is your rash getting bigger? If so, send us a letter c/o the Collegian or e-mail us at (collegn@spub.ksu.edu).

Listen to others read your own. Union Station Monday, February 5

9:00 p.m. Refreshments following

Union Program Office - 3rd floor of the K-State Student Union - 532-6571

TERESA

1995 National Association of Campus Activities

COUNTRY ARTIST OF THE YEAR

Friday, February 2 8 pm Union Station

ADMISSION: FREE C K-State Student Union

ELK CITY BACKPACKING ADVENTURE

Information Meeting: Monday, February 12 7:00 pm Student Union Room 203

Participants' Meeting: Thursday, February 29 7:30 pm Student Union Room 203

CA - Stude Student Links

DON'T BE A PUCKHEAD, GO ON THE

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10

Sign Up in the UPC Office 3rd Floor of Student Union

Trip Price: $13 includes transportation and ticket

Astronaut The Real Story

Behind Apollo 13 Tuesday, February 6, 1996 McCain Auditorium 7:00 pm

Admission: FREE Charles .

COUNTRY NITE Friday, February 2

10:00 pm - 1:00 am Union Station

CHRISTIAN DANCE NITE

Saturday, February 3 9:00 pm - 1:00 am Union Station

Collegian Classifieds

Osage, $485. Water

TWO-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH PAID. $480. 776-8455.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Avail-able now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month Water paid (913)379-5450.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

MODDWAY

STOP ! DO NOT RENT AN APARTMENT

UNTIL YOU CONSIDER THIS!

·Brand new sparkling swimming pool Spacious decks/patios Avail. June 5 Aug. 6 Kitchen Appliances include microwave and ceiling fan Economical gas heat

$410, $420 bedroom $520, $530 bedroom $654, $663 bedroom bedroom $816, $836

Office: 2400 Kimball Ave. at College Ave.

Across from Bramlage) Call Roy at 537-7007

▲ 2 bedroom apartments Great location ▲ Private bedroom Large bath & closets

Dishwasher

▲ Laundry facility ▲ On site office

▲ 2 large pools NOW LEASING

JUNE & AUGUST 776-1148

Open Houses Daily The Curtin Company

For Rent-

AVAILABLE IMME se to campus room, clos 776-1340.

FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM house, short term lease, $700. Available now, 537-7138.

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH UR-BEDROOM WITH study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-lowed.Call 776-3804.

HARDWOOD FLOORS arched doorways. Heat-ing paid and free laun-dry, two-bedroom. Available now. $400. 776-3143.

HEATING PAID. Free laundry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink er. No pets please. 539-1554.

For Sale-Mobile Homes

12X60 TWO-BEDROOM Stove, refrigerator, washer/ dryer, mi-crowave. Set up Blue Valley trailer court. 539-1004.

1994 SKYLINE Sabre twobedroom, one bath central air. Excellent ition. Paid $17,500 before 9:30p.m.

Roommate Wanted

AVAILABLE NOW- Very nice four-bedroom townhouse, three bath, washer/ dryer. $215/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Call 776-3843.

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look ing for roommate two bedroom apartment Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, ca-ble. As soon as possi-ble through July. 539-6394.

CLEAN, RESPONSIBLE, studious college stud-ent seeks housemate to share three-bedroom newly remodeled home in excellent neighbor-hood. Within walking $375/ month INCLUDES washer/ dryer, own bathroom, gas, electric, garbage, water, offstreet parking and local phone. Rent due by 28th each month, 539-0813.

MALE ROOMMATE needed $162/ month. FEMALE one-third utilities, four bedroom, three bath townhouse available immediately. Call 539-4776 ask for Nicole

ROOMMATE FEMALE needed to share threebedroom apartment $165/ month. Two blocks from campus, 1729 Laramie, 537-1091

ask for Laurie. FEMALE ROOMMATE needed to share four-bedroom house. $279 month utilities included. Wash/ dryer avail able. Call 776-7298.

ROOMMATE MALE ROOMMATE wanted: close to Ag-gieville and campus, Af-fordable rent. Call 776–1388 ask for Ali.

ALE ROOMMATE. Student. $162/ month plus one-third utilities Dishwasher, central heat/ air. Available now, 587-1964.

FEMALE SMOKERS want female roommate. Three-bedroom. $175/ month plus one-third utilities. 776-8764.

FEMALE. AVAILABLE immediately: three-bed-room house, two blocks to campus, 1105 Ratone, washer/ dryer $150/ month 539-7190,

MALE/ FEMALE smoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus one-half bills. Frank 539-8786.

MALE/ FEMALE smoker. one-third bills, one third rent, own room close to campus, and Aggieville, 587-9606

MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block from campus, with two girls, one guy, Own $172.50.539-4311.

MASTER BEDROOM in Two large closets own er. Call 539-2208. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apart-ment. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524. ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities. 587-9439. ROOMMATE WANTED next to campus. Large, private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294. ROOMMATE WANTED basement apartment, three blocks from cam-pus, $175/ month, utilities paid, can renew lease in June. 776-4110. ROOMMATES NEEDED, 723 Galaxy $175/ month, pets ok, call 587-8335 ask for Jason.

STUDENT WANTED: $175 month plus divided util-ities, 587-0697, leave

TWO ROOMS available in nished basement apart ment. Laundry fur-nished, for males, nonsmoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539-1554.

WANTED: FEMALE to rent one-bedroom in a house with washer/ dry-er. $230 negotiable. Within walking distance to campus. 776-8481.

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry facilities. Pets allowed. Contact. John at Contact 537-6058. John

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250 month. Close to campus in house, please contact Joyce at SUBLEASE SPRING semester 1996, rent ne-gotiable, 587-9519.

Tutor

STRUGGLING WITH Eng-GTA/ Instructor, Chris Rueter is available for tutoring. Call 776-0272.

Resume/ Typing

PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

FAST, CHEAP, accurate, Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing Laser printing. Becky, 539-2748.

Child Care

AVAILABLE BABYSITTER at reasonable rates-Nice, homely envi-ronment $1/ hour. Contact 537-3117.

Other

Services

COMPUTERIZED TAX preparation. $15 for simple return. Can help with by students. Anytime

MONEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all students. Immediate qualification. Call (800)270-2744. Open Mon.-Sat.

> PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. (913)841-5716.

Massage

NEW CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon. She specializes in neuromus-cular therapy, shiatsu, Swedish and reflex-ology. Mention this ad and receive $10 off first appointment, 539-6969.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertise-ments in the Employ-ment/Career classification. Readers are adtion. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jafferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$100,000 FIRST Year com missions possible. We need recruiters, train-

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

$35,000/ YEAR Income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-

potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.

SEARN $7.50 AN HOURS - That's right! You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Manhattan Biomedical Center. 1130 Gardenway. 9a.m. - 6:30p.m., M - F, 9a.m. - 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from Westloop.

ATTENTION MAN-HATTAN DO YOU ENJOY DRIVING? USD 383 is looking for coming school bus driv-ers. All training will be provided including CDL licensing. Part-time $6.50 per hour plus benefits. Apply to USD383, 2031 Poyntz Ave., Manhattan, KS 66502. 587-2000 EOE. ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-A57683.

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachu-setts. Over 100 posi-tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Waterski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required Top salaries, room and board, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and interviews February 27- 28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

APPLICATION FOR mem-bership for McCain Am-bassadors, a student or-genization interested in tainment, will be avail-able at K-State Student Union SAS Office from January 31 through Fe-bruary 26. Due back in office on February 26 by 4p.m. Contact Emily Simpson at 539–4651 or Todd Lakin at 537–7773

ATTENTION ALL Students! Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarship is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information (800)263-6495

ATTENTION STUD-ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-sponse.

ATTENTION UPPER divi sion accounting majors. Very part-time book-keeping job, 2- 3 flexi-ble hours a week. Call 539-4601

BABYSITTER FOR new born in our home. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Light house' keeping re-quired. $5/ hour. 587-8767.

CAMP COUNSELORS for educational camp south of Kansas City. Car lead fishing, canoeing crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the outdoors. Lifeguard help-ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details and board. For details, send inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wild-wood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS

Sports and Adventure Camp- Seeking quali-fied counselors to work ment terms for all or part of the summer. If remotely interested, come to our KSU informational video pre Sentation 7:30p.m., Tuesday, February 8 at K-State Union, Little Theatre. Ida, Located (501)867-4131. CAMP TAKAJO for boys.

Outstanding Maint camp noted for mag nificent lakefront set ting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 positions for heads and as sistants in tennis, base ball, basketball, soccer lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming sailing or swimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, jour-nalism, photography, videography, wood-working, ceramics, working, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study, radio and electronics, dramatics, piano ac companist, music in-strumentalist, band di-rector, backpacking, rector, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewater canoeing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), secretarial. June 17-August 18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m., 4p.m., Rooms 203 and 405 in Student Union. Walk-ins Welcome.

CLERICAL SUPPORT-Currently hiring for two half-time positions for clerical support. The job requires a knowledge of WordPerfect, Lotus 123. Other software knowledge is help-ful. Good telephone skills are required. Apply in person at LERN, 1550 Hayes Drive, Manhattan. EOE

demic journal. Contract work, paid hourly. Two issues annually. Con tact: National Academic Advising Association 2323 Anderson Ave. Suite 225, Manhattan 66506-2912 532-5717 before Fe-

COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL Techs/ Stylists. Wanting a flexible schedule in an up and coming sa-lon? Booth rent first four weeks free or parttime commission op tion also available. Apply Wholesale Beau-ty Club/ Club Beauty Salon 409 Poytz 539-5999.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary,. For information (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

DINING SERVICES PO-SITIONS- Derby Din-ing Center is hiring students for cooking, service and custodia positions. Beginning pay $4.75 per hour. Raises scheduled. Breakfast, lunch, dinner and some weekend hours are available. We will work around your class schedule. You choose times you want to work. Apply in person at Derby Dining Center. Room 129 between the hours of 7:30a.m.- 5:30p.m.

Roses has part-time weekend and evening sales openings for out-going people. Must be 18 years old and have transportation. C Rosemary -776-7123. FUNDRAISER-MOTI

EARN $6, $7/ hour Just

VATED groups needed to earn $500 plus prom-oting At&T, Discover, gas and retail cards. Since 1969, we've helped thousands of groups raise the money they need. Call Gina at (800)592-2121 ext. 198. Free CD to qualified

HARVEST HELP NEED ED. We run three new 2188's Case International combines, three new Chevy automatic new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board pro-vided. Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting. (913)689–4660.

HORTICULTURAL SERV ICES, Inc. is seeking re-liable individuals for full- or part-time employment for our retail garden center and landscape operations. Above average wages and benefits. Apply in person at 11524 Landscape Lane, St. George, KS 66535. (913)494-2418 or (913)776-0397.

JOBS IN the Great Out doors- National Parks Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hiring. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-

LOOKING FOR student to do house cleaning, iron-ing for two apartments, flexible hours. Call Kevin 537–1145 or 587–4121.

MULTICULTURAL CON-STITUENT PROGRAM COORDINATOR. Parttime position with Kan-sas State University ordinates alumni/ stud-ent programming in conjunction with uni versity ethnic month ac tivities, multicultural and international alum programming Bachelor's degree re-quired. Self-starter with strong organizational, event planning, speak ing and writing skills. Experience working with volunteers and multicultural organi zations preferred. Posi-tion starts March 11. Submit letter of application, resume and three references by Feb. 16 to Amy Button Renz, K-State Alumni Association, 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 400, Manhattan, KS 66502-2909. EOE.

NEEDED PHOTOGRA-PHERS for fraternity/ sorority parties. No ex perience needed. Mus perience needed. Must be free on weekends. Univerisity Photogra-phy, 1128 Laramie to fill out application.

PART-TIME DELIVERY person at Faith Furniture must be able to work weekends and some af-ternoons. Apply in per-son at Faith Furniture located on E. Highway

PREMIERE BROTHERS positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, especially Baseball, Basketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Rinflery, Pioneering/ Overnight Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, positions for talented Skating, Newspaper Photography, Year book, Radio Station Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canceing/ Kayaking). Top salaries, room, board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC

(Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-392-3752. RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing
Sales Training Program, which is specifically designed for recent college graduates. cent college graduates.
Call or send resume.
6900 College Blvd,
#1000 Overland Park,
KS 66211, ATTN: Pam

(913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX. REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business opportunity with multi-level marketing in tele-communications industry. For appointment 539-0208.

SECRETARY/ RECEP-TIONIST- Requires excellent organizational skills and attention to detail. Computer, word processing and book keeping experience im-portant. Looking for professional, enthu-siastic, bright, peopleoriented candidate with hour. Send resume to 1600 Poyntz Ave., Man

SMALL ENGINE Mechanic full or part-time, call 776-4181 K-Hill Engine Service. 8430 E. High-way 24.

STUDENT COMPUTER Consultant: 12 or more hours per week. Ex-perience with both Mainframe and Microcomputers, along with employment GPA and employment gra and employment potential of two years given pref-erence. Contact Ralph Wasmer in Room 9 Fairchild Hall by 5p.m. Monday, February 5, 1996 for application. NO PHONE CALLS PLEASEL

STUDENT'S DREAM – Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your schedule. All natural products. Doctor recom-mended. Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539-7336.

SUMMER CAMP JOBS: Pine Cove Christian Camps in Tyler, Texas, are three separate re creational camps for children, youth, and families. We will be interviewing for summer staff Monday and Tuesday February 5th and 6th in the Union Building Hallway from 10a.m. 5p.m. Call Susan McNellis at 539-7342 for more details or Pine Cove at (800)225-9069. creational camps for children, youth, and fa-

SUMMER JOBS in Color ado. YMCA of the Rock-ies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference center and family resort hiring for Lifeguards, Food Services, Front Counselors Desk, Counselors, Housekeeping, etc. Campus interviews on February 8, 1996. Contact Career/ Employ ment Services for in terview, 532-6506.

ren's camp northeast. Top salary, Room and board, laundry, travel allowance. Must have skill in one of the fol lowing activities: archery, arts and crafts (ceramics, stain-glass, jew elry), athletic trainer, basketball, canoeing, kayaking, dance (tap, pointe, jazz, modern jazz), drama, field hock-ey, golf, gymnastics (in-structors or qualified spotters), horseback rid ing- hunt seat, lacrosse, nature, photography, videographer, piano accompanist, pioneering camp craft, ropes (in-nerquest- ropes challenge course, 25 sta tions), sailing, soccer, softball, tennis, theater echnicians, track ar volleyball field, volleyball W.S.I./Swim instruc tors, windsurfing. Also opportunities for kitchen cooks, maintenance, nurses, secretaries. Call 1-800-838-YEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Student Union Rooms 203 and 295. No appointment

SUMMER ORIENTA-Student Services will be interviewing and hir-ing orientation leaders for the 1996 Summer Orientation/ Enrollment Program. Applications are available in 1 Anderson Hall (lower lev-el). If there are any questions, please con-tact Gary Pierson at 532-6318. A completed application must be submitted by 5p.m., Monday, February 5, TENNIS JOBS - Sum mer children's camp -northeast - good tennis background, college-level player who can teach children to play tennis. Good salary, room, board and laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write:

Camp Vega for girls,
P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus
Monday, February
5th, 10 e.m.-4p.m.,
Student Union,
Rooms 203 and 208.
No appointment nec-

court and water sports. Also arts and main-tenance. No experience necessary. Call campus representative, Jim Engle after 7p.m. at (913)838-9656.

TIMBER LAKE/ TYLER HILL CAMPS, Top NY and PA resident camps have over 200 summe job openings for quali fied students and facul ty. Counselors, WSI Arts, Athletics Special ists and more! Best salaries and travel al-lowance in addition to the finest summer you'll ever have." On campus interviews Thursday, February 8th. Call Career and Em-ployment Services at (913)532-6506 for an ap-plication and an interplication and an inter

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help. Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at 2700 Anderson Ave

WATERERONT JORS W.S.I.- Summer children's camp-Northeast- teach children to swim, coach swim team, dive, waterski (sla-lom, trick, barefoot, and three references to North Central- Flint Hills Area Agency on Aging, 437 Houston Street, Manhattan, KS 66502. Deadline: January 31, 1996 EOE/AA SUMMER JOBS- female counselors for child-

> Wanted to Buy WANT TO buy: Diamonds Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631. Items for Sale > > four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me ing for. Lorin 539-6631 DESK $15, bicycle $55, mirrors $5, small glass table- two chairs $45, 10-gallon aquarium-whole setup $35, three-shelved bookcase $15, desk chair $30, 539-3809.

COLLEGE STUDENT with

FOR SALE- Oak loft bed good bed/ mattress sup-ported by two pedes-tals that house student desk with three draw ers, six drawer chest, and shelves. Also six drawer chest. Call drawer chest. C 539-6600 after 6p.m. FOR SALE: Graphics I art supplies. Table, board included. Perfect for graphics clas 539-8372 or 539-1537. FOR SALE: Large dorm re-frigerator. $75. Call 776-3357. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-formica counter top and plenty of shelf space. Come see and make offer. 587-8638.

New, never used, still in plastic. Retail price $639. Will sell for $165. Brass headboard $90, (913)379-9858.

set. New, never used. Still in plastic. Retail price $839, will sell for $195. Queen brass

AA QUEEN size mattress

headbaord, (913)379-9858.

KING SIZE mattress set

WATERBED FOR sale

new, retail $999, sell for $275. (913)379-9858.

Super single, good den, KS.

Furniture to Buy/Sell 5'4 1/2"X4'X2'3" bar, with AA FULL size mattress set

THE WORLD'S BEST SUMMER CAMP, LAUREL FOR BOYS AND GIRLS. Located on a three mile lake in Maine. Men and women are needed as counselors, coaches and instructors in field

TIPS FOR WRITING A

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers

Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers

Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in

CLASSIFIED AD

find what they are looking for.

are confused by abbreviations.

view appointment.

15-INCH MONITOR Acer 486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14

lom, trick, barefoot, jumping), sail. Good salary, room board, laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union rooms 203 and 205. Student Union rooms 203 and 205.

OPEN MARKET

WELL-ORGANIZED KSU student with top-notch communication skills needed for Kansas Work Study Program. Requires some office skills and a pleasant can-do attitude. Send resume, cover letter

> Pets and Supplies

Music

Instruments

FERNANDEZ

50 GALLON aquarium with lighted top. Both are new and still in box. Never used. $115 or best offer. 539-3789.

FIVE-FOOT RED-TAILED boa constrictor, with large cage. $300 or best offer. 776–6223.

defining the music "in-dustry" at 523 S. 17th St., in The Midtown Pla-za. 539–1958.

455 Sporting

Equipment HIMALAYAN, BLAZE with deluxe frame. Excellent condition, hardly used. $35, 537-4512.

Equipment

KENWOOD STEREO system, new. 776-5830. Best offer

PORTATION

Automobiles 1984 VOLVO 240 runs great, must sell $1000 or best offer 776-9381. 1989 TOYOTA Corolla GTS. Excellent condition, sunroof, tinted glass, five-speed, Grey new. Call 565-0764.

BUICK CENTURY, 1985, 94,000 miles autolock, rebuilt, good condition. $2900. Call 395-3867. LIGHT BROWN 1986 Jetta five-speed, four-door air conditioned, new air conditioned, new tires and muffler, $1400 or best offer. 539–3809.

Motorcycles 1990 YAMAHA FZR600 Good Condition, V&H exhaust new rear tire, cover and helmet $3000. Or best offer. Call Micheal 537–3291.

shape, complete. $50. 587-9083. 610

Antiques

Computers

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Man-hattan Airport. Open Tues. – Sat. 12 – 5p.m. 539–4684.

View 56L, .28.Pitch, en-many ergysaver, many features, top quality $300. 776-1650 Andrea.

inch color mo $1495. 539-8453.

DRAFTING AT home. Au

tocad RII- with tutorial.

installation and per former's guide, autolist programmer's refer ence, reference manual, never used. $85. 539–3809.

ware. StyleWriter ink

jet printer. Excellent condition. $450. Con-tact Robert at 395-4242.

Tour Packages

complete packages to South Padre Island, TX and Cancun. MACINTOSH CLASSIC II 4 MB RAM, 80MB hard drive. ClarisWorks, soft-ARTY WITH THOUSANDS rates and best hotel

Leisure Tours has

selection for Spring Bres

1-800-584-7381 roup Rates L.T.I. e Available

http://www.ststravel.com/

Spring

OUTH PADRE ISLAND PANAMA CITY BEACH DAYTONA BEACH KEY WEST STEAMBOAT VAIL/BEAVER CREEK HILTON HEAD ISLAND

1-800-SUNCHASE parties of the second parties of the second Break

David Garvin, PADI in structor, 539-0531 structor, 539-053 classes now forming. JOIN UNIGLOBE Knowles Travel for Spring Break in Cancun or Jamaica. Jamaica starting from $439 March 24-31, 1996. Cancun starting from $399 March 22-29, 1996, March 23- 30, 1996. Limited space.

SCUBA DIVE Learn to break and summe

scuba dive for spring

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja-maica/ Cancun $399. Or ganize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710.

(800)628-6589.

SPRING BREAK'S "Hot test Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island, 800)328-7513 http://www.studen tadvtrav.com Free food and drink pack-age for early sign-

CATEGORIES To help you find what you are ooking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

DO NOT USE PERSONALS.

Venues offer opportunities for artists, art lovers

Russell Fortmeyer

UNION ART GALLERY

The K-State Department of Art faculty show will be in the Union Art Gallery until Feb. 9.

The show is quite similar to a previous exhibition at the Columbian Theater and Art Gallery in Wamego including most of the same artists and some of the same

The gallery is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be a reception from 4 to 6

CALLS FOR ART ENTRIES

"Touchstone," K-State's undergraduate literary magazine, is calling for works of art from all K-State undergraduate students.

'Touchstone" is a collection of poems and short works of fiction of varying subjects and styles.

Past issues haven't focused on art

You don't have to be an art major to get your work included, just a sense of creativity and a knack for following directions: work accepted includes two-dimensional pieces smaller than 8-1/2 by 11 inches ranging in mediums of painting, photography, line drawings and computer illustrations.

Most of the work used will be black, white or grey, but one work in color will be chosen for the front cover. If your work is chosen, you will receive exposure, credit in the magazine, two free copies of the magazine and $50.

Included in your work must be your name, address, phone, title of the artwork, media used and an indication of the work's orientation.

Artwork can be dropped off from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays in Denison

The deadline for entrance is Feb.

Call Melissa Rodenbeek at 532-6716 in the Department of English for more information.

NELSON-ATKINS MUSEUM

A new exhibition of prints by the late American artist Nancy Graves is the focus of a new show at the Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art in Kansas City,

Graves worked in printmaking for the last 20 years and included in the show are some recent experimentations with impressions from organic materi-

This weekend is the last chance to see two shows, "Caravaggio and Tanzio: The Theme of St. John the Baptist" and "Surface, Structure, Light: Aspects of Minimalism," both closing

The Nelson is also searching for new docents to work with various educational programs and tours.

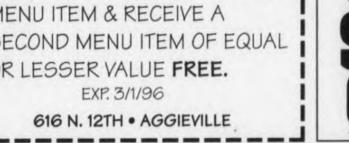

The docent training program is completed during three years with the first new class beginning in the fall. An information session for interested adults will be at 10:30 a.m. Feb. 8 in the Museum's Atkins Auditorium.

The Nelson's hours are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday. from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Admission is $2 for students, and it is free on Saturdays. The Nelson will be closing at 4 p.m. Feb. 4. The Nelson is at 4525 Oak St. Call (816) 561-4000 for more information.

PURCHASE A REGULAR PRICED ! MENU ITEM & RECEIVE A SECOND MENU ITEM OF EQUAL OR LESSER VALUE FREE.

Floyd E. Rogers

Res: (913) 776-8900

ttan, REALTORS 3230 Kimball Ave Manhattan, KS 66502 Office: (913) 776-4488

1-800-232-5726

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home market analysis.

Diet Cures

What Diet Causes

Hansen

Nutrition Center

Penny Alonso

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

Natural Foods

Appliances

Books

Herbs

No experience necessary! Thursday, February 1 5:30-7pm 304 Ahearn Gym

For further information call 532-6887

Join us for only $85 a semester

(student special)

Limited memberships available Offer expires February 15

Directed by Ass Portib February 2.3.8.9.10 8:00 PM

February 4 and 11 2:00 PM

1520 Pounts Avenue Call Now 5396000

Manhattan Ants Center

Food Supplements

Homeopathies

3112 Anderson Ave.

537-4571

Special Dietary Foods

Body Building Foods

40% OFF Processing

Mon.-Sat.

9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

(35mm, 110, 126, C-41)

of Film

with processing (AGFA 10/100)

Special 49

(35mm 110, 126, C-41)

Portrait Sitting & 8 Proofs $15.95 with coupon

Call for appointment

....

PHOTOWEST

Open: Mon-Fri 9-6

Sat 9-5

M/C•Visa•Am.Ex.•Disc.

Classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

DEADLINES

HOW TO PAY

ManierCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 synépi umed checks.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

GET THE WORD OUT Place your classified ad in Kedzie 103 UNION 103 Kedzie Hall OFFICE PARKING Hours SOUTH OF THE UNION Mon.-Fri. 8-5 Except holidays)

BOARD

Announcements

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

YMCA certifications taught on campus. Contact UFM at 539-8763 for information and registration.

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information (800)256-7515.

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism bresk-through. Guaranteed. Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information: (800)229-7562.

Lost and Found

ads can be placed free for three days. FOUND SILVER Bracelet Contact 532-6321 to de scribe and claim. FOUND: CALCULATOR in the K-State Student Union. Contact 395-5462 to describe and claim. . FOUND: RING outside Ahearn Fieldhouse, Jan. 18. To identify call 776-7945.

FOUND: SUNGLASSES, you left them when you placed your classified ad. Claim in 103 Kedzie.

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

Parties-n-More

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at rea-sonable rates! Rob Manhattan City Ordi-portunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, fa-milial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320 month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to $350/ month, 537-7542.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU deluxe two-bedroom apartment. $500. Also one-bedroom apart-ment for June and August $320. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

FOR RENT: 827 Moro basement apartment. Three blocks from Aggieville utilities and washing privileges included $120 month, 537-9756.

MODERN TWO-BED-ROOM, close to cam-pus, terrace, washer/ dryer access, low utili-ties, $430/ month. Call 539-3178. ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO, E-BEDROOM STUDIO, furnished in complex 1219 Claffin. Next to campus, $320 plus de-posit, plus electric. No pets, available now, six months lease. Call 537–1180.

STUDIO, ONE, two, three-bedrooms, furnished or unfurnished. Clean and quiet surroundings six or nine-month lease. No pets. 537-8389. THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N.

10th St., sublesse, $450. 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM FUR-NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont, Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428. TWO-BEDROOM SUB-LEASE, start immediately, close to cam pus, we will help pay your rent! 537-1359. TWO-BEDROOM. bath, new carpet, laundry facilities, one block from campus, lease until (913)632-2744.

TWO-BEDROOMS AVAIL ABLE- large house. Share facilities with other tenants $120-$150 per month plus electricity, 539-6687 or (316)722-6851.

For Rent-Unfurnished

AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available now. Very large, two-bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included. Call 776–3804.

ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537-2332.

APARTMENT FOR rent Very near campus. Clean and new. $385 plus utilities. Available (913)455-3433. Leave AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m

AVAILABLE NOW- rent no gotiable, luxury apart-ment next to campus, two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing, 539-2702 evenings.

AVAILABLE NOW, across

from Aggieville and campus. Spacious one or two-bedroom with off-street parking. 776-0683 after 5p.m. AVAILABLE NOW. One $360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets allowed. Call now 776-3804.

AVAILABLE SOON- twobedroom duplex, fire-place, off-street park-ing, washer/ dryer hook-ups, central heat/ air, good neighborhood, close to campus. Call 532-9008 or (913)252-

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid. Available Jan. 1. 539-1975.

CLEAN, THREE-BED-ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer, Gas and water split. Electricity separate. Trash paid. $450/ month 1110 Colorado, 537-9023.

CRESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE in January. 1611 Laramie. $600. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776–3804.

NEWLY REMODELED one-bedroom. One-half block from campus. Dis-count on rent for 12month leases. For de

ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse. Newly carpeted 537-9188 or 537-1550.

tails, call (816)224-9796

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

ONE-BEDROOM NISHED/ unfurnished. Available now. $300, 537-7138.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR campus. $350, no bills Pets allowed. 537–2697. ONE-BEDROOM NEAR

KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776–3804. PARK PLACE apartment leasing a one-bedroom for up to six month lease if desired. Call 537-9794 immediately PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom spartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleybali. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.

TWO-BEDROOM APART

MENT, southeast of campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facil-ities, immediately avail-able, 539-7277.

ROYAL TOWERS. Four

STUDIO AVAILABLE now

THREE-BEDROOM APART

month. 539-5729.

THREE-BEDROOM WITH washer/ dryer, dish-washer, fireplace. Avail-able Feb. 1. $600. 537-7138.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT, $380/ month. Across street from Ahearn Field House. Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537-7794.

TWO-BEDROOM APART

776-3663

(316)722-4469.

MENT, near campus; all appliances; laundry, gym, pool on-site; $570/ month; call day campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dish washer, microwave, laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.

near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776–3804.

MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL

Collegian Classifieds

Osage, $485. Water

TWO-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH PAID. $480.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Avail-able now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month. Water paid. (913)379-5450.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid $460/ month. Cal $460/ month. Cal 587-4111 or after 6p.m.

TWO-BEDROOM, 1106 Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM. Bluemont, sublease $350, 539-8401.

MODDWAY STOP ! DO NOT RENT AN APARTMENT

UNTIL YOU CONSIDER THIS! Brand new sparkling swimming pool Spacious decks/patios Avail. June 5 Aug. 6

Kitchen Appliances include microwave and ceiling fan ·Economical gas heat bedroom $410, $420 2 bedroom $520, $530 bedroom $654, $663 bedroom $816, $836

Office: 2400 Kimball Ave. at College Ave.

Across from Bramlage) Call Roy at 537-7007

for an appointment.

▲ 2 bedroom

apartments Great location ▲ Private bedroom Large bath & closets

Dishwasher ▲ Laundry facility

▲ On site office

▲ 2 large pools NOW LEASING JUNE 8 AUGUST

776-1148 Open Houses Daily The Curtin Company

For Rent-Houses

AVAILABLE IMME-, close to campus 776-1340.

FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM house, short term lease, $700. Available now, 537-7138.

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-lowed.Call 776-3804.

HARDWOOD FLOORS arched doorways. Heat-ing paid and free laun-dry, two-bedroom. Available now. $400, 776-3143.

HEATING PAID. Free laun dry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.

TWO AND three-bedroom er. No pets please. 539-1554.

For Sale-Mobile Homes

12X60 TWO-BEDROOM Stove, refrigerator, washer/ dryer, mi-crowave. Set up Blue Valley trailer court. 539-1004.

1994 SKYLINE Sabre two bedroom, one bath, central air. Excellent, condition. Paid $17,500.

AVAILABLE NOW- Very nice four-bedroom townhouse, three bath, washer/ dryer. $215/ month plus one-fourth utilities. Call 776–3843.

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look ing for roommate two bedroom apartment Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, ca-ble. As soon as possible. As soon as possi-ble through July. 539-6394.

CLEAN, RESPONSIBLE, studious college stud-ent seeks housemate to share three-bedroom newly remodeled home in excellent neighbor hood. Within walking distance to campus. $375/ month INCLUDES washer/ dryer, own bathroom, gas, electric, garbage, water, off-street parking and local phone. Rent due by 28th each month, 539-0813.

needed $162/ month, one-third utilities, four bedroom, three bath townhouse available immediately. Call 539-4776 ask for Nicole/

FEMALE ROOMMATE needed to share three bedroom apartment $165/ month. Two blocks from campus, 1729 Laramie, 537–1091

ask for Laurie. FEMALE ROOMMATE needed to share four-bedroom house. $279/ month utilities included. Wash/ dryer avail-able, Call 776-7298.

ROOMMATE FEMALE wanted: close to Aggieville and campus. fordable rent. C 776-1388 ask for Ali FEMALE ROOMMATE Student. $162/ month plus one-third utilities. Dishwasher, central heat/ air, Available now, 587-1964.

FEMALE SMOKERS want female roommate. Three-bedroom. $175/ month plus one-third utilities. 776-8764.

FEMALE. AVAILABLE im mediately: three-bed-room house, two blocks to campus, 1105 Ratone, washer/ dryer $150/ month 539-7190. 539-4303 (913)485-2385.

MALE/ FEMALE non smoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus one-half bills. Frank 539-8786

one-third bills, one third rent, own room, close to campus, and Aggieville, 587-9606.

MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block from campus, with two girls, one guy. Own $172.50, 539-4311.

MASTER BEDROOM in three-bedroom house. Two large closets own bathroom, washer/ dry er. Call 539-2208.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE two-bedroom apart half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. 539-9524.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities. 587-9439.

ROOMMATE WANTED next to campus. Large private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294.

ROOMMATE WANTED: basement apartment, three blocks from cam-pus, $175/ month, utilities paid, can renew lease in June. 776-4110. ROOMMATES NEEDED.

723 Galaxy $175/ month, pets ok, call 587-8335 ask for Jason. STUDENT WANTED: $175

month plus divided util-ities. 587-0697, leave

TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur nished basement apart ment. Laundry fursmoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539–1554.

WANTED: FEMALE to rent one-bedroom in house with washer/ dry $230 negotiable Within walking distance to campus. 776–8481.

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry facilities. Pets allowed. Contact John at

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to campus in house, please Joyce

SUBLEASE SPRING se-mester 1996, rent ne-gotiable, 587-9519,

Tutor

STRUGGLING WITH English 100 or 2007 Forme GTA/ Instructor, Chris Rueter is available for tutoring. Call 776–0272.

Resume/ Typing

PERFECT and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

FAST, CHEAP, accurate. Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing. Laser printing. Becky, 539-2748. 235

Child Care

AVAILABLE BABYSITTER at reasonable rates-Nice, homely envi-ronment, $1/ hour. Contact 537-3117.

Other Services

> COMPUTERIZED TAX pre paration. $15 for simple return. Can help with budgeting and financial problems. For students by students. Anytime 532-9268.

MONEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all students. Immediate qual ification (800)270-2744. Open Mon.- Sat.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Date L. Clinton, M.D. 913)841-5716.

Massage

NEW CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon. She specializes in neuromus cular therapy, shiatsu, Swedish and reflex-ology Mention this ad and receive $10 off first

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordi-nance 4814 assures every person equal opevery person equal op-portunity in securing and holding employ-ment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any vised to approach any such employment op-portunity with reason-able caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$100,000 FIRST Year com missions possible. We need recruiters, train ers, and managers. 24 hour recorded mes-

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-1915 for detail $40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings

ARN $7.50 AN HOURS - That's right! You receive $15 each SEARN time you donate life saving plasma at Man-hattan Biomedical Cenhattan Biomedical Cen-ter. 1130 Gardenway. 9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M- F. 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from

"ATTENTION MAN-HATTAN" DO YOU ENJOY DRIVING? USD 383 is looking for coming school bus driv-ers. All training will be provided including CDL licensing. Part-time $6.50 per hour plus benefits. Apply to USD383, 2031 Poyntz Ave., Manhattan, KS 66502, 587-2000 EOE.

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachu setts. Over 100 posi tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required Top salaries, room and board, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and interviews February 27-28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS1 Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

APPLICATION FOR mem-bership for McCain Am-bassadors, a student or-ganization interested in tainment, will be avail-able at K-State Student Union SAS Office from January 31 through Fe-bruary 26. Due back in office on February 26 by 4p.m. Contact Emily Simpson at 539–4651 or Todd Lakin at 537–7773

ATTENTION ALL Students Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information (800)263-6495

ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774 Olethe K.S. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-

ATTENTION UPPER division accounting majors Very part-time book keeping job, 2- 3 flexi ble hours a week. Call 539-4601.

BABYSITTER FOR new born in our home. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Light house' keeping re-quired. $5/ hour. 587-8767.

CAMP COUNSELORS for educational camp south of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canoeing crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the outdoors. Lifeguard help ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details send inquiry before February 9, 1996 to Wildwood Center, 7095 W 399th St., LaCygne, KS

Sports and Adventure Camp- Seeking quali fied counselors to work ment terms for all or part of the summer. remotely interested come to our KSU in formational video presentation 7:30p.m., Tuesday, February 6
at K-State Union, Little Theatre. Located
Mount Ida, AR (501)867-4131. CAMP TAKAJO for boys.
Outstanding Maine
camp noted for magnificent lakefront set ting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 positions for heads and as sistants in tennis, base ball, basketball, soccer lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, jour nalism, photography, videography, wood-working, ceramics, working, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study radio and electronics dramatics, piano ac companist, music in strumentalist, band di-rector, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewa ter canoeing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), sec-retarial. June 17-Au-gust 18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, Fe-bruary 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union. Walk-jps Welcome

CLERICAL SUPPORT-Currently hiring for two half-time positions for clerical support. The job requires a knowl-edge of WordPerfect, Lotus 123. Other software knowledge is help ful. Good telephone skills are required. Apply in person at LERN, 1550 Hayes Drive, Manhattan. EOE

COPY EDITOR for acaissues annually. Con tact: National Aca Advising Association, 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 225, Manhattan, 66506-2912 532-5717 before Fe-COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL

Techs/ Stylists. Wanting a flexible schedule in an up and coming sa-lon? Booth rent first four weeks free or part-time commission option also available. Apply Wholesale Beau-ty Club/ Club Beauty Salon 409 Poytz 539-5999.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary. For information (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

DINING SERVICES PO-SITIONS— Derby Din-ing Center is hiring students for cooking, service and custodial positions. Beginning pay $4.75 per hour. Raises scheduled. Breakfast, lunch, dinner and some weekend hours are available. We will work around your class schedule. You choose times you want son at Derby Dining Center. Room 129 between the hours of 7:30a.m.- 5:30p.m.

EARN $6- $7/ hour. Just Roses has part-time weekend and evening sales openings for out-going people. Must be 18 years old and have transportation. C. Rosemary -776-7123. FUNDRAISER-MOTI

VATED groups needed to earn $500 plus prom-oting At&T, Discover, gas and retail cards. Since 1969, we've helped thousands of groups raise the money they need. Call Gina at (800)592-2121 ext. 198. Free CD. to qualified

HARVEST HELP NEED ED. We run three new 2188's Case Interna-tional combines, three new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board provided. Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting. (913)689-4660.

HORTICULTURAL SERV ICES, Inc. is seeking re-liable individuals for full- or part-time em-ployment for our retail garden center and landscape operations. Above average wages and benefits. Apply in person at 11524 Landscape Lane, St. George, KS 66535. (913)494-2418 or (913)776-0397.

JOBS IN the Great Outdoors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hiring. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-

LOOKING FOR student to do house cleaning, iron-ing for two apartments, flexible hours. Call Kevin 537-1145 or 587-4121.

LTICULTURAL CON-STITUENT PROGRAM COORDINATOR. Part-MULTICULTURAL time position with Kan-sas State University ordinates alumni/ student programming in conjunction with university ethnic month activities, multicultural programming Bachelor's degree re-quired. Self-starter with strong organizational, ing and writing skills. Experience working with volunteers and multicultural organizations preferred. Posi-tion starts March 11. Submit letter of application, resume and three references by Feb. 16 to Amy Buttor Renz, K-State Alumn Association, 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 400, Manhattan, KS 66502-2909. EOE.

NEEDED PHOTOGRA-PHERS for fraternity/ sorority parties. No ex-perience needed. Must be free on weekends. University Photography, 1128 Laramie to fill out application.

PART-TIME DELIVERY permust be able to work weekends and some af-ternoons. Apply in per-son at Faith Furniture located on E. Highway

PREMIERE BROTHERS positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, esin all Team Sports, especially Baseball, Basketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Riflery, Pioneering/ Overnight Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skling, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canceing/ Kayaking). Top salaries, room, board and travel. June 18- August 17, Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-

392-3752. RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specif-ically designed for recent college graduates. Call or send resume. 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam

REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business opportunity with multi-level marketing in tele-communications industry. For appointment 539-0208.

SECRETARY/ RECEP-TIONIST- Requires ex-cellent organizational skills and attention to detail. Computer, word processing and book keeping experience im-portant. Looking for professional, enthusiastic, bright, people oriented candidate with good communication skills. Full-time, $6.50 Send resume to 1600 Poyntz Ave., Man-hattan, KS 66502.

SMALL ENGINE Mechanic full or part-time, call 776-4181 K-Hill Engine Service. 8430 E. High-way 24.

STUDENT COMPUTER Consultant: 12 or more hours per week. Ex-perience with both Mainframe and Microcomputers, along with employment GPA and employment potential of two years given pref-erence. Contact Ralph Wasmer in Room 9 Fairchild Hall by 5p.m. Monday, February 5, 1996 for application. NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE

Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539-7336.

SUMMER CAMP JOBS: Pine Cove Christian Camps in Tyler, Texas, are three separate recreational camps for terviewing for summer staff Monday and Tuesstaff Monday and Tuesday February 5th and 6th in the Union Building Hallway from 10a.m. - 5p.m. Call Susan McNellis at 539-7342 for more details or Pine Cove at (800)225-9069.

SUMMER JOBS in Color ado. YMCA of the Rockies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference center and family resort hiring for Lifeguards, Food Services, Front Desk, Counselors Housekeeping, etc. Campus interviews on February 8, 1996. Contact Career/ Employ ment Services for in terview, 532-6506.

SUMMER JOBS- female counselors for children's camp northeast. Top salary, Room and board, laundry, travel allowance. Must have skill in one of the fol lowing activities: archery, arts and crafts (ce ramics, stain-glass, jew-elry), athletic trainer, basketball, canoeing kayaking, dance (tap, pointe, jazz, modern jazz), drama, field hockey, golf, gymnastics (in-structors or qualified spotters), horseback riding- hunt seat, lacrosse, nature, photography, videographer, piano accompanist, pioneering camp craft, ropes (in nerquest- ropes challenge course, 25 sta tions), sailing, soccer, softball, tennis, theater echnicians, track and field, volleyball W.S.I./Swim instruc tors, windsurfing. Also opportunities for kitchen cooks, maintenance, nurses, secretaries. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Student Union Rooms 203 and 295. Na appointment 295. No appointment

TION LEADER. New Student Services will for the 1996 Summer Orientation/ Enrollment Program. Application are available in 1 An derson Hall (lower lev el). If there are any questions, please con-tact Gary Pierson at 532-6318. A completed application must be submitted by 5p.m., Monday, February 5,

TENNIS JOBS - Summer children's camp -northeast - good tennis background,
college-level player who can teach children to play tennis.
Good salary, room,
board and laundry,
rayel allowance VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Dux-bury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union, Student Union Rooms 203 and 205

THE WORLD'S BEST SUMMER CAMP, LAUREL FOR BOYS AND GIRLS. Located on a three mile lake in Maine. Men and women are needed as counselors, coaches and instructors in field court and water sports. Also arts and main-tenance. No experience necessary. Call campus representative, Jim Engle after 7p.m. at (913)838-9656.

TIMBER LAKE/ TYLER HILL CAMPS, Top NY and PA resident camps have over 200 summe job openings for quali-fied students and facul-ty. Counselors, WSI Arts, Athletics Special ists and more! Best salaries and travel al-lowance in addition to the finest summe rinest summer you'll ever have." On campus interviews Thursday, February 8th. Call Career and Employment Services at (913)532-6506 for an application and an interview appointment. view appointment.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at 2700 Anderson Ave.

WATERFRONT JOBS W.S.I.- Summer children's camp-Northeast- teach Northeast- teach children to swim, coach swim team, dive, waterski (sla-lom, trick, barefoot, jumping), sail. Good salary, room board, laundry, travel al-lowance. Call 1-800lowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union rooms 203 and 205.

OPEN MARKET

WELL-ORGANIZED KSU student with top-notch communication skills needed for Kansas Work Study Program. Requires some office skills and a pleasant can-do attitude. Send resume, cover letter and three references to And three retreaces to North Central-Flint Hills Area Agency on Aging, 437 Houston Street, Manhattan, KS 66502. Deadline: January 31, 1996 EOE/AA

Wanted to Buy WANT TO buy: Diamonds Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me ing for. Lorin 539-6631 DESK $15, bicycle $55, mirrors $5, small glass table- two chairs $45, 10-gallon aquarium-whole setup $35, three-shelved bookcase $15, desk chair $30, 539-3809. FOR SALE- Oak loft bed good bed/ mattress sup-ported by two pedes-tals that house student desk with three drawers, six drawer chest, and shelves. Also six drawer chest. Call 539-6600 after 6p.m. FOR SALE: Graphics I art supplies. Table, board included. Perfect for graphics class 539-8372 or 539-1537.

FOR SALE: Large dorm re-frigerator. $75. Call 776-3357. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots

BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Ogden, KS. Furniture to Buy/Sell 5'4 1/2"X4'X2'3" bar, with formica counter top and plenty of shelf space. Come see and make offer. 587-8638.

AA FULL size mattress set

New, never used, still in plastic. Retail price $639. Will sell for $165. Brass headboard $90, (913)379-9858. AA QUEEN size mattress set. New, never used. Still in plastic. Retail price $839, will sell for $195. Queen brass (913)379-9858. KING SIZE mattress set, new, retail $999, sell for $275. (913)379–9858.

headbaord,

WATERBED FOR sale Super single, good shape, complete. $50. 587-9083.

estate jewelry, furni ture, 4910 Skyway Dr four blocks east of Manhattan Airport, Open

Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Antiques

Computers

$1495. 539-8453.

tocad RII- with tutorial

installation and per

ence, reference manua never used. $85. 539-3809.

ware, StyleWriter ink

GUITAR

position is to be per formed; rate of activity pace. The Music Co.- re-St., in The Midtown Pla-za. 539–1958.

defining the music

Music

Instruments

FERNANDEZ

Pets and Supplies

455

Sporting

Equipment

HIMALAYAN.

Equipment

PORTATION

Automobiles

1984 VOLVO 240 runs

1989 TOYOTA Corolla

great, must sell $1000 or best offer 776-9381.

GTS. Excellent condi-tion, sunroof, tinted glass, five-speed. Grey

new. Call 565-0764.

94,000 miles autolock

five-speed, four-door, air conditioned, new tires and muffler, $1400 or best offer. 539–3809.

BUICK CENTURY, 1985,

LIGHT BROWN 1986 Jetta

1990 YAMAHA FZR600

Good Condition, V&H exhaust new rear tire,

$3000. Or best offer. Call Micheal 537-3291.

Motorcycles

KENWOOD STEREO SYStem, new. 776-5830. Best offer

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Emporium, 6000 square feet antiques, collectibles

610

Tour Packages

South Padre Island, TX and Cancun. MACINTOSH CLASSIC II 4 MB RAM, 80MB hard drive. ClarisWorks, soft-PARTY WITH THOUSANDS

1-800-584-7381 jet printer. Excellent condition. $450. Con-tact Robert at 395-4242. roup Rates L.T.I. e Available MACINTOSH SE/30 8 meg

Leisure Tours has

complete packages to BLAZE with deluxe frame. Excellent condition, hardly used. $35. 537-4512.

> OUTH PADRE ISLAND PANAMA CITY BEACH DAYTONA BEACH KEY WEST STEAMBOAT VAIL/BEAVER CREEK HILTON HEAD ISLAND

1-800-SUNCHASE OR NAME OVER TO DOOR WERE STITL AT

Break SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer

structor, 539-05; classes now forming. JOIN UNIGLOBE Knowles Travel for Spring Break in Cancun or Jamaica. Jamaica starting from $439 March 24: 31, 1996. Cancun starting from $399 March 22-29, 1996, March 23- 30, 1996. Limited space (800)628-6589.

David Garvin, PADI in structor, 539-0531

SPRING BREAK '96, With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja-maica/ Cancun $399, Or ganize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710 > test Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island, 800)328-7513 http://www.studen tadytrav.com Free food and drink pack-age for early sign-

SPRING BREAK'S "Hot

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for.

Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

R DO NOT US PERSONALS

PROJECTS

"This is absolutely an essential project for both entities," Havlin

In another matter concerning safety, the committee agreed to consider a project that would provide more lighting on campus and also include six to eight emergency telephones in different locations on campus.

The lights will be installed this year, and the telephones will be installed in 1997, Tom Rawson, vice president for administration and Finance, said.

The committee also agreed to review a mutual program between Hale Library and the Manhattan Public Library, which will provide Internet access to databases and catalogs at both libraries and will also provide a community infor-mation system on the World Wide Web and at the Manhattan Town Center.

"This is opening doors to the whole community. I just think it is real exciting and support it," Rieger said.

The committee also requested more information be provided concerning a student escort service.

Brad Finkeldei, student body vice president, said the student escort service would be different than the volunteer service because students could be escorted off campus to homes and apartments.

The committee said it was concerned about the escort service not being mutually beneficial to both the University and city.

"An escort service is pretty complicated. It takes a lot of people and a lot of hours plus training. It's also an ongoing project," Rieger said.

We're not besieged with criminals on campus," she said. Also receiving consideration the committee was University Gardens Infrastructure support project, which would provide horticultural exhibits and serve as an outdoor laboratory for biological sciences, Rawson said.

"It will provide economic development for the city and research possibilities for students and faculty," Rawson said.

"It will attract visitors from across the state," he said.

The project, which is largely privately funded, is expected to cost $15 million, including an endowment for maintenance. The committee also voted upon criteria it will use in evaluating which projects to consider.

One of the criteria the committee voted on was the necessity of a report should be provided, stating the accomplishments in the previous year.

After discussing whether to require the projects be completed in three years, the committee instead voted to recommend the projects be able to be able to be completed within a short period of time, preferably one to three

"I'm not certain that absolutely requiring a three-year limit would be wise," John Havlin, committee member and professor of agronomy, said.

Also, the committee decided programs should only be considered if they are mutually beneficial to the city and K-State.

SORRY, WE COULDN'T STUFF IT ALL IN.

CHECK THE E-COLLEGIAN FOR THE STORY ON TUESDAY NIGHT'S CITY COMMISION WORK SESSION.

IBRARY

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

scheduled completion date of January 1996, he said. The Government Documents department is in the process of moving into the 100 room of the 1927 building, he said. Reserves and Interlibrary Loan will move there this spring, according to the library construction update published on the World Wide Web.

Microforms and periodicals will move into room 200 of the 1927 building in early 1996, Kreger said.

The Minorities Resource and Research Center will also move to room 200 in early 1996, according to the web update.

Renovation of the 1971 building is about halfway complete and will be done sometime in 1997, Kreger said.

The east addition is expected to be complete in 1997, and the west addition is on schedule and should be complete sometime early this year, Kreger said.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"There is a lot more uncertainty with the job market, and I think this is a generation that has something to be a little bit pessimistic about," Holen cial future when almost every college generation before it has assumed that college has meant a better way of life the '90s has drawbacks relating to

In addition, university education in

I happen to be one of believes... there's a great value in college to better understand yourself and

MICHAEL HOLEN

DEAN OF EDUCATION

better understand your place in history.

college to better understand yourself and better understand your place in

"No matter how badly a student would like to become an educated person, there's a tremendous pressure on them to choose early what they ficult thing to ask of an 18- or 19-year-old what they're going to do with the rest of their life," he said. "I'm not sure I want 18 or 19-year-olds having

City Farmers

Surplus Flea Market

Open: Tues. - Fri. 10 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Sat. & Sun. 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Appliances, furniture, household items, jewelry and clothing, sporting goods,

tools, medical supplies, lawn equipment,

antiques, home maintenance items, knick knacks and A LOT MORE. (A little bit of everything new and used at want to do in order to get a job. "I think that it is an extremely difto think about that."

539-9494

affordable prices.)

those people who

than what its parents had," he said.

"I think there is a struggle between the college of intellectual-careers, he said.

ism and vocationalism in college,

he said.

happen to be those who one of people believes, especially in the graduate under-programming,

great value in there's a

"It's a pessimism based on a finan-

In May, the temporary entrance on the southeast side will be moved to its permanent location on the west side across from Lafene Health Center, Kreger said.

Several offices and departments have been moving to new temporary and permanent locations during construction, according to the web

The administrative offices will move temporarily to the fourth floor of the 1971 building when renovation is complete.

The University Archives and Special Collections have been moved to the Alumni Association building at 2323 Anderson Ave.

There is an on-going campaign working to update Farrell Library's image and the services it provides,

Kreger said. The most current example is the Voyager system, which is the computer catalog system that replaces the

This is a Windows-based catalog search system that will be available in the library and on the Internet.

Although Holen sees no clear

Meet Your

solution, he does have ideas.

"I do think we should encourage students in whatever program to get a breadth of academic expe-experience well would normally endeavor," he said

no job training," he said.

I have."

him to care.

as specific to any job or vocational Incidents from Holen's past have

"My father died when I was 12. He

"I think that without some of the caused Holen to care about the stuwas a used car salesman part time and a Fuller brush salesman, and my mother had no formal education and opportunities that I have been given throughout school and the encouragement of teacher and professors have given me, I would not have quite near the quality of life that my family and

It is those opportunities that cause

"I care about the students a lot. It's not just a job," he said. "I have a lot of faith in the future, and I have a lot of faith in young people. I appreciate the fact that this is a society where things can happen and that a person can still have the opportunities. I think that the kind of work I do can contribute to Burly

Computer Solutions

Computer Feelin' a Little Woozy? Do You Need a Computer?

We'll Make It BURLY!

·Customized PC's ·Repairs

Upgrades

395-2447

140 Moore Hall

1105 Waters

Installations

Hermit Crabs, Newts, Frogs

that happening for young people."

dents who go through his program.

beyond what be thought of rience and intellectual

DO THE LOOP

HAIRCUTS $6.00

> With Coupon Walk-ins Welcome

Appointments Preferred 1129 Westloop 539-2921 (on the west side)

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK E E E E E RESTAURANT AND

LOUNGE 539-8888 1304

WESTLOOP 539-0888 Dining-in Coupon 10% off

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

THE FASHION SHOP

FULL SET $30 PEDICURE $15 WITH COUPON

11129 WESTLOOP ON WESTSIDE 776-4263

NE Kansas # 1 Supplier for Your Fish Tank Needs

Come Check Our Everyday Low Prices

1310 Westloop Shopping Ctr.

537-2020

NEW RELEASES

Mon.-Thurs. Fri.-Sun. $749 $149 Choose from thousands of titles for only 49¢

kates Used

$40 & up New

Mention this ad and

1115 Westloop 539-9500

Computype Services, Inc.

VCR's, Fax, Typewriters, Word Processors, Telephones, Computers, Stereo Equipment

1542 Westloop . Manhattan 837-1075

Daytona.....$109 Cancun.....$399 Jamaica.....$499

1203 Westloop Rd. Manhattan 776-3131

Winter Clearance Sale

Save on all Fall and Winter Merchandise

Suits, Sports Coats & Slacks, Outerwear, & Sportswear

1100 Westloop

office/

Westloop Shopping Center near Ben Franklin 776-6864

We're Open Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-7 p.m. Sat. 10-6 p.m. Sun. 12-6 p.m. What do we have for you?

NESPOR Wine & Spirits

· Specializing in domestic and imported wines

Large selection of cordials and liquors

Special orders welcomed for parties and weddings

Case discounts

Manhattan's Premium Wine Source Since 1968

1338 Westloop Place

WESTLOOP SHOPPING CENTER

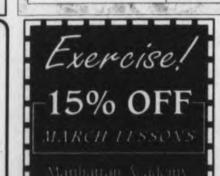

539-9441

This Valentine's Day give your

the gift money can't buy . . . a gift handcrafted with love.

Ben Franklin Crafts Your Creative Outlet

Westloop Shopping Center, Manhattan • 776-4910 Mon. - Fri. 9-9 p.m., Sat. 9-7 p.m., Sun. 1-6 p.m.

CALL 1-800-MONEY: 101

(913) 537-1234 Lender Code 813979

We Buy Used 501 Levis 201 S. 4th St., Manhattan, Kansas (the old Sears building)

539-8579

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Valentine's Day Perm Special! $35

SPORTS

*long hair extra expires 3-1-96 Hair

Westloop

DIVERSIONS • page 7

Exp. Date 00/00

Kansas State Historical Society Section

> THURSDAY February 1, 1996

> > Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 84

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

This year's Black History Month will mark the 19th annual Big 8 Conference on Black Student

• page 3

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

a century of service

MEET YOUR DEAN - A SERIES

Dean carries weight of many roles

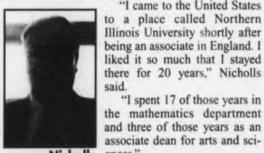

Mikki Tice staff reporter

A British accent and a good sense of humor are the first qualities one notices when meeting the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

"In this particular office, I have to wear many different hats at different times and be able to listen and interact with people from every curriculum," Peter Nicholls, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, said.

Nicholls received his bachelor's degree in mathematics from London University in London, where he was born, raised and educated. He then went to Cambridge University and received his doctorate in Later, he spent one year as a research associate at the University of England.

being an associate in England. I liked it so much that I stayed there for 20 years," Nicholls "I spent 17 of those years in the mathematics department

"I came to the United States and three of those years as an associate dean for arts and sci-Nicholls ences. Nicholls then decided that he wanted a full-time job as a dean. He said he started applying for jobs and ended up accepting an interview at K-State.

"I really like K-State. You have a beautiful campus, the town is pleasant, and I like living in a small Midwest community," Nicholls said.

"I liked the loyalty from the alumni, the faculty was great and you have good students here. Plus, President Wefald has done some great things with the institution. I liked what I saw and I accepted the job in the fall of 1991," Nicholls said.

Being the dean of the largest college on the K-State campus means facing many challenges.

"I am proud to be the dean to the College of Arts and Sciences," Nicholls said. "We have 23 academic departments, cover a huge array of disciplines and offer dozens of master's/Ph.D. programs.

There are around 7,000 undergraduate programs, and every student on the K-State campus takes classes from the College of Arts and Sciences.

Besides his regular duties as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Nicholls sometimes teaches a math class.

Annette Maggio, administrative officer, said Nicholls taught a class in Calculus I last fall.

"Dean Nicholls is really down to earth and he loves to teach," Maggio said. "He had open office hours here in Eisenhower and seemed to be very happy with helping the students out as much as

Nicholls said the College of Arts and Sciences is

• See DEAN Page 8

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

From the outside the north side of Willard Hall looked like a frozen waterfall Wednesday morning, as layers of ice extended all the way down from the top

The water damage

The pipe burst between 12:30 and 1 a.m. Wednesday. Water was not circulating when the extensive water-damaged areas

hot-water line froze.

A water main froze and burst Wednesday in the attic of Willard Hall, flooding the entire north end of the building. The graphic design classrooms, computer imaging lab and the chemistry-biochemistry library in the northeast corner were damaged the most.

■ The one-inch water line that fed directly into the art labs was installed during the 1993-94 renovations

Professors discovered the flooding Wednesday morning upon arriving at work. Ruth Nellis, head of the chemistry-biochemistry library, said she was notified around 1:30 a.m., possibly because they realized the expensive nature of the library.

Copy machines, books and computers were ruined in the chemistry-biochemistry library and computer

Computers housing students' records, manuscripts, grants and department files were missed by inches and were not damaged. Some classes were canceled to check with their professors to see if they will have classes the rest of the week Source: John Kent, assistant director of

Wednesday, and students will have building maintenance; Bernard Brehmer, K-State custodian and facilities employee Anna Holcombe, head of the Department of Art; and Ruth Nellis, head of the chemistry-biochemistry library

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

Busted by the cold

Water main break in Willard causes damages

J. Scot Bucholz

A hot water line burst early Wednesday morning in Willard Hall causing extensive damage to equipment, classrooms and department offices.

A water main broke sometime after midnight, Bernard Brehmer, K-State custodian and facilities employee, said.

Extreme freezing and cold temperatures caused the new water line to break, Randy Slover, director of facility maintenance,

"Freezing weather does not discriminate between old and new pipes," Slover said.

The water damage is mostly on the north and east sides of the building, Lou Ann Culley, professor of art history, said. "A major pipe in the attic flooded all floors in the building," Culley said. Slover said the one-inch water line was in the attic and fed directly into the art labs

"It's ruined equipment and computers," Brehmer said.

When Brehmer came into work Wednesday at 6 a.m., he said there was water everywhere.

"In the basement the water was about a 1/4-inch deep," Brehmer said.

The pipe was installed during the 1993-94 renovations of Willard, Slover said.

'The reason for the renovations was because the art building was being torn down and the department was moving into Willard," he said. Cries for help were heard as the heads of the departments of Biochemistry and Art were trying to salvage equipment and valu-

"Quick, I need help," Anna Holcombe, head of the Department of Art, said. "The computers are corroding as we speak."

In the biochemistry office ceiling tiles had fallen to the floor or were dangling in

"It missed our main department computer by a few inches," Tom Roche, head of the Department of Biochemistry, said.

This computer houses students' records, manuscripts, grants and department files, Roche said.

"We were lucky," he said.

Roche said his office was also lucky. "I must have had an umbrella over my office," Roche said.

Both department heads are expressing feelings of frustration and distress because they never received phone calls concerning the damage to their departments.

"I am a little frustrated that I was never called last night," Holcombe said. "As the department head, I feel I should be notified if there is a problem with my department."

See WILLARD Page 8

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

Bob King, KSU Facilities Zone Preventative Maintenance worker, takes down wet ceiling tiles Wednesday morning in a design studio in Willard Hall.

▶ FOOTBALL

Coach Snyder is here to stay

First-rate facilities, loyal fans give Synder incentive to stay at K-State

Chris May

K-State has something many other Division I schools want.

Football coach Bill Snyder has rejected offers from powerhouse football clubs such as LSU last year and UCLA this year. He is staying at K-State for now.

K-State is doing what it can to keep Snyder around.

Since his arrival in 1989, Snyder has taken the Wildcats, who were once called the worst football program in America, to three bowl games in a row. He has won two of those games. Snyder has an overall record of 46-33-1 and 22-26-1 in the Big 8. Snyder has also made improvements off

During Snyder's seventh season the Cats boast a new weight room, locker rooms, training room, meeting rooms with video equipment, players' lounge, astroturf, remodeled Big 8 room which over-looks Wagner Field, the indoor practice facility, press box including sky boxes and, still in the works, three new grass practice fields and an academic learning center, which is located right next to the football All of these accomplishments are related to Snyder, Athletic Director Max Urick

"The program needed those things, and Snyder brought them to the attention of the administration," Urick said. "He uses those facilities to the maximum."

Before Snyder's arrival the biggest change in the football program was the replacement of natural grass with astroturf and the addition of permanent stadium lights. State-of-the-art facilities have helped keep Snyder here, President Jon Wefald said.

"We have some of the best facilities of anywhere in the state," Wefald said. Along with the facilities, there are many other reasons why Snyder stays, Wefald said.

"First of all Coach Snyder has come to love Kansas State; second, he has a competitive long-term contract; third, Kansas State has some of the finest facilities for football in the U.S.; fourth, the alumni and football fans are totally in support of Coach Snyder; and fifth, Snyder has proven that he can recruit talented athletes," Wefald said.

Urick said there were some factors that K-State tries to take on so that coaches will

"With anyone who is doing such a fine job coaching there are many factors," Urick said. "You have to be supportive, whether it be the students, community, public or faculty. You try and reduce hurdles they face in winning by helping to solve some of their problems. We also try to provide resources for him such as facilities, and the fans also play a role. They make it a special place." When a coach is as successful as

Snyder, other schools will come calling. When this happens, K-State is not always renegotiating Snyder's contract, Wefald

"It's not necessary," Wefald said. "We don't take anybody for granted, but he is comfortable with his contract."

Urick felt the same way about Snyder. We should never take him for granted," Urick said. "Bill is the finest football coach in the country. He makes you want to work hard for the program and the team because he works so hard."

Snyder is not the only Division I coach who has taken a program from nowhere to a bowl game. Northwestern's football coach, Gary Barnett, took his program to a new level as well as the Rose Bowl this past season and he was also mentioned in the head coaching job at UCLA.

When coaches win games, other schools start listening. K-State is doing all it can to keep Snyder here in Manhattan.

"He's not leaving," Wefald said. "He loves it here."

Jazz orchestra to honor Graves during Count Basie Day festival

Russell Fortmeyer

s Gov. Bill Graves the swingingest governor the state of Kansas has ever had?

That question will no doubt be answered by the Count Basie Orchestra, with some help from Kansas high school music students, in a concert they will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday in McCain Auditorium. However, Graves will not be performing. Dennis Wilson, professor of music and director of K-State jazz, composed a song, "Graves Groove," in honor of Graves' dedication to music edu-With the song, Graves will enter the pantheon of modern, jazzy politicians - most recently augmented in the 1992 campaign by our sax-tooting president, Bill Clinton.

Mike Matson, press secretary for Graves, said this is the first song written for the governor. "He is very honored the composer felt so warmly toward him," Matson said.

Matson said although the governor prefers light country, he likes all kinds of music. Wilson said the song will get its world premiere at the Saturday night concert, when it will be performed by both the Basie It's got some blues, but a happy blues.

orchestra and select Kansas high school musicians. The high school students will have participated in the K-State Jazz Festival, which offers workshops and competitions.

Although the song will be performed in his honor, it remains to be seen if Graves will attend the concert.

"If he doesn't attend, someone else will be there," Matson

As a special commendation to the K-State Jazz Festival. Graves has issued a proclamation formally dedicating February 3 as Count Basie Day across the state of Kansas.

Wilson said "Graves Groove" was originally to be written by Frank Foster, the former leader of the Basie orchestra.

Foster did, however, compose the song "On the Road to K-State," which will be performed at the concert on behalf of the band's visit, he said. "The song was going to be named after his DENNIS WILSON daughter, Elizabeth. 'GRAVES GROOVE' COMPOSER She's just a kid. It's to encourage these students to pursue a > career in music," Wilson said. Wilson said he wrote the song in the style of the Basie orchestra, which is mainly a big band style. "It's got some blues, but a happy blues," he said. "It changes into a more recognizable blues. It's a happy song

See GRAVES Page 8

In the news

K-STATE ALUMNUS DIES IN HEAD-ON COLLISION MONDAY MORNING

Early Monday morning, a K-State alumnus crossed over the center line on Highway 275 and was killed in a head-on collision.

Daryl Warren Duff, 24, a 1994 marketing graduate of K-State, died at 4:30 a.m. in Valley, Neb., said Lt. Gary Hammer of the Douglas County, Neb., Sheriff's Department.

The driver of the second vehicle was treated for injuries and released.

Duff was a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, Kansas Livestock Association, Kansas State Alumni Association and the Gospel

Fellowship Church of Shallow Water, Kan.

He married Kylee Lyn Kerr, a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, on August 27, 1994, in Lawrence, Kan.

After being a lifetime resident of Scott City, Kansas, Duff moved to Omaha, Neb., in June 1994, where he worked as the territory manager of WALCO Animal Health.

He is survived by his mother, Darlene Kohman; his father, David Duff; one brother, Darren Duff; and his grandparents, Charles and Kathryn Duff; and Ruby Eitel, all of Visitation will be held at Price & Sons Funeral Home in Scott City today from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. and tomorrow from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Funeral services will be held at the United Methodist Church in Scott City tomorrow at 3 p.m.

The Daryl W. Duff Memorial Fund has been set up at Price & Sons Funeral Home.

Misty Mayden

SENATE

▶ ROAD REPAIRS TO BE MADE

Plans are being made for repairs to Tuttle Creek State Park roads and parking areas.

The $297,542.75 budgeted for the repairs will include resurfacing parking areas, widening roads, stabilizing surfaces, building new roads, and sealing the surfaces, said Sandra Tommer, area engineer in the Wamego office of the Kansas Department of Transportation.

Tuttle Creek has to consider maintenance carefully, said Gary Simnitt, Tech 2 in charge of maintenance at Tuttle Creek.

"As they allot money for repairs, they have to look at maintenance for a two-to-five year basis," Simnitt said.

Flood waters that seeped through the roads and did not evaporate have left cracks and small holes in the roads. which need to be taken care of before they become large pot holes, Simnitt said.

"Blacktop roads in the park will all be sealed." Simnitt said. "Parking lots will get a little blacktop on them."

This may cause detours in travel along the park roads.

"Roads will be closed off and on as needed." Tommer said.

The construction will be done by Wes-kan Construction out of Hays, Tommer said.

A representative of Wes-kan Construction said a starting date and the exact sites to be under construction would be established by next

Once construction is started, it is scheduled to take a couple of months.

"We've slated 75 working days," Tommer said. "That will be seven to eight weeks."

The Army Corps of Engineers said it is looking forward to the repairs.

"It'll be an improvement for sure," Simnitt said.

Tonya Alloway

Senate agenda

The Student Senate meeting is at 7 tonight in the Union Big 8 Room.

Call to order

Open period: Mike Seyfert Vice President Robert Krause Approval of Nov. 30 minutes & Jan. 25 minutes

Committee reports Director's reports

Second readings Res. 95/96/48 Kansas scholarship program Res. 95/96/49 Support of open admissions program Res. 95/96/50 Reinstating KSU budget cuts

Res. 95/96/51 Additional funding of Farrell Library Res. 95/96/52 Support of educational building fund Res. 95/96/53 Support of Kansas Senate bill 215 Res. 95/96/54 Support of allowing electronic games of chance

Res. 95/96/55 Kansas prepaid post secondary expense program Res. 95/96/56 In-state tuition for military dependent students. Conversion of Campus Privilege Fees to Budgets

Bill 95/96/61 Privilege Fee Funding System Special Allocation to Amnesty International Bill 95/96/62 Special Allocation to High School Leadership Bill 95/96/63

Bill 95/96/65 Allocation to Society for the Advancement of Special Allocation to Students for the Right to Life Bill 95/96/66 Special Allocation to Newman Club Athletic Fee Continuance Held in committee Bill 95/96/49 Senator education requirements - Senate operations

Announcement of constitution and/or by-law revisions

Police reports

police departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list wheellocks.

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

TUESDAY, JANUARY 30

At 4:15 p.m., Michael J. Kinsley 1706 Laramie Street, reported the loss of his wallet and its contents while at a neighbor's house.

possibly due to a stroke.

mated at $525.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31

At 12:28 a.m., a security officer found a water leak at Willard Hall. Shortly afterward, a subject walking past Willard reported water coming down on the northeast side of the

At 11:29 p.m., William R. Wilson,

3324 Newbury Drive, reported the burglary of a Beretta. Loss was esti-

At 12:30 a.m., Joseph L. Peskor was arrested on warrant for failure to appear. Bond was set at $250.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 30

At 9:19 p.m., Cynthia Eckert, 1508 Oxford Place, Apt. 4, called in a bur-glary of her residence. Entry was ned by a neighbor who broke into the wrong apartment by accident At 9:26 p.m., a resident at 2310

Kraig Road called for assistance. An

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31 At 3:35 a.m., Tedrick A. Jenkins 3129 Emerson, Topeka, was arrested by Kansas Highway Patrol for felony vehicle theft and driving on a suspended driver's license

Jenkins was released on a $1500 At 4:11 a.m., Christopher Wyman, 1626 Custer, Junction City, reported his 1992 Mercury Sable, valued at $10,240, was taken from in the Bleachers. The vehicle was later ecovered on Richards Drive.

At 4:56 a.m., Daniel Murphy, 3124 Amherst Ave., was driving on Tuttle his 1989 Ford van, valued at $350, broke through the ice.

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publication Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506 The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second-class postage is paid at

Today

Denver

lows

Yesterday's

highs and

Manhattan Kan 66502 POSTMASTER Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167.

6 Kansas State Collegian, 1995

10 to 15. Low zero to 5 below.

Goodland

13/1

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Rick Miller, keynote speaker for the High School Leadership Conference, will speak at 2:30 p.m. today in Union Forum Hall.

m The Department of Geology will sponsor a seminar at 4 p.m. today in Thompson 213.

New Student Services summer orientation leader applications are due at 5 p.m. Feb. 5.

Student Alumni Board applications are available in the Alumni Association office at 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 400. The deadline is 4 p.m. Friday.

Applications for May 1996

BULLETINS

ICTHUS will meet at 8 tonight in Union 212. Campus Crusade for Christ will meet at 7 tonight in Throckmorton K-State Parachute Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Union Council Chambers. Lutheran Campus Ministry will have supper and a Bible study at 6 tonight at the Baptist Campus Center, 1801 Anderson Ave.

Chimes Junior Honorary appli-

in deans' offices by Feb. 16. m Donnie Glover will present the final oral defense of his doctoral dissertation at 8:30 a.m. in m Re International! Volunteer to help an international student prac-

Contact Jim Endrizzi at the International Student Center at 532-

DAT/MCAT/OAT will continue from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday in cations are available in the Office of Student Activities and Social Services, or call 539-2365 ext. 131. Applications are due by 4 p.m., Feb.

Blue Key Senior Leadership Honorary applications are available in the Dean of Student Life office or the Office of Student Activities and due by 4 p.m. Friday in Holton 102.

The Rotaract Club will meet at 9 tonight in Union 204.

CORRECTION

> Capt. William Grimm was misidentified in the Wednesday edition of the Collegian. His name was spelled Graham, while the correct spelling is Grimm. The Collegian regrets the error.

> The web site address for Farrell Library was incorrectly listed in the Wednesday edition of the Collegian. The address is (http://www.lib.ksu.edu).

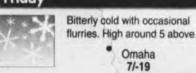

MANHATTAN WEATHER

A 50-percent chance for light snow. Very cold with the high

Russell

16/10

16/3

MANHATTAN

16/9 Kansas City Topeka 11/-3 15/9 Coffeyville Wichita

Tulsa

12/6

STATE OUTLOOK

Bitterly cold with occasional light snow. Temperatures ranging from 10 to 5 below.

St. Louis .

Center 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. 537-0999 Volunteer Training Feb. 3 & 4

Call to register!

NOW HIRING Student Custodians 8455 per hour

Positions begin immediately. Applications available at the Peters Recreation Complex Administrative Office, Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

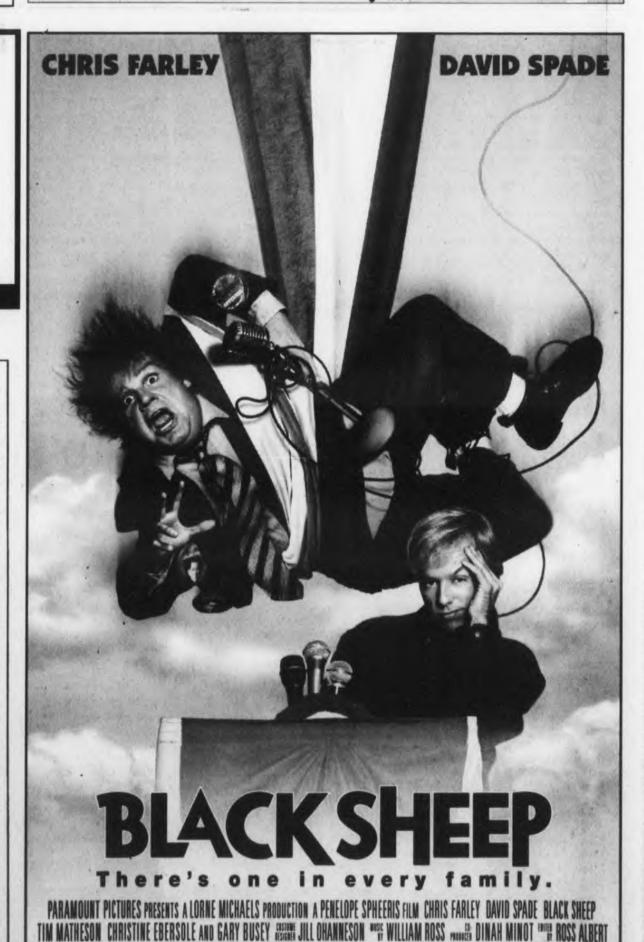

Application deadline is Monday, Feb. 5. Recreational Services Office 532-6980

We can help you get more than just a cat nap...

Snoring is the most common sleep disorder. It affects approximately 40% of the adult population and prevents many people from resting well. New surgical procedures can now make the difference between catching a cat nap or getting a good night's sleep. Uvulopalatoplasty and Laser-Assisted Uvulopalatoplasty are available at Memorial Hospital. For more information contact the Memorial Hospital Sleep Disorders Laboratory at 587-5428.

Yesterday's values, tomorrow's technology Sunset and Claflin

"Taking it to a whole new level"

Friday, Feb. 2

Black History Month kickoff luncheon, Guest Speaker - Wayne Franklin, Kansas Secretary of Human Resources, noon-1:30 p.m., Union Cottonwood Room

Saturday, Feb. 3

Black Student Union Leadership Retreat, 10 a.m.-3 p.m., Ecumenical Campus Ministry Building, 1021 Denison Ave.

Count Basie Orchestra 8 p.m., McCain Auditorium, general admission - $20, senior - $18, student/child - $10

Source: Black Student Union, Multicultural Affairs and Multicultural Student Organizations

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Events honor black history

Kris Bethea

The highlight of this year's Black History Month, beginning today, will be the 19th annual Big 8 Conference on Black Student Government.

The theme for this year's celebration of black culture at K-State is "Proactive and Powerful, Taking It to a Whole New Level.

The Big 8 Conference, Feb. 15-18, is expected to draw up to 1,000 participants, said Jawwad Abdulhaqq, K-State Black Student Union chapter president.

"It's a call for college students, African Americans in particular, to participate in a positive revolution by adopting a proactive attitude in whatever they are doing, from academics their future careers," Abdulhaqq said.

Last year, the Big 8 Conference was at the University of Oklahoma and drew college students from as far away as Texas, as well as the entire Big 8, said Colette McLemore, junior in architectural engineering and head of public relations for Black Student Union.

The month-long celebration is not only for college students. High school students are welcome and encouraged to come. More than 100 students from the area have been invited to attend the conference and other

From concerts to poetry readings, special events have been planned for the entire month.

Black History Month at K-State officially kicks off Friday with a luncheon from noon to 1:30 p.m. in the K-State Union Cottonwood Room and costs $8.

Wayne Franklin, secretary of the Kansas Department of Human Resources, will be the guest speaker.

"Everyone is welcome," McLemore said.

The Count Basie Orchestra and the K-State Jazz Festival in McCain Auditorium will get the first weekend of the month off to a musical and entertaining start.

During the rest of the month speakers, theatrics, contests, discussions, rap sessions and banquets will give the month a variety of events.

Black History Month is an idea not just for black participation, but for anyone who wishes to learn about a significant part of our history, McLemore said.

"A month for minority representation is needed." McLemore

"We need to learn about other cultures." McLemore said Black History Month provides this opportunity.

"Unless we get to sit down and be with other cultures, there will not be any progress," McLemore said.

Telefund calls for cash

Rick Druse

Nearly 75,000 alumni nationwide will be contacted during the KSU Foundation University-wide fund-raising event, which begins today.

The 17th annual Telefund will raise money for scholarships and educational materials.

Kirk Baughan, Telefund director, said K-State alumni lead the Big 8 and rank in the top 10 nationally, based on the percentage of alumni supporting K-State.

While other colleges and universities have abandoned faltering volunteer caller programs, Telefund at K-State is thriving and continues to grow," Baughan said.

The program will last for 20 days, Sunday through Thursday, for the month of February. Each college recruits student and faculty volunteers to call the nights they are assigned.

Students who volunteer for the calling process are eligible to receive prizes during the calling. Baughan said Manhattan businesses have donated nearly $10,000 in prizes for the event. For example, volunteers receive insulated mugs when they volunteer to call.

Not only are prizes available, but scholarships are also offered to student volunteers. At last year's Telefund, a Parents Scholarship Fund was started.

Students were encouraged to call parents or family members for their first call. Money that was donated by the parents or family members was put into the

"It's designed to be sort of an ice breaker," Baughan said.

The money collected was divided, and names were picked randomly for the winners of the scholarships. Baughan said $10,000 was collected last year and disbursed in 40 $250 scholarships.

"The key to the program is really getting the chairs full each night," Baughan Darren Bonawitz, senior in electrical engineering, is a Telefund student coordinator for the College of Engineering. He said the money raised in Telefund is used for engineering scholarships. "We feel the need to help out the College of Engineering," Bonawitz said. He said Telefund is a great opportunity to contact recent graduates and other

"I think the alumni enjoy that K-State has not forgotten about them," Bonawitz

He said the calling process is entertaining because you can talk to the alumni and make friends with the other

"It's actually quite a bit of fun," Bonawitz said.

Judith Zivanovic, associate dean for the College of Arts and Sciences, said contact with alumni is the most important aspect students can gain from Telefund.

She said the money raised for the college is mainly used for scholarships, but some of the funds are used for the Stamey Outstanding Teaching Award at the end of the year.

Traveling musical comedy debuts at McCain

The recognizable tunes of the 1992 Tony award-winning musical comedy "Crazy For You" will dance through McCain Auditorium at 8 tonight.

This Gershwin-inspired musical offers a new interpretation to George and Ira Gershwin's 1930s original, "Girl Crazy."

"Crazy" is not the only thing that these two musicals have in common, though. Ken Ludwig, playwright for "Crazy You," included 16 Gershwin originals, including "Embraceable You," "I Got Rhythm" and "Someone to Watch Over Me."

Within these tunes and the show's intricate choreography, a story is told. The story leaps from the raucous city life in New York to the "dead" West. It is in Deadrock, Nev., an old mining town with 157 men and one woman, that a romance evolves.

Richard Martin, director of McCain Auditorium, said "Crazy For You" is a bus and truck production where the actors, actresses, props, costumes and all the crew members travel caravan style between each scheduled city. Because of limitations involved in this kind of traveling, certain substitutions are

Instead of accommodating an entire orchestra, as was done in the Broadway version, some keyboards are used. Martin expects the show to be very successful.

"I think it will come as close to a sell-out as we typically come," he said.

The musical will make stops in 112 cities across the United States and Canada as part of its 1116 Moro 537-0886 Mon.-Sat. 11 a.m.-1 a.m.

11 a.m.-Midnight

PEPPER STEAK $3.90

Dine-in and carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

This coupon good for

FREE DELIVERY (min. $9) Expires 2-15-96

Not just a night spot Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths

FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for a FREE Sandwich

Exp. 3/1/96

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE

Drink Specials!!! Sunday thru Thursday

$1.00 Wells

$1.50 Bottles

$1.75 23 oz. Big Beers

Plus

8 pool tables

6 dart boards

9 T.V.s • Keno • Air Hockey

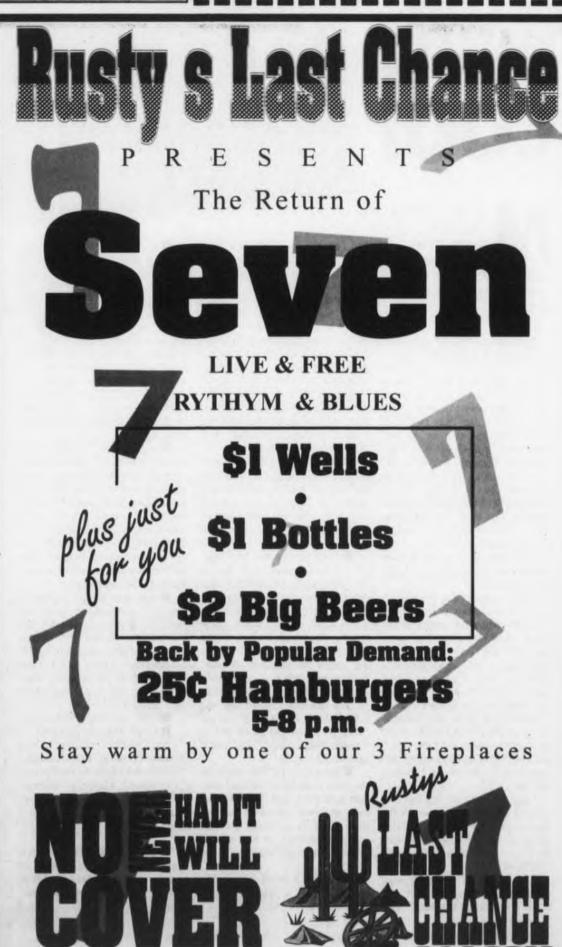

537-1484

17th and Fort Riley

The Kansas State Collegian is now hiring students as editorial board members. Members are required to come to editorial board meetings at least twice a week and write at least one editorial a week. The position is paid by written editorial, and all majors are encouraged to apply.

Fill out an application in Kedzie 103. Please include writing samples and/or resume

Do you have an opinion to share? Send a Letter to the Editor by e-mail or snail mail at: Kedzie 116, Attention: Stephanie Fuqua.

COLLEGIANopinion

Jazz will shake the chill from your bones

QUICKread

Auditorium.

Those who face a weekend with nothing to do can get warm with jazz performances in McCain

Liven up a potentially dull week with some hot jazz.

Students who think Manhattan is devoid of entertainment might be interested in the upcoming performances by outstanding and nationally renowned

This week presents a phenomenal opportunity for students and educators to experience the American art of jazz.

Tonight, the Tony award-winning musical comedy "Crazy For You" will fill your mind with the words and tunes of George and Ira Gershwin. Memorable songs such as "I Got Rhythm" and "Embraceable You" might even take your mind off the bitter cold.

The 1996 Kansas State University Jazz Festival on Saturday presents a daylong opportunity to experience the very best of American big band music.

Students and aspiring musicians can drop in and pick up pointers on rehearsal techniques, learn the history of Count Basic or just hear great jazz.

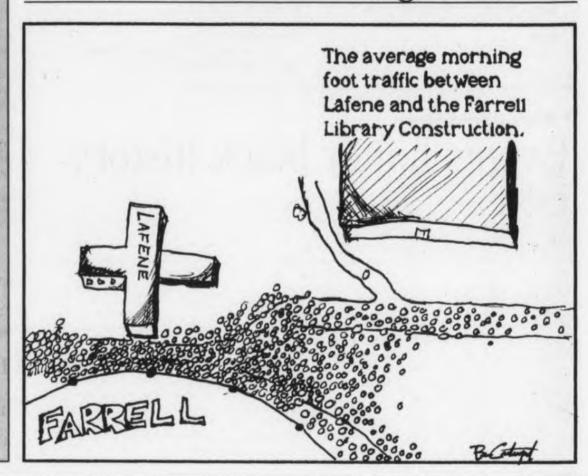

Don't miss the opportunity to interact with members of the Count Basie Orchestra. They are accessible to all interested students during the open autograph session at 1:50 p.m. Saturday in the K-State Student Union Courtyard.

The Count Basic Orchestra performance at 8 p.m. Saturday in McCain Auditorium promises to be memorable and will include a proclamation ceremony from Gov. Bill Graves designating Feb. 3 as "Count Basie Day" in Kansas.

After a weekend of big band music, check out Grammy-nominated saxophonist Joshua Redman on Feb. 8. Members of his quartet rank among the finest musicians performing today.

While riding out the bitter weather, take time for some mind-easing rhythms.

NOTES FROMthe underground

Myview

WILLIAM THOMAS Burdette

y, my, it seems I've hit a nerve. How defensive and belligerant we get when someone strikes a chord of truth.

I was absolutely thrilled, as well as entertained, with all the suggestions as to where I could go if I didn't like Manhattan. I guess I was wrong, Manhattan, you're more creative than I thought. In fact, I am just positive the bars will go defunct because you are all out using the ever-so-valuable and innovative suggestions given to me.

For example - I have been informed that, in addition to the numerous entertainment opportunities at area lakes, I could go to Hell, Lawrence or both, if I can't find fun here.

Thanks to all who sent serious suggestions. To the rest of you, the truth hurts, huh?

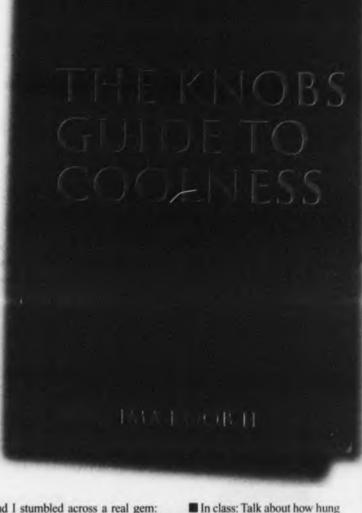

Just one more thing.

My condolences to Truck Stop Love for erroneously stating it has gotten out of Manhattan. The members still live here. I guess the music scene isn't dead after all. Come on guys, I never said you sucked. I just meant that one band can't carry the whole music scene.

Moving on. It has been brought to my attention that because I am not into the bar scene (and yes, I have been to a bar or two), or the lake scene for that matter, I am just Upon being faced with this fact (and let me tell you, I was utterly dismayed), I did what any pseudointellectual dork like myself would do. I went to the library for a selfhelp book.

My quest for coolness was much more successful than my quest for Manhattan's night life, and I stumbled across a real gem: "The Knobs' Guide to Coolness: How Not to be a Knob Even if You are One," by Ima Knob II.

For those of you who are unfamiliar with the term "knob," it means anyone who is not cool and not suave and does not follow society's norms. (According to the fan mail I have received, I more than

In this book I found all the answers, and I thought I'd pass them along to all the other aspiring cool kids who, like me, feel doomed to a life of knobism.

Stand around a group of peole (preferably a big one) who look like they are laughing and having a good time. Stand on the outskirts and laugh, as if you were a part of it. Chances are they won't even notice you.

■ Guys — use the head nod. This is the universal signal that all cool guys use to acknowledge each other. The beauty of it is that it's a simple, non-specific gesture. If you do it right, people won't know exactly who you are doing it to, and they will do it back to avoid looking stupid. It's easy and versatile. Simply jerk your head up quickly and bring it down in a slow fashion. Or you can jerk it down fast and bring it back up slowly. If you get really good you can go up and to the side. Add a quick "Sup," and it just screams cool. ■ Wave to the air. This works on the same premise as the head nod. Just pick out a spot about 50 feet away and wave to it. Make sure that there are a lot of people between you and the wall, so that no one notices you are befriending a piece over you are, and then fall asleep. Say things like "This sucks" and "I need a smoke." Cheat, and let cheat. It's the '90s. Ethics are out.

Smoke. A lot of cool people smoke. It adds to that mysterious James-Dean-like attitude.

■ In the car: First, get a car. Then, tint the windows and get a stereo with lots of bass. The tinted windows will hide the fact that you have no friends. Another good trick to look like you have friends is to get a life-sized inflatable doll, put clothes on it and set it in the passenger seat. It works better than you'd think.

Leave these things lying around your pad: Lighters, empty cigarette boxes, condoms, ticket stubs for cool concerts, pictures of hot girls or guys whom you don't know (tell people you're dating them), empty beer cans and pizza boxes, weights (you might want to get someone strong to move them in for you), bongs and of course,

Rolling Stone magazines. ■ Hide these things: Pictures of your real girlfriend or boyfriend, tickets to the truck and tractor pull extravaganza, books and Debbie Gibson, Fat Boys and Milli Vanilli compact discs. Guys, get rid of any stuffed animals you still sleep with. Girls: Get drunk. You'll pick up, I promise.

Girls: Act drunk. See above. Guys: Offer the girls beer.

For further reading: "The Knob's Book of Beer Games," 'The Knob's Guide to Pro Sports,' "The Knob's Guide to Dating," "Manners for Knobs" and "How Not to Have a Knob's Car, Even if

William Thomas Burdette is a freshman in journalism and mass communications, political science and international rela-

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, KS. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is collegn@spub.ksu.edu. Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted.

▶ SPEED LIMIT SHOULD RISE

This letter is in response to Dan Lewerenz's column on speed limits printed on Jan. 31.

I disagree with Lewerenz on most of his main points. I don't know where he got his numbers, but mine are from the hearing on research results of the speed limit increase before the Subcommittee on Transportation, Aviation and Materials of the U.S. House of Representatives, July 26, 1989.

It is true that traffic fatalities increased when the speed limit was raised from 55 to 65 mph. They increased about 16 percent. What Lewerenz didn't include was the fact traffic on these same highways increased by about 17 percent. When there are more people on a road, it stands to reason that more of them will run into things.

About 85 percent of people exceed the speed limit at some time. Many times, that excess is 10 mph above the posted limit. Are all of these people suicidal? I don't think so.

I think most people (including myself), tend to drive where they feel comfortable, while the speed limit is a secondary, more financial guideline.

While I do not advocate speeding or enacting higher speed limits in neighborhoods, congested areas and school zones, or driving too fast for conditions, the fact remains that the United States is governed by majority rule. If most people speed on highways, they are demonstrating their dissatisfaction with the status quo, and it is the government's responsibility to give the people what they want.

My main problem with Lewerenz's column is his assertion that speed kills. We have all heard this before. Usually people back this claim up by saying that excessive speed is involved in many accidents.

While this may be true, again it is not the whole story. Forty percent of accidents involve alcohol use! I think it is safe to say that if a driver is intoxicated, he will not be operating a vehicle to the best of his ability. Is a 5 to 10 mph speed limit difference either way going to change the circumstances of his accident? It is very doubtful.

Lewerenz was right that fatalities did decrease the year the double-nickel went into effect. But they had been decreasing steadily before then and had up until now. From the time of the passing of the 55 mph limit until the 1989 report, U.S. highway traffic fatalities dropped 26 percent.

This is a commendable increase due to better cars, increased seat belt use and campaigns aimed at ending drunk driving

In that same time period, the former West Germany had a 40 percent reduction in traffic fatalities, with no speed limits at all outside cities. This was primarily due to the fact that on the whole - German drivers are better trained, almost all use their seat belts, and they practice better lane discipline than U.S. drivers (slow traffic stays in the right lane, except to pass).

If some people feel the need to go more slowly, they should feel free to stay in the right lane traveling the 40 mph minimum. However, speed differential is the dangerous thing, so be sure to stay out of my way.

would win were too cool or busy to show (Michael Jackson and Pearl show up who you could have sworn were dead. (I know Neil Diamond bit you have to wonder what the heck the awards committee was thinking. I'm not saying Tammy Wynette doesn't deserve a Lifetime Achievement Award, I'm just saying that "Stand By Your Man" has probably outlived its usefulness as an anthem for American

There's the usual canned chatter for the presenters. Although some of them ad libbed, a lesson in teleprompter reading before the show

I thought I'd count the number of black cowboy hats, but there weren't the winners thanked God in their speeches. The country musicians

When I started watching the show,

So I counted the number of times probably wouldn't hurt anyone.

too many.

the dust — I just know it.)

There are always a few people who

And there's always an instant when

Brian Ruff sophomore in mechanical engineering

Celebrity gawking at its very finest

Monday night I watched the American Music Awards. (I only have two channels, so it was either that or the Cagney and Lacey movie.)

I kind of like awards shows, sort of the same way I like going to other people's family reunions. It's fun to see who's still alive and which of the children started out really cute and have since turned into bratty teenagers.

Best of all, because it's not your family, there's no need to be embarrassed when Great Grandpa decides to sing.

This is the time of year when the entertainment industry looks back, hires a couple sponsors, and dresses up and pats one another on the back for a couple of hours on national television.

Basically, it's a for warm-up

Myview

KADY

Guyton

Grammys and the Oscars.

Yeah, it's shameless, but much like a train wreck, it's hard to look away.

This particular awards show was no different. I came in a little late, but we had the two nutty uncles (Jeff Foxworthy and Sinbad) running the

The rebel of the family, LL Cool J, rapped obscenely enough that his voice was "blanked" during his performance > televised, so I have to assume he went with the song for shock value. He had good pyrotechnics, though. These to have cercommon. A few people always seem to walk away with the majority of the

I'm sure he knew the show would be shows tend tain elements in awards. A few who probably knew they tended to be more reverent as a I think if I ever win an award on prime-time television, I'll thank Odin just to confuse people. The people who go to awards are an eclectic group. I'm sure David Hasselhoff had a good reason for being there, but I'll never figure it out on my own. They are eclectic dressers, too. I really hope the shower-cap-as-formalwear trend takes off. Some women will really appreciate it. All in all, my night in front of the tube was entertaining and uninformative. It was good to see the folks again. 1996 won't be long enough.

Kady Guyton is a junior in journalism and mass communications.

SPRING BREAK

Plan ahead for low rates

t's not too early to begin making spring break plans.

Checking rates and ordering airline tickets early can provide extra spending cash in March.

For the next couple of months, Delta Air Lines is offering Extra Credit fares for college students.

Students who call Delta between Jan. 4 and March 4 will receive a Student Select Savings Certificate, which entitles all students and up to two guests to a special rate.

Certificates can be used from Jan. 15 to March 31, but cannot be used on holidays Feb. 16, 18 and 25 and March 3.

The Extra Credit 4 fares offered by Delta are based on length of travel divided into three zones. Ticket prices for the zones are $138, $198 or $318 round-trip, depending on the distance traveled.

Delta spokesperson Alison Clements said the airline was offering the discount as a special bonus for college students.

The promotional fares being offered out of Kansas City, Mo. included airfare to New York City, Florida or California for $99 each

But, Delta's Extra Credit fares may not be the cheapest way to fly.

"Call travel agents and airlines directly to get the best deal," said CeCe Ridder, program adviser for Union Program Council travel. She said ticket agencies, such as A Ticket 2Fly, assist people in finding the cheapest rate for any destination.

Travel agents seem to be a popular way to find airline tickets.

Louay Samawi, freshman in business administration, said he plans to contact a travel agent in New York for his plane tickets to Miami this spring break

"He's a good friend of my dad's," Samawi said.

Jason Erkie, senior in sociology, said he also got his plane tickets for spring break from his mom's friend.

"She's personal friends with a lady in Creative Travel out of Lansing, Kansas, so we get good deals that way," Erkie said.

For students who don't know any travel agents, but are looking for a spring break deal, UPC travel could be a good option.

Becky Hansen, senior in agricultural economics, said she got tickets to France through UPC

"I tried to call directly to airlines, and it was not the cheapest way. I still found that the student rates are the cheapest through Council travel," she said.

For help finding a travel agent, students can also check the Yellow Pages or several sites on the Internet.

One Internet site that lists a number of possible travel agents be reached (http://www.scescape.com/world library/business/companies/trave agent.html). Also, tips for finding low airfare on the Internet can be located at (http://www. kaiwan.com/> ~edeltvl/tips.html). But, if you don't want to go to the trouble of finding a travel agent, then you can go directly to some airlines for cheap rates.

American Airlines announced Dec. 31 that it would pass on the savings due to the expiration of the federal excise tax on domestic tick-

The federal excise tax includes a 10-percent federal tax on domestic airfares and a $6 tax on international departures.

It was caught in the budget debate and could no longer be collected as of Jan. 1.

USAir will also not be charging for the tax.

"Basically, we stopped collecting the tax when the tax expired. That is in effect a 10-percent reduction in what we charge you to fly on USAir," Paul Turk, a spokesperson for USAir, said.

The end of the airfare tax is estimated to cost the government about $15 million each day, according to a CNN report.

The report said that tax money the government is losing from airline carriers would have been used for airport construction, air traffic control and other aviation services.

Customers who bought tickets in 1995 who paid the tax may want to look into getting a refund.

American Airlines announced it would refund money to customers who paid the tax in 1995, but who travel before the tax is reinstated.

Turk said USAir customers who bought tickets in 1995 who want a refund could get one by applying to the Internal Revenue Services.

Ramadan commands religious observance

■ Followers of Islam fast to worship Allah

Rick Druse

Imagine not eating or drinking anything from sunrise to sunset for nearly one month.

This is what people of Islamic faith do in the religious time known as Ramadan, beginning today.

Ramadan is required for all Muslims who are able at the time. Those who are not, such as the sick, must make up the days at a later time.

"It is not a choice. It is an obligation," Majed Khan, graduate student in electrical engineering, said. "To be a Muslim you have to When Muslims fast, they reflect on people who do not have the luxuries of the world. "When we fast.

we think about the poor people," Khalid Alshalideh, graduate student in sociology, said.

The Islamic Center of Manhattan has prayers five times a day, Alshalideh said. On Lailat ul-Qadr, or the Night of Decree, the center has prayer and dis-

At the end of Ramadan, they have special prayers and a feast. The center also offers Iftars, meals after sunset, for students who have no cussion groups throughout the night.

family at K-State, he said. One night during Ramadan is very special for Muslims. It is known as Lailat ul-Qadr or the Night of Decree. In Islamic faith this is the night when the angel Gabriel presented part of the Koran to Muhammad.

"We try to wake up all night, during the whole night, and pray to Allah," Khan said.

The end of Ramadan is known as Eid al-fitr. On this day there is no fast-"We have lots of sweets during the day for enjoyment," Khan said. The Muslims believe they have repented for their sins during the fast. They celebrate and start a new life with a clean slate. Muslims are allowed to break the fast with a morning meal called a Suhoor eaten before sunrise. During Ramadan, Muslims continue with their prayers five times a day, but after the night prayer is performed, a special prayer called Taraweeh is performed. This is a voluntary prayer that consists of reading the Koran during the time of Ramadan.

The word "Islam" is Arabic and means submission. In a religious context it means submission to the will of God. Muslims believe that God, known as Allah in Arabic, made Muhammad his prophet and gave him the latest edition of God's words for the people. Muslims do not worship Muhammad, but they believe he was a messenger of God.

The words God gave Muhammad are known as the Koran. Muslims lead their lives by the words of the Koran. The Islamic faith has five pillars that act as the framework of Muslim life. The first pillar is

It is not a choice. It is an obligation. To be a

MAJED KHAN GRADUATE STUDENT IN ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

Muslim you have to fast.

Shahdah or testimony. In this pillar the Muslims announce and believe that there is only one God and Muhammad is his messen-The second pillar is Salah or prayer. Muslims have obligatory prayers that they pray five times a The prayers contain verses from the Koran. On Fridays every Muslim man gathers for mass.

The third pillar is Zakah or charity. The Muslims donate 2.5 percent of their unused income. The money is given to those in need. The fourth pillar is Ramadan or

The fifth pillar is Hajj or pilgrimage. This is done once in a lifetime for a Muslim if physically and financially Muslims gather in Mecca, Saudi Arabia, the birthplace of Muhammad, and perform prayers and other religious ceremonies.

More than 2 million Muslims gather at Mecca in white robes to distinguish themselves as one in religion.

Anyone interested in the Islamic faith can stop by the Center at 1224 Hylton Heights or call 776-1033 or 776-8543.

- THE LOWEST AIRFARES
- EURAILPASSES
- INT'L STUDENT ID
- HOSTEL CARDS & more!

Council Travel CIEE: Council on International Educational Exchange

Internet: http://www.ciee.org/cts/c

Ramadan: the month of fasting

Ramadan is a special month of the year for more than one billion Muslims throughout the world. It is a time for inner reflection, devotion to God and self-control. Muslims think of it as a kind of tune-up for their spiritual lives.

■ The obligation to fast is explained in the second chapter of the Koran: "O ye who believe! Fasting is prescribed to you as it was prescribed to those before you, that ye may (learn) self-restraint ... Ramadan is the (month) in which was sent down the Koran, as a guide to mankind, also clear (Signs) for guidance and judgment (between right and wrong). So every one of you who is present (at his home) during that month should spend it in fasting ... " (chapter 2, verses 183 and 185)

Some people do lose weight, but others may not. It is recommended that meals eaten during Ramadan be light.

For more information, check the World Wide Web site on Islamic holidays (http://www.colostate.edu/Orgs/MSA/docs/holidays.html#Ramadan).

N. STEWART ANDERSON/Collegian

GET THE WHOLE STORY. THE E-COLLEGIAN. (WWW.SPUB.KSU.EDU)

THE WORLD FAMOUS COURT BASIE ORCHESTRA

DIRECTED BY GROVER MITCHELL Saturday, February 3, 8 p.m.

Big Band sound delivered by 19 jazz pros. If their concert doesn't make you tap your feet, you should be shopping for a grave-Presented in conjunction with the KSU Jazz Festival.

Pub/Fac $20

Sr.Cit $18

Stw/Child $10

OSHUA REDMAN, SAXOPHONE* Thursday, February 8, 8 p.m.

If you thought Harvard produced only ivory tower types, come hear a sax player called the Michael Jordon of Jazz. Instead of flying through the air, Redman honks, squeals, growls and wails without losing his melodic sense. Marsalis brothers, move over. Joshua Redman's at the head of the class. Corporate support by Security National Bank.

Pub/Fac $18

Sr. Cit. $16

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m. weekdays

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

*Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency. Additional support has been provided by the K-State Fine

All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

For Her

Giorgio Red 3 oz. EDT Spray

Reg. $55 ONLY $39.99

Alfred Sung 1 oz. EDT Spray

Reg. $32 ONLY$19.99

Red Door 1.7 oz. EDT Spray

Reg. $42.50 ONLY $29.99

Also... Bodacious by Graham Webb has arrived!

PAUL MITCHELL

 32 oz. Awapuhi Shampoo Reg. $12.95 ONLY $7.88

· 16 oz. Freeze & Shine

Reg. $10.95 ONLY $7.88

· 8 oz. The Conditioner Reg. $6.50 ONLY $4.88

Sebastian

Shaper Hairspray

Bonus size 13 oz. Reg. 9.20 ONLY 5.99

WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB &

CLUB BEAUTY SALON

Mon.-Sat. 9 a.m. - 8 p.m. Sun. 1 - 5 p.m.

New Location- 409 Poyntz

Store 539-5999 * Salon 539-6969

WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB & CLUB BEAUTY SALON Monthly Retail Specials

discounted 10-30%

All Fragrances

EVERYDAY!

For Him Nautica 3.4 oz. EDT Splash

Cool Water 2.5 oz. EDT Spray Reg. $42.50 ONLY $29.99

Reg. '34 ONLY '19.99

Red for Men 1.7 oz. EDT Spray Reg. 32.50 ONLY 22.99

New at Wholesale Beauty Club

Graham Webb

- · Energy & Shampoo 500ml Reg. 9.95 ONLY 7.95
- Ice Cap Conditioner 500 ml Reg. $14.95 ONLY $11.95 · Super Hold & Shine Hair
 - Reg. 8.50 ONLY 6.95 Salon Specials

Hair Cuts Only $7.95 Perms Starting @ Only $20

Massage Therapist

New Certified Massage Therapist on staff - she specializes in

Neuromuscular Therapy Shiatsu Swedish Massage Reflexology

All Products Guaranteed or Your Money Back

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

 Free pregnancy testing ·Totally confidential service ·Same day results

Call for appointment

Located across from campus

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

eve Up to Sa hool V.V. regular Disposable con

1441 Anderson Ave. Adjacent to KSU

Save up to $20 on a complete pair of eyeglasses
Prescriptions alled through their expiration date
We fill outside prescriptions Anderson Village 776-9461

Sports

tomorrow Look for a complete preview of this weekend events, including men's basketball at Kansas and women's basketball at Colorado.

• did you know? ■ K-State was picked in the preseason men's basketball poll to finish last in the conference. With a 5-2 record they are ranked third

Cats win battle for 3rd place K-State 77, Nebraska 68

K-State led by senior leadership

John Berggren

The way Elliot Hatcher goes, so goes the K-State basketball team. So it seems.

Hatcher, a 6-foot guard, finished Wednesday night's victory over Nebraska with a team high of 18 points and six assists. Both are well over his season averages of 15.8 points per game and three assists per game.

"Elliot had a terrific game. Every time we needed something, he really came through for us," Coach Tom Asbury said.

I've never been in this position before, until this year. I don't really view myself as a leader. I just go out and try to teach

ELUOT HATCHER

by example

While Nebraska was a run-and-gun team, K-State proved it was able to keep up. Hatcher had only one turnover in the match-up.

"I thought we could run with this team. I really did. I wanted to run more than we did, but we got a little tentative," Asbury said. Hatcher said he thought K-State could run with any

"We can run when we need to, but sometimes we don't. We have the talent and the athletes to run with anybody. I never know what kind of team is going to show up for us," Hatcher said. "It seems like when we play a half-court team we end up playing their style of game. We can play either way. It doesn't matter to

In his senior year and as team captain, Hatcher said it has taken time to adjust to his role as a team

"It's a little different. I've never been in this position before, until this year. I don't really view myself as a leader. I just go out and try to teach by example," Hatcher said. "I like to do everything. I like to score and rebound. I wish coach would let me do some more rebounding. Size doesn't mean anything to me. A 6'7" guy is just another guy to me. I'll never back down from anybody. A bigger guy may get the best of me, but you never know. I may get the best of him."

With the win, K-State improved its record to 14-5 overall and 5-2 in conference play. Hatcher said that even with the team's good start he is still not thinking about post-season play.

"I'm not worrying about the tournament. I'm just having fun with the guys I'm playing with. We get along real well as a team and that's all that is important," Hatcher said.

The next match-up for K-State will be at Kansas on Sunday at noon. Hatcher said he was not intimidated by the Jayhawks' 8-0 Big 8 record.

'We don't need to play a perfect game to win against KU. We just need to play like we have been and be consistent, and we will be fine," Hatcher said.

STEVE HEBERT/Collegian

Guard Paco May steals the basketball from Nebraska guard Tyronn Lue as Wildcat Shawn Rhodes looks on. May had two steals against

STEVE HEBERT/Collegian

Guard Tyrone Davis sends the basketball over Nebraska center Mikki Moore. Davis had his eighth double-double this season with 17 points and 11 rebounds.

			5	ga	n	1e			anc	•)	-	2
FQ	FT	R	A	TO		TP	Name	FQ	FT	R	A	TO	7	TF
3-6	24	2	100	. 3.	25	8	Gamer	3-7	1-3	13	0	100	3	67
-14	5-7	11	1	3	3	17	Boone	3-5	0-0	2	1	1	2	7
G-A	3-4	7	0.	SIAG	A	15	Moore	2-6	2-2	II.	2	2	13	58
-14	0-0	6	6	1	2	18	Lue	1-4	4-7	-6	4	4	1	6
3-7	1-2	2	2	100	2	1923	Strictord	7-14	0-0	10	SA	2	2	18
1-2	0-0	1	2	2	0	2	Wald	4-11	0-1	5	0	0	2	10
0-2	0.0	13	0	3	1	4	Hamilton	2-4	3-0	SA	0	2	330	12
3-5	3-4	1	3	.1	3	10	Badgett	2-5	0-0	2	- 1	1	4	5
20		A	200	-38	200	200	Marowski	1-2	.00	2	9	.2	13	5.2
-58	14-21	35	18	13	16	77	TOTALS	25-57	10-19	1	12	15	19	68
	K-19 3-6 -14 5-8 -14 3-7 1-2 3-5	K-State 10 FT 10 24 114 5-7 10 3-4 114 0-0 10-7 10-2 10-2 10-2 10-2	K-State 70 PT R 36 2-4 2 36 3-4 7 114 5-7 11 5-6 3-4 7 114 0-0 6 3-7 1-2 2 11-2 0-0 1 3-5 3-4 1 4	K-State 70 PT R A 36 2-4 2 4 36 3-4 7 0 36 3-4 7 0 36 3-4 7 0 37 1-2 2 2 37 1-2 0-0 1 2 37 3-4 1 3 4	K-State G FT R A TO 3.6 2-4 2 4 3 1.4 5-7 11 1 3 1.4 0-0 6 6 1 1.7 1-2 2 2 1 1.2 0-0 1 2 2 1.3 0-2 0-0 1 0 1 1.3 3-5 3-4 1 3 1	K-State Representation Representation	K-State 76 FT R A TO F TP 36 2-4 2 4 3 1 8 37 3-4 7 0 1 4 15 414 0-0 8 6 1 2 18 37 1-2 2 2 1 2 7 1-2 0-0 1 2 2 0 2 3-2 0-0 1 0 1 1 0 3-5 3-4 1 3 1 3 10	K-State Nebras Representation Nebras Nebras Name Name	K-State Nebraska Nebrask	K-State Nebraska Nebraska Neme Pa PT Name Pa PT N	K-State Nebraska Nebrask	70 FT R A TO F TP Name FG FT R A 1-10 FT Name FG F	K-State Nebraska Nebrask	Nebraska Nebraska

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

K-State's solid effort wins game

Chris May

After a disappointing loss to Missouri during the weekend, K-State came back in full force Wednesday night to beat Nebraska 77-68 in a battle for third and fourth place in the Big 8.

With the win against the Huskers in front of a season high crowd of 10,279 at Bramlage, the Wildcats improved to 14-5 overall and 5-2 in the

The victory puts the Cats in third place in the Big 8 standings.

This team isn't ready to ger when we get 21

swagger yet. We'll swag-

wins, which will be hard

K-STATE BASKETBALL COACH

TOM ASBURY

"I would say it was a real solid effort for the most part," Coach Tom Asbury said.

Despite the win over the Huskers, the Cats started off sluggish and trailed at the beginning, but went into the half with a 37-32 lead. The Huskers lost the lead for good in the first half with 12:55 remaining.

The Cats almost lost the lead in the second half when the Huskers pulled within five points with less than five minutes remaining. With back-toback free throws by junior Gerald Eaker and sophomore Mark Young, the Cats never looked back.

"We got off to a little bit of a slow start,"

Rebounding was the key to the K-State dominance in the second period. The Cats only had 13 rebounds in the first half compared to the Huskers, who had 18. K-State came back in the second half and got 22 boards to the Huskers' 12.

"Coach got into us a little bit at halftime and told me to grab some rebounds," Eaker said. Four Cats shot in double-figures last night.

Eaker had a career high 15 points along with seven rebounds and three blocked shots. Sophomore Aaron Swartzendruber tied his career high with 10 points. Elliot Hatcher led the team with 18 points and six assists. Tyrone Davis was the fourth player with double digits. Davis had 17 points and 11 rebounds, his 11th career double-double and eighth this season.

Asbury said he was not surprised with Eaker's performance.

"I saw him in juco. I anticipated him doing that," Asbury said. "He is going to have to do that a lot more next year."

Eaker said he has been working on his offensive style to complement his defensive perfor-"I'm trying to be more offensively open-minded," Eaker said. "I know I can hit it." The Cats still have seven games left in the Big

8, and Asbury doesn't want his team to get over-"This team isn't ready to swagger yet," Asbury said. "We'll swagger when we get 21 wins, which will be hard to do. The next game for the Cats will be a hard one as they face the number one team in the Big 8 on Sunday. The Cats said they are looking toward the contest with the Jayhawks optimistically. "It's going to be a real big game," Young said.

fidence going into the Kansas game over any other game.

Eaker doesn't feel that he will have more con-

"I always have confidence before a game," Eaker said. Asbury was quick to point out that Kansas won't be an easy game "Kansas is a great club. They are so multidimensional," Asbury said.

"We need to play a complete game, and we need to play an excellent game." Even Nebraska coach Danny Nee had a thought on the K-State-Kansas match-up. "It's going to be a helluva game," Nee said.

K-State continues slide with loss at Mizzou

Shane McCormick

Most teams find it difficult to win when the shots aren't falling. The Wildcats were no exception to the rule, as they Missouri traveled to

Wednesday night. A poor shooting first half led to the demise of the Cats. K-State shot an appalling 6of-21 from the floor for just 28.6 percent in a 57-51 loss to the Missouri Tigers. The loss dropped the Cats to 11-11 overall, 3-5 in the Big 8. Toppled with their poor shooting percentage, the Cats also committed 23 turnovers. "Any time you have 15 turnovers in the first half, you're not going to win," Cats' coach Brian Agler said.

"We're still not shooting the ball like I had hoped we would."

Agler said that Missouri's first half start was the difference from the last meeting between the two teams in Manhattan.

"Missouri really got off to a great start. That was the difference," Agler said.

"In Manhattan, they got off to a horrible start." Trailing by eight at the 16:15 mark of the second half, the Cats began to make their move. K-State went on a 10-2 run that gave them its first lead of the game 34-33 at the 11:34

During this span, junior

Andria Jones scored four straight baskets. Missouri used a big basket from Big 8 leading scorer Erika Martin to pull ahead by two at the 1:58 mark. "Look what happened late in the game. The ball went to her (Martin)," said Agler. On the following possession, K-State was held to a 30-second violation, Missouri used late free-throws to ice the game. A bright spot for the Cats was junior Carrie Ragar. Ragar scored a career high 10 points in 29 minutes of play.

Junior Andria Jones paced

the Cats with 14 points, six rebounds and three blocks.

Next up for the Cats is a road trip to Colorado on

"We're a young team that's getting better every day," Agler said.

"Take a look at us in March, and you will see a much better team."

_	State	2					Missou	ıri				•
FQ	FT	R	A	TO		TP	Name	PO	PT	R	A	TO	•	T
2-4	33	100	0	3	18	100	Shows 10	157	24	100	COMP.	100.0	10	m
2-10	0-0	2	0	1	2	5	Martin	4-8	7-1	- 5	1	3	1	15
44	60	6	0	4	500	200	Bords.	SCHOOL SECTION	0.0	200	DIR.	020	200	unt
3-9	5-8	2	1	3	3	11	Bryan	1-6	6-6	- 6	- 4	3	3	-
1-3	0-0	68	12	- 8	100	100	Julylain	24	200	100	82	-0.0	500	88
0-0	0-0	0	0	0	0	0	Woehrer	2-3	3-4	0	1	1	0	7
0-5	0.0	000	Ю	330	3	0.1	Flows	0.0	0-0	10	100	SEC.	200	100
0-1	0.0	2	0	0	1	0	Thornton	2-2	2-3	4	0	3	3	- (
13	0.0	200	. 0	32	100	100	Lucy	0-1	0-0	100	itie.	(III)	100
6-46	18-25	33	7	23	26	51	TOTALS	17-39	23-30	28	12	20	18	57
	2-4 2-10 4-9 3-9 1-3 0-0 0-1 0-1	2-4 3-3 2-10 0-0 4-9 6-8 3-9 5-8 1-3 0-0 0-0 0-0 0-1 0-0 1-1 0-0	2-4 8-5 4 2-10 0-0 2 4-9 6-6 6 3-9 5-8 2 1-3 0-0 8 0-0 0-0 0 0-1 0-0 1 0-1 0-0 2 1-1 0-0 8	2-4 3-3 4 0 2-10 0-0 2 0 4-9 6-8 0 3-9 6-8 2 1 1-3 0-0 8 2 0-0 0-0 0 0 0-1 0-0 1 8 0-1 0-0 2 0 1-1 0-0 2 0	2-4 3-3 4 0 3 2-10 0-0 2 0 1 4-9 6-6 6 0 4 3-9 5-8 2 1 3 1-3 0-0 5 2 0 0-0 0-0 0 0 0 0-1 0-0 1 3 1 0-1 0-0 2 0 0 1-1 0-0 2 0 0	2-4 3-3 4 0 3 5 2-10 0-0 2 0 1 2 4-9 6-6 5 0 4 3-9 5-8 2 1 3 3 1-3 0-0 5 2 8 3 0-0 0-0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1 0-0 1 5 4 1-1 0-0 2 0 0 1	2-4 3-3 4 0 3 5 7 2-10 0-0 2 0 1 2 5 4-9 6-6 6 0 4 14 3-9 5-8 2 1 3 11 1-3 0-0 5 2 8 2 0-0 0-0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1 0-0 1 0 1 0 1-1 0-0 8 0 2 2 2	2-4 3-3 4 0 1 5 7 2-10 0-0 2 0 1 2 5 Martin Books 3-9 5-8 2 1 3 3 11 Bryan 3-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5	2-4 3-3 4 0 1 5 7 Martin 4-8 2-10 0-0 2 0 1 2 5 Martin 4-8 3-9 5-8 2 1 3 3 11 Bryan 1-6 1-3 0-0 5 2 8 2 8 2 8 2 8 2 8 2 8 2 8 2 8 2 8 2	2-4 3-3 4 0 1 5 7 Martin 4-8 7-1 2-10 0-0 2 0 1 2 5 Martin 4-8 7-1 5-10 1-10 1-10 1-10 1-10 1-10 1-10 1-	2-4 3-3 4 0 3 5 7 Martin 4-8 7-1 5 2-10 0-0 2 0 1 2 5 Martin 4-8 7-1 5 4-9 6-8 2 1 3 3 11 Bryan 1-6 6-6 6 1-3 0-0 5 2 1 3 3 11 Bryan 1-6 6-6 6 0-1 0-0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Woehrer 2-3 3-4 0 0-1 0-0 1 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	2-4 3-3 4 0 3 5 7 Martin 4-8 7-1 5 1 2-10 0-0 2 0 1 2 5 Martin 4-8 7-1 5 1 3-9 5-8 2 1 3 3 11 Bryan 1-6 6-6 6 4 13-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5-9 5	2-4 2-3 4 0 3 5 7	2-4 2-3 4 0 3 5 7

SOME EFFICIENCY CONSULTANT TO TRY TO SQUEEZE

EVEN MORE SAVINGS OUT OF MY DEPARTMENT.

WELL, THAT'S EXCITING.

AT LEAST YO

HAVE SOME

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

CROSSWORD ACROSS 19 Actor 1 Plumbing 37 Spoke 2 "Damn Holbrook pompously 40 Estival pest Yankees' 21 Dict.

5 Make role 41 Cut comers 3 Gen. music 8 Ump's call 45 In the Bradley 12 New York 4 Oriental thick of 47 TV network entertain-13 "Born in 49 Curved ers 5 Mortal the molding 50 Lab rat's 14 Friend of 6 Exploita-

Tom Servo challenge 15 Jai 7 Badly 51 La-la follower lead-in damaged 16 Chaps 52 A handful 8 Second-17 Judicial 53 Wharf stringer 54 Corn spike 9 Fragrant raiment 18 Mason or 55 De - (ex- 10 Watch cessive) Warfield accessory

20 Dejected DOWN 11 Ram's 22 Cyclist's 1 Pull an allma'am grip 26 Unim-Solution time: 23 mins. provable

29 Reed or Harrison 30 Dead heat 31 - ex machina 32 Succor 33 Something to shake well before using 34 Moray

35 Expert

36 Hickory

TDG

NITELY PRICE TAG.

Yesterday's answer

STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873! 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE GAME MOST OF-

TEN PLAYED AT A SHOPPING CENTER IS DEFI-

Today's Cryptoquip clue: R equals C

ADGRJWGY

VYJJ-RWQQYRBYA

VDJJ

by Eugene Sheffer

► FOXTROT

NOT WANT TO

REG!

THAT?

DOOG AND BLAIR

23 Desiccated 24 Costa -25 Spotted 26 Mid-March 27 Profound 28 Praise derivative 33 Rid of

- glance abbr. 38 Hypno-39 Tinseltrophy 42 Dr. Frankenstein's aide? 43 Office note

44 Incubator

45 Pump up the volume 46 Actress

Zetterling 48 Undergarment

I need to see your registration

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

by Justin Stahlman

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

Music Review

by Bill Amend

by Mark Ilich

Joe Sample melts doldrums with clean, jazzy sound

contributing writer

Joe Sample and the Soul Committee "Did You Feel That?"

Label: Warner Bros. In these days of frigid weather, this album is sure to leave you feeling toasty and ready to groove into the nearest record store.

Its cuts are laden with foot-tapping, body-moving soul, energy and a clean sound. The band goes a little heavy on the bass line, but balances it out with a crisp, light sound in its trumpet and sax.

Joe Sample and the Soul Committee

"Did you feel that?"

out of a possible 4 CD's

Joe Sample and the Soul Committee is an eight-member band made up of a pianist/keyboardist, a drummer, a percussionist, a bassist, two guitarists, a trumpet player and a tenor saxophonist. The band has put together a solid piece of work in "Did You Feel That?" Although the greatest strengths of the album are primarily in the first half, the end maintains a good tone and an invigorating, pure style.

The band's utilization of contemporary jazz with a sound vaguely reminiscent of the later works of the Temptations (minus the vocals) creates a wonderfully unique flavor. The album possesses great urban funkstyle jazz with a touch of the early 1970s Superfly era. Most of the melodies are rather simple in nature, though not unsophisticated or rudimentary. Instead, the tunes are clean, unadorned and pure to the ear. There are four tracks on the album especially worth checking out. Track one, "Mystery Child," has a nice bass line, great blend of sound and groove. The band starts the album off nicely. "The Sidewinder," track two, is brimming with sass and has a good dance beat. It's full of fun. Some of you might recognize the tune as one composed by Edward

Lee Morgan. Track three, "Viva de Funk," has a '70s guitar influence, which is immediately apparent. This song is definitely funky Track four, "While It's Good," in contrast to the majority of the album, is slowed down. It's smooth, yet maintains its direction and style. This piece would make good lounge or dinner music.

Members of New Currents, a campus/community jazz, fusion and new age appreciation club, listened to "Did You Feel That?" at their last meeting.

The majority of the members gave the CD a good approval rating, and most agreed that it was funky. However, Gene Donovan, Manhattan resident, did not like the sound at all. Of one track he simply said, "No, Valerie Thornton, Junction City resident, said it had light, good brass and often brings you back to the era of Superfly and Tower of Power.

Rich Senften, Manhattan resident, said the CD had nice rhythm and a mellow sound. He also said all the cuts were very clean.

This is a good album to add to any collection, and even boasts a noteworthy piece of cover art called "Aspects of Negro Life: From Slavery through Reconstruction" by Aaron Douglas.

Some other releases by Joe Sample are "Invitation," "Ashes to Ashes" and "Spellbound."

AYIYQAG

RWQBPRBG

No experience necessary! Thursday, February 1 5:30-7pm 304 Ahearn Gym

For further information call 532-6887

ONE HOUR PHOTO

When You Turn Your Favorite Photo

Into a 20x30 Poster

Legal Counseling, Document Preparation, Limited Representation FOR ENROLLED STUDENTS PAYING ACTIVITY FEE FREE AND CONFIDENTIAL

NEW INITIATES

Russ Baldwin

Dan Cataldi

Gregg Farrar

Chris Hendrix

Sean Jackson

John Klabunde

Matt Lenz

Seth Lloyd

Will Robinson

Matt Seibel

Brent Taylor

Bryan Taylor

Gavin Vaughn

LEGAL SERVICES

FOR STUDENTS

Dianne K. Urban, Attorney Student Activities and Services

K-State Union • 532-6541

One-Hour Service On Enlargements And Reprints

Manhattan Town Center (main entrance by food court)

SPRING PLEDGES

Rich Cole Ryan Eftink John Gooch Jason Green Rod Helus Brian Oehme Jeff Pegues Steve Prussa Brian Shimkos Jarrod Soukup

SPECIAL INITIATE George Stein

Vince Sparks Zac Sundgren Travis Booth

ADMISSION TO ALL UPC FILMS IS $1.75

Breakfast at Tiffany's

Thursday, Feb 1, 7:00 and 9:30pm Forum Hall Saturday, Feb 3, 9:30pm Forum Hall

Get Shorty

Friday, Feb 2, 7:00 and 9:30pm Forum Hall Saturday, Feb 3, 7:00pm Forum Hall

The Right Stuff Sunday, Feb 4, 8:00pm Forum Hall

Apollo 13

Monday, Feb 5, 8:00pm Forum Hall

K-State Student Union

For more information call the UPC Office at 532-6571

WILLARD

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Both walked into the mess this morning upon arriving at work.

"I am very distressed about not getting a call about damage to my department," Roche said. "I could have prevented some of the damage to the chemistry library.

The main office had flooding on both sides, but was not fully hit. Roche said.

"The secretary's desk had water on it," he said.

Ruth Nellis, head of the chemistrybiochemistry library, said she was notified possibly because they realized the expensive nature of the library.

"If I was called, the damages could have been even more extensive than what they are," Nellis said. Classes were still held in the dry areas of Willard, yet some were can-"I lost two class periods this morning," Culley said. Later in the day some classes were still canceled or shifted to other rooms, Holcombe said. Students were relieved that some classes were canceled, but the real concern was on replacing the damaged equipment and getting the mon-

"I just hope we get the money to cover the damage," Laura Harrison, senior in art and painting, said. Now, with this happening, Sarah Franz, junior in art education, said, "It shows that we need the money." "This is aggravating because we have new equipment," Brian Derens-ki, senior in graphic design, said, "and now it is ruined.' This equipment was to last the department for the next five years, Derenski said. "With funds in the department already stretched, now what do we do?"

"We were pushed out of the art building, which was falling apart anyway, and we came over here. Now this place is falling apart," Derenski said.

"Although this could have happened to any building that was under heated," he said.

At this time it looks like a control problem - a problem controlling the temperature around the pipes, Slover

"If everything is the way it is supposed to be," Slover said, "this should have never happened."

It should never have gotten below freezing around the pipe, Slover said. "But it did," he said.

Slover said he did not think it was a bad design from the engineers of where the new pipe was located or how it was installed.

"But we are relocating the pipe," Slover said.

John Kent, assistant director of building maintenance, said they are rerouting the pipe to a warmer area away from the north wall.

Students will have to check with their professors to see if they will have classes the rest of the week, Holcombe said.

GRAVES

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

with a shuffle beat.'

'It swings — it definitely swings. The Basie band will make it definitely swing," Wilson said.

Wilson began writing the song on the airplane while leaving San Diego after the Holiday Bowl.

"I do a lot of my composing on airplanes - from years of traveling with the Basic band. I can really concentrate on an airplane.'

Wilson performed with the Basie orchestra for 10 years.

Insert

money-making ad here

DEAN

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

very active in research. For example, he said, the cancer research done at K-State is very unusual, considering there is no medical school.

Research is a very high priority and we feel the best people to educate the students are the professors that are furthering their discipline," Nicholls said. "We do ecological research on the Konza Prairie, our biology department offers cancer research and every time the space shuttle goes up, an experiment from K-State's NASA program is on that shuttle.'

Many of the research programs were implemented before Nicholls came to K-State, and he said he does take credit for the new doctoral program in the geography department for rural geography beginning this fall.

"The geography department does very strong research and has an excellent master's program. It went through the Board of Regents and will be implemented next fall for students," Nicholls said.

There are many challenges and rewarding experiences with being a dean to the College of Arts and Sciences, he said.

"The toughest thing to deal with is promotion of tenure for the faculty," Nicholls said

"These decisions affect the future of the University, students and everything we do."

Decisions made by the faculty and administration are sometimes difficult to make, he said.

'The other main challenge is the budget," Nicholls said.

"We never have enough money to do the things we would like to do," he

He said as the numbers of students increase in the future, the University won't see a large increase in money from the state. And there will be the same number of faculty members.

The challenge will be to find available classrooms and ensure the students' needs are met. "My favorite aspect of being a dean is working with the faculty," Nicholls "They are prepared to go the extra mile to make the programs work," he "My experience here at K-State has been rewarding, and I truly enjoy the people I work with.'

It pays to advertise in the Collegian

Call 532-6555

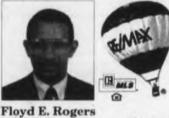

· HATS · SHOES

· PROPS · MASK

· ALL SIZES 539-5200

2011 FT. RILEY BLVD . MANHATTAN

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home Res: (913) 776-8900 market analysis. Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Penny Alonso

Res: (913) 776-7492

Manhattan Athletic Club 700 Rosencutter Rd. 776-6622

Join us for only $85 a semester

(student special)

Limited memberships available Offer expires February 15

Escape the cold. Join us at ...

SWIMWEAR SPECTACULAR mmmm

HOUSTON STREET BALLROOM • 427 HOUSTON STREET

TONIGHT 7:30 - 10:30 P.M. RSVP UNTIL 6 P.M. • 539-5956

< New Bulbs > New Bulbs < New Bulbs >

FREE Accelerator w/coupon

1214-C MORO

776-7874

24 HR. PROCESSING

STUDENT LOANS HAVE NEVER BEEN SIMPLER!

Kansas State Bank is the largest local student loan lender with over 40,000 student loans processed! Let our professional in-house staff assist you with your next student loan.

Lender code #821176

KANSAS STATE BANK

Westloop • Downtown • Aggieville • K-State Union, 587-4000

You'll find the perfect valentine in a heartbeat.

We've got so many ways to make a heart beat a little faster this Valentine's Day. ORDER YOUR BALLOONS TODAY

Valentine's Day is Wed. Feb. 14

704 N. MANHATTAN•IN AGGIEVILLE•539-7654 MON.-FRI. 8:30-8:30, SAT. 8:30-5:30, SUN. 12:00-5:00

Classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

DEADLINES

HOW TO PAY

must be paid in advenge unless you have an established udent Publications. MaillerCard or Visit are eccepted. There is a $10 service

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

PARKING SOUTH OF THE UNION Mon.-Fri. 8-5 Except holidays)

Place your classified ad in Kedzie 103

103 Kedzie Hall OFFICE Hours

BOARD

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, 539-0531, classes now forming.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m. KSU SCUBA NAUL OF YMCA certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539-8763

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism breakthrough. Guaranteed.

for information and

Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information (800)256-7515. WANTED: 100 Students!

Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information: (800)229-7562.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND SILVER Bracelet Contact 532-6321 to de-scribe and claim.

FOUND: CALCULATOR in the K-State Student Union. Contact 395-5462 to describe and claim.

FOUND: SUNGLASSES you left them when you placed your classified ad. Claim in 103 Kedzie.

Parties-n-More

ADD A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at reasonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal op-portunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, fe-milial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hell, 537-0056.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320/ month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to campus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537-7542.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments Close to campus with great prices, 537-1666, 537-2919.

deluxe two-bedroom apartment. $500. Also one-bedroom apart-ment for June and Au-gust $320, 539-2482 FOR RENT: 827 Moro base ment apartment. Three blocks from Aggieville utilities and washing $120 month, 537-9756.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU

TWO-BED MODERN ROOM, close to cam-pus, terrace, washer/ dryer access, low utili-ties, $430/ month. Call 539-3178.

NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537-8389. ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO, furnished in complex 1219 Claffin. Next to campus, $320 plus de-posit, plus electric. No pets, available now, six months lease. Call 537-1180.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N 10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428. TWO-BEDROOM SUB-LEASE, start imme-diately, close to cam-pus, we will help pay your rent! 537–1359.

TWO-BEDROOMS AVAIL-ABLE- large house. Share facilities with other tenants $120-$150 per month plus electricity. 539-6687 or (316)722-6851.

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available now. Very large, two-bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included. Call 776–3804.

ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537–2332. APARTMENT FOR rent Very near campus. Clean and new. $385 plus utilities. Available immediately. (913)455-3433, Leave AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

AVAILABLE MID-MAY one-bedroom across from campus, two balconies, new kitchen. Call 587-9322, leave message.

AVAILABLE NOW- rent negotiable, luxury apart-

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sar. 10-3 p.m.

Large 2-bedroom units

ment next to campus, two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing, 539-2702 evenings. AVAILABLE NOW, across from Aggleville and campus. Spacious one or two-bedroom with off-street parking. 776-0683 after 5p.m.

AVAILABLE NOW. One bedroom. 820 Osage

$360. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-lowed. Call now 776-3804.

AVAILABLE SOON- two-bedroom duplex, fire-place, off-street park-ing, washer/ dryer hook-ups, central heat/ air, good neighborhood, close to campus. Call 532-9008 or (913)252-

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid. Available Jan. 1. 539-1975.

CLEAN, THREE-BED-ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer. Gas and water split. Electricity separate. Trash paid. $450/ month 1110 Colorado, 537-9023

CRESTWOOD APART room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1611 Lara-mie. $575 through May 31. Water, trash paid.

Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804. FOUR-BEDROOM, LARGE, 537-1940. $750.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus, 1829 College Heights, $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776–3804. ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse

Newly carpeted: 537-9188 or 537-1550. ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, tresh paid.

Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM NEAR campus. $350, no bills. Pets allowed. 537-2697.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776–3804.

PARK PLACE Apartment special. One-bedroom, new carpet, hot water paid, $300 per month, plus utilities. Six month lease. 637-2392.

Collegian Classifieds

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball, 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.

ROYAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from

You Deserve The Best

2 bedroom apartments

Great location ▲ Large

▲ Washer/dryer

hook-ups

Fireplaces

▲ Large pool

NOW LEASING

JUNE & AUGUST

776-8641

Open Houses Daily

The Curtin Company

campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dishwasher, microwave

laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.

STUDIO AVAILABLE now, near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776–3804.

THREE-BEDROOM APART

nonth. 539-5729

THREE-BEDROOM WITH

TWO-BEDROOM APART

MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500/

washer/ dryer, dish-washer, fireplace. 4vail-able Feb. 1. $600. 537-7138.

MENT at Park Place Apartments. $435/ month. February free. Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537-9450.

MENT. $380/ month Across street from Ahearn Field House. Available now. Lease

and deposit required. 537-7794.

campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facil-ities, immediately avail-able. 539–7277.

$475. Water, trash paid

MENT, washer and dry-er. $350. 537–1940.

O-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH' PAID. $480.

Call now

TWO-BEDROOM APART

TWO-BEDROOM APART

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL

TWO-BEDROOM BASE

TWO-BEDROOM

PAID. 776-8455.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX

(913)379-5450

776-0221

TWO-BEDROOM,

For Rent-

Houses

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m.,

TWO-BEDROOM, 1106 Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Avail-able now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month. Water paid.

bedrooms Two bathrooms ▲ Walk-in closets

FEMALE

ROOMMATE FEMALE

FEMALE ROOMMATE Student. $162/ month plus one-third utilities.

FEMALE SMOKERS want

FEMALE. AVAILABLE im 539-4303 (913)485-2385

MALE/ FEMALE non smoker. Own room and bath. $250 plus onehalf bills. 539-8786.

MALE/ FEMALE smoker, one-third bills, one-third rent, own room, close to campus, and Aggieville, 587-9606.

NICE HOUSE, close to campus, $200 monthly. February paid (913)776-1890.

to rent one-bedroom of

ROOMMATE NEEDED im

ROOMMATE WANTED to

ROOMMATE WANTED basement apartment, three blocks from cam-pus, $175/ month, utili-

month plus divided util-ities, 587-0697, leave

Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401.

AVAILABLE IMME DIATELY. Four-bed close to campus

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH JR-BEDROOM WITH study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-lowed.Call 776-3804. facilities. Pets allowed. Contact John at 537-6058.

HEATING PAID. Free laundry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

VERY NICE newly remo-deled two-bedroom house near campus. Re frigerator, range, washer, dryer, central heat and air. No pets. $475 plus utilities. Call even-ings. (913)238-8441.

For Sale-Mobile Homes

12X60 TWO-BEDROOM Stove, refrigerator, washer/ dryer, mi-crowave. Set up Blue Valley trailer court. 539-1004.

1994 SKYLINE Sabre two-bedroom, one bath, central air. Excellent, condition. Paid $17,500.

Sell for $14,000. 537-9740 or 776-6361

Roommate Wanted

AVAILABLE NOW- Very nice four-bedroom townhouse, three bath, washer/ dryer. $215/ month plus one-four utilities. Call 776-3843.

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look ing for roommate two-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, ca-As soon as possi-through July

MALE ROOMMATE needed $162/ month, FEMALE one-third utilities, four bedroom, three bath townhouse available immediately. Call 539-4776 ask for Nicole FEMALE ROOMMATE bedroom apartment $165/ month. Two blocks from campus, 1729 Laramie, 537-1091 ask for Laurie.

ROOMMATE needed to share four-bedroom house. $279/ month utilities included. Wash/ dryer available. Call 776-7298.

wanted: close to Ag gieville and campus. Af fordable rent. Cal 776-1388 ask for Ali.

plus one Dishwasher, centre. Dishwasher, Available heat/ air. Annow, 587-1964.

female roommate. Three-bedroom $175 month plus one-third utilities. 776-8764.

mediately: three-bed-room house, two blocks to campus, 1105 Ratone, washer/ dryer $150/ month 539-7190.

MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block from campus, with two girls, one guy. Own room, washer/dryer $172.50. 539-4311.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE two-bedroom apart-ment. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call mediately for apart-ment, close to campus. Prefer non-smoker. Call 776-1340.

share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities. 587-9439.

ROOMMATE WANTED. next to campus. Large, private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294.

ties paid, can renew lease in June. 776-4110. STUDENT WANTED: $175

TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur-nished basement apart-ment. Laundry fur-nished, for males, nonsmoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539–1554.

WANTED: FEMALE to rent one-bedroom in a house with washer/ dry-er, $230 negotiable. Within walking distance to campus. 776–8481.

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claflin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to campus in house, please contact 565-0114. Joyce

SERVICE DIRECTORY

Tutor STRUGGLING WITH Eng-lish 100 or 2007 Former GTA/ Instructor, Chris Rueter is available for tutoring. Call 776-0272.

Resume Typing

PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs nda 776-3290.

FAST, CHEAP, accurate Professional typist wil do resumes or any other word processing. Laser printing. Becky, 539-2748.

Other Services

COMPUTERIZED TAX preparation. $15 for simple return. Can help with budgeting and financial problems. For students by students. Anytime

MONEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all studnts. Immediate qualification. Call (800)270-2744. Open

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D., Lawrence, (913)841–5716.

Massage

270

NEW CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon. She spebeauty Salon. She spe-cializes in neuromus-cular therapy, shiatsu, Swedish and reflex-ology. Mention this ad and receive $10 off first appointment. 539–6969.

Help Wanted

310

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Manhattan City Ordinance, 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he' she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, dissex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment op-portunity with reasonable caution. The Col legian urges our read-ers to contact the Bet-ter Business Bureau, ter Business 501 SE Jefferson, To-508 KS 66607-1190.

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-

HOURS - That's right! You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Man-hattan Biomedical Center. 1130 Gardenway 9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M- F, 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits, Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-A57683.

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachu-setts. Over 100 positions available. All Land tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required Top salaries, room and board, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27-28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu Women call: Winadu, Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

APPLICATION FOR mem-bership for McCain Am-bassadors, a student organization interested in promoting music drama and live enter drama and live enter-trainment, will be avail-able at K-State Student Union SAS Office from January 31 through Fe-bruary 26. Due back in office on February 26 by 4p.m. Contact Emily Simpson at 539-4651 or Todd Lakin at 537-7773 with questions

ATTENTION ALL Students! Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All information (800)263-6495

ATTENTION STUD-ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051, Immediate re-

ATTENTION UPPER division accounting majors. Very part-time book-keeping job, 2-3 flexi-ble hours a week. Call

CAMP COUNSELORS for educational camp south of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canoeing crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the out-8- 14 about the out-doors. Lifeguard help-ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details, send inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wild-wood Center, 7095 W. 399th St., LaCygne, KS

CAMP OZARK, Christian Sports and Adventure Camp- Seeking quali-fied counselors to work with boys and girls ages 8- 16. Employment terms for all or part of the summer. If remotely interested, come to our KSU in formational video preformational video pre-sentation 7:30p.m., Tuesday, February 6 at K-State Union, Little Theatre. Located Mount Ida, AR (501)867-4131.

CAMP TAKAJO for boys.
Outstanding Maine
camp noted for magnificent lakefront setting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 positions for heads and as-sistants in tennis, base-ball, basketball, soccer, lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, caswimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, noeing, watersking, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, journalism, photography, videography, woodworking, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study, radio and electronics, tramatics plans according to the property of the party of the dramatics, piano ac-companist, music in-strumentalist, band di-rector, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewa-ter canoeing, ropes course, general (with course, general (with youngest campers), secretarial. June 17-August 18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-

York, NY 10021. Or law resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, Fe-bruary 5th, 10a.m. 4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union. CLERICAL SUPPORT-Currently hiring for two half-time positions for clerical support. The job requires a knowl-edge of WordPerfect, Lotus 123. Other soft skills are required Apply in person at LERN, 1550 Hayes Drive, Manhattan. EOE

COMPLETE MUSIC Disc Jockey Service is grow-ing and wants you to be a part of the largest and most professional DJ service in the nation. We provide the equipment. CD library, and paid professional training. If you are friendly, energetic and have your own vehicle, call 539-7111 or (800)755-DJDJ.

COPY EDITOR for academic journal. Contract work, paid hourly. Two issues annually. Contact: National Academic Advising Association, 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 225, Manhattan, KS 66506-2912, 532-5717 before Fe-

COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL Techs/ Stylists. Wanting a flexible schedule in an up and coming sa-ion? Booth rent first four weeks free or part time commission op time commission op-tion also available. Apply Wholesale Beau-ty Club/ Club Beauty Salon 409 Poytz 539-5999.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experi-ence necessary, For in-formation call (206)971–3550 call ext.C57684.

EARN $6- $7/ hour. Just Roses has part-time weekend and evening sales openings for out-going people. Must be 18 years old and have transportation. Call Rosemary -776-7123.

EXCEPTING APPLICA-TIONS for full and part-time jobs. Employment begins March 15. Pick up application at East-side Market next to

HARVEST HELP NEED ED. We run three new 2188's Case Interna-tional combines, three new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May, Room and board pro-vided. Excellent wages for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting. (913)689–4660.

HORTICULTURAL SERV ICES, Inc. is seeking re-liable individuals for full- or part-time em-ployment for our retail garden center and land-scape operations. Above average wages and benefits. Apply in person at 11524 Landscape Lane, St. George, KS 66535. (913)494 2418 or (913)776-0397.

JOBS IN the Great Out-doors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-

LOOKING FOR student to do house cleaning, iron-ing for two apartments, flexible hours. Call Kevin 537-1145 or Kevin 53 587-4121. MULTICULTURAL CON-

STITUENT PROGRAM COORDINATOR, Parttime position with Kan-sas State University Alumni Association. Co-ordinates alumni/ student programming in conjunction with uni-versity ethnic month ac-tivities, multicultural and international alum ni programming. Bachelor's degree re-quired. Self-starter with strong organizational event planning, speak ing and writing skills Experience working with volunteers and multicultural organizations preferred. Position starts March 11. Submit letter of appli cation, resume and three references by Feb. 16 to Amy Button Renz, K-State Alumni Association, 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 400, Manhattan, KS 66502

PHOTOGRA-EDED PHOTOGRA-PHERS for fraternity/ sorority parties. No ex-perience needed. Must be free on weekends. University Photogra-phy, 1128 Laramie to fill out application.

PART-TIME DELIVERY person at Faith Furniture must be able to work weekends and some afternoons. Apply in per-son at Faith Furniture located on E. Highway 24, Manhattan.

PREMIERE BROTHERS-Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking Top salaries, room board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC

(Boys): 1-800-753-9118.

DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specif-ically designed for recent college graduates. Call or send resume. 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX. REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business oppor-tunity with multi-level marketing in tele-communications industry. For appointment 539-0208.

SECRETARY/ RECEPcellent organizational skills and attention to detail. Computer, word processing and bookkeeping experience important. Looking for professional, enthusiastic, bright, people-oriented candidate with good communication skills. Full-time, $6.50/ hour. Send resume to 1600 Poyntz Ave., Man-hattan, KS 66502.

SMALL ENGINE Mechanic full or part-time, call 776-4181 K-Hill Engine Service, 8430 E. High-

STUDENT COMPUTER
Consultant: 12 or more hours per week. Experience with both Mainframe and Microcomputers, along with employment GPA and employment potential of two years given preference. Contact Ralph Wasmer in Room 9
Fairchild Hall by 5p.m.
Monday, February 5,
1996 for application.
NO PHONE CALLS
PLEASEI

TUDENT'S DREAM Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en-ergy, mental alertness 539-7336.

SUMMER CAMP JOBS: Pine Cove Christian Camps in Tyler, Texas, are three separate re-creational camps for creational camps for children, youth, and families. We will be interviewing for summer staff Monday and Tuesday February 5th and 6th in the Union Building Hallway from 10a.m.— 5p.m. Call Susan McNellis at 539–7342 for more details or Pine Cove at (800)225-9069.

SUMMER JOBS in Color-ado. YMCA of the Rock-ies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference cen-ter and family resort hiring for Lifeguards, Food Services, Front Desk, Counselors, Housekeeping, etc. Campus interviews on February 8, 1996. Contact Career/ Employment Services for interview, 532–6506.

SUMMER JOBS- female

ounselors for child-ren's camp northeast. Top salary, Room and board, laundry, travel allowance. Must have skill in one of the fol-lowing activities: archlowing activities: arch ery, arts and crafts (ce ramics, stain-glass, jew-elry), athletic trainer, basketball, canoeing, kayaking, dance (tap, pointe, jazz, modern jazz), drama, field hock-ey, golf, gymnastics (in-structors or qualified spotters), horseback rid-ing- hunt seat, lacrosse, nature, photography, videographer, piano ac companist, pioneering camp craft, ropes (in nerquest- ropes chal lenge course, 25 sta-tions), sailing, soccer, softball, tennis, theater technicians, track and field, volleyball, W.S.I./Swim instruc-tors, windsurfing. Also opportunities for kitchen cooks, maintenance nurses, secretaries. Cal 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771. Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Student Union Rooms 203 and SUMMER ORIENTA-Student Services will be interviewing and hir-ing orientation leaders for the 1996 Summe Orientation/ Enrollment Program. Applications are available in 1 Anare available in 1 Anderson Hall (lower level). If there are any questions, please contact Gary Pierson at 532-6318. A completed application must be submitted by 5p.m., Monday, February 5, 1996.

295. No appointment necessary.

TENNIS JOBS - Sum mer children's camp -northeast - good tennis background, tennis background, college-level player who can teach child-ren to play tennis. Good salary, room, board and laundry, board and laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 s.m.-4p.m., Student Union, Rooms 203 and 205. No appointment necessary.

THE WORLD'S BEST SUMMER CAMP, LAUREL FOR BOYS AND GIRLS. Located on a three mile lake in Maine. Men and women are needed as counselors, coaches and instructors in field court and water sports Also arts and main-tenance. No experience necessary. Call campus representative. Engle after 7p.m. at (913)838-9656.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help. Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at 2700 Anderson Ave.

WATERFRONT JOBS-W.S.I.- Summer children's camp-Northeast- teach Northeast- teach children to swim, coach swim team, dive, waterski (slalom, trick, barefoot, jumping), sail. Good salary, room board, laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union rooms 203 and 205. No appointment necessary.

Wanted to Buy

MARKET WANT TO buy: Diamonds-Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're look-ing for. Lorin 539-6631.

DESK $15, bicycle $55, mir-rors $5, small glass table- two chairs $45, 10-gallon aquarium-whole setup $35, threeshelved bookcase $15, desk chair $30, desk chair 539-3809. ENGAGEMENT/ WEDDING ring set, marquis dia-mond with eight small-er diamonds, one-half karat total. $250 or best offer. 537–8206. FOR SALE- Oak loft bed good bed/ mattress sup-ported by two pedes desk with three draw drawer chest. 0 FOR SALE: Graphics I art supplies. Table, board included. Perfect for ers, six drawer chest, and shelves. Also six graphics class. 539-8372 or 539-1537. FOR SALE: Large dorm re-frigerator. $75. Call 776-3357.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-

Furniture to

Buy/Sell

AA FULL size mattress set. New, never used, still in plastic. Retail price $639. Will sell for $165. Brass headboard $90, (913)379-9858.

set. New, never used. Still in plastic. Retail price $839, will sell for $195. Queen brass headbaord, (913)379-9858.

AA QUEEN size mattress

KING SIZE mattress set, new, retail $999, sell for $275. (913)379-9858.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Emporium, 6000 square feet antiques, collectibles. estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Man-hattan Airport. Open Tues. – Sat. 12– 5p.m.

Computers

539-4684.

486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1495, 539-8453.

DRAFTING AT home. Autocad RII- with tutorial installation and per former's guide, autolist programmer's refer ence, reference manual, never used. $85. 539–3809.

MACINTOSH CLASSIC II 4 MB RAM, 80MB hard drive. ClarisWorks, software, StyleWriter ink jet printer. Excellent condition. $450. Con tact Robert at 395-4242.

Instruments

TEMPO: THE speed at which a musical composition is to be performed; rate of activity; pace. The Music Co.- redefining the music "in-dustry" at 523 S. 17th St., in The Midtown Pla-za. 539–1958.

TRIPS

Spring

Break

PANAMA CITY BEACH

DAYTONA BEACH

KEY WEST

VAIL/BEAVER CREEK

HILTON HEAD ISLAND

1-800-SUNCHASE

SPRING EREAK IN

CANCUN

1-800-95-BREAK

JOIN UNIGLOBE Knowles

(800)628-6589.

(800)426-7710.

SPRING BREAK'S "Hot-

800)328-7513

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja-maica/ Cancun $399. Organize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours

test Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island,

http://www.studen-tadytrav.com Free food and drink pack

age for early sign-

Travel for Spring Break in Cancun or Jamaica

Jamaica starting from $439 March 24-31, 1996. Cancun starting from $399 March 22-29, 1996, March 23-30, 1996. Limited space.

DOES OFFICE STORE

OLL FREE REPORTATION & PRESERVA IN MER DATE TO OUR THE RITE OF http://www.sunchase.com

Pets and Supplies

50 GALLON aquarium with lighted top. Both are new and still in box. Never used, $115 or best offer, 539-3789.

FIVE-FOOT RED-TAILED boa constrictor, with large cage. $300 or best offer. 776–6223.

Sporting

Equipment HIMALAYAN. BLAZE Orange, large, backpack with deluxe frame. Ex cellent condition, har-dly used. $35, 537-4512.

Tickets to

Buy/Sell STUDENT GA Basketball tickets, CU, MU and KU. Set or separate. Ask Matt 539-1929 best off-

Automobiles

PORTATION

1984 PONTIAC Parisienne fully loaded. Good body, tires, new distributor cap, rotor, plugs, wires, timing, oil, air filter. Runs but needs carburetor rebuilt, Bluebook $2500 will take $750 cash. Day: Kathy -532-6492, evenings: 539-1913.

1984 VOLVO 240 runs great, must sell $1000 or best offer 776-9381.

1989 TOYOTA Corolla GTS. Excellent condiglass, five-speed. Grey paint/ interior. Like new. Call 565-0764. $5000.

BUICK CENTURY, 1985 94,000 miles autolock, rebuilt, good condition. $2900. Call 395-3867.

LIGHT BROWN 1986 Jetta five-speed, four-door, air conditioned, new tires and muffler, $1400

or best offer, 539-3809

Motorcycles 1990 YAMAHA FZR600. Good Condition, V&H exhaust new rear tire, cover and helmet $3000. Or best offer. Call Micheal 537-3291.

Tour Packages

What do you do if you see a fire? 1. Call 911

2. Then call us News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Classified Directory

BOARD

ORY

200 SERVICE DIRECT-

300 EMPLOY-MENT/ CAREERS

OPEN MARKET

TRANSPOR-TATION

ego TRAVEL/ TRIPS

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers.

are confused by abbreviations.

their price range.

looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large Consider including the price. This tells images, and sub-categories are buyers if they are looking at something in preceded by a number designation.

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are

DO NOT US

Rec Report

Kansas State University, Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex

February 1996

Watch for our full page ad on the 1st day of each month for program information and monthly calendar of Recreational Services Events!

Services Rec

Amy Wolverton is a senior in elementary education and has been employed as a life guard for two years. She finds the Natatorium relaxing and really enjoys the people she works with. "Being a lifeguard has taught me a lot of things, especially how to work and get along with other people." Amy has swum competitively all her life and uses that experience as a coach for the Manhattan Marlins swim team. When not working or coaching. Amy enjoys reading and working out. Following graduation she hopes to teach children in grades three through five.

Leah Claycamp is a senior in life science and pre-physical therapy. Leah has been employed as a Weight/Fitness Area Supervisor since June, and she really enjoys the overall atmosphere at the Recreation Complex. "I enjoy being around and assisting the people who exercise here," she said. " I also love the people I work with. We've all become great friends." Leah, native of Hays, Kansas, plans to graduate in December of 96 and then apply to physical therapy assistant school at Washburn. Leah is also look ing forward to her wedding day. She has recently become engaged to Warren Noble, senior in business education.

Check out some Nutritional Notes

Many people are concerned about the number of fat grams they consume. This is good, but it may be misleading. Even though a food product may be fat free, it is not calorie free. Excess calories that are not used by the body are stored as fat. Healthy eating habits include monitoring caloric consumption as well as fat intake.

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
6:30 a.m 7:30 a.m.	Combo Aerobic & Step	70.	Combo Aerobic & Step		Toning
9:45 a.m 10:45 a.m.		Combo Aerobic & Step		Combo Aerobic- & Step		Combo Aerobic & Step
12 p.m 1 p.m.	Combo Aerobic & Step	Step	Combo Aerobic & Step	Step	Combo Aerobic & Step
3:15 p.m 4:15 p.m.	Step	Interval	Step	Interval	Step
4:20 p.m 5:20 p.m.	Interval	Step	Interval	Step	Interval
5:30 p.m 6:30 p.m.	Step	Aerobics	Step	Aerobics	Step		Step
7:30 p.m 8:30 p.m.		Advanced Step		Advanced Step
8:30 p.m 9:15 p.m.	100	Toning	2 189	Toning	-

ABDOMINAL WORKOUT

One of our most popular pieces of equipment at the Recreation Complex is the Ab Trainer. It's inique rocker system simultaneously supports the weight of the head and neck while mimicking spinal flexion. This design uses the head and neck as natural resistance to deliver more intense isolation than the normal abdominal crunch. To achieve total solation, one must be able to specifically work the intended muscles without involving associated muscles, which is exactly what the Ab Trainer as accomplished.

Come out and try it!

YOU ASKED IT.

I thought more "Ab Trainers" were on the way. It is a very popular piece of equipment, more so now (after the holidays) than ever. We need more Ab Trainers, please!

An additional Ab Trainer was ordered in October. Because of their high demand, they are back-ordered by several months. We hope to get it soon, and are extremely sorry

Pool Action

Stroke Mechanics Workshop

Wednesday, February 7, 8:30 p.m.

Certified swimming instructors will critique your swimming style and share techniques to help you improve your stroke. Valid student ID or facility use card required. This is not a learn-to-swim workshop.

Wildcat Waterworks Schedule

Aqua Aerobics Monday, Tuesday & Thursday Noon & 8 p.m.

Deep Water Jogging Wednesday 8 p.m.

INTRAMURAL

FEBRUARY INTRAMURAL DATES TO REMEMBER Time

Event

Day

19

23

29

Wristwrestling Entries Begin Deadline for Wristwrestling Entries

Men's Wristwrestling Weigh-ins Women's Wristwrestling Weigh-ins Wristwrestling Meet

Location

8 a.m.-5p.m. 5 p.m. 11 a.m.-2 p.m.

12:30-2 p.m 6:45 p.m.

Recreation Complex Administrative Office Recreation Complex Administrative Office Recreation Complex Men's Locker Room Recreation Complex Women's Locker Room Recreation Complex Small Cym

Heard

Cardiovascular exercise strengthens your heart and improves its efficiency in pumping blood throughout your body. Exercise your heart, February 12, at Wildcat Workout's "Healthy Hearts Workout." All afternoon sessions will be combined at 5:30 p.m. Bring a friend and join all the exercise leaders for a fun, high energy combination aerobic and step class.

FITNESS FACTS

WORKING IT OUT

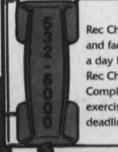

In order to maintain and develop cardiorespiratory fitness, an individual needs to perform an aerobic activity such as walking, cycling, crosscountry skiing or stairclimbing 3-5 days per week at 60-90% of maximum heart rate for 20-60 minutes.

Outdoor Rental Center

The Outdoor Rental Center will reopen Monday, February 26! Hours of operation will be Sunday through Friday, 4 - 6 p.m. and Saturday, 11 a.m. Noon. We have a complete line of camping equipment including canoes, tents, sleeping bags, stoves, lanterns, backpacks, and ice chests. If you are planning a SPRING BREAK camping trip, please check with us for your equipment needs. Reservations may be made two weeks in advance. MAKE YOUR PLANS NOW FOR A GREAT SPRING BREAK.

Rec Check Rec Check provides program and facility information 24 hours a day by dialing 532-6000. Call Rec Check for Recreation Complex and Pool hours. exercise sessions, Intramural deadlines and more!

- · Facility users must be affiliated with KSU -student, faculty/staff or alumni association member. Cards are not sold to the general public.
- Call the Recreational Services office at 532-6980

Pictured left to right: Mike Butler, Loren Reiswig, Greg Bell, Siegmund Meier, John Wolters, Clay Taylor, Not pictured, Rick Garvin.

RC = Recreation Complex P = Pools at Natatorium

The word for these guys is dedication. Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a.m., a group of seven K-State staff and alumni comes to the Recreation Complex to play racquetball. While most of them have been doing this for about eight years, Siegmund Meier and Mike Butler have been getting up early to play for more than 14 years. They've been playing early-morning racquetball since before the Recreation Complex was even built. "We used to get up and play on the outdoor courts every morning," said Meier. "In the winter months, we even came out here and shoveled snow so we could play." The whole group said this morning habit has become a way of life for them, and they like the feeling of getting up and exercising competitively before they go to work.

- Tuesday, February 27
- 5 7 p.m. at the Recreation
- · by Lafene Health Center

now available on Rec Check at 532-6000

and WWW Recreational Services Home

Page at http://www.ksu.edu/rec/

February 1996

RECREATIONAL SERVICES ACTIVITY CALENDAR

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
FOR INFORM Rec Check (Automated I Recreation Complex Outdoor Rental Center Administrative Office (Office open Mon-Fri, 8am-	nformation)532-6000 532-6950 532-6894 532-6980		of outdoor and camping	1 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM11:36AM - 2:30PM5:00PM - 6:00PM7:30PM - 10:00PM IM Besketbell Play Begins	2 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT POOLS CLOSED FOR SWIM MEET	RC 9:00AM - 10:00PM POOLS CLOSED FO SWIM MEET
4 RC NOON - MIDNIGHT P 1:00PM - 5:00PM 7:00PM - 10:00PM	5 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	6 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 5:00PM - 6:00PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	7 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	8 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 5:00PM - 6:00PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	9 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT POOLS CLOSED FOR SWIM MEET	10 RC 9:00AM - 10:00PM P 1:00PM - 5:00PM 7:00PM - 10:00PM
11 RC NOON - MIDNIGHT P 1:00PM - 5:00PM 7:00PM - 10:00PM	12 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	13 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM11:30AM - 2:30PM5:00PM - 6:00PM7:30PM - 10:00PM	14 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM11:30AM - 2:30PM7:30PM - 10:00PM Happy Valentine's Day!	15 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 5:00PM - 6:00PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	16 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	17 RC 9:00AM - 10:00PM P 1:00PM - 5:00PM 7:00PM - 10:00PM
18 RC NOON - MIDNIGHT POOLS CLOSED FOR SUPERCHLORINATION	1.9 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM11:30AM - 2:30PM7:30PM - 10:00PM IM Entries Begin/ Wristwrestling	20 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 5:00PM - 6:00PM	21 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	22 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM 5:00PM - 6:00PM 7:30PM - 10:00PM	23 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM11:30AM - 2:30PM7:30PM - 10:00PM March Card Sales Begin M Entry Deadline, 5 pm 1	24 RC 9:00AM - 10:00PM P 1:00PM - 5:00PM 7:00PM - 10:00PM
25 RC NOON - MIDNIGHT P 1:00PM - 5:00PM	26 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM	27 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM	28 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM	29 RC 6:00AM - MIDNIGHT P 6:00AM - 7:30AM 11:30AM - 2:30PM	Facility hours and ex	CONVENIENCE!

 Pool use on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 5:00 PM - 6:00 PM, is shared with the Department of Kinesiology. Participation is restricted to adult, fitness swimming and water jogging only.

.7:30PM - 10:00PM

Words of Wellness ...

.7:30PM - 10:00PM

Outdoor Rental Center

Re-Opens, 4-6 pm

.5:00PM - 6:00PM

7:30PM - 10:00PM

Blood Pressure Check 5-7pm, Rec Complex

You should do something rather than try to be someone.

.5:00PM - 6:00PM*

.7:30PM - 10:00PM

DIVERSIONS . page 7

Newspaper

FG Box 3585

State Historical Society

WINTER ACTIVITIES

The Snow Creek ski area 15 miles north of Kansas City is popular among college students who enjoy the midnight skiing session and the complete bar, lounge and restaurant.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

STUDENT SENATE

SGA ponders students' role in covering $3.5-million debt

Courtney Marshall

staff reporter

If the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics gets its way, K-State students may be digging even deeper into their pockets next year.

K-State administration is proposing an increase in the athletic fee to cover a $3.5 million debt and compliance with Title IX

Title IX requires all NCAA schools meet specific gender-equity guidelines. Title IX has been implemented since for proportional equality in athlet-

In order for K-State to meet the required guidelines, more money has to be generated, and the administration is proposing students offset the costs.

Student

K-State has the minimum number of sports, 14, and operates on about an $11.6 million budget as compared to $22-$23 million at schools like Nebraska and Oklahoma, said Robert Krause, vice president for institutional advancement.

"If we're found out of compliance, we could lose federal dollars," he said.

But, some senators said they feel there are other options available for funds other than students.

"No student in the college of ag who has come to me has expressed support to pay for Title IX. Not one," said Trent LeDoux, senior in animal sciences.

LeDoux brought up the point that he See SENATE Page 10 SOUPER BOWL SUNDAY

Food drive exceeds goal

Tom Roesler

The Dallas Cowboys weren't the only champions Super Bowl Sunday.

Manhattan residents who rely on food from the Flint Hills Breadbasket also became win-

The Souper Bowl Sunday food drive more than tripled its goal of 4,000 cans of food.

"The winners have been the hungry, absolutely," Shirley Bramhall, executive director of Flint Hills Breadbasket, said. "The Cowboys might have won the game, but the hungry won in the long run."

The Breadbasket collected 13,361 cans so far, which will feed about 3,000 families in the area, she said. "It was a super success," Bill Kennedy, Riley County Attorney, "That's a lot of families.

We're talking in the vicinity of 8,000 pounds of food. "We got food from churches, schools, individuals. It was just an amazing process," he said. The food drive was organized in hopes to help offset recent cuts from an USDA program that the Breadbasket relies on for staples such as protein, fruit and dairy products.

The USDA program, the Temporary Emergency Management Food Assistance Program, is the only federal program the Breadbasket uses, and without these products, the food received isn't as healthy as it could be.

The food drive generated many nutritious foods such as soups with meat, which will provide the protein the Breadbasket will be losing from the cuts in the USDA program.

▶ MEET YOUR DEAN - A SERIES

Dean faces changes in funds, classes

Entering her 13th year as the dean of the College of Human Ecology, Barbara Stowe still finds the job

'My responsibility is to be kind of an orchestra conductor," Stowe said. "I suggest directions, help people find consensus and seek areas of support." Activities thrown her

Meet Your

Barbara Stowe

sible when budgets really are being reduced." With increasing numbers of Americans pursuing multiple careers throughout the courses of their lives, the cooperative extension program has become more important, Stowe said.

"We have academic graduate through the Ph.D., so that's a major responsi-riculum changes," Stowe said. "We are trying to balance the resources so that we can provide the best educational experience pos-

University faculty members are responsible for developing material that can be used at the county level and for 4-H programs, she said. "People are now needing life-long education. They are having to change careers as jobs change and technology increases. People need updating in their skills so maybe they can get new jobs, different types of jobs.

• See STOWE Page 8

WILLARD HALL UPDATE

Frustration results from insufficient communication

J. Scot Bucholz

With departments still picking up the rubble, an element of frustration is still stewing concerning the lack of communication about the water damage Wednesday morning at Willard Hall.

"I am playing telephone tag with the head of police," Anna Holcombe, head of the Department of Holcombe said she is still trying to find why she was not notified. "I want to make sure this does not happen again," she said. "But I have not been able to talk with the head of police." When it comes to the process of K-State security reporting incidents like a water main bursting, Capt. Bob Mellgren of the K-State Police said that it is a maintenance problem. "There is nothing criminal, so the police do not get involved," he said.

Campus police's job is to make sure the proper maintenance people are notified, Mellgren said. Different buildings have different requests, Mellgren said.

• See WILLARD Page 8

With his hands dwarfing a thumbnail book, John Vander Velde, rare books librarian, shows Drawing III students different forms of binding. Students in the class have a project where they must create bound volumes of their artwork, and Vander Velde was showing several forms of books.

▲ In the Foundation Center conference room, a Drawing III student peruses a rare book while John Vander Velde explains different binding techniques. The rare books collection offered the students a chance to see various forms of binding and packaging material - including metal covers and human flesh binding.

TES THAT B

Creativity, unusual materials to be used in class project of composing books ooks made from animal skin, books with locks of hair, books as big as your thumbnail and books in

These are all things students in Drawing III were exposed to a box.

Thursday afternoon at the Foundation Center as they began their semester-long project - creating two books. "Basically, students are expected to create two sample books, one in eastern style and one in traditional western style," Charles Stroh, professor of art, said

In addition to making two books of their own drawings, the students will bind their books in some way appropriate to the character of their drawings, Stroh said.

"This connects fine arts with graphic design," he said.

This is the first time for this project and also for this class to be taught in this manner, Stroh said. "See, this class can be taken a number of times," he said. "As a result, I see some of the same students.'

During the fall semester, this class is the traditional drawing class, and during the spring semester, we will be doing the books, Stroh said.

"There is nothing else like this in the art department," he said. "I am really not sure what to expect. It is all a guess."

Stroh said he is guessing some students will make a variety of books primarily about their drawings and the bindings of the books.

"Then there are some who will emphasize boxes, construction, binding and presentation, rather than their drawings," he said. Stroh said he is excited about this

"You often do not know the outcomes," he said.

Some of the books shown to students had striking binding, graphics, and illustrations and used different papers, said John Vander Velde, rare books librarian with University Archives.

"These books are creative and used unusual materials," Vander Velde said

These books can give the students ideas, he said.

"Through the visual, seeing the books, and feeling the tactile, touching of the books," he said. This form is a better way of giving ideas to show the details of construction of a book, Vander Velde

"It is unfortunate we do not have one. But there are books made out of human skin," he said.

The students' response to taking this class is one of shock, yet they

See BOOKS Page 8

$1(0);Y#:Y## PB$(0(0) #:{U(0)*(0)AB21F(0)(0)$#:Y#$(0(0)##MWW$AD3)*

Silver Key Sophomore

and Services.

Brenner at 532-3057.

4685 and ask for Larry.

Leadership Honorary is accepting applications for the 1996-97 school year. Eligible freshmen can pick up applications in the Office of Students

Applications are due by 5 p.m. Feb. 16 at the Office of Student Activities

Legislative Information Day will be Feb. 6 in Topeka. For information on participating, please call Michael Wonderlich at 532-7847 or Richard

Classified Senate meets at 12:45 p.m. Feb. 7 in Union 206.

Jesus Week is coming soon.

m Blue Key Senior Leadership

Honorary applications are due by 4 p.m. today in the Dean of Student Life office, Holton 102.

ICTHUS Friday night activity at 8 tonight at the Lighthouse, 1630

Pray now. 9 p.m. Sundays at 1326

nont St. Need a ride? Call 539-

In the news

► FORBES VOWS NOT TO TAKE TAXPAYERS' MONEY IF NOMINATED

WASHINGTON (AP) - Multimillionaire Steve Forbes hinted Thursday he might continue to finance his own campaign with unlimited spending if he wins the GOP nomination. Already, by largely paying his own way in the primary race. Forbes is avoiding the stateby-state spending caps that constrain most of his GOP foes.

By law, the Republican and Democratic nominees are guaranteed $60 million each from the taxpayers for the general election campaign if they agree to forgo fundraising and spend no more than that

But Forbes indicated Thursday that if President Clinton would agree to give up federal financing, he would too. That would set up the first presidential campaign with unlimited spending since post-Watergate reforms set up the system for federally financed general election campaigns.

Even if Clinton balks, Forbes left open the possibility he might unilaterally pass up federal financing.

"I'm going to make a challenge to the Democrats, when I win, not to take taxpayers' money," Forbes said in a statement to the Associated Clinton, already indebted with personal legal bills from Whitewater. has no personal wealth to tap. His campaign immediately scoffed at Forbes' proposal.

PROJECT TO DELAY TRIPS BETWEEN MANHATTAN, JUNCTION CITY

Students commuting between Manhattan and Junction City may need to add some extra time to their travel schedules in the upcoming

A state-funded bridge maintenance project will begin on two bridges in the Junction City area. This project could begin anywhere from one month to sometime in mid-July, said Kim Athon, information specialist for the Kansas Department of Transportation.

The job will include minor repairs to the K-18 bridge west of Junction City that crosses over U.S. 77 and to the K-18 bridge one mile north of I-70, two miles south of Ogden. Both sections require patch and overlay work.

The entire project should only take about four months to complete once it is started. Athon said. She said the largest amount of time will be preparation, setting up stoplights, and traffic control. There will be no detours, but the signals could take a little extra time to get through the construction site, Athon said. The Kansas Department of Transportation is in the process of selecting a contracting firm for the Progressive Contractors Inc. in Osseo, Minn., has submitted the lowest bid of $237,313.80 for the work, but Athon said the department has not awarded anyone the job

Once confirmed, Athon said construction could begin anytime, but the flexible starting date gives the contractor up to mid-July to

Tonya Alloway

▶ REVISED COMMUNICATION ACT CAUSES CABLE PRICE CONTROVERSY

WASHINGTON (AP) -Congress voted Thursday to free the exploding television, telephone and home computer industries to jump into each other's fields and reshape the culture and commerce of the 21st century.

The bill — saluted by Sen. Larry Pressler, R-S.D., as a telecommunications road map into the new century - flew through the House, 414-16, and then the Senate, 91-5. President Clinton has said he will

The reworking of the 61-year-old Communications Act would let local and long-distance telephone companies and cable companies into each others' businesses, deregulate cable rates and allow media companies to more easily expand their holdings.

It also would restrict smutty material on computer networks and Supporters say the measure would boost jobs, expand consumer choices and potentially lower prices for cable, telephone and other communications services.

But opponents say that more jobs will be lost than gained through consolidation, that choices will be limited, and that cable and telephone rates are likely to go up considerably because the level of competition envisioned by supporters will not emerge.

▶ RUSSIAN MINER STRIKE COULD AFFECT COAL-DEPENDENT COUNTRIES

NOVOKUZNETSK, Russia (AP) More than a million Russian and Ukrainian coal miners went on strike Thursday in a wave of anger that could lead to budgetary chaos and affect Russia's presidential election campaign

From Ukraine's coal-rich Donbass region to eastern Siberia, miners were demanding hundreds of millions of dollars in unpaid wages and protesting government neglect of state-owned mines.

"We'll make them respect us and teach them a lesson," Ivan Mokhnachuk, deputy head of Russia's Union of Coal Industry Workers, said in Moscow.

The walkout comes in the dead of winter in countries heavily reliant on coal. In eastern Siberia, coal is the only energy source, and some regions have only about a week's reserves.

In many areas, however, Russia has other energy sources.

Gas and oil are both used far more than coal in Russia, and with the use of gas on the rise, it would be the apparent fallback if the strike stretches on.

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County police departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list wheel locks.

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31

At 5:28 p.m., a leaking radiator was discovered at Willard Hall.

At 1:36 p.m., Steven Nofsinger

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1 USA bank in Delaware, Losses were reported the theft and unlawful use of a credit card. The victim was First RILEY COUNTY POLICE

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31

At 3:35 a.m., assistance was requested to stop a stolen vehicle on I-70. Tedrick A. Jenkins, 3129 Emerson, Topeka, was arrested for driving on a suspended license and on a $1,500 bond

At 3:47 a.m., Eugene C. Peterman, 1220 Ratone St., was arrested for worthless checks.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1 At 1:59 a.m., 20 subjects were involved in a fight at Rock-A-Belly

Deli, 718 N. Manhattan Ave. The fight

He was confined in lieu of $1,000 At 8:43 p.m., William D. Leupold Jr., 708 Dondee Drive, Apt. 7, was arrested for failure to appear in

At 10:43 p.m., Connie Buckley, 2612 Brockman St., reported three premium channel filters were stolen involved two fraternities.

CORRECTION

> In Thursday's edition of the Collegian, Ramadan, the Islamic religious observance, was noted as beginning Feb. 1. The fast actually is observed from Jan. 21 to Feb. 19., according to a Colorado State University homepage, "Islamic Holidays and Observances," (http://www.colostate.edu/Orgs/MSA/docs/holidays.html). The author also reported Muslims break the fast at sunrise. The fast would actually end at sunset. The Collegian regrets the errors.

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

m Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due in deans' offices by Feb. 16. Be international! Volunteer to help an international student practice English. Contact Jim Endrizzi at itional Student Center at 532-6448. Student Alumni Board applications are available in the Alumni Office at 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 400. The deadline is 4 p.m. today.

Mortar Board Senior Honor Society applications are due by 3 p.m. today in the Student Activities and Social Services Office, mailbox

New Student Services summer orientation leader applications are due at 5 p.m. Feb. 5.

BULLETINS

KSU Student Fellowship will meet at 9 p.m. every Sunday at 1326 Fremont St. The group will meet to discuss "Forum on Jesus." KSU Alkido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight in Dance Studio 301. Chimes Junior Honorary appli-Activities and Social Services Office or call 539-2365 ext. 131.

Applications are due by 4 p.m., Feb

The Kansas State Collegian

(USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University,

Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103,

Manhattan Kan 66506 The

week through the summer

Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a is published by Student

■ InterVarsity Christian Fellowship will meet at 7:30 tonight in Throckmorton 1018.

Humbolt St.

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-

© Kansas State Collegian, 1995

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today

Denver

lows

KSU STUDENTS ONLY!

Extremely cold with occasional flurries. High around zero. Northeast wind from 15 to 25 mph. Low near 10 below.

Continued very cold with flurries possible. High near 5.

Omaha 14/-11

Tulsa

20/13

STATE OUTLOOK

Bitterly cold with occasional light snow. Temperatures ranging from 10 to 5 below.

Yesterday's highs and

MANHATTAN Topeka 24/10 Wichita Garden City 23/11 24/18

City 16/10 St. Louis . 22/12

Floyd E. Rogers

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Res: (913) 776-8900

Manhattan Athletic Club 700 Rosencutter Rd. 776-6622 Join us for only $85 a semester

(student special)

Limited memberships available

Offer expires February 15

3230 Kimball Ave

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home market analysis.

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

FAMILY HAIRCUT SHOPS OPEN NIGHTS AND SUNDAYS JUST DROP IN!

* VILLAGE PLAZA 539-4043 (Near ALCO) 431 E. Poyntz 776-6410

(K-MART PLAZA)

Expires: 8-31-96

'No Coupon" Specials

Everyday Two-fers - PIZZAS with - TOPPINGS each

COKES with ice

Everyday Three-fers - PIZZAS with

NONE accepted)

TOPPING each COKES with ice

Pizza Shuttle

STUDENT LOANS HAVE NEVER BEEN SIMPLER! Kansas State Bank is the largest local student loan lender with over 40,000 student loans processed! Let our professional in-house staff

Lender code #821176

24 HR. PROCESSING

assist you with your next student loan.

Westloop • Downtown • Aggieville • K-State Union, 587-4000

Kansas

THE WORLD FAMOUS COURT BASIE ORCHESTRA DIRECTED BY GROVER MITCHELL

Big Band sound delivered by 19 jazz pros. If their concert doesn't make you tap your feet, you should be shopping for a gravestone.*

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1996, 8 P.M.

Public/Fac $20 Sr. Cit. $18 Student/Child $10

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available (with service charge) at the K-State Union Bookstore, Manhattan Town Center customer service desk, Bramlage Coliseum and ITR (Fort Riley).

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information

*Presented in conjunction with the KSU Jazz Festival

Additional information is available for all performances on the World Wide Web: http://www.ksu/edu/mccain. All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

VET MED

Professor to discuss, demonstrate treatment of exotic pets

Nikki Prentice staff reporter

The No. 1 pet in America is not a bully dog or a fat, furry cat.

It doesn't bark or meow, and it swims. It's a fish.

Gregory Lewbart, associate professor of aquatic medicine from North Carolina State University, will be at K-State Saturday to discuss diseases and fungus problems in tropical fish and other sea-life animals.

The K-State Exotic Animal Medicine Club is sponsoring the Teresa Burks, Exotic Animal Medicine Club vice president, said the club is thrilled to have Lewbart as a guest speaker.

'We are really excited about Dr. Lewbart's lecture and have gone to great expense and length to bring him here," Burks, sophomore in veterinarian medicine, said.

Burks said the club decided to bring Lewbart to K-State because fish aquariums are becoming more popular and vet students need to learn more about how to treat the aquatic animals when they are sick.

The seminar will provide facts about diseases affecting aquatic pets that vet students will find very useful, she said.

"This seminar will give vet students a chance to learn about diseases they may see in clients' pets," Burks said

"When aquatic pets get sick, many people go to pet stores for advice, and sometimes the employees aren't trained to accurately diagnose the problems," she said.

A veterinarian lab will be offered to vet students Saturday afternoon.

Lewbart will demonstrate how to draw blood from aquatic animals and do physical exams, fish scale scrapings and gill clippings.

TO FIX A FISH

Students participating in the lab need to sign up by Saturday morning for the lab and bring $5 along with a dissection kit to the Saturday demonstration.

The lecture will be from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. in Trotter 301 and the lab demonstration will follow from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in Trotter 302.

For more information, contact the Dean of Veterinary Medicine office at 532-5660.

Thomas Hull, sophomore in predentistry, is trying to get a scuba club started with Lon Kilgore, faculty adviser, at K-State. The club has yet to be approved by the University Activities Board, but Hull has a constituition written for the club and a list of 50 people who have expressed an interest in having a scuba club formed.

SHANE KEYSER

Deep-sea diving opens new world

 Scuba KSU club could give students a chance to glimpse sharks.

Bill Bontempo

tudents fishing for something different to do in a sea of mediocrity can train to explore an underwater world.

Thomas Hull, sophomore in pre-dentistry, has seen a shark and tropical fish, and he said he would like to take other people with him to see more.

Hull is the interim president and founder of Scuba KSU, and he is looking for students, staff and imni to neip nim gain support for his club.

"The biggest problem is that people don't associate diving with Kansas, and it's relatively expensive," he said.

There aren't places to go diving in Kansas, and the cost for certification is about $190, Hull said.

But he said he believes he has a way to solve both of these problems.

During registration, Hull set up a table at the K-State Student Union and said he received a positive response from students who passed by.

If Hull is successful, his club will not meet the same fate as past scuba clubs at the University.

The University Activities Board has records of prior scuba clubs at K-State, but those clubs never existed for long.

The KSU Scuba Club was originally formed in 1970 and lasted until 1972, not to be reformed until 1985 when the club lasted for another two years.

Another club was active in 974 '83 and '84 und Scuba Cats, but UAB records indicate low membership numbers for the club.

All clubs at the University must

DIVE INTO IT

 Contact Thomas Hull for more information on Scuba KSU by calling him at 587-8628.

register with the UAB, and while Hull has not registered his club yet, he has written a constitution and taken other important steps.

"Tom has been very proactive in getting this thing going," Lon Kilgore, faculty adviser, said. Kilgore said he is happy to be the adviser for a club that supports a sport he enjoys. He said he believes the club will be successful thanks to the efforts

'We want to get people together to go to places like Table Rock. and Beaver Lake, in Missouri, or down to the Gulf of Mexico," he said

Hull said he would like the club to eventually sponsor trips to Florida or California - if he can get the money.

"The major investment is for certification, and equipment rental in Manhattan is pretty high, but when you get to the coasts where more people dive, rental is really cheap," Hull said. "Only about $25 a day," he said.

If Hull can generate enough interest in the club, he said he could get some of the funding from the UAB to trim down certification costs and help sponsor trips

"Clubs who sponsor rafting trips and that sort of thing are getting funding, and that's what we want to try to get," Hull said. "About 50 people signed up.

and over 60 percent of those were unsolicited," he said. Kilgore said he thinks the UAB should consider funding the club. "It's as worthy as any other sport for funding," he said. Hull is ready to answer any especially the often-asked shark question.

"Some people are afraid of sharks," he said.

"In over 100 dives, I have seen only one shark, and it turned and went the other way when it saw the group I was with," Hull said.

He said many people have a false impression about sharks caused by "Jaws" and "National Geographic" specials, which portray them as man-eaters.

Many divers go down just to try to catch a glimpse of a shark, but others enjoy seeing the colorful tropical fish among the coral reefs only about 35-40 feet below the surface of coasts like Florida's.

Kilgore has also logged about 100 dives, but he said he has seen three sharks and he doesn't like them that much.

He said he did like the areas in Missouri where he learned to dive, so he is familiar with the places Hull would like to take people div-

So for the many people who ask Hull where he dives in Kansas, he will tell them - nowhere.

But he will tell you where he'd like to go diving, and maybe you can go with him.

 Candles • Posters much much more stuff

New Items Arriving All The Time

1128 MORO 776-BAJA

FEBRUARY. MERLOT.

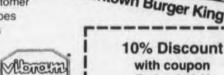

One Coupon Per Customer

•Must Present With Shoes Void With Other Offers

EASTSIDE SHOE DROP Dillon's

Super Store 776-9285

Expires 3-16-96 315 POYNTZ • BACK DOOR

Customer Service Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sat. 8 a.m.-2 p.m. MON.-FRI. 11-7 SAT. 10-6, SUN. NOON-5 7 - 10 p.m. Daily 776-1193

100% Pure Kansas Beef served with ketchup, mustard; pickles and onions. For just top if off with cheese and bacon. Offer good for a limited time.

1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 2700 Anderson Ave.

Opinion

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN STAFF

in minute entire
Mike Marlett	Editor in chief
Kevin Klassen	_ Managing editor
Sarah Lunday	News editor
Cary Conover	Photo editor
Derek Simmons	Design editor
Kim Heffing	Campus editor
Christy Little	Copy chief
N Stewart Anderson	Features editor

. City / government editor Claudette Riley Arts and entertainment editor Stephanie Fugua Opinion editor Shana Newell Sports editor Justin Stahlman Graphics editor Kevyn Jacobs E-Collegian editor Advertising manager Assistant advertising manager

COLLEGIANopinion

Team knocking through low expectations

QUICKread Now that football season is done, a basketball team that is better than expected needs your support.

Football was put to rest Wednesday night when the 1995 Plymouth Holiday Bowl Champions trophy was presented to to K-State fans at Wednesday night's home basketball game against Nebraska.

But the support Wildcat fans showered upon the football team need not end there. The basketball team needs, and deserves, your support.

With a 14-5 record overall and a 5-2 Big 8 record, the Cats have surprised the critics, much like the Jayhawks surprised them during the football season. Projected by many to dwell in the cellar of the conference, K-State posted impressive wins against non-conference teams that have gone on to perform well in their own schedules.

In addition, postseason play is becoming more and more of a reality for Tom Asbury and his players. For the first time in Asbury's career with the Cats, the team has good chance of winning the Big 8 tournament and earning a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Just to spark the imaginations of any K-State doubters, chew on this fact: Since the NCAA tournament expanded its first-round field to 64 teams, every time K-State has gone 5-2 during the first half of the season, the Cats have made the big dance.

So, keep out your purple sweatshirts and pom-poms and take them to the next K-State home game. There are only three more, but if you start going, maybe you'll be a part of the magic of post-season play.

The basketball program has worked hard to build respectability. It won't happen overnight, but with fans backing them, it might happen sooner than K-Staters think.

NOTES FROM the underground

Unseen, unsmelled poison

he most polluted place you will ever live might be home sweet home.

News reports about carbon monoxide are becoming more and more common. Some people die from it, and others become ill or suffer permanent brain damage.

Carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless gas. It does not smell like automobile exhaust fumes, like some people think, although those fumes do carry carbon monoxide. Your gas appliances may be more harmful than an exhaust pipe, even if they are quieter and cleaner.

The natural gas stoves, water heaters, ovens, laundry dryers and furnaces so many of us use produce by-products, one of them being carbon monoxide.

monoxide are unimportant to your health, provided there is plenty of fresh air around to replace the bad

But in the wintertime especially, when apartments and homes are shut as tightly as possible, the carbon monoxide tends to collect indoors, becoming more and more part of the air you breathe. When apartments are small, as so many of those inhabited by college students are, the carbon monoxide becomes even more concentrated

And when that happens, you can experience headaches, sleepiness, chronic flu-like symptoms or Myview

Miller

I am trying to scare you a little bit, but not for kicks. My wife and I believe we experienced minor carbon monoxide poisoning last

In the tiny apartment we rented last year, the fumes from the gas water heater were being circulated into our living space by the gas furnace, which shared a closet with

By February, we were both sick as dogs all the time. Besides dealing with the normal maladies of winter illnesses, we both had other persistent problems.

She had headaches and flu-like symptoms that would not go away. She also had trouble waking up, even after plenty of rest.

I had a terrible time waking up, which I assumed was due to other factors, but it was worse than usual. I also was sick off and on through the whole winter.

One day, I heard a talk radio show with a guest who was an expert on carbon monoxide poisoning. I did not pay much attention until he started listing our symptoms as characteristics of carbon monoxide poisoning.

He then said those most vulnerable to poisoning were people with gas appliances (like us), crammed into small utility closets (like us), in small apartments (like us).

When I got home, I opened all the windows to ventilate the apartment, as the talk show guest suggested. It seemed crazy to let cold air into an apartment with two ill people in February, but the cold air was fresh air.

Within a day or so, we were completely back to normal health.

We probably had low-level carbon monoxide poisoning. We did not almost die or require hyperbaric oxygen treatments, as some people who are heavily poisoned do. We were lucky.

Do not let this, or something worse, happen to you. If you live in ence with gas appliance yourself and everyone you live with a favor. Open the windows about once a week and let some fresh air in to where you live. It is cold outside, but it is colder at the morgue.

Better yet, get a carbon monoxide detector. They look like smoke detectors, but cost a bit more. You might be surprised how often it will let you know you are breathing too much poison.

My wife and I now live in an all-electric apartment. The utilities are a little more expensive, but we are healthy. Hopefully, you are too.

Scott Allen Miller is a senior in interdisciplinary social science.

America! MATT HAWKINS

Looking for REAL SOLUTIONS

elieve it or not, when I was younger, I was one hell of a patriotic little kid.

In my world view, the United States was tops in everything. We had the best standard of living, the most freedom and all around, the most hunky-dory people to be found any-

Our only real worry was those dang commies, who of course were jealous, wanting to take away everything and subvert us to their evil ways. One of the greatest thrills of my young life was shaking the hand of the soon-to-be President Reagan at a fund-raising breakfast in 1980. I counted on this great man to cure the country of all its ills and put us back on the path to righteous-

Well, it may surprise some of you to know that I have had a few changes of opinion since

First, let me say I still think, overall, that we are quite a country. We are blessed with great farmland, loads of natural beauty and the means to provide well for our citizenry. The Declaration of Independence and the Constitution are tremendous documents and, at least among the working class, we do have some of the hunky-doriest people anywhere.

as a nation, are we as screwed up as

I very much doubt it is because we fail to toe the line on the Christian Coalition's agenda. In fact, I think we would be a whole lot worse off if we

I also doubt it is because we allow too many immigrants in. Immigrants can be some of the hardest working people in our society and having, in many cases, come to this country because of the ideals supposedly present here, they can also be some of the most freedom-loving.

Is it because of racial tension?

Myview

Maybe partly, but instead of putting blame on any race for the problems, we need to study and reevaluate why those problems exist in the first place.

Instead of these issues, I would be inclined to put a lot of the blame on LACH greed, lack of com-Franquemont mon respect and general apathy.

The reason so many people find themselves in ecowelfare of their workers.

The rich continue to get richer and the poor continue to get poorer, but in nomic hardship is not because of high taxes, but because the majority of corporations is more concerned with the bottom line than with the overall many people's minds, this is only good capitalism at work and not the result of a real problem. Of course, since we are a society of consumers, many people are only

My question, therefore, is "Why, looking for ways to acquire more goodies and not for ways to improve our society. In their minds, a person who has not achieved as much as they have must be either lazy or defective.

This leads to a lack of common respect. People see others as insignificant or, worse yet, as problems that have to be dealt with.

Couple this with the epidemic apathy present in this country, and what you are looking at are problems that are not likely to be solved because people just do not care

We are no longer the envy of the world. Several European countries have an overall higher standard of living than we do. If you talk to many of these people, they have no desire to come to the United States, pointing to things like the high crime rate, lack of universal health coverage and the increasing gap between rich and I am convinced we can do better. We need to start looking, however, for real solutions that include everyone. Anything else will only bring more decline.

People need to get involved. We also need to respect our great diversity and use it to our advantage instead of condemning others for being dif-

You know, in some ways, I am still a patriotic kind of guy. This country is good in so many ways but instead of blindly accepting that we are the best, I would like to see us address the real problems and accept that we are only as strong as our weakest link.

Lach Franquemont is a sophomore in physics and philosophy.

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

SPEAKER BECAME ILL

I am writing to apologize on behalf of Campus Crusade for Christ for the cancellation of "Steve Sawyer, HIV Positive," as it caused some inconveniences for a few of you.

Steve is not feeling well and is having tests run by his doctors. We were forced to cancel 24 hours prior to his scheduled speaking time of 9 p.m. Tuesday, which made publicizing the cancellation difficult.

Though we are disappointed he did not come, our hearts and our prayers go out to him during his suffering.

Steve was going to share what it is like dealing with HIV, as well as hope he has found through his relationship with Jesus Christ.

Because of Steve's health, we are unable to confidently

We apologize for any inconvenience.

Bob Fine senior in construction science and management

THANKS FOR THE HELP

Editor.

I was recently reminded why I'm proud to be a Wildcat.

I have commuted to K-State for the last two years working on my graduate degree. During enrollment, I drove from Topeka only to find it had ended at 3:30 p.m. instead of 5 p.m. However, when I stopped at the graduate office, Diane offered to take care of it for me. I got a note from her several days later that all was arranged. I called the graduate office to thank Diane. She was not available, but I talked to Tess. I mentioned that I had lost a bracelet that was a gift to me. Tess thought instantly to look in the Collegian under "lost and found." An ad read "bracelet found," and she recited me the phone number.

That evening I called John from the ad and identified the bracelet. He mailed it to me and paid to insure it. Enclosed was a note that said he hoped someone would do the same for his wife, and that nothing more than postage would be accepted. The note brought tears to my eyes. Three people had gone out of their way for me. What could have been remembered as a totally disastrous day turned into a reminder for me that the spirit of Christmas lives on throughout the year at K-State in the good people that work and go to school there.

Melissa Miller

graduate student in regional planning and community devel-

THE

"Go Fish" Rose Troche, director (1994)

Page: (1/2 out of five stars)

'Go Fish," released last year, is finally available in video stores. You may not remember it, unless you happened to catch it in Lawrence, because it never came to Manhattan

The beyond stereotypes, black and white, artsy but casual depiction of a lesbian circle of the alternative lifestyle approaches some common issues in the lesbian community, but subtly woven into the dialogue is a disclaimer that no gay or lesbian should be considered representative of the community.

A couple of these universal issues characteristic of the community are the rejection by family for coming out of the closet, or in this case, for being "outed," and intolerance within their circle for bisexuality, or the controversy stirred by the treasonous taboo of a lesbian straying into bed with one of the Y-chromo-

The sensual and intellectual documentarylike comedy is compact with endearing dialogue and is sort of a cultural portrayal of these women from a day-in-the-life kind of approach with a girl-meets-girl, friends convert to selfappointed cupids, plot that is brought to life by its refreshingly intelligent and original script.

What is disappointing is that as the movie progresses, the tone shifts more from intellectual to romantic, and there are some inside jokes that might be lost in a heterosexual audience. The style and mood are intriguing enough to make it at its worst, interesting.

Nolan: ( out of five stars)

A lesbian finds love in a touching portrayal focusing on the dawn of a human relationship and the dusk of directionless, superficial youth.

Big deal. It's a great story, don't get me wrong. The black-and-white docudrama is done in a sliceof-life style, with superb, realistic dialogue.

Max (Guinevere Turner) is a cute, flippant girl who is looking for a girlfriend. She creates an image in her mind of a perfect woman, and consequently, such a woman is always just out

Her friends, all comfortable in their respective lesbian relationships, introduce her to Ely (V.S. Biddie), the perfect antagonist. Quiet, reserved Ely must bury one relationship and confront her fear of intimacy before she can move on in love. (Gee, how do you suppose this show will end?)

Scenes of the main plot are interspersed with depictions of confrontations between lesbians and their family members, belligerent bystanders and other members of the queer community.

Humorous? Yes. Accurate portrayal? Yes. But I don't see why anybody would pay to see such an amateur documentary, honey pot.

"Strawberry and Chocolate" Miquel Mendoz, producer (1994) (Spanish with subtitles)

Page: (* out of five stars)

Yet another brilliant movie that never made it to Manhattan on the big screen, was "Strawberry and Chocolate," directed by Tomás Gutiérrez Alea and Juan Carlos Tabio.

The picture was the first Cuban film to ever be nominated for an Academy Award for best foreign film in 1994.

Set in Havana, 1979, the movie challenges a naive and patriotic Cuban college student to see through his own social model and stereotypes when he encounters and is befriended by an enlightened, radical homosexual photogra-

The movie is abundant with socio-political commentaries about the Cuban revolution, censorship, religion, the commercialization of art, condemnation of same-sex oriented peo-

These issues filter into everything from the smuggling in of 17th-century English literature, American whiskey and Time magazine, to a toast to democratic communism. The eccentricities and capriciousness of the characters include Nancy, the suicidal hyper-Catholic-vigilante-slut; Diego, the Thoreauishly philosophical, perverted political deviant, and Germán, the love-sick melodramatic artist whose most memorable sculpture was of Jesus stabbing himself through the chest with a hammer and anvil.

Even with subtitles, which are actually barely noticeable after the first few minutes, Strawberry and Chocolate is worth going out of your typical genre to see.

Nolan: ( out of five stars)

This is a stirring drama of the human experience, set in Havana, Cuba, at the height of the Cold War, in 1979.

David (Vladimir Cruz) is a student at the local university, studying political science. By chance he meets a young, homosexual man, Diego (Jorge Perugorria), who falls in love with him.

Diego is a hero to the local democratic sympathizers, who would like to steer the revolution in a more free direction.

They hope to influence people by culturing them with the arts and humanities, and thus help them learn to think like free people.

Certain problems confront them, namely, the government. David's roommate at the university presses him to find out more about "the fag" so they can turn him in to the authorities.

But in his mission to seek information, David discovers part of himself he had ignored for quite some time. In his newfound freedom, David finds a new focus for his life and unchains his powerful heart and mind.

The moving conclusion is enough to bring even the most stolid cinema buff to tears.

ATURAY Winter Wonderland

Manhattan does not shut down when white covers the ground verything's set.

School is canceled. (Not really, but let's pretend.) You put on your warmest clothes. Grab your favorite sled (You know, the little, round plastic one that always beats the others down the hill). You head to your favorite sledding spot.

You take your position at the top of the hill, and with one big push, you're racing down the hill, hoping to hit every little every open gap on your clothing and shoes. You manage to reach the bottom with your sled and body intact, and then comes the bad part: walking back up to the top to do it all again.

ANDY MARCINIAK and JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegia Source: The Nature Conservance

Manhattan

(K-177)

Sledding is one activity people can do during the winter months; however, it's not the only activity to experience when the winter season hits Manhattan.

One activity you may want to try is skiing. No, you do not have to drive to Colorado.

In just a few hours drive, (15 miles north of the Kansas City International Airport, to be exact), you'll find the Snow Creek Ski ets and equipment rental for as low as $32 and up to $43, depending on what ski session you attend. A discount is offered to groups of 15 or Grenier said there is no overnight lodging at Snow Creek, but various packages are available at hotels for skiers who want to spend the night. 'College students seem to love the midnight session. It starts at midnight and goes until 6 a.m," he said. Snow Creek does have a complete bar, lounge and restaurant. If you don't prefer skiing, why not try ice skating? Manhattan's ice skating rink is in the

If you don't know how to ice skate, adult lessons are being offered from Jan. 16 to Feb. 20. The cost to register is $15, which

Registration for lessons takes place at

'What's great about the lessons offered at the indoor ice rink is how they are staffed by instructors who have taught and skated week, with ski sesions running night and Rogers, secretary for the Manhattan Parks day. Prices at Snow Creek include lift tick-& Recreation Department.

Hockey is also given special priority from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays. Prices for adults run $1.50 plus $1 for state rental. Private groups can reserve the ice rink for $20 an hour. The ice rink is open on from 1 to 8 p.m. weekends and opens at 3:30 p.m. weeknights and closing at 6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, 9 p.m. on Wednesday, and 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday. "The ice rink is scheduled to be open until Feb. 29," Rogers said.

If you like to hike, try the Konza Prairie, which is about 10 miles west of Manhattan on McDowell Creek Road.

"The Konza Prairie Research Natural Area is an 8,616-acré tallgrass prairie dedicated to research on native prairie ecosystems," Tom Van Slyke, site manager, said.

Van Slyke said visitors are welcome to hike on the three trails that total 14 miles anytime from dawn until dusk The Konza Prairie Research Natural Area is owned by the Nature Conservancy and managed by the Division of Biology of

"If you choose to go on the self-guided nature trail, brochures are provided to explain the numbered stops on the trail. You pick the brochure up in the mailboxes near the main entrance to the Konza Prairie," Van Slyke said.

If relaxation is what you strive for, try

"There are no specific rules that regulates ice fishing. If you feel comfortable that the ice is thick enough, then you can ice fish," Keith Salmans, public lands manager, said. Salmans suggested the ice be at least 4 inches thick before venturing out onto it. "If you like to fish, then you should try ice fishing," David Tesene, Manhattan resident, said.

Tesene said he goes ice fishing about two or three times a week if the weather permits. He does several test holes before deciding whether the ice is thick enough before settling down.

"Some people might think you're nuts sitting out in the cold trying to catch fish, but it is a fun winter activity to try at least once," Tesene said.

Another fun activity to do in the winter months is visiting the zoo.

"People often forget that the zoo is open during the winter months, and this time of the year happens to be one of the best times to visit," said Angie Fenstermacher, marketing and development director of the Sunset Zoological Park

Fenstermacher said many animals are more active during the winter months, especially the snow leopards and tigers.

A special exhibit is being shown of a male and female Golden Lion Tamarin until "The Golden Lion Tamarins are small monkeys about a foot tall, bright silky red/gold in color, with a lion-like mane that surrounds their face. They are only about 1 pound and are very rare animals," Fenstermacher said.

The exhibit is in the habitat building in the children's zoo.

Adult admission to the Sunset Zoo is $3.

There are many activities you can do during the winter months; however, if your activity involves snow, you'd better be prepared.

So far this winter season, Old Man Winter has made a habit of tempting us with snow and then taking it away before it can be enjoyed.

• did you know?
The Colorado Buffaloes are the only Big 8 opponent that the K-State women's basketball team has yet to defeat in the two years Agler has coached the Wildcats?

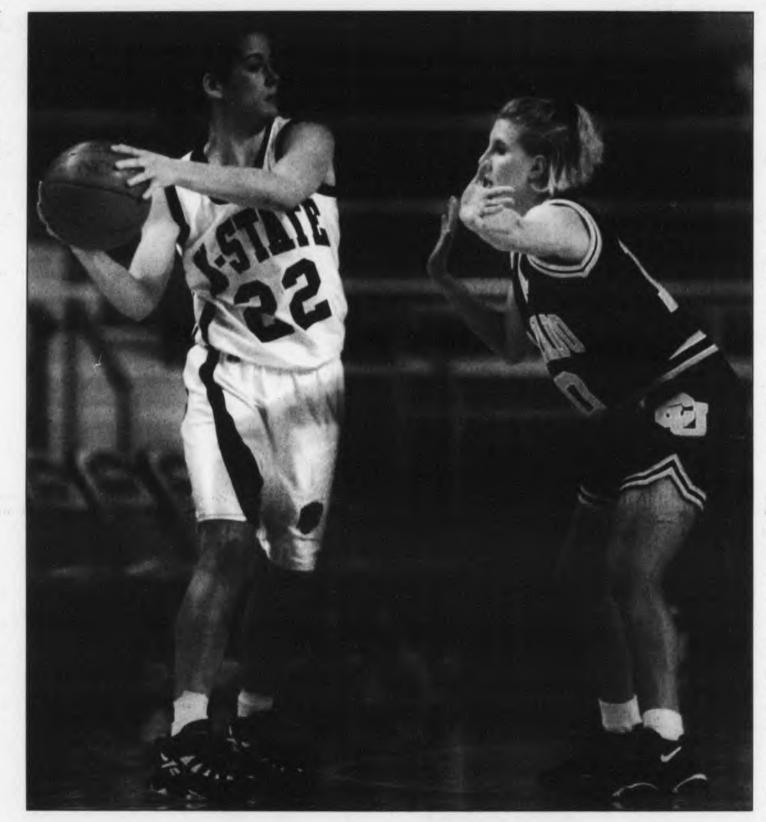

Full Slate

Men's and women's basketball, tennis, and track and field fill this weekend's schedule.

QUICKread

Monday.

K-State athletics are once again competing in full swing. With men's and women's basketball games and tennis and track and field tournaments taking place this weekend, the Collegian will offer complete coverage on

Cats fight to break 0-3 streak

Dan Lewerenz

tributing writer

Three times this season, the Wildcats have dropped three consecutive games. Twice, they have broken that streak with a convincing win. Sunday, K-State goes for No.3 when it travels to No. 13 Colorado.

The Cats (11-11 overall, 3-5 in the Big 8) have their work cut out for them. Colorado (18-5, 5-2) has won the last 14 meetings, including a 64-58 win in January, fueled by the Buffaloes' potent inside game.

"Erin Scholz played well against us," Coach Brian Agler said.

"And they're very post-oriented, so it all starts in the post."

The Cats have been effective this season at minimizing opponents' inside threats, but with Colorado's Scholz sitting second in rebounds, fourth in blocked shots, eighth in field-goal percentage and ninth in scoring on the Big 8 books, and center Raegan Scott at second in blocks and ninth in rebounds, K-State has its work cut out.

"We have to make sure we play in front of them," K-State wing and post Kjersten Larson said.

"And when they get the ball inside, our backside help has to be there."

The Buffs open up their post game by scoring from the out-

Guard DeCelle Thomas averages 10.7 points per game, and reserve guard Amy Palmer ranks fifth in the Big 8 in 3-pointers made per game.

"Palmer shot us out of the game up there last year, and Thomas showed us here that she can put the ball on the floor and get to the hole," Agler said.

For the Cats to win, they must recover from an abysmal shooting slump.

K-State has hit just 29 percent of its shots in the last two

"We just need to run offense," Agler said. "We missed 12-to-14 shots from 3 feet and in, in the first half (against Missouri). "Against Colorado, we hit those shots, and we need to hit them again."

Larson said the team simply needs to focus and execute.
"It's a mental thing, and we need to get the timing down.

Everything is timing right now."

The Cats go to Colorado led

The Cats go to Colorado led by sophomore wing Brit Jacobson (15 points per game), junior post Andria Jones (14) and junior wing Missy Decker (10.7).

guard Amy Palmer during K-State's home game against Colorado earlier this season. The Buffs won 64-58.

Chamberlain looks ball as she is being guarded by Buffalo ass the basket

DARREN WHITLEY Collegian

Amanda

MEN'S BASKETBALL

K-State challenges No. 3 Kansas as Cats claw their way up Big 8

We need to play a complete, excellent game to win. I think we're playing with a bit of confidence, and I think we can do it.

K-STATE BASKETBALL COACH

TOM ASSURY

John Berggren

Sunday, the K-State Wildcats and Kansas Jayhawks will compete in the 233rd Sunflower Showdown.

Kansas, 17-1 overall and 8-0 in Big 8 play, leads the series 144-88. K-State enters the game boasting a 14-5 overall record and are 5-2 in the conference.

The last match-up between the two schools was a 90-45 Jayhawk blowout in the Big 8 Tournament last season. Despite the devastating loss last season, the Cats are treating this like any conference game.

"I'm approaching this game just like any game," senior guard Elliot Hatcher said.

"They're just another team in the conference, and the fact that they're undefeated in the conference and number three in the nation doesn't really intimidate us."

Coach Tom Asbury said the Jayhawks were going to to be a tough team to beat.

"KU's a really good basketball team. We can't really focus on one area against them because they're so multidimensional," he said. "We need to play a complete, excellent game to win. I think we're playing with a bit of confidence, and I think we can do it."

Sunday's game will be a game of match-ups for both teams. K-State's defense has held opposing teams to just 39.2 percent field-goal shooting.

Hatcher will be battling against Kansas' junior guard Jacque Vaughn. Both are considered among the league's premier guards.

Hatcher said not making his match-up with

Vaughn a big deal was the key.

"I don't get excited about playing against him, I just treat him like any other player," Hatcher said. "I'm not saying anything against him. I just don't treat him any different."

When talking of K-State's defense, the first person who comes to mind is the Cats' sophomore forward. Mark Young held Oklahoma's all-American Ryan Minor to just eight of 35 from the field in their two duels this season.

two duels this season.

Another key for K-State will be a solid performance from the Cats' big man, 6-foot-11 junior center Gerald Eaker. He will battle the Jayhawks' two big men in 6-foot-1 forward Raef LaFrentz and 6-foot-

10 center Scott Pollard.

Eaker is coming off a careerhigh 15 points per game in the Cats' win against Nebraska. Eaker also batted three blocks and pulled in seven rebounds in the game. He ranks second in the Big 8, averaging 2.4 blocks per game. With two more blocks, Eaker will break the K-State single-season record with 46 blocks. The record, 45, is maintained by Les Craft, who played on Jack Hartman's 1981-1982 squad.

Eaker said he will accept nothing less than a win at Kansas.

"We got a good win going into KU, who I know

"We got a good win going into KU, who I know has always been a tough team. The win does a lot for our confidence," Eaker said. "As anybody'll tell you that's the only reason I came here, I've got to beat KU twice. If we lose every other game, as long as we beat KU twice."

TENNIS

Stumbling netters face Creighton

Shane McCormick contributing writer

After opening the spring season last week with a loss to Northwestern, the K-State women's tennis team will look to rebound as they take on the Creighton Blue Jays this weekend.

But competition could be tougher than expected as the Wildcats are a little banged up heading into this weekend. The biggest setback could be to senior Karina Kuregian, who is suffering from Graves disease.

"What Karina has is an hyperactive thyroid which is caused by Graves disease," Coach Steve Bietau said. "The timing of the treatment depends on whether she will play or not," Bietau said. "If she gets the treatment on Friday, she won't play this weekend. If she gets the treatment after tomorrow, then she may play this week-more Dinah Watson who has been having some problems with her shoulder. "She saw limited action last weekend,

Another significant injury is to sopho-and at the most, she will see limited action this weekend," Bietau said.

During last week's loss to

During last week's loss to Northwestern, K-State lost all three of its doubles matches, only winning 10 games in all three. Bietau said working on doubles was the primary focus of the team's practice this week.

"We are going to first work on doubles, then we'll work on doubles again, then on doubles once more," Bietau said. "Do you get the picture?" Assistant coach Monika Kobilikova said staying in the game mentally will be a key for this weekend's matchup.

"With the talent that we have, we are capable of playing better tennis," Kobilikova said. "We just shot ourselves in the foot last week against Northwestern. We can't do that this weekend."

Bietau said although the Creighton team was not as strong as the Cats squad, the team has specific goals in mind for Saturday.

"Our main goal is to improve the play of our doubles team," Bietau said. "Our doubles play has got to improve this weekend."

doubles play has got to improve this weekend."

The Cats will take to the courts against Creighton this Saturday at Cottonwood

Creighton this Saturday at Cottonwood Racquet Club. The starting time has been changed to 1 p.m.

TRACK AND FIELD

Tracksters to be host to home tournament today

Courtney Marshall

staff reporter

The indoor track season is in full swing as the K-State men's and women's track squads will be competing at Ahearn Field House this week-

The track squads will be host to the KSU Pentathlon and Septathlon today and Saturday and the KSU Invitational

Saturday.

Women compete today in the pentathlon, which includes the 60-meter hurdles, high jump, shot put, long jump and an 800-meter run.

The men's septathlon also begins today with the 60-meter dash, long jump, shot and high

The septathlon will continue Saturday morning with the 60-meter hurdles, pole vault and 1,000-meter run.

"We're just trying to make progress and get ready for the conference meet, which is coming up in about three weeks," Steve Fritz, assistant track coach, said.

The KSU Invitational will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday with field events. Track events begin at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Competing against K-State Saturday will be Oklahoma State, Southwest Missouri State, University of Missouri-Kansas City and Pittsburg

Both K-State track squads captured victories against Kansas and Missouri last weekend at the KSU/Kansas/Missouri Triangular.

Diversions

Arts & entertainment editor. Claudette Riley

532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

Basie band strolls into McCain with foot-stomping fun

This week began with the celebration of Kansas Day

To celebrate Basie Day in high fashion, what can one

The Basic Orchestra will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday

Check it out

See the full schedule

Saturday's festival.

Page 10

of events for

in McCain Auditorium as part of the K-State Jazz

Orchestra to Manhattan brings along the band's amazing

1930s after impressing a jazz critic with its live radio broadcasts from Kansas City's Reno Club. By 1940, the ends as Frank Sinatra, Sarah Vaughn, Tony Bennett.

After World War II, the band recorded with such leg-

The band has won numerous Grammies, performed for presidents and the Oueen of England, and in 1987 was inducted into the International Jazz Hall of Fame. Wilson, who performed with the band for ten years and spent a few of those years working for the Count himself, said, "Basie best described his music as 'pat

When people listen to his band, they can't sit there. All of a sudden, their foot's tapping and the band will

In Saturday night's concert, K-State students and Sarah Morris, freshman undecided and trumpeter in high school students participating in the jazz festival.

the K-State Jazz Ensemble, said performing with a professional band allows you to learn various musical tricks only someone playing professionally for years could

"They love music so much. It's so inspiring," Morris

Wilson said the jazz festival is a great recruiting tool

"We're trying to give as many people a unique inter-

He said he plans to create a relationship between the

"It's been my goal to build the jazz festival around

"Eventually, the collegiate music industry will take

Wilson, rising out of his chair in his McCain office.

notice that K-State is where the Basie band plays," he points enviously to a poster of the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival at the University of Idaho. The Hampton festival is one of the most prestigious, and popular, jazz fes-orchestra, K-State and the Manhattan community.

band was performing across the country to raves.

The Basie Orchestra rose to prominence in the late and ends Saturday with what Gov. Bill Graves has proclaimed "Count Basie Day" across Kansas.

Dennis Wilson, assistant director of the K-State jazz signed a contract to teach at

Bringing the Basie

Lena Horne and Ella Fitzgerald.

K-State to bring the Basie

professor of music and program, said he's been working since before he 60-plus years of history.

Orchestra to town.

your foot.'

know

said.

explode," Wilson said.

will be performing with the band.

for the University music program.

the Basie Orchestra," Wilson said.

action with this great band," Wilson said.

do but attend the Count Basie Orchestra concert?

contributing writer

Festival.

▶ CROSSWORD by Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 2 Hold the cheeses page datum 20 Kachina rights to 3 Usurer's 1 "Ostenta tious? worshiper 36 Reeves/ Bullock charge 21 Un-4 Annoyyielding 22 Snob 4 Adar film festival ance 37 Seasonal 23 Tiny 8 Radiate visitor 5 Datebook particle 12 Bristle 40 Cicatrix entry: 41 Hautboy 25 Peru-13 Busy with abbr. 42 Part of IRS 6 Simpson's vian's 14 Peregriancestor nate "The Way judge 7 - pros. 15 Worldwide 26 Prisoner 8 "Sesame 47 Slender of war cop group 27 Double 17 It takes Street" 48 Keep agent the cake watch on denizen 28 Not 18 Labyrinth 49 Bridge 9 Lyricist's goal 19 Dodge subject barefoot coup 50 Lane 10 Finished 30 Trans-Pyrenean Mile. 20 Pres. 11 Skecoworker daddled Grant's 51 "A 33 Honor real first mouse! 16 Physical, 34 Practice DOWN name 19 Like fine pugilism 22 Parsley 1 — tai 36 Bloodpartner Solution time: 26 mins. 24 Utah city hound's 25 Tempo-37 Piglets' rary parents arrange 38 The third ments 29 Opp. of man 39 Mrs. Nick neg. 30 Hair net Charles 40 Ollie's 31 Japanese drama 42 Sort 32 Walkie 43 Born talkie's kin 44 Verily 34 Commune Yesterday's answer 45 Albanian coin 35 Sports tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP

R F Q Y - F W U Q P C F A AITZC

For answers to today's crossword, call

1-900-454-6873199¢ per minute, touch-

YIZWFZR ZFUPZM RMTQQ

OZTFYQC MP PQA OPRRC Yesterday's Cryptoquip: A WELL-CONNECTED OPTICIAN WILL DISCLOSE THAT HE DEPENDS ON HIS CONTACTS.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: O equals B

▶ FOXTROT by Bill Amend ITEM ONE: THIS MR. FOX, YOUR SUPERIORS BROUGHT ME IN THIS WEEK CHIT-CHAT PERFECTLY GOOD AND WASTE WILL NO LONGER BE PAPER CLIP I CHANCE LET'S GET TO HELP INCREASE YOUR I'VE GOT TOLERATED. DEPARTMENT'S EFFICIENCY. A MEETING

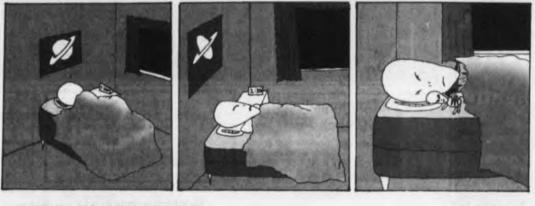

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilich

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

MY GRANDPA 15 HERE AND I DON'T WANT TO BE AFOUND HIM. HE ALWAYS PUTS ME

SKIP, IN MY EYES I

said.

tivals in the country.

"K-State will be the number one jazz festival. I know one thing: Kansas is a lot better than Idaho," Wilson

"If it can be done out in potato land, it can be done

NEWSPAPER DRAMA

Book reveals the making of 'Lou Grant'

Some remember him as the short, gruff man from the 1970s sitcom, "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," the editor who spent most of his time huddled behind his desk in a corner office. Others know him as the city editor of the Los Angeles Tribune on the late 1970s, early '80s TV drama, "Lou Grant," the show that bears his

However Lou Grant is known, there is one man at K-State who probably knows him better. For four years, Douglass Daniel, assistant professor of journalism and mass communications, has been studying the "Lou Grant" show, its characters and the actors and actresses who played the seven newspaper journalists on the

Not only has Daniel read hundreds of newspaper clips about "Lou Grant," seen every episode of the series and sorted through every source available, he was able to interview every member of the cast as well as some producers, directors, writers and creators of the show.

"Meeting them was weird," Daniel said. "I'd spent all this time watching this series, and they were talking to me. And all of them were 15 years older."

Daniel combined the research to produce his dissertation, which has since evolved into a book, "Lou Grant: The Making of TV's Top Newspaper Drama."

The 280-page book discusses Daniel's belief that newspaper dramas such as "Lou Grant" are a "genre of television."

According to the book, there were 23 newspaper dramas that came and went in the 30 years prior to "Lou Grant."

Most of these were failures, and most were hardly recognized by journalists, Daniel said. "Lou Grant" was different, though.

Journalists recognized and liked this drama because it was more accurate in its portrayal of their profession, he said.

The public recognized it, too. Although the show never made the top ten in ratings, the show aired for five years and an estimated 20-25 million people tuned in each week

As a college student, Daniel said he remembers watching the show when it originally aired. "I didn't appreciate how realistic the shows were then. I realize from watching the shows, again that they were on target," Daniel said. Episode after episode, the team of seven journalists uncover the facts in the stories.

After a lengthy run of 114 episodes, CBS canceled the series and controversy erupted. There was a dispute to whether the series was canceled because of its low ratings or because of Ed Asner's liberal political views.

Daniel said he believes a network would not remove a show simply because of a dip in ratings. He said he thinks Asner's views made the network uneasy and therefore, it canceled the Completed in October, the new book was released by the publisher this week.

Daniel, who is used to seeing his work published in newspapers, said he's excited to see his work in book form because where newspapers last about a day, a book lasts for years.

"It's a real kick to think that something that I wrote will be in the Library of Congress," Daniel said.

Douglass Daniel, assistant professor of journalism and mass communications, recently finished a book titled, "Lou Grant: The Making of TV's Top Newspaper Drama." The book, which was completed in October, is about the late 1970s, early '80s TV sitcom "Lou Grant," its characters and the actors and actresses who played the seven newspaper journalists on the show.

CARY CONOVER

DO YOU HAVE GLOBAL THOUGHTS??

Union Program Council is looking for a MULTICULTURAL CHAIRPERSON

This is a great volunteer opportunity for someone who is interested in sharing different cultures with the campus community. The Multicultural Chairperson is responisble for planning, promoting and executing a variety of diverse programs.

If this sounds like soemthing that interests you, please come by the Union Program Council Office, 3rd floor, K-State Student Union for an application.

Application available in the UPC Office, 3rd floor, K-State Student

Are you more creative than this?

UNION PROGRAM COUNCIL IS ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR

PROMOTIONS CHAIRPERSON

This is a great opportunity for any student wanting to be more involved in the campus community. The Promotions Chairperson is responsible for an overall marketing and promotions campaign for Union Program Council. We are ooking for someone who can effectively lead a committee in planning, executing and evaluating quality promotions and programs, and who will have a commitment to Union Program Council and its programming opportunities

Do you enjoy international films? Would you like to do the Time-Warp again? Are you looking for a more challenging leadership experience?

If so, Union Program Council has the answer for you:

UPC is now accepting applications for the position of Kaleidoscope Films chairperson.

For more information, stop by the UPC office, 3rd Floor, K-State Student Union, or call 532-6571. Deadline for applications is Friday, February 9th at 4 p.m.

STOWE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Stowe's career in education began at the University of Nebraska, where she prepared to become a secondary teacher. But Stowe taught for only one year before returning to the university set-

"When I was making that decision, life was even simpler in the secondary system," Stowe said, "but I found I really enjoyed what I thought faculty members do at a university, and I thought I would like to be involved there, and I have been ever since."

Stowe then received a master's degree in apparel and textiles at Michigan State University and a doctoral degree in textile chemistry at the University of North Carolina.

Although administrative responsibilities limit the amount of time Stowe is available to work with students, she said she participates in student organizations and enjoys following the careers of the college's graduates.

"I don't get to have direct involvement as much as I would enjoy," Stowe said. "But I certainly like to follow students to see what they have done when they leave the University.

Stowe has dinners for the honors students in the College of Human Ecology, which are attended by 10-20 stu-

"It's kind of a treat for the honors students," Sara Vinduska, junior in apparel design, said. "Most students don't have the opportunity to interact with the dean of their college on a more personal level."

Time constraints of managing the department often leave little time for personal interests, Stowe said.

"I like to read, I like public television — I watch some of that. I listen to the radio to stay abreast. I do a little gardening," Stowe said. "But I don't find that there is a lot of extra time.'

Stowe's husband never made the move from Michigan State to K-State, because he was already well-established in the field of veterinary medicine when she was offered the position at K-State, Stowe said.

"When I moved here, he stayed there," Stowe said. "So we have commuted for all these years.

The couple sees each other every four to five weeks and fills in the in-between time with phone calls.

"Pay by the hour on the telephone," Stowe said. "We have lots of long conversations.

Stowe and her husband are members of the Manhattan Dance Club, which meets five times a year at the Houston Street Ballroom.

'Students would probably find some of it old-fashioned," Stowe said. "There is no line dancing or country dancing. You have to go someplace else in Manhattan for that.

Stowe said she enjoys the Manhattan community, which brought her "closer to my roots of Nebraska.

Despite her ties to both states, Stowe said she is not as big of a sports fan as most people at Nebraska or K-State.

'I like the atmosphere, but I'm probably not the biggest sports fan," Stowe said. "I have relatives that live in Lincoln, and they are very much involved in athletics. In fact, they call me very early in the year well before tickets ever go on sale to be sure that I can get tickets for them if Nebraska is playing at Kansas State.

"Because there is no way anyone can get a ticket to a game in Lincoln. Football tickets are life-long heritage at that institution.'

Stowe remains involved in the Manhattan community through her participation in civic events, and she is the Manhattan Rotary Club president. She said she enjoys the interaction between the community and the University.

"I like the idea that I know people in the community as well as in the University," Stowe said. "In larger institutions or towns there is more - in my view - a separation between town and gowns, and I like that interaction that I find here."

The attitudes of the students also are encouraging, Stowe said. "At times we hear news that maybe the job market isn't so good - layoffs in industries," Stowe said. "But Kansas students - and that does represent the majority of the students at Kansas State still come with a very good work ethic. If we can hone their educational skills and professional skills, students are very employable because they have that work ethic that doesn't seem to prevail everywhere."

Juggling different duties was a plus for Stowe

"I like lots of parts of it (my job)," Stowe said. "If I didn't want to come to work in the morning, I would get wor-

BOOKS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

are excited to get started.

"It is not what I would have expected out of a Drawing III class," Alisha Bolton, sophomore in graphic design, said.

"I expected learning the next stage of Drawing II with bigger projects and new techniques."

Darin Carlisle, senior in art, said this class is different.

"I have never had anything like this before," he said.

Carlisle said he was expecting a regular drawing class.

"One where you are pulling out your sketchbook," Carlisle said. "This is a higher level. It seems like this should be a separate class, Bolton said.

"I think it will be fun to do," she

When you teach a course like this, you really cannot predict where the students will go with it, Stroh said.

Bolton said there is just so much, that she is not sure what she will do.

"I do like the books that are the not-

"Like the ones that use different paper, cloth, different bindings and animal

Carlisle has a very detailed plan when it comes to what he is going to do for the project.

"I am toying with the idea of making a box for the book," he said.

"And within the book, using different paper and using different media for my drawings. Stroh said he will photograph the students' work at the end of the semester.

"After that," he said, "they belong to the students."

ILLARD CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Will King, senior in geology, was the troubleshooter who was on duty Tuesday night through Wednesday morning. He said he was called at 12:45 a.m.

by campus police. King said he went to help police the King said his job as a troubleshooter is to help with a problem if he can, but if he cannot he will call someone or make a report so something gets done.

"The job is more public relations than anything," he said.

Ed Rice, assistant vice president of physical facilities, said he had not heard of any problems with where or how the new pipe was installed.

"I do not really know where the pipe was installed," he said. "I do not remember who the design architect was."

Yet an employee from the facility and maintenance department said the pipe was put in during recent renova-

"The pipe was not put in correctly," he said.

Holcombe said she has noticed in some of the renovations that some things were not well thought out.

This is something she said she could have accepted if it was caused by the old plumbing.

This should not have happened with new plumbing," she said.

At this time no one from the art or biochemistry departments could estimate the total damage, Rice said.

"Hopefully by Monday we will have the computer lab up and working," she said. "Whatever will work."

with Mary Renee Smith contributing Applications are available in Kedzie Hall 103. If you have questions call Sarah at 532-6557.

Be a part of it.

creational

exuices

so-traditional," she said. Try Our Nightly Specials Available 5-9 p.m. Buy I whole sandwich, get 2nd one 1/2 price. Buy I daily special, get 2nd one 1/2 price. Whole Reuben $2.25

Thurs. 1/2 sandwich & side order $1.88.

1219 Bluemont . Aggieville

royal purple yearbook

We're looking for you

The 1996 Royal Purple yearbook is now taking applications for staff writer and staff assistant positions. If you are enthusiastic and want to be a part of an award winning yearbook -

We're looking for you.

NOW HIRING

Student Custodians

8455 per hour

Positions begin immediately.

Applications available at the

Peters Recreation Complex Administrative Office,

Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Application deadline is Monday, Feb. 5.

Recreational Services Office 532-6980

First Congregational Church 700 Poyntz (Poyntz and Juliette) 537-7006 Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m.

Sermon: "Embracing Sorrow and Finding Joy" Sunday, Feb. 4 Rev. Donald Longbottom

..... Grace Baptist Church 2901 Dickens (2 blks. E. of Seth Child)

·Sunday · 'Two Unique Worship' 8:15 . 10:45

8:15 • 10:45
Bible Classes (ALL AGES)
9:30 A.M.
Body Life or Care Cells
6 P.M.
776-0424

LIVING WATER RANCH CHURCH

SUNDAY Service 10 a.m. 7 p.m. KOINONIA Fellowship * Broadcast 9:05 a.m. Angel 95 (95.3 FM)

WEDNESDAY Service 7:30 p.m. STERLING HUDGINS-PASTOR Located 12 miles north of Tuttle Creek Dam, turn off Hwy. 13 at the sign. 4150 LIVING WATER DR.

OLSBURG, KS 6652 (913) 468-3615

ST. LUKE'S LUTHERAN CHURCH (LCMS)

Campus Pastor James Gau

6 p.m. Saturday Evening Service 7:45-8:45 a.m. Early Service 9-9:45 a.m. Sunday School 10-11 a.m. Contemporary Service 11:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m. Late Service (8:45-11:15 a.m. Fellowship)

330 N. Sunset Ave.

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center

RELIGION DIRECTORY

Sun. 9:30, 11 a.m., & 5 p.m. Confessions: Sat. 4 p.m. 539-7496

Chaplain: Father Brad Sterrett FIRST LUTHERAN

10th Poyntz 537-8532 Worship at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m.

First Bap ist Church

Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. For free transportation within chity limits, call the church.

Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8691

An American Baptist Congregration

5th & Humboldt

Contemporary Worship 8:30 a.m. Traditional Worship 10:55 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. Live Broadcast 11:30 a.m. Angel 95 (95.3 FM) Wed. Eve. Bible Study

COLLEGE FELLOWSHIP Thursday 7:30 p.m. PASTOR DR. DONALD E. BREZAVAR

English Worship 10:30 a.m. & 6:30 p.m. Sunday School 9:15 a.m. Chinese Worship 10:30 a.m.

4761 Tuttle Creek Blvd. (3 miles north of Kimball Ave.)

776-3798

TRINITY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

1110 College Avenue South of Claflin anday Morning Worship 10:45 a.m

Call for rides 539-3921

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

8:30 & 11 a.m. Worship 9:45 a.m. Church School including University and Young adult classes Nursery provided for all services Omer G. Tittle, Pastor

612 Poyntz 776-8821 DIAL-A-PRAYER 776-9569

8:30 & 10:45 a.m. Sunday School 9:45 a.m. Sunday Evening Worship 6 p.m.

1st Sunday CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 2, 3, 4 Sunday 6 p.m.

3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

Manhattan Mennonite

Church Sunday School 9:30 a.m., Worship 10:45 a.m. Eldon Epp, Pastor 539-4079 Child Care Available

St. Francis Canterbury Episcopal Campus Ministry

Eucharist & Guitar in Danforth Chapel Every Sunday at 5 p.m. Rev. Cathy Chittenden-Bascom 532-9099

Joint Fellowship Time

at Luther House 1745 Anderson Sunday Worship 7:15 p.m. in the Danforth Chapel

College Liturgy "Now the Feast and Celebration" Pastor Jayne Thompson 539-4451 Open to All Spread the Word!

Contemporary PRAISE AND WORSHIP Services will start Sunday, February 4 from 8:30 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. Blue Valley Memorial United Methodist Church, 835 Church Ave.

> Come as you are - jeans are fine. Need a ride? Call: 539-8790 Traditional services are held at 10:30 a.m.

Please Come & Join Us!

Classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

DEADLINES

HOW TO PAY

structor, 539-0531, classes now forming. hour free information (800)256-7515.

YMCA certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539-8763

WANTED: 100 Students!
Lose 10- 30 plus
pounds. Next 90 days.
New metabolism breakthrough. Guaranteed. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24

Lost and Found

FOUNDI TWO kittens 1/28 at Seventh & Hum-boldt. Call to identify, 776-3160.

Parties-n-More

portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561. MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional to place your classified.

Call 532-6555

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

A LOT CAN BE SAID ABOUT A LITTLE BIT OF SPACE

LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537–1686, 537–2919.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320/ month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to campus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537-7542.

PARKING SOUTH OF THE

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE

FOR AUGUST next to KSU deluxe two-bedroom apartment. $500. Also MODERN TWO-BED-ROOM, close to cam-pus, terrace, washer/ dryer access, low utili-ties, $430/ month. Call 539-3178.

NINE OR 12 month lease. most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537–8389.

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO

1219 Claflin. Next t campus, $320 plus de posit, plus electric. N pets, available now, si months lease. Ca 537–1180.

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours

Mon.-Fri. 8-5

Except holidays)

sal, carpeting, off-stree parking, $450, 537-0428

TWO-BEDROOM SUB LEASE, start imme diately, close to cam pus, we will help pa your rent! 537-1359.

Announcements

BULLETIN

BOARD

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

for information and

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed. Doctor recommended. $35.50 MC/ Visa. 24 hour free information (800)229-7562.

FOUND: CALCULATOR in the K-State Student Union. Contact 395-5462 to describe

ADD A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a entertainment at rea-sonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

It works lassifieds 532-6555

one-bedroom apartment for June and August $320. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N 10th St., sublease $450. 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM FUR NISHED apartment 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo

Collegian Classifieds

TWO-BEDROOMS AVAIL-ABLE- large house. Share facilities with other tenants $120-$150 per month plus electricity, 539-6687 or (316)722-6851.

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS

- Corner of College and Claflin, Manhattan
- 1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments
- Deck/Patios for each unit
- On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry
- * Covered Parking **********
- 2 BR $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735 4 BR - $860 & $880
- Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases
- For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday,
- 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday by Appointment

110 Unfurnished

- AGGIEVILLE PENTHOUSE Apartments available now. Very large, two-bedroom. 617 N. 12th, $500. Microwave and dishwasher included
- ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537-2332.

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064

START

NOW

▲ 2 bedroom

bedroom

Dishwasher

▲ Large bath &

▲ Laundry facility

▲ On site office

▲ 2 large pools

NOW LEASING

JUNE & AUGUST

CALL

776-1148

Open Houses Daily

The Curtin Company

APARTMENT FOR rent

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE

AVAILABLE MID-MAY

AVAILABLE NOW- rent no

AVAILABLE NOW. One

AVAILABLE SOON- two bedroom. 820 Osage $360. Water, trash paid fixed utilities. Pets al lowed. Call now 776-3804.

bedroom duplex, fire place, off-street park ing, washer/ dryer hook-ups, central heat/ air good neighborhood close to campus. Call 532-9008 or (913)252

no pets, water/ gas/ trash paid. Available Jan. 1. 539-1975.

CLEAN TWO-BEDROOM

Very near campus. Clean and new. $385 plus utilities. Available

(913)455-3433. Leave

LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537–1666, 537–2919.

one-bedroom across from campus, two bal-conies, new kitchen. Call 587-9322, leave gotiable, luxury apart ment next to campus two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing, 539-2702 evenings.

▲ Private

closets

apartments

▲ Great location

Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. THREE-BEDROOM WITH Sat. 10-3 p.m washer/ dryer, dish-washer, fireplace. Avail-able Feb. 1. $600. 537-7138.

O-BEDROOM APART MENT at Park Place Apartments. $435/ month. February free. Available now. Lease and deposit required.

- TWO-BEDROOM APART Across street from Ahearn Field House. Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537-7794.
- TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT, southeast of campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facilities, immediately available, 539-7277.
- TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776–3804.
- TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT, washer and dry-er. $350, 537-1940.

TWO-BEDROOM DE-LUXE AND SPA-CIOUS, WITH WASH-ER AND DRYER, FIREPLACE, DISH-WASHER, AND LARGE BEDROOMS. WATER AND TRASH PAID. $480.

PAID. 776-8455. TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX, four miles east of cam-pus. Easy access. Avail-able now. Reference and credit check. No pets. $350/ month. Water paid. (913)379-5450. TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m.,

776-0221. TWO-BEDROOM, Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM, 1212 Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401.

For Rent-Houses

- AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY. Four-bed-room, close to campus. 776-1340.
- FOUR-BEDROOM WITH study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-lowed.Call 776-3804.
- HEATING PAID. Free laundry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.
- TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.
- CLEAN, THREE-BED-VERY NICE newly remo-deled two-bedroom ROOM, remodeled bathroom with new shower, washer/ dryer. Gas and water split. house near campus. Re-frigerator, range, wash-er, dryer, central heat and air. No pets. $475 plus utilities. Call even-ings. (913)238–8441. Electricity separate. Trash paid. $450/ month 1110 Colorado, 537-9023.

room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets. $425- $480. pets, $776-3345.

For Sale-Mobile Homes

Roommate

Wanted

12X60 TWO-BEDROOM

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look

ble through 539-6394.

ing for roommate two-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, ca-ble. As soon as possi-

MALE ROOMMATE needed $162/ month,

one-third utilities, four-bedroom, three bath townhouse available immediately. Cal 539-4776 ask for Nicole needed to share three bedroom apartment $165/ month. Two blocks from campus, 1729 Laramie, 537-1091 needed to share four-bedroom house, $279/ month utilities included. Wash/ dryer avail-able. Call 776-7298.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted: close to Aggieville and campus. Affordable rent. Call 776-1388 ask for Ali.

plus one-third utilities.

Dishwasher, central heat/ air. Available now, 587-1964.

FEMALE ROOMMATE.

FEMALE SMOKERS want

ask for Laurie

FEMALE

FEMALE

ROOMMATE

ROOMMATE

As soon as possi-through July

Stove, refrigerator, washer/ dryer, mi-crowave. Set up Blue Valley trailer court. 539-1004.

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1611 Lara-mie. $575 through May 31. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

FOUR-BEDROOM, LARGE available 537-1940, $750.

- LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.
- TWO-BEDROOM NICE apartment. Available now- July 31. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $490/ month Water and trash paid Call 539-9524.
- ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse. Newly carpeted 537-9188 or 537-1550.
- ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.
- ONE-BEDROOM NEAR campus. $350, no bills Pets allowed. 537-2697.
- ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776–3804.
- PARK PLACE Apartment special. One-bedroom, new carpet, hot water paid, $300 per month, plus utilities. Six month lease. 537-2392.
- PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball, 1413 Cam-bides #8 539.2951
- female roommate. Three-bedroom. $175/ month plus one-third utilities. 776-8764. bridge #8, 539-2951. ROYAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from FEMALE TO share my campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dishhome, please call even
- ings and weekends. 537-4412. washer, microwave laundry facilities. Call LE/ FEMALE non-smoker for two-bednow 776-3804. STUDIO AVAILABLE now
- room. Close to campus near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804. Aggieville, $190 plus part utilities. Call Brian 537-6124. THREE-BEDROOM APART MALE/ FEMALE non-
 - MENT, water and trash paid. 1114 Vattier. $500/ month. 539–5729. moker. Own room and bath. $250 plus one-half bills. Frank 539-8786.
 - MALE/ FEMALE roommate needed to share three-bedroom apartment $175/ month plus one-third utilties. February rent already paid. Call 539-1063.
 - MALE/ FEMALE smoker one-third bills, one-third rent, own room, close to campus, and Aggieville, 587-9606.
 - MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block from campus, with two girls, one guy. Own room, washer/ dryer $172.50. 539-4311.
 - NICE HOUSE, close to campus, $200 monthly. Fe-bruary paid. 776-1890.
 - NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apart ment. Two and one half blocks from KSU $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.
 - ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities, 587-9439.
 - ROOMMATE WANTED, next to campus. Large private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294.
 - ROOMMATE WANTED: basement apartment, three blocks from cam-pus, $175/ month, utilities paid, can renew lease in June. 776-4110.
 - STUDENT WANTED: $175/ month plus divided util-ities, 587-0697, leave message.
 - TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur-nished basement apart ment. Laundry fur nished, for males, non smoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539-1554.
 - WANTED: FEMALE to rent one-bedroom in a house with washer/ dry-er. $230 negotiable Within walking distance to campus. 776–8481.

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease

- until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry facilities. Pets allowed Contact John at 537-6058.
 - ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT to sublease until April or May '96. $250/ month. Close to campus in house, please contact Joyce 565-0114.
 - ONE-BEDROOM ON first level of house. $240/ month, all bills paid. 776-5240 ask for Jen-

Hit The Road.

Find the bike you've been you've been searching for. From Roadsters to Mountain Bikes, we just reight havyour ticket to Precious. Only 52 for 30 words. So read and ride. It's than samets.

SERVICE DIRECTORY

Tutor

STRUGGLING WITH Eng-lish 100 or 2007 Former GTA/ Instructor, Chris Rueter is available for tutoring. Call 776–0272.

Resume/

Typing

- PERFECT and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.
- FAST, CHEAP, accurate. Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing Laser printing. Becky 539-2748.

Other Services

255

- COMPUTERIZED TAX preparation. $15 for simple return. Can help with budgeting and financial problems. For students by students. Anytime 532-9268.
- MONEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud ents. Immediate qual-ification. Call (800)270-2744. Open
- PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D., Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

270

Massage

NEW CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon, She specializes in neuromus-cular therapy, shiatsu, Swedish and reflexology. Mention this ad and receive $10 off first

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal op-portunity in securing and holding employ-ment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classificament/Career classifica-tion. Readers are ad-vised to approach any such employment op-portunity with reason-able caution. The Col-legian urges our read-ers to contact the Bet-ter Business Bureau ter Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, To-peka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

- $1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.
- $35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-
- $40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.
- SEARN $7.50 AN You receive $15 each time you donate life saving plasma at Man-hattan Biomedical Cen-ter. 1130 Gardenway 9a.m.- 6:30p.m., M- F, 9a.m.- 2p.m. Saturday. 776-9177. Across from
- ATTENTION MAN-HATTAN DO YOU ENJOY DRIVING? USD 383 is looking for people interested in be coming school bus driv-ers. All training will be provided including CDL licensing. Part-time $6.50 per hour plus benefits. Apply to USD383, 2031 Poyntz Ave., Manhattan, 1 66502. 587-2000 EOE.
- ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-
- AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR SOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachusetts. Over 100 positions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding,

Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required. ED. We run three new 2188's Case Interna-tional combines, three new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May, Room and board pro-vided. Excellent wages Top salaries, room and board, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27–28, 1996, 9a.m.— 4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp Danbee. board, and travel alfor experienced help Call Gaines Harvesting (913)689-4660. HORTICULTURAL SERV ICES, Inc. is seeking re-liable individuals for full- or part-time em-ployment for our retail garden center and landscape operations APPLICATION FOR mem-bership for McCain Am-bassadors, a student or-Above average wages and benefits. Apply in person at 11524 Landganization interested in scape Lane, St. George, KS 66535. (913)494 promoting music, drama and live enter-tainment, will be avail-able at K-State Student Union SAS Office from 2418 or (913)776-0397 JOBS IN the Great Out-doors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife January 31 through Fe-bruary 26. Due back in office on February 26 Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 extby 4p.m. Contact Emily Simpson at 539-4651 or Todd Lakin at 537-7773

N57683.

LOOKING FOR student to

- with questions ATTENTION ALL Students!
 Over $6 Billion in public and private sector
 grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information call: (800)263-6495 ext.F57684.
- ATTENTION STUD-ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All materials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-
- ATTENTION UPPER division accounting majors. Very part-time book-keeping job, 2- 3 flexi-ble hours a week. Call
- CAMP COUNSELORS for educational camp south of Kansas City. Can lead fishing, canoeing crafts, games, and many more activities while teaching children 8- 14 about the outdoors. Lifeguard help-ful. June 7- August 10. Prefer Sophomore or older. $1600 plus room and board. For details, send inquiry before Fe-bruary 9, 1996 to Wild-wood Center, 7095 W.

399th St., LaCygne, KS

- CAMP OZARK, Christian Sports and Adventure Camp- Seeking qualified counselors to work ment terms for all or part of the summer. If remotely interested, come to our KSU informational video pre-sentation 7:30p.m., Tuesday, February 6 Tuesday, February at K-State Union, Littl Theatre. Locate Mount Ida, A Located
- (501)867-4131. CAMP TAKAJO for boys.
 Outstanding Maine
 camp noted for magnificent lakefront set sitions for heads and as Canoeing/ Kayaking) lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, jour weight training, jour-nalism, photography, videography, wood-working, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study, radio and electronics, dramatics, piano ac companist, music in strumentalist, band di-rector, backpacking,
 - rector, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewater canoeing, ropes course, general (with youngest campers), secretarial. June 17-August18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 405 in Student Union. Walk-ins Welcome. (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.
- SECRETARY/ RECEP-TIONIST- Requires ex-COMPLETE MUSIC Disc Jockey Service is grow-ing and wants you to be a part of the largest and most professional DJ service in the na-tion. We provide the

COPY EDITOR for academic journal. Contract work, paid hourly. Two issues annually. Con-tact: National Academic Advising Association, 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 225, Manhattan, KS 66506-2912, 532-5717 before Fe-

Techs/ Stylists. Wanting a flexible schedule in an up and coming sa-lon? Booth rent first four weeks free or part-time commission option also available.

Apply Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon 409 Poytz 539-5999.

ence necessary,. For in-formation call (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

EXCEPTING APPLICA-TIONS for full and part-time jobs. Employment begins March 15. Pick up application at East-side Market next to

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experi-

COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL

- tion. We provide the equipment. CD library, and paid professional training. If you are friendly, energetic and have your own vehicle, call 539–7111 or (800)755–DJDJ. oriented candidate with 1600 Poyntz Ave., Man-hattan, KS 66502.

BULLETIN

NO Prounts

MAR MANAGER

100

- Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539–7336.
- Pine Cove Christian Camps in Tyler, Texas, are three separate recreational camps for children, youth, and fa-milies. We will be in-terviewing for summer staff Monday and Tues-
- do house cleaning, iron-ing for two apartments, flexible hours. Call Kevin 537-1145 or 587-4121. SUMMER JOBS in Color MULTICULTURAL CON-STITUENT PROGRAM COORDINATOR, Parttime position with Kan-sas State University Alumni Association. Co-ordinates alumni/ stud
 - ent programming in conjunction with uni-versity ethnic month ac-tivities, multicultural terview, 532-6506. and international alum ni programming. Bachelor's degree re-quired. Self-starter with strong organizational, event planning, speak-ing and writing skills. Experience working with volunteers and multicultural organizations preferred. Position starts March 11 Submit letter of appli cation, resume and three references by Feb. 16 to Amy Button Renz, K-State Alumni Association, 2323 Anderson Ave., Suite 400, Manhattan, KS 66502
- 2909. EOE. NEEDED PHOTOGRA-PHERS for fraternity/ sorority parties. No ex-perience needed. Must be free on weekends. University Photogra-phy, 1128 Laramie to fill out application. ill out application. PREMIERE BROTHERS
 - Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, view appointment. Gymnastics, Field Hock ey, Soccer, Volleyball 30 Tennis openings also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Yearbook, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Waterfront/ Pool Activities MARKET (Swimming, Skiing Sailing, Windsurfing
 - Top salaries, room board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-
- RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specif-ically designed for re-cent college graduates. cent college graduates Call or send resume 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam
- REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business opportunity with multi-leve marketing in telecommunications industry. For appointment
- cellent organizational skills and attention to detail. Computer, word processing and bookkeeping experience im-portant. Looking for professional, enthu-siastic, bright, peoplegood communication skills. Full-time, $6.50/ hour. Send resume to
- STUDENT COMPUTER Consultant: 12 or more hours per week. Experience with both Mainframe and Micro

- computers, along with employment GPA and employment potential of two years given pref-erence. Contact Ralph Wasmer in Room 9
 Fairchild Hall by 5p.m.
 Monday, February 5,
 1996 for application.
 NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE
- SUMMER CAMP JOBS
- staff Monday and Tues-day February 5th end 6th in the Union Build-ing Hallway from 10a.m. 5p.m. Call Susan McNellis at 539-7342 for more de-tails or Pine Cove at (800)225-9069.
- ado. YMCA of the Rock-ies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference cen-ter and family resort hiring for Lifeguards, Food Services, Front Desk, Counselors, Desk, Counselors, Housekeeping, etc. Campus interviews on February 8, 1996. Con-tact Career/ Employ-ment Services for in-
- THE WORLD'S BEST SUMMER CAMP, LAUREL FOR BOYS AND GIRLS. Located on a three mile lake in Maine. Men and women are needed as counselors, coaches and instructors in field court and water sports. Also arts and maintenance. No experience necessary. Call campus representative, Jim Engle after 7p.m. at (913)838-9656.
 - TIMBER LAKE/ TYLER HILL CAMPS, Top NY and PA resident camps have over 200 summer job openings for quali-fied students and facul-ty. Counselors, WSI, Arts, Athletics Specialists and more!! Best salaries and travel al-lowance in addition to "the finest summer you'll ever have." On campus interviews Thursday, February 8th. Call Career and Employment Services at (913)532-6506 for an ap-plication and an inter-
 - VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help. Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at

Wanted to Buy

WANT TO buy: Diamonds-Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale 386SX PACKARD Bell 25

- MHZ paid $1250. sell for $500, negotiable 1993 Ford Ranger Splash 44,000 miles. 537-0575. COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale
- connections. Let me know what you're looking for. Lorin 539-6631. DESK $15, bicycle $55, mir rors $5, small glass table- two chairs $45, table- two chairs $45, 10-gallon aquarium-whole setup $35, three-
- shelved bookcase $15 desk chair 539-3809. ENGAGEMENT/ WEDDING ring set, marquis dia-mond with eight small-er diamonds, one-half karat total. $250 or best offer. 537–8206.
- FOR SALE: Large dorm refrigerator. $75. Call 776-3357.
- PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment Open 12:00 to 6p.m

Phone 537-5020, Og-

Furniture to Buy/Sell

- AA FULL size mattress set. New, never used, still in plastic. Retail price $639. Will sell for $165.
- AA QUEEN size mattress set. New, never used. Still in plastic. Retail price $839, will sell for $195. Queen brass headbaord, (913)379-9858.
- FOR SALE: Matching stuffed couch and chair. Price negotiable. Excellent condition. Call 776-0793.
- KING SIZE mattress set, new, retail $999, sell for $275. (913)379-9858.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles. estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues. - Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

435

- 486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1495. 539-8453.
- DRAFTING AT home. Au tocad RII- with tutorial installation and per former's guide, autolisp programmer's reference, reference manual, never used. $85. never used. 539-3809.

Music Instruments

TEMPO: THE speed at which a musical com-position is to be per-formed; rate of activity; pace. The Music Co.- redefining the music "in-dustry" at 523 S. 17th St., in The Midtown Pla-za. 539–1958.

465 Tickets to Buy/Sell

- STUDENT GA Basketball tickets, CU, MU and KU. Set or separate. Ask Matt 539–1929 best off-
- WANTED: KU vs. KSU bas ketball tickets. Willing to pay! 776-7091. Ask for Natalie.

TRANS-

PORTATION

- Automobiles 1984 PONTIAC Parisienne fully loaded. Good body, tires, new dis-tributor cap, rotor, plugs, wires, timing, oil, air filter. Runs but needs carburetor re built. Bluebook $2500, will take $750 cash. Day: Kathy -532-6492, evenings: 539-1913.
- 1984 VOLVO 240 runs great, must sell $1000 or best offer 776-9381.
- 1989 TOYOTA Corolla GTS. Excellent condition, sunroof, tinted glass, five-speed. Grey paint/ interior. Like new. Call 565-0764. $5000
- BUICK CENTURY, 1985, 94,000 miles autolock rebuilt, good condition. $2900. Call 395-3867.
- LIGHT BROWN 1986 Jetta, five-speed, four-door, air conditioned, new tires and muffler, $1400 or best offer. 539-3809.

Classified Directory

- 145 for Rest Gain
- the Ohn Stan 100. Lund für fein
 - 200
 - 366 EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

- AGO Antiques 486 Compilers AND FORE SPECIAL AND Mark Information

400

- 600 TRAVEL case Pers and Copplex 919 Tour Packs 600 Tolo Tolor 640 Die Tichth
- 819 Automobil 640 Car Pool

500

- TIPS FOR WRITING A
 - buyers are confused by cover and helmet $3000. Or best offer Call Micheal 537-3291.

Motorcycles

1990 YAMAHA FZR600

Good Condition, V&H

exhaust new rear tire

Tour Packages

from $399 from $109 Florida Toll free 1-800-648-4849

VAIL/BEAVER CREEK HILTON HEAD ISLAND 1-800-SUNCHASE FOLL FREE INFORMATION & PERSONS IN NOW SHIT IN MILE OF A http://www.sunchass.com

Break JOIN UNIGLOBE Knowles

Travel for Spring Break in Cancun or Jamaica. Jamaica starting from $439 March 24- 31 1996. Cancun starting from $399 March 22-29, 1996, March 23- 30, 1996. Limited space (800)628-6589.

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Jamaica/ Cancun $399. Or-ganize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710.

SPRING BREAK'S "Hottest Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island, Belize (800)328-7513 http://www.studen-tadvtrav.com Free food and drink package for early sign-

COLLECIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you looking for the classified ads !

been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number

CLASSIFIED AD

'Crazy for You' dazzles audience

Nice show if you can get it - and boy, did Manhattan get "Crazy for You" last night.

George and Ira Gershwin's new musical is everything you could ever ask for: legendary songs, classic plot and dancing so hot a heat wave could be felt blowing out the doors of McCain Auditorium.

A strong cast, led by the multi-talented Noah Racey, led the show through songs like "Shall We Dance?," "I Got Rhythm" and "I Can't Be Bothered Now.

Racey played a New York bankerplayboy, Bobby Child, who is sent by his mother to Deadrock, Nev., to foreclose on a theater but finds love instead. To save the theater and win the girl, Bobby must put on a show.

Throughout "Crazy," Racey is cast into awkward, physical scenes requiring Jimmy Cagney-esque dexterity and a Jerry Lewis wit. In Act II, it took nearly five minutes for a boozedup Racey to descend a staircase. The sell-out McCain crowd roared with laughter at every over-anxious, exaggerated move.

There were no stars in Thursday night's production, however, that outshone the glorious lyrics and score by the Gershwin brothers (with help from others).

George Gershwin's music is simply unmatchable. In the New York scenes, the score teems with brassy, sassy spunk, while in Deadrock, the music slows to a moseying twang.

The show is full of classic stereotypes: the ditzy blond, the haughty, rich mother, the lazy, Western hicks and the sweet-natured heroine, Polly Walker, played by Colleen Hawks. Gershwin's treatment of these characters musically with matching stereotypical melodies is his unique conven-

"Crazy for You" is based on the original Gershwin show "Girl Crazy," although a large majority of the songs were borrowed from other Gershwin shows and movies.

Adding to the punch of the show's remarkable vibrancy was the outrageous choreography. Each number was orchestrated with fine detail, innuendo and wit. And don't even get me started with the costume changes. There were probably four or five costume changes per person - rare in a traveling show.

Prior to the show, McCain had its 25th Anniversary Gala, which attracted such luminaries as Marlin right and not to let the administration influence their decision.

best interests of the students. "I am so furious that we're told that students have contributed so little to the success of athletics at K-State," he in his power to ensure integrity remains within Senate.

Peterson said there are other options to look at besides increased fees that the administration is overlooking. In other business, senators passed bills for a lobbying effort at the Kansas Legislature in Topeka next

Some of the issues senators plan to lobby about include supporting electronic games of chance, open admissions, additional funding of Farrell Library and in-state tuition for mili-

Professor strives to make Manhattan

hot spot for jazz

Love of jazz guides

Using a wealth of experience to impart the love of jazz to students and musicians is the driving force behind K-State's director of jazz

tant professor of music, what jazz means to him, he'd say, "Jazz is my while growing up in Brooklyn, N.J.

likes of J.J. Johnson, the trombonist for the Count Basie Orchestra and motivator," he said. "I was always his junior high school teacher.

musical career, he was bored.

turned on to music."

If you ask Dennis Wilson, assis-

Wilson's passion for music began

Early jazz influences included the

"A good teacher is also a good

However, Wilson said early in his

After graduating from Berklee

College of Music, Mr. Wilson began his professional career with the Lionel Hampton Orchestra as a trombonist, arranger and musical

Then 10 years after first listening to Count Basie Orchestra records, he became the lead/solo trombonist life of Dennis Wilson as a teacher, trombonist

Brent Smitko

► MUSIC

The 1996 KSU Jazz Festival is Saturday in McCain Auditorium. Admission to the daytime events* is free for K-State music students and $5 for the public. The Count Basie Orchestra concert tickets cost $10-20. Here is the schedule of events.

Count Basie Saturday

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

You are Special!

JOIN THE FUN!

February 2 & 3

Fri. & Sat. 10-5:30

7:30 a.m. Registration opens in McCain Auditorium lobby.

■ KSU Jazz combos at "Breakfast Jazz" sponsored by Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma at the McCain Fountain.

Exhibition area open in McCain Auditorium lobby.

First college showcase (featuring Hutchinson Community College) in McCain lobby.

■ Big band clinic "Rehearsal Techniques" featuring Manhattan High School jazz band in McCain 204.

■ Trombone clinic in McCain 201.

Saxophone clinic in McCain 204. Rhythm section clinic in All Faith's Chapel.

■ Trumpet clinic in McCain 105.

Vocal jazz clinic in McCain 135.

■ Count Basie Orchestra open autograph session in K-State Student Union Courtyard.

Second college showcase (featuring KU vocal ensemble) in McCain lobby.

■ Historical lecture series: "Count Basie — The Man" in All Faiths Chapel by Count Basie Orchestra members.

■ Music career seminar in All Faiths Chapel.

... at the COUNTRY GIFT SHOP

Food, Fun, and a Pin

Just For You!

COUNTRY

GIFT SHOP

East of Holidome

2206 Ft. Riley Blvd. 539-3854

Closing awards ceremony in McCain Auditorium.

Rehearsal with selected outstanding student soloists and the Count Basie Orchestra.

8 p.m. III Count Basie Orchestra concert in McCain Auditorium.

*Daytime event-goers will receive a commemorative Jazz Festival/Count Basie Orchestra button.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

knew students whose budgets were so tight they could not pay for books this semester, let alone pay an increase in

"There's a very real chance we could get rolled over in this," LeDoux said.

When asked if the administration would go over Senate's decision on the issue of increased fees, neither Krause nor Max Urick, director of athletics, answered the question directly.

"I thought it was a good exchange," Urick said.

Urick said he wants to extend negotiations between Senate and the administration as long as he can.

He said senators will be sent packets that outline the details of the proposed increase before next week's

Student Body President Jeff Peterson told senators to do what is RESERVED

for your realestate

business

WE WOULD HAVE

EVERYTHING IF WE

HAD YOU!

· Laundry Room in each Bldg.

Nice large 1&2 Bedrooms

Complete Kitchen

Swimming Pool

• Fitness/Weight Room

Fireplace & Balconies

Walking Distance to Park

Excellant Westside Location

Winston Place Apartments

> Close to KSU

> All appliances

> On-site staff

• 24 Hr. Maintenance

· Small Pet s Welcome

LIVAR IA AVIT

Home

He said he hopes to represent the Peterson said he will do everything

"Please, please vote with your heart on this and stand strong," he tary dependent students.

B&L Apartment Management 1228 Westloop Ste. #247

(913) 587-9372

3 bedroom 11/4 Bath House

1026 Bluemont #6

2324 Spain Drive Home is fully equipped

2535 Brockman

hookups NO PETS, 1 year lease

Town House

1 year lease, Pet Depostie $250 $750/month

3 bedroom 13/4 Bath Town

Fully equipped plus washer & dryer

New! 4 bedroom 21/2 Bath

Fully equipped plus washer & dryer hookups NO PETS, 1 year lease

> Park-like setting

> Planned activities

Large closets

420 & 422 Butterfield

NO PETS, 1 year lease

Dogs allowed

House

$700/month

$800/month

Move Up
To The Ultimate Living Experience In Manhattan.

2-BEDROOM APARTMENTS

> Sparkling swimming pools > Garages available

OPEN HOUSES DAILY

Call today

776-1148

THE CURTIN COMPANY

2 Bedroom 3/4 Bath Apartment

Give Your Valentine a COOKIE BOUQUET L.A. Cakes & Cookie Bouquets FREE DELIVERY

ORDER

EARLY

CALL

Send Flowers Steve's

with William "Count" Basie and his trombonist for the Dizzy Gillespie

Big Band and the New Tommy

Dorsey Orchestra. He's received a Grammy Award nomination for arrangements created for Manhattan

Transfer and is serving as the Music

Production Manager for the Count

He also is the lead trombonist for the Carnegie Hall Jazz Band and recently toured South America visiting Argentina, Uruguay, and Buenos

So how do people who have been so successful in their musical career come to a university which isn't necessarily in the hot spot of jazz preva-

"The challenge here to do this

Wilson first came to K-State to

"I'd decided a few months before

"I figured it would be a couple

Wilson, during his second year at do a clinic for the Kansas State Jazz to get back into education and mentioned to let me know if anything years, then they called me like three

K-State, is the organizing force behind the 1996 K-State Jazz

Wilson has been the lead/solo

Orchestra.

Basie Orchestra.

lence?

Festival.

program," he said.

came up," he said.

Festival, Saturday.

months later."

Call 539-6227

FLOWERS FOR ANY OCCASION 302 Poyntz

Karaoke Party!! NO COVER Friday, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. LOTS OF PRIZESI

Straight Shot Classic Rock Band

Featuring Shawn Ward The "Kansas Guitar Slinger" Saturday

NO COVER 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

537-1484 381 30 17th and Ft. Riley Blvd.

ADMISSION TO ALL UPC FILMS IS $1.75

Breakfast at Tiffany's Thursday, Feb 1, 7:00 and 9:30pm

Forum Hall Saturday, Feb 3, 9:30pm Forum Hall

Get Shorty

Forum Hall

The Right Stuff FREE! Sunday, Feb 4, 8:00pm Forum Hall

Apollo 13 FREE!

K-State Student Union

K-State Student Union UPC Kaleidocope Films Co

For more information call the UPC Office at 532-6571

Friday, Feb 2, 7:00 and 9:30pm Saturday, Feb 3, 7:00pm Forum Hall

Monday, Feb 5, 8:00pm Forum Hall

Manhattan

Not just a night spot Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths

FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for FREE NACHOS

Exp. 3/1/96

616 N. 12TH . AGGIEVILLE

St. Luke's Lutheran Church Introduces the start of a new Contemporary Worship Service beginning Feb. 4

330 N. Sunset

539-2604

6 p.m. 7:45-8:45 a.m. 9-9:45 a.m. 10-11 a.m. 11:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Sat. Evening Service Early Service Sun. School Contemporary Service Late Sevice (8:45-11:15 a.m. Fellowship)

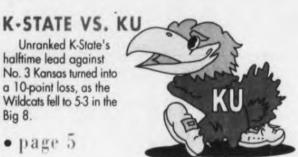

Today: slightly breezy. See weather map, page 2.

inside OPINION • page 4 SPORTS . pages 5 & 6 DIVERSIONS • page 7

MONDAY February 5, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 86

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

UNDERSTANDING THE ATHLETIC FEE

TODAY

► The Collegian editorial board says this is not a time for student apathy and the authority of Student Senate could be challenged. See page 4.

TUESDAY

 Collegian columnist Dan Lewerenz and ICAT President Greg McLean will present opposing views of the students' role in helping fund the athletic department.

WEDNESDAY

▶ The Collegian will present a breakdown of the athletic department's $3.5-million debt and why you should care. We'll also look at possible troubles the athletic department is having with the Internal Revenue Service, Title IX policies and keeping track of departmental funds.

How deep are your pockets?

■ The athletic department is out of money and wants some from students

Sarah Lunday

K-State's Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is walking a tightrope.

It must have a set plan, including funding, to meet Title IX requirements by April - or its rejection from the NCAA is secured.

Athletic Director Max Urick asked for monetary help from the students last week, and the Student Senate Privilege Fee Committee shot him down.

The fears of students and administration are coming to a head - will President Jon Wefald overstep Student Senate's vote and ask the Kansas Board of Regents for an increase in student fees?

"That's my fear," Jeff Peterson, student body president, said.

John Potter, Student Senate chair, said

senators have a reason to be worried. "I'd say right now, people are concerned,"

"They're concerned that this is going to be the first time in student history that the K-State president will go over the heads of students. If they do, that means the student government would be neutered." This Tuesday, Urick and Vice President Bob Krause will meet with six student representatives to negotiate how much the athletic department might be able to raise its student Potter said he sees real value in the negotiations and thinks the athletic department can surely pull money from somewhere without having to ask the students to sacrifice.

"Right now, there are options available: Increase ticket prices and not an increase in student fees.

Mark Tomb, chair of the Student Senate Privilege Fee Committee, said he also sees room for compromise in the athletic depart-

"They can rent instead of buy. There are many ways to generate revenue without having to go to students and ask for a fee," he

Big 8.

"I question to see if other sources of revenue have been fully explored.

Tomb said he is worried about how the students will respond if Wefald goes directly to the regents

"We certainly don't want them to have to go to the Board of Regents, because they've never had to do that, plus they've never seen what students would do if they did that," he

Last year, Wichita State University raised its athletic fee to $3 per credit hour for fulltime students

York Butler, WSU student body president, said the students rallied against the raise.

"The pandora's box busted open, and students went crazy," he said. Wefald said the administration's goal is not to ignore the students' wishes.

'We never have in the 10 years I've been here, and we certainly don't want to do that," Wefald said. "If Title IX did not exist, we would not have felt it was necessary for the additional funds. Leaning against a chair in his office last week, Urick looked discouraged.

"I see no support for athletics," he said. Potter said athletics is not the most important thing K-State has to offer its students. "Most of the people I go to class with don't come here because we have a great football program. It's very nice to have football, but it's just a nice side effect," Potter

Krause said he believes a compromise can be reached by the administration and the stu-

"Either we come together and do something to ensure our position in a major conference, or we all ought to, with our eyes open, understand the day's going to come when we're going to be like a Wichita State,"

Basie band crowns K-State's jazz week

Russell Fortmeyer

t's been a long road since its start in Kansas City, but the Count Basie Orchestra made it to Manhattan Saturday night to knock McCain Auditorium off its rocker.

The concert, definitely not the Basie band's first in Manhattan and hopefully not its last, concluded the K-State Jazz Festival and what had been a week full of jazz-relat-It was only natural to save the best for

Led by conductor Grover Mitchell, the Basie band sounded as dynamic as if the Count himself were still seated at the piano.

Roaring

through standards such as

Band members talk about the kind of man Basie was behind the scenes. See page 8 "All of Me" and

"Kansas City" a must for any repertoire in these parts the orchestra kept the good name of big bands more than intact.

Having some of the most excellent, not to mention loyal (so many of them have been with the band for many years, if not decades), musicians in the business helps.

The entire trumpet section, consisting of Derrick Gardner, Michael P. Williams, Robert Ojeda, and William Barnhart, literally shined with their special brassy tribute to the Count, "Four for Basic." Their ambitiousness and solid sound rendered the microphone useless. This band's level doesn't need amplification.

Kenny Hing, tenor saxophone, glistened in so many numbers it's hard to pin one down. But his sax tooting in "Sweet Georgia Brown" could have melted butter in the bal-

The success of this concert is tribute to Count Basie's vision and genius. It's also a reminder big bands will never die and that a sold-out audience proves we truly love and support jazz, especially locally.

And what a friend do local jazz fans have in Dennis Wilson. The organizer of the jazz festival, and the primary reason the Basie Orchestra graced McCain's stage, Wilson joined the band in the second half of the show to conduct his own composition, 'Graves Groove."

The song was written to honor Gov. Bill Graves, who was not in attendance.

Brad Bryant, a student from Clearwater High School, was selected from the student festival participants to play "Groove" with the band. His lengthy saxophone solo showed great promise and fit smoothly into the sounds of the orchestra - though I'm sure his knees were a bit shaken.

For the finale, the K-State Jazz Ensemble joined the Basie band in a Wilson-arranged take on the Basie staple, "I O'clock Jump."

Written especially for the two bands, the presentation ranks as the best jam session of the year. The spirited energy and the complementary sounds from each band brought the audience to its feet. Having the experience localized made it more rewarding.

As part of the show, a ceremony and plaque presentation to the orchestra was done as part of Graves' proclamation of February 3 as "Count Basie Day."

Near the close of the show, Wilson hinted the Count Basie Orchestra in conjunction with the jazz festival could become an annu-

We'd only be so lucky.

The Count Basie Orchestra sightreads "Graves Groove," dedicated to Gov. Bill Graves, during Saturday's rehearsal in McCain Auditorium.

▶ MEET YOUR DEAN - A SERIES

Results equal achievement to KSU dean

Kristin Hermes

Success isn't hard to define, especially for someone who's been there.

Looking around the office of Donald Rathbone, dean of engineering, with not even enough wall space to hang all the plaques and awards, it isn't difficult to see that he has had a rich taste of success in his 22-1/2 years at K-State.

"I believe that the key to success is to be able to sell your program to all people and work with all people in all categories," he said. "Fortunately, I like people."

Rathbone said his success in the College of Engineering has been based mainly on his dedication to the success of his students.

"I feel a great obligation to the students," he said. "My job is to make sure we make the students successful, both professionally and individually, and to make their experience in our college, and at the University, productive and fulfilling."

Rathbone teaches an honors seminar class to help ensure this success.

"I really enjoy undergraduates because I enjoy getting to know so many outstanding young people, he said. "I think it's a pretty rare case, too, that a dean would teach an undergraduate class but it's just really important to me. Brad Guenther, senior in electrical engineering, has taken his class, and now helps grade for it.

"Dean Rathbone is very concerned about getting the most out of the students," he said. "He's concerned that students get a well-rounded view about

See RATHBONE Page 8

Donald Rathbone

Meet Your

Budget increase proposed for Lafene

In fall 1994 the student health user fee was reduced from $80 to $70 per student. The reduction depleted the $2.4 million reserve. The Privilege Fee Committee will se the second of three options to build up the reserv

▼ Option two would raise the student user fee to $90 per semester in fall 1996 and generate a $3.47 million

Figures in millions of dollars	Current FY budget '96	Option 1 FY '97	FY '98	Option 2 FY '97	PY '98	Option 3	3: FY '98
Il entities health fee requirements	A CONTRACTOR	The second				1000
afene Health Center,	1.87	3.31	3.05	3.13	2.86	2.52	2.56
niversity Counseling Services		.42	.45	.42	.45	.37	.38
thers		.04	.04	.04	.04	.04	.04
not regularements.	2.3	3.8	4.2	3.6	3.4	2.9	. 3.0

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

PRIVILEGE FEE

SGA committee discusses Lafene user-fee options

Heather Hollingsworth

Students with sniffling noses and aching throats may encounter healthcare obstacles if a proposal sent before Student Senate does not pass.

In a middle-of-the-road compromise, the Student Senate Privilege Fee Committee agreed to present a plan to Student Senate which incorporates a $90 user fee per student for Lafene Health Center.

The Student Health Advisory Committee presented three options to the Privilege Fee Committee.

Option one would cost students about $105 per semester, option two would cost students about $90 per semester, and option three would cost students about $80 per semester.

The $90 user fee the Privilege Fee Committee will present before Senate Thursday will be a $20 increase from the fee students are currently paying.

SHAC argued that students want comprehensive care.

• See LAFENE Page 8

In the news

► NOBEL PRIZE-WINNING SCIENTIST TO PRESENT LANDON LECTURE

The 104th Landon Lecture will feature Dr. Harold Varmus, director of the National Institutes of Health, speaking on the NIH, genetics and the future of medicine at 10:30 a.m. today in McCain Auditorium.

"It is an important topic because we are debating the health care bill, which brings up both political and philosophical questions, especially in the effects of AIDS in the United States and around the world," said Charles Reagan, head of the Landon Lecture Committee.

Varmus was awarded the Nobel Prize in physiology/ medicine in 1989 along with his colleague Dr. J. Michael Bishop.

The two scientists were awarded the Nobel Prize for their demonstration that cancer genes can arise from normal cellular genes.

"Dr. Varmus is an accomplished scientist who is very well known. I will enjoy greatly just listening to him," Dr. Donald Roufa, professor of biology,

In recent years, Dr. Varmus' work has focused on AIDS and breast cancer.

Dr. Varmus is the first Nobel Laureate to serve as director of

The National Institutes of Health is one of the world's foremost biomedical research centers, Reagan said.

"Dr. Varmus is assisting the 24 institutes, centers and divisions under his leadership uncover new knowledge that will lead to better health for everyone," Reagan said.

The Landon Lecture Series, formed in 1966, honors the memory of former Gov. Alf Landon, the 1936 Republican candidate for President.

The Landon Lecture Series was created to deal with public issues," Reagan said.

▶ POETRY CONTEST TO HONOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE AS AN ART FORM

Whether you're a closet poet, chronic lyrical exhibitionist, or just metaphorically inclined, your time is running out to enter the first Manhattan Poetry Contest.

The deadline is today. Jonathan Holden, professor of English and contest judge, said the purpose of the contest is to focus on poetry as an art and to expose the works of poetkind.

"The goal of the contest is to create a climate of interest in poetry and to allow people who have written a long time the opportunity to show their art in public," he said.

This contest, as well as the poetry readings held twice a month in the Union Station, reflect this commitment to preserve poetry as something to be studied as an art, not as a historical custom or dead language. There is an attempt to restore appreciation for it, or secure a place for it, within American culture.

Both Holden and student judge Quoc Nguyen, sophomore in journalism and mass communications, said they agree the response has been much greater than their expectations.

"We have received 185

entries," Nguyen said. "We've received poetry from Junction City, Wichita — even Kansas City.'

The success of the contest does signify that poets are not an endangered breed.

There are poets out there. but they have little chance to show it," Nguyen said. "Our goal is for people to be aware that there are poets at K-State and in Manhattan.

"Poetry isn't dead. It's alive, it's living," he said. "The purpose is to make it a little more accessible."

Page Getz

▶ FORTUNE 500 HEIR MAKES A RUN FOR PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDACY

WASHINGTON (AP) - The most dynamic figure in the presidential race is a wealthy outsider who burst upon the scene, rose quickly in the polls and talks incessantly about economic reform.

Shades of 1992? In some respects, Steve Forbes is emerging as a 1996 version of Ross Perot.

While there are some telling differences between the two unorthodox candidates, in many

Burly Computer Solutions

Computer Feelin' a Little Woozy?

We'll Make It BURLY!

140 Moore Hall

·Customized PC's · Repairs

ways the meteoric rise of the Forbes publishing heir has parallels to the Texas billionaire's 1992 run.

Furthermore, Forbes seems to be picking up much of the old Perot vote, at least within the Republican Party.

And, rather than feeling pique at Forbes' surge, Perot said he is hopeful the Forbes phenomenon. will work to his advantage down the road, re-energizing his own base, said those familiar with Perot's thinking.

Perot has said he has no immediate plan to run again. But the reform party he is creating seems custom made for only him.

"Forbes has been able to legitimately portray himself as an outsider. That is the strongest political current in the country. It was in 1992, and I think it is in 1996," said Jim Squires, a former top adviser and spokesman for Perot in 1992.

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3

At 2:21 a.m., an officer responded to a report of a fight at 14th Street and Anderson Avenue. Officer assist and Anderson Avenue. Officer assist ed RCPD in controlling the situation.

Moore 504, reported an incident of

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4

At 4:02 s.m., Judeth M. Horowitz, 319 W. Chestnut, Junction City, was

At 4:48 p.m., Christina Tucket, arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $500.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2

At 3:33 p.m., Daniel Dixon, 822 Kearney St., Apt. B, and Elizabeth Pritz, 3418 Woods were involved in a major-damage, injury accident. Bryan Adams, 501 Houston St., a passenger in Dixon's vehicle, was transported with severe injuries to the head, neck and chest to the Saint Mary Hospital.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3 At 12:19 a.m., Warren A. Moultrie,

540 10th St., Ogden, was arrested for battery against Troy Williams, 1621 Fairchild, Apt. 3. Bond was set at At 12:48 a.m. Juetin D. Johnson

1218 Pomeroy St., Apt. 15, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at At 2:17 a.m., Troy Williams, 1621

Fairchild, Apt. 3, was arrested for bat-tery against Marjorie J. Channel, same address. Bond was set at $300. At 3:14 a.m., Marjorie J. Channel,

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4

At 12:16 a.m., Cherina S. Walker, West 219, was given a notice to appear for unlawful use of a non-dri-

At 12:45 a.m., Jarrod L. Morris 1800 Platt St., Apt. 6, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $500. At 1:43 a.m., Kelly J. Johns, 517

Pritz had a bump on her head and declined treatm At 4:05 p.m., Herman E. Haynie III, 1021 Leavenworth St., Apt. 6, was arrested on warrant for failure to appear and warrant for eight counts

Bond was set at $3 ann

1621 Fairchild, Apt. 3, was arrested for a past battery against Troy Williams, same address. Bond was set at $300.

At 4:19 p.m., Bridgette Tinsley, 3000 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 419, and Jill Fenstermacher, 8 Cory Place, were nvolved in a major-injury accident At 6:07 p.m., Michelle L. Hauck, 5095 Bowan, was involved in a major-damage vehicle accident with a parked and unattended car. Hauck was arrested for DUI. Bond was set Pottawatomie Ave., was arrested for possession of marijuans and amphetamines. Bond was set at

At 4:48 a.m., Nathan J. Nely, 1414 Bond was set at $500.

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

 Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are in deans' offices by Feb. 16. Legislative information day will be Feb. 6 in Topeka. For Infor on participating, please call Michae Wonderlich at 532-7847 or Richard Classified Senate meets at 12:45 p.m. Feb. 7 in Union 206. The world is getting smaller.

Make yours larger. Volunteer to help an international student practice his or her spoken English in the Conversational English Program. Contact Jim Endrizzi at the International Student Center, 532-

m Qian Zhang will give his oral defense of the doctoral disserts at 3 p.m. today in Waters 329.

New Student Services Sur orientation leader applications are

BULLETINS

 Golden Key National Honor Society executive team will meet at 6 tonight in Bluemont 368.

m The honors dinner meeting for Golden Key National Honor Society will meet at 6 tonight in Bluemont

Silver Key Sophomore Leadership Honorary is now accepting applications for the 1996-97 school year. Eligible freshmen can pick up applications in the Student Activities and Social Services Office. Applications are due by 5 p.m. Feb. 16 at the Student Activities and Services offices.

Blue Key Senior Leadersh Honorary is currently accepti applications for the 1996-97 so year. Applications are availab the Dean of Student Life and due at 5 p.m. today.

Student Activities and Social

Services Offices. ■ Chimes Junior Honorary appli cations are available in the Union Student Activities and Social Services Offices, or call 539-2365 cxt. 131. Applications are due by 4 p.m. Feb. 16. KSU Aikido will meet from 7 to tonight at Dance Studio 301. m Christian Science Organiza will meet at 5:45 p.m. today in Danforth Chapel.

KSU Waterski Team will meet at 9 tonight in Union 213.

■ Finance Club will meet at 7 tonight in Union 207. M Human Ecology Council will meet at 5:30 p.m. today in Justin

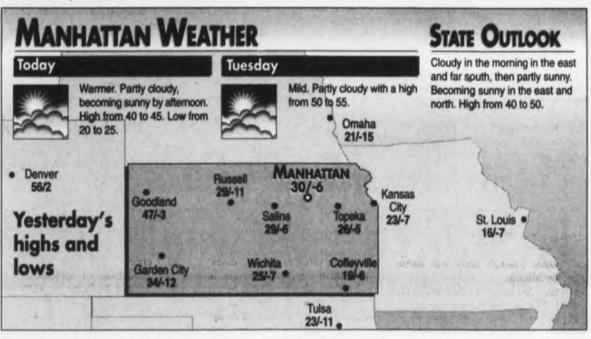

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer.

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167.

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

1/2 Reuben and a cup of soup

Expires 2-23-96 Not good with any other offers

No experience necessary INFORMATIONAL MEETING WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 7 7:30 P.M. UNION 212 FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL:

BRANDON DERKS 537-6278

OR DANNY BLEA 537-9732

MONDAY MANIA BUY ONE PIZZA GET THE SECOND FOR FREE

(equal or lesser value)

Tuesday Special:

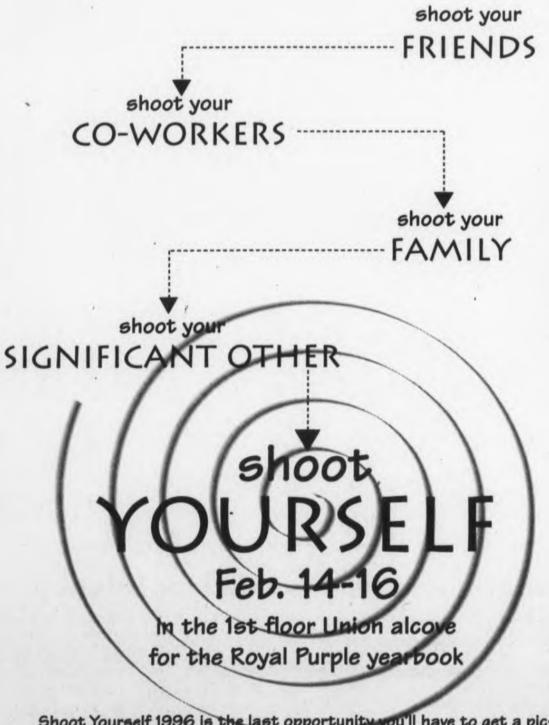

Large 2-Topping Pizza with 64ozs. of Soft Drink $800 tax

TRUE FREE DELIVERY

NOT GOOD WITH ANY OTHER OFFER

12th & Moro AGGIEVILLE

Shoot Yourself 1996 is the last opportunity you'll have to get a picture of you and a group of up to six of your friends in the index of the yearbook. The service is free, but you have the opportunity to purchase color prints of the photos from Blaker Studio Royal.

> Face it, you've spent a lot of time and money at this university. Don't you want something to show for it?

> > Get Into It.

1 fish, 2 fish, pale fish, sick fish

■ Speaker educates students about fish care, aquatic medicine

Dr. Gregory Lewbart examines a biopsy displayed on a television screen during Saturday's wet lab.

STEVE HEBERT

Nikki Prentice

staff reporter

More money is spent on fish than dogs and cats, but only 30 jobs exist in the United States for veterinarians of aquatic medicine, a guest speaker told veterinary students Saturday morning.

Veterinary medicine students learned valuable information about aquatic medicine, fish wildlife and aquatic medicine job opportunities from Dr. Gregory Lewbart, associate professor of aquatic medicine at North Carolina State University.

Lewbart, who was featured in the "News of the Weird," a syndicated column by the Associated Press, for a surgery on a fish in 1993, presented to about 30 veterinary-medicine students case studies of fish with different sicknesses and explained the cause of the sickness and how each was diagnosed.

About 90 percent of all fish-related problems are due to insufficient water from filter implications, food dosages, having too many fish in one aquarium or moving location, Lewbart said.

"Fish get stressed out when they are moved from a river or pond to a pet store or aquarium," Lewbart said. "15 percent of fish survive only 30 days within the home aquarium when moved from pond or river. You can't accurately diagnose the problems unless you actually see the fish and the environment where it lives."

In the United States, there are only about 30 aquatic medicine jobs in existence. These jobs include working at fish farms, zoos and university laboratories, Lewbart said.

Florida has a large aqua culture. Lewbart said Tampa's aqua industry alone is worth $60 million and ships out around 10,000 boxes of tropical fish per week.

One study Lewbart referred to focused on the Carolina Mudcats baseball team mascot. The 5-year-old catfish for the minor league baseball team was named Muddy the Mudcat.

Lewbart said he got a call one day that the fish's fins looked frayed. He said he investigated and found bad water in the aquarium.

He changed half the water one day and half the following day. Muddy lived a couple more days but died of other difficulties, Lewbart said.

Veterinarians have much to offer fish hobbyists and the fish industry because more veterinarians are treating pet fish as a result of Food and Drug Administration crackdowns on pet stores about counter drugs, he said.

Because of this, fish owners are in need of more veterinary services than in the past, Lewbart said.

Dr. Gregory Lewbart, associate professor of aquatic medicine at North Carolina State University, speaks to members of the K-State Exotic Animal Medicine Club during a slide show presentation Saturday morning in Trotter 301.

STEVE HEBERT

As the value of fish increases, so does the value of veterinary services, he said.

Lewbart said he wants veterinary students to believe veterinarians can do fish medicine, and pet fish can be approached and dealt with like any other type of pet.

"I want the students to know that their veterinary education provides them with more tools and foundation they will need to build knowledge of pet fish medicine upon," Lewbart said. Gretchen Guth, sopnomore nary medicine, said she attended the lecture to gain more knowledge about fish

"I'm interested in exotic vet medicine and I never had exposure to aquatic medicine," Guth said. "You can't just go to any local veterinarian clinic and get this experi-

Getting an opportunity to learn about aquatic medicine is pretty rare, since the College of Veterinary Medicine at K-State doesn't focus on aqua culture very often, Dean Elder, junior in veterinary medicine,

"Lots of vet students like to get as much information as possible about various animal backgrounds, so whenever it is available, we take advantage of it," Elder said.

Sabina Ernst, junior in veterinary medicine, said the most interesting part of the presentation was learning to apply basic diagnostic techniques to fish.

Later in the day, Lewbart led a wet lab that included demonstrations about taking fish blood samples and doing autopsy pro-

Susan Crowder (left), sophomore in veterinary medicine, and Jill Krzycki (right), junior in veterinary medicine, look at a biopsy of a gourami, a tropical fresh-water food fish, during a wet lab experiment Saturday afternoon.

STEVE HEBERT

PURCHASE A REGULAR PRICED MENU ITEM & RECEIVE A SECOND MENU ITEM OF EQUAL OR LESSER VALUE FREE.

EXP. 3/1/96

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE

Floyd E. Rogers

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Res: (913) 776-8900

RE/MEX 3230 Kimball Ave. Manhattan, KS 66502

Office: (913) 776-4488 Fax: (913) 776-4977 1-800-232-5726

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home

market analysis.

Penny Alonso

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233 I Can't Believe It's Yogurt!

705 North | 1th - Aggieville 537-1616

50 CENTS OFF!

Dr. Paul E. Bullock

Complete Eye Exam

Optometris

HOURS: 9AM-10PM DAILY IIAM-IOPM SUNDAY

(EXPIRES 3-31-96)

for temporarily or permanently disabled students on campus, building to building. Inquire by calling 532-6441

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

 Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service

·Same day results Call for appointment

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

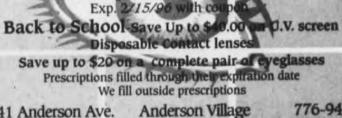

NO coupon needed, "No Coupon" Specials NONE accepted) Everyday Everyday Two-fers Three-fers PIZZAS with - PIZZAS with TOPPINGS each TOPPING each COKES with ice COKES with ice $865

776-5577 Pizza Shuttle This Week's Specials

Tacos 3 for $1.35 reg. 60¢ ea. Chili Burrito $2.05 reg.$2.75 ea. Good through 2-10-96

2809 Claflin

539-2091

776-9461 1441 Anderson Ave. Toll Free 1-800-432-0036 Adjacent to KSU

Diet Cures What Diet Causes

Food Supplements

Special Dietary Foods

Body Building Foods

Natural Foods Appliances

Homeopathies Herbs Hansen Nutrition Center

3112 Anderson Ave. 537-4571

Mon.-Sat. 9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

Books

We're looking for you

The 1996 Royal Purple yearbook is now taking applications for staff writer and staff assistant positions. If you are enthusiastic and want to be a part of an award winning yearbook -We're looking for you.

Applications are available in Kedzie Hall 103. If you have questions call Sarah at 532-6557.

Be a part of it.

COLLEGIANopinion

Don't feed fees to the athletic machine

QUICKread

Voice your opinion on the athletic fee proposal.

■ Student Governing

Association -

532-6541

President Jon

Wefald's office -

532-6221

he K-State Department of Intercollegiate Athletics thinks getting money from students is like taking candy from a baby.

In the past this was true, because we didn't scream or shout. Beginning in 1990, we just handed over the fee lollipop without a word.

In 1990, the fee was set at $10. The athletic department begged Student Senate to establish the fee in order to help it get out of debt. In the 1992-93 school year, the fee was raised to $17, with the money being earmarked for the K-State Marching Band, club sports and general athletics.

Now, the athletic department comes again to Student Senate with the outstretched hand of greed. It thinks it can steamroll us into accepting a raise once again.

The department wants to raise the fee to approximately $34, making the total $68 per year. This money will go toward women's sports, in order to bring the athletic department into compliance with Title IX.

Title IX is an amendment to the 1972 Higher Education Act. It intends to make women's and men's sports programs equal same equipment and supplies, number of sports, coaches, etc.

Well, here's some news - the athletic department has had 24 years to comply with Title IX. Now, the administration is going to whine to us: "Students, we'll get sued if you don't do something and give us the money."

Tough cookies. Nothing was done for 24 years by the administration, and it's not the students' duty to pick up the slack now.

Myview

Hamilton

But please, don't get us wrong.

We are not against women's sports. We think the women athletes should get everything the men receive. And it is true that the department doesn't have the money to treat women athletes equally.

But we don't think the athletic department can handle the money it does have.

For example, most budgets have a category where miscellaneous expenses go. This "other" category is usually one of the smallest areas in a budget.

In 1993-94, the department bud-geted $600,000 for "other" expenses in the business office and actually spent $1.2 million. The category was the second largest in the budget. No one can say where that money went or what it was spent on.

When asked, K-State president Jon Wefald didn't know where the funds went. He passed the buck to Vice President Bob Krause.

The best guess Krause could come up with was sales tax and expenses for the Copper Bowl. But even he didn't know what that money was spent on.

Athletic Director Max Urick said he assumes the money was for the Copper Bowl, but he didn't know for sure.

So, the department that doesn't know where its money is going wants to add more student money to the slush fund. It doesn't think an extra $34 a year is a big sum for students.

"I'm wondering why $34 over a year is a lot of money," Urick, said last week.

Well, Mr. Urick, $34 is a lot of money for students who live from paycheck to paycheck. $34 will pay for an electric bill, buy groceries, or pay for a book.

It's easy for Urick, who makes uccess, recognition and conformity are the bywords of the modern world where everyone seems to crave the anesthetizing security of being identi-

Sound like the theme song for Generation

"Most people, and Christians in particular, are thermometers that record or register the temperature of majority of opinion, not thermostats that transform or regulate the mity were not spoken in this decade by any words of a great leader of a radical move-

"When you are right, you cannot be too period talking about this great man.

I honestly don't know much about him. I know he was black. (Just call me master of the obvious.) I know he was a Baptist minister from the South.

I know he continues, even after his death, to be a great civil rights leader.

rendezvous with chaos, not merely because of human badness, but also

"Modern man is presently having a

These words of wisdom and non-confor-

X? Maybe the lyrics to a Nirvana song?

fied with the majority."

$104,556 per year, to say that $34 is pocket change. It's not so easy for the student.

And it's not easy for Student Senate to justify.

Some senators are outraged the athletic department thinks students can be manipulated.

Good for you, Senate. Make sure the administration knows we won't stand for this.

So, President Wefald and Mr. Urick, please take your empty pockets elsewhere. And that doesn't mean going over our heads and asking the Board of Regents for the fee. We won't pay it.

What that means is going to the Kansas Legislature and asking for the money. And after you are laughed out of the Statehouse, go home, look into your own house and rearrange some furniture.

We don't think the students should go to the poorhouse to pay for your mistakes.

GENERATIONAL

building

Hollywood is Dole's political punching bag

he presidential election hovers like an unwelcome houseguest over our shoulders. We all begin to feel its hot, rancid breath on our necks. No one feels the heat and smells the stink quite as much as Bob Dole. The embattled Kansas senator embodies the Republican hope for a 1996 Clinton defeat, but now he has to deal with encroachments from the smug and toad-like Steve Forbes, as well.

What can a poor Republican do? The usual tactic involves finding an enemy, some individual, group or phenomenon that can't or won't fight back. When handled correctly, it means a guaranteed jump in the polls. For example, we've seen floundering Republican politicians lead us into a war on communism, a war on southeast Asia, a war Iraq. (I only listed those wars where the problem in question seems completely fabricated). And now, we have Dole's war on

It always starts slow. Some of you may have heard Dole criticizing the recent Wesley Snipes-Woody Harrelson-vehicle "Money Train." He did, in fact, declare that it should be taken out of theaters. Now, some people might call this a morally ambiguous movie. The "good guys," although employed as transit police, don't feel constrained to follow the law, especially when it would entail conflict between the two of them. The movie shows how high-level, politically-minded administrators can abuse their power for personal gain. That is certainly not a message high-level, politically-minded candidates would find comforting.

Dole's criticism has nothing to do with any of these things, however. Dole's criticism springs from a copycat crime that occurred a week or two after the movie was released.

The real-life criminal imitated a scene in the film in which a man sprays a flammable liquid into a subway kiosk1 and lights the worker inside on fire.

Dole cites this as evidence of how these awful, morally-degenerate movies coming out of Hollywood teach people to commit crimes.

This makes me laugh. Dole forgets that people generally identify with the good guys in a flick. That's why we call them the good guys. This criminal was a bad guy. His actions were not glamorized by the film, and he did not get away with the crime.

if Dole worries that people who see "Schindler's List" might run out and become Nazis and start shooting Jews?

Anyway, the makers

Train" did not invent the crime in question. On the contrary, the scene was inspired by similar crimes that happened before "Money Train" was made. Dole knows this but must not have felt like telling.

Really, Hollywood has served as the ranging from the religious right to the lively left, not to mention the folks who criticize Hollywood for purely aesthetic reasons.

Lots of people feel traditional Hollywood flicks teach racist and sexist attitudes, and maybe even other unacceptable "-ists."

Republicans often scoff at these sorts of criticisms. So why should we listen to the same kind of criticisms coming from them?

Hollywood and television together represent one of the most powerful cultural forces ever unleashed, and nobody is completely happy with how that power gets used. The left worries this force teaches intolerance and bigotry and sabotages education.

The right worries these "liberal media" teach smarmy liberalism and destroy family

Hollywood, as an over-generalized unit, just wants to make money. So, Hollywood serves as a mighty good target for Dole to go after, kind of like shooting fish in a barrel. And shoot he will. So far, he's blasted "Money Train,"

"Natural Born Killers" and the television show "The Simpsons." I never figured out the reason for that last one. Dole sometimes lacks acceptable levels of coherency. So, whatever target he chooses entertainment value. And what more can you hope for from your politicians, or Hollywood, other than good clean fun?

next, the fallout will probably have some

Jason Hamilton is a senior in English/creative writing and psychology.

In my quest for knowledge, and honestly because it was on sale, I purchased a book, "The Wisdom of Martin Luther King Jr."

This book is made for me. I have a problem reading normal biographies. My attention span is about 10 seconds. Arranged alphabetically, this book is a collection of short stories, quotes and thoughts of and about King.

because of human stupidity."

"In the past, apathy was a moral failure. Today, it is a form of moral and political sui-

Despite our claims of political correctness and racial enlightenment, I still hear complaints about Black History Month.

If I hear one more person ask why we have Black History Month or why we have to celebrate King's birthday, I will scream. There are writers and speakers in the world who are timeless, genderless and unbound by ethnic stereotypes: Confucius, Oscar Wilde, Louisa May Alcott and Mark Twain, to name a few

King is among these.

There are leaders and philosophers in the world who have forever changed the way a people think and affected the great advances of civilizations: Indira Gandhi, Abraham Lincoln and Mother Teresa.

King is among these. He is just one of many black leaders, writers, artists and strong members of the community, both past and present. We set aside this month to celebrate this part of American

Remember when studying any person, when history documents a person, we lose some of the character and disposition of the individual. Every event in life, be it big or small, shapes our personality, ideals and convictions. I have learned some of the small events in King's life that shaped the man recorded in One of the most interesting of these is that

Coretta and Martin Luther King spent their wedding night in a funeral home The two were wed at the home of Coretta's parents and had planned on spending the night in the honeymoon suite in a nearby hotel.

After hours of driving, they were unable to find a hotel with a bridal suite that would accept blacks. They located a friend of Coretta's parents who graciously allowed the newlyweds to spend the night at his place of business. The friend owned the local funeral King's associate, Ralph Abernathy, in his memoirs, tells of King's humor.

"I'm convinced that if he had wanted to be a stand-up comic, he could have been almost as famous in that role."

History is about people, personalities and experiences.

Mary Renee Smith is a freshman in journalism and mass communications.

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

COMPARE OTHER SCHOOLS

There comes a time in everyone's life when you read someone's opinion about something and you are compelled to comment.

After reading last Thursday's column by William Thomas Burdette, I felt that it was entertaining, but nearsighted and somewhat unfair to both Manhattan and K-State students.

I have attended two universities, Oklahoma State University and K-State. I have lived in six states and quite large and some of them not so

I have some news for you: Manhattan is not all that bad.

The crime rate is low, people are generally friendly, and traffic is definitely not a problem (except in the student parking lots). As state colleges go, this is the best by far that I have attended and one of the top three that I have visited. The "snob factor" is low, classes are smaller and the instructors are more accessible. First, all I can say is Burdette has nine cities. Some of the cities were obviously not been around the Oklahoma State campus, or any other campus, for any period of time.

Almost all college students act like college students. We say stupid things. We drink things that anyone with half a brain wouldn't touch. We listen to songs that prattle about "booties" and "geek stink breath." Why do we do these things? Because we are young, and we are supposed to.

College is a time for most to get away and let it all hang out for awhile. This is a one-time experience; it only comes around once. I waited six years to "experience life" before I started college. Maybe that is what Burdette needs to do.

Second, let's talk about the lack of a late-night book store. Burdette, if you think Manhattan needs a latenight bookstore, then start one. But first let me explain why I think there isn't one here, or in any other town where businesses rely on a college campus for revenue. Every day I go to school. Every day I read a text book and attempt to memorize its often less-then-interesting information.

The last thing I want to do with my weekend is spend it in a book store "reading for fun." I can't imagine that a room filled with a bunch of people, noses buried in "The Jungle," would be much of a breeding ground for a social event, either.

My suggestion to Burdette is to start a book club that meets late at night and see what happens. Then, you're not just a complainer but a solution maker.

Face it. If college towns were meant to be the cultural meccas of the world, there probably would be something to complain about. If it is the opera you crave, then I suggest you move to Boston.

There are plenty of things to do here even if you don't care to drink or are under 21. Go to the recreation center, join a club, bowl in the K-State Student Union, catch a movie, hit Bombers (you don't have to drink) and catch up on our "pathetic music scene." So to all disgruntled, professional complainers reading this, I suggest the following: Get a life.

Brad Slade

junior in economics

who has committed.

FRUSTRATED

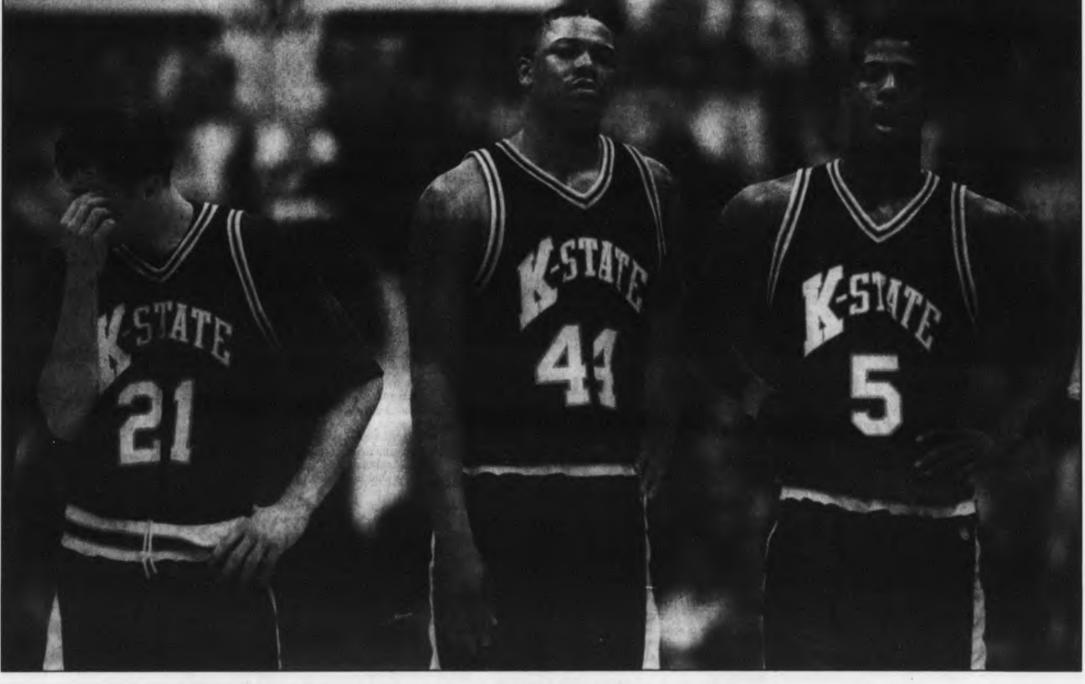

K-State 62, Kansas 72

QUICKread

It was the 233rd Sunflower Showdown, and bragging rights still belong to Kansas as the Wildcats fell to 5-3 in the conference, 14-6 overall No. 3 Kansas improved to 6-0, 18-1.

While watching Kansas' Ryan Robertson shoot free throws after a technical foul, Aaron Swartzendruber, Tyrone Davis, and Mark Young catch their breath at halfcourt during K-State's 62-72 loss to Kansas Sunday afternoon at Allen Fieldhouse.

CARY CONOVER Collegian

Shana Newell

If Saturday's 233rd Sunflower Showdown between K-State and Kansas could have counted for two games, then both teams would have another victory under their belts.

But as it stands, a game consists of 40 minutes, not 20, and Kansas won the battle in Lawrence, 72-62.

"They're a great, great basketball team,"

Coach Tom Asbury said of the Jayhawks. "But it takes 40 minutes of very, very good basketball to beat them. You're not going to play 20 minutes and beat them.' Heading into intermission, the Cats led the Jayhawks, 34-30. With an 11-0 record when they led at halftime, the outcome looked promising for K-State.

Guard Elliot Hatcher led the team at the half with 15 points and four rebounds followed by forward Tyrone Davis with eight points and from the floor and was 8-of-9 from the charity stripe in front of a crowd of 16,300 fans.

Defensively, the Cats were able to contain the Jayhawks' scoring and hold them to a paltry 33 percent field-goal percentage. At the half, the leading Hawk scorers were forwards Raef LaFrentz and Scott Pollard with eight points each. K-State also had 17 defensive rebounds, while Kansas managed only seven offensive boards.

But the halftime break stalled the momentum K-State was sustaining, and the Hawks came out firing on all pistons. Sparked by a pair of buckets by LaFrentz, Kansas tied the game at 34-34 and proceeded to shut down the Cats' offense. LaFrentz went on to score 24 points for the game and pulled in eight rebounds. He also had three steals against the

"I was discouraged when we went into the one rebound. K-State was hitting 52 percent locker room, but I was confident the second remaining, and the Cats ran out of time as two link. half we'd show up and play," Kansas coach Roy Williams said. "There weren't any hellfire or brimstone or win one for the Gipper-style speeches. I didn't kick over any trash cans. I was really calm. We have an intelligent team, and they have the ability to make adjustments and adapt to what we tell them in the locker

> In the two-and-a-half minutes following LaFrentz' tying basket, it was a game of giveand-take between the two teams, but Kansas slowly started pulling away.

With 9:41 remaining, the Jayhawks started their run to put away the Cats. A couple of free throws by Mark Young at the 6:05 mark and a trey by Hatcher with three minutes left in the game were the only highlights in the final minutes for a frustrated K-State team.

Kansas took its biggest lead of the game going ahead of the Cats 58-72 with 1:04

I think we're frustrated,

but we haven't lost any confidence. We need to rebound better.

buckets by Davis and Hatcher brought K-State to within ten.

"We made a lot of mental mistakes. They played great defense. They didn't necessarily dominate the inside, but they played a great defense," Young said.

With 20 K-State turnovers, guard Aaron Swartzendruber, who finished the game with seven points and three rebounds, said K-State needs to improve on eliminating turnovers.

"Credit them. We had to work real hard," Swartzendruber said.

"Perhaps we need to work more on eliminating turnovers. We played hard enough to win. We will keep improving. Size has become a noticeable factor. We are becoming a force

But while turnovers might be an improvement to be made, Asbury said he blamed the Cats' lack of offensive rebounds as the missing

"What really hurt us was the rebounds," Asbury said.

"I have to give them credit because they work the boards very well. They are a very, very good defensive team. They are not the No. 3 team in the nation for nothing.

Hatcher, who played all 40 minutes for the first time in his career, finished the game with 30 points, three steals and a career-high nine rebounds. He was 3-of-8 from three-point

Davis shot 6-of-14 from the field and ended the outing with 14 points and seven rebounds.

With his two blocked shots against the Hawks, K-State's forward Gerald Eaker broke the single-season record of 45 set by Les Craft in 1981-1982.

K-State returns to Bramlage Coliseum for a battle with the Colorado Buffaloes at 7:05 p.m

Driving past Kansas' Jerod Haase, Elliot Hatcher looks for an open teammate. Hatcher had 30 points and a career-high nine rebounds.

Loss makes performance seem sub-par

 With 30 points and 9 rebounds, senior guard Elliot Hatcher wanted more. He simply wanted a win.

Shana Newell

Three more points and it would have been a career-high day for senior guard Elliot Hatcher.

But even with his statistics against Kansas, he still wasn't happy. "It doesn't matter what kind of game I had," he said. "We lost." In Sunday's loss to the Jayhawks, Elliot Hatcher was perhaps one of K-State's bright

"Elliot had a nice game for us," Coach

Tom Asbury said. "I was proud of what he did out there.'

With 30 points, three steals and three assists, Hatcher was still able to set a career-high with nine rebounds.

But those rebounds were not necessarily on account of his talent as much as they were because forwards Gerald Eaker and Tyrone Davis were kept on a tight leash inside.

Between the two, Eaker and Davis combined for only 6-of-16 from the field and eight rebounds. "I took a lot of shots. I can't win the game on my own, and they took away Tyrone and Gerald," Hatcher shots.

Hatcher said the Kansas defense deserves much of the credit for closing down the inside and forcing him to take his

> "They pressured the passes really well. I had trouble getting the ball inside and had six turnovers," he

For the first time in his career, Hatcher didn't ride the bench

Having played all 40 minutes, he was definitely a presence on the court, and one with which

Kansas had to deal It was the first time a K-State perimeter player reached the 30-mark against the Hawks in Lawrence since Mitch Richmond scored 35.

In three previous games against Kansas, Hatcher averaged 12 points per game.

Even with the loss, Hatcher said the team has stumbled but not fallen. "I think we're frustrated, but we haven't lost any confidence," he said.

And what was it like to play oneon-one with nationally touted guard Jacque Vaughn?

"We need to rebound better."

"He's Jacque Vaughn, and I'm Elliot Hatcher. We're just two guys on a basketball court," Hatcher said.

"When I look at him, I just see somebody trying to stop me, and I'm going to try to stop him. I don't see a Hatcher helped the Cats hold Vaughn to a mere six points, shooting 2-of-6 from the field. Vaughn, who leads the Hawks with steals, was able to snatch the ball only twice.

More impressed with forward Raef LaFrentz, Hatcher said he hadn't expected what he found in Lawrence.

"I knew he was a good player, but I didn't think he was as good as he was today."

(en State		5	30	ın	1e	at a Kansas	-	and	се		-	?
Name	FQ	FT	R	A	TO	PF	TP	Name	FO	FT	R	A	TO	PF	TI
Davis	6-14	2-2	7	1	2	4	14	Pierce	6-14	1-6	6	11	3	(1)	14
Young	2.5	2-4	8	0	5	5	6	LaFrentz	7-15	10-13	- 8	2	1	.3	24
Eaker	0-2	0-0	1.1	1	1	4	0	Rollard	4-7	2-2	6	0	3	3	10
May	1-3	0.0	3	0	2	1	2	Haase	1.7	3-4	7	3	4	0	5
Hatcher	10-23	7-9	. 9	3	6	2	30	Vaughn	2-6	1-2	ΠA	2	2	140	- 6
Rhodes	1-1	0-0	2	0	0	2	3	Williams	2-3	0-0	. 6	0	1	0	4
Swartzendruber	3-8	0-1	3	0	2	1	7	Thomas	2-8	0-0	224	2	2	4	6
Williams	0-0	0-2	1	0	0	1	0	Pearson	0-2	0-0	0	0	0	0	0
Dies	0-1	0-0	0	0	T.	1	0	Pugh	0-1	2-2	O.Y.	0	0	0	. 2
TEAM			3		1			Rayford	0-0	0-1	0	2	0	1	0
TOTALS	23-57	11-18	37	5	20	21	62	Robertson	0-0	1-2	2	0	1	1	-
								TOTALS	24-60	20-32	44	12	17	17	72

2nd half rally not enough, Cats dominate meet K-State falls to Buffs, 54-50

Trevor Grimm

Colorado may be known as a winter vacation spot, but Sunflower State visitors might not be welcome much longer if the Colorado women's basketball team has anything to say about

Two days after the Buffaloes had their 29-game Big 8 home win streak snapped by the Kansas Jayhawks, the Buffs needed a second-half rally to pull out a 54-50 win over the Wildcats Sunday.

But the Buffaloes and the 4,214 fans on hand at the Coors Events Center knew they had been in for a

If not for a huge edge on free throws, Colorado likely would have faced a weekend sweep at the hands

Women's game at a glance

Colorado

The Buffs went to the charity stripe 21 times, making 17, while K-State shot just three free throws, mak-

Colorado, which hasn't lost to the Cats since the decade was 13 days old, needed that advantage. K-State held the Buffs to 18-of-55 (32.7 percent) shooting, while the Cats went 23-of-56 (41.1 percent) from the field.

'We improved on (our shooting)," K-State coach Brian Agler said after the game on the Brian Agler Post-Game Show.

"We usually do shoot the ball halfway decent up here."

The Cats also controlled the boards, out-rebounding Colorado 41-32. But nothing was enough to overcome the free-throw difference.

The Cats led most of the way,

2-2 6 5 1 2 8 3-4 4 0 1 1 7

5-7 1-1 2 0 2 3 12 1-7 3-5 4 3 0 1 5

0-3 0-0 3 0 3 0 0 1-3 2-2 4 1 0 0 4

holding a 26-22 lead at the half, but let Colorado take control behind a 9-0 run midway through the second half.

With the Cats leading 37-32, Aleksandra Slokar and Erin Scholz cut the K-State lead to one with a pair of inside baskets. DeCelle Thomas put Colorado up for good on the next possession when she converted a steal into a layup, giving the Buffaloes a 38-37 lead.

"We competed hard, and we did a lot of things to win the basketball game," Agler said. "We have just got to develop some mental toughness for when we go on the road or against good teams at home to overcome some of the obstacles. A lot of the obstacles right now are within our-

Carrie Ragar eventually snapped the run with less than nine minutes to go, cutting the lead to 41-39, but Colorado had too much for K-State.

After falling behind 51-46 late in the game, the Cats cut the lead to two on a Brit Jacobson bucket in the final 15 seconds, but a pair of free throws by LaShena Graham iced the game for the Buffs.

Jacobson paced the Cats with 15, while Andria Jones added 11 points and 13 rebounds. Carlene Mitchell scored 10 in the first half but was held scoreless in the second half.

Erin Scholz, who scored her 1,000th career point Sunday, led all scorers with 16, while Slokar added 12 for the Buffaloes.

Source: Kansas State University Stat Crew

Decker

Jacobsor

Mitchell

Larson

Johnson

TEAM

New format produces 1st season win, Wildcats defeat Creighton Blue Jays

We were just making a lot of mistakes at very crucial times. I feel that I really didn't play as well

KAREN NICHOLSON

K-STATE DOUBLES

as I could have.

TOTALS 18-55 17-21 32 13 18 11 54

BLOCKED SHOTS, Colorado 4 (Scott 3, Terry 1)

The K-State women's tennis team took to the courts for the second time of spring play on Saturday at Cottonwood Racquet Club. The Wildcats rebounded from last week's loss to serve up a victory against Creighton University.

7-13 1-1 8 2 3 2 15 Palmer 2-5 0-0 1 1 4 5 4 Slokar

4-9 0-0 6 3 1 1 10 Grahar 0-0 0-0 0 0 0 0 0 Felts

23-56 2-3 41 14 22 21 50

3-POINTERS, Colorado 1-10 (Thomas 0-1, Palmer

K-State 2-8 (Decker 0-2, Jones 0-1, Mitchell 2-5)

The scoring of the match was not a typical scoring for-

The two teams participated in dual match scoring. In this format, a doubles team receives one point if it wins the majority of the match. The doubles play is played in an eight-game pro-set.

In singles competition, each singles match victory is worth a point.

Saturday, K-State took two out of three from Creighton in doubles play. This earned

In singles, the Cats won all six matches, earning them six points. The final score: K-State 7, Creighton 0.

The only loss of the day for the Cats was in No. 1 doubles, where Yana Dorodnova and Karen Nicholson were defeated 7-4. Dorodnova and Nicholson started off in the hole early, trailing 3-0.

They battled back to 2-4. During the seventh game, Dorodnova and Nicholson battled to a couple of game points but couldn't put the Blue Jays away at the crucial points.

"In the doubles loss, we were just making a lot of mistakes at very crucial times," Nicholson said.

"I feel that I really didn't play as well as I could have." Despite the No. I doubles team loss, tennis coach Steve Bietau said he saw improvements in doubles.

'There was definitely some improvements from last week's action," Bietau said. "I was particularly impressed with the play of our No. 2 and No. 3 teams."

Playing at the No. 2 spot for the Cats was Karina Kuregian and Lena Piliptchak. They blew past Traci Miller and Kristen Baird of Creighton 7-1. In the No. 3 spot for the Cats was Yasmine Osborn and Nikki Lagerstrom.

They easily defeated the team of Holly Bluml and Jodi

At the No. 1 slot in singles for the Cats was Dorodnova. She smashed Traci Miller of Creighton, 6-0, 6-0. Dorodnova controlled all aspects of the match, hitting continuous winners from the baseline.

"I just wanted to control the points, put some pressure on her and not let her dictate any of the game," Dorodnova

Although Dorodnova was easily winning, one couldn't tell from her expressions. Occasionally, spectators would see a pat on the thigh, but that was it.

'That's not my character at all, I just try to control my emotions during a match so I have more control over the game," Dorodnova said.

The closest match of the day came at the No. 3 singles slot, where Lagerstrom took on Jean Lilly of Creighton. In the first set of the match, Lagerstrom was down 4-5 and 5-6. In both games she overcame set points against her to finally win the set 7-6. Lagerstrom went on to win the second set 6-4 and take the match.

Bietau had mixed emotions on the

"She (Lagerstrom) cut her margins a little thin and took a lot of risks," Bietau said. "Those risks ended up costing her some games. But she did a great job of fighting through it. I'm always pleased to see our players keep on In other singles action, K-State netter Piliptchak fought through a tight first set and eventually beat Leslie Whitney of Creighton 7-5, 6-0. At the No. 3 spot in singles, Nicholson took to the court only a couple of seconds after her doubles defeat to blow by Baird of Creighton 6-2, 6-4. "I used the doubles loss as a motivating factor in singles," Nicholson said. "I was really mad after the doubles loss, and I just wanted to come out and play good." And at the No. 5 and No. 6 spot for the Cats, it was Osborn and Chris Schulte gaining victories. Osborn defeated Jodi Faugeron of Creighton 6-3, 6-2. Schulte defeated Holly Bluml of Creighton 6-2, 7-5.

COOKIE BOUQUETS A Unique Valentine Idea! 🦫 L.A. Cakes & Cookie Bouquets CALL 776-877.

Call 539-6227

ANY OCCASION 302 Poyntz FLOWERS FOR

Birthright of Manhattan Pregnant?

Confidential Pregnancy Tests and Services FREE

"We Care About You" Evening Hours: Wed. 6:30 - 8 p.m.

532 S. 17th 537-9180 or 1-800-550-4900

· No Basic Training

Earn as much as $218.88 a weekend!! CALL TODAY: 913-537-4108 Kansas Army National Guard

WANTED

Prior Service

Veterans

· Continue Working Toward your Military Retirement

Courtney Marshall

The men's and women's track squads ran away from the competition this weekend during the KSU Septathlon/ Pentathlon and the KSU Invitational at Ahearn Field House.

The women soundly beat out Oklahoma State while the men just fell short of beating Southwest Missouri State.

Sophomore Matt Jeffrey placed third in the septathlon Friday. Junior Ken Dennard placed fifth in the sep-

K-State did not have any women competing in the pentathlon.

Renetta Seiler, freshman, and Kirsten Schultz, senior, both were NCAA qualifiers in the women's weight throw.

Ashlie Kinton, sophomore, placed first in the women's 3,000meter run.

"It's the first time I've run the 3,000 so I wasn't real sure what I really wanted to do," Kinton said. "I just went out and relaxed, and I felt really relaxed. The season is going really well," she said. "It's going really fast. We're almost to Big 8, and it seems like it just started."

On the men's side, senior Itai Margalit was an NCAA provisional qualifier in the men's high jump again this weekend.

Margalit also was a provisional qualifier in the high jump last weekend at the Kansas/K-State/Missouri The men's squad had three competitors place in the 800-meter run. Scott Galas, sophomore, came in A meet record was set by 1,000-meter run. Chris May, sophomore, came in a close second in the 1,000-meter run. Overall, the coaches said they were happy with the performances. "I think from the races I've seen, I think we've done really well," track (personal record) today. "Scott Galas had a great race in the 800 and a big PR for him and the

DARREN WHITLEY/Collegian

Oklahoma State's Jon Wild in the Vaulting his way to a third place finish in the KSU Septathlon this weekend was sophomore Matt Jeffrey.

coach Steve Bietau said. "I know in the distance side, everybody's PR'd girls in the 1,000 ran three of the fastest times in the Big 8. So, overall it's been a great meet as we're tuning up for next week's big meet at Denver topples Chicago, 105-99 Nuggets end Bulls win streak

Associated Press

DENVER - Not even Michael Jordan and the Chicago Bulls could escape from this one. But the NBA's mightiest team down by 31 points in the second quarter - came tantalizingly close.

Not close enough, however, to prevent a 105-99 loss to the Denver Nuggets on Sunday night that ended the Bulls' 18-game winning streak.

Playing two nights after winning their showdown with Magic Johnson and the Los Angeles Lakers, the Bulls recovered from a 25-point deficit at the half to pull ahead in the fourth Leading the surge was Jordan, who had 22 points in the third period and 39 for the game. But it was not enough to stop the Bulls, who had been off to the best start in NBA history, from dropping to 41-4.

The loss ended Chicago's franchise-record winning streak and was the team's first since a 103-97 loss at Indiana on Dec. 26. It also snapped the Bulls' team-record nine-game road winning streak.

Golden Key

National Honor Society

Congratulates the nominees for the 1995--96

Outstanding Graduate Teaching Assistant Award

at Kansas State University

K-State students appreciate the outstanding efforts and contributions of these graduate students in their teaching roles.

The K-State Chapter of Golden Key exists to recognize academic excellence, enrich the Collegiate experience of our members, and positively impact our community.

Denver (19-26) is the first sub-.500 team to beat the Bulls this year. Chicago's other losses this year, all on the road, were to Indiana, Orlando and Jordan hit his fourth 3-pointer of the game with 2:30 left, and his two free throws 41 seconds later drew Chicago to 101-99. But the Nuggets scored the final four points of the game to win their 800th NBA game. Abdul-Rauf finished with 32 points, 23 in the first half, and Dikembe Mutombo had 10 points and 17 rebounds. The Nuggets scored a season-high 68 points in the first half and used scoring runs of 21-4 and 15-6 to lead 68-43 at halftime.

Abdul-Rauf led the charge, hitting of 15 first-half shots, and the Nuggets were 79 percent from the floor after Antonio McDyess hit a 12foot shot gliding across the lane.

As hot as the Nuggets were in the first half, the Bulls were not. A 49 percent shooting team entering the game, Chicago made just 29 percent from the field in the first quarter and were at 32 percent by halftime.

Harry John

Education

Dept. of Economics

Dept. of Secondary

Dept. of Geography

Dept. of Agronomy

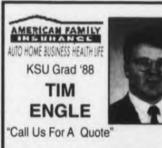

Margaret Bolick

Nancy Leathers

Lance Gibson

Denver shot 53 percent from the floor for the game to become only the second team in 27 games to shoot better than .500 against the Bulls.

In one of their best quarters of the season, the Nuggets hit 13 of 19 shots (68 percent) in the first period and held Jordan to three points to open up a 34-20 lead.

3258 Kimball Ave. 537-4661 Manhattan, Ks.

Richard Zajac · Hold the Same Rank that you had when you got out up to E-6 Dept. of Physics · Continue Serving America - Kansas - Your Local Community Doug Peterson Dept. of Christine Motley Dept. Of Family Studies & Human Services Amanda Lee Dept. of Clothing, Textles Interior Design

ZZZZZ.

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

► CROSSWORD by Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 42 Runs 23 See 37 Lemieux 1 Comes-47 Faction 7 Breathed Across tibles 48 Get the 25 It's at the 8 Dog-5 Round better of trainer of end of Table 49 Symbol the line note address 26 Green 9 Infinitesiof sorrow 8 Shoulder 50 Culinary mal bit acres enhancejobs for 10 Senate 27 McNally's ments pvts. leader partner 12 House 51 Vacation-29 Has no 11 Sur-14 On passed 55 alternative DOWN 15 Pacts 13 Harrow's 31 Has 16 Field 1 Dieter's rival some mouse's no-no 19 Brewery alternative cousin 2 "- House" products 33 Stumble 17 Burst (song) 20 One of 34 Canal 18 Picked up 3 Pindaric Sennett's zone stealthily 36 Jam inwork squad 20 Actress 4 Seat 21 Cupid's gredients Allen 37 Into the cover? specialty 23 Venus 5 Quick cut 22 Assesssunset 6 Milieu for 38 Enter-24 Mr. Sharif tainer 25 Endlessly Solution time: 25 min. Adams 28 Cauldron 39 Verdi 29 Explosive opera devices 40 "West 30 Lamb's dad Side 32 Just Story" said no 34 - colada 43 Litter 35 Wan member 36 Halloween 44 Witbooty nessed, a 37 Affluence la Tweety 40 Calendar 45 Mound Yesterday's answer stat. 41 Redact 2-5 46 Pigs' digs 15 ED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

IXUR WBBM RXBBM CR MBIR

M T B C R Q G B J V U I .

Saturday's Cryptoquip: PLACARD SALIENTLY
DISPLAYED ON ZANY ZOOKEEPER'S DESK: CRITTER

Today's Cryptoquip clue: M equals P

MUSIC LECTURE

Band shares memories, influence of Basie genius

Courtney Marshall

The smooth, swingin' sounds of jazz live on through the Count Basie

On Saturday, Feb. 3, K-State held its annual Jazz Festival which featured performances from area high school

Members of the Count Basie Orchestra performed a concert Saturday night.

A panel discussion about William "Count" Basie, was held at 2:30 p.m. in All Faiths Chapel. The discussion was sponsored by the Black Faculty Alliance of K-State.

BLOODLINES

I HAD A GOOD TIME

TONIGHT, CONSIDERING.

FOXTROT

DOOG AND BLAIR

BLAIR!

MR. INVADER

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

MMMMan

CCCCCOld

The orchestral institution Basie founded in 1935 continues to thrive. Basie died in April 1984.

A Red Band, N.J. native, Basie worked briefly on the national vaudeville circuit. Several members of the band spoke about the kind of man Basie was behind the scenes. "Most people know him as a musical genius, but he was also an interpersonal genius," said Aaron A. Woodward III, president and chief executive officer.

Many of the players looked to Basie as a father-figure.

My nose hairs are frozen together.

"He was like a father-figure to me. He treated me like a son. He fired me twice and brought me back twice and forgave me," John Williams, trumpet,

quessing

YOU MIND IF I

YOUR DAUGHTER

GOOD NIGHT?

Basie took care of his players and treated them like family.

"He was a born leader. He was a man that didn't want to be but was. He liked things right but he was not a dictator. He was a prince; you couldn't help but love him. He was just a beautiful, beautiful brother," Kenny Hing, tenor saxophone, said. Basie had a way with the music. He could read the crowd and he always seemed to know the exact tempo to play the music.

Basie could psych out everyone in the band. He could associate with people of all kinds and could establish some kind of report, William H. Hughes, trombone, said.

"I tried to pattern myself after him. If I had my life to do over again, I would choose the same paths," Hughes said.

Several students listened as the band members shared their memories and experiences of Basie and what he meant to them.

Auditioners show skilled footwork, creative routines

Portia Sisco staff writer

by Bill Amend

by Mark Ilich

by Justin Stahlman

by Matt Hawkins

by Kristian Kelley

SAY GOOD NIGHT

SARAH.

I'VE REALLY GOT TO STOP NODDING OFF

IN ART CLASS.

Five males and almost forty females stripped down to their leotards as part of the open auditions for SpringDance '96, a dance program choreographed and performed by K-State faculty and dancers.

"You will have a variety of styles tonight, and every-one will have their preference," Luke Kahlich, head of the dance department, said.

"It's more about movement," he said.

Dancers started with routine warm-up movements, led by dance instructor Joyce Yagerline. Vera Orlock, dance instructor, led the dancers through a twisting, stretching, floor-friendly exercise. Janusz Jaworski, senior in education and speech, was one of five males to audition. Jaworski suffered a wrist injury during WinterDance '95. 'That's when it first started acting up," he said.

Jaworski was not the only dancer with an injury at the audition. One female dancer fell during an activity using giant balls. Another student found an icepack for the fallen dancer, who sat out for the rest of the audition. "Just perform your guts out," Kahlich said.

A few of the dancers used broad and stylized movements, changing the routines they were taught in eyecatching ways.

Three different activities were performed using giant, air-filled balls. Students were allowed to show their creativity and skill with props by inventing original ways to move the balls across the floor, using their bodies.

Yagerline invited the dancers to retrieve their dance shoes for a more traditional part of the audition. Dancers performed a short ballet pattern, focusing on jumping and elaborate footwork.

The final section of the audition was conducted by Kahlich. His audition routines gave a short glimpse of two 'original modern pieces choreographed for SpringDance '95.

The first was a jazzy ball change number with attitude. It picked up the beat and energized the atmosphere of the room, giving the dancers a chance to loosen up and show some modern technique. The hard beat left the dancers smiling and panting.

Classical dancers were betrayed by their training in the next piece. Taught from a young age to point their toes, dancers had to adjust to the modern flat-footed heel kick Kahlich taught for the routine. Gymnastics including cartwheels and fake falls were some of the dynamic steps Kahlich chose. The cast list was posted at 2 p.m. Friday. The dancers' skill is not the only basis for casting. There are schedules that the instructors have to work around. Sometimes this makes the difference between who is cast for each role. Open auditions also bring new faces into the dance

"It's nice to see new people," Jaworski said. "When you're in the dance department, sometimes you only see ther people in the dance department. Melanie Furjanic, freshman in theater, performed in WinterDance '95 last fall.

"This is the second time I have auditioned. This time I knew what to expect," Furjanic said.

The turnout for male dancers was small, with only five men auditioning, but this is not unusual "Always we want more men," Kahlich said. "It was a good turnout."

"I didn't come in here knowing anything and now I kinda just have a feeling about what he was and the history of the band," David Harrison, junior in mechanical engineering, with Basie's leadership abilities.

Some students were impressed

"I think it was incredible how some one could have such a positive effect on so many people and also be a great leader without being a dictator or being such an easy-going leader without proving you're a leader all the time," Donnyves Laroque, freshman in music education, said.

Manhattan Athletic Club

700 Rosencutter Rd.

776-6622

Join us for only $85 a semester (student special)

Limited memberships available Offer expires February 15

HAIRCUTS 1/2 OFF

New Stylists

New Clients Only

NAIL PACKET SPECIAL

Full Set with 2 fills 40 • 3 fills for '30 offer ends 2-29-96

Your image is our reputation.

Drink Specials!!! Sunday thru Thursday

$1.00 Wells

$1.50 Bottles

$1.75 23 oz. Big Beers

Plus

8 pool tables

6 dart boards

9 T.V.s • Keno • Air Hockey

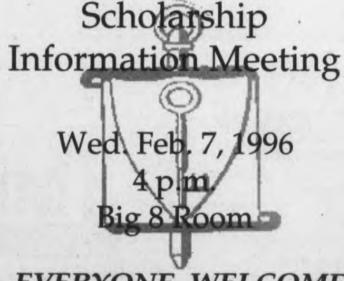

537-1484

17th and Fort Riley

Golden Key National Honor Society

EVERYONE WELCOME

Learn about: Truman, Marshall, Rhodes, Rotary and many more scholarships.

JAZZ MUSIC

Festival honors Basie's memory, talent

Courtney Marshall

he smooth, swingin' sounds of jazz live on through the Count Basie Orchestra.

On Saturday, K-State had its annual Jazz Festival, which featured performances from area high school bands, as well as the world-famous Count Basie Orchestra

A panel discussion about Count Basie, the man, was at 2:30 p.m. in All Faiths Chapel. The discussion was sponsored by the Black Faculty Alliance of K-State.

Several members of the band spoke about the kind of man Basie was behind the scenes.

"Most people know him as a musical genius, but he was also an interpersonal genius," said Aaron A. Woodward III, president and chief executive

Many of the players looked to Basie as a father figure.

"He was like a father figure to me. He treated me like a son. He fired me twice and brought me back twice and forgave me," John Williams, trumpet player, said.

Basic took care of his players and treated them like family.

"He was a born leader. He was a man that didn't want to be but was. He liked things right, but he was not a dictator. He was a prince; you couldn't help but love him. He was just a beautiful, beautiful brother," Kenny Hing, tenor saxophone player, said.

DARREN WHITLEY/Collegian

Musicians Kenny Hing, tenor sax, and John Williams, baritone sax, visit while waiting for autograph seekers during Count Basie Jazz Day in the K-State Student Union atrium.

Basie could psych out everyone in the band William H. Hughes, trom-

He could associate with people of all kinds and could establish some kind of rapport, "I tried to pattern myself after him, he said.

If I had my life to do over again, I would choose the same paths," Hughes

Several students listened as the band members shared their experiences of Basie and what he meant to them.

"I didn't come in here knowing anything, and now I kinda just have a feeling about what he was and the history of the band," David Harrison, junior in mechanical engineering, said.

Some students were impressed with Basie's leadership abilities.

"I think it was incredible how some one could have such a positive effect on so many people and also be a great leader without being a dictator or being such an easy-going leader without proving you're a leader all the time," Donnyves Laroque, freshman in music education, said.

miss having it.'

J. Scot Bucholz

Clean-up is underway on the north

"The maintenance crew is still and east sides of Willard Hall, which was severely damaged last Wednes-knocking themselves out mopping, steam-cleaning floors and cleaning surfaces," said Anna Holcombe, head

Holcombe said the clean-up pro-

"Dehumidifiers are still going to

The Department of Biochemistry

Although estimates of the dam-is cleaning up its library, its main of-age have not been calculated, Tom

Roche, head of the Department of Biochemistry, said the department's have a copier in the department,"

Roche said. "And we are going to Roche said the copier was being

"This was the first time for us to day when a water line burst.

of the art department.

cess is going to be horrible.

dry things out," she said.

fice and its laboratories.

big loss was a new copier.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

The committee conducted a three-day survey during the month of October, which asked students questions about the type of care they were receiving at

About 1,500 Lafene users were given a survey, and about 400 people returned the survey. Of those 400 people, 72 percent said they would rather pay up front rather than be charged per of-

The committee also argued that the service was well utilized. During the 1994-1995 school year, there were about 76,655 visits to Lafene, which amounted to about 65 percent of the student body.

A combination of factors resulted in a $2.4-million reserve, but when the user fee was reduced to $70 in the fall of 1994, the reserve rapidly depleted.

"The $70 that students are paying now is a gift from students in the past,' rented and is unsure who will cover unit, and neither is our department," were the chemistry laboratories lo-age to his laboratories, his office and computers," he said. "Dr. Hedgcoth throwing out the damaged materials," he said. "The lab is in total dis-

Some ceiling tiles have been re-

"We are just trying to get the wa-array with the drawers drying out."

placed in his office, Hedgcoth said.

had several items destroyed."

ing up going on.

visible," he said.

ter out of stuff," he said.

coth said.

cated in the basement of Willard.

"Arts and Sciences is not a rich

Roche said his other concerns

"Dr. Hedgcoth had extensive dam-

Clean-up continues

inside Willard Hall

the loss.

he said.

in danger of shutting its doors, said Lannie Zweimiller, director of Lafene.

At the time, students were paying

Sensing the need for more funding, per semester in fall 1989 and $80 in Zweimiller took over as the director of Lafene during this time of change.

and create a windfall," Zweimiller said. In addition to the increased user fee, Senate created a mandatory part-time fee of $25. Also enrollment and utilization increased during this period, Zweimiller said. If Lafene had received $80 per semester from students, the fee would Hedgcoth said it will take three or four days before things are back to

"It is just a loss of time for everybody," he said. "And at this point there is no way to stop corrosion." Holcombe said she is getting a lot of support from other departments around campus

"Dr. (Carol) Oukrop, from the journalism department, called me and said we could use their computers," Holcombe said. "And there was others who also offered to help in any way they could."

Plumbers from facilities and maintenance were working late on Wednesday with relocating the pipe, Holcombe said.

"And I was assured this would never happen again," she said.

Charlie Hedgcoth Jr., professor of By the end of this week, Holcombe said she expects to have an biochemistry, said there is still cleanestimate on all the damage to the art department. 'We are pulling out drawers and

"When you have weather like this, coils and pipes freeze up," said Ed Rice, assistant vice president of physical facilities.

And as cold as it has been, if there is a drip in the steam, that is enough

"And there are still water stains to freeze it, Rice said. "You have got to remember these Students' projects have been af-are mechanical systems," he said. fected by the clean-up process, Hedg-

They are just like the ones in your cars, he said.

"Things can go wrong," Rice said.

RATHBONE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

their responsibility to society as engineers.

Rathbone said he believes that the engineering college give its students such an experience.

"Because of the closer ties engineering naturally has with industry and technology," he said, "it's important that our college be a good citizen to the state and the nation.

"We work very hard at interacting with industry so that we can develop awareness among industries about what we offer, and at the same time, we can educate our students about what industry is offering them," he said.

Rathbone also dedicates himself to students outside of class. "I want students to know who I am," he said.

And many engineering students do. "He's very student-oriented," Guenther said. "Whenever I've known someone has had a problem, he's always willing to help. A lot of people in his position aren't approachable, but he's so willing to talk to people and help peo-

The pattern of success in Rathbone's career began to spread to his daughter's career, after she graduated with a degree in communications.

"Three years after she graduated," he said, "she was in Washington D.C.

working with the White House."

In his years at K-State, Rathbone has had to face numerous challenges, he

"The hardest task of mine is accomplishing my goals and the goals of the college with rather limited resources," he said. "There's just never enough money to go around, it seems. We do well with raising money, but we could do better.

For Rathbone, despite the ongoing challenges, the goal of working together with all types of people brings him sat-

"I continually work to develop pride in our college," he said. "If we all pull together, we can help everyone sucsaid Fred Newton, director of university counseling services for Lafene.

In 1988, student health services was $60 per semester for health services. Senate increased the user fee to $75

"We were able to cut expenditures not have been depleted until the year 2000, however, Senate voted to reduce the fee to $70 per semester in order to delete the reserve.

In addition to the loss of nearly $350,000 from the decreased user fee, enrollment dropped and utilization dropped.

"The reserve went poof," Zweimiller

In fiscal year 1996, only $1.3 million was in reserve, which was barely enough to get through July, he said. Similar institutions operated with a much higher reserve than K-State currently has, Zweimiller said. The University of Kansas has about $2.7 million in reserve, and Oklahoma has about $1 million in reserve, Zweimiller said. Although KU has a higher enrollment, the two institutions see about the same number of people percentage wise, Zweimiller said.

KU recently passed a $15 per semester user fee to build an addition to their health center. The addition will be about the same size as Lafene, he

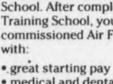

Receive a second set of 3" or 4" prints FREE with any exposure roll of 35mm, disc, 110 or 126 color print film left for developing and printing at our everyday prices! C-41 process only. (KODAK FINISHING SERVICES NOT INCLUDED)

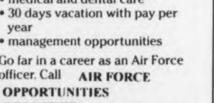

SUNDAY: DAILY: 11 A.M. TO 6 P.M. 9 A.M. TO 9 P.M. ANDERSON AT SETH CHILD VILLAGE PLAZA, S.C. MANHATTAN, KS.

30 days vacation with pay per · management opportunities

TOLL FREE

graduate, you may qualify for Air Force Officer Training chool. After completing Officer Training School, you can become a commissioned Air Force officer great starting pay

· medical and dental care

year

Go far in a career as an Air Force officer. Call AIR FORCE

Have you had mononucleosis within the last month? If so, your plasma could make a valuable contribution to research and earn you $50 at the same time.

For additional details call the Manhattan Biomedical Center at 776-9177 1130 GardenWay Across from Westloop Shopping Center behind Rex's Tire

ce your classified ad in Kedzie 103

Classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

DEADLINES

HOW TO PAY

Dard or Vise are excepted. There is a $10 service

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

gion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be re-ported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0058.

A ONE-BEDROOM $320/ month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to campus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537-7542.

A LOT CAN BE LITTLE BIT OF SPACE:

It works Classifieds 532-6555 AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments

Call 532-6555

to place your classified.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU deluxe two-bedroom apartment. $500. Also one-bedroom apartment for June and August $320. 539-2482 most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537-8389. ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO, furnished in complex 1219 Claflin. Next to campus, $320 plus deposit, plus electric. No pets, available now, six months lease. Call 537–1180.

10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apar FUR apartment, air, dishwasher, dispo-sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428.

TWO-BEDROOMS AVAIL-ABLE- large house. Share facilities with other tenants $120-$150 per month plus electricity. 539-6687 or (316)722-6851.

110 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537–2332. AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE.

LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537–1666, 537–2919.

gotiable, luxury apart-ment next to campus

AVAILABLE NOW. One-bedroom. 820 Osage. $325. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-lowed. Call now 776-3804. CRESTWOOD MENTS-

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1611 Lara-mie. $575 through May 31. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

available 537-1940, $750.

ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse.

College Heights. $500

Leasing now thru August Fremont Apts.

Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts. Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m.

TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Available now- July 31. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $490/ month. Water and trash paid. Call 539-9524.

Sat. 10-3 p.m.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804. PARK PLACE Apartment special. One-bedroom, new carpet, hot water paid, $300 per month, plus utilities. Six month lease. 537–2392.

PARK PLACE APART-

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours

Mon.-Fri. 8-5

Except holidays)

Newly carpeted. 537-9188 or 537-1550.

ABLE now. IN Aggieville, 1220 Laramie $250. All utilities paid. Pets allowed. Call 776–3804.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM FUR-NISHED/ unfurnished

washer/ dryer, availal now. $300. 537-7138.

MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools,

BOARD

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, 539-0531, classes now forming.

Announcements

CAMP OZARK is here! Do you love kids? Have a skill? Thought of sum-mer camp? Meet us Tuesday night at 7:30p.m. for a video oresentation. COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

Parties-n-More

hour free info (800)229-7562.

D AN extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a

KSU SCUBA NAUI or YMCA, certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539-8763 for information and

SWING INTO SPRING CRAFT SHOW- Sat-urday Febraury 10, Pot-torf Hall, Cico Park 9-5.

WANTED: 100 Students! Lose 10- 30 plus pounds. Next 90 days. New metabolism break-through. Guaranteed.

$35.50 MC/ Visa. 24

registration.

for information and

Handmade crafts, homemade food. Pro-ceeds benefit ABWA education opportuni-portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at reasonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, acc, color, nation-

Apts. Furnished

SAID ABOUT A

Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

NINE OR 12 month lease,

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N.

AVAILABLE MID-MAY, one-bedroom across from campus, two bal-conies, new kitchen.

Call 587-9322, leave AVAILABLE NOW- rent ne-

PARKING SOUTH OF THE

> two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace laundry, off-street park-ing, 539-2702 evenings.

ESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

FOUR-BEDROOM, LARGE,

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829

Collegian Classifieds

hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.

ROYAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dishwasher, microwave, laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.

AN APARTMENT UNTIL YOU

CONSIDER THIS! ·Brand new sparkling swimming pool

Spacious decks/patios Avail. June 5 Aug. 6 •Kitchen Appliances include microwave and ceiling fan Economical gas heat

bedroom $410, $420 bedroom $520, $530 bedroom $654, $663 bedroom $816, $836

Office: 2400 Kimball Ave. at College Ave. Across from Bramlage) Call Roy at 537-7007 for an appointment. STUDIO AVAILABLE now near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804.

THREE-BEDROOM WITH washer/ dryer, dish-washer, fireplace. Avail-able Feb. 1. $600. 537-7138.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT remodeled, new carpet. 50 feet from campus, 1200 N. Man hattan. $400/ Month Water/ trash paid 776-7996, leave mes

START

2 bedroom apartments

Great location Private bedroom

Large bath & closets Dishwasher

▲ Laundry facility ▲ On site office

▲ 2 large pools NOW LEASING JUNE & AUGUST

776-1148 Open Houses Daily

The Curtin Company

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT at Park Place Apartments. $435/ month. February free. Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537-9450.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT. $380/ month Available now. Lease and deposit required 537-7794.

TWO-BEDROOM APART campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facil-ities, immediately avail-able. 539-7277.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE

MENT, washer and dry-er. $350, 537-1940. TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX

with washer/ dryer, basement available March 1. 537-7138.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid.

ble. As soon as possi-ble through July, 539-6394. MALE ROOMMATE needed $162/ month, FEMALE one-third utilities, four bedroom, three bath

Roommate

Wanted

townhouse available immediately. Cal 539-4776 ask for Nicole FEMALE

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look

ing for roommate two-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, ca-ble. As spon as possi-

MALE ROOMMATE needed to share four-bedroom house. $279/ month utilities included. Wash/ dryer avail able. Call 776-7298. ROOMMATE wanted for apartment, one block from cam-pus. Rent negotiable. 776-8284. MALE ROOMMATE wanted: close to Ag-gieville and campus. Af-fordable rent. Call 776–1388 ask for Ali. FEMALE

FEMALE ROOMMATE Student, $162/ month plus one-third utilities. Dishwasher, central heat/ air. Available heat/ air. At now. 587-1964. FEMALE SMOKERS want female roommate Three-bedroom. $175 month plus one-third utilities. 776-8764. FEMALE TO share my home, please call even-ings and weekends.

537-4412. GRADUATE STUDENT needs roommate for house next to campus. $192.50 plus half of util ities. Call 776-1195

LE/ FEMALE non-smoker for two-bed-room. Close to campus Aggieville. $190 plus part utilities. Call Brian 537-6124. MALE/ FEMALE roommate needed to share three-bedroom apartment. $175/ month plus one-third utilties. February rent already paid. Call 539-1063.

MALE/ FEMALE smoker, one-third bills, onethird rent, own room close to campus, le, 587-9606

MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block from campus, with two girls, one guy. Own room, washer/ dryer $172.50. 539-4311.

NICE HOUSE, close to campus, $200 monthly. February paid. 776-1890. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apart ment. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.

ROOMMATE NEEDED im-mediately for apart-ment, close to campus. Prefer non-smoker. Call 776-1340.

ROOMMATE WANTED to share spacious house with three males. Close to campus, $200 a month plus one-fourth utilities. 587-9439.

ROOMMATE WANTED, next to campus. Large, private room. $300, util-ities paid. 537-0294.

ROOMMATE WANTED

basement apartment three blocks from cam pus, $175/ month, utili-ties paid, can renew lease in June, 776-4110.

So the lessons didn't go so well.

You never want to see another guitar again.

Wait. Don't stick it in the back of your use the money to buy another instrument.

closet. Sell it in the Collegian Classifieds. And

TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur-nished basement apart-ment. Laundry fursmoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539–1554.

WANTED: FEMALE to rent one-bedroom in a house with washer/ dry $230 negotiable Within walking distance to campus. 776–8481.

$460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

DIATELY. Four-bedroom, close to campus. 776–1340.

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH

HEATING PAID. Free laun-

IMME

TWO-BEDROOM,

TWO-BEDROOM.

120

For Rent-

AVAILABLE

Houses

Sublease

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claflin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry facilities. Pets allowed Contact John at 537-6058.

study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-lowed.Call 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM ON first level of house. $240/ month, all bills paid. 776-5240 ask for Jendry, three-bedrooms at 626 Vattier. Available now. $500. 776-3143.

DIRECTORY

NEED TUTOR to help me study for first actuarial exam. Prefer someone who has already taken and passed test or someone with exten-sive mathematical knowledge. Please cal Jeni at 537-1002.

Resume/ Typing

PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776-3290.

FAST, CHEAP, accurate Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing Laser printing. Becky, 539-2748.

Other Services

> COMPUTERIZED TAX prezeturn. Can help with budgeting and financial problems. For students by students. Anytime

NEY FOR COL-LEGE!!! Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-MONEY ents. Immediate qual (800)270-2744. Open Mon.- Sat.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

Massage

NEW CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon. She specializes in neuromus cular therapy, shiatsu, Swedish and reflex-ology. Mention this ad and receive $10 off first appointment, 539-6969

EMPLOYMENT/

CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures nance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, To-

$ CRUISE ships hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus free trave! Caribbean, Europe, Ha-waii! Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. (919)929-4398 ext.C1069.

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898–9778 ext. R-1915 for details.

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings. ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000– $6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female.

No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-A57683. ASKA STUDENT JOBS! Great $$$! Thousands of jobs available. Male/ female. Room/ Board/ Transport often provided. No experience necessary. Gde. (919)933-0188 ext.A1069

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS DANBEE FOR GIRLS Western Massachu-setts. Over 100 posi-tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Waand Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required. Top salaries, room and board, and travel al board, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27–28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMERI 10851 Men Call JOBS! Men call (800)494-6238, Camp

Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp APPLICATION FOR mem-bership for McCain Am-bassadors, a student organization interested in promoting music drama and live enter tainment, will be avail-able at K-State Student Union SAS Office from January 31 through Fe-bruary 26. Due back in office on February 26 by 4p.m. Contact Emily Simpson at 539-4651 or Todd Lakin at 537-7773

ATTENTION ALL Students Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information (800)263-6495

ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-ext.F57684.

CAMP OZARK, Christian Sports and Adventure Camp- Seeking quali-fied counselors to work with boys and girls ages 8- 16. Employ-ment terms for all or part of the summer. If part of the summer. If remotely interested, come to our KSU in-formational video pre-sentation 7:30p.m., Tuesday, February 6 at K-State Union, Little Theatre. Located Mount Ida, AR (501)867-4131.

CAMP TAKAJO for boys Outstanding Maine camp noted for mag-nificent lakefront set ting and exceptional facilities. Over 100 po-sitions for heads and as-sistants in tennis, baseball, basketball, soccer lacrosse, golf, street hockey, roller hockey, swimming, sailing, ca-noeing, waterskiing, nalism, photography videography, wood-working, ceramics, crafts, drawing and painting, nature study, radio and electronics, dramatics, piano ac companist, music in strumentalist, band di rector, backpacking, rockclimbing, whitewa-ter canoeing, ropes course, general (with scuba, archery, riflery, weight training, jour-course, general (with youngest campers), secretarial. June 17-August 18. Top salaries, room and board, travel provided. Call 800-409-CAMP. Or write: Camp Takajo, 525 East 72nd Street, 25th Floor, New York, NY 10021. Or fax resume to 212-988-0212. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Rooms 203 and 205 in Student Union. Walk-ins Welcome.

COMPLETE MUSIC Disc Jockey Service is grow ing and wants you to be a part of the largest and most professional DJ service in the nation. We provide the equipment. CD library, and paid professional training. If you are friendly, energetic and have your own vehicle, call 539-7111 or (800)755-DJDJ.

COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL Techs/ Stylists. Wanting a flexible schedule in an up and coming sa-lon? Booth rent first four weeks free or part time commission op tion also available Apply Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon 409 Poytz 539-5999.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary,. For in formation (206)971–3550 ext.C57684.

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups clubs, motivated indi viduals. Fast, easyno financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982 ext.33.

GRAPHIC DESIGN student needed for project. 537-7548.

GROUNDSKEEPER- FULL-TIME summer, part time rest of year. Jol experience in lawn pool, and tree care nec essary. Successful ap plicant will also be re sponsible for cleaning common areas regular-ly, helping main-tenance as needed and living on-site to re-spond to after- hours tenant emergencies Free apartment. Sub mit references and re sume to Chase Man-hattan Apartments, 1409 Chase Place, Man-hattan, KS 66502, no later than 2/28/96. JOBS IN the Great Out doors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-N57683.

MALE MODELS needed Feb. 19 from 10a.m.— 12 noon, for advanced clip-per class. If interested call 776-4455.

MANAGER SMALL coop erative food store. Re-sponsible for all as-pects of business activities. Supervise staff manage store finances, facility, and products. Retail grocery experi-ence preferred. Send resume and references to People's Grocery Co-operative, 811 Color-ado, Manhattan, KS 66502 before Feb. 15.

PHOTOGRA NEEDED PHERS for fraternity/ sorority parties. No ex-perience needed. Must be free on weekends. University Photogra-phy, 1128 Laramie to fill out application.

PREMIERE BROTHERS Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hock-Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year book, Radio Station Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing Sailing, Windsurfing Canoeing/ Kayaking) Top salaries, room board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-

RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing Sales Training Program, which is specifically designed for recent college graduates Call or send resume 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam Swedlund (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.

REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business oppor tunity with multi-level marketing in tele-communications indus-try. For appointment 539-0208.

SECRETARY/ RECEP-TIONIST- Requires ex-cellent organizational skills and attention to detail. Computer, word processing and book-keeping experience im-portant. Looking for professional, enthu-siastic, bright, people-oriented candidate with good communication skills. Full-time, $6.50 hour. Send resume to 1600 Poyntz Ave., Man hattan, KS 66502.

STUDENT'S DREAM-Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539-7336.

SUMMER CAMP JOBS: Pine Cove Christian Camps in Tyler, Texas, are three separate re-creational camps for children, youth, and fa-milies. We will be interviewing for summer staff Monday and Tues day February 5th and 6th in the Union Buildoff in the Onion Buldering Hallway from 10a.m. – 5p.m. Call Susan McNellis at 539–7342 for more details or Pine Cove at (800)225-9069.

SUMMER JOBS in Color ado. YMCA of the Rock ies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference cenhiring for Lifeguards, Food Services, Front Desk, Counselors, Housekeeping, etc. Campus interviews on February 8, 1996, Contact Career/ Employ-ment Services for in-terview, 532-6506.

SUMMER JOBS- female counselors for child-ren's camp northeast. Top salary, Room and board, laundry, travel allowance. Must have skill in one of the fol-lowing activities: archery, arts and crafts (ceramics, stain-glass, jew-elry), athletic trainer, basketball, canoeing, kayaking, dance (tap, pointe, jazz, modern jazz), drama, field hockey, golf, gymnastics (ir structors or qualified spotters), horseback rid-ing- hunt seat, lacrosse, nature, photography, videographer, piano ac-companist, pioneering, camp craft, ropes (innerquest- ropes chal lenge course, 25 stations), sailing, soccer, softball, tennis, theater technicians, track and field, volleyball, W.S.I./Swim instruc-tors, windsurfing. Also opportunities for kitchen cooks, maintenance, nurses, secretaries. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10a.m.-4p.m., Student Union Rooms 203 and 295. No appointment

TENNIS JOBS - Sum-NNIS JOBS - Sum-mer children's camp -northeast - good tennis background, college-level player who can teach child-ren to play tennis. Good salary, room, board and laundry, board and laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Dux-bury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 a.m.-4p.m., Student Union, Rooms 203 and 205 Student Union Rooms 203 and 205 No appointment nec

THE WORLD'S BEST SUMMER CAMP, LAUREL FOR BOYS AND GIRLS. Located on a three mile lake in Maine. Men and women are needed as counselors, coaches and instructors in field court and water sports. Also arts and main-tenance. No experience necessary. Call campus representative, Jim Engle after 7p.m. at (913)838-9656.

TIMBER LAKE/ TYLER HILL CAMPS, Top NY and PA resident camps have over 200 summer in the project for multijob openings for quali-fied students and faculty. Counselors, WSI, Arts, Athletics Special-ists and more!! Best salaries and travel allowance in addition to "the finest summer you'll ever have." On campus interviews
Thursday, February
8th. Call Career and Employment Services at (913)532-6506 for an application and an interview appointment. view appointment.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help. Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at 2700 Anderson Ave.

WATERFRONT JOBS W.S.I.- Summer children's camp-Northeast- teach children to swim, coach swim team dive, waterski (sla lom, trick, barefoot jumping), sail. Good jumping), sail. Good salary, room board, laundry, travel allowance. Call 1-800-838-VEGA or write: Camp Vega for girls, P.O. Box 1771, Duxbury, MA 02332. We will be on campus Monday, February 5th, 10 s.m.-4p.m., Student Union rooms 203 and 205. rooms 203 and 205

OPEN MARKET

Wanted to Buy WANT TO buy: Diamonds-Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

386SX PACKARD Bell 25 MHZ paid $1250. sell for $500, negotiable 1993 Ford Ranger Splash 44,000 miles. 537-0575.

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're look ing for. Lorin 539-6631

ENGAGEMENT/ WEDDING ring set, marquis dia-mond with eight small-er diamonds, one-half karat total. $250 or best offer, 537–8206.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-

Furniture to Buy/Sell

415

AA FULL size mattress set. New, never used, still in plastic. Retail price $639. Will sell for $165. Brass headboard $90 (913)379-9858.

price $839, will sell for $195. Queen brass headbaord, $95. (913)379–9858. FOR SALE: Matching stuffed couch and chair. Price negotiable. Excellent condition. Call 776-0793.

AA QUEEN size mattress

set. New, never used. Still in plastic. Retail

KING SIZE mattress set, new, retail $999, sell for $275. (913)379-9858.

430

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1299, 539-8453.

ELECTRONIC TYPEWRIT ERS and word processors. Excellent cond tion starting at $39 Manhattan Pawn Shop 776-6112, 317 S. 4th St.

Music Instruments

FERNANDEZ GUITAR three months old, telecaster style, natural fin ish, hot pick-ups. lock-ing tuners.$450 with tweed case. Music Co. 539-1958.

TEMPO: THE speed at which a musical com-position is to be per-formed; rate of activity pace. The Music Co. - redefining the music "in-dustry" at 523 S. 17th St., in The Midtown Plaza. 539-1958.

Tickets to Buy/Sell

STUDENT GA Basketball tickets, CU, MU and KU. Set or separate. Ask Matt 539-1929 best off-

WANTED: KU vs. KSU bas ketball tickets. Willing to pay! 776-7091. Ask for Natalie.

Automobiles

1984 PONTIAC Parisienne fully loaded. Good body, tires, new distributor cap, rotor, plugs, wires, timing, oil, air filter. Runs but needs carburetor rebuilt. Bluebook $2500. will take $750 cash. Day: Kathy -532-6492, evenings: 539-1913.

1984 VOLVO 240 runs great, must sell $1000 or best offer 776-9381.

1989 TOYOTA Corolla GTS. Excellent condi-tion, sunroof, tinted glass, five-speed. Grey paint/ interior. Like new. Call 565-0764. $5000.

Motorcycles

1990 YAMAHA FZR600. Good Condition, V&H exhaust new rear tire, cover and helmet $3000. Or best offer. Call Micheal 537-3291

TRAVEL/

Tour Packages

STE STUDENT STRAVEL SERVICES Toll free 1-800-648-4849

Spring

Break PARTY ON THE BEACH SPRING BREAK '96. CANCUN MEXICO FROM $339. PANAMA CITY BEACH FROM $129. Includes daily beach parties, evening club parties and great (800)998-TOUR. Get a group of 14 together and YOU TRAVEL FREE!!! SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja-maica/ Cancun $399. Organize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710. SPRING BREAK'S "Hot-test Trips" Cancun, South Padre Island, Belize (800)328-7513 http://www.studentadvtrav.com Free food and drink pack-age for early sign-

Classified Directory

115 Rooms Available

120 For Rent - Houses

126 For Sale - Houses

140 For Flent - Garage

146 Roommale Wanted

150 Sublease

155 Steble/Pasture

160 Office Space

130 For Rent — Mobile Homes

010 Announcements

626 Lost and Found 030 Personals

040 Meetings/Event 050 Parties n-More

DIRECTORY

210 Resume/Typing 218 Desktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing

235 Child Care 240 Musicians/DJs 245 Pet Services

230 Lawn Care

255 Other Services 36.

EMPLOYMENT/

CAREERS

250 Automotive Repail

310 Help Wanted

4 FOR SALE OPEN MARKET

406 Wanted to Buy

410 Items for Sale

420 Garage/Yerd Sulce 425 Auction 430 Antiques 428 Compunis

440 Food Specials

415 Furniture to Buy/Sel

160 Pets and Supplies 466 Sporting Equipmen 460 Sicreo Equipment

465 Tickets to Buy/Set

545 Music Instruments

50 TRANS-PORTATION

510 Automobiles 620 Bicycles 830 Motorcycles

840 Car Pool

810 Tour Packet

630 Thin Tickets

640 But Tickets

620 Airplane Ticks

potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price.

CLASSIFIED AD

Always put what item or service

you are advertising first. This helps

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are images, and sub-categories are marked by one of the large

preceded by a number

TIPS FOR WRITING A

designation.

This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

103 Kedzie

This time maybe you should try the bongos. Classifieds

532-6555

You get to be team mascot

You dial 1-800-COLLECT® to tell everyone

You call from every phone you see

You call long-lost relatives

You call all day and all night

Everyone you call saves money

You're a big success

1-800-COLLECT

SAVE THE PEOPLE YOU CALL UP TO 44%

Today: partly cloudy. See weather map, page 2.

inside

OPINION . page SPORTS . page 6

K-STATE LIFE • page 8

DIVERSIONS • page 9

Topels

TUESDAY

February 6, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 87

COMMITTED TO SERVICE

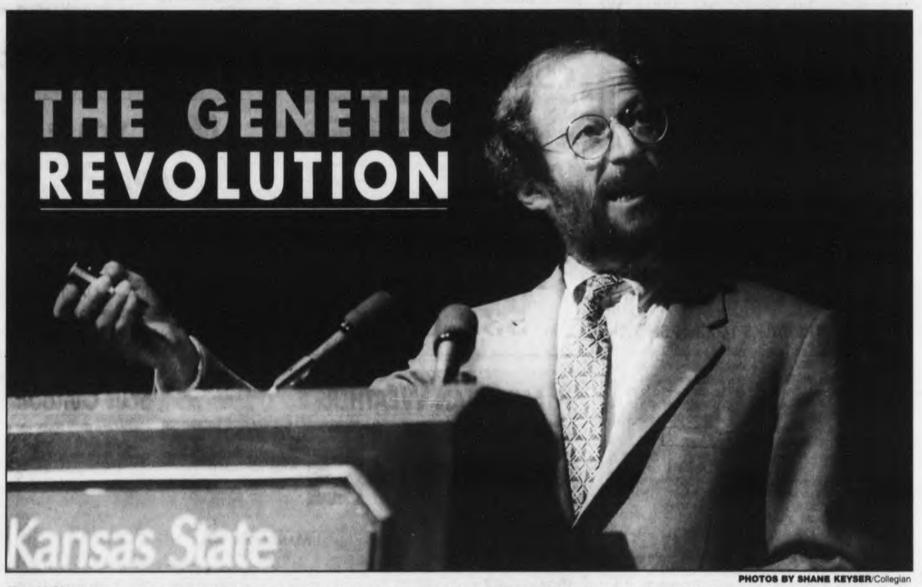

Bart Ransone, junior in history, was about to receive a contract from the U.S. Army to continue his training and get out of going to Bosnia, but he said he wanted to go.

• page 5

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

State Historical Society

Section

Harold Varmus, director of the National Institutes of Health, uses a remote control to change a slide during his speech Monday morning while he explains how genetic defects occur. Varmus was the 104th Landon Lecturer, a lecture series that has been at K-State since 1966. Below, Varmus talks about the changes he foresees in U.S. medicine within the next 50 years. Varmus was the first Nobel Laureate to speak at the Landon Lecture series.

Landon lecturer explores question of genetic testing

"We are the first species to take evolution into our own hands. For the first time we possess the means for intentional or inadvertent self-destruction. We also have, I believe, the means for passing through this stage of technology adolescence into a long-lived, rich and fulfilling maturity for all the members of our species. But there is not much time to determine to which fork of the road we are committing our children and our future."

— CARL SAGAN, IN HIS BOOK "BROCA'S BRAIN"

Kara Rogers

Harold Varmus, director of the National Institutes of Health, used Astronomer Carl Sagan's words to illustrate how the study of genes has transformed the studying of medicine at the 104th Landon Lecture Monday in McCain Auditorium.

"The gene is more than a biological concept," Varmus said. Every individual has 23 pairs of chromosomes, and these chromosomes contain DNA, the genetic code for amino acids, which are enzymes that catalyze bodily

A change in the amino acids in the protein can affect its function. "The change that remains is known as mutation," Varmus said.

A disease can be caused by either a single mutation or a mutation of both genes. "Changes in the DNA are our source of joys and sorrows," Varmus said.

Disease represents the complex interplay between environmental and genetic factors,

Varmus used the example of breast cancer to illustrate questions that arise from genetic testing.

"Breast cancer is highly common among women in an industrialized society," Varmus

More than 200,000 women will be diagnosed this year, while 40,000 of these women will die, he said.

In his example, he said discoveries in a group of women found a mutation of a specific chromosome had a greater risk of developing breast cancer.

Varmus presented the question of whether all women should have this test done to see if they have the mutation that could cause breast cancer.

"It isn't useful to test because not enough is known. Shouldn't all women be tested for cancer through mammography?" Varmus

For months the answer seemed mute because the gene was large, the test was difficult and expensive, and because of the fear of losing medical insurance if a mutation was found, Varmus said. "Very recently it changed. We found in a group of Jewish men and women from Eastern Europe that 1 percent have the same mutation," Varmus said.

The mutation strongly predisposes women to breast cancer, he said.

With this new information, Varmus then presented the question of how to inform

• See LECTURE Page 12

BITMAIL system to be phased out

■ Other services move to World Wide Web, UNIX

Stephanie Schmutz

If you depend on KSUVM, as many K-State faculty, staff and students do, you may notice a big change this summer.

Beginning July 1, the KSUVM BITMAIL service will be reduced significantly in preparation for its removal Dec. 31.

The reason for the upcoming phase-out is to get rid of the services that are not frequently used or have been duplicated on other systems

The Collegian Editorial Board says good riddance to the archaic system of KSUVM's BITMAIL. See page 4

This will increase use of minimal computing resources that include funding and personnel on

But many administrative offices on campus depend on the BITMAIL system daily to gather and See KSUVM Page 12

MEET YOUR DEAN - A SERIES

Dean sets goals to improve Salina campus

Darren Whitley

Jack Henry, dean of technology, seems a perfect fit for K-State-Salina because he in common.

Both Henry and K-State-Salina are retired from the Air Force.

Henry retired from the Air Force after 20 years, and K-State-Salina uses facilities left by the Air Force when Schilling Air Force Base closed. But Henry is at the reins of K-State-Salina, which uses facilities that once were part of Schilling Air Force Base. The air base was the namesake of K-State-Salina when it began in 1965 as Schilling Institute, Henry said.

Since then, K-State-Salina has gone through three name changes and it is Henry's job and responsibility to lead the school.

"It is an all-encompassing job. I have got the academics, the personnel, the fiscal plan, the buildings - all of the

• See HENRY Page 12

GUEST SPEAKER

Speaker to share experiences about Apollo 13 moon mission

Scott M. Ladd

Retired Rear Admiral Ken "T.K." Mattingly will provide the true stories behind the ill-fated Apollo 13 mission at 7 tonight in McCain Auditorium.

The speaking engagement, which is free and open to the public, is sponsored by the Union Program Council's Issues and Ideas Committee and KSU's BioServe Space Technologies. As the story unwinds through Mattingly's personal recollections, attendees will also see clips from the 1995 film that documented NASA's disastrous Apollo 13 space mission.

"He's going to basically give us anecdotes about his experiences during the Apollo 13 mission," said Tim Henderson, UPC

APOLLO 13

► Ken Mattingly, crucial in Apollo's safe return, will speak at 7 tonight in McCain Auditorium. Admission is free.

Issues and Ideas Committee program adviser. "He's going to show clips and slides during his hour-long presentation."

Mattingly was scheduled to be one of the three astronauts aboard Apollo 13 but was pulled from the crew because of medical reasons. While grounded, Mattingly was crucial in the Apollo's safe return to Earth. Following an on-board explosion that crippled the spacecraft, Apollo 13 was stranded in space and missed its moon-landing goal in 1970.

However, because Mattingly's experience while training with the crew, he was able to discover ways to conserve crucial energy for the module's return home.

Mattingly was selected for the space program in 1966 and helped develop the lunar space suit and back pack. During his time at NASA, he served as a support crew member for several missions, including the first moon landing. 'We've led up to this lecture with the space series, which included a screening of Apollo

13," Henderson said. "We're really interested in this lecture."

Ceramist teaches through sculpture

J. Scot Bucholz

Ceramics students had the opportunity to get a new perspective about their art Monday from visiting artist Linda Ganstrom, assistant professor of art in ceramics from Fort Hays State University, created a sculpture during the workshop and spoke with students.

"I was sharing with students the importance of trying to develop a personal vocabulary that will show through the work," Ganstrom said.

Ganstrom said her work is of the fem-"It is looking at the world," she said.

"Through a woman's eye." People have a lot in common, they just need to look through the symbols people use, Ganstrom said. The purpose of having a visiting artist is for demonstrations and workshops so students can get another view on their

• See ARTIST Page 12

Adding a small box to a sculpture, Linda Ganstrom, visiting artist and instructor at Fort Hays State University, explains while demonstrating how she joins pieces of clay together during a small workshop Monday in West Stadium. Ganstrom spent the day demonstrating and lecturing about her techniques to ceramic students of all levels at K-State.

In the news

▶ WHITEWATER TRIAL REQUIRES PRESIDENT CLINTON'S TESTIMONY

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) -President Clinton was ordered Monday to testify at next month's Whitewater trial for James and Susan McDougal, his partners in a failed northern Arkansas land deal.

A lawyer for Susan McDougal. whose ex-husband James ran the failed Madison Guaranty Savings and Loan, said last week that only

WASHINGTON (AP)

- The bare-bones budsketched out Monday is more campaign mani-

print, challenging

turf they have long owned outright.

get that President Clinton

festo than spending blue-

Republicans for political

The 20-page pamphlet points the way to tax cut. Yet it also proposes more than the Republicans want for not do for individuals

what they can do for themselves," said a essay - an echo of three-page introductory

Clinton's widely quoted

An important figure in Poland's history will deliver a Landon Lecture at 10:30 a.m. March 11 in

Gen. Woiciech

Jaruzelski declared mar-

Soviet Union from invad-

Poland from a satellite of

"He played an impor-

tial law on Poland Dec.

13, 1981, to keep the

tant role in changing the Soviet Union to a ing Poland.

McCain Auditorium.

▶ POLISH GENERAL TO SPEAK

lar programs.

zero deficits in 2002 and makes room for a modest

Medicaid, Medicare, edu-

and other politically popu-

"Government should

cation, the environment

▶ CLINTON REVEALS BUDGET

Clinton could offer testimony that would clear his client.

Susan McDougal is accused of receiving a $300,000 loan a former Little Rock banker and municipal judge, David Hale, said Clinton pressured him to make. Clinton, who has not been charged, has denied the accusation.

remark from last month's speech that "the era of big government is over."

would result from shrinking government wouldn't be felt until well after this after the 1998 balloting.

Of nearly $600 billion in seven years in Clinton's budget, about $363 bil-take effect in 2000 and 2001.

lion, or 61 percent, would

Beyond laying out

broad goals, the material

It avoided any men-nearly $300 billion in proreleased during the day offered scant details.

tion of how to achieve

jected budget savings over seven years in so-called discretionary pro-democracy," said Charles

Reagan, executive assistant to the president and

Reagan said after 15

Landon Lecture chair.

years, Jaruzelski has been asked to tell his Polish history.

story," he said.

version of that period in him to tell his side of the

"The time is right for deficit reductions over fall's election - and even

Most of the pain that

State of the Union

The McDougals and Gov. Jim

Guy Tucker, who had other business dealings with the McDougals, face trial March 4 on conspiracy and fraud charges.

Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr said the three concocted $3 million in loans from federally backed lenders to benefit themselves illegally.

▶ MEDICARE SPARKS SQUABBLE

WASHINGTON (AP) Republicans and the White House are involved in a new squabble over Medicare.

This time the argument is about a report that the program's hospital insurance trust fund lost money last year for the first time in 23 years. Republicans demanded why the Clinton administration took so long to report the $35.7 million shortfall. However, the White House responded that more than 4,000 copies of the report were sent out last October, including one to each member of Congress.

The news of a shortfall, first reported in Monday's editions of the New York Times, is based on a preliminary analysis of the fund's 1995 activity, which the Clinton administration said is still being reviewed.

The fund still would have a large surplus -$129.5 billion - but it would be the first time in any year since 1972 that less money was taken in from the payroll taxes dedicated to Medicare than was paid out to recipients.

SIMPSON TALKS TO CNN SHOW

LOS ANGELES (AP) - In a surprise TV interview Monday, a combative O.J. Simpson telephoned a panel of lawyers on CNN and submitted to his most extensive public questioning about the murders of his ex-wife and her friend.

"I did not commit these crimes," he said in an hour-long call to the program, "Burden of Proof," "And it took all of my life savings, virtually, to prove that, and it shouldn't be that way."

Simpson denied he degraded or repeatedly abused Nicole Brown Simpson, played down a call from a girlfriend the morning of the murders, expressed suspicions the killings were linked to the drug problems of one of Ms. Simpson's friends and suggested police planted evidence.

Simpson also said for the first time that he armed himself two days after the June 12, 1994. murders of Nicole Simpson and Ronald Goldman for his own pro-

He later pointed the gun at himself as he rode in Al "A.C." Cowlings' Bronco the day of the slow-speed chase.

Sara Edwards

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan.,

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan,

O Kansas State Collegian, 1995

Police reports

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5

At 12:17 a.m., Daniel Siemsen called to report that the rear window of his 1984 Volvo had been shattered in the Lafene client parking lot. It pared to be shattered by a BB. age was estimated at $300.

RILEY COUNTY POUCE

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4

At 3:36 p.m., Diane Wambach, 504

Fairchild Ave., reported the left driver side window was shattered on

At 11:46 p.m., Brian Dodd, 1613

CORRECTION

In Monday's Collegian, a quote was improperly attributed to tennis coach Steve Bietau. The quote should have been attributed to Assistant Track Coach Terry Drake.

We take news tips! 532-6556

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Classified Senate meets at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday in Union 206.
 The world is getting smaller.
Make yours larger. Volunteer to help international students practice their ken English in the oversational English Progra

Contact Jim Endrizzi at the m Renu Mathew will give a final oral defense of the doctoral disseration at 10 a.m. today in Waters 3G.

BULLETINS

B Silver Key Sophomore Leadership Honorary is accept applications for the 1996-97 school year. Eligible freshmen can pick up ns in the Student Activities and Services Office. Applications are due by 5 p.m. F 16 in the Student Activities and stions are due by 5 p.m. Feb.

Services Office. m Chimes Junior Honorary appli-cations are available in the Student Activities and Services Office, or call 539-2365 ext. 131. Applications on will have a con

KSU Alkido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight at Dance Studio 301.

KSU BioChemical Society will meet at 8 tonight in the

KSU Chapter of AHTA will meet at 7 tonight in the Throckmorton ure Therapy Reading board will meet at 6 tonight on the

MISS YOUR PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

ture of you and a group of up to six of your friends in the index of the yearbook. The service is free, but you have the opportunity to purchase color prints of the photos from Blaker Studio Royal.

> Face it, you've spent a lot of time and money at this university. Don't you want something to show for it?

> > Get Into It.

Committee considers endangered species bill

staff reporter

A Kansas Senate committee is considering a bill to make it more difficult to add animals to the state endangered species list.

Senate Bill 473 is being considered by the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

"This bill would help to halt any further placing of species on the state list and cause a review of proposed federal placements," said Sen. Don Sallee, chairman of the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural

The bill would not impose judicial review of the state endangered species list, but it would place a more structured set of rules and regulations on the process, Sallee said.

In the past there was a lack of review, and one person could trigger an action that could cause a big expenditure," Sallee said.

As the proposed bill reads, an interested party would need to present substantial evidence to the Kansas Secretary of Wildlife and Parks in order to receive a formal review, Sallee said.

Such a review would require an environmental impact report before either adding or removing a species from the state list. A provision of the bill requires special attention be given

A bill being considered by the Kansas House of Representatives

Appropriations Committee would prohibit the Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks from adding to the bill," Darrell Montei, legislative assission that would require the Department of Wildlife and Parks to sell an amount of land equal to the amount they have acquired, Montei stands, means that even if we receive a donation of land we will have to sell enough land to remain at the current Land would also have to be sold to level," Montei said.

"The definition of acquisition, as it

"Basically, this is a devastating

House Bill 2574 includes a provitotal amount of land it owns.

tant for wildlife and parks, said.

Brett Mast

Bill may limit wildlife land to the economic consequences of either action, Sallee said.

The bill does not suspend or delay the current state endangered species list, Sallee said.

Darrell Montei, legislative assistant for the Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks, said he doesn't

"For all practical purposes, it does away with the state act," Montei said.

The Secretary of Wildlife and Parks could no longer add a species to the state list that is not already on the federal list, Montei said.

The Kansas Endangered Species Act was designed to protect animals that were not necessarily threatened on a national level but were threatened

This bill is in response to a recent effort to add the Topeka shiner, a small minnow, to the state list, Montei

If the fish was to be added to the list, construction of watershed dams in some parts of the Flint Hills would be delayed or canceled, Montei said.

"We don't oppose a good look at the process, as long as it is objective, but this bill is to do away with it completely," Montei said.

Because Senate Bill 473 is still in committee, changes to the bill are still possible before it reaches the Senate floor for debate.

porary agreement. This could put an end to programs that lease land sea-curb the possible expense of maintaining the land that the Department of Wildlife and Parks is in charge of by putting a limit on the amount of land that the department can acquire, Rep.

leasing land, but the question that many people are asking is 'If we can't afford to take care of the land we have now, why do we need more?" he said.

work, but it is a bill that raises issues, and we are getting a dialogue, which I concerning House Bill 2574, and it has been referred to a three-member

House subcommittee for further con-think is important," Lawrence said.

"This bill is going to require some

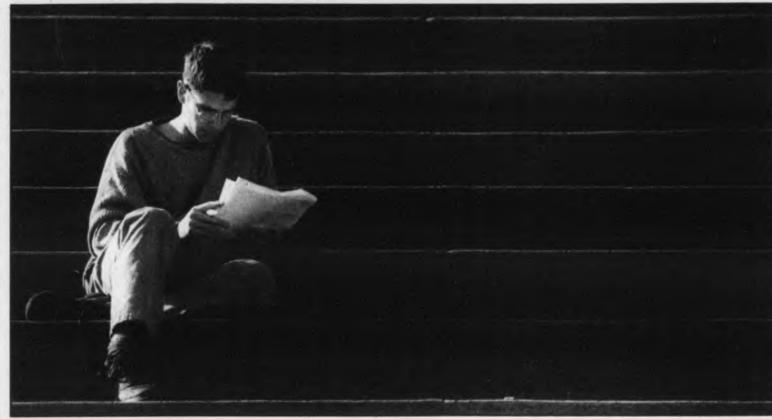

A hearing has already taken place

"There are definite advantages to Doug Lawrence, R-Burlington, said.

The intent behind this bill is to sonally for hunting, Montei said.

Steps and notes

JILL JARSULIC/Collegian

Travis Brown, senior in psychology, studies for Foundations of Social Behavior Monday afternoon in West Stadium. Monday's warmer temperatures gave students a chance to enjoy being outdoors.

RESIDENCE HALL ASSISTANTS

A job worth more than money

■ Candidates go through rigorous application process

Sara Edwards

Making money in the comfort of their own home is an appealing reason for many students to become residence assistants, but there is a lot more to the job than people think.

John Danos, Goodnow Hall director and coordinator for the residence assistant selection team, said people want to become resident assistants for many different reasons, but financial reasons take a back seat to the human side of the job.

"I really think for the most part people become R.A.s because they want to become involved in the community and help college students," he said her resident assistant her freshman year helped her with her homesickness and gave her a desire to be one.

Julie Cates, junior in kinesiology and Moore Hall residence assistant,

"I thought it would be a good opportunity for me to give something back to the residents in our hall," she said.

Housing and Dining Services takes many steps to ensure the right people are chosen to be residence assistants, Danos said.

The selection process started in November when applicants went to an information session.

At the session, they learned about the job and the selection process. The sessions were the only place applicants could get an application.

The application includes seven essays. The first is a statement of interest from the applicant. The next six are competency areas and skills residence assistants need to have, Danos said.

The skills are self-awareness, critical thinking, conflict management, communication, helping skills and leadership, he said.

Applicants must also submit three letters of reference, and the selection team prefers that two letters be from

"They are fairly extensive applications." Danos said. After applications are reviewed, about 80 candidates move on to the University faculty or staff, Danos said.

assessment center. At the assessment center, all candidates get together for two four-hour sessions consisting of interviews and group work. The assessment center is divided into two phases. The first phase, the interview portion, was Saturday. Candidates are interviewed based on the six competency areas they wrote about in their application essays. "Those six areas are the common thread of our selection process," Danos said. "We look for people who have the potential to develop within the competency areas," Danos said.

Paul English, junior in history, has helped interview residential candidates

"They try to assess you as a person

During phase two, which was Sunday, candidates participated in group exercises and were assessed on how well they worked with people, Danos said.

"It gives us a chance to see how candidates will be able to respond in different types of situations," Danos Candidates also participate individually in video observation exercises. This allows internal processors or people not good at working in groups to show their skills, Danos said.

"Each individual brings so many strengths to the position," he said.

Ryan Nogle, sophomore in microbiology, has been through the selection process before. He said it was a good tool to assess peoples' personalities and knowledge about the position.

Shah Hasan, assistant director of Housing and Dining Services, has the final say as to who is selected. Candidates will know around spring break if they are chosen, he said.

lease any property, even if it is a tem-PLAYERS WANTED! No experience necessary INFORMATIONAL MEETING WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 7 7:30 P.M. UNION 212 FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL: BRANDON DERKS 537-6278 OR DANNY BLEA 537-9732

Doctor of Chiropractic is more than choosing a profession. It's choosing the path to your successful future by helping others maintain a healthy, happier way of life naturally.

Cleveland College has been training Doctors of Chiropractic since 1922, and there has never been a better time than now to join this growing profession.

Take the first step toward your future as an independent health care professional. Write for a free admissions packet, or call toll-free. Financial aid is available.

CLEVELAND CHIROPRACTIC COLLEGE

Kansas City Campus 6401 Rockbill Road • Kansas City, MO 64131-1181

Cleveland Chiropractic College is accredited by the Council on Chiropractic Education and the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.

(800) 467-CCKC • (816) 333-8230

Anniversaru of the Credit Union Annual Meeting

February 6, 1996 at 7 p.m. in Room #213 of the Kansas State Union

> In honor of our 50 years of service we will have 5 drawings of $50 each. You must be present to win.

KSU FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

1455 Anderson Ave.

776-3003

"The Michael Jordan of Jazz"

Joshua Redman, saxophone Thursday, February 8, 8 p.m.

If you thought Harvard produced only ivory tower types, come hear a sax player called the Michael Jordan of Jazz. But instead of flying through the air, Redman honks, squeals, growls and wails without losing his melodic sense. Marsalis brothers, move over. Joshua Redman's at the head of the class.

Corporate support by Security National Bank.

Pub/Fac $18 Sr. Cit $16 Stu/Child $9

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets

Events in the McCain Performance Series are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays. Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

Opinion

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN STAFF

Editor in chief Kevin Klassen Managing editor Sarah Lunday News editor Cary Conover Photo editor Design editor Kim Hefling. Campus editor Christy Little. Copy chief N. Stewart Anderson

. City / government editor Claudette Riley . Arts and entertainment editor - Opinion editor Stephanie Fugua Shana Newell Sports editor Graphics editor Kevyn Jacobs E-Collegian editor Trice Alford Advertising manager Heidi Bruce Assistant advertising manage

COLLEGIANopinion

We won't miss the klunky, old KSUVM

QUICKread Those students and faculty who regularly use the KSUVM to send BITMAIL will have to get used to using Unix when the KSUVM shuts down next semester.

KSUVM'S BITMAIL is about to go the way of dinosaurs, 8-tracks and BetaMax videotapes.

Good riddance, we say. Not that KSUVM is bad. On the contrary, it has provided decades of dedicated service. It's reliable, stable and a regular workhorse.

It's also antiquated. And BITMAIL itself, while a pioneer in the early days of e-mail, is not user friendly and so downright klunky we aren't sorry to see it go.

In a world of web-browsers, fancy e-mail attachments and exploding Internet connectivity, the old KSUVM mainframe just can't keep up anymore.

Besides, there's practically nothing you can do on KSUVM you can't do on Unix just as well - some things better. For instance, you can't surf the World Wide Web on KSUVM. Nor can you use the POP mail server, which allows for remote, user-friendly e-mail interfaces like Pegasus or Eudora. With the Unix POP server, you can even use your Netscape browser to check your e-mail.

And forget trying to compare BIT-MAIL with the Pine e-mail system on Unix. That's like comparing a type-writer with a word processor. It is true that the transition from BITMAIL to Unix e-mail accounts will cause trouble for some, especially those who have been using BITMAIL for a long time. But CNS is offering free classes and help for those who need it, to make the change as painless as possible.

We know those using BITMAIL will adjust, and we encourage everyone to start making the switch to Unix. Don't wait until the last minute.

NOTES FROMthe underground

PRE-FEE INCREASE FOOTBALL MASCOT

POST-FEE INCREASE FOOTBALL MASCOT

Collegian columnist Dan Lewerenz and ICAT president Greg McLean explain why the athletic fee debate is important to students.

-State's Department of Intercollegiate Athletics broke new ground in K-State joined the University of Kansas as the two first Big 8 schools to offer varsity women's basketball. The rest of the conference would not follow suit until after Title IX of the Higher Education Act of 1972 required gender equity.

For 1968, that was a bold and creative move. And the Cats' 50 wins in the pre-Title IX days helped K-State become just the sixth school in the nation - and the first in the Big 8 - to win 500 games.

Since then, that creative spirit seems to have vanished. The women athletes at K-State and an embarrass-Lewerenz ing failure to comply with department's recent self-revealed a opportuni-lack of ties for study

Myview

This places the University in a precarious position. It must provide equitable opportunities, and not just for legal reasons. Though the threat of a lawsuit and NCAA decertification might speed the process, the University has a moral imperative to provide women every opportunity it provides men, including varsity athletic participation.

The question then becomes: "If we are going to provide these new opportunities, how do we pay for them?"

The department's (rather uncreative) answer: ask the students to raise their fee. Not that K-State officials are to blame for their lack of creativity. This is the solution other schools have reached, the solution courts (in what they ironically call "justice") have imposed on schools unwilling to work things out for themselves.

But it nonetheless fails to address the problem. The problem is not with the students. They are loyal fans of K-State men's and women's athletics as evidenced by this year's record attendance numbers for football and volleyball and returning interest in women's basketball,

The problem has been with the department's failure to provide equal opportunities. And it begs for a solution from within the department. I'm not calling for the elimination of a sport or a decrease in football scholarships. But I do think a general lack of alternatives has been provided. And when some of those alternatives are examined, they make much more sense than a fee.

The department needs $476,000 per year to cover the expenses of Title IX compliance. It can raise that (and more) with a $1 per credit hour fee as proposed, or ..

1. It can raise football ticket prices. Wildcat football is a hot commodity, and still a bargain. Using last season's numbers per game increase in student season tickets and a $2 per game increase in public season and single-game tickets would generate nearly $230,000 in additional revenue. Only $246,000 to go ...

2. Charge a premium game fee for single-game tickets. Next year's gridiron match-up with Nebraska is guaranteed to be a sell-out, as is the Kansas game the following year. That means about 15,800 singlegame tickets will be sold, and thousands of fans will wind up gnashing their teeth because they called too late.

Bump up the price of these single-game tickets by $5 a pop. That will generate an additional $79,000, and 3. Begin a directed fund-raising campaign to support women's athletics. The above measures leave a mere $167,000 chump-change for the fund-raising giant we call K-State Athletics.

When the department said an indoor football training facility and a new press box with luxury accommodations were imperative, boosters pitched in to the tune of $6 million. When the department said an academic learning center was needed, boosters kicked in more than $1 million.

It's time for the department to get on the phone and say volleyball is important. By not doing so, the message it is sending reads, "We have to comply with federal guidelines, so we'll get the money from students."

It will be an up-hill climb, and some probably believe alumni won't support nonrevenue sports. But I refer the skeptic to the words of K-State President Jon Wefald in an interview with Purple Pride.

"When I started talking to groups around the state, I would talk about what I felt was my charge. I said, 'Look, we're going to set these goals, and we're going to do everything we can to accomplish these things. I know with football, it's going to be tough, but if there's a will to do it, we're going to

"I remember (an alumnus) heard me say this, and he came up and said to me, 'Look, go ahead and mention all of those other things, but for heaven's sake, don't ever mention football again. It's impossible. It's out of the question. The situation is irreversible. So why even bother to talk about

If K-State could get alumni backing to turn around the nightmare we called football, it can bring women's athletics to an acceptable level.

Dan Lewerenz, senior in philosophy and American ethnic studies, is Athletic Liaison for Student Government.

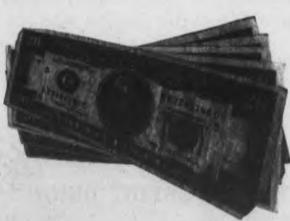

Six student representatives will be negotiating the athletic fee with the K-State Department of Intercollegiate Athletics today.

Call the Student Governing Association at 532-6541 and voice your opinion.

he need for an athletic fee increase is not only the K-State Intercollegiate Athletic Department's problem. It is your problem.

The athletic department must be in compliance with Title IX of the Higher Education Act. One part of this law states that the percentage of participative opportunities made available to women must match the percentage of women enrolled in school.

K-State's enrollment is about 55 percent male to 45 percent female. The athletic participation is 70 percent male participation and 30 percent female participation. To increase opportunities for women, the athletic fee needs to be increased.

K-State student contributions are less than half of the NCAA average of student contributions to their athletic programs. The average expenditures in the NCAA for fall of 1994 was $14.8 million. Of that, the average student contribution was $1.3 million. K-State's expenditures in fall of 1994 were $11.1 million. Of that, the student contribution was $580,000, according to the athletic department.

"Compared to what students pay at other universities, I think the students get a big bang for their buck," Max Urick, athletic director, said to me.

Urick offered two proposals to Student Senate: Plan A calls for a $1.22 increase per credit hour, while Plan B calls for a $1.00 increase per credit hour and a $1 increase of football and basketball tickets per game. This will raise about $450,000 each semester. Ticket prices for students have not been increased in eight years.

The fee will begin to be negotiated today by Urick, Vice President Bob Krause and six student representatives.

Football coach Bill Snyder said the fee increase could be equivalent to a night in Aggieville or a tank of gas. "To retain pride in the University it is important for the programs to succeed," Snyder said. If we do not pass this fee increase, our primary revenue sports will suffer. Those budgets, already small compared to the national average, will decrease. This, in turn, will hurt recruiting. I know I do not want to revert back to the days when K-State sports were scoffed at "Right now the other schools in the Big 8 and the future Big 12 are way ahead of us. In order for us to be competitive, we need an increase in funding," Brian Agler, women's basketball coach, said.

I know there are many of you who feel you should not have to pay for something you do not use. Everyone on campus pays for organizations they are not involved in.

For example, I never take UPC trips or participate in a sports club. But I feel these are organizations that are necessary and vital to different aspects of the student body. I am willing to support them, just as I would expect others to support things I am

This is a University issue of which the students are a big part. Failing to comply could put the entire University at risk, because the penalties could include a loss of millions of federal dollars

At the University of Kansas, students pay $20 a semester, which is more than $1 million, to their athletic department. Wichita State University students pay $91 per semester for their athletic fee. We are well below our competitors. This must change. "This change may be painful, but it is right," volleyball head coach Jim Moore

During an interview, Urick said reallocating money within the department is not an option. "I think Myview our coaches do a terrific job with the resources they have," Urick said. "The reallocation of existing resources is not the answer to the problem.

McLean

The only answer is additional resources." These resources will be found one way or another.

The athletic department does not have to give students the prime seating we receive for men's football and basketball games.

If some kind of increase is not passed, the student body could be moved higher in the stands or to the end zone. The athletic department could make up the deficit by selling our present seats for more money to the general public. This could easily happen unless we call our student senators and tell them to vote for one of Urick's plans.

If we do not have an increase, our programs will suffer.

To sustain a level of excellence that every K-State student has come to expect, we must pass this increase. This increase will help our sports programs comply with federal standards.

If students want to keep our programs going in the right direction and help our women's programs become more competitive, each student needs to call a student senator and let them know how you feel. They have been elected to work for you. Nobody likes to pay more fees, but nobody likes having sports programs that are not

'We are all in this together," Snyder said. "Students need to take pride in the University and vote for a fee increase."

Greg McLean is a senior in electronic journalism and is the president of

LITERARY MAGAZINE

Touchstone to receive updated look

Touchstone undergraduate literary magazine staff is changing the appearance of the annual publication to create a more professional and attractive-looking journal.

Melissa Rodenbeek, graduate student in English and co-editor of Touchstone, said the content of the magazine will be revamped also. This year's magazine will include more submissions from undergraduate students throughout the coun-

Even though the 72-page magazine will include more submissions, Rodenbeek said the staff gives priority to undergraduate K-State students.

"It's harder for out-of-staters to publish," she Poetry editor Karen Sottosanti, graduate student in English, said she encourages undergraduates to submit their art, fiction or poetry entries before the Friday deadline.

Stacy Janicki, graduate student in English and co-editor, said extending publishing credits is one reason many undergraduates submit their work.

"And just to see your work in print is fun, too," she said. Two-dimensional art submissions are also being accepted, including photographs, paintings, line drawings, computer illustrations and even architectural drawings that are 8 by 11 inches or Accepted art pieces will be featured throughout the magazine and on the cover. The artist whose work is selected for the magazine's cover will be awarded $50. The deadline for art submission is Feb. 23.

Students whose literary work or art is accepted will receive two free copies of the magazine. Touchstone will be published and distributed in April. Copies will be available to K-State students

Submissions should be deposited in Denison 112 in the box above faculty mailboxes labeled

Peach lady sues David Letterman

Associated Press

STAMFORD, Conn. — A tennis fan who became a running gag for David Letterman after she was caught on camera with peach juice running down her chin is suing the comedian for ridi-

The New York City woman was featured repeatedly on "Late Show with David Letterman" in September after a CBS camera caught her rel-ishing a peach at the U.S. Open tennis tournament. Letterman showed the footage of 54-year-old Jane Bronstein at least a half-dozen times between Sept. 5 and Sept. 20. Bronstein, a large woman, suffers from a thyroid condition and had childhood polio and two spinal fusions, her lawsuit said.

The lawsuit, filed in Stamford Superior Court near Letterman's suburban home, claims Letterman and Worldwide Pants Inc. - the company that produces the show - violated her right to privacy.

The lawsuit cites the New York state civil rights law, which prohibits the use of someone's name or picture for advertising or trade without first obtaining their written consent.

The lawsuit claims Bronstein, a professional bridge player, suffered mental and physical pain and suffering because of the ridicule. It seeks unspecified damages.

Bronstein's lawyer, Harvey Rothberg of Stamford, said she decided to sue after Letterman and Worldwide Pants rejected her request for a letter of apology from Letterman and a monetary settlement. Rothberg said the company did agree to their request to stop airing the peach-eating

"People were laughing because she was not the most attractive individual in the world," Rothberg

Bart Ransone prepares to launch his scull at the Head of the KAW competition in 1994. Ransone has been a member of the K-State Crew Team for three semesters. COURTESY PHOTO

Call of duty postpones college

Student on his way to Bosnia rather than classes this semester

Bill Bontempo

Sometimes lifelong goals are put on hold for higher priorities.

Bart Ransone, junior in history, completed two years of ROTC at K-State and was about to receive a contract from the U.S. Army to continue his training toward becoming an officer, but things changed.

Ransone decided his duty to his country was more important than his personal plans.

"He had an opportunity to sign an ROTC contract and get out of going to Bosnia, but he said he wanted to go," said Capt. Brad Duffey, assistant professor of military science.

On Dec. 12, Ransone received a warning order from his unit.

He departed for Fort Dix, N.J. ven route to an eventual Bosnia mission with the 487th Engineer Platoon National Guard Unit from Washington, Kan., Dec. 26.

Now, instead of going to classes at the Military Science Building and being called a cadet, Ransone is learning how to extinguish aircraft fires in Wiesbaden, Germany, and is being called a specialist.

"I know he is committed to serving his country, and Bosnia is more important than ROTC," said Capt, Chris Tatham, assistant professor of military

"His ROTC experience will help him in Bosnia, and his experience in Bosnia will help him as an officer when he returns," Tatham said.

The 487th Engineer Platoon will end up at either the Tusla Air Base or in Hungary at a former Mig

The unit of 18 members, which is responsible for putting out aircraft fires, is the third of its kind to deploy to Bosnia.

"They expect to have aircraft from all over the world," Preston Ransone, Bart's

But they will be prepared for any problems that may occur on any aircraft, Preston said.

"They have charts for every piece of equipment," Preston said. However, the unit will not restrict its fire fighting duty to aircraft.

"They will also be responsible for putting out fires in the camp," Bart said.

He said he is not worried about his son getting injured by fire, but he has other concerns. "I'm concerned about the continual stories of unmarked minefields," Bart said. He said he is also worried about the shortrange mortar, which is the weapon of choice in Bosnia and has a range far greater than the one-mile buffer zones outlined in the peace

Bart's mother, Pat Ransone, said she has concerns for her son.

"There's always a chance that something could happen," she said.

Pat said she has personal reasons for her feelings about Bart's deployment.

"He's my little boy," she said "I'm very proud of him, I guess my biggest problem is I'm going to miss him.'

Pat said Ransone's sister, Ami, likes being able to wear his clothes while he is gone, but she said Ami misses her brother.

"She was very sad to see him leave," Pat Preston said his son called home from Wiesbaden, Jan. 27 and shared some interesting things about his experience so far. "He's enjoying Germany," he said. But his son may be a > disappointed with some aspects of the deployment, Preston said. "The training is repetitive,"

"They are overtraining them, doing a lot of rifle drills." If his performance in ROTC is any indication of his abilities, he will do well regardless of the

"He has been an outstanding performer in the past, and I'm sure he will continue to do well," Tatham said.

Tatham said Bart earned all A's and B's in his military science classes.

"He has always done well and impressed me," he said. Bart served two years at Fort Riley with the 1st Engineer Battalion, earning the rank of specialist before coming to K-State.

Bart is following in his father's footsteps. Preston spent 31 years in military service and is a Lieutenant Colonel in the Army Retired Reserve.

In his time, Bart's father commanded a rifle

COURTESY PHOTO

Pat Ransone pins Airborne wings onto her son, Bart Ransone. Bart was deployed to Wiesbaden, Germany, for training Dec. 2 company in Korea, served as a refugee adviser to the state department in Vietnam, and was member of the elite Special Forces

Bart's unit has orders to be deployed for 270 days, which means he will be gone until mid-

September. Preston said he thinks his son will take some time off when he returns and possibly start school again next spring. An ROTC contract will be waiting for him, but there are more important things.

Bart's mother, sister and father are waiting in Lawrence for his safe return.

1/2 Reuben and a cup of soup

Expires 2-23-96 Not good with any other offers

1219 Bluemont • Aggieville

Call for appointment

Same day results

Free pregnancy testing

Pregnancy

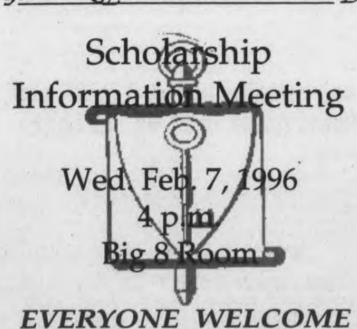

Testing Center

539-3338

Totally confidential service

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Golden Key National Honor Society

Learn about: Truman, Marshall, Rhodes, Rotary and many more scholarships.

Manhattan Athletic Club

700 Rosencutter Rd. 776-6622

Join us for only $85 a semester (student special) Limited memberships available

We're looking for you

Offer expires February 15

The 1996 Royal Purple yearbook is now taking applications for staff writer and staff assistant positions. If you are enthusiastic and want to be a part of an award winning yearbook -We're looking for you.

Applications are available in Kedzie Hall 103. If you have questions call Sarah at 532-6557.

Be a part of it.

For FEBRUARY.

at Dean Liquor we feature a wine varietal.

Sports

did you know? ■ Before he entered the coaching world, K-State basketball coach Tom Asbury played with the Denver Nuggets while they were part of the ABA.

We want you

Do you have an idea for the daily "Did You Know?" Here's your chance to put your sports trivia skills to work. Submit ideas to Shana Newell, sports editor, at twobag@ksu.ksu.edu or send them to Kedzie 116.

K-State headed for Big Dance

Try to think back before the basketball season began. Try to remember where you picked our beloved Wildcats

Do you remember? I do.

I have to admit, I picked K-State to finish sixth in the conference, right ahead of Iowa State and Colorado.

But I know I wasn't alone in picking the Cats to finish near the bottom of the conference. No there were many skeptics of K-State's pro-

Myview

SHANE McCormick

gram. But let's have a look at the Big 8 standings through Sunday's play: To nobody's surprise, Kansas sits alone at the top with a 6-0 record.

But take a look at the No. 2 and No.

Iowa State sits at No. 2 with a 5-1 record in the conference. K-State is at No. 3 with a 5-3 record. So how did the Cats end up in third place so far?

Tyrone Davis proved last year that he could rack up the points, but few would have expected Elliot Hatcher to come up with the year he has so far.

Just take a look at Hatcher's performance against Kansas Sunday. Hatcher scored 30 points, dished out three assists and grabbed a big nine rebounds.

Two more facts make his performance all the more impressive. First, he produced this performance against one of the best point guards and team defenses in the nation. Second, Hatcher never got a breather. The sixfoot senior played the entire 40 minutes for the first time in his career.

Not to worry, Cat fans. Even after the loss to the Jayhawks, the Cats are still primed for the NCAA Tournament. Before the loss to the Jayhawks, the Cats were sitting at 5-2 in the conference.

Whenever the Cats have gotten off to a 5-2 start in the conference, they have always continued on to the Big Dance. But with the lack of respect for the Cats program around the country, don't expect to hear that kind of talk about the Cats.

So, what about the rest of the con-

Kansas is an obvious lock for a No. 1 seed in the tournament

Besides Kansas and K-State, look for Iowa State and Nebraska to get in. Missouri can have a outside shot if it will ever put a couple of consistent games together.

What about Big 8 Player of the Year?

Oklahoma's Ryan Minor, last year's winner, is leading the conference in scoring. But he hasn't actually been the most consistent player this year.

If K-State continues to win, either seniors Elliot Hatcher or Tyrone Davis could have a chance.

If his name were more well known, Iowa State's Dedric Willoughby could have an outside shot.

But look for Kansas sophomore Raef LaFrentz to take the honors. He will probably finish the season leading the Jayhawks in scoring.

If the Hawks are undefeated at the end of conference play, you can bet your sweet dollar that the votes will go to a Kansas player.

What about coach of the year? Two candidates: K-State's Tom Asbury and Iowa State's Tim Floyd.

There are no other coaches in the Big 8 who have done more with their underrated teams.

I look for Iowa State to start slipping with upcoming road games. This will leave Tom Asbury as the front-runner for the award.

Finally, we might see some respect for the good old Cats.

Shane McCormick is a senior in radio/ television and you can tell him what your preseason picks were at the e-mail address shanem@ksu.ksu.edu.

Freshman recruit surprises K-State

 Instead of riding the bench, Shawn Rhodes is riding the roster as a consistent starter for K-State.

Shane McCormick

contributing writer

He wasn't supposed to step out onto the floor of Bramlage Coliseum before thousands of fans. He was supposed to be sitting out the season to save a year of eligibility to develop his

All right, he wasn't red-shirted this season, but surely he wouldn't step out onto the court and contribute much. That duty would go to the other freshman from Wichita.

Boy, has Shawn Rhodes fooled K-State.

Here we are, more than halfway through the season, and Shawn Rhodes is a fan favorite when he enters the game, drawing screams from the crowds.

Rhodes was a consensus first-team, all-state selection last year at Wichita Northwest High School.

During his senior year, Rhodes averaged 16.6 points and eight rebounds per game. On top of that, he led the Wichita City League in three-point percentage at 47 percent.

After accumulating a tremendous high school career, Rhodes was recruited by numerous universities. Rhodes said the final four on his list were Tulsa, Wichita State, Colorado State and K-

Several things attracted him to K-State, Rhodes said.

"More or less, I just really loved the people and the campus

"I also loved Coach Asbury and the atmosphere of Bramlage

The summer following his senior year, Rhodes worked on more than his basketball moves. He also worked on his eating

During the summer, Rhodes ate and lifted. Then he ate some

By the time he arrived at K-State, Rhodes had increased his size from 6 feet, 9 inches and 205 pounds to 6' 10" inches and "When I put on those extra 25 pounds, I think I really showed them I was willing to work harder to become a better It was just before the Cats' first exhibition game that he learned he would not be red-shirted for the season. To many, it was quite a surprise, but Rhodes said he was prepared for either "I didn't try to come in here with too high of expectations, so I wanted to be prepared either way," Rhodes said. "I just wanted to make sure that whatever chances I got, I was going to take advantage of them." And when given the chance, Rhodes has responded. Rhodes found out he would be making his first collegiate start right before the Jan. 13 contest with the Colorado Buffaloes. Things didn't start off as Rhodes had hoped. He was scoreless for the first half. But Rhodes paved the way for the Cats in the second half, scoring 13 points and grabbing nine pointers that sparked the Cats. ket I made I just gained more confidence," Rhodes said.

rebounds. During that second half, Rhodes hit two key three-

Rhodes said he did feel some butterflies before his first start.

Freshman surprise Shawn Rhodes blocks a shot by Missouri center Sammie Haley in K-State's loss to the Tigers earlier this season. Rhodes is averaging 17.4 minutes per game with a 47.9 field-goal percentage. He has 20 assists, 14 blocked shots and nine steals for the Cats.

"I was a little bit nervous, but I felt like I just wanted to play a good game, whether it was playing 40 minutes or 10 minutes," Rhodes said. "I tried not to think too much about starting."

Whatever chances Rhodes gets for the rest of the season

State fans should believe he will be ready to respond. "I just want to come in and help the team however I can,"

Rhodes said. "I'll come in and block shots, grab some rebounds and make some open shots - whatever it takes to get a win." Coach Tom Asbury said the best thing about Rhodes is the ture ahead of him. "He is such a multi-dimensional player with lots of different skills," Asbury said. "And his best basketball is ahead of him."

FOOTBALL RECRUITING

National intent signing tomorrow; Cats to have a young recruiting class

Shane McCormick

The national letter of intent signing day is Wednesday, and the K-State football staff has got its recruiting wish list complete.

At the top of the list of prized possessions is a strong safety from Texas and a quarterback from Arizona.

Jarrod Cooper, a 6-foot-2 and 196pound strong safety from Pearland, Texas, has committed to K-State.

"He really has great strength and great defensive mentality," Jack Waggoner, Cooper's high school coach, said. "He is really a great kid. He has a lot of desire for the game."

There has been talk that Cooper could be moved to linebacker or defensive end for the Cats. Waggoner said making the adjustment wouldn't be hard for Cooper.

"He has great speed, and he is only going to get stronger," Waggoner said. "We had to ask him to play a lot of fullback for us this year. He is willing to make adjustments." Cooper picked K-State instead of Texas A&M, Baylor and Pitt.

Although K-State lost out on highly recruited high school quarterback Kevin Feterik, the Cats were able to get a commitment from Jonathan Beasley of Glendale (Ariz.) Cactus.

At 6"1' and 205 pounds, Beasley possesses both a strong arm and tremendous intelligence. In his junior and senior years of high school, Beasley threw for more than 4,000 yards and 47 touchdowns. But it is Beasley's ability to read defenses that impressed K-State.

"Jonathan called about 75 percent of the plays here, he read the defense and would make the necessary adjustments," Graham, Beasley's high school coach, said. "He possesses tremendous leadership. He's really the best quarterback we have ever had at Glendale Cactus."

Beasley said he feels his abilities will give him a strong chance of getting some early playing time at K-

"I read defenses well. I can throw on the run, and I have a strong arm," Beasley said. "I'll need to work on staying in the pocket a little more, but getting the chance to play early is one thing that attracted me to K-State." Beasley chose K-State instead of Oregon, Georgia Tech and South Carolina.

K-State also picked up some size on the offensive and defensive lines.

A big pickup for the Cats was Jerome Evans from Hutchinson Community College in Waco, Texas. At 6'6" and 303 pounds, Evans will definitely take up some space on the defensive line. The Cats recruited even more depth to their offensive line with three

• See RECRUITS Page 10

Wildcat football recruits

On Wednesday, universities can sign national letters of intent with recruits. K-State has received oral commitments from the following players for

Name	Pos.	Ht.	Wt.	Hometown/school
David Allen	RB	5-10	180	Liberty, Mo.
Adrian Beard	DB	5-11	180	St. Charles, Mo. (West)
Jonathan Beasley	QB	6-1	205	Glendale, Ariz. (Cactus)
DaVon Brame	DE	6-4	185	Denver (Montbello)
Dyshod Carter	RB	5-10	180	Denver (Jefferson)
Chris Claybon	RB	5-10	170	Tulsa, Okla. (Union)
Jarrod Cooper	DB	6-2	196	Pearland, Texas
Randall Cummins	DL	6-3	240	Ceader Hill, Texas.
Ryan Cummings	OL	6-5	250	Kansas City, Mo. (Rockhurst)
Adam Hotz	OL	6-3	270	Papillion, Neb. (LaVista)
Policia Houston	WR	6-0	180	Denver (Jefferson)
John Knott	OL	6-5	265	Pittsfield, Maine (Central Institute)
Dariss Lomax	LB	6-3	200	Kansas City, Kan. (Washington)
Clint McCrary	DL	6-3	278	Houston (Sam Houston)
Shad Meier	TE	6-5	215	Pittsburg, Kan.
Grant Reeves	OL	6-6	286	Richardson, Texas (Berkner)
Jamie Rheem	PK	6-3	175	Wichita Collegiate
Millford Stevenson	TE	6-4	220	Alief, Texas (Hastings)
Jason Sykes	DB	5-11	170	Kansas City, Kan. (Washington)
Steve Tucker	DE	6-5	225	Kansas City, Mo. (Winnetonka)
*Jerome Evans	DL	6-6	303	Hutchinson C.C./Waco, Texas.
* All players are coming Community College.	from h	igh scho	ols exce	ept Jerome Evans, who comes from Hutchin
			OIS EXC	JUSTIN STAHLMAN

Massachusetts still No. 1

Press' college basketball poll, with first-place place vote through one point for a 25th-place votes in parentheses, records through Feb vote, and previous ranking.

K-State received four vote

Here are the top 25 teams in the Associated 4., total points based on 25 points for a first-

Team	Record	Pts	PR	13. Texas Tech	18-1	798	15
1. Massachusetts (58)	21-0	1,641	1	14. Purdue	17-4	781	17
2. Kentucky (7)	18-1	1,586	2	15. Memphis	16-4	729	11
3. Kansas	18-1	1,483	3	16. Arizona	16-4	707	14
4. Connecticut (1)	21-1	1,468	4	17. UCLA	15-5	609	19
5. Cincinnati	17-1		5	18. Syracuse	16-6	500	18
The second secon		1,398	2.	19. lowa	15-6	275	16
6. Villanova	18-3	1,300	6	20. Louisville	16-6	273	_
7. Utah	18-3	1,216	/	21. lowa St.	16-4	238	_
8. Georgetown	19-3	1,176	9	22. Boston College	13-5	229	21
9. Wake Forest	14-3	1,020	12	23. Michigan	15-7	174	20
10. Penn St.	16-2	1,004	10	24. E. Michigan	16-2	137	23
11. Virginia Tech	16-2	976	13	25. Stanford	10.00	126	20
12. North Carolina	16-5	930	8	25. Startiord	13-5	120	5

Kansas remains at No. 3 in AP poll; Cyclones break in at No. 21 spot

A close win didn't do much to Massachusetts' big lead at the top of the college basketball poll Monday.

The Minutemen (21-0), who needed overtime to beat Xavier of Ohio 78-74 Sunday, easily maintained the No. 1 spot in the rankings for the seventh straight week.

The only unbeaten Division I team, Massachusetts received 58 first-place votes and 1,641 points from the national-media panel, well ahead of the seven first-place votes and 1,586 points garnered by Kentucky (18-1).

For the Wildcats, whose only loss was to Massachusetts, it was their seventh straight week as runner-up in the voting as the top seven teams in the poll held their spots from last week.

While the top of the rankings has remained steady all season, the changes continued at the bottom as three teams came in this week. Louisville, Iowa State and Stanford all entered the top 25 Iowa State for the first time this season - while Auburn, Clemson and Georgia Tech fell out.

Kansas was third, followed by Connecticut, which got the only other first-place vote, Cincinnati, Villanova

See TOP 25 Page 10

Project Safe Zone encourages understanding

To receive a packet, contact the Student Governing Association at 532-6541 and leave

Khristi Shell

Project Safe Zone is underway at K-State.

Bookmarks promoting lesbian, bisexual and gay acceptance were mailed to all-University department heads Friday.

Inverted pink triangles with a transposed Willie provide a symbol for a faculty member or other individuals choosing to display their willingness to listen to anyone who has concerns or questions dealing with lesbian, bisexual and gay transgender issues, Heather Nelson, president of the Bisexual and Gay and Lesbian Society, said.

"This is Project Safe Zone because we wanted to implement it over the entire campus, which is why it is called Project, and make sure that most all the important places — that actually every place — has an opportunity to post these bookmarks throughout the campus," Nelson said.

The people displaying the bookmarks maintain they will not use heterosexist language and make heterosexist assumptions, she said.

The purpose of Project Safe Zone is to provide a safe area where lesbian, gay or bisexual students can go to speak about certain issues and not be ridiculed or fear other consequences that in other places could bring negative consequences, Nelson said.

"We plan to raise awareness of misconceptions that are currently held throughout society about lesbian, gay and bisexual people," Nelson said.

A few years ago, the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force did a study and found that K-State was unwelcoming of these types of issues. BGLS wants to see if it has changed, she said.

BGLS wants to help bisexual, gay and lesbian students feel there is faculty who want one, she said. friendlier atmosphere toward them, Jennifer Bame, secretary of BGLS,

"I think it's also help for students who are just coming to terms with their sexuality to feel that they might be in at least a university setting that might be more safe basically," Bame

Last Friday's mailing included two sample bookmarks and an informative letter about why BGLS was organized and what it hopes to accomplish.

It also encourages department heads to hand the bookmarks out to

The bookmark has three points: A person displaying this symbol is one who will be understanding, supportive and trustworthy if a gay, lesbian or bisexual student or colleague needs help, advice or just someone to whom they can talk.

A person displaying this message avoids heterosexist assumptions, confronts homophobia and uses inclusive language.

A person displaying this symbol believes the campus is enriched by the diversity of gay, lesbian and bisexual

Charlie Degenhardt • 913-539-4757 700 PECAN CIRCLE . Hours: Mon. Fri. 7:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.

Foreign and Domestic car repair

 Engine Rebuilding Tune-ups

 Race Engine & Race Chassie Preparation

539-5511

$10 discount on bill over $100 with this ad.

1822 Fairlane

Donnie is the winner of

of the Year" award.

the SCCA's "Best Mechanic

All Types of Foreign & Domestic Repairs Complete Custom Detailing

Lube, Oil, Filter

THE GROUNDHOG SAW IT'S SHADOW

Don't get stuck in the COLD get your BATTERY TESTED

FREE

That's right, NO CHARGE!

If you have a bad battery you can get a New 72 Month Battery as low as

$4495 +tax and core

· Most cars and trucks

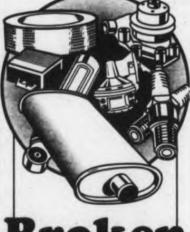

Installation Always Free Of Charge

3rd Street Battery Center

917 N. 3rd St.

Texaco

776-3298 WA

Broken Again?

Look here for all the fixins

> KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 532-6560

AUTO TRIM Complete Upholstering & Fabric • Custom Made Auto & Truck Seat Covers

GOODSON

Convertible Tops . Headliners

Boat Upholstery & Covers . Vinyl Tops . Window Tinting 1-800-773-7679

201 Sarber Lane Between K-Mart & Walmart 776-7679

Start Your Engines

STGATE

2- & 4-WHEEL ALIGNMENTS STRUTS & SHOCKS BRAKE SERVICE CV JOINTS & BOOTS

VISA DECM

610 Hayes Dr. - Behind Walmart 776-4239

60 Series S Speed Rated

SPEED RATED PERFORMANCE TIRES

pavement.

Hoosier

Performance Tires

P185/60SR14......49.95 P195/60SR14......55.95 P195/60SR14.....57.95 P205/60SR15......59.95

P215/65SR15......65.95 Other Sizes Available

90 DAYS SAME AS CASH See Store For Details

P205/65SR15......60.95

EX'S TIRES & CAR CARE CENTERS

4214 HUNTOON, TOPEKA •272-9842 3519 SOUTH TOPEKA BLVD, TOPEKA *267-1174 333 KANSAS AVENUE TOPEKA • 233-0483

Introducing Hoosier Performance Radials.

The first name in performance and style.

Hoosier's are designed to give you year-footing, even on wet and snow covered from quick stopping on wet and dry

· Most passenger & light truck sizes available round performance. You'll experience sure roads. And the Peace of mind that comes

1001 NORTH 3RD, MANHALTAN • 776-4081 2829 ANDERSON, MANHALIAN • 537-2170 621 WEST 6TH, JUNCTION CITY • 762 2408

Service Hours:

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Sat. 8 a.m. - Noon

776-1950

Toll Free 1-800-658-4664

MUFFLER HOUSE "Our business is exhausting"

MUFFLERS & TAILPIPES DUAL SYSTEMS AUTOS (American & Foreign) RVs LIGHT & HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS

COMPLETE BRAKE SERVICE FOR AMERICAN, FOREIGN, & LIGHT TRUCKS SHOCK ABSORBERS & STRUTS

CUSTOM PIPE BENDING

ROSE HOUSE OF TINT GLASS TINTING SERVICES AVAILABLE FOR YOUR AUTO, HOME OR BUSINESS

PIRAW ITE TRAILER HITCHES - SALES & INSTALLATION

FREE ESTIMATES Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

VISA 2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. 776-8955 or 1-800-439-8956

Take advantage of our courtesy van for rides to school and home while your vehicle is being serviced Same Location

MINUTES FOR A CHANGE is free Mr. Goodwrench® Quick Lube® Plus Oil Change- now only $

Oil and filter change with up to 5 quarts of GM Goodwrench® motor oil AC Duraguard oil filter

WE RUN CIRCLES AROUND THE COMPETITION.

CHEVROLET-OLDSMOBILE-CADILLAC-GEO

HWY 24 EAST

MANHATTAN

■ To learn more about privilege fees and proposals to change the current fee system, you can call Privilege Fee Committee chairman Mark Tomb at 532-6541 or e-mail him at (tomberm@ksu.ksu.edu).

To learn more about the Student Governing Association, you can visit its World Wide Web site at (http://www.ksu.edu/~stugov/).

The fight for fees

Student Senate faces not just the question of setting students' fees, but whether or not to restructure the entire budgeting process of allocating student fees

This is what every full-time K-St student pays in privilege fees that are divided up to various campus groups.

Student Senate will vote Thursday on a proposed bill that will change the guidelines and procedures for allocating the $216.45 in fees.

It is important for these reserves to be almost a safety net for the groups in things like decreasing enrollment. It will hopefully help these groups in the

> MARK TOMB PRIVILEGE FEE COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Upon passage, all privilege fees ald be converted into campus priv-lege budgets. The current structure is that campus groups apply for a privilege fee, such as $1 or $2.90, from Senate.

The proposal would change this to campus groups applying for a base ct, such as $65,250 or $10,000. "We are asking the different serces on campus to say, 'What does it take for you to run this service?" said Mark Tomb, chairman of the Privilege Fee Committee.

Campus privilege fees would be based on a linear-fee system, which stems from the linear-tuition payment system that starts at K-State in fall 1996

Linear-tuition payments structure the system so if you take eight credit hours, you pay for eight hours; if you take 16 credit hours, you pay for 16 credit hours.

It can make eduction more costeffective because a student taking seven credit hours pays the same amount of tuition as a student taking 15 credit hours.

'If having more credit hours means that we have more students on have some increase in cost, burprobably not going to be 100 percent of increase," Jeff Peterson, student ody president, said. we are looking at the margin center more, then they are st, but it is probably not less than what we currently are putting into each service," Peterso Regardless of increases in cre hours, if the usage of a increases, there is much closer proportionality to increase in cost, Peterson said.

The proposal creates two accounts the Campus Fee Adjustment Account and the Campus Fee Reserves Account

Reserves The Campus Account will be y revenue occurring from al credit hours beyond the base will be deposited equa

The Campus Reserves Account must ma .5-percent Campus base level of Privilege Fee base

"It is important e reserves to be almost a t for the groups in things like decreasing enrollment. It will hopefully help these groups in the long," Tomb said. Monies deposited in the Campus Fee Adjustment Account can be allocated to groups seen budget adjustments, usage budget adjust-ments, supplemental budget ments, supplemental budget enhancements in lieu of budget increases, to deposit into the Campus

Fees Reserves Account, or to repay bonds. The Privilege Fee Committee can allocate money from the Campus Fee Reserves Account for emergency sit-uations, usage or unforescen budget adjustments, or supplemental budget en budget tal budget adjustments, or sup

"One is designed to last, and that is where you get your stability," enhancements in lieu of budget

A reserve fund can be mai by the privilege fee groups, but an agreement must be made on what percent of the money allocated to these student services can be kept in their reserves, Peterson said.

"If we don't choose that method, then it is kind of like an open door.

the services," Peterson said.

In the past, when a service such as Lafene Health Center has built a $2-million reserve, Senate has looked at that and said although it has managed its money, this is not a good w student money, Peterson said. 'We are wanting two at a time when we are expected to grow in the 10 years. We are trying to look

m that gives us more flex-Anderson Hall does an accurate job of predicting the number of students, and these groups can budget two years ahead for those enrollment patterns, Peterson said "Both syster t perfect, but we are hoping that this system will - problems address a lot of concern that were in the old system," Tomb The propos system addresses the shortfalls rrent system, which include chanisms to protect privile groups from enrollment dec fund specific equipment fund emergency situations or no consideration of the marginal cost of additional students, Peterson said. "I think this really kind of accomplishes some of the concerns that usage had, and by setting a base bud get, any increases in our budget will come out of inflationary type of increases or any additions of services or on an increase usage," Peterson The Privilege Fee Committee said

ew system will tie directly into us nts were to come to If more stud K-State, organizations would ask for it hopes the viously.

more money. 0By establishing another account, the organizations could use the money more efficiently, Tomb said.

Lannie Zweimiller, director of afeno, said he had no problem with ause it will not affect student health no differently than pre-

But in a letter to Peterson, Zweimiller wrote, "I have a concern we are making the whole thing more complicated than it should be. Let's not create another bureaucratic night-campus and they are using the health. We don't know what the end is, and it mare when we have the opportunity to maintain a straightforward, simple process.'

"My concern was they don't pit one entity against another. There must be a mechanism put into effect to equally adjudicate that reserve," Zweimiller said.

Tomb said although the new proposinght create another step for the groups, it is a step that is needed because it offers the services a route to additional money within the budg year and safeguards students' pocket-

The budgets for each group will be eviewed every two years with the provision that they may request additional funds anytime during the year.

"It makes it a system where the review process is not going to change. It is a system that is not tied directly to enrollment increases. It's tied to uses and sets up a mechanism not to kill or

If we don't choose that method, then it is kind of like an open door. We don't know what the end is, and it is kind of like a blank check going to those ser-

Groups submit their request to the Privilege Fee Committee, made up of two interns, three senators and three st-large members

The committee then makes its recdations to Senate.

All budgets must be approved by a two-thirds vote by Senate.

"The whole system will be more stable than we have now. It will be able to withstand the needs for increase and address a lot of the budget concerns of the different areas currently get privilege fees," Tomb said.

$tory by Kara Rogers

Fortmeyer Files

This week: Eric Keen

President of the Kansas State University Association of Residence Halls

Russell: What big issues have faced you as president of KSUARH? Eric: The issues I ran on were increased representation for the halls. Since then we've done our constitutional review and modified it. The executive used to have half of the votes, and now it's down to a third. So, we've given power back to the halls. We've tried to increase awareness and involvement in the halls.

Another goal was to increase the prominence of KSUARH on campus. We're the second-largest organization, second to SGA. Really, we were the unknown 3,200. We didn't have a say on

Russell: Do you think the greek system has more say on campus than KSUARH? Eric: Probably. Not because it's art by Matt Hawkins greek, but because of the positions the greeks are in. I'd say half of Senate is greek. There are prominent people from the residence halls in leadership posi-

Russell: Was increasing the power of the halls a response to Marlatt Hall's move for seccession, or did you even have to deal with that?

Eric: Within my first two or three meetings with KSUARH, the Marlatt thing came to a head. A lot of people would say that's where I really became

One of Marlatt's general premises was the halls had become a yes organization. A lot of halls have complained about that - not that the halls were under-represented, but there were too many votes in the executive committee. More of the power has shifted back to involved and recognized.

Russell: Why can't you call the residence halls dorms?

Eric: I call them dorms all the time. The idea behind it, and I understand this, is that dorms have a negative connotation. "Dorm" sounds like a prison. They want to make it sound more like home.

Russell: Is safety still a big issue with KSUARH?

Eric: Safety has increased a lot since I was here my freshman year. A lot of students don't see the difference because they haven't been here. Now, I have to swipe my ID card on all the doors, except the front door, and I have to do that after dark.

by Russell Fortmeyer

A lot of that has been pro-active to prevent things, and some of it was forced on by insurance. They can cut down something like $100,000 off of their insurance. All of the halls are locked on the wing doors, but the front doors vary by hall. The front doors are locked, at the latest, at midnight.

Russell: Is there any talk of taking IDs from visitors when they enter the Eric: I don't think there is. Honestly, we don't have a lot of problems with security in the halls. Hopefully, it will stay that way. Students aren't trying to keep residence hall students out. They're trying to keep criminals out.

Russell: The escort service has been pretty successful.

Eric: That's an unprecedented success. No one anywhere has had an allvolunteer program and put in under $2,000 total and have it work.

It's the sense of family here. K-State is friendly. When people don't care that's when it is going to die. Russell: What happened to the seniority parking system in the lots around the Derby Complex? Eric: Actually, the seniority system has never left - technically. There are five categories, and you get points: your age, your school status, years you've lived in the hall, hall offices and credit What happened is Parking Services mailed them out in the summer. There wasn't a deadline, so I waited until this fall. Some people went ahead and mailed it in, and Parking Services issued them permits, no matter where they lived or what year they were. It would have been fair if everyone knew there was a deadline. This year there was no deadline, no amount of the check you were supposed to write, and there was no address to where you send it. I guarantee that will all be on there this year. Russell: Enrollment is projected to boom in the next few years - where will those people live? Eric: This year the halls are at about 95-percent capacity. The problem with building another hall is the initial cost. They couldn't do that without a $100 or $150 monthly increase on everyone's bill. Currently, all the representatives on the admission trips say they will guarantee you a spot in the halls. The other option is you may not be guaranteed a spot in the halls.

Russell: Is it hard to balance the professional relationship and the personal life you have with your vice president, Julia Trowbridge? Eric: It's not as hard as I thought it was going to be. The personal life centers around the professional. Russell: Do you find yourself open to a lot of criticism within KSUARH because of that?

Eric: There are people that will say I'm sure she votes the way I do. We disagree on a lot of things. There are a lot of times we leave and we have to not talk about it. She's liberal, and I'm conservative. That's one reason why we ran together, is because we bring both sides together.

Russell: Is it a stock complaint that the food sucks in the dining centers?

Eric: When I was a freshman, I was impressed with the food. Our food is not lousy. They have tons of choices, and we've won national awards. The menu that was brand-new to me as a freshman is now 3 years old. They try and make everyone happy.

Russell: Can you flat-out answer whether or not the dining centers have been serving local squirrel meat in substitution of other meats?

Eric: No. I can safely say I've never eaten anything they didn't properly label. Russell: So, if they properly labeled squirrel meat, you think they would Eric: I don't think they would. You don't win national awards for substituting squirrel meat.

DOWN

3 Diary

had!"

8 Coupe

group

woes

heed to 11 Pay

WHAT'S GOING

ON ?? 15 IT A

GLITCH?

DAD,

THINK

ABOUT

IT'S BIZARRE, IT SHOWS

CREDIT, THEN A PURCHASE

PURCHASE, THEN A CREDIT.

THEN A CREDIT, THEN A

A PURCHASE. THEN A

▶ CROSSWORD

35 Million, in ACROSS 1 Between combinagigs 5 Fashiontions 36 Rams' ma'ams

38 Luxurious

42 Realtor's offering

maybe

50 Donated

51 Scratch

52 Actor Grant

37 (or)

40 Earth

one able 9 Woodman's makeup 12 Leeway

13 Stromboli spillover 43 Cowardly 14 Court 15 Helicopter, 48 Put to work slangily 17 No longer 49 Stressful 5 Across

18 Photog's choice 19 See 17 Across 21 Site of great confusion

24 Missing 25 Particular 26 Anachronism of a sort 30 Placekicker's pride

31 Pivotal 32 Have a 33 One who squelches

15

30

33 0

TFR

whack at it dissidents

16 Wet 53 Off the payroll wriggler Solution time: 24 mins TH JAN OPERATE OUTSMAR 2-6 47 Carmine type: abbr. 10 Debtor's

Yesterday's answer

43

QOHBGVX

CKGTVHOFC

by Eugene Sheffer 20 Reply: abbr.

▶ FOXTROT

I JUST CAN'T

FIGURE OUT THIS

CREDIT CARD

STATEMENT.

WHAT

WAY

DOOG AND BLAIR

1 Dander 21 Mosquito 2 Follow attack relent-22 "This lessly weighs -! 23 Yeoman of 4 Symbol 5 Family the Guard

6 Abzug's 24 Growl 26 AMA types collection 7 "- been 27 Kerrigan's surface 28 Desire 29 "When 9 Small auto Harry Met Sally...' costar 31 March in Hollywood? 34 Possess 35 Strong. sweet wine 37 Chart shape

38 Morose 39 Parks or Ponselle 40 Luminary 41 Paris airport 44 Greek H 45 Worker's burden 46 Previous night

Ooops .. What's this PENT WEFALD

MR. INVADER

So that's why they want to increase the athletic fee!

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

by Justin Stahlman

by Bill Amend

PLEASE

TAKE THIS BACK

PAIGE,

THAT

SWEATER

COST MOR

COLLEGE

TUITION.

by Mark Ilich

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

by Darin Siefkes

It's that boring part of the semester. The weather has been horrible, so it's time to hit the Internet again. These pages were previewed using Netscape.

The Cabinet of Dr. Casey: The Horror Web Page (http://www.cat.pdx.edu/~caseyh/ horror/index.html)

This is the most complete horror page on the Internet. Any bored person can easily get lost for hours.

Dr. Casey's collection of movie posters is a blast to cruise through. And if anyone is looking for a complete list of horror movies listed by author, geographical location or title - look no further.

It even includes timeliness for horror fans. These include everything from movie effects to the legends like Vlad the Impaler, whose image has become the horror stars of today.

Pulitzer Prizes (http://www.pulitzer.org/)

Completely bored people can always check to see if I have won my Pulitzer prize yet. Though they haven't included a section on web reviews (yet), this is a great place to read about the best stories of the year.

It also contains entry forms that can be sent in electronically. I'm sure they would be happy to see every short story our English composition classes write. So send them in.

A List of Things to Do When Bored (http://www.norlink.net/~em_decay/ bored.html)

If you think you have too much free time on your hands, check out Mark's list of things to do when bored. He has covered the top 192 things to do when bored. (He might need a girlfriend.)

To his credit, it is an interesting list and worth visiting at least once.

Hot 100 Websites (http://www.web21.com/services/hot100 /index html)

If boredom has killed the will for creative net surfing. this site might make your day. It keeps track of the most visited sites on the net. It also lists the top sites of the past, so surfers can take a walk down memory lane. So follow the herd and see what's hot.

Dylan's Page (http://www.pixi.com/~owens/index.html)

Dylan may be only 15 years old, but he has come up with ideas about relieving boredom that would make many of our tenured faculty gape in wonder.

For convenience, he has also included the time it takes for each activity to become boring.

If his solutions to boredom aren't enough, he has also included the keys to understanding the universe: How to decrypt bar codes.

Word of the week: Flaming.

Flaming is when someone posts a message on news groups or by e-mail in an effort to get an argument started or to continue arguing about something that is normally stupid and mundane. Though it is silly and wastes our precious computer resources, it's fun. Try flaming our administration to spice up your day.

Any questions, comments, cool sites? E-mail Darin at (wings@ksu.ksu.edu)

▶ CYBERCAFE

Cafe offers cappucinos, opportunity to cruise the Internet

Abbi Hake

MPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 199¢ per minute, touch-tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THIS LOUT LIKES TO KEEP SHEEP AS PETS FOR THE SHEAR PLEASURE OF

Today's Cryptoquip clue: H equals G

For answers to today's crossword, call

From the outside, it appears to be just like any other coffee shop. Inside, it's different

QEKGX

FBSK

CVT

Just like any other cafe, it serves the usual: mochas, teas, original soups, sandwiches and muffins. But, there's one thing served that is not on the menu anywhere else in the Midwest. It's the Internet - the first cyber-cafe in the Little Apple. This menu item won't break the pocketbook, though. It's free. Kitty Pursley, owner of Mainstreet Specialty Coffees, said the idea stemmed from the cybercafes on the East and West coasts. "I got my interest from coffee shops in Seattle. They do it so much there," Pursley said. While sitting down at the computer in the front of the shop, with a mouse in one hand and a cappuccino in the other, browsing sites on Netscape, one Internet program, is as comfortable as

Mainstreet Specialty Coffees, 111

S. 4th St., installed the PC computer a few months ago, and people can click their way through the Internet in a cafe environ-

Pursley said she realizes many people have never been on the Internet before, and this is a chance to try it for

"I'm pretty computer illiterate. I thought by doing this people like me could get on and play," Pursley said.

Vanessa Ault McCoy, marketing and promotions director of Mega Media, said the company decided to sponsor the installation of the computer and its programs so the company could help connect Manhattan to the rest of the world.

"We'd like to see Manhattan connected. There's no reason why Manhattan has to be without that," McCoy said.

Angie Copeland, junior in architectural engineering and an employee of Mainstreet Specialty Coffees, said although business people from the downtown area are among the regular customers, the coffee shop is a neat idea for college students as well. Although there is just one computer available and the cafe's hours are from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., Pursley said as business grows so will the hours and possibly the number of computers.

Trio revives 61-year-old composition

The Notre Dame String Trio will perform a concert of 20th-century works at 8 p.m. Thursday in All-Faiths Chapel. Admission is free.

The group's extensive repertoire includes classical masterpieces by Beethoven and Mozart, romantic compositions of Schubert and Reger, and several works by 20th-century composers.

Thursday's program will include David Diamond's recently revised "String Trio in G major" (1937), the first performance since its premiere at the Library of Congress in 1938. Also on the program is "String Trio No. 2" by Paul Hindemith.

The trio is composed of violinist Carolyn Plummer, violist Christine Rutledge and cellist Buranskas.

As founding members of "Contempo," Notre Dame's contemporary chamber music ensemble, they have collaborated with Lukas Foss, Libby Larsen and Joan Tower. The trio, which will give its New York debut performance in May 1996 at Carnegie/Weil Recital Hall, has had the position of resident faculty ensemble at the University of Notre Dame for the last six years. The Notre Dame String Trio is also on the touring roster of the Indiana Arts Council.

aco luesday

50¢ Tacos (Chicken or Beef, Hard or Soft Shell)

$1 Margaritas (Reg. or Strawberry)

$1 Frosty Mugs

 Bobby T's-Candlewood Shopping Center-Featuring Daily Drink & Food Specials 4:30 - 9:30 p.m.

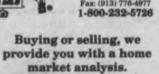

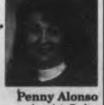

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

3230 Kimball Ave.

nhatten, KS 66502 fice: (913) 776-4488 Fax: (913) 776-4977 1-800-232-5726

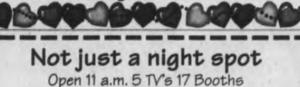

Penny Alonso

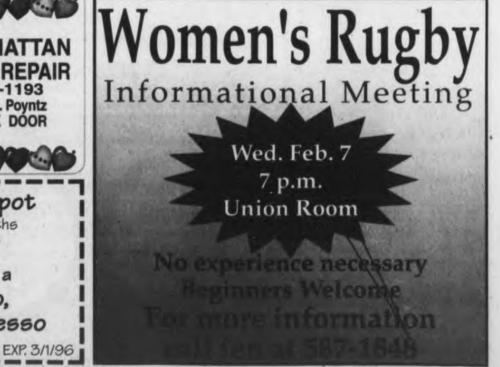

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

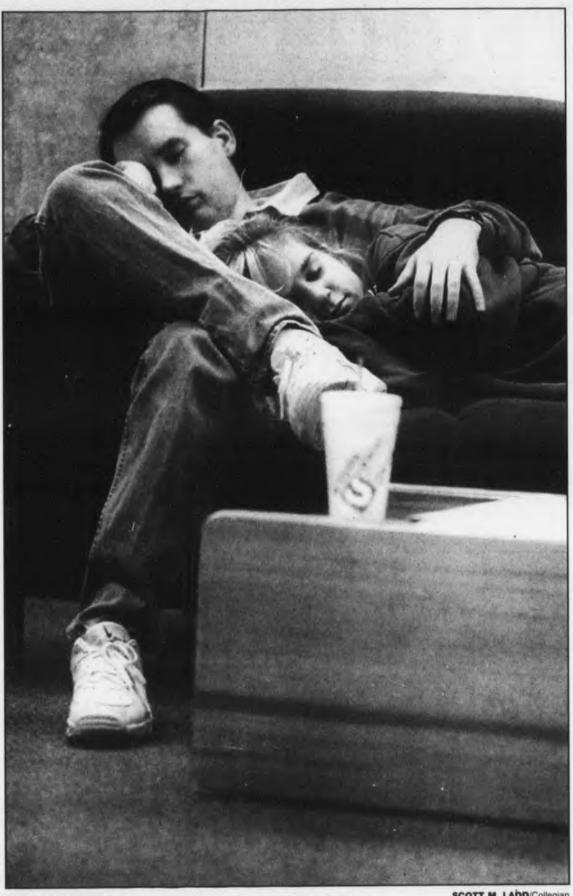

FREE COFFEE ALL DAY This coupon good for a FREE Cappucino, Cafe Latte, or espresso

616 N. 12TH . AGGIEVILLE

SCOTT M. LADD/Collegian

Quiet time

During a break between classes, Tim Dann, junior in architecture, holds Leann Vesecky, sophomore in construction science, as the two catch a quick nap in the K-State Student Union. Dann said they were waiting for Vesecky's class to start and used the time to grab a few z's.

WELFARE REFORM

Governors reach Medicaid agreement

Proposals made in effort to help reach accord in budget talks Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The nation's governors reached agreement Monday to squeeze savings from the giant Medicaid health care program for the poor, a step they hoped would break the budget deadlock between the White House and Congress.

Wisconsin Gov. Tommy Thompson chairman of the National Governors' Association, said the governors were nearing a consensus on a recommendation to President Clinton on how to overhaul welfare.

There is no immediate comment from the White House on the Medicaid agreement. President Clinton was scheduled to address the Democratic governors later Monday evening and all the governors on Clinton has looked toward the governors to help him reach an agreement with the Republican-led Congress on a plan to balance the budget over the next seven years and end an impasse that has seen the government go through a partial shutdown twice since last November.

"I am hopeful that this will be the catalyst to break the deadlock and get everything else moving," Thompson, a Republican, said at a news conference.

Thompson said the Medicaid agreement, along with an expected understanding on welfare, would be voted on Tuesday morning by all members of the governors' associa-

Colorado Gov. Roy Roemer, a Democrat, said the agreement would guarantee coverage for the most needy, including pregnant women, children, the elderly and the disabled.

Under the proposal, Medicaid funding for states would be based on a state's need, but states would be able to tap into a separate pot of federal money in case they run short of funds in emergencies or an economic downturn, Roemer said.

Thompson said reaching a compromise on the $100 billion-plus Medicaid program was essential because states spend about 20 percent of their budgets on health services for House Speaker Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., and Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., who have led the Republicans in the budget negotiations with Clinton, have indicated to the governors they would accept a compromise agreement worked out by Governors' Association, Thompson said.

"It's the break that they're looking for, and hopefully we can convince our colleagues of the importance of passing it," Thompson said

Earlier in the day, Clinton and the governors spoke optimistically about solving the impasse over Medicaid and welfare — disputes that have long divided Democrats and Republicans.

► CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

State legislators present opinions on public education funding

 Forum also focuses on state presidential primary, voter registration

Marci McNeal

the 35-mil levy extension, which funds local public education, was one issue discussed at a forum sponsored by the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce Saturday.

State legislators presented their views on issues to about 40 people at the Manhattan Town Center.

The statewide 35-mil levy provides $600 million to local school districts.

'The 35-mil renewal for K-12 education is the cornerstone issue of the 1996 legislative session, and how we deal with this issue will have broad ramifications in the outyears," R-Rep. Kent Glasscock said.

Several proposals have been introduced by those interested in reducing or phasing out the 35 mils over a period of two to

The three legislators agreed the 35-mil levy would be extended by one or two years, but the focus on the issue would probably not occur until the last month of the '96 ses-

Glasscock said the governor has also taken a strong stand in favor of renewing the 35-mil levy, as it is now, for two years.

One issue addressed was a bill that would eliminate the state presidential primary in April.

State Sen. Janice Hardenburger, who chairs the Senate Elections Committee, designed the bill, which will be heard on the floor this week

"I'm against the presidential primary because I see it merely as a straw poll that costs $1.4 million, and it doesn't bind any delegates to a candidate," Hardenburger

Hardenburger said she has asked for the presidential primary to be repealed and the money to be sent down to the counties to implement the National Voter Registration

"Many of you know that I've challenged the NVRA because it's an unfunded federal mandate that is being used as a buzzword, but the counties do not consider it a buzzword. They consider it an impact upon their budgets," Hardenburger said.

She said Kansas has held off on implementing the NVRA as 18 other states have. The U.S. Supreme Court has denied the appeal from California in its lawsuit against the federal government to implement the NVRA, and it is only practical that Kansas will do the same as quickly as possible, she

"We'll move to implementing the NVRA, and hopefully we can get some appropriations to assist the counties, which is estimated to be $1 million the first year, to implement it," Hardenburger said. Another issue addressed concerned the Kansas Board of Regents' budget.

Glasscock mentioned that the tenor in the House is anti-Regents. He said he cautions those who are hoping for increases in higher-education funding.

"The chances of us improving the regents budget are very small. The budget is probably where it's going to be," Glasscock said.

Glasscock said he thinks the challenge now is not how to get more, but how to avoid getting less.

Rep. Sheila Hochhauser, D-Manhattan, said she commends Gov. Bill Graves for making education a priority in his budget this year.

However, she did criticize the House leadership for deciding to roll all the budgets into one budget bill.

The budget bill calls for all work on budget documents to be completed by Feb. 23, which is a full month before half of the budgets would normally be passed out of the

"Everything is on a much more rapid time frame. We should be able to look at the budgets the way a business would," Hochhauser said.

She said she doesn't feel that can be done with the accelerated time frame in which the House wants the budgets to be

I'm against the presidential primary because I see it merely as a straw pole that costs $1.4 million, and it doesn't bind any delegates, to a candidate.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

Georgetown moved up one spot to No. 8 and was followed in the Top Ten by Wake Forest, which jumped three places, and Penn State, which was 10th last week. Virginia Tech jumped two spots to lead the Second Ten and was followed by North Carolina, Texas Tech, Purdue, Memphis, Arizona, UCLA, Syracuse, Iowa and Louisville. The last five teams were Iowa State, Boston College, Michigan, Eastern Michigan and Stanford.

Louisville (16-6), which was 12th in the preseason poll and then fell out of the rankings five weeks into the season, returned after a six-week absence. The Cardinals, who have lost their entire projected starting frontline for various reasons, came in on a sixgame winning streak that included a win at UCLA and Saturday's 74-56 thrashing of Memphis.

"I hope they are right," Louisville coach Denny Crum said of the voters.

"Our team has been through some tough times, but they are playing remarkably well. They're showing great effort. As long as they keep that up, I will be happy with them."

Iowa State (16-4) was ranked for most of son, getting as Our team has been 11th in through some tough the poll. times, but they are play-The Cyclones ing remarkably well. entered the rankings on a five-game winning and their streak,

DENNY CRUM LOUISVILLE COACH

game as a Top 25 team will be at Kansas on Wednesday night.

"We wouldn't have dreamed we'd be 16-4 right now," Cyclones coach Tim Floyd said of the team that was picked last in the preseason Big 8 poll.

tunately we got some decent players in here. They've grown together, they like each other and they're playing extremely hard right now." Stanford (13-5) was 18th in the

"We're very encouraged. We did have a huge turnover in personnel, but for-preseason voting but fell out four The Cardinals made a one-week came in having won five of six, the last two impressive victories over California and Seton Hall. The three teams that fell out of the poll lost a total of five games last week. Auburn (15-6) lost at Vanderbilt and at home to Mississippi State. Clemson (13-5) followed a home win over Georgia Tech with a 30-point loss at Duke. Georgia Tech (13-10) followed the loss at Clemson with another road loss to Maryland.

The week's biggest jumps belonged to Wake Forest and Purdue, each moving up three spots, while North Carolina, which lost at North Carolina State, and Memphis, which lost to Louisville, each fell four places for the week's biggest drops.

RECRUITS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

The Cats recruited even more depth to their offensive line with three additions. The biggest of these was Grant Reeves from Richardson, Texas.

Reeves is a 6-foot-6 offensive lineman who tips the scales at 286 pounds. K-State also added something special to its recruiting list.

Jamie Rheem, a 6-foot-2, 170pound placekicker from Wichita Collegiate, gave an oral commitment to K-State.

Rheem made 10 of 12 field goals during his senior season, including a K-State returns junior Martin Gramatica, who has connected on 13 of 19 career field goals. Gramatica's career-long field goal

"Call Us For A Quote

ACCESSORIES MAKEUP · HATS · SHOES · PROPS · MASK · ALL SIZES

539-5200

1116 Moro

537-0886

Mon.-Sat.

11 a.m.-1 a.m.

11 a.m.-Midnight

This coupon good for PEPPER STEAK

$3.90 Dine-in and carryout

Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries. FREE DELIVERY (min. $9) Expires 2-15-96

'No Coupon" Specials

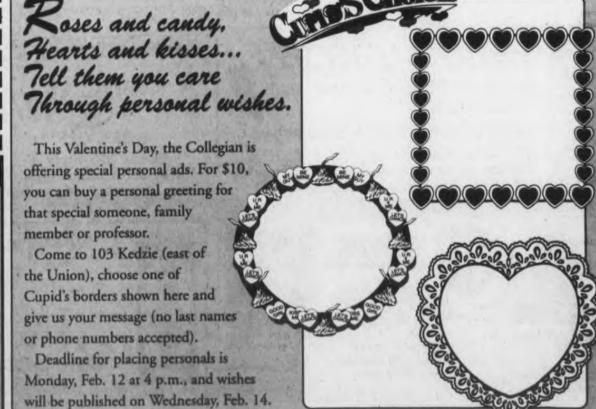

(NO coupon needed, NONE accepted)

TOPPINGS each COKES with ice

Three-fers PIZZAS with TOPPING each COKES with ice

103 Kedzie

Hall

Classifieds

STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 2 DAYS

20 words or less - $5.35 each word over 20 - $.20 per word 20 words or less - $6.60

each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS

BOARD

Announcements

KSU SCUBA NAUI or

SWING INTO SPRING CRAFT SHOW- Sat-urday February 10, Pot-torf Hall, Cico Park 9-5.

YMCA certifications taught on campus, Con-tact UFM at 539-8763

for information and

Handmade crafts, homemade food. Pro-ceeds benefit ABWA

education opportuni

20 words or less - $7.60 each word over 20 - $.30 per word 20 words or less - $8.35 each word over 20 - $.35 per word

20 words or less - $8.85 each word over 20 - $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

For Rent-Unfurnished

across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537–2332.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919. SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, 539-0531, classes now forming.

AVAILABLE MID-MAY one-bedroom across from campus, two bal-conies, new kitchen. Call 587-9322, leave

CAMP OZARK is here! Do you love kids? Have a skill? Thought of sum-mer camp? Meet us AVAILABLE NOW- rent ne gotiable, luxury apart-ment next to campus, Tuesday night at 7:30p.m. for a video two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing, 539-2702 evenings. COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

AVAILABLE NOW, one bedroom apartment, close to campus. $285/ month leave message. 587-9272.

AVAILABLE NOW. Onebedroom, 820 Osage. $325. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-Call 776-3804.

CRESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-APARTroom, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. 1611 Lara-mie. $575 through May Water, trash paid

Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

You Deserve

2 bedroom

▲ Large

apartments

bedrooms

Great location

Two bathrooms

▲ Walk-in closets

▲ Washer/dryer

hook-ups

▲ Fireplaces

▲ Large pool

MOW LEASING

JUNE & AUGUST

776-8641

Open Houses Daily

The Curtin Company

FOUR-BEDROOM, LARGE,

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus, 1829 College Heights, $500.

Water, trash paid, Call apartment. Available now- July 31. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $490/ month. Water and trash paid. Call 539-9524.

apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse. Newly carpeted. 537-9188 or 537-1550.

ABLE now. IN Aggleville, 1220 Laramie $250. All utilities paid. Pets allowed. Call 776–3804.

ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid.

Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

ONE OR two-bedroom

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid.

PARK PLACE Apartment special. One-bedroom, new carpet, hot water paid, $300 per month, plus utilities. Six month lease, 537–2392.

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.

ROYAL TOWERS. Four-

bedrooms available now. One block from

TWO-BEDROOM

available 537-1940. $750:

Parties-n-More

Lost and Found

Found ads can be FOUND: MICKEY Mouse watch. Found in Bio-Chemistry building. Claim at CB 142.

ADD A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funnies gift ever! Professiona entertainment at rea sonable rates! Rol 539-6623.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, fa-milial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, nation al origin or ancestry Violations should be re ported to the Directo of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320/ month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460 month, both close to campus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537-7542.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537–1666, 537–2919.

NINE OR 12 month lease most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. pets. 537-8389.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N 10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED spartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428 TWO-BEDROOMS AVAIL-ABLE- large house. Share facilities with other tenants $120-$150 per month plus electricity, 539-6687 or ($16)722-6851. HOW TO PAY classifieds must be pull in advence a you have an established accoun Student Publications. sh, check, MasterCard or Visa are ixed. There is a $10 service charg

FADLINES or an extra change, we'll put it. dine above your ad to catch me

campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dish-

TWO-BEDROOM APART-

MENT remodeled, new carpet. 50 feet from campus, 1200 N. Man-hattan. $400/ Month.

Water/ trash paid. 776-7996, leave mesable, 539-7277.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776–3804.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR

TWO-BEDROOM,

AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY. Four-bed-study. Available immediately. Close to mous, 1021 McColcampus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

deled two-bedroom house near campus. Refrigerator, range, wash er, dryer, central heat and air. No pets. $475 plus utilities. Call even-ings. (913)238-8441.

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look

ble through 539-6394.

ing for roommate two-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, ca-ble. As soon as possi-

MALE ROOMMATE needed $162/ month,

one-third utilities, four bedroom, three bath townhouse available immediately. Cal 539-4776 ask for Nicole wanted for apartment one block from cam-

Rent negotiable

ROOMMATE

Roommate

Wanted

FEMALE

FEMALE

FEMALE

776-8284.

lowed, Call 776-3804.

TWO AND three-bedroom

VERY NICE newly remo-

For Rent-

776-1340.

Houses

MENT, washer and dry-er. $350. 537-1940.

with washer/ dryer, basement available March 1, 537-7138.

DEADLINES

REE FOUND ADS

CANCELLATIONS

d. we will refund you for the

CORRECTIONS

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

Call 539-1063.

washer, microwave, laundry facilities. Call MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block now 776-3804. from campus, with two STUDIO AVAILABLE now girls, one guy. Own room, washer/dryer $172.50. 539-4311. near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776-3804.

NICE HOUSE, close to cam-THREE-BEDROOM APART-MENT, central air, washer/ dryer, $399. 537-3826, John. pus, $200 monthly. Fe-bruary paid. 776-1890.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share house with Mom, school age child. $200 includes laundry, meals, utilities. Babysitting opportunity available, 776-2386.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT. $380/ month. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apart-Across street from Ahearn Field House. Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537-7794. ment. Two and one half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524. TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT, southeast of campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facil-ities, immediately avail-

ROOMMATE WANTED, next to campus. Large, private room. $300, utiles paid. 537-0294

ROOMMATE WANTED: basement apartment, three blocks from cam-pus, $175/ month, utili-ties paid, can renew lease in June. 776–4110.

TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur-nished basement apartment. Laundry fur-nished, for males, nonsmoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., plus utilities, 539-1554

TWO-BEDROOM, 1106 Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401. 1212 Sublease Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401,

150

APARTMENT TO sublease until July, $380/ month. Corner of Claffin and Jarvis (across from Marlatt Hall). Laundry feeilities Pete allowed facilities. Pets allowed. Contact John

ONE-BEDROOM ON first level of house. $240/ month, all bills paid. 776-5240 ask for Jen-

SERVICE

DIRECTORY

Tutor

NEED TUTOR to help me study for first actuarial exam. Prefer someone who has already taker and passed test or someone with exten-sive mathematical knowledge. Please call Jeni at 537–1002.

Resume/ Typing

255

Other

270

Massage

Services

PERFECT and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776-3290.

FAST, CHEAP, accurate Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing. Laser printing. Becky, 539-2748.

MONEY FOR COL-LEGEIII Hundreds and thousands of grants

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE

NEW CERTIFIED Massage

W CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Besuty Salon. She spe-cializes in neuromus-cular therapy, shistsu, Swedish and reflex-ology. Mention this ad and receive $10 off first appointment, 539, 4966 (913)841-5716.

available to all students. Immediate qualification. Call (800)270-2744. Open

and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D.,

MALE ROOMMATE wanted: close to Ag-gieville and campus. Affordable rent. Call 776-1388 ask for Ali. FEMALE ROOMMATE. Student. $162/ month plus one-third utilities.

Dishwasher, central heat/ air. Available now, 587-1964. FEMALE SMOKERS want female roommate. Three-bedroom. $175/ month plus one-third utilities. 776-8764.

FEMALE TO share my home, please call even-ings and weekends. 537-4412.

GRADUATE STUDENT needs roommate for house next to campus $192.50 plus half of util-ities. Call 776-1195

MALE/ FEMALE non-smoker for two-bedroom. Close to campus/ Aggleville, $190 plus part utilities. Call Brian 537-6124.

MALE/ FEMALE roommate needed to share three-bedroom apartment. $175/ month plus one-third utilities. February rent siresdy paid

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he's he is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contect the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-

$40,000/ YEAR Income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing Industry, Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience necessary. (206)971–3510 ext-A57683.

AMERICA'S PREMIERE WINDAU FOR BOYS Western Massachu-setts. Over 100 posi-tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Granding, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Waand Crafts, Gymnastics terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required. Top salaries, room and board, and travel at loward, and travel al-lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27-28, 1996, 9a.m.-4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

APPLICATION FOR mem bership for McCain Am bassadors, a student or ganization interested in ganization interested in properties of the control of the drama and live enter-tainment, will be avail-able at K-State Student Union SAS Office from January 31 through February 26. Due back in office on February 26 by 4p.m. Contact Emily Simpson at 539–4651 or Todd Lakin at 537–7773

ATTENTION ALL Students! Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information call: (800)263-6495

ext.F57684

ATTENTION STUD-ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051, Immediate re-

CAMP OZARK, Christian Sports and Adventure Camp- Seeking quali-fied counselors to work with boys and girls ages 8- 16. Employ-ment terms for all or part of the summer. If part of the summer. If remotely interested, come to our KSU informational video pre sentation 7:30p.m., Tuesday, February 6 at K-State Union, Little Theatre, Ida, Located a, AR Mount Ida (501)867-4131.

COMPLETE MUSIC Disc Jockey Service is grow-ing and wants you to be a part of the largest and most professional DJ service in the nation. We provide the equipment. CD library, and paid professional training. If you are friendly, energetic and have your own vehicle, call 539-7111 or (800)755-DJDJ.

COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL Techs/ Stylists. Wanting a flexible schedule in an up and coming sa lon? Booth rent first four weeks free or part-time commission op-tion also available. Apply Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon 409 Poytz 539-5999.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary,. For in-formation call call (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated indi-viduals, Fast, easy-no financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982

GRAPHIC DESIGN student needed for project. 537-7548.

JOBS IN the Great Outdoors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-

KAW VALLEY Greenhous es needs quality peo-ple. Full and part-time positions available. Call 776–8585, Monday through Friday bet-ween 4 and 5p.m.

MALE MODELS needed Feb. 19 from 10a.m.- 12 noon, for advanced clipper class. If interested call 776-4455.

MANAGER SMALL COOP erative food store. Re sponsible for all as pects of business activ ities. Supervise staff, manage store finances, facility, and products. Retail grocery experi-ence preferred. Send re-sume and references to People's Grocery Co-operative, 811 Colorado. Manhattan, KS

PREMIERE BROTHERSsachusetts: Counselo positions for talented nd energetic stude as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, especially Baseball, Basketball, Roller Hockey Gymnastics, Field Hock Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper. Photography, Year-book, Radio Station Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking) Top salaries, room board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specifically designed for re-cent college graduates. Call or send resume.

6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam Swedlund (913)345–9090, (913)345–0978 FAX. REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business oppor tunity with multi-leve marketing in tele-communications indus-try. For appointment 539-0208.

SECRETARY/ RECEP-TIONIST- Requires ex-cellent organizational skills and attention to detail. Computer, word processing and book-keeping experience im-portant. Looking for professional, enthusiastic, bright, people-oriented candidate with good communication skills. Full-time, $6.50/ hour. Send resume to 1600 Poyntz Ave., Man-hattan, KS 66502.

PARKING SOUTH OF THE

STUDENT'S DREAM Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases energy, mental alertness. 539–7336. SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

(June through August) at Camp Lincoln/ Camp Lake Hubert in Minne-sota's Lake country since 1909. Meet new friends, expand horizons, rewarding work with children, develop leadership skills, 30 water/ land activities. Spe-cific job information and applications avail able at the Placement Office, Holtz Hall. Sign up in advance for a per-sonal interview on campus Tuesday, Feb. 13.

SUMMER JOBS in Color ado. YMCA of the Rock-ies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference cen-ter and family resort ter and family resort hiring for Lifeguards, Food Services, Front Desk, Counselors, Housekeeping, etc. Campus interviews on February 8, 1996. Con-tact Career/ Employ-ment Services for inment Services for in terview, 532-6506.

SUMMER JOBS Out doors. 17,000 openings. National Parks, Forests, Fire Crews. Send stamp for free details. Sulli-van's 113 E. Wyoming, Kalispell, MT 59901.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help. Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at

MARKET

Wanted to Buy WANT TO buy: Diamonds Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

410

Items for Sale

386SX PACKARD Bell 25 MHZ paid $1250. sell for $500, negotiable 1993 Ford Ranger Splash 44,000 miles. 537-0575.

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're looking for. Lorin 539-6631.

ENGAGEMENT/ WEDDING ring set, marquis dia-mond with eight smaller diamonds, one-half karat total. $250 or best offer. 537–8206.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS-New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing Also CARHARTT work wear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9-5t. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Ogden, KS.

Furniture to Buy/Sell

AA FULL size mattress set New, never used, still in plastic. Retail price $639. Will sell for $165. Brass headboard $90, (913)379-9858.

OFFICE HOURS IAM CLASSIFIEDS Note Collegion Monday - Friday 8-5 p.m. Except holidays

AA QUEEN size mattress set. New, never used. Still in plastic. Retail price $839, will sell for $195. Queen brass 530

Spring

Break

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live Don't blow it!! Bool Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja maica/ Cancun $399. Or ganize a group- Trave Free!! SunSplash Tour: (800)426-7710.

test Trips" Cancun South Padre Island

http://www.studen tadvtrav.com Free food and drink pack age for early sign

SPRING BREAK'S "Hot

Belize (800)328-7513

STEEN ON CHN AEWS"

Motorcycles

1990 YAMAHA FZR600 Good Condition, V&F exhaust new rear tire cover and helme sover and helme

Call Micheal 537-3291

R SALE: Matching stuffed couch and chair. Price negotiable. Excellent condition. Call 776–0793. KING SIZE mattress set, new, retail $999, sell for $275. (913)379-9858.

430 headbaord, (913)379-9858.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

435

486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1299, 539-8453.

ELECTRONIC TYPEWRIT ERS and word proces-sors. Excellent condition starting at $39, Manhattan Pawn Shop 776-6112, 317 S. 4th St.

465 Tickets to Buy/Sell

STUDENT GA Basketball tickets, CU, MU and KU. Set or separate. Ask Matt 539-1929 best off-

WANTED: KU vs. KSU bas ketball tickets. Willing to pay! 776-7091. Ask for Natalie.

PORTATION

Automobiles

1989 TOYOTA Corolla GTS. Excellent condition, sunroof, tinted glass, five-speed. Grey paint/ interior. Like new. Call 565-0764.

POLL PRISE REPORTATION & RESERVE is the deadline for

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

E DO NOT USE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 functions of this campus are within my responsibilities," Henry said. Before K-State-Salina merged with K-State nearly five years ago, it had a president, five vice presidents, three deans and some department heads, Henry said.

"After the merger, they reorganized it and did away with the president and vice-presidents and the deans and made the dean the chief administrative officer of this campus," Henry said.

Henry shares those responsibilities with three department heads who are in charge of aeronautical technology, engineering technology and arts, sciences and business, he said.

When he took over as dean 3-1/2 years ago, Henry said the school was suffering from low enrollment, low retention of good faculty and had the highest cost per student of any of the Kansas Board of Regents' schools.

Henry said when K-State-Salina and K-State were linked together, he knew there was a commitment to suc-

The two schools benefited from the arrangement because K-State-Salina got a more prestigious name and K-State got its own air force, Henry said.

Because K-State-Salina has handson training, it has airplanes, which K-State has been able to use to fly President Jon Wefald around. The athletic department has also used them for recruiting trips, Henry said.

"When we teach our students to fly, we actually have an opportunity to take our students out on real, live transporting activities," Henry said. Henry said he himself is a handson kind of engineer.

"There are a good many engineers who enjoy just the design aspect. You can do a lot of things in tinkering that would never make in production. Some of the most interesting engineering challenges are from taking it from this laboratory sort of environment to a production environment," Henry said.

Ken Gowdy, associate dean of the College of Engineering, said when the job became available at K-State-Salina he thought of Henry because of his experience in the industry and his management skills.

"Jack is really excited about his position. It was the challenge he was looking for," Gowdy said.

Gowdy said he likes the four-year degree program Henry helped estab-

He also said Henry has helped K-State-Salina form partnerships with industry for research projects. 130, Henry said.

Henry is engineering K-State-Salina and the curriculum of his stu-

Henry said K-State-Salina students have the same interest in seeing things through. Henry said he does not know of a class at K-State-Salina that does not have a lab to teach hands-on expe-

Hands-on experience is something Henry said he received while he was in the Air Force.

While teaching at the U.S. Air Force Academy, he flew into combat two miles over Vietnam to make sure the AC-130 Gunship he helped design worked correctly. The specially equipped C-130 circled over supply trails at night and shot trucks with fire hydrant-size shells, he said.

The Air Force still uses the AC-

After he retired from the military in 1979, Henry went to Texas A&M, where he taught engineering technology while working on his doctorate. His thesis on coupling computer vision systems with robots led to a summer job with IBM. He kept the job for 10 years, he said. Henry said he continued to go into combat for IBM on the production

"At IBM, I would follow what we would design and build all the way to the production floor. And I'd be there through the testing of it and making sure that it did all of the things it needed to do," Henry said.

"I really had a lot of interesting projects that would go into production and would turn out to be successful," Henry said.

Henry's hands-on engineering and management experience from the military and at IBM have followed him to

K-State-Salina Henry said the school set goals by establishing a vision for K-State-

K-State-Salina's goals are to become nationally preeminent and make students and employers happy with the education K-State-Salina

Henry said it is important to continue to improve and follow through.

"Being where we are today versus where we were five years ago has taken a lot of follow-through - no doubt about it," Henry said.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

process information. "Right now, we are concerned about people on campus who don't have the adequate resources," said Ann Kosch, CNS project coordinator for KSUVM changes. "However, we do have solutions for those who can't afford to upgrade at this time." One office that will be noticing some of these changes is the Registrar's Office. The student information systems department, Student Records Services, and Enrollment Services also utilize KSUVM every

"We haven't been told what we need to be doing for the upcoming changes, so I don't know how we will be affected," Charlotte Pfaff, SIS supervisor, said. "But I think it's good that we are moving toward a more advanced system."

Other services on KSUVM that will be phased out include UNICORN and LISTSERV.

UNICORN will be completely removed from the mainframe and transported to the World Wide Web by

"UNICORN is currently on the WWW (World Wide Web)," Kosch said. "Now, it's just a matter of keeping some information for just the K-State community."

LISTSERV, which is for electronic discussion groups, will be moved to the Unix system.

"These changes will be virtually transparent to the community," Kosch said. "People shouldn't even notice." Most of the offices on campus will be making a transition to Pegasus Mail or Pine starting later this spring. "E-mail is big," Kosch said. "That is where a lot of the outside focus is right now." Some K-State students and employees are pleased with the change.

Hicks, freshman in Cassie accounting, has worked on campus since September 1995.

"Most of what I work with has been through KSUVM, so that's what I'm used to," Hicks said. "I'm looking forward to the change. I think it'll be Computing and Network Services will be conducting informational meetings and hands-on training sessions during the semester.

'We have been talking to a lot of people and received a lot of positive feedback," Kosch said. "I think those that have attended our first few sessions have gotten quite a bit out of them. It is important that we know where the concerns are so we can work with them."

DO THE LOOP

NESPOR

Wine & Spirits

- Specializing in domestic and imported wines
- Large selection of cordials and liquors
- Special orders welcomed for parties and weddings
- Case discounts

Manhattan's Premium Wine Source Since 1968

1338 Westloop Place

WESTLOOP SHOPPING CENTER

539-9441 1100 Westloop

Winter Clearance Sale

Save on all Fall and Winter Merchandise

Suits, Sports Coats & Slacks, Outerwear, & Sportswear

Regular and Big and Tall sizes

Every one has their own spot.

DO THE LOOP

Contact Russ Wilson at the Collegain

537-8636

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

work, Anna Holcombe, head of the art department, said.

This gives a chance for students to interact with the artist," Holcombe said. "It is important to bring artists in, because we are so isolated in Manhattan, Kansas."

Sonya Paukune, graduate student in ceramics, said she learned new endeavors from Ganstrom's visit.

"As ceramists, potters and sculptors, visiting artists provide a chance to grow," Paukune said. "We can learn more about technique and solving problems we may have.'

Paukune said Ganstrom spoke and gave a perspective about women and minority artists.

"She also gave good examples on why it is good to be a woman and an artist today," Paukune said. "And it gives us hope for the future."

Twenty and 30 years ago, women were not included in art history books, Paukune said.

"It was all dominated by white males," she said. The movement now wants to include women and minorities to include a more multicultural perspective toward art, Paukune said. Elisa Stalker Coats, graduate student in ceramics, said Ganstrom's views strike her as being very articu-

"She is able to communicate and make sure the average Joe can'understand," Stalker Coats said.

"But you can always get something to use in your own work," she said. Stalker Coats said Ganstrom's work moves her to think more deeply and with more complexity. "So one's ideas can tell who you are, what you have experienced and put that into form," she said. Ganstrom said she thinks most people see art as the icing on the cake.

"In Kansas, people are only a meat-and-potato culture," she said. 'They feel the basic three R's - reading, writing and arithmetic - are enough for education."

Sometimes art makes life meaningful and adds enjoyment and beauty to it, Ganstrom said.

She said Kansas is a good place for an artist. "There is not too many distractions," Ganstrom said. "Like in New York' And in Kansas there are quality distractions. Ganstrom said.

The visiting artists are open to students in that area and open to other students, too, Holcombe said.

'The whole idea of the fine arts fee is to bring presenters in to present to the students," she said. "And we try to bring in as many artists that we can."

Valentine's Day Perm Special! She said her work is different that *long hair extra

expires 3-1-96

Westloop

1318 Westloop Shopping Ctr.

539-6001

CALL 1-800-MONEY: 101

(913) 537-1234 Lender Code 813979

FASHION SHOP BEAUTY SALON

HAIRCUTS $6.00

With Coupon Walk-ins Welcome Appointments Preferred

1129 Westloop 539-2921 (on the west side)

Exotic Aquatics Fresh water Fish & Plants Salt Water Fish & Plants NE Kansas # 1 Supplier for Your Fish Tank Needs

Self Defense!

Exercise!

15% OFF

MARCH LESSONS

Come Check Our Everyday Low Prices

HANDIWORKS THE FASHION SHOP

FULL SET $30 PEDICURE $15 WITH COUPON

11129 WESTLOOP ON WESTSIDE 776-4263

1115 Westloop

Computype Services, Inc.

VALUABLE COUPON

VCR's, Fax, Typewriters,

Word Processors, Telephones,

Computers, Stereo Equipment

1342 Westloop . Manhattan

537-1075

RESTAURANT AND LOUNGE 539-8888 1304 WESTLOOP 539-0888 Dining-In Coupon 10% off Not valid with truffet of any other OC OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 3

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

BUTTO

Daytona $109 Cancun.....$399 Jamaica.....$499

This Valentine's Day give your

Ben Franklin Crafts Your Creative Outlet

Westloop Shopping Center, Manhattan • 776-4910 Mon. - Fri. 9-9 p.m., Sat. 9-7 p.m., Sun. 1-6 p.m.

ECTURE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

individuals with this mutation or any other type of mutation in the future. "Knowledge always raises new problems but is always superior to Knowledge always raises new problems

but is always superior to ignorance.

ignorance," he said. The more familiar scientists become with genetics, the prospects for health care can be gauged earlier in life,

HAROLD VARMUS LANDON LECTURER Varmus said. The genetic revolution will present people with several issues for the future, such as improved laws governing insurance and confidentiality, unresolved ethical issues, gene-based drug therapy, routine gene profiles, and physicians and nurses better educated about genes, he said. In response to an audience mem-possibility of psychological effects from genetic testing.

ber's question, Varmus addressed the

'A test for a mutation is not a test for the disease," Varmus said. When an individual is tested and a mutation does appear, it only means that person has a mutation, and there is the possibility of developing the disease - not every mutation will produce effects of the disease, Varmus "The psychological effects can be enormous," he said Varmus said there are two kinds of people: those who want to know, and those who do not want to know.

"A lot more people will be tested, and we need to be able to gauge how people will react," he said. People must accept that everyone has mutations they do not want to carry, Varmus said. "It's coming. There is no doubt about it. People better start thinking about the types of policies and laws they want in place," Larry Williams, associate professor of biology, said. Williams said there are already genetic tests being done, and there will be even more done in the future.

mon for genetic testing to occur, especially in an upper-class society," Lindsey Culp, senior in biology, said. The NIH receives $12 billion from the federal government for the support

"I think it will become very com-and conduct of biomedical research. More than 81 percent of the NIH budget supports research and training in more than 1,700 research institutions in the United States and abroad, while 11 percent goes toward more than 2,000 projects conducted in its own laboratories.

Mon.-Thurs. Fri.-Sun. $149 Choose from thousands of titles for only 49¢

1310 Westloop Shopping Ctr.

537-2020

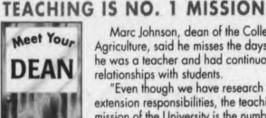

Today: partly sunny. See weather map, page 2.

inside OPINION . page 4

SPORTS • page 6 DIVERSIONS • page 9 WEDNESDAY February 7, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 88

UNDERSTANDING THE ATHLETIC FEE

Marc Johnson, dean of the College of Agriculture, said he misses the days when he was a teacher and had continuous relationships with students. "Even though we have research and extension responsibilities, the teaching mission of the University is the number one and central mission," he said.

• page 3

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

FINANCIAL TUG-OF-WAR

Wefald, Snyder and administration are pulling students one way, SGA the other. What is going on?

TODAY

- The Collegian Editorial Board takes a look at the below petition, which has been circulating campus.
- The athletic department didn't know how many tickets it sold, revenue had been unrecorded, and payments on the same accounts were accidentally made twice. See page 8
- Title IX requirements are forcing the athletic department to find a source for income. See page 8

THURSDAY

- Coverage of a student rally opposing the athletic fee increase
- Coverage of continued negotiations between the athletic department and student representatives.

FRIDAY

Coverage of Student Senate debate about proposals from the negotia-

the name of the game this morning.

After last night's negotiations, Athletic Director Max Urick and Vice President of Institutional Advancement Bob Krause are sitting down to come up with alternatives to a dollar increase in student athletic fees, which was proposed to help fund a Title

"Give us a shot. See what we can do," Krause said.

The athletic fee will probably come up for a vote in Student Senate Thursday, Mark Tomb, Privilege Fee This gives little time for negotiations between administration and student senacrunching is trying to see what kind of leverage he would have to work with in future negotia-His reply was in the faces

- at 50 cents?" Urick said, of the six student representatives: No. "So it's not the amount of the money involved, it's just the principle?" Urick said. "It's a pretty conservative bunch," Tomb said.

It will be hard for the athletic fee to get any kind of increase from its current $17 per semester. After all, a pass would require a two-thirds vote in Senate, and that is not likely, John Potter, Senate chair, said.

The students presented Urick and Krause with three options to raise Title IX equity money last night. The first was to redistribute the $11 million athletic budget within the department. The other two options, offered by "What if you cut it in half Student Body Vice President Brad Finkeldei and Athletic Liaison Dan Lewerenz suggested increasing football ticket prices and fundraising.

"This is fine and good, tack it onto football," Urick

But K-State is already asking the general public to pay a high price for football tickets - one of the highest in the Big 8, Urick said.

And the cost of football tickets is already slated to increase $2 each next year, and men's basketball tickets will increase $1 each, Urick said. Using fundraising as the base of Title IX funding is risky, Urick said.

"I've got to do what I have to to get nonvolatile Title IX funding," he said.

Tomb pointed out that even student fees could be volatile, because all user fees are up for a vote in Senate every two years. The group will meet again tomorrow afternoon.

Athletic department may be in tax danger

A strong intercollegiate athletic and marching bend program brings pride to K-State Studenta, Alumni and Friends.

Brings national recognition to the University. Brings high quality, big time sports entertains tas the Athletic Student Fee:

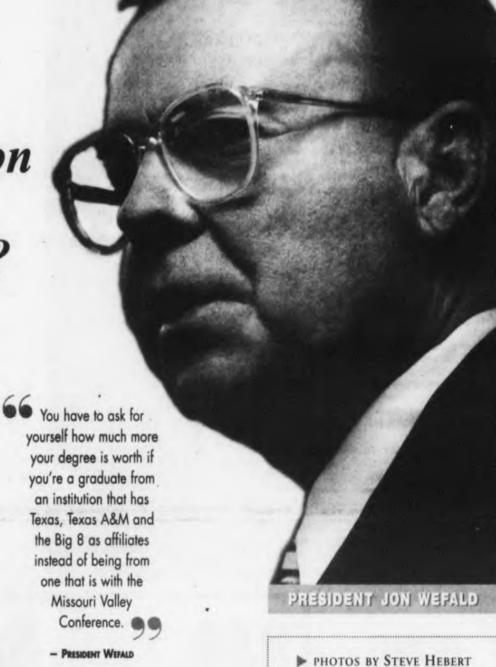

Enables Kansas State University to offer equitable athleti

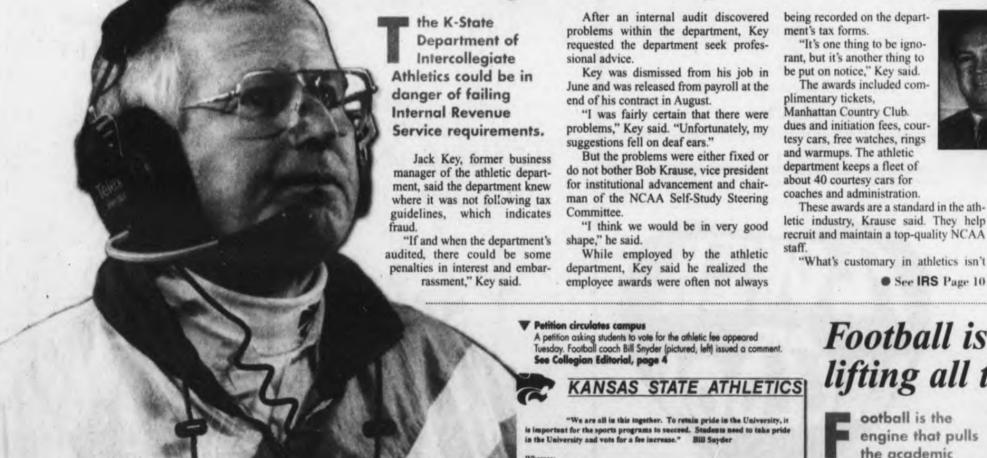

Therefore, we the undersigned students support the athletic department proportion increase student support of intercollegiate athletics through passage of the im of $1.00 per credit hour

Provides for choice, preferred seating locations for students, and Protects affordable ticket prices for K-State Students, Provides needed resources for the marching band and sports clubs,

FOOTBALL COACH BILL SNYDER

Football is 'tide lifting all the ships' ootball is the engine that pulls the academic institution of K-State.

"Is sports the most important thing? No. But is a major conference affiliation? Yeah," Bob Krause, vice president of institutional advancement, said. "And particularly in our competitive environment, and our competition is KU."

Without football, K-State would be another Wichita State, South Dakota State or North Dakota State, Krause said.

It would be a fine land-grant school - but not a predominant university, he said.

STORIES BY SARAH LUNDAY

It's one thing to be ignorant,

but it's another thing to be put on notice.

- JACK KEY

FORMER

BUSINESS MANAGER

"The priorities are still academics, academics, academics, but talk about a tide lifting all the ships," Krause said, referring to football.

President Jon Wefald said the lack of football could have a dramatic effect during the long run on K-State's academic qual-

"You have to ask for yourself how much more your degree is worth if you're a graduate from an institution that has Texas, Texas A&M and the Big 8 as affiliates, instead of being

• See DEBT Page 10

In the news

► INVESTIGATION PROBES PAYMENTS TO COMMERCE SECRETARY'S SON

WASHINGTON (AP) - A special prosecutor looking into the activities of Commerce Secretary Ron Brown has an open criminal investigation into an Oklahoma gas company that made a $160,000 payment to Brown's son and paid for travel involving a top Commerce

The former president of Dynamic Energy Resources and his wife have said in court testimony that the payments were designed by key company officers to gain influence with Brown and his agency, according to court records obtained by the Associated Press.

The payment to Michael Brown, 30, a Washington lobbyist, was made three months after he was placed on the board of Dynamic, a natural gas company owned by prominent Democratic donor Nora Lum in Tulsa, Okla.

Ron Brown's lawyer said the secretary has "never been involved in any way with any decision by Dynamic to compensate Michael Brown." But he declined to answer whether the secretary got any money from his son about the time of the April 1994 payment.

"The occasions upon which Secretary Brown, like other parents, may have provided loans or gifts to his children to help them get started as young adults, and occasions upon which they may have sought to repay their father's support and good will, are private family matters," attorney Reid Weingarten wrote in a letter to the AP.

BOSNIANS ARREST 2 SERBS

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) -Bosnia's government announced Tuesday it would press for war-crimes indictments for two top Serb officers arrested after they made a wrong turn near Sarajevo.

Angry Bosnian Serb leaders immediately broke off contacts with the Muslim-led government. Even NATO denounced the arrests of the officers, whom Bosnia accused of slaughtering civilians.

The city of Sarajevo has, sadly, become the Beirut of Europe ... and has disqualified itself as a possible joint Serb, Muslim and Croat capital," Serb leaders said in Serb officials said they would no longer travel to areas of Sarajevo controlled by the Bosnian government. Brig. Andrew

Cumming, a spokesman for the NATO force, described the arrests as provocative and inflam-He said neither Serb officer had been indicted by the international tribunal investigating war crimes in the former Yugoslavia

"It would be a pity if this encouraged a retaliatory reaction," Cumming

▶ BOBBYS PULL HAT SWITCH

LONDON (AP) -Made for an age when the constable walked his beat and never got into a car, the British bobby's tall, pointed helmet is being doffed for good in one large English city.

Manchester's decision to discard a symbol of law and order dating to Victorian times is shocking police chiefs across England.

"The helmet provides stature, height, authority and protection," said Brian Mackenzie, president of the Police Superintendents Association, which urged police forces across England and Wales not to follow Manchester's Impractical, scoffed Manchester Chief Constable David Wilmot. Officers want hats that will fit inside a police car and that won't fall off during a foot chase.

The switch became official on Tuesday, when the Greater Manchester Police force became the first in England and Wales to replace the conical helmets introduced in 1870 with flat-topped, American-style police

▶ U.S. STAYS IMPARTIAL TO CHINA

WASHINGTON (AP) The Clinton administration is unwilling to state flatly that it would defend Taiwan if the island were attacked by China, Defense Secretary William Perry said Tuesday

Perry said he is concerned but not alarmed that China is using military maneuvering to try to influence Taiwan's democratic presidential election March 23

Asked what the United States would do if China threatened to attack, Perry said he could not be more specific than the commitment spelled out in the Taiwan Relations Act. That document, the basis of the unofficial U.S. relations with Taiwan, says belligerent actions meant to determine the future of the island 120 miles off China's southeastern coast would be of grave concern to the United Perry said Chinese officials asked Joseph Nye, then the assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, during a visit to Beijing last November how Washington would respond if Taiwan were threatened.

▶ POPE ENDORSES END TO WAR

ESQUIPULAS, Guatemala (AP) - Pope John Paul II visited the birthplace of Central America's peace process Tuesday and said he hoped an end to Guatemala's civil war could quickly be reached.

Pilgrims walked days from neighboring Honduras and El Salvador, many of them Indians in wool capes and straw hats, to arrive here at what is also the home of a revered 400year-old cedarwood icon called the Black Christ.

Speaking in this mountain hamlet, the pope suggested to more than 30,000 faithful at an open-air Mass that a peace initiative begun here a decade ago is unfinished.

"I dearly hope that Guatemala can conclude a definitive peace accord in the very near future," said Pope John Paul II. Although mildly phrased, the pontiff's statement could exert substantial pressure on the warring sides in this strongly Catholic country.

Wearing a scarlet cape and white miter, the pope recalled in his homily the Esquipulas peace accords of 1986 that helped end civil wars in Nicaragua and El Salvador.

Police reports

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6

At 12:56 p.m., Tanya Jivaketu rted the theft of a coat.

The loss was $125

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5

At 10:49 a.m., Mark Rand, Video Express, 1320 Westloop, reported the theft of one video. Loss was $100. At 11:21 a.m., Mark Rand, Video Express, 1320 Westloop, reported the theft of three videos. Loss was

At 12:03 p.m., Chad Fitzgerald, 521 Vattler St., was arrested on a probation violation. Bond was $1,000. At 12:18 p.m., Kirsten O'Haug. 2140 Westchester Apt.12, was arrest

At 7:53 p.m., Jay Siebert, 901 Bluemont Ave. Apt. B, reported theft ed for failure to appear. Bond was

MISS YOUR

PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to

http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

At 3:44 p.m., Jamie Bunck, 1004 Kearney St., and James Witroy, 1005 Thurston St., were given notice to appear for operating an open saloon At 4:05 p.m., Glen Burnett, 710 Thurston St., was arrested on a parole violation. Bond was $1,000.

of $100 cash and keys. Loss was

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

m Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due eans' offices by Feb. 16.

 Classified Senate meets at 12:45 p.m. today in Union 206. m The world is getting smaller ike yours larger. Volunteer to help international student practice spoken English in the Conversational English Program. Contact Jim Endrizzi at the seminar series will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. today at the m Adult Student Services will have a brown bag lunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. today in Union

International Student Center, 532-

BULLETINS

m Direct Impact will meet at 7 tonight in Union 204. The topic will be animal rights and veganism. applications for the 1996-97 school year. Eligible freshmen can pick up applications in the Student Activities and Social Services Office. Applications are due by 5 p.m. Feb. 16 at the Student Activities and Social Services

■ Chimes Junior Honorary applications are available in the Student Activities and Social Services Office or call 539-2365 ext. 131.

Golden Key National Honor Society will meet at 4:30 p.m. today in the Union Big 8 room.

KSU Alkido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight at Dance Studio 301.

m Chi Alpha Christian Fellowship meets at 7:30 tonight in

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103. Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer.

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

We take news tips! 532-6556

MANHATTAN WEATHER STATE OUTLOOK Today Record or near-record high Thursday temperatures in the west. Partly Unseasonably mild. Partly High in the upper 70's. cloudy with a high from 60 to 65 in cloudy with a high in the mid the east and from 70 to 75 in the 60's, and a southwest wind Omaha from 10 to 20 mph. Low in the upper 30's Denver 60/35 MANHATTAN 55/16 Kansas City 46/18 Yesterday's St. Louis . 45/19 highs and ows Chine Service Courts 47/17

BRYAN LYKINS & HEJTMANEK

Lawyers Representing Consumers

Injured?

Call For A Free Discussion 1-800-608-2473

913 235-5678

Have you had mononucleosis within the last month? If so, your plasma could make a valuable contribution to research and earn you $50 at the same time.

For additional details call the Manhattan Biomedical Center at 776-9177 1130 GardenWay Across from Westloop Shopping Center behind Rex's Tire

Stop by our Valentine's Day Booth outside the Student Union Bookstore Feb. 8, 9, 12 & 13 to order CANDY, BALLOONS or FLOWERS for your special someone.

Delivery available to on-campus locations (includes residence halls, greek houses, K-State Foundation, and Bramlage Coliseum) purchase color prints of the photos from Blaker Studio Royal.

Face it, you've spent a lot of time and money at this university. Don't you want something to show for it?

Get Into It.

MEET YOUR DEAN-A SERIES

Dean's hectic schedule puts students first

Scott M. Ladd staff reporter

Stacks of binders and papers tower precariously from Marc Johnson's desk. Balanced among a towering workload, a vase full of Newton wheat shocks

Among his duties as dean of the College of Agriculture, director of the cooperative extension

Johnson

Dean of Agriculture

Meet Your

program and director of the agricultural experiment station, Johnson is a busy man who balances a hectic schedule.

He is so busy his administrative assistant, Carol Gizzi, rarely sees him as she scribbles appointments into his already-full itinerary. "He is terribly busy,"

Gizzi said. "He's just doing so many things, and the only way we really communicate is by passing notes."

Johnson laughs as he thinks about how he maintains his busy schedule.

"I handle a lot of issues - critical issues such as 4-H programs, bioethical concerns and a lot of offcampus organizations," Johnson said. "I just have to be able to switch gears quickly. With the variety of things I'm doing, I never get bored. I get tired, but never bored.

Raised on a farm in rural Sedgwick County, Johnson was originally a science and math student who worked on undergraduate biology studies at North Carolina State.

In 1985, Johnson came to the College of Agriculture and eventually became a dean on an interim basis, a situation that naturally enveloped him as a full-time dean. Even though his busy schedule demands the majority of his time, the single parent still finds time to spend with his 17-year-old son, a student at Manhattan High School. "It's been wonderful, and I've still been able to do things with him such as church activities and youth sports," he said.

Johnson's nimble balancing act is something he said students need to develop.

"The issue is one of building one's capacity to be flexible - that is, students need to get a broadbased education," he said. "Students need to learn new issues and become willing to get into topics they never thought about before, so that regardless of what job they get into, they are nimble and able to move where the key issues are or the key job opportunities are."

Johnson also said he believes students need to realize education does not stop when they receive a

'We're in an age where students have to learn how to learn, rather than being satisfied with the knowledge that they walk out of here with being viable in the next forty years," he said. "That just won't happen."

• See JOHNSON Page 12

▲Retired Rear Admiral Ken "K.T." Mattingly speaks to more than 2,500 people about the Apollo 13 mission he was schedbefore being pulled from the crew because of exposure to German measles.

Autograph seekers surround Ken Mattingly after his speech, asking him to sign everything from "Apollo 13" video tapes to speech programs.

STEVE HEBERT

Astronaut recalls Apollo 13

Scott M. Ladd

A lone figure paced the vacuum covering the stage as a standing-room-only crowd raised its "Everyone who has seen the movie, raise your hands," Retired Rear Admiral Ken "K.T." Mattingly said to the throng eager to hear his perspectives on the Apollo 13 mission.

"Ron Howard will be happy about that," he said as more than 2,500 people lowered their hands.

Mattingly was scheduled to be one of the three astronauts aboard Apollo 13 but was pulled from the crew because of exposure to German measles. While the capsule faltered in space, a grounded Mattingly raced the clock to help find a way to bring his friends back.

"The Apollo mission was a catastrophic thing,"

It did, however, provide an amazing display of leadership and teamwork, he said.

While the movie did its best to provide a real-life feel to the audience, Mattingly said he was worried Hollywood might take too much poetic license with

"'Apollo 13' is accurate in things but not a documentary," Mattingly said.

That's what some attendees said they wanted to find out during the Union Program Council Ideas and Issues Committee/KSU's BioServe Space Technologies-sponsored event.

"I wanted to see how much of the story shown in the movie was true," Mike Hopkins, sophomore in landscape architecture, said.

Mattingly provided examples where the movie diverged from reality.

For example, where Gary Sinise, the actor who portrayed Mattingly in the film, rushed against the clock in a simulator, the real-life Mattingly never worked in the simulator.

Instead, a conglomerate of crews raced the clock, and a fresh crew was brought in to work the simulator to check for mistakes, he said.

Another spot where poetic license was used came during Sinise's performance following Mattingly's grounding from the mission, he said.

"That's the only amateur performance he ever did," Mattingly said. "He didn't have the foggiest idea of dejection. I thought I had lost my chance to fly. I did indeed think my world was coming to an

However, Mattingly did get the chance to fly again. He later flew as the command module pilot for Apollo 16, the next-to-last lunar mission.

In 1973, Mattingly became a key member in the fledgling space shuttle program.

"They had said that it would be a five-year program, but now it's something like a 10-year program," he said.

Mattingly said NASA will remain an element in America's future.

"We will still send people to Mars. It won't be us, though, it will be you," he said, pointing at the audience. "And if anyone says, 'If you'd like to go fly in space,' just say yes."

City partially exempts tax

Chris Oakley

City commissioners voted 4-0 to deny a complete property-tax exemption for Manko Window Systems, but they approved a partial exemption at their meeting Tuesday. Manko asked the city for a 10-year, 100-percent exemption, but the commission decided to allow an approximate 60-percent exemption. The tax exemption will be calculated at a percentage that neither ben-of 10 years. A cost-benefit analysis prediction for the 100-percent exemption would cost the city $76,000 over a 10-year

efits nor harms the city over a period

POPEN ADMISSIONS

An exemption of 50 percent, however, would benefit the city by $26,000 Curt Wood, director of finance, said.

Steve Hall Commissioner abstained from the vote, citing a conflict of interest

Commissioner Sydney Carlin said the commission should consider that Manko has successfully operated in Manhattan for years.

"This company has been here for a number of years," Carlin said. "They have been growing, and they have been paying tax for a while."

• See CITY Page 5

Panel delays vote on bill

Associated Press

TOPEKA — The House Education Committee has delayed a vote on a bill that would require Kansas high school graduates to meet admissions standards before entering one of the state's six public universities.

The committee was scheduled to vote on the measure Monday. But after receiving stacks of information about the bill's implications, Rep. Ralph Tanner, R-Baldwin City, said committee members needed more time to make up their minds.

Tanner, the bill's sponsor, said committee members specifically wanted to know if drop-out rates are lower in states that have a minimum entrance requirement. Kansas is the only state in the union that grants all of its high school graduates automatic admission to its universities.

The committee's chairman, Rep. Bill Mason, R-El Dorado, said he expects the committee to vote on the measure later this week.

Mason, who is co-sponsoring the bill, predicted his panel will pass the bill and that it will have a fair chance of passing if the House and Senate

• See BILL Page 12

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

BSU members discuss academic strategies

Kristin Hermes

Many members of the Black Student Union said change begins by growing on the inside and then reaching out to others.

During a discussion for Black History Month, BSU members exchanged ideas about academics, the struggle of minority students on campus Man March. With about 40 chairs in a circle, members spoke about topics that shaped their daily lives. One of these issues was and the continuing effects of the Million

academics. 'We're having problems with academics on this campus," Colette McLemore, sophomore in architectural engineering, said,

"and there are several problems why we aren't doing so Members said they saw one problem as being a lack of knowledge

A lot of people on this campus expect African Americans to fail, so a lot of times, we cover it up if we aren't doing so

JENNIFER RILEY

McLemore said.

can come from administrators and faculty members, some members said. "It's good for adminis-

Much of the support

about resources on campus, but brainstorming brought many ideas into the

to get a group studying together," ourselves to set up that kind of support. Just look for peers to study with."

"Black students are just the worst

"We need to at least look within trators to see grades," Jennifer Riley, freshman in music, said. "For me, my pride got in the way. A lot of people on this campus expect African Americans to fail, so a lot of times, we cover it up if we aren't doing so well."

The group also reflect-ed on last fall's Million

"It really let men take a deep breath in and then let it out," Owen Stanley, senior in social sciences, said. "We're seeing things more in perspective. Also, when you talk to someone who was there in

Black History Month

"Taking it to a whole new level" Today

Delta Sigma Theta Way Back Wednesday Party

Thursday Delta Sigma Theta Culture Night- Bridging the Gap

Joshua Redman Quartet 8 p.m. McCain Autitorium -$18 general, $16 seniors, $9 student/ child

Sunday

KSU gospel service 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. All Faiths Chapel

Washington, it gives you a lot of hope for black people in general."

Philip Betts, sophomore in interior architecture, said the march affected the way he interacts with people, and he explained how a simple thing a friend said changed his outlook.

"He came to me and just said, 'Thanks for being real," Betts said. "And that was real. I felt it, it was there. Just being thanked for what I do

ource: Black Student Union, Multicultural Affairs and Multicultural Stud and letting people know what I appreciate about them - that's what it's all

Many others in attendance said reaching out to others was a way to bridge a gap that exists in the world.

"It's so important that we form alliances with white people - friends in our dorms, in our classes, faculty everyone," Riley said.

• See BSU Page 12

by written editorial, and all majors are encouraged to apply. Fill out an application in Kedzie 103. Please include writing samples and/or resume.

Do you have an opinion to share? Send a letter to the editor by e-mail or snail mail at Kedzie 116, Attention: Stephanie Fuqua.

COLLEGIANopinion

Petition doesn't give facts to those who sign petition started circulating campus Tuesday. K-State athletics is displayed across the top and a friendly quote from football coach Bill Snyder introduces some confusing points.

The petition lists five points about the proposed athletic fee.

First, it states that the fee enables K-State to offer equitable athletic opportunities to women.

The NCAA passed Title IX 24 years ago to make sure NCAA schools offered equal treatment to women. The University has had the life span of most of its students to work Title IX into its budget, and should not act as if the students do not fork over the money, it will hurt women's athlet-

Second, the petition says the fee provides for choice, preferred seating locations for students. Students are packed like sardines onto uncomfortable benches. And veiled threats about moving the student section to worse seating are not impressive. Students who are upset at their University do not turn into alumni who give lots

The third point is about ticket prices for students. Our ticket prices should not go up to cover Title IX if the athletic department is realistic. Alumni and opposing teams will pay more without any squawking.

The fourth point implies that not raising the fee will hurt the marching band and sports clubs. Those organizations actually give equal treatment to women. And nobody is saying "Get rid of the athletic fee." Nobody is threatening the funding of those groups.

The fifth point speaks of the fee enhancing K-State's competitiveness in the Big 12. We cannot enhance something that has not started yet. But our teams have already proven that they will be competitive when the Big 12 starts without any extra money.

Coach Snyder was correct when he said we are all in this together. Except, of course, for him. He does not pay the fee.

NOTES FROMthe underground

in the Republican presidential race so far has been the rise of candidate Steve Forbes. Running mainly on his flat tax plan, Forbes has come from nowhere to seriously challenge Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., the front runner.

Although other candidates have tried and failed with flat tax proposals, and Forbes himself comes off as wooden and uninspiring, he seems to have found the secret formula for winning voters.

The formula is money, and lots of it. Forbes is worth nearly one-half billion in assets, and spending $10 million has gotten him within striking distance of Dole. If it sounds like I'm playing the class warfare card, I am, but Forbes started it.

I do realize the philosophy behind the flat tax goes well beyond simple greed. If the rich are taxed less, the logic goes, they will invest more. The result would be a healthy, growing economy that would the lower taxes. those with more money pay a higher make up for any loss in revenue from The plan is also fair. Why should percentage of tax on that money than those with less money? Are we punishing people for produc-ne of the big sur- on paper, where every plan is noble and well thought out. In the real world, the Forbes plan is unfair.

It would hurt the working poor by abolishing the earned income tax credit. Hopefully these folks won't need any help from private charities to help make the transition, because charitable deductions are also out.

The middle class may end up paying less in taxes, but would lose the home mortgage deduction. In addition, corporate deductions, which encourage human labor over machines and help companies afford to give workers good benefit packages, would also disappear - taking said jobs and benefits with them.

The flat tax is also touted as a

Myview

ROBERT

Gorton

deductions and loopholes that allow anyone who can afford a good tax lawyer to abuse the present system. Once again, fairness is the issue here, but the Forbes plan does have one unintended loophole for the super-rich. The Forbes plan would not tax investment income. Once again a good idea on paper, but corporate owner types (like Forbes) could convert enough of their assets to live virtually tax free, while the rest of us pick up the slack. If I am engaging in class warfare, it is purely defensive.

No doubt, the nation would benefit from a tax structure that is simple and fair and encourages investment and savuntil the balanced budget debate is solved to the good idea of the amount of revenue we need to bring in each year. Those in the know estimate any reform is more than a year away. When the time does come, any flat tax under consideration will need to address the negative consequences of the Forbes plan.

I think the flat tax is a bad idea. Since the ultra-rich enjoy more access to the government than the rest of us, they should be taxed more. Only a blind fool would argue that big money does not buy influence in the government, and if they tire of running things from behind the scenes, the rich can try to buy the office.

So far, Forbes has bought himself second place in the polls. The advantages that his wealth has given him are obvious. He paid $10 million fo the advertisements, polling data and advisers that have made his campaign successful.

Forbes also has the luxury of portraying himself an outsider and man of conviction. His deep pockets have saved him from compromising any of his stances, as those who raise their money from other human beings are often forced to do. Those pockets also assure he doesn't need to go butt-kissing in Washington to try to get funds from the national Republican party structure. Clearly, it is Forbes' money that is doing most of the talking in his

As long as people like Forbes can use their wealth to control and influence government, they should pay their extra share to maintain it.

Robert Gorton is a

Sororities breed stereotypes

m, like, in a sorority and stuff? But don't think I'd like, date some guy just because he was in a fraternity? Give me a little credit, okay? He'd have to be in a

If I really sounded like that, I'd voluntarily sacrifice myself to the first sorority girl slasher who came along. But I don't sound that way, and I certainly don't think that way. That's why I don't slap my letters across my chest. That's why I never say I'm affiliated with a sorority until a person has had a chance to know me. If it comes out later, fine. If not, fine. My greek affiliation isn't the most important thing Nonetheless, it does label me, and I resent the label. But maybe that resentment is unjust. How can I blame anyone who perceives me as a naive, friendbuying, spoiled, heavy-drinking brat when I choose to wear the label on my sleeve (or across my chest)?

I can't point blame, because these are the most visible characteristics of greeks. When you go to Aggieville, this is what you see. It's the general impression you get, and it's such a spectacular show that any positive aspects of the greek system pale in comparison.

Hence, a stereotype is born. Anyone who shares that superficial characteristic is supposed to be that way.

When greeks don their latest party favors and saunter onto campus, they only invite the stereotype and should be prepared to deal with the consequences. Luckily, this is one stereotype when outward symbols fall under an individual's control. Greeks can pull this particular label on and off at will.

Schields

Of course, on a perfect campus it wouldn't matter. One student could walk to class sporting all greek garb, another could go in clothing with no visible writing, and no one would think the less of either. Unfortunately, Dr. Seuss isn't a faculty member or an administrator here. Wearing greek clothing does matter.

In reality, I can't think of a better way to shut down any potential communication between myself and someone I don't know than shoving my letters in her face. It's a stupid thing to do. Why would I want to limit myself like that?

If the stereotype fits, however, and you don't mind its limitations, by all means wear it. Flaunt it. Like joining a fraternity or sorority, it's a choice.

I think this matter of choice brings up a conspicuous hole in what I've been saying. In my mind, independence from the greek system isn't so much a choice as it is an inherent quality. The person who decided not to go greek, and the person who never considered it, are lumped into the same group and stereotyped by greeks, though by no choice of their own. Nor can they throw that inherent independence on and off at

Taking it one step further, most labels applied to people are ones they can't escape by changing outward signs. Although I may decide not to mention or display my membership in a sorority. I generally don't have the choice of withholding my race or my gender, and people never miss them. It might be handy, but I'm not ashamed to face life as I am.

I'm not ashamed of my house or my sisters either, but I would like it acknowledged that I'm not them, they're not me, and none of them are each other. I'm looking for that Dr. Seuss campus, where greeks and independents take a step back and consider each other as individuals.

But I'm not holding my breath.

Keely Schields is a junior in English/creative writing.

Pentagon learning some tolerance

s everyone knows, life is unpredictable.

Myview

There are always new twists and turns that cause us to use the trait that is the hallmark of humanity: adaptation. One of these factors is disease. For example, when a common cold begins circulating around campus, people starts washing their hands more often and taking vitamins.

One of the most serious diseases of our society is much more deadly than a common cold. It is AIDS. The first case was diagnosed in 1981. Since that time, only a fraction of the country's populace has been taking precauin fact, if trends of infection continue, the Centers for Control and Prevention estimate that by the year 2000, we will all personally know someone who is infected with HIV, the virus that causes AIDS.

In the coming years, every-one will have to make adjustments, not only to our lifestyles but our levels of tolerance. The government,

Wild

surprisingly, has begun to do just that.

Last Friday the Pentagon announced it is going to seek the reversal of a provision within the defense authorization bill which requires HIV-positive military personnel to be removed from overseas or combat service. There are 1,049 members of the military who have tested positive for HIV. Ken Bacon, Department of Defense spokesman, told CNN that the Pentagon has several methods for seeking reversal of the provision. Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., and Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., have both said they may voice their support for the matter in Congress.

Another option would be an executive order from President Clinton, offering a package of benefits to support HIV-positive personnel.

This is a landmark move by the government, because it shows both that the facts surrounding HIV are being acknowledged on a wider basis and that fears are dwindling as the facts become more prevalent.

In the public sector, HIV-positive people have been protected by the law since 1990, when the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) spread its protective umbrella over HIV-positive individuals, barring them from discrimination on corporate, educational and private levels. Additionally, the passing of the Ryan White Comprehensive AIDS Resources Act (CARE) made provisions for relief to cities and states hit hard by the AIDS

With the expansion of the ADA, as well as the passing of CARE, it seems only logical that the military would fol-

HIV-positive people have the right to live their lives just as every other U.S. citizen does according to the laws of the Constitution. There is no reason to discriminate against an individuals until they become too sick to perform satisfactorily within the boundaries of their jobs

No one from military personnel to college undergraduates, will catch the virus from casual contact. It isn't spread through drinking fountains, mosquitoes or toilet seats. In fact, people who don't have the virus pose more of a threat to an HIV-positive person, because they carry diseases that will affect a weakened immune system, but not a healthy

Even with the advent of new treatments, it is evident we will be living with HIV and AIDS for some time to come. Aside from medical technology, there are a few things we can do to combat the virus. The first is education. The sec-

Justin Wild is a senior in English and education.

SPEECH TEAM

Speakers win at contest

Chris May

The K-State Speech Team defeated 13 other colleges and universities to win the Central Missouri State University speech tournament last weekend.

With the win, the team qualified in three more spots for nationals and qualified two more people for nationals, said Becky Winter, junior in mass communications and member of the speech

Ric Shafer, senior in speech, and Pat Broxterman, sophomore in speech, qualified to compete with eight other team members for the National Individual Events Tournament in April. Shafer qualified in extemporaneous and impromptu speaking. Broxterman qualified in after-dinner speaking.

Along with getting more speech team members into Nationals, three K-State team members placed first in their division.

Broxterman took first in after-dinner and third in informative speaking, Shafer placed first in extempt and second in impromptu, and Carl Lundeen, sophomore in speech, won first place in communication analysis.

CITY

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

The commission also approved a graduated property-tax exemption for Manko, as long as the benefits during the 10 years would equal out.

Joe Jones, co-owner of Manko, said he was unhappy with the commission's decision

"I was very disappointed that we didn't get 100 percent. We are going to have to take this into consideration," he said.

Jones said the company would prefer a graduated percent of exemption. Manko, 520 McCall Road, plans on building a larger building on cityowned property in the business park.

The commission agreed that the decision to only allow a partial exemption could affect similar requests in the decision to only allow a partial exemption could affect similar requests in the future.

"We are determining by what criteria we will accept these," Mayor Edith Stunkel said.

In other business, the commission enacted an ordinance that could raise enacted an ordinance that could raise the monthly stormwater utility fees paid by landowners.

Owners of residential land are charged 25 cents per month. A scenario offered by Jerry Petty, director of community development, would raise the fee to $1.28 per month beginning Jan. 1, 1997.

The proposed fee would be determined by the amount of land owned. K-State, which pays $150 per month, would pay $4,816, an increase of 3,110 percent if the proposal were passed.

"I think that we are on a track of taxing our citizens to their saturational point," Hall said.

Hall said he would not vote to raise taxes or fees until he knew all alternate resources had been exhausted.

During the public hearing concerning the proposal, many citizens made comments to the commissioners.

Art Post, director of plant facilities

Art Post, director of plant facilities for the Board of Education, said he did not think it was a good policy to levy such a fee on schools, which would then have to collect the revenue from the taxpayer.

"As a taxpayer, I would rather the city and board not pay fees rather than have to collect them again," Post said.

LONDON $219 PARIS $229 AMSTERDAM $289 FRANKFURT $229 ROME $319 fares are from Boasas City, each may based on a BT purchase, fores do not include federal tixes and passenger facilities charges, which can total between $19.95 and $31.95, depending on the destination, nor do they include departure charges poid directly to the foreign purvenneuts, which can total between $3.90 and $30.00. In 1 Student III many be required. Fares are safect to change, Bestrictions apply. Council Travel CIEE: Council on International Educational Exchange to the Helt http://www.ciee.org/cis/cishame.htm 1-800-2-COUNCIL Pregnancy Are you interested in experiencing the great outdoors?

Union Program Council

539-3338

Totally confidential service

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

·Free pregnancy testing

·Sameday results

Call for appointment

Union Program Council
is looking for a
OUTDOOR RECREATION CHAIRPERSON

This is a great volunteer opportunity for someone who is interested in researching, planning, and organizing outdoor trips for students and community members. The Outdoor Recreation committee arranges weekend and Spring Break excursions.

If this sounds like something that interests you, please come by the Union Program Council Office, 3rd floor, K-State Student Union for an application.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATION: FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9 AT 4 P.M.

Cy telephone is my link to my loved ones and my community—whether it's connecting me to my doctor in town or my grandchildren across the state.

"Knowing I'll always be able to pick up the phone and reach whomever I need is important for my peace of mind. "So I really count on quality phone service — and I know I can always count on my local Kansas phone company to provide that service at a price I can afford."

Your independently owned telephone companies of Kansas and Southwestern Bell have always been committed to providing quality service to you and your loved ones. And although we look forward to bringing you services over the Information Superhighway, we remain committed to providing you and your family basic telephone service at an affordable price, regardless of where you live.

It's called universal service, and it's our commitment to the people of Kansas. Because with us, your needs and the needs of your family will always come first.

So while we are bringing state-of-the-art advances in telecommunications technology to schools, hospitals and businesses across Kansas, you and your family will always be able to count on your local independently owned phone company and Southwestern Bell for quality telephone service at an affordable price.

"The One to Call On".

Sports

did you know? ■ K-State's basketball program has made 21 trips to the NCAA tournament since its creation in 1902, the ninth most of any program in the country. Four of those trips have resulted in Firtal Four appearances.

baseball

■ The K-State baseball team is banking on spring-like weather this weekend and has scheduled a twogame homestand. The team's season wasn't scheduled to begin until Feb. 17.

Wildcat fans can't compare to Jayhawks'

Until last Sunday, I had never witnessed a K-State vs. Kansas basketball game. Until last Sunday, I had never seen fans so devoted to their team as the Jayhawk fans were. And until this last Sunday, I had never seen the K-State Wildcats so pumped up or play such great basketball.

I've been to one other game at Allen Fieldhouse. It was two years ago during winter break when the visiting Indiana Hoosiers gave the Hawks a run for their money. As much as I dislike Kansas and Kansas basketball, I admire their fans.

After the Hoosiers game, I believed I would probably never see fans as supportive of their team as the Hawks' fans were But I was wrong.

When I walked down press row last weekend, the place was maddening. I felt small. So small that I almost wanted to crawl under a table. The fans were upset if people were standing during the

Newell pre-game activities because they weren't able to watch their precious team work through its warm-ups. I sat next to the University Daily Kansan reporters and felt the pride in their team radiate off Now, I'm not saying I wasn't as proud of the Wildcats as they were of the Jayhawks. It was just different. There was tradition involved. It would have almost seemed sacrilegious if the Cats had come away with the victory. I would have almost felt sorry for the fans.

So, I sat there and reflected on what it must be like for a visiting school's reporter to enter the hallowed halls of Bramlage Coliseum.

With the wide open spaces between fans and the last-minute entrances by people too concerned with other things to watch the pre-game activities, Bramlage must almost seem like a neutral site. Not surprising it's so easy for opposing teams to win in

There is no tradition with K-State basketball in the 1990s. A tradition of losing, maybe, but that's something Coach Tom Asbury, Elliot Hatcher, Tyrone Davis and the rest of the crew are trying to change. And with a 5-3 record, they're doing a pretty darn good job.

Newcomers like Shawn Rhodes and Gerald aker and improved performances from returners Aaron Swartzendruber and Mark Young add to the tradition that is being built — a tradition of winning.

But one thing is lacking. Kansas has this thing. I'm sure anyone who has witnessed a home Jayhawk extravaganza has seen it. After the introduction of the players, the fans all stand, and after a 20-second period of silence, they proceed to chant with the "Rock, Chalk, Jayhawk. Go KU."

It's an almost eerie feeling. And then they do it again. How could the Jayhawks lose in an environment like that? What? And let down 16,300 fans?

Now come back from that place in Lawrence. Clear your mind from the Phogg. Remember what it's like to be a fan at K-State?

Oh, sure. There's your standard "Eat 'em up!" and "Go K-State!" and the name calling. Oh yeah, and my favorite - "Left, Right, Left, Right, Sit

But to me, it's not enough. The players are introduced, and there's hardly a rumble in the crowd. Come on, fans. We shouldn't even be able to hear the announcer bellowing their names into the mike. There shouldn't be a reason to hear him.

And during time-outs, don't sit down. Keep yelling, screaming and showing your pride. Let the officials know you don't approve. (Trust me, plenty of Kansas fans did just that. I think I'm missing my left eardrum from some guy sitting right behind me in Lawrence.)

If you don't like how the officials at Bramlage try to rile up you guys, tell them what you want. K-State football has its call. "That's good enough for another Wildcat FIRST DOWN!" Let's start something for the guys in Bramlage.

And if that's not enough to get you there, listen to this: I've been to every home game for the Cats this season. I was even at UMKC over winter break. But never have I seen the team so pumped up as it was at Kansas. Maybe it was just the fact that it was Williams and the boys. But I don't think so.

I think it was more than that. I think the guys play better in front of large crowds, and I think the team knows it. Heck, the team proved it. It played the best basketball all season during the first half against the No. 3 team in the nation. I believe maybe the crowd became too hostile for K-State. Maybe even too hostile for Kansas. Maybe that's why the Jayhawks came out in the second-half firing on all four cylinders. They were afraid to die at the hands Either way, let's make it sacrilegious to lose at Bramlage. Get out there. Wear your purple and wear out your voices. There are three home games left, and the last one is with Kansas. Show those Jayhawks they aren't the only Sunflower fans to have pride in their team.

Shana Newell is a senior in secondary education. If you have any ideas on how to get the fans more involved, e-mail her at twobag@ksu.ksu.edu or drop it off at Kedzie 116.

OFF THE BENCH

and into the

LIMELIGHT

Chris May

Myview

He doesn't start. He doesn't have a gimmick. In fact, most people butcher his name. But he has the desire and determination to make the plays and get things

Sophomore guard Aaron Swartzendruber has turned the heads of coaches, players and fans.

The Iowa native started turning heads in high school when he was recruited by K-State along with Iowa State, Pacific and San Diego and could have walked on at the University of Iowa.

Swartzendruber said the key to coming to K-State was the late Ken Turner, a former assistant coach at K-State who recruited

"It was Coach Turner and the recruiting process," Swartzendruber said.

When Swartzendruber came to K-State, Turner had left the program and a new coach awaited

"When he came here last Sept. I, a year ago, I think our staff had serious questions whether this guy could play at a consistent level in the Big 8," Coach Tom Asbury said. "And what he has done is he's become like a Steve Henson and taken his work ethic and said, 'Hey, I'm just going to come in and work hard, and I'm going to do it.' I think he falls into the category of being an overachiever."

Swartzendruber has had a lot more opportunities to turn the heads of people this year because he is seeing significantly more playing time as a sophomore. Swartzendruber attributes this to his off-season workouts.

"Improving this summer has game," Swartzendruber said. "We had a pretty rigorous off season with lifting weights, doing agilities and improving quickness and stuff like that."

Last season Swartzendruber averaged 10.4 minutes a game and 1.8 points. This season he is averaging 20.8 minutes and 6.6 points per game.

Swartzendruber said his role on the team is playing a solid game.

"I see my role as bringing a lot of energy to the floor, playing defense and just playing solid by not turning the ball over and trying to give the team a lift," Swartzendruber said.

Although he doesn't start, Swartzendruber said he was comfortable with his role coming off the bench.

"It doesn't matter to me what my role is as long as the team is winning, and I'll do whatever it takes for the team to win," Swartzendruber said.

Asbury said Swartzendruber brings a lot of everything to the

"He brings a blue-collar ethic to the team. He's a multidimenplayer, very smart, an extremely intelligent defender, and he understands the offense and makes pretty good decisions and doesn't turn the ball over a lot. And he can make his open jumper," Asbury said.

Swartzendruber on the importance of the off-season during the sum-"He's the first in every drill, the agreed

guy who works the hardest in the summer. He could turn into a good Big 8 player," Asbury said. With the Wildcats sitting in Swartzendruber isn't just turning the heads of people associated third place in the Big 8 with an with basketball. Last year he was on the Phillips 66 Academic All-Swartzendruber said.

Swartzendruber.

Swartzendruber and the Cats are turning the heads of many people in the Big 8 as well as right here in want to play that much harder,"

Big 8 Honor Roll, something he takes seriously. "My education is very impor-

Off the bench, sophomore guard Aaron Swartzendruber drives down court against Iowa State's Jacy Holloway in K-State's 72-55 victory earlier this season. Swartzendruber averages 16:30 min-

Manhattan. And when the tant to me, because I'm not going Bramlage crowd gets into the to be able to play my whole life. So game, it's a real lift for whatever you can do in school is just a plus," Swartzendruber said. "Sometimes when the crowd "That's really what is going to help you later on in life as far as getting gets real loud and you dive on the floor, you can hear the fans, and a job and being an all-around perthey just excite you and make you

Swartzendruber said studying has become just another part of his day, just like practicing, and he hopes to make the All-Big 8 Honor Roll all four years at K-State. As far as goals for the to utes per game and 6.5 points. He has 13 steals and 31 assists this season. Swartzendruber is looking to the

> "I'd like to win a Big 8 Championship before I get out of school," Swartzendruber said. "It's going to be tough, though."

Concentrating on the season at hand, Swartzendruber is happy with the way things are going.

"I think it's going pretty good. We seem to have a real up-beat attitude, and it's just fun coming out and practicing with these guys everyday," Swartzendruber said. "Basically the season has been a lot of fun and I just hope we can keep it going.

Cats try to boost Big 8 ranking against Buffs

Asbury

John Berggren

With Colorado marching to the rhythm of a new drummer in its corps, the second game this season between K-State and the Buffaloes promises a different storyline than the first time around.

In the first meeting between K-State and Colorado, the Cats stomped the Buffs 70-57 in Boulder. One game later Colorado coach Joe Harrington resigned, and assistant coach Ricardo Patton, 1-3, took

With the coaching change CU has become a much tougher ball team. After a 106-94 home win against Missouri and a close home loss to Kansas 80-78, the Buffs have proven they are a team that can't be taken lightly in the Big 8.

"I think they're playing better than they did under Joe (Harrington)," K-State coach Tom Asbury said.

'When you have a situation like that the guys will really band together. I think Patton is doing a real good job of coaching them, and they're playing a lot better defensively.

The Buffs are coming off 96-73 road loss to Oklahoma State, while the Cats are also coming off a loss to intra-state rival Kansas, 72-62.

Two days after the KU game Asbury said his team played well in the 10-point "We didn't play bad. We certainly need to box out and rebound better," Asbury said.

'We executed our offense pretty well in the first half. We need to make better decisions on our post entry passes, but you have to give KU credit, their post defense is better than 99 percent of the rest of the country's. Tyrone Davis earned each and every single one of his points.'

But Kansas was last weekend

"We talked more in the locker room after the KU game about CU than we did KU," Asbury said. "That game is over, done and history. We need to make sure we don't take the last game into the next game. The KU game doesn't mean any more to us than any other game in the standings. We have to do a good job now of getting the guys' heads up and ready to play against Colorado." Colorado brings a young, small team into tonight's game with the starting lineup containing a freshman, two sophomores and two juniors. Its tallest player is Martice Moore at only 6 feet 8 inches.

Guard Chauncey Billups has really come on in the last few games for Colorado. Asbury said it might be attributed to the pressure that Patton has taken off of him.

"Billups is so good that probably any coach would have asked him to do too

12. Penn St.

K-State vs. Colorado

WHERE Bramlage Coliseum RECORDS K-State 14-6 (5-3)

Colorado 6-12 (1-6)

7:07 tonight

PROBABLE LINE-UPS

(-State			Colorado
Mark Young, 6-6 So.	F	F	Martice Moore, 6-8 Jr.
Tyrone Davis, 6-9 Sr.	F	F	Ted Kritza, 6-7 So.
Gerald Eaker, 6-11 Jr.	C	F	Greg Jensen, 6-7 Jr.
Elliot Hatcher, 6-1 Sr.	G	G	Chauncey Billups, 6-3 Fr.
Ayome May, 6-4 Fr.	G	G	Mack Tuck, 6-6 So.

Source: K-State Sports Information

much. I think he was in a situation under Joe where he was being asked to do too much," Asbury said. "He has the ball in his hands a lot of the time, and he's strong, physical, mature and smart, but he's still a freshman. He'll have some great games, and he'll play down at times, but his day will come. It's not too far in the future when he will play consistently as a great player as opposed to playing just great A key for the Cats win tonight will be good senior play from Hatcher and Davis

"Part of our team's success, as with any team I believe, is getting a good performance from seniors," Asbury said. "I'm a big believer in that if you have seniors capable of doing what they can do then that's the time to do it. Tyrone and Elliot need to keep doing what they're doing if we want to be any good," Asbury said.

With Hatcher coming off a 30-point game against Kansas, Asbury said he was not hoping for that kind of performance from him all "The games we've had to rely on him have been when teams are playing better defensively. He's capable of scoring, but we would rather distribute the ball much more. You still have to get your points somewhere. I don't mind him taking the open shot. He's got a lot of confidence and a lot of experience. We don't need him to get 30 every night but we do need him to score," Asbury

News Digest

Baseball team to begin season early

Hoping to take advantage of 70degree forecasted weather, the K-State baseball team will open its 1996 season this Friday and Saturday, at Frank Myers Field. K-State will play Missouri Western at 3 p.m. on Friday and Creighton at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Stadium gates open one hour prior to game time. Each game will be one 9-inning game.

K-State was scheduled to open the season on February 17 at Air Force Academy and will still play that three-game series in Colorado Springs. As of now, the February 21 game against Missouri Western will still be played.

-K-State Sports Information

Women's AP top 25 basketball through Feb 4., total points based on 25 points for vote through one point for a 25th-place vote, and precollege basketball poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, records Record Pts 13. Alabama 18-4 15-5 14-4 15-5 15-3 19-6 16-5 13-9 14-5 16-2 478 443 415 357 355 334 307 248 166 112 96 46 42 15 12 14 18 20 17 16 14. Duke Georgia (39) Louisiana Tech 15. N. Carolina St. 16. Oregon St. 17. Mississippi Connecticut 20-3 16-2 19-1 17-4 17-2 18-2 16-4 16-4 17-5 862 822 820 770 669 Stanford 18. Clemson lowa 19. Colorado 6. Tennessee (1) 20. Florida 21 19 Texas Tech 21. Oklahoma St. Wisconsin 25 22 22. Aubum 667 23. Purdue 10. Old Dominion 24. Notre Dame Vanderbilt 25. Stephen F.Austin

LIVE MUSIC

4 bands to perform in Lawrence tonight

■ The Bottleneck presents popular ska and punk/pop musicians

Phil Kellum

Tonight at the Bottleneck in Lawrence, three separate tours will converge to provide a four-band concert full of music and dancing.

Dance Hall Crashers are headlining the show, with Mustard Plug, Regatta 69 and Waterdog filling out Waterdog, a punk-pop band from Los Angeles, is a new signee to Atlantic Records and released its debut album a few months ago.

The band is touring with Dance Hall Crashers, and this will be its first area appearance. The Chapel Hill, N.C., band, Regatta 69, will roll into Lawrence to entertain the crowd with its brand of funky, poppy ska. Its current tour in support of its new compact disc "Fat Free" on APB Records started in January. Mustard Plug, from Grand Rapids, Mich., is in the midst of its 1996 Bachelor Party tour.

Mustard Plug is a seven-piece ska/punk band was formed in 1991 by several punk, jazz and blues musi-

They have opened for diverse acts from ska legends the Skatalites and the Toasters, to punk stars Green Day and Helmet, to Timothy Leary and Weird Al Yankovic.

Their debut cassette titled "Skapocalypse Now!" was released in 1992. In 1993, the band released its first full-length cd, "Big Daddy Multitude," which was picked up for worldwide distribution by Moon SKA NYC Records.

In 1995, it released a seven-inch single called "Beer Song," and appeared on numerous compilation albums.

Mustard Plug is working on a new album to be released some time in 1996. The band's wacky, fun lyrics and fast, upbeat ska attack will have the crowd dancing.

Dance Hall Crashers, from Berkeley, Calif., will close the evening of punk and ska. The band is known for its melodic, harmonious dual female vocalists, Karina Denike and Elyse Rogers, mixed with upbeat, punk-influenced ska.

Members of Dance Hall Crashers have been touring the country since the release of their new album "Lockjaw." This is their second area appearance at the Bottleneck.

Dance Hall Crashers started in 1990 as a side project band of Tim Armstrong and Matt Freeman, of Rancid, after their first band, Operation Ivy, broke up. The only members of the group still left from that era are Rogers and guitarist Jason Hammon. Denike joined in 1990.

They released their debut cd "1989-1992" in 1993 on Moon SKA NYC Records. (510) Records, started by Elliot Cahn and Jeff Saltzman, who managed acts such as Green Day and The Offspring, signed them in 1994 and released "Lockjaw" last August.

The band has influenced several current ska bands with its infectious dual vocal lines.

Ska is being touted as the next big thing by many in the music industry, and as a result, some ska bands are getting more attention.

Tickets are still available through Ticketmaster for $10.50 with service charge and at the Bottleneck for $8 at the door. The show is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

The concert is part of KLZR-FM 105.9's month-long third anniversary

Riverboats offer free admission, gamblers take advantage

RIVERBOAT GAMBLING

Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - In the heated competition for riverboat gamblers in the Kansas City area, admission prices have fallen like dominoes.

The claim by Sam's Town, the area's newest floating casino, that it was the only local riverboat offering free admission stood up for only a few hours Sunday as Harrah's Casino in North Kansas City and the Argosy in Riverside quickly followed suit.

Admission fees, which in Kansas City ranged from $3 to $9 for a prime time two-hour excursion, were never popular with players, but they did help the casinos cover the $2-ahead state tax.

"I've been to both Vegas and Atlantic City, and this is the only place I've ever had to pay to get in to spend my money and lose," Kansas City resident Willie Mitchell said as he played two slot machines at once.

Floating casinos drop fees uncertain. Some boats in the St. Louis area experimented with free admission, but many wound up reinstating the

How long the freebies will last is

Kansas City gamblers are taking advantage of the free admission policy while it lasts.

On Monday, Sam's Town drew twice the usual number of weekday The adoption of free admission by the three boats around Kansas City is part of the fine tuning that occurs in every emerging gambling market, said Tom Irwin, executive director of the Missouri Gaming Commission

"That's what these companies do," Irwin said Monday. "You just don't walk into a market with two good, established companies and take their customers away from them."

Sam's Town has struggled since it opened in September. December's gross revenue was $10.6 million for Harrah's, $6.9 million for the Argosy and $4.9 million for Sam's Town.

"Everybody was anticipating it would happen," Sam's Town general manager Norm Powell said of eliminating the admission fees. "The only question was when."

Jay Sevigny, general manager at Harrah's, said the move to free admission could result in a rapid expansion of the regional gaming market.

But Joe Canfora, president of Kansas City Station, which has a floating casino on the Mississippi in St. Charles, noted that free admission is very expensive.

State records show that in December, the $2 head tax paid by the Kansas City boats totaled $515,962 for the Argosy, $438,816 for Sam's Town and $743,480 for Harrah's, according to state records.

Most of the casinos in the St. Louis area tried free admissions, said Canfora, whose company plans to open a casino in Kansas City this fall. But Station's St. Charles boats and most others have returned to $2 and $5 fees, he said.

In western Missouri, the competition is expected to get hotter. St. Joseph already has the St. Jo Frontier Riverboat Casino, which is seeking state approval to move a mile upstream to accommodate a bigger boat.

Hilton Hotels Corp. is scheduled to open the Hilton Flamingo Casino in July in Kansas City.

And in Boonville, approval of a riverboat casino complex is expected to be sought soon by Marvin Davis, the Los Angeles financier and onetime owner of 20th Century Fox.

This is going to be a very competitive environment," said Powell, of Sam's Town.

"It already is. We think that's good. That provides the best for the consumer."

SUMMER STAFF POSITIONS Interviews: Wednesday, Feb. 7 ALL DAY in the back of Union Stateroom

For More Info:

Are You Informed??

Union Program Council

is looking for a

ISSUES AND IDEAS CHAIRPERSON

This is a great volunteer leadership opportunity for someone who will oversee the selection, organization, and promotion of events and speakers highlighting current local, regional, and national issues.

If this sounds like something that interests you, please come by the Union Program Council Office, 3rd floor, K-State Student Union for an application.

Deadline for application is Friday, Feb. 9 at 4 p.m.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO DOWNLOAD. THE E-COLLEGIAN.

HTTP://www.spub.ksu.edu

"The Michael Jordan of Jazz"

Joshua Redman, saxophone

Thursday, February 8, 8 p.m.

If you thought Harvard produced only ivory tower types, come hear a sax player called the Michael Jordan of Jazz. But instead of flying through the air, Redman honks, squeals, growls and wails without losing his melodic sense. Marsalis brothers, move over. Joshua Redman's at the head of the class.

Corporate support by Security National Bank.

Pub/Fac $18 Sr. Cit $16 Stu/Child $9

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets.

Events in the McCain Performance Series are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information. Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m weekdays.

Arts, a federal agency. All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

Just in case you decide to buy the books this semester.

It's everywhere you want to be:

6 Visa U.S.A. Inc. 1998

66 It's more than window dressing — it's some substantial inequities here.

- SUSAN SCOTT, CHAIR OF THE NCAA SELF STUDY EQUITY COMMITTEE AND ASSOCIATE DEAN OF STUDENT UPE

FINANCIAL TUG-OF-WAR

STORIES BY SARAH LUNDAY

K-State athletics fall short of Title IX

he women's basketball team has a small locker room located in the recesses of Ahearn Field House.

The men's locker room is at Bramlage Coliseum.

Reebok provides the women's basketball team with court shoes. Reebok provides a larger number of court shoes for the men's team.

The women's basketball team attracts a small gathering at its games. The men's team draws thousands.

"The hardest part for us as female athletes would be crowd support," Missy Decker, junior wing, said.

Traditionally, women's sports have not received the same crowd or monetary support as men's sports, Athletic Director Max Urick said.

This year, as part of an effort to move toward meeting Title IX, women's and men's practice schedules were more evenly dispersed than in past years.

"Overall, we're treated very well within our program," Decker said.

But the question isn't whether the women are treated well, but if women receive the same status and benefits as male athletes.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits sex discrimination in programs and activities that receive federal financial assistance, which includes intercollegiate athletics.

However, most athletic departments haven't followed the act until recently, Urick said.

Susan Scott, chair of the NCAA Self Study Equity Committee and associate dean of student life, said Title IX requires substantial conformity in areas of gender, minority and student-athlete welfare issues. The committee found K-State athletics gave more money, and consequently more recruiting and coaching, to men's sports. "It's more than window dressing — it's some substantial inequities here," Scott

The equity committee has proposed a plan for K-State's athletic department to phase in Title IX requirements during the next four years.

This plan must be fully backed, including financially, by the time a NCAA review committee comes to K-State in April.

'We gave that designation based on the fact that there were going to be actual funds to implement Title IX, not simply a plan, but there had to be actual dollars to back it up," she said. "There has to be money, real money, by April."

Although the athletic department doesn't know where the money will come from, implementation has already begun.

In response, according to the NCAA the Department self-study, Intercollegiate Athletics hired its first fulltime female assistant athletic director in 1995, Cindy Fox. It also hired a woman to serve as the women's golf coach, a female strength and conditioning undergraduate assistant coach was added in 1995, and women's crew will be a varsity sport in fiscal year 1996-97.

Women's crew, basketball and volleyball received a boost of funds beginning this year, which is the beginning of a fouryear implementation plan for these sports that will total $819,468.

"It's a minimum budget to get things going," Fox said. "We're going to be in compliance. It's a matter of what steps we take to get there."

Fox said money to meet Title IX requirements can't be found in the athletic department's tight $11 million budget. "That is one of the smallest budgets in the Big 8 and Big 12, and that is very scary," she said. For example, the University of Nebraska athletic department has a $24 million budget, but none of that is funded by student fees.

The University of Kansas operates on a $15 million budget, and students pay $40

Urick has pointed to Kansas' fee as an example that K-State's fee should be high-"I was hoping our students would find us worthy enough to fund us at least the level the Kansas students fund," Urick said after last week's Student Senate meeting. Scott said students need to realize the athletic department is trying to create more opportunity for women. "It's a really emotional issue," she said. "I truly believe that athletics, especially women's athletics, gives you an opportuni-

If the department didn't have to ask students for money, it wouldn't, she said.

"When we're looking forward to Title IX, it's not if - it's when - because we have to," she said.

Hard-to-track ticket sales force changes in accounting he Department of Intercollegiate Athletics has been cleaning house.

It has been dusting cobwebs of internal control, shaking them out and reorganizing.

It had lost track of how many tickets it sold at games, revenue had been unrecorded, and payments on the same accounts were accidentally made twice.

Two audits revealed that the athletic department for years ending June 30, 1994, and March 29, 1995, found, "Tighter controls need to be established in the handling of funds."

Bob Krause, vice president for institutional advancement, said the department still has a problem totaling tickets. "Reconciliation on tickets is a gigantic problem," he said.

A review of the 1994 Nebraska football game showed that 19 more individual game tickets were sold than were issued by the athletic department.

A review of all season tickets sold in 1994 showed inconsistency: "In total, the tickets issued agreed with the funds deposited except for 10 $150 reserved seats that were sold, but the records do not show these tickets ever being issued."

Carol Adolph, athletic department ticket manager, said the amount lost is not large compared to the millions of tickets sold.

"Some days we come out long, and some days we come out short. Everything comes out even in

Although the amount of tickets is not large, and no money was lost, it is still an area where the department can improve internal control, Krause

"I go to games, and I hear the attendance amounts, and I look around and say, 'Huh?'" Krause said. "Then I get the reconciliation sheet at the end of the season. And all of a sudden, money and tickets didn't reconcile."

Employees were guessing the amount of people who showed for a game by looking at the audience, Krause said. An automated ticket counter will solve the

The 1993-94 audit by Baird, Kurtz & Dobson noted that accounts receivable and revenue were being unrecorded because the contract had never been communicated from the marketing office to the business office.

... some individuals still do not prepare purchase orders; thus, when an invoice comes to the business office and department head and no purchase order was prepared, payments have been mistakenly been made

Keith Ratzloff, University controller, said the department has made a new committment to integrity, and new business manager Bob Cavello will help meet this committment.

"I think that part of his role is to come in and make sure it happens," Ratzloff said.

The department is in the process of buying and installing new computers and a new record keeping program to help keep track of billing.

The information will be available to everyone at the same time. Before, they were not looking at the same data," he said.

Athletic Director Max Urick said revenue being unrecorded and the double paying on accounts is in the process of being fixed by consolidating the marketing and business office accounts.

"The collection and the billing of revenues should be only a business office function," Urick

Ratzloff said the consolidation of accounts and the new computer system should help build a strong checks and balance system within the

DO YOU LIKE TO TRAVEL??

Union Program Council is looking for a TRAVEL CHAIRPERSON

This is a great volunteer leadership opportunity for someone who is interested in researching, planning, and organizing trips for students and community members. The Travel committee arranges day, weekend and Spring Break trips.

If this sounds like something that interests you, please come by the Union Program Council Office, 3rd floor, K-State Student Union for an application.

Deadline for application is Friday, Feb. 9, at 4 p.m.

Candles • Posters

 much much more stuff

New Items Arriving All The Time

1128 MORO 776-BAJA MON.-FRI. 11-7 SAT. 10-6, SUN. NOON-5

Floyd E. Rogers

Res: (913) 776-8900 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home market analysis.

Res: (913) 776-7492

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

Follow the Leader.

ANIMAL HOUSE PETS 210 N. 4th • 537-6111

Saturday, February 10 9a.m.-5p.m. Portoff Hall, Cico Park

Spring Break

You're in. You're out.

You're done.

Work out at Cottonwood Raquet Club 3615 Claflin 776-6060 Straight west on Claflin next to Amanda Arnold Elementary School

YOUR DEGREE HAS POTENTIAL

Youll be Surprised where your degree can take you when you add Paralegal to your resume.

It Doesn't Take Lose.

• 5-month day program with internship
(college degree required)

• Tr's Worth it.
• American Bar Association Approved
• National Lifetime Procedum Assistance
• Financial Aid and Housing available

Call 303-295-0550 a 800-848-0550

DENVER PARALEGAL

1401 19th Street, Denver, Colorado 80202

KNOW THE LAW. KNOW YOUR FUTURE.

Check the following:

- □ Do enjoy all kinds of music?
- □ Would you like to work behind the scenes?
- □ Would like to meet entertainers?
- □ Do you like to work with people?

If you checked one or more then check out UPC now accepting applications for chairperson of:

Eclectic Entertainment

Applications for Eclectic Entertainment and other chair positions are due Friday, February 9 at 4 p.m. For additional information please stop by the UPC office 3rd floor K-State Student Union, or call 532-6571.

City Farmers Surplus Flea Market Open:

Tues. - Fri. 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Sat. & Sun. 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Appliances, furniture, household items, jewelry and clothing, sporting goods, tools, medical supplies, lawn equipment, antiques, home maintenance items, knick knacks and A LOT MORE. (A little bit of everything new and used at affordable prices.)

We Buy Used 501 Levis 201 S. 4th St., Manhattan, Kansas (the old Sears building)

539-8579

Koses and candy, Hearts and kisses... Tell them you care Through personal wishes.

This Valentine's Day, the Collegian is offering special personal ads. For $10, you can buy a personal greeting for that special someone, family member or professor.

Come to 103 Kedzie (east of the Union), choose one of Cupid's borders shown here and give us your message (no last names or phone numbers accepted).

Deadline for placing personals is Monday, Feb. 12 at 4 p.m., and wishes will be published on Wednesday, Feb. 14.

Diversions

ARE CHOCOLATE CHIP

COOKIES WITHOUT

A GLASS OF MILK?

GLUG

GLUG

WEDNESDAY February 7, 1996

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

▶ CROSSWORD

ACROSS 1 Humongous 4 Hemingway

sobriquet 8 Scandal 12 It might be tin

13 "Exodus" author 14 "Star Wars" role 15 Freudian concept

16 Instrument

panel 18 Scattered 20 Evergreen 21 Sister of Frank Jr. 24 Type 28 Flirtatious missive 32 Parks or

Bonheur 33 Parisian pal 34 Irritates greatly 36 Fun 'n games 37 Pizzazz

39 Service stripe 41 Mystery writer's award 43 Line of fashion bunch 2 Shake spearean villain Solution time: 28 mins.

61 Speed-

DOWN

1 Honey wagon

letters

TGPBX

HWBH

HISLP

44 Crumpet 3 Wax mistress wash-down 4 Creamy - friendly 46 Nairobi is dessert 27 Pink-slip 5 Coach Par- 28 Intricate there 50 Opry seghian system territory 6 Greek con- 29 In the 55 "- Town" sonants thick of 56 Theater 7 Pale 30 Make like trophy 8 Develop Pavarotti 57 Cherished fully 31 Otherwise 58 Poorly 9 Meadow 35 Dining-59 Antelope's 10 Melody table pair playmate 11 Apartment, 38 Accumu-60 Ova '60s-style

17 Seek

ED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873199¢ per minute, touch-

XJLW

tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

LVFHF

NVJ TGPBXPT SH IVJZT.

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: I FIGURED A FJORD WAS JUST A NEW NORWEGIAN AUTO.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: X equals M

CRYPTOQUIP

WVJFP:

handouts title: abbr. 19 Ordinal 42 Gun the suffix engine 22 Love boat 45 Staffer captain? 47 Bleakly 23 Holdup pessiman? mistic 25 Asta's 48 Year-end celebration

> 49 Woody's son 50 Woodenshoe passenger 51 Actor Vigoda 52 "Sprechen

40 Tussaud

by Eugene Sheffer

▶ FOXTROT

MUNCH

MUNCH

MUNCH

MUNCH

Deutsch?" 53 Journey segment 54 Trail the pack

VCP

CPBGZN

DOOG AND BLAIR

They're Wait ... sending mystery

by Bill Amend

by Mark Ilich

LITTLE

by Justin Stahlman

YOU KNOW ... WHAT'S

A GLASS OF MILK

WITHOUT A FEW

CHOCOLATE CHIP

COOKIES?

▶ BLOODLINES

WELL, AMOUTION IS A DARN GOOD THING IN A YOUNG WOMAN. SO SAKAH, NOW THAT YOU GOT YOUR ACT' SCOKES BACK, HAVE YES! YOU DECIDED YOU WANT TO WHEFE WHERE Z TO GO TO

Welcome back to Smatterings! I love you people! THEY'RE NOT HECKLING, THEY'RE

TESTIFYING FOR THE LORD

The Toronto Airport Vineyard Church has been booted out of the Vineyard denomination of Protestant Christian churches. The growing congregation is too weird, even for the Vineyardists.

Vineyardists believe one of the gifts bestowed on believers by Holy Spirit, a part of the Christian Trinity, is the gift of laughter.

While other charismatic sects worship with dancing, clapping and glossolalia, Vineyardists prefer to laugh.

The Toronto Airport Vineyard Church seems to have gone too far, though. The church not only has services filled with believers laughing hysterically like other

Miller Vineyard churches, but it also has believers dancing in trances, writhing and screaming on the floor, screaming uncontrollably, jumping, doing acrobatics and other assorted off-the-mainline behaviors. Believers said they do these things because the Holy Spirit blesses them with the gift of, well, hysteria. My guess is that the whole Vineyard movement started when some smart-alecky preacher began a sermon with "OK, a Catholic, a Protestant, and a Jew walk into a bar ... "If Vineyardists were worried that this Toronto church was getting out of hand, someone should have sent Dennis Miller in to preach a revival. With Dennis Miller preaching, no one would have been laughing, let alone going off into trances or wiggling on the ground crying like babies. They would have been demanding their money back from the offer-

SCOTT ALLEN

THIS WEEK'S WEIRD, OBNOXIOUS WORD (W.O.W.)

Man-hat'-tan n. the sunburn a male gets on the part of his nose that sticks out under the brim of his hat if he doesn't use some sun screen

THIS WEEK'S STUPID INTERNET NEWSGROUP (S.I.N.)

alt.ketchup

It's no longer America's No. 1 condiment since salsa has become so popular. But it does have its own newsgroup. This mixture of salt, vinegar and tomatoes has been delighting french fry, scrambled egg and hamburger eaters as long as anyone can remember. Best of all, it still comes in packets. Ketchup has entered the information age, assuring it a place in the door of your refrigerator for years to come.

THIS WEEK'S PATHETIC INTERNET SITE SUGGESTION (P.I.S.S.

(http://users.aol.com/macwuh/GLVCOE.html)

Praise the King and pass the peanut butter, banana and bacon sandwiches! It's a website for those devoted to the worship of the King of Rock 'n' Roll, Elvis Presley. Have a hunk-a hunk-a burnin' love for communion and stay off of his holy blue suede shoes. And then

8-BALL POOL TOURNAMENT

Cash and Other Prizes

$8 entry fee per person Sign up & pay now at Union Rec Center

> Monday, February 19 6:00 pm Union Rec Center

> > G. State Blackert Union UPC Speeds Counts Country

by Kristian Kelley

Union Program Office - 3rd floor of the K-State Student Union - 532-6571

LUCAS MUNCE Live Jazz

Friday, February 9 9:00 pm - midnight Union Station FREE

AFRICAN AMERICAN NITE

Saturday, February 10 10:00 pm - 1 am

Union Station FREE

ELK CITY BACKPACKING ADVENTURE

Information Meeting: Monday, February 12 7:00 pm Student Union Room 203

Participants' Meeting: Thursday, February 22 7:30 pm Student Union Room 203 Carlos Student Union

DON'T BE A PUCKHEAD, GO ON THE

WICHITA THUNDER HOCKEY TRIP

Sign Up in the UPC Office 3rd Floor of Student Union

Trip Price: $13 includes transportation and ticket

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10

425 MAIN & SMUDGE

Thursday, February 8 Union Station FREE CONCERT 8:00 pm

K-State Student Union UPC Edectic Entertainment

MAGIC THE GATHERING $5.00 Entry Fee TOURNAMENT

Monday, February 12 6:00 pm Union Station C K-State Student Union

For some reason or another, the powers that be wanted more proof. But those are the types of things we discussed at every meeting.

- JACK KEY, FORMER BUSINESS MANAGER

FINANCIAL TUG-OF-WAR

lt reached a point where we were short-term debt financing. And we were only paying interest and making very little dent in principal. - MAX URICK, DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

IRS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

what's customary in other businesses," Krause said

The money used to fund these awards comes from the department's generated funds, which include profits from concessions, tickets, guarantees and program sales.

But the IRS isn't worried about where the money comes from. It wants to know how the money is taxed.

In a memo dated Feb. 23, 1994, Key told Athletic Director Max Urick that he felt the department was deficient in areas regarding reporting of certain nontaxable items, and it had been notified by an independent auditing firm that it needed to check its policies

...Fraud penalties could be accessed against department management. It appears to me that we have been put on notice and that we should start to make corrective actions with regard to our reporting and documentation."

Key urged the department to hire

Baird, Kurtz & Dobson, an auditing firm, to make suggestions as to how the department should handle non-taxable items.

"For one reason or another, the powers that be wanted more proof," he said. "But those are the types of things we discussed in almost every meeting." Bill Sinderson, a certified public accountant with Baird, Kurtz & Dobson, drew up a working draft of policies and procedures for complimentary tickets and other items.

"They contacted us and wanted to make sure they were handling of complimentary tickets correctly," said Ed Crumm, partner at Baird, Kurtz & Dob-

"We gave them advice."

A working draft of how to tax complimentary tickets was completed March 27, 1995. It listed guidelines for dispersing complimentary tickets and associated ancillary items

However, it did not give a procedure for handling travel reimbursements for unofficial and spouse or children expenses, Manhattan Country Club dues and initiation fees, awards to employees and payments to employees that are not reflected on the employees' W-2 forms.

Crumm said he believed the department is currently trying to follow the guidelines as closely as possible, but he didn't know whether final guidelines were ever created.

The athletic department is still using the incomplete working draft.

"At this point, I would still call it a working draft," Krause said.

"There is no final, and we're still opening questions. There's some interpretations out there." The department is waiting for new business manager Bob Cavello to finalize the draft, Krause said. Cavello will be visiting K-State this coming weekend but will begin his job

"I think from an audit standpoint, one of the things to do when Bob gets here is to go through and square everything up," Krause said.

"There's actually a couple of lines and questions."

DEBT

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

from one that is with the Missouri Valley Conference," Wefald said.

Being a part of the Big 12 helps to recruit top scholars and professors, he said. "How important is football to K-State? Very important," Wefald said.

In 1988, University officials took a close look at K-State and its reputation and decided what needed to be done to turn the tide. K-State needed a strong football

"It's just one window for public relations throughout the country," Wefald said.

K-State's athletic department was more than $3 million in debt in 1989. It has hit an all-time high debt of about $6 million in the past six years, Krause

Football coach Bill Snyder was hired in 1989. The University also became more competitive in external grant funding and advanced more than $100 million with a University-wide campaign directed by the KSU Foundation to raise private donations.

A lot of faith was put in Snyder and the possibility of football becoming a success, chiseling away at the athletic debt and bringing K-State national recognition, Krause said.

In the past nine years, K-State has spent $35 million boosting the athletic programs in public and private money, building facilities and marketing for top student athletes.

Snyder's football program had helped combat the mounting debt, but athletics was still losing money, Krause

In an effort to meet yearly operational cost and fund a renewed football program, the department was using two lines of credit from the KSU Foundation and one from a local agency. It also had a loan from Bank IV

"It reached a point where we were short-term debt financing," Urick said. "And we were only paying interest and making very little dent in principal."

Bowl games helped. K-State profited $60,000 from the Copper Bowl's $750,000 paycheck. The Aloha Bowl paid about $750,000, but the department did not profit from it. The Holiday Bowl paid about $1 million, but the profit hasn't been calculated yet. "We took a lot of people this year the band and everybody," Krause said. In the past few years, Krause said the athletic department has humiliated itself for money.

"We went through a period of time when we sold our games," he said, explaining that the athletic department was paid to play games at rival schools that were originally scheduled as home games. In 1992, the football team played in the Coca-Cola Bowl for money. "We sold our game with Nebraska to Tokyo.'

In late 1994, the debt totaled $3.5 million. The department decided to consolidate the loans and sell $3.5 million in revenue bonds using Chapman Securities Inc.

The department currently pays $420,000 each year for 11 years toward its $3.5 million debt.

We're looking for you

The 1996 Royal Purple yearbook is now taking applications for staff writer and staff assistant positions. If you are enthusiastic and want to be a part of an award winning yearbook -We're looking for you.

Applications are available in Kedzie Hall 103. If you have questions call Sarah at 532-6557.

Be a part of it.

Are you interested in bringing the Arts to campus? Union Program Council is looking for an ARTS CHAIRPERSON

This is a great volunteer leadership opportunity for someone who is interested in researching, planning, and organizing arts events for students and community members. The Arts committee arranges gallery shows, poetry readings, visiting artists and more!

If this sounds like something that interests you, please come by the Union Program Council Office, 3rd floor, K-State Students Union for an application.

Deadline for application is Friday, February 9 at 4 p.m.

Demo and Introductory Meeting 9 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 8 at Ahearn Fieldhouse Beginners' Class Begins 9 p.m Monday, Feb. 12 at Ahearn Fieldhouse All Welcome to Attend

Classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIA

DEADLINES

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, 539–0531, classes now forming.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

the Wildcat fan today, wish him a Happy Birth-

KSU SCUBA NAUL OF VMCA certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539-8763 for information and registration.

SWING INTO SPRING CRAFT SHOW- Sat-urday February 10, Pot-torf Hall, Cico Park 9-5. Handmade crafts, homemade food. Pro-ceeds benefit ABWA education opportuni

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND: MICKEY Mouse watch. Found in Bio-Chemistry building. Claim at CB 142.

Parties-n-More

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at rea sonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320

month, both close to campus. Two-bedroom $350/ month, 537-7542.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom spartments. Close to campus with great prices. 537–1666, 537–2919.

NINE OR 12 month lease. most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. pets. 537-8389.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM FUR-NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428. 110

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU, One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537–2332.

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS

Corner of College and Claflin, Manhattan 1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments Deck/Patios for each unit On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry Covered Parking

 2 BR - $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735 4 BR - $860 & $880 Now Accepting

Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases For more information, call: (913) 776-3663

Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday by Appointment

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one two, three and four bedroom apartments Close to campus with great prices. 537-1666, 537-2919.

Leasing now thru August

Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Aprs. Large 2-bedroom units

537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

AVAILABLE MID-MAY, one-bedroom across from campus, two bal-conies, new kitchen. Call 587-9322, leave

AVAILABLE NOW- rent ne gotiable, luxury apart-ment next to campus, two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street parking. 539-2702 evenings. AVAILABLE NOW, one bedroom apartment, close to campus. $285/month leave message. 587-9272. AVAILABLE NOW- four bedroom plus study, bi-level, washer/ dryer. $700/ month. 537-3789,

PARKING

AVAILABLE NOW. One bedroom. 820 Osage. $325. Water, trash paid, fixed utilities. Pets al-lowed. Call now lowed. 776-3804.

CRESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1611 Lara-mie. $575 through May 31. Water, trash paid Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804. FOUR-BEDROOM, LARGE available 537-1940. $750. LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500

TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Available now- July 31. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $490/ month. Water and trash paid. Call 539-9524.

ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse Newly carpeted 537-9188 or 537-1550.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. IN Ag-gieville, 1220 Laramie $250. All utilities paid. Pets allowed. Call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.

PARK PLACE Apartment special. One-bedroom, new carpet, hot water paid, $300 per month, plus utilities. Six month lease. 537-2392.

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours

Mon.-Fri. 8-5

Except holidays)

PARK PLACE APART MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.

ROYAL TOWERS. Four bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trash paid. Hot tubs, dishwasher, microwave, laundry facilities. Call now 776-3804.

STUDIO AVAILABLE now, near Sunset Zoo, 409 near Sunset Zoo, 409 Summit. $225. Fixed utilities. Call 776–3804. THREE-BEDROOM APART-MENT, central air, washer/ dryer, $399. 537-3826, John.

> TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT remodeled, new carpet. 50 feet from campus, 1200 N. Man-hatten. $400/ Month.

Water/ trash paid. 776-7996, leave mes-

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT. $380/ month. Across street from Ahearn Field House.

Collegian Classifieds

Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537–7794.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT, southeast of campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facil-ities, immediately available, 539-7277.

START

- ▲ 2 bedroom apartments
- ▲ Great location ▲ Private
- bedroom
- ▲ Large bath & closets
- ▲ Dishwasher
- ▲ Laundry facility ▲ On site office

▲ 2 large pools NOW LEASING FOR JUNE 8 AUGUST

776-1148 Open Houses Daily The Curtin Company

ZODDWAS STOP ! DO NOT RENT

AN APARTMENT UNTIL YOU CONSIDER THIS!

- ·Brand new sparkling swimming pool Spacious decks/patios Avail. June 5 Aug. 6
- *Kitchen Appliances include microwave and ceiling fan ·Economical gas heat bedroom $410, $420 2 bedroom $520, $530 $654, $663 3 bedroom

bedroom $816, $836

Office: 2400 Kimball Ave. at College Ave. Across from Bramlage

Call Roy at 537-7007 for an appointment.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT. Apartment. Wa ter, gas, trash, parking One block/ campus washer, dryer available $450, 539-6578.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT, washer and dry er. $350. 537-1940.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX with washer/ dryer, basement available March 1, 537-7138.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m.,

776-0221. TWO-BEDROOM,

Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401. Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM,

For Rent-Houses

AVAILABLE IMME DIATELY. Four-bed room, close to campus. 776–1340.

BEAUTIFUL SETTING in the Flint Hills. 30 miles south of Manhattan. (316)767-6667.

FOUR-BEDROOM WITH study. Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-lowed.Call 776-3804.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

VERY NICE newly remo-deled two-bedroom house near campus. Re-frigerator, range, wash-er, dryer, central heat and air. No pets. $475 plus utilities. Call even-ings. (913)238-8441.

Roommate Wanted

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look ing for roommate two-badroom spartment. Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, cable. As soon as possi-ble through July. 539-6394.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted for apartment, one block from cam-pus. Rent negotiable. 776-8284.

ROOMMATE wanted: close to Ag-gieville and campus, Af-fordable rent. Call 776–1388 ask for Ali.

FEMALE TO share my home, please call even-ings and weekends. 537-4412.

GRADUATE- STUDENT needs roommate for house next to campus. $192.50 plus half of utilities, Call 776-1195

MALE/ FEMALE non smoker for two-bed-room. Close to campus/ Aggieville. $190 plus part utilities. Call Brian 537-6124.

MALE/ FEMALE roommate needed to share threebedroom apartment. $175/ month plus one-third utilities. February rent already paid. Call 539–1063.

MALE/ FEMALE to share house one-half block from campus, with two girls, one guy. Own room, washer/ dryer $172.50. 539-4311.

NICE HOUSE, close to campus, $200 monthly. Fe-bruary paid. 776-1890.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share house with Mom, school age child. $200 includes laundry, meals, utilities, Baby

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apartment. Two and one half blocks from KSU $245/ month plus one half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.

ROOMMATE WANTED basement apartment, three blocks from campus, $175/ month, utili ties paid, can renew lease in June. 776-4110.

TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur-nished basement apart-ment. Laundry furnished, for males, non smoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539–1554.

TWO ROOMS available. Huge house next to campus. Washer/ dryer, free laundry, all utilities paid. $225/ month. 776-6039.

Sublease

ONE-BEDROOM ON first level of house. $240/ month, all bills paid. 776-5240 ask for Jen-

SUBLEASE APARTMENT until July. Close to cam-pus, Aggieville. $230 month or negotiable, water and trash paid. 537-4768. Ask for Lisa.

DIRECTORY

Resume Typing

PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

FAST, CHEAP, accurate. Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing. Laser printing. Becky, 539-2748.

TYPIST, Experienced typ-PIST. Experienced typists will type anything on my home computer: reports, proposals, thesis, spreadsheets. Have IBMPC with Windows, Lotus, MSPublisher, Works, Call for more information and quest. formation and quote. Sonya, 776-1132.

Services MONEY FOR COL-LEGEIII Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-ents. Immediate qual-ification. Call (800)270-2744. Open

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D., (913)841-5716.

Massage

NEW CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon. She spe-cializes in neuromuscular therapy, shietsu, Swedish and reflex-ology. Mention this ad and receive $10 off first appointment. 539-6969.

EMPLOYMENT/

Help Wanted

CAREERS

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he' she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reason. such employment op-portunity with reason-able caution. The Col-legian urges our read-ers to contact the Bet-ter Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, To-peka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE ships hiring Students needed! $$$ plus free travel Caribbean, Europe, Ha-waii! Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. (919)929-4398 ext.C1069. $1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces sary. (206)971-3510 ext A57683.

ALASKA STUDENT JOBS! Great $$$! Thousands of jobs available. Male/ female. Room/ Board/ Trans-port often provided. No experience necessary. Gde. (919)933-0188 ext.A1069

AMERICA'S PREMIERE ISPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachu-setts. Over 100 posi-tions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required experience required.
Top salaries, room and board, and travel allowance. On campus information and interviews February 27–28, 1996, 9a.m.4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202
and 203. SUMMER
JORS! Men call JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu. Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

APPLICATION FOR mem-bership for McCain Am-bassadors, a student organization interested in promoting music drama and live enter tainment, will be avail-able at K-State Student able at K-State Student Union SAS Office from January 31 through February 26. Due back in office on February 26 by 4p.m. Contact Emily Simpson at 539–4651 or Todd Lakin at 537–7773 with questions.

ATTENTION ALL Students! Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information call: (800)263-6495

ext.F57684. ATTENTION STUD-ENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envel-opes at home. All ma-terials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Favelone to terials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Immediate re-

COMPLETE MUSIC Disc Jockey Service is grow-ing and wants you to be a part of the largest and most professional DJ service in the na-DJ service in the na-tion. We provide the equipment. CD library, and paid professional training. If you are friendly, energetic and have your own vehicle, call 539-711 or (800)755-DJDJ.

COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL SMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL
Techs/ Stylists. Wanting a flexible schedule in an up and coming saion? Booth rent first four weeks free or parttime commission option also available, Apply Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty
Salon 409 Poytz
539-5999.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary, For information call (206921-350) 1971-3550

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated indi-viduals. Fast, easy-no financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982

GROUNDSKEEPER- FULL

TIME summer, part-time rest of year. Job experience in lawn, pool and tree care nec-essary. Successful ap-plicant will also be responsible for cleaning mmon areas regular-helping main-nance as needed and living on-site to re-spond to after- hours tenant emergencies. Free apartment, Sub mit references and re sume to Chase Man-hattan Apartments, 1409 Chase Place, Man-hattan, KS 66502, no

JOBS IN the Great Out doors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-N57683.

KAW VALLEY Greenhous es needs quality peo-ple. Full and part-time positions available. Call 776-8585, Monday through Friday bet-ween 4 and 5p.m.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR SUMMER AT CAMP TACONIC. Prestigious coed camp in beautiful Massachusophomores, juniors seniors and grads who love working with kids to be general coun-selors and instructors in: Swimming, Sailing, Windsurfing, Skiing, Athletics, Ropes Course, Rollerblading, Horseback Riding, Archery, Gymnastics, Aerobics, Golf, Arts and Crafts, Photography, Silver Jewelry, Drama, Music, Piano Accom-paniment, Cooking, Sci-ence Rocketry, Pioneering, Video and News-paper. Competitive sala-ries. Join a dedicated team. Have a reward ing and enjoyable sum-mer! Please cal (800)762-2820.

MALE MODELS needed Feb. 19 from 10a.m.- 12

MANAGER SMALL coop erative food store. Re sponsible for all as-pects of business activ-ities. Supervise staff, manage store finances, facility, and products. Retail grocery experi-ence preferred. Send resume and references to PREMIERE BROTHERS Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented Canoeing/ Kayaking).

Top salaries, room,
board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire:
MAH-KEE-NAC

REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business opportunity with multi-level marketing in tele-communications industry. For appointment

RILEY COUNTY POLICE DEPARTMENT MAN-HATTAN, KS COM-PUTER SYSTEM AD-MINISTRATOR. The MINISTRATOR. The Riley County Police Department, an EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER, will be accepting applications for the position of COMPUTER SYSTEM ADMINISTRATOR from February 5 through February 16, 1996 for employment effective on or about effective on or about March 1, 1996. The successful applicant must have a bachelors de-gree in Computer Scigree in Computer Sci-ence or a related field, OR the equivalent in ex-perience in adminis-tering UNIX/ DOS/ WINDOWS systems as per the following re-quirements: The Ap-plicant must have ex-perience in adminisperience in adminis-tering a UNIX system supporting a large number of users in a distributed multi-workstation environment. The applicant must be familiar with DOS and WINDOWS operating environments and the installation of software on these systems. The applicant must be cap-able of maintaining pro-grams and shell scripts, especially those of that involve network and client-server applications. The applicant must be experienced in creating the implementing soft ware installation procedures, as well as in-suring for the security of the system within the global network en-vironment. The applic-ant should be familiar with hardware main tenance strategies and have the capability to maintain PC's. The ap-plicant should be fully noon, for advanced clip-per class. If interested call 776-4455.

People's Grocery Co-operative, 811 Color-ado, Manhattan, KS 66502 before Feb. 15.

and energetic students and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, especially Baseball, Basketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; Tennis openings; o Golf, Archery, Rialso Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Overand Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-392-3752.

RECENT GRADS John Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specif-ically designed for recent college graduates.
Call or send resume.
6900 College Blvd,
#1000 Overland Park,
KS 66211, ATTN: Pam (913)345-9090, (913)345-0978 FAX.

conversant with UNIX networking procedures, backup strategies, and the connectivity of DOS/ Windows PC's to a UNIX network. Applicants must: be 21 years of age or older, a citizen of the United States, be able to per-form all essential func-tions of the Department's written job de-scription, and commit to establishing residency within a thirty mile radius of Manhat-tan. Applicants must not have been convict-ed of a felony. A series of misdemeanor of-fenses and/ or traffic violations may be disqualifying. Applicants must pass a drug screen and a polygraph examination. Starting salary will be depend ent upon the applicants education and experience. Minimum salary is $29,817. Applicants should provide a re-sume upon initial ap-plication. For further details contact Avie Roblyer at 537-6100 or tan, KS 66502. SECRETARY/ RECEP-TIONIST- Requires ex-cellent organizational skills and attention to detail. Computer, word processing and book-keeping experience im-portant. Looking for professional, enthusiastic, bright, people-oriented candidate with good communication skills. Full-time, $6.50/ hour. Send resume to mended. Increases en-ergy, mental alertness 539–7336.

STUDENT'S DREAM-

leadership skills, 30 wa ter/ land activities. Spi cific job information Office, Holtz Hall. Sign up in advance for a per sonal interview on campus Tuesday, Feb. 13.

SUMMER JOBS in Color ado. YMCA of the Rock-ies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference center and family resort hiring for Lifeguards, Food Services, Front Desk, Counselors, Housekeeping, etc. Campus interviews on February 8, 1996. Contact Career/ Employ ment Services for in terview, 532-6506

SUMMER JOBS Out doors. 17,000 openings. National Parks, Forests, Fire Crews. Send stamp for free details. Sulli-van's 113 E. Wyoming, Kalispell, MT 59901.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help. Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at 2700 Anderson Ave.

405

Items for Sale

386SX PACKARD Bell 25 MHZ paid $1250. sell for $500, negotiable 1993 Ford Ranger Splash 44,000 miles. 537-0575.

know what you're looking for. Lorin 539-6631. ENGAGEMENT/ WEDDING GOVERNMENT SURPLUS and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT work-

Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT (June through August) at Camp Lincoln/ Camp Lake Hubert in Minne-sota's Lake country since 1909. Meet new friends, expand horizons, rewarding work with children, develop able at the Placement

Wanted to Buy

Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me ring set, marquis dia mond with eight small er diamonds, one-half karat total. $250 or best offer. 537-8206.

Also CARMAN I Work-wear. Open Monday through Friday 9– 5:30p.m. Saturday 9– 5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437–2734.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m.

Phone 537-5020, Og-den, KS.

Furniture to Buy/Sell

AA FULL size mattress set. New, never used, still in plastic. Retail price $639. Will sell for $165. Brass headboard $90, (913)379-9858.

AA QUEEN size mattress set. New, never used. Still in plastic. Retail price $839, will sell for $195. Queen brass headbaord, (913)379-9858.

KING SIZE mattress set, new, retail $999, sell for $275. (913)379–9858.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Man-hattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

486DX4X100, 8 MB ram CD rom, 14400 modem 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1299, 539-8453.

ELECTRONIC TYPEWRIT ERS and word proces sors. Excellent condi tion starting at $39 Manhattan Pawn Shop Manhattan Pawn Shop 776-6112, 317 S. 4th St.

Tickets to Buy/Sell

WANTED: KU vs. KSU bas ketball tickets. Willing to pay! 776-7091. Ask for Natalie.

TRANS-

PORTATION

Automobiles 1989 FORD Thunderbird SC; dark blue, 79,000 miles. Leather, JBL stereo and more. $7700 or best offer, 776-0912. 1989 TOYOTA Corolla GTS. Excellent condi-tion, sunroof, tinted glass, five-speed. Grey paint/ interior. Like new. Call 565-0764. $5000.

1995 CAMARO, five-speed teal, alum rims, AM/FM cassette, 7000 miles like new! $15,000 (913)784-3031.

Motorcycles

1990 YAMAHA EZREGO Good Condition, V&H exhaust new rear tire, cover and helme $3000. Or best offer Call Micheal 537-3291.

Tour Packages

SPRING MAZATLAN $419

> Trips include 7 nights hotel, roundtrip air from Kansas City. Daily parties,

CANCUN $429

FOR MORE INFO CALL TIGER TOURS 1-800-LEAVE-99 (1-800-532-8399)

free covers and discounts.

from $439

from $399

from $109

STE STUDENT STRAVEL SERVICES

Toll free 1-800-548-4849

http://www.ststravel.com

SELVOVERS MOSTA

COMPLETE S & 7 HIGHT TERS

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND

PANAMA CITY BEACH

DAYTONA BEACH

KEY WEST

STEAMBOAT AIL BEAVER CREEK

HILTON HEAD ISLAND

-800-SUNCHASE

THE REPORT OF THE PARTY.

WIN THE

Jamaica

Cancun

Spring Break

PARTY ON THE BEACH SPRING BREAK '96. CANCUN MEXICO FROM $339. PANAMA CITY BEACH FROM beach parties, evening club parties and great (800)998-TOUR. Get a group of 14 together and YOU TRAVEL

FREE!!! SOUTH PADRE Island-Spring Break. Why set-tle for a cramped hotel room? Sunchase IV has spacious one, two, and three-bedroom furnished condos at af fordable rates. Deal directly with on-site man-agement, not third party promoters. Great location, on the beach and excellent ameni-ties. Special rates: one-bedroom $650 (four people)/ two-bedroom $950 (six people)/ three-bedroom $1350 (eight people). Call toll free 800)944-6818. Internet

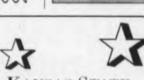

SPRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja-maica/ Cancun $399. Or-532-6556

SHOP With US

When you're looking for a bargain, check out the Collegian classifieds. If you don't find what you need, you can advertise in the Open Market section. It's only $8.85 for 20 words.

Classified Directory

010 Announcemen 020 Lool and Found 050 Personals

REAL ESTATE

125 For Sale - Houses

140 For Rent -- Gara 148 Roominste Wanted

188 Stable/Pasture

100 Office Space

100 Land for Sale SERVICE

220 Sewing/Alteration

225 Pregnancy Testing

220 Lawn Care 536 Child Care 240 Musicians/Dus

245 Pet Services

850 Automotive Repa

55 Other Services 36

CAREERS 216 Help Wanted

EMPLOYMENT!

MARKET

606 Warned to Buy 410 Hems for Sale 415 Furniture to Buy/Se 120 Garage/Yard Sales

430 Antiques asis Computers 140 Food Specials 846 Music Instruments

926 Audion

650 Pets and Supplies 666 Sporting Equipment 660 Stereo Equipment 466 Tickets to Buy/Self

PORTATION

510 Automobiles

520 Bicycles 530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

610 Tour Package 620 Airplane Tickets

620 Train Tickets

buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are images, and sub-categories are

CLASSIFIED AD

Always put what item or service

you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are Don't use abbreviations. Many marked by one of the large

preceded by a number

TIPS FOR WRITING A

designation

looking for.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

210 Resume/Typing 116 Rooms Available 120 For Rent - House 215 Desktop Publishin

AGGIE

HAIR SHAPERS

"Full Service Salon for the Entire Family"

Look your best for your Valentine!

5 OFF Perms

$2 OFF Haircuts

Coupon Expires 2-24-96

776-3600

WINE

WEDNESDAY

All wines and champagnes

in the store

20% DISCOUNT

Every Wednesday

Not good with any Special Advertised Sales. State law prohibits any sale of liquor under cost.

JOHNSON

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

It is the relationship with the students, Johnson said he longs for from the good, old days of teach-

"Because of the responsibilities I have, I really miss the days when I was a teacher and had continuous relationships with students," he said. "And I am certainly very supportive of keeping strong working graduate and undergraduate teaching program going so that they will be very competitive when they get out of here.

"It is very clear that even though we have research and extension responsibilities that the teaching mission of the University is the number one and central mission," he said.

"We just have to learn to work in Many members said they saw the realm of the way the world works," she said.

MARC JOHNSON DEAN OF AGRICULTURE

"That everyone - all people, all races, men, women, babies and grandparents - we all have our good and bad points, but through education and love for ourself and everybody else, we can resolve our conflicts."

in Comfort Birkenstock

Home of the Dilly's

Deli

1/2 Reuben and a cup of soup

Expires 2-23-96 Not good with any other offers

Service · Sales · Repair Manhattan's Original Birkenstock Dealer - Since 1984

Olson's Shoe Service

1214 B Moro Aggieville Manhattan

Certified Pedorthist National Registry of Orthopedic Shoe Technicians, Inc. #368 PFA Member

BILL

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

If the bill passes, high school graduates would have to have a 2.0 grade point average on a 4.0 scale, or score a 23 on the American College Test rank in the top third of their graduat-

It would provide exceptions for up to 10 percent of the University's freshman class and exempt everyone more than 21 years of age.

"It is my fear that we have not written this bill stringently enough,"

Sandy

1220 Moro

IMPORT

TUESDAY

10% Off 6 packs

Singles 15% Off.

Select from over 425 import, microbrewery & specialty beers.

SENIOR DISCOUNT

20% DISCOUNT EVERYDAY on Wines & Champagnes

15% DISCOUNT

on Beer or Spirits Everday 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

• Must be 55 years of age or older.

Aggieville • 539-5269

Corner of 12th & Laramie

Tanner said. "If I had been writing this bill from scratch, I would have written it as a tougher bill."

Tanner used language from a bill that failed two years ago as a starting

He said just about any student who wanted to get into one of the Kansas Board of Regents universities would still be allowed if the bill passes.

This is the eighth time in recent years that such a bill has come before the Legislature.

"There's very little middle ground on this issue, either in the legislative halls or among the people," Tanner

Lee

Parlor

Not just a night spot

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for FREE NACHOS

Exp. 3/1/96

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE

large

medium

 Free delivery Not good with any other offer

$2 $3

12th & Moro Aggieville 539-4888

pollution really adds something to your hair and it's not something you asked for.

Introducing One 2 One, a new personal care system featuring a vitamin mineral protein complex that acts as a buffer between your-hair, skin and body and all the hings that cause damage. You can't always escape them. But you can preserve ind protect with One 2 One

Haynes Beauty Supply 718 1/2 N. Manhattan in Aggieville 539-5512

Cards & Gifts

We're Your Valentine's Store valentine's Day is ive Balloons from the Heart.

Wednesday, Feb. 14

Love grows in all shapes and sizes, and we've got dozens of ways to express those feelings.

♥GREETING CARDS♥

♥CARDS♥

♥CANDY♥ ◆STUFFED ANIMALS◆

♥T-SHIRTS♥

♥CRABTREE EVELYN♥ ♥RUSSELL STOVERS♥

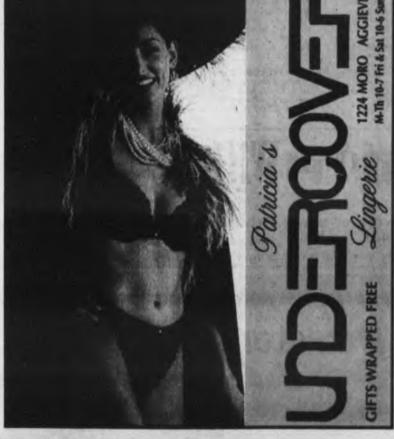

704 N. MANHATTANIN AGGIEVILLEIS

One month 1st come 1st serve with your paid semester membership

12TH & Laramie Aggieville 539-7095

1219 Bluemont · Aggleville Let's Get Blotto! WET, WILD, & WASTED ON WACKY WEDNESDAY!

Wednesday special! 112 lb. Double Cheeseburger Calls • Premiums Zimas • Shots · Bottles · Draws · Wells

1119 Moro · 776-7714

SCORCEONRIC

Today: partly cloudy. See weather map, page 2.

inside

OPINION . page 6

SPORTS • page 7

DIVERSIONS • page 9

THURSDAY February 8, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 89

Student

Student Senate has changed its regular Thursday meeting from meeting at 7 p.m. in the Union Big 8 room to 7 p.m. in Durland 173. For a Senate agenda, see page 2.

The Student Governing Association is sponsoring a forum to discuss the athletic fee at noon today in the Union Courtyard.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

FINANCIAL TUG-OF-WAR

STEVE HEBERT/Collegian

A large crowd gathers in the Union's Free Speech Zone to debate the proposed student athletic fee increase.

Fee negotiations move to Senate

Sarah Lunday

The fate of the athletic fee and a possible increase in ticket prices lies on the floor of Student Senate tonight.

Six student representatives, who met with Athletic Director Max Urick and Vice President Bob Krause, stonewalled the idea of proposing an increase in student athletic fees to Senate.

Instead, they will propose a bill that leaves the current $17 per semester for full-time students intact and offers Urick the freedom to raise ticket prices to meet needs for Title IX requirements.

"I think the obvious implication is we're going to have ticket price increases somewhere down the line," Krause said. "Because we do need to implement this plan."

The price of student season football tickets are currently capped at $7 per game, and the price of basketball tickets is capped at $5 per game. "You've got Max's hands untied," Krause said. "And we've got to look at all alternatives on how to do it, and • See FEE Page 10

Rally stirs interest, reveals attitudes

Scott M. Ladd

It may have started slowly, but as soon as Yanina Langer, sophomore in arts and sciences, stepped to the island at the center of the free-speech zone, a sea of debate swept toward her.

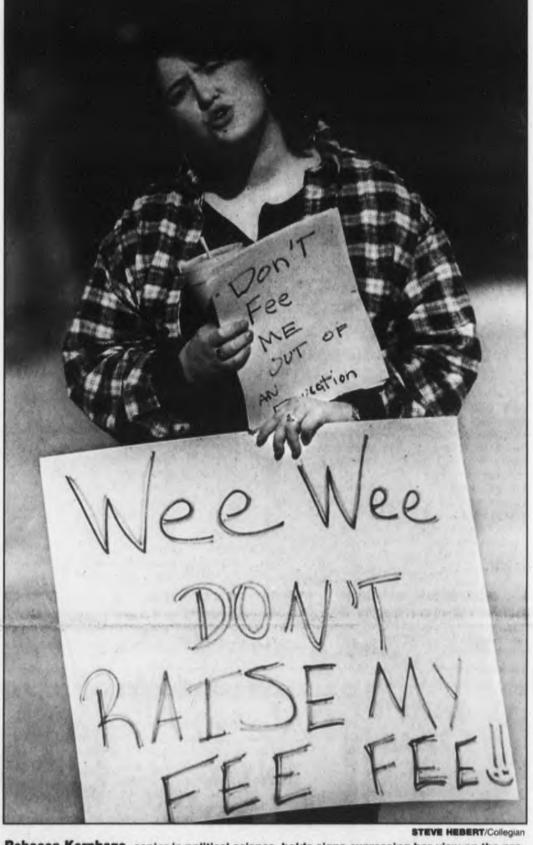

The debate started almost half an hour late, but nearly 100 students attended a rally against the proposed athletic fee increase north of the K-State Student Union Wednesday afternoon.

"I came to campus to hear and contribute to the discussion," said Bob Roger, junior in history and a sporting event security provider. "At first I was real upset, but after sitting back to look at the issues, we have an obligation to support it. It is ridiculous that it's going to take 24 years to get into Title IX. We need to use the opportunity to negotiate with them."

Title IX is the NCAA regulation mandating equity between men's and women's athletic programs.

Not every student at the more than two-hour-long event supported the proposed fee increase that would

• See PROTEST Page 10

Rebecca Korphage, senior in political science, holds signs expressing her view on the proposed student athletic fee increase during Wednesday afternoon's student rally in the K-State Union's Free Speech Zone.

MEET YOUR DEAN - A SERIES

Research grants double since dean's arrival

Donoghue

staff reporter

Most people might not think football has much to do with where a dean wants to work.

But for Timothy Donoghue, dean of the Graduate School, being at a university with a strong football program seems to be a habit.

After getting a bachelor's degree from Boston College, a graduate degree from Notre Dame, and spending 26 years at Ohio State University, Donoghue came to K-State

"When I came here," Donoghue said, "a colleague of mine asked, 'why is Timothy Donoghue going to K-State after his winning football tradition?' But I knew that this was a University which was really on the move, more than just with the football program, and I liked that a lot."

When Donoghue did come to K-State in 1990, he walked into a newly

"After the person before me left," he said, "they combined the job of graduate school dean and vice provost for research, largely in an effort to advance research in graduate educa-

The dean of a graduate school has a very different job, Donoghue said.

"I act for all graduate students in all colleges," he said. "We have about 3500 students in 42 doctoral programs and 60 masters programs of all disciplines, and we have our own faculty that is elected by the graduate council of students."

The graduate college also works differently than other colleges on "Student applications are reviewed by the colleges, and then we are the official ones who admit them," he said. "We look for markers of potential success in graduate education, but a graduate school should just be a rubber stamp to ratify what the colleges decide."

Once the students are at K-State, Donoghue works hard to keep the college, students and faculty alike, motivated to do research.

"For the students, I work to bring as much hands-on experience to their education as I can," he said. "And for the faculty, I work hard to highlight their awards, grants and publications. We even had a book fair in the Union where the faculty could be recognized for their publication work." Donoghue's work has paid off. Research grants at K-State have gone from $20 million when Donoghue arrived to $51-1/2 million today.

"Research grants are very important in giving faculty and students the opportunity to do hands-on work, because really they're advancing the frontiers of knowledge," he said.

Some faculty members said they See DEAN Page 10

Files removed from law firm

associated Press

WASHINGTON - Former Associate Attorney General Webster Hubbell revealed Wednesday he removed a large number of Hillary Rodham Clinton's files from their Little Rock law firm after the 1992 presiden-

In his third appearance before the Senate Whitewater Committee, Hubbell said he also removed from the firm another file — which he had kept in his office drawer — regarding a bank owned by the Clintons' Whitewater

Hubbell said he moved all of the material to a Little Rock warehouse early in 1993—insisting to skeptical Republicans on the Whitewater Committee that he "maintained the integrity" of all documents in his possession. The files eventually were turned over to Whitewater prosecutors. Did Hubbell "vacuum" the files? inquired Michael Chertoff, the committee's Republican staff lawyer who is a former prosecutor.

"I don't appreciate that, Mike," replied
Hubbell. At another point, Hubbell said, "Vacuum to me means disappear, and they're all still here." Hubbell has pleaded guilty to two felonish in Whitewater and is serving a Hubbell testified that the file in his office drawer related to the Bank of Kingston, a financial institution owned by James McDougal, the Clinton's Whitewater partner. McDougal also owned Madison Guaranty, the

See CLINTON Page 10

▶ U.S. SENATE

Farmers wait for bill

The U.S. and Kansas

agriculture could be in trouble. This is serious

business.

■ The farm bill may be reverted back to 1938 amendment if not passed

J. Scot Bucholz

Balancing the budget seems to be the main goal in Washington, but to farmers in the Midwest, passing the farm bill is more important.

"If the Senate does not pass a farm bill, it goes back to the 1938 and 1949 amendments," Jay Armstrong, a farmer from Muscotah, said. Armstrong said he thinks it is safe to say no one will want to operate under the 1938 conditions. Passing the farm bill, Senate Bill 1541, has been a difficult process and has farmers concerned about their futures. Recently the farm bill was attached to the Balance Budget Reconciliation Act, which President Clinton vetoed. As of Monday, it became a standing-alone bill in the U.S. Senate, according to Barry Flinchbaugh, professor of agriculture economics and extension state leader on agriculture "Politically, it is very intertwined with the budget situation," he said.

The first farm bill was passed in 1933, and it was declared unconstitutional, Flinchbaugh said. "The permanent law was passed in 1938," he said. The active word here is permanent,

Flinchbaugh said. "In 1949, that law was permanently amended," he said. "In 1990, a farm bill was passed, but these were a series of amendments to the 1938 bill." The amendments from the 1990 bill expired December 31, 1995, Flinchbaugh said.

"This means we are operating under the 1938 and 1949 amendments," Flinchbaugh said. "And those are almost 60 years

Flinchbaugh said the 1938 and 1949 amendments are not applicable with our political and eco-BARRY FUNCHBAUGH nomical environment PROFESSOR OF AGRICULTURE

"The U.S. and Kansas agriculture could be in trouble," he said. "This is serious business.' If the farm bill does not get passed, then the United States will get priced out of the global market, Flinchbaugh said. "Global markets are very important," said Rep. Joann Flower, R-Oskaloosa and chair of the agriculture

• See AG BILL Page 10

In the news

▶ WATER MAIN BREAK OBSTRUCTS INTERSECTION OF DENISON, CLAFLIN

Motorists who want to turn left on Denison Avenue and Claflin Road will have to find an alternate route for the next week due to a water main break

"At this point, we are still unsure of what caused it to break, although we suspect that it was due to the recent extremely cold temperatures," Chuck Williams, assistant director for City Public Works and Transportation, said yesterday. The City Public Works Department has been unable to locate the source and is still searching for the pipe with the leak. "Until we find the pipe that has the leak, we just have to keep digging," Williams said. "We don't know for sure, but with any luck, that intersection will be patched up by the beginning of next week."

Until the leak is found and repaired, motorists are strongly encouraged to avoid the intersec-

Misty Mayden

► LAFENE FEE TO BE DISCUSSED

Students can voice their opinions about the Lafene Health Center Health Advisory privilege fee from 8 to 10 Tuesday night in the Union Little Theatre. Privilege Fee Committee John Potter, Student Senate chair, said this Committee of the Campus is an effort to get everyone's views about the fee because it is the biggest fee affecting students.

"The more people, the more reaction, and the better Senate can be informed," Potter said.

Student Senate Privilege Fee Committee will present a $90 Latene user fee before the Student Senate Thursday, which will be a $20 increase from the fee students are currently

But the Student Committee argued that students want comprehensive care during a

"I see a lot of students saying both things," Potter said. This is the first time meeting.

Senate has sponsored a Committee of the Campus. Potter said he encourages all students to speak out at the meeting, including those who live in residence halls and those who do not participate in student government.

Sarah Lunday

▶ U.S. DOESN'T VOW SUPPORT

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Clinton administration isn't saying whether an attack by China on Taiwan would provoke a U.S. military response.

In an apparent reference to reports that China plans a military exercise in the strait that separates Taiwan from the mainland, Defense Secretary William Perry said Tuesday he was concerned but not alarmed that China was using military maneuvering to try to influence Taiwan's democratic presidential election

Perry said he did not see an imminent military threat from China.

Asked what the United States would do if China did threaten Taiwan, Perry said he could not be more specific than the commitment spelled out in the Taiwan Relations Act. That document, the basis of the unofficial U.S. relations with Taiwan, says belligerent actions meant to determine the future of the island would be "of grave concern" to the United States.

Senate agenda

The Student Senate meeting is at 7 tonight in Durland 173.

Call to order

Open period: Tony Works, Kade Keenan, Brock Kuhlman, Curt Thurmond, Brian Buford, Students for the Advancement of Management

Approval of Feb. 1 minutes Announcements Committee reports

Director's reports Approval of Appointments

Res. 95/96/58 Approval of new senator Res. 95/96/59 Approval of committee chair

Res. 95/96/60 Omnibus approval of Student for University Activities Res. 95/96/61 Approval of Student Senate Parliamentarian Second readings

Conversion of campus privilege fees to budgets Bill 95/96/60 Bill 95/96/61

Privilege fee funding system Special allocation to Amnesty International Bill 95/96/62 Special allocation to High School Leadership Bill 95/96/63

Bill 95/96/64 Fall 1996 informal allocation guidelines Allocation to Society for the Advancement of Bill 95/96/65 Management

Bill 95/96/66 Special allocation to Students for the Right to Life Special allocation to Newman Club Bill 95/96/67 Bill 95/96/68 Athletic fee continuance First readings

Res. 95/96/62 Commendation to the KSU football team and

Bill Snyder Special allocation to Habitat for Humanity Bill 95/96/69 Special allocation to Black Student Union Bill 95/96/70 Amendment to KSU SGA by-laws Bill 95/96/71 Amendment to KSU SGA constitution Bill 95/96/72 Bill 95/96/73 Special allocation to campus escort jackets

Student health fee increase

Held in committee

Bill 95/96/74

Bill 95/96/49 Senator Education Requirements - Senate Operations

Reference of legislation Open period

Announcement of constitution and/or by-law revisions Adjournment

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County police departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list wheellocks, calls for escorts or minor traffic violations.

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6

At 8:35 p.m., Laura Conrad, West 517, reported receiving a harassing

At 11:52 p.m., Louis Johnson, Haymaker 920, reported that he received haraseing phone calls from

At 4:02 p.m., a vehicle owned by Lynette Hoffman, 8580 University Park Road, struck a vehicle owne by Kathleen Wright, 327 N. 15th St., behind Dykstra Hall, causing more than $500 in damages.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6

At 4:29 p.m., Robert Veach, 414 Yuma St., was arrested on a warrant for battery. Bond was set at $500. At 5:44 p.m., Jared Beeton, 2005 Hunting Ave., reported the theft of a Kenwood AM/FM cassette stereo, miscellaneous tapes and compact discs from his vehicle parked at his residence. The window, dashboard and a Kenwood CD changer were damaged. Total loss was valued at $1,310.

At 6:28 p.m., Michelle L. Eckland, 1126 Ratone Road, was arrested on a warrant for failure to appear. Bond was set at $2,000.

At 6:44 p.m., Mike Gee reported the theft of a white 1995 Nissan Pathfinder 4WD belonging to Danita M. Bookman, Junction City, from

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7

At 12:56 a.m., Ming Ding, 700 block of Osage Street, reported a 1961 Honda Accord was missing. He was advised that it had been towed by Manhattan Wrecker. At 4:09 a.m., officers were advised of an open car trunk located at Briggs West 4810 Skyway. No suspiclous activity was apparent. The trunk appeared to have been inadver-

Manhattan Town Center. Loss was valued at $20,000.

At 7:03 p.m., calls were made that some clothes caught on fire in a dryer at Speed Wash Laundry, Aggleville. One person was treated for smoke inhalation.

At 8:50 p.m., Mark Miller, employee at Rusty's Last Chance, 1213 Moro St., reported an unwanted subject in the restaurant. The subject, Steve Lowe, left prior to officer's arrival. If located, he was to be advised to remain off the premises or be arrest-

At 9:17 p.m., Larry Warner, Salina, reported the theft of a Sharp Electric inizer from the Holid was valued at $165.

tently left open. At 4:11 a.m., Adina R. Prasil, 418 Poyntz Ave., Apt. 311, was arrested at 17th Street and Anderson Avenue for driving under the influence. Prasil was released on $500 bond.

At 6:27 a.m., James Valerius, 1849 Fairchild Ave., reported his vehicle had been keyed.

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

■ Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due in deans' offices by Feb. 16. ■ Classified Senate meets at 12:45 p.m. today in Union 206. The world is getting smalle Make yours larger. Volunteer to help an international student practice his or her spoken English in the Contact Jim Endrizzi at the

A professional development seminar series will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. today at the Ramada Inn.

Adult Student Services will have a brown bag lunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. today in Union Stateroom No. 1.

BULLETINS

■ Direct Impact will meet at 7 tonight in Union 204. The topic will be animal rights and veganism.

Silver Key Sophomore Leadership Honorary is now accept-ing applications for the 1996-97 school year. Eligible freshmen can pick up applications in the Student Activities and Social Services Office. Applications are due by 5 p.m. Feb. 16 at the Student Activities and Social Services

Chimes Junior Honorary applications are available in the Student Activities and Social Services Office, or call 539-2365 ext. 131. Applications are due by 4 p.m. Feb.

Golden Key National Honor Society will meet at 4:30 p.m. today in the Union Big 8 room. ■ Chi Alpha Christian Fellowship meets at 7:30 tonight in

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas Si University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan,

Throckmorton 1014.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167.

6 Kansas State Collegian, 1995

CLARIFICATION

> In Wednesday's Collegian, the Title IX story said the women's basketball team locker rooms were located in Ahearn Field House and the men's locker rooms are in Bramlage Coliseum. The story should have read, "The women's basketball team has an office located in the recesses of Aheam Field House.

"The men's basketball office is in Bramlage.

The Collegian regrets the error. STATE OUTLOOK Unseasonably warm. Partly cloudy. the west, 60 to 70 in the east.

MANHATTAN WEATHER Today Friday Highs in the lower to middle 70s in Unseasonably warm. Partly Continued unseasonably cloudly. High 65 to 70. Lows warm. Highs in the lower 70s. in the middle 30s. Omaha MANHATTAN 63/32 67/32 Kansas Yesterday's 54/37 St. Louis . 60/30 56/36 highs and Coffeyville 63/39 Wichita Garden City of and 67/28 time as diam'r. 67/38

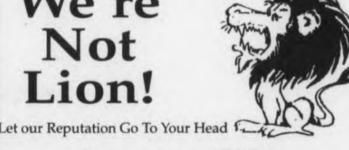

1/2 Reuben and a cup of soup

Expires 2-23-96 Not good with any other offers

219 Bluemont · Aggieville

Not Lion

..............................

Perms from $30-38

JOYCE'S HAIR TAMERS 2026 Tuttle Creek Blvd

We can help you get more than just a cat nap...

Snoring is the most common sleep disorder. It affects approximately 40% of the adult population and prevents many people from resting well. New surgical procedures can now make the difference between catching a cat nap or getting a good night's sleep. Uvulopalatoplasty and Laser-Assisted Uvulopalatoplasty are available at Memorial Hospital. For more information contact the Memorial Hospital Sleep Disorders Laboratory at 587-5428.

Yesterday's values, tomorrow's technology . Sunset and Claffin

Shoot Yourself 1996 is the last opportunity you'll have to get a picture of you and a group of up to six of your friends in the index of the yearbook. The service is free, but you have the opportunity to purchase color prints of the photos from Blaker Studio Royal.

> Face it, you've spent a lot of time and money at this university. Don't you want something to show for it?

> > Get Into It.

News

Amy Button Renz, president of the Alumni Association, has received an award for her work at K-State. Some of her past projects include organizing the K-State Ambassadors and creating a credit-card program that generates $220,000 a year.

Alumni president earns recognition

■ Button Renz receives service award for innovation, hard work

Tom Roesler

The KSU Alumni Association can now boast it has one of the best presidents in the Midwest.

Amy Button Renz, president of the Alumni Association, received the Distinguished Service Award on Jan. 15 for her work at K-State.

"I was so flattered to be even nominated and then to win the award. It was a dream come true," Renz said. "It came as a total surprise."

CASE is the Council for Education.

To win the award for distinguished service, nominees must have at least eight years experience within their region and possess qualities such as outstanding professional achievement. Renz, a third-generation K-Stater, has worked at the Alumni Association since 1977, a year after she graduated form K-State with a degree in political science.

After spending a year in Washington working for a senator from Nebraska, she returned to K-State to work on her master's degree in public administration, which she finished in 1986.

While working on her master's degree, she applied for a job at the Alumni Association.

"I set an appointment and went in and visited with the alumni director at the time, who was Dean Hess, and he hired me to start a student alumni program for the Alumni Association," Renz said. "I was just very fortunate to find a job and work on my master's."

Renz developed several programs such as the Student Alumni Board, the K-State Ambassadors program and College Nights pro-

Her next position with the Alumni Association was working with alumni clubs nationwide, helping to coordinate events such as alumni dinners in different cities.

After that, Renz moved to membership and marketing in 1985.

"That was a wonderful opportunity to really expand the membership program, and we're now No. 1 in the Big 8," said Renz.

She was then promoted to director of membership and developed the Affinity card program, which brings in around $220,000 annually

The Affinity card is a Mastercard or Visa that has either Willie the Wildcat or the Powercat on it. The credit card program led by Renz has won an award every year since 1987 for some aspect of the membership and marketing pro-

In 1988 she was promoted to vice president of the Alumni Association. "I was fortunate enough through that position to gain management experience," Renz said. In October 1994, she was appointed interim director until February 1995, when she was named president of the Alumni Association

She said the football team is an aspect of K-State that makes membership to the Alumni Association something more sought-after by alumni today than it was 10 years

"The football team has provided the Association with a wonderful opportunity to reach out to alumni through pre-games at football games and a lot of interest in attending the events we have throughout the state," Renz said. "People are just really interested in what's happen-

The effect athletics and academics have on the association is very exciting and a great tool to increase pride for the University, Renz said.

Besides being president of one of the strongest alumni associations in the Midwest, Renz does a lot of volunteer work for the community. Renz was elected chairman for the Riley County United Way Board for 1996 and will be the district program chair for the CASE 1997 conference in Kansas City, Mo.

"I just feel like it's really important when you have the opportunity to give back to your community,"

Ashley Broeckelman, a senior in education who works with Renz on the Student Alumni Board, said Renz is a team player.

"She's a woman of all trades," Broeckelman said.

"She can run an alumni association and can still work with students. She can really do everything," she

► ADMINISTRATION

Director resigns, plans to advance education, career at Portland State

Courtney Marshall

K-State will be wishing farewell to the associate director of New Student Services on Friday.

Gary Pierson has accepted the director of new student programs position at Portland State University in Portland, Ore., after 4-1/2 years at K-State.

"This is probably one of the most difficult decisions made in my life. I agonized for 10 days. I truly loved the opportunity to work with students at K-State," he said.

Pierson said his experience at K-State made him very marketable when competing for jobs.

'My resume is so enriched, and the depth and quality of the experiences here has just been a tremendous boost," he said. For the last 14 years, Pierson has worked in higher education in Illinois and Kansas. "I knew when I came to K-State I wouldn't stay for the rest of my life. This was the best thing for me professionally," he said.

Pierson is from Colorado and wanted to go back west. He graduated from Adams State College in Alamosa, Colo., in 1981 with a master's degree in guidance and counsel-

Pierson will have the chance to advance his own education at Portland

He plans to work on his doctorate through a tuition/remission program available to him.

Pierson said that the faculty and staff have been very supportive of the New Student Programs that have been

"We made 20 recommendations for program changes my first year, and the second year we implemented 18," he said.

Much of the positive relationship between new student services and the administration was due to his supervisor, Pat Bosco, dean of student life, Pierson said.

"I owe a lot to Pat Bosco. He has been very supportive, and he's just the best supervisor," he said.

K-State's orientation serves as a model for other schools, Bosco said.

"Gary has provided tremendous leadership to our recruitment and retention efforts," Bosco said.

"This was one of those once-in-alifetime opportunities," he said.

"K-State students, faculty and staff will miss him, particularly in his work with orientation, enrollment and campus visitations," Bosco said.

Many students determine the school they will attend by how the campus orientation and visit impress them, Bosco said.

"Gary was our administrator responsible for this very important task," he said.

Student workers lead the orientations and campus visits.

Many said they are sorry to see Pierson leaving.

This is probably one of the most difficult decisions made in my life. I agonized for 10 days. I truly loved the opportu-

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF

NEW STUDENT SERVICES

nity to work with students at K-State.

think Gary is the best boss in the world He works with us, understanding when we have tests and when there are problems at home. If we have any problems at all, we always go in and talk to him," Sonya Tipler, junior in sociology, said.

"I feel sorry for the person who has to come in and take over, because they're going to have a lot to live up to. He's a great, great person. He has organized this program very well. He works very good with the students. He works very good with us and seeing him leave is just going to be drastic," Tipler said.

Some student workers said it would be hard to replace Pierson as a

"Gary Pierson has really provided good leadership to this office that will be hard to fill," Matt Soldner, senior in psychology, said.

'We'll really miss him and the talents he brings to his job."

▶ USD 383

School board approves partnership with city involving baseball park

Gorman Park baseball field may be fixed if commission approves proposal

Mikki Tice

The Unified School District 383 received a proposal from the city for partnership concerning the Gorman Park baseball field at the school-board meeting Wednesday

Gorman Perk, a 10-acre piece of land, is located east of Northview School, USD 383 pre-viously planned on making the park a middle school, but it realzed the land was not large enough

Terry DeWeese, director of arks and recreation for the city, aid it would be an advantage to ave an additional park on the east

"The school district owns the reports, but we think partnership sould be good if the proposal goes arough the city commission," to Weese said.

The land should be used for mething rather than nothing, and tark is a reasonable choice. Dan Yunk, superintendent, said.

"I would support the purks and recreation on this partnership,"

Mary Nichola, school-board member, said there was a drainage problem with the land, and it would have to be fixed before any reconstruction took place.

But, the city said it was already aware of the drainage problems at

"This has been taken into con-sideration, and we plan on fixing the problem if the city commission passes the proposal," DeWeese

The proposal was passed by USD 383 with a unanimous vote with the stipulation that the drainage problem gets fixed. City commissioners will have to vote on the proposal before it is official.

Bev Eversmeyer, USD 383 vice president, said the school board is going to send a letter to the city to offer support on this issue.

In other business, money bids for various projects within USD 383 were proposed for approval.

The Northeast Middle School asked for $657,127 for a new road in front of the school. The USD 383 passed the proposal unanimously.

"The school is located off of Tuttle Creek Boulevard, and right now it is sitting in the middle of a field." David Mickey, associate superintendent of USD 383, said.

Roads and sidewalks are part of a proposal, which was a 4 46-reent increase from the last prosel of $629,090.

"The increase is dee to high rect construction," Mickey or There was a 20-percent increase n contractor prices and soil tests." The proposal will be sent to city commission for approval.

YET ANOTHER SUBJECT BAR

University offers financial-aid advice

QUICKread

Financial aid meeting provides useful tips on meeting deadlines and filling out applications for scholarships, grants, loans and work-study programs.

Misty Mayden

Financial Aid 101

Financial aid made easy was the focus of the first all-University financial aid meeting Wednesday in the Union Little Theatre.

"K-State awards over $60 million each year in state and federal financial assistance in the forms of grants, loans, scholarships and work programs," said Larry Moeder, director of the Office of Student Financial Assistance. "That accounts for over 14,000 students, or 70 percent of the student population, at K-State."

Students in attendance were able to gain assistance filling out their Free Application for Federal Student Aid.

Although the FAFSA has been reduced from eight pages to four, the application can still be a complicated one, he said.

"The most important thing for the student is to make sure they make the required deadlines," Moeder said

Although the deadline for campus scholarships has already passed, there are many other types of financial aid that have fast-approaching deadlines - most falling on March 1.

At the meeting, Moeder gave the students hints on how they could improve their chances of receiving financial aid.

"Most students think if they claim to be independent, they will increase their chances of getting more money, when in fact it could actually hurt them more in the end. Independents usually get taxed more,"

Moeder said. Students who are married, have a dependent, are wards of the state, are veterans of the armed forces or are older than age 24 and will be enrolled in a graduate program are eligible to claim themselves as independents, he said.

"Finishing your taxes before March 1 helps when filling out the application," Moeder said. "You can estimate your income information, but you will have to go through the review process later on, down your application.' The most important When conducting scholpart of the arship searches, be very application is making sure to sign and date it, Moeder said. If the government receives an unsigned application.

which slows

it disregards it, and the process must start over

About 30 percent of all applications turned in will go through a review process where the government requests the applicants submit their tax forms - along with some more informa-

"Those that get their application reviewed still have plenty of opportunity to receive the money they may be eligible for because the University holds back funds careful. There are some companies that will try to sell you things for college money in return. Most of

LARRY MOEDER,

DIRECTOR OF THE OFFICE OF the time, they are just for them," Moeder said.

As well as federal and state monies, part of the funding students receive comes from various on- and off-campus scholar-Moeder said the Office of Student conduct coast-to-coast scholarship search-"When conducting scholarship search-es, be very careful," Moeder said. "There are some companies that will try to sell

Financial Assistance recommends students

you things for college money in return. Most of the time, they are just ripoffs." Moeder said there are two scholarship search processes students can do on campus for free or for a minimal expense. The College Aid Sources for Higher Education, CASHE, is conducted through the financial aid office for $15. Students wanting to take advantage of this service can pick up applications in Fairchild 104.

Students wishing to conduct their own scholarship search can do so on the Internet, Moeder said. The search source recommended by the financial office can be reached by getting onto the University's home page (http://www.ksu.edu/).

"Once you're on K-State's homepage, you click on 'Departments' and then go into 'Student Financial Aid,'" Moeder said. From there, students should follow the 'Questions about Paying for College" and "How Do I Apply for K-State Scholarships?" links. They should then access the "FastWeb" link.

Moeder said the advantage of this particular scholarship search is the company creates a mailbox the student can check from time to time for new scholarships for which they could be eligible.

A small group of animal-rights activists met Wednesday to plan opposition to the upcoming K-State Rodeo — but not without

The group, which was started by Scott Gustafson, sophomore in architecture, met for the first time Wednesday and will go by the name Direct Impact.

Gustafson met with 12 other K-State students in the K-State Student Union to discuss plans for a peaceful protest of the annual K-State Rodeo Feb. 23-25 in Weber Coliseum.

But not all students in attendance shared Gustafson's point of view.

At the meeting, Gustafson said he hoped the group would focus on more than animal rights and eventually address all areas of environmental concern.

Gustafson said he plans to use the rodeo as the first forum for voicing his group's concerns about animal rights.

He said he has never been to a rodeo, but he has concerns about abuse that goes on at rodeos reported by groups like People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, Action for Animals and People for Animal Rights.

PETA reports that rodeo animals, such as small calves and bucking broncos, suffer broken ribs, necks and skin abrasion as a result of being roped, wrestled and forced to wear rodeo paraphernalia, he said.

According to PETA information posted on the Internet (http://envirolink.org/arrs/peta/ index.html), the main cause of pain for bulls and broncos is the flank strap that forces the animal to buck and causes chafing and bleeding in addition to broken ribs.

Gustafson said he wanted to gain his own perspective on what he would protest so he began to educate himself.

"I watched a rodeo on TNN to see what it was like," he said. "It didn't seem to be in the calves' best interest.' Sarah Pursell, freshman in pre-veterinary medicine, said she was a long-time horse rider and did not support Gustafson's views. Pursell said she had attended many rodeos and had never witnessed the cruel acts of which the PETA information spoke. This information spawned a debate about the practices of rodeos.

But Gustafson said he would not change his opinion about rodeos.

"There is an obvious lack of concern for the animals, which I think is wrong," he said.

Tricia Woolbright, freshman in wildlife biology, said she came to the meeting because she loves animals and she likes to get involved.

I watched a rodeo on

TNN to see what it was like. It didn't seem to be

SCOTT GUSTAFSON

in the calves' best

"I was looking for different types of animalawareness groups," she

Pursell urged the group to get a first-hand look at what happens at the K-State Rodeo before protesting the event, and Woolbright said she thought that was a good idea.

"I've heard of bad things happening, and I've heard of good things, too. I want to see for myself and keep an open mind," she said.

Gustafson said what happened at the K-

Thursday, February 8, 1996

State Rodeo may not be indicative of all rodeos. He said he thinks the animals in the rodeo at the University may be treated well, but he is convinced animals are abused at some

He said he hopes Direct Impact can educate people about such cases. Woolbright said she agrees.

"The one animal that gets hurt, that is what we are trying to stop," she said.

Steve Frazier, rodeo coach, said no animals are injured intentionally and very few are injured at all as a result of rodeo.

According a pamphlet titled "Humane Facts," from the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, of the 33,991 animals that participated in rodeos in 1993-94, only 16 were reported injured by on-site veterinarians.

The numbers translate to .00047 percent of the animals being injured or less than one in 2,000, according to the pamphlet.

In addition, Frazier said a flank strap cannot hurt any animal.

• See RODEO Page 10

candy

arrows

41162 friends

Palentine's L

winks hearts

Don't Miss Your

• Flowers • Candy • Balloons • Stuffed Animals •

1130 Westport Dr. - next to Blockbuster

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN

Special Valentine Offer

 Local Delivery Available While Supplies Last

A Dozen Roses 50cm

Call Or Visit Us Today

Steve's Floral 302 Povntz Downtown

12 Roses

Arranged In Angel Alley 1204 Moro Aggieville

Muffler House & House of Tint

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. 776-8955 • 1-800-439-8956

For Exhaust, Brakes, Shocks & Struts, Window Tinting, & Auto Accessories see Jim, Mark, Brian & Wayne

Fulfill Her Dreams

Monday-Saturday 10:30-5:30 537-8174 • 1222 Moro • Aggieville

Valentine's

Day

Special

THE SWEETEST GIFT OF ALL.

630 Poyntz Downtown Manhattan, KS

776-8801

The Love He Gave Us

Christian Love Songs for Today's Christian Couples. Music CD Gift Box with FREE Chocolate Truffles Other Valentine's Gifts Available:

Chocolates Sewelry

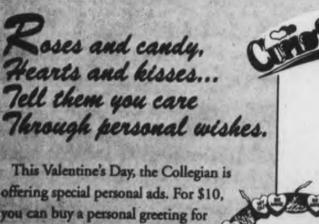

Cards

Books

Music

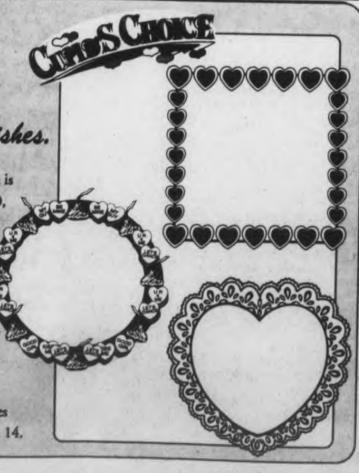

Manhattan Christian Books & Gifts

1427 Anderson ♥ Anderson Village ♥ Across from McCain, KSU that special someone, family member or professor. Come to 103 Kedzie (east of the Union), choose one of Cupid's borders shown here and give us your message (no last names or phone numbers accepted). Deadline for placing personals is Monday, Feb. 12 at 4 p.m., and wishes will be published on Wednesday, Feb. 14.

Haircut & Style $5 off

Surprise your special Valentine Wednesday, Feb. 14! You'll find a great selection of greeting cards, and gift ideas! Come find your heart at The Palace.

Candy

◆ Balloons ◆

Greeting Cards

 Russell Stovers Crabtree & Evelyn

For the Best Valentines Around ... Order Your Balloon Creation Today!

Age is no barrier to success for jazz artist performing tonight

QUICKread

Joshua Redman, saxophonist, will perform at 8 tonight in McCain Auditorium. Critics have called Redman a "Michael Jordan of jazz."

Getting accepted to law school is a big deal for most law students. Getting accepted to Yale Law School is an even bigger deal.

Saxophonist Joshua Redman turned down acceptance to Yale Law School for his hobby. That hobby is playing the saxophone, and he has made it his career.

Redman will perform at 8 tonight in McCain Auditorium.

New York Times jazz critic Peter Watrous called Redman "the Michael

Such influential music magazines as Rolling Stone, Down Beat and Jazziz have awarded him such titles as "Jazz Artist of the Year" and "Number One Tenor Saxophone." Redman was also nominated for a Grammy award for his self-titled debut album.

He has performed and recorded with musicians like blues legend B.B. King, rapper Big Daddy Kane and jazz musicians Pat Metheny and Lionel Hampton.

Redman has performed at hundreds of clubs, concert halls and festivals

He is featured in Robert Altman's upcoming film "Kansas City," and he also recorded the soundtrack to the upcoming movie "42nd Street Vanya" directed by Louis Malle.

He turned down acceptance to Yale Law School in September 1992 after graduating with a bachelor's degree from Harvard and became a professional musician shortly thereafter.

He has already released three studio albums and a brand new two-compact disc set titled "Spirit of the Moment: Live at the Village Vanguard," which was recorded live at a concert at Village

Richard Martin, director of McCain Auditorium, said Redman gives the opportunity for students to see someone almost their age who is successful in the

He also said it is easy to name young people who are successful in professional sports, but it is difficult to name young people who are successful in the

"You don't have to be an old grayhair to be successful in the arts," Martin

Redman will be performing with his bandmates Christopher Thomas on bass, Peter Martin on piano, drummer Brian Blade and guitarist Peter Bernstein.

"They may preview a new track if the electricity is there between Redman and the crowd. He's going to give a good time. It should be a fun evening,"

Martin said. The McCain show will be performed without an intermission. Tickets are $9-

After his Manhattan show, Redman plays the next night at the Edison Theater at Washington University in St.

candy

KISSES

Palentine's D

lovers hearts

arrows

41162

This Dairy Queen® Sweetheart frozen cake for two is the most delicious way to say "Be My Valentine." You get famous Dairy Queen® chocolate and vanilla soft serve kissed by chocolate fudge and chocolate crunch and decorated especially for Valentine's Day. Please place all Sweetheart cake orders by Feb. 11.

1015 N. 3rd • 776-4117

2 TANS $5

D

Southern Sun 3232 Kimball 776-8060

Tropical Tan 1814 Claflin 537-0744

DON'T GET STUCK IN THE FLOWER RUT! THIS VALENTINES DAY SEND A SINGING TELEGRAM TO YOUR

SWEETHEART! CHOOSE FROM LANCE THE LATIN LOVER OR LADY LOVE BUG . SURE TO PUT A TINT ON YOUR

VALENTINE'S CHEEKS & A SMILE ON THEIR LIPS (AND WHO KNOWS WHAT ELSE?)

FOR THE ULTIMATE VALENTINE WISH, PLACE YOUR ORDER NO LATER THAN MONDAY, FEB.

BALLOON BOUTIQUE ·401 N. 3RD·539-0106 MON.-FRI. 9 A.M.-5:30 P.M.-SAT. 9 A.M.-3 P.M.

COMPLETE MUSIC®

Exp. 2/15/96

Disc

Jockey Service

- Total CD Library (You Can Select Your Songs)
- One Low Price (Includes Our light Show & Karaoke)
- Many Unique and Exciting Options
- Experienced and Professional DJ's (fun too)
- Major Credit Cards Accepted

WE GUARANTEE YOUR TOTAL SATISFACTION

CALL FOR YOUR FREE WEDDING PLANNING FOLDER & VIDEO OR STOP BY OUR OFFICE: 301 PLYMATE LN, MANHATTAN

Manhattan (913) 539-7111 Hays (913) 625-4008 Topeka (913) 233-8760

Salina (913) 825-4441 Dodge City (316) 225-0770 Lawrence (913) 841-9500

Call Toll Free (800) 755-DJDJ

GIFTS FOR YOUR VALENTINE

- BLOOMING PLANTS from $3.98 (They last longer than roses & cost less!)
- WINDCHIMES
- LOTS OF HOUSEPLANTS
 - MORNING SUN SWEATSHIRTS

STOP BY TODAY!

BLUEVILLE NURSERY, INC.

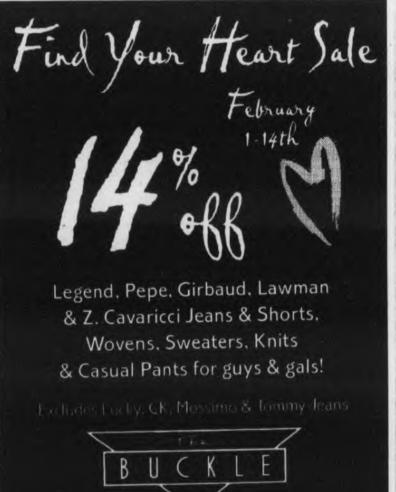

4539 Anderson - 5 min. west of Westloop 539-2671 Hours: Mon-Sat 8:30-5:00

*BIOLAGE

12th & Laramie Aggieville 776-9100

(30 Min. Beds)

OR $5 Off a pkg of 5 tans or more

(with our new 15 Min. Accelerated Tanning Bulbs) Expires 2-20-96

1214 Moro

776-7874

4 Ultra Bronz *68

- •Free Accelerator
- Free low pressure
- Free moisturizer Tans

Expires 2-20-96

Perfect Gift for You and Your Valentine 1125 Laramie 776-2426

Opinion

OPINION FUNDAMENTALS

Columns

The opinions expressed by the columnists are their own. The opinions are not necessarily the opinions of the Collegian, Student Publications Inc. or the A.Q. Miller School of Journalism and Mass

Editorials

The editorial is written by the Collegian Editorial Board. The board meets every day and discusses editorial topics. The editorial is a compilation of those opinions and represents the opinion of the Collegian.

Letters to the Editor Letters to the editor can be brought to our office or e-mailed to us. They must be addressed to the editor. The letter must be signed with your name, and you must include a phone number for

COLLEGIANopinion

Formerly apathetic students finally awaken

QUICKread

Student Senate is sponsoring a forum on the athletic fee at noon today in the Union Courtyard. If you can't go, call the Student Governing Association at 532-6541 and tell them what you think about the athletic fee.

For years, students were sleepic daze. Yawning through campus issues, snoring through student elec-

Then the K-State Department of Intercollegiate Athletics rose like a specter in a nightmare, shaking the chains of a fee increase.

And students woke up.

Protests and petitions, signs and sidewalk chalkings have dotted the campus during the last few days.

Whether you are for or against the raise in the athletic fee, it is heartening to see students caring about an issue and making their voices heard.

Myview

So now is the time to get informed walking through campus in an apathet-, and make your voice heard by the people who matter. While the fee was negotiated yesterday by the administration and student government representatives, Student Senate will still be voting on the issue.

Senate is sponsoring a forum at noon today in the Union Courtyard. Tonight's Senate meeting is at 7 in Durland 173, in order to accommodate students who want to come and speak Senate is going out of its way to make sure students have a voice on this campus. It is up to the students not to doze off again.

NOTES FROM the underground

We show an unwillingness to melt irds of a feather flock together.

I know it is a cliché, but clichés have to have some element of truth in them to last long enough to become clichés

What, might you ask, am I talking about? I am talking about America's long outdated dream of becoming the melting pot for the world. Perhaps we should have been dubbed the world's salad bowl instead of the melting pot.

thought reminded me of a theory I heard in a history class some years ago regarding our nation's mislabel.

Consider this: Our natural tendencies are to mix around in the same bowl without getting close enough for our flavors to actually meld. In a salad, one can see all the individual veggies and taste each one's special flavo, whereas with a melting pot, like a bowl of soup, the veggies and the meat and the broth all kind of melt together. Our nation is more like a salad bowl, because we are unwilling to melt together. I saw this unwillingness to melt firsthand last weekend when I visited New Blacks and whites have been living there together for more than one hundred years, and they still have different cultures and different interests. They eat different foods and have different traditions. And, as far as I could tell, they like it that way. This same observation can be made on our own campus. For example, we have a Black Student Union and a K-State Student Union. I'm not sure what the difference is between the two, but for some reason we feel the need to make several distinctions between ethnic, religious and cultural groups.

WILLIAM THOMAS We have black fraternities and sororities, and other fraternities Burdette and sororities. There are also Christian clubs, academic clubs and athletic clubs - to name a few more lines that we feel it is necessary to draw. walked into the Union the other day to friends or acquaintances before sitting down. Instead, I took a seat close to the cash register and the door. When I looked around, I noticed I was the only white male within about a 20-seat radius.

I looked to my right and noticed a section that seemed to scream out, "Greeks only!"

Upon further examination I saw many people studying who seemed to say, "SHH-НННННННННННННННН," without even glancing up from their books.

And that is when I thought, "Birds of a feather flock together."

I began to think about all the wildlife documentaries I frequently sit around and watch on Friday and Saturday nights because I am a knob and do not go to the bars. In nature, it is not often you see a tiger and a giraffe hangin' out together. They have different tastes in food, as well as different lifestyles. Even though they both live in Africa, you probably would not expect them to go hunting together (especially considering giraffes are vegetarians) unless you are watching "The Lion King."

So if we are so unwilling to melt, and we simply want to coexist, then why should we be called a melting pot?

In this age of multiculturalism and peace and love and all that good stuff, it seems like grab a bite to eat between classes. I was in a we are all expected to hang out together and hurry, so I did not look around for any go bowling. Theoretically, that is a great relations.

idea, but let's be realistic. We are desperately being urged to live up to a label that does not fit our natural tendencies, and we are just not committed to it. We all have different backgrounds, cultures, likes and dislikes. Chances are, we are going to stick together with people who share those things.

If this is not true, then why do people of certain types congregate in the same places?

Why shouldn't we be proud of who we are and where we come from without feeling guilty about being politically incorrect or too homogeneous?

My train of thought chugged along to a culminating question about this topic: Is it wrong to hang out only with people who are

I do not think it is wrong. I do not think it is right either.

I just think we need to make a decision whether we want to be called a salad bowl society or a true melting pot.

If we really want to be a melting pot, then we had better commit ourselves to living that way rather than staying comfortably in our own flock.

William Thomas Burdette is a freshman in journalism and mass communications, political science and international

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

DEGREE IS WORTH MORE THAN WINNING TEAMS

I am a Wildcat fan, like many K-State students, and I like to see our teams do well in competition. I agree with administrators that a successful athletic program increases the name recognition of K-State. President Jon Wefald alluded to this by describing the impor-

FRANK MILLER

you, President

Wefald, seem to be ignoring the philosophy of what education should be so that you can scare students into supporting the athletic fee.

an increase in me is that

tance of Big 8 football to K-State academics: "You have to ask yourself how much more your degree is worth if you're a graduate from an institution that has Texas, Texas A & M and the Big 8 as affiliates, instead of being from one that is with Missouri Valley Conference."

President Wefald, you are right in the sense that football gives K-State more recognition with potential employers. But if you think that my degree is worth more because of football, you are dead wrong. A degree should be documentation of educational attainment. The quality of education is the real determinant of a degree's worth; not the football schedule.

What scares me is that you, President Wefald, seem to be ignoring the philosophy of what education should be so that you can scare students into supporting an increase in the athletic fee. A person in your position should have higher ideals than that.

I am currently working on a master's degree at K-State, and I feel that I am getting a quality education. My degree will be worth something because of what I have learned here. My bachelor's degree is from a Missouri Valley school (Southwest Missouri State), and with such an affiliation does not have a "big name" on the diploma.

President Wefald, you also insinuate that my bachelor's degree is not worth very much because I received it from a Missouri Valley school. I think you should know that your own university thought it was so worthless that they let me come to K-State as a graduate teaching assistant so that I could help your undergraduates here get their bachelor's degrees.

The University also gave me a fellowship on top of that so that I would not be as tempted by the likes of KU. Your own school judged me by my academic accomplishments, not my undergraduate institution's football team. No, President Wefald, you are wrong. When I am done at K-State, I will have two degrees that will be worth a great deal to me. As for K-State remaining competitive with KU, vice president

Bob Krause is wrong also. When decided to come to K-State instead of KU, I did so because I was awarded financial aid and the University's Department of Regional and Community Planning was highly recommended by my undergraduate professors. Many students come here in search of specific programs in architecture, agriculture and human ecology. As for my decision, K-State football and KU basketball did not even come into consideration, although now love to see the Cats beat the Jayhawks.

I'm glad I ended up in Manhattan because I'm happy with my experience at K-State. I feel that my professors are really committed to educating me, and I like the attitude of my fellow students

My only complaint, President Wefald, is that K-State does not seem to be managed by professionals who put education first. I know a little Missouri Valley school in Springfield that has an administration who could teach you a great deal about that.

Frank Miller graduate student in regional and community planning

WEFALD'S ATTITUDE SHOWS NEED FOR TITLE IX

I applaud the student government for its cautious consideration of increasing student fees to further support the athletic department's budgetary needs. I think the senators are wise to encourage the exploration of other options to defray the athletic department's deficit.

It seems as though the athletic department's financial woes are being blamed on Title IX. Let us remember, Title IX is not new legislation. It has been around for twenty years now! It's not as if gender equity issues have come out of nowhere. Only after numerous successful lawsuits around the country, and with the NCAA beginning to pursue gender equity with more fervor, have the University and many others decided to come into compliance with Title

I'm stunned by President Jon Wefald's quote in Monday's Collegian, "If Title IX did not exist, we would not have felt it was necessary for the additional funds." Such a statement represents the very need for Title IX! Clearly, without the existence of Title IX, women's athletics would continue to be extremely under-funded and under-represented on this and many other campuses.

Only now, 20 years after the passage of Title IX, has the institution chosen to seek appropriations for equity in athletics. Dropping the funding problem on the students' doorstep is not the answer.

seling/personnel services FACULTY MEMBER AMAZED graduate student in student coun-

AT DOUBLE STANDARDS

Diana Robertson

Having been on the K-State facul-ty since 1980, I have always been amazed at the constant expectations of faculty to produce more with dwindling resources, whether that be low salaries, inadequate facilities or inordinate faculty loads.

The faculty are consistently given mandates to simply cut a set percentage from their budgets in operating expenses, canceled classes, fewer faculty lines or postponed or canceled improvements.

Recently the provost met with faculty in all colleges to announce that we should begin preparing to teach several thousand more students with no additional funds, facilities or 'faculty. Whenever any K-State faculty receive extramural funding, there is a formula whereby the University receives overhead out of the grant monies.

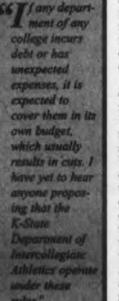

If any department of any college incurs debt or has unexpected expenses, it is expected to cover them in its own budget, which usually results in cuts. I have yet to hear anyone proposing that the K-State Department Intercollegiate Athletics operate under these same rules. It is disheartening and depressing to see the athletic department able to run a budget containing a huge amount with no accounting for the expenses. Deans would be fired for such bookkeeping. Max Urick tells us that he just can't reallocate resources - why not? The rest of us have no option.

I always hear that athletics brings so much money to the University. Is that why the students have to cough up millions to get a decent library and now aren't receiving proper credit? Is that why Willard does not have decent plumbing or the dance studios and offices were practically unusable during the recent cold weather?

I am embarrassed by statements maligning other universities referred to as lesser academic institutions because of their athletic programs and affiliations. I resent recent statements that pride in K-State depends on a great football or basketball team. What are the rest of us chopped liver? Is that why other institutions are successfully placing priority on academics and using athletics as a participation opportunity for all students?

LUKE KAHLICH

Perhaps athletics does bring in the money University. Who can tell with the current secret policies? Without full disclosure of budgets and operations, it is difficult to expect the University community to continue to hand over monies that seem to disappear with no explanation. Again, why don't we all play by the same rules?

I am not against athletics or sports. I think they are a vital part of the University, but not the only thing that makes us run or worth existing. I believe, however, that the emphasis should be on broad participation, rather than a corporate model of competition.

If it is going to be a business, then the relationship should be clearly beneficial to the University in that model. The balance and priorities should be academics and the future of each individual as that person can and will contribute positively to soci-

Hooray for students who see the University's priorities as academic and for the courage to stand up and defend them.

Luke Kahlich professor of dance and theater

Wildcats deserved defeat

A long-time acquaintance of mine is a firm believer a team can't come out flat.

It's the other team that forces it to play poorly, he says. Even at home. Even when it can't hit the ocean from the pier. Even when it gets out-rebounded by a team that is much shorter/and much less talented than it is. It just can't happen, he insists.

As much as the coaches and players don't like to say it, the Colorado game last night was a must-win. And since they've now lost two in a row in the conference thanks to a 64-63 overtime loss to the Buffs, every game becomes a must-win if the Cats, now 14-7 overall and 5-4 in the league, want to get into the Big Dance starting the third weekend in March. But with a loss to Oklahoma State on Saturday in Stillwater, a team that disposed of the Buffs last weekend by they just played better."

Myview

RYAN O'Halloran

17 points, the Cats will have to settle for the Little Dance — the NIT.

'We didn't deserve to win this game," said Coach Tom Asbury, stating the obvious. "I don't think that Colorado played harder,

Colorado, a porous 1-6 in the conference entering the game, may have played better, but even it played sub-par. It was K-State in the final stages of both regulation and the overtime that gave Colorado a win it didn't deserve and a loss K-

Panicking in running its offense resulted in an early miss to send the game into overtime, and a miss by Tyrone Davis with 11 seconds left in the extra session sealed K-State's

"It was a lack of concentration," Asbury said.

While the Colorado players were telling the story of their first Big 8 road win since last season at Bramlage, the K-State players weren't. Of the five requested players after the game, only Mark Young and Aaron Swartzendruber bothered to show up.

Do you think the players were taking this loss hard? After the Michigan State debacle two months ago, the players were more than willing to dissect that pathetic offensive performance and the ugliness of the silver uniforms. The players knew this was a game they had chalked up as a win prior to the game, and possibly prior to the season. But that was before Coach Joe "I was going to get fired anyway, I might as well quit and at least save some face" Harrington resigned and was replaced by player's-favorite Ricardo Patton. It's massive gut-check time for K-State

Saturday. A home loss means the Cats need to win

It was K-State in the final stages of both regulation and overtime that gave

Colorado a win it didn't deserve and a loss K-

State did.

not one, but two road games the rest of the year, along with home wins over Missouri and/or Kansas, to reach the tournament.

Winning at Oklahoma State would do a lot of good, but they still would need to win at Nebraska or

Iowa State. With the current state of the conference, the Big 8 won't get five, or even four, teams into the tournament.

That said, I think it will take an 8-6 conference record, and at least a first-round win in the Big 8 tourney, to even garner consider-

But then again, K-State could win the Big 8 tournament to get the automatic bid, but that's three games in three days and with two points from the bench last night ... well, you

K-State needs to take solace in the fact the bench was 0-for-11 from the field, the team shot 33 percent from the field and was outrebounded 45-38, and its most important player (Elliot Hatcher) had only 12 points.

And almost won. "This one was tough," Asbury said.

Ryan O'Halloran is a junior in pre-journalism and mass communications.

Buffs get 64-63 overtime win

John Berggren

K-State coach Tom Asbury had no trouble defining the Cats' 64-63 overtime loss to Colorado Wednesday night.

"We didn't deserve to win," he said. "We got out-rebounded by a team that should not have outrebounded us. We held them to shooting 36 percent, but we just weren't confident. We played very sluggish on offense, and we just couldn't hit a shot."

The Cats had several opportunities to come out with a victory in both the final minutes of regulation and in overtime, but they failed to execute.

In regulation, K-State had a chance to win with 11 seconds remaining and the game tied at 57 when guard Aaron Swartzendruber missed an open jump shot following a Cats' time out.

"We were just running our motion offense, and I got the ball and thought I had a pretty good look, so I took it," Swartzendruber said. "The shot felt good, and I thought it was in when it left my hand, but I left it just a little bit long.

The overtime period ended in a flurry of fouls, free throws and turnovers.

With one minute left, Colorado center Charlie Melvin hit a jump shot to tie the game at 61. K-State forward Tyrone Davis was fouled and sent to the line with 45 seconds left. Davis made both of his free throws giving K-State the lead 63-

Hatcher then fouled the Buffs' forward Mack Tuck with 35 seconds left in overtime, sending Tuck to the line to shoot two.

Tuck tied the score at 63. The Cats then set up their offense for a final play with 29 seconds left in the period. A missed shot by Dayis and a foul by Rhodes sent Tuck to the charity line. Tuck made his first shot from the stripe but missed his second shot, making the score 64-63. With 11 seconds on the clock, Elliot Hatcher took the ball up court and missed a desperation three-point attempt, ending the game.

Colorado coach Ricardo Patton said he was happy with his team's performance after not starting two of his starters. Tuck missed the start because of academic reasons, and

An inside force for the Wildcats, forward Gerald Eaker blocks a shot by Colorado forward Ted Kritza. Eaker had 11 rebounds and two blocked shots for the Cats before fouling out in overtime. The Cats dropped their second conference game in a row.

Ted Kritza missed the start after being late to a team dinner.

"I thought our guys gave a tremendous effort tonight," Patton

'It was not due to the play of one person. We all gave our maximum effort. That's been our flag song all year, and they all did their parts loom only one or two games behind tonight. I'm proud of them, and I think we just found a way to win." With the loss, K-State's postseason opportunities and possible final Big 8 ranking have become even more unclear. K-State still owns soul position of third place in the Big 8, but three teams in the conference the Cats, including Saturday's opponent, Oklahoma State.

'We're in a position where we're right back in the bunch," Asbury said. "Now we need to go in and scratch and claw and bang around and win some. We have to fight this thing out to the end."

Sophomore forward Mark Young said he is still confident about the Cats' possibilities of still making the NCAA Tournament, but he said the last few games would be crucial.

"If we don't beat Oklahoma State, we're going to really be in trouble, he said. "As a team, we don't want to go to the NIT. We want the NCAA and nothing else."

Battle of the benches: Colorado wins

An unexpected starter, Colorado guard Charlie Meivin normally comes off the bench. With 17 points and 11 rebounds, Melvin set a new career high in both categories. Colorado's last road, overtime game came in a 1993 loss to the Wildcats.

It has been said in college basketball, unlike professional basketball, that it's an overall team effort that wins games.

Which brings us to Wednesday's game between K-State and Colorado.

With their star trio of Chauncey Billups, Mack Tuck, and Martice Moore struggling, the Buffaloes turned to their bench to pull out a 64-63 overtime win over the Wildcats. Colorado's bench outscored the K-State bench 18-2, but that only tells part of the story.

Charlie Melvin stepped into the starting lineup in place of Ted Kritza, who lost his starting position because he was late for the pre-game meal. Melvin went on to set or tie career highs in nine categories, including points (17) and rebounds (11). If you substitute Melvin's numbers for those of Tuck, who usually starts but came off the bench Wednesday after missing tutoring sessions, the Buffs' bench would have outscored K-State's 27-2. All 27 points came courtesy of Melvin and Griffin, who came in averaging a combined 4.5 points

"The guys that we didn't anticipate hurting us are the ones that did. Griffin and Melvin, you know - those guys you don't really anticipate hurting you. Tuck goes 2for-13, Billups 3-for-10, and Moore 6-for-14. We made a concerted effort to try to do a good job defensively on those guys, and for the most part, we did," Coach Tom Asbury said.

But that doesn't explain the lack of offense from the Cats' bench. K-State's non-starters shot 0-for-11 from the field and combined for just two points against the Buffs. The five players that came off the bench Wednesday came in averaging a combined 18.8 points per game. Add those missing 16.8 points, and the outcome is different.

It was the second-consecutive game where the bench was sub-par on the offensive end, as K-State managed just 10 points off the bench Sunday at Kansas

"It's a little disappointing, because those guys are better players, and they've really given us a lift this year," Asbury said.

In reality, the Cats were a three-man team Wednesday. Mark Young, Elliot Hatcher and Tyrone Davis combined for 52 of K-State's 63 points, as starters Gerald Eaker and Ayome May combined for just nine points.

Eaker's offensive struggle continued from Sunday, when he was kept scoreless in 23 minutes of action.

(State			Ju		16	at a		arie			4	1	V
Name	FQ	FT	R	A	TO	PF	TP	Name	FG	FT	R	A	TO	PF	T
Young	7-11	1-2	2	3	4	4	17	Moore	6-14	0-0	8	3	2	2	13
Davis	7-13	9-11	10	0	1	0	23	Jensen	1-4	0-0	2	0	1	5	:
Eaker	2-11	0-0	11	3	3	5	4	Melvin	5511	7-10	11	2	0	3	17
Hatcher	1-8	10-10	4	4	3	2	12	Billups	3-10	2.2	7	5	6	5	1
Mny	24	1-2	2	0	E C	0	5	Frier	1-3	2-2	1	0	2	1	-
Rhodes	0-3	2-2	2	1	0	2	2	Tuck	2-13	4-6	6	3	.3	3	8
Swartzendruber	0-4	0-1	2	1	1	3	0	Kritza	0-0	0-0	. 0	0	1	2	-
Williams	0-2	0-2	1	0	0	0	0	Griffin	4-6	2-2	6	1	2	3	10
Dies	0-1	0-0	. 0	0	0	0	0	TEAM			4
Hubert	0-1	0-0	0	0	0	0	0	TOTALS	22-61	17-22	45	14	17	24	64
TEAM			I A				DOM
TOTALS	19-58	23-30	38	12	13	16	63

K-State 3 (Eaker 2, Davis 1)

Source: Kansas State University Stat Crew

ste 2-10 (Young 2-3, Hato

FOOTBALL RECRUITING

Cats sign 21 new recruits for next year

Ryan O'Halloran

Twenty-one high school, prep, junior college and transfer athletes were signed, sealed and delivered to K-State Wednesday on the first day that football players can sign their National Letters of

Along with the newcomers, five players who had signed with K-State last season but were unable to enroll in school for reasons such as illness were officially awarded scholarships and placed on the ros-

You don't know how good a class you have for a couple years.... At this particular point in ably rates favorably.

time, I would say it prob-

BILL SNYDER

BALL COACH

K-State coach Bill Snyder said this year's comparable to those in the past couple of seasons.

"You don't know how good a class you have for a couple of years, but in comparison to last year's class, the year before, etc., at this particular point in time, I would say it probably rates favorably," he said.

A breakdown of 21 signers has 17 high-school players, two junior-college players, one prep newcomer and one trans-

Looking at the numbers, it is obvious to see K-State concentrated on the offense this

Seventeen of the newcomers are from the offense, with quarterback Jonathan Beasley of Glendale, Ariz., heading the

'We've recruited a little bit better on the offensive side of

Sizes 4-44

LAYAWAYS WELCOME

side," Snyder said.

"And I think, specifically, we've enhanced our offensive line from tackle to tight end, and I think we certainly enhanced our depth and athletic ability at the running-back

Beasley, 6-foot-2, 210 pounds, was listed as the sixthbest quarterback in the Western region by Bluechip Illustrated, which called him a "Warren Moon look-alike." He passed for 2,566 yards and 28 touchdowns.

"He has shown great leadership within offense," said Snyder, who could not comment on players committed to K-State until today.

"He has worked with a no-huddle offense, meaning he has to make decisions as to what plays got on the field and didn't get on the field. He throws the ball well, he's got good athletic ability, and he moves around well.'

At running back, K-State reportedly had landed Florida's Lafaine Williams, but he was not listed on the official recruiting list.

Snyder, although officially not mentioning his name, did say a recruit who verbally committed yesterday had opted not to sign.

Williams had listed K-State and Pittsburgh (Pennsylvania) as his final two schools. He signed with Pittsburgh.

Snyder said K-State has the option of signing two or three more players but that it was

TUXEDO RENTAL

Bring in this coupon for 15% off

New 1996 Bridal Gowns

& Formals in stock

FORMALWEAR • TUXEDOS

Grooms Tux Free with Bridal Gown Purcha

COMPARE OUR PRICES

Bridal • Bridesmaids • Mother's Dresses

Prom • After Five • Bras • Slips Designer styles by Alfred Angelo Dream maker

539-5200

2011 Ft. Riley Blvd. • Manhattan

PROFESSIONAL BASKETBALL

Phoenix follows Nuggets' example; Chicago stumbling, loses 2 in a row

Associated Press

PHOENIX great as the Chicago Bulls have been this season, one man wasn't convinced they were invincible. That man, Charles Barkley, emphatically stated his case Tuesday night.

"The Bulls are the best team in the NBA, but they can be beat if you play well," Barkley said. "They're not going to cakewalk through the NBA like everybody thinks. I mean, they might win 70 games, but it's going to be tough."

Barkley scored 35 points and grabbed 16 rebounds as the Suns handed the Bulls just their fifth loss of the season - but their second in three nights, 106-

"It looks like he has been looking forward to this game since we beat them in Chicago (Jan. 28)," said Bulls guard Steve Kerr, a former

"He has been saying that we're not that good and that he couldn't wait until this game. He can say whatever he wants. He is Charles Barkley, and he backs it up."

Barkley's dominant performance came against a team that until the last few days was dominating the league. But the Bulls lost at Denver on Sunday, then couldn't sustain a late comeback

Phoenix. Elliot Perry broke a 96-96 tie with two free throws and a jumper. Barkley hoisted Perry over his shoulder and carried him to the bench as Chicago called time-

Then Barkley stole the in-bounds pass for his breakaway dunk, and the celebrating began.

Michael scored 12 of his 28 points in the final six minutes of the fourth quarter.

But, just as in their loss at Denver snapped an 18-game winning streak, the Bulls (41-5) faded. Jordan missed five of 11 free throws down the stretch, even he caused though Phoenix rookie Michael Finley to foul out.

"I try not to remember those, but it doesn't matter if you remember it is what you did last. Tonight, I just didn't feel comfortable at the line," said Jordan, who was 10-of-17 from the line

Bulls coach Phil Jackson said missed free throws by all of his players were critical.

"I thought that really hurt us," Jackson said. "But the Phoenix Suns outplayed us down the stretch and made things happen." Johnson had points and 10 assists, but he left the game with a hamstring pull in the third quarter. "When KJ went out, we put our heads down," Finley said. "But at the same time, we had Elliot Perry coming off the bench.

Finley had 14 points, and Perry scored 12 points in the game's last 16 minutes to help Suns coach Cotton Fitzsimmons improve to 7-5 since he replaced Paul Westphal.

Pippen scored 19 points for the Bulls, and Toni Kukoc added 18.

The 10-point defeat was the most lopsided of the five losses for the Bulls, whose other loss-

Women's top 5

1. Champs

2. Rookies

3. Prime Option

Mens top 10

1. Purple Helmets

3. Fabor College

4. Big Dogs

5. Theta Xi

7. Sigma Chi

6. Lagnaf

2. Tau Kappa Epsilon

8. Sigma Alpha Epsilon

9. Vanilla Gorillas

10. Haymaker 1

4. Gamma Phi Beta

5. Kappa Kappa Gamma es were at Orlando, Indiana and Seattle.

The Suns overcame a 16-point deficit in the second quarter to tie it 50-50 at halftime.

The lead changed hands only once, when Johnson broke a 54-54 tie with two free throws 3:53 into the third quarter. Johnson had a basket and four more free throws before he left with 4:19 left in the third and Phoenix ahead 67-

"I looked up and said, 'Lord, walk with me," said Perry, who hadn't been in the game vet.

Perry soon showed his worth, hitting two free throws to put Phoenix ahead 76-71 starting the final period. Jordan scored all of Chicago's points during an 11-6 run in the fourth, tying it 93-93 with a 14-foot jumper with 3:44 left.

"I stepped up to the plate and got a hit," Finley said of his defen-

Co-Rec top 5

1. Fast Babes

3. Pink Taces

4. Champs

5. Starriders

1. Swoosh

2. Big Time

4, All Madden

6 Foot and Und

3. Frumunducheez

. Total Package

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

NDERBILTS

DOWNTOWN WAMEGO

9-8 Daily 12-5 Sunday

JUSTIN SPORT

KIDS $ 44.99

COMPARE TO $89.95

2. Nads

top 5

Intramural basketball

1996 football signees

K-State has signed contracts with the following players for the 1996-97 football season.

PARTY NAMED IN COLUMN 2 IN COL	-
Name Position	Ht.	Wt.	Hometown/school
David Allen RE	5-10	175	Liberty, Mo. (Liberty)
Adrian Beard DB	5-9	170	St. Charles, Mo. (West)
Jonathan Beasley QB	6-2	210	Glendale, Ariz. (Cactus)
*Kenneth Boule DT	6-1	280	San Marcos, Texas (Blinn Jr. College
Da'Von Brame DE	6-4	195	Denver (Montbello)
Dyshod Carter RB/DB	5-11	170	Denver (Jefferson)
Chris Claybon RB	5-11	175	Tulsa, Okla. (Union)
Jarrod Cooper LB	6-2	200	Pearland, Texas
Ryan Cummings OL	6-5	250	Kansas City, Mo. (Rockhurst)
Randall Cummins DL	6-4	260	Ceader Hill, Texas.
*Jerome Evans DT	6-6	305	Waco, Texas (Hutchinson CC)
Adam Hotz OT	6-4	275	Papillion, Neb. (Papillion-LaVista)
Policia Houston WR	6-1	180	Denver (Jefferson)
Chris Johnson FB/LB	6-2	240	Chickasha, Okla. (Chickasha)
John Knott OL/DL	6-4	275	Pasadena, Md. (Central Institute)
Clint McCray DT	6-2	275	Houston (Sam Houston)
Shad Meier TE	6-5	225	Pittsburg, Kan. (Pittsburg)
Grant Reeves OL	6-6	290	Richardson, Texas (Berkner)
*Deandre RobinsonWF	5-7	145	Florissant, Mo., (Hazelwood East/SMU
Millford Stephenson TE	6-3	215	Houston (Hastings)
Steve Tucker DE	6-5	220	Gladstone, Mo. (Winnetonka)
* Junior transfers from comm	nunity colle	eges.
urce: K-State Sports Informat	ion		JUSTIN STAHLMAN/College

Stay tuned to the Collegian for late-breaking info.

 Aliens have been spotted in Colorado and they are headed toward Manhattan, Kansas Expected date of arrival: Feb. 15 Place: Nichols Theatre Length of stay: Feb. 15th - Feb. 24

Make your feelings for her crystal clear

5th & Poyntz

Downtown, Manhattan

We offer gift wrapping,

bankcard shopping by phon delivery and mailing service

Apply in person at the

Ramada Inn Landon Room,

Monday, Feb. 12 at 6 p.m.

60 Purim

61 Yon

DOWN

month

maiden

Ruby

2 Charged particle

3 Innards

4 Topics

5 Existed

6 Lotion

7 Re Ra

8 It's the can do additive

I'M IN SUCH A

DEPRESS ME

RIGHT NOW!

REG REACHED NURVAND IN SEVEN SECONDS AND

I'M GOING OUT

IT'S THE BEST I'VE DONE ON A MATH TEST ALL YEAR! IT BRINGS

WHAT

HAPPENS

WHEN YOU

MY AVERAGE UP

TO A STRAIGHT

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

▶ CROSSWORD

by Eugene Sheffer

ACROSS intricacy 1 "Trivia 41 Actress Pursuit" Carrere need 42 White 4 "Jabber-House wocky' nickname opener 44 Not quite

8 Apprehend 46 Bump 12 One billion together 50 Census years datum

13 Headlight? 14 Killer whale 51 October 15 Mezzanine rock 52 Captivate 17 Haberdasherv 56 "- Only Just array 18 Pirates' Begun" quaff 57 Swampy

19 She made terrain a one-58 Mongrel way trip 59 Take a 21 Babbles 24 Marseilles monarch 25 Sundial notation 26 Dine 28 Humdingers 32 Blueprint extras 34 Serenade Diana 36 Make like a rodent 37 School-

39 Symbol of room setup Yesterday's answer

10 Bakery Solution time: 23 mins.

employee 11 Endure 16 Same old same-old 20 Kanga's

▶ FOXTROT

MoM / MoM

I GOT A 91

PERCENT ON MY MATH TEST.

THAT'S

GREAT.

DOOG AND BLAIR

1 Sandra or 21 Motley 22 Incense 23 U-boat 27 Manhandle

29 Firmly establish 30 Scold 31 Vacillate 33 Spider,

35 Longing least you 38 Emulate Pirmin 9 Met melody Zurbriggen 40 Check casher, > perhaps 43 Swelling 45 Khan title 46 Kine 47 Wellfinanced grp.? 48 Molten rock 49 Oklahoma 53 La-la lead-in 54 Prompt 55 Botch up

NLEEQ

TBMI

OMILEK

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

Floyd E. Rogers

by Kristian Kelley

by Bill Amend

WHY, JASON,

THAT'S GREAT

IT'S A NEW

SCHOOL RECORD!

by Mark Ilich

GET

by Justin Stahlman

I ALWAYS

SPEAK TOO

A 108

PERCEN'

MATH TEST

'Roses' offers predictable, fairy-tale plot

arts & entertainment editor

If a man you have never met before suddenly sends you flowers, shake yourself awake from the dream. In "Bed of Roses" this sweet, well-meaning gesture furloughs the characters straight into fantasy land.

For Christian Slater as Lewis, a hard-line, middle management, Wall Street business executive turned florist, love is the face found in a lit window on an introspective midnight stroll.

Self-healed but lonely following the death of his wife, Lewis is compelled to reach out to the woman he spied in a moment of grief. Bed of Roses

His desperation to cheer her manifests itself in an extravagant bouquet and arrives at the doorstep of Mary Stuart Masterson.

Masterson as Lisa attempts to find a balance between her character's tough-exterior indepedence and the vulnerability invoked by a traumatic childhood. Abandoned at birth, she is adopted into the life of an emotionally remote couple. When the wife dies, the father raises her in a world which fluctuates between total neglect and unspeakable abuse.

Good future rental

Masterson, who can master an endearing tremble on cue, makes an art form out of collecting her coat and running away from what can only be described as too much perfection.

Knit into a tight routine, she cannot resign herself to the idea of being loved. Lisa feels she has nothing to give and is overwhelmed by any reprieve of the deep pain in her life. Without a family or any pattern of healthy, loving relationships to follow, she temporarily alienates Lewis.

Even the most remedial detectives can guess the rest of the movie.

However, there is a small measure of joy in watching Slater ease through his transition from a delightful, nervous suitor into the perfect guy with a mix of sensitivity and broad shoulders. "Roses" drops the ball on intriguing situations and leaves characters who were introduced with some importance simply dangling. Josh Brolin makes an early turn as Lisa's casual and largely forgettable boyfriend. An act of altruism would never occur to him. Plus, the stock loyal, lovable and self-effacing best friend character also does an amazing Demi Moore The scattered buckshot approach to early scenes wraps up in a few tight, smart and emotionally-charged The most significant contribution of this movie will be felt by flower shops, which stand to capitalize on the subtle romantic notion of expressing amour through vegetation (and just in time for Valentine's Day).

Written in slightly melodramatic, dreamy-eyed language and marketed handsomely to lovelorn romantics of all persuasions, "Bed of Roses" will have you seeing pink sunsets and smelling thornless roses in your sleep.

MNNZK

DREAMED IT WOULD.

XFWA

Swing into Spring Craft Show

Saturday, February 10 9a.m.-5p.m. Portoff Hall, Cico Park

ED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873! 99¢ per minute, touch-tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

TFLW

OFEOBZKBA

BZXYKBBE

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: DREAM HOUSE: ONE THAT COSTS NEARLY TWICE AS MUCH AS YOU

Today's Cryptoquip clue: O equals C

Not just a night spot

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for a FREE Sandwich

Exp. 3/1/96

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE

Demo and Introductory Meeting 9 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 8 at Ahearn Fieldhouse Beginners' Class Begins 9 p.m. Monday, Feb. 12 at Ahearn Fieldhouse

All Welcome to Attend

3230 Kimball Ave Manhattan, KS 66502 Office: (913) 776-4488

Fax: (913) 776-4977 1-800-232-5726

Penny Alonso

7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, February 10 9:30 pm Forum Hall

State Student Union

For more information call the UPC Office at 532-6571

▶ REVIEW

Vocalist's poetic style inspires hope in life

Portia Sisco staff write

Hunting season is almost over, but Tori Amos doesn't seem to notice. She proudly displays her kill on the cover of her newest compact disc, "Boys For Pele."

This CD has high vocal quality. Amos has mastered the human voice as an instrument.

The background music includes unusual instruments such as the bosendorfer and the harpsichord. It adds spice to the music with a fresh, new sound.

Listeners who do not appreciate Amos' music can still admire her vocal mastery.

The first track, "Horses," is a beautiful lullaby with a soft tone. The lyrics turn this soft dream into a nightmare. Amos sings about horses that will help her escape her fears, both real and imaginary, of demons, a sick mother and an army. The horses will take her to fantasy worlds, including a flower meadow.

"Blood Roses" is the second track with a strong harpsichord background. This traditional instrument is used well with Amos' modern vocal style and message about men. It is a sad song about a woman who feels used and taken for granted. The gentle music is a sharp contrast to the harsh lyrics.

The traditional instruments are a classical concession that work well with Amos' voice. "Father Lucifer" has a powerful instrumental background, including bosendorfer, bass, guitar and trumpet.

Amos' music is full of universal messages on life and love. Her poetic style is a very modern free verse that works well with her nontraditional compositions.

"Mr. Zebra" is a children's story brought to life with underlying social connotations. Using animals as characters, Amos describes social classes, the military and lobbying.

While her overall view of the world may seem negative, Amos still manages to inspire hope in her music. She shows an understanding of life and defiance.

"Marianne" is about the people who survive the suicide of a friend or relative. Amos describes the gossip attached to sui-

The soft background music and vocals are deceptive. Amos sings about death, horror and sadness. The beauty of her music is the hope of a better future and what's the most price sensitive." The block on student athletic fees leaves Urick to generate Title IX funding only from the department's selfgenerated funds.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"I don't have any alternatives," The idea of increasing ticket prices doesn't appeal to Urick. "For the casual fan, it discourages them from coming to a game," he said. Brad Finkeldei, student body vice president, said if the money does not result from ticket prices, signage or other sources, Senate will reconsider

At the end of the negotiations, Krause said the administration will not overstep Senate.

"If there's no fee increase coming out of the Senate, then you won't see us in there asking for one from the Regents for Title IX," Krause said.

PROTEST

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

help fund the Title IX plan.

"I'm here because I think it is wrong to force it on the Student Senate like they did. It's an administrative responsibility, not a student responsibility," Jennifer Higerd, junior in political science, said.

Even some of the most ardent sports fans said they disagreed with the proposed fee increase.

'I've been going to games even in the lean years when we were zero to a million, but throwing the burden on the students is not right," Sean Tomb, junior in political science, said.

The rally, organized in part by Senate, not only provided students with a forum to talk but also provided them a look at student senators.

"I really wanted to see if they were just wanting to get attention or if they were wanting to raise interest,' Donette Holloway, sophomore in social work, said. "They did a good job of doing both."

Within the first minutes of the rally, Kristi Depew, assistant in the athletic office and former volleyball player, stepped in front of the island.

For several minutes she attempted to clarify the issue that had been clouded by too many people talking at "K-State is trying to shovel off problem instead of look-

the probing at lem," sec-

Depew.

ondary

mathematics,

"The ath-

said.

letic department

senior in

I've been going to games even in the lean years when we were zero to a million, but throwing the burden on the students is

> SEAN TOMB JUNIOR IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

doesn't want to take the coaches aside and say 'we need a cutback.' They've been trying to fudge and cheat with their records, and it's not working."

The former female athlete at the University of Missouri at Kansas City also talked about Title IX at length.

"They've been passing it off as Title IX without going into details," Depew said. "Students are going to need details about where the money is going to go, and they aren't providing that. Instead they are just telling us that the money is needed to bring women's sports up."

However, some students said they thought raising the fees would prevent future problems.

We have Title IX to comply with, and we need to get that in order before we get sued by some girl who points out that there is a difference between the sports," Brian Vulgamore, sophomore in agribusiness, said. "I think Max (Urick, athletic director) is trying to stop something before it happens."

Still, other students said they thought the fee should be attached to tickets, not to students.

"I know they do need the money in the funding, but maybe they should attach that to tickets," said Renate Motter, senior in psychology and pre-

"But like the engineering program, they should look at raising the funding from within their own programs. You can pay for something nice, but don't take it out of education.

"This is a school to learn, and I don't come to the University to learn football," she said.

RODEO

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4

"Flank straps are lined with sheep skin for protection to the animal," he said. "It is physically impossible for a flank strap to break an animal's ribs."

"A horse's natural ability is to buck," Frazier said. "You can see them buck in the corral early in the morn-Johnny Weil, Rodeo Club member, said he agreed with Frazier's argu-"I've been roping calves since I could ride a horse, and I've never ropes," he said. Frazier said the I've been roping calves University since I could ride a is very horse, and I've never careful in its treatbroke a neck or a back ment of in over 1,000 ropes. animals.

"We follow a RODEO CLUB MEMBER stringent rule by the PRCA," he said. "Our rule

has been so successful in the protection of animals, the American Veterinary Association recognized the PRCA guidelines for the welfare of animals in spectator events."

Frazier said the rodeo brings out the spirit of the Old West, shows how the United States was built, and demonstrates the ability to control animals without injuring them.

The K-State Rodeo will be host to 400-500 competitors representing 12 teams from Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas City, Kan., later this month.

Gustafson said the rodeo will provide Direct Impact its first chance to give people its side of the story through pamphlets and peaceful

JOHNNY WELL

AG BILI

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Flinchbaugh said if the United States does not get a new farm bill, it will have to operate under the old legislation.

'We desperately need a new farm bill," he said. Armstrong said some farmers want the government to stay out of agriculture. But when the government gets out of agriculture, then who sits down with the president to represent the agricultural interest?" Armstrong said. The proposed farm bill in the Senate would be an additional amendment to the permanent 1938

Flower said it is difficult for Kansas farmers, and all farmers, if the farm bill does not get passed.

"It all comes down to planning," Flower said. "Farmers will not know how much flexibility they will have, with how much seed to get, how much land to farm, or what not to

The Senate voted Wednesday, 64-32, to scrap the decades-old link subsidies, giving farmers instead a series of fixed, but declining payments.

The action could lead to the eventual end of farm payments.

Democrats charged Republicans with offering welfare to farmers, while cutting money for education, school lunches and health care for the poor.

Democrats also argued that the Republican plan, giving the highest payments to the most successful farmers, would further thin the ranks of smaller farms.

Its flexibility provisions would let farmers get payments regardless of whether they grew crops.

"It is so unforgivable, so incredibly inexplicable that many senators who claim to be fiscal conservatives are prepared to give a quarter of a million dollars to some producer not to farm," said Senate Minority Leader Tom Daschle, D-South Dakota

Republicans argue that the overhaul cuts farm spending 20 percent over seven years and gives the first real reform of the New Deal poli-

The agreement leading to Wednesday's action left Democrats debates - a guarantee that permanent farm law written in 1949 stays on the books.

The law calls for an outdated and expensive mix of high subsidies and production limits that would kick in if farm laws are not updated.

The permanent law works as a hammer to make sure future farm laws are passed. It guarantees that lawmakers will have a chance to write farm law well after the Republican experiment with overhauling subsidies ends.

Otherwise, farm programs could simply vanish.

"Eventually, when we say that there is no such thing as a farm program, then we may not have a Secretary of Agriculture or a Department of Agriculture," Flinchbaugh said.

This is the longest Congress has gone without finishing work on a farm law, in part because the original plan was in a budget-balancing bill vetoed by President Clinton.

"The U.S.D.A. will not be affected by another governmental shutdown because President Clinton signed the appropriations bill," Flinchbaugh said.

The Associated Press contributed broke a neck or back in over 1,000 CLINTON

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Arkansas savings and loan at the center of the Whitewater investigation.

Hubbell disclosed the existence of the files under questioning by committee Republicans, who are trying to find out what happened to Mrs. Clinton's long-sought billing records of her work for Madison Guaranty. The records mysteriously appeared a month ago at the White House more than two years after being subpoenaed by Whitewater prosecutors.

Hubbell said he oversaw the production of Mrs. Clinton's billing records from a computer at the Rose Law Firm in February 1992, after the ment Donoghue has helped create.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

have appreciated the new environ-expose people to new and different programs for funding support as their available," Jan Leach, professor in cult job," she said, "but he's made so many improvements. The whole process of applying for grants is so much easier because of the new effi-

All this progress hasn't come ciency he has helped set up."

"When he came in, he had a diffi-

"Dean Donoghue has tried to

DEAN

plant pathology, said.

New York Times began asking questions about the Clintons' Whitewater real estate venture with McDougal. Hubbell said he turned Mrs.

Clinton's billing records over to Vincent Foster and never saw them When the billing records emerged from the White House Jan. 5, they bore Foster's handwriting. Foster's notations weren't on the records when Foster got them, said Hubbell. Fifteen hours of Mrs. Clinton's work for Madison Guaranty are not documented in the computerized billing records - a fact which Hubbell was questioned about closely.

Mrs. Clinton's individual time sheets, which apparently were part of routine destruction of old documents home and get more work done," he said. "When I'm really not working, I enjoy reading history and historical fiction. I've read a lot of Tom Clancy, pleased with the work that has been done in his programs.

Have Sally the Singing

·Balloon bouquets delivered by costume character •Huge selections of Skunk give your Valentine

a whiff of your love.

Donoghue said.

In the end, Donoghue said he is

"We should be user-friendly,"

We should help our faculty and grad students get the most out of their experience, and I think the success of our faculty and students is our without a price, Donoghue said. "I work a lot, sometimes until 8 or 8:30 at night, and then often I'll go at the law firm, could have answered the question of what she did in those 15 missing hours. Hubbell said he got some of Mrs. Clinton's time sheets from her secretary, but not those on her work for the S&L.

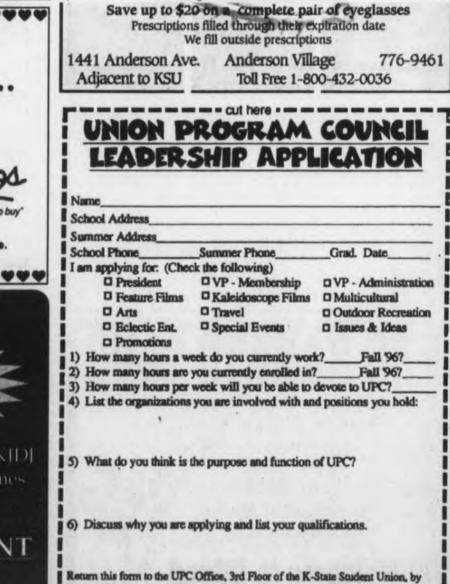

Hubbell said he was the person who collected Whitewater files from Foster, campaign aide Betsey Wright and other people in January 1993. He said Foster, the deputy White House counsel who killed himself in 1993, turned over several Rose firm files on Madison Guaranty, but that Mrs. Clinton's billing records were not between farm prices and government with one weapon in the future to this story. among them.

Dr. Paul E. Bullock

Complete Eye Exam

Exp. 2/15/96 with coupon

Back to School-save Up to $40.00 on U.V. screen

Disposable Contact lenses

Classifieds

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5.35 1 DAY each word over 20 - $.20 per word 2 DAYS

BULLETIN

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to COME FLY with us, K-State

KSU SCUBA NAUL or

SKYDIVE KSU information

SWING INTO SPRING CRAFT SHOW- Sat-urday February 10, Pot-torf Hall, Cico Park 9–5.

7:30p.m.

Handmade Handmade crafts, homemade food. Pro-

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three

FOUND: MICKEY Mouse

Parties-n-More

watch. Found in Bio-Chemistry building. Claim at CB 142.

A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

Operation Purple Wave is taking reservations for hot tub parties now. This is for a serious hot tub party!

days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at rea-sonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

WE DELIVER

7 Days a Week

Balloon Bouquets

Stuffed Animals

Candy

Valentine's Accessories

776-7547

Mr. P's

Carty

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion age, color, nationgion, age, color, national origin or ancestry.

Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

REAL ESTATE

Apts. Furnished

A ONE-BEDROOM $320/

month, large two-bed-room, fire place $460/ month, both close to s350/ month, 537-7542.

AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY, close to cam-pus. One-bedroom, new building and clean on Anderson Ave. Rent

For Rent-

Outlet,

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-

HOT TUB BUS RENTAL

587-0990.

scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, 539-0531, classes now forming.

Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

YMCA certifications taught on campus. Con-tact UFM at 539-8763

for information and meeting Thursday, Feb. 8. Union Room 207 at

ceeds benefit ABWA

education opportuni

BOARD

20 words or less - $6.60 each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.60 each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8.35

each word over 20 - $.35 per word 20 words or less — $8.85 5 DAYS each word over 20 - $.40 per word (consecutive day rate) for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1015. NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished.

three-bedroom. pets. 537–8389. THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401.

Studio, one, two, or

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428.

For Rent-Unfurnished

ANDERSON VILLAGE across from KSU. One and two-bedrooms. No pets. 537-2332.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and four bedroom apartmentsfor now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-1015.

AVAILABLE NOW- rent ne gotiable, luxury apart-ment next to campus. two-bedroom, central air/ heating, fireplace, laundry, off-street park-ing. 539-2702 evenings.

AVAILABLE NOW, across from Aggieville and campus. Spacious one and two-bedrooms with off-street parking. 776-0683 after 5p.m.

AVAILABLE NOW, one bedroom apartment, close to campus. $285/ month leave message. 587-9272.

AVAILABLE NOW- fourbedroom plus study, bi-level, washer/ dryer. $700/ month. 537-3789, leave message.

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Aprs. College Heights Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m.

AVAILABLE NOW. Onebedroom. 820 Osage. $325. Water, trash paid. fixed utilities. Pets al lowed. 776-3804. Call CRESTWOOD MENTS-Two-bed room, one and one-half dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480.

pets, $ 776-3345. FOUR-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1611 Lara-mie. $575 through May 31. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

FOUR-BEDROOM, LARGE, available 537-1940. $750. now

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Available now- July 31. Two and one-half blocks from KSU. $490/ month.

Water and trash paid. Call 539-9524. ONE OR two-bedroom apartment, very close to Ahearn Fieldhouse. Newly carpeted. 537-9188 or 537-1550.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. IN Ag-gieville, 1220 Laramie $250. All utilities paid. Pets allowed. 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.

PARK PLACE Apartment

special. One-bedroom, new carpet, hot water paid, $300 per month, plus utilities. Six month plus utilities, Six lease, 537-2392.

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.

or sublease (913)455-3433. ROYAL TOWERS. Four-bedrooms available now. One block from campus. Water, trash AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one two, three and four

HOW TO PAY

Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly classify any ad.

HEADLINES For an extra charge, we'll put a eacline above your atl to calch the eader's attention.

Available now. Lease and deposit required. 537-7794.

MENT, southeast of campus, not in com-plex, with laundry facil-ities, immediately avail-able. 539–7277.

ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

WO-BEDROOM APART

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL

START

NOW

2 bedroom apartments

bedroom !

Large bath &

▲ Laundry facility

NOW LEASING

JUNE 8 AUGUST

CALL

776-1148

Open Houses Daily

The Curtin Company

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-MENT. Apartment. Wa-ter, gas, trash, parking. One block/ campus,

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

TWO-BEDROOM,

TWO-BEDROOM,

(316)767-6667

HEATING PAID, free laundry, no pets. Cozy two-bedroom with hard-wood floors, $400. Spa-cious three-bedroom $500. Available now! 776-3143.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

CHRISTIAN FEMALE look

ing for roommate two-bedroom apartment. Close to campus, $180 plus one-half KPL, ca-ble. As soon as possi-

As soon as possi-through July.

Roommate

Wanted

For Rent-

Houses

with washer/ dryer, basement available March 1, 537-7138.

Bluemont, sublease, $350. 539-8401.

Bluemont, sublease, $350, 539-8401.

▲ On site office

▲ 2 large pools

▲ Private

closets

Dishwasher

Great location

DEADLINES

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad an expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day like ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

FEMALE ROOMMATE paid. Hot tubs, dishwanted: close to Ag-gieville and campus. Af-fordable rent. Call 776–1388 ask for Ali. washer, microwave, laundry facilities. Call now 776–3804.

STUDIO APARTMENT one ROOMMATE FEMALE block from campus. (913)494-2240. wanted for apartment one block from cam THREE-BEDROOM APART pus. Rent negotiable. 776-8284. MENT, central air, washer/ dryer, $399. 537-3826, John.

FEMALE TO share my home, please call even-ings and weekends. 537-4412.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT remodeled, new carpet. 50 feet from campus, 1200 N. Man-hattan. $400' Month. Water/ trash paid. 776-7996, leave mes-GRADUATE STUDENT needs roommate for house next to campus. $192.50 plus half of util-ities. Call 776-1195, leave message TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT. $380/ month. Across street from Ahearn Field House.

MALE/ FEMALE nonsmoker for two-bed-room. Close to campus/ Aggieville. $190 plus part utilities. Call Brian 537-6124.

MALE/ FEMALE roommate needed to share three bedroom apartment. $175/ month plus one-third utilities. February rent already paid. Call 539-1063.

NICE HOUSE, close to cam-pus, $200 monthly. Fe-bruary paid. 776-1890.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to share house with Mom, school age child. $200 includes laundry, meals, utilities. Babysitting opportunity available. 776-2386.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one-bedroom of two-bedroom apartment. Two and one half blocks from KSU. $245/ month plus one-half utilities. From now through July. Call 539-9524.

ROOMMATE NEEDED IM mediately for apart-ment, close to campus. Prefer non-smoker. Call 776-1340

ROOMMATE WANTED, one-bedroom in a three-bedroom basement. Close to campus, $125/ month plus utilities. Call Dan or Jeremy, 587-0190.

ROOMMATE WANTED: separate room, close to campus and Aggieville, $230/ month water, $230/ month water, trash paid. 587-8110.

TWO ROOMS available in four-bedroom all fur nished basement apart-ment. Laundry fur-nished, for males, nonsmoking/ drinking, no pets. Walk to KSU. $150 plus utilities. 539–1554. WO ROOMS available

Huge house next to campus. Washer/ dryer, free laundry, all utilities paid. $225/ month. 776-6039.

Sublease

ONE-BEDROOM ON first level of house. $240/ month, all bills paid. 776-5240 ask for Jenuntil July. Close to cam-pus, Aggieville. $230 month or negotiable, water and trash paid. 537-4768. Ask for Lisa.

SUBLEASE APARTMENT

DIRECTORY

AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY. Four-bedroom, close to campus. 776-1340.

1212

Typing

BEAUTIFUL SETTING in the Flint Hills. 30 miles south of Manhattan. PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776-3290. FOUR-BEDROOM WITH Study, Available im-mediately. Close to campus, 1021 McCol-lum $600. Washer, dryer provided. Pets al-lowed.Call 776-3804.

AST, CHEAP, accurate. Professional typist will do resumes or any other word processing. Laser printing. Becky, TYPIST. Experienced typprist. Experienced typist will type anything on my home computer: reports, proposals, thesis, spreadsheets. Have IBMPC with Windows, Lotus, MSPublisher, Works. Call for more information and quote. formation and quote. Sonya, 776-1132.

Other Services

255

DNEY FOR COL-LEGEIII Hundreds and thousands of grants available to all stud-ents. Immediate qual-ification. Call (800)270-2744. Open Mon-Sat

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D. Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

270

Massage

NEW CERTIFIED Massage Therapist at Wholesale Beauty Club/ Club Beauty Salon. She specializes in neuromus-cular therapy, shiatsu, Swedish and reflex-ology. Mention this ad and receive $10 off first

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our read-legian urges our read-ers to contact the Bet-ter Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, To-peka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454. $1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207. $35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-1915 for details.

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female. No experience neces-sary. (206)971–3510 ext-A57683.

AMERICA'S PREMIERE SPORTS CAMPS WINDAU FOR BOYS/ DANBEE FOR GIRLS. Western Massachu-setts. Over 100 positions available. All Land and Water Sports, Arts and Crafts, Gymnastics, Horseback Riding, Horseback Riding, Drama, Woodshop, Ice and Roller Hockey, Wa-terski, WSI's and more!!!! No previous experience required. Top salaries, room and board, and travel al-lowance. On campus lowance. On campus information and in-terviews February 27–28, 1996, 9a.m.– 4p.m. K-State Union Building Rooms 202 and 203. SUMMER JOBS! Men call: (800)494-6238, Camp Winadu, Women call: (800)392-3752 Camp

APPLICATION FOR mem-bership for McCain Am-bassadors, a student or-ganization interested in promoting music, drama and live enterdrama and live enter-tainment, will be avail-able at K-State Student Union SAS Office from January 31 through Fe-bruary 26. Due back in office on February 26 by 4p.m. Contact Emily Simpson at 539-4651 or Todd Lakin at 537-2773 Todd Lakin at 537-7773

ASSISTANT MANAGER—
1-5, M-F and some Saturdays. Filing, Word Processing and customer service experience necessary. Send Resume to 1409 Chase
Place, Manhattan, KS.
Successful applicant Successful applicant will receive free apartment plus utilities. ATTENTION ALL Students Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information call: (800)263-6495 ext.F57684.

ATTENTION Earn extra

532-6236 cash stuffing envel cash stuffing envelopes at home. All materials provided. Send Self Addressed Stamped Envelope to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051, Immediate response.

COMPLETE MUSIC Disc Jockey Service is grow-ing and wants you to be a part of the largest and most professional DJ service in the nation. We provide the equipment. CD library, and paid professional training. If you are friendly, energetic and have your own vehicle, call 539-7111 or (800)755-DJDJ.

COSMETOLOGISTS/ NAIL Techs/ Stylists. Wanting a flexible schedule in an up and coming sa-lon? Booth rent first four weeks free or part-time commission op-tion also available. Apply Wholesale Beau-ty Club/ Club Beauty Salon 409 Poytz ty Club/ Salon 539-5999.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experience necessary.. For in formation (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

AST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated indi-viduals. Fast, easy-no financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982 ext.33. GROUNDS KEEPER. Lawn, plant and pool care experience necessary. Part-time winter, full-time summer. $6 per hour Send resume or apply at 1409 Chase Place, Manhattan, KS. JOBS IN the Great Outdoors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-

N57683. KAW VALLEY Greenhous-es needs quality peo-ple. Full and part-time positions available. Call 776–8585, Monday through Friday bet-ween 4 and 5p.m.

KANSAS STATE student worker. 15- 20 hours a week at Early Childhood Training Program. Computer skills, xeroxing, filling, general office work. $5 per hour. Prefer most hours on Tuesday

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR SUMMER AT CAMP TACONIC. Prestigious coed camp in beautiful Massachusetts seeks motivated sophomores, juniors, seniors and grads who love working with kids to be general counselors and instructors in: Swimming, Sailing Windsurfing, Skiing Athletics, Ropes Course, Rollerblading, Horseback Riding, Archery, Gymnastics, Aer-obics, Golf, Arts and Crafts, Photography, Silver Jewelry, Drama Music, Piano Accom paniment, Cooking, Science Rocketry, Pioneering, Video and Newspaper. Competitive salaries. Join a dedicated team. Have a reward ing and enjoyable sum-mer! Please call (800)762-2820.

MALE MODELS needed Feb. 19 from 10a.m.- 12 noon, for advanced clip-per class. If interested call 776–4455. MANAGER SMALL coop erative food store. Re-sponsible for all as-pects of business activ-ities. Supervise staff, ities. Supervise staff, manage store finances, facility, and products. Retail grocery experience preferred. Send resume and references to People's Grocery Cooperative, 811 Colorado, Manhattan, KS 66502 before Feb. 15.

PREMIERE BROTHERS Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hock ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Rialso Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking). Top salaries, room

18- August 17. Inquire MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-RECENT GRADS John

PARKING SOUTH OF THE

532-6555

Hancock® Financial Services is looking for professional individuals for their Marketing/ Sales Training Pro Sales Training Pro-gram, which is specifically designed for re-cent college graduates. Call or send resume. 6900 College Blvd, #1000 Overland Park, KS 66211, ATTN: Pam Swedlind Swedlund (913)345-9090. (913)345-0978 FAX.

REPS NEEDED. Sales of long distance service and business opportunity with multi-level marketing in tele-communications industry. For appointment 539-0208.

SECRETARY/ RECEP TIONIST- Requires ex-cellent organizational skills and attention to detail. Computer, word processing and bookkeeping experience im-portant. Looking for professional, enthu-siastic, bright, people-oriented candidate with good communication skills. Full-time, $6.50/ hour. Send resume to 1600 Poyntz Ave., Man-hattan, KS 66502.

STUDENT'S DREAM Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT (June through August) at Camp Lincoln/ Camp Lake Hubert in Minne-sota's Lake country since 1909. Meet new friends, expand horizons, rewarding work with children, develop leadership skills, 30 wa ter/ land activities. Spe-cific job information and applications avail-able at the Placement Office, Holtz Hall. Sign up in advance for a per-sonal interview on campus Tuesday, Feb. 13. SUMMER JOBS in Colorado. YMCA of the Rockies, Snow Mountain Ranch Conference center and family resort hiring for Lifeguards, Food Services, Front Desk, Counselors, Housekeeping, Tickets to Campus interviews on February 8, 1996. Con-tact Career/ Employ-Buy/Sell ment Services for in terview, 532-6506. SUMMER JOBS Out doors, 17,000 openings, National Parks, Forests, Fire Crews. Send stamp for free details. Sulli-van's 113 E. Wyoming, Kalispell, MT 59901.

VISTA DRIVE-INN is now taking applications for full and part-time help Apply in person at 1911 Tuttle Creek Blvd. or at 2700 Anderson Ave. WAITRESSES NEEDED

Hard working, person-able. Apply at 1213 Moro, Manhattan, KS

Wanted to Buy

WANT TO buy: Diamonds-Estate Jewelry- Gold Class rings- scrap gold, Lorin 539-6631.

Items for Sale

386SX PACKARD Bell 25 MHZ paid $1250. sell for $500, negotiable 1993 Ford Ranger Splash 44,000 miles. 537-0575.

COLLEGE STUDENT with four years Jewelry ex-perience and wholesale connections. Let me know what you're look-ing for Lorin 539-6631. GOVERNMENT SURPLUS-

New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT workwear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9-5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots. BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. 103 Kedzie

Hall

OFFICE HOURS COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS sas State Collegi Monday - Friday 8-5 p.m.

Except holidays Phone 537-5020, Og den, KS.

Furniture to Buy/Sell

GET THE WORD OUT

Place your classified ad in Kedzie 103

AA FULL size mattress set New, never used, still in plastic. Retail price $639. Will sell for $165. Brass headboard $90 (913)379-9858

AA QUEEN size mattress set. New, never used. Still in plastic. Retail price $839, will sell for $195. Queen brass headbaord, $95. (913)379-9858.

KING SIZE mattress set, new, retail $999, sell for $275. (913)379–9858.

Antiques

430

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers 486DX4 100, 8 MB, pci vid-eo, 245 hd, 14-inch monitor, 16-bit sound card, $950, 776–4532.

486DX4X100, 8 MB ram, CD rom, 14400 modem, 16-bit soundcard, 14 inch color monitor, $1299, 539-8453.

ELECTRONIC TYPEWRIT ERS and word processors. Excellent condition starting at $39. Manhattan Pawn Shop 776-6112, 317 S. 4th St.

Supplies PUPPY- 9 week old, black lab that needs a home Call for more informa tion. 537-4829.

Pets and

WANTED: KU vs. KSU basketball tickets. Willing to pay! 776-7091. Ask for Natalie.

TRANS-PORTATION

Automobiles

983 HONDA Civic, colle or best offer, 537-2369. 1989 FORD Thunderbird SC; dark blue, 79,000 miles. Leather, JBL stereo and more. $7700 or best offer. 776-0912.

1989 TOYOTA Corolla GTS. Excellent condi-tion, sunroof, tinted glass, five-speed. Grey paint/ interior. Like new. Call 565-0764 $5000.

1995 CAMARO, five-speed teal, alum rims, AM/FM cassette, 7000 miles, like new! $15,000 (913)784-3031.

530 Motorcycles

1990 YAMAHA FZR600 Good Condition, V&H exhaust new rear tire $3000. Or best offer. Call Micheal 537-3291.

Tour Packages

MAZATLAN $419 CANCUN $429

Trips include 7 nights hotel, roundtrip air from Kansas City. Daily parties, free covers and discounts. FOR MORE INFO CALL TIGER TOURS 1-800-LEAVE-99 (1-800-532-8399)

615

Break

SOUTH PADRE Island-Spring Break. Why set-tle for a cramped hotel room? Sunchase IV has spacious one, two, and three-bedroom nished condos at af-fordable rates. Deal directly with on-site management, not third party promoters. Great location, on the beach and excellent amenities. Special rates: one-bedroom $650 (four people)/ two-bedroom $950 (six people)/ three-bedroom $1350 (eight people). Call toll free (800)944-6818. Internet; http://www.hi-line.net/-fees PRING BREAK '96. With only one week to live-Don't blow it!! Book Now!! Florida & Padre $109 Bahamas $359 Ja-maica/ Cancun $399. Organize a group- Travel Free!! SunSplash Tours (800)426-7710.

KSU STUDENTS

Support The Athletic Fee Increase – Help Keep The Wildcats Competitive

WHAT IS NEEDED?

• An additional $34 per year.

WHY THE INCREASE IS NECESSARY

- Increase opportunities for women as dictated by Title IX an unfunded federal mandate.
- Protects prime seating for students at football and basketball games.
- Protects student ticket prices in football and basketball.
- Supports KSU Marching Band and sports clubs.

A FEW FACTS TO CONSIDER WHEN YOU ARE MAKING YOUR DECISION

- The Kansas State Athletic Department appreciates the students.
- There has not been an increase in student season ticket prices since 1989, while public season tickets have increased by 26%.
- Kansas State students have the best football and basketball seating in the Big 12 Conference.
- Approximately 60 student senators are making the decision for 20,000 students. More than 9,000 of those students regularly attend Kansas State athletic events.
- The athletic department employs students with an annual payroll of nearly $300,000.

HOW K-STATE COMPARES

Student Athletic Fees

Iowa State $50/year Oklahoma State $118/year Colorado $57/year Kansas $40/year Wichita State $182/year Fort Hays State $122.80/year Emporia State $114/year Pittsburg State $432/year Kansas State $34/year

Student fee-Kansas State FY94
Student fee-National Average FY94

Big 8 Athletic Budgets
Nebraska $21,542,000

Nebraska $21,542,000 Oklahoma $19,058,000 $15,972,381 Colorado Kansas $12,564,091 Iowa State $12,500,000 Missouri $12,164,083 Oklahoma State $10,429,118 Kansas State $9,901,005

$577,600

$1,261,000

Big 8 Student Ticket Prices

FB BB Nebraska $88* $42 $40 Oklahoma $40 Colorado $25 $15 Kansas $85 $85 Missouri $71 $129 Oklahoma St. $45" $144 Iowa State $42* $60 Kansas State $49* $75

*denotes seven home games

*denotes five home games

OU, CU, KU, MU all had six games

1995-96 Kansas State Budget Projections - Income

Football 50%
Men's Basketball 22%
Fund Raising 12%
Business Office 6%
Student Fees 4%
Marketing/Merchandising 3%
Miscellaneous 3%
Other sports ----

LET YOUR VOICE BE HEARD

Attend The Student Senate Meeting Thursday, Feb. 8, 7 p.m. Big Eight Room, K-State Student Union

This advertisement paid for with private funds.

Today: mostly sunny. See weather map, page 2.

SPORTS . page 6

WEEKEND . page 8

DIVERSIONS . page 9

FRIDAY February 9, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 90

Bottleneck in Lawrence.

SKA BANDS PLAY IN LAWRENCE

Ska bands Regatta 69, Mustard Plug, Waterdog and Dance Hall Crashers played Wednesday night at the

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

ORTZ TRITE

Anthor Shate Historical Editety Section

Athletic ticket prices to increase

FINANCIAL TUG-OF-WAR

Title IX funds will be met with the athletic department's selfgenerated revenue instead of an increase in student fees.

 Athletic fees will not increase; students opt to pay more for games

Courtney Marshall

Student Senate voted Thursday night not to increase the athletic fee. Instead, athletic ticket prices will increase to offset the cost of meeting Title IX requirements.

The meeting was moved from the normal meeting place in the Big 8 Room to Durland 173 due to anticipation of a larger crowd

Negotiations of the athletic fee have been going on this week between administrators and student representatives to come to a compromise on the issue.

"No one should leave this meeting feeling angry. I'm not mad about anything, and I don't want you to be mad either," Max Urick, athletic director, said.

Wednesday night the negotiation team reached a compromise that would not increase the students' athletic fees.

"I want to thank you for your focus in the last week," Jeff Peterson, student body president, said

"I'm happy that we have a negotiation agreement. I let out some of my frustrations a week ago, and I've been able to discuss those with the president and vice president. I feel a little better about where we're at, and I'm very happy that we have an agreement," he said.

Senate made some amendments to the athletic fee continuance bill that would allow the athletic department to raise the funds to help pay for compliance with NCAA Title IX gender equity.

"We all know that Title IX is important, we all know that it needs to be funded, and we all agree on that," said Brad Finkeldei, student body vice president.

One amendment allows the athletic department to generate fees by removing the cap on student-season football tickets and men's basketball tickets.

A second amendment allows the athletic department to start charging admission at all NCAA athletic events that previously were free.

The bill passed with a roll-call vote of 42-11

During open period, senators heard discussion from Lafene Health Center representatives in support of a student health fee increase.

They also heard from representatives from Students for the Advancement of Management as well as the Big 8 conference on black student government, which will be at K-State Feb. 15-18.

Aaron Otto, junior in political science, reported on the lobbying efforts in Topeka.

He said the Student Governing Association legislative report packets, which contained recommendations for improvements in Kansas' higher education, were distributed to representatives.

"All the legislators we talked to were very positive about the policy book," Otto

MATHLETIC FEE FORUM

Student senators voice opinions about athletic fee

Courtney Marshall

The tug-of-war is finished.

At noon Thursday in the Union Courtyard, Brad Finkeldei, student body vice president, and other members of Student Senate had an information forum about the outcome of the athletic-fee negotiations between the administration and six student representatives.

"We all agreed we need to get the money, and we're not going to have a fee increase, so Max, (Urick), do whatever you have to to raise the money," Finkeldei, senior in chemical engineering, said.

Instead of a fee increase, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics will raise the funds to comply with Title IX through increases in ticket prices for athletic games and some changes in concessions and fundraising.

"Under the current bill that we've been under the last two years, there's two restrictions we'll try to amend down tonight. One is free admission to all sports except men's football and basketball and the cap at $7 a game for football, $5 a game for basketball," he said.

Student senators who spoke at the forum said they thought the athletic department should have looked to other alternatives before coming to the students for more money.

Senators acknowledged that Title IX must be funded but without fee increases.

"We all know that Title IX must be funded, and it will be funded

But it won't be funded with a fee increase," Finkeldei said.

MEET YOUR DEAN - A SERIES

Pride found in working with students

Kristin Hermes staff reporte

The pride Yar Ebadi, interim dean of the College of Business Administration, takes in his work with faculty and students defines his satisfaction at the close of each day.

"At the end of the day," he said, "when I think about what I've done, if my work has had an impact in moving the college in the right direction or motivating people to do quality work, I feel such a deep sense of satisfaction."

When Ebadi came to Manhattan in 1983, he said he chose his location for many reasons, but mostly to give his five children the opportunity to grow up in the sort of environment Manhattan provides.

"Manhattan is small, so I think it's much safer," he said. "I don't have to worry as much about my kids getting involved in drugs or violence as I would if they grew up in a city. Also, because of the University. Manhattan is culturally rich with international students and artistic events."

Ebadi, formerly associate dean of the college, assumed the job of interim dean after David Short left last summer.

"I accepted this position with the understanding that I would pursue and move projects with long-term intensity and longterm goals as best as I can," he said. "This job could be seen as a temporary caretaker position, but I don't want to be a caretaker."

• See EBADI Page 12

Today Yar Ebadi

interim Dean of Business Administration

Meet Your

NW.blackout esident Clinton signed the Communications cency Act, which restricts "indecent material from being posted on the Internet. Internet users are protesting the bill by turning homepages black or by posting a blue ribbon. See related story • page 10

ANDY MARCINIAK/Collegia

Saxophonist Joshua Redman plays during his band's set Thursday night in a McCain Auditorium.

Three members of the Joshua Redman Band, guitarist Peter Bernstein, bassist Christopher Thomas and Joshua Redman, on the tenor sax, played to an enthuslastic crowd in McCain Auditorium. Redman was named 1995 Jazz Artist of the Year by Rolling Stone magazine and is a graduate of Harvard University.

► REVIEW

Sensational sax teases, tickles McCain crowd

Russell Fortmeyer

Saxophonist Joshua Redman is a sizzling work in progress. He burst onto the jazz scene a few years ago and, if last night's concert in McCain Auditorium is any indication, he plans to toot his way into the next century. But Redman does not merely play the standards for a houseful of sentimental music fans. He composes most of what he plays. His contemporary stylings and brilliant delivery are the makings of a jazz legend. Redman's quintet of musicians, Christopher Thomas on bass, Peter Martin on piano, Brian Blade on drums, and Peter Bernstein on guitar, is captivating to watch. All of them are quite young musicians, and they each bring a youthful energy and playfulness to their performance.

Redman's group was originally a quartet, but a guitarist was added during this tour. If anything, the tone of the evening was conversational. Redman tweaked back and forth, light to dark, with his sax sometimes evoking a sassy-tinged argument. The audience could only respond with giggles of gratitude.

Drummer Blade, perhaps the most outrageously kinetic of the group, conversed with Redman's sax off and on throughout the evening.

The concert kicked off with the song "Mischief" from Redman's "Moodswing" album. As a special treat, the band premiered a cut, "Streams of Consciousness," off of its as-yetuntitled new album which will be released this fall.

Off of Redman's latest album, "Spirit of the Moment: Live at the Village Vanguard," the group played a very animated, witty version of the standard "My One and Only Love."

Also off of the "Moodswing" album was "Chill," a delicate, smooth-flowing song encouraging the audience to sit back in its chairs and mellow out.

To close the show, Redman began a solo sax dialogue (which was a running gig throughout the entire show) that evolved into a contemporary interpretation of the King of Soul himself, James Brown's "I Feel Good/I Got You." It was a strange juxtaposition, but it worked quite nicely.

So nice it brought the audience to its feet and kept it there until the group came back for an encore.

As the encore treat, Redman played an as-yet-untitled song

• See REDMAN Page 12

015. The topic will be biology.

are available to all K-State faculty,

To receive a bookmark, mail quests to: BGLS, c/o Office of Student Activities and Social Services will conduct a Résumé

9 tonight in Dance Studio 301.

p.m. Sunday in Union 204.

Pre-Nursing Club will meet at 6

Critique Session at 3:30 p.m. today

■ Project Safe Zone bool

staff and students.

Services in the Union.

in Holtz Hall.

Career and Employr

In the news

► JET CRASHES IN ATLANTIC; RESCUERS ANTICIPATE NO SURVIVORS

PUERTO PLATA, Dominican Republic (AP) - Rescuers searched for bodies in a lifeless sea of debris, while investigators tried to determine what may have caused a jetliner packed with German tourists to nose-dive into the Atlantic Ocean.

Pilots from the U.S. Coast Guard and Dominican military flew overhead to direct searchers in rubber dinghies. They recovered corpses and body parts belonging to at least 105 people before the search was called off at nightfall Wednesday amid a tropical rain-

The chartered plane was carrying 189 people, including four chiloff this resort on the north coast of the Dominican Republic Tuesday night. Rescue efforts were to resume at first light today.

"It doesn't look like anybody would have survived that," U.S. Coast Guard helicopter pilot Scott Matthews said.

▶ RAGING WATERS DRIVE NORTHERN OREGONIANS OUT OF HOMES

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - Days of heavy rain and melting snow sent rivers and streams raging over their banks across northern Oregon, forcing thousands to flee their homes and ripping one house off its foundation. The Willamette River, which nor-Portland was threatened.

mally meanders peacefully through farmland and the state's most-population centers, was a chocolate-colored, debris-strewn torrent, threatening to add to Oregon's worst flooding in more than 30 years. Even downtown

Virtually every river and stream in northwestern Oregon was above or near flood stage early today, and it was raining before daybreak in Portland, Astoria and Salem. The swirling waters washed a house east of Portland into the Columbia River late Wednesday.

▶ GAS COMPANY REVEALS ILLEGAL CAMPAIGN FUNDING IN DOCUMENTS

WASHINGTON (AP) - An Oklahoma gas company under scrutiny by prosecutors investigating Commerce Secretary Ron Brown spent $150,000 to assist a Democratic congressional campaign in 1994, according to evidence introduced by the company's own lawyer.

Federal law prohibits corporations from directly or indirectly assisting any federal campaign.

Companies can be fined up to twice the amount they illegally spend, or referred for criminal prosecution if the government believes the violations were willful. Minutes from an August 1994 board meeting of Dynamic Energy Resources Inc. show board members discussed disguising the assistance to the campaign of former company president Stuart Price to "avoid federal election regulations."

The documents were obtained by the Associated Press.

Few, including those who criti-

▶ BABOON BONE MARROW TRANSPLANT PROVES SAFE FOR PATIENT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) -Doctors say few, if any, baboon bone marrow cells have appeared in the marrow of an AIDS patient who underwent a pioneering transplant nearly two months ago.

But Jeff Getty, who said he feels

SMITHSONIAN MAKES HISTORY

better than he did before entering the hospital, said he did not expect doctors would find baboon cells in his marrow this soon, if at all.

The point of the matter is that we've shown that (the procedure) is safe," Getty said.

cized the procedure, were surprised by the first signs of failure. But even skeptics expressed support for Getty.

LOS ANGELES (AP) -The Smithsonian Institution was established in 1846 to preserve history. Now the institution is making it. "America's Smithsonian," an $8 million, 336-artifact tour to mark the 150th anniversary, will play 12 cities in two years, beginning Friday when it opens at the Los Angeles Convention Center It's the biggest chunk of history the Smithsonian, or any museum, has ever put on tour - 10 times bigger than the 1970s King Tut show, boasts project director J. Michael Carrigan. In two hours, visitors can tour three galleries "Discovering." "Imagining" and "Remembering" — that display objects from all 16 Smithsonian museums and galleries, and the National Zoo.

GRAMM'S CAMPAIGN RUNS DRY

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) - Texas Sen. Phil Gramm has sketched a scenario for his exit from the Republican presidential field, and some strategists say that's prudent planning.

"The stars are not aligning themselves correctly for Phil Gramm," former Iowa Republican Chairman Michael Mahaffey said. "I don't know that he's dead, but I think he's in trouble.

Indeed, the word "dead" was heard frequently Wednesday in descriptions of the Gramm campaign.

Gramm suffered a one-two punch Tuesday, losing badly to commentator Pat Buchanan in a Louisiana contest he helped create, then finding himself under fire in lowa for missing a key Senate vote on farm leg-

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7

At 4 p.m., Jaccard Matchette reported the theft of a biology book

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8

At 11:52 a.m., an ambulance was requested for Haymaker 414. Zach Stuchlik complained of pains in his side. He was transported to Memoria

At 1:09 p.m., the alarm sounded on the First Bank automatic teller machine in the Union. It was accide

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7

At 5:01 p.m., Stephanie Barry was rant from Pottawatomie County. Bond was set at $321.31

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8

At 4:35 a.m., Lisa Miller, 724 Vattier St., was arrested on an war rant. Bond was set at $400.

MISS YOUR PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to (http://www.spub.ksu.edu/).

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- m Applications for May 1996 undergraduate graduation are due in deans' offices by Feb. 16.

 BE INTERNATIONAL! Voluntee
- to help an international student practice English. Contact Jim
- Endrizzi at the International Stude Center at 532-6448. A review session for students
- preparing to take the DAT/MCAT/OAT will be from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at Eisenhor

BULLETINS

- m InterVarsity Christian Fellowship will meet at 7:30 tonight in Throckmorton 1018.
- ICTHUS Friday night activity at 8 tonight at the Lighthouse, 1630 Humboldt St.
- Lutheran Campus Ministry will meet at 7:15 Sunday in Danforth Chapel for an evening worship ser-
- M KSU Student Fellowship will meet at 9 p.m. every Sunday at 1326 Fremont St. The group will meet to discuss "Forum on Jesus."
- KSU Women's Lacrosse will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday in Union 204 This is an information meeting, and
- new members are welcome. KSU Aikido will meet from 7 to

 Chimes Junior Honorary applications are available in the Office of Student Activities and Social Services or call 539-2365 ext. 131. Applications are due by 4 p.m. Feb.

Silver Key Sophomore Leadership Honorary is accepting applications for the 1996-97 school year. Eligible freshmen can pick up applications in the Office of Student Applications are due by 5 p.m. Feb. 16 at the Office of Student Activities

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 0), a student newspaper at Kansas State iversity, is published by Student Publication , Kedze Hall 103, Marhattan, Kan, 66506 Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 665ce The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation deak, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167.

STATE OUTLOOK

Unseasonably warm. Highs from upper 60s to mid 70s. Near record high temperatures for north-central, northwest, and southeast Kansas.

and Services.

We take news tips! 532-6556

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today Saturday Warmer and mostly sunny.

High from 70 to 75. Low around 40.

Yesterday's highs and lows

Denver

52/36 MANHATTAN Russell 60/33 Kansas City 54/36 59/31 58/34 Garden City 60/39 59/36

Tulsa

69/50

Not as warm and becoming cloudy. High from 55 to 60.

Omaha

St. Louis .

63/48

*1 IN COUNTRY

Kym Carter Wichita East High School 1982 Grad

1996 USA National Men's Heptathlon & Women's Pentathlon Championship

Kansas State University Saturday, Feb. 10 & Sunday, Feb. 11 10 a.m.

AHEARN FIELDHOUSE Adults $3 • High School and under $1

BREAKTHE FAST FOOD CHAIN HABIT ista has fure Kansas Beef served with ketchup, mustard, pickles and onions. For top if off with cheese and bacon. Offer good for a limited time

Shoot Yourself 1996 is the last opportunity you'll have to get a picture of you and a group of up to six of your friends in the index of the yearbook. The service is free, but you have the opportunity to purchase color prints of the photos from Blaker Studio Royal.

> Face it, you've spent a lot of time and money at this university. Don't you want something to show for it?

> > Get Into It.

Wendy Strevey sophomore in fine arts, and Aaron Otto, Junior in political science, talk to Rep. Ray Luthi, D-Lamont, in his office Thursday. Strevey, Otto and 10 other students traveled to Topeka to lobby current issues concerning K-State. JILL JARSULIC

SGA floods statehouse with views

Scott M. Ladd

With boxes in hand, they attacked the statehouse with one mission: To divide and conquer.

A dozen Student Governing Association members seized state representatives in an effort to show K-State students care about governmental issues.

"We don't want them to make decisions without students and without input from K-State students," said Maggie Keating, at-large member and sophomore in political sci-

Throughout the afternoon of 15minute meetings, the 12 student senators handed out booklets detailing stances on issues to be debated this

Tuition accountability, financial aid cuts and open admissions were among the issues touched upon by the 32-page booklets.

Open Daily 9 a.m.-9 p.m., Sun. 11 a.m.-6 p.m.

"We've been working an entire semester on these issues, and it is important that we get the information out," said Aaron Otto, College of Arts and Sciences senator and junior in political science.

Thursday's meetings are part of a series of meetings designed to connect student government with state government in issues of education,

Previously, organizations had stepped in as a lobbying liaison, but three years ago that stopped, he said.

"There was a void left when the lobbying groups dissolved," he said. "It's kind of important to fill this void where there haven't been students, and we're here to fill this

The student senators' plan includes visiting with representatives over the course of the next few weeks as issues come up for debate

"It's great because we're meeting a lot with hometown representatives, and every representative I have talked to has sounded very excited to hear from students instead of lobbyists," Otto said.

While students might think giving up an afternoon might be a waste of time, the student senators dis-

"My opinion is it's not going to hurt," Wendy Strevey, sophomore in fine arts, said. "One vote is a lot, even if a measure gets vetoed. One person in our corner is a good thing for us." Giving up an afternoon was the least some students could do for K-State, said Steve White, at-large member from the College of Agriculture and sophomore in

"I feel it's important to give back to K-State for whatever it's given to me," he said. "It's also interesting to meet all the representatives."

By talking to one senator or representative, student senators can flex their influence, Otto said.

"You make an impact because Senator A talks to Senator B and says that he had some students from K-State talk to him," he said. "It's the office talk that can help us out."

The detailed booklets also helped out. White said

"I think it will help, if representatives really look at the booklet," he

"If they read the book, they'll be informed in what K-State thinks about issues that matter to us most."

In order to reach more senators, the student senators split into smaller groups, tackling representatives throughout the labyrinthian building. "I think we're doing a great job,

"It's also giving us a great way to get people lost in the Capitol."

CITY/COUNTY MEETING

Commissioners discuss National Guard armory

Riley County commissioners and city commissioners discussed the possibility of building a National Guard armory in Manhattan.

One possible location the University and the county is considering is state-owned land across from Kimball Avenue, near the KSU Stadium.

Discussions have been conducted between University officials and county staff to find land close to K-

Maj. Bob Bloomquist, Armor Battalion Commander, said there are 45 students at K-State who are employed by the National Guard.

He said he thought the armory would be a great addition to the University and the community.

However, the armory may have to wait for funding as well as land, said Capt. Debi Roberts, facility engineer for Kansas Army National Guard. "National Guard Bureau gave the design authorization after the state had developed their capital improvements budget (for fiscal year 1996)," she said. Federal funds would normally pay for 75 percent of the construction costs of the armory and state and local funds would be responsible for the rest, Roberts said.

This means the armory would not receive any federal funds unless construction is put on hold until fiscal year 1997.

She said county commissioners would have to make a decision on how to fund the armory.

"Either fund everything out of local funds with no state contributions, or for the project to be postponed," she said.

Bloomquist said an indoor shooting range, which is part of the armory design, would be shared by Riley County Police Department to save taxpavers money.

In order to fray costs, however, he said the range could be eliminated from the plans. Eliminating the range would save $150,000.

Overall, the armory would cost about $75,000 to design and $1.2 million to construct, Roberts said.

In other business, Riley County commissioners and city commissioners discussed ways of finding a location for a new law enforcement facility at a joint meeting Thursday.

The current site of the law enforcement facility, which is located in close proximity to a school and church, has been questioned for at least 10 years.

County commissioners hired Voorhis/Robertson Justice Services Inc. two weeks ago to procure a site for the new law enforcement facili-

The company, from Boulder, Colo., has worked with more than 400 jurisdictions nationwide in solving similar problems, David Voorhis, partner of VRJS, said.

He said he has ideas about how to avoid possible conflicts in the community, which could happen if the new facility was placed in the wrong location.

"We hope to get a volunteer group together," he said.

Voorhis said it is important to form a community group, which will work on developing criteria for finding a new site.

Commissioners will establish a community action group at a meeting at 7 p.m. Feb. 22 at the Manhattan Headquarters Fire Station.

In other business, commissioners discussed the progress of the Geographic Information System.

The GIS is an automated system, which would enable the county and city to access land information more readily. Monty Wedel, planning and special projects manager, said the main benefit is more efficient sharing of information, particularly land records information. He said this information would be useful for emergency response vehicles, which could locate their destinations more quickly.

Full implementation of the GIS could take years.

But Wedel said, "We're making good progress.

STATES AILOO Valentine Speci ALL HOUSEPLANTS NOW IN STOCK Choose from 7up, Diet 7up, Cherry 7up, RC, Diet Rite, Orange Crush, Kick, Hawaiian Punch and Hires Root Beer. Reg. 6.99 HYACINTHS AND TULIPS IN 4" POTS Reg. 2.99 BLOOMING RED AZALEAS IN 6" POTS Reg. 14.99 BLOOMING RED AZALEAS IN 4" POTS CANDY BARS Over 20 favorite brands to choose from. $\mathbf{M}^{8}\mathbf{M}^{5}$ Vilderness fruit filling CHERRY PIE FILLING PERFECT FOR GIVING! Big 14oz. bag of Hershey's Kisses

3007 Anderson at Seth Childs, Plaza West

FOR THE BEST DEAL . . . GUARANTEED

Colby 913-462-3313 / Hays 913-625-8888 / Victoria 913-735-2201 / Russell 913-483-6322 Osborne 913-346-2044 / Manhattan 913-537-0550 / Junction City 913-238-3177 McPherson 316-241-1220 / Wichita 316-685-5441 / Salina 913-827-5564

Opinion

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN STAFF

Mike Marlett	Editor in chie
Kevin Klassen	Managing edito
Sarah Lunday
Cary Conover	Photo edito
Derek Simmons	Design edito
Kim Hefling	Campus edito
Christy Little
N. Stewart Anderson	Features edito

. City / government editor Claudette Riley Arts and entertainment editor - Opinion editor Stephanie Fugua Shana Newell Sports editor Justin Stahlman Graphics editor E-Collegian editor Kevyn Jacobs Trice Alford Advertising manager Heidi Bruce Assistant advertising manager

COLLEGIANopinion

Department needs to get numbers straight

QUICKread An ad from the K-State Department of Intercollegiate Athletics gave misleading information to students in an effort to sway their opinions on the athletic fee increase

proposal

The Collegian printed some terribly misleading information Thursday.

Fortunately, it was in an ad. Page 12 was a $922 advertisement that claimed to give students the facts about the K-State Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The ad was in support of the athletic fee increase, which isn't really an issue anymore. The important fact is that students were misled.

The ad compares K-State to other universities in many different ways.

It looks at athletic fees and budgets of other universities. Most of the listed universities do not, however, compare with K-State well. The ad listed half the Big 8 and some of the Kansas Board of Regents universities. Where are schools like Nebraska? Well, Nebraska doesn't have an athletic fee, and schools like that wouldn't look good on the list.

And schools like Fort Hays State and Emporia State, neither of which are Division I schools like K-State, must pay much more to have athletics because they cannot sell enough tickets to make their athletic departments profitable.

But the fun really starts with the Big 8 athletic budgets. The budget for K-State listed was for fiscal year 1994-95. The figure listed was $9,901,005

The NCAA self study listed the budgeted expenditures for 1993-94 at $9,766,981. That's fine. Those numbers are pretty close.

Seems good, except those numbers are for expenditures, not revenue; and they are the budgeted number, not the actual.

The actual expenditures, according to the study, were more than $11 million, a $1.2 million difference. The actual and budgeted incomes were about $2 million different. The department earned more than $12 million. That's $1 million profit. That's twice what the department wanted from students in a proposed fee

Students shouldn't have to play a shell game to find out how our money is used. We shouldn't need to call all of the Big 8 schools to find out how we stand. We shouldn't feel like we can't trust our own University to be honest with us.

K-State athletic department revenues and expenditures for FY 93-94

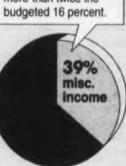

Revenues FY Account title	93-94 Budgeted	'misc.' percent	Actual	misc.
Administration	$200,000	100%	$22,732	10%
Fundraising	$1,326,750	2%	$1,436,149	11%
Business	$704,242	97%	$2,633,931	94%
Academics	$25,000	0%	$30,000	0%
Sports info	$0	1921	$1140	100%
Marketing	&782,000	78%	$802,890	78%
Merchandising	$57,000	79%	$86,760	99%
Facilities	$0	-	$68	0%
Cheerleader	$0	-	$7,916	100%
Sports medicine	$0	-	$75	0%
Band	$0	-	$757	0%
Classy Cat	$0	-	$200	100%
Football	$4,478,600	0%	$4,820,420	47%
Men's basketball	$2,470,455	0%	$2,099,212	1%
Baseball	$6,200	0%	$18,918	44%
Track	$14,500	0%	$47,112	53%
Women's basketball	$7,000	0%	$12,709	5%
Volleyball	$3,000	0%	$12,021	19%
Golf	$20,000	0%	$31,306	3%
Tennis	$0	-	$11,197	30%
GRAND TOTAL	$10,094,747	16%	$12,075,513	39%

GRAND TOTAL	$10,094,747	16%	$12,075,513	39%
Expenditures Account title	FY 93 Budgeted	-94 'other' percent	Actual	'other'
Control	$0	_	$69,114	100%
Administration	$557,790	20%	$654,783	23%
Fundraising	$294,265	27%	$300,118	30%
Business	$877,436	70%	$1,510,138	83%
Academics	$340,265	4%	$354,267	5%
Sports info	$225,188	35%	$270,931	39%
Weight training	$82,325	<1%	$78,835	<1%
Marketing	$216,685	43%	$292,682	56%
Merchandising	$0	-	$46	100%
Facilities	$176,943	50%	$239,224	58%
Compliance	$32,957	7%	$34,185	7%
Cheerleader	$24,003	12%	$24,202	12%
Sports medicine	$275,568	33%	$318,262	42%
Band	$79,761	28%	$79,751	28%
Classy Cats	$4,200	52%	$4,200	52%
Football	$3,672,529	30%	$3,758,352	32%
Men's basketball	$1,232,192	48%	$1,434,155	48%
Baseball	$225,568	12%	$281,676	15%
Track	$486,998	15%	$485,574	17%
Women's basketball	$430,587	16%	$457,873	21%
Volleyball	$219,713	8%	$215,526	15%
Golf	$160,106	6%	$168,626	8%
Tennis	$151,902	7%	$152,531	9%

$9,776,981

■ The athletic department made a profit of $890,454 from revenues in FY 93-94. Total revenues of $12,075,513 were more than total expenditures of $11,185,059.

More than one-third of total revenues were categorized 'misc.'more than twice the budgeted 16 percent.

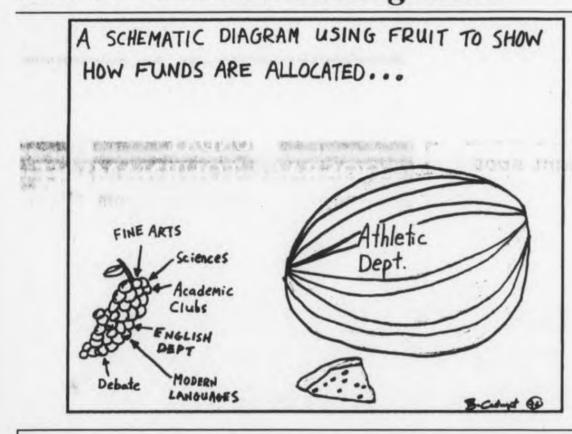

39 percent of the athletic department's revenue was categorized 'misc.' This was 23 percent more than expected in miscellaneous income.

35 percent of the department's expenditures were catagorized 'other.' This was 7 percent more than expected in 'other' costs.

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

NOTES FROM the underground

Appreciation a 2-way street

Myview

LACH

Franquemont

Down in Nicaragua, they love their poetry. Even far out in the countryside, farmers can often quote you a line or two of their favorite poems.

The poets themselves are often respected leaders or academics. Most of all, they are seen as being representatives for the people.

In the United States, however, you'd be hard pressed to find a well-known poet among the leaders in our country, and the ones in academia are often unknown outside of their own circles The same could be said of artists. How many great contemporary American artists can most people name? Not many would be my guess.

This tells me two things. Americans don't appreciate artists enough, and artists don't appreciate Americans enough.

Many of you are familiar with the recent attacks on the National Endowment for the Arts. * Although it takes up a minuscule amount of the federal budget, it has become a hot button for many right-wing candidates What I wonder, though, is how many agree with these attacks because of a moral problem with the art, or because they just don't want their tax dollars going to people who have such an air of superiority.

Stereotypical artists do bizarre things, use language no one outside of their circles can understand and, in general, hold their noses high in the air, looking down on those they consider inferior.

Like most stereotypes, this is grossly inaccurate. It must, however, be asked: How many artists actually try to explain their work to people who do not understand the concepts behind it?

This is not an isolated case, of course. Off the top of my head I can think of several other groups facing cuts in government funding, partly because they are out of touch with the American people.

This would include many academicians who are facing cuts in federal research grants, and it would probably also include students who are facing cuts in financial aid.

The point is not that these things are not worthwhile. In fact, these might be the best long-term investments our country could make. The point is how these things are perceived by many people.

How can billionaires be seen as men of the people, while artists and intellectuals are seen as elitists? The key lies in how these billionaires talk to the people.

Neither Ross Perot nor Steve Forbes uses language that your average person cannot understand. When Perot spoke here last year, he did not talk politics. He talked about how to be successful in life, and he addressed the students directly.

Steve Forbes has used $15 million so far trying to convince people that taxes are something that can be made simple and at the same time fair. I have yet to hear him explain his plan in a concise manner, but people in general do not want to hear long explana-

The point is that billionaires and business executives have found out that the way to protect their profit margin is to talk to people in a way that the people can understand.

Artists, intellectuals and a number of other people need to take a lesson from this. If you want to continue to function well within this society, you need to be able to simplify your work and ideas when talking to people who are unfamiliar with it. Coming at an issue from an elitist position and using jargon will not win the respect of many people.

You do not need to cheapen your work to do this. Even in the most abstract endeavors a human element or universal concept can be found. Also, keep in mind that people, in general, are not stupid.

The importance of this cannot be overstated. If the most active minds in our society cannot begin to take a more prominent place within it, our country only has a continued downhill slide to look forward

Lach Franquemont is a sophomore in physics and philosophy.

Justice blind for men, kind toward women

28% $11,185,059

he headline read, "Local woman kills boyfriend,

GRAND TOTAL

Source: The 1995 NCAA Certification Self-Study

On the first day back from winter break, the Collegian ran a story about a local woman, June Blenn, who on Jan. 18 shot and killed her former boyfriend, Charles Johnson, and then killed herself. Her actions were prompted by her apparent despondence over their past relationship, Pottawatomie County police said.

It is almost impossible to pick up a news magazine or turn on the television without being overwhelmed by the media's coverage of male violence against women.

Finding a media blitz about the male victims of female violence is a much more difficult task, but not because such crimes never happen. Blenn proved this is hardly the case at all.

Why Johnson's death was not treated like an instance of the most severe kind of domestic violence is baffling. There is an incredible double standard at work

An FBI survey cited in William Farrell's best-selling book, "The Myth of Male Power," found that Americans consider murdering your wife 41 times more serious than murdering your husband.

No wonder women convicted of murder often receive pardons and commuted sentences, even when sentenced to death.

Just last month, the death sentence of Guinevere A. Garcia, a woman who killed her husband during a failed robbery, was commuted to life in prison without parole by Illinois Gov. Jim

Although six men have been executed in Illinois since Edgar took office, he denied this decision was motivated by chivalrous sexism.

Miller

Generous sentences are the norm for women who commit murders and acts of violence, regardless of who the victims are. Had Susan Smith's husband killed his two toddlers, instead of Susan Smith committing the murder, he undoubtedly would be occupying a cell on South Carolina's death row Conventional wisdom dictates that men murder more than women. Justice Department figures bear this out to a two-to-one margin.

But Farrell pointed out that the Justice Department has found women to be more likely to poison men than men are to poison women. Intentional poisoning is difficult for coroners and police detectives to distinguish from accidents and other natural forms of death, like heart attacks.

Given these facts and the police's general reluctance to treat women as murder suspects, it becomes clear that there could be thousands of men poisoned to death by their wives over the years who don't show up in statistics.

He also pointed out that many murders initiated by women are carried out for them by hit men or male acquaintances. The Justice Department refers to these kinds of murders as "multipleoffender killings" with no reference to the gender of the person who actually initiated the crime. Of course, not all domestic violence ends in death, but not all domestic violence is perpetrated against women, either.

Farrell cited a study sponsored by the National Institute for Mental Health in 1985 that found that wives claimed to be more likely to assault their spouses than

It happens outside of marriage, too. K-State basketball player Anton Hubert, junior in interdisciplinary social science, was arrested on Aug. 9 after an argument with girlfriend Shakela Williams, freshman undecided, that resulted in her shoulder becoming separated.

In a Nov. 20 letter to the Collegian, Williams indicated it was she who had been violent with Hubert, and that he never harmed her. She said her shoulder became separated after he grabbed her arm to stop her from throwing things. The charges were dropped by Riley County.

Those people not in denial about violence against men by women justify it as the consequence for the things men have done to women through the ages.

That is, Johnson, the owner of Wamego Electric and member of the Wamego Chamber of Commerce, Wamego Zoning and Zoning Appeals Boards, the Kiwanis Club, Optimists Club and the Jaycees, must have had some death coming to him from a

I really doubt that he did.

Scott Allen Miller is a senior in interdisciplinary social science.

PAUL NEWMAN

66 Well Jason, I hate to break it to you,

but the war on started during

(read Democrat)

administration.

communism:

the Truman

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

FANS NEED TO SUPPORT BASKETBALL TEAM

I was one of the 16,300 in attendance at Allen Fieldhouse in Lawrence to see the Cats play one heckuva game. I was extremely proud of the way my alma mater played. Coach Tom Asbury wants K-State to win more than anyone. He is a true competitor.

I had never been to Allen Fieldhouse, and my father warned me it wasn't a pleasant place. "Enemy territory," he called it. "It's not too fun if we lose."

Yet, it was a great atmosphere for a basketball game. It was extremely loud. It reminded me of a special place that I visited while growing up.

SCOTT SANDERS

No game at Bramlage

this year has

11,000 specta-

understnd why

we left Ahearn.

Ask President

Wefald."

brought in tors. I don't

That place is Ahearn Field House. I can honestly say Ahearn was the loudest place I have ever been. Louder than any Van Halen concert or a game in Allen Field House. The ol' Barn literally shook. I remember sitting in the balcony seats feeling the steel below my feet rattling as the noise swelled. It was an awesome experience.

I only saw three games at Ahearn. My first game was on Jan. 9, 1982. That night the Cats played Western Illinois, and I got to see Ed Nealy break the all-time career rebounding record at K-State.

I saw two games in the 1987-88 campaign at Ahearn. That year the Cats went 25-9. I saw K-State beat Colorado and the then third-ranked Oklahoma Sooners. The Oklahoma game still sends shivers down my spine. I was 15 years old at the time. and there wasn't anything I wanted to do more than play for K-State.

That night the Cats were paced with 33 points from Mitch Richmond and beat the Sooners. Ahearn was magical. I'll never forget those moments. The crowd was K-State's sixth man.

But Ahearn is no more. Don't ask me why the Cats left. I don't really understand why the money for Bramlage Coliseum wasn't used to renovate the Barn.

Yes, Bramlage is larger than Ahearn. But not by much. In 1988, Ahearn wound up seating 11,220 after fire codes had reduced the seating from 13,000. No game at Bramlage this year has brought in 11,000 spectators. I don't understand why we left Ahearn. Ask President Jon Wefald.

We, as fans, have to make the best with what we've got. That is Bramlage. It was designed to get the students close to the action. Yet it has never been as magical as Ahearn was. But that might be due to the fan support, not the building. Granted, the rafters and seats won't shake in Bramlage, but the fans can still be the Cats' sixth man. The Cats deserve more support than they are getting. The purples are third in the Big 8 and have a legitimate shot at the Big 8 title.

As fans, we need to do our part to go to the games and be as loud and as supportive as possible. While Bramlage is no Ahearn, let's provide a great atmosphere for Asbury's Cats. If we do, Wednesday night will be what Dev Nelson, the second Voice of the Wildcats, would call a "rip-snortin', hoot-en-nang, double-

Scott Sanders 1995 K-State graduate barrel, deep-dish dilly."

COLUMNIST SKEWERS WRONG POLITICAL PARTY

First of all, I would like to say I found Jason Hamilton's column in Monday's Collegian enlightening to say the least.

I suggest he check out his facts before he puts them in print. He states, "... we've seen floundering Republican politicians lead us into a war on communism, a war on Southeast Asia, a war on drugs and wars on Panama, Grenada and Iraq." He goes on to say he only listed those wars 'where the problem in question seems completely fabricated."

Well Jason, I hate to break it to you, but the war on communism started during the Truman (read Democrat) administration.

The war on Southeast Asia was a part of the Kennedy administration, then greatly escalated during the Johnson administration. (Both of which are also Democrat.)

Although I am not able to totally defend all the actions that have occurred during Republican administrations, the Persian Gulf War was not fabricated by the United States. Kuwait was invaded by Iraq, and we were there to protect the Kuwaitis and our oil interests in the Middle East, not to promote Bush's inevitable bid for reelection.

If your point is that the Republican intention in every presidential election is to start a war or pseudo-war in order to be reelected, then give up now while you are ahead. President Clinton, our illustrious leader, is trying to jump on the bandwagon and be as Republican as he can. Why else would we be going into Bosnia? Or do you consider it a

Bosnia is a real war but not one in which U.S. lives should be jeopardized. The conflict there has been going on for the last 400-plus years. Who are we to think we can go in there like a mother breaking up a pair of 5-year-olds and sending them to their rooms?

Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., just wants to see some healthy downhome family movies at the box office, not some violent over-glorification of murder and mayhem movie. As for "Schindler's List," that movie was not a movie about the glorification of violence. Anyone who actually watched the movie knows it was a movie about one man's vision and drive to overcome the Nazi obstacles to preserve human life. Next time, please check your facts so you don't create any "complete fabrications" of the truth to support your own rantings and ravings.

Paul Newman senior in secondary education and history.

► FORBES' FLAT-TAX PLAN IS NOT A BAD IDEA

Editor,

In response to Robert Gorton's Feb. 7 column, I have a statement that sums up the attitude of many Americans: So what?

Steve Forbes is one of the richest people in the United States. Guess what? There isn't a student on this campus who wouldn't want to be as rich as Just because people are rich, they're considered second-class citizens by people like Gorton.

KEVIN PETERSON

Some day I hope to be

Forbes, and the last thing I want government who

1129 Laramie

SUNDAY

FOOSBALL TOURNAMENT

Single and Double Competition

Double Elimination

PLACE TO CALL

Home

THURSDAY,

FRIDAY

Dance the night away with KJDJ

Drink Specials, Prizes, Games

& SATURDAY

to do is give it as rich as away to a would just waste it."

Why should someone be penalized just because they have more money than the rest of us?

Some day I hope to be as rich as Forbes, and the last thing I want to do is give it away to a government who would just waste it. It shouldn't matter whether I inherit . my wealth, win the lottery or work to get it. It will be mine, and I won't give it up.

One great thing about Forbes is he's using his own money to campaign with. This means he won't owe any political favors to anyone after he's elected. This leaves him free to worry about the problems of the country, instead of paying back his contrib-

Gorton claims one of the flat-tax flaws is it will lower the value of homes by not allowing exemptions for home mortgages.

Even if this does happen, homeowners would be able to keep more of what they make when they sell a home because there would be no capitalgains tax. If the value of a home decreases, the owners would also pay less in property taxes. Forbes would also put us back on the gold standard. This would drop interest rates dramatically, making everything from school loans to mortgage payments much

UBBL

No one in Washington likes the idea of a flat tax because much of the special-interest lobbying is geared toward changing the tax laws and making loopholes for corporations. With a flat tax, there would be a lot of lobbyists out of a job and a lot of politicians not getting their palms greased for favors.

The next time you hear economists on television say the flat tax is a bad idea and it would have to be 20 to 22 percent to work, ask yourself if what they are saying is true or the opinion of the corporations and politicians they represent.

I'm sure if Gorton had his way, all of the students who have parents who make more than $50,000 would pay double tuition, so the rest of us could

Forbes' flat tax is one of the greatest ideas in a long time. Forbes' being a millionaire doesn't make his ideas any less valid. This is one student your slanted column didn't affect, and I'm sure there are others like I am.

Kevin Peterson senior in parks and recreation administration

1/2 Reuben and a cup of soup

Expires 2-23-96 Not good with any other offers

1219 Bluemont • Aggieville

Floyd E. Rogers

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Res: (913) 776-8900

provide you with a home

market analysis.

The Fastest Sport On Two Feet

KSU WOMEN'S LACROSSE

Informational Meeting: Sunday, Feb. 11,

RE/MEX 3230 Kimball Ave Manhattan, KS 66502 Office: (913) 776-4488 Fax: (913) 776-4977

1-800-232-5726 Buying or selling, we

Penny Alonso

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

Not just a night spot

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for a FREE Cappucino, Cafe Latte, or espresso

Parlor 616 N. 12TH . AGGIEVILLE

EXP. 3/1/96

Do Your Copies meet any of these criteria?

Needed on Red or Pink paper · Has a picture of a heart or a cupid Has text with the words Love or Valentine

Any single sided copies that meets this criteria will be charged between

5¢ and 13¢ a copy. A price that can't be beat anywhere in town! Valid until Fabruary 17, 1996 miller printing design and copy 408 Poyntz Ave. Manhattan KS 66502 = 537-6732 Open Monday - Friday 9am to 6pm Sat. 10am - 6pm

537-0886

This coupon good for

PEPPER STEAK $3.90

Dine-in and carryout Not valid with any other specials. coupons, or on deliveries.

HAD YOU!

Nice large 1&2 Bedrooms

Complete Kitchen

· Laundry Room in each Bldg.

Fitness/Weight Room

 Swimming Pool • Fireplace & Balconies

• 24 Hr. Maintenance

Walking Distance to Park

 Excellant Westside Location · Small Pet s Welcome

Winston Place Apartments

2 Bedroom 1/4 Bath Apartment 1026 Bluemont #6 NO PETS, 1 year lease

3 bedroom 11/4 Bath House 2324 Spain Drive Home is fully equipped with washer and dryer

Dogs allowed 1 year lease, Pet Deposit $250 $700/month

3 bedroom 11/4 Bath Town House 2535 Brockman

Fully equipped plus washer & dryer hookups NO PETS, 1 year lease $700/month

New! 4 bedroom 21/2 Bath Town House

420 & 422 Butterfield Fully equipped plus washer & dryer hookups NO PETS, 1 year lease

Move Up To The Ultimate Living Experience In Manhattan.

2-BEDROOM APARTMENTS

> Close to KSU

> Park-like setting

➤ Sparkling swimming pools ➤ Garages available

> All appliances > Planned activities

> On-site staff > Large closets

> OPEN HOUSES DAILY Call today 776-1148

THE CURTIN COMPANY

7 p.m., Union Room 204 CHECK US OUT New Members Welcome! WHOLESALE BEAUTY CLUB & CLUB BEAUTY SALON FOR HIM FOR HER All fragrances Nautica Giorgio Red discounted 10-30% Cool Water Alfred Sung Everyday Red for Men Red Door Most popular products on sale NOW Paul Mitchell • Sebastian • Graham Webb Massage Therapist New Certified Massage Therapist specializing in: Neuromuscular Therapy

Salon Specials HAIR CUTS Only $7.95 PERMS Swedish Massage . Shiatsu Reflexology Only $20

Sports

· did you know? ■ The Los Angeles Lakers are 4-1 since the return of Magic Johnson. That only loss came at the Jordan and the

 Monday ■ The Collegian will have full coverage of men's and women's basketball, baseball, track and

Let's play ball!

 K-State baseball gets underway with a two-game homestand this weekend with Missouri Western and Creighton.

Shana Newell

arely does a collegiate baseball coach get the chance to play the same core of players three years in a row. But not so for K-State's coach Mike Clark.

With the absence of only a few position players, and the addition of three highly touted ones, Clark said he is cautiously optimistic about the upcoming season.

"It really helps because we are extremely deep and we have some different combinations we can put on the field," Clark said. "In fact, we may improve ourselves in some situations to the point where we have to platoon or need to platoon left-handers and right-handers or different things like that. Or, we can play different combinations on defense that rather than protecting the weaknesses, this year we're going to be doing some things because of strength."

As with any baseball program, the spine of the team is the pitching staff, and this is where the K-State club has had the most changes. With the

Novak

team, gradua-

and Jon Albrecht,

tion of Larry

Walty, Adam

and the departure of Dan

Albrecht to a

Florida

Marlins' farm names on the pitching ros-

We may improve ourselves to the point that ... rather than protecting the weaknesses, this year we're going to be doing some things because of strength.

MIKE CLARK K-STATE PREBALL COACH

ter will change.

Returning hurlers for the Wildcats include ace right-hander Matt Koeman, who was first-team All Big-8 last season. Also looking to start will be right-handed pitcher Eric Yanz, left-handed pitcher Jon Oiseth, and junior transfer Brian Thompson, a right hander.

In middle relief, there is Thompson, right-handers Marc Lowery and Kevin Wicker, and left-hander Chris Traylor. Right-hander David Johnson is expected to

"Key to the season is our pitching depth," Clark said. "If we can find a middle

The K-State men's basketball team needs to end

The Cowboys, 11-8 overall, 1-6 in the Big 8, its slide, and it can begin Saturday afternoon at claimed their only conference victory last week at

Out at second, K-State second baseman Scott Poepard tags out Oklahoma State's Chris Richard last season. The Cowboy's won the game 12-4.

"We're real close this year," he said. "It's like

we picked up from where we left off. Last year we felt we could compete with anybody.

going to take that into this

we're guy, and we can find a short guy, and David a solid base to build on. Johnson's arm continues to come back like it has, and Thompson, Lowery, Wicker, Traylor - those are some people that need to come in and have solid years for us. If they have solid years, then we're going to have a nice season. If they don't, then it's going to create some problems. because pitching is so much a part of baseball. Senior David Hendrix said the team is positive about the season.

"The attitude of the team is we're going to go out and compete hard every game, he said. "If we do that, we're going to do

With a third-place finish in the Big 8 last season and some key victories over teams like perennial conference leader Oklahoma State, Hendrix said the team has

Last year we felt we could compete with anybody. Now we're going to take that into this sea-

> DAVID HENDRIX K-STATE FIRST BASEMAN/DH

'Wake-up call': Cats need rebounds at OSU

The Wildcats lead the league in defense, holding

The last time the Cats and Cowboys met, K-State opponents to just 39.1percent field-goal shooting.

Missouri is the only opponent to shoot more than 47 walked away with an impressive 62-59 victory in which guard Elliot Hatcher and Young each had 12 percent from the field against the Cats.

first-base and the designated hitter with newcomer Jason season." K-State fans can look for Hendrix to share

Bichelmeyer. Bichelmeyer is a junior transfer from Wichita State. Rounding out the infield will be returners Scott Poepard at second, Heath Schesser at shortstop and Todd Fereday at third base. Mike Gardner and newcomer Paul Cranford are battling for catcher.

In the outfield, senior Adam Green makes the move from left field to center to fill the hole left by Tim Decker's departure. Senior Chris Hess returns to his position in right field, while Ryan Buell, Ryan McKee, Matt Miller and newcomer Frank Gappa compete for left-field rights.

The K-State baseball team opens season play this afternoon at 3 p.m. at Frank Myers field as it takes on Missouri Western. It rounds out the two-game homestand at 1:30 p.m. Saturday against Creighton. Wicker is expected to start for the Cats today, while Koeman gets the nod on Saturday.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

Royals will need more than a mascot

Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - That little labor-strife dip on the attendance meter last year did not go unnoticed in the front offices of Royals Stadium. No, make that Kauffman Stadium.

Oops, we're confused now.

So let's just call it "The K."

It is all part of a promotional campaign the Royals are putting together to woo back the fans. We have a new marketing director, fresh from building attendance at horse racing tracks in

We have a new deal with Ticketmaster that will allow fans in any area of the Midwest to buy tickets instantly by computer for a $1 service charge per ticket.

We'll have a mascot now, complete with a newspaper contest to name it.

It will be fun to go to the ballpark. We'll have live entertainment in the parking lots on Tuesday. Fan discount packages. Kids get in free to general admission with a paid adult admission. Maybe it will work for an organization that believed 2-million-plus attendance each year was

There is no doubt the Royals have a big problem: They have no owner, they operate in a small market, they lose money and the way they are attempting to balance the budget is to cut loose high-priced players.

Completely gone is the best defensive infield in baseball.

Wally Joyner - cut loose.

Greg Gagne - let go elsewhere. Gary Gaetti - out of here.

Jose Offerman is in.

He's the guy who couldn't pick up the ball for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Blame it on the bad playing surface in Dodgers Stadium

Manager Bob Boone doesn't know what he

"It's going to be much like last year with replacement ball," Boone said Thursday as he got ready to fly to Florida, where pitchers and catchers report Feb. 18. "We've got a bunch of guys we've got to look at. Our coaching staff is going to have a lot of hard work. The Royals get an A for effort.

They have hired Mike Levy to head promotions. He has spent the winter conducting focus groups to figure out what the fans want.

He's proud of a new commercial that starts running Friday with George Brett, the biggest star the Royals have had in their 27 years, and Johnny Damon, whom the Royals hope will be their biggest star of the future.

The stadium, whatever you call it, is a beautiful facility, but general manager Herk Robinson is correct when he notes there are no restaurants or bars nearby.

It is not a place where people congregate before the game.

So the Royals feel a need to generate excitement to get people to come. "Our industry obviously has had some trouble," Robinson said. "We are a low-revenue club. We are a smallmarket club. We did a number of focus groups. This seems to be what our fans want. Fun is something the fans want to have. Value is something fans want." Nobody is against fun or value. But a mascot does not replace Mr. Kauffman leaning out the window in that garish blue jacket and waving to the crowd during the seventhinning stretch.

Creating a mascot does not replace a guy wearing No. 5 homer three times in a playoff game or get his 3,000th hit, or come through in the clutch for the millionth time, or win another

Mascots don't replace Amos Otis. Or Willie Wilson turning on the afterburners as he heads towards third for a triple. Mascots don't replace Fred Patek crying in the dugout after yet another loss to those damned

Mascots don't replace a Dennis Leonard coming back after a year of excruciating rehabilitation from a knee injury to nearly pitch a no-hitter on a brilliant Saturday afternoon. Mascots don't replace a Bret Saberhagen no-

And, most of all, mascots don't replace a World Championship. Best of luck to Mike Levy and his promotions. Baseball - owners and players alike - continues to shock us all with its inability to understand the depth of fan dissatisfaction. If a mascot and "Elvis Night" and "Beatles Night" in the parking lot bring the fans back, more power to the Royals. But every fan knows the bottom line. You find it on the field.

important than the other."

the past with G Adrian Peterson, 6-4 Fr. Andre Owens, 5-11 St. make sure that we don't bring last week's game into next week's

If the Cats learned anything from their two losses, Young said it was "execute."

"I think it's a wake-up call. The team is going to start playing better," he said. "We've got to get ready to play with a lot of intensity. We can't play for one half and still expect

"They didn't have Andre Owens when played they here, and that was a factor." Young said. Following two tough conference losses, Asbury said the team must win the next game but cannot bring "We have to game, or yesterday into this weekend," he said. 'Every game is the same. We don't weigh one more

STEVE HEBERT/Collegian

Driving through Colorado defenders, K-State center Johnnie Williams attempts to make a shot but is blocked by Colorado's Greg Jensen. The Buffs defeated the Cats in overtime, 64-63 in Bramlage Coliseum Wednesday night.

home against Colorado — the same team against Cowboys freshman Adrian Peterson paced the which the Wildcats earned an overtime loss. Cowboys in the last meeting with 18 points, but one For the Cats to keep NCAA tournament hopes crucial ingredient was missing in the Oklahoma alive, they must leave Stillwater, Okla., with a victo-State line-up. The spice guard Andre Owens brings to Oklahoma State's offense was not there in "If we don't beat them, then we're really in trouble," guard Mark Young said. "As a team, we don't want to go to the NIT. We K-State vs. OSU want the NCAA (tournament)." WHERE If that's the Bramlage Coliseum 12:47 Sat. case, then RECORDS Coach Tom K-State 14-7 (5-4) Asbury said the OSU 11-8 (1-6) Cats are going PROBABLE MEN'S LINE-UPS to have to change some-OSU thing in their Tyrone Davis, 6-9 Sr. Jason Skaer, 6-7 So.

game. "Oklahoma Elliot Hatcher, 6-1 Sr. G State is playing well if you look at their last few games," he said. "It's going to be tough." What's the remedy'

"Rebounding. We need to rebound," Asbury said. "It's not for a lack of effort. It's a lack of concentration."

Concentrating on offense will be the key to a victory in Gallagher-Iba Arena, one of the toughest road

Both teams are coming off overtime losses, and Cat fans should expect the K-State defense to once again be a key in the match-up with the Pokes.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Cats bet on defense for win

John Berggren

staff write

Tonight, the K-State women's basketball team will try to break a fourgame losing streak in part one of its final two-game home weekend Big 8

The Cats will try to improve their 11-12 record to .500 against a strong Nebraska team (15-6).

This game as well as Sunday's game against Iowa State looms big for the Cats if they want to finish in the top half of the conference.

"These games are important on the standpoint that we can move ourselves up into fourth position," Coach Brian Agler said. "Obviously you have to win one before you win two. Tonight's game is big from that standpoint."

Nebraska enters the game leading the Big 8 in overall field percentage at .484 while shooting .341 from behind the three-point line.

The Huskers also rank second in the league in scoring offense at 75.1 points per game.

"They're a veteran basketball team with balanced scoring, good size and quickness, and they have experienced guards," Agler said. "They're a good inside-out shooting team."

K-State leads the all-time series by nearly a two-to-one margin, 29-16, over Nebraska. In the first match-up between the two schools, Nebraska blew away the Cats 61-49. K-State held the Huskers to shooting just .385 but were out-rebounded 43-29 in the

The key for the Cats tonight, as it has been all season, is intensity on "Defense has been the thing that's been keeping us competitive," Agler said. "The last couple of games we've not been shooting as well as we'd like. You've got to put both ends of the floor together to beat Nebraska."

Leading the Cats defensively will

K-State vs. Nebraska

ORABIE WOMEN'S LINE-LID

K-State A. Chaimberlain, 5-9 So.	PG	F	Nebaska Tina McClain, 5-10 Jr.
Brit Jacobson, 5-7 So.	G	C	Pyra Aarden, 6-4 Sr.
Andria Jones, 6-1 Jr.	P/W	G	Anna DeForge, 5-11 So.
J. Coalson, 5-11 FrHs.	W	G	Kate Galligan, 5-8 Sr.
Missy Decker, 5-10 Jr.	W	G	Lis Brended, 5-6 Sr.

Source: K-State Sports Information

be sophomore Brit Jacobson and junior Andria Jones. Jacobson leads the team with 45 steals averaging two per game. Jones leads the team in blocked shots with 15.

K-State will not have much time to recuperate after tonight's game with Iowa State at 2 p.m. Sunday. Prior to the game's start, K-State will have a women's alumnae game at Cats to face top runners

Trevor Grimm

If you believe what many coaches say, the only way to get better is to compete against the best.

In that case, K-State's track teams should see some improvement this weekend.

The Wildcat track squads will face some of the top track teams in the nation during the Frank Sevigne Husker Invitational, which runs today and Saturday in Lincoln, Neb.

The tournament, in its 22nd year of existence, draws top teams from across the nation. Schools slated to attend this year's meet include Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, and UCLA, along with a myriad of others.

Fortunately for K-State, the team has had two strong weekends to prepare for the Husker Invitational.

The Cats are coming off a successful weekend in Manhattan, where the women picked up a first-place finish in the KSU Septathlon/Pentathlon and KSU Invitational, while the men came in second behind Southwest Missouri State.

The previous weekend saw both squads defeat Kansas and Missouri KSU/Kansas/Missouri Triangular.

The competition at the Husker Invitational is usually stiff, how-

In total, more than 50 Olympians have competed in the meet since 1975, while four world records and 10 collegiate records have been set at the meet, according to Nebraska Sports Information.

Last year's meet produced 21 NCAA automatic qualifying marks and 88 NCAA provisional qualifying marks, according to Nebraska Sports Information.

Drew Brown plays trombone Wednesday night at the Bottleneck in Lawrence, Brown and Regatta 69 performed with Mustard Plug and the Dance Hall Crashers for one of the KLZR-FM 105.9 third birthday shows.

JILL JARSULIC

hyper 5-year-olds on a sugar high.

have a horn section and have been listen to, and that's great," Rogers criticized for it by ska purists.

Dance Hall Crashers no longer

"They listen to what they want to Denike said, "We don't play strictly ska, so that's fine if they don't like

Their 19-song set, after a twoolder songs and newer material from

They played "Skinhead BBQ" from their debut CD and "We Owe" from "Lockjaw," which Denike said were her favorite songs to play live.

$1549

$329

$629

$1399

$599

$209

$549

$75

$245

$1699

the band's recent album, "Lockjaw," song encore, was an even mix of on (510) Records

Burgundy leather Sofa

*Broyhill Oak Door Chest

Chromeraft Black Lacquer

Table 4 Swivel/Tilt chairs

Microwave Cart

•3 piece Sectional

•Queen Bookcase Headboard $289

Ska energy screams through Bottleneck

Phil Kellum

With each "chicka-chicka" sound of the guitar, each bright horn melody, each bouncy bass and drum rhythm, and each "pick-it-up" from the singer, the crowd wanted more and more - and it got it.

Wednesday night at the Bottleneck in Lawrence, four bands came to show the crowd a good time

Regatta 69 started the evening off on a solid foot as the crowd danced energetically, stomping its feet to the pulsating, jumpy beat.

The band played a short set of ska that had the crowd hooting and hollering for more when it stopped.

The members played some songs off their new compact disc, "Fat Free," and played the title track from their 1994 7-inch single, "Simple Simon."

Band members were joined by a member from the Goofs of Springfield, Ill., who added some spirited toasting, a lively mix of "pick-it-up's" and "hep-hep's" among other vocalizations, and backup vocals into the poppy, jumpy Regatta 69 sound.

Shortly thereafter, Mustard Plug hit the Bottleneck stage, donning matching black bowling shirts with mustard yellow trim.

This show was the band's first date of its "Bachelor Party" 1996 tour. Lead vocalist Dave Kirchgessner said, "Craig, our bass player, three days after we get back from tour, he's getting married. So this is one long bachelor party for

It kicked off its set with its contribution to the 1995 "American Skathic 2" compilation CD, "Mendoza," and it snowballed. Mustard Plug started strong with powerful horn lines and punchy guitar, and it just improved.

Kirchgessner was a maniac on stage, jumping and dancing frantically to the groove while still remaining on top of his vocals.

Mustard Plug played older material from its debut CD, "Big Daddy 12 Multitude," like "Mr. Smiley" and "Brain On Ska."

Waterdog occupied the next-tolast spot on the bill.

It was the only break from ska for the evening, providing a pop-punk sound that was different from the ska bands.

Waterdog received a lukewarm reception, at best, from the crowd, at which its guitarist said, "Maybe if we changed our sound to ska, you guys would like us better.'

They had some problems with the kick-drum pedal, which were remedied by borrowing Dance Hall Crashers drummer Gavin Hammon's bass drum for the last song of its set.

The highlights of Waterdog's set were its spirited, true-to-the-original covers of "In The City" by the Jam, and a cover of a song by the Clash.

Dance Hall Crashers came on stage a little after 11 p.m. and drove the crowd crazy.

Energy flew off the stage in hordes, with vocalists Elyse Rogers and Karina Denike jumping and dancing to the rhythm, while bassist Mikey Weiss played along making faces at the crowd the whole time.

They started their set with "My Problem" off their debut CD, "1989-1992," and they followed it with an as-yet-unreleased song called "Truly Comfy."

Denike and Rogers danced along, kicked the air and spun around like

Aggie's New-To-You

2nd Hand Shop

Best Friend, Boy Friend, Birthday Gifts

PERSONALIZED,

DOG TAGS

$6 set 2

537-8803

•White Double Dresser and matching mirror •Fullsize set Sealy Brown Rocker Recliner Brass & Glass End Tables Bleached Oak Glider Faith Furniture

776-6755 East Highway 24 Mon.-Fri. 9:30 a.m.-7 p.m Sat. 9:30 a.m. -6 p.m., Sun 1-5 p.m

For their rendition of "She Wants

Denike and Rogers invited members stage and show off their finest dance

Kirchgessner handle the lead vocals.

Dance Hall Crashers closed its

'DHC," which had the crowd scream-

It returned to the stage and played ing along with the chorus of "Dance Hall! Dance Hall Crashers tonight!"

two more songs for the appreciative, dancing crowd, including a request from several members of the audi-feine addiction.

ence, "Java Junkie," a song about cafof the crowd to strut their stuff on moves. They also had Colin Clive, guitarist from Mustard Plug, and regular set with its theme song,

Me Back" from their debut CD,

"ALIENS TAKE OVER NICHOLS THEATRE" and are currently rehearsing comic play entitled,

TALES OF THE LOST FORMICANS written by alien playwright, Constance Congdon

Will make their presence known to the world by performing this play in Nichols Theatre on Feb. 15-17 and Feb. 21-24 at 8 p.m.

They have the nerve to charge admission... and are asking us earthlings to purchase tickets at McCain Box Office from noon to 5 p.m. weekdays or call 532-6428 for reservations.

They want students and seniors to fork over $6 The general public $8

They say it will be worth the price of admission!

THEY THINK THEY ARE OUTTA THIS WORLD!

Senate passes farm bill, causes some disagreement

J. Scot Bucholz

The U.S. Senate passed the farm bill late Wednesday evening.

Dan Glickman, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, said the passage of the farm bill is a step in the right direc-

"It does not address all the concerns of the Clinton administration,"

Glickman said he remains concerned that the bill will continue to provide payments when market conditions are good and that it does not provide a strong safety net for family farmers as he would like.

"However, the amendments adopted to the base bill are significant improvements and a good place to begin negotiations," Glickman said. Glickman said he and the President have stressed certain priorities that must be met in the farm bill, including an adequate safety net for producers, meeting investment needs in rural America and permitting farmers greater flexibility to plant for the market rather than the government - a provision of the bill that he said they both have consistently supported.

"One big problem is the Senate passed a seven-year payment plan, which still would pay farmers if they farm or not farm, and it separates the price from the payment," Nancy Washington Danielson, Representative with the National Farmers Union, said.

This farm bill does nothing to help the market," she said.

President Clinton has spoken out against this type of payment plan because it does nothing for the market, Danielson said.

Brenda Anders, with White House Media Affairs, said the President has not made any comments on the Senate's farm bill. "The President is pleased to see a farm bill passed," Anders said. "And by March, the President should have the final bill and he will make his decisions then."

This farm bill turns farming into a welfare program, Danielson said.

"There is no way for new farmers

• See BILL Page 10

Weekends at Bobby T's

Dinner and Drink Specials Tonight- "Small Town Sounds" Tomorrow-Tim Suttle & The Great Sleeping Adams

Sundays-8 oz. Top Sirloin Steak Special $5.99 or 2 for $10.00

 Bobby T's Candlewood Shopping Center Featuring Daily Drink & Food Specials

1124 Moro, Aggleville Behind the Dive Shop

SATURDAY SUNDAY AREMO

The free side of Surfing the Internet t's another boring weekend. Everyone else has gone home or followed the Wildcats on a road game.

Today we search into the Internet for freebies. As always, these pages were previewed using Netscape.

A word of warning before we venture off into cyberspace: You can never get something for nothing. Even on the Internet. I'm not implying these companies are going to send bills, but the information you give them about yourself is as good as gold to the marketing departments of these companies.

The companies compile mailing lists of the people who respond in cyberspace, and it is not unusual for them to sell these lists to other companies. If you order free stuff and have to fill out forms about yourself, expect to get more junk mail.

One last warning: Never give credit-card numbers to companies you have never heard about. Shipping and handling is expennies do need to recoup the costs of promotions. But it is easy to set up credit-card scams on the Internet. So let the buyers beware.

Next to Nothing

(http://www.winternet.com/~julie/ ntn.html)

This is my favorite of pages dedicated to free stuff. Julie does a great job gathering phone numbers, addresses, and any other information for free stuff all around the United States. She tries to update every Friday night (unless she is partying in Hawaii).

This page was designed with speed in mind. It is pleasant to look at, but there are no excessive graphics. This page will load fast even when the Internet is flooded.

This page will not only give information about products on and off the Internet, but it will also go as far as free hearing tests on the phone.

Everything from the useful to the useless is included here. This is a must-see for freeloading surfers.

Free Stuff

(http://www.halcyon.com/midnight/free.html)

Creative Edge has put together a short list of links of its favorite free stuff on the Internet. The company is especially fond of free magazines.

Its best link is to the Free Personal Shopping Service from Nordstroms, which will actually do your shopping for you.

It also has a link to a personal reminder service. This service will e-mail you about birthdays and anniversaries the users register with the service.

Zima.Com

(http://www.zima.com/index.html) Free alcohol on the Internet? I wish. The people from Zima want the alcoholic in all of us to cruise to their homepage on the Internet and try zomething different.

After answering a few questions about favorite alcoholic drinks, surfers are then eligible to win tshirts, hats and other promotional

The goal of this page is to create an Internet community of people who drink Zima. This, I'm afraid, is Seinfeld on Valium.

Free CD offer! (http://www.softdesk.com/freecd.

html) The people of Softdesk have an

They are giving away a free interesting offer for AutoCAD compact disc of three AutoCAD overlays to cad users. I have no need for the programs, so I haven't tried them. Anyone who does try this offer, please let me know if they work so I can report it back to the masses.

Free Trade Publications

(http://www.netline.com/TradePub/) These professional papers are mainly for computer and engineering people, but there is one for both business and manufacturing.

Jumbo! - Shareware! Shareware! Shareware! (http://www.jumbo.com/Home_Pa

This is a large collection of shareware and freeware on the Internet.

For clarification, freeware programs are software that can be downloaded and used for free. Shareware can be downloaded and previewed, but the user is then expected to pay for the program after the trial period.

This collection is organized in an easy-to-use style, with everything categorized for the users. I have found this site to be a bit buggy. (It will screw up for no rea-

This is probably due to the writers completing redesigning the pages. So expect this site back in tip-top shape soon.

CSUSM Windows World (http://coyote.csusm.edu:80/cwis/w inworld/winworld.html) The best shareware site on the Internet for Windows applications is maintained by California State University, San Marcos. This site has nearly every piece of shareware that has been conceived. One of the best advantages this page has over other shareware archives, besides sheer volume, is the careful statistics that the site

Surfers can find out what were the top downloads for not only the entire site, but for every subsection

If surfers have a particular program in mind, the search engine they designed works great to help find that special piece of software.

ZIA Free-Stuff Resources

(http://www.zia.com/free/) Here is another site dedicated to anything and everything they can find that is free.

They mainly include 1-(800) numbers to call; however, there are several references to on-line free-

This is the most complete site for freebies, with hundreds from which to choose.

FreeWeb Home Page

(http://www.webwiz.com/freeweb/) This site is trying to become the complete guide to free stuff on the Internet. If it ever is completed, it will be spectacular.

Right now, it is a good smattering of everything from software to classified ads.

They are using a bit too many graphics, so the page may be slow loading.

by Nolan Schramm and Page

"Priest" Antonia Bird, director recently released on video

Nolan: 1/2 out of five stars

This movie begins in Northern Ireland with an obviously despondent priest ram-ming a huge cross through the window of the local archbishop's home.

Apparently, he was sick of the bureaucracy the Roman Catholic Church had become. Needless to say, the archbishop opts to bring in a new priest to provide a healthful model for Father Mathew Thomas (Tom Wilkinson), the cross-rammer.

The new priest, Father Greg, (played by Linus Roache) is supposed to be a moral,

The zealous Father Greg hopes to revive spirituality in the region, but he is constantly losing the battle with his parishioners.

Throughout the first 30 minutes of the movie, the audience is presented with painfully obvious symbols of the decadent world encroaching upon Father Greg's enclave of spirituality.

It begs suspicion. Sure enough, we next find out Father Greg is (gasp!) homosexual.

As he continues his forbidden affair, he also continues his preaching. His struggle between faith and love threatens to topple him from the altar of decency when the parishioners find out about his practices.

The ending is hardly riveting, but it raises the question: How much do you love your fellow man? Ho, ho.

Page: * out of five stars

"Priest" is a controversial drama depicting the metamorphosis dividing the Roman Catholic Church as Catholicism finally reaches adolescence in its attempt to come of

Not surprisingly, the movie not only never came to Manhattan theaters, but it was banned in Ireland.

It introduces the imperfection of humanity as a natural characteristic of priests, rather than a corrupt manifestation of the devil, or worst yet, a lack of discipline.

Linus Roache plays Father Greg, an idealistic young priest struggling to come to terms with his sacrilegious love affair with a man, in contrast to his rigid and self-righteous ambition to live according to the laws and traditions of the clergy.

His superior, Father Matthew, played by Tom Wilkinson, is an enlightened socialist and questionable drunk, sleeping with his housekeeper and dedicated to liberating the lower-class English congregation from the class structure that oppresses them.

The plot splinters when Father Greg is torn between his commitment to the confidentiality of the Confession ritual and his responsibility to help a young girl who is being raped by her father.

Needless to say, the movie is disturbing, provocative and inspiring.

It's about the brokenness of being human and the power of humility and compassion in healing each other through the horrors of constant confrontation with our own human-

"The Usual Suspects" Bryan Singer, director recently released on video

Nolan:  out of five stars

If whip-smart who-done-it mysteries are your thing, check this puppy out.

Five odd-job thieves are whisked into the big leagues with an offer from a huge narcotics dealer ... or so it would seem.

The plot is slow to manifest, building speed with each bullet fired in the epitome of selfish, money-grubbing greed.

Succeeding in a series of well-orchestrated, key robberies, the roguish robbers gain enough confidence to go for broke.

Actually, it is a suicide mission, but looking down the barrel of a gun is even less

The story is told in flashback detail by Verbal (Kevin Spacey), who is being "leaned on" by the cops for information on the case of the unnaturally brutal, demoniacal, notorious criminal Kaiser Sheize.

The acting is superb. The musical score is excellent, and the twists and turns in the plot make this one a joy for the cinema buff to piece together.

Page:  out of five stars
"Usual Suspects" is about as intricate as it gets for a picture that would be categorized under action films.

To the movie's credit, its appeal is mystery rather than guts, unlike most of the movies in that genre, and it pulls off the whodone-it, suspense thriller in a way that actually has suspense.

Unfortunately, like so many of these films, most of the characters are unlikable. Those who are likable are still violent and inhumane, or supposedly justifiably homici-dal, which is still violent and inhumane.

Another element, like so many others, that makes this movie seem pointless is that most or all of the characters you actually come to like end up dead. If you're watching a docudrama, this is expected or at least somewhat based on a true story, so it's tolerable. But in a fictitious story, it's just depressing.

With or without a happy ending, the movie is actually worth renting. It isn't violent enough to be distracting compared to other action/suspense films, and the plot is unpredictable up until the credits roll.

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 — criley@ksu.edu

'Crimes' shows

strength, beauty

Portia Sisco

murder her husband.

of southern women

Three southern sisters battle their grandfather's ill-

The setting is Hazelhurst, Miss., in the early 1980s.

The play begins on the 30th birthday of the oldest

Seth Galitzer, senior in music education, plays

Galitzer has been involved in Manhattan Civic

"I like my character. The characters are very easy to Barnette Lloyd is a lawyer with a vengeance. By defending Babe, he hopes to ruin her husband's political "Barnette likes to think he can change the world, or at least try to. He's still shy. You can see that through his

Schanee Anderson of St. George plays Meg

Anderson's character is flirtatious and vivacious. Anderson shines as the struggling singer trying to over-

The cast consists of six characters. Galitzer said this "Everyone got along very well. We got to be close friends, and it helps with the ensemble performance.

All of the scenes take place in the Macgrath kitchen.

Brenda Waselovich, a senior in secondary education and history, was the stage manager and assistant direc-

"I've never worked with a large cast. This is my first

Waselovich said she found out about Civic Theatre

When you have a larger cast, you don't really see every-

This unique approach meant the action that happened outside of the kitchen had to be described in a realistic manner. This approach makes the scenes more dramatic because the audience is kept in suspense.

time as stage manager," Waselovich said.

